Speaking of and for Floyd County

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1988

Open Discussion

Residents of Wheelwright discussed options for abandoned buildings with Big Sandy ADD Director Roger Recktenwald at the high school gym Monday.

Wheelwright Students Seek City Improvements

A meeting for Wheelwright community and business leaders sponsored by the Kentucky Appalachian Foundation Monday night drew about 25 people to discuss ways to improve the community, including the possibility of reopening the library.

The meeting, organized by three Wheelwright High School students who are members of the Kentucky Appalachian Foundation Volunteer Leadership Corps, was held to discuss problems with other community leaders. The Wheelwright corps members are Malissa Hall, Amy Payne and Brian Boyd.

The Wheelwright KAF members want the veterans' memorial reconstructed, an operating library, a cleanup of the area streets and streams, the abandoned buildings in Wheelwright to be renovated or removed, and called for community and student pride.

"We lack so much in community involvement and attitude, we want to give people the feeling of 'I can,' KAF member Amy Payne said.

The group's major goal is to reopen the Wheelwright Public Library, creating a more educational environment, Payne said. They feel the library will prevent some school dropouts, and will enhance students' education.

The group hopes to get a librarian from the county or to get local senior citizens to operate the library, but the biggest step is to get the community and businesses involved, she said.

But "a library is not a building—a library is a process," commented Roger Recktenwald, director of the Big Sandy Area Development District. He discussed different aspects of running the library and said that the big cost of a library is what is done once the doors opened. The library building is now privately-owned.

The meeting began with Jan Stumbo, chair of the KAF Quality of Life task force, speaking about ways communities can be educated about litter disposal and involvement ideas in community cleanup programs. She also called for the community to encourage and support the students and their ideas.

Wheelwright High School Principal Loni Stone spoke, pledging support for reopening the library and remarking that the community has "three spark plugs" in the three KAP youth members.

The group also discussed options for the abandoned buildings in town, and the possibility of turning the Clubhouse into low-rent apartments.

The people there expressed qualified support for the plans during a comment session.

Community renewal has been tried before and nothing came of it, but maybe the kids can do something, Wheelwright resident Stephanie Jackson said.

But Payne warned in the meeting summary, "If we hesitate to make changes now, don't gripe about it later."

By acting now, KAF Volunteer Leadership Corps president Malissa Hall said, "It will prove to all those who know about Wheelwright we can do something."

'Excessive Force' Suit Filed Against Educator

A suit alleging excessive force was used during administration of corporal punishment has been filed against a teacher at John M. Stumbo Elementary School.

According to Floyd County School Superintendent Ron Hager, the teacher was served with a summons to appear in Floyd District Court on Tuesday.

The suit, filed Sept. 9 against Susan Clark, alleges that excessive force was used when a whipping was given to the son of Bennett and DeLanda Blankenship, a first grade student.

Hager said school officials have investigated the complaint, and found that Clark correctly followed the board policy and code of conduct.

"Evidently, there had been quite a few problems with the student that day," said Hager, noting that the child had reportedly attempted to strike other students on two occasions, and had been reprimanded five times. Hager said another teacher witnessed the spanking; the instructor later said the spanking, in her opinion, was administered properly.

"Any parent has the right to file these suits, and in any year you'll get a number of them," said Hager. He added that Clark, against whom the complaint was filed, was evaluated earlier this year by the school's principal, Gary Newman, and "found to be a very good teacher." Clark has been employed by the district since Aug. 11, 1986.

"Clark, as far as we're concerned, is an excellent teacher," said Hager. "Any staff member runs the risk, in Kentucky, of having a suit filed against them. We don't deny use of corporal punishment, but we do have set procedures in the code of conduct for all teachers to follow."

The parents of the child could not be reached for comment.

Blood Testing

Don Hicks, technical lab director at HRMC, draws blood from Epp Lafferty Jr. at the AARP Health Fair at the hospital Saturday. From the blood sample, the technicians will check for cholesterol and glucose levels, the white blood cell count and do general chemistry tests. According to AARP President Orville Cooley and Health Fair Chairperson Honey May, about 90 people attended the fair, which is held every September.

Poston Found Guilty Of First Degree Assault

A Floyd Circuit Court jury deliberated about an hour Monday before returning a guilty verdict and recommending a 10-year sentence for an Abbott Creek man.

James Poston Jr., of Abbott Creek, was convicted of first degree assault in the shooting of Danny Anderson of McDowell, according to Danny Caudill, assistant Commonwealth Attorney. Formal sentencing will be Friday.

According to the testimony of several witnesses, Poston went to Anderson's home on Jan. 1, to get his brother, Caudill said. Anderson and Poston did not get along, and Anderson told him to leave. When Anderson turned his back, Poston shot him four times with a .25-caliber automatic, he said.

Anderson was shot once in the back of the head and three times in the shoulder, Caudill said.

If the jury's 10-year sentence is accepted by the judge, Poston could be eligible for parole in five years, Caudill said.

Prestonsburg Housing Authority Receives $739,600 For Two Projects

The Prestonsburg Housing Authority is receiving a $739,600 grant through the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Comprehensive Improvement Assistance program for renovations on the Green Acres complex, Sen. Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., announced Thursday.

The Housing Authority is planning to use the funds for modernization and renovations in the 40-unit complex, according to Julia May, executive director of the Prestonsburg Housing Authority. No major renovations have been done on the complex since it was built in 1963.

The funds will be used to replace tile, install closet doors, expand parking, replace trees, repair concrete, improve drainage, insulate attics, install fluorescent lighting in bathrooms and kitchens, install energy efficient doors and windows, repair roofs, install screen doors, paint all the units and install new rangetops, refrigerators, water heaters and furnaces. Part of the money is allocated for new roofs at the Dixie complex in Goble Roberts, she said.

The Housing Authority applied for the grant this year, May said, and work should begin in 1989.

The grant is part of a $27.7 million award that went to 33 Kentucky housing authorities to assist low income residents.

Betsy Layne Man Found Guilty Of 1987 Murder Of Michael Robinette

A Betsy Layne man was found guilty of the July 1987 murder of Michael Robinette by a Floyd Circuit Court jury Wednesday.

The jury recommended a 20-year sentence for Gary Stevens, 37, of Betsy Layne, according to Commonwealth's Jerry Patton. Stevens' sentencing will be Sept. 30.

During the trial, Stevens' wife Debra testified that she was having an affair with Michael Robinette. Patton said, Robinette had gone to Stevens' house the evening of July 29, 1987, and she said she saw Gary Stevens near the house before Robinette arrived. After Robinette left, Debra Stevens heard three shotgun blasts, according to testimony.

Robinette was shot in the chest, face, and at close range through the back of the head with a 12-gauge shotgun, according to testimony by the Kentucky State Police.

There were no witnesses to the shooting and the evidence was circumstantial, Patton said. Gary Stevens was seen at the Stevens' residence an hour before the shooting and a 12-gauge shotgun shell identical to the shells at the crime scene was found in his truck. He was found two and one-half days after the shooting hiding underneath his girlfriend's house, Patton said.

Ordinance May Abolish City's Non-Partisan Primary Races

Prestonsburg's City Council heard the first reading of an ordinance Monday night that, if passed, will abolish primary elections for non-partisan elections for municipal offices.

Fourth class cities may legally do so, under amended state law. Prestonsburg is a fourth class city.

By dispensing with the primary elections, filing dates would move to 68 days prior to the November election, rather than the current January filing deadline.

At present, primary elections reduce to 16 the number of candidates eligible to run in the November election. With this proposed change, all candidates filing will run in November only.

The change would affect both council seats and the mayoral office.

In other business, the council voted to set Halloween trick-or-treating times as Monday, Oct. 31, from 6 to 8 p.m. As in the past, no youths 12 years old or older will be allowed to wear masks.

In a separate matter, the city's street sweeper — often idle because of mechanical breakdowns — may be sold or traded in on a different model. The sweeper is currently out of commission, and will be for about three weeks, while the city awaits the arrival of a replacement spring costing less than $10.

"We just ought to get rid of the thing, and get something smaller, or get something that will work," said Councilman William Callihan.

The city has a balance due on the machine of $38,000.

Mayor Ann Latta noted that the council began discussing replacement of the sweeper in June.

"We were trying to give it a 30-day trial period, and so far, it hasn't run 30 days so that we could come back to the council and make a report," said the mayor.

The council voted, 5-3, to look into purchasing a smaller sweeper, and investigate whether the city could trade the current machine in on another purchase. Voting against the proposal were councilmen Paul

Joseph, Danny Hamilton and Jim Yates.

Officials also discussed other public works equipment. In the sanitation department, the city has three garbage trucks, with at least one needing what City Administrator Fred James called a "major overhaul."

The council opted to obtain more information on reconditioned packers, motors, smaller trucks and related equipment before making a decision. In a related matter, the council voted to authorize its subcommittee to approve up to $10,000 to purchase a 1-ton dump truck. The $10,000 is the amount currently allocated in the budget, noted James.

In other business, the council:

— Went into a brief executive session to discuss personnel matters, but gave no indication of the issue at hand.

— Heard the first reading of an ordinance to release two unused streets in the Marguerite F. Harkins and Sons Subdivision in Prestonsburg. The areas designated as streets have changed several times with ownership of the property, but the streets were never used as such. The council will hear the second and final reading of the ordinance at its next meeting.

— Will ask the state transportation department to install flashing lights at the intersection of KY 1428 and Prestonsburg Academy, at the request of Barbara Curry, principal.

— Voted unanimously to advertise for liability insurance.

— Voted unanimously to ask the state transportation department to reduce the speed limit on US 23 in the area of Jerry's Restaurant from 45 to 35 miles per hour; to reduce the speed limit on US 23 entering Prestonsburg from Pikeville; and to paint traffic lines and a center line for Arnold Avenue at its intersection with US 23.

Regional Election Reform Workshop Planned Oct. 4

In conjunction with the Secretary of State's office, the Floyd County Clerk's office and the Holiday Inn of Prestonsburg will hold an election reform meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Prestonsburg.

This meeting will inform the public and officials of the new election reform laws that were enacted July 15.

Any interested person is invited to attend this election reform meeting. For further information you may contact Carla Robinson Bolton, Floyd County Clerk, 886-3816.

Floyd Is Among Counties Receiving ARC Grant Funds

Sen. Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., announced recently that the Appalachian Regional Commission approved a $300,000 grant to reduce infant mortality in Appalachian Kentucky.

The ARC funds will be matched with $300,000 in state funds to reduce infant mortality in Floyd and four other counties.

Specific action includes public awareness, maternal outreach and case management, maternal transport and high risk infant followup.

The total project cost is $600,000, with the state funding half the amount.

The counties receiving the funds are Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Pike.

Two Floyd Road Projects Announced

Gov. Wallace G. Wilkinson has announced two road improvement projects for Floyd County.

Wilkinson said the state will furnish the material for the county to place initial blacktop surfacing on 1.4 miles of County Road 5333, Jim Potter Road, and County Road 5391, Mill Branch Middle Creek Road.

Hueysville Tipple Suit Continued By Residents

Residents of Hueysville are still going to have an operating coal tipple in their neighborhood, according to an order issued by the state Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

However, the residents filed a lawsuit in Franklin Circuit Court Friday challenging "Secretary Bradley's irresponsible ruling," their attorney, Ned Pillersdorf, said.

The court order, filed Sept. 16, said that the plaintiffs in the case failed to prove that issuing a permit to operate the tipple would be a hazard to the community, and they failed to prove that it was an illegal operation.

"One can seriously wonder if he (Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet Secretary Carl Bradley) read the exceptions if you read the order," Pillersdorf said about the September order.

"It's so frustrating, he went on to say, we had raised several meritorious issues, and his response to the issues was to ignore them."

The plaintiffs want the Franklin Circuit Court to review the evidence and deny the permit, he said, or ask at a minimum for the court to send it back to the cabinet secretary.

The Hueysville residents have been in a legal fight for over two years to prevent the tipple from being opened by Springfield businessman Glen Craft. They claim that the tipple was an illegal operation and it would be a hazard to the community because of the noise and dust the operation would produce.

In August an order was issued by the Prestonsburg Regional Office of the Division of Permits and the plaintiffs

JC Design Contract Awarded

Dr. Rodney Chambers, center director for the Carl D. Perkins Job Center in Prestonsburg, announced this week that the Department of Labor has awarded the design contract for the new center gymnasium to Ross-Feldman Architecture, Inc. of Lexington.

According to Nicholas Feldman, vice-president for the firm and principal architect for the project, the new gymnasium will include a full-length basketball court with spectator area, locker rooms, a weight room and canteen.

Construction should be completed by June 1990, he added.

Ross-Feldman Architecture has been working in Eastern Kentucky for a number of years, focusing primarily on residential multi-unit developments.

"Ross-Feldman is a multi-faceted firm," said Feldman. "In addition to our development work, we have completed over $50 million in educational facilities, including the nationally published J.B. McNabb Middle School in Mt. Sterling and the recently opened, award-winning Squires Road Elementary School in Lexington. The Squires Road School was awarded through an architectural design competition."

Ross-Feldman has also designed numerous medical and office facilities, including a psychiatric hospital in Owensboro and the 165,000-square-foot Saint Joseph Office Park in Lexington.

"We are also active in restoration," said Feldman. "Our versatility is further exemplified by the firm's restoration of the Lexington Opera House."

Debate Cancelled; Reader Questions WYMT's Explanation

Last week, the big debate on the broad form deed constitutional amendment was called off by the station manager of WYMT. His reason was that the representatives from the coal industry and Kentuckians for the Commonwealth were both involved in litigation, but I, for one, am not buying that excuse.

It has been my first-hand experience from being at newsmaking events and then watching the way the situation covers the story that there is a definite bias. I remember one such event at the lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park. Representatives from the Dept. of Natural Resources' Water Watch Program were there to hear public comments. The room was filled with angry citizens who had lost their drinking water due to mining and oil and gas drilling.

Some are saying that what the station manager did was cave in to the coal industry by coming up with a reason not to debate, and I'm one of them. Sidney Cornett, who was to represent the Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, has debated representatives from the coal industry before. Since KFTC was willing to have Cornett participate without discussing his personal litigation during the debate, I see even less validity to the station manager's reasoning to call the debate off.

If it is the real policy, as the station manager asserted, not to allow those in litigation to discuss issues on the air, then half of Mountain News is nightly violating this policy. Using an unwritten policy that has never been used before to stop a debate only shows one thing: somebody's more worried about advertising revenue than they are making sure the public is informed on a major issue that will be before the voters on Nov. 8.

One way to stop these unfortunate events is to vote yes on constitutional amendment #2 and get rid of the notorious broad form deed.

JOHN P. BURGESS
H.C. 66, Box 310
Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653
(Editor's Note: When contacted, Wayne Martin, WYMT station manager, reiterated that the debate was cancelled because the KFTC was unwilling to provide a person who was not involved in the pending litigation to represent its viewpoint.)

Supports Amendment

Dear Editor,
Peace in the valley? I wonder—with the destruction of a family cemetery where generations of relatives are buried to rest, I am referring to the Bingham cemetery on Auxier road where my grandmother was put to rest in this cemetery, there was a road leading up to the grave site, beautiful trees and flowers in bloom. Yes, nice it was a peaceful valley. Now, to reach the graves of loved ones, you must climb a 50 foot embankment, and when you reach the top you find all the trees are cut down, monument destroyed.

Even my own grandparents' monuments pushed over the hill. Yes, they were replaced with new ones—but to let someone get away with this destruction for their own profit makes me wonder just how far things can go in the future.

They say people have a right to die in dignity. Well, I also feel they have the right to lay at rest in dignity and be undisturbed.

Disappearing Civil Suit Listing Has Reader Wondering

Dear Editor,
We all up here (in Bevinville) liked the Court House Happenings better they way they were before.

We like to read the suits filed. Why don't you put it back the way it was? But the rest of the paper is great. I really enjoy reading it.

That is the only thing we don't like. Thank you, Talmadge Thompson
Bevinville

(Editor's Note: The civil suit listing has been discontinued, although other Court House Happenings news remains the same—and we've added property transfers. Because of the high number of suits filed each week, we can't follow each one through to the final ruling. This resulted in our publishing names of persons sued, but not whether they were found guilty or innocent. The listing was dropped out of fairness to those involved.)

Broad Form Deed Damages Development

Dear Editor,
Some people will try to convince you to vote "no" on the broad form deed Amendment because it might hurt jobs and the economy in the coalfields of Eastern Kentucky. I think just the opposite is true: if we allow coal companies to continue to use the broad form deed to strip-mine against a landowner's will, it will hurt future development.

With a lot of surface land in the coalfields having a broad form deed severing the ownership and the mineral owner (the companies) having control over the surface, we have seen our hillsides and timber let go. Some of the older residents in this area know what I am talking about.

In the late 1940's, the 1950s and 1960s, mining shifted from deep mining (which left the surface undisturbed and free to be developed) to surface mining, and the incentive to tend the land was lost. Hills that once served as pasture for cattle and hogs grew up in second growth timber. Land that was once park-like with trees carefully managed grew into overly dense forest.

Our economy went from agricultural and mining to one that is totally dependent on mining, thus losing diversity. It is important to understand that with a great deal of our surface land idled by the broad form deed, businesses are hesitant to move into the coalfields to build upon the surface that they have no control over. With no new businesses, we have no new jobs.

The Kentuckians For The Commonwealth, League of Women Voters, Kentucky Education Association, Ashland Area Labor Council, Kentucky Council of Churches, Kentucky Association of Conservation Districts, Kentucky Conservation Committee, Community Farm Alliance, Rainbow Coalition, United Mine Workers and lots of other groups have endorsed a yes vote on Constitutional Amendment No. 2. I urge you to join them and vote yes for a brighter economic future for all of us.

Reader Says Cemetery Desecration Is Crime

Dear Editor,
I was recently informed of the horrible crime that has and is still being committed against the deceased at the Bingham cemetery in Floyd County.

These people were laid to rest in peace there, and are now being bulldozed and blasted.

The courts say there is not enough evidence to prosecute the man who is responsible for the desecration of our family, friends, and loved ones. If this man gets away with it, why should we pay for caskets and burial plots which will be dozed over a hill someday.

The deceased can not fight back, but we as Christians can. Is there no respect for the dead anymore?

Boyhood Friend Fondly Remembered

Dear Editor,

We were little boys who attended the Prestonsburg Grade School in the early 1920s. He was a pleasant person, with a willing, unrestrained smile; a jovial individual and quite playful. We became fast friends early in life. Around the block from his home on Second Avenue (now Arnold Avenue) to my house on Maple Avenue we saw each other quite often. We played "round-town" ball on the dirt street of Maple, with "cowboys and Indians" taking place at intervals. Our cap pistols were weapons for the cowboys, and slingshots for the Indians. He was another "quick-draw McGraw," a dead-shot whom we all came to call "Two-gie," another name we had for "Two-gun Carter."

In our lifetimes (he was one year older than I) I never called him anything but "Two-gie." He always greeted me with that infectious smile and happy laugh. When he was in Lexington a few years back I visited him in his room on Limestone Street. Those were the days of his most difficult and frustrating times. He seemed somewhat despairing and lonely. I wanted him to know that our friendship had been a lasting one over the years; that whatever and whenever I might do something for him he had only to ask. He thanked me, but he never made a request that I do anything to ease his troublesome contemplations. He was quite non-dependent, a worthy man whose friendship was well-understood and never failing.

In our lifetimes we both had our grievous moments, but somehow the blessings of faith and chance sustained us. Unfortunately, I do not know of the illnesses of my many friends accumulated in three-score or more years. Had I known of his plight, I would surely have seen him before his further travels into time. And Ecclesiastes tells us that there is but a season for all things. There was a time that he lived—there was a time that he died. He was a good and loving man; a reflective and precious remembrance of early childhood into the crowded years that followed.

As I look back, the memory is still ed only by his absence. But a greater glory awaits him, my friend, throughout his lifetime, Thomas Leo Carter, the "Two-gie" boyhood friend of childhood. It was 2000 years ago that Someone said, "...Remember..." Is it not the most worthy thing that we do...that we "remember?"

Reader Urges 'Yes' Vote On Amendment

Dear Editor,

Incredible as it may seem, coal companies in Kentucky can still strip mine land without the permission of the landowner, and with no obligation to pay for damages to the land. Devastated landowners, victims of the infamous broad form deed, presently find no recourse in law to protect them from such grievous wrongs. Kentucky is the only state that allows such a travesty of justice to prevail.

On Nov. 8, this situation can and should change. By voting yes to Amendment 2, the concerned citizens of Kentucky can put behind them a shameful blot on the history of our Commonwealth. Coal mining can continue by deep mining methods in use when the broad form deeds were signed. Strip mining can still be done with the landowners' consent. Both the coal companies and the landowners will be able to survive.

Voters, ask yourself this question: How would you vote if the land belonged to you? Then, vote yes on Amendment 2 to help your fellow Kentuckians save their homes.

Sincerely yours,
Alice O. Martin

Water Is Blessing

Dear Editor,

Some people don't understand why we are so pleased to have water from the faucet after having a water well drilled, but to us, it is one of the greatest things that could happen.

Rev. 22-1 says, and He showed me a pure river of water life.

Eight long years, we experienced life without water except what was hauled or carried in for the family use. That experience gives us a better understanding of the goodness and grace of God in our lives. This family learned to yearn as much for His eternal water, even more, than we yearned for his temporal water. We thank the Lord for this good gift and all good gifts which He gives. We pray that we will always remain as grateful as we are today.

Our daughter Amanda says she is thankful because her mother won't have to work so hard any more.

Supports Broad Form Deed Amendment

Dear Editor,

We are writing to express our support for the broad form deed constitutional amendment. This is an important issue that will be decided by the people of Kentucky in the November 8 election.

Many of these deeds were signed hundreds of years ago with the idea that only deep mining would take place. Coal companies are now using these deeds to come in and strip mine people's land without their permission. We know it's not fair. Even though we don't have a broad form deed on our land, we're for the people who are fighting against their abuse. We stand behind them all the way. It's really too bad this situation has gone on this long.

We hope voters in Floyd County will take the time to learn about the important issues that will be decided this November, like the broad form deed amendment. When you go to the polling place, make your choice as an informed citizen and vote "YES" on constitutional amendment #2.

Callihan Questions Insurance

Dear Editor,

There seems to be an enormous amount of discrimination shown to state employees in 71 eastern and western Kentucky counties (59 percent) when we are forced to accept Kentucky Kare or Kentucky Kare Select health insurance, while 16 counties (13 percent) in the Lexington/Frankfort/Louisville area are offered their choice of seven different plans.

There are nine counties (7.5 percent) who are offered six plans, five counties (4 percent) who are offered five plans, six counties (5 percent) who are offered four plans and 13 counties (11 percent) who are offered three plans.

If an insurance carrier is unwilling or unable to offer a blanket policy to cover all state employees, they should not be allowed to offer a plan to cover just a selected few.

The personnel department's policy should be changed to provide me with the option to choose my own health insurance. If I can find a better policy to meet my needs, the state should be willing to pay up to the maximum amount of $89.07 per month to me or the insurance company of my choice.

I am extremely unhappy with the lack of benefits offered by Kentucky Kare or Kentucky Kare Select. Once again, the state of Kentucky has shown if you do not live in the "golden triangle," you do not deserve any consideration.

I urge all state employees to write the governor, the lieutenant governor, the Division of Employee Benefits, and their state representative and senator.

Band Fans

Hazard band boosters and other band fans wait anxiously for the Hazard High School band to perform. About 600 people came to the PHS Marching Band Competition on Saturday.

Pulaski Band Wins Local Competition

The constant rain Saturday did not dampen the music, shows, or spirits of Pulaski County band members, as they won the Grand Champion trophy at the Prestonsburg High School Marching Band Competition.

Thirteen bands took to the field in three divisions, and Pulaski County and Johnson Central qualified for the Kentucky Music Educators Association State Competition (to be held in Bowling Green this fall). Bands must score an 80.4 in competition to qualify.

The winners and trophy sponsors are as follows:

Class A-small: First place, sponsored by East Kentucky Explosives, Betsy Layne High School; second place, by East Kentucky Explosives, Cumberland High School; third place, by First Commonwealth Bank, Virgie High School; best auxiliary, by Triple B Corp., Betsy Layne High School; best field commander, by United Federal Savings and Loan, Breathitt County High School; and best percussion, by Robert Manning Eastern Kentucky Speech and Hearing Clinic, Cumberland High School.

Class A-large: First place, sponsored by First Commonwealth Bank, Pikeville High School; second place, by Dr. Fred Meece, Hazard High School; third place, by United Federal Savings and Loan, Mercer County High School; best auxiliary, by Triple B Corp., Hazard High School; best field commander, by Dr. Fred Meece, Hazard High School; and best percussion, by Robert Manning Eastern Kentucky Speech and Hearing Clinic, Pikeville High School.

Class AA: First place, sponsored by The Bank Josephine, Johnson Central High School; second place, by Action Petroleum, Pulaski County High School; third place, by Action Petroleum, Boyd County High School; best auxiliary, by Triple B Corp., Elkhorn City High School; best field commander, by First Commonwealth bank, Pulaski County High School; and best percussion, by Dr. Fred Meece, Johnson Central High School.

The Grand Champion, which is determined by the highest total points in all categories and sponsored by the Prestonsburg Rotary Club, was Pulaski County High School.

They'll Sell Concessions, Travel The State, Or Cheer In The Rain

By Laura Cooley
The crowded bleachers were filled with screaming fans more devoted than many high school football fans that crowd stadiums on Friday nights. They have traveled the length of the state, sold everything from concession food to flyswatters, and done about anything else, all in the name of their marching bands.

This rainy Saturday, the fans are enjoying the sounds and colors rising from the football field at the Prestonsburg High School Marching Band Competition.

But there are undertones of that all-important winning. Shouts of "Go get 'em!" and "Kill! Kill! Blood makes the grass grow!" (shouted by one Pikeville supporter as the band took the field) filled the air as each band began.

All the signs, cheering and caravanning to competitions are done in the name of the kids, for the majority of these fans are parents. The specials? Band boosters.

Many people would think twice before sitting in the rain all day to watch a marching band compete, but the band boosters there did not consider the option.

"Because my kids are here, I'm gonna be here," said Hazard Band Booster Benita Dishner. "We put our heart and soul in this."

"It's called love," said Prestonsburg Band Booster Shyla Meece. The bands have a following of 10 to 50 boosters at competitions on Saturdays in September and October. Some of the boosters and parents have been doing it for years.

"For six weeks, we don't do anything but band," said Hazard booster Bea Miniard. She has two boys in Hazard's Band of Gold and has never missed a competition during her eight years as a booster.

"We're a close-knit family bunch with muddy feet," said Hazard booster

Fran Felner, laughing about the less-than-optimum field.

Pride fills every booster's voice when talking about the students.

The kids work hard and deserve recognition, said Prestonsburg booster Brenda McKenzie. Many parents and the public don't realize how hard they work.

"It is interesting to see what the young people come up with," said

Prestonsburg booster Dr. Fred Meece about going to band competitions.

But is there any other reason these people will go and do anything for their band?

"To watch us win and take the trophies home—that's what we're out there for," Prestonsburg booster Betty Slone said happily, as she helped clean up after the competition.

Norma Boyd, Gwen Hall Elected To OLMS Positions

Norma Boyd of Harold and Gwen Hall of David were elected to leadership positions at Our Lady of the Mountains School Thursday, Sept. 15 at the school's PTO meeting.

Boyd was elected PTO vice-president. Hall was elected to the school's board.

Also elected were Debbie Jones of Paintsville, PTO president; Edith Blevins of East Point, PTO secretary, and Rodney Jones, school board member.

This year's faculty was introduced at the meeting also. Presented were Martha McDonald, kindergarten teacher; Sister Helen Louise, first and second grade teacher; Sister Rachel, third and fourth grade teacher; Joan Hatfield, fifth and sixth grade teacher; Phillip Price, seventh and eighth grade teacher; Father Tom Carroll, seventh and eighth grade religion teacher; Father Frank Osburg, temporal administrator and religion teacher; and Sister Alma Marie, principal, religion teacher and librarian.

Sister Alma Marie presented KEST scores for each grade and explained how individual scores could be interpreted. She also distributed copies of the proposed budget for the '88-'89 school year.

Father Osburg reported that a committee of 10 parents was contacting businesses to sponsor turtles in the school's annual Turtle Trots held at the Apple Day celebration and the Jenny Wiley Festival. Volunteers were solicited to work at the two races.

The kindergarten had the greatest percentage of parents in attendance and will be awarded a video program.

Commodity Program Extended

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has notified Kentucky's commodity program that surplus butter, cornmeal and flour will be available during October and November, but no new shipments of nonfat dry milk are being scheduled.

Meanwhile, President Reagan has signed a bill that will provide for distribution of surplus foodstuffs through September 1990.

The withdrawal of milk from the surplus commodity list follows previous removal of cheese, honey and rice by the USDA, and wasn't a complete surprise, according to Commissioner Mike Robinson of the Department for Social Insurance, which administers Kentucky's commodities program.

"Further commodity cuts were anticipated, because of the dwindling supply of surplus dairy products and the summer-long drought," said Robinson. "When shipments of cheese, honey and rice were halted, state agencies were given advance notice, but this announcement was handled through routine notification procedures."

For the months of October and November, Kentucky will receive only new shipments of butter, cornmeal and flour. Some regions of the state served by agencies with cheese and milk undistributed from earlier shipments may receive those items as well. The commodities are distributed by regional agencies which have contracts with Social Insurance.

Robinson said that, in addition to a reduced national dairy surplus, other food programs have a greater priority than commodities distribution.

"School lunches, institutions, jails and elderly feeding programs all receive surplus items before we do," said Robinson. "As the USDA estimated dairy surplus shrinks, we receive less commodities for distribution."

During the October-November shipping period, Kentucky is scheduled to receive 230,472 pounds of butter, 168,000 pounds of cornmeal and 504,000 pounds of flour.

Robinson called Kentucky's chances of obtaining extra shipments of commodities, which the state received the last four months, almost nonexistent.

"When extra commodities are available, USDA notifies our department well in advance of the shipments," the commissioner said. "Since we've received no notice of any additional foodstuffs being offered at this point, it's safe to assume none are going to be available."

extra $120 million each year to purchase additional foodstuffs, the effect on Kentucky's program will be marginal.

Robinson noted that although the bill would continue the commodities program for two more years and add an

"Nationwide, $120 million doesn't go very far, and Kentucky's share will not have a major effect on our current program," said Robinson. "What this bill does is keep the program from shutting down completely."

What a Cabbage!

Thurston Endicott of Endicott was one farmer that had a good crop this year. He is pictured with one of his cabbages that tipped the scales at 20 pounds. Although the weather had been hot and caused problems for some farmers, it did not affect the cabbage crop on Buffalo Creek. Endicott said he had several others like the one pictured above.

Summer Theatre Sets Record

The final figures are in, and the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre has set yet another record — more tourists than local residents attended the productions.

In addition, the theatre set a new attendance record, breaking last year's number by more than 1,850 patrons.

according to Jim Deaton, general manager.

Deaton told those attending the recent Floyd County Chamber of Commerce meeting at May Lodge that Floyd continues to lead surrounding counties in the number of patrons visiting the Summer Music Theatre, followed by Johnson, Pike, Martin and Magoffin counties.

Deaton estimated that the 11,333 tourists attending had an impact of more than $3.8 million in tourist spending, with 55 percent of that amount — or $277,317 — expended in Floyd County. Nearly 20 percent was spent in Johnson County, and slightly more than 18 percent in Pike County.

Stumbo Receives Endorsement Of UMWA-COMPAC

Rep. Gregory D. Stumbo, D-Prestonsburg, received the unanimous endorsement for his candidacy to the House of Representatives from the State UMWA-COMPAC.

Bob E. Hendrix, coordinator of the UMWA-COMPAC, said Stumbo has always responded immediately to the needs of the coal miner.

Amy Lester Enlists In Army

Amanda Lester of Allen has enlisted in the Army and will receive training as a truck vehicle repairer, according to SFC Stan Harris of the Prestonsburg Recruiting Station.

Lester, 19, is the daughter of Janet and Cecil Lester of Allen. She is a 1986 graduate of Oneida Baptist Institute. She decided to join the army because of the benefits and travel opportunities offered.

She will receive basic combat training at Ft. Jackson, S.C. and advanced individual training at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland. She will be assigned to Germany following her military training.

Porters Return From Florida Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Bert N. Porter of Prestonsburg have returned from Orlando, Fla., where they joined around 800 others from across the US in the 24th PT Boats Navy Reunion.

Next year's reunion will be held in Omaha, Neb.

While in Florida, the couple visited Mrs. Porter's brother and sister-in-law, Dewey and Ruth May of Melbourne, Fla.

Craft, Jarrell Are Charged

Eugene Craft, 23, Franklin D. Potter, 24, both of Prestonsburg, and Chattie Lynn Jarrell of East Point were arrested Saturday, Sept. 17, and charged with first degree criminal trespass.

Sgt. M. Omerod of the Prestonsburg Police Department observed the two men and the woman enter a guest house on the Ramier Property on University Drive in Prestonsburg. Omerod requested assistance from fellow officers Roy Roberts and Gerald Clark.

When the officers entered the house, they arrested Craft and Potter, but Jarrell had left. She was apprehended outside the building.

The three were lodged in the Floyd County Jail under $2,000 bond each.

Trafficking Sentence Passed

Tivis Bo Neeley, 38, of Hueysville, was sentenced Monday, Sept. 13, to serve two years in jail on two counts of trafficking in marijuana, a Class D felony.

Neeley reversed his earlier plea of not guilty to guilty of trafficking in marijuana on March 26 and April 4, 1986.

Neeley's sentence is to run concurrently.

The attorney for Neeley was Tom Kimball; Dan Rowland represented the Commonwealth.

Juveniles Are Returned Home

Three runaway juveniles were returned to their home in Indiana last week, thanks to quick action by the Prestonsburg Police Department.

Thursday, Sept. 22, Craig Cobbs, 19, of Waterloo, Ind., stopped at the Floppy Mart gas station on North Lake Drive in Prestonsburg, and pumped $17 worth of gas into his 1968 blue Chevy.

Cobbs then informed the attendant he could not pay for the gas.

When Capt. Greg Hall and Officer Gerald Clark arrived to place Cobbs under arrest, they discovered three juvenile passengers in the auto who were runaways.

The three were placed in the Juvenile Detention Center in Prestonsburg, and were later returned to their parents. Cobbs was lodged in the Floyd County Jail and charged with theft by unlawful taking.

Brock Is Guest Speaker For SMT

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. John Brock, and Lanette Thurman, state commissioner of the arts, will be the guest speakers at a benefit dinner for Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre Thursday, Sept. 29.

The evening will begin at 6:45 p.m. at May Lodge at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park. Entertainment will be provided (black tie optional).

The $100-per-person donation includes subscription tickets for the 1989 season.

Reservations may be placed by calling 886-9274 by mid-afternoon Thursday, Sept. 29.

Tipple

filed exceptions in response to that order.

The exceptions claim that several un rebutted key issues were not addressed in the order, including the fact that the site was abandoned in 1976 and 1977, and under Kentucky law a tipple opened after 1977 cannot be within 300 feet of residences which this tipple is. The exceptions also claim that the permit is going to be issued to the old operator, which cannot legally be done, Pillersdorf said.

Craft's attorney, Ed O'Daniel, said it was certainly the plaintiffs' right to file, but "the law is quite clear, and the appeal would be futile, in my opinion." O'Daniel believes the order is "consistent with the law." It is consistent with the 1984 court decision that tipples were not considered surface mining operations until July 1984, and even though there were residences within 300 feet of it, the tipple did exist before July 1984, he said. The opponents of the tipple claim that the tipple did not exist then under the meaning of state law.

The tipple is not open now, and there will probably have to be further orders from the Natural Resources and Environmental Cabinet before it will open, O'Daniel said.

Volunteers Sought By McDowell ARH For September 29 Blood Drive

A lot of changes take place in the fall. School begins, cooler weather sets in, and leaves turn to colorful shades. While these changes can be good, others are not. For example, a critical change in the blood supply can mean the difference between life and death for a patient. At Central Kentucky Blood Center, 200 pints of blood are needed every day to maintain a safe and adequate blood supply. Volunteer blood donors are the source of this lifesaving substance. Hospitals and patients depend on this supply and in an emergency situation there is no time to waste. Blood must be available when needed.

It is festival time again in Floyd County, and the Health Department reminds persons who plan to have booths in the various festivals held throughout the county that there are certain regulations which must be followed.

All persons who will be handling food at these booths must have a food handlers permit. These may be obtained for $3 at the Floyd County Health Department. Please call for an appointment.

Those organizations who are operating the booth must have a temporary food booth permit, which costs $15 and may be obtained from the health environmentalists at the Health Department every Monday-Friday, from 8-9:30 a.m. and 3:30-4:30 p.m. For more information concerning these regulations, please call 886-2788.

NON-PRESCRIBED FOODS

Tetracycline is an antibiotic that physicians commonly prescribe for the treatment of bacterial infections. What patients must bear in mind when taking tetracycline is that drinking it with milk or any dairy product will greatly inhibit the drug's effectiveness. This is because the calcium found in dairy products will bind with the tetracycline to form a complex which cannot be absorbed into the small intestine. It is through this intestinal lining that the drug normally gains access to the bloodstream. In fact, certain other nutrients (including magnesium and iron) also bind with tetracycline and prevent it from being absorbed into the body. This is why it is also not a good idea to take a multi-vitamin supplement simultaneously with tetracycline.

COOLEY APOTHECARY wants you to know that if your physician prescribes medication for you or a member of your family that we maintain the highest standards of the pharmaceutical profession. Learn for yourself why your friends and neighbors already rely on us. Complete patient profiles are maintained to aid us in checking for possible drug interactions. It also allows us to quickly give you any information you need for income tax and insurance purposes. We are located at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3.

HINT:

It is best to take tetracycline on an empty stomach one hour before or two hours after a meal.

Religious Viewpoints

Gary Shepard, Pastor
Zebulon Baptist Church

"God hath saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began. But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel." (II Tim. 1:9,10)

God sets forth for us in two verses of scripture how He saves sinners from their sins. You may think it is another way and preachers may preach differently, but be sure of it, this is the way God says He saves!

He saves first of all by a predetermined purpose. All that God does He does on purpose. It is "His own purpose." He does all things according to the counsel of His own will. His purpose is a saving purpose toward His people therefore "He hath saved us." Past tense and positively! So wise and powerful is God that His purpose cannot fail. It is a purpose of grace wherein He has purposed to save all His people by the gift of His grace and not their works. "But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness." (Rom. 4:5) The saving purpose of God is an unchanging and eternal purpose without any contingency plans for God will do all His pleasure.

Secondly, God saves by a preordained person. Paul tells us that God's purpose of grace and gift of salvation was "given us in Christ Jesus." Grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. God saves no one outside of His Son because He has placed everything in His Son. This is what He says, "And this is the record, that God hath given unto us eternal life and this life is in his Son." (I John 5:11) Christ was the surety of God's people before the world was and in time was born into this world that He might as a man die as a substitute before divine justice on behalf of them. He alone is the singular, substitutionary, sacrificial and successful Savior! He abolished death for those who believe on Him. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

God saves sinners by a particular proclamation. His salvation is revealed by the Holy Spirit through the preaching of the gospel. Life and immortality are brought to light through the gospel, Paul says. Not preaching about the gospel, but preaching the gospel which is Christ and Him crucified; what God's word says about Him and what He's done. Christ is God in human flesh, successfully obtaining eternal redemption for everyone of God's elect. No other message but this particular and distinctive gospel will do. The glory of God is revealed in the face of Jesus Christ as He is revealed in the gospel. (II Cor. 4:7) God's salvation is in a person, His Son.

God also saves by a perpetual power. It is by a "holy calling." This calling is by the eternal Holy Spirit of God. It is heart call. By this life-giving, eternal power and call the people of God are effectually and irresistibly called out of death and darkness to life and light in Christ. His sheep hear His voice and they follow Him. They are "drawn" to Christ (John 6:44) and are kept by the power of God through faith.

Lastly, God saves a pitiful people. They are sinners. Who else would need saving? Christ died for the ungodly! He came into the world to save sinners. Few consider themselves to be real sinners against God. These that God saves are said to be "dead in trespasses and sins," and even their best works are like filthy rags. Pitiful they are, but God has determined to save them to the praise of the glory of His grace.

God gets to Himself all the glory in the way He saves. All who are ever saved from sin and judgment are saved by God alone and all who are saved by God are saved this way! Are you saved by God or are you trying to save yourself? Awake to the fact that you cannot by your works of your religious save yourself and then seek in God's word to find out how He saves.

BIBLE ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS

HOW DO I KNOW IF I AM SAVED?
A person is saved when he puts his faith in Christ by believing Christ died, was buried, and rose again the third day according to the Scriptures. (I Corinthians 15:3-4)

The Bible gives very clear assurance of our salvation which is eternal life in the presence of God.

"And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God: that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God." (I John 5:11-13)

The Holy Spirit assures us in this passage that, "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." (Romans 8:16)

In speaking of His sheep, Jesus said, "And I give unto them eternal life: and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." (John 10:27-28)

A believer's desires and priorities are changed. "Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5:17)

How can I know I am saved? First, I must have accepted Christ my personal Savior, then the Bible, Jesus, the Holy Spirit, and my own desires witness to me confirming that I am saved and assured of spending eternity with God.

Fitzpatrick Was Among Hopefuls

Although not one of the final five chosen, a West Prestonsburg native was one of 11 hopefuls last week for the judicial vacancy in the Pikeville District of U.S. District Court.

The candidates were interviewed on Saturday.

Richard E. (Dickie) Fitzpatrick of Lexington, formerly of West Prestonsburg, was hoping to fulfill a lifelong ambition by becoming a judge.

"There is no higher calling really than a position of a federal judge in my opinion," Fitzpatrick said.

"Ever since I knew I wanted to be a lawyer, I knew I wanted to be a judge," he said. "Growing up, classmates would go to me to resolve disputes."

Fitzpatrick said that what makes up a good federal judge is like a good cake—lots of ingredients.

A judge is, among other things, fair, impartial, patient, courteous, intelligent and someone who can remember what it is like to be in front of the bench, he said.

Fitzpatrick is the son of the late Richard C. Fitzpatrick and Opal Fitzpatrick. He practices mineral law and is a partner in Gess, Mattingly, Saunier and Atchinson law firm in Lexington. He has been a law clerk for the Kentucky Court of Appeals, now the Kentucky Supreme Court, an assistant Attorney General and has practiced law and been a juvenile judge in Prestonsburg.

The Federal Judiciary Selection Commission of Kentucky announced their five recommendations for the position Saturday night.

They are Paul D. Gudgeon of Lexington, a Kentucky Court of Appeals judge; Anthony M. Wilhoit, of Versailles, a Kentucky Court of Appeals judge; Joseph M. Hood, of Russell, a U.S. Magistrate in Ashland; Daniel L. Venters, of Somerset, a circuit judge in Pulaski and Rockcastle counties; and Sidney B. Douglass, a former Harlan Circuit Court judge now in private practice in Harlan.

The names will be given to Sens. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., and Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., to give to President Ronald Reagan. The President will select one for congressional approval.

Stock Market Comes To PCC

Area residents will have the chance to learn and to test their stock market savvy when Prestonsburg Community College sponsors the Stock Market Game this fall.

An organizational meeting, set for Friday, Sept. 30 at 6 p.m. in room 113 of the Pike Building, will introduce participants to the game, which is promoted throughout the state by the Kentucky Council on Economic Education.

Participants in teams of four will be allocated $100,000 in imaginary funds to invest. Stock trading in the New York and American Stock Exchanges will be practiced, while participants observe how corporate maneuvers and national and international events affect stock market trading.

Real stock information at current daily stock exchange prices will guide team member decisions. Buy-sell decisions will be processed by computer and teams will receive a weekly portfolio statement concerning their stock.

Investment strategies, playing procedures and prizes for winners will be discussed at the organizational meeting. The games runs through December 8.

For information, call PCC's Office of Continuing Education and Community Service at 886-3863, ext. 215 or 289.

Dollar General Supports GED

Dollar General Stores in Martin and Prestonsburg are doing more than selling merchandise to folks. They are also helping people who want to learn their GED or learn to read to obtain information about where to find that help.

Dollar General Corp. began its GED/Learn-to-Read campaign in August 1987. Each store has brochures and return cards for customers to fill out if they are interested in learning to read, GED testing or tutoring. The company sends that information to the appropriate state agencies so they can give those people information on programs in their area.

Locally, the response has been great, according to Prestonsburg and Martin store managers Phyllis Ousley and Wanda Vanderpool. Hundreds of cards have been given away, and both stores have had to order more.

Several customers at the Martin store said that they earned their GED after finding out about programs through the brochure, Vanderpool said.

After looking at the brochure, some people are interested in helping, and some people are interested in it for someone else, she said.

Prestonsburg customers have also been interested in the brochures and are interested to find out about J.L. Turner's (Dollar General's founder) push for education. Turner, Dollar General's founder, promoted Education for his employees because he only completed the third grade because he had to support his family. Ousley said.

Over 8,600 people have been connected with local learning programs through Dollar General's campaign, and more than 500,000 brochures have been given away.

The Dollar General Corporation is receiving a Presidential Award from the President's Citation Program for Private Initiatives on Sept. 28 for its GED/Learn-to-Read campaign.

Pikeville College Enrollment Up 31 Percent Over That Of Two Years Ago

Set to begin celebrating its centennial in October, Pikeville College has started fall classes with the number of full-time students up 31 percent from two years ago and with a total enrollment double that of four years ago, according to the college.

"Another big increase in enrollment is a fitting way to begin our centennial year because it underscores the college's tradition of service to the people of Pike and surrounding counties," Pikeville College President William H. Owens said.

About 915 students enrolled for the fall semester, 11 percent more than last year he said. Of the 915, some 798 are full-time, a 15 percent increase over last year's full-time enrollment and 31 percent over that of 1986.

Four years ago total enrollment had dropped to about 450, Owens said.

"I see this latest increase as an expression of faith in the quality of education available at Pikeville College and also as evidence that the people of this area are becoming more concerned about getting a higher education," Owens said. "This last point is especially important because we all recognize the challenges the region faces in education, economic development and other areas. And the more men and women who get a higher education and stay in the region, the more likely we are to develop the wider range of economic and other opportunities we would all like to see here."

The number of students living on campus has also increased substantially Owens said. Some 195 are in dormitories for the fall semester, up almost 45 percent over the 135 living there last year and 130 percent over the 85 dorm students of three years ago.

Coach Says Run With Big Dogs, But CAPE Kennel Too Much

Just as often as an ever-present electrical storm brightened the skies above Prestonsburg, Cincinnati Academy of Physical Education lit up the Blackcat scoreboard, and with the same type electricity.

They struck early through the air, and followed that with some thunder to the right and lightning to the left enroute to a 46-0 thrashing of the Blackcats in Prestonsburg Friday night.

A total of five different players scored touchdowns and the Blackcat defense stopped CAPE on only three possessions—two due to fumbles—in the one-sided contest.

"We got to see a good football team," Prestonsburg coach Bill Letton said after the game. "We didn't play as well as we could have, but you'll be hard pressed to find as good a football team as they are."

They showed just about every good thing they had Friday night. CAPE held Prestonsburg to a total of nine yards in the first half, and yielded only one first down in the first half.

"They line up 11 great athletes over there," Letton said of the defense his team struggled with. "They're not that big up front. I thought we were a little stronger on our offensive line, but they were so quick that we couldn't do anything with them."

For the game, Prestonsburg netted a grand total of 44 yards, and their lone big play was a 26-yard pass from Tim Trusty to Jamie Howell late in the game.

CAPE, ranked second in the state in Ohio's division three, scored touchdowns on its initial five possessions, all of which began inside Blackcat territory. With 3:38 remaining in the first half, the squad had 177 offensive yards, and 33 points.

"We like to try to run the football, and I thought we did that real well tonight," CAPE head coach Steve Sheehan said. "We liked the outside six hole. That worked real well for us. We got several big plays from that formation."

Sheehan explained the outside six hole as a play CAPE runs as a quick handoff to a running back, who looks for an opening between the tackle and the tight end.

It worked, and with amazing effectiveness. CAPE rushed the football 25 times for 301 yards. But their first big play came through the air when quarterback Andre Simms hit tight end Edwin Houston with a 26-yard scoring strike in the first quarter.

Prestonsburg, 1-5 on the year, had gained a minus-three yards after taking the opening kickoff on their own 20-yard line.

A poor punt gave CAPE possession on the Blackcat 32, and on a fourth and four play Simms stuck a pass in between the eight and the one that Houston wore on his chest, and the big end sprinted on into the end zone untouched, scoring with 9:03 remaining on the clock.

"I thought our speed was probably the biggest difference we had over Prestonsburg," Sheehan said. That was certainly evident on scoring plays of 58, 41, 34, and 32 yards, all coming on the outside six hole which the Blackcats probably hope to never see again, especially with the effectiveness it produced Friday night.

"I thought Bates Creek was fast, but they looked like they were carrying refrigerators on their backs compared to these guys," Letton said, and not with a smile on his face.

"They hit the hole so quick, and if you don't have someone there to slow them down they're just gone."

CAPE, former Ohio State champion, scored its second touchdown with 7:12 remaining in the opening period when Larry Bedford broke loose for a 32-yard sprint. It was their initial play of the drive.

They scored again just under five minutes later on a six-yard run by James Gilbert, who had 49 yards on only four carries. Bedford led CAPE with 77 yards on the ground.

Prestonsburg managed to get the football across the mid-field stripe only two times, and both of those occasions came as a result of turnovers.

Midway through the third quarter, the Blackcats, on a punt, recovered a fumble on their own 45, and on the first play from scrimmage Dennis Smith reeled off a seven-yard run which, with 6:38 showing on the clock, was the first time Prestonsburg found themselves in CAPE territory.

Smith, after fullback Kevin Dotson rammed out four yards, ran for seven and Aaron Flannery scooted for a six-yard gain, moving the Blackcats down to the enemy 31. But on the following play they fumbled it away, ending the drive.

Again in the final frame Prestonsburg, moving back as often as they did forward, marched from their 47 to the CAPE 25, but a sack on fourth and nine stalled that drive.

With the win, CAPE, which has had a football program for only five years, improved to 4-0, but their latest win might not have been one requiring a tremendous amount of effort.

"As long as you don't get anyone hurt ... it gives the kids a chance to play a game outside their hometown,"

Sheehan said, summing up the school's decision and reward of playing a school, obviously this season on a lower level than themselves, some four to five hours from home.

For Prestonsburg the same story continues. They are in the midst of the school's toughest schedule ever, and also trying to comprehend a new system.

But Letton, in his first year as a head coach, says the degree of difficulty concerning the competition will someday be an asset to Prestonsburg's football program.

"You can either run with the big dogs or sit on the side and watch them. Personally I'd rather run with them," he said. "We've got a couple big dogs coming up, but I think if we're ever going to have the type program we want to have here we have to play these type teams."

"I'm convinced that the more you throw these kids to the fire the better they're going to respond. It's just going to take a lot of effort from them if they're going to compete with teams like this."

The Blackcats have played Bates Creek (then ranked third in the state in 3A), Paintsville (third in single A), Lawrence County (which could probably battle for a state title in double A if eligible). P'burg plays at Belfry Friday.

The Pirates, coached by former Prestonsburg head man Philip Haywood, are consistently in the 3A playoffs, and this season is no different.

Note: CAPE is a physical education school in Cincinnati which emphasizes PE, but is an accredited high school. It features two additional PE classes per year than other Ohio schools, but also requires 23 credits for graduation, four more than other high schools in the state.

SHORT RETURN: A Blackcat ball carrier is brought down a kickoff return Friday night.

Rebels Prepare For WHS With Shutout Victory Sat.

They had been down there before, only to be turned away empty-handed. But in the third quarter, B.J. Aldrich made sure Allen Central made good on its second opportunity.

The Rebels had earlier moved the football all the way to the McCreary Central 1 yard line, but were stopped short of the goal on a fourth and one play.

Aldrich, though, plunged in from the one in the third quarter, capping off a 75-yard Allen Central drive for the only points the Rebels would need in shutting out McCreary Central 8-0 at home Saturday evening. Mickey Parsons ran for the 2-point conversion.

Allen Central's defense, which has impressed Rebel head coach Donnie Daniels recently, held strong throughout the game to record the school's first ever shutout.

"(They) played real good," Daniels said when asked about his team's defensive effort. "This was probably the best defensive effort we've had since I've been here."

That would make it the school's top defensive outing ever on the varsity level because Daniels is the only coach Allen Central, in it's third varsity year, has had.

Daniels, who served as a graduate assistant coach at the University of Kentucky before coming to Allen Central in 1986, enjoyed his team's defensive performance Saturday, but as one like to say, "you can't score if you don't have it," and the Rebels proved just how valuable the time of possession factor can be.

"We had three real good drives," Daniels said, mentioning Allen Central's success with its possession style of offense. "I bet of the 48 minutes, we held the football at least 30."

One reason for that was tailback Mickey Parsons, who's average per game rushing is among some of the state's best. Although no official stats were available, Daniels said Parsons rushed the football 35 to 40 times.

The junior tailback missed all of the Rebels' first two games, and sat out most of their third contest, but has had one game where he ran for over 200 yards, and another where he racked up close to 190 yards.

Parsons, who ranks along with Betsy Layne's Chris Kidd as the county's leading rushers, gets plenty of chances to roll up impressive numbers.

"With our offense, Mickey is going to have to carry the load for us," Daniels said. "Remis is coming around, especially with his blocking. Our other tailback is improving too. Both of them have looked good in JV games," the coach added, mentioning his fullback Remis Addington, a sophomore who started only his second game Saturday.

Daniels thinks Addington's blocking ability is a plus for Parsons, and he had plenty of nice compliments for his offensive line.

"Our whole offensive line is improving in their blocking assignments," he mentioned. "We saw that in the

Tucker Hoping For Better Effort From Bobcat Team

Vince Tucker was hoping he might catch Leslie County on a down night, if not in a down season. Now that the Betsy Layne coach realizes he did neither Friday night, Tucker is hoping his Bobcats can revenge last season's surprise loss to Elkhorn City.

In an interview last week, Tucker said that if Leslie County had talent and ability comparable to what they possessed last season, the Bobcats would be in for a long night.

"They were about the way they were last year," Tucker said of the Leslie County squad that handed Betsy Layne a 46-6 defeat in Hyden. "They did about the same things they did last year, and they gave it to us pretty good."

Leslie County isn't enjoying one of its better seasons—that part Tucker had going for him—but it certainly didn't show Friday.

They scored 19 points in the second quarter, blowing open a 6-0 game, and rolled to their second win of the season. Leslie County, 2-3, exploded to a 35-0 advantage before the Bobcats could get on the scoreboard.

"The kids weren't in the right frame of mind for that game," Tucker said of his Betsy Layne players. "Hopefully we can start thinking football again and get ready for this week."

Russell Melton ran three yards for a first quarter touchdown, and after Betsy Layne stayed close early, Leslie County took control of the contest in the second period.

Keith Lewis, early in the second frame, plunged into the end zone from one yard out, making the score 12-0, and after Melton got his second touchdown on a seven yard run, Leslie County found paydirt from one yard out on two separate occasions, opening up the 35-0 lead.

Keith Hall, a senior fullback, scored the Bobcats' lone touchdown early in the final frame on a one-yard run as Betsy Layne avoided the shutout.

The Bobcats, in the midst of a four-game road trip, dropped to 2-4 on the season, and continued its winless effort against Leslie County. Betsy Layne is 0-2 in district play.

Tucker said that not much positive could be derived from the thumping Betsy Layne received, but the coach did mention the performance of quarterback Kevin Spurlock.

"Kevin hit 10 passes in about 16 or 17 attempts," he said. "That might have been the only bright spot we had. As an overall picture, we just didn't look that good."

But that game is history, and it might not be hard for Tucker to forget. It certainly won't be a performance he'll try to remember. The thing foremost on his mind is Friday's contest at Elkhorn City and the Cougars' win at Betsy Layne last year isn't a game Tucker has forgotten.

"Last year they were pretty low in the polls, and they came in here and jumped on us pretty good, which I didn't expect them to do," he said.

Elkhorn City, winless when they played the Bobcats at Mile High Field in week seven of the high school season, and finished as one of the state's lower rated single A schools.

But Vince Tucker, after what the Cougars did in 1987, doesn't put much stock in what the polls say. Neither does he think overlooking a team is an intelligent practice.

"I don't know how much they've improved this year, but as the old saying goes, 'any team can get beat on any given night.'"

Betsy Layne returns home Oct. 14 for another district battle, this one against Morgan County.

The Cougars are recognized as an explosive passing team, but the Betsy Layne defense, in its four losses, has been prone to the run. They effectively contained teams which have found success through the air against other teams. Among those were Prestonsburg, Sheldon Clark, and Johnson Central. The Blackcats and Golden Eagles, though, ran effectively against Betsy Layne.

The Bobcats, a team which had showed steady improvement until the Leslie County game, will play next week at Whitesburg, taking on Charles Mathews, one of the state's leading rushers, and the Yellow Jackets in a district contest.

Betsy Layne returns home October 14th for another district battle, this one against Morgan County, and one of Kentucky's more potent passing combinations.

The MC Cougars feature junior quarterback Jamie Easterling, who enjoys throwing to 6'5" tight end Mark Holbrook. The two have hooked up for several scores this season. Morgan County, Friday night, defeated Magoffin County 41-0 in the Sorgum Bowl. In the words of Magoffin County head coach Spike Berkthimer, it was a sticky situation for the Hornets.

High School Notes: The Paintsville Tigers may have clinched a title in the local single A district by dumping visiting Raceland 14-6 at home Friday night.

Junior quarterback Jeremy Holbrook connected with Gene Rice with a nine-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter, and Tucker Howard kicked the extra point to give the Tigers, 3-0 and ranked third in the state, all the points they would need to earn the victory. Raceland, 4-2 and ranked fifth, lost its first district contest.

The Sporting Times

It's mid-August. The sweat of summer is just about over, and with it, a hectic climax to what has been a hectic youth league all-star finish.

The hottest summer ever is about to slide coolly into Autumn, and parents are so proud that their child was given the opportunity to participate in a baseball all-star tournament.

But they, being the supportive parents that they are, also are celebrating the end of what has been many consecutive days of practice and games, games and practice.

They are now looking forward to the beginning of football, that sport which is played only one day a week, and their young athletes have a week to regain their senses and physical well-being before taking to the battle field once again.

August 19, that long-awaited date on football fans' calendars, finally rolled around, ushered in with a wave of enthusiasm that echos from the mountain tops to the Bluegrass, and on through to the west and north, engulfing Kentucky in a statewide frenzy of anticipation.

Week one of the high school season represented not only the opening of another gridiron campaign; it also brought about each school's spirit, and their renewed belief in a successful season.

But when week one wound down, it was more of a weak one, at least in Floyd County's efforts, as all four local schools took a severe thumping.

Between them, they scored a total of 13 points that weekend, and since then things have gotten no better. Worse, in fact, if that's possible.

Allen Central, projected as the county's weakest squad and rated dead last in the state in single A, is 2-4, and that ties them with Betsy Layne for the most wins in the county.

Heading into the seventh week of the season, county teams have won a grand total of six games. Two came against Magoffin County, which is in its first year of football. Another was over McCreary Central, in its second season, and Prestonsburg and Betsy Layne played each other.

It isn't our job to criticize, especially the young men and women who represent our schools in athletic competition. But just remember that if an article doesn't contain a large quantity of material on the home team, it sometimes becomes difficult to find positives in a 46-0 loss.

Other scores of 32-0, 45-0, and 35-0 haven't helped either. It's been a long season for everyone concerned, but the pain is also evident in creating a story from nothing.

But it was in the cards. That opening night foretold a tale we all should have foreseen.

It's opening night. The players are excited. The fans are up, and the bands are eager to show they've learned since last season.

What does it do? Rain, and a whole bunch of it. It wasn't bad enough that Betsy Layne lost 32-0 at home on opening night—the weather had to make it worse.

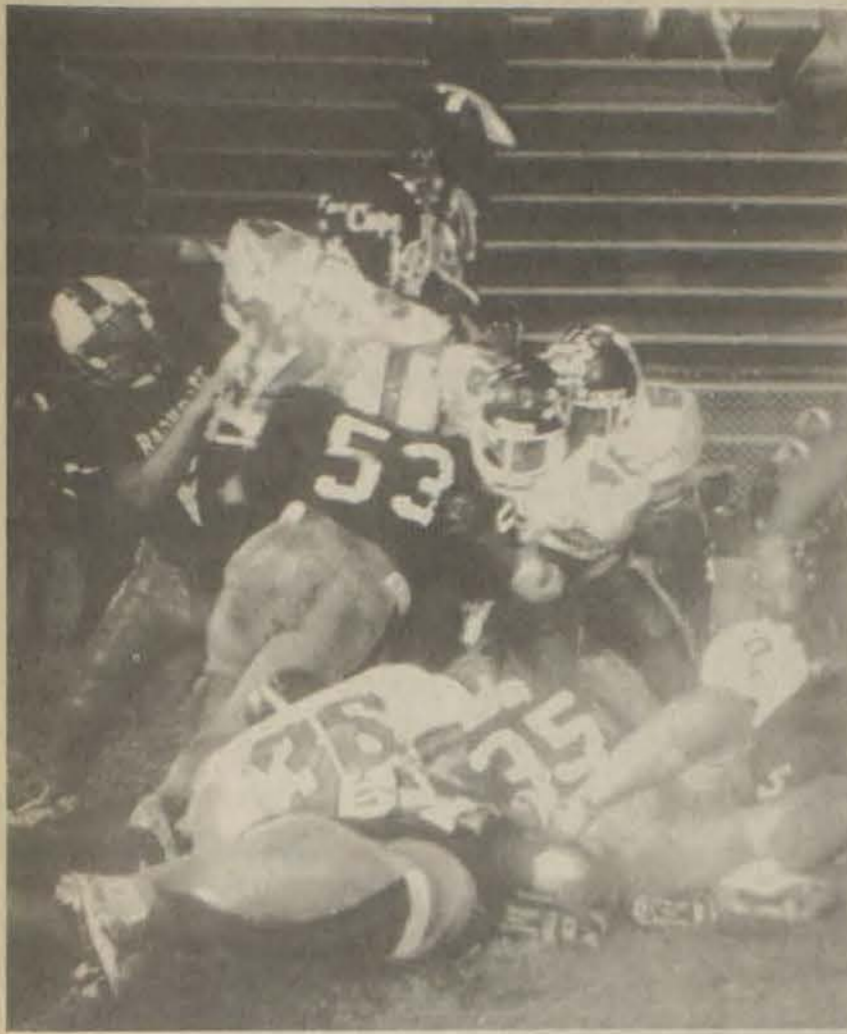

It wasn't bad enough that Jenkins shutout Allen Central 13-0. It rained, and did it with the same type enthusiasm in which the season started the night before.

But consistency, at least, has been with us throughout the year. Losing can be counted on, and so can the rain—and that's an unpleasant mess for all of us.

Of the nine football games we've attended this season, six have been under rainy skies. This is no fun, and the camera equipment, even with Japanese technology, can't handle much of the wet stuff.

But while we're on the subject of rainy weather and football, there is a lady somewhere in Prestonsburg who deserves a big thank you. Even though I declined her offer for a rain coat (I thought my trash bag was sufficient and consistent), she was sincere in her offer. Things such as this help me hold on to that last hope I have that people are decent somewhere. Oh yeah, I also received an invitation to share an umbrella which goes to show you that out of the Friday night crowd, there were two unselfish people.

Speaking of Friday's game, believe everything you hear about the talents of CAPE. They are one of the better Ohio high school football teams, and would probably run roughshod over any team Kentucky could line up against them. Since we're talking high school football, let's mention something about sideline crowd control. One good thing about the bad weather, it has decreased the number of hostile fans that clutter the sidelines, and sometimes even the playing field. I read somewhere that Bob Domine, sports director of WAVE-TV in Louisville, was flagged 15 yards for verbally abusing an official. At least Domine, though, had a sideline pass, and although he embarrassed himself, he did have a right to be there. Some schools have bleachers, and that's where the fans belong, instead of on the sideline blocking the way of those (such as the chain people) who have a job to do. Hey Commissioner Mills, I know the Louisville paper is trying to embarrass your leadership and high school sports, but could you possibly give this matter just a little dab of attention? Officials, clear the folks out. You have the authority to at least keep them off the field. Sure, nobody at the games (except me) respects you, but the police are always present. Ask for some help if you wish not to control the situation. Fans, remember those guys on the (Continued From Page 1) field are merely teenagers. Those of you who claim to be adults need to remember this, especially when it's the other team's youngsters you're making crude remarks to. Patience, though, may be the key. Basketball starts in just over six weeks.

The state's number one team in 1A, Pikeville, held on to its top spot by defeating intra-county rival, and 3A power Belfry 26-14 in a game Saturday in Pikeville. Belfry, one of Kentucky's top 10 teams in 3A, was burned early when Jody Brown returned the game's opening kickoff 93 yards for a touchdown. But the Pirates, coached by former Prestonsburg head man Philip Haywood, recovered, and held a 7-6 lead in the second quarter. Pikeville, trying to repeat as state champions, scored 14 consecutive points to take command of the game, considered to be one of Eastern Kentucky's best matchups of the season. The Pirates, getting a touchdown each from talented backfield duo of Greg Hackney and Bobby Deramus, improved to 6-0, and Belfry dropped to 5-1. Pikeville has won 19 football games in a row.

Local Football Schedule

- Betsy Layne (2-4) at Elkhorn City (2-4)

Raceland game, and it continued in the game Saturday. "We're improving," Daniels continued. "We finally found someone on our level and we took advantage of it." McCreary Central, now 0-6, is in only their second season of varsity football, but even though the Rebels weren't playing one of their toughest opponents, they impressed Daniels, and they also impressed a concerned bystander.

"They ran a lot of time off the clock with their running game, by getting four and five yards at a time," Roger Johnson, whose Wheelwright team plays Allen Central at Brackett Field Friday night. Johnson, who will bring a 1-4 team into the district contest, says ball control and time of possession will be one of the game's deciding factors.

"We're going to have to control the ball," he said. "If we can control the ball, keep our offense on the field a lot instead of our defense all the time, I think we'll have a pretty good shot." Wheelwright hasn't played since their loss at home to Johns Creek September 16, and the rest came at a time when the Trojans were a banged-up bunch.

"I feel like we're coming off our best game of the season, the Johns Creek game, but we turned the ball over too much," Johnson added, while including a turnover-free contest as a near must for his squad.

Johnson would also like to contain Parsons. "It looked like to me he carried the football 75 to 80 percent of the time when they ran it," he said of Saturday's affair. "He's a player we'll definitely have to stop."

"He's real quick. He cuts real well. He runs with his head up, and he never hardly fumbles. He's just a steady ball player."

The game will serve as Homecoming for Wheelwright, and it will be a return home for Daniels, who is a former Trojan player, and a 1980 graduate of Wheelwright.

"It's a district game, and it's a county game. It will be an emotional game, but we're going to make it as a normal game and try to do our best," Daniels said.

"Wheelwright's a good ball club. They've had some bad luck, just like they did last year. You take away the Elkhorn City loss, which they could have won, and the Johns Creek game, and they're 3-2.

"They've got great team speed, but we'll try to counter that any way we can. They're a good football team, and I'm sure they'll give us a lot of trouble."

Last season's game featured a full scale brawl, but neither coach is anticipating any hitting except with shoulder pads, but all are expecting plenty of that.

Short Sports

The Wheelwright Trojans, after taking what head coach Roger Johnson described as a much-needed week off, return to action this week to take on the Allen Central Rebels at home Friday night.

Wheelwright, in the two teams' brief series, has won one and lost one. Allen Central, in its first year of varsity football, lost to the Trojans in Wheelwright.

Allen Central, in its homecoming game last season, defeated the Trojans at Prestonsburg for its first-ever district victory.

Friday's game, which kicks off at 8 p.m., will serve as the Trojans' football homecoming, and will also be a district contest. Wheelwright, 1-4 overall, is 1-2 in district play. Allen Central brings in a 2-4 record. They are winless in district play.

This past week, the New York Mets, clinched a title in the National League's Eastern Division, but suffered a big loss as far as the League Championship Series is concerned.

The Mets, earning the title with a 3-1 win Friday over Philadelphia, will go into the post-season schedule without left-handed starting pitcher Bob Ojeda after he suffered an injury Wednesday.

Ojeda, who nearly severed his finger while trimming hedges, compiled a 10-3 record this season with a 2.88 earned run average. He will not see action in either the playoffs or World Series, if New York makes it that far, but is expected to return to full strength for the 1989 season.

It didn't seem to take away from Ohio State's offensive effectiveness, and the Buckeyes didn't even appear to miss suspended tailback Vince Workman in their 36-33 win over previously unbeaten LSU Saturday.

Workman, OSU's starting tailback and the school's leading rusher the past two seasons, was declared ineligible last week due to his involvement with an agent.

Workman, only part of a full scale investigation involving professional agents and college athletes, admitted recently to accepting money from an agent in San Francisco.

The Buckeyes didn't let that bother them on the field, scoring 16 points in the final two minutes to salvage a victory.

Morehead State University and successful football just don't go together. Their head coach and football are incompatible, and the school just can't seem to find a consistent way to win.

Saturday, the Eagles lost their third game of the season, falling 34-9 to Liberty Baptist in Lynchburg, Va. After the game Baldrige was hospitalized with chest pains, the second time in two years.

Maybe Baldrige and company, which had a total of six yards on the ground, will find some comfort Saturday when they play Samford College in Morehead.

The University of Kentucky, which plays tough Alabama Saturday, evened its record at 2-2 with a 38-14 thrashing of Kent State in Commonwealth Stadium.

The Crimson Tide, one of the top SEC teams, will be without leading running back Bobby Humphrey, who suffered an injury in a 44-10 win over Vandy. Kickoff is set for 12:40 in Lexington.

Quarterback Jay Gruden passed for over 300 yards and two touchdowns as Louisville also reached the break-even mark, stopping winless North Carolina 38-34. Gruder also ran for a touchdown.

The Cardinals, 2-2, remain on the road this week, traveling further south to take on Southern Mississippi in a 7:00 contest.

Western Kentucky, in one of the school's biggest wins ever, upset visiting Eastern this week as the Colonels missed a 32-yard field goal with five seconds left. The Hilltoppers, undefeated, claimed a 16-14 win.

Western plays at home this week, taking on Austin Peay, while Eastern, 1-2, opens its Ohio Valley Conference slate against Tennessee State.

The University of Louisville, following up on stories concerning forward Tony Kimbro, has announced its intentions to review the controversial situation.

U of L, not involved in the alleged incident, is currently taking a look into allegations that Kimbro, now a junior, received grades higher than he deserved in order for him to earn a basketball scholarship. Kimbro, a 6'9" forward, denies stories he received inflated grades while a student at Seneca High School in Louisville. Kimbro set out last season because U of L thought he needed extra time to devote to academics.

If these allegations are proven, Kimbro could lose his basketball eligibility permanently. Stories introducing the allegations first appeared in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Oakland Athletics outfielder Jose Canseco, a former Rookie of the year in the American League, accomplished Friday night what no other baseball player before him had ever done.

Canseco, in his third year of Major League baseball, stole his 40th base Friday, capping off the first ever 40-40 season in which a player hit at least 40 homeruns while stealing at least 40 bases.

The powerful Athletics outfielder had already blasted his 40 homeruns, but needed the stolen base to complete the unequalled task.

Oakland, thanks to Canseco's production along with several other talented players, clinched the AL West last Monday by defeating Minnesota. They were the first team to clinch a title this year.

Orel Hershiser threw his fifth consecutive shutout Friday night in an LA 3-0 win over San Francisco. Hershiser, 23-8, has thrown 49 consecutive scoreless innings, and apparently put himself in a position to win the NL Cy Young award.

Cincinnati's Danny Jackson, also a winner Friday, is 23-7, but has a higher ERA than Hershiser. The LA right-hander will, in his final start tonight, have an opportunity to establish two new standards for consecutive innings, the most consecutive scoreless innings is 55 and one-third, thrown in 1913 by Walter Johnson.

Only one other pitcher, Dodger Don Drysdale, has ever thrown six straight shutouts. Hershiser will start tonight against the San Diego Padres.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, with a win Monday night over San Diego, eliminated the Cincinnati Reds in the race for the National League West, but Cincinnati defeated San Francisco 7-2 to deny the Giants a second place finish.

The Reds, riding an eight-game winning streak, are currently in second place, and if they finish as divisional runners-up it would be for the fourth consecutive year. It would be only the second time in baseball history that a team has done that.

John Franco, who recorded his 38th save, established a new record for most saves in a season by a Cincinnati pitcher, surpassing the old mark held by Clay Carroll.

NFL News & Notes

When the Los Angeles Rams traded star running back Eric Dickerson to Indianapolis early last season, most people figured it as a move toward a better football future.

Dickerson, who reached 8,000 yards in his career earlier than any other back in the history of the NFL, wasn't happy as a Ram. He wanted more money. LA didn't want to give additional funds, so they sent Dickerson to the Colts in exchange for a host of early draft choices.

The move was supposed to devastate Los Angeles, at least until rookie choices matured into effective professional performers.

But Charles White, a former Heisman Trophy winner from USC, stepped into the position formerly held by Dickerson, and promptly led the league in rushing. Los Angeles still had the best running back in football, plus two extra first round draft picks.

LA, though, failed to finish above 500. White wasn't expected to enjoy a repeat performance in 1988, and Dickerson's leaving still created an empty feeling among Ram fans.

What was lost in the trade was a seldom-used running back named Greg Bell who was considered a throw in among all the high draft picks. Sunday, though, Bell ran for 112 yards, his third consecutive 100-yard plus performance. Jim Everett threw five touchdown passes, and the Rams drilled New York 45-31 to remain perfect on the season.

Everett, a third-year quarterback from Purdue, enjoyed the best day, touchdown wise, of his career, and as a result the Rams held on to the top spot in the NFC West.

Los Angeles, 4-0, plays Phoenix this week, then Atlanta before entering the toughest portion of their schedule. But by the time the Rams take on San Francisco in week seven, Charles White will be back from drug suspension, and top draft choices will have additional experience on their side.

Meanwhile, Indianapolis is 1-3, winning their first game Sunday 15-13 over Miami, and at least two of their losses have come on points scored following late Dickerson fumbles.

The Colts also gave away valuable first round choices to obtain linebacker Fred Young from Seattle before week three.

Indianapolis won't have many choices in the next couple drafts, and at least for this season, their moves may not prove fruitful. The Colts are on the bottom of the AFC East pile, trailing perfect Buffalo by three games.

The Bills, who have two of the league's best young linebackers in Shane Conlan and Cornelius Bennett, intercepted three Bobby Brister passes and blocked two Pittsburgh punts in defeating the Steelers 36-28.

The blocked punts led to 10 Buffalo points, and Scott Norwood, who set a record for most consecutive field goals, kicked five in five attempts to extend his streak to 12.

Norwood, who hasn't missed a field goal attempt this season, wasn't the only kicker who emerged from Sunday's games as a hero. Some people in Minnesota may give their vote to Chuck Nelson as that state's most popular person.

Nelson kicked three field goals—one a 32-yarder with 18 seconds left—as the Vikings turned back visiting Philadelphia 23-21.

The Vikings, which trailed 14-10 at halftime, sacked Eagle quarterback Randall Cunningham eight times to keep pace with Chicago, who defeated Green Bay 24-6. Both the Bears and Minnesota are 3-1 in their battle for supremacy in the NFC Central.

Injure spells defeat: The 1988 season hasn't been a nice one for NFL quarterback, and several teams which were pre-season playoff prospects have suffered unexpected losses as a by-product of crippled quarterbacks.

Bernie Kosar, the AFC's top-rated passer last year, was injured in Cleveland's opening game, and the Browns, the favorite to win the conference, is 2-2 after Cincinnati defeated them 24-17.

The Bengals, 4-0, got two touchdowns from rookie fullback Elbert Woods, and a fumble return for a touchdown by cornerback Lewis Billips, to remain on top in the AFC Central.

Houston, another team that lost its quarterback, won Sunday, remaining only one game behind the Bengals. The Oilers, 3-1, lost their only game last week 45-3 to the New York Jets.

Defending Super Bowl champion Washington went into battle Sunday without its quarterback and Super Bowl MVP Doug Williams, and lost to Phoenix. Williams, who had an appendectomy last week, will miss the next seven games.

Although backup Mark Rypien threw for over 300 yards and two touchdowns, the Redskins' defense couldn't contain Neil Lomax and the Phoenix offense, and the Cardinal win created a four-team tie atop the NFC East.

It would seem that a team's quarterback, or losing him, wouldn't affect defensive performances, but Washington failed to hold Phoenix, although the Cardinals got a touchdown off a Redskin turnover, and Seattle, without David Kreig, failed to contain the San Francisco 49ers.

Kreig suffered a separated shoulder last week, and stood on the sidelines as backup Jeff Kemp struggled in his sudden starting role.

Kemp completed only one pass in 12 attempts in the first half, while throwing three interceptions. Rookie Kelly Stouffer replaced him mid-way through the third period.

San Francisco quarterback Joe Montana, no stranger to injuries himself, threw four touchdown passes and the 49er offense compiled nearly 600 total yards in defeating the Seahawks 38-7 in Seattle.

The win kept the 49ers in a tie for second in the NFC West with New Orleans, and the Seattle loss created a jam in the AFC West.

Three teams (the Seahawks, the Raiders, and San Diego) are 2-2, and that's good enough to be as good as anyone else in the division.

Monday Night Contest: The LA Raiders didn't change quarterbacks because of an injury, but Monday night they became the 14th NFL team to make a quarterback change, replacing Steven Buerlein with Jay Schroeder. It certainly helped.

Tony Dorsett, who overcame Jim Brown as the second all-time leading rusher, scored two touchdowns early as Denver opened up a 24-0 halftime lead.

But Schroeder, who threw two touchdown passes to fullback Steve Smith, brought LA back, and when Marcus Allen scored on a five-yard run with 9:26 left, the score was tied at 24. The two teams traded field goals in the last three minutes, producing an overtime period.

Rookie Tim Brown returned a punt in overtime for a touchdown, but that was called back due to an illegal block. Chris Barr, though, kicked a 35-yard field goal late to give LA a 30-27 win.

Games to Watch: It isn't hard to find a game of great importance when reviewing this week's schedule, probably because the season has produced so many upsets and injuries that nobody is very far away from anybody else.

But when the New York Giants, which will enjoy the return of linebacker Lawrence Taylor, travel to Washington, the Giants could hand the defending champions a tough blow. The Redskins will be without Williams for seven games, and that could knock them out of the playoff picture.

The NFC East will also be the site for a critical game involving Philadelphia, which is in a must win situation when they take on Houston. The Oilers have never beaten Philadelphia, and if they do Sunday the Eagles will fall two games behind the East leaders barring a tie in D.C.

The league's undefeated teams will all be put to the test this week, especially when two of them play tough teams on the road.

Buffalo travels to Chicago for a battle with the Bears in what should be one of the day's better defensive battles. The last time the two teams met it ended in a 7-0 Chicago victory. But it also features two of the game's better young runners in Thurman Thomas of the Bills, and the Bears' Neal Anderson.

Cincinnati takes to the road to play the LA Raiders, who now have what Washington would love to ... Jay Schroeder. The Bengals have shown improvement in their defense, but Schroeder, with the best receiving corps in the NFL, is nearly unstoppable.

The LA Rams play at home against a Phoenix team that may be better than they showed earlier in the year. The Cardinals have won their last two games.

The league's only winless team, Green Bay, plays at Tampa Bay.

Skeet Shooting's Newest Fad

Is "Sporting Clays" a new fad that many skeet and trap shooters will adopt, or is it a special game for hunters who prefer it as a means of practicing to improve their skills under natural field conditions?

Whatever its role, this fast-growing sport challenges the most expert shotguns with a format in which success ratios above 80 percent are uncommon.

Its popularity and potential have given rise to special shotguns and ammunition tailored to demands of the sport. Federal Cartridge Co., for instance, has developed a special 12-gauge 1-1/8-ounce load that produces wider patterns for short range shots but maintains target-breaking performance at longer ranges. Federal's Champion Target division also make the unique clay birds required for this sport.

Originated in England, where it is the most popular shooting sport, Sporting Clays is a clay bird game in which targets are presented in ways that simulate flights of various game birds. Targets are presented at stations on a course that has terrain and cover similar to that found in game country. Shooters move from station to station, shooting at a predetermined number of targets at each. Although courses vary in size and number of stations, 50 targets generally comprise one round. Perhaps more interesting is the fact that no two courses are alike. Layout is left to the ingenuity of the local club.

Unique rules also enhance the sport's challenge. For example, a gun must be held off the shoulder until the target has been thrown, and release of a target may be delayed for up to three seconds after it has been called. Manual traps and a variety of smaller, faster clay birds add to the peculiarities of their flights. There is even a "rabbit" target that hops and bounces along the ground.

According to Federal Cartridge Co., Sporting Clays can be shot with any repeating shotgun—double, pump or automatic—and in any gauge. Participants can also use their usual bird guns. The 12-gauge is presently the most popular gun.

Unlike skeet and trap, Sporting Clays does not entail the tedious, repetitious drive for perfection. And while Sporting Clays provides practice in the entire wing-shooting process to make shooters more proficient in the field, it also enables them to practice at certain stations whose targets resemble flights of the game birds they plan to pursue.

Despite the rapid growth and popularity of Sporting Clays, the sport is still being developed by a national governing body, The United States Sporting Clays Association, which is affiliated with its English counterpart, solicits members, certifies instructors and judges courses.

WIRE-ENCLOSED STATION on Sporting Clay course ensures safety and limits gun arcs.

Western Staff To Host Clinic

Hoping to provide area basketball coaches with invaluable knowledge for the upcoming season, the Western Kentucky University basketball staff will host its annual pre-season Hilltopper Basketball Coaches Clinic Saturday, Oct. 8, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. (CDT), at WKU's E.A. Diddle Arena and in the Downing University Center.

Sponsored by WKU and Nike, Inc., the clinic will feature a number of prominent college, junior college and high school coaches, including Western's Murray Arnold, the 1986-87 Sun Belt Conference Coach-of-the-Year at Ohio University; and Denny Lehnus, head coach at Kankakee (Ill.) Community College and recipient of the Kodak-National Association of Basketball Coaches National Junior College Coach-of-the-Year Award. The coaches clinic will also include presentations from Larry Miller of Cincinnati (Ohio) Woodward High School and Dr. Michael Roller, head coach at David Lipscomb High School in Nashville, Tenn.

Registration for the one-day clinic will be from 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. with a continental breakfast to be served. After registration, Lehnus will address the audience on the aspects of the 1-3-1 defense, followed by Nee's lecture on tips for winning. Following lunch, Miller will discuss man-to-man pressure defense. Developing the team concept will be addressed by Dr. Roller while WKU's Murray Arnold will speak on the defense of the inside game.

At the conclusion of the clinic, participants will be invited to attend a hospitality room at the Ramada Inn where complimentary refreshments will be served.

A discount of $15 per coach is currently being offered for those who register before Oct. 3. Registration at the door will be $20 per coach and $35 for an entire staff. Checks should be made payable to the Hilltopper Basketball Coaches Clinic.

Bell County Star Captures Hyden Run

Mike Miller, Bell County High School's top-rated runner, finished just in front of local runner Rick Roberts to claim first place honors in the fourth annual Mary Breckenridge race held Saturday in Hyden.

Miller, who saw classmate Michelle Neal record the fastest time in the women's division, covered the 5,000 meter course in 14:11, while Roberts, of Floyd County, finished nine seconds behind the winner.

The race, which began seconds before lightning created an unpleasant setting by striking a nearby tree, was shorter than the pre-designed 5,000 meters when the leaders took a wrong turn and the remainder of the 30 or so runners followed their lead.

Local Race Set Oct. 8

The Druthers-Joe McCauley Memorial 5k Fall Classic will be held Saturday, Oct. 8 as part of the upcoming Jenny Wiley Festival.

The run, which is named in honor of Joe McCauley, will begin at 9 a.m., with registration set between 8:00 and 8:45 a.m. the morning of the race.

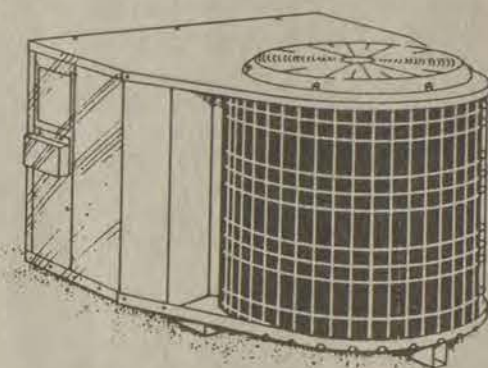

McCauley, a former director of the Big Sandy ADD, passed away in 1985, but before his death he was a three-time Masters Division state champion, winning the honor in 1980, '82, and '83.

Trophies will be given to the overall male and female winners, as well as the first place team. Awards will also be given to the winners of each age group. All entrants will receive complimentary tee-shirts.

The race, which requires a $6 entry fee, is sponsored by the Old South Track Club of Paintsville. Anyone interested in participating in the race should arrive at the Jenny Wiley Outdoor Theater between 8 and 8:45 a.m.

The race, which is a re-birth of the Jenny Wiley Run, is the first to be held in Prestonsburg since 1985.

Mayo Vo-Tech Employs Three New Teachers

Ralfred J. Hall, Mickey R. Daniels and Kyle Adams have been hired as new teachers at Mayo State Vocational Technical School.

Three new teachers have been employed by Mayo State Vocational Technical School to replace teachers who retired at the end of the 1987-88 school year.

Kyle Adams is filling the post of diesel mechanics teacher. He is a graduate of Johnson Central High School and Mayo State Vocational Technical School's Diesel Mechanics Program.

Adams has 16 years of work experience in the diesel mechanics field and most recently served as shop foreman for Power Equipment Company in Pikeville. Kyle holds membership in the Masonic Lodge. He is married to Priscilla Kinder Adams who is also a Mayo employee. They have one son, John Christopher, and reside at Hager Hill.

Mickey R. Daniels, a graduate of Mayo State Vocational Technical School, has returned to teach electronics technology at his alma mater. He also graduated with honors from State Technical Institute at Memphis with an Associate of Engineering degree in Electronics Engineering Technology. He also taught electronics courses for both the State Technical Institute at Memphis and the NAS Meridian Campus of Embry Riddle Aeronautical University in Meridian, Miss.

Daniels served 20 years with the U.S. Navy, retiring as a Senior Chief Petty Officer. During this time he graduated from several Navy electronics schools and taught both basic and advanced electronics courses for the Navy.

Daniels is a member of Chandlersville Lodge #858 F&AM Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in Memphis; the Kentucky Vocational Association, American Vocational Association, Kentucky Education Association, National Education Association and Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. He is a certified engineering technician and a FCC licensed radiotelephone operator.

Daniels, wife Judy and son Michael reside at Lowmansville.

Ralfred J. Hall of Salyersville has been employed to teach related mathematics for several of the shops. He is a graduate of Magoffin County High School and has a B.S. degree in Math/Physical Science-Secondary Education from Alice Lloyd College.

During his four years at Alice Lloyd, Hall worked in the chemistry lab and did some tutoring. He was a member of the Math-Science Education Club and did his student teaching in algebra, chemistry and physics at Allen Central High School.

He and his wife, who is attending Alice Lloyd College, are the youth leaders at Burning Fork Community Church.

Each teacher brings a great deal of experience to their respective jobs and are a tremendous asset to the programs in which they are employed. Mayo staff and students welcome them to the campus and look forward to working together. Each teacher expressed enthusiasm for their new assignments.

Bayes, Ratliff Attend PALS Seminar In Huntington, W.Va.

Two pediatric nurses from Highlands Regional Medical Center recently attended a two-day training seminar on Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS) at Cabell-Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W. Va.

"I am very excited about the course. This is an area that needs to be expounded and developed. I hope to see in the near future more health care professionals becoming involved in this program," said Margo Bayes, one of the nurses who attended the seminar.

The PALS seminar addressed the specialty of cardiopulmonary resuscitation of infants and children.

The teaching aspect of the course was in the form of lectures and written exams, but the major emphasis was hands-on-training.

Simulated emergency situations were staged in which seminar participants were taught and then called upon to demonstrate the special skills necessary for resuscitating and stabilizing the pediatric victim of cardiac arrest and how to recognize the child or infant at risk of cardiopulmonary arrest.

The development and implementation of the PALS program was sponsored by the American Heart Association. It was the direct result of the American Hospital Association's National Conference on Pediatric Resuscitation which advised that courses in neonatal and pediatric advanced life support were urgently needed.

Although the most common cause of cardiac arrest in adults is an acute primary cardiac event, the causes of cardiac arrest in children are diverse and more commonly due to respiratory or circulatory problems. Therefore, emphasis in the pediatric course is placed on the pre-arrest assessment, anticipatory intervention and ventilation techniques.

Because a significant portion of emergency calls involve children, Highlands Regional is now offering classes in Pediatric CPR. Anyone interested in more information on these classes should contact the Public Information Office at Highlands at 886-8511 or 789-6548.

"Youth is wholly experimental." Robert Louis Stevenson

Attend P.A.L.S. Seminar

Margo Bayes R.N., and Teddi Ratliff R.N., pediatric nurses from H.R.M.C. participated in a two day training seminar on Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS). The two nurses were among Eastern Kentucky's first healthcare professionals to receive this newly offered training, which was conducted at Cabell-Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W. Va.

ROGER JONES

For SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER

Educational District #5

I would like to take this opportunity to talk to my friends and neighbors in District No. 5.

As most of you know I am running for School Board Member. My reasons are, very simply, I have two children and I am very concerned about their and all Floyd County children's education. I feel that our present board has mismanaged the system and tied the hands of our teachers. The teachers of Floyd County need to have direct input into the system and have board members that will listen to their suggestions. After all, these are the people that spent most of their lives becoming eligible to teach our children.

It would be nice for Floyd County students to go to college and not be behind all the other students from day one. Is this too much to ask for our children? I personally think Floyd County's future should include the children.

YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED, NOV. 8.

Thank you,
ROGER JONES

(Pol. adv. paid for by the candidate, Kemberly Jones, Treasurer, 9-28-11pd.)

As a result of his win, Fugate will receive an expense-paid trip to Las Vegas in January to compete for "National Bagger of the Year", according to Kentucky Grocers Association officials. In addition to the trip, Fugate received a trophy.

He has been employed as a bagger for three years, and enjoys basketball and swimming. He will be attending Alice Lloyd College on a scholarship.

OUR LADY OF THE WAY HOSPITAL ...LARGE ENOUGH TO BE PROFESSIONAL

Dr. Sundaram

Dr. Vicher

Sometimes your health needs require the attention of a specialist. Two of our physicians—Dr. Sundaram and Dr. Vicher—specialize in internal medicine. Their practices focus on the prevention and treatment of heart disease, lung disease, high blood pressure, stroke and diabetes. They help patients develop diets to lose weight, lower cholesterol or control blood sugar. They can help patients quit smoking and/or cope with chronic lung diseases like Black Lung and emphysema.

Dr. Sundaram is a member of the American and Kentucky Thoracic Societies, which are dedicated to the study of medical treatment of diseases of the chest. His practice has a special emphasis on Black Lung and work-related disabilities.

Dr. Vicher is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine. She has intensive training in clinical cardiology, the treatment of heart problems.

To evaluate their patients' conditions and progress, Dr. Sundaram and Dr. Vicher use Our Lady of the Way Hospital's diagnostic services which include an eight-bed telemetry monitoring system, echocardiograms, electrocardiograms, Holter monitoring, enzyme studies, coronary risk profiles, stress tests, pulmonary function tests and blood-gas tests.

When hospitalization is necessary, these specialists entrust their patients to our qualified and experienced healthcare team. Through coordinated, multi-disciplinary efforts, patients can receive up-to-date drug therapy, a full-range of respiratory therapy services, dietary evaluation and counseling, and education about their condition, in addition to competent nursing care.

At Our Lady of the Way Hospital, we're small enough to give you the intensive, personalized care you want but large enough to give you the professional medical care you need!

FOR CUSTOM HEARING YOU CAN COUNT ON

I'm hearing better than I have in years. I can enjoy being with all of my friends again.

No one has even noticed my hearing aids, but they've sure noticed I'm hearing better.

They should be called understanding aids! Hearing better makes life so much easier.

These people had experienced the same frustrations you may be experiencing right this minute. Difficulty understanding in crowds, turning the T.V. and radios up so loud that family members were uncomfortable, and the fear of appearing older if they admitted their difficulty in hearing.

With their custom-in-the-ear aids they have found life a more pleasant experience, hearing and understanding the sounds and words they've missed for years. Through the help of custom hearing aids they are enjoying a happier more fulfilling lifestyle. If you think you may have a problem hearing, phone today for a hearing test!

Graham, Sexton Exchange Vows

Glenna Kay Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Graham and Rondal Brian Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rondal Sexton, were married Aug. 13 at the Community United Methodist Church with the Rev. Ron Masters officiating.

Katie and Jenny Songer greeted guests as nuptial music was performed by Bryen Lynn Dyer, pianist, and Barry Potter, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an off-the-shoulder southern belle gown of satin and chantilly lace, with a headpiece of lace, pearls, and orange blossoms and waltz-length veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses, pink stephanotis and ivy with seed pearls throughout the bouquet.

Ina Melvin was matron of honor. She wore a tea-length dress of pink multi-colored cotton. Bridesmaids were Lisa Mullins, Batina Sword, and Susan Key. They wore tea-length dresses of pink cotton. Kristen Morningstar was the flower girl. She wore a long, ruffled pink dress.

The best man was Shawn Sexton, brother of the groom, and groomsmen were Neile Osborne, Jack Ousley, and Mike Terry. Seth Myers, brother of the bride, served as ringbearer.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the fellowship hall. The four-tiered cake, created by Judy Cochran, was served along with punch and mints.

The bride is a graduate of Johnson Central High School and has attended Prestonsburg Community College and Mayo State Vocational Technical School. She is currently employed at Highland Regional Medical Center.

The groom is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School and has attended Mayo State Vocational Technical School. He is employed at Mine Power Products at Langley.

Following a brief wedding trip, the couple is residing in Prestonsburg.

The Pikeville's "Lost In The Shuffle" Bridge Club met Tuesday night at Meyers Towers, and the victorious were Loretta Singer of Stuart, Fla., first; John Rupley, second, and Vicki Pinson, third.

Renee Summers has been transferred to London. She's wished good luck and continued success by all.

The club readily adjusted to the Chicago Method of scoring last week, and is looking forward to the non-sanctioned duplicate game scheduled for Tuesday. For those who are interested, the "splinter bid" will be introduced prior to the game and, if implemented, the competition will be keener, making it harder for the opponents to communicate!

Both Pikeville College and Prestonsburg Community College are offering basic bridge classes this semester. Pikeville's "We Bid It Our Way" bridge club was formed last Monday. The winners were Loretta Singer, first; Marie Looney, second, and Mrs. Kaminski Robinson, third. There will be more about this new club later. In the interim, congratulations!

Thursday night winners were Vicki Pinson, first, and Robert Pinson, second.

1. "One of the hardest things about teaching in Floyd County is knowing that I don't have the materials I need to work with. Because I care about what happens to my students, I have bought chalk, paper, workbooks, and staplers. I have also taken students on trips without being paid for my time or gasoline. I have worked long hours at ballgames and fundraisers to buy things for my students. I spend my weekends grading papers and working on assignments. I do all of this, not because I ever expect to make a great deal of money. However, I know of no other job where people have to buy the materials they need in order to do that job. It has never seemed right to me, but good teachers have always put their students first. We have done that."

2. "Our children in Floyd County are the ones suffering--every day."

P'burg Elementary: 11 Students Qualify For Annual Talent Search

Eleven students from Prestonsburg Elementary have qualified for participation in this year's Talent Search for mathematically and verbally brilliant students, sponsored by Duke University's Talent Identification Program.

The program identifies bright seventh graders from a 16-state region in the south, southwest, and midwest, according to Jane Meek, Prestonsburg Elementary counselor.

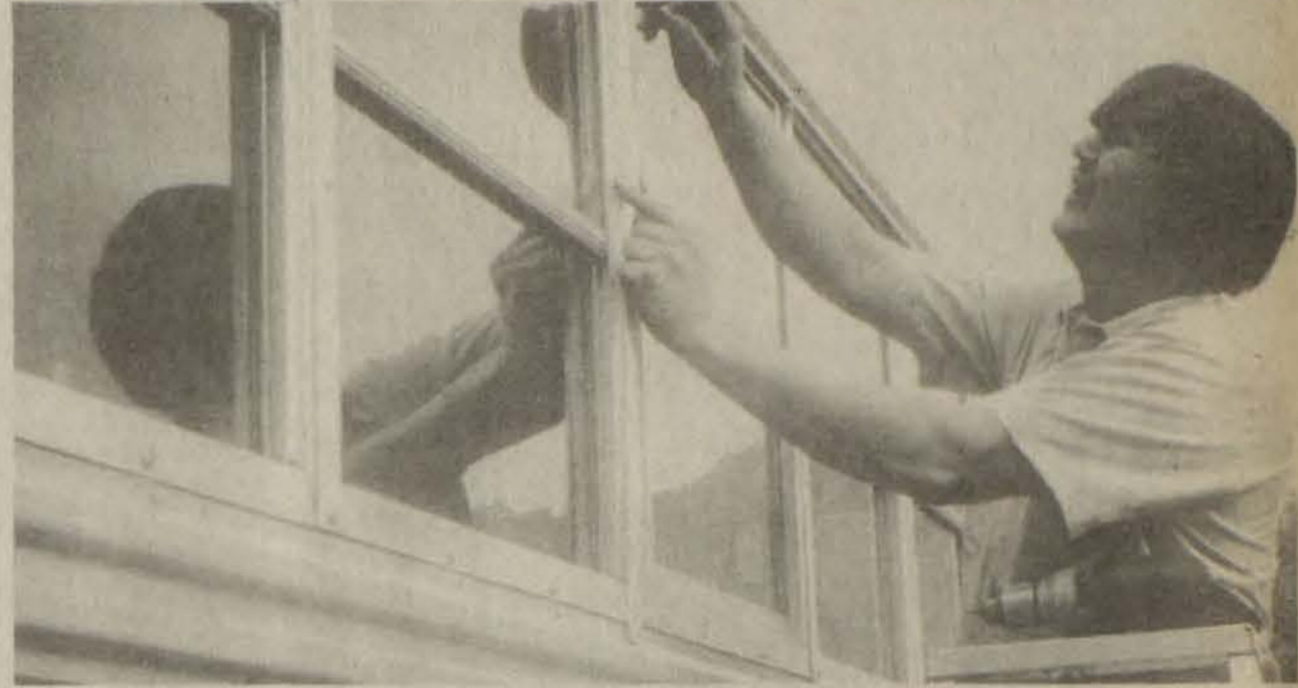

To be eligible, students must have scored at the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement or ability measure. They will sit for the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or ACT Assessment (ACT), normally taken by college-bound juniors and seniors, in December, January or February. Many of these students score as well or better than the average college-bound senior on these measures, said Meek. All participants receive certificates of merit and some become eligible for state-wide recognition ceremonies or a variety of educational programs.

TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options. The purposes of the program are to help academically able students develop their special abilities, to assist schools in working with their brightest students, and to understand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability.

Students from Prestonsburg Elementary are applicants for the 1988-1989 Talent Search are Rhiannon Burke, Bill C. Caldwell, Emily A. Damron, Kevin T. Farthing, Jessica Gadberry, Tonia J. Hale, Wade M. Hughes, Clara A. Newsom, Richard B. Nunnery and Christopher S. Wright.

Safety First

It will now be safer for the Floyd County students to ride the bus thanks, according to Superintendent Ronald Hager. New safety regulations for the Floyd County bus fleet have been implemented. The regulations call for all diesel buses presently to be equipped with four evacuation windows, and any bus purchased in the future be purchased with this feature. The regulation also calls for only those buses equipped with these special windows to be used for out-of-county trips. The windows, estimated to cost $2,000 to be placed in the buses, have red handles and swing completely open to provide escape routes in case of an emergency. Opening these windows also sends an alarm sound throughout the bus.

Allen Central's Kathi Keen Wins Poetry Contest; Receives $100 Award

The sum of $100 was awarded to Kathi Keen, a senior at Allen Central High School, who was a winner of two Albert F. Stewart poetry awards, Saturday night, Sept. 10, at May Lodge at the end of the Writer's Workshop. Her winning poems were "Freedom" and "Love is Lost."

In addition to the cash awards, she received two certificates, and her name will be inscribed on a plaque that will remain in Stewart's split-log home at Yellow Mountain near Hindman.

The contest was sponsored by Appalchians of America, in conjunction with the Highland's Folk Festival and was open to high school seniors from the region who either graduated in the spring of 1988 or will graduate in the spring of 1989.

One other award was presented to a senior from West Virginia for this contest.

KATHI KEEN

FREEDOM

Fire as it burns,
It dances freely.
Under control,
Still, yet untamed.
Stallions racing across an open field!
Wind blowing through their manes;
Running from nothing—
Running to nothing—
Just running.
An eagle soaring high Above the mountains and the treetops—
Free as the wind itself
Dreams of freedom!
Then, there's me,
Trapped in this world of loneliness and desolation.

Unable to dance, run or soar to my
freedom;
Held down by overriding forces.
But I can!
My spirit is the flame as it dances.
Untamed and dangerous.
My spirit is the stallion
Racing across an open field,
Careless and bold.
My spirit is the eagle,
Soaring to great heights,
Fearless, brave and FREE!

LOVE IS LOST

Summer into winter—
Seasons change without warning.
Caught in the midst of a snowstorm.
With nowhere to run for warmth.
All is silent, frozen, asleep.
Not to awake till the thaw of spring heat.
But what if the thaw is too late?
Day into night—
Like crossing the border of another world.
A world of darkness and fear,
A place of loneliness and of predators
And of vile creatures that torture both mind and soul.
Night lingers on, not to leave until the black, restrictive cloak is gone.
Life into death—
A change unlike any other.
Sent from a place of love into the very pits of Hell.
There to have your soul burned,
Your heart twisted and torn until there is no resemblance to its natural form.
Then is when you realize your fate.
There is no hope, just hate.
For all love is lost.

Journalism A Special Class

Journalism is a special writing class at Betsy Layne High School, encompassing many activities and practical uses.

Not only does it teach writing, interviewing, speech and design skills; but it also develops an awareness of punctuality, neatness, responsibility and dependability. No matter how good the writing is, the paper would never be printed without these latter skills.

This week, Betsy Layne's first school paper of the year, the Bobcat Journal, will be sold. The paper is totally written, typed and designed by the journal staff. The paper includes new, schedule dates, editorials, feature articles and humor. The Journal's editor-in-chief and instructor, Brenda Porter, encourages the people of the Betsy Layne area to support students and purchase a copy of the paper.

The price is 25¢.

The academic team is meeting each morning at 7:30 to practice for its first meet against Johnson Central, Oct. 6 at home. At present, the core team has not been selected, but between 25 and 30 students are participating each morning.

The German Club had its first meeting of the school year Sept. 16.

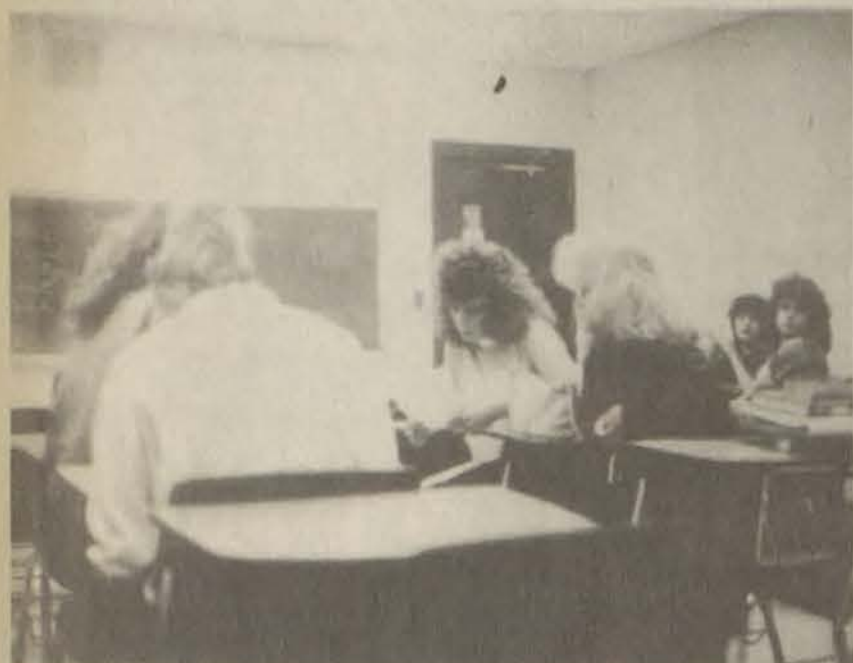

Five new members were inducted into the club. To qualify as a member, students must be enrolled in German class or be a former student in German.

The new officers are Angela Clark, president; Ronda Tackett, vice president; Debbie Hall, secretary; and Stacy Bewer, treasurer. The German Club sponsor, Eugene Blackburn, says that the purpose of the club is to teach students customs and practices of the German people, both present and past. It also gives other students, and especially the faculty, an opportunity to sample German culture first-hand.

Hurricane Watch

Carl Jarrell, Cody Blackburn, teacher Terry Stewart and Mark Scalf are part of the BLHS science classes monitoring Hurricane Gilbert last week on the school's ham radio.

Correcting Copy

WHS Librarian Attends Conference

Jane Jones, the librarian at Wheelwright High School, attended the Kentucky School Media Association Conference held at the Continental Inn in Lexington, Aug. 26-27.

The two-day conference included tours of school, KET, and sessions with Kentucky authors. One of the local writers that the librarians met was Walter D. Meyers, the guest speaker at the conference banquet. Meyers is the author of several books. His latest is called Fallen Angels.

Jones is also beginning a collection of works by Kentucky and Appalachian authors which she feels will help in educating the students at WHS about the history, traditions, and values of the region. Jones plans on attending the Kentucky Librarian Association Conference which will be held in Owensboro Oct. 12-14.

Mountain Christian Academy Holds Open House Sept. 13

Many families attended the open house held at Mountain Christian Academy on Tuesday, Sept. 13th, with more than 50 of the school's 68 families attending. The parents not only came, but several brought their students and other family members. The students served as ambassadors for the new members, according to James Bolen, school dean.

Teachers held mock classes to give parents information about classroom expectations and procedures. Grades 1 and 2 teacher Gail Brown had parents sounding out words, as her students are doing. Margaret Tracey, grades 5 and 6 teacher, had to overcome some frowns from parents accustomed to straight A papers from their children, now with much lower grades. They again smiled after learning that all papers, whether social studies, Christian education, or English are graded for grammar and spelling and that the students in her class eventually learn to do it all correctly the first time, said Dean.

The school's Parent Teacher Organization provided refreshments.

Small group gatherings provided ample opportunity for sharing ideas and information, Dean added.

Computer Tutor

Students in Fred Hall's eighth grade math class at McDowell Grade School use computers to work on math skills. The computers help kids having problems with certain things get a grasp of math concepts and help improve students' math skills level, Hall said. "It's like having six teachers in the room," Hall said.

Students With BreadNet Communications System At Wheelwright

Wheelwright Students To Join BreadNet

Wheelwright High School students will soon be communicating with students from reservations in South Dakota and members of a private academy in Pennsylvania. However, this unique communication will not take place through the mail.

Wheelwright High School will be joining a telecommunications network known as BreadNet, which allows students from hundreds of miles away to communicate by computers via telephone modems.

BreadNet is open to the students of teachers who have attended the Bread Loaf School of English in Middlebury, Vt. Carol Stumbo, an English teacher at Wheelwright High School, attended a seven-week course at the school this past summer as part of the school's program for rural teachers. Bread Loaf is famous for its writing program which, for years, claimed Robert Frost as one of its visiting teachers.

BreadNet's project director is William W. Wright, a native of Alabama, who currently works for a research center in Washington, D.C. The network allows students to exchange writing and information about their communities. Some of this writing is published in magazine form and called Voices Across the Wires. Last year, seven schools (one located in Peru) contributed stories and poems to the magazine.

Through the use of communications software, a modem, and a telephone hookup, the students at Wheelwright will soon be "on-line". One of the teachers that the students will be communicating with is Jeff Schwartz, who teaches at Sewickley Academy in Pennsylvania. Although Schwartz, teaches at a private school, he and his students put together an oral history magazine last year very similar to Mantrip, which is produced at Wheelwright.

With the cooperation of Sue Jones, who teaches computer classes at Wheelwright, the Mantrip students are also doing the editing of their articles and interviews using word processing equipment this year.

Local Students Receive Degrees From EKU

Two Floyd County residents were among the nearly 500 students receiving degrees from Eastern Kentucky University at the annual summer commencement exercises.

Receptions sponsored by EKU's nine colleges honored graduates at various locations across the campus.

The graduates join more than 60,000 Eastern alumni in Kentucky, the region, and across the United States.

U.S. Rep. Hal Rogers, R-Somerset, gave the commencement address and received an honorary doctor of laws degree from EKU.

Eastern Kentucky University at Richmond serves more than 13,700 students through programs offered by its nine colleges and the graduate school.

Local graduates from EKU were Melanie J. Elliott, a bachelor's degree in medical technology; and Stacy E. McQueen, a master's degree in clinical psychology.

Floyd Countians Honor Miss Pugsley

A sign on the Prestonsburg Grade School bulletin board recently proclaimed the message felt by all Floyd Countians toward Myrtle Pugsley. The message read, "We love you, Miss Pugsley."

Miss Pugsley was honored Saturday, Sept. 17, at the Mountain Manor Nursing Home with an open house celebrating her forthcoming birthday. Hostesses were Jo Vaughn, Mary Jane Brown and Dorothy Wells.

Christian love and fellowship were much in evidence as friends reminisced. About the 45 years Miss Pugsley has been a Bible teacher, a church leader, and a friend to residents here.

A plaque, with praying hands and bearing a message of love and appreciation, was displayed on a table covered with a white cloth and an overlay of pink, and centered with a bouquet consisting of a rose and baby's breath intertwined with greenery. The plaque was a gift from the pastor and members of the First Church of God. The bouquet was a gift from Dr. Gabriel Wallace. She also received a painting of the Prestonsburg Grade School from Mr. and Mrs. Russell May, monetary gifts and also various other items.

Two cakes were displayed bearing the message "Happy Birthday, Miss Pugsley" and "May God hold you in the palm of His hand." The cakes, punch and mints were also served to the many friends who called throughout the day.

Wearing a white corsage, a gift from her hostesses, that blended with her party attire, Miss Pugsley was escorted to the table by Mary Jane Brown and Jo Vaughn.

Mrs. Vaughn and the Rev. Dewey Conley, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church at Cliff, spoke of the wonderful influence she had on the people throughout the area. Erin and Robert Spradlin sang, "He's the Same Today," and other familiar hymns with the group joining in.

Present, to bid a sad but fond farewell to Miss Pugsley were: Loretta Hammond, Mable Brown, Reva Sloan, George Brown, Rev. Books And Things

New Books From 'Foxfire' Group Available

By Trisha Morris,
PCC Librarian

The Foxfire series has been laid to rest with the volume 9 issue, but the experiment has not ended. The following books from the PCC library represent the new publications from the Rabun kids and their leader.

Sometimes a Shining Moment, by Eliot Wigginton. Wigginton, a teacher with 20 years tenure in the schools of Rabun County, Ga., is one of the precious resources of the Appalachian region. He and his students first gained wide attention in 1972 with the publication of The Foxfire Book. For the past 14 years, the makers of "Foxfire" have been lights glowing in the night, teaching us about the history, beauty and richness of Appalachia. Now, with the publication of the long awaited Sometimes a Shining Moment, Wigginton shares his remarkable story and his educational theory and practice with the entire country.

Winner of the Kappa Delta Pi Education Honorary Society Book-of-the-Year Award, this is the deeply moving story of one teacher's personal odyssey in our public school system. Calling his salary a "bogus yardstick of worth," Eliot announces that he teaches because, "it is something I do well... a craft I enjoy... and because there is room within its boundaries for infinite variety and flexibility." This is the story of that flexibility he put into his method of teaching English to ninth and 10th grade students who despised the subject. His description of what he found at the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee School brims with absurdity and hilarity.

The book is divided into three sections. The first section is the terrific story of the birth, growth and flourishing of the "Foxfire" idea. Part two deals with Eliot's educational theory, a theory profoundly influenced by John Dewey, Alfred North Whitehead, Jean Piaget and his own instincts for democracy, dialogue and participation. It discusses his curricular goals and his own "Back to Basics" theory. The third section is a detailed description of Foxfire 1: a grammar-composition course taught at the Rabun school.

The Atlantic Journal called Sometimes a Shining Moment, "...an inspiring, thoughtful book, as rare and beautiful as the luminous lichen for which it is named," and said that it should be required reading for all high school teachers. Allow me to second that. From having thoroughly enjoyed his book to sitting across the table from the author, I feel qualified to say that Eliot's style, in writing as in person, is informal, plainspoken, practical, personal and full of his energy and idealism. A success story that has to be read.

The Foxfire Book of Winemaking. For many people of the Appalachian Mountains, wine making is as much a part of their culture as the mountains themselves. Made from the fruits and berries native to the land, homemade wine has been used for everything from curing stomachaches to cooking and just plain drinking.

This delightful book of wine recipes will be useful to experienced brewers, amateurs or anyone who just wants a good read. Full of some very funny stories of the Appalachian folks who brew this wine, this book can be read for entertainment as well as for instruction.

Grover Webb warns folks not to "fool with a jug that's still a-bubbling." Mayer recommends pokeberry wine for sciatica, and Roy Dobbins testifies that, "if it'll knock you on your back it's ready."

Here are recipes for blackberry, elderberry and pokeberry wine; wines from peaches and wild cherries; rhubarb and scuppernon wines; and even a treasured recipe for Melvin Taylor's 24-hour cocktail.

Complete with practical advice on how to make and set up your equipment, actual recipes and an index, making it a handy reference guide, Wine Making is the most unique book yet from the Foxfire Press.

The Foxfire Book of Toys and Games. If you spend a fortune on toys for the children and are left with worn-out batteries and a closet full of discarded status symbols, try this book. It is a wonderful collection of indoor and outdoor games that are so old your kids will think they invented them.

Remember marbles mumble peg, fox and geese, horseshoes, hopscotch, rope jumping, kick the can or drop the handkerchief? Well, I do, and so does this book. There's instructions if you need them and lots and lots of pictures of folks having fun playing together.

The editors have included a special section on activities for Sundays and holidays. There's instructions for making dozens of wonderful dolls from such diverse materials as cornhusks, rocks, potatoes and apples. Other toys included are fluttermills, tops, whistles, bladder balloons, puzzles, and whimsy didles.

The kids from Foxfire have done a characteristically beautiful job on this one. They've gathered their information, evaluated and tested it and produced an attractive book that will bring back memories and teach a new generation how to have fun in the old ways—and you won't need batteries.

The Foxfire Book of Appalachian Cookery. A treasure trove of generations-old recipes, this book contains over 400 recipes and a heaping amount of lively old-time kitchen lore. If your mouth isn't watering before the end of this Foxfire collection from Appalachian kitchens, you just aren't concentrating or you died a week ago Thursday.

Representing an antithesis to the impersonal fast-food, defrosted dinner experience that has swept the country this book is about when cooking was cooking, and eating was a wonderful experience. Here is food that is unpretentious, solid and fulfilling. Food like sweet potato cobbler, Brunswick stew, mayonnaise corn bread, seven-day slaw, butterscotch pie, potato doughnuts and lime pickles, to name only a few. There are also directions for using a wood stove or fireplace for cooking, making homemade yeast, curing pork, grilling corn, parching coffee and open-kettle canning.

With a generous sampling of human conversation to accompany the recipes, this is a book you can put to good use in the kitchen, or simply enjoy for its high spirits and homespun wisdom.

Melanie Park

Melanie Star Park, a senior at Johnson Central High School, and graduate of the Governor's School of the Arts, performed for Governor Wallace G. Wilkinson and Congressman Chris Perkins at the Democratic rally held recently at the school. Park opened the ceremony with her renditions of the National Anthem and My Old Kentucky Home. Her accompanist on the piano was Joe Hall, Park, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Don Park of Hager Hill, also had the opportunity to chat with Gov. Wilkinson.

Ricky Skaggs To Be At Morehead, Oct. 6

Country music recording artist Ricky Skaggs will appear in concert at Morehead State University's Academic-Athletic Center at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 6, as part of the University's 1988 Homecoming activities.

An Eastern Kentucky native, Skaggs is a constant hit maker on the music charts. Three of his albums, "Waitin' For The Sun To Shine," "Highways and Heartaches" and "Don't Cheat In Our Hometown" were gold and platinum sellers in the United States and Canada while "Country Boy" also went gold in Canada.

Since he began performing with his family at county fairs and town socials at the age of three, Skaggs has become a skilled musician on the guitar, banjo, mandolin and fiddle. He has performed with the Clinch Mountain Boys, the Whites, Keith Whitley and Emmylou Harris.

Skaggs, a member of the Grand Ole Opry since 1982, has appeared on several television shows including Hee Haw, Music City News Awards, Today Show and Solid Gold.

Serving as the opening act for Skaggs will be the Sweethearts of the Rodeo. The California natives, Jami Gill and Kristine Arnold, have been compared to the Everly Brothers because of their harmony of voices.

The sister duo, now with a second album to its credit, received national attention for five hit singles from their debut album "Hey, Doll Baby," "Since I Found You," and "Midnight Girl/Sunset Town" were among those hits which made the country music charts.

Tickets are $12 for general admission, $6 for MSU faculty and staff, and $3 for MSU students with valid identification cards. MSU alumni may receive a 20 percent discount by contacting the Office of Alumni Relations, 783-2080.

Ticket outlets include DJ Records in Grayson; Video Bank in Mt. Sterling; MSU-Ashland Center; UK Student Center in Lexington; Pee Wee Shop in West Liberty; Martin's Department Store in Vanceburg; Martin's Department Store in Jackson; NAPA in Inez; Gateway Plaza and Clyde's Super Valu in Maysville; and Peoples Store, Movie Warehouse and MSU's Student Government Association office in Morehead.

MARQUEE

MOON OVER PARADOR (PG-13-Universal). Starring Raul Julia, Richard Dreyfuss, Sonia Braga ★ ★

By J.T. YURKO

Remember Woody Allen's "Bananas"? Pursuing the woman of his dreams, our hero finds himself in the middle of a Latin American revolution. Things go a bit haywire, and he ends up in a beard and battle fatigues as the new dictator of the country.
That same premise - sort of - is the basis of "Moon Over Parador." Richard Dreyfuss plays Jack Noah, an actor shooting a movie in the fictitious country of Parador. The country's beloved dictator is largely a boozing figurehead, kept in power by a small coterie of powerful men of dubious backgrounds headed by Roberto Strausmann (played by Raul Julia).
When the dictator dies, Strausmann offers an out-of-work actor a new role - impersonating the dictator for "a few days." Helping Dreyfuss serve in the presidential palace is Madonna (played by Sonia Braga), the former dictator's mistress. But even she cannot prevent Noah from becoming bored with his gilded cage, and the actor starts looking for a new role - preferably something way out of town.

Director/co-author Paul Mazursky last helmed "Down and Out in Beverly Hills," a nice mix of social satire and free-for-all farce. "Moon Over Parador" offers minimal satire in an anemic farce. In fact very little happens at all. Dreyfuss tries his engaging best to breathe life into scenes that drag on too long, but when he leads the populace in aerobics it's a big-production joke that garners only a small laugh.
The best laugh comes when Dreyfuss as the actor/president steps off the helicopter and bypasses the newsmen, gesturing that he cannot hear the question. The Reagan parallel is clear and funny. If only the rest of the movie had been half as sharp.
Sammy Davis Jr., Jonathan Winters, Fernando Rey and Charo join the cast list. The only apparent reason is that they wanted a free trip to the film's Rio de Janeiro location.

BASEBALL PLAYOFFS

ABC Sports commentator Al Michaels (c.) will broadcast the play-by-play and join color analysts Jim Palmer (l.) and Tim McCarver for the National League Championship Series starting TUESDAY, OCT. 4.

Showtime special honors two folk-music legends

By Denise Gorga

"You can't save the world, but you can change it," says Bruce Springsteen in "An All Star Tribute to Woody Guthrie and Leadbelly," which airs Saturday, Oct. 8 on Showtime.

Arlo Guthrie

The Boss is just one of several notable rockers who turned out for this folkfest honoring two most socially relevant - and belatedly influential - legends. John Mellencamp and U2's Bono are two other contemporary rockers in the special who credit Leadbelly and Guthrie - but especially the latter - for profoundly influencing their music.
 Woodrow Wilson Guthrie was born in Okemah, Okla. His folk music reflected the values and tribulations of the rural Southwest, and championed populist causes of the 1930s. Guthrie's "This Land Is Your Land" has become a national treasure.

CARSON ANNIVERSARY

Doc Severinsen (l.), Johnny Carson (c.) and Ed McMahon help celebrate Carson's tenth live, prime-time anniversary special, "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson: 26th Anniversary," airing THURSDAY, OCT. 6 on NBC.

CHECK LISTINGS FOR EXACT TIME

peer and sometimes co-performer Woody Guthrie, Huddie Ledbetter was inspired by the rural black Deep South. The native Louisianan's best-known song was his bittersweet "Goodnight, Irene."

Since concert footage of Guthrie and Leadbelly is scarce, "An All Star Tribute to Woody Guthrie and Leadbelly" comprises mostly interviews with other musical performers and clips of their interpretations of the two folk singers' works. The special airs in conjunction with the release of "Folkways: A Vision Shared," a tribute LP to these two artists.

The all-female Sweet Honey in the Rock does justice to Leadbelly's legacy with a moving "Sylvie." Little Richard picks up the tempo a bit with "Rock Island Line," and Taj Mahal performs "Bourgeois Blues," a song about racial discrimination in Washington, D.C.

Arlo Guthrie, a notable folk singer in his own right, provides touching if predictable reflections on his late father and a rendition of "Grand Coulee Dam." Arlo also joins his father's longtime colleague Pete Seeger to perform "Union Made" and "Alabama Bound."

The special's performances clips really drive home the point of "An All Star Tribute": that the words and dreams of a half-century ago are still relevant today - or perhaps more so.

ORDINANCE NO. 1988-1

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WAYLAND, KENTUCKY, PROVIDING FOR THE ADVERTISEMENT AND SALE OF A FRANCHISE AUTHORIZING THE OWNER THEREOF TO OWN, MAINTAIN, CONSTRUCT AND OPERATE ELECTRIC POWER TRANSMISSION AND DISTRIBUTION LINES UPON, ALONG, OVER AND UNDER THE STREETS, THOROUGHFARES, ALLEYS, SIDEWALKS, BRIDGES, PUBLIC WAYS AND OTHER PUBLIC PLACES OF SAID CITY.

WHEREAS, the City of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky is incorporated under the provisions of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, and desires to grant a franchise for an electric power company to own, maintain, construct and operate its electric power transmission and distribution lines upon, along, over and under the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, sidewalks, bridges, public ways and other public places of the City of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky; and

WHEREAS, there exists a public necessity for adequate service of electric power and energy to the citizens of the City of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky; and

WHEREAS, it appears that it is to the interest of the public that a franchise be advertised and sold, granting and entitling the grantee to use the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, sidewalks, bridges, public ways and public places for the erection, operation and maintenance of lines for the transmission and distribution of electric power to the citizens of the City of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky; and to persons, firms and corporations beyond the limits of the City of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WAYLAND, FLOYD COUNTY, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 2 Said lines and appurtenances shall be constructed so as to interfere as little as possible with the travelling public in its use of the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, sidewalks, bridges, public ways and public places.

Mayor and City Council
City of Wheelwright Wheelwright, Kentucky

We have examined the general purpose financial statements of the City of Wheelwright, Kentucky, as of and for the year ended June 30, 1988 as listed in the table of contents. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The City has not maintained an adequate record of its general fixed assets and, accordingly, the general purpose financial statements referred to above do not include financial statements of the General Fixed Assets Group of Accounts, which should be included to conform to generally accepted accounting principles.

As more fully described in Note 2, the general purpose financial statements referred to above do not include the financial statements of the Wheelwright Utilities Commission which should be included to conform to generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except that the omission of the financial statements described above results in an incomplete presentation, the general purpose financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of the City of Wheelwright, Kentucky, at June 30, 1988 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles which, except for the change with which we concur in the method of reporting certain revenues as described in Note 4 to the financial statements, have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Our examination was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the general purpose financial statements taken as a whole. The schedules listed in the table of contents are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the general purpose financial statements of the City of Wheelwright, Kentucky. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the examination of the general purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the general purpose financial statements taken as a whole.
