Arizona Fugitive Nabbed In P'burg

A fugitive from justice from Arizona was captured in Prestonsburg Tuesday by Kentucky State Police Detective James Stephens.

Melinda Louise Perry, 19, was wanted on three counts of perjury in Prescott, Ariz., in connection with a homicide investigation. The investigation was of the death of 19-year-old Pamela Pitts, a student at Yavapai Community College in Prescott, police said. Pitts' body was found 13 days after she disappeared on Sept. 16, 1988.

Sheriff Buck Buchanan from Arizona notified KSP that Perry was in the Prestonsburg area in mid-November, and through informants the state police discovered she was working at a Prestonsburg restaurant. Stephens said officers staked out the restaurant on pay day but Perry never turned up.

On Tuesday at about 2:30 p.m. police received a call stating that Perry was at the restaurant, but by the time Stephens got there she was gone. He obtained a description of the vehicle she was driving and in which direction it was headed. Using that information, he was able to track Perry to the Prestonsburg Post Office, where she was apprehended.

Stephens said that Perry offered no resistance to the arrest and signed a waiver of extradition stating she would voluntarily go back to Arizona with authorities. She is presently lodged in the Floyd County jail awaiting transportation.

Allen, Retired Floyd County Educator, Dies

Woodrow Wilson Allen, a retired Floyd County educator, died Tuesday at Highlands Regional Medical Center following an apparent heart attack. He was 76.

A former Prestonsburg High School and Prestonsburg Elementary School principal, he had been a teacher and a supervisor for the Floyd County Board of Education.

Allen, who lived on Mays Branch Road, was the husband of Mabel Wells Allen.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Thursday, Nov. 30) at the First United Methodist Church under the direction of Carter Funeral Home.

Contributions are suggested to Alice Lloyd College in Pippa Passes or Prestonsburg First United Methodist Church.

A complete obituary will be listed in Wednesday's edition of the Floyd County Times.

The lights on Prestonsburg's Christmas tree brighten the evening sky as the Christmas season approaches. The decorated cousins of this pine are beginning to appear, brightly decorated, in homes around Floyd County.

Conference Seeks Stronger Education System In Region

A stronger regional education system with greater involvement and support by area business leaders was the focus of the Seventh Congressional District's educational conference held in Prestonsburg Wednesday.

Attending the conference were former Gov. Bert Combs, Superintendent of Public Instruction John Brock, and numerous political, educational and business leaders from across the region. Topics examined by the 120 members attending the conference included the interrelationship between business and education, the feasibility of creating local educational foundations to raise financial support for the district, and the development of a regional plan for improving education within the district. The primary educational focus was directed at area colleges and universities.

"We invited these leaders here in an effort to establish stronger links between our educational systems and regional businesses and industry," said Randall Wells, project co-director for the conference. "It's recognized that coal is fading in our area, and we're trying to focus on developing other resources. This effort requires a strong educational system. Both this conference, and one we will sponsor in April, are funded by the Kentucky legislature. We are hoping to continue our work in this area in the future by networking educational and business resources regionally on a broader basis."

Morehead State University was instrumental in bringing the conferences into being. Representatives Russell Bentley and Kenny Rapier, and Sen. Nelson Allen led panel discussions and audience discussions on topics of curriculum, finance, and governance.

Roundtable discussions which followed allowed participants to identify and prioritize the issues facing business and education leaders, as they move toward greater interaction and dependence. The findings of this conference, said Wells, may be presented to the state legislature in the Spring.

"We have one goal here," said Wells. "We want to do what we can to improve the system of education in our district."

Gov. Wallace Wilkinson, who was invited to attend the conference, was unable to attend due to scheduling difficulties.

Cost Of New Power Project Questioned

by Frank Clark, Staff Writer

Will a new power line and substation being built by East Kentucky Power Cooperative (EKPC) increase electric bills for Floyd County consumers?

Buddy Fitzpatrick, president of the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg, thinks it will.

"This new line is going to duplicate a power line that already exists," says Fitzpatrick. "Kentucky Power has a line that already provides power to the area. EKPC buys from them and then sells it to us. If EKPC is putting in a whole new line, you can't tell me that it's not going to raise costs for consumers served by them. We already pay $9,000 a year and that's enough."

The new power line project, which involves construction of a primary substation in Johnson County, a distribution substation on Rt. 23 at Watergap, and a line running through Johnson, Magoffin, and Floyd counties, has been estimated to cost $5,759,400 to construct and $841,576 to operate and maintain yearly, according to EKPC reports. The project is designed to provide direct service to EKPC's Middle Creek, Jenny Wiley and proposed Watergap substations, also serving portions of Prestonsburg. EKPC says that the new facility will not effect consumer prices in the near future.

"The costs for this project has been included in our total operating costs," said Bob Miller, spokesperson for EKPC. "No rate increases are anticipated for consumers for the next several years. Our rates are set by the Public Service Commission. We consider this a routine project to upgrade our services. There is definitely needed."

EKPC has purchased power to serve the area in the past from Kentucky Power, and will continue to do so until the current project is completed. This power is then provided to Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation (BSRECC). In October 1987, EKPC applied for permission to the state Public Service Commission to build the new system. Officials said the system would save them about $1 million per year and would increase reliability of service to the area, rather than continuing to buy from Kentucky Power. The Commission denied the request in March 1988, noting that reliability would not be significantly increased, that the figures used by EKPC to determine savings were unreliable, and because costs for serving the three-county area would increase from $267,000 to $750,000.

The Commission also noted that the new facility would provide an unnecessary duplication of existing facilities. The Commission qualified its findings by stating that if existing conditions should change in the area being served, EKPC could resubmit its application at a later time.

In September 1988, EKPC reapplied for permission for the project. The Commission accepted the application in March 1989. Its decision was based upon the projected increase of See POWER PROJECT, Page 3

Insufficient Nursing Home Facilities Cause Problems

by Anne Chaney, Editor

The apparent lack of adequate nursing home beds in Floyd County and the surrounding area often results in lengthy hospital stays for some patients, and in turn can mean lost revenue for local hospitals.

In July, August and September at Highlands Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg, several patients spent a cumulative total of 727 days awaiting placement in nursing homes. A total of sixty-three patients were referred to nursing homes. In September alone, 17 HRMC patients were referred to facilities or swing bed programs in a four-county area.

At McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital during the same three months, five referrals for skilled care needed to be made to nursing homes. However, no beds were available. The hospital recorded 152 patient days for those awaiting placement. In September, two patients remained in McDowell's swing bed program because no nursing home beds were available in the area.

Statistics for Our Lady of the Way Hospital in Martin were not immediately available.

"We almost always have a waiting list," said a Highlands Regional Medical Center spokeswoman who preferred not to be identified. "On the average, we usually have three to four patients each day waiting for a bed." The average wait, she said, can be anywhere from a few days to several weeks.

"One patient has been waiting for about three weeks because she requires very specialized care that most nursing homes can't give," added the HRMC employee, who works in the hospital's discharge planning department.

"At any one time, we'll have at least one patient in the hospital waiting for a skilled or intermediate care bed."

Highlands refers patients to nursing homes in Louisa, Pikeville, Robinson Creek, Elkhorn City, Letcher County, Hazard, Hindman, Hyden, Jackson and Salyersville.

"We've sent patients to all of these," she said, "and even to West Liberty's ARH hospital, which has a nursing home unit." Patients who need to be placed in nursing homes often must be placed in facilities out of Floyd or adjacent counties.

"It's very hard to get the patient to go that far," said the spokeswoman. "They can't visit as often as they would like. It's very hard on the families."

Printer Couple Files Suit Following Scooter Accident

A faulty electric medical scooter is being blamed for injuries caused to Stella Spurlock of Printer in a suit brought against Glasrock Home Health Care and Invacare Corp. of Kentucky.

The suit was filed in Circuit Court last week by Stella and Ellis Spurlock of Printer on the basis of an incident which occurred at their home on Nov. 18, 1988.

According to Stella Spurlock, the Spurlock's 15-year-old daughter, who is confined to a wheelchair due to illness, had attempted to drive her electric scooter in the Spurlock's home when the scooter jumped into reverse. Stella Spurlock grabbed the moving machine and was dragged across the room. The scooter struck three other persons in the room and injured Mrs. Spurlock.

"This problem of jumping into reverse had happened three times before and the companies had tried to repair it," said Spurlock. "I'm only thankful that when this happened we weren't near the stairs or it could have killed both my daughter and I."

According to Spurlock, the scooter is similar to ones that had been recalled by Glasrock and Invacare, which manufactured and distributed them.

The Spurlock's scooter was not recalled before the accident.

"I called Glasrock two weeks before the accident and told them the motor was making strange noises," said Spurlock. "They said they would come and pick it up, but they didn't. If they had only come when I called, this wouldn't have happened."

Mrs. Spurlock, who hasn't worked since the accident, and is continuing to undergo tests for her injuries in Lexington, was clearly upset while recounting the incident.

She and her husband are seeking both compensatory and punitive damages from the two health care companies.

Legislative Resolution Supporting Allen School Gets Committee's OK

by Frank Clark, Staff Writer

The construction of a new Allen school took a long stride towards reality in Frankfort yesterday, though questions of what will be included in the final facility continue to surface.

In rapid action before the state Appropriation and Revenue Committee in Frankfort Thursday morning, State Sen. Benny Ray Bailey negotiated the passage of a resolution which will support State Superintendent of Schools John Brock's decision to direct more funding to the previously delayed Allen Elementary School project.

Bailey emphasized that no additional allocation of state funds was required for this action.

"What this resolution does is to allow a certain percentage from previously allocated state school funds to be used to ensure the continuation of the project. Combined with this is the emergency declaration made by Superintendent Brock on Monday which allows for negotiation on construction bids. These two efforts will keep the Allen project moving ahead," Bailey explained.

According to a letter to Bailey from Brock on Nov. 28, support by the Commission for the resolution would allow Brock to call a special School Facilities Construction Commission meeting. This would "... permit projects such as Allen Elementary in Floyd County to proceed with a complete facility being constructed, using school revenue bonds from the current round of funding assistance."

At last Monday night's emergency meeting before the Allen PTA in the Allen school gymnasium, Brock promised Allen parents that actions would be taken to get bonds sold to fund the new school in December, enabling construction to begin in January. Passage of the resolution Thursday provides a legislative boost in Brock's efforts to accomplish this goal.

"This resolution provides support to Superintendent Brock," said Bailey. "He'll now allocate, if necessary, the approximately $200,000 needed to get the project going."

The resolution, according to Bailey, does not insure that money will also be allocated for the 12 classrooms and gym that were cut to meet current budgetary requirements. This money, Bailey says, is available within existing funds under Brock's control, and should be allocated shortly.

"The funding is there already," said Bailey. "It's up to Superintendent Brock to use it."

Rep. Greg Stumbo, commenting on the resolution that was passed, noted, "This action gives Superintendent Brock legislative support to seek methods of funding the project so that bonds can be sold and construction can begin as soon as possible. In January, during the next funding phase, we hope to secure additional funding for the project which can allow for the 12 classrooms and gym to be built. Additional phases of funding may be required to complete this and other projects in the county."

Both Bailey and Stumbo noted that the resolution did not pass without some dissension and questions within the Appropriations and Revenue Committee.

"It's only fair to say," said Stumbo, "that there are some reservations about expenditures of money when there are cost overruns such as we

Farmer Pleads Guilty To Drug Charges

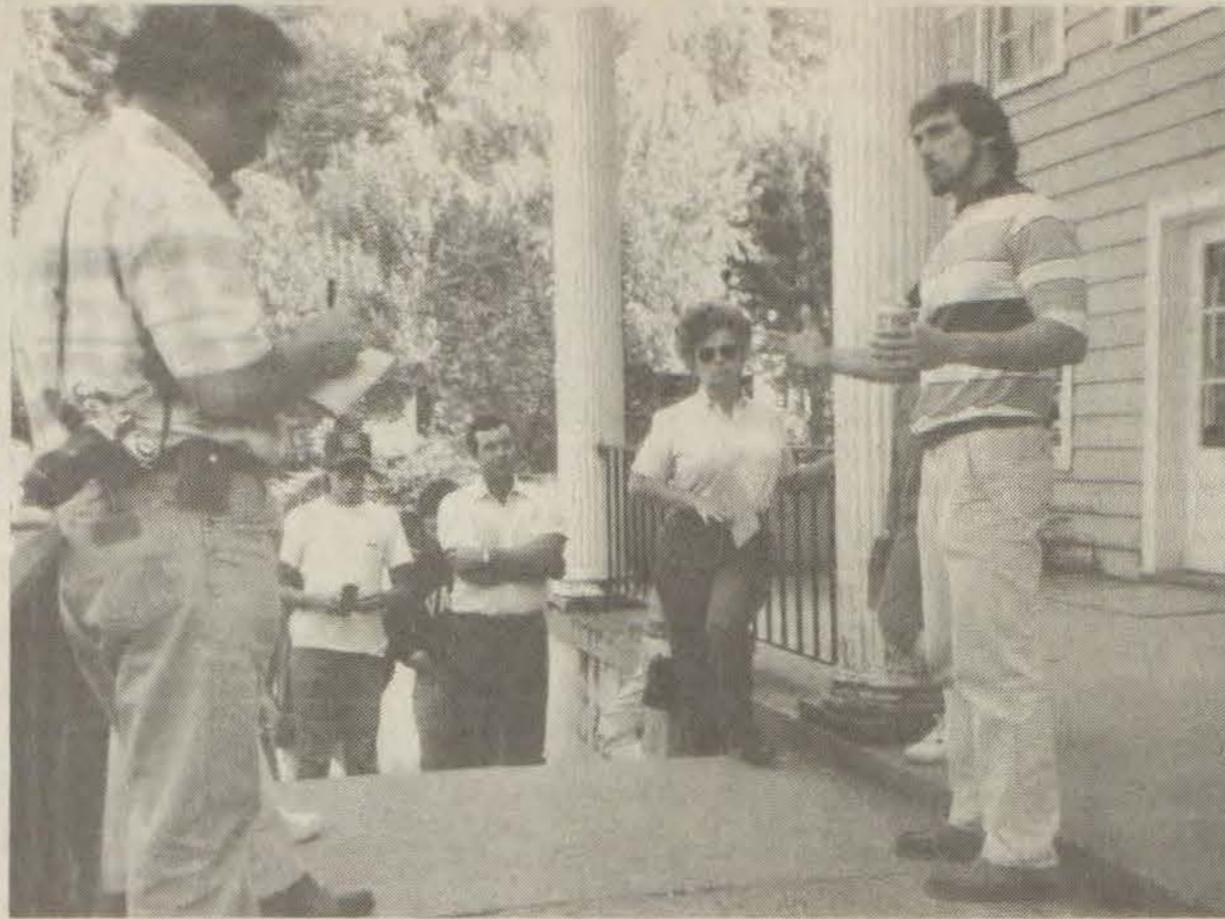

ASHLAND—A pig farmer from Greenup County pleaded guilty on Tuesday to one count of marijuana possession and one count of possession of a firearm during the commission of a drug felony. James H. Daugherty, 37, was arrested last month by state police and agents of the U.S. Treasury Department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. More than $81,000 in cash and 90 diazepam pills were also confiscated in the Oct. 7 raid. Daugherty is expected to face a maximum sentence of 84 and 105 months in jail for the drug charge and a mandatory five years for the firearms charge. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Group Promotes Home-Grown Industry

EASTERN KENTUCKY—Groups of lower income individuals are forming a network designed to improve their economic conditions. The Appalachian Community Organizations Resource Network (ACORN) was formed in an organizational meeting in Rockcastle County last week. Ric Armstrong, an economic development manager for the Christian Appalachian Project, has been chosen to act as temporary chair for ACORN. The initial focus of the network will be to provide training in business planning, fund raising, management and accounting, in order to encourage community owned business development. Other services ACORN hopes to provide include support services such as day care, public transportation, and job training. Armstrong hopes to have the network fully operational within a year throughout much of the Eastern Kentucky region. (Appalachian News-Express)

Boyd Attorney Faces DUI Trial

ASHLAND—A jury was selected Wednesday for the drunken driving trial of Boyd County Attorney Jerry Vincent. Vincent was charged with speeding and DUI on July 12 in Ashland. Special prosecutor Jeff Mackin stated in an opening statement to jurors that they should ignore the dispute which existed between Vincent and arresting officer Tim Wallins during the trial. Apparently, Vincent and Wallins have been involved in a dispute over a dog for several years. (Lexington Herald-Leader) saw in Allen. There were questions about the spending of the (Floyd County) board. But when it came to a vote, most were strongly in support of the resolution. There's no reason not to sell bonds in December and have dirt flying in January."

"Our selling date has been set for Dec. 20, involving about $3 million in bonds," said Hager. "It's necessary to have these bonds sold before the end of the year in order to stay on schedule within the county. We aren't allowed to bond over $10 million per year, and there are other projects in the county which we will be involved with in 1990. That's why we need to get it done right away."

Brenda May, an Allen parent and active PTO supporter, was pleased by the announcement of the resolution's passage.

"I'm glad that this is finally happening," said May. "Before the accident, (the October furnace explosion which injured Principal Daniel Branson) the parents were starting to come together and push to get the school project going. The accident was a turning point for us, bringing us together to get it done. It's said that good comes from bad. I think that's certainly true here."

"definitely a need for another nursing home in the area," the spokeswoman said many patients are sent home with family members because facility beds are not available, despite the wide-ranging referral area maintained by the hospital.

Because Medicare divides illnesses into Diagnostic Related Groups, or DRGs, and prescribes recuperative time frames, hospitals often lose significant amounts of money when nursing home beds aren't available. Each of the program's 470-plus groups has a predetermined reimbursement rate to health care facilities.

If a patient contracts pneumonia, for instance, Medicare will pay $3,000 for treatment.

"If you can treat it in six days, you get $3,000," says the spokeswoman. "If it takes you six weeks, you get $3,000."

The end result is that patients who recuperate slower or who need to be in nursing homes often have hospital stays exceeding Medicare regulations. The additional costs borne are borne solely by the medical facility.

The HRMC employee, who has testified in Frankfort on behalf of new nursing home construction in the area before, is skeptical that efforts by McDowell community leaders to build another nursing home will be successful.

For several years, the state has had a moratorium on new nursing home facilities; exceptions are extremely rare.

Even though she believes there are not enough beds in the five-county area that includes Floyd, the HRMC spokeswoman feels no new beds will be approved until the state's formula for determining the number of beds needed in an area is changed.

"There are no beds available for Floyd County," she notes. "There are no more beds allowed."

Drug-Free Commission To Meet In Prestonsburg Tuesday, December 5

Established by Governor Wallace Wilkinson, the Drug-Free Commission is composed of government officials, students, business persons and educators from across the state. Mountain Comp Receives Grant For Adult Victims Of Child Abuse Mountain Comprehensive Care's Rape Victims Services recently received a $17,310 grant to hire a counselor for adult survivors of childhood sexual abuse.

The program is designed to aid an under-served population, according to Eileen Recktenwald, director of the rape victim services program. It will be the first of its kind in the area. The new counselor will serve Pike and Floyd counties, offering individual and group sessions beginning in January, she said.

The grant was one of several totaling nearly $1.2 million made by the Justice Cabinet. Twenty-two were made to programs under the Federal

Crime Victims Assistance Program of the Victims of Crime Act

VOCA programs provide comprehensive and specialized services tailored to meet the needs of one or more category of victims of crime, including victims of child abuse, domestic violence, sexual assault, survivors of homicide and the elderly.

Of the remaining state grants, 22 awards, totaling $290,587, were made under the Federal Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Grant program. These funds are utilized to affect the removal of juveniles from adult jails into more appropriate placements, by establishing alternative placements such as group homes, court resource homes and home detention and funding counties for transportation of juveniles to and from alternative placement.

Eighteen awards, amounting to $269,234, were made under the Kentucky Law Enforcement Service Fee Fund program. Seventeen of these grants are to local law enforcement agencies for the Traffic Alcohol Patrol program. This money provides overtime pay to officers for DUI enforcement. One award was made for DUI public awareness.

Power Project

Kentucky Power's concurrent exchange rate for power supplied to EKPC, which determines power costs to EKPC. The new project was estimated to save EKPC $293,000 per year. The Commission also noted that the project would reduce an existing overload condition on EKPC's Middle Creek Substation and that the facility would not be a wasteful duplication of facilities.

Rumors of bitter relations between Kentucky Power and EKPC over the building of the new power system and EKPC's decision to stop purchasing power to serve this area are unfounded, according to W.R. Miller, transmission and distribution manager for Kentucky Power.

"We have our territory and they have theirs," said Miller. "This project went through the Commission and we made no protest. We have a good working relationship with EKPC. There's no problem at all between us."

Despite the assurances, Fitzpatrick remains unconvinced of EKPC's claim that consumers won't be charged for the new project.

"What we have here is a monopolistic situation," says Fitzpatrick. "I don't have the choice to get power from Kentucky Power, which is what I'd like to do. I'm forced to get it from Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation, which is supplied by EKPC. I think that because of this project, power costs in West Prestonsburg are going to increase. This is going to have a negative impact on economic development in the area. It just doesn't make sense to do this when we have the power here already."

And Then . . .

by Anne Chaney

Life in two sentences:
— Do unto others as you would have them do unto you; and — The purpose of life is a life of purpose.

Of all the things I've heard, read or been told in my life, these two ring the truest.

I have met people who lived the golden rule, never saying an ill word of others, being always kind and considerate. I've met others who treated folks so shabbily their just desert would have been to be treated in the same manner. (Thankfully, most of us are above that.)

As important as doing unto others is, I've always believed the golden rule had an equally important flip side: Do for others as you would have them do for you. We each have strengths and weaknesses that are obvious in us as individuals. But as we join together to work towards a common goal, my weaknesses are offset by your strengths, and vice versa. Suddenly, there are very few weaknesses and the strengths are multiplied.

It is not enough to do only the minimum that our jobs and family responsibilities require. Mediocrity begets mediocrity. Or, as one local fellow put it, "The status quo is nothing to 'quo' about."

I have yet to meet someone who had all the answers to all the problems. Solutions — the very best ones — are joint efforts. In that sense, doing for others requires making a commitment to go that extra step: giving more of your time, more of your energy and more of your skills.

Enter here, then, the life of purpose. Why should we go that extra mile, give that extra time and energy? For ourselves as a community and for the community that our children will become.

I've always believed strongly that we should give as much back to our community as we are given by it — and whenever possible, return more. (To make up for the shirkers, I suppose.)

I delve into all of this for a reason: In the year and a half that I've been back home in Eastern Kentucky (and yes, I really am "from" here — Lower Pompey Creek in Pike County, to be precise), I've seen Floyd Countians come together to find solutions to common problems. I attended meetings a year ago that were shot through with "What are you going to do about my problem?"; in similar meetings today, I'm hearing folks say, "This is a problem in my area, but I'm sure there are others in Floyd County experiencing the same thing."

Common ground, common goals, common solutions. A wider perspective of Floyd County as a community, and Eastern Kentucky as a region.

This area is on the move, and that move is positive.

I am heartened by the changes but, unfortunately, I will not be in Floyd County to chronicle this coming year's progress. I have been offered and have accepted a promotion, and will be moving to Texas in the very near future — Dec. 11, to be exact.

I have decidedly mixed feelings about the move: my career goal for some years has been to become a publisher. But on the personal side, I feel rather like a 12-year-old whose house was robbed on Christmas Eve.

There were a bunch of good things there, but I'm not going to get to see them.

As much as possible, I am going to stay in touch with Floyd County and its progress. My heart is here and my home is here.

We in Floyd County are much like the geography that surrounds us. When the water in our creeks encounters an obstacle, it backs up, gathering strength, until it finally flows over and around whatever blocks it, and continues towards its destination. Floyd Countians have that same determination and strength. We may get stumped for a while, but we will get there. We know that life is a series of hills and valleys. When we are at the bottom of one mountain, it's a long way to the top, but to the top we go. We also remember, once there, that nature demands there be a valley on the other side. We will win some, and in winning be on top. We will remember that defeat, the downside, is inevitable. But with our determination, we'll go up and down — and forward.

The educational system is improving, economic development efforts are on the rise, and there is a renewed awareness of Floyd County's goals and directions.

None of these things have been done, nor will be done, without the selfless giving of that extra time and effort by many of you. Someone once said that 80 percent of the work is done by 20 percent of the people, and unfortunately, that's truer than I'd like to admit.

My challenge to each of you as I leave is quite simple: Get involved. At your school, at your city council or fiscal court meeting, in the Chamber, in economic development efforts or whatever. But get involved. You have a vested interest, as do I, in Floyd County and its future.

Keep in touch,
Anne

The Paintsville Hospital is taking Highlands Regional Medical Center and the licensing board to court over the granting of a certificate of need to HRMC to expand its facility by 47 beds, thereby blocking Paintsville Hospital's application for a new building, before even hearing Paintsville's request . . . According to CPA Bill Bottoms, the school district has a "reasonable" chance of ending the current fiscal year in the black. A $664,000 deficit was reduced to $199,000 last year and is being further reduced at a rate "well in advance of the schedule." Following a September review of Floyd County's compliance with the federal Education for Handicapped Children Act, the state bureau for the Education of Exceptional Children cited the school district for numerous deficiencies . . . Joe McCauley, executive-director of the Big Sandy ADD, and Edward Collins, administrator of the McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital, both expressed their concern over the Floyd Fiscal Court hiring an Atlanta-based grants writing firm which recently secured an HEW grant for $41,000 for McDowell ARH for a fee of $19,000 . . . Of the $43,240 Floyd County Coal Severance Economic Aid, $15,000 is allotted to the Floyd County Child Care project, and the rest to four volunteer fire departments for upgrading of facilities and services . . . The Big Sandy Community Action Program several weeks ago voted almost unanimously to end its association with VISTA, but CAP officials weren't sure this week the action has had any visible effect . . . Maytown High School, one of the smaller teams (physically) in the area, won the Floyd County Preseason basketball tournament here last weekend by defeating Betsy Layne, 92-75 . . . Floyd County's Bert T. Combs became Governor of Kentucky Tuesday with his formal inauguration marked by all the color and pageantry traditional to the occasion . . . A yellow flag at the northern end of the Second Avenue fill here marks the point at which a road linking the Mountains with the Blue Grass will enter Prestonsburg, the eastern terminus of a gigantic new highway-building project. The road, the Mountain Parkway, is the product of work and planning by the state's new governor, Bert Combs . . . This is about context — and rock 'n roll. Ahem.

Mine is the generation that grew up along with rock 'n roll.

The fact that our musical contemporaries, such as Bruce Springsteen, Paul McCartney and Linda Ronstadt, are in their late 30s to mid-40s and still superstars helps us ward off the aging process, at least in our minds. We're proud of 50-year-old Tina Turner who continues to strut and scream to hordes of teeny boppers.

Those of us who have clung to the genre and still sneak peeks at MTV and VH-1 identify strongly with TV's

Murphy Brown. Along with a Top 40 or oldies station blaring, we do-wop-do-wop with all the power and feeling of a 15-year-old. (We, of course, keep this secret from 15-year-olds who get stomach cramps at the thought of "old people" acting in such unseemly fashion.)

But, back to context. A few weeks ago, I was privy to a sermonette from someone who had let the channel changer rest for a minute on MTV. A minute too long, it turned out.

The speaker, who obviously does not identify with Murphy Brown, chanced to see the video of the popular song "Blame It On The Rain." He saw enough to turn irate over what rock 'n roll lyrics "are teaching our young people" and to find the seeds of a text on shirking responsibility.

His implication was that such music is telling young people that they should blame misfortune on something or someone else, rather than assuming responsibility for their own actions. There's an important principle there, and his point was relevant. But his premise was based on a fallacious example, as any long time rocker could tell.

I'd heard the song many times, since it has been at or near the top of the charts for several weeks. No doubt I had bounced to the beat and sung along on a few occasions, but I hadn't listened very carefully to the words myself before that time. So I decided to listen to exactly what the booming words were.

What I discovered is that the lyrics do make the speaker's basic point — literally. What the songwriter, through the singer, is doing is using sarcasm to show the "you" of the song that while he's looking for something to blame for his loss of love, he should be looking at himself.

The sermonizer listened to the title and a few more words and took them out of the context of the total song. In his speech, he then led other people, who'll never take time to evaluate the song themselves, to conclude that this particular song — and rock 'n roll in general — is to blame for a myriad of evils.

That's awfully easy for everyone involved, from the speaker to his listeners. The speaker takes something as innocuous as a song lyric out of context and the listeners lap it up and nod in agreement.

That's also irresponsible, whether we're talking about rock 'n roll or the Constitution or the Bible or whatever. Each of us has the responsibility for choosing what we say or write carefully. And each of us has the responsibility for rationally evaluating what we hear or read just as carefully.

Otherwise, we end up dancing in a heavy metal fog.

Letters to the Editor

Reader Disapproves Of Recent Column

Dear Editor,

I would like to respond to Pam Shingler's Postscript dated November 10, 1989. Ms. Shingler recounts a conversation she heard in Watson's department store. What I offer is a vocabulary review, though in so doing, I risk being punitive and small minded just as Ms. Shingler was in her article.

1. Arrogance — a feeling of superiority manifested in an overbearing manner of presumptuous claim.
2. Omnipotent — having a virtually unlimited authority or influence.
3. Patronize — a. to act as patron of. b. to adopt an air of condescension.
4. Punitive — inflicting, involving or aiming at punishment often associated with schoolmarm.
5. Schoolmarm — a. a woman school teacher especially in an old-type rural or small town school. b. a person who exhibits characteristics (as pedantry and priggishness) popularly attributed to school teachers.

No one should disagree with Ms. Shingler that we can all better our minds, become better read and improve our vocabulary. There is not one person on Earth who hasn't the need to do that. What she fails to realize is that her attitude is very mean spirited and arrogant. She patronizes not only to an individual woman but to all of Floyd County and all the Times' subscribers regardless of where they live. Presuming to know personal details about the woman's life (a stranger) is, of course, ridiculous not to mention, impossible.

This presumption reveals faulty thinking although Ms. Shingler's vocabulary may or may not be above average. She then feels entitled to give the readers an assignment. Is Ms. Shingler an omnipotent figure with the right to give the public at large an assignment? It is unfortunate that her message, which is not bad in itself, is lost by the voice of a small town schoolmarm with a sense of false superiority who had nothing better to do than lambaste and complain.

I'm quite sure that there are, at least, some individuals who comprise the public who are better educated, smarter, wiser, and without question, nicer than Pam Shingler.

It is something for all of us to remember that the world and it's people are very imperfect and in need of improvement beginning with the first person I.

Sincerely
Gretchen H. Moyer
Lebanon, Penn.

Bus Driver Sues Board Of Education

A former bus driver for the Floyd County School System is suing Ronald Hager, James D. Adams and the Floyd County Board of Education for the loss of his job, which he contributes to alleged political retaliation.

Rudolph Lewis, the plaintiff in a case being handled by Attorney Ned Pillersdorf, is suing for compensatory damages for his lost earnings and for punitive damages against Hager and Adams in the amount of $500,000 for "their intentional malicious actions."

Lewis claims that prior to the November 1988 General Election, he received a phone call from Hager and Adams urging him to vote for Dr. Brent Clark, a school board candidate.

Reportedly during the phone call Hager threatened to harm Lewis economically if he did not support Clark in the race, stating "you can carry the Ivel precinct for Clark." When Lewis told Hager he was going to "stay out of the race," and vote for eventual winner Tommy Boyd, Hager reportedly became angry and told Lewis, "I don't have to be obligated to you, if you are not for me."

Lewis claims that he also received a phone call from Adams, who likewise urged him to vote for Clark. On the night prior to the election, Lewis reports that James Steffey came to his house and reported that he, Steffey, had spoken to Hager and Adams and said "another bus contractor was going to lose his bus route because he was supporting Boyd," implying that Lewis was to lose his route for also showing such support. According to the suit, Lewis took this as another threat from Hager and Adams.

Lewis stated that on Aug. 9 of this year he submitted a bid of $75 for the Daniels Creek and Big Branch bus routes, but lost that bid to Margaret Steffey (wife of James Steffey), who bid $67.90 for Daniels Creek and $68.78 for Big Branch.

He further claims that on Sept. 27, "in flagrant violation of the applicable bidding laws," the Floyd County School Board voted to increase the bus run compensation for Steffey to about $86. Apparently Hager recommended the motion and the board supported it.

"The decision to increase the compensation was designed to reward James Steffey and Margaret Steffey for their political support of Clark, and to retaliate against Lewis for his refusal to support Clark," charges Pillersdorf. "The Floyd County Board of Education has an unofficial policy and practice of political retaliation against their political opponents."

Lewis is suing on the grounds that as a result of the above mentioned actions, he has had his First Amendment rights of freedom of association and freedom of speech chilled, as well as being deprived of his liberty and property rights in Hager's and Adam's efforts to deny him the opportunity to earn a living.

McDowell Drops Opener To Millard Mustangs, 80-74

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Johnny Ray Turner's McDowell Daredevils opened their 1989-90 basketball season on the road with the Millard Mustangs Tuesday night. The defending 58th District champions, looking to capture a third crown, found the Mustangs a hard team to handle, as they dropped the opening contest, 80-74 to the host team.

Barry Hopkins, 6'5" center, scored 30 points and pulled down 15 rebounds to lead the Mustangs to victory. Hopkins scored nine points in the fourth period when Millard really needed the scoring.

Senior Scott Shannon, taking up where brother Dickie Joe left off, hit two three-pointers in the final period, one with 35 seconds to go and the other with 10 seconds remaining, to try and pull the game out. Shannon finished with 13 points in the game.

The Daredevils lead at the first stop 17-14 behind the scoring of Shannon and Marc Hall. Hall finished the game with 32 points, getting 22 in the second half. The game was tied at 36-36 at the half. The third period went to the Mustangs as Millard outscored the Daredevils 20-15 to take a five point advantage into the final period. The Daredevils could get no closer than the final margin of six points in losing their opening game at Millard.

Britt Stumbo added nine points for the McDowell team. David Bentley tossed in eight points. McDowell's 6'5" center, Keith Shelton had five points, all coming on free throws.

"We just committed to many turnovers in the game," explained Turner. "They beat us bad on the boards also.

They were getting three and four shots at the basket."

The Daredevils were guilty of committing 33 turnovers in the game. Millard out rebounded McDowell 47-34, getting nine more offensive rebounds. McDowell hit 43 percent for the game

Terry Thompson had 13 points for the victorious Mustangs. Shawn Rutherford scored 11 points and pulled down 13 rebounds. Mike Robinson, who also had five assists, netted eight points.

Turner's Daredevils will travel to Greenup County tonight looking for their first win.

"Someone from the radio at Greenup County called and asked some questions. They said that we should match up even with Greenup County," said Turner.

McDowell 17 19 15 23 (74); Marc Hall, 32;

Britt Stumbo, 9; Scott Shannon, 13; Keith Shelton, 5; Stacy Hall, 5; David Bentley, 8; Mike Duddleson, 2

Hamilton's 22 Points Leads Lady Bobcats Over Mullins

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

New coach Gary Hopkins and his Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats got off to a good start in opening their 1989-90 basketball season Wednesday night with a convincing 68-53 victory over the Mullins Lady Tigers.

Senior Brenda Hamilton scored 22 points and Jamie Smith tossed in 14 to lead the Lady Bobcats.

Betsy Layne jumped out front early in the first period playing a pressure defensive game. Betsy Layne held a 16-9 first quarter lead. The second stanza proved drastic for the visiting Lady Tigers. Betsy Layne out scored Mullins, 20-5, to lead at the half 36-21.

"We could have played better defense than we did," Coach Hopkins said of his teams effort in their first game, "but they are still learning a new system than what they are used to. We have improved our board work and free throw shooting."

Betsy Layne led at the end of the third quarter, 55-27. In the fourth quarter the Lady Tigers mounted a comeback against the Lady Bobcats. Mullins out scored Betsy Layne 26-13 to close the margin of victory.

Susan Kelly led the Lady Tigers in scoring with 20 points. Misty Hayes added 15.

"It is going to be a wide open race in the district this year," Hopkins restated. "Allen Central, despite getting beat my Dorton, is going to be tough."

The Lady Bobcats will continue play Monday night when they host the Pikeville Lady Panthers at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse.

Mullins 9 5 13 26 (53): Susan Kelly, 6 1 5 9 20; Misty Hayes, 1 2 7 13 15; Michelle Rogers, 4 0 1 2 9; Christi Akers, 2 0 0 0 4; Sabrina Justice, 1 0 0 0 2; L. Melvin, 1 0 0 0 2; R. McClanahan, 0 0 1 2 1.

Karrie Newsome (21) of Betsy Layne, scores two points against the Lady Tigers of Mullins Wednesday night in the Lady Bobcats season opener. Betsy Layne defeated the visitors, 68-53.

Slow Start Is Downfall For ACHS Junior Varsity

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Magoffin County Hornets junior varsity basketball team took advantage of the cold shooting of the Allen Central JV Rebels and went on to post a 43-39 victory over the host team.

James Gullett scored 22 points for the Hornets in leading his team. Jesse Russell added nine points.

The Rebels were only able to score two points in the first quarter as Stewart Hall managed those for Allen Central. Magoffin County scored nine first period points Gullett scoring seven of those.

The junior Hornets jump out in front 15-4 early in the second stanza, when the Rebels defense intensity picked up. Allen Central scored six unanswered points to close to within six, 16-10 at the half.

A three-pointer by Russell at the start of the third period, followed by two free throws by Brian Holiday, put the Hornets up 21-10. Allen Central went on a spurt and outscored the Hornets 8-2 to make the score 25-20. Following a basket by Terry, Allen Central tied the game at 27-27 on baskets by David Martin, Bobby Dingus and a three-pointer by Denzil Sexton. A free throw, just before the buzzer, by Gullett gave Magoffin County a 28-27 third period lead.

Sexton's basket in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter gave Allen Central a 29-28 lead. Gullett scored underneath and stole an inbound pass for another bucket. Martin's two baskets, one on a put back, put the Rebels on top, 33-32. A 7-1 run by the Hornets put Magoffin County out in front for good with 1:03 to play.

Martin tossed in 10 points to lead the JV Rebels. Todd Lucas added seven points and Sexton tossed in six while Dingus netted five.

Magoffin County JV 9 7 12 15 (43): Dennis Proffitt, 1 0 4 6 6; Brian Holiday, 0 0 2 2 2; Jesse Russell, 2 1 2 3 9; James Gullett, 9 0 4 8 22; C. Keeton, 0 0 1 2 1; J. Terry, 2 0 0 0 4.

Blackcats Open Tonight Against Pike's Bearcats

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

A new season begins tonight for Coach Gordon Parido and his 1989-90 Prestonsburg Blackcats. The Blackcats will open defense of their regional crown as they host Pike County's Johns Creek Bearcats in an 8 p.m. start. The junior varsity game will get under way around 6:30 p.m.

Prestonsburg will be looking to senior Chris Slone, 6'1", for the team leadership for this season. Slone has looked sharp in panorama games the Blackcats took part in. He scored 34 points against M.C. Napier last Saturday in the Allen Central panorama. Slone has the good outside jump shot and can hit from three-point range as well as penetrate to the basket.

"I don't know anything about Johns Creek," the Prestonsburg coach stated. "Monroe (Jones) played them in a panorama game and I need to call him and get a report on Johns Creek."

Kevin Adams, 6'5", will be a key in this one, depending on his inside play. Adams had 20 points against Napier Saturday night. Adams has a knack for getting open, and with Slone's passing ability he could score some points from underneath.

At the point guard position will be Ray Collins. Collins adds another outside scoring threat for the Blackcats. He sees the court really well and has the knowledge of the game that a good point guard needs.

Quickness will be a big factor against the Bearcats, something the Blackcats have. They are a good defensive team and have the ability to come back after getting behind.

Being defending champions means that all other teams will be gunning for them. The Blackcats must cut down on their turnovers against the Bearcats and board work will be a big factor.

Turner's Daredevils Travel To Greenup County Tonight

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Probably the two basketball teams hit the hardest by graduation last year were the Prestonsburg Blackcats and McDowell Daredevils. You may call it a rebuilding year for both teams. However, the Daredevils, 0-1, of Johnny Ray Turner's have enough talent back to make them a serious threat for a third straight 58th District championship, by tournament time. The Daredevils lost perhaps 75 percent of their offense with the departure of Dickie Joe Shannon and Henry Webb. But don't shed any tears for the Daredevils, they will be competitive this time around.

The Daredevils will be traveling tonight to Greenup County for an inter-regional game.

"Greenup County is a team about the same as McDowell," Coach Turner related. "Both teams match up pretty well in size and quickness."

Leading the Daredevils against Greenup County will be senior Marc Hall who had 32 points in his teams opening game lost to Millard Tuesday night. A pleasant surprise for the Daredevils against Millard was senior Scott Shannon. Shannon displayed some fancy three-point shooting against the Mustangs in scoring 13 points.

More aggressive play is needed out of 6'5" Keith Shelton who has the ability to score underneath, and must also go to the boards hard. Shelton could be the spark this club needs to repeat this year and especially against Greenup County.

McDowell also needs to cut down on their turnovers against Greenup County. McDowell can be an explosive team with the shooting of a Britt Stumbo or Stacy Hall.

Lady Red Devils Defeat Osborne In Double OT

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It took a double overtime for the Harold Red Devils to subdue the Osborne Lady Eagles, 39-36, at Harold Tuesday night. Jessica Hamilton scored 15 points to head up the victory for the Lady Red Devils.

It was a close game all the way through, with Harold holding a slim 13-10 lead at the half.

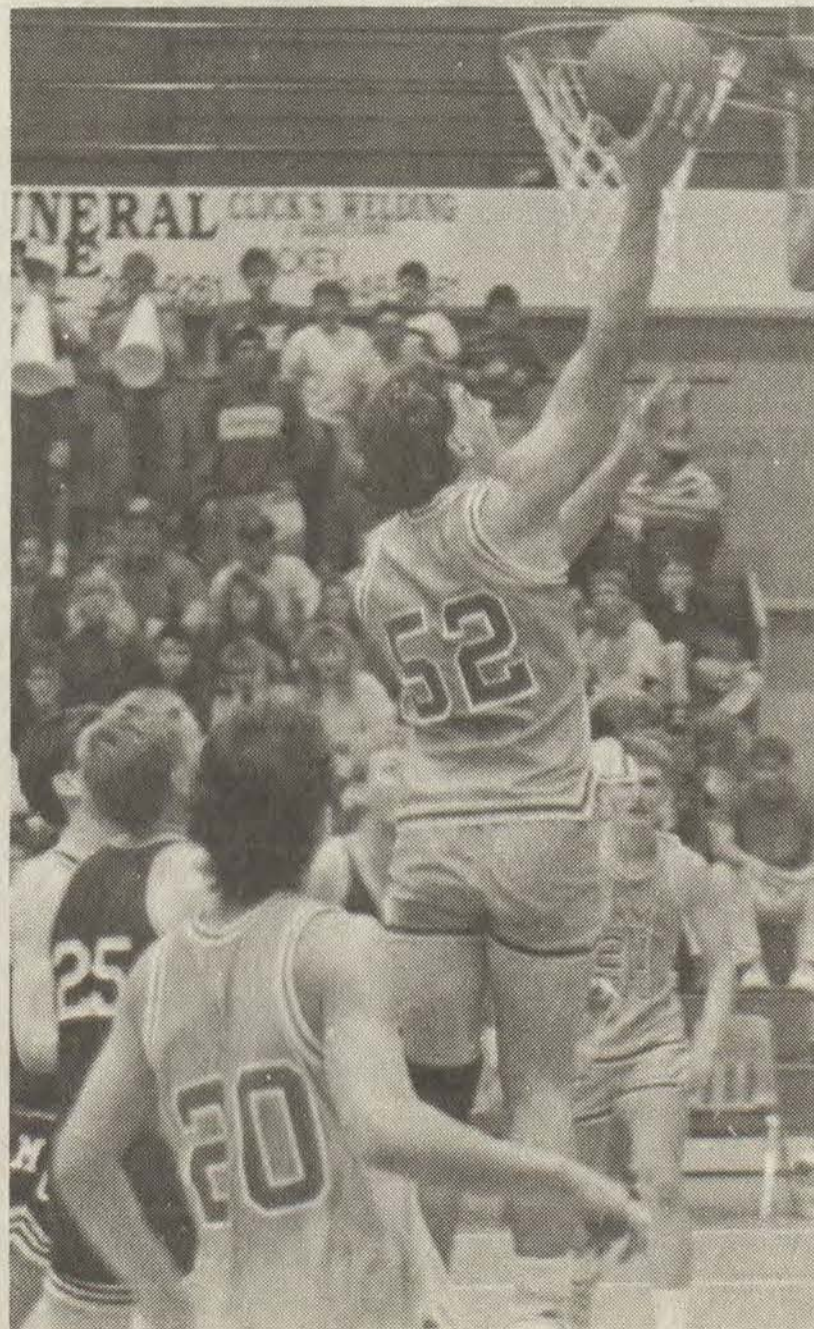

Osborne came back and tied the score in the fourth period to send the game into its first overtime. Each team managed only four points each in the first O.T., and in the second overtime

Harold scored seven points to Osborne's four.

Heather Keathley and Kelly Stanley added seven points for the Lady Red Devils. Isaac led the Lady Eagles with 10 points and Candance Holbrook tossed in nine points.

Osborne 4 6 9 9 4 4 (36): Holbrook, 9; Martin, 6; Hall, 3; Isaac, 10; Hall, 2; Meade, 2; Samantha Tackett, 4

At Harold Melissa Mullins, 4; Melinda Gearheart, 4; Heather Keathley, 7; Jessica Hamilton, 15; Della Flannery, 2; Kelly Stanley, 7.

Smooth Move

Rick Smith (52) of Allen Central makes a good move to lay this one in for two points against the Hornets of Magoffin County. The Rebels fell to the Hornets 71-63 Tuesday night at Allen Central.

Wasps Capture Auxier Invitational Over Prater

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Wayland Wasp captured the Auxier Invitational Boys basketball tournament Wednesday night over the Prater Cougars, 48-39. The two day tournament included the host school, Auxier, Prater, Wayland and Clark.

Jason Martin scored 20 points for the Wayland Wasps in leading his team to victory.

Wayland held a 12-8 lead at the end of the first quarter. Mark Ousley scored all eight of Auxier points in the first stanza. Martin had six first period points and Todd Hansford added four. The Hornets came back in the second quarter and outscored the Wasps 12-11, and trailed at the half 23-20. Hansford carried the Wasps in the second stanza by scoring eight points.

Wayland went on a 16-9 blitz in the third quarter, and built a 39-29 lead going into the fourth period. Martin netted 10 points in the period. Hansford had 18 points in the game for Wayland. Donnie Combs tallied six.

Adam Roberts led the Hornets in scoring with 17 points and Mark Ousley tossed in 14.

Floyd County Sectional Basketball Tournament Gets Underway

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It's that time of the year again. Grade school basketball tournament time. A program that is probably as big as a lot of district tournaments. It all begins tonight as Section Three gets underway at the Betsy Layne High School gym. Thirty teams, 15 boys and 15 girls, will vie for the covenant crown of Floyd County Champions. The winners and runners-up of each section will meet at the Betsy Layne gym on December 11 for the finals.

In the Betsy Layne Sectional, hosted by the Prater Grade school in the girls bracket, the Prater Lady Cougars will take on the undefeated Lady Mustangs of John M. Stumbo in a 6:30 p.m. scheduled start. Stumbo, who consistently has a dominating girls program, will be looking to keep their perfect 10-0 record intact. Paul David Tackett's squad lost to Martin by three points in the finals of the championship game last season. The two schools have met twice this year with Stumbo winning both games.

"I hope it all changes this year," Coach Tackett stated as his team prepares for the upcoming tournament.

The Prater Lady Cougars, who are still looking for their first win of the year, dropped both of their games to the Lady Mustangs during the regular season.

The Cougars and Mustangs will square off in the second game of the Section Three playoffs in an 8 p.m. scheduled start. Stumbo sports a good offensive basketball team led by Jason Newsome and Derrick Newsome. Stumbo has a 10-3 record and recently won the Johns Creek Invitational. The Mustangs also beat a good Prestonsburg team on the Blackcats home floor, but fell to the same club last week at home.

The second round of Section Three will be played on Wednesday, Dec. 6 because of scheduling difficulties with the gym. Shelia Ortega's Lady Bobcats will go up against a good Harold Lady Red Devils team. The Lady Bobcats are 11-6 on the year, while Harold is 4-9. Betsy Layne is led by Jamie Ratcliff and Becky Klidd. The Lady Red Devils have looked to a trio of players for leadership during the season in Heather Keathley, Jessica Hamilton and Melinda Gearheart, and will depend on the same three to show the way through the sectional.

What could be the best game of the tournament will be game two of the second round when the Harold Red Devils of Dwight Newsome match up against Ernie Tackett's Betsy Layne Bobcats. Newsome's Red Devils are probably the most improved team in the county of late. The Red Devils took undefeated power Osborne down to the wire before losing 64-63.

"I believe that Harold is one of the top five teams in the county," the Bobcat mentor stated. "They have three of the best county players on their team."

Playoff action will continue Monday night when the other three sections will begin play. At Prestonsburg, the Allen Lady Eagles will try and upend the Lady Blackcats of Prestonsburg in first game play scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Sixth grader April Newsome is a force to be reckoned with for the Allen team. The Lady Blackcats will count on Kenni Bradford, who has the team all season, to take them to a tourney crown.

The Clark Indians will go against Ashland Gearheart's Prestonsburg Blackcats in the second game Monday night. Prestonsburg sports a 17-4 record and Clark will have its hands full in this one. Damion Stepp, David Gearheart and Chad Caldwell have been the big guns for the Blackcats. Clark, which has found the wins scarce this season, will take to the floor under the leadership of Jeff Johnson, T-Tom Slone and Dale Crum. Dale Hamilton's ball club could be loose going on the floor in an underdog role.

After missing Tuesday night, the tournament will resume on Wednesday evening as the Lady Indians of Clark match up with the Auxier Lady Hornets. Clark has only lost twice this season, one of those losses was to Allen. The Lady Hornets will still be looking for their first win of the year. Geri Charles will lead the Lady Hornets as Jamie Clay guides the Lady Indians.

Wednesday nights second game will pit David Mosley's Allen Eagles, winner over Prestonsburg Monday night, against the Auxier Hornets.

Phillip "Snake" Patton, Cory Rietz and Matt Porter have all been steady performers for the Eagles all season. Steve Adkins, Jason Burke and Jason Slone will lead the Auxier chargers. A Prestonsburg victory and an Allen win could bring two of the county's finest in the championship match on Friday night.

At Martin, the defending girls Floyd County champions and winners of five consecutive crowns, will defend their title on Monday night, Dec. 4, against the Lady Devils of Garrett. Garrett has relied heavily on Megan Manns and Brooke Allen this season. They will be going against a strong Martin team that has been a force in grade school basketball for several years. Traci Dingus, Roni McKinney and Jenny Robinson will lead the Lady Flashes toward a sixth title.

In game two, Jimmy Hopkins' Flashes will look to win another title for their school. The Purple Flashes will face a Garrett team led by Jeremy Hall. Martin, loser of only one game, and that to Prestonsburg at home, will be a heavy favorite in this sectional. However, the Maytown Wildcats will try and stand in their way, if both teams make it to the finals.

Maytown will have to contend with the likes of the Wayland Wasps, winners of the Auxier Invitational this week, who has one of the best grade school standouts in Jason Martin, on Tuesday night, Dec. 5. The Wildcats are not without their own arsenal in Jeremy Clark. Clark is quick, unselfish and goes to the boards well for Forest Hughes' team. Chris Halbert will be in the supporting role as will Kevin Martin for Maytown. The Wildcats are 13-2 for the season.

The Lady Wildcats of Maytown will face the Lady Wasp of Wayland also on Tuesday night. Marsha Brown will take her squad to the floor, for a what they hope will be a trip to the final eight of the Floyd County tournament. Wayland will let their hopes ride on the shoulders of Jamie Fultz and Jamie Webb.

In Sectional Two, which will not begin play until Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, we will see the Osborne Lady Eagles go against the Melvin Lady Cougars. Both teams are evenly matched going into this game. Waiting in the wings with a bye to play the winner, will be the Lady Daredevils of McDowell.

In the second game of the evening, Melvin will take on McDowell. Nathan Burger has been the scoring machine for the Cougars this season. Jeffery Tackett and Justin Ray will also help the Cougars.

When you talk about outstanding players, you have to name Shannon Newsome for the Daredevils. Throw in a Matt Rose and Alan More you have a trio of players that can produce on the basketball floor.

Meredith Slone's undefeated Eagles of Osborne will get the bye and play the winner of the McDowell and Melvin game. Osborne has a strong cast in John Hall, Charles Johnson and Chad Slone. The Eagles have won over some top teams, the likes of Prestonsburg, Harold, etc.

Championship games are scheduled as follows: Section One at Martin, Wednesday, Dec. 6, both boys and girls; Section Two at Wheelwright, Thursday, Dec. 7, both boys and girls; Section Three at Betsy Layne, Thursday, Dec. 7, both boys and girls; Section Four at Prestonsburg, Friday, Dec. 8, both boys and girls.

Jeff Castle's Three-Pointers Sink Runnin' Rebels, 71-63

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

A large crowd was on hand to greet the Allen Central Rebels as they opened their 1989-90 basketball season against the Magoffin County Hornets at the Allen Central Fieldhouse Tuesday night. For the second night in a row the fans and players had to wait on one of the officials to show up. But that did not dampen the enthusiasm of the evening as the majorettes and cheerleaders entertained the crowd while the band struck up their rendition of "Dixie".

The final outcome, once the referee showed up and the game began, was not so joyous, as the Hornets rode the three-point shooting of Jeff Castle to a 71-63 victory over a very good Rebel team. Castle scored 30 points to lead the Hornets in that department, hitting five three-pointers in the first three quarters of the game. Castle hit all seven of his free throws.

The Hornets seemed determined to live or die by the three-point shot. "You would think that," Hornets mentor Danny Adams stated, "but the three-point shot is an interval part of our offense."

With the Hornets holding a 5-2 lead early in the first period, Allen Central scored seven straight points on a basket by Kevin Spurlock and Cotton Parsons three-point and two pointer, to put the Rebels up 9-5. Castle then connected on two straight three-pointers, after a basket by Rick Smith for Allen Central, to tie the game at 11 each. Another bucket by Smith gave Allen Central a 13-11 lead, and Magoffin County ran off nine unanswered points to take a 20-13 first quarter lead.

The Hornets quickly extended that lead out to 11, 26-15, with 7:00 showing on the clock, as the Hornets controlled the offensive boards. Magoffin County hit a drought, and went five minutes without scoring, as Allen Central outscored the visitors 12-0 to take a 27-26 lead on a three-point basket by Parsons.

"We missed a lot of shots in the second quarter, something like 16, while Allen Central was scoring. But our kids didn't quit," the Hornets coach explained.

Neal Gibson broke the long dry spell with a basket with 1:57 remaining in the half to regain the lead for the Hornets at 28-27. Smith scored five consecutive points for the Rebels to give Allen Central a four point, 32-28, advantage. Castle hit another three-pointer and with :04 to go, Gibson tied the game at 32-32 with a free throw.

Magoffin County built a six point lead, 49-43, in the third stanza, to break a 41-41 tie, on a bucket by Scott Castle and Jeff Castle's three point play, and a three-point basket. Spurlock's three-pointer and a basket by Smith closed the gap to one, 49-48 with 27 seconds showing. On a Hornet possession, Smith fouled Jeff Castle, and in frustration, kicked the stands and was whistled for a technical foul. Castle hit all four from the charity stripe to give Magoffin County a 53-48 lead at the end of the third period.

Mike Hancock's basket, following a bucket by Spurlock, closed the Rebels to within one, 53-52, and Joey

Conn, who worked hard on the boards all night, took a rebound and struck the ball back in for a 54-53 Rebel lead with 6:49 remaining. A 10-2 run by the Hornets put Magoffin County ahead for good at 63-56.

"Feel our speed was a big factor in winning this game tonight," Adams stated. "Our inside game was good, but we never got our second wind in the second half. Another big factor was Jeff's (Castle) hitting those seven free throws to keep us in it."

"Our kids played with a lot of heart tonight. We have to because we're not going to have a height advantage over no one. But this is a very unselfish group of kids," the Hornets mentor said of his teams effort.

Besides Castle's 30 points, Scott Arnett tallied 11 points for the Hornets while Ronald Traylor tossed in 10.

Allen Central placed four players in double figures, with Smith leading the team with 24 points. Smith had five rebounds in the game. Kevin Spurlock netted 12 points and had 12 assist. Joey Conn had 10 rebounds and added 11 points in the loss. Cotton Parsons tossed in 11 points and pulled down 10 boards.

The Rebels will travel to Jenkins Tuesday. Magoffin County will host Tates Creek Tuesday night.

Magoffin County 20 12 21 19 (71): Don Helton, 3 0 1-4 7; Ronald Traylor, 5 0 0-0 10; Jeff Castle, 4 5 7-7 30; Kevin Holderby, 1 0 0-0 2; Scott Arnett, 3 1 2-3 11; Robbie Kennard, 2 0 0-2 4; Neal Gibson, 1 0 1-2 3; Scott Castle, 2 0 0-2 4.

"It was the last time a grade school game would be played here and the kids were sort of up for it," Prestonsburg coach Ashland Gearheart stated. Gearheart, who has done an exceptional job at the local school, says he hasn't decided yet what he will be doing next year.

David Gearheart scored 22 points, Damon Stepp tossed in 21 and Chad Caldwell netted 18, to lead the Blackcats to their 17th victory of the season. Prestonsburg has only lost four times.

Elderhostel: An Educational Way To Fill The Golden Years

by Tess A. Whitmer
Staff Writer

Upon retirement many people find themselves with a lot of free time on their hands. Those seeking to fill that time with an entertaining and educational activity are in luck. The Elderhostel International is a program for people 60 years of age and older, sponsored through colleges and university systems world wide.

Programs run year round in one week time slots and feature lectures and demonstrations on a variety of subjects. Locally, Prestonsburg Community College sponsors two Elderhostels a year on events unique to the mountains and Eastern Kentucky. The local coordinator of the program is Carolyn Forsma. She can be contacted at 886-3863, ext 286, for those desiring more information or who may be interested in enrolling in the February class, to be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

The most recent Elderhostel for this area wound down today (Friday), after a week long series of activities on "Art and Folklore of Appalachia," "Civil War in the Big Sandy" and "Dancing Days."

Art and Folklore of Appalachia featured Trisha Morris, librarian at PCC, portraying local heroine Jenny Wiley. Using local historian Henry P. Scalp's data, Morris presented the tale of Mrs. Wiley and the different variations of her life story.

Thomas Whitacker, area artist and faculty member at PCC, displayed his art and discussed both art in general and art specific to the Appalachian area. He lectured for the class on Tuesday, and gave a tour of his work presently on display at the college on Thursday.

Also included under the art and folklore theme was a trip to Appalshop in Whitesburg where participants got to see a bit of the history of the area and were able to buy some treasured keepsakes.

Civil War in the Big Sandy included lectures by PCC history professors, Dr. Tom Carroll and Dr. Doug Herman, as well as a portrayal by Paintsville Mayor John David Preston of Henry Boarders, a union soldier from the 14th Kentucky Infantry who fought in the Battle of Ivy Mountain. The third class in the series, Dancing Days, was an active participation program dealing with Western and Mountain square dancing. The dancing was led by callers Richard Jett from Natural Bridge and Clarence Hensen from Jenny Wiley State Park. Richard Wilson of Roark lectured on folk music and demonstrated seven different traditional instruments, including the Hammer and Mountain Dulcimers.

The week was rounded out by films, a performance of Christmas music by the PCC Community Chorus, a wine and cheese reception, a hobby night and other events.

The February Elderhostel will involve the following three themes: Coal Mining; Yesterday and Today; Carl D. Perkins; and Dancing Days. The cost of an average Elderhostel week in the state of Kentucky is $230 to include everything except transportation. There is also a commuter rate for those in the area who are not in need of overnight lodging.

This past Elderhostel had 25 participants ranging in age from 60 to 83 and traveling from as far as Alaska and as close as Pikeville. Two couples came from Mustang Island, near Corpus Christi, Texas, where they studied marine biology. The men dropped the ladies off at the May Lodge and then went on to attend the Elderhostel co-sponsored by Morehead State University and Carter Caves, where they are learning to make dulcimers.

"The underlying philosophy of Elderhostel is to bring together people from different places who share a common interest in getting to know new people," Forsma said. "I think the whole program is a wonderful opportunity and I plan on participating myself as soon as I reach retirement age."

Respite: A Match Maker For Those In Need, Those Who Care

by Tess A. Whitmer
Staff Writer

Many elderly people in the area require a full-time care giver, meaning that the person attending them has little time for themselves. Respite Caregivers' Program, a division of the Big Sandy ADD, offers those caregivers in need of a break, a person to fill in for them. It also offers the elderly someone to assist them on a full and part-time basis.

"This program is a means of giving informal support to people who are caring for an elderly person in their home, and are in dire need of some relief from this '36 hour day,'" noted Mary Anne Hall, ombudsman.

"I will link the caregiver to individuals in their community who are willing to engage in this program. Services available vary from transportation to shopping or live-in respite."

Respite Caregivers' Referral Program is seeking registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, nurses' aides, or home health aides. Hall adds that a person does not need to have formalized training or education, just a desire to help. Services required range from shopping to housecleaning, or sometimes just companionship.

The Big Sandy ADD serves as an information gathering point and the rest is up to the individuals in need of care, Hall explained.

"On the average we receive one to two inquiries per day from people desiring some type of respite care, which indicates that there is a definite need for this service in our area," Hall noted. "Not only does the program benefit the caregiver, it also provides a job for another person. To date we have helped well over 150 individuals find the type of help they have needed."

What Hall does is to collect the names, areas of coverage, desired salary and hours available from the service givers and stores them on the computer. When someone calls in requiring a particular need, she matches them up with the persons available on the data bank and forwards a list of possible employees.

"The rest is up to the individuals," she said, "they do their own hiring and negotiating, and all we ask in return is that they notify us if they hire someone we recommended."

There is no fee of any kind for the service and is staffed on a volunteer basis.

"There was a need and we tried to fill it," Hall concluded. Those who want help or can help should contact Mary Anne Hall at 886-2374, or write Big Sandy ADD, 31 North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653.

Hales Conduct Session With Medical Students

Harmison and Eva Hale, formerly of Floyd County, recently met for a one hour discussion with a class of medical students at UK at the request of Dr. Carol Gardner, director of geriatrics and the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

The Hales lectured on a variety of areas of interest to the students and later answered questions. Some topics relating to the elderly and the aging process included:

—Evaluating elderly persons on their activity level regarding volunteer work (or other activities) following retirement. The process should include the subjects health condition and their mental and physical capabilities, along with their desire to be busy and active while helping others less fortunate.

—The American Association of Retired Person and other volunteer programs.

—The "55 Alive" mature driving sessions, tax-aid for the elderly and low income, nursing home visitations, health fairs, assistance with handling paper work for medical claims and other similar AARP programs.

Special emphasis was given to other areas such as: The need for doctors to give increased attention to prescription medication (and non-prescription drugs) for the elderly and the side effects of same; the students were urged to consider favorably accepting recommended cost levels for various medical services by Medicare, and to assist in keeping the cost of medical services down; and to pay special attention to lifestyle changes with aging, finances, dietary needs, exercising programs and similar topics related to the elderly.

HOROSCOPE

December 3 through December 9

By C.C. Clark
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)

Take a close look at your financial situation and delay any task that causes you to spend money. Don't let a bad mood keep you from participating in some fun.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)

Your instincts are finely tuned for success this week. There is little you can do to persuade others to come around to your way of thinking, so don't even try.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)

Don't let others influence your judgement on important matters. This would be a great time to donate some time to charity in order to meet your priorities.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)

Emotional difficulties will surface this week. Your domestic sector will seem to be harried and uncontrollable, but things are not what they seem.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)

You can prevent a major catastrophe at work by relaying knowledge of the material at hand. A woman will share your work, or study in a devoted way.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

Don't focus on what's bad in your life right now. It is important that you concentrate on the positive aspects of your life and put the other behind you.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)

It will be necessary for you to be totally honest with a loved one this week. If things are not right, they need to be discussed now, before they get out of hand.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)

Look at your life closely to understand your priorities. Remember that most of the time you have the freedom to choose what you want to do with your life.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)

So much has happened over the past few weeks. Take time out to rest and relax and think about what has transpired. Just enjoy each moment as it comes this week.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)

It is all right for you to sit back and let someone else take over for a while. A loved one needs special attention, but it is important to remember when to let go.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)

A sudden surge of energy this week helps you prepare for the coming weeks with gusto. A new business associate could bring some good fortune your way.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)

At the moment you seem to be almost obsessed with the feeling that you are being victimized, but if you look closer you really are not. Take charge of the situation.

TV PIPELINE

Former 'Friday the 13th' star has had steady career growth

By Polly Vonetes
 Q: I was a big fan of Friday the 13th, the Series, until my favorite actor Jon D. Lemay, who played Ryan Dullion, was cut in the season premiere. I would like to know a little more about him. Where can I write him?
 —Angie McColley, Crown Point, Ind.

Jon D. Lemay

A: Actor Jon D. LeMay was born in Minnesota and reared in Normal, Ill. Determined to have a career in the arts, he majored in music, theater and dance at Illinois State. He spent his senior year interning at the Theatre Building in Chicago. Los Angeles became his new home when he flew there to audition for a movie role. Though he didn't get the role, he decided to stay and quickly landed parts in national commercials and a role in Couch Trip. He has previously appeared in episodes of Highway to Heaven, My Sister Sam, The Twilight Zone, The Facts of Life and Remington Steele. Write him c/o Barrow/Hoffman Public Relations, 2998 Hacienda Drive, Durate, Calif. 91010.

Q: I am in the 7th grade and doing a geography report. I need to know where the stars on Full House were born and what their real names are. We have to locate this information on a map. Please help me by answering as soon as possible.
 —Melissa Thomas, Clifton, N.J.

A: Your teacher should give you an "A" on initiative. John Stamos (Jesse) was born in Orange County, Calif.; Bob Saget (Danny Tanner), Philadelphia, Pa.; David Coulier (Joey), Detroit, Mich.; Lori Loughlin (Rebecca), Long Island, N.Y.; and Candace Cameron (D.J.), Jodie Sweetin (Stephanie) and twins Mary-Kate and Ashley Fuller Olsen (baby Michelle) were all born in Los Angeles, Calif.

Q: I seldom care for theme songs for TV shows, but there are three that interest me. I am wondering who the singers are. Sounds like Alan Thicke for Growing Pains, Christopher Hewett on Mr. Belvedere, and the man who plays Coach Lubbock on Just the Ten of Us. Also, I have always wondered if Susan Richards in Eight Is Enough is related to Elsa Lanchester, they look so much alike.
 —Grace Lovett, Plano, Texas

A: None of the stars you mention sing the themes of their series. The Growing Pains theme is sung by Jennifer Warren and B.J. Thomas. The words and music for Mr. Belvedere is by Judy Hart-Angelo & Gary Portnoy. The theme for Just the Ten of Us was created by Steve Dorff and sung by Bill Medley. There is nothing to indicate a relationship between Susan Richardson and Elsa Lanchester.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered. Personal replies cannot be granted. © TV Listing Inc.
