Cooling Trend

Cooler weather will return to our area after an early week warmup.

Wednesday will be mostly cloudy, with a 40 percent chance of light rain and temperatures turning cooler in the late afternoon. A high of 50 degrees is expected. Wednesday night should be mostly cloudy, with lows in the upper 20s.

Thursday will also be mostly cloudy, with a 30 percent chance of light rain or snow during the afternoon. Highs will only reach between 35 and 40.

Bring your umbrella with you!

LB Candy Run Slated Dec. 17

The Left Beaver Rescue Squad's annual candy run with Santa Claus will be held on Sunday, Dec. 17, on Left Beaver.

For more information contact Gary Compton, 377-2335.

Open House...

Mountain Comprehensive Care's Sheltered Workshop program will sponsor an open house Friday, Dec. 8, from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Auxier Greenhouse (located across from Highlands Regional Medical Center).

Poinsettias and holiday crafts will be available. Refreshments will be served, and door prizes given.

Santa In Allen

The Allen Volunteer Fire Department will be escorting Santa Claus on the fire truck through the Allen fire district on Wednesday, Dec. 21, on Rt. 1428 toward Martin and Arkansas Creek; Thursday, Dec. 21, on Rt. 1428 to Wood's Grocery, Banner, Prater Creek, Daniels Creek, Ivel Bottom; and on Friday, Dec. 22, at Allen, Old Allen and Dwale.

Santa will visit beginning at 6 p.m. each day. The firefighters ask residents to make this a happy season. Remember that Christmas trees burn quickly. Be sure to check your Christmas lights for frayed wiring and keep trees away from stoves, fireplaces, etc. A fire-free Christmas will help make the holidays joyous.

For those who may need the fire department's services, the number is 874-2540.

Looking For...

The Floyd County Times is looking for submissions from its readers. During the holiday season and with the year coming to an end, the staff at the Times would like to print any old photographs that the public may have following the Christmas theme. We are especially looking for pictures dated prior to 1960. (Photos will be returned.)

We are also planning to run a special feature on the year in review as our last paper of the 1989 year, and wish to gather local remembrances. Readers are asked to submit short articles on their most memorable event of the past year. The deadline for submission will be Friday, Dec. 22, and all articles must include the writer's name and telephone number.

Jury Asks State Investigator To Review Election Activity

A special state investigator has been requested by the Floyd County Jury to examine irregular activities surrounding the Nov. 7 county election.

At the request of Grand Jury Foreman Gorman Collins Jr., Judge Hollie Conley contacted Jeff Mackin, state assistant attorney general who directs investigations into the misuse of public funds and election fraud. The letter requested an investigation into "irregularities in the voting and handling of county property, or the misuse of county property to promote certain candidates in the election."

Collins, was also the Republican candidate for magistrate in District 1, was more specific in his suspicions of questionable election activity.

"I know that county money was used improperly in the last election," said Collins. "Private roads and driveways were paved in the county in order to affect the election. I have firsthand knowledge of this. What we have here is malfeasance of county tax money."

The request to involve a special prosecutor to handle the investigation stems from the Grand Jury's concern with the ability of the case to be fairly dealt with at a county level.

"I don't feel that anyone at the courthouse can be trusted with this," said Collins.

Judge Conley also noted that Collins told him that the Commonwealth Attorney's office in Prestonsburg was not cooperating with the Grand Jury in the investigation.

According to Collins, a report will be issued today, detailing the initial findings of the Grand Jury. The report will be released as public information. According to Conley's letter to Mackin, the Grand Jury could be reconvened for the special prosecutor immediately, if necessary, to deal with the situation.

Runaway Truck Causes Auxier Accident

A dump truck driven by Greg Gordon, 19, of Royalton, lost its brakes last Friday afternoon at the intersection of Route 23 and Route 3 near Auxier, ramming a pickup truck and coming to rest wedged between two trees at the bottom of a steep hill, yards from the Big Sandy River.

Gordon was driving the unloaded truck down the hill on Route 3, approaching Route 23 at about 2:10 p.m., when his brakes failed. The truck raced through the intersection, striking the bed of a pickup truck owned by Vonnie Gambill. The pickup spun around, coming to rest in the northbound lane of US 23.

The dump truck then plowed through the guardrail across the intersection and ran down the hillside about 30 yards before striking two large trees bordering the river, shearing away most of the front section of the truck and knocking off both front wheels. The engine, however, continued to run, while gallons of fuel spilled down the underside of the damaged truck.

Gordon, who had leg and chest injuries, was able to get out of the cab of the truck and climb to the road.

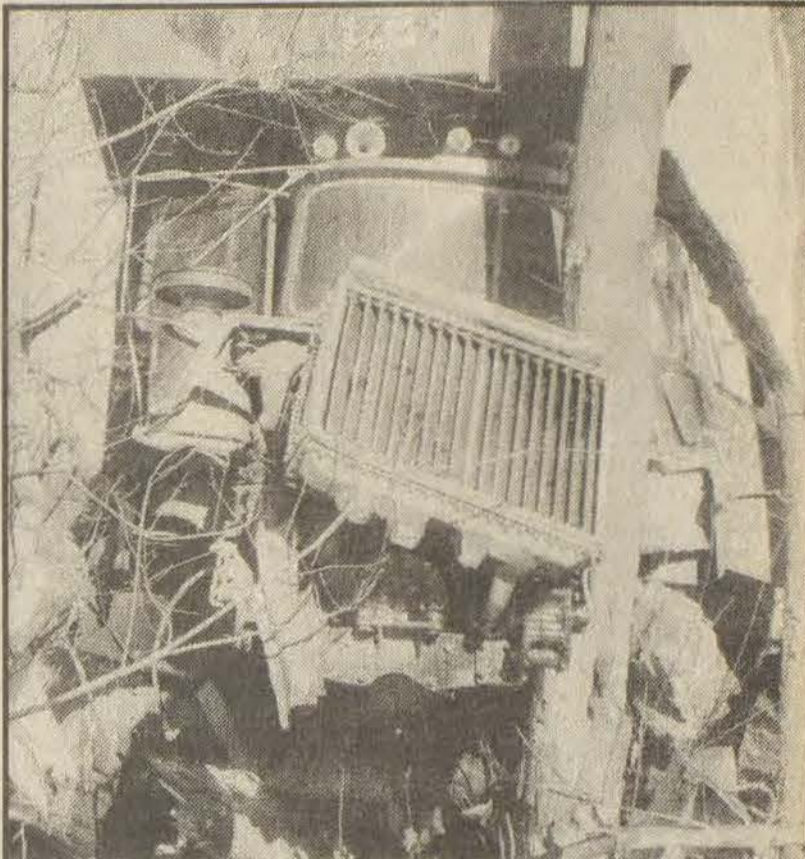

State Trooper Mark Padgett arrived on the scene and attempted to shut the dump truck's engine off, but found the engine cut-off switch damaged. A passing truck driver, Dwain Newberry, provided assistance to the police officer and was able to pull the cables from the vehicle's battery, quieting the engine.

Padgett estimated that 50 gallons of diesel fuel leaked from the ruptured tanks, but stated that the fuel didn't contaminate the river. The officer also noted that Gordon was lucky to escape the accident.

"If he'd been loaded, that would have been it," said Padgett. "He probably would have gone into the river with a crushed cab. If he'd even been a little to the right of where he hit, he'd have missed the trees and probably gone in."

Gordon was treated for contusions, bruises and abrasions at Highlands Regional Hospital, and was released.

Over The Guardrail And Through The Woods...

This dump truck, driven by Greg Gordon of Royalton, lost its brakes Friday afternoon at the intersection of Route 23 and Route 3, striking a pickup and plunging down towards the Big Sandy River, finally lodging between two trees, above. The truck continued to run after the accident, creating a danger of a fire or explosion, due to ruptured fuel tanks which dumped about 50 gallons of diesel to the ground around the wreck.

State Trooper Mark Padgett, who responded to the accident, stated that Gordon was lucky to have escaped serious injury in the incident.

Gordon was treated and released from Highlands Regional Hospital.

Left Beaver Concerned Citizens Plan Community Christmas Sat.

The Left Beaver Concerned Citizens will hold their first Community Christmas on Saturday, Dec. 9, and hope the event will become an annual occurrence.

Several sponsors have been obtained, including McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital and the Auxiliary Club, Drift Women's Club, MMD Club, the Left Beaver Rescue Squad and several area businesses.

According to Gary Compton, chairman of the group, the Community Christmas will begin at 6 p.m. in front of McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. Events will include decorating a 20-foot Christmas tree and caroling on hay rides with Santa Claus. Santa will also be making a Christmas list and give treats to children.

Hot beverages will be available in the hospital lobby, as will be soft drinks and cookies.

The public is invited to attend; for more information, contact Compton at 377-2335.

Prestonsburg Attorney Takes On School Board

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

If a list was made detailing the Floyd County School Board's least favorite persons, Prestonsburg attorney Ned Pillersdorf would probably ride high on the page.

Pillersdorf and the school board are preparing to lock horns over three cases of alleged political retaliation and violations of civil rights taken by the board against former employees. Pillersdorf, 34, is a graduate of the University of the Pacific Law School and is a former public defender. He has been a key legal crusader in the area over the past few years, pursuing litigation directed at school board activity.

In April 1990, the case of Joyce R. Blackburn will be heard before a federal court in Pikeville. Blackburn was a teacher for four years at Allen Central High School. She was not recommended for rehiring during the current school year, according to the school board, because of a state mandate to reduce the number of teachers.

Blackburn retained Pillersdorf on the case, alleging that she wasn't rehired because of her outspoken criticism of board operations and for her involvement in a teacher work stoppage in October 1988.

Allen Council Examines Water Problem

A proposal to require property owners to have an adequate water supply in all rented living structures was passed Monday night by Allen City Council.

The council passed the proposal in an attempt to address the health problem involved in having rental trailers and houses within city limits which don't have running water. Sewage disposal was the primary concern.

Property owners will have five days to comply with the resolution, or face a fine of $50. The health department will be asked to talk to residents who don't currently have water and help explain the situation. It was also announced that, at a special meeting on Oct. 16, city police officer Larry Goble was dismissed. James Stevens was hired to replace him until the new council takes office in January.

Concern was also expressed about the difficulties residents were having with Charter Cable, which is allegedly billing Allen residents incorrectly. No resolution to the problem was expressed in council.

Present at the Monday meeting was Mayor pro tem Vernon Porter, and council members Elmer Parsons, Larry Castle, and Billy Rowe.

nator, in a joint hearing before the board to determine if the three should be demoted because of a demand from State School Superintendent John Brock to reduce the Floyd school budget.

According to Pillersdorf, more than budgetary considerations played a role in determining who to demote.

"Three administrators didn't support Dr. Brent Clark during the election," said Pillersdorf. "Strangely enough, the three who supported Tommy Boyd (Clark's rival) were chosen for demotion in retaliation for this support."

By a 3-2 vote, the demotions were not approved by the school board, chalking up a win for Pillersdorf in the ongoing battle between the attorney and the school board.

Two separate cases scheduled by Pillersdorf for federal court also involve claims of political retaliation.

Ed Patton Jr. retained Pillersdorf in a suit which cites not only the Floyd County School Board, and members Hager and Dr. Mary Hall, but also the state board and state superintendent Brock, claiming that the board has sought to intimidate, punish, and retaliate against Patton for his political activity and voting record.

"Mary Hall sent a message to Ed in 1988 that he'd better get right in the current election. Then, just after the teacher work stoppage in October 1988, Hager tried to discharge him, making him out to be a scapegoat for his involvement, in order to send a message to teachers who participated," alleges Pillersdorf. "Finally, in May of this year, the board refused to rehire him. All of this highlights that the board is more a board of political retaliation than of education."

Patton supported Ricky Hamilton for the school board election, who was apparently not supported by Hager and other board members.

The most current case involving Pillersdorf and the school board revolves around a suit brought by Rudolph Lewis against the board and specifically against Hager and Adams. Filed Friday, the suit alleges that Lewis was threatened with loss of his school bus route if he didn't discontinue his support for Boyd during the school board elections in 1988. Lewis later lost his route, and claims that flagrant violations of bus route bidding laws occurred during the incident.

According to Pillersdorf, people like Lewis, the teachers, bus drivers, and maintenance workers within the school system are the most vulnerable to political manipulation by the school board.

"I've seen reports that Floyd teachers are in the bottom 20 percent pay bracket in the state and our administrators are in the top 10 percent," said Pillersdorf. "You can't talk to the board about questions of morality. They only change if they're threatened to be sued. They've become so arrogant that there's witnesses to the threats they make in some cases. I usually have one person a day approach me about threats they've received. There are people working for the school system that live in fear for their jobs."

Pillersdorf also questioned the impact of state oversight recently in board activities.

"What I find alarming is that these incidents are occurring after the state intervened in board activities. It appears that the state is just a smokescreen, while political retaliations continue within school board

Age Discrimination Claimed

A 75-year-old former Garrett Elementary School employee will file an age discrimination suit against Principal Ralph O'Quinn and the Floyd County school board this week, according to attorney Ned Pillersdorf.

Clara Pack, a school employee for 37 years and a food service manager for 21 years, is charging O'Quinn and the board with refusing to train her on a new computerized cash register because of her age. According to Pillersdorf, Pack further stated that she was demoted to the position of cook at the Garrett school. She left this job after a few weeks.

Pillersdorf was retained by Pack and filed a complaint to the Kentucky Human Rights Commission, which informed him that persons over the age of 70 were not protected by the commission. A complaint was also filed with the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. No response has been forthcoming, said Pillersdorf.

The suit will be filed in federal court in Pikeville. O'Quinn and the school board will be named as the defendants in the case.

Child Ignites Diaper Pail

A fire started in the home of Prestonsburg police officer Ralph Frasure last week when a child moved a diaper pail over a floor heat register, igniting the waste pail.

The fire began about 4:21 p.m. Thursday in the Frasure household in Prestonsburg. A neighbor extinguished the blaze with a dry chemical fire extinguisher and the city fire department acted to remove smoke from the house. The fire was determined to be purely accidental, according to Major Mike Wells of the Prestonsburg Fire Department.

Suspect Arrested in Hazard Murder

HAZARD — A 22-year-old Perry County man was arrested Friday for last week's murder of laundromat worker Helen Madden, 60, of Hazard.

Donald H. Johnson of Busy has been charged with the Nov. 29 stabbing death of Madden, who worked at the Bright and Clean laundromat in downtown Hazard. Madden was discovered in a storeroom of the laundromat at 7:30 a.m. on the morning of the 30th. She was naked and had numerous stab wounds in her chest, back, and thighs.

Johnson has also been charged with burglary and is currently lodged in the Perry County jail. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Morehead Area Drug Busts Made

MOREHEAD — The Kentucky State Police concluded an 11 month undercover operation Thursday, Nov. 30, of three dozen persons who have allegedly sold illegal drugs and weapons in the Morehead KSP post area.

Thirty-six people are being charged with crimes including the sale of cocaine, crack, LSD, marijuana, Tuinal, Seconal, Dilaudid, phenobarbital, Demerol, Xanax, Valium and stolen guns.

The investigation resulted in over 80 alleged illegal sales in 11 counties. Additional charges will be filed when the accused are arrested. (The Morehead News)

Former Hyden Publisher Convicted

LONDON — Paul Hensley of Hyden, former owner of the Hazard Times and the Thousandsticks News, both weekly newspapers, was convicted Dec. 1 in federal court at London on six separate charges of mail fraud and falsifying government documents.

According to the indictment, Hensley inflated circulation figures to obtain legal advertising from the county governments in Perry and Leslie Counties. Under state law, legal advertising must be awarded to the newspaper in the county which has the highest paid circulation.

Hensley will be sentenced by federal Judge Eugene E. Siler Jr. on Feb. 1, 1990. He faces up to five years in jail on each of the six charges.

Knott Man Dies In Fall From Van

LEBURN — David Slone, 42, of Leburn, was killed Saturday when he accidentally fell out of the back of a van on Pine Tree Hollow Road at about 4:45 a.m.

Slone had been reportedly drinking before the accident and police say a prior head injury may have contributed to the death. An investigation is currently underway and autopsy results are pending. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

House Fire Kill Leslie Woman

CONFLUENCE — Brenda Gail Begley, 32, died of suffocation early Sunday morning in a house fire that burned out of control in the Elkhorn section of the county.

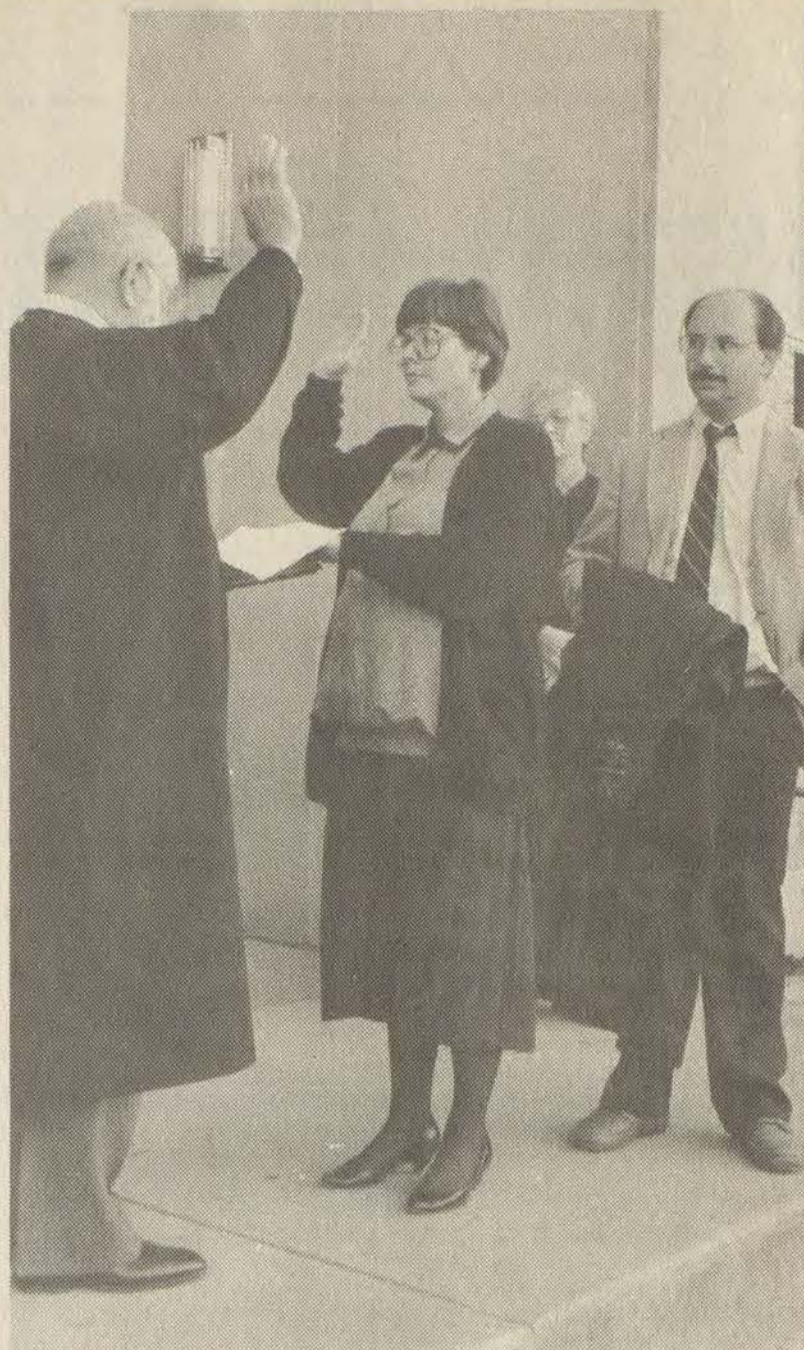

The fire was reported about 1:38 a.m. and Begley's body was discovered at 5:15 a.m. Raymond Burton, who was in the house at the time of the fire, escaped with minor injuries. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

Assault, Robbery in Paintsville

PAINTSVILLE — Jhonda Pelphey of Paintsville was assaulted and robbed by a masked man last Thursday at the Bridal Boutique.

The assailant entered the shop at about 8:50 p.m. wearing a ski mask and baseball cap, assaulting Pelphey, the owner of the store. He fled the scene with a handbag.

Pelphey was treated and released from the Paul B. Hall Medical Center. State Police Det. Keith Scott is investigating the incident.

Taking The Oath Of Office

Janet Stumbo, 35, of Floyd County, was sworn in Friday as a justice on the Kentucky Court of Appeals. Justice Judy West (background), the only other female on the court, acted as master of ceremonies for the event attended by over 100 people in front of the Floyd County Courthouse. Supreme Court Justice Dan Jack Combs administered the traditional constitutional oath, while Justice Harris Howard (left) gave Stumbo, per her request, a second oath pertaining to equal justice for the rich and the poor. In addition to West and Howard, the other Court of Appeals Justices present were Anthony Wilhoit and Bruce Lester. Also pictured is Stumbo's husband Ned Pill-

Langley League Discusses Projects, Erects Tree In Town

A meeting for the Langley League, a community improvement group, was held recently, with Bill Robinson, president, in charge of the agenda, which included a progress report on the proposed "Welcome to Langley" sign.

The May Memorial United Methodist pastor, Albert C. Savage Jr., opened the November meeting of the Langley League with a prayer for guidance. It was decided that volunteers will gather the necessary materials and donate time and talent to put the welcome sign together. A clean-up and pick-up day was discussed and it was decided to pick-up litter along side Highway No. #777 at the turn-off to Langley from New Route #80. Individuals are to pick up litter at their own convenience, according to Robinson.

The group also decided try to plant dogwood trees along Route 80 in the vicinity of Langley. New suggestions were made concerning a community festival and a Church Community Dinner with guest preachers and a song program. No definite action or dates were set for the idea, Robinson noted.

The December meeting agenda will be largely the reading of the Langley League Constitution which is still in its formative stages, Robinson said. Langley League members undertook a joint effort with Maytown Fire Department to put up a Christmas Tree with over 1000 points of light, on the lot directly behind the Maytown Baptist Church. Langley residents donated the lights for the tree, which was procured by the fire department. Libby Flannery was instrumental in getting the necessary funds for the colored lights, Robinson noted.

State Records Fourth Straight Unemployment Decline In 1989

Fewer Kentuckians on the job, but even fewer Kentuckians out looking for work from September to October were the major factors in a drop in the state's jobless rate for the fourth month in a row.

Kentucky's preliminary October unemployment rate was 5.1 percent, down from a revised 5.4 percent in September, according to the Cabinet for Human Resources monthly labor trends report.

October's comparable national rate was 5.0 percent, down from 5.1 percent in September.

Despite the decrease in the federal estimate of Kentuckians working — both here and commuting to jobs in other states — the number of jobs in the state increased by 10,700 between September and October.

"Part of that growth may be economic expansion, especially in trade and services," Blackwell said. "It also reflects the return to work of people who were on strike or were briefly laid off from manufacturing jobs in September."

operations in the county." As court dates approach in the next year, Pillersdorf expressed anticipation at confronting board members in court. "Civil rights legislation hopefully provides a remedy to the current situation here in Floyd County," said Pillersdorf. "I want to hear what members of the board will say about these cases in a federal court. I can't wait for the trials to get here." Bill Francis, legal council for the school board, noted that the two cases involving Blackburn and Patton were currently in pre-file discovery stage, and that complaints have been entered and answers have been returned. Ron Hager had no comment on the pending litigation. Adams said Tuesday that "information involving litigation will be released only on my authority." When asked when that would be, Adams stated, "At my discretion." Punitive damages sought against the board in the Patton, Blackburn, and Lewis suits have been set at $3.5 million.

And Then . . .

by Anne Chaney

In my column last Friday, I shared with readers a part of my basic philosophy — namely, the importance of giving as much back to the community as possible in terms of our individual time, effort, skills and knowledge.

As noted in that column, I am a "short timer" — I'll be leaving the Floyd County Times after this week to accept the publisher's position at newspaper in Texas.

We're close to the end of the year and the end of a decade and, as is often the practice, it's time to give some folks some awards.

I offer the following as my picks:

The True Grit award goes to Superintendent of Schools Ron Hager. Earlier this summer, Ron was being set upon from all sides — the state, the teachers, the media and much of the community. Not too many people were happy with the school system. A lot of folks see him as "the system" and not a regular human being like the rest of us (with feelings, I might add). Ron didn't quit. In fact, he continued to make himself available as much as possible under the circumstances to offer ideas, suggestions and direction. We didn't always agree, but at least we were talking.

The Class Act award goes to Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, who refused — in the face of unbelievably negative and often questionable campaigning by her opponent — to dip into nasty politics in her quest to be reelected mayor of the county seat.

The Mr. Enthusiasm award goes to Tim Hites, president of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, who is hanging in there despite all the demands of serving in this volunteer capacity, not to mention operating a very professional business and making time for his family as well.

The Let's Be Fair award goes to all of Floyd County's teachers, who are also recipients of the Strike While The Iron's Hot award. Our teachers — all 500-plus of them — had the courage to stage a sick out when it was needed, to get area residents to focus and place priority upon education, and to be as fair as anyone could ask with the local administration and state. In fact, I've often thought that perhaps the teachers are being a bit too fair — I don't know that I could have displayed the patience they have.

The Do It Right award goes jointly to Prestonsburg Fire Chief Tom Blackburn and the late chief of police, Dickie Campbell. Both earned widespread respect around the state for running professional departments that not only keep abreast of developments, but are often in the forefront, teaching their colleagues how to do the same.

The Unbelievably Thoughtful award goes to Docia Woods especially, and to members of the Kiwanianes. I can't tell you how many times Docia has sent snacks, encouragement and kindness with her weekly column, much to the delight of our staff. The Kiwanianes have often welcomed members of the Times staff to their meetings and membership.

The What Determination! award goes jointly to Dolores Smith, Jean and John Rosenberg, Joyce Everly and others who are determined to help set the local school system on the right track. They faithfully attend school board meetings and related functions, and generally serve as guardians of What Is Right.

The Right Hand Woman award goes to Pam Shingler who, although now at David School, contributed far more than folks will ever know to the quality of the Floyd County Times. She also contributed to the editor's sanity — offering advice, tips and encouragement, and often serving as a sounding board for my frustrations and disappointments.

The I Couldn't Have Done It Without You award goes to the Floyd County Times staff in its entirety. We've got a great bunch of folks — the best staff I've ever worked with.

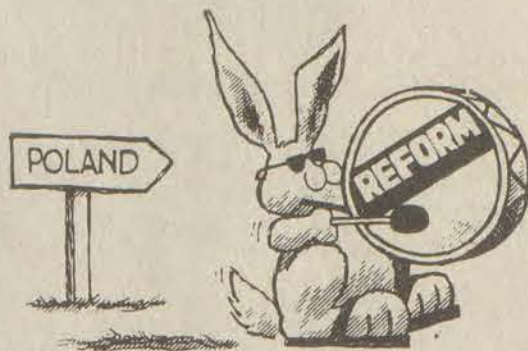

The newspaper business is unlike any other. We have an obligation to the public to get the news out, to get it right and to cover a wide array of topics. Our advertisers pay for and expect effective ads that are visually pleasing. But in either case, there's a twist: we can't set something aside because it's 5 p.m. and time to go home. We can't "do it tomorrow" — it has to be done before presstime, or not at all.

This means staff members work 12 to 16 hours some days (and sometimes, even more). When one arrives for work at 8 a.m. and doesn't leave until the wee hours of the next morning, it's tough. But we don't cut corners, and even if we're here all night, as we sometimes are, we do the job our public expects and we do it to the best of our ability.

To all the award recipients, thank you. I've learned something from each of you that will help make me a better person.

And to the readers of the Floyd County Times, a very special and heartfelt thank you. You have, by simply being there, made it all worthwhile.

Letters to the Editor

Offers Clarification

Dear Editor,
I beg to differ with Sports Editor Ed Taylor's story about Kelly Coleman in your special section of Nov. 24, and wish to set the record straight.

I was the first writer — not Gordon Moore — to pin the name, "King Kelly," on Coleman in a statewide story in February 1956. At the time, I was a newsmen for The Associated Press in Louisville. My lead paragraph read:

"Wayland, Ky. — Kelly Coleman, his basketball brilliance fit for a king, is threatening the reign of 'King Coal' in this mountain region." I went on to say that Coleman was being acclaimed as "King Kelly." A copy of the story is enclosed.

It happened this way: Principal Lawrence Price called me in Louisville from Wayland and said he and Kelly were standing by if I wanted to interview them (of course, I did). Mr. Price explained that Kelly was shy and fearful of newspaper people, but that he didn't mind talking to a fellow Waylander. The story was widely played in The Courier-Journal and throughout the state.

And since we're on the record — I'm even prouder of the fact that it was yours truly who gave the name "Jenny Wiley State Park" to that fine facility in our country. The name was changed from "Dewey Lake" in the last frenzied moments of the 1958 State Legislature, which I covered as an AP newsmen. I had asked the Chandler forces to introduce and support the necessary legislation — and they did, for which I was (and am) grateful.

The rest of Ed Taylor's story was fine and factual.

Sincerely,
Paul R. Jordan,
Lebanon, Ky.

Way To Go, Coach Hopkins!

Dear Editor,
I just noticed the county grade school basketball season has finished. Again, Coach Jimmy Hopkins of Martin finished with a 16 win and one loss record.

Again, or ever year, congratulations to Coach Hopkins for a job well done.

Lorie Vannucci,
Martin
P.S. When Coach Hopkins retires at 65 he will be eligible for a head coaching high school job somewhere.

A Letter From KFTC To Santa Claus

Dear Santa,
The grinch, alias Gov. Wallace Wilkinson and Natural Resources Secretary Carl Bradley, have ruined our Christmas this year. They pulled the plug on Don Harker, the only bright light and ray of hope on our Christmas tree.

Without Don as director of the Division of Waste Management, its employees are going to need a survival kit. Please bring them:

— A lantern to search for the proposed solid waste regulations which seem to have disappeared into a dark hole;

— Rose-colored glasses like the ones the top state environment officials, including Wilkinson, Frank Dickerson, Bradley, John Nichols and Tom Bennett are wearing so that they, too, will be oblivious to out-of-state waste and the 550 known uncontrolled hazardous waste sites in Kentucky;

— Foam rubber ear plugs so they can't hear the cries of citizens begging them to "do the right thing";

— Sleeping pills for those nights when they cannot find peace of mind after avoiding waste issues and pretending they aren't there;

— A mousetrap to catch some of the rodents who are gnawing away at the rules and regulations;

— Rubber bands when they are forced to stretch the rules and regulations even further to accommodate polluters;

— A sponge to soak up the puddles of tears shed by industry over the proposed stiffer regulations;

— A barf bag — to use when the powers in the tower tell them to do outrageous things knowing full well they are bad decisions; and — A hard hat to protect them from getting their heads bashed in when they speak up for the right thing.

Also, Santa, would you please send a can of Lysol spray to Secretary Bradley's office as there seems to be "something rotten in the tower."

Also, give the secretary and his advisors a copy of "The Closing Circle" by Barry Commoner, and "The Toxic Cloud" by Michal Brown to help them learn what environmental protection means and why we need it!

Gov. Wilkinson could probably use a new ball of string for his puppets. And please bring the governor some recycled wrapping paper and ribbons and give him the courage to package up the ideas we have already given him, such as recycling, waste reduction and more citizen involvement in environmental decisions.

And last of all, give him the strength and character to declare a moratorium on solid waste incinerators and new landfills until stronger regulations are in place.

Sincerely,
Patty Wallace,

McConnell's Comments

Sen. Mitch McConnell

INCREASING THE TAX ON TOBACCO AND ALCOHOL WILL NOT RAISE REVENUE

The crushing burden of the federal deficit has forced the Administration and Congress to scramble and find ways to cut our $100 billion debt. Recently an Administration task force suggested raising the federal excise tax on tobacco and alcohol products. They predicted that this increase would generate roughly $14 billion in new revenue over a five-year period. However, a close look at this proposal reveals nothing more than an elaborate fiscal game of smoke and mirrors that would have a damaging effect on Kentucky's economy.

To begin with, tobacco and alcohol products are already to the heaviest taxed consumer goods. Nearly $9 billion in tax revenue is generated from tobacco and $5.5 billion from alcohol sales each year. Excise taxes are purposely added into the price of these products to make consumers believe that the price reflects the finished manufactured cost of cigarettes or a bottle of bourbon. Actually, the hidden cost of these taxes boosts the price of a pack of cigarettes by as much as 40 cents.

Any increase in the excise tax would quickly turn into a regressive tax damaging to the economy. For example, the $2.9 billion generated from this measure would be more than offset by the $4 billion in lost income and benefits to US workers because consumption would actually be reduced. Simply put, as the price rises, fewer people will buy the product.

For Kentucky, the economic costs would be staggering. Over 5,000 people — growers, agribusinessmen, factory workers and distillers, to name a few — would be tossed out of work. These job losses in our breadbasket industries would ripple through and reach virtually every area of the state's economy. Municipal governments, already strapped for cash, would be forced to cut back services even further in the face of a shrinking tax base. Schools, rural health centers and road improvements would suffer.

In the face of all this evidence it is clear that increasing the excise tax would only serve to make our problems worse. I have contacted Dick Darman, director of the Office of Management and Budget, and Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady to voice my opposition against the task force's recommendation. I reminded them that George Bush was elected to the presidency on a platform of no new taxes, and that includes the excise tax. I intend to hold the Administration to its pledge.

The deficit must be eliminated, but the government should not try balancing the budget on the backs of Kentuckians. Instead of hitting taxpayers with another increase, the Administration and Congress must sit down and take a long look at federal programs and make the tough, belt-tightening decisions that are necessary to get our fiscal house in order.

Lack Of Attendance By Public Officials 'A Sad Commentary'

Dear Editor,
Having just witnessed the swearing-in ceremony of Judge Janet Stumbo, I was very proud and impressed.

It was a very sincere and solemn occasion — one of Floyd County's very own, and a woman, also.

What was disturbing was there were but two county officials I saw there; perhaps there were more. Not even our state representatives or surrounding county officials were there. That is a sad commentary for our region.

M.E. Osborne,
Prestonsburg

SUITS FILED

(Editor's note: Suits filed are not indicative of guilt, and present only the claims of the person or institution filing the action.)

James H. Isaacs Sr. of Allen v. Millers Brothers' Construction, Inc. and Lancer Leasing Corp. Plaintiff seeks compensatory and punitive damages against the coal producing and construction companies, for alleged damages done to the plaintiff's home due to blasting. Plaintiff has allegedly informed companies of damages to no effect. Seeks damages in excess of $5,000, court costs and other entitled relief.

Hueysville Gas Co. v. Susie Adkins, Dee Salmon Adkins, et al. Plaintiff seeks to have court identify which defendants should rightfully receive royalties for oil and gas drilled from a piece of disputed property. Plaintiff seeks this determination in order to avoid future litigation or wrongful payments. Plaintiff wishes to make a single payment to all defendants for past and future royalties and be discharged from any other obligations.

Bank Josephine of Prestonsburg v. Kenneth and Nancy Blovins of Langley, et al., for repayment of a loan currently valued at $173,277, for sale of property used to secure the loan, and for court fees and other entitled relief.

Equitable Resources Exploration and Elk Horn Coal Corp. v. Alfredo and Loretta Newsome et al. Plaintiff seeks court judgment that mineral rights of two tracts of land on Mud Creek belong to plaintiff. Defendants claim conflicting rights to the roughly 68 acres.

Karen Bingham v. Marie Collins Bingham, both of Prestonsburg, for damages caused in an alleged accident in which the plaintiff was struck by a vehicle driven by Bingham and was pinned against another vehicle. Seeks compensation for pain and injuries, medical costs, all lost wages, and future disability, in excess of $4,000, plus court costs and other entitled relief.

Ford Motor Credit Co. v. Curt Collins of Harold for repayment of an alleged obligation of $3,566, plus interest and attorney fees.

Karen Couch v. Clinda Hudson, for damages caused when defendant allegedly took possession of plaintiffs property following death of James Hudson. Requests damages in excess of $15,000, with interest and all court fees.

Arthur Stanley of Prestonsburg v. Barker's Mobile Homes, Inc. of Paintsville, for damages to a trailer, allegedly caused by an agent of Barkers, who damaged the trailer as it was being moved for the plaintiff from Middle Creek to Johnson County on Oct. 13, 1989. Seeks $9,650 for repairs, damages for loss of use and for alternative housing court costs, and other entitled relief.

Julia Francis and Darnell Combs v. Wallace Calhoun and Jack Moore, for damages allegedly caused during an accident on Route 80, in which Calhoun, driving a vehicle owned by Moore, collided with a vehicle driven by Francis, with Combs as a passenger, causing injury to both plaintiffs. Seeks recovery of all medical costs, lost wages, impairment of earning potential and damages for pain and suffering, plus court costs and other entitled relief.

AIDS Discussed During Panel At P'burg College

by Tess A. Whitmer, Staff Writer

AIDS is one of the most serious health problems that has ever faced the American public. People are often frightened of the unknown. While most know about the existence of AIDS, few can accurately relay facts concerning the disease. Lack of knowledge can contribute to further spread of AIDS.

Due to the public's general lack of knowledge and the seriousness of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, Professor Leo Weddle's social problems class at Prestonsburg Community College sponsored a panel discussion concerning the disease. Included on the panel were Dr. John Boswell, pathologist at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Judy Hubbs, RN, oncology (cancer) nurse from Louisville; Jane Bond, health educator from the Floyd County Health Department; and Lisa Parlier, registered nurse at HRMC.

AIDS is a disease caused by the Human Immunodeficiency Virus — HIV — the AIDS virus. The AIDS virus may live in the human body for years before actual symptoms appear. It primarily affects a person by making them unable to fight other diseases. These other diseases can kill the AIDS victim.

Dr. Boswell compared the human body to a country in explaining the illness: "Your defense system acts as policemen, killing off any diseases in your body. The AIDS virus kills those policemen, leaving no one left to defend you against invasion."

He noted that AIDS was first reported in 1981 in Los Angeles in a group of homosexual males. "It was originally thought that the disease was confined to only homosexual males and only transmitted through sexual intercourse," he explained. It has since been determined that the virus is transmitted three ways: Any type of sexual intercourse with an infected person; sharing drug needles and syringes with an infected person; and in infants, before or during birth, born of infected mothers.

A person does not "catch" AIDS like a cold or flu because the virus is a different type, said Boswell. "This is an entirely preventable disease, and you can't get it any other way (than the three known transmission methods)," Boswell stressed. "You can't get it from casual contact, from a toothbrush or from a toilet seat.... My advice on prevention is to wait until marriage and only have that one sexual partner and make sure your spouse has only one sexual partner."

Hubbs noted that with this virus one is "dealing with two diseases: AIDS and Afraids." She discussed the social impact the virus has on society and the taxpayer. "Most people believe that they'll never have to deal with AIDS, but we have 10 patients in Louisville with it, and only four are homosexuals. The rest are hemophiliacs, wives of bisexuals and a persons who received blood transfusions," she said. "It is only two years from diagnosis (of AIDS) to death, and it costs about $147,000 per patient."

This financial impact on the taxpayer has prompted calls for alternative health care methods, she said. "Physicians in Louisville get real upset when all ICU beds are taken up with AIDS patients, because these people will not live and someone who would (live) could use those beds." She noted that some people have suggested asking AIDS patients to refuse treatment after they reach the terminal stage, but said she felt that was not a humane request.

"One thing I can guarantee with this disease is that you will die. No one survives AIDS," she said. There is no proven treatment for the virus, but a drug called AZT is being researched. However, AZT is not available to most patients and research use is often limited to healthier AIDS patients. AZT use over a two-year period can amount to $1,500 or more, said Hubbs.

All four panelists stressed that education and following certain guidelines are the best ways to prevent the spread of AIDS. Bond pointed out that a new curriculum entitled "Family Life" is being begun in Floyd County schools, and will include education on AIDS.

"Everyone is demanding more information on the disease and we plan to educate them on behavior modifications which will limit their chance of infection," Bond said. She also noted that the Health Department does confidential screening with counseling services available and, to date, there have been no cases of AIDS diagnosed in Floyd County. However, Boswell, said that HRMC provides the same services and two cases have been diagnosed. But with 6 to 8 million cases worldwide, Floyd County and Eastern Kentucky are considered low risk areas and should be for some time to come, according to Boswell. "In Floyd County a person has a much better chance of getting hit by a coal truck than getting AIDS," he said.

Boswell said that the disease is primarily an urban problem, citing testing done in the military as evidence. The military tests every member for HIV, reporting three out of every 1,000 joining as testing positive, noting that 15 percent come from urban areas and close to zero percent from rural or isolated areas. Boswell also pointed that statistics show the disease is spreading rapidly in the age 18-25 population.

"People in their low-20s see themselves as immortal and therefore don't take the proper precautions," he said. Those in the medical field take every precaution available, treating every patient as a possible carrier. "The nurse at the bedside has to take precautions first and foremost to protect themselves," Parlier noted. "You can't tell if someone has it by looking at them, so you have to protect yourself by wearing gloves when giving injections or taking body secretions."

Although HIV is transmitted through the blood, the danger of getting AIDS from a blood transfusion has been greatly reduced. Since 1985 blood donations have been tested for the AIDS antibody and donors are screened for risk factors. And people giving blood are not now, nor have they ever been, at risk of getting AIDS. The needles used for blood donations are new, and once used are destroyed.

Boswell reminded the audience that a person can "look well and feel swell and still have the virus. If a person has engaged in any risky behavior the only way to tell for sure whether they have been infected is to be tested." He noted that the virus can lie dormant for as little as three months and as long as seven years before the victim will experience any symptoms. Symptoms include swollen lymph nodes, night sweats, fever, diarrhea, persistent cough and unusual looking lesions.

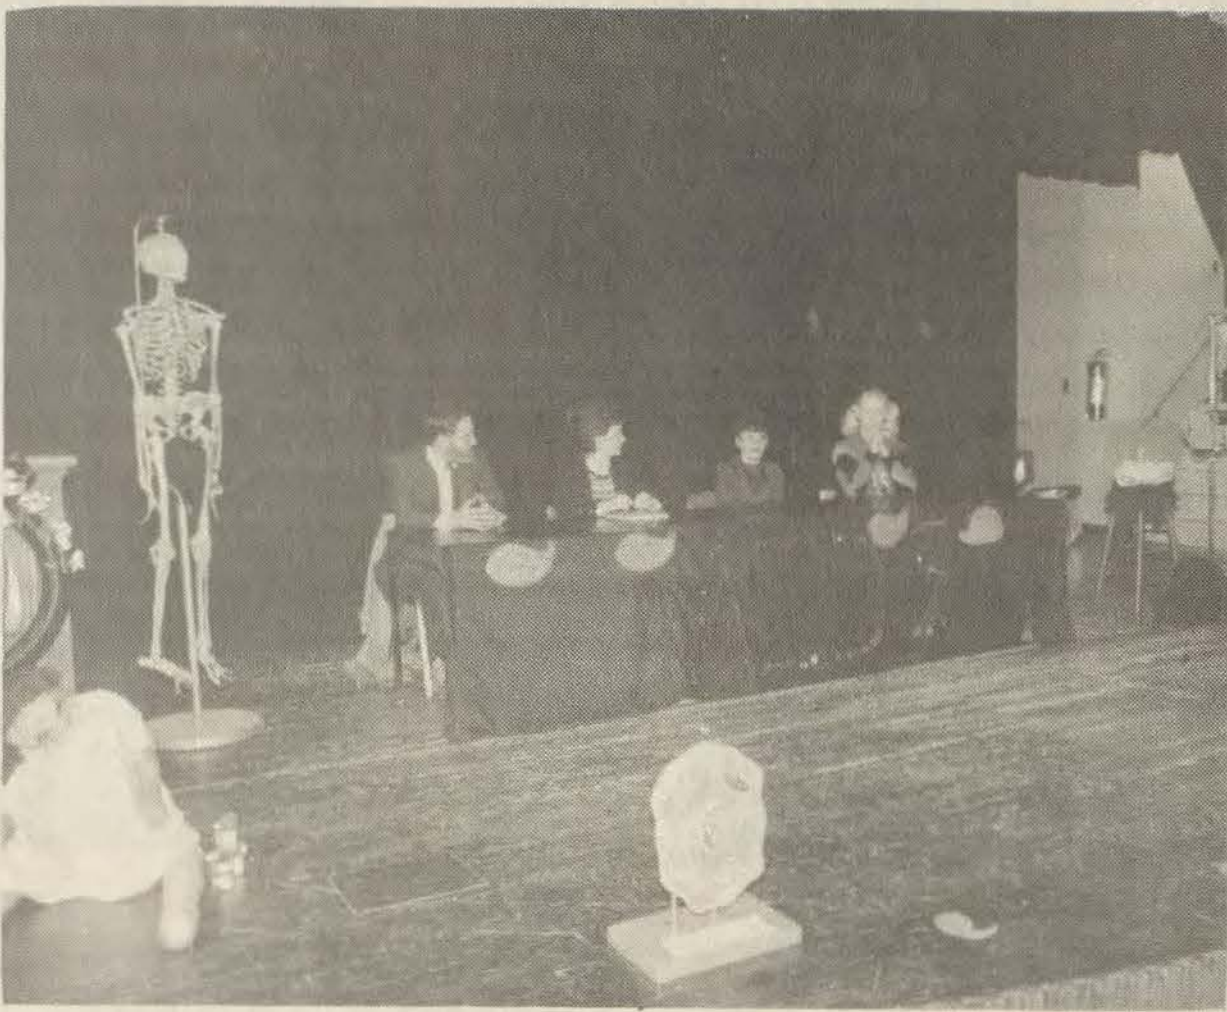

Hubbs again stressed that there has never been a documented case of the disease being spread through casual contact. The AIDS virus is very weak and does not survive well outside the body, she said, and is easily killed by many common disinfectants, including household bleach. AIDS is not spread through everyday activities such as working in an office, attending school, eating in restaurants, swimming in public pools, shaking hands, hugging or other casual contact. Also, she said, the virus is not spread through the air from sneezing or coughing. In five years of studying AIDS, scientists have not found one case caused by casual contact.

"People need to remember that AIDS patients and HIV positives are living, thinking people with a heart and a soul... they are much more susceptible to catching something from you than you are from them," Hubbs concluded.

Who Is At Risk?

Anyone who engages in high-risk practices such as sharing needles to inject drugs or having sex with an infected person can be at risk of AIDS. Of all the cases reported in the United States since 1981, 98 percent have been among the following groups of people:

- Sexually active homosexuals and bisexual men (or men who have had sex with another man since 1977). (65 percent)
- Present or past abusers of illicit intravenous (IV) drugs. (17 percent)
- Homosexual and bisexual men who are also IV drug abusers. (8 percent)
- Persons who have had transfusions of blood or blood products. (2 percent)
- Person with hemophilia or other blood clotting disorders who have received blood clotting factors. (1 percent)
- Heterosexual men and women (these include sex partners of person with AIDS or at risk for AIDS, and people born in countries where heterosexual transmission is thought to be more common than in the United States). (4 percent)

Panel Of Experts Discuss The Facts

The Many Moods Of Christmas

The 47-member University Chorus of Prestonsburg Community College presented a Christmas concert entitled "The Many Moods of Christmas" to a full house at the First Baptist Church of Prestonsburg Sunday. Mike Conley directed the choir through the one hour presentation while Karen Frazier and Dora Spears Whitt provided accompaniment on the piano and organ respectively.

Fire Destroys Weeksbury Barn

A small forest fire in Weeksbury Saturday spread to a nearby barn, destroying it.

According to Wheelwright and Southeast Fire Department reports, the barn, owned by Bill Johnson of Weeksbury, ignited at about 5 p.m. Both area fire departments responded, but the fire was too advanced to save the structure.

No cause for the initial forest fire was discovered, but firefighters noted that several similar fires had been reported in the area in recent weeks.

More Rear-Enders

Two minor accidents occurred in Prestonsburg last week.

Raphie Ojan, 29, of Prestonsburg, rear-ended a brown Chevette Thursday, Nov. 30, at about 12:20 p.m., when the Chevette stopped in front of the employment office in Prestonsburg. The Chevette left the scene. Officer Gerald Clark investigated the accident.

Also on Thursday, an accident occurred in front of Druther's Restaurant in Prestonsburg.

Norma Brown, 38, of Van Lear, was turning into the restaurant, when the rear of her car was struck by a vehicle driven by Charles Barber, 32, of Paintsville. Officer Clark also investigated this accident. No citations were issued.

HRMC Salutes Operating Room Nurses

If you've ever had surgery, chances are you remember the nurses in the operating room who covered you with blankets or held your hand when you were going to sleep. These specially trained, dedicated nurses possess skill and judgment gained through years of education and experience that help make patient care in the operating room safe and efficient.

While patients are asleep, nurses monitor the equipment and prepare instruments and supplies used during surgery. They assess a patient's physical needs, according to Kathy Rubado, spokeswoman for Highlands Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg.

"Because operating room nurses work in a specialized area behind the closed doors of the operating room, they often don't receive the recognition they deserve," says Rubado. "Most people don't realize the importance of a friendly smile or touch to someone facing the trauma of surgery."

National Operating Room Nurses Day was celebrated nationwide on Nov. 14. In conjunction, Highlands Regional Medical Center recognized its 12-member staff of registered operating room nurses and their commitment to providing quality care to surgical patients.

Saluting Nurses

Operating room nurses keep a close check on monitors throughout surgical procedures. Highlands Regional Medical Center saluted its 12-member OR nursing staff on National Operating Room Nurses Day, celebrated nationwide on Nov. 14.

Kentucky Power Rates To Increase 3.9 Percent

An overall increase in retail rates of 3.9 percent, the final step in a two-stage settlement agreement reached last fall, was placed in effect Dec. 1 by Kentucky Power Co.

The increase, amounting to $9 million, means that a monthly residential bill of 750 kilowatt-hours will rise $1.72 to a total of $42.80. This is about what residential customers were paying in 1986, according to C. Richard Lovegrove, company spokesman.

The 1988 settlement agreement between Kentucky Power, the Kentucky Public Service Commission, the Kentucky Attorney General and groups representing residential and industrial customers involved litigation concerning the recovery of costs of a 15 percent share of generating capacity at the Rockport Plant and for related power transmission facilities. The plant is operated by Indiana Michigan Power Company, another American Electric Power subsidiary.

"As agreed in the settlement, this final step increase coincides with the completion of the second generating unit at Rockport," said Robert E. Matthews, president of Kentucky Power. The company is entitled to 390,000 kilowatts of Rockport's generating capacity.

"Our customers established an all-time high demand for electricity of 1,094,000 kilowatts this past winter. A steady increase in this demand is being forecast as the economy in Eastern Kentucky continues to grow. This additional generation is essential to help us continue to provide our customers with an adequate supply of . . . electric power," Matthews added.

The agreement also provides that Kentucky Power will not request any other increase in base rates to go in effect for any reason before March 31, 1991, regardless of financial or economic circumstances that may affect the company over the interim period.

Preventive Enforcement Workshops Utilize 'Common Sense' Approach To Regulating State's Coal Industry

Coal mine operators attending the Preventive Enforcement Workshop on Dec. 19 in Madisonville will learn how an ounce of prevention can save them the expense comparable to a pound of cure.

The workshop, sponsored by the Kentucky Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, will be held from 1 to 7 p.m. (CST) in Room 301 of the Administration Building at Madisonville Community College.

It will bring together coal operators and the men and women who inspect their worksites for a discussion of the laws, regulations and ways they can work together to prevent surface mining problems before they happen. Dates for similar, subsequent workshops throughout the state are being scheduled.

"Preventive enforcement is a common sense approach to regulating the state's largest industry," said Commissioner William J. Grable. "The preventive enforcement philosophy is a three-pronged tool that is beneficial to all — the industry, the state and, most importantly, the environment."

Protecting the environment from possible adverse effects of mining is "exactly what the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement is charged by law to do," said Grable.

Using preventive enforcement guidelines, an inspector will be encouraged to point out to a coal operator areas which, if left unattended, may become violations of current coal mining laws and regulations.

An example, according to Grable, would be for an inspector to draw attention to small gullies (four to six inches deep) on the side of a reclaimed slope. The operator then can correct the problem before a rainstorm deepens the gullies (to nine or more inches) and puts the site in violation of the law. Being cited for non-compliance of the laws costs the operator both time and money.

During the workshops, department officials will explain their areas of duty and emphasize how preventive enforcement helps. Time also will be set aside for individuals to talk one-on-one with a department official to voice concerns or simply ask questions.

Eddie Riddle at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement in Frankfort, (502) 564-6940.

Legislative Perspective

Rep. Greg Stumbo

In anyone's estimation, the Kentucky lottery has been successful in its first year.

With five more months to go in its first year, the state has realized $63 million out of a total sales of $203,696,365. Projected analysis on the state lottery estimates the state budget should receive as its share of the sales profit between $55.5 million and a high estimate of $111 million for the first year. The distribution projection for the lottery was based on the assumption that 14.1 percent of the proceeds would be used for administrative costs, 48.8 percent for prizes and 37.1 percent to the state.

The first year figures can be positively compared to Iowa, which began its lottery in 1986. Also a relatively rural state, Iowa realized $27 million its first year. And Washington state, which began its lottery in 1984, shared $71.88 million its first year. Kentucky's neighbor, West Virginia, started its lottery in 1986 and received only $20 million of the profit.

While it is obvious that Kentucky has surpassed professional expectations, two budgetary factors must be kept in mind. National lottery trends indicate that states do not realize as much profit the second and third years of the lottery. Then, in the fourth year, an improvement is usually detected.

Because of the uncertainty of lottery profits, state programs cannot depend solely on this revenue source. Consequently, no matter how much legislators would like to depend upon the lottery to fund education reform, it would be unrealistic to do so. In addition, even the great success of Kentucky's lottery this year would not fund the overwhelming needs of education reform. Some education experts have set the education reform price tag at $300 to $600 million.

The General Assembly is charged, during the 1990 session, with deciding where in state government lottery proceeds will be earmarked. This year only, $35 million is already set aside as mandated by the special lottery session of 1988 to pay for a Vietnam veterans bonus. Much speculation has gone into where the lottery revenue should be placed. The governor has supported splitting the remaining dollars between senior citizen programs and preschool educational and medical screening programs.

Because of the additional revenue demands coming from the Cabinet for Human Resources and the Corrections Cabinet, some state policymakers support placing the proceeds in the General Fund to use as necessary.

Whatever the decision, the upcoming session will be one with revenue as the major emphasis.

Please feel free to contact me on this issue or any other that requires legislative attention.

Lady Rebs Snap Three-Game Skid; Defeat Lady Mustangs

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Looking for something to turn things around for the Allen Central Lady Rebels, coach Bonita Compton's team may have found that something or somebody — the Millard Lady Mustangs.

After dropping their first three games to regional powers, Compton took her Lady Rebs to Millard and came away with just what they needed, a 97-25 victory over the Lady Mustangs.

Senior Jo Ann Conn had her best offensive night for the Lady Rebels with 30 points, hitting 13 of 21 shots from the field. The senior standout also pulled down 17 rebounds while dishing off six assists.

"We needed a game like this," Compton said of her team's victory Monday night at Millard. "It is just what this team needs to get things turned around." The Lady Rebels coach also saw the game as a confidence builder for some of her other players.

"We need more consistency out of (Stacy) Moore at the point guard position," she said. "She needs to learn to penetrate the lanes and dish off the ball."

Allen Central established dominance of the game early in the first period as they raced out to a 20-4 first quarter lead.

"We looked real good," said the Lady Rebel mentor. "Sonia (Allen) did not score for us, but she played a great defensive game." Allen had five steals on defense and handed off four assists.

"Sonia is a role player and fills the position well," Compton stated. "As a team we executed good on offense and shot selection was good. Conn had a great game. Millard just could not stop her underneath."

According to Compton, Conn's knee is doing well, except for tiring in back-to-back games.

"We need to rearrange our schedule," she said. "Jo Ann can't go in back-to-back games."

Allen Central held a 42 point advantage at the half, 52-10, and with 6:00 remaining in the first half, Compton played the bench.

"We play Prestonsburg Friday night, and we are happy to have some days off till then," she added.

Besides Conn's 30 points, Teresa Gibson tossed in 24 points in the Lady Rebel victory. Two other Allen Central players scored in double figures, as Stacy Moore and Darnella Bradley scored 16 and 14 points respectively. Scoring from Gibson and Bradley would be a welcome addition to the Lady Rebs offense. The Allen Central bench contributed to the victory, led by Jenny Yates and Pam Webb with four points each. Allen Central is 1-3 on the season.

G. Coleman led the Lady Mustangs with eight points. J. Lowe and A. Thacker each tossed four points.

Hamilton's 24 Points Leads Lady Bobcats To Third Win

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

New Betsy Layne High School women's basketball coach Gary Hopkins is enjoying the play, and particularly the winning ways, of this year's Lady Bobcats.

Hopkins' team hosted the Lady Panthers of Pikeville Monday night in a top regional match up.

Senior Brenda Hamilton scored 24 points to lead the Lady Bobcats to a close 52-50 win over the visitors from Pike County. Hamilton is averaging 29 points per game through the three her team has played. The win was Betsy Layne's third without a defeat.

It took a good second period to subdue the Lady Panthers, as Betsy Layne was outscored in every quarter except the second.

"We played the best in the second quarter than we have played as of yet," Hopkins stated. "We had excellent defense, and our offense was excellent."

Betsy Layne outscored Pikeville to take a 10 point half time lead, 31-21.

"We were up around 13 points in the second half when we started to turning the ball over and missing free throws," the Betsy Layne mentor explained. "That let them back in the game. We also didn't rebound well in the second half like we did the first."

Hopkins says that he is not surprised at the early success of this year's Lady Bobcat team.

"We are where I figured we should be about this time," he said in assessing his team's play. "The people who should be scoring are and the ones that should be rebounding are doing that. Our role players are contributing as we figured they would."

Jamie Smith had 14 points as the only other double figure scorer for Betsy Layne. Nancy Shepherd chipped in with eight.

Elizabeth Baird led the Lady Panthers with 21 points and Candance Tackett tossed in 14. Teresa Lockhart added eight. The Lady Bobcats will travel to McDowell to do battle with the Lady Daredevils in a conference match up Friday night.

Pikeville 16 5 10 19 (50); Elizabeth Baird, 8 0 5-11 21; Candance Tackett, 4 0 6-6 14; Chonda Harris, 1 0 1-1 3; Teresa Lockhart, 3 0 2-4 8; Latonya Anderson, 2 0 0-1 4.

Blackcats Defeat Bearcats, 81-60

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

On March 18, the Prestonsburg Blackcats beat 58th District champion McDowell to capture the 15th Region's basketball crown and earn a trip to the "Sweet Sixteen" at Rupp Arena against Madisonville.

That was nine months ago. Friday night, the Blackcats began defending that title as their 1989-90 season kicked off against the Johns Creek Bearcats.

Seniors Chris Slone and Ray Collins tallied 17 points each to lead the defending regional champions to an 81-60 victory over the Bearcats. Slone had seven rebounds, three assists and two steals for the Blackcats. Collins had the long jumper for three three-pointers out of four attempts. Collins also had four assists and three steals in the game.

Prestonsburg started off quickly, jumping out to a 10-0 lead. Two three-pointers by Collins and two buckets by 6'5" senior Kevin Adams gave the 'Cats their lead. Johns Creek did not score its first point until the 5:50 mark.

The Blackcat defense cut off the passing lanes for the Bearcats, prohibiting them from going inside. Prestonsburg opened in a tight man-to-man defense which caused the Bearcats to turn the ball over early on. Prestonsburg led a first stop, 17-13.

"Our help defense was excellent," Prestonsburg coach Gordon Parido said of his team's effort to cut off the lanes. "We jumped out quick on the shooting of Ray (Collins)."

In the second quarter the Blackcats were up by six points, 21-15, when Johns Creek cut it to two, 21-19, on baskets by Paxton Weddington and Chad Hunt. A 14-3 run by the Blackcats ran the score out to 35-22 and built the lead to 14 at the half.

The board work of the Blackcats was pleasing to the Prestonsburg mentor. "Our blocking out on the boards was good," Parido stated. "We need to get our bench to learn to rebound. Kevin (Adams) and Jeff (Slone) did a great job for us."

The Blackcats opened the third period with a 14-6 spurt to take a 23 point advantage at 55-32. Slone scored six points in the drive and two free throws by John Clark and four charity tosses by Joe Burchett gave the Blackcats 57-34 lead.

The Bearcats cut the lead to 12, 60-48, on an 8-1 run of their own after the Cats went cold from the field. Prestonsburg built the lead back to 17 on a three-pointer by Slone. Johns Creek then scored seven unanswered points to close to within 10. With the score 71-60 Prestonsburg scored the last 10 points of the game to win going away, 81-60.

Parido, who likes to play a lot of players, did just that throughout the game.

"Our bench got some quality playing time," he said, "and that helps a kid when he comes to practice. He says 'Hey, I'm going to get to play and I need to practice hard.' It helps our younger kids."

Parido spoke of the schedule that lies ahead for his squad. "We have three conference games coming up with McDowell, Allen Central and Betsy Layne. Then you have a team like Feds Creek coming here after that — then the Holiday Classic. It doesn't get easy. The conference is really going to be balanced this year."

"The win tonight is a great way to get started. We were aggressive and saw no first game jitters in the players," the Blackcat mentor remarked. "Ray really impressed me. He ran the ball club like a point guard is suppose to do."

Parido said his team's 14 turnovers were bad for an opening game, but added, "Anytime you hustle like these kids did, you will have some turnovers."

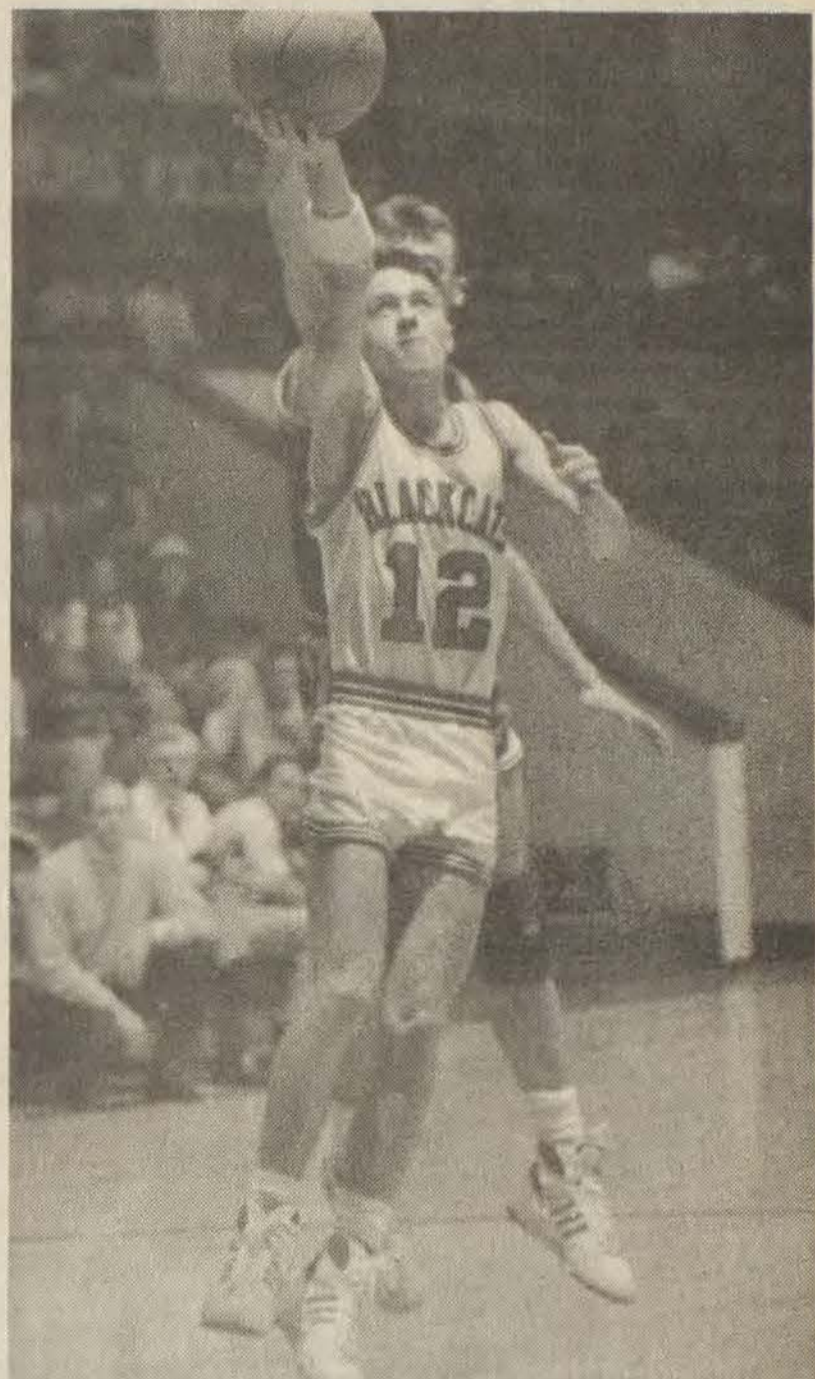

Kevin Adams added 12 points to the Prestonsburg victory. Stuart Robinson netted 10 points as well as playing a good defensive game and did a good job on the boards for the Blackcats. Joe Burchett and John Clark tossed in eight and seven points respectively.

Johns Creek was led by Scott King with 15 points. Chad Hunt added 11 while team mate Bill West scored 10.

Prestonsburg goes to 1-0 and will travel to Allen Central Friday night for homecoming.

Johns Creek 13 13 14 20 (60); Scott King, 5 0 5-5 15; Bill West, 5 0 0-2 10; Paxton Weddington, 3 0 2-2 8; Chad Hunt, 3 0 5-5 11; Simon Ratliff, 0 1 0-3 3; Todd Lowe, 3 0 0-0 6; Chris Gannon, 2 0 1-3 5; Steve Sowards, 1 0 0-0 2.

at Prestonsburg 17 23 17 24 (81); Ray Collins, 2 3 4-6 17; Kevin Adams, 3 0 6-11 12; Chris Slone, 7 1 0-3 17; Tim Martin, 2 0 0-0 4; Joe Burchett, 2 0 4-4 8; Stuart Robinson, 4 0 2-2 10; Worthie McGuire, 2 0 0-0 4; John Clark, 0 1 4-6 7; Jeff Slone, 0 0 0-1 0; Steve Burke, 0 0 0-1 0; Robert Hammonds, 0 0 2-2 2.

Lady Trojans Open With Win Over Tigers

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Wheelwright High School's new girls basketball coach, Donnie Daniels, picked up his first win as head coach when his Lady Trojans defeated a good Mullins team, 45-31, Monday night in a home opener.

A pair of seniors led the Lady Trojans in scoring, with April Bradford and Jedon Hood tallying 10 points each. Becky Allen and Carrie Smith added nine points each.

Hood, Wheelwright's big center, got into foul trouble with 1:29 remaining in the first quarter and was forced to the bench for the remainder of the first half. Hood opened the scoring for the Lady Trojans when she broke loose underneath for a lay up. Susan Kelly tied the game at 2-2 on a jumper from 12 feet.

Wheelwright then ran off nine unanswered points to take an 11-2 lead. Hood left shortly thereafter with her third personal. A three point play by Sabrina Justice and a three-pointer by Misty Haynes, an eighth grader, cut the lead back to three at 11-8. Allen's bucket gave the Lady Trojans a 13-8 first quarter lead.

After a basket by Kelly early in the second stanza had made the score 15-11, Wheelwright scored four points on an Allen basket and a free throws

Wheelwright Junior Pro Announces Sign Up Date

According to Wheelwright High School basketball coach Monroe Jones, the Wheelwright Junior Pro program will be having a sign up day this Saturday, Dec. 9, at the school gym.

This sign up date is for all kids and their parents who wish to take part in the newly formed program. Those who want to participate must sign up on this date.

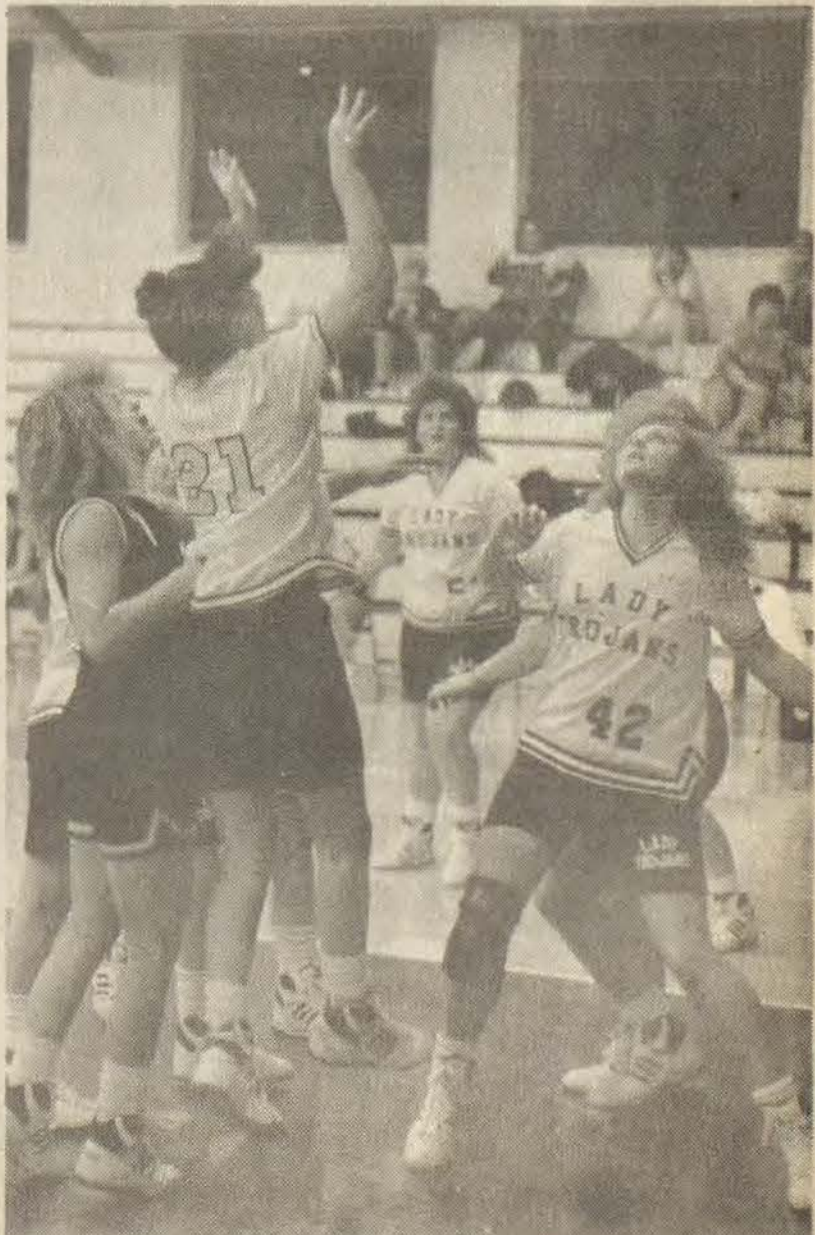

"We have been talking to some of the people at Martin, which has had a successful program, and looking at how they are doing certain things," the Wheelwright coach said.

Sign up times are 3- to 9-year-olds are to sign up at 10 a.m.; those ages 10-14 must sign up at noon. Each player must bring proof of age, Jones said.

Jones adds that the new league needs more coaches. Anyone interested in coaching a team may call Jones at 452-2110 during the day and 452-2632 in the evening.

There will be an insurance fee of less than $10 that each player will need to pay when signing up.

Missed An Easy One

A Wheelwright player misses an easy lay up against the Mullins Lady Tigers Monday night in high school basketball play. The Lady Tiges fell to the Lady Trojans 45-31.

ACHS Records Third Loss, Loses To EC Lady Cougars

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The new basketball season hasn't proven to be good for the Allen Central Lady Rebels thus far, as they dropped their third straight game of the season Friday night, 66-48, to the Lady Cougars of Elkhorn City behind the 18 point performance of Kari Butcher a 5' 10" senior. Elkhorn is a favorite in the 15th Region and returns a veteran team.

Stacy Moore led the Lady Rebels in scoring with 12 points. The Lady Cougars raced out to an early lead in the first quarter and held a 12 point advantage at the end of the first stanza, 16-4. Neither team could find the basket in the second period as Elkhorn City outscored the Lady Rebs 6-5 to take a 22-9 half time lead to the locker room.

Allen Central showed some offensive prowess in the second half as they began to fill the lanes and dish off for some open shots. Allen Central's leading scorer, Jo Ann Conn, was hampered by her knee and saw limited playing time. Conn and Teresa Gibson scored 10 points each for the Lady Rebels.

"In the first half we couldn't hit anything from the outside," Rebels assistant coach Edgel "Bide" Click said. "Because we couldn't hit, they packed in on us underneath. In the second half we went to a man-to-man defense and changed our offense from a one-three-one to a one-two-two. It opened up the middle lane for us and we were passing off for some easy shots."

According to Click, Rhonda Leedy, a lefthanded shooter and valuable player to the Lady Rebels' game plan, may have to miss the remainder of the season with a knee injury. Leedy suffered the injury in the Dilce Combs game.

"I really like Leedy as a ball player," Click said. "She is a good shooter and we will miss her out there."

Stacy Spake and Samantha Cook added 14 points for the Lady Pirates. Julie Belcher tossed in 10.

Allen Central falls to 0-3 on the young season and will entertain Bridgette Clay's Prestonsburg Lady Cats tomorrow night at Allen Central.

Allen Central 4 5 18 21 (48); Jo Ann Conn, 10; Teresa Gibson, 10; Stacy Moore, 12; Darnella Bradley, 9; Soria Allen, 5; Pam Webb, 2.

at Elkhorn City 16 6 20 24 (66); Samantha Cook, 14; Julie Belcher, 18; Dana Deel, 4; Barbara Mullins, 6; Stacy Spake, 14; Kari Butcher, 10.

McDowell Needs To Get By Melvin To Face Osborne

A game between the McDowell Elementary Daredevils and the Osborne Eagles seems like a good match up for a championship game in section two play. However, there remains an obstacle — the Melvin Cougars.

McDowell and Melvin will meet tonight to determine who will face the undefeated Eagles tomorrow night in the finals of the sectional two basketball tournament. Osborne received the bye in first round action.

Nathan Burger of Melvin will have a lot to say about how this game will end. Burger, the Cougars' leading scorer, is hard to stop underneath the basket. His short base line jumpers can be deadly. Jeffery Tackett will be part of the supporting cast to perhaps help pull off an upset of the Daredevils.

Big Shannon Newsome will be leading the Daredevils in their quest for a sectional championship. Newsome is hard to contain once he gets around the basket with the basketball. Matt Rose and Alan Moore will be in the thick of things as the two teams battle tonight. Experience in playing on a big floor should benefit the Daredevils.

Little Effort

Stephanie Little (42) shows little effort in this shot over two Mullins defenders Monday night at Wheelwright. Little scored four points for the Lady Trojans and several rebounds in the 45-31 victory over Mullins.

Betsy Layne Slips By Mullins, 39-37

by Ed Taylor Sports Editor

Keith Hamilton scored 12 points and Ryan Ortega tossed in 11 points to lead Ernie Tackett's Betsy Layne Bobcats to a hard fought 39-37 basketball win over the Mullins Tigers Wednesday night at Betsy Layne. The two teams played the preliminary game before the Betsy Layne High School Lady Bobcats opened their 1989-90 season.

"The game was close all the way," the Bobcat mentor stated. "Mullins has a good team. They handle the ball well and play a tough defense."

Mullins held a slim two point advantage after one quarter of play at 9-7. Betsy Layne held a two point lead at the half, 22-20. Mullins had the biggest lead of the game for either team, 31-26 at the end of the third period. Betsy Layne outscored the visitors, 13-6 to win their 10th game of the year.

Doug Edmons led the Mullins team with 14 points. Bud Barnett tossed in 11.

Mullins 9 11 11 6 (37); Barnett, 4 3-5 11; Carier, 3 0-2 6; Edmons, 6 2-6 14; Harris, 1 0-3 2; Newman, 2 0-3 4

At Betsy Layne 7 15 4 13 (39); Ortega, 2 7-12 11; Williams, 1 1-3 3; Hamilton, 3 6-10 12; Hall, 3 0-0 6; Hunt, 3 1-1 7.

Lady Red Devils Face Betsy Layne In Sectional Play Tonight At BLHS

This should be a good one in the Floyd County Grade School basketball section three play for the girls teams. Harold, with its height, will go against the quickness and speed of the Lady Bobcats.

Seventh grader Jamie Ratcliff and eighth grader Becky Kidd will head up the Lady Bobcats' offense tonight. Both players displays the quickness and speed the Betsy Layne team has shown all season enroute to a 11-6 record season record for first year coach Shelia Ortega. Slowing down Kidd and Ratcliff will be the key to a Lady Devils win.

Harold will no doubt have the height advantage. Led by Jessica Hamilton and Heather Keathley, the Lady Red Devils have the talent to put Harold in the finals of section three.

The winner will take on undefeated John M. Stumbo in the championship game tomorrow night at 6:30.

Harold To Play Betsy Layne Tonight In Section 3 Playoffs

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

A lot of basketball fans have been waiting for this one — one of the top match ups in the entire tournament. Harold, which lost the close ones earlier in the season, seems to have righted themselves and have been winning the close ones of late.

"Harold is no doubt one of the top five teams in the county," Betsy Layne mentor Ernie Tackett stated. "They have three of the top players in the county playing for them. They will be a tough to beat."

The Red Devils will be led on the court by Brian Hunter, Chris Potter and Barry Clark, a trio that has been the work horse of the Red Devils this season. Hunter is quick and hard to handle when he gets the ball down low. Hunter can hit the eight- to 10-foot jumper also. Clark is a base line player and hits with consistency from the corners. He is a strong rebounder, especially off the offensive boards, and can get the second and third efforts his team needs. Potter is the point guard and runs the team in good basketball fashion. He is able to hit the long jumpers to help open the middle up for Hunter and Clark.

Betsy Layne will not be without its scoring threats in Keith Hamilton, one of the top players in Floyd County this season. Quickness, good range, good basketball sense and heart are the adjectives that describe his play. Coach Tackett will be looking for Hamilton to be the second coach on the floor for his Betsy Layne squad. While the supporting cast may not be as strong as Harold's, Betsy Layne's is a good one. Vince Williams and Dave Kimbler will be in the front court for the Bobcats. Kimbler is big and provides the board work, but needs to be more aggressive toward the basket. Williams is quick and plays good defense.

The winner of this outing will face John M. Stumbo in the championship game tomorrow night at Betsy Layne.

Auxier Hopes To Continue Successful 1989 Season; Squad To Face Allen Tonight

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

When you talk about a successful season for the Auxier Hornets, you don't need to talk about undefeated records, or 11-2 records, but a 6-9 record. The Hornets, who started out 4-0, lost seven straight before winning two of their last three. The Hornet basketball program has been brought back to prominence under the direction of Dickie Jarvis, in spite of a 6-9 finish. A 39-35 loss to Clark that could have gone the Hornets' way, and a 41-39 setback at the hands of the Prater Cougars which the Hornets nearly pulled out, could have given the Hornets 8-7 record.

What could have been doesn't count now. What matters is what happens tonight. The Hornets will play against one of the top three teams in the county — the Allen Eagles — tonight in an 8 p.m. start.

Auxier has a trio of players to lead the Hornets against the Eagles. Steve Adkins, Jason Burke and Jason Slone are capable ball players who must be able to handle the pressure defense of the Allen team.

Allen, a consistently strong squad under the capable hands of David Mosley and Stevie Halbert, is a big favorite to capture the county title this season. Height, speed and defense have always been trademarks of a Mosley team. All five starters are capable of scoring in double figures. Led by lefthander Cory Reitz, the Eagles' offense is a potent one. Phillip "Snake" Patton adds the height the Eagles need to make them a championship team. Matt Porter adds quickness to the lineup of Mosley's team.

Slow Third Causes McDowell To Fall To Greenup County, 66-59

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Coach Johnny Ray Turner's McDowell Daredevils played Greenup County evenly until the third period, when the host school outscored the Daredevils 13-6 to take a 66-59 victory over the Daredevils.

Brian Hatfield tossed in 29 points and teammate Chris Plummer added 10 in leading the host school over McDowell.

McDowell held a one point lead, 17-16, after one period of play. Both teams played on par in the second, with Greenup County being one point better at 16-15 as the first half ended in a 32-32 lock up.

Then came the third period, when both teams found the basket hard to locate.

Turner said his team went flat in the third and could not hit the basket.

"Both teams were cold," he said of the third stanza. "We just could not do anything right in the third quarter."

Greenup County held a seven point lead, 45-38, and made it hold up the rest of the game. Both teams scored 21 points in the final quarter.

Stacy Hall poured in 17 points in leading the Daredevils in scoring. Hall was perfect at the charity stripe, hitting all eight of his free throw attempts. Keith Shelton added 13 points.

"McDowell played well at times," the Daredevil mentor remarked. "We're just not consistent yet, and that's because of inexperience from a young team. We are up and down as a team."

McDowell falls to 0-2 on the season and will host the Betsy Layne Bobcats tomorrow night.

Allen Lady Eagles Hope Third Time Is Charm Against P'Burg

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Allen Lady Eagles are hoping that the old saying "the third time is charm" holds true for them as, for the third time, they will face the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats.

The action comes in tonight's section four basketball playoffs, with the game scheduled to start at 6:30 p.m.

The Lady Blackcats won the previous two meetings between the two schools. According to Lady Blackcat coach Gay Hatfield, her squad won by five points the first time out and by two the second time.

"But that doesn't mean anything," she adds.

Allen has a talented sixth grader who plays like a veteran of the basketball wars in April Newsome. Newsome has been the catalyst for the Lady Eagles basketball team thus far this season. Jana Bates and Jennifer Hunt can be looked to help on offense.

Prestonsburg will have a decisive advantage over the Lady Eagles. Kenni Bradford, Allison Allen and Rebecca Leslie lead the way for Hatfield's ball club. In order to take this one home, Prestonsburg will have to stop the quickness of Newsome.

Kentucky Afield

By Carolyn Lynn

By the year 2020, approximately 5.1 million people will be living in Kentucky, according to the 1988 Urban Cities Center report.

This means nearly two million more people will be competing for Kentucky's 1.2 million acres of public wildlife land available today.

Currently, each Kentucky resident has less than three hundredths of an acre (that's 0.03) of state owned land set aside for outdoor recreational use.

Several studies have shown that people prefer to travel no more than 50 miles away from their homes in a one day pursuit of public recreation, but Kentucky doesn't own enough public land to meet this need.

The picture becomes even more dismal as we look into the future.

As Kentucky's population steadily grows, increasing demands will be placed on areas where people can enjoy all kinds of outdoor recreation, including wildlife-related activities such as family outings, nature education, hiking, birding, hunting, fishing boating and camping.

If Kentuckians take steps now to preserve what's left of our natural areas, we can not only put a dent in the public land deficit and provide more outdoor recreational opportunities, but also protect areas unique to Kentucky from being lost forever.

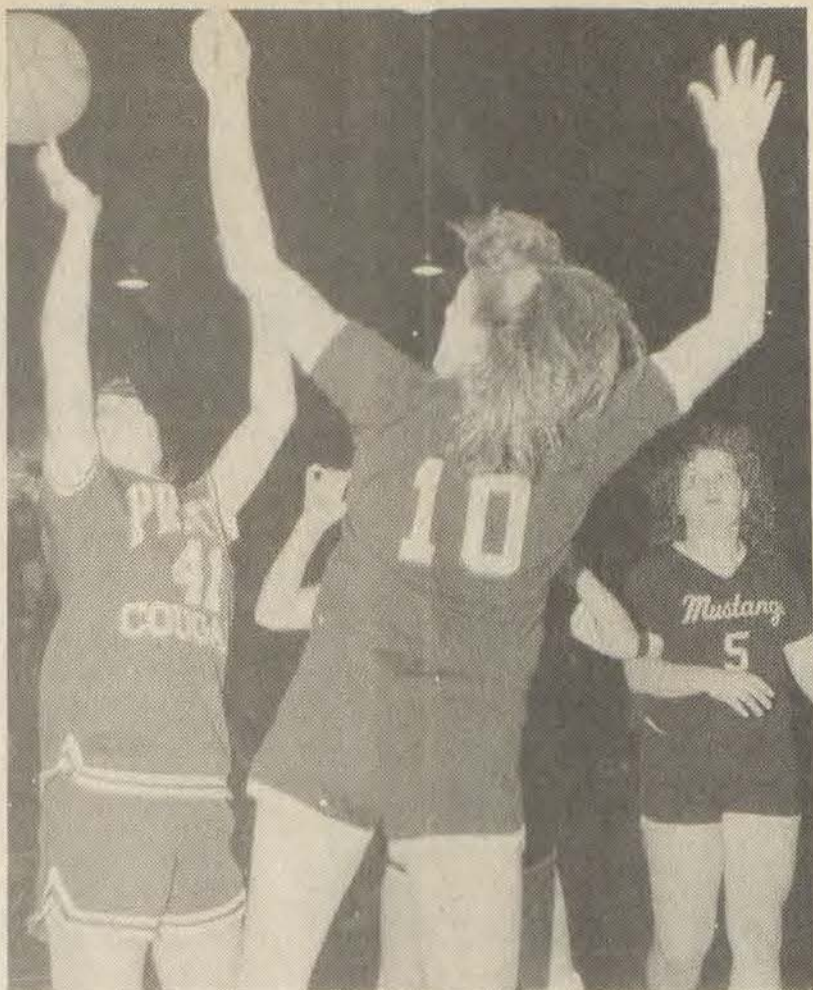

Did you know that Kentucky once had 23 million acres of forest and over two million acres of prairie? That darkening clouds of waterfowl found food plentiful while resting in 1.6 million acres of wetlands—the same wetlands that hosted various plants and animals while soaking up and filtering flood waters, making both water and air clean?

Over half of Kentucky's original forest land has been cleared; only 200 acres of scattered, degraded prairie remains and 1.2 million acres of wetlands have been lost.

Kentuckians can no longer take the natural riches and beauty of their state for granted.

If we are to compete in today's world, progress and its accompanying development is necessary and population growth, it seems, is inevitable. However, we cannot stand idly by while our precious land heritage is converted or bartered away without doing something to preserve and protect it.

As the old saying goes, "They ain't gonna make any more new land."

Five Receive Black Belts Through Local Karate Club

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

It was a first for Frances Hall, Karate instructor each Monday night at the Betsy Layne High School gym. Five of her students accomplished something many dream about -- receiving their black belts in Karate.

"I was more thrilled than my students were," Hall stated. "It is good to see your students do well."

Hall got involved in Karate when she saw an add in the newspaper and decided to try it.

"I'm the kind of person that will try anything," she said. "I tried it and enjoyed it and got involved."

Mrs. Hall and her two sons, Craig and Brian, became black belts in April 1986. Brian and Craig help teach others the art of Karate. The three some have been actively teaching since September 1986.

"All three of us have been in Karate for six years now," the instructor said. "My husband doesn't help, he just wishes us good luck."

The style of Karate that Mrs. Hall and her sons teach is the Chinese Shaloin Do art. Classes are held every Monday night from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Hall teaches Karate as exercise and the art of self defense.

"We teach hand-to-hand techniques, empty hand Katas, self defense and several Chinese weapons," she stated.

Among the five receiving black belts was Terry Case of Dana, who works at Velocity Market in Betsy Layne. His wife's name is Lisa and he has one daughter, Kayla.

Another Velocity Market employee, Kelly Case, also received his black belt. His wife's name is Dreama and he has a daughter, Kelli.

Mark Reed, an eighth grade student at Harold, was a recipient of the black belt. Reed is on the basketball team at Harold and has a grade point average of 4.0. He is the son of Estill and Treliva Reed of Betsy Layne.

Mark's brother, Phillip Reed, received his black belt also. Phillip is a sixth grade student at Harold Elementary. He also maintains a 4.0 grade point average.

The fifth student to earn his black belt was Mike Newman, the son of Jim and Ruby Newman of Tolers Creek. Newman is an eighth grade student at Harold also and plays on the Red Devils basketball team. He is also a member of the Harold academic team.

"We have about four more that will receive their belts in about three months," Hall added.

Osborne Eagles End Season 10-0

by Ed Taylor Sports Editor

Coach Meredith Slone's Osborne Eagles ended their regular season schedule with a perfect 10-0 record. The Eagles slipped by the Melvin Cougars, 44-41, Wednesday night to preserve their unblemished record.

The Eagles were led in scoring by Charles Johnson with 20 points. Osborne has had two shaky starts in their last two outings, getting by Harold 64-63, and beating Melvin by three points.

The Eagles held a 10 point half time lead of 24-14. However, the Cougars made a run in the third and fourth periods to almost pull the game out. Melvin was led in scoring by Nathan Burger with 19 points. Marty Johnson tossed in nine. John Hall added nine points in the game for Osborne.

Betsy Layne Bobcats Stave Off Late Belfry Charge, Win 52-48

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Coach Gary Hopkins held off a Belfry Lady Pirates charge late in the fourth period to win over regional power Belfry, 52-48, to record their second win of the season without a defeat.

The Lady Pirates, trailing by 13 points going into the fourth and final period, mounted their comeback behind the scoring of Marilyn Francis.

"We had our lead going into the final quarter," Hopkins remarked. "They came back on us. We had 23 turnovers in the game. You can't expect to win games with that many turnovers. We shot 38 percent from the field and made only five of 13 free throws in the last quarter. I was just glad to get out of there with a win. It's been a long time since Betsy Layne defeated a Belfry team over there."

Betsy Layne led at the first stop, 11-9, and built a nine point advantage by half time, 26-17. The Lady Bobcats held the Lady Pirates to single digits in scoring in each of the three quarters. But Belfry out scored the visitors in the fourth, 23-14, before losing 52-48.

Brenda Hamilton, tossed in 15 points to lead a balanced scoring attack by Betsy Layne. Jamie Smith scored 10 points and Nikki Webb added nine points while teammate Nancy Shepherd netted eight.

Francis led the Lady Pirates with 14 points. S. Joplin and C. Steppe had eight a piece.

"Our turnovers were partly due to the pressure defense of Belfry, and we made a lot of mental mistakes," Hopkins stated. "We played our best defense and rebounding game so far."

Betsy Layne was 14-25 from the free throw line for 64 percent shooting. Webb had 12 rebounds for the Lady Bobcats. Smith pulled down eight rebounds and drew the praise of her coach.

"Nikki was workhorse for us tonight," Hopkins remarked. "She played a good game, especially on the boards."

Hamilton, besides scoring 15 points, handed out five assists. Betsy Layne will be at McDowell for its first conference game tomorrow night.

Lady Blackcats Escape From Lady Eagles, 35-33

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Prestonsburg Elementary Lady Blackcats blew their half time lead and hung on to defeat an oncoming Allen Lady Eagles team, 35-33. Prestonsburg had built their lead out to 18-10 by scoring 14 second quarter points to break a 4-4 tie at the end of the first period. The Lady Eagles made a run in the final period with a 14-8 run, but the rally fell short.

Prestonsburg was led in scoring by Kenni Bradford with 13 points and Rebecca Leslie added 10 points for the Lady Blackcats.

April Newsome took scoring honors with 16 points while teammates, Jana Bates and Jennifer Hunt scored seven and eight points respectively. The victory was Prestonsburg's 11th win against six losses.

Lady Cougars Set To Face Osborne In Section Two Tournament Action

Melvin's Lady Cougars, 0-8, are looking to avenge an earlier loss to the Lady Eagles of Osborne, 6-4, and also look to win game number one of the season.

They will get their chance tonight at the Wheelwright gym as the first round of the Section Two grade school basketball tournament gets underway in a 6:30 p.m. start.

The Lady Cougars will be led by Tiffany Compton, Rhonda Thornberry and Vanessa Hall. The Lady Cougars fell the Lady Eagles last week by a 23-12 score.

Heading up the offense for the Lady Eagles will be Crystal Isaac and Candace Holbrook.

McDowell will be waiting to take on the winner in the championship round tomorrow night. McDowell received the bye in section two.

Osborne Survives Scare; Wins Over Harold, 64-63

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Every time the Osborne Eagles take to the basketball floor, they are having to keep their winning streak alive as well as protecting their undefeated record now standing at 9-0.

John Hall and Charles Johnson combined for 45 points in leading the Eagles to win number nine with a close 64-63 victory over a much improved Harold Red Devil basketball team. Hall had 23 points and Johnson tallied 22.

Harold opened the first quarter like this was the "night of upsets" in taking a big 18-8 lead at the end of the first period. The Red Devils held on in the second period and led at the half by nine, 30-21. The big quarter was the third for the undefeated Eagles, when they outscored the host team 24-13, to take a two point lead, 45-43, at the end of the third period.

"We had some early foul trouble in the first quarter," Osborne coach Meredith Slone stated concerning his teams slow start. "The game was called a little tighter than we are use to."

Harold outscored the visitors 20-19 in the final period, but fell one point short as the Eagles survived the on charge, 64-63.

Harold place three players in double figures with Brian Hunter leading the way with 24 points. Barry Clark tossed in 18 points while point guard Chris Potter added 10.

Osborne 8 13 24 19 (64): John Hall, 23; Charles Johnson, 22; Chad Slone, 11; Cruise Caudill, 2; Mike Crager, 4; Preston, 2.

At Harold 18 12 13 20 (63): Chris Potter, 10; Brian Hunter, 24; Greg Hunter, 7; Barry Clark, 18; Mike Newman, 2

Mark Reed scored six points and J.P. Skeans added five points to lead the Harold "B" team to a close 19-18 victory over the Osborne "B" team. K. Keathley tossed in four. Joseph Stevens and W. Meade added two points each.

Kevin Johnson tossed in seven points to lead Osborne in scoring. Anthony Younce had four and Kenny King netted three. Aaron Hall and Travis Johnson scored two each.

Osborne Defeats Lady Cougars, 23-12

The Osborne Lady Eagles closed out their regular season schedule with a 23-12 victory over the Melvin Lady Cougars Wednesday night at the Wheelwright gym.

Crystal Isaac scored nine points in leading the Lady Eagles to victory. Melvin was unable to score in the first period as Osborne scored eight points. Tiffany Compton led the Lady Cougars with six points.

Osborne girls finished the regular season at 6-4.

Melvin 0 4 2 6 (12): Tiffany Compton, 6; Crystal Tackett, 2; Brandy Jacobs, 2; A. Taroli, 2

At Osborne 8 4 4 8 (23): Candance Hobbrook, 2; Tina K. Hall, 3; Crystal Isaac, 9; Renea Hall, 1; Kelly Bates, 2.

Auxier Invitational Tournery Results

AUXIER V. PRATER

Three players scored in double figures to lead the Prater Cougars to a 41-39 victory over the Auxier Hornets. A 16-8 run in the fourth quarter for the Cougars overcame a 31-25 deficit and advanced the Cougars to the championship game.

Adam Roberts scored 15 points in leading the Cougars. Ronnie Hamilton and Mark Ousley each scored 12 points. Brett Akers scored one point.

Auxier was led in scoring by Jason Slone with 19 points. Merlin Osborne and Jason Burke tossed in 10 points each.

WAYLAND V. CLARK

In the second game of the tournament, Wayland got 17 points from Jason Martin to defeat the Clark Indians in a low scoring affair, 39-27. Todd Hansford added 10 points for Wayland while Donnie Combs tossed in eight.

T-Tom Slone was top scorer for Clark with 12 points. Jeremy Osborne added eight and Mike Arnett scored six.

In the game, Clark shot 63.6 percent from the free throw line while Wayland hit 44 percent.

AUXIER V. CLARK

In the consolation game, Auxier defeated Clark 56-38 to take third place. Jason Burke tossed in 15 points to lead the way for the Hornets. Steve Adkins and Merlin Osborne scored 13 and 10 points respectively. Jason Slone scored nine points. Catrell Farler added five points in the Auxier win. Jeremy Osborne led the Indians with 17 points. Carlos Cooley had eight. T-Tom Slone, Mike Arnett and Jason Osborne each added four points.

Clark led at the half, 24-18. Auxier came back in the third period to outscore the Indians 18-7 to take a 36-31 lead. The Hornets blitzed the Indians in the fourth, scoring 20 points to Clark's seven.

TOURNAMENT TIDBITS

Fishing In Rain Can Be Productive Time

The day of your long-awaited bass fishing trip finally arrives... but, as luck would have it, it's raining. Should you cancel your plans and stay home, or go fishing anyway?

"It really depends on the severity of the weather," explains Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff member Denny Brauer, "but rain often improves the fishing."

"Normally, the bass become less spooky. They don't hold quite as tight to cover, and they move into shallow water. Spinnerbaits, buzz baits and other topwater lures — the ones we like to fish the most — become the most productive lures."

Rain also helps hide an angler's mistakes, adds Brauer. Boat noises as well as poor lure presentations aren't as critical.

"I believe rain probably offers the greatest advantage when you're fishing a clear water lake," says the Evinrude pro. "I remember a five bass stringer I caught during the rain at Table Rock Lake here in Missouri, which is one of the clearest lakes in the nation. My fish weighed nearly 30 pounds."

"Before the rain the bass had been about 40 feet deep beside bluffs, but the rain brought them closer to the surface, where I caught them with a spinnerbait."

On other lakes this season of the year, Brauer suggests fishing coves and creeks that have definite channels. While clear weather lures may include crankbaits or jigs in these places, rainy weather will call for a switch to spinnerbaits or buzz baits.

In many instances, thunder and lightning are also present with rain, and when it is, Brauer generally tries to get off the water. Once, while fishing during a storm on Georgia's Lake Lanier, his graphite rod actually started humming with electricity, and when he cast, his line bowed up instead of down.

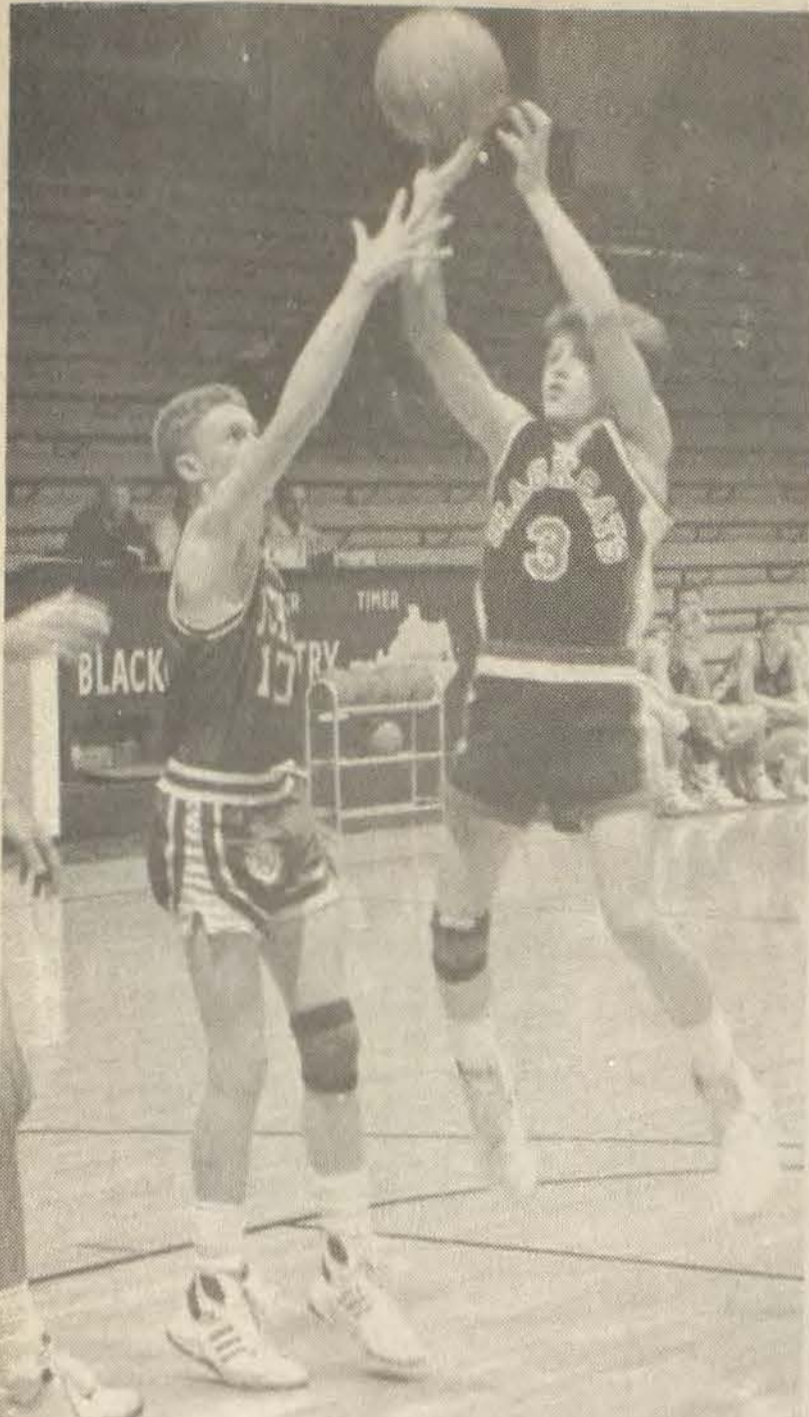

"That's when it's time to leave," Brauer laughs. "Besides, really severe thunder and lightning can actually turn the bass off again. I believe they move right back to heavy cover or go deeper until the weather stabilizes again."

Brauer keeps a rain suit in his boat as standard equipment in case he gets caught in mild rain that doesn't force him to seek shelter. Goggles or face shields provide added protection if you have to run in the rain.

"The most important thing about fishing in the rain is to use common sense," Brauer emphasizes. "Yes, the fishing may improve dramatically, but if the weather really deteriorates, it's much wiser to leave the water before you get into trouble. No bass is worth the risk of getting struck by lightning or swamped in rough water."

Conn Scores 25 In Loss At Dilce Combs

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

It was only the second game of the season for the Allen Central Lady Rebels, as coach Bonita Compton took her squad on the road to play a game of round ball at Dilce Combs, which is not an easy place to win.

In spite of the 25-point performance of Lady Reb Jo Ann Conn, Dilce Combs placed three players in double figures as the Lady Patriots handed Allen Central their second defeat in as many games, 53-48.

Teresa Guynn scored 19 points, Misty Holbrook added 14 and Donna Johnson had 13 for the Lady Patriots.

Allen Central had problems finding the basket in the first half, as the Lady Patriots lead at the first stop 18-13 — mostly behind the scoring of Holbrook. The Lady Patriots extended their lead to 14 points, 38-24, at half time. In the second quarter Dilce Combs outscored the visitors 20-11.

The Lady Rebels woke up in the second half and blitzed the Lady Patriots 12-4 in the third period to close the lead to six, 42-36. Allen Central was one point better in the final period, 12-11, but the clock ran out on them.

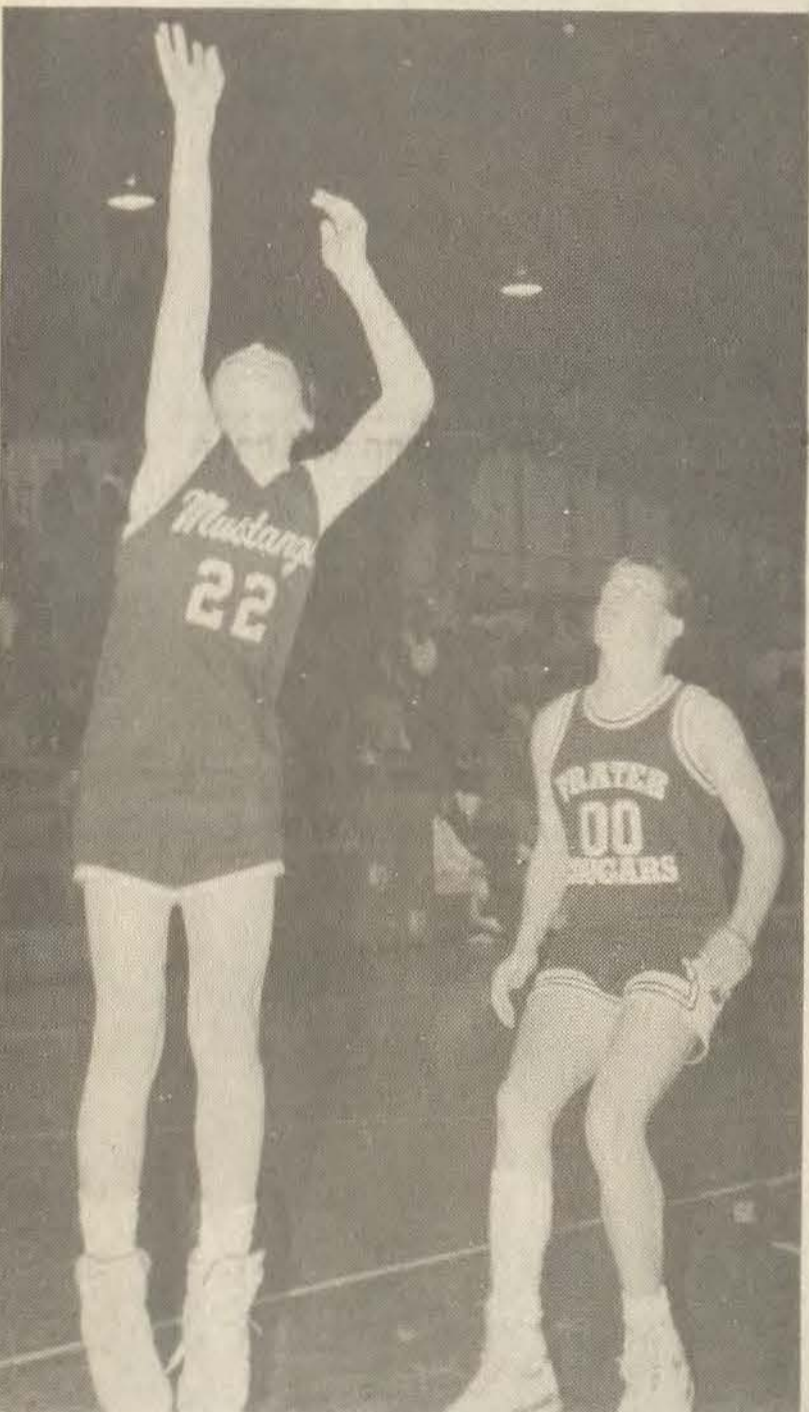

"The first half killed us," Allen Central's Conn stated. "We committed a lot of turnovers and Dilce Combs is a pretty tough team. We played better in the second half, but there wasn't enough time to catch up."

Teresa Gibson was the only other Allen Central player to score in double figures with 10 points. Rhonda Leedy added four.

Allen Central 13 11 12 12 (48): Jo Ann Conn, 25; Teresa Gibson, 10; Stacy Moore, 3; Darnella Bradley, 2; Rhonda Leedy, 4; Sonia Allen, 3; Pam Webb, 1.

at Dilce Combs 18 20 4 11 (53): Eversole, 2; Huff, 2; Guynn, 19; Johnson, 13; Engle, 2; Holbrook, 14; Bralowe, 1.

Helping Hand

Ray Collins (12) of Prestonsburg seems to be getting a helping hand on this lay up against Johns Creek Friday night. Collins scored 17 points to team with Chris Slone in leading the Blackcats to a season opening 81-60 win over the Bearcats.

Lady Mustangs Roll By Lady Cougars, 47-17; Advance To Tournament Finals

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Floyd County Elementary Basketball Tournament got underway Friday night at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse as the Lady Mustangs of

Clark Advances With 48-5 Victory

The Clark Lady Indians will take on the winner of the Allen Lady Eagles and Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats game on Friday night as a result of a 48-5 victory over the Lady Hornets of Auxier.

The Lady Indians, losers of only two games, held the Lady Hornets scoreless in the first half in building up a 31-0 lead.

Clark placed three players in double figures with Jamie Clay leading the Lady Indians with 11 points. Christy Little and Joleen Hackworth each tossed in 10. Maria Hicks added eight points.

For Auxier, Crystal Blackburn, Stephanie Johnson and Crystal Marsillett each scored two points.

Clark's only in-county loss for the regular season was to the Lady Eagles of Allen. Prestonsburg lost twice to Clark during the regular season.

Auxier 0 0 1 5 (6): Crystal Blackburn, 2; Crystal Marsillett, 2; Stephanie Johnson, 2.

Clark 18 13 8 9 (48): Christy Little, 10; Andrea Shepherd, 5; Maria Hicks, 8; Jamie Clay, 11; Nanna Allen, 2; Joleen Hackworth, 10; Jessica Slone, 2.

John M. Stumbo took on the Prater Lady Cougars in Section Three play.

Melissa McKinney scored 11 points to lead the Lady Mustangs to a 47-17 victory over the Prater Lady Cougars. Dee Dee Martin added nine points in the victory. Amanda Hamilton netted five points for the Lady Mustangs.

It was all Stumbo from the start as the Lady Mustangs shut out the Lady Cougars in the first period and took a 9-0 lead after one quarter. Prater had problems finding the basket in the second stanza and turnovers hurt the younger Lady Cougars. Stumbo led at the half, 21-3.

"We played real well in the game," Lady Mustang coach Paul David Tackett stated. "Our press was good and looking at the scoring, you can say we had a good offensive night.

Defense was good, but we just need to get a little more experience playing on bigger floors."

Rhonda Conn and Regina Brown each scored seven points in leading the Lady Cougars. Heather Nelson tossed in six.

Stumbo will be waiting in the wings to play the winner of the Harold Lady Red Devils and Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats game which will be played tonight. The Lady Mustangs remain undefeated at 11-0. The loss closes out the season for Prater.

*****

Stumbo 9 12 14 12 (47): Melissa McKinney, 11; Dee Dee Martin, 9; Amanda Hamilton, 6; Misty Johnson, 5; Cynthia Hamilton, 3; Christy Johnson, 4; Ashley Tackett, 4; Lynn Hall, 4; Tina Mullins, 1.

Prater 0 3 7 10 (17): Rhonda Conn, 7; Heather Nelson, 6; Dana Akers, 2; Regina Brown, 7.

by Smith and Stephanie Little to take an eight point lead, 19-11.

Wheelwright started to turn the ball over late in the second period and was guilty of committing some needless fouls. However, the coldness of Mullins prevented the Lady Tigers from closing the gap as Wheelwright took a 22-15 lead to the locker room at half time.

After a Kelly basket opening the third period, Wheelwright turned the ball over on its first three possessions. Mullins was unable to take advantage of the Lady Trojans' mistakes. Allen ended the long drought with a fast break lay in at the 5:18 mark. The Lady Tigers started getting three and four shots at the basket, but were unable to capitalize on them. Neither team was able to get things going in the third as Mullins scored one point better at 4-3.

Hood's six straight points in the fourth period propelled the Lady Trojans to a 12 point lead at 37-25. Haynes' three-pointer with 52 seconds remaining made it 39-31. After Haynes fouled out with 49 seconds to go, the Lady Trojans had to foul and put Wheelwright on the line. The Lady Trojans connected on four of eight charity tosses to preserve their 45-31 win.

Wheelwright opened with a one-three-one defense that caused the Lady Trojans some trouble in the first period and cut off Mullins' inside game.

"We wanted to put pressure on the wings in the first part of the ball game and try to shut down their three point shooters. Later in the game we got tired and they hit some three-pointers against us," explained Daniels.

"We need to concentrate more when we are shooting our free throws. Turnover ratio was good, I thought," Daniels went on to say, "and we need to quit reaching on defense. If we ever get in shape we will cut down on those mistakes. I thought we handled the pressure of Mullins real well and Becky did a good job for us at point guard.

"Carrie played a great game for us and Stephanie Little — I told you earlier that she would make a big difference in this team — she had a good game."

Kelly was the leading scorer for the Lady Trojans with 11 points. Haynes tossed in nine points, including two three-pointers.

Wheelwright is 1-0 on the season and will travel to Hazard Monday for a game against the Lady Bulldogs.

Mullins 8 7 4 12 (31): Susan Kelly, 4 1 0-0 11; Michelle Rogers, 1 0 1-4 3; Misty Haynes, 1 2 1-2 9; Christy Akers, 0 1 0-0 3; Sabrina Justice, 1 0 2-4 4; Rachel McClanahan, 0 0 1-4 1.

at Wheelwright April Bradford, 4 0 2-3 10; Becky Allen, 4 0 1-4 9; Jedon Hood, 4 0 3-5 10; Stephanie Little, 1 0 2-4 4; Carrie Smith, 4 0 1-2 9; Shenna Collins, 0 0 1-2 1; Vicky Johnson, 0 0 1-2 1; Melissa Tackett, 0 0 0-2 0.

Wild Side

After studying the matter in great detail, I am now convinced that old man Murphy was a bowhunter. And I truly believe that the man decreed his famous law of life ("if anything can go wrong, it will") after a typical day of bowhunting.

Murphy's law holds true in bowhunting more so than in any other outdoor venture. Things often go wrong when fishing but, for the most part, that tiny little line will usually hold until you get the fish into the boat. And if your best bird dog gets a head cold and can't follow the trail of a man wearing three-week-old socks, those outings are generally fun and successful. Even when hunting in the rain with a black powder muzzle-loader, the gun will fire most of the time. But when bowhunting, if anything can go wrong, it will.

A case in point: Chris Skeens was bowhunting near Grayson when a giant, 14-point buck approached his stand. Chris shifted his weight to draw the bow and, as luck would have it, his treestand creaked. A young buck might have stopped to look for the cause of the noise, thus providing a shot, but a wise old buck won't risk it. So, it was a white flag and an unfilled tag for Chris.

Several years ago, on a few occasions when bowhunting seemed more vital to my mental health than studying Rumanian architecture or Mexican literature, Kerry Slone and I used to slip away to Owen County. One day, after locating the junction of several heavily traveled deer trails near a watering hole, I climbed into a tree over the tiny creek. Shortly thereafter, three does walked under my stand and began drinking. A few minutes later, I saw a 6-point buck heading in my direction. Just as he neared the creek and I started to raise my bow, Kerry yelled at me from the top of the hill. Needless to say, four white tails waved goodbye to me.

Just before the opening of gun season this year, Kerry Slone and I headed out to Western Kentucky to bowhunt a few days with Harold Knight and David Hale. Harold and David started Knight & Hale Game Call Company several years ago, and their company has since grown to become one of the largest and most respected suppliers of game calls in this country. These men have studied whitetails for decades, and they are certainly two of the finest deer hunters America has ever produced.

One morning Harold and I hunted a couple of stands on a corn and soybean farm. About 9:30 that morning, Harold walked to my stand and announced that he had taken a nice 8-pointer, so we headed out to take care of his deer. After taking a few rolls of photos, we dragged the deer through a muddy field so that Harold could get to it with his four-wheeler.

The next morning, the day before gun season opened, I hunted a stand where I had seen several bucks earlier in the year. Just as it became light enough to see, a year-and-a-half-old 8-point walked out of a thicket about 20 yards to my right. I turned my left side toward the deer, and when he was in perfect position, I drew.

For some reason, I couldn't see through my peep sight. I fooled around and finagled with it as much as I could at full draw, but I still couldn't see through it, so I slowly released the tension on the bow. The buck heard me at that point and disappeared in a flash of white tail and black hooves. Upon examining the sight, I discovered it was full of mud! I must have laid the bow in some mud while fooling with Harold's deer the day before, and then had neglected to check it.

Upon leaving Western Kentucky, old man Murphy played his final hand of that trip. My truck broke down twice on the way home, extending my trip a few extra days and many extra dollars. And if you missed this column last week, it was because I couldn't get home to write—blame it on Murphy!

Bowhunting is a game plagued with an infinite number of variables. If you can beat the odds, and if everything goes just right, you might be lucky enough to harvest a deer. But the taking of a deer is truly only a small part of the sport. To me, bowhunting is a chance to pit my skills against the acute senses of the whitetail. It is an opportunity to observe the deer at close range, and to study them as they move through their daily routines. And if I never loose an arrow at another buck, I will continue to bowhunt, for even though Murphy's law prevails whenever I carry my bow into the woods, the sport is my ultimate communication with nature.

Until next week, good hunting and fishing!

P'burg JVs Fall To Johns Creek

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Jason A. Taylor scored 12 points, Chris Gannon netted 11 points and Derrell Anderson added 10 as the Johns Creek junior varsity defeated Prestonsburg's junior varsity 46-43 Friday night.

John Whitt led the Prestonsburg JVs with 11 points and Jason Crisp had 10 for the Blackcats.

Crisp put the younger Cats ahead at 2-0 with two free throws. Johns Creek tied the game on a bucket by Anderson. Whitt came back and hit a three-pointer for Prestonsburg for a 5-2 lead. After Gannon's basket, Prestonsburg ran off a 10-4 spurt to take a 13-8 first quarter lead.

Prestonsburg extended their lead to 16-10 mid-way through the second stanza. Baskets by Scott Bevins and Anderson closed it to two, 16-14. Whitt's basket, following a Gannon free throw, gave the Blackcats a 20-17 lead. The Bearcats trailed at the half, 22-21.

Two quick scores by West and Anderson put Johns Creek up 25-22 with 4:52 on the clock. Conley's five-footer followed by Whitt's bucket put the Blackcats up by one, 26-25. Billy Morris's basket at the buzzer gave Johns Creek a 35-32 third quarter lead.

The Bearcats built their lead out to seven, 42-35, in the final period on a three point play by Jason K. Taylor. Crisp then scored six straight points for Prestonsburg on a three point play and a three-pointer to close to within one, 42-41.

After each team exchanged turnovers, two charity tosses by Whitt put the Blackcats up, 43-42. Jason A.

Taylor hit two free throws and scored on a give and go to give the final margin of 46-43. Prestonsburg had two chances to tie the game but was called for walking on both possessions.

NEWS FROM EXCEL COLLEGE

2,100,000 COMPUTER JOBS

Man And Machine: The Vital Match

But computers are only machines, helpless without trained operators and programmers. These two job functions, operator and programmer, are essential to a useful, smooth-running system. And current and projected demands cut across all job levels, through all sizes of computer installation, and over all geographic areas.

On the average, computer professionals earn about twice as much as all non-supervisory workers in private industry. Data processing salaries grow about twice as fast as the inflation rate.

Computers: Today's Reality, Tomorrow's Challenge

Planning your career in such a fast-changing world? Ask yourself these three important questions:

- What jobs will be in most demand in this decade?
- What will be the better paying jobs?
- What jobs will offer salary advancements that outpace inflation?

Computer occupations will nearly double to more than 2.1 million jobs by 1990—a growth potential surpassing all other occupational groups.

Destruction To Ozone Layer Is Irreversible

by Amy Allen, WHS Student Writer

The people of Floyd County are destroying the ozone layer without even realizing it. Have you ever been to restaurant carry-out window and thrown away your styrofoam container? Have you ever sprayed your hair with hair spray right before a big date?

All these things and more contribute to the destruction of the fragile ozone layer that protects the earth and its people from deadly ultraviolet radiation produced by the sun.

Everyday items such as styrofoam, hairspray, gasoline, refrigerators, and even simply turning on an air conditioner release chemicals called chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs). This chemical floats up through the atmosphere and interacts with the chemicals in the ozone layer causing the ozone to be destroyed slowly but surely.

Have you noticed how the chance of getting skin cancer has risen in the last couple of years? The hole in the ozone layer is letting more and more ultraviolet radiation reach the Earth and it is this type of radiation that causes skin cancer.

The damage done to the ozone layer is irreversible and it can never be the same again. Even if a solution is found that would put a stop to the ozone depletion, the ozone layer would remain scarred forever. Scientists have also found that the hole in ozone later is depleting all the new ozone that it comes in contact with. This means the hole is acting like a vacuum sucking out more of the ozone layer the bigger it gets.

Though the destruction of the ozone layer is a very serious problem and has been going on ever since the 1930s when CFCs were invented, there's still hope that we can put an end to CFCs production. Companies like DuPont have said they would phase out production of CFCs by the year 2000 by using a substitution. This sounds like a good idea but a substitute for CFCs will cost more money to produce and is likely to take a long time to replace the CFCs that are already on the market.

If you're the average person, you must be saying to yourself, "I'm only one person, there's nothing I can do," or "There's no way anyone can stop the ozone depletion because it's already too advanced." None of these statements are true because even the largest companies have started reducing the amount of CFCs that they allow their companies to produce.

Floyd County does its share to contribute to the problem of the destruction of the ozone. We throw out our trash right beside of the road. This trash, such as styrofoam and empty hair spray containers, contain CFCs. When these containers break open due to deterioration, CFCs are released into the atmosphere. When we send our old broken-down refrigerators to the garbage dump, we think that we are getting rid of them, but what we are really doing is releasing more CFCs into the atmosphere.

So what is the solution to these problems? Do we just ignore them like we have been doing? Do we take a stand and cleanup the mistakes that we have already made? A decision must be made, or else!

Attends Workshop

Kenny Caldwell, teacher at Allen Grade School, attended a three day workshop sponsored by the Kentucky Coal Association entitled "Kentucky Coal Issues." The workshop explained how to teach the importance and the use of coal and electricity to middle school students. A tour of the Kentucky Power Plant at Louisa and the Martin County operation was included.

School Menu Is Announced

As the days wind down to Christmas break the weather gets chillier making a hot breakfast and lunch that much more important for school children. The following is the meal menu for the schools in Floyd County, as announced by Sharon Newsome, food service director, all meals include milk:

Wednesday, Dec. 6: Breakfast, Chick-N-Vittles and juice; lunch, chili, peanut butter or grilled cheese sandwich, cheese/apple crisp & crackers.

Thursday, Dec. 7: Breakfast, cereal, toast and half a banana, lunch, fried chicken, mashed potatoes, peas and hot rolls.

Friday, Dec. 8: Breakfast, sausage, gravy, biscuits and juice; lunch, lasagna, green beans, fresh pears and hot rolls.

Monday, Dec. 11: Breakfast, pancakes, bacon and juice; lunch, submarine sandwich, tater tots and corn.

Tuesday, Dec. 12: Breakfast, cereal, toast and half a banana; lunch, hot dogs, french fries, cole slaw and pineapple upsidedown cake.

Wednesday, Dec. 13: Breakfast, chick-N-Vittles and juice; lunch, spaghetti, salad, green beans and hot rolls.

Attendance Record Achievers

Gloria Hall's third grade class is beaming because it won the bottom floor's first month's attendance contest at Allen Elementary. The class had 99 percent attendance for the first month of school. This is a school record for attendance, according to the principal, Daniel Branson.

4-H News

By Willard Knipp, III

Last week saw the final stops on my initial tour of the schools that participate in 4-H. I would like to thank all of the principals, teachers and school secretaries for their kindness and assistance. I believe that we have a core of support in Floyd County that is essential to a successful 4-H program.

The coming days will see the delivery of project material to classrooms around the county. These project books assist the students in learning about different topics ranging from a variety of animals to computers.

In addition to the material that the students receive, teachers are more than welcome to use the material as additional curriculum. For more information on what is available or to receive some material, please contact the Extension Office at 886-2668.

In the past week more clubs have reported results of officer elections. We congratulate the winners and wish them the best of luck.

ALLEN ELEMENTARY
Mrs. Allen's fourth and fifth grade: Wesley Samons, president; Josh Barnett, vice president; Brandie Lawson, secretary; Andrew Griffith, reporter.

Mr. Gray's fifth grade: Matthew Goble, president; Terra Childers, vice president; Pete Collins, secretary; Adam Caldwell, reporter.

Mr. Gray's sixth grade: William Lester, president; Dustin Jones, vice president; Kerry Campbell, secretary; Ronald Garrett, reporter.

Students Named To Dean's List

Several Floyd County students are among the 116,000 included in the 12th annual edition of "The National Dean's List," just published by Educational Communications, Inc., of Lake Forest, Ill.

Students are selected by their college deans or registrars and must be in the upper 10 percent of their class, on their school's dean's list, or have earned a comparable honor.

Named locally are Derrick Johnson of Prestonsburg, attending Prestonsburg Community College; Stephanie R. Hall of Stanville, attending Union College; Paul W. Prater of West Prestonsburg, attending Alice Lloyd College; Sophia M. Patton of Betsy Layne, attending Free Will Baptist Bible College;

Elizabeth A. Gibson of Eastern, attending Morehead State University; Kimberly S. Jones of Lackey, attending Alice Lloyd College; and Andrea M. Combs of Langley, attending the University of Kentucky.

Listed students are eligible to compete for $25,000 in scholarship awards funded by the publisher and may also use a referral service for future employment opportunities. More than 2,500 colleges and universities nationwide use the publication to recognize their academically qualified students.

MSU Radiologic Tech Program Reaccredited

Morehead State University's two-year degree program in radiologic technology has received continued accreditation for the maximum period allowed by the national accrediting agency.

In addition to a five-year accreditation reaffirmation, the Joint Review Committee on Education in Radiologic Technology also approved increasing the number of students in the program from 96 to 110, enabling the university to accept 55 students each year into the program.

According to Rae Smith, coordinator of the MSU program, the university has 11 clinical education sites in Eastern Kentucky which have been approved by the joint committee. The sites include Highlands Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg and Methodist Hospital of Kentucky in Pikeville.

"Morehead State has several programs which have been recognized by the appropriate accrediting bodies as exceptional," MSU President C. Nelson Grote said.

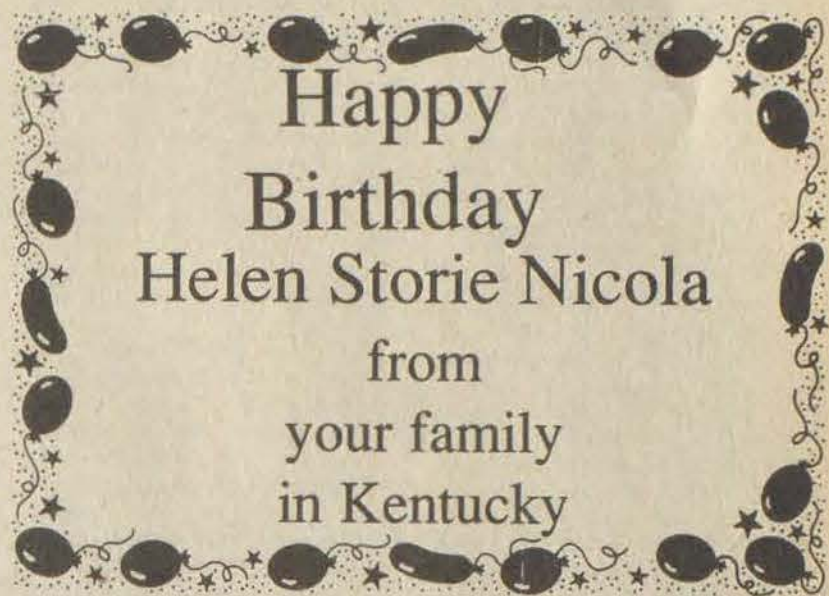

"We are exceedingly proud of the university's reputation in the nursing and allied health science fields, because these programs directly touch lives. Their quality results in enhancement of the health care available, primarily in our service region," he added.

Nationally as well as regionally, there is a shortage of qualified radiologic technologists, according to Dr. Charles M. Derrickson, dean of MSU's College of Applied Sciences and Technology. "Graduating not only more, but also highly skilled, health care professionals is the key to altering these statistics," he said.

"In essence, the Joint Review Committee has said we are doing a good job and that we can increase the number of students without affecting that quality," the dean added. "The faculty should be proud of this recognition because they have worked diligently to maintain a quality program."

To the highly skilled surgeons and or nurses who labor under bright lights in sterile gowns and masks at Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center, no surgical procedure is "minor". Each patient's medical history is studied carefully and every step of each surgical procedure is thoroughly reviewed before an operation begins.

When your physician refers a member of your family to one of our surgeons you can be confident of their skill, experience and dedication and that they will be assisted by a fully qualified Surgical Team.

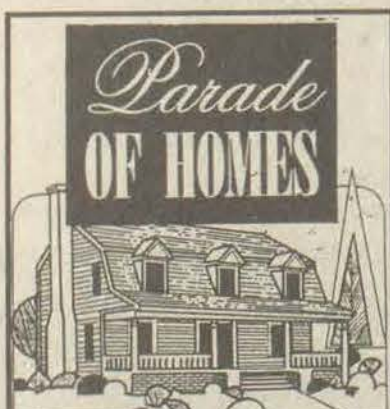

It's another example of how, at Paul B. Hall, you can worry a little less, because we care a lot more.

Museums And Zoos Take On Molecular Focus

By William G. Schulz
Smithsonian News Service
 A museum or a zoo may seem an unlikely place to find molecular biologists who work at the leading edge of science. But, in fact, behind the scenes at places like the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., scientists are putting to work the research tools of biotechnology — an array of techniques to examine and manipulate genetic material — to answer questions about evolution and help conserve some of the world's endangered species.

"This technology has affected every field of biology," Dr. Michael Braun, program director of the Molecular Systematics Laboratory operated by the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History, says. "Evolutionary biologists are now jumping on the bandwagon in force."

Braun's laboratory is one of the premiere facilities in the nation for this kind of work, which includes studies of DNA, the basic molecule of all life. It will soon be joined by a sister lab at the National Zoological Park in Washington, D.C. Biologists are already had at work in a molecular genetics lab at the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute, headquartered in the Republic of Panama. "By using the tools of molecular biology," Braun says, "we will be able to answer long-standing questions about evolution, including systematics—study of the evolutionary relationships among animals and plants."

The research can help determine whether two different animals descended from the same ancestor. Other work includes determining the relationships among several families of animals and understanding better the precise mechanisms of evolution.

The lab will also deliver data for research on population genetics — the diversity in a species' gene pool. Zoos find this information valuable as they seek to determine which endangered species are best suited for breeding programs.

Since the discovery in the 1950s that DNA is the basic molecule of life, biologists have been to examine the complexity of living organisms with unprecedented depth. Today's technology allows researchers to manipulate information encoded on the DNA molecule, a feat that has delivered "designer bacteria" that, among other innovations, eat pollution from oil spills and toxic wastes.

A visitor enters the high-technology world of the Molecular Systematics Lab at the Smithsonian's Museum Support Center in Suitland, Md., a few miles from downtown Washington. There, the gleaming glassware and scientific instruments include ultra-centrifuge machines (think of a washing machine stuck on a very fast spin cycle) for separating types of DNA; autoclaves for sterilizing instruments; special freezers for storing specimens, such as plant and animal tissue; and photographic equipment. The expense of setting up and operating these labs is the chief reason they haven't arrived at museums earlier, Braun says.

The full force of this high technology is applied to traditional museum questions. Many of these studies, Braun says, involve reconstructing "phylogenetic relationships" — tracing the evolutionary development of organisms. He cites the analysis of genetic material from humans, gorillas and chimpanzees. Molecular evolutionists, he says, have shown that humans and chimps appear to be more related to each other than chimps and gorillas, despite physical appearances that suggest otherwise.

For traditional systematics — the work done by most scientists at the Natural History Museum — researchers trace evolutionary development by examining "morphologic traits" — physical characteristics. These traits are compared with those of other living animals or plants or with specimens from the fossil record. Scientists who study systematics slowly build a body of data about an organism's evolution and its relationship to other organisms. Still, the fossil record is sometimes incomplete, and the conclusions drawn by one scientist may be contradicted by a colleague.

Enter molecular biology. Since most physical characteristics are genetically based, Braun says, researchers at the Molecular Systematics Lab can provide data to fill in the blanks or resolve disputes arising from different interpretations. Most of this data involves techniques that directly or indirectly examine an organism's DNA.

One technique is electrophoresis. Electrophoretic analysis first involves extracting proteins from an animal's blood or tissue. The proteins are then placed on a gel, usually made of starch. The gel is subjected to an electric current, which separates the proteins.

Simply put, each kind of protein travels a different distance on the gel. In comparing gels for different organisms, shared proteins will have traveled the same distance. Because DNA determines the type of proteins in an organism, researchers can infer the relatedness of similar organisms through statistical analysis of the number of identical proteins they share.

Other molecular techniques, Braun says, include "DNA fingerprinting." The DNA of each plant or animal, like a human fingerprint, is unique. "Polymerase chain reaction," another of the field's latest developments, allows scientists to look at subtypes of DNA previously beyond their grasp. In fact, "any molecular genetic technique developed is one we might be able to use," Braun says.

Molecular systematics was used successfully with the puzzle of the giant panda. For more than a century, giant pandas were alternately thought of as most closely related to bears or to raccoons. For a time, they were even placed in a separate family altogether. (The discipline of classifying organisms according to the hierarchy of kingdom, order, class, family and so on, is known as taxonomy.)

Finally, in 1983, Dr. Stephen O'Brien and several of his colleagues at the National Cancer Institute in Frederick, Md., became interested in the giant panda. They had been asked by scientists at the Smithsonian's National Zoo to determine if a cub born to the panda Ling-Ling (the cub died shortly after birth) also belonged to her mate Hsing-Hsing. Ling-Ling had also been artificially inseminated that year to improve her chances of pregnancy, thanks to a male panda from the London Zoo.

Tests that showed the cub to be Hsing-Hsing's, O'Brien knew, could also be used to shed new light on panda evolution. After performing a number of these molecular genetics tests, O'Brien and his group concluded that giant pandas belong to the Ursidae family, which include bears. In fact, the new evolutionary tree they drew shows that giant pandas were among the first of the line when the Ursidae and the Procyonidae—the family raccoons belong to—diverged from a common ancestor.

Despite their power, techniques in molecular systematics by no means supplant traditional systematics work, Braun says. "We can't ignore the fossil evidence," he says. "It provides the framework for the molecular research." Molecular data would often be impossible to interpret without traditional morphological analysis.

Other questions about evolution that molecular biology combined with the fossil record might answer include the pace of evolution, thought to be either slow and gradual or to occur in "punctuated" bursts of activity. Molecular data, compared with the fossil record, allow scientists to set a "molecular clock" and tell the time when a species evolved from related organisms.

Braun also works with Dr. Jeanine Olsen, a Smithsonian botanist whose research interests include the evolutionary relationships among algae—some of the oldest forms of life. Soon, the lab will have a staff of eight scientists, he says, making it one of the largest centers for molecular systematics work in the world.

At the National Zoo, molecular genetics work will help scientists conserve endangered species. Examining the genes of golden lion tamarins, for example, will help researchers determine which individuals are best suited for reintroduction to their native habitat in Brazil. Without enough genetic diversity, the tamarins could succumb to hereditary diseases, further threatening their precarious existence.

And, at the Tropical Research Institute in Panama, the techniques of molecular biology are helping biologists understand better the rate of species evolution.

All of the Smithsonian labs, Braun says, will interact, in part to keep up with developments in this fast-moving field. Some questions they will tackle regarding evolution have nagged scientists since Charles Darwin's time. But at his lab and others, Braun says, "We don't just have questions. We have answers."

A REGULAR PROBLEM

Laxatives help with occasional bouts of constipation, but they should not be used on a regular basis. Many Americans use laxatives daily in the mistaken belief that they are necessary for regularity. The fact is that habitual use of laxatives may encourage the bowels to become flabby. In time, they lose their natural ability to maintain regularity and are only able to respond to the artificial stimulation of a laxative. A habitual laxative user then becomes dependent on the drug. Persistent use of laxatives also may rush important nutrients through a person's system before they can be utilized. Mineral oil, for example, decreases absorption of vitamins A, D, E, and K. Lastly, regular use of saline-type laxatives promotes electrolyte loss, the mineral nutrients that keep the heart and other muscles functioning properly.

At COOLEY APOTHECARY we consider each of our customers important to us. You will see this reflected in many different ways. First, we offer you fast, efficient service in meeting all your pharmaceutical needs. Secondly, our staff is here to answer any questions you have concerning any product that we have available. # A Treasure Of New Books For The Asking by Trisha Morris,

PCC Librarian

The life of a librarian is not all checking out books, answering reference questions and shushing overactive young people — it's often a lot like Christmas morning. Among many other things, librarians get to open boxes of new books. It's better than Christmas — we don't have to personally pay for them.

The following reviews are from books which recently popped out of boxes at Prestonsburg Community College's library.

My One and Only, by Ellie McGrath. There are an estimated 20 million only children in the United States. Common stereotyping says they are selfish, egotistical, obnoxious and lonely. My One and Only was written by an only child who wanted to find out the truth.

McGrath's skillful research and personal interviews unveil the myths and offer a thoughtful reflection on the real life of the only child. From Dick Cavett to Roger Staubach, Margot Adler to Margaret Truman, the author explores a world of high achievers in the arts, medicine, law and business. She examines the pleasures and problems that only children encounter: Their close ties with parents, their comfort with solitude, their problems with coping when others intrude on their private world and, finally, their ordeal of losing parents with no siblings to ease the sorrow and fill the gap left in their lives.

McGrath draws from literature, history, her own experience and hundreds of interviews to present a long-overdue correction of the only-child stereotype.

An Old Man's Toy, by A. Zee. Fitting on a book shelf very comfortably beside the works of Carl Sagan and Stephen Hawking, An Old Man's Toy by the celebrated physicist/writer A. Zee, is a popularly written and often funny story of the nature of gravity and its role in our universe.

Zee tells the tale of gravity by starting logically at Newton and his legendary apple and progressing, again logically, to Einstein's equivalence principal. From there his story out-reaches the knowledge of the average person by introducing a cast of eccentrics: Hale, the maniacal telescope builder; Humason, a mule driver; Hubble, an ex-boxer; Friedman, the illustrious meteorologist; Lamaitre, the priest; and Gamow, the Russian, who all played their part in what we know today about our universe.

Zee, born in China, reared in Brazil, educated at Princeton and Harvard, charts the evolution of our knowledge of the universe and frolics with us through the history of science with a fascinating glimpse into the physics of the future.

The Speeches and Writing of Mother Jones, edited by Edward M. Steel. Mother Jones (Mary Harris Jones, 1830-1930) was to the coal miners both a symbolic figure and a very familiar personality who knew them intimately. They prized her because she was one of them, delighted in her irreverence for authority and listened to her year after year as she preached to them the gospel of solidarity.

Opening with her first recorded speech (United Mine Workers of America 1901 convention) and ending with her final address (UMW 1922 convention), this collection forms a record of ardent labor agitation in the first quarter of the twentieth century.

Called, "the most heroic woman in the nation," "the greatest woman agitator of our time" and "a towering rage," Mother Jones was said to be able to "make men cry" and "talk blood out of a stone." In print these speeches undoubtedly lack the force that Mother Jones's strong, charismatic personality and skillful presentation gave to her actual performance, but they are all that we have of this celebrated labor leader.

Together with the author's Correspondence of Mother Jones (1985), this book will help raise the curtain of legend and speculation from this figure of historical importance.

Stephen King: The First Decade, by

Joseph Reino. The master of Gothic horror fiction has been terrorizing readers since his first novel Carrie in 1973. Reading for the adrenalin rush of being scared, few readers realize the depth of their favorite author's talent. Wrapped in mythological analogies, poetic and mystical strains the works of Stephen King from Carrie to Pet Sematary are here analyzed and measured until the author is revealed as a multi-talented literary artist and manipulator of the most profound of human emotions — terror.

Reino's study critically examines the first 10 years of Stephen King's productive career. By paying scholarly attention to King's nuances of characterization and uses of symbolism, Reino's study will undoubtedly shock and enlighten most readers of King's novels. Reino's perceptive analysis reveals King as a Gothic mater who has woven a story most readers miss.

Audubon Reader, edited by Scott Sanders. Hear the name Audubon and in the minds of most listeners a colored print of a bird will arise. Audubon was also a writer. During the 10 years that he was feverishly painting the illustration that were to make him famous, he was equally busy writing journals, letters, autobiographical essays and volumes of natural history. Gathered here, these writings show us the retreating wilderness and the boisterous frontier while also showing us Audubon himself, out in the fields and woods.

Through Audubon's writings we see the swirl and ferment of frontier America and witness a man delicately balanced among four rival identities: Hunter, exalting over his prey; artist, enjoying the colors; scientist, observing behavior; and nature lover, regretting the death of something beautiful. The writings of Audubon have preserved for us a glimpse of a pristine America that was changing even as he observed it.

Time/Life Books Complete Fix-It Yourself Manual. Illustrated with hundreds of diagrams, guides and drawings, this manual shows how to handle anything that might go wrong in your home. Plumbing, lighting, heating, appliances, and all those entertainment systems — this is a complete guide to do their maintenance and repair.

The book is divided into eight chapters, color-coded for easy reference. The heart of the work leads the reader through dozens of repair jobs and the last section introduces both the basic and the specialized tools needed to do the repairs.

Tips For Buying Safe, Fresh Christmas Tree

Every year after Thanksgiving, people look for the freshest Christmas tree with the best shape. They also need to consider the safety of the tree.

Doug McClaren, Extension forestry specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, said consumers can select a safe and beautiful tree by following a few steps.

Trees, which vary in price according to size and variety, can be purchased three ways: pre-cut in a neighborhood lot, fresh from a grower, or balled from a nursery.

McClaren said pre-cut trees have been cut for several weeks and aren't as safe as a fresh-cut or balled tree.

A good way to test the freshness of the tree is to pick it up in the middle and drop it trunk-first on the ground. If green needles fall off the tree, McClaren said not to buy it because it is a potential fire hazard.

Homeowners who purchase a pre-cut tree now and do not put it up until later should cut an inch off the stump and store the tree outside in a pot of water or in a cool location.

The perfect tree can also be found uncut at a Kentucky Christmas Tree Growers Association location. McClaren said this way people can "cut and choose" their own tree.

Balled trees, which may be planted after use, can be purchased at a nursery. Balled trees should not be in the home for more than a week or two because they may die when planted outside.

All trees should be placed in proper stands that hold water. Water should be maintained so the trees do not dry out.

McClaren said all trees should be kept away from registers, open flames and fireplaces.

Larry Percy, Extension safety specialist, also has some safety tips for holiday decorating.

Percy said to check lights and extension cords for cracks and loose or exposed wiring. Restrict the number of circuits plugged into extension cords and do not stretch or hide them under carpets or other objects.

Turn off decorator lights when you are not at home. Percy also recommends using approved wiring.

As the holiday season approaches, many people may be looking towards entertaining close friends, family or co-workers with formal and informal gathering in their homes. During many parties the host/hostess strives to be creative in their menu planning and to add a touch of class to their party. The following is an assortment of special recipes just right for that tinsely party or just a casual gathering by a warm, glowing fire. Make the party memorable, but always remember to drive safely and not over-indulge in too much holiday cheer.

EARL GREY FIG AND CREAM SCONES

3/4 cup (4 ounces) dried Mission figs, finely chopped
1/4 cup Earl Grey English Liqueur
3 cups all-purpose flour
4 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup (1 stick) unsalted butter
1 Tbsp. finely chopped crystallized ginger
1 to 1 1/4 cups light cream
2 Tbps. granulated sugar
1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon

In a small mixing bowl, combine figs and Earl Grey English Liqueur. Let stand 30 minutes. In a large mixing bowl, stir together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in soaked figs and crystallized ginger. Make a well in center. Add enough light cream to make a soft dough.

Transfer to a lightly floured surface. Knead gently 10 to 12 strokes. Roll or pat dough to a 3/4-inch thickness. Cut dough in 2 1/2 inch rounds or desired shapes. In a small bowl, combine sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle a heaping 1/4 tsp sugar mixture on top each scone. Place scones 1/2-inch apart on greased baking sheet. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Serve with Earl Grey Butter (recipe below). Makes 14 to 16.

EARL GREY BUTTER

1 cup butter
2 Tbps. Earl Grey English Liqueur
Beat butter for 30 seconds until light. Add Earl Grey English Liqueur. Beat until light and fluffy. Serve with Earl Grey Fig and Cream Scones. Store remaining butter in refrigerator for another use. Makes 1 cup.

STEAMED HOLIDAY PUDDING WITH EARL GREY SAUCE AND WINTER CREAM

Get a head start on this holiday treat. You can prepare the crimson Earl Grey Sauce and luscious Winter Cream the day before the big feast or family get-together.
2 cups cranberries
1/2 cup dried apples, finely chopped
1/3 cup dried apricots, finely chopped
1/2 cup Earl Grey English Liqueur
1/2 cup ground almonds
1 1/2 cups packed light brown sugar

1/3 cup all-purpose flour
1 tsp. finely shredded orange peel
1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/2 tsp. ground allspice
1/4 tsp. ground cloves
2 1/2 cups fine dry bread crumbs
1 cup milk
3/4 cup unsalted butter, melted
3 large eggs, lightly beaten
1 Tbsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt

Generously grease and lightly flour inside of a 2-quart steamed pudding mold. In food processor bowl or blender container, coarsely chop cranberries; transfer to a large mixing bowl. Add apples and apricots. Stir in Earl Grey English Liqueur. Let mixture stand one hour.

Stir in ground almonds. Combine 1/2 cup of the brown sugar, the flour, orange peel, cinnamon, allspice and cloves. Sprinkle over cranberry mixture; stir until well blended. Combine bread crumbs, milk, the remaining brown sugar, melted butter, eggs, baking powder and salt. Add to cranberry mixture. Turn batter into prepared pudding mold; rap on counter surface to eliminate air bubbles. Cover mold with lid. Set aside.

Set a rack (or tuna can with top and bottom removed) in bottom of deep kettle. Place filled and covered mold on rack. Add enough hot water to reach 3 inches up sides of mold. Bring water to a brisk, but not rolling boil. Cover kettle. Steam pudding about two hours or until done. Add additional water as necessary, making sure water is at a brisk, but not rolling boil. Remove mold from kettle. Let stand, covered, one hour. To unmold, turn mold onto its side. Rap gently all around to loosen pudding. Invert onto serving plate. Spoon Earl Grey Sauce on top, allowing cranberries to fall around bottom edge of pudding. To serve, cut pudding into slices and serve warm with Holiday Cream. Makes eight to 10 servings.

EARL GREY SAUCE

3/4 cup cranberry juice
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 cup cranberries
1/4 cup Earl Grey English Liqueur
1 tsp. finely shredded lemon peel
Dash nutmeg

In a heavy medium saucepan, combine cranberry juice and sugar. Cook and stir over medium-high heat until sugar dissolves and mixture comes to a boil. Continue cooking until candy thermometer reaches 260 degrees, about 18 to 20 minutes (mixture should boil gently over surface). Remove pan from heat. Add cranberries, Earl Grey English Liqueur, lemon peel and nutmeg. Cool. Transfer sauce to air tight container. Store in refrigerator until serving time. Serve with Steamed Holiday Pudding. Makes 1 1/4 cups.

WINTER CREAM

1 cup whipping cream
3 Tbps. powdered sugar
2 Tbps. Earl Grey English Liqueur

1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
Dash ground cloves

Combine whipping cream, powdered sugar, Earl Grey English Liqueur, cinnamon and cloves. Whip until soft peaks form. Store, tightly covered, in refrigerator until serving time. Serve with Steamed Holiday Pudding. Makes two cups.

WINTER WARMERS

To help you warm up friends after a chilly day or for a toasty night by the fireside, make this easy, warming "glogg," or for festive winter entertaining, celebrate with this Snowflake Punch. Bring a new sizzle to winter entertaining with a heartwarming, no-fuss drink recipe for delicious Pepper Snap or fire up your guest's spirits at home with steaming mugs of Lemon Toddy with a new twist.

GORDON'S "GLOGG"

1 large orange
1 quart cranberry juice
1 cup Gordon's Gin
1-2 Tbps. sugar
12 whole cloves
2 cinnamon sticks
1 tsp. bitters
1 slice ginger root (optional)

Peel orange with a vegetable peeler and place peel in a medium saucepan. Add the juice from the orange and all the other ingredients. Heat gently and serve in cups or mugs. Makes about eight 5-oz. servings.

SNOWFLAKE PUNCH

2 Tbps. superfine sugar
3 cups Gordon's Gin
1 bottle champagne
1 quart ginger ale, chilled
1 pint lemon or lime sherbert
1/4 cup bottled lemon or lime juice

In punch bowl, stir together all ingredients except sherbet. Use a small scoop to add sherbet to punch gradually. Stir and serve in punch glasses. Makes twenty 4-oz. servings.

LEMON TODDY

1 quart lemonade
8 oz. Gordon's Gin
2 oz. creme de cassis
Heat ingredients in saucepan until hot. Pour into mugs or cups to serve. Makes eight 5-oz. servings.

PEPPER SNAP

2 cans (12 oz. each) cherry cola
6 oz. Gordon's Gin
2 oz. grenadine
4 candy canes
Heat cherry cola and Gordon's Gin in a medium saucepan until hot. Stir in grenadine. Serve in mugs garnished with candy cane stirrers. Makes four 8-oz. servings.

ADAH CHAPTER MEETS

Adah Chapter #24, Order of the Eastern Star, met in regular session Monday, November 27, at 7 p.m.; Mollie Hyden, worthy matron, presided.

During the business session, it was decided that the annual Christmas party would be held at the Lodge Hall on Saturday, Dec. 9, with dinner to be served at 6 p.m. Each member is being asked to bring a covered-dish of favorite food.

The worthy matron also asks each member to bring a toy to be given to the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital.

Attending this meeting were Mollie Hyden, Maman Leslie, Lorena Wallen, Polly H. Sparks, Paulina Owens, Billie Murdock, Burieta Gearhart, Patsy Evans, Maxine Bierman, Jewell Bays and William Adams.

The next regular meeting will be Monday evening, Dec. 11, at 7 o'clock, at the Lodge Hall. The worthy matron urges all officers and members to attend.

P'BURG WOMAN'S CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY SCHEDULED DEC. 7

Members of the G.F.W.C./K.F.W.C. Prestonsburg Woman's Club are reminded of the annual Christmas party, to be given on Thursday evening, Dec. 7, (tomorrow), at 7 p.m. at the home of Lucille Nunnery on Arnold Avenue. Hostesses, with Mrs. Nunnery will be members of the club's executive board, all of whom extend a cordial welcome to members to attend.

ALLEN SERVICES

The Rev. Harold Dorsey, former pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, who is presently retired and living in Lexington, was here to participate along with the Rev. Quentin Scholtz, of this church, and the Rev. Timothy Jessen, of the First Presbyterian Church in funeral services for Woodrow Allen, which were held at the First Methodist Church this past Thursday.

JOHN GRAHAM CHAPTER, NSDAR, MEETS NOV. 13

The regular monthly meeting of John Graham Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Monday, Nov. 13, at 3:30 p.m., at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center in Prestonsburg with the regent, Mrs. Carl R. Horn, presiding.

The DAR rituals were led by the chaplain, Mrs. J.G. Stepp; the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag of the U.S.A. by Mrs. Opal S. May, and the American's Creed by the regent.

The registrar, Mrs. James B. Goble, conducted the service of Remembrance for deceased daughters. The piano prelude was played by Mrs. Ray Brackett, and the Scripture and prayer were given by Mrs. Goble. The eulogy in memory of Edith Fitzpatrick James was read by Mrs. Brackett, and the eulogy in memory of Tress May Francis was given by Mrs. Stepp. The Call to Remembrance was read by Mrs. Goble, with the assembly giving the Response, and all reciting the Lord's Prayer. White candles were lit in honor of the deceased members by Mrs. Margaret M. Spradlin, and by the regent, Mrs. Horn. The poem, "Memorial," was read by Dorothy Osborne, and the benediction was given by Mrs. Goble.

In other business, the minutes were read and approved; the treasurer was absent.

The regent announced the recent death of Victor Hale, husband of DAR member Vivian Hamilton Hale.

Chairman material for the current year was distributed by the regent, and Mrs. Brackett issued the new 1989-90 yearbooks.

Pauline Burchett announced that when the weather permits, she, Virginia S. Goble, and Frances Brackett would check on the condition of the grave site of Revolutionary soldier John Graham, who is buried at Emma.

Dorothy Osborne moved that consideration be given to monthly meetings being held on each second Monday next year. The motion carried.

Members attending were Eleanor Horn, Opal May, Virginia Goble, Frances Brackett, Pamela Wolford, Norma Stepp, Margaret Spradlin, Pauline Burchett, Mae Kendrick, and Dorothy Osborne. Guests were Mrs. Josephine Fields and William May, Jr. Refreshments were served by all DAR members.

The next regular monthly meeting has been changed to Monday, Dec. 11, at noon, with a Christmas luncheon to be given at May Lodge. Virginia Goble will be in charge of the program. The guest speaker will be Billie Jean Osborne, retired Betsy Layne High School music instructor, who will present the program, "Destiny of Mountain Music."

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE TO MEET THURSDAY

The Friendship Circle of the First United Methodist Church will meet Thursday evening, Dec. 7 (tomorrow), at 7 o'clock, in the parlor there. All members are urged to attend, and new members will be welcome.

WELCOMED BY BAPTISM

Welcomed by baptism into the fellowship of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) recently, have been Trevor Blackburn, Stephanie McKinley, Candice McKinley, Nicholas McKinley, Christina Carlson, James DeRossett, Blake Leslie, Brett James, and Greg Hicks; by letter: Connie Sammons and Chuck Rowe, and by statement, Justin Billiter. The Rev. Steve Hopkins is the pastor there.

AKERS HOSTS DINNER

Kaye Akers was hostess, at her home on Sunday of last week, to a belated Thanksgiving dinner. Enjoying her hospitality were the Rev. Fred McGinnis, Joalyn Howell, Judy Johnstone, Mr. and Mrs. Kennis Hall, Toda Tackett, Amanda Johnstone, Lois Akers and Allison Akers.

NEW HOMEMAKERS

Welcomed to the Floyd County Homemakers organization recently have been Carol Webb, Beverly Williamson, Matilda Johnson, Bessie Adkins, Artie Meeks, Wanda Sagersee, Joan Tackett, Emogene Marshall, Joann Conn, Shirley Adkins, Earlene Bayes, Judy Clark, Terri Harris Back, Charlotte Sammons, Linda Bartrum, Delisa Howard, Nancy Dingus, Franceen Crum, and Delphia Hicks, members-at-large, and Shelia Setser, and Millie Spurgeon, by the Auxier Homemakers' Club.

MENDED HEARTS MEETS; BIBBLER IS GUEST SPEAKER

The regular meeting of the Big Sandy Area Chapter #220 of Mended Hearts, Inc., was held Tuesday, Nov. 14, at the Highlands Regional Medical Center's cafeteria.

Members attending were Arkansas and Sammie Handshoe, Freddie and Beverly Goble, George and Mosaleete Patton, Joe and Dean Adams, Margaret O'Quinn, Maxine Bierman, Teresa Boyd, Charlotte Adams, Bill Crothers, Garnett Arnett, Sharon Handshoe, Drema Osborne and Zina Goble.

In observance of the Thanksgiving season, the group was entertained with a medley of songs by the Rev. Hondel Adams, pastor of the First Christian Church, here, with the audience participating.

Progress chairman Freddie Goble then introduced Beth Van Bibbler, Northeast Division director of the American Heart Association. The members were delighted to learn that Mended Hearts, a national organization, is supported by the American Heart Association, which is the largest non-government supporter of research of the heart and vessels. The mission of the A.H.A. is to reduce disability and death due to cardiovascular diseases and strokes. This is accomplished through research, programs, and development. Bibbler stated that the American Heart Association would work hand-in-hand with Mended Hearts in the different phases of the heart program.

Visiting chairperson, Charlotte Adams, reported that the visitation program had been activated, and that several visits and telephone calls had been made. These visits, by accredited visitors, who have had special training courses in the proper techniques of visiting, help to answer troubling questions, and to give moral support to patients and their families before and after heart disease treatment or surgery. Visitors, who themselves have undergone heart mending procedures, want to help give strength to persons who may need to overcome their doubts and fears.

The motto of the Mended Hearts Organization is: "It's great to be alive — and to help others."

The next monthly meeting will be held in the Medical Center's cafeteria, Tuesday, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m. Those meetings are open to the public. Persons wishing to help others may join Mended Hearts, or they may just visit the meetings and gain personal knowledge of the effectiveness of methods used to restore proper heart function.

In Copenhagen, Denmark, some brides rent wigs with tresses eight feet long to wear for their weddings.

DAR REGISTRAR, STATE ORGANIZING SECRETARY ATTEND BOARD MEETING

Mrs. Ray Brackett, Kentucky Society State Registrar, Daughters of the American Revolution, and member of the John Graham Chapter, DAR, here, accompanied by Mrs. Samuel Gayheart, state organizing secretary, Hindman, was in Lexington on Nov. 13-14 for the executive board meeting and state management meeting, held at the Springs Inn.

Approximately 90 district directors and chapter regents of Kentucky attended the meeting and luncheon. While in Lexington, they were dinner guests of John and Laura Brackett-Thrasher.

ALLEN REMEMBERED

While participating in funeral services for Woodrow Allen, at the First United Methodist Church here, on Thursday of last week, the Rev. Harold Dorsey stressed the fact that Woodrow attended Alice Lloyd College (then Caney Creek Community Center), and mentioned the benefits received from that school. Then, he added, "Every person I've ever met who attended that institution was neatly dressed, and well-mannered."

On behalf of the many "Caney Girls" and "Caney Boys," the administration and teachers there throughout these years, I would like to say, Thank you, Rev. Dorsey — and may I ask that you please say a little prayer that (the late) Alice Lloyd and June Buchanan heard your kind words?

DEPUTY GRAND MATRON, PATRON TO VISIT DEC. 11

Mollie Hyden, worthy matron of Adah Chapter #24, Order of the Eastern Star, has announced that the Deputy Grand Matron and Deputy Grand Patron will be making their official visit at this lodge on Monday, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. The worthy matron urges all officers and members to attend. She adds that, following this meeting, refreshments will be served.

P'BURG DAY HOMEMAKERS TO HOLD LUNCHEON

Dorothy Stover, president of the Prestonsburg Day Homemakers, reminds members of the annual luncheon to be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Tuesday, Dec. 12, at 11:30 a.m., and she urges all of them to attend.

HALLS ATTEND FUNERAL

Mrs. Palmer L. Hall of Morehead, her daughter Pamela, and Pamela's daughter Mindy, of Georgetown, were here last week for the funeral of their cousin, Woodrow Allen.

THANKSGIVING GUESTS VISIT AREA RESIDENTS

Leatha Joy, Gladys Clifton and Ruth DeRossett entertained to Thanksgiving dinner, at their home on Riverside Drive, having as their guests, Fannie Runnels, Alice Harris, and Bill Runnels, of Prestonsburg, Mr. Runnels' sons, Pierce and Allen Runnels, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and Houston Stephens, of the Middle Creek Road.

DELONGS RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Delong and baby daughter, Rachel, have returned to their home in Atlanta, following a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Salisbury, at Martin, and other relatives and friends.

CLARIFICATION

The name of Ethel Fetterly was unintentionally omitted from the list of officers of the B.S.R.T. last week. Mrs. Fetterly serves as vice president of that group.

SLOAN HAS VISITORS

Roberta Sloan had with her at her home on Arnold Avenue during the Thanksgiving holidays, members of her family, including her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowling, from Stone Mountain, Va.; her granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Bowling from Centre College, Danville; her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Coburn, her grandson, Brian Coburn, and a friend of his, Miss Lucy Koester, all from Louisville; her son, Doug Coburn, and daughter, Johnna Coburn, from Robinson Creek; her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Sparks, from Prestonsburg, and her brother, Doug Fitzpatrick, from Garrett.

MIRIAM REBEKAHS HOLD PARADE OF FASHIONS

Members of Miriam Rebekah Lodge #31 held their second "Parade of Fashions" in early November, at the Lodge Hall, featuring holiday and fall fashions.

Models for this event were Chasity Hamilton, Martha Slone, Cyndy Curtis, Tiffany Goble, Gina Wells, Tera Conn, Angie Conn, Christina Carlson, Kristy Bishop, Dana Stumbo, Katharyne Hale, Lynn Frazier, Jennifer Combs, Sha Stumbo, Nathan Lafferty, Chanda Dingus, Kirstyn D. Dingus, Keri M. Dingus, and Linda Wright.

The fashions presented were furnished by the following stores: B.F. Casual, Lad 'N' Lassie, Raggs Emporium, Brides' Studio, and Dions. Floral arrangements were by Jenny Wiley Florists. Runners for the runways were furnished by Thomas Hyden.

Beverly Hackworth, noble grand, and the other members of this lodge would like to express their appreciation to all who attended and all who contributed in any way to make this such a successful event.

REBEKAHS TO GO CAROLING DEC. 17

Beverly Hackworth, noble grand of Miriam Rebekah Lodge #31, would like to remind members of this lodge that they are to go Christmas caroling at the Mountain Manor and River-view Manor Nursing Homes on Sunday, Dec. 17. She would like for all members who can participate to please call her at 886-3180. She would also like to remind members that on Friday, Dec. 22, members are to help with the Christmas party at Mountain Manor.

Hall, Parsons Say Vows

Debra Lynn Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hall of Grethel, and James Calvin Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Parsons of Harold, were united in marriage Saturday, July 29, at the First Baptist Church at Allen.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The maid of honor was April Ratliff Wiley, a cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids were Gwen Cecil, Rita King and Lisa Meade. Jenny Parsons, niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

Serving as best man was Terry Hall, and the groomsmen were Darrell Castle and Dwayne Gray. The ring bearer was Justine Newsome. Wedding music was provided by Susan Compton of Martin. Cosetta Newsome of Grethel directed the wedding. Cohen E. Campbell of Betsy Layne officiated the ceremony. Melissa Martin and Cosetta Newsome were photographers.

The bride is a student of the Marshall University School of Medicine and the groom will be attending Marshall University in January, majoring in safety technology.

After a honeymoon in Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple is residing in Huntington, W.Va.

Couple To Wed Dec. 26

Rita Cheryl Davis of Dwale announces the forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Tina Marie, to Kevin Brian Williams of Banner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Williams.

Tina Davis, Kevin Williams

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School and Prestonsburg Community College and is currently majoring in elementary education at Pikeville College. She is employed by B & L Furniture Company. She is also the daughter of Jerry W. Davis of Allen, her grandparents are Stella Davis of Dwale and the late Eugene Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kitt Stumbo of Drift.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Betsy Layne High School and is enrolled at Mayo State Vocational Technical School, where he is studying for a career in electronics. He is employed at Food City. His grandparents are Roxie Ratcliff of Lancer and the late Tommy M. Ratcliff and James E. Williams of Prestonsburg and the late Josephine Williams.

The wedding will take place on Tuesday, Dec. 26, at 2 p.m. at the Allen Baptist Church with a reception immediately following the open ceremony in the church's fellowship hall.

QUESTION: I have just been told that I am terminally ill. I have three children all under the age of 14. I know they need to know the truth, but I don't know what to tell them or how. I'm afraid of how they will react. I don't know where to begin.

ANSWER: First, although you have been told you are "terminally ill", we would suggest that you can remain realistic about your illness and still be hopeful and that you can be both realistic and hopeful with your children. No doctor can be absolutely sure what will happen to you, and many people prefer to remain hopeful even though the odds against them are very high.

Begin by understanding that no one knows your children better than you do and that your love for them and understanding of their individual needs will be your best guide. Also, you should not try to handle this alone. Your spouse, close relatives, friends, and minister or rabbi can all help. Ask the social workers at the hospital where you are being treated for their guidance and support. They can help you decide how and what to tell your children and can help watch for any signs that a particular child may need some professional help. You might also be in touch with a teacher or guidance counselor at school so that someone there is aware that this may be a difficult time for your children.

Children react differently depending upon both their age and their individual personalities. One might be angry at you for being ill while another, especially a younger child, might worry that he or she caused your illness, by something he or she said or did. Because of these possible reactions it is important to let your children talk about their feelings. Let them know that they are allowed to ask questions and that you will answer them as honestly and as thoroughly as you can. Tell them as much as you think they can understand. Keep in mind that many times we underestimate how much children can understand. Also remember that children's fantasies can often be much more frightening than the reality of the situation.

Children need to understand that they are still loved, important and will continue to be cared for. Taking the time to listen to a child's triumphs, problems and fears is important. This holds true for adolescents as well as younger children. At times like this, teenagers are sometimes expected to assume responsibilities that are beyond their maturity. If you can avoid imposing too much responsibility on them while maintaining a sense that they are important family members and are still entitled to their independence, you may help to keep their problems to a minimum.

There are a number of free booklets available to help you and your children. For more information, call the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER.

LAMPLIGHTERS MEET, PLAN HOLIDAY DINNER

The Lamplighters' Club met Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 28, at 3:45, at the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), with Patsy Evans in charge. Christmas carols, including "Silent Night," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and "In the Bleak Mid-Winter" were led by Tom Foy, accompanied at the piano by Gay Herrin, and sung by the group, in preparation for a Christmas musical program, to be given soon, at the church. Foy thanked the group for their participation in a recent program there.

Patsy Evans said she had tickets for the "Living Christmas Tree," at the First Christian Church, in Lexington, on Dec. 10, at 4 p.m., and asked members who may be interested to let her know.

The reception for Rhoda and Harmon Tussey, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary, to be held at Friendship Hall of this church, Sunday, Dec. 3, was announced.

It was announced that open house would be held by the Senior Citizens and the G.F.W.C./K.F.W.C. Prestonsburg Woman's Club at Archer Park sometime during the Christmas season, and members, their families and friends were extended an invitation to attend.

Plans were made for the Christmas dinner, to be held at the home of Frankie Best, (who selected the name, "Lamplighters" for this group), Tuesday, Dec. 5. It was decided that members would meet at Fellowship Hall of the church at 3:45 on that date, practice the singing of Christmas hymns briefly, and from there, go to the best home.

Tess Whitmer, from the Floyd County Times, made photographs. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Tom Foy, Gay Herrin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Tussey, Roberta Sloan, Jerry Midkiff, Mr. and Mrs. Delmas Saunders, Goldia Williams, Dixie Webb, Lucy C. Regan, Ada Meade, Sarah Laven, Myrtle Allen, Pearl Robertson, Vivian Fraley, Rebecca Rasmick and Docia Woods.

STEPHENS ATTEND ALLEN FUNERAL

Elsie and Linda Stephens, formerly of Prestonsburg, presently of Lexington, were here last week, attending funeral services for Woodrow Allen, and visiting with their sister, Thelma S. Wallen, and other relatives and friends.

RETIRED TEACHERS' LUNCHEON MEETING DEC. 5

Members of the Big Sandy Retired Teachers' Association are reminded of the luncheon-meeting to be held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Tuesday, Dec. 5, beginning at 10 a.m.

All retired teachers from Floyd, Pike, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Lawrence counties are cordially invited to attend. Further information may be obtained by calling liaison person, Norma S. Stepp, at 886-2419.

Floyd County Retired Teachers are reminded that there will be a luncheon-meeting of this group at May Lodge, Thursday, Dec 7, with registration to begin at 10 a.m., and the meeting at 10:30. An invitation is extended to all Floyd County retired teachers to attend. Persons who may need more information may call Ruby Akers, at 377-6234, Virginia S. Goble, at 874-2325 or Alice Martin, at 285-3030.

BAZAAR NETS $1,700

A Christmas bazaar featuring hand-made items by the Sewing Circle of the First United Methodist Church was held there this past Friday, with proceeds amounting to $1,700. During this time, a luncheon by the Friendship Circle, and a bake sale by the Methodist Church Women, were also successfully held.

HEWLETT RETURNS HOME

Peg Hewlett has returned to her home here, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hewlett, in Lexington, and her sister, Mrs. Malta Culbertson, in Paris, Kentucky.

PRESTON IS HOST TO THANKSGIVING GUESTS

Mrs. J. Frank Preston, formerly of Allen, who now resides at Ulysses, Kentucky, had as her Thanksgiving guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brackett, of Allen; Mayor and Mrs. John D. Preston, of Paintsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Preston Brackett, and daughter Angela Frances of Ulysses.

Rates Keep Existing-Home Sales Steady During October, NAR Reports

Lower mortgage interest rates kept existing-home sales steady in October, according to the National Association of Realtors.

The association recorded a seasonally adjusted annual sales rate of 3.52 million previously-owned single-family homes last month, unchanged from September's revised rate. The resale pace was the highest since January's rate of 3.55 million units.

Mortgage rates fell steadily through October, opening the existing-home market up to a wider income range of buyers, said NAR president Norman D. Flynn.

"Lower rates are sustaining sales at a healthy clip," Flynn said. "Buyers priced out by higher rates earlier this year are in the market now."

According to the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp., the national average commitment rate for 30-year, conventional, fixed-rate mortgages fell from 10.10 percent to 9.82 percent during October.

The national median price for existing single-family homes in October was $92,100, down $2,200 from the previous month, but up 3.6 percent from October 1988. Half the homes sold for more than the median, half for less.

The lower median price is attributable to a larger volume of purchases in the moderate price range, Flynn said. "Buyers of all incomes use lower rates to buy the most they can afford. But, buyers who can enter the market only when rates are low are seldom buying at the upper end," he said.

NAR Chief Economist John A. Tuccillo predicted that mortgage rates will remain low into next year, providing buying opportunities for less affluent buyers and keeping existing-home sales steady.

"Overall, home financing conditions probably will stay quite favorable in the months ahead," Tuccillo said. "But rates can't drop low enough in high-cost areas to make homes affordable to buyers on a tight budget."

In October, there were 2.11 million existing single-family homes available for sale, representing a 7.2-month supply at the October resale rate. In September, an inventory of 2.32 million units was recorded, which was a 7.9-month supply at the September resale rate.

The National Association of Realtors, the nation's largest trade association, is the voice for real estate, representing nearly 800,000 members involved in all aspects of the real estate industry.

Notice of New Rates to Customers of Equitable Gas Company

This notice is to advise customers that Equitable Gas Company, a division of Equitable Resources, Inc., is filing an application with the Public Service Commission of Kentucky to increase its rates for gas service to all customers effective December 29, 1989. Under the rates proposed by the Company, which are set forth in Case No. 89-286, the total bill for a typical residential customer using 126,000 cubic feet per year would increase from approximately $37.92 to $46.77 per month, or 23%. The Public Service Commission may order changes that differ from Equitable's proposal. Such action may result in a different outcome for consumers.

Any corporation, association, body politic, or person may, within thirty (30) days of the issuance of this notice, submit a motion to intervene in this case to the Public Service Commission, 730 Schenkle Lane, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, KY 40602. The motion shall set forth the grounds for the request, including the status and interest of the party.

Intervenors may obtain copies of the application and any testimony by contacting Lawrence B. Nydes, Esq., Equitable Gas Company, 420 Boulevard of the Allies, Pittsburgh, PA 15219. Copies of the application and any testimony are available for public inspection at Equitable's offices in Ashland, Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Maytown, and Hazard, Kentucky.

ORDINANCE #1989-03

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WAYLAND, KENTUCKY IMPOSING A LICENSE FEE UPON INSURANCE COMPANIES FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF ENGAGING IN THE BUSINESS OF INSURANCE WITHIN THE CORPORATE BOUNDARIES OF THE CITY OF WAYLAND FOR CALENDAR YEAR 1989, AND THEREAFTER ON A CALENDAR YEAR BASIS; ESTABLISHING INSURANCE COMPANY LICENSE FEE RATES AS 8% OF THE FIRST YEAR PREMIUMS ON NEW POLICIES, AND 8% OF PREMIUMS OF ALL OTHER INSURANCE, EXCEPT FOR WORKER'S COMPENSATION AND STATE EMPLOYEE GROUP HEALTH INSURANCE POLICIES; AND ESTABLISHING PROCEDURES.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WAYLAND, KENTUCKY

Section 1. On or before the 1st day of January of each year, each insurance company doing business in the City of Wayland, Kentucky shall file with the office of the City Clerk a statement of the total amount of premiums received by it or its representatives during the preceding calendar year for casualty, automobile, inland marine, fire and allied perils, health and life insurance within the corporate limits of the City, less, however, premiums returned to the policyholders and premiums on policies not taken, and less dividends paid or credited to policyholders.

This is a license fee imposed on the insurance companies for the privilege of engaging in the business of insurance within the corporate limits of the City of Wayland for the calendar year 1989, thereafter on a calendar year basis.

Section 2. The license fee imposed upon each life insurance company shall be 8% of the first year premiums received from new policies written upon the lives of persons residing in the corporate limits of the City of Wayland.

Section 3. The license fee imposed upon each insurance company other than specified in Section 2 above shall be 8% of the premiums received by the company on risks located within the corporate limits of the City of Wayland on those classes of business which such company is authorized to transact, less all premiums returned to property holders. The provisions of this Section shall not include premiums received for insuring employers against liability for personal injuries to their employees, or death caused thereby under the provisions of the Workman's Compensation Act, nor the premiums received on policies of the group health insurance provided for state employees pursuant to KRS 18A.225 (2).

Section 4. KRS 91A.080 and the applicable KAR shall govern assessment and collection of such license fees.

Section 5. A penalty of ten percent (10%) of the total fee payable as aforesaid is hereby imposed upon any company failing to make said report or pay said fee when due, and upon failure of any such company to make said report or pay the said fee, as required by this ordinance, upon the due date aforesaid, all such fee and such penalty shall immediately become due and payable. This section shall become applicable for Calendar 1990 and calendar years thereafter.

Section 5. This ordinance shall take effect on January 1, 1990, after passage, approval and publication as required by law.

Passed and approved this Third day of October, 1989.

PATRICIA MURPHY
Mayor, City of Wayland
ATTEST
CAROL STAPLETON
Clerk, City of Wayland
