

It Might As Well Be Spring

This flowering bush in a yard on Third Avenue in Prestonsburg just couldn't wait. It's blooming this week as if spring has arrived. The unseasonable weather, with daytime temperatures in the upper 50s and 60s, has a lot of people—not just plants—wondering what's going on. Turning up the heat at night and scraping frosted windshields in the morning is about as close as Floyd Countians have come to winter in the past month. But don't put the snow shovel in storage yet—it's only February.

Grand Jury Returns Murder, Manslaughter, Drug Indictments

Two persons were indicted for charges of murder and another for first degree manslaughter by Floyd Circuit Court Grand Jury recently.

Charged with murder was Gary Ratliff of Pikeville, for the shooting death of William Lloyd Hall in June 1988 at a Toler's Creek nightclub. The shooting followed an apparent fight between the two men.

John Jarrell of Banner was indicted on two counts of murder for the deaths of Roy and Louverla Adams in December after Jarrell's truck collided with the Grethel couple's vehicle on US 23 near Harold.

Indicted on charges of first degree manslaughter was Karen Couch, 30, of Prestonsburg. Couch is accused in the shooting death Nov. 16 of James R. Hudson at their residence near Dewey Dam, following an apparent domestic argument.

Five persons were indicted on drug-related charges. Michael J. Garbacz of Ypsilanti, Mich., was charged on two counts of trafficking in controlled substances. He was arrested on Oct. 26 for possession with intent to sell LSD and cocaine.

Ronald Gene George of Prestonsburg was also indicted for trafficking in a controlled substance. He is accused of two counts of selling LSD.

Tom Hagans of Martin was charged on two counts of trafficking in a schedule II controlled substance, cocaine. Indicted for trafficking in marijuana was Jimmy Key, no address listed.

Seven counts of obtaining a controlled substance by uttering a forged prescription were levied against Bradley Price, no address listed. Each of the charges involve forged prescriptions for dolophine and dilaudid, both schedule II narcotics, between June 6 and Aug. 30, 1983.

Indictments were issued to three persons on charges of wanton endangerment. Kenneth R. Boyd of Pikeville was charged with first degree wanton endangerment for allegedly driving his car into a school bus on Nov. 16 while he was intoxicated.

Also charged with first degree wanton endangerment was Bee Johnson of Caney Creek/Risner, who was accused of shooting at State Police Troopers Stacey Trees and Lloyd Stapleton last June.

One count of first degree wanton endangerment was filed against Jerry Elliott of McDowell for allegedly shooting Carson Akers. Elliott was also charged with third degree assault for striking Ballard Mosley with a stool top.

Other grand jury indictments and charges made were:

—Samuel Bentley, Mousie (Knott County), theft by deception, by allegedly issuing a check to Jimmie Hall for $325, knowing said check would not be honored by bank drawn on;

—Gary Blackburn, Auxier; Jack Nelson, Salyersville; Gerald Ray Maynard and Rodney Bryan Blackburn, both of Endicott, theft by unlawful taking, arrested for taking cable valued at more than $100 belonging to South Central Bell Telephone;

—Clyde Boyd, no address available, theft by failure to make required disposition of property when he apparently obtained $30,000 from Brian Fuls to buy a coal mine and thereafter dealing with said money as his own and failing to make required payment for disposition of said money;

—Timmy Bryant, Mud Creek, theft by deception by reportedly cashing a check at Minnie Liquors for $400, knowing said check would not be honored by bank drawn on;

—Michael Landon Burchett, Banner, allegedly receiving stolen prop-

School's Out

After one day's attendance earlier this week, school is again dismissed in Floyd County — this time, until further notice, according to Superintendent Ronald Hager.

Hager said that 18 percent of the district's students (1,660) were absent Monday due to a widespread flu epidemic.

District officials will continue to talk with Floyd County Health Department officials and area physicians to determine when school will be back in session.

"We're taking this on a day-by-day basis," said Hager, who hopes classes will resume late this week or early next week.

Brock, State Officials To Attend Board Meeting

by Anne Chaney
Editor

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. John Brock will attend tonight's Floyd County Board of Education meeting, bringing with him eight state department officials — including some members of an assistance team formed by Brock to help the beleaguered local district.

According to Jim Parks, spokesman for the state Department of Education, Brock will address the local board at 7 p.m. tonight during its regular meeting at the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria.

However, Dr. Betty Steffy, state deputy superintendent for instruction, will explain to the board the state's role in the day-to-day affairs of the district. State officials moved into the Floyd system earlier this month, after the Kentucky Board of Education voted to move the district from phase two to phase three of the academic bankruptcy law.

Attending the meeting with Brock and Steffy will be Dr. Steve Henderson, associate superintendent for instruction; Linda Hargan, assistant superintendent for exceptional children; Kay Freeland, director of curriculum; Kay Anne Wilborn, assistant to Dr. Henderson; Dr. Dan Branham, deputy superintendent for research and planning; H.M. Snodgrass, associate superintendent for research and planning; and Arnold Guess, deputy superintendent for administration.

Allen Man Indicted In Counterfeiting Scam

An Allen man was among five people indicted in federal court in Huntington, W. Va. last week.

Rick Birchfield, 31, operator of Southern Truck Parts, was indicted on three counterfeiting charges, along with John P. McCoy, 42, of Slater's Branch (Pike County), and Debbie Farley, 35, of Fort Gay, WV.

McCoy, Harold D. Runyon, 39, of Forest Hills (Pike County) and Doyle David Moore, 26, of Lovely (Martin County) were also charged in the indictment with armed bank robbery and witness intimidation.

Last summer, Birchfield allegedly purchased a laser color copier from an Ashland dealer which was used to produce about $800,000 in counterfeit US and Canadian bills. Shortly after the purchase, a fake burglary was staged at his Allen business, and the copier was moved to a Pike County location, according to an article published in the Williamson (WV) Daily News.

When Columbus, Ohio, police arrested three persons for attempting to pass the counterfeit bills, the copier was moved to Fort Gay and later to Mingo County, W. Va. Birchfield apparently purchased a second copier to provide spare parts for the original copier.

The Floyd County man was not implicated in the robbery and intimidation charges. McCoy allegedly masterminded a string of robberies which included banks in West Virginia and Pike County and the theft of materials from a railroad yard, the article said.

Birchfield, who was arrested Thursday, was released on personal recognizance bond before US

Magistrate Joseph Hood in Ashland. Birchfield would not comment to the Floyd County Times about the indictment.

Reportedly joining the FBI in the investigation were West Virginia and Kentucky state police, US Secret Service, Pike County Sheriff's Department and detectives with Norfolk and Western Railway Co.

Jarrell Indicted On Murder Charges In Connection With Grethel Fatalities

Floyd Circuit Court grand jury last week indicted John Jarrell, 21, of Banner on two charges of murder, stemming from a traffic collision on Dec. 10 that took the lives of a Grethel couple.

According to the indictment, Jarrell's blood alcohol level was .26 when the pick-up truck he was driving collided with a vehicle driven by Roy Adams on US 23 near Harold. Kentucky law considers a person with a blood alcohol level of .10 to be legally drunk.

Adams died at the scene and his wife, Louverla Adams, died a week later at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington. The couple's five children were injured in the crash.

The indictment on each count accuses Jarrell of driving a vehicle into the opposite lane while under the influence of alcohol.

Jarrell also sustained injuries in the collision. He was released Jan. 26 from the UK Medical Center, according to a center spokesperson.

Utility Employees Cited For Gas Outage Work

In a special meeting Monday, Prestonsburg City Council members voiced appreciation to the city's utility employees for their work late last week to correct problems with the municipal gas system that affected nearly all city residents.

According to Bill Harvey Howard, utilities superintendent, the problem arose when another company was treating a well on Middle Creek with nitrogen. The nitrogen migrated to an adjacent well operated by Basin Energy Co., the city's supplier.

Nitrogen, which does not burn, displaced natural gas in the city's system, causing Prestonsburg utilities workers to cut off most main lines, residential and business meters in the city. The lines were purged and replenished with new natural gas.

"We've never experienced anything like this before," said Howard.

After purging the system, employees continued to work — some for as many as 32 hours — to turn meters back on and re-light residential furnaces in the city.

The nitrogen affected about 1,000

In Monday's meeting, city council members thanked utility employees, including Howard, Assistant Superintendent Seldon Horne, Janet Whitten, Ann Moore, Phyllis Spradlin, Robert Barnett, Billy Robinson, Avery Goble, Billy Goble, Russell Music Jr., Martin Tussey, Connie Thompson, Tony Hall, Gleneth Blackburn, Donald Compton Jr. and Henry McKenzie.

"It was an unfortunate accident, and it is commendable the way it was handled (by utilities workers)," said Mayor Ann Latta. "They got everything shut off within three hours, and worked up to 32 hours to get it back on. It is a very long procedure, and they missed some during the night and had to go back."

Latta also thanked Prestonsburg residents for their patience, as well as the Department for Emergency Services, police and fire personnel, who were on alert or had arranged shelter accommodations to be used if necessary.

In other business at Monday's meeting, council members approved an emergency services contract with the City of Paintsville for use of one of the city's fire trucks. Paintsville was left without adequate equipment due to mechanical problems.

The city will loan Paintsville an unused truck on a week-to-week basis for $1 weekly, provided Paintsville purchases all insurance for the vehicle.

In other business, the council accepted a bid of $19,792 for a new dump truck. The bid was submitted by R.F. Steiner and Co. of Huntington, W. Va. Only one other bid, that of D&W Sales, Inc., of Knoxville, Tenn., was submitted. That bid was for $19,995.

Candidate's Name Omitted

Due to a reporting error in last week's list of candidates, Dennis Laferty of Water Gap, candidate for Magistrate, District 1, was omitted.

Also, Richard G. Hall, candidate for County Judge Executive, requested that he be listed as "Dickie" Hall and John M. Stumbo, candidate for County Judge Executive, is a resident of Harold

Festival: Floyd County FACES

Clara Gorrell and Betty Schuster, both of Prestonsburg, are the winners of $50 each, after submitting winning entries to name the county-wide festival planned in May.

The new festival's name, according to festival board director James O. Vanhoush, is "Floyd County FACES." FACES is an acronym for family, arts, culture and entertainment in the spring — all facets of the May event.

Both Gorrell and Schuster submitted entries using the FACES acronym, and will receive $50 from The Floyd County Times, sponsor of the name-the-festival contest.

The festival's board of directors next meets on Thursday, Feb. 2, at 5 p.m. in the Courthouse Annex in Prestonsburg.

Ankrom To Head State Miner Training

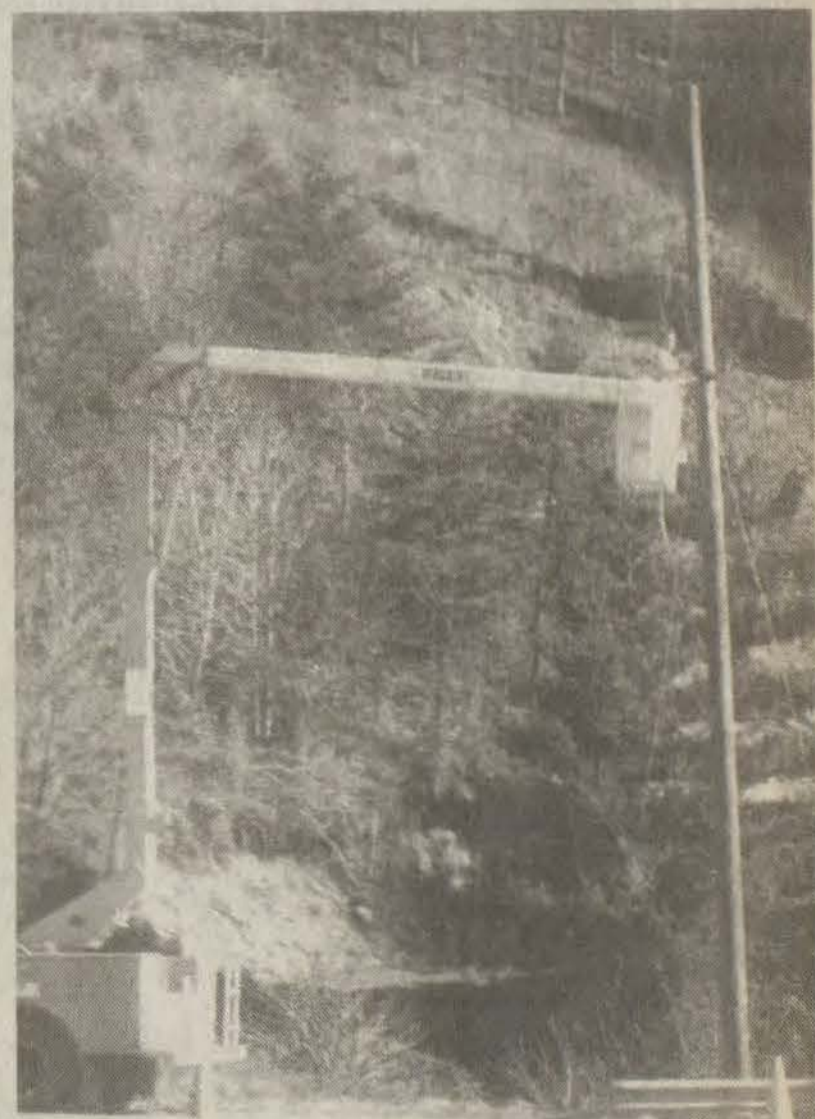

Carl R. Ankrom, a native of Floyd County, has been named director of the Division of Miner Training, Education and Certification for the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, according to Commissioner Willard Stanley.

Named director of the Division of Oil and Gas Conservation was D. Michael Wallen of Paintsville, a graduate of Morehead State University. Wallen has been active in the oil and gas industry for 13 years.

Ankrom has worked for Mines and Minerals since 1984, where he most recently served as director of the Mine Safety Analysis Division. In his new position, he will oversee the training and certification of nearly 20,000 Kentucky coal miners.

"We are pleased that Carl will be involved with this division," said Stanley of Ankrom's appointment. "He is very knowledgeable of the coal industry and this agency, and he will continue to be an important member of our staff."

Theodore T. Colley, secretary of the public protection and regulation cabinet which oversees the Department of Mines and Minerals, called the two appointments "good for the department and the industry. Mr. Wallen and Mr. Ankrom bring outstanding credentials and experience with them, and we can expect good things from them and the entire department."

New Traffic Light

A traffic crew from the Pikeville office of the Kentucky Department of Transportation is busy setting poles and stringing cable to install a traffic light at the junction of U.S. 23S and the West Prestonsburg road. Ronnie Hall, electrician foreman, secured cable to the pole yesterday. Jim Wright, DOT traffic engineer, estimates the construction will be complete within the next two weeks. Detectors to trigger the lights when vehicles are departing Archer Park and the West Prestonsburg road have already been installed under the pavement.

Floyd Woman Arrested On Pornography Charges

A Floyd County woman was arrested last week in Johnson County for a range of charges, including possession of pornographic materials.

Melanie Kinglesmith, 32, of Rice Branch, Prestonsburg, was charged with possession and distribution of obscene materials, illegal possession of fireworks, and receiving stolen property. She was arrested at Kentucky Wholesale in Oil Springs.

According to Trooper Ken Frost of the Kentucky State Police confiscated about $10,000 worth of fireworks and about $4,000 worth of pornographic materials, including magazines and tapes.

Also in connection with the arrest, police confiscated a 1988 Ford Ryder rental truck which had reportedly been stolen in Cincinnati.

State police Det. Paul Estep and Tprs. Dave Wallen, Paul LeMaster and Jerry Province were assisted by the Johnson County Sheriff's Dept. in the case.

Dwale Controversy Continues

by Vickie Gibson
Staff Reporter

The residents of Dwale continued to voice their concerns of fumes escaping from a plant in the area at a meeting Monday night.

State Rep. Greg Stumbo, who attended, said he intends to call for a full investigation. Stumbo told residents he would "get answers" and plans to meet with them again Monday, Feb. 6 at 6 p.m.

Stumbo also expressed concern about the lack of an access road in the community. If hazardous conditions exist, residents could be trapped during an emergency, he said.

David Chaffins, a representative for Disaster Emergency Services in Floyd County, said there had been no report of hazardous materials being hauled to or from the plant, although residents feel that there are. An accident report of a truck carrying hazardous materials from the plant was brought to his attention by residents, and Chaffins said he would notify necessary officials.

Phyllis Fields, a resident, said she "feels better" about the situation, adding, "now, we might be getting something done."

While state officials with the Environmental Protection Agency's water and soil divisions visited the Dwale sites earlier this month, no report results were available as of presstime.

Bob Hager, vice president of operations for Kentucky West Virginia Gas, said last week that a slight odor is emitted from the Dwale plant, but added it was "nothing irregular."

"If we're creating an odor problem, we'll do what we can to cure it," he said. Although a consultant was hired to visit the site, "he didn't find anything really wrong," said Hager.

Attends Meeting

State Rep. Greg Stumbo addresses residents of Dwale at a meeting concerning emission of gas fumes from a nearby plant.

Material Questioned

prise the assistance team so far, said Parks. Gover will work with the district's finances, while Steffy and Henderson will address curriculum and programs.

Parks said while questions from the public will not be allowed during the meeting, individuals may contact members of the state assistance team through Hager's office, or call the state's Teacher Hotline toll-free, 1-800-252-7776. Parks said the hotline is operated around the clock seven days a week.

In addition to addressing the state's role in the Floyd school system, local board members are expected to hear a recommendation by Hager to approve reallocating school construction funds to provide more money for three projects already underway.

Hager said Tuesday that he would ask the board to move phase two construction funds to phase one to provide additional monies for three current projects — Allen Elementary, Garrett-Wayland Elementary, and the McDowell-Wheelwright High School.

Hager said more than $5.8 million was allocated to phase two projects, which cannot be begun until phase one projects are completed.

By reallocating those funds to phase one projects, Hager hopes to be able to move more quickly on construction already underway.

The Allen Elementary project's funding would increase from $2,916,000 to $3,504,800, while Garrett-Wayland would increase from $3,420,000 to $4,125,550. Funds for the proposed McDowell-Wheelwright High School would rise from $4,410,000 to $5,912,140.

Hager said the reallocation amounts, if approved by the board, would reflect the maximum amount of money available.

"We would not necessarily spend all of that money," he said. "If we didn't, it would go back to phase two."

The six or seven projects currently slated in phase two of the construction schedule will be re-funded by the 1990 Legislature, said Hager.

"In actuality, we couldn't have done them anyway — we have to complete phase one before we move into phase two," he added.

County Fire Season Getting An Early Start

Lack of rainfall last summer and this winter is contributing to an early forest fire season in Floyd County, according to Steve Barrett, district forester with the Kentucky Division of Forestry in Prestonsburg.

"We normally don't have any fires this time of year," explained Barrett. "They usually start the last week of February or the first week of March."

At least four fires have been reported in the Hueysville area — one burning more than 45 acres of woodland — while others have been reported at Buck's Branch and Spewing Camp.

In Hueysville, four fires have been reported near Rt. 7 since last Friday. A Saturday fire burned eight acres, while another nearby on Sunday burned 45 acres. Other fires reported overlapped or adjoined the acreage that burned previously, said Barrett. As late as Tuesday afternoon, another fire was reported in the area.

A separate fire burned about 20 acres at Buck's Branch, and a half-acre fire was reported at Spewing Camp, located between Price and McDowell.

Barrett said much of the damage could have been contained if the Forestry Division had been notified. He said officials did not know about the Buck's Branch blaze until about seven hours after it began. The Spewing Branch fire was reported immediately, he said, and was contained to about a half-acre.

Three other fires have been reported in Pike County, and one in Letcher.

"These fires are not that hard to put out," said Barrett, "but if someone sees them and doesn't call in, they get big."

Barrett said fires may be reported to the Forestry Division by calling 886-8562; after hours, residents should contact the local fire department, which will contact forestry personnel.

Barrett said the fires in the county to date have been "half and half" — half set on purpose, half beginning while residents burned debris.

Restricted burning times are currently not in force, he said, but regulations still require that fires be attended, and that an area around the fire be cleared for safety purposes. No specific limit is mandated for clearing.

Forestry officials can issue citations for woodland fires, with fines ranging from $100 to $500.

Vet Referral Service Noted In TV Program

WSAZ Television (Channel 3) of Huntington, W.Va., will air a four-part series about the Veterans' Referral Service in Paintsville during its 6 and 11 p.m. broadcasts Feb. 6-7, according to Gene Wallace, executive director of the referral service.

The title of the series is "Welcome Home — Finally."

Wallace said the referral service serves 23 counties in the Seventh Congressional District, with more than 18,000 veterans in WSAZ's seven-county viewing area in Eastern Kentucky, including Floyd County.

Power Outage Affects Area RECC Customers

A power outage caused by loss of transmission from Kentucky Power Co. affected approximately 1,500 customers of Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative Corp. early Monday morning.

According to a spokeswoman for Big Sandy RECC, power was off in the lower part of Floyd County for about three hours.

Among the areas affected were Bull Creek, Abbott Creek, Middle Creek, Cow Creek and Spurlock.

Utility Hikes Approved

The Public Service Commission approved two rate increases to a Floyd County utility supplier, according to Mary M. Mulloy, state PSC spokeswoman.

The commission granted East Kentucky Utilities a purchased gas adjustment to reflect a $16,640 increase in wholesale costs from its supplier, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Co. The increase will result in an average annual increase per residential customer of $15.70, effective Jan. 24.

In a separate action, the PSC granted East Kentucky Utilities a purchased gas adjustment to reflect a $20,532 increase in wholesale costs from its supplier, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Co. The average annual increase per residential customer is $19.38, effective Feb. 1.

Both increases are subject to refunds due to Kentucky West Virginia's rates being subject to refund at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

Letters To The Editor

'Huck' Francis Remembered By Reader

Dear Editor,
His life was more than the many accomplishments for which he received appreciation and notoriety. I must know, since I knew him from his baby days. I saw him in the cradle at home and on the avenue when his mother wheeled him in the pram.
He was probably as feisty as most little boys, but his looks and actions always were somewhat timid—always respecting of others. Like most little boys, he grew up to become a respected gentleman in the community. But while he was still a little boy, I saw him frequently in the Francis Cash Store (I believe in the Layne building) on Court Street.

He entered the Kentucky Military Institute at age 15 and was a graduate at 17. He was an active boy at KMI: line sergeant, chapel reader, rifle medal, junior varsity football, basketball, track, tennis and baseball. One might suppose that his "chapel reading" led him closer to the Almighty, for in future years it proved to be a cardinal interest as lay teacher and ordained minister. Also, as an alumnus of KMI, it can be said that no one graduated from KMI at Lyndon without first showing the spirit of character of which he was so worthily endowed. For the motto of the school was "Character Makes the Man." But his alma mater never taught him this. There was already something in his makeup that symbolized this one august expression—for Ruth, his devoted mother, reared him well.

There was never a time when I called on him for a personal favor which was denied. He was ever obliging, always ready to share himself with someone else. There are several KMI graduates and former cadets in Eastern Kentucky, particularly in Prestonsburg, who surely know the value of a sustained camaraderie through the years. At the early death of Hubbard C. Francis Jr., both his "character" and "camaraderie"—the total meaning of his wondrous outlook on life—were never-failing, enduring in friendship and the love of God unto his end.
Sincerely,
James Darwin Stephens

Parents Urged To Attend Meetings

Dear Editor,
What does it take to get parents and concerned citizens, for the handicapped children or adults, to join our parent's support group for the handicapped?

A child or adult with a learning disability or a severe multi-handicap needs their parents and others' concern and support. The Parents Support Group Center is in the MCC center building on the third floor, in Prestonsburg. Meetings are held on Thursdays at 11 a.m. We have put out letters to parents through schools, had public announcements on radio and announcements in the paper.
It is my understanding that there are about 800 (handicapped) children in the Floyd County School System, and many that are not of school age—either too old or young. At the meeting on Jan. 21, we had 11 parents and interested citizens. This doesn't even cover 10 percent of the parents with handicapped children.
Wake up and help your children or adults with handicaps! These meetings will benefit you as well, by having someone to talk to who has similar problems. For more information about our support group call 886-8572, Monday to Thursday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
Leesa Powers,
Parent of one handicapped child and two non-handicapped children.

Social Workers Receive Low Pay

Dear Editor,
Recently there has been a great deal of controversy concerning low salaries paid to teachers. I agree that teachers deserve greater remuneration for the service they provide to our community, but there is another profession requiring just as much education, selfless service, devotion and caring as teachers.
This group of professionals receives even less money for working 12 months a year, at least 40 hours a week and is on call weekends and holidays. I am referring to social workers.
These dedicated professionals daily encounter victims of child abuse, spouse abuse, alcoholism and adolescent crisis where their lives are placed in danger. There have been instances where social workers have suffered dog bites, beatings and even death by gunshot.

The starting salary for a licensed social worker with the Cabinet for Human Resources is $13,856 per year. The starting salary for beginning teachers in Floyd County is $16,710 per year.

To me, the discrepancy seems outrageous. Fortunately, those persons who choose to be social workers realize that the emotional fulfillment they receive when they discover they have made a tremendous impact on the lives of some of their clients far outweighs any monetary compensations. There are many professions which pay much more for less education than social work, but there are none more rewarding.

Sincerely,
Billie Goble

We would like to thank Judge John M. Stumbo for upgrading our county road, which is located at number Six Bottom below Garrett.

We would also like to thank Dude Hagans and Mike Stumbo for their fantastic job in upgrading the road.

It seems strange not to hit large potholes and have water almost cover the side of your car. Without the help of the county judge last spring, we would not have been able to get out to the store or any other place.

Again, many thanks to these people.

Reader Complains About Game Officer

Dear Editor,
I have been informed by reliable sources that there is an investigation of a conservation officer (game warden) in Floyd County for violation of game laws, as well as trying to force his way on private property.

I have read the complaint that has been filed with the proper authority in Frankfort. Talking to the witnesses about this situation, the statements made can be considered to be true: that the game warden was trying to exercise authority which he or no other conservation officer possesses.

An understanding of what a conservation officer is and what authority they possess would help everyone involved in this situation.

Conservation officers are peace officers to the extent of the enforcement of the fish and game laws. They have express statutory authority to arrest, without a warrant, any citizen whom they observe in the act of violating such laws, including entering private property to enforce game laws, provided that the offense is committed in their presence.

Although state law states that all persons charged with enforcement may enter, cross over, be upon and remain upon privately owned lands to enforce laws or orders of the department relating to game or fish, no liability shall be incurred by any person charged or directed in the enforcement of this chapter.

This section does not clothe conservation officers with blanket authority to enter upon or pass over private property without the consent of the owner.

Any peace officer, before entering private property to make a search, must have a search warrant, unless he is pursuing someone that is known to have committed a crime and has seen the person enter private property.

The Kentucky Supreme Court defined this section of the Kentucky Constitution to mean search was legal when made by trespassing on defendant's private property. Also, since under this section search warrants could not be issued except upon affidavit of some other person other than issuing officer, justices of the peace have no official duty to prepare such affidavit. Also, a John Doe warrant without description of premises and name of owner is not valid.

The reasons for requiring that an affidavit be filed as a prerequisite to the issuance of a search warrant are to enable the officer to determine whether probable cause exists for issuing the warrant, and to fix responsibility for civil redress or criminal prosecution in the event of a false accusation.

The Supreme Courts of this country have always upheld the rights of private property owners given by the United States and the Kentucky Constitution.

To a degree, every law in our government emanates from authority conferred by the exercise of police power. However, that broad scope of power is subject to the Bill of Rights in our federal and state constitutions. Thus, a county or city, while enacting ordinances in the interest of the public safety, health, welfare or convenience, may not abridge the individual liberties secured by the constitutions.

If a city or county cannot pass an ordinance, nor the state or federal government a law, to intrude upon private property without a search warrant, where does this game warden think he gets his authority? To demand a key from one person to a gate on another person's property, and have this man summoned into court without a warrant or citation to answer to a charge of interfering with a peace officer, because he did not get a key to someone else's property.

No peace officer has any statutory authority to intrude upon private property for the purpose of searching it without a search warrant or the owner's permission, regardless whether the peace officer is searching for a tin can or hunters without proper license, as a search warrant must describe the place to be searched, and the person or thing to be seized.

It appears that this situation is being swept under the rug, as other situations I have knowledge of, by people either connected to or involved in politics.

Sincerely,
Billy Arms
East Point

(Editor's note: The Floyd County Times talked with Col. Paul Oliver, director of law enforcement for the State Department of Fish and Wildlife, regarding the allegations in this letter. Oliver said that department officers do have statutory authority to go on private property to uphold the hunting and fishing laws of the state. Oliver also said that his assistant has been interviewing persons in Floyd and Johnson counties concerning the allegations, but has been unable to "pin anybody down" about the allegations. He said the assistant is checking leads and, to date, has encountered only "hearsay" evidence. Should an officer be found guilty of misusing his authority, Oliver said he will be reprimanded by the department.)

Official Thanks All Who Helped During Water Crises

Dear Editor,

During the latter part of November and the first few days of December 1988, our town, as well as Bypro and Burton, were without water due to the disappearance of our water from the source. We still don't know where the water went, or why, but a study is being done to try to determine the answers.

In the meantime, we've laid over 8,000 feet of new line, through the mountain, out on the other side, under the highway and into another mountain, to reach another source of water.

This sounds like a super-human endeavor, and it was; this could not have been done without the help of numerous persons and companies. The governor, by declaring it an emergency enabled us to get equipment and men from the National Guard. Bill Callahan, DES, spent some crucial time with us, coordinating the emergency help. County Judge John M. Stumbo was instrumental in our obtaining needed equipment and supplies and Magistrate Betty Caudill provided supplies and transportation for those supplies.

The State Department of Mines and Minerals, represented by Willard Stanley and Richard Watts, made mine inspectors available, almost around the clock, to assure our safety as we proceeded through the mines. Mr. Watts and Kenneth Meade, through their knowledge of various sources for needed equipment and supplies, were invaluable to this great effort.

Paul Gearheart, Harold Telephone Company and South Central Bell, each delivered over 8,000 feet of power line to us and they absorbed the cost. Because we needed underground communication equipment, National Mines of Wayland donated mine phones for our use.

Roger Recktenwald of Big Sandy ADD helped throughout this crisis by coordinating with FmHA, from whom we had obtained a water loan and grant, and helping with the plans of each stage of the operation. L.J. Horne of Kentucky Power made a crew available to hang an emergency power drop, and moved it to a different location as needed. The City of Pikeville sent equipment and a crew to flush our sewer mains.

Denzil Allen, Civil Air Patrol, made members of the Job Corps available to help distribute drinking water to the four communities we serve. In addition, they unloaded the water from the trucks that delivered it.

Those donating drinking water were Anheiser-Busch, Green Acres from West Virginia and Nello Francis of Francis Water Company. The delivery services for the water were provided by Brown Produce and Perry Distributing, Inc. Woody Fugate, a resident of Ashland, heard of our disaster and loaded his vehicle with bottled water and drove to Wheelwright to deliver it.

Katie Newsome, Christian Appalachian Project, made the facilities of the Youth Center available to house and feed the National Guardsmen. Sterling Tackett provided mining equipment that helped make it possible for us to lay the line through the mines.

We extend our appreciation and heartfelt thanks to all of the aforementioned.

Last, but not least, our customers reacted to this situation with patience and fortitude—traits attributed often to mountaineers. They've made us proud to be one of them. Our office received numerous calls regarding the status of the emergency, and with few exceptions, each asked if there was anything they could do to help.

By their actions, our people proved these weren't empty offers. Those who had a means to do so hauled bath water and water to wash clothes, not only for themselves, but for many others. "Boots" Hill and her children spent days helping distribute drinking water and hauling bath and wash water for others. Hollis Daniels of Burton, used his vehicle to distribute drinking water. Paul H. Thompson of IGA donated groceries to help feed the Guard. Ladies of the community, too numerous to name, cooked and baked for the National Guard and any other volunteers at mealtime.

Words cannot express our pride in the people of these communities. They practice what they preach and have demonstrated they believe in "people helping people."

Sincerely,
Robert R. Johnson, Chairman
Wheelwright Utility Commission

School Counseling Week

Floyd County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo, seated, recently proclaimed Feb. 6-10 "School Counseling Week" in Floyd County. Stumbo cited Floyd counselors for their work, calling it "an essential part of the educational process for each student." Shown with Stumbo are Floyd counselors and school officials.

Commodity Distribution Feb. 2

On Thursday, Feb. 2, the Big Sandy Area Community Action Program will be giving out commodities, such as beans, flour and butter, to qualified low-income people in Floyd County, according to Loretta Newsome, Floyd County CAP coordinator.

USDA's Emergency Assistance Program is available to all eligible recipients regardless of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap.

Applications will be taken and commodities given out at the following locations: at the Convention Center in Stumbo Park at Allen; at the Senior Citizen's Center at Wheelwright; and at the Mud Creek Clinic at Grethel.

Distribution will start at 8 a.m. and will continue until all commodities are given out. Applicants must show identification that shows a valid social security number, said Newsome.

Persons unable to pick up commodities may authorize another person to be their representative. The applicant can pick up for themselves and one other person. The representative must show a signed, dated statement that includes January's total income, address and number in family.

Elderly and handicapped will have priority.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Big Sandy CAP Office at Allen at 874-2965.

Minor Accidents Reported

Several recent accidents resulted in no injuries, according to officials at the Prestonsburg Police Department.

On Friday, Jan. 27, John Austin was stopped in traffic on North Lake Drive when a car driven by Daniel Moon of Louisa struck Austin's car in the rear. Patrolman Ralph Frasure stated.

Minor damage was done to both cars.

In a separate accident the same day, Caren M. Clark of David was attempting to exit onto KY 1428 when she struck the vehicle of James Meade of Paintsville, said officer Jim Mullins. Clark said her brakes failed.

In an accident on Wednesday, Jan. 25, Bryan Spears of Prestonsburg was attempting to exit onto KY 1428 from Bert Combs Drive when he hit the vehicle of Timothy Trusty of East Point.

Officer Mullins said Spears failed to yield right of way.

Also on Wednesday, Alonzo Ousley of Prestonsburg was pulling onto KY 1428 and Vincent Parsons of Honaker was exiting off of the same road when the two vehicles collided, according to Officer Woodrow Lafferty.

In an accident which occurred on US 23 on Tuesday, Jan. 24, a Minnesota Hertz Company furniture truck driven by Thomas C. Tucker was sideswiped by a coal truck, said Mullins.

The coal truck did not stop and Tucker could not get a license plate number.

In a fire report, the Department of Human Resources workers arrived at work Monday to find the bottom floor of the building filled with smoke, according to Fire Chief Tom Blackburn.

Firefighters were sent to the building and, after a search, determined smoke was coming from dust and lint buildup in the furnace. (The furnace was shut down until it could be cleaned.)

Pedestrian Killed In McDowell

A Grethel man died Jan. 19 when he walked into the path of a pick-up truck travelling east on KY 122 at McDowell.

Harvey Hall, 72, died at 8:10 a.m. at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. He was struck at about 7:20 a.m. by a pick-up truck driven by Ricky Hall, 40, of Drift, according to State Police Trooper Ken Frost.

The victim, who was no relation to the driver, reportedly had just left a restaurant across from the hospital, where his wife was a patient, when he stepped into the path of the truck.

No charges have been filed in the accident, which was investigated by Tpr. Lee Weddington.

Funeral services for Harvey Hall, who is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter, were Sunday at Samaria Regular Baptist Church at Teaberry, with burial in the Parsons Cemetery at Grethel.

(Pol. adv. paid by the candidate, 2-1-11pd.)

CITIZENS:
 JUST A FEW KNOWN FACTS ABOUT OUR JAILING SYSTEM:

1. Lack of medical attention resulted in the death of one inmate who suffered a heart attack.
2. Weak System—jail escapes, suicidal attempts and, yes, even suicide committed in our Floyd County jail.
3. Brutality—you decide.
4. Weak management—a state takeover has threatened us.
5. Hunger strikes—inmates trying to starve themselves due to lack of decent meals to eat.

Citizens, we all know there have been problems in our current Floyd County jail system.

Citizens, inmates serve time for crimes committed to pay their debts to society but they also need protection. With a stronger security system we can prevent inmates from hurting one another or even themselves. Citizens, hasn't Floyd County had enough Hale for so many years? How much money has the county insurance had to pay out for our current jailer's irresponsibilities and negligence which our tax monies are used to provide? It has been thousands of dollars too much. The Floyd County jail should be a lodging facility for inmates that have committed crimes, big or small. Let's abolish this Hale Motel and turn it back into our Floyd County jail.

Elect Me,
JR. JOSEPH
 For
FLOYD COUNTY JAILER

I CAN AND WILL MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN OUR FLOYD COUNTY JAIL SYSTEM.

Judge/Executive's Duties Varied

by Pam Shingler
Assistant Editor

If county government were a business, the judge/executive would be the president of the company, or its chairman of the board.

In many ways, county government is a business. It provides services for fees (taxes). It employs personnel to administer the services. It purchases supplies and equipment needed to provide the services, and it must be accountable to its "shareholders" — the citizens who pay for and receive its services and elect its leaders.

A more appropriate title for the top county official would be simply county executive or county administrator. The present title is a holdover from the era when the office holder had judicial responsibilities, which were eliminated when the Judicial Amendment of 1975 reorganized the state's court system.

At that time, the judge/executive's administrative duties were strengthened, but the archaic title remained, according to County Government in Kentucky, a publication of the Legislative Research Commission.

The judge/executive presides over fiscal court and oversees the county's finances. His or her arm of responsibility touches almost every county office and function. It is a powerful, pressurized, full-time job requiring keen financial skills, clear judgment, honesty, and good management skills, if it is to be done properly.

According to a courthouse source, the judge/executive also needs a great deal of patience to handle the many complaints and requests that are received daily.

Unfortunately, none of these qualities is required by candidates for the position. As with most other elected posts in the county, if the candidate is 24 years old, has lived two years in Kentucky and one year in the county, he or she qualifies to be judge/executive.

To run for the position, the candidate pays the filing fee, has two persons vouch for his or her identity and tells the clerk he or she meets the residence and age requirements.

Each year, the judge/executive must prepare a budget proposal, estimating the county's income from local, state and federal sources and its outgo for employee salaries and benefits, supplies, equipment, payments to private contractors for proposed services, and contributions to quasi-government agencies, such as the public library, animal shelter, airport authority, etc.

He must then "sell" the budget to the district magistrates, who, along with the judge/executive, make up the fiscal court.

Once the budget is approved by a majority of the fiscal court, the judge/executive is responsible for seeing that the money is indeed brought in and properly spent.

State law requires the judge/executive to make a quarterly financial report for the fiscal court, the state local finance officer and to the public via posting on the front door of the courthouse.

In preparing the budget, the judge/executive relies on "detailed financial reports" from all those county officials and boards that use county funds. Often, he helps the officials and boards in compiling their budgets and reports.

The judge/executive also has the authority to hire, supervise, suspend, and remove county personnel.

He also is charged with looking into and preparing grant proposals to supplement county monies.

Especially of concern to Floyd Countians, the budget includes funds for road improvement, and the judge/executive is the final authority when decisions about roads are made, made.

From county coffers, the judge/executive receives an annual salary of $34,860. From the state, he receives another $3,600 annually to cover office expenses.

Leslie Home Burns

The home of Dickie Leslie on old US 23 near Emma, was totally destroyed in a fire on Wednesday, Jan. 25. Although Leslie, a Prestonsburg High School teacher, and his son were sleeping when the fire started, his son awoke and managed to wake Leslie in time for them to escape. The Cow Creek Fire Department was notified and 13 firefighters responded. Firefighters found the house engulfed in flames upon arrival, according to officials at the fire department. Firefighters were on the scene more than three hours. The cause of the fire is undetermined; arson is not suspected.

In Memory of Betty Prater

FEB. 1, 1987

It was two years ago, Mommy, when God took you home. We miss you so much, we feel so alone. You were always there for us, all your love you would share, It helps us to know, Mommy, that you are now in God's care. We know that you are happy up in heaven above, In that big garden of love. Everywhere we go, everywhere we look, there is always something there to remind us of you, We can't ever say good-by, Mommy, that's something we will never do. We know that you are at heaven's window watching and praying that we will prepare for the day we will see you.

We Miss You,
YOUR LOVING FAMILY

In Memory of Our Mother

Ruby Mae Moore

Who passed away in 1977

Mom, we know you're in God's good hands, I hope some day we will all understand. Oh, Mom, we miss you so much, Why cannot we all be in touch. I dream of you: most every night, I see your sweet face and it is so white, Mom, you know we all miss you each night. You always called each one of us every night, to see if we were all right, So you could rest in peace that night. Oh, Mom, you know we all loved you so much and you taught us right from wrong, And we should have listened to you, because you wouldn't have taught us wrong. We never forget you, No matter how we try, when we think of you, we always cry.

First Presbyterian Church Beginning Expansion Program

First Presbyterian Church members voted at their annual congregational meeting on Jan. 29 to move into a major building expansion program, the first since the congregation moved to its present location on North Lake Drive in 1966.

The congregation, one of Prestonsburg's oldest, is celebrating its 90th year in 1989, having been established on Dec. 31, 1899. It's first building, at the corner of Third Avenue and Westminster Street, was sold first for use as St. Theodore's Roman Catholic Church. Now it is the home of the Third Avenue Free Will Baptist Church.

The present Presbyterian building, next to Jerry's Restaurant, will be expanded by adding a wing on the South end of the building, built to parallel and harmonize with the present sanctuary. The present educational wing will connect the sanctuary and the new addition. To be included in the addition will be a large fellowship hall with kitchen facilities, a room to serve choir and music programs, and a room for primary use by youth.

Growth in the congregation in recent years has necessitated this move, according to Tim Jessen, pastor. In the last decade, the budget of the Church has tripled, and the membership has increased by 50 percent. The congregation will proceed to establish building plans, as well as to procure financial support.

Also announced at the meeting was the gift of a Seville organ and plans for its installation at the end of February. The organ is the gift of Mary Elizabeth Powers, a long-time Prestonsburg resident and member of the congregation. She presently resides in Indianapolis, Ind., near her brother, P.D. Powers. Powers' father, O.P. Powers, was one of the founding trustees of the Prestonsburg congregation.

In other business, Steve Ruffing was elected treasurer and William Kendrick and Linda Taylor were elected to the church nominating committee.

Jessen has served as pastor of the church since 1979.

NOTE OF THANKS

We, the family of Raymond Goble, Sr. of Dwayne, Ky. wish to express our gratitude and deepest appreciation to Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home and our many relatives and friends who have compassionately helped us in our time of suffering.

There are no words that can explain
How much you have helped us through our pain;
From a loving hand with the daily chores,
To supplying food, flowers, and much, much more.

One kind word coming from a friend so true,
Or for just being there when we needed you;
This kind of love is worth more than pure gold,
For it comforts both body and soul.

For your prayers, your caring, your loving touch,
For allowing God to use you, we thank you so much!
Our sincerest love and appreciation we send;
May God bless you as you help other broken hearts to mend.

Jesus loves you and we do, too.

Sincerely
THE GOBLE FAMILY

Simpkins To Make Presentation Feb. 25

Tunnel Of Un-Love

An old railroad tunnel off KY 122 near Hi Hat shows the sad result of years of neglect and disuse. Albert Johnson, 83, of Weeksbury, said the tunnel was not in existence when he went off to World War I in 1917, but when he returned home on leave in early 1918, the passenger train he rode went through the tunnel. Johnson remembers when passenger and coal trains used the tunnel daily. According to Fred Salisbury of Wheelwright Mining Co., the tunnel was on a branch line running from Weeksbury to the Martin railyard. Salisbury said the track was out of use for a long period in the 1960s and '70s, went back into service in the early '80s, and has since closed.

Robert Simpkins, director of the Brotherhood department of the Kentucky Baptist Convention, will make a presentation to Lancer Baptist Church members in Prestonsburg, Feb. 25, at 6 p.m.

Simpkins will also participate in the morning worship service on Feb. 26.

A native Kentuckian, Simpkins graduated from Campbellville College, Campbellville, with the bachelor of arts degree. Since 1970, he has pastored several churches in Kentucky including Lola Baptist Church, Lola; Sulphur Spring Baptist Church, Mexico; Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, Uno; Knoxes Creek Baptist Church, Linwood; First Baptist Church, Forest Hills; and South Fork Baptist Church, Hodgenville.

Before joining the KBC staff in January 1988, Simpkins actively participated in Brotherhood activities on both state and associational levels. Among other positions, he served as area and regional Brotherhood director, vice president of the Brotherhood Convention, state coordinator for Disaster Relief and state coordinator of Kentucky Baptist Builders. As associational Brotherhood director for Lynn Baptist Association, Simpkins led the Southern Baptist Convention in new Brotherhood starts.

Brotherhood is a Southern Baptist organization for men and boys. It promotes missions through education, prayer, mission activities and special emphases.

THE HISTORY OF DRUGS

People have used drugs in various forms since prehistoric times. Primitive humans ate plants such as mushrooms which had physiological effects. The ancient Romans and Greeks developed the science of using various plants and waters therapeutically. The ancient Egyptians used opium for pain, castor oil for worms, and animal blood, viscera and excreta to treat other ailments. Arab physicians in the 12th century used burned sponge to treat goiter, which probably was a curative because of its iodine content. By the 16th century, physicians were employing colchicum for gout, as is done today. By 1700, however, European apothecaries were still dispensing elixir universale, a mixture of gold, powdered lion's heart, witch hazel, earthworms, dried human brain, and Egyptian onions.

COOLEY APOTHECARY meets the highest level of professionalism in our business and would be honored to become your pharmacy. Our records are fully maintained for all drug warnings, drug interactions and personal drug allergies here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. HINT: As early as the 18th century, physicians discovered that digitalis, derived from foxglove, could be used to treat heart disease.

PCC To Join 'Destination Graduation'

Some 1,500 ninth grade students in Eastern Kentucky will get an extra boost toward completing high school, with the help of 230 college students from 12 public and independent colleges and universities.

The college students are being trained to tutor the ninth graders in math, English, study skills and motivation, according to Norman L. Snider, spokesman for the state Council on Higher Education.

Participating locally is Prestonsburg Community College, serving Prestonsburg and Paintsville high schools. The contact person at PCC is Dorothy Carlson (886-3863).

The program between high schools and higher education, named "Destination Graduation," is being coordinated by the Council on Higher Education, and brings together 12 colleges and universities, 41 local school districts in Kentucky's Fifth and Seventh Congressional Districts, and a number of other Kentucky educational organizations. The three-year project has received a federal grant of $331,000 for the first year, which will be matched by $230,000 in in-kind contributions from colleges and universities.

Kentucky's Destination Graduation program competed with 115 other projects nationwide for support under Title V of the federal Higher Education Act. It was to be one of only seven programs in the nation to receive a federal grant in this category, said Snider.

The 230 college student/tutors will work with the ninth graders to increase their awareness of the value of education, improve their math and language arts skills, and improve the high school graduation rates in the two districts, which are currently the lowest in the nation.

Destination Graduation will include personal tutoring to supplement each student's regular high school classwork during the school year. Some of the colleges and universities will also offer summer programs for students. Tutoring sessions will begin this year.

Homemakers' Meetings Scheduled

SSI Recipients Encouraged To Work

There are special provisions in the Social Security law designed to encourage blind and disabled Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients to try to work according to Jim Kelly, Social Security District director.

These provisions allow recipients to attempt to work without fear of losing all their SSI checks or Medicaid coverage. Recipients whose SSI checks were stopped because their earnings made their income too high to receive checks may be able to receive checks again if they find they no longer are able to work, said Kelly.

Recognizing that a disabled recipient's return to work may not follow a steady progression, the law allows the recipient to use SSI as a stepping stone to employment, said Kelly. Recipients may continue to receive some money from SSI while testing their ability to work. The amount received depends on the amount of earnings—as earnings increase, the SSI payment decreases or stops. A recipient who finds his or her work attempt is unsuccessful, however, may have payments started again—often without filing a new SSI application.

In addition, many blind and disabled recipients can keep their eligibility for Medicaid coverage even when their checks stop because their earnings make their income too high to continue receiving checks.

"To keep Medicaid coverage, a recipient must continue to be blind or disabled, meet all other non-earnings SSI eligibility requirements, depend on Medicaid coverage to continue working, and be unable to purchase similar medical care," Kelly said.

Blind or disabled recipients who work also are encouraged to develop a plan for achieving self-support to allow them to set aside income or resources for a work goal, and can mean an increased SSI payment. Some examples of work goals include education, vocational training, starting a business, or purchasing work-related equipment, Kelly said.

More information about the SSI work incentive provisions can be obtained at the Big Sandy Area Social Security Office, located on U.S. 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville. The telephone number is listed in the local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Social Security Handbook Available

Lawyers, accountants, and others who advise people on their Social Security rights and responsibilities should add the new edition of the Social Security Handbook to their reference library, according to Jim Kelly, Social Security director for the Big Sandy Area.

Intended for professional people and others who need detailed information, the handbook explains regulations and rulings to retirement, survivors, disability, and health insurance, Supplemental Security Income, and Black Lung benefits.

The 10th edition of the handbook contains the major provisions of the Social Security Act, as amended through Dec. 31, 1987.

Copies may be purchased directly from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at $13 per copy. Order by stock number 017-070-00437-7.

Bailey Reappointed To NCSL Committee

State Sen. Benny Ray Bailey, D-Hindman, has been reappointed to a committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures for 1989.

Bailey will serve on the Human Services Committee of the NCSL's State-Federal Assembly.

The NCSL provides research, technical assistance and the opportunity for policymakers to exchange ideas on state issues.

State Sen. David LeMaster, D-Paintsville, was appointed to a committee of the Southern Legislative Conference.

LeMaster will serve as an alternate to the SLC's Justice, Public Safety and Consumer Affairs Committee.

The SLC is comprised of 15 southern states and Puerto Rico. It is one of four regional legislative groups created to encourage intergovernmental cooperation and to share responses to common governmental problems.

The assignments were made by Senate President Pro Tem John A. "Eck" Rose, D-Winchester.

Perkins Donates Books

Congressman Carl C. Perkins announced recently that he has made reference books on the United States Congress available to local universities and colleges in Eastern Kentucky.

The reference books Perkins has given to the schools are the Biographical Directory of the United States Congress: Bicentennial Edition; and A Guide to Research Collections of Former Members of the United States House of Representatives, 1789-1987. Locally, books were given to Prestonsburg Community College and Pikeville College.

"I am pleased to be able to provide copies of the directory and the guide to each of these libraries," Perkins said. "The directory was recently updated for the first time since 1971 to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the United States Congress. Included are biographical sketches of each person who has served in Congress, beginning with the First Continental Congress in 1774."

Perkins said the Guide to Research Collections was also put out as part of the commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the House of Representatives.

PCC Caucus Club To Discuss Drug Abuse Feb. 14

The Caucus Club of Prestonsburg Community College will meet Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 3 p.m. in room 113 of the Pike Building at PCC.

The guest speaker will be Kevin Shannon of Mountain Comprehensive Care, speaking on prescription medicine abuse in Eastern Kentucky.

The meeting is free and open to the public.

For more information contact Dr. Tom Matijasac at PCC (886-3863, ext. 246).

Correction

Due to a composing room error, a headline in last week's issue incorrectly identified the Harold Elementary School honor roll as the Melvin Elementary honor roll.

The honor roll itself was correct. We regret the error and any inconvenience it may have caused.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT THE SAFETY OF YOUR SAVINGS

UNITED FEDERAL HAS SERVED FLOYD AND KNOTT COUNTIES FOR OVER 30 YEARS WITH PROFESSIONAL HOME MORTGAGE LENDING SERVICES AND A SAFE PLACE TO SAVE MONEY. WHILE OUR SERVICES HAVE GROWN SINCE 1957, OUR POLICIES ARE STILL BASED ON SAFE BANKING PRACTICES AND SOUND MANAGEMENT. SINCE THE STRENGTH AND RESERVES OF SAVINGS INSTITUTIONS ARE A GREAT CONCERN, HERE ARE A FEW THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

- United Federal is a strong savings institution with reserves of $2,230,000. This figure exceeds current federal regulatory requirements by just over $1,000,000.
- In the year just ended, 1988, United Federal paid savings customers $2,740,000 in interest.
- United Federal posted before tax income of $404,105.34 in 1988.
- United Federal has grown in customer deposits an average of $2,000,000 for the last three years.
- United Federal maintains a cash and liquid investment portfolio of $8,000,000 or 20% of deposit accounts.
- United Federal's capital reserves of 5.3% are substantially higher than the national average of 3.3% and exceed federal regulatory requirements.
- Electronic data processing equipment is now being replaced and updated to provide even faster and more efficient customer service. Renovation and expansion of our main office is now in the planning stages.

WE ARE CONFIDENT THAT RECENT EVENTS IN THE SAVINGS AND LOAN INDUSTRY WILL NOT ALTER THE STRENGTH AND SAFETY OF UNITED FEDERAL. YOU CAN COUNT ON UNITED FEDERAL TO MAKE SURE YOUR SAVINGS ARE AS SAFE AS MONEY CAN BE. YOUR FINANCIAL SECURITY WILL ALWAYS BE OUR MOST IMPORTANT CONCERN. IT IS ALSO IMPORTANT TO KEEP IN MIND THAT THE U.S. GOVERNMENT STANDS BEHIND INSURED DEPOSITS AT UNITED FEDERAL.

Carlton To Coordinate Legal Services Program

Appalachian Research and Defense Fund of Kentucky Director John Rosenberg recently announced the start of a new free legal service program for the poor in Appalachian Kentucky with the hiring of Frank C. Carlton, the former city manager of Pikeville, as Pro Bono program coordinator.

The new program of voluntary legal case work by area attorneys is headquartered in the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund's Prestonsburg office, but will eventually serve the poor population needing legal representation in all 37 counties served by ARDF's 10 offices, said Rosenberg.

Carlton brings with him almost 30 years of serving the public in city and town government positions from California to New Hampshire, as well as Kentucky. He has also been involved in public non-profit organizations, including a year as president of the Pikeville Rotary Club, two years as president of the Pike County Humane Society and he presently serves as chairman of the Board of Directors of the David School Board in Floyd County.

He is married and his wife is a kindergarten teacher in the Pikeville Independent School District. The Carltons have four children and one grandchild.

There are eight areas in Kentucky with Pro Bono Panel Projects said Rosenberg. The other seven serve Louisville (13 counties), Lexington (Fayette County), Frankfort (Franklin County), Northern Kentucky (eight counties), Northeast Kentucky (15 counties), Madisonville (Hopkins County), and Bowling Green (Warren County). 611 attorneys statewide participate in the voluntary legal service programs.

"Pro Bono Publico," or free legal services, are donated by lawyers to help poor people get representation in court or before governmental agencies.

The Pro Bono project is jointly funded by the Kentucky Bar Foundation's IOLTA (Interest on Lawyer's Trust Accounts) Fund, and by funding from the Legal Services Corporation administered by ARDF of Kentucky under its private bar involvement project. ARDF of Kentucky, also known as APPLERED, is the federal government-supported agency in this area responsible for legal services for low income citizens in 37 eastern and south-central Kentucky counties.

Due to budget cutbacks, said Rosenberg, there are 23 attorneys employed by ARDF to serve the 250,000 low income residents in the 37-county service area.

In 1981, ARDF employed 48 attorneys to serve that same poverty level population, said Rosenberg.

"Two attorneys per 10,000 low income residents is considered a minimal level of staffing for legal services, so it is evident that ARDF can't adequately provide services to its clientele with only half the recommended number of staff attorneys," he said. "This situation is aggravated by the fact that poverty has increased in Kentucky between 1979 and 1986, based on a recent study done by the University of Louisville Urban Studies Center."

Kentucky's poverty population rose from 641,300 (17.6 percent) in 1979 to 678,000 (18.2 percent) in 1986.

Nine Eastern Kentucky counties had poverty rates of more than 40 percent, led by Owsley County where 52.9 percent of the population is poor. Owsley County is served by ARDF's Jackson office, and six of the other eight counties with 40 percent or more of their populations meeting the federal government's poverty guidelines are served by ARDF's programs. They are Breathitt, Clay, Clinton, Knox, McCreary and Wolfe counties.

The large poverty population and ARDF's budget and staffing cutbacks were among the reasons why the Kentucky Bar Association approved an $18,500 grant to ARDF to develop a "Pro Bono Publico" program to encourage lawyers to voluntarily represent qualified low income clients.

"Most lawyers already do some work for clients who cannot afford to pay, but this program will ensure that these are bonafide low income clients and will recognize private attorneys for their donated time," said Rosenberg.

The money for this grant comes from Interest on Lawyer's Trust Accounts (IOLTA), a special fund set up by the Kentucky Bar Association at the direction of the Kentucky

Supreme Court to generate interest on clients escrow accounts that separately were too small or short-term to draw any interest. The Kentucky Bar Association, working with their lawyer members has pooled these small escrow accounts into one central account that earned $92,000 last year.

The Kentucky Bar Association distributed the major part of this amount to programs throughout the state with the emphasis on helping legal service agencies develop Pro Bono programs like the one now underway in Floyd County.

Theatre Holds Annual Retreat

The Jenny Wiley Drama Association Board of Trustees met on Jan. 20-22 in Lexington to conduct their second retreat.

Danielle Withrow, formerly of the North Carolina Arts Council, now with the Partners for Liveable Places in Washington, D.C., led the sessions.

Fundraising, organization development and long range planning were the focus of the weekend. A three-year plan is being implemented by Jenny Wiley Theatre as a result of the work accomplished.

Volunteer, corporate and individual donations, capital funding and endowments are programs to be aggressively pursued in the next one to three years, according to theatre officials.

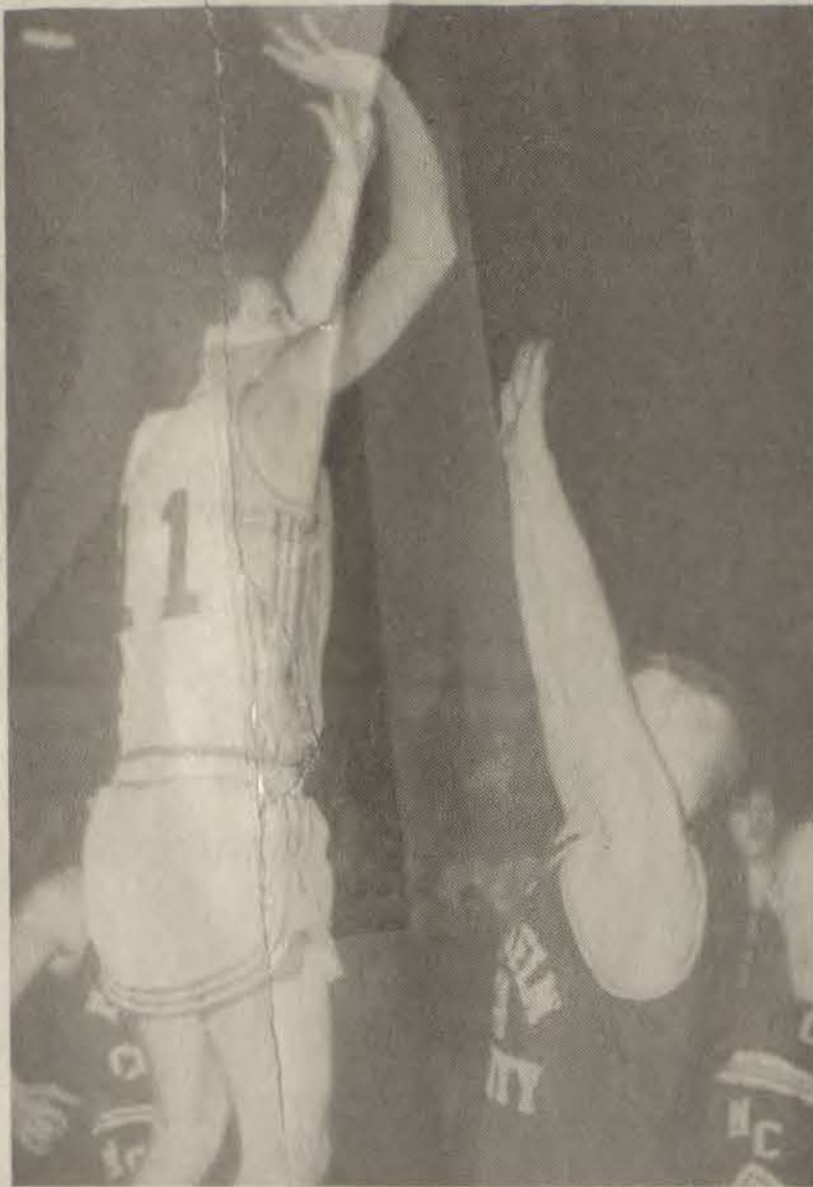

Attending for the weekend were Bill and Jenny Bottoms, Bill and Linda Francis, Bari Kazee, Dr. Henry Campbell, Kathryn Burke, Nancy and Earl Martin, Julie Paxton, Marty Osborne, Kevin and Ronna Yeager and Jim Deaton, general manager of JWT, from "The Lincoln Drama"; John Benjamin, general manager, and Ken Trimble, from "The Legend of Daniel Boone"; Bob Ford, general manager.

Sturgill Marks 94th Birthday

Arthur "Red" Sturgill of Prestonsburg celebrated his 94th birthday on Saturday, Jan. 28th, at the home of Herman and Jessie Sue Gray of Lancer.

He was honored with a dinner, and was presented with a birthday cake.

Those attending were Jessie Sue Gray, Myrtle Chaffins, Phyllis Joseph, Rina Mae Wallen, Wanda Rodebaugh, Frank Prater, Ashley, Eddie James and Karen Holbrook.

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is continuing its Trophy Fish Awards and Master Angler Program. Since its inception in January 1987, information officer Norm Minch has documented over 300 trophies taken in Kentucky waters.

The trophy list contains 25 fish species, each with its own minimum length requirement. Basically, if you catch a fish of qualifying length on a rod and reel, and if your catch is witnessed and photographed and the necessary form completed, you will receive a decal suitable for placement on truck, boat, or tacklebox, along with a certificate of merit, which is suitable for framing. Each trophy fish taken will receive both decal and certificate, and if you catch three different species you will receive a Master Angler Award. This award consists of a decal, certificate, and a plaque.

Norm Minch notes, "Striped bass made up 50 percent of all entries received over the two-year span, and this indicates an excellent striper fishery at Lake Cumberland. The next largest group was largemouth bass, and that tells me Kentucky has a lot of anglers going after bass exclusively." (The minimum qualifying length for striped bass is 36 inches, while it is 23 inches for largemouths.)

For a complete list of eligible fish species, minimum length requirements, rules, and application forms, write: Trophy Fish Program, Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, No. 1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601.

TROUBLE WITH COLD FEET?

One of the most difficult aspects of winter fishing, or any winter outdoor activity, is keeping your feet warm. If your feet are cold, fishing can be a painful experience.

If you are troubled with cold feet, try this simple layering solution. Wear a pair of thin polypropylene socks against your feet, followed by a pair of thick wool socks. Polypropylene will carry the moisture away from your feet and into the wool. Unlike most insulating fibers, wool retains most of its insulating ability even when wet, thus your feet remain warm and dry.

You should also opt for a pair of loose-fitting boots rather than tight-fitting ones. Tight boots will restrict the circulation to your feet, whereas loose ones will provide adequate circulation and will also provide a layer of dead air space which serves as another insulating layer.

It's a simple solution, but it works for me!

Bobcats Take Double OT Win, Victory Puts Them In No. 1 Slot

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

With their conference lead on the line, the Prestonsburg Blackcats travelled to Betsy Layne Tuesday night to play the team that was in close pursuit of the conference's top position, the Betsy Layne Bobcats.

Senior Duran Newsome scored 17 points, hitting some key baskets in overtime, to help guide his team to a 60-55 double OT victory over Prestonsburg.

The win enables Betsy Layne to take first place in the conference race with a 5-1 record, as Prestonsburg falls to 5-2. Betsy Layne has two conference games to play, at McDowell and a road game with Allen Central, while Prestonsburg will travel to Wheelwright for its final conference game.

Prestonsburg, on the inside play of Scott Hall in the first quarter, was able to establish a quick 6-2 lead.

Betsy Layne's Sam Stewart went to war on the boards, and the Bobcats went ahead 8-6, getting second and third shots at the basket. Prestonsburg managed a 12-10 lead at the end of the first stanza.

"Sam is a good ball player," Bobcat coach Junior Newsome said. "He is easy to coach."

Betsy Layne continued to dominate the offensive boards and get second and third shots as Stewart, who had 15 rebounds in the game, got some easy put-backs in the second quarter, and the score was tied 21-21 at the end of the first half.

"The tempo of the game suited Betsy Layne," Prestonsburg coach Gordon Parido said. "We weren't aggressive, and they were beating us on the boards."

Prestonsburg held a one-point lead at the end of the third period, 29-28, as both teams struggled offensively.

The Blackcats, preferring the up-tempo game, seemed to be bothered by the slower pace.

"We couldn't stay in our running game," Parido said. "Credit Betsy Layne's defense for that."

In the fourth period, Prestonsburg put some breathing room between themselves and the Bobcats, and lead 43-36 with 32 seconds remaining in regulation play.

A walking violation on the Blackcats, and some timely free throw shooting, cut the Prestonsburg lead to three, 43-40.

Prestonsburg, with 12 seconds to play, missed the front end of a one and one, and Betsy Layne rebounded the ball and senior Keith Hall hit a three-pointer to tie the score, 43-43, at the end of regulation play.

Both teams managed to score six points in the first overtime, and the score was again tied 52-52.

Missed foul shots continued to plague the Blackcats in the second overtime, as Betsy Layne connected on their attempts.

"Our missing the front end of bonuses hurt us," Parido said.

Betsy Layne scored 14 points in both overtimes, 12 points on free throws, as the Bobcats won a big conference battle 60-55 in double overtime.

"It was a typical Floyd County basketball game," Newsome said. "Mountain basketball is the best there is, I've always said that."

On newcomer Doug Willet, a transfer student from Pikeville, Newsome said, "Doug gave us some quality minutes, and he is going to help make our bench stronger."

Top-Ranked Clay County Escapes With Five-Point Win

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The McDowell Daredevils, playing their second straight game against a state power, battled number one ranked Clay County, from the 13th Region, in the WYMT-TV Mountain Classic at Knott County Central Wednesday night.

Russ Farmer, brother of Ritchie Farmer of the University of Kentucky, led Clay County to its 20th victory of the season over Johnny Ray Turner's Daredevils, 76-71.

McDowell played Clay County tough in the first quarter, as both teams put on a display of their offensive abilities. Clay County held a slim lead of three points, 18-15, at the end of the first quarter.

With Farmer and Roger Sims hitting some early baskets in the second quarter, Clay County built its lead to 10 points, 40-30, at half time.

McDowell came back in the third stanza, and began to cut into Clay County's lead on the scoring of Henry Webb and Rady Martin. McDowell cut the lead to six, 55-49, as third period play ended.

"We began to take the ball to the basket more in the second half," Turner said.

The Daredevils continued their comeback as they cut into Clay County's lead again in the fourth quarter, and had a chance to take the lead.

"We had come to within one point," Turner said. "We then missed a one and one."

"We missed five free throws down the stretch," Turner added. "That is very uncharacteristic of our team."

"We normally shoot an average of 72 percent," he added. "In this game, we shot about 51 percent."

Clay County then held on to win the contest, 76-71.

"It hurts to lose a game like this," Turner said.

Farmer led Clay County with 29 points, including 12 points on free throws. Roger Sims added 22 points, and Eugene Rollins tossed in 16 points.

Clay County is now 20-0, and ranked number one in Kentucky basketball.

McDowell, having won four in a row, fell to 9-7.

McDowell was led in scoring by Rady Martin's 24 points, including three three-pointers. Henry Webb scored 18 points and hit four three-pointers. Dickie Joe Shannon netted 10 points, with two three-pointers.

The Daredevils will entertain Wheelwright Tuesday night, Jan. 31 in conference action.

McDOWELL, 15 15 19 22 (71):
Dickie Joe Shannon, 2-2 0 10; Henry Webb, 3-4 0 18; Rady Martin, 7-3 4 24;
Marc Hall, 3-0 0 6; Keith Shelton, 2-0 3 7; Stacy Hall, 2-0 2 6.

McDowell Wallops FC; Seeks More Momentum

Coach Cassandra Keathley and her McDowell Lady Daredevils are looking for some momentum with three games on tap this week—including two conference games against Allen Central and Betsy Layne.

"We have two of our starters out with the flu," Keathley said. "We have two big conference games coming up, and we're hoping that Lori Bryant and Jenny Slone will be able to play."

The momentum may have come to the Lady Daredevils, as junior Gloria Mullins totaled 13 points to lead the McDowell team to a big 58-37 victory over the Lady Vikings of Feds Creek.

"We sure needed a game like this one," Keathley said, because the second and third teams got to see plenty of action.

The Lady Daredevils hit their first five shots of the first quarter to jump out in front, 10-0, and led at the end of the first quarter, 14-6.

With 5:44 left in the second quarter, the Lady Daredevils opened up a 14 point lead on baskets by Mullins and Kristina Bevins.

Lady Blackcats Down BLHS

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Floyd County basketball conference schedule is heading into its final two weeks, and the top spot is still up for grabs.

In the women's race for top position, Bridget Clay's Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats made the race much tighter, as Michelle Clemmons hit 10 crucial free throws and scored 17 points to lead her team to a 48-43 conference victory over Karen Henry's Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats, who were undefeated in conference play.

The victory improved Prestonsburg's conference record to 5-2, and they trail Betsy Layne by one game; BLHS leads the conference with a 5-1 record.

Clay's Lady Blackcats opened hot in the first quarter and established an early 10-point lead on the shooting of Kathy Slone, with each starter scoring in the first quarter for the Lady Blackcats. Prestonsburg held a 17-5 lead at the end of the first stanza.

"This was a big, big, win for us," Clay said. "Kathy Slone played an outstanding game."

Karen Frasure scored a basket, and a Slone free throw, increased the ply Company has brought back the original line of Creek Chub lures which were so popular and successful in the first half of this century. George Perry landed the 22-pound, 4-ounce world record largemouth bass in 1932 while casting a Creek Chub Wiggle Fish. World record muskies were taken in 1932 and 1957 by anglers tossing Creek Chub Pikie Minnows.

These old lures represent the great beginnings of sportfishing, and while most of us would enjoy owning some of these antique lures, the cost of the originals is prohibitive. An original Creek Chub Wiggle Fish, for example, now sells for several hundred dollars. These new lures are exact wooden replicas of the originals, featuring the same finishes and paint patterns, but they are reasonably priced. A wiggle fish, for example, sells for about $10 from Cabela's. If you would like to own a piece of our angling heritage but can't afford the real thing, these lures are the ticket.

TROUBLE WITH CRANKBAIT DEPTHS?

With all of the crankbaits that I stuffed into my tackleboxes, I can't seem to keep them all straight. One of the golden rules of crankbaiting is choosing a lure which runs at the proper depth. After all, if you don't put the bait where the fish are feeding, you are certainly not going to catch them.

To help me choose the right bait, I've started labeling each crankbait with the depth at which it runs. (I suppose that is cheating...kind of like making a crib sheet before a geometry test!) I use a permanent marking pen called a photographic marker which is made by Pilot and available at most office supply stores.

I've found that the best position to mark the bait is just behind the bill on the bait's underside because it is a relatively protected spot. If the bait runs six to eight feet deep, simply put a small 6-8 under the bill.

It will prevent a lot of trial-and-error experimentation, and it might just catch you an extra fish or two (and this is a great time of year for this type of work).

If you would like to contribute something to, or wish to have something publicized in "Keepers!", send a note to Chris Altman, No. 8 Hidden Valley, Pikeville, KY 41501, or call (606) 478-9666. Good fishing!

PHS Lady Blackcats Fall To Johnson Central

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats, coming off a big emotional win over the Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats, played host to a good Johnson Central team Thursday night.

What started out as a close encounter found the Lady Blackcats standing around, as Johnson Central's Lady Golden Eagles took the lead 8-6 at the 3:22 mark of the first quarter and led at the first stop, 16-10.

"We missed a lot of easy lay-ups in the first quarter," Prestonsburg coach Bridget Clay said. "If we had made our lay-ups, instead of being down by six, we would have led by two."

The Lady Golden Eagles extended their lead out to 10 points, 20-10, early in the second period.

Amy Hicks, the Lady Blackcats' center, got into early foul trouble, picking up her fourth personal in the first half, and Prestonsburg trailed by 13 points, 29-16, at the half.

Hicks fouled out 15 seconds into the third quarter. Johnson Central applied full court pressure that caused the Lady Blackcats to turn the ball over, and built a 17 point lead, 37-20, with 4:35 remaining in the third quarter.

Baskets by Karen Frasure and Kathy Slone, and another basket and two free throws by Frasure cut the deficit down to 10 points, 37-27, with 2:21 remaining. Johnson Central pushed it back by 13 points at the end of the third quarter, 45-33.

In the fourth quarter, Johnson Central was able to get its running game going and score some uncontested baskets, and led by 18 points with 2:54 to go.

Prestonsburg then went to its press, and caused the Lady Golden Eagles to turn the ball over. PHS cut the lead to seven, but time ran out, and the Lady Blackcats lost, 62-55.

"I admire our players for the way they came back," Clay said.

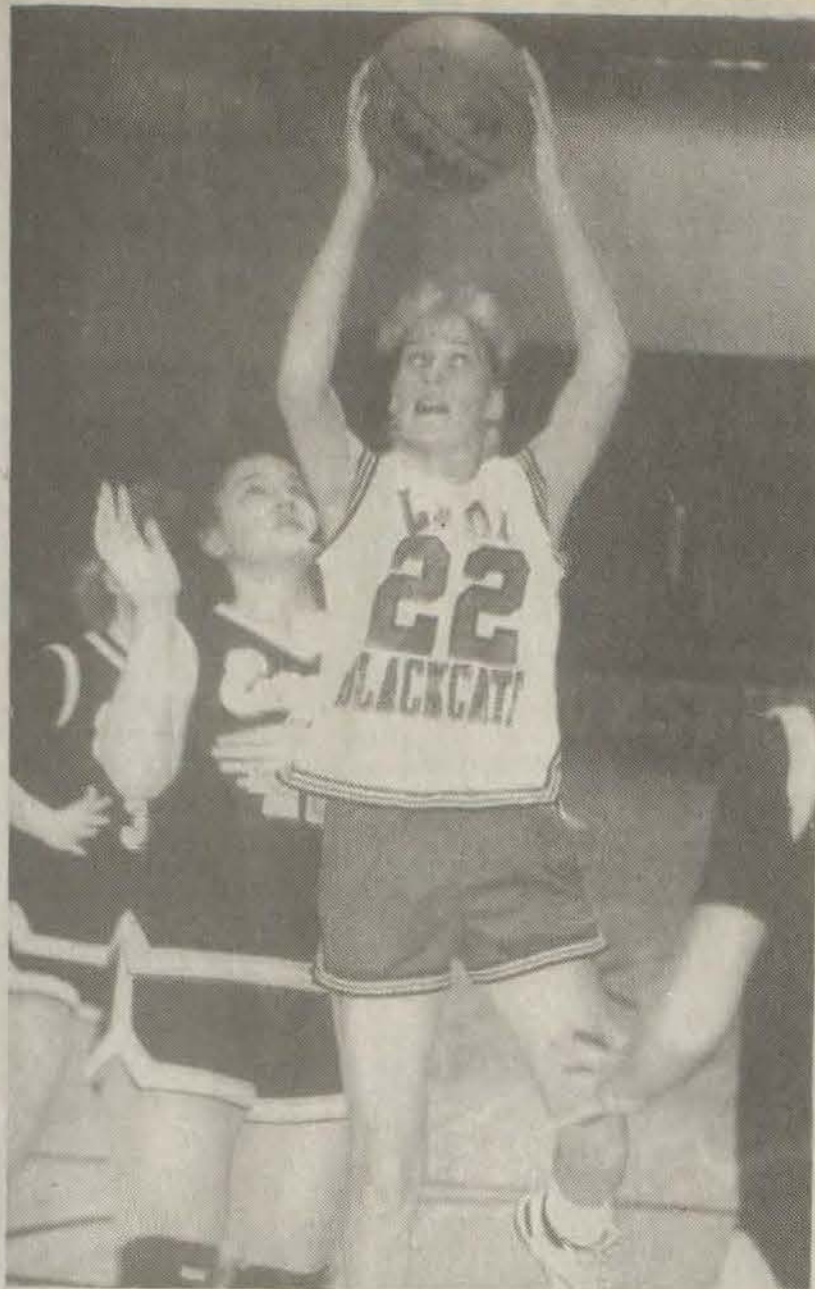

Emma McCarty scored 17 points to lead Johnson Central. Carol Sparks added 10 points.

Karen Frasure scored 28 points for the losing Lady Blackcats and Kathy Slone added 19 points.

Prestonsburg goes to 8-7 overall, but is still very much in the conference race with a 5-2 record.

Clay's Lady Blackcats will visit Wheelwright Friday night in a conference game.

JOHNSON CENTRAL 16 13 16 17 (62): Jenny Witten, 1-0 3 5; Lisa Blevins, 3-0 3 5; Carol Sparks, 5-0 2 12; Emma McCarty, 6-0 5 17; Kim Conley, 1-0 0 2; Melissa Butler, 2-0 0 4; Patty Woolfer, 3-0 2 8; Michelle Castle, 1-0 0 2; Susan Roberts, 1-0 1 3.
AT PRESTONSBURG 10 6 17 22 (55): Karen Frasure, 8-1 9 28; Kathy Slone, 6-0 7 19; Michelle Clemmons, 1-0 2 4; Amy Hicks, 1-0 0 2; Racquel Cain, 1-0 0 2.

Determined

Karen Frasure (22) is determined to take the ball to the basket, despite two Johnson Central defenders. The Lady Golden Eagles defeated Prestonsburg last week in non-conference action.

Lady Blackcats

Lady Blackcats' lead to 22-9 at the 6:30 mark of the second quarter.

With 3:23 to go, and Prestonsburg leading by 12 points, 24-12, Betsy Layne mounted a comeback and cut the deficit from 12 points down to seven, 24-17, on baskets by Jamie Smith and Shelia Hall.

After Frasure missed on a one and one, and leading 28-20 with 13 seconds remaining, Danita Johnson hit a three pointer to close to within five points, 28-23 at the half.

"We made a lot of mistakes in the second quarter," Clay said. "We missed a lot of free throws."

"Betsy Layne played a zone against us and we struggled against it," she added.

A basket by Frasure at the start of the third quarter put the Lady Blackcats back up by seven points. Both teams struggled offensively in the third stanza.

The Lady Bobcats managed to cut Prestonsburg's lead to four, 32-28, with 1:04 to go, but Frasure, who is averaging 23 points per game this year, hit a basket at the buzzer to give Prestonsburg a six-point lead, 34-28.

Clemmons' three-pointer early in the fourth quarter put Prestonsburg ahead by nine, 39-30. Frasure then picked up her fourth personal foul with 6:22 remaining in the game.

"When Karen got her fourth foul," Clay said, "we had to settle down on our defense," she said. "Michelle's three-pointer changed Betsy Layne's strategy."

With Prestonsburg leading by six, Frasure fouled out. Betsy Layne then was forced to foul in the final minute of the game, and Clemmons hit six free throws down the stretch to preserve the 48-43 victory.

What does a coach do when their leading scorer fouls out?

"You look for leadership from someone else," Clay said. "Michelle and Kathy picked up the slack for us."

Prestonsburg's record goes to 8-6 overall and 5-2 in the conference race. Clemmons led the Lady Blackcats in scoring with 17 points, and Slone and Frasure scored 14 and 11 points respectively.

Brenda Hamilton and Jamie Smith scored 12 points each to lead Betsy Layne.

Betsy Layne falls to 8-7 overall, but still leads the conference with a 5-1 record.

Prestonsburg will be at Wheelwright Friday night, while Betsy Layne will host Sheldon Clark Thursday night.

PRESTONSBURG 17 11 6 14 (48): Karen Frasure, 4-1 0 11; Amy Hicks, 2-0 0 4; Kathy Slone, 5-0 4 14; Michelle Clemmons, 2-1 10 17; Stephanie Allen, 1-0 0 2.

AT BETSY LAYNE 5 18 5 15 (43): Danita Johnson, 0-1 1 4; Brenda Hamilton, 4-0 4 12; Jamie Smith, 4-0 4 12; Nancy Shepherd, 2-0 1 5; Shelia Hall, 1-0 3 5; Melissa Bailey, 1-0 1 3; Karrie Newsome, 1-0 0 2.

A Betsy Layne player finds it crowded under the basket as two Prestonsburg players go for the rebound. Prestonsburg won the contest, 48-43.

ACHS Earns 1st Conference Win

The Allen Central Rebels, looking for their first conference victory, entertained the Wheelwright Trojans recently in Floyd County Conference basketball action.

Kevin Spurlock, a 5'11" junior guard, scored 16 points to lead the Rebels to their first conference win, beating the Trojans, 47-46.

The Rebels led at the first stop by nine points, 15-6. The Trojans had problems hitting their shots and handling the basketball.

Wheelwright's game improved in the second stanza on the scoring of junior Bobby Hood and the inside play of Brad Compton, as the Trojans outscored the Rebels by 10 points, 15-5, to take a one-point halftime lead, 21-20.

The Rebels, behind the scoring of Spurlock, took a three point lead in the third quarter and held their advantage and led at the end of the third quarter, 32-29.

The fourth quarter was nip-n-tuck as the lead exchanged hands several times between both teams. The Rebels went on to hold on to their lead and win their first conference game, 47-46, in a thriller over Wheelwright.

The Rebels are 8-9 overall and stand at 1-5 in the conference race. Wheelwright goes to 7-8 overall and is 1-5 in the conference.

Allen Central was led in scoring by Spurlock with 16 points. Joey Conn scored nine points.

Bobby Hood topped the Trojans in scoring with 14 points. Chad Hall added 13 points and Brad Compton scored 10.

The Rebels will host Johnny Ray Turner's McDowell Daredevils at the J.H. Allen Fieldhouse Friday, and will travel to Elkhorn City Saturday night.

Wheelwright will host the Prestonsburg Blackcats, Friday night in conference play.

WHEELWRIGHT 6 15 8 17 (46): Bobby Hood, 7-0 0 14; Todd Jackson, 2-0 0 4; Brad Compton, 4-0 2 10; Chad Hall, 6-0 1 13; Tony Isaac, 0-1 0 3; Brian Rhea, 1-0 0 2.

At ALLEN CENTRAL 15 5 12 15 (47): Todd Duff, 2-0 4 8; Rick Smith, 3-0 0 6; Kevin Webb, 3-0 2 8; Joey Conn, 3-0 3 9; Kevin Spurlock, 4-2 2 16.

Lady Rebs Overcome WHS In Overtime Contest, 53-50

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Five minutes into the game, Allen Central's Lady Rebs lost leading scorer Jo Ann Conn with a severely sprained knee in a conference match-up with the Wheelwright Lady Trojans.

However, Teresa Gibson picked up the slack and scored 17 points to lead the Lady Rebs to a thrilling 53-50 overtime win at Allen Central Tuesday night.

"Conn will not be able to play against Elkhorn City, nor Sheldon Clark," Lady Rebs mentor Bonita Compton said. "We're hopeful that she will be able to play against McDowell Friday night. (Feb. 3).

"We had two players playing with the flu," Compton said. "Stacy Moore and Tiff Click both were sick."

The Lady Rebs managed to lead at the end of the first quarter, 8-7. Jedon Hood led a Wheelwright attack in the second quarter, and the team held a one point half time lead, 19-18.

With senior forward Steph Wallen assuming the leadership role the Lady Rebs were looking for, and Stacy Moore's scoring 10 of her 12 points in the third quarter, Allen Central outscored the Lady Trojans by 10 and led 39-31 at the close of the third stanza.

"We were in need of some leadership on the floor," Compton said. "Wallen assumed that role for us."

Talitha Hutton and Hood led the Lady Trojans back from nine points down to tie the score and send the game into overtime, 46-46.

"We had a chance to win the game, with the ball and eight seconds to go," Compton said. Gibson's last-second shot missed.

Allen Central, behind Gibson's scoring, outscored the Lady Trojans in overtime, 7-4, to win the important conference game 53-50.

Allen Central was led in scoring by Gibson, with 17 points; Wallen and Moore scored 15 and 12 points respectively.

The Lady Rebs are 8-5 overall and hold a conference record of 4-2.

Wheelwright was led by Hood's 21 points, and Hutton tossed in 14.

Wheelwright falls to 1-10 overall and is still looking for their first conference win, with a 0-6 conference record.

Allen Central entertains McDowell Friday night, and Wheelwright hosts Prestonsburg.

WHEELWRIGHT 7 13 11 15 4 (50): April Bradford, 3-0 0 6; Jedon Hood, 7-0 7 21; Talitha Hutton, 5-0 4 14; Becky Allen, 1-0 5 7.

PHS Finishes Third In Classic

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

For coach Gordon Parido and the Prestonsburg Blackcats, last week was a rough one in high school basketball.

Prestonsburg played four games, with three being decided in overtime, and one of those was a double overtime loss to the Betsy Layne Bobcats.

The Blackcats also took part in the WYMT-TV Mountain Classic tournament at Knott County Central. With teams such as number one Clay County, number six Knox Central, and 15th Region power the Virgie Eagles as participants, basketball was at its best over the weekend.

The Blackcats, led by senior Chris Slone's 28 points and Todd Justice's 22 points, defeated the Virgie Eagles 83-78 in overtime in the Mountain Classic to capture third place.

In the first round game for the Blackcats Thursday against the Hazard Bulldogs, Danny Hamilton scored eight of his game-high 14 points in the fourth quarter to lead the Blackcats to an impressive 59-57 victory over Hazard.

Prestonsburg trailed by five, 45-40, going into the final stanza. The Blackcats offense outscored the Bulldogs 10-2 to claim a 50-47 lead with 4:44 to go.

Baskets by Hamilton, Scott Hall and Justice and a big offensive rebound by Chris Slone in the closing seconds of the game helped to give the Blackcats a 59-57 victory.

Friday night, Prestonsburg met sixth-ranked Knox Central in a semi-final game. The Blackcats had trouble hitting free throws in the closing seconds of regulation play, as the game was tied 62-62 and heading into overtime.

"If we had hit our free throws we would have won the game," Parido said. "We were 19 of 30 attempts for the game," he said. "You don't get this opportunity to beat a state-ranked team very often."

"We had to play without Scott Hall, who is out with the flu, and who is one of our top percentage shooters," Parido said. Hall is currently ranked number one in the state in field goal percentage.

The Panthers of Knox Central outscored Prestonsburg 10-7 in overtime to take a 72-69 victory, to advance to the championship game against number one Clay County.

Prestonsburg placed four players in double figures, led by Chris Slone's 18 points. Todd Justice scored 17 points and Thomas Nairn and Danny Hamilton tossed in 11 and 10 points respectively.

David Mills had 23 points for the Panthers, while teammate Tony Patterson added 21 points.

In consolation play, Prestonsburg met 15th Region rival the Virgie Eagles, who played Clay County in semi-final action.

The tempo of the game was slow at the beginning of the first quarter. Both teams seemed to be flat in their play.

"It was an emotionless start for both teams," Parido said. "It wasn't a great game for either team," he added.

"We were playing for third place, and it was a let down for us," Parido said.

The Eagles held a four-point lead 18-14 at the end of the quarter.

Prestonsburg's scoring picked up in the second stanza as senior Chris Slone took charge.

"Chris took control of the Virgie game," Parido said. "He had a tremendous tournament."

At the half, Virgie held a two-point lead, 36-34.

The Blackcats played without their center, Scott Hall. "We were not able to play Scott much in this game because of the flu," Parido said.

Johnny Wright has been able to come off the bench and give some needed relief for the Blackcats.

"Johnny has been playing super basketball for us," Parido said. "He scored 19 points in the three tournament games, and that really helps."

In the second half, Prestonsburg fell behind and trailed at the end of the third quarter by seven, 55-48.

The Blackcats were able to outscore the Eagles by seven, 22-15, in the final stanza in a gallant comeback and tie the score 70-70, for yet another overtime game.

In the extra period, Prestonsburg scored 13 points to the Eagle's eight points and the Blackcats captured third place in the Mountain Classic with a 83-78 victory.

Senior Chris Slone led the victorious Blackcats with 28 points. Todd Justice added 22 points and Danny Hamilton tossed in 12 points.

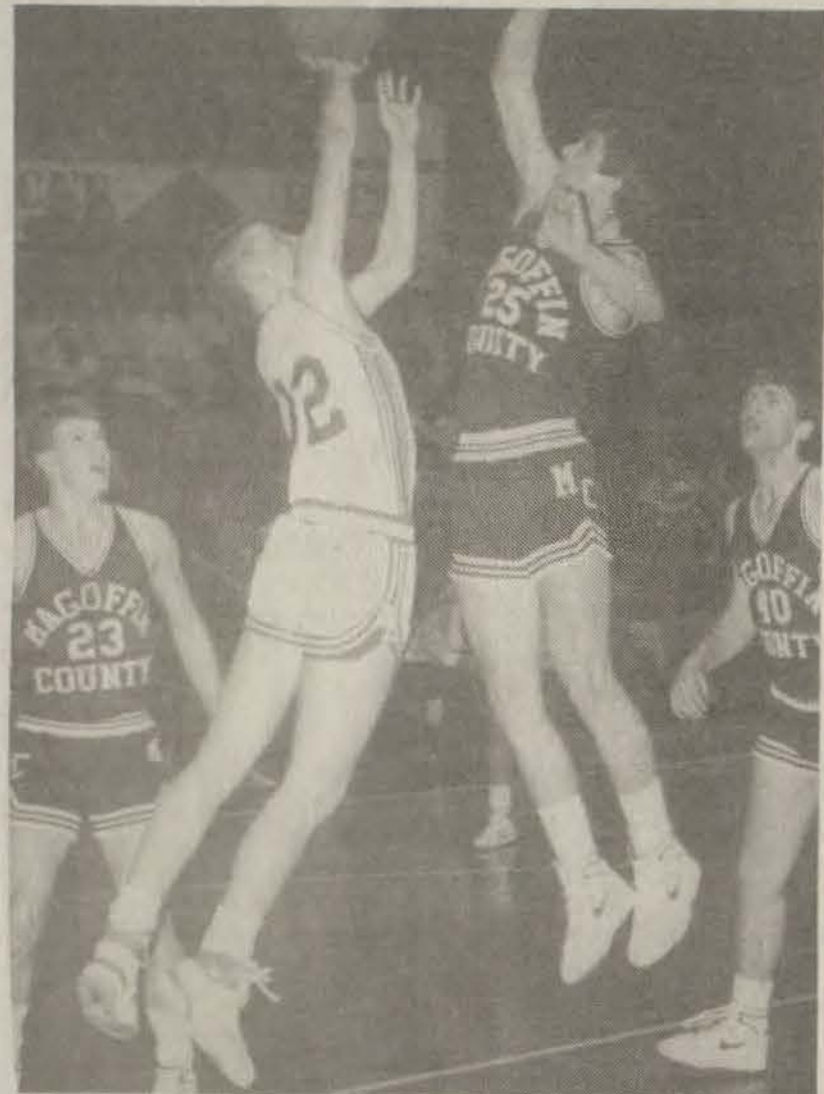

Prestonsburg is 12-6 overall and still holds a 5-2 conference record, and will return to conference action this Friday night, as they host the Wheelwright Trojans. The Blackcats will have a home game against Greenup County Saturday night.

Bass Basics Course Offered

Becoming aware of fish, waters, state laws and regulations can make happier anglers, and Prestonsburg Community College is offering a course to teach bass basics.

Learning about the bass family, including small-mouth, large-mouth and spotted bass, can be helpful.

Certain characteristics about tackle, artificial baits, pattern fishing, seasonal effects, and fundamentals will enhance bass fishing.

The course is open to the public, and will be held on Thursdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. beginning Feb. 9. The course will run for six weeks.

Tee Watkins, an expert bass angler, who has pursued bass throughout the United States, will be the instructor. For more information, call 886-3863 ext. 215 or 278.

Vanhoose Scores 49; Hamilton Answers With 31

It was the Karen Vanhoose Show at the Betsy Layne gym Monday night, as she scored 49 points to lead the Paintsville Lady Tigers to a 71-58 victory over the Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats.

Betsy Layne started fast and built an early lead and led at the end of the first stanza, 14-6.

Paintsville outscored Betsy Layne 20-10 in the second quarter, as Vanhoose seemed to score at will.

"I couldn't believe some of the shots she made," Betsy Layne mentor Karen Henry said. "She didn't even look at the basket, and they still went in."

"We had Jamie Smith on Vanhoose in the first quarter, and she held her to four points," Henry explained. "Jamie got in foul trouble and we didn't have anyone else to contain her."

The Lady Tigers led at the half by two points, 26-24.

Turnovers hurt the Betsy Layne ball team in the third period as Paintsville began to push their lead out, and led at the end of the third quarter by 16 points, 46-30, as they outscored the Lady Bobcats 20-6. Vanhoose made 11 of her 15 free throws in the third stanza.

While Betsy Layne outscored the Lady Tigers in the fourth quarter, the Lady Tigers were able to hold their lead and won the contest, 71-58.

Overshadowed by Vanhoose's 49 points was Lady Bobcat Brenda Hamilton's 31 points, in a sparkling performance for the senior guard.

"Brenda always has a good game for us," Henry said. "She is an all around ball player."

Betsy Layne falls to 8-8 overall and still leads the conference standings with a 5-1 record.

Hamilton scored 31 points for the Lady Bobcats, and Danita Johnson added 10 points.

Henry's team will be at Sheldon Clark, for a top 15th Regional game on Thursday night, and will travel to McDowell for conference play on Tuesday night, Feb. 7.

Earning first degree brown belts were Terry Case, Kelly Case, Russell Conn, Mark Reed, Phillip Reed and Micheal Newman. Earning yellow belts were Anthony Kiser and Joe Meade. Ashley Lykins earned a blue belt.

Upcoming Contests Listed

Top 15th Region and conference games highlight this week's Floyd County basketball schedule.

Games scheduled include:
Wednesday, Feb. 1: In a men's game, Wheelwright travels to June Buchanan.

Thursday, Feb. 2: The Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats will be at Sheldon Clark.

Friday, Feb. 3: Conference games are on tap as both men and women from McDowell visit Allen Central; Prestonsburg's men and women travel to Wheelwright. In non-conference action, Sheldon Clark will be at Betsy Layne for a big 15th Region men's game.

Saturday, Feb. 4: In men's games, Allen Central will be at Elkhorn City. Betsy Layne travels to the 16th Region for a game with the Ashland Tomcats, and Greenup County will be hosted by Prestonsburg.

Monday, Feb. 6: Dorton's Lady Wildcats visit Prestonsburg in women's action, while Wheelwright's Lady Trojans go to Hazard.

Tuesday, Feb. 7: Betsy Layne will be at McDowell for a top conference game. The Prestonsburg men's team will be at Pikeville. Wheelwright will go to Jenkins in men's action.

Frasure 7th In Kentucky In Women's Basketball Scoring

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

In the latest stats compiled by the KHSAA for women's basketball, Karen Frasure, leading scorer for the Lady Blackcats at Prestonsburg, was ranked seventh in the state in scoring, averaging 24.0 points per game.

Her coach, Bridget Clay, cites her senior forward. "Karen is a complete basketball player," Clay said. "She is not just our leading scorer, but is also a team leader."

Clay is also quick to add, "Karen is a good rebounder, and plays team basketball."

Frasure is shooting 71 percent from the charity line and has shot 51 percent from the field in the last three games.

Several colleges are interested in Frasure.

"There are five schools that are really recruiting Karen," Clay said. "We're going to send some video tapes to different schools."

HOROSCOPE

February 5 through February 11

- AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
A gathering of friends leads to a renewed sense of security. An ambiguous message suddenly becomes clear. Concentrate on moving ahead.
- PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
Private discussions warrant your efforts at keeping secrets. Carefully trace rumors to their source. Scale down efforts to take charge.
- ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Gratification comes from steering clear of conflict and watching foes get into trouble. Simple plans are appreciated more than grand ones.
- TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Be mindful of the tense predicaments of others; offer help if you can. Someone else's insecurities make you feel helpless. Tension may mount.
- GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Honest advice is mistaken for egotism, and may cause a rift between you and a relative. You find it difficult to adapt to modern ways.
- CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
A pleasing, spacious environment is found through travel or adventure. Impulsive purchases may hinder financial recovery. Be thrifty.
- LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Re-evaluate time spent on relaxation to try to increase productivity. Don't bite when a proverbial carrot is dangled before you.
- VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Realize that glamour and appearance are not all that matters. Trade in materialistic ideas and recognize importance of family. Set standards.
- LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
Listen to the whole story before administering discipline. Relax by picturing pleasant memories. A regular routine is important.
- SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
Lighten up on associate or partner. Constant disapproval results in unnecessary tension. A surprise rejection is difficult to handle.
- SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
Since attitudes have changed, don't count on things to fall into place. Employment picture remains dim. Money matters trigger anxiety.
- CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Expand horizons; study or participation in a new field could lead to extra sources of income. Work on restoring self-respect.

TV Q&A

'A-Team' actor the subject of friendly marital bet

By Polly Vonetes

Q: My husband and I have a friendly wager going and we hope you will be able to give us the answer. On Nov. 18 a Perry Mason movie showing a murder from a bell tower was aired on NBC. The man who did the killing is the subject of this difference between us. We would like to know if this actor also played on The A-Team. What is this actor's name? —Peggy Jenkins, Paso Robles, Calif.

A: I am sorry, I didn't view the film. However, in looking at the list of credits Dwight Schultz, who starred as "Howling Mad" Murdock on The A-Team, played Hall's secretary, Andrew Lloyd in the Perry Mason film. I hope this helps settle your bet.

Q: Can you please give me some information on Brooke Shields' mother, her name and an address where I could write to her? —Paula, Atascadero, Calif.

A: Brooke Shields' mentor/manager/mother is Teri Shields. She can be reached by writing her c/o Jay Bernstein Productions, Columbia Pictures TV, Producers Bldg. 8, Suite 109, Burbank, Calif. 91505.

Q: The name of the background music please in War and Remembrance. I have enjoyed the series very much and hope I can obtain the music. Is this a song written just for this series? —Frances Smith, Claremont, N.H.

A: I too enjoyed the War and Remembrance theme. As with the Winds of War, composer/conductor/musical director Bob Cobert was charged with creating the themes and background music. I am sure there will be a recording of the theme available soon.

Q: Whatever became of Eddie from the old TV show The Courtship of Eddie's Dwight Schultz.

Father? —Barbara Scott, Dunn, N.C.

A: Brandon Cruz, the freckle-faced boy you remember from the 1969 series, is now 26 years old. After the series ended in 1972 he appeared in a few films, including The Bad News Bears, but eventually became interested in pursuing a career in music. For a while he fronted a punk band called "The Eddys" and even appeared on American Bandstand. A short-lived marriage lasted less than two years. Nowadays, he studies journalism, surfs and is thinking of getting back into acting.

To all Darla Hood fans: Thank you for your many letters informing me of my error. I knew better, but somehow the fact that Darla died on June 13, 1979 of heart failure slipped my mind. Born on Nov. 8, 1931 in Leedey, Okla., she was 47 years old at the time of her death. Keep reading the column. I need you to keep me "on the ball." —Polly

Betsy Layne Holds On To Oust Magoffin, 61-52

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It was a special night at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse in Betsy Layne Saturday, as the school held its basketball homecoming events and recognized former teams of 1958, 1968 and 1978 before a packed crowd.

Tish Howard, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howard of Honaker, was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1989.

Keith Hall, senior guard, gave the large crowd something else to cheer about, scoring 27 points to lead the Bobcats over a good Magoffin County team, 61-52.

The Bobcats lead 6-2 early in the first quarter. Barry Hamilton scored three straight baskets, and a three-pointer by Hall and a basket by Sam Stewart helped the Bobcats to extend their lead to nine points, 15-6. The Hornets scored the next six points and trailed by three at the end of the first quarter, 15-12.

The Hornets caught Betsy Layne at the 6:55 mark of the second quarter, 16-16. Turnovers by the Bobcats, coupled with Magoffin County's running game, which earned them some easy baskets, allowed the Hornets to outscore the Bobcats by nine and take a 25-16 lead at 4:08.

Betsy Layne called time out with 3:09 remaining in the half, and returned to the court in a tight man-to-man defense. By cutting off the Hornets passing lanes, the Bobcats were able to pick off several passes and cut the Hornets' lead to two, 28-26, at the end of the first half.

Twenty seconds into the third quarter, Stewart hit two free throws and, because of vocal protest from the Magoffin County bench, they were whistled for a technical foul. Duran Newsome converted the free throws and the Bobcats regained the lead at 30-28.

Magoffin County went into an early stall, holding the ball for 2:36 before Hall stole the ball and went the length of the court for a lay up—and the Bobcats were off and running. Hall proceeded to hit two of his four three-pointers, and the Bobcats led at the end of the third period, 40-33.

With 4:04 remaining in the fourth stanza, Betsy Layne built a 13 point lead, 49-34, on two baskets by Steven Parsons, a basket by Earl Lawson, and a three-pointer by Hall.

Magoffin County made one final run on three-pointers by Scott Castle and Jeff Castle, and the Hornets cut the lead to five, 49-44.

Hall hit five free throws and a field goal down the stretch to preserve the victory for the Bobcats, 61-52.

Hall led Betsy Layne with 27 points, including four three-pointers. Earl Lawson, a 6'5" center, came off the bench to score nine points.

Ronnie Lovely had 14 points for the Hornets, and Jeff Castle tossed in 10 points.

Betsy Layne now is 15-6 overall and leads the conference standings with a 5-1 record.

Betsy Layne will host regional power Sheldon Clark, Friday night, and will travel to Ashland, Saturday night.

Two Receive Classic Scholarships

Kristina Bevins, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bevins of Printer, and Danny Hamilton, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hamilton of Prestonsburg, were two of nine recipients of $1,000 scholarships awarded by WYMT-TV/Whayne Supply through the Mountain Classic basketball tournament.

Bevins is a senior at McDowell High School and is a member of the Lady Daredevils basketball team.

"Kristina is number one in her class," principal Robert Hall said. "She is an outstanding student."

Last summer she took part in the engineering program at the University of Kentucky for selected students. She has applied for admission to the six-week course in medicine this summer at U.K.

"Kristina loves school," her father

Bill Bevins said. "She studies hard, and just loves to do good in class."

Bevins is also a member of the journalism class and is on the newspaper staff at McDowell. She is an active member of S.A.D.D., Students Against Drunk Driving.

Hamilton is a senior at Prestonsburg High School, and is a member of the Blackcats basketball team.

"Danny is a tremendous student," coach Gordon Parido said. "He is in the top 10 in his class," he added.

"Danny works hard in the classroom and works hard on the basketball court."

He is also a member of the Beta Club, and the National Honor Society. He is a member of the Honor Choir, and plays on the schools baseball, and football teams.

Hamilton hasn't decided which college he will attend next fall.

Surgery with the light touch.

There was a time when surgery was, to say the least, discomfoting. To say the most, traumatic.

Central Baptist Hospital just helped change that. Now, many gynecological, thoracic, vascular, urological, neurological, plastic and other surgical procedures can be performed with the use of a safe, precision surgical laser. Its use means less pain and blood loss. And, in many cases, outpatient surgery. In most, a quicker recovery and a more comfortable one.

If you or a member of your family should need surgery, ask your doctor about laser surgery at Central Baptist Hospital.

Once you see the light, you will never feel the same about surgery again. Call Central Baptist Hospital at 275-6665 for more information.

Corns Decision: How It May Affect East Ky. Schools

Editor's Note: The historic school-finance ruling by Franklin Circuit Judge Ray Corns is now before the Kentucky Supreme Court.

In February the high court is expected to decide whether Corns was correct when he ruled last October that the present system of funding the state's elementary and secondary schools is unconstitutional.

Beginning with the following article, this newspaper will present a series of articles explaining the Corns ruling.

The series, written by Tom Parrish of Berea, is sponsored and was commissioned by the Shakertown Roundtable of Pleasant Hill, as part of its recent conference on tax policy. Wilson W. Wyatt, the Louisville attorney, was conference chairman.

Tom Parrish is the author of "Roosevelt and Marshall," a dual biography to be published by Simon and Schuster in fall, 1989. He was editor of "The Encyclopedia of World War II" and also wrote "The Ultra Americans," a book about military intelligence in World War II.

Regardless of what the Supreme Court decides, these background articles may help readers understand why Lexington attorney Lawrence E. Forgy, Jr., a member of a committee advising Judge Corns, calls the Corns opinion "The most important lower court decision for Kentucky's future in our lifetime."

Seventy years ago a Kentucky court delivered a simple and eloquent judgment on the fundamental importance of education. Ruling in a local school case, the court declared that illiteracy is the bane of society, its greatest burden and most dangerous enemy. The court then proceeded to order equitable funding of the schools in one particular Kentucky community.

But unfortunately, no court decision in the intervening seven decades—and no administrative or legislative action—has succeeded in abolishing the illiteracy condemned by the 1918 opinion. Nor, more generally, has government even devised a means of providing equitable funding for all the schools across the length and breadth of the Commonwealth.

With respect to illiteracy, figures from 1980 census show that Kentucky has, overall, the most unlettered citizenry in the United States. The problem is most dramatically visible in the state's Appalachian counties, in which almost half of the population is functionally illiterate. Although current efforts may be producing some improvement, a recent study shows that fewer than half the Eastern Kentucky students entering the ninth grade stay around to receive their diplomas.

Startling contrasts greet the visitor who looks at schools in various districts. Physical facilities range from attractive modern campuses in such affluent areas as Anchorage and Fayette County to dilapidated and literally unsound buildings in Morgan, Letcher, and other mountain counties.

Physical facilities hardly constitute the only problem facing Kentucky's schools. Because it cannot afford to do more, Morgan County offers its high school students only one foreign language and no advanced math courses, and physics is given only in alternate years. Even in a town like Dayton—in the shadow of Cincinnati and next door to opulent Fort Thomas—the high school cannot offer Latin, advanced English and advanced computer training, despite the students' need and desire to take such courses. Letcher County offers advanced science and pre-calculus at only one of its three high schools, and at none of the three can students find calculus itself or Latin and college-prep English.

No one will be surprised to learn that the quality of education offered in a school district correlates very closely with the district's "fiscal capacity"—its wealth.

In the 1984-85 school year, for instance, a group of four "high capacity" districts including Fort Thomas and Fayette County spent $500 more per pupil, just for instruction, than did a group of four mountain "low capacity" districts. If an average class consisted of 20 students, this means a difference per classroom, for instruction alone, of $10,000.

Such a difference directly translates itself into the fact that in the high-capacity districts more than 40 percent of the students were enrolled in advanced math courses while in the low-capacity districts only 15 percent enjoyed the same opportunity. The high-capacity districts paid their teachers an average of $2,689 more per year than did the low-capacity districts. It is not hard to see not only who had the most science teachers but who had the best ones.

Such figures, and others dealing with achievement-test scores, dropout rates, and other indexes of educational deprivation, could be endlessly paraded across the stage, and they would merely confirm and reconfirm the existence of a situation that is already clear:

A disturbingly large proportion of the children in Kentucky's schools are suffering from educational deprivation—and this happening in an increasingly demanding technological world that offers no place to persons of limited literacy.

If, as has been said, Kentucky is educationally a land of striking contrasts—two states existing within the boundaries of one—the fact is that the economic bills that ultimately fall due must be paid by all, even those who live far away from the problem areas.

In 1985, after discussion of their unsatisfactory circumstances, representatives of 66 "property poor" Kentucky school districts formed an ad hoc nonprofit corporation called the Council for Better Education, Inc., with the highly specific purpose of suing the state government—not only the governor and education officials but the legislature as well.

The plaintiffs hoped to win a judgment that Kentucky's present method of financing the public schools is unconstitutional.

Johnson Wins Osborne Bee

The annual spelling bee at W.D. Osborne Elementary School was held recently, and after several rounds, Gina Johnson, an eighth grade student from Tom Gibson's class, won.

The runner-up was Shonequa Oden. Johnson will compete against other winners from Floyd County.

Takes ACT

Jimmi Rainey, a seventh grader from W.D. Osborne Elementary School, recently took the A.C.T. at Prestonsburg Community College. The test is usually taken by high school juniors and seniors.

Scott Named To Honors List

Sheree Scott, daughter of Beverly Scott of Wheelwright and Clyde Scott of Ypsilanti, Mich., has been named to the Dean's List at Berea College for the term just completed.

To be eligible, a student must maintain a 3.0 average and earn grades of B or better in at least four full-credit courses, the equivalent of 16 semester hours.

Floyd Students Named To Alice Lloyd Honor Roll

Dr. Wallace Campbell, academic dean at Alice Lloyd College, has announced 19 Floyd County students have earned academic honors for the fall semester.

Named to the Dean's Distinguished List for earning a grade point average between 3.75 and 4.00 (based on a 4.00 system) were Marjorie L. Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Burke of Weeksbury; Colleen N. Johnson, wife of Mr. Ronnie Johnson of Wheelwright; Kimberly D. Potter, wife of Mr. John Potter of Garrett; Paul W. Prater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prater of West Prestonsburg; James E. Staggs Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Staggs of Wayland; Joy B. Wells, wife of Mr. William K. Wells of Langley.

Named to the Dean's List for earning a grade point average between 3.25 and 3.74 were: Brett D. Akers, son of Joyce Akers of Langley; Melinda G. Duff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Duff of Estill; Sherry L. Dusina, wife of Mr. Glen Dusina of Bypro; Bryan T. Fugate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fugate of Prestonsburg;

Gladys M. Gibson, wife of Mr. Terry Gibson of Hueysville; Reba M. Griffith, wife of Mr. Keith Griffith of Langley; Barbara E. Hall, wife of Mr. Jerry Hall of Wheelwright; Solomon Kilburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kilburn of Manton; Connie H. Kinzel, wife of Mr. Ronald K. Kinzel of McDowell; David W. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Martin of Prestonsburg; Patsy J. Ratliff, wife of Mr. James Ratliff of Langley; Beverly C. Scott, wife of Mr. Anthony Scott of Langley; Deborah L. Wilhite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilhite of Ligon.

Homecoming Queen

Tish Hunter, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunter of Honaker, was crowned "Homecoming Queen" for 1989 at Betsy Layne High School, in their homecoming festivities last Saturday night at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse. The boy's basketball team elects the homecoming queen from nine candidates.

Area Literacy Effort Gears Up

Floyd County groups interested in literacy and adult basic education are gearing up for a major push this spring to further involve the community in promoting educational improvement—especially for adults who have dropped out of school or are deficient in basic skills.

At a luncheon for business and professional leaders on March 16, at the Holiday Inn, Kentucky First Lady Martha Wilkinson will be the guest speaker, highlighting local and state-wide adult education efforts. Wilkinson last year instituted a program called "Martha's Army" to encourage Adult Basic Education throughout the state. She is encouraging groups throughout Kentucky to attack the problem of adult illiteracy and to promote GED programs.

She has been supportive locally of the David School, and its alternative educational program for school drop-outs and its efforts throughout the County in adult basic education.

The present emphasis by the Floyd County Literacy Council is to help those who have not completed their high school education or received the General Educational Development (GED). It is important, community leaders in adult education feel, to look at the factors that cause poor daily attendance in the schools, and that eventually lead young people to drop out of school.

For example, young people who work late at night to gain extra spending money may not be encouraged to be in school the next morning. It is important that employers who hire high school students emphasize the importance of their employees staying in school and finishing their education. Thus, the Literacy Council is beginning a campaign to get every business in Prestonsburg and the area to endorse the idea that their workers either stay in school, or make an effort to work on their GED if they left school without completing their work.

One local business has already taken a huge step in this direction. With the encouragement of Dolores Smith, an active participant in educational reform efforts, R & S Truck Body Company in Allen is providing a class after working hours for employees who do not have a high school diploma or GED. The response has been phenomenal, with over 35 participants in the program, with the instruction being provided by teachers from David School.

For more information, contact Marcie Menster at the David School, or call 886-READ (886-7323).

Osborne Students Perform King Play

Children from W.D. Osborne Elementary School celebrated Martin Luther King Day with a play, "I Have a Dream."

The play was presented by Sheilah Vance's fourth grade students, and depicted the life of Dr. Martin Luther King during the Civil Rights movement.

Several quotes from his famous speeches were learned by the children.

Young Authors

Ruby Miller's class at Maytown Elementary is getting ready for the Young Authors Program. The students are beginning to work on their books.

BLHS Holds Financial Aid Workshop

As the time approaches for seniors to make decisions about their future, one of the biggest questions in their minds is "How Can I Afford College?" To help, a financial aid workshop was held on Jan. 5 at Betsy Layne High School.

The workshop was conducted by James Martin, director of Financial Aid at Morehead State University. Morton gave an overview of what financial aid is and took the participants step-by-step through the Kentucky Financial Form. He also discussed what types of aid are available and the differences in the aid.

Morton answered questions and offered assistance to the participants if any further questions arose.

Kentucky Financial Aid Forms are available in the guidance counselor's office or at the financial aid office at the college or university of students' choice.

Community Resource People Visit P'burg Elementary

Several members of the community recently visited Prestonsburg Elementary School to help students mark "Young Authors Blast-off Week."

Individuals visited classrooms, discussing the importance of reading, reading stories to students, and other activities.

The staff and students at the school expressed thanks for the volunteers' assistance.

Taking part were: Sarah Allen, librarian at PHS; Sandra Robertson, librarian at PCC; Katheryn Frazier, retired teacher; Larry Adams, Prestonsburg building inspector; Lee Carter, pharmacist; Tommy Hereford, Rescue Squad; Bill Bottoms, CPA; Sam Huffman, finance manager, Mack; the Rev. Quinten Scholtz, First United Methodist Church; the Rev. Tim Jessen, First Presbyterian Church;

Tommy Lafferty, insurance agent; Scott Walker, social worker; Ann Latta, mayor of Prestonsburg; Fred James, city planner; Betty Rowland, KEA;

Jean Rosenberg, education advocate; Robert Allen, personnel director, First Commonwealth Bank; Pat Willis, Highlands Regional Medical Center; Homer Hall, librarian, regional library; Estill L. Carter of Music, Carter, Hughes;

Lena Hammonds, secretary; Regina Lafferty, real estate; James Sparks, manager of Lee's Famous Recipe; Carole Stumbo, County Young Author's coordinator; Charles Collins, physical education teacher at

PES;

Don Hicks, lab technician at Highlands Regional; Elma Jessen, education advocate; Susan Parlier, Highlands Regional Medical Center; Mike Wells, fire department; and Nancy Slone, Highlands Regional Medical Center.

After visiting the children, the resource people were invited to a reception given by the PTA. Each speaker was presented with a certificate of participation.

A special thanks goes to James Sparks of Lee's Famous Recipe, who will be presenting a Nintendo to the participant whose name is drawn from those competing in the school writing contests.

The coordinators of the Prestonsburg Elementary Young Authors project are Janice Allen, Kara Huffman, Brenda Minix, Gwen Hammonds, Deborah Walker and Jayne Pitts.

Sustained Silent Reading

On Friday, Jan. 13, the sustained silent reading portion of the Young Authors program began. From 8:15 to 8:30 a.m., everyone at Prestonsburg Elementary School stopped to read. The reading materials ranged from books and magazines to newspapers. SSR will continue every Friday until the County Young Authors competition is completed.

PES Begins Young Authors Program

The week of Jan. 9-13 was the "Blast-Off" week of the Young Authors program at Prestonsburg Elementary school.

Beginning on Monday, the teachers discussed the program with students and made numerous reading and writing bulletin boards throughout the school.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, 22 students, chosen as star readers, read stories out loud to their younger peers. Thursday was the highlight of the week, with about 38 community resource people visiting the school to talk about how reading had helped them in their careers, and to read aloud to the classes. Fifteen minutes on Friday was set aside for sustained silent reading for the entire school.

The Young Authors program is designed to give all the children the opportunity to make their own book, the best being chosen to enter into the county competition in April.

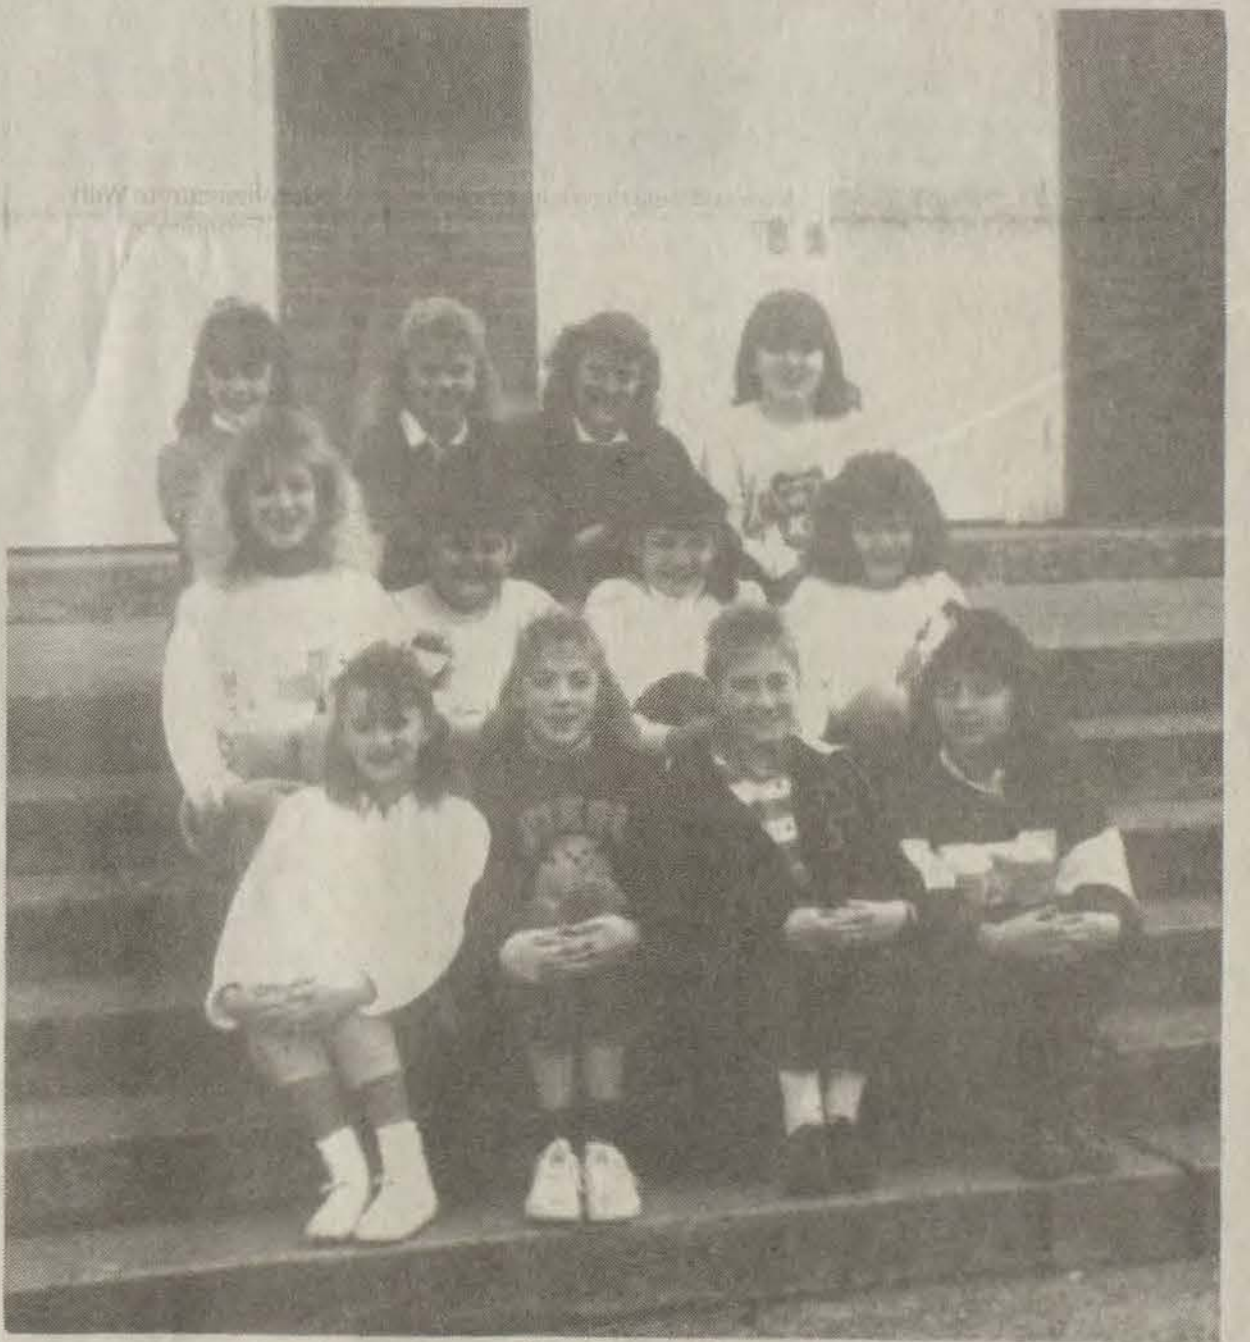

"The only way to entertain some folks is to listen to them."

Writing Contests Getting Underway

During January, February and March, three writing contests are taking place in conjunction with the Young Authors program.

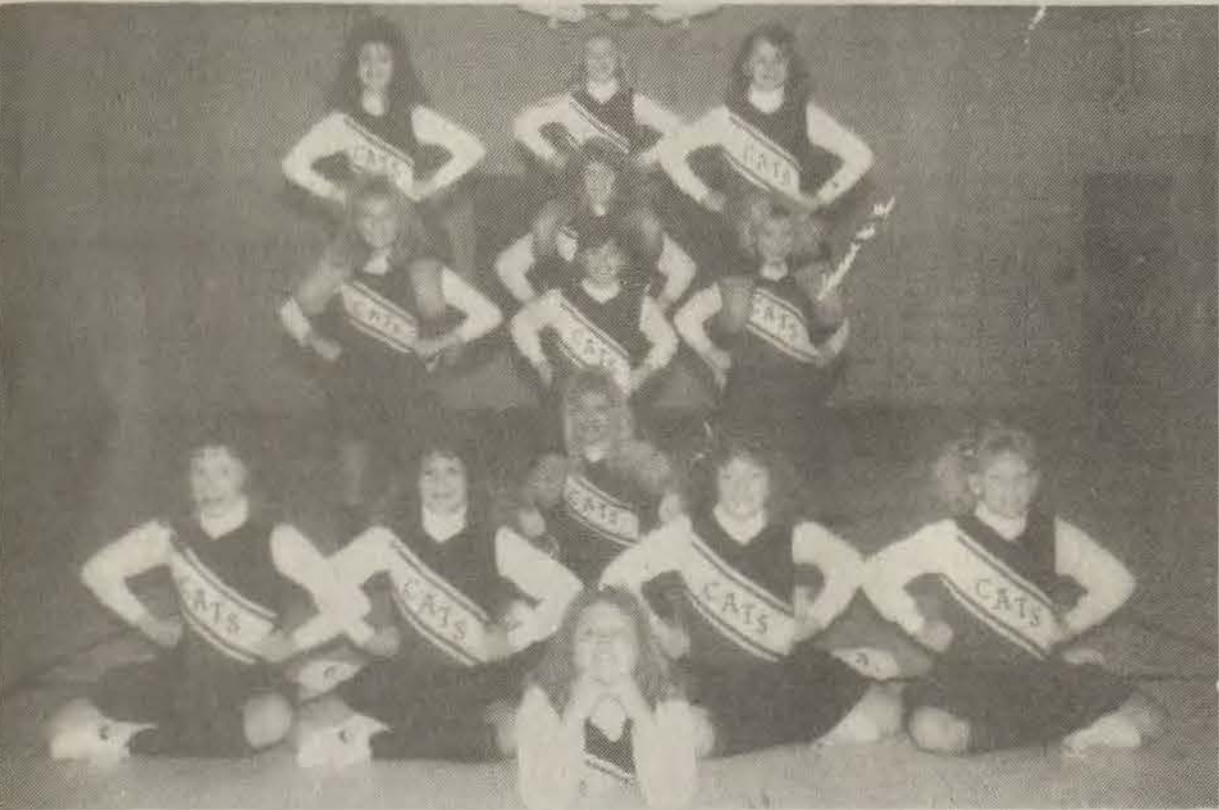

The three contests will be in short story, poetry and skills.

Each participant will be eligible to win a Nintendo presented by James Sparks of Lee's Famous Recipe.

Star Readers

As part of the Young Authors program, several outstanding readers from the fourth through eighth grades at Prestonsburg Elementary were chosen to read to the children in kindergarten through the fourth grade. The fourth grade read to the kindergarten; the fifth grade to the first grade; the sixth to the second; the seventh to the third; and the eighth to the fourth. Pictured are the sixth grade star readers: Christy Howell, Rebecca Howard, Heather Pack, Carrie Music, Jenny Morrison, Susie Bently, Krystal Burchett, Amy Bach, Erin Howell, Leslie Blackburn, Jennifer Miller and Tonya Miller.

McDowell Elementary Hosts JWA Conference Tournament

Several schools participated, including John M. Stumbo, Harold, Betsy Layne, Prater, Auxier, Prestonsburg, Clark, Allen, Martin, Maytown, Wayland, Garrett, Osborne, Melvin, Mountain Christian Academy and McDowell.

In math competition, Ryan Newman from John M. Stumbo, placed first; there was a three-way tie between Heather Watson of Garrett, Timmy Yates of Stumbo, and Hannell Laine of M.C.A. for second.

In social studies, Lisa Hobson of McDowell placed first; Matt Hale and Tonia Hale of Prestonsburg tied for second.

In science, Ryan Newman of Stumbo placed first; Charles Nelson of Prestonsburg, Brad Moore of McDowell, Michael Newman of Harold and Rodney Dutton of Melvin tied for second.

In English composition, Kristi Robinson of Clark placed first and Jessica Gadbury of Prestonsburg placed second.

In language arts, Lisa Hobson of McDowell placed first and Heather Watson of Garrett placed second.

The McDowell coaches would like to thank all the schools for their participation.

Also, the following people and

Big Success

The annual Christmas programs at W.D. Osborne Elementary were successful, with attendance in excess of 200. A unique part of this year's program was the presentation of "The Night Before Christmas." The Christmas story, written by Clement Moore, was a hit with the children and parents when Sandy Slone's sixth grade class told the tale using three different interpretations: sign language, pantomime and oral reading.

Swiger Earns Honor Roll Status

Jeremiah Swiger, a student in the upper elementary department at the Kentucky School for the Deaf in Danville, made the honor roll during the second grading period with a grade point average of 3.49. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Swiger of Hunter.

Nursing:

Opportunities In Nursing Draw Men To Profession

Nurse Tim

by Pam Shingler
Assistant Editor

When Willie Barrowman used to accompany a female doctor on her hospital rounds, patients invariably assumed he was the doctor and she the nurse. The opposite was true.

Barrowman, now a nurse anesthetist at Highlands Regional Medical Center, is one of a growing—but still small—number of men in nursing. The image remains hard for some to accept.

"The roles are so ingrained," said Barrowman, a former Elkhorn City High School football player. "Children will say 'You can't be a nurse because you're not a girl.'"

Traditionally "women's work," nursing is slowly attracting men to its ranks. Of about 400 graduates of the nursing program at Prestonsburg Community College since the program began in 1973, about 16 are males, according to Jenny Bottoms, who heads the PCC program.

Only about 2 percent of the licensed nurses in Floyd County are men, according to the Kentucky Board of Nursing. In the state of Kentucky, males make up a little more than 3 percent of all nurses.

Three male nurses were in last month's PCC graduating class, and all three were quickly snapped up by Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

"There's still a stigma attached to men in nursing. People think male nurses have to be effeminate," said Tim McSurley, 28, of McDowell, one of the Martin hospital's new men nurses. "That concept is slowly dissipating, but it's still attached. You just can't let it bother you."

McSurley, who at well over 6' tall could pass for a professional football linebacker, said he gets a little distressed when women nurses welcome him because he can help with lifting and other tasks requiring physical strength. "Sometimes it's as if you can't be a caring, compassionate person," he said. "Some people don't think men can have this instinct."

The stigma probably keeps a lot of men out of the nursing field, said McSurley, who is married and the father of a 4-year-old. "If you're secure enough in your own masculinity, you can deal with it."

Drema Osborne, director of the nursing staff at Highlands, recalls seeing no men in nursing in the 1950s when she was in nursing school in Louisville. "Around the mid '60s, I began to see some men in the field," she said. "The first I knew had been medics in the military."

The US Army introduced Barrowman, 40, to nursing. He was a member of a Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH), serving in Germany and the Middle East. After his military stint, he earned a bachelor's degree in nursing at the University of South Carolina and later received advanced training in administering anesthesia.

The father of three jokes that his father "just about dropped his teeth when I told him I was going to be a nurse."

Barrowman said he hasn't run across any gender prejudice in nursing. However, he does admit that he has encountered "some older women who didn't think a man's place is in nursing."

Others, he said, particularly women nurses, welcome men. "Some say it's about time men got into nursing so they can see what it's really like," Barrowman adds that many women nurses believe hospital administrators tend to listen better to men than to women.

McSurley admits that "a lot of older ladies" don't accept males as nurses. "If someone feels uncomfortable with me, we get someone else to help them," he said, adding that he generally explains who he is to patients so they don't mistake him for a physician.

Both Barrowman and McSurley speak highly of their profession, and both agree that opportunities abound in nursing.

"Women aren't confined to nursing any more," said McSurley, referring to the fact that nursing was once one of the few career options open to women. "Women are now going into other fields and men aren't coming in to take up the slack left by women. You can see ads for nurses all over the country."

"There's a lot of opportunity," Barrowman agrees, pointing to openings not only in hospitals, but also in doctor's offices, public health departments and industry. "I would encourage men to go into nursing. It is emotionally rewarding, as well as financially."

Barrowman said that beginning nurses in this area can earn between $80 and $90 a day and twice or three times that amount in other parts of the country.

Osborne, however, indicated that the upper salary limit is not as competitive as it could be. "A staff nurse here probably will never go over $14 an hour." For this reason, she said, many male nurses seek further training to get into higher paying specialty areas, such as nurse anesthetist or nurse midwife.

Amelia Salvors, director of nursing at McDowell Appalachian Regional Healthcare, concurs. She has no men on her nursing staff since the lone male nurse became chief of x-ray for the hospital.

"Everyone can use more than they're making," said McSurley,

"but the most important aspect is doing what you like. The worst thing in the world is to get up in the morning not wanting to go to work."

"For people who really care, it's the thing to do, whether you're male or female," said Barrowman. The current gender concept about nursing needs to change, he said. "Role reversal is something the next generation needs to get into fully."

Awaiting Adoption

Amy, 14, is one of 200 children waiting for adoption. She presently lives at a group home and attends school on campus. She likes collecting stuffed animals, swimming, shopping and drawing, and has a good sense of humor. She is shy but can be pleasant and affectionate. She needs a warm, patient, loving family that accepts her special needs and is willing to work with her so she may continue to progress. For more information on Amy or any of the other children, contact Kathy Bohr at 886-8192, or call 1-800-432-9346 in Kentucky. The Department for Social Services offers free adoption preparation services.

New HRMC Cardiac Lab Opening Date Set This Spring

Highlands Regional Medical Center is once again expanding its services.

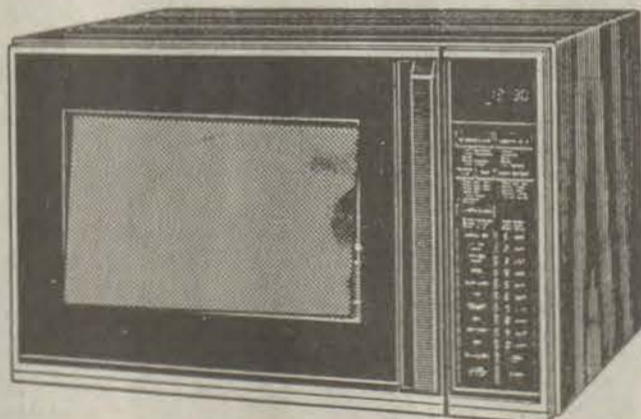

The construction of a Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory is well underway with an opening date scheduled for early spring.

According to Highlands' administrator Clarence Traum, "the establishment of a cardiac cath lab will bring a new dimension of health care to the Big Sandy area. The cath lab is the first of its kind in our area and brings a procedure, cardiac catheterization, which has been called "the ultimate tool" in the diagnosis of heart ailments."

Highland's Cardiology Department offers an array of cardiac diagnostic procedures which include stress testing, EKG, arrhythmic detection (Holter monitoring), nuclear medicine, echo cardiography with 2-D Doppler and color-flow mapping. With the addition of its new cardiac catheterization lab, HRMC offers an expanded program of services to primary care physicians in Eastern Kentucky.

The Friendship Cake recipe submitted by Otela Smiley in last week's issue was improperly printed due to incorrect information reported.

FRIENDSHIP CAKE

Fruit Mixture:
1 1/2 cups starter juice (1/4 cup brandy and enough fruit juice to equal 1 1/2 cups)
2 1/2 cups sugar
2 large cans peaches
Combine in one gallon jar with resealable lid. Stir once daily for 10 days.

On 10th day, add:
1 large can fruit cocktail
1 large can pineapples, crushed or chunks
2 1/2 cups sugar
Stir once daily for 10 days.

On 20th day add:
2 jars maraschino cherries
2 cups raisins
On 30th day add:
2 cans cherry or strawberry pie filling.

On 30th day, fruit mixture is ready to use.

Cake:
1 package yellow cake mix
1 package instant pudding, pecan, caramel or butterscotch
4 eggs
2/3 cups Wesson Oil
Nuts, if desired
Beats eggs well.

Add oil, cake mix, pudding and 1 1/2 cups fruit mixture.
Bake in a bundt or long cake pan for one hour at 350 degrees.
This cake is good plain or frosted.

ORANGE SLICE CAKE

(Submitted by Thelma Wallen, Prestonsburg Senior Citizens)

Cake:
1 cup margarine
4 eggs
1/2 cup buttermilk
3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour, sifted
1 pound orange slice candy, cut in to small pieces
1 3/4 cups sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
2 cups chopped dates
1 cup coconut
1-2 cups chopped pecans
Cream margarine and sugar thoroughly. Add eggs, one at a time. Mix soda and salt with flour; add these ingredients alternately with buttermilk to the sugar and margarine mixture. (Begin and end with the dry ingredients.)
Add remaining ingredients and mix well.
Pour into a greased and floured tube pan that has been lined with waxed paper.
Bake in preheated oven (270 to 300 degrees) for 2-1/2 hours.
While cake is still hot and in pan, mix the topping.

Topping:
1 cup fresh orange juice
2 cups powdered sugar
Mix and pour over hot cake.
Remove cake from pan when topping has been absorbed.

PUMPKIN ROLL

(Submitted by Eula Stumbo, Prestonsburg Senior Citizens)

3 eggs
3/4 cup Libby'sTM pumpkin
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
2 tsp. cinnamon
3/4 cup flour
1/3 cup pecans

Combine all ingredients and pour on cookie sheet that has been greased, and lined with waxed paper.

Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Turn out onto dishtowel sprinkled with powdered sugar; roll up like jellyroll.

Cool in refrigerator, then unroll, remove waxpaper, spread with filling below.

1 8 ounce package cream cheese
2 tsp. margarine
1 cup powdered sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Roll up again and wrap in plastic wrap and foil.

DIXIE'S CHILI

(Submitted by Dixie Turner, Prestonsburg Senior Citizens)

2 pounds ground chuck
2 cups chopped onion
2 tsp. minced garlic
4 tsp. chili powder
1 tsp. oregano
1 tsp. ground cumin
1 tsp. red pepper flakes

1 can, 6 ounces, tomato paste
4 cups beef stock
1 tsp. salt
Freshly ground black pepper
1 can, No. 303, kidney beans, undrained

Brown beef in skillet. Transfer with slotted spoon to a 4 quart casserole. In skillet, add 2 tablespoons oil and cook onion and garlic 4 to 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add chili powder, oregano, cumin and pepper flakes. Stir until onions are well coated with the mixture.

Add tomato paste; pour in beef stock (bouillon cubes can be substituted for the stock and a small can of tomato sauce can be used for some of the water).

Add salt, black pepper; bring to a boil. Stir.

Half cover the pot, turn the heat to low and simmer 1 hour.

If you use beans, add them now and simmer 30 minutes longer.

(These are minimum cooking times; longer simmering improves the flavor.)
Makes 10 servings.

HALLELUJAH POUND CAKE

"A recipe from Heaven"
(Submitted by Dixie Campbell, Prestonsburg Senior Citizens)
1 stick oleo
1 stick butter
1/2 cup Crisco
3 cups sugar
5 large eggs
1 cup milk

3 cups flour, sifted
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. vanilla or lemon extract
Bring shortening to room temperature; cream with sugar until light.

Add eggs, one at a time; beat well. Add milk and flour; beat well. (Blend in baking powder and salt. Add vanilla or lemon extract.)
Bake at 350 degrees for one hour in a bundt pan.

CHEESE APPLE CRISP

(Submitted by Norma Thomas Mullins, Betsy Layne Senior Citizens)

1 1/2 quarts apples, peeled and sliced
3/4 tsp. cinnamon
3/4 cup water
2 1/2 tsp. lemon juice
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup plain flour
3/8 tsp. salt
1/2 cup or 1 stick margarine
1 1/2 cups shredded cheese

Arrange apple slices in shallow greased baking pan; sprinkle with cinnamon.

Mix water with lemon juice and add to apples.

Combine sugar, flour and salt and work in with margarine until it forms a crumbly mixture like meal.

Put shredded cheese with mixture and mix lightly with fingers.
Spread over apples and bake at 350 degrees for 30-40 minutes or until apples are tender and crust is brown and crisp.

Makes 12 servings.

BEST YEAST ROLLS EVER

(Submitted by Norma Thomas Mullins, Betsy Layne Senior Citizens)

1 cup milk, scalded
1 stick margarine, scant
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
3 1/2 cups plain flour
1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water with 1 tsp. sugar

Grease pan with melted margarine. Add egg and margarine to the milk. Sift flour, salt and sugar into separate bowl.

Mix water and yeast, and add to egg and margarine mixture.

Stir in flour. Cover with waxed paper. Let rise once in a warm room until double in bulk; punch down.

Knead on floured counter or board and cut out.

Bake at 350-400 degrees for six to eight minutes (watch carefully), or cover and freeze.

Makes 32 rolls.
Correction: The Chocolate Pie recipe submitted by Jaunita Fraley last week calls for three tablespoons of cocoa, not 1/3 tablespoon, as was reported.

An Ohio reader offers this comment: use 1 1/2 teaspoons of ginger, as well as the other ingredients, in the Apple Stack Cake recipe previously published in County Kettle.

The F.C.R.T. membership roster includes 222 members, and is affiliated with the Big Sandy and the Kentucky Retired Teachers' Associations.

Grace Conley, Opal S. May, and the late Minnie G. Sutherland, of the F.C.R.T., have been honored as life members of the K.R.T.A.

"MOMMIE" RANDELL CIRCLE TO MEET FEB. 7

The "Mommie" Ransdell Circle W.M.U. of the First Baptist Church will meet at 7 p.m. on Feb. 7, at the home of Pat Hites.

All members and prospective members are urged to attend.

FIRST BAPTIST OBSERVES LORD'S SUPPER

The Lord's Supper was observed during services at the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) during services there this past Sunday morning.

NAMES OMITTED

The names of the following members of the Highlands Regional Medical Center Auxiliary should be added to those who attended the meeting at H.R.M.C. on Saturday, Jan. 21: Annis Clark, Christine Spradlin and Margaret Harris.

ADAH CHAPTER NO. 24 MEETS IN REGULAR SESSION

The regular session of Adah Chapter No. 24, Order of the Eastern Star, was held on Monday, Jan. 23, at 7 p.m., with worthy matron Paulina Owens presiding.

It was decided that a bakeless bake sale and a rummage sale would be held to raise funds for the chapter.

The bakeless bake sale is now in session, and Owens emphasizes that all donations will be appreciated.

Everyone is asked to donate clothing and other items for the rummage sale scheduled for March 1.

Present at this meeting were Paulina Owens, Mollie Hyden, Thomas Hyden, Dorothy Osborne, Lorena Wallen, Pauline Sparks, Rebecca Rasnick, Belle Conn, Hollie Blanton, Lillia Mae Price, Janie Hicks, Burieta Gearhart, Jewell Bays and Patsy Evans.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 13 at the lodge hall.

METHODIST VISITATION COMMITTEE VISITS AREA MEMBERS

Members of the visitation committee of the First United Methodist Church and their guests visited May K. Roberts, a long-time member of this church, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William J. Baird III, Mr. Baird and family, in Pikeville on Tuesday of last week.

Prior to their visit, the group ate lunch at Blossom's Restaurant there.

Making this trip, on the church van, were Dr. Quentin Scholtz, the church's pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Haywood, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blackburn, Best West, Dot Marshall, Priscilla Hager, Alice Harris, Fannie Runnels, Shirley Callihan and Nancy Webb.

The group was joined in Pikeville by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hereford.

BEST OBSERVES 72ND BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Frankie Best observed her 72nd birthday on Friday, Jan. 27, at her home.

Calling on her during that time were Virginia Williams of Lexington (who spent the weekend with her); Mr. and Mrs. Gary May and daughters, Stephanie and Sara, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lafferty Jr. and sons, Thomas and Todd, Kim Horne and Carol Holland, all of Prestonsburg; and April Dawn Hall of McDowell.

Many of these guests were her former students.

One of the highlights of her birthday was the telephone call from her foster son, Masoud Meshkat, of Kerman, Iran, who is now a professor at the University of Kerman.

STEPHENS CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ray (Julia B.) Stephens was honored on Wednesday, Jan. 25, with a birthday party at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Stephens, and their son, Ray II.

Present were Mrs. Stephens, the honored guest, members of the immediate family and neighbors, including: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wells, Bonnie Walters, Mrs. Carl Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis, Mrs. Wayne Walters, Mrs. Wendell Wells and daughter, Stephanie, Stuart Stephens, Betty Stephens and Ray Stephens II, who hosted the party.

Decorated birthday cake, ice cream and other refreshments were served, and the honoree was presented gifts as mementos of the occasion.

She also received birthday cards and telephone calls honoring her on this occasion.

MCCOY DELIVERS MESSAGE AT METHODIST CHURCH

Bringing the message at the First United Methodist Church this past Sunday was Dr. Michael McCoy, chairman of the Department of Religion and Philosophy at Union College in Barbourville.

ABBOTT HOMEMAKERS TO MEET

Cynthia Frasure, president of the Abbott Homemakers' Club, announces that this group will meet in the annex building on Tuesday, Feb. 14, at 7 p.m.

She invites all members and prospective members to attend this event.

STURGILL APPOINTED TO UK BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Word has been received that William B. Sturgill, formerly of Prestonsburg, who, for the past several years, has resided in Lexington, was recently appointed by Kentucky Governor Wallace Wilkinson to serve as a member of the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees.

Sturgill, who previously served on this board and was chairman for 10 years, is the son of Mrs. Troy B. Sturgill of Prestonsburg and the late Mr. Sturgill.

SLOAN HAS HOUSEGUESTS

Roberta Sloan had as her recent houseguests at her home on South Arnold Avenue her two sons, Doug of Robinson Creek, and David of Ft. Mitchell, and her granddaughter, Elizabeth Bowling, who is a student at Centre College in Danville.

PRESTONSBURG WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET

Members of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club are reminded by Boots Adams, president, of the monthly meeting to be held Thursday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m., at the Floyd County Library.

Members of the club's executive board are asked to meet there at 7 p.m. on that same day.

Persons needing transportation should call Lyda M. Howard at 886-2129.

HEREFORD SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

Mrs. Thomas Hereford, who has been ill for awhile, is now showing improvement.

Her sister, Mrs. J.O. Webb Sr., who has also been ill recently, continues to improve.

NELSONS ANNOUNCE BIRTH

A rose on the altar of the First United Methodist Church during services there this past Sunday morning announced the arrival of a son, Jonathan Wallace Nelson, to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nelson of Huntsville, Ala.

The grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Gabriel Wallace of Huntsville, and the great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace of Prestonsburg.

PHS REUNION COMMITTEE HOLDS MEETING
The reunion committee of the Prestonsburg High School classes of 1932-1933 met Wednesday, Jan. 25, to make further plans for the reunion scheduled for June 10, at May Lodge in Jenny Wiley State Park.

Names and addresses of members of the classes of 1928 through 1931 are being sought.

PRESTONSBURG DAY HOMEMAKERS TO MEET
Valentine's Day will be the date of the Prestonsburg Day Homemakers' first meeting of the calendar year, which will be held next Tuesday at 1 p.m. at Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Barbara Dawson, the club's president, urges all members to attend, and extends, on behalf of the club, a cordial invitation to new members.

WILLIAMS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY
Ronda Williams was honored on Saturday, Jan. 28, when her parents, Judy and Ron Hooker entertained with a birthday dinner.

Present were the guest of honor, Mrs. Williams, her husband, Dan Williams, their children, Kristen and Daniel Raines, Mr. Williams' parents, Sherman and Jean Williams, and the host and hostess, Judy and Ron Hooker.

Following the dinner, gifts were presented and appropriate refreshments were served.

ANNIE ALLEN CIRCLE TO MEET

Ruby Garrett, president of the Annie Allen Circle W.M.U. of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), announces that the next W.M.U. meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 6, at 7 p.m. at her home, and on Feb. 21 at 6:30 p.m. the W.M.U. quarterly meeting will be at the First Baptist Church in Paintsville.

Garrett urges all members and prospective members to attend these two events.

METHODIST COUNCIL ON MINISTRIES HOSTS DINNER

The Council on Ministries of the First United Methodist Church hosted a dinner on Tuesday of last week, honoring the members who joined this church in 1988.

Clara Bradbury, new church lay leader, presided over this event, the purpose of which was to allow these new members to become better acquainted with the work of the council.

Each member of the council introduced and explained the purpose of his or her area of ministry, and time for questions was allowed.

A good time was had by all, said members.

KIWANIANNES MEET IN REGULAR SESSION

The Prestonsburg Kiwanianes held their regular luncheon meeting on Thursday, Jan. 26, at May Lodge in Jenny Wiley State Park.

Due to the absence of Barbara Dawson, club president, Hope Whitten, vice-president, was in charge of the meeting.

The Kiwanianne grace was said in unison. Lucy Regan presented the devotions, read two poems and led the group in prayer.

Garnett Fairchild, secretary-treasurer, gave her reports. She stated that $25 had been donated by this group to the Hospice Program.

Get-well cards were signed for Mary Margaret Webb and May K. Roberts, and a sympathy card for Barbara Dawson, whose father died recently.

Present were Hope Whitten, Garnett Fairchild, Mildred Salisbury, Lucy Regan, Maman Leslie, Dorothy Osborne, Ada Meade, Myrtle Allen, Jane Wallace, Minerva Cooley and Docia Woods.

BRADBURY SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

The many relatives and friends of Mrs. Raymond (Clara) Bradbury will be glad to know that, although she has been confined to her home with the flu, she is now showing improvement.

COOKS VISIT

Mrs. Barksdale Cook, her daughter, and granddaughter, of Halo, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, here, on Wednesday of last week.

Vogel Day Church Holds Holiday Musical

Solo

Elizabeth Clevinger of Harold Elementary sings her solo, "Empty Calories."

The Vogel Day Methodist Youth Choir presented the musical, "The Case of the Missing True Christmas Spirit," during December.

Amanda Wright, of Mullins School, portrayed Sherlock Jones, a disguised angel sent by Gabriel to the Spend-It-All shopping mall to locate just one person with the True Christmas spirit. She sang a solo about God's blessings.

As Sherlock, she visited the following shops on her mission: the candy shop where a flirty and cute Elizabeth Clevinger, of Harold Elementary explained how candy is a hit at Christmas as she sang a solo, "Empty Calories"; the diner where Shondale McKinney, of Pikeville Elementary sang about all the Christmas dinner favorites in her

"Flo of Mel's Diner" accent; the dress shop where Ashley Branham, of Pikeville Junior High, sang about

"Dressing Right" in her attire of glamour and glitter; the toy shop where toy puppy (J.W. Clevinger, pre-schooler) and toy elephant (Wesley Boyd, pre-schooler) created laughter throughout the church with their own puppy and elephant gestures; the card shop where Santa (Dusty Branham of Pikeville Elementary) came alive; and the pet shop where the real spirit was found when a little orphan (Lori Feltner of Pikeville kindergarten) brought in pennies she saved all year to buy an elderly neighbor a puppy because she was so lonely.

In the musical, the mall personnel were so touched by the orphan's deed that they all gathered at the manger scene and shared the true meaning of Christmas from the Bible, along with some favorite Christmas songs.

They were greeted and accompanied by the mall manager, Carrie Feltner, of Pikeville Junior High, who sang the theme song, "Let's go Christmas Shopping." Her assistant was the church's own young comedian, Brad Branham of Pikeville Elementary.

J.P. Skeens and brother, Jacob, of Harold Elementary, portrayed the toy and pet shop owners.

The play was directed by Patti West. The pastor is Dan Frederick. The group is considering an Easter play and a summer play to perform outdoors.

Musical Held

Amanda Wright as Sherlock Jones looks on as mall manager, Carrie Feltner, gives orders to assistant manager Blunder, portrayed by Brad Branham.

Poe Infant Comes Home

Rachel Nicole Poe, daughter of Johnny and Kathy Poe of Prestonsburg, was dismissed from Cabell Huntington Hospital on Dec. 19 where she had been since her birth on Sept. 25. She weighed two pounds and three and one-half ounces.

She is the granddaughter of Louis and Ruby Gibson of Indianapolis, Ind., the late Ezra Howard, Mary Ellen Poe of Prestonsburg and the late Ned Poe Jr.

Her dedication was on Sunday, Jan. 8 at the Willard Pentecostal Church in Busy by the Rev. Terry D. Bowling, pastor.

Books And Things:

Growing Houseplants: PCC Books Offer Tips

by Trisha Morris
PCC Librarian

There's a lot to be said for house plants—they can be talked to, a fern doesn't have to be walked twice a day, they still look great after a three-day weekend alone, and no one has to worry about who opened the cat-food can.

They do their bit for ecology too. They consume the carbon dioxide people exhale and hand back life-giving oxygen. If you are thinking of inviting something green or flowery home with you or if you received a living gift for Christmas, the following books from the PCC library will help you make it welcome.

Gift Plants, by Jack Kramer. If the Christmas catch included plants for the home, Kramer provides information about how and when to repot, water, feed, and groom a hothouse gift. A beautiful gift, houseplants are usually bought at the peak of their growth and without care will last only a few weeks and or months. In Gift Plants, Kramer describes the proper care necessary to allow these lovely gifts to survive for years.

The book begins by describing how the flowering and foliage plants have been grown in the green house so recipients won't make the mistake of putting them into an immediate alien environment. It gives the basic rules of watering and feeding, tells about common diseases and their cures, and discusses the most popular houseplants with special notes on their individual care.

With pages of practical advice, this book can help keep homes or apartments in color all year long.

Exotic House Plants, by Alfred Graf. Graced by 1200 photographs, this book is an encyclopedia of houseplants. Contrary to its name, information on begonias, crocus and tulips is among its offerings—as was

If a plant didn't come with the helpful plastic name sticker (like babies coming home from hospital) they can be identified with this useful little book.

House Plants For the Purple Thumb, by Maggie Baylis. Baylis, strutting her stuff with wisdom and humor, will have readers displaying terrariums made from wine bottles, using cat litter in potting soil, or training vining younglings with a bamboo stick. Delightful reading and painless learning, Baylis tells us what plants can live together in the same pot, what plants are best for apartment living, what plants can be grown by anyone, what plants people must be gentle with, and what plants need a little knocking around.

The Indoor Light Gardening Book, by George Elbert. Gardening by lamplight was a revolutionary idea. It's principles, first developed in the 1920s, have completely changed agricultural and horticultural concepts. This book uses this concept to allow the home gardener to grow beautiful houseplants without having to put all the pots on the windowsill. Ornamental foliage, exotic flowers and even salad greens will flourish under the right balance of fluorescent and incandescent lighting.

With special sections for orchids, african violets, and flowering bulbs, this book will allow readers to grow the most stubborn houseplant all through the dull days of winter.

Houseplants and Indoor Landscaping, by Muriel Orans. You landscape your home with lawn seed and shrubbery, but you landscape your living room with philodendrons, african violets, and boston ivy. Orans takes the novice indoor landscaper from purchase to placement and from care to propagation. A single plant can be colorful, but a tastefully selected grouping can be artistic.

With 248 color photographs, this book will show how to grow a pineapple, nurture an african violet to bloomful glory, or extend the lives of plants which may seem hopeless. Brighten up the winter by landscaping the living area with the advice in Orans' book.

Bonsai, Indoors and Out, by Jerald Stowell. Bonsai is a Japanese art of training and controlling the growth of a woody plant so that it becomes a living work of art in miniature. With detailed instructions, Stowell introduces the reader to the art of Bonsai as it is practiced in America. From preparing the container to displaying the finished product, the art of Bonsai is reduced to its essentials so that a novice can soon feel comfortable attempting its many forms.

With a chapter answering commonly asked questions and another on suppliers of plants and supplies—Bonsai, Indoors and Out can ease you into a new form of artistic horticulture.

Decorating With Plants, by Oliver Allen. Plants suspended artfully in space add drama and dimension to a setting—but there is more to hanging a plant than simply attaching its pot or basket to a ceiling hook. In the days of the very rich, squadrons of gardeners would transform a ballroom into a garden of towering potted palms and tubs of delicate camellias blooming out of season—but those opulent days are gone. Window boxes offer endless possibilities for growing virtually anything that will flourish outdoors—but they have special soil needs. Decorating With Plants will tell you how to hang your plants at the correct height to survive with a minimum of humidity; select and arrange flowers and houseplants in your home so that it looks like the work of a horticultural designer; and how to add a layer of perlite or gravel to the bottom of a window box for good drainage.

These and many more tips in this colorful book from the Time-Life series will make you expert in an art form that will add beauty and enjoyment to your living area.

201 Houseplants in Color, by Rob Herwig. If you didn't identify your plant from the other books—I guarantee you will from this one. With beautiful color picture of each specimen, it tells you all you need to know about growing habits, sun requirements, and temperature tolerances of every plant.

The Complete Book of Terrarium, by Charles Fitch. With a modern approach to terrarium gardening, Fitch supplies simple explanatory text on soil mixtures, light arrangements, terrarium maintenance, and unusual plants for gardens in glass containers.

For those with no sunny windows available, the terrarium garden provides a way to grow plants and flowers inside the darkest of homes.

Fleming, Conley Say Vows

Lucretia Ann Fleming, daughter of Randall and Teresa Fleming of Neon, and Terry Franklin Conley, son of Gratho and Janet Hamilton and grandson of George and Dorothy Hamilton of Melvin, were united in marriage on Dec. 28 at the Weeksbury Church of Christ. The Rev. Michael Hall officiated. The bride is a student at Pikeville College. The groom will graduate from Pikeville College in the fall. He has been named Academic All-American and currently holds a 3.8 GPA in the field of accounting.

Hazzard's Work To Be Featured

The work of Ruth Hazzard, a senior art education major at Eastern Kentucky University, will be on public display at the Prestonsburg Community College Art Gallery from Jan. 23 through Jan. 31.

Her "photo realism" art work is a culmination of 26 years of painting as a hobby.

After exhibiting at PCC's gallery, she will take her work to New York to display and market.

The public is invited to meet the artist on Saturday, Jan. 28 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the PCC Art Gallery on the first floor of the Magoffin Building.

For more information, contact Etta Cantrell, PCC Art Gallery coordinator.

MODEL PUBLIC NOTIFICATION

NOTICE TO THE CUSTOMERS OF FRANCIS WATER CO.

In July 1987, federal regulations were adopted that require monitoring for eight volatile synthetic organic chemicals and 51 unregulated contaminants in public water systems. The first year of this monitoring is being conducted by the Kentucky Division of Water with the assistance of the Division of Environmental Services.

The volatile synthetic organic chemicals have maximum contaminant levels, or standards over which action will be taken to protect your health. Currently, no maximum contaminant levels have been established for the unregulated contaminants because sufficient information is not yet available. Please be assured, however, that you will be notified if contamination is detected and determined to be a potential health threat.

This monitoring will aid in setting standards by indicating how widespread these contaminants may be in public water systems and at what levels of concentration they may be occurring.

The Francis Water Co. now has available for public review the analytical results for unregulated contaminants for the monitoring periods of September through December 1987, January through March 1988, April through July 1988, July 1988 through September 1988 and October through December 1988. These results may be reviewed at our office at Grethel, Ky. during regular business hours of 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

For more information, please contact Francis Water Co. at 358-4188 or the Drinking Water Branch of the Kentucky Division of Water at 18 Reilly Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, or at (502) 564-3410, Ext. 516.

A copy of this notice has been provided to the Drinking Water Branch, Kentucky Division of Water.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant To Application Number 836-5033

(1) In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Amber Coal Company, Inc., HC 79, P.O. Box 1297, Martin, Ky. 41649, has filed an application for renewal of a permit for an underground mining operation. The proposed operation will affect a surface disturbance of 18.87 acres and will underlie an additional 1188.63 acres located 1.0 miles northeast of Risner in Floyd County.

(2) The proposed operation is approximately 0.2 miles east from KY 1210's junction with Johnson Fork County Road and is located along Johnson Fork. The latitude is 37° 36' 05" N. The longitude is 82° 50' 24" W.

(3) The proposed operation is located on the Martin USGS 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed is owned by John E. Johnson and Roger Kirk. The operation will underlie land owned by Roger Kirk, Austin A. Johnson, Verlin David Johnson, Callie Skeans, Bill and Annie Bays, Douglas Chaffins, Berlie and Jane Sammon, Ronald Frasure, Myrtle Johnson, Ellen Bradley, David and Lois May, Estill Ousley, Otis Ousley, Harrison Stephens, Lillie Stephens, Arminda Bailey, Lula Bradley, Glen and Eula Hotel, Claude and Bertha Allen, Sallie Brown, John Roger Dotson, Kentucky Coal Company, R.E. Pitts, Frasure Catalog Agency, and John L. Pitts.

The operation will affect an area within 100 feet of Johnson Fork County Road and will not involve relocation of the road. The operation will use the underground method of mining.

(4) The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Dr., Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, US 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

This is the final advertisement of this application; all comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be received within thirty (30) days of today's date.

Real Estate

Housing activity in 1989 likely will be slower due to an overall rise in mortgage interest rates, according to the latest monthly "Outlook for the Economy and Real Estate" from the National Association of Realtors.

The January report, issued by NAR's forecasting and policy analysis division, anticipates further tightening of the nation's money supply by the Federal Reserve Board to limit inflation risks from rapid economic growth.

Long-term interest rates, including fixed-rate, 30-year mortgage rates, likely will continue to be affected by the anticipated credit tightening, the report says. As yet, one-year adjustable-rate mortgage rates have borne the brunt of the Fed's action, rising at a faster pace than interest rates for fixed-rate home loans.

An increase in mortgage rates during December is expected to continue through the spring of 1989, resulting in a 1988-to-1989 decline in sales of existing homes and new homes, as well as a lower level of housing starts, the outlook predicts.

It attributes the strong sales pace of existing homes last fall to home buyers "trying to keep one step ahead" of future mortgage interest rate hikes.

The outlook contains an economic commentary by NAR chief economist Dr. John A. Tuccillo and includes the following predictions for the real estate industry and the economy in general:

Sales of existing single-family homes are expected to total 3.41 million for 1989, a level 3.4 percent below that of 1988.

Sales of new single-family homes are expected to total 623,000, dropping 8.2 percent from 1988.

Housing starts are expected to total 1.40 million units, dropping 5.7 percent from 1988. A total of 1.02 million starts for single-family units is anticipated, falling 5.9 percent from last year. Starts for buildings with two-four units are expected to total 56,100, dropping 3.3 percent from 1988; and starts for buildings with five or more units probably are expected to total 322,000, dropping 5.6 percent from last year.

The national median existing-home price is expected to reach $93,100 for 1989, rising 4.8 percent from last year. The national median new-home price likely will reach $120,600, representing a 5.3 percent increase from the 1988 price.

Interest rates for fixed-rate, 30-year mortgages are expected to average 11.0 percent for 1989, rising from an average of 10.5 percent for 1988.

Interest rates for one-year adjustable-rate mortgages are expected to average 8.2 percent, rising from an average of 7.6 percent for 1988.

The gross national product (the total value of the nation's goods and services) is expected to total $5.23 trillion in 1989 in current dollar terms, representing an inflation-adjusted increase of 3.0 percent from 1988.

Consumer price inflation is expected to reach a rate of 4.8 percent in 1989, compared to 4.1 percent for last year.

The civilian unemployment rate is expected to total 5.4 percent for 1989, compared to 5.5 percent for 1988.

The National Association of Realtors, the nation's largest trade association, represents nearly 800,000 members involved in all aspects of the real estate industry.
