New Allen School Bids Over Budget

Bids were put on hold Tuesday for the new Allen Elementary School after bids came in approximately $200,000 over budget.

Attending the bid opening at the school board offices were local contractors, members of the Floyd County School Board, and parent representatives.

According to Russell M. Frazier, assistant superintendent of finance for the Floyd County school system, the bids will have to be "brought into line" in order for construction plans for the new school stay on schedule.

"The bids came in a little high," said Frazier. "We were hopeful they'd be lower, but I wasn't really surprised when they weren't. What we're hoping for now is for Randy Burchett, the school architect, to find alternatives in the construction which can lower our costs."

"We want to sell bonds on the school in December, but right now, I don't know. We're going to have to see what we can work out in the next few days. We have no choice but to stay within the state's budget."

Ella Goble, an Allen parent, when asked what this potential delay would mean to parents of children attending the current Allen school, noted, "They're going to be real upset. With everything that's been going on in our school recently, it's terrible that this is now happening to us."

Any long term delays in approving bids to construct a new school could jeopardize state funding for the project, and further delay what has already been three years in the making.

"We're hanging in limbo, now," said Shag Campbell, school board member. "We don't want any break in construction plans. We'll have to try some alternatives in our plans to get the building to fit our budget."

About $2.25 million has been allocated by the state to build the new Allen School.

Welcome Back, Branson!

Allen school children gave a big welcome home to Allen Principal Daniel Branson, who returned after a 16-day stay at Cabell-Huntington Hospital in West Virginia. Branson will continue his recuperation at home in Allen, a result of the Oct. 29 Allen School furnace explosion.

Allen Principal Welcomed Home

With chants of "Way to go, Branson, way to go," and signs reading "Welcome Back, Mr. Branson," Daniel Branson, principal of Allen Elementary School returned home triumphantly, 16 days after being badly injured in a furnace explosion at the school.

Driving into town at 12:15 p.m. with his wife, Pat, from Cabell-Huntington Hospital in West Virginia following his release on Tuesday morning, Branson's vehicle followed an Allen fire truck past the school on a street lined with Allen school children, teachers and well-wishers. Branson was clearly moved by the outpouring of happiness at his return.

"It's really good to be back," said Branson. "I know everyone was praying for me while I was up at the hospital. I'll be back at school as soon as I can."

According to Glenda Blackburn, seventh and eighth grade teacher at Allen, all the banners and preparations were organized in the few hours after the school was notified of Branson's release Tuesday morning.

"The children really worked hard to get everything ready. They did a wonderful job in such a short time. Everyone is happy to see him back."

While no date has currently been set for Branson's return to his position at the school, Allen school personnel noted that a return after the first of the year is probable.

Branson will continue to recuperate from the accident at his home in Allen.

Check Those Numbers

Kay Hale and Dave Lane of the Floyd County Democratic Election Committee assist in a recanvass of votes for the city of Prestonsburg and District One. The request for a recanvass is considered normal procedure after an election, according to Carla Bolton, County Clerk.

Vote Recount Held, Fraud Questions Raised

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

A recanvass of votes from the City of Prestonsburg's city races and District 1 elections was conducted Friday afternoon, following requests from candidates Paul Joseph, Gorman Collins Jr., Harry Ray Porter, and Doug Howes.

According to County Clerk Carla Bolton, such a request is common after an election, and involves the visual inspection of votes cast in voting machines used during balloting.

The recount was conducted in the storage garage of Irvin Sheppard, on Route 404 in David, where county voting machines are stored. Members of Floyd County's Democratic Election Commission wheeled the voting machines into position so that the backs could be popped open and the vote count read. Members of the commission, Bolton, and the former candidates for city and county positions kept track of the numbers, matching them with the official tallies from Tuesday. After much reshuffling of the bulky machines and several near voting booth collisions, the recanvass was completed, after an examination of 14 machines. All numbers tallied with Tuesday's official count.

Said Joseph after the recanvass, "I wanted to check and confirm the numbers we received on Tuesday, just because there are errors sometimes when the votes are read off. Ann Latta won by 215 votes. I want to extend to her my congratulations for the win."

Bolton also commented on the recanvass. "If this had been a recount, we would have had to retest all the machines, which would have been a much longer process. Today, we just checked the numbers reported Tuesday. The numbers were the same."

A more serious question was raised during examinations of absentee ballots cast for the City of Prestonsburg races. According to Commonwealth Attorney Jerry Patton, County Clerk Bolton noticed, prior to election day, that a set of 100 absentee ballots appeared to have been addressed by the same person. Bolton contacted Patton, who notified the state's Attorney General office. When the state office expressed no interest in the case, Patton placed the information in the hands of the Prestonsburg Police Department, which is currently gathering information from those whose names appear on the suspect ballots.

Patton anticipates subpoenas being issued for upcoming Grand Jury action, if evidence turns up that the ballots were influenced by individuals sponsoring a particular candidate. State police may be called into the investigation, according to Patton.

Where Is That Star?

As a part of Astronomy Weekend at Jenny Wiley State Park, two observations of the stars were held at the park, allowing interested participants to get a closeup view of the heavens. While conditions were not considered good by the experts, because of excessive light from the full moon, all participants seemed to enjoy the chance to peer into infinity and marvel at the wonders of the universe.

Man Dies In Parked Car

A Martin man died Sunday morning in his parked car, apparently the victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Ronnie "Lightnin'" Blackburn, 35, was discovered at 10:50 a.m. by his uncle, Ollie Robinson Jr., according to family members. Brent Huff, a visiting friend, contacted the authorities, according to state police reports. Martin Police Chief Herschel Lester initially responded to a call and found Blackburn in his vehicle in front of his home in Cracker Bottom, in Martin, where he lived with his grandmother.

Upon examination, Lester could find no pulse, and Blackburn was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Glen Frasure.

The cause of death has been listed as unknown, pending results from an autopsy performed in Lexington Sunday. No foul play is suspected and State Trooper Joel Newsome is investigating the case.

Development Authority, David Tax Hike Approved By Fiscal Court

By Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

The Floyd County Fiscal Court passed a resolution Friday to create an economic development authority to recruit business, industry and jobs into the area.

The court also heard grievances from Spruce Pine Branch, Rock Fork of Garrett and David residents, and approved a solution for the Job Corp Center/Meadows Branch road problem.

The Fiscal Court meeting, normally held the third Friday of the month, was moved to Nov. 10 because of the Thanksgiving holidays and other scheduling conflicts.

All members of the court were present, except District 1 Magistrate Gerald DeRossett, who was attending a funeral.

The Fiscal Court voted to establish a nonprofit industrial development authority to be known as the "Floyd County Development Authority." The six members, who are to be representative of all sections of the county, will be appointed by the county judge. The board's purpose is to aid in the acquisition, retention and development of land for industrial and commercial purposes in Floyd County. Members will also cooperate with regional, state and federal agencies to formulate development plans and in acquiring and developing land for industrial purposes. The authority may also issue revenue bonds.

In a separate matter, since less than five people came out against the taxation proposal for the David Fire Department, the court agreed to go with the majority's approval; 132 persons signed the petition for the tax. "We always do what the fire department and the people want to do," Stumbo informed the petitioners.

Emily Shepherd, from Rough and Tough, said she and her neighbors were against the tax because the nearest fire hydrant was 1 1/2 miles away and they felt they would be taxed for a service they couldn't utilize. Jackie Howard, fire department spokesperson, assured Shepherd that the capacity of water stored on the trucks should be sufficient to douse a house fire. "The fire truck would still serve the area, and no matter if there is a fire hydrant or not the truck would still have to be there to put the fire out," Howard stressed.

According to Howard and Magistrate Jackie Owens, the fire department's equipment is in such a bad shape if the department do not get additional funds it cannot continue to operate. The department has actively been seeking money through fund raisers and donations recently.

The court voted to raise property taxes $1 for every $1,000 for David residents.

County Attorney David Barber, who has been working with state officials, presented a temporary solution to the access way for the residents of Meadows Branch now that a building is being constructed across the existing road way as an addition to the Job Corp Center. Presently the boundary line of that area is in dispute by Ruth Coal Company and the Federal Government, and Barber suggested, after extensive research, that an existing road, running about 20 meters from the road, now being used be cleared and reopened.

"This is the cheapest route for the county, all that will be needed is to remove a guardrail and add a little bit of stone to the road," Barber explained. "After the boundary is settled we can relocate the road. We don't need to get in the middle of a boundary dispute. But, something needs to be done now."

Construction of the new roadway began yesterday (Tuesday), according to officials.

That Old Man Winter's A Comin'

Yes folks, the time for frolicking in the sun is coming to an abrupt end as weather forecasters predict the first snow flurries to fall on Thursday night.

Wednesday begins the dreary weather being windy, with thundershowers. A high in the mid-60s is expected with a 90 percent chance of rain.

Wednesday p.m. gets much colder with a continuing wind and thundershowers ending during the evening but some light rain showers will continue over night. The low is set at 40 with the chance of rain decreasing to 50 percent by morning.

Thursday is predicted to be windy and colder, with a chance of showers changing to snow showers. The high will only get up to the lower 40s. The chance of precipitation falls to 30 percent.

Finally Thursday night, the skies will become partly cloudy and the lows in the 20s. Brrrrrr!

Volunteers Needed...

Volunteers are needed to help area residents file tax returns, according to Earnest Hayes of Langley.

Tax-Aide, a program that uses volunteers to help taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax assistance file their returns, is sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons. Volunteers explain special credits and deductions and how people may claim them on their tax returns. Volunteers will help individuals complete the return, right down to any refund that may be due, said Hayes.

Volunteers with an accounting background are especially sought, but such a background is not necessary. The Internal Revenue Service will provide volunteers with all training materials necessary to prepare basic income tax returns. Training is generally conducted in December and the following January. Sign up is underway. Training is conducted at locations that are convenient for instructors and volunteers.

For more information, Contact Hayes at 285-3701.

Hats Off To Prestonsburg!

On Thursday, officials and representatives of Prestonsburg will travel to Lexington to take part in a ceremony awarding the city its "gold" certification as part of the state's Certified Cities program.

The luncheon, sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, is an annual salute to excellence in economic development.

Prestonsburg has been named a certified city for the fifth consecutive year, moving from silver to gold certification status.

To qualify as a certified city, communities must undergo a complete evaluation method concerning efforts in economic development, community organizations, community planning, utilities, downtown revitalization, community appearance, education, small business development and existing industry support.

Once again, according to CKBC spokesman Tim Thompson, the two blood centers will clash in a battle for blood Thursday and Friday, Nov. 16-17. "As University of Kentucky football coach takes care of the Volunteers on the field, CKBC is asking all true 'Blue Blood' fans to do a little volunteering of their own by donating blood," said Thompson.

The Floyd County Times will donate two tickets to a local participating donor chosen by CKBC as part of the blood drive.

Locally, donations may be given Thursday and Friday, Nov. 16-17, at the donor center on the second floor of the municipal building in Prestonsburg. Center hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Participants will receive a free stadium cup and can of Pepsi, and a free cholesterol test. The drive began Tuesday, with local donors giving 318 units of blood — over 100 more units than were given on the first day of last year's drive. Additionally, said Thompson, the MEDIC region received 251 donations, giving the "Big Blue" a slight starting edge.

"Central Kentucky Blood Center needs your help to bring home a victory this year for patients in Central and Eastern Kentucky," added Thompson.

The blood center which scores the most donations will claim victory and

The First Presbyterian Church of Prestonsburg will be having a "Songs of Thanksgiving" hymn sing on Sunday, Nov. 19, at 6:30 p.m. The featured singers will be the Goble Family. There will be other singers, piano and organ music and congregational singing of favorite hymns. The public is invited.

Leslie Gas, according to Charlotte Harley, spokesperson for the commission, failed to file its report for 1988, which was due in March of this year. The company was refused an extension to file, and Harley noted the possibility of a fine being imposed on the delinquent company. Stevens declined to comment on the situation and referred questions to the commission.

Leslie Gas served 36 customers in 1987 and reported revenues of $8,664, according to Harley.

KENTUCKY MOUNTAIN FOLK ANSWER CRITIC

(Author's Note: Early in 1935 I wrote the Cincinnati Post, replying as follows to an item that was very critical of our area, as so many have been and some still are. The article was published more than 50 years ago. Though progress throughout the USA has been remarkable in the interim, including this section, few writers from outside have changed their views.)

"Editor of the Post, in reply to Miss Virginia Brown's observations on her recent stay in Wheelwright:

"Although Miss Brown's comments are negligible compared with some, since Wheelwright is near my home, they cannot pass unanswered. Her impression of the hills is more amusing than interesting. We acknowledge that conditions she describes may exist, but vehemently deny that they are typical or common here, any more than the slums of Cincinnati tell the whole story of that city.

"During the 10 years spent in Kentucky mountains, I have never seen or heard of a woman or child taking a drink. I admit hearing of girls with flasks, but is that habit unknown elsewhere? One year I lived near Licking River, miles from a railroad, yet I have heard of only one man ever beating his wife. According to the press, married brutes can also be found in urban population. Certainly the divorce rate exceeds that in rural districts.

"To my knowledge no stranger has ever been followed. I have never been molested in any way. The mountaineers are naturally reticent but genuinely hospitable. Originally, they had reason to fear the 'furriners' because revenue officers and some unscrupulous kings of industry, seeking to develop the mountain's great natural resources, were the first outsiders to appear in number years ago.

"Evidently Miss Brown saw what she came to see: sordidness, not courageous people struggling to leave an easier task for posterity, not the unsurpassed beauty of the glorious mountains here. Conditions to be ashamed of, to eradicate? Of course the world over. Side by side are others to be proud of, others that remain unheralded.

"Maytown has no butlers, footmen, uniformed maids, but lovely homes of refined people are more prevalent than indigent ones. Miss Brown might be seated at a lace-covered table for a six-course dinner, elaborately appointed and faultlessly served amidst talk of the NRA, World Economics Conference, the Century of Progress, or about local welfare to help care for our own proletariat and tatterdemalions. If she attended the Maytown Woman's Club she would see the defeat of a Holyoke alumna in a contest about modern authors and their works. In a community affair, she could have seen 'natives' outspell a graduate of Syracuse University. That happened in 1926 and not one of the localities had an hour of college then. (Both facts; the kind rarely seen in print.)

"I could continue. Miss Brown's indignation toward Eastern Kentucky is small compared with ours when we read only the darkest things about these precious hills!"

DON'T WORRY! WE PROBABLY WON'T HAVE ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE FOR A HUNDRED YEARS... OR SEVERAL YEARS, ANYWAY... MAYBE SOMETIME AFTER CHRISTMAS... A GOOD TWO OR THREE DAYS, AT ANY RATE...

Report To Kentucky

Sen. Wendell Ford

OR BEST INVESTMENT IS OUR CHILDREN

As nearly everyone knows by now, huge federal debts are forcing us to set strict priorities for public investments in the future of our state and nation.

As we go through this painful process in the Congress, we are building a strong consensus that the welfare of children must always come first. Without healthy, well educated and potentially productive young people, we might have no future at all.

With 32 million Americans living below the poverty line, poverty rates still are well above those of the 1970s. With young families being squeezed by many economic forces, the poverty rate among children is an intolerable 20.6 percent.

Clearly we must make the best possible use of every available resource to attack such problems, and I am pleased to report that this Congress is taking some promising initiatives on several legislative fronts.

We have passed a strong anti-drug bill and embarked on a continuing drive to improve Head Start and other educational programs. We are moving to combat homelessness.

We are working on measures to extend health-care coverage to pregnant women and children in the greatest need and taking other steps to help many young Americans get a better start in life.

One of our most promising efforts is represented by the Child Nutrition and WIC Reauthorization Act of 1989, recently passed by the Congress and sent to the President.

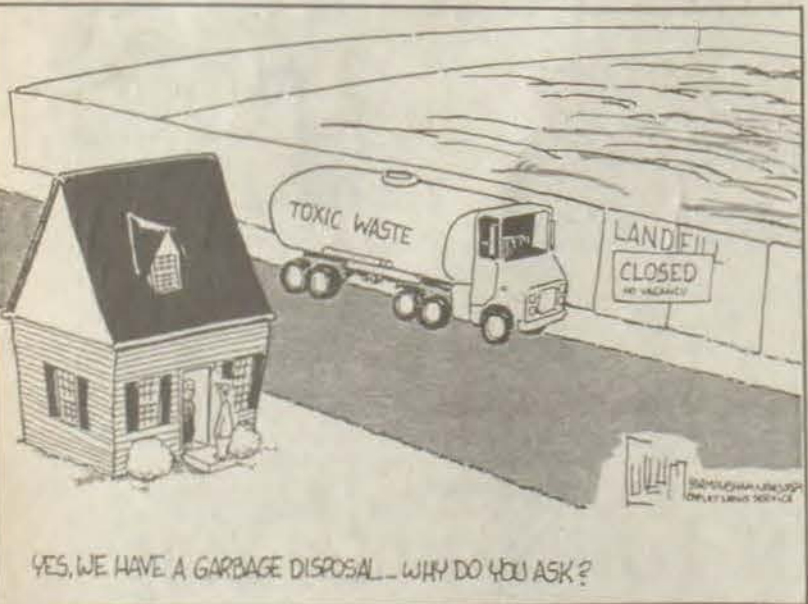

This bipartisan bill reauthorizes our best child-nutrition programs along with the Special Supplemental Feeding Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) through 1994. A related appropriations measure provides funding increases of roughly $580 million for these critical programs, which reach more than 30 million children.

Our child-care bill strengthens widely used school lunch programs while expanding related school breakfast and summer nutrition programs for low-income children. It allows churches and other nonprofit groups to receive assistance for summer programs, with provisions to keep out any unscrupulous operators who might abuse these programs.

Another important provision of this bill authorizes funds to encourage day-care providers to expand their services and offer nutritious meals to children in low-income and rural areas. Kentucky is to receive $225,000 for a statewide demonstration of this approach to improved nutrition for low-income children.

Our legislation reauthorizes other federal programs, including our highly important farm-commodity distribution program. It improves the efficiency and scope of a variety of programs aimed at better nutrition, especially among children.

In view of such efforts, some have begun to refer to this as "the year of the child" in the congress. I will do everything I can to see that it is the beginning of many years.

Wheelwright Citizens Thank Officials For Work

Dear Editor,
On behalf of the good citizens of Wheelwright, we would like to express our thanks and appreciation to the Honorable Judge J.M. Stumbo, Magistrate Betty Caudill and Ed Caudill for their efforts in bringing about the grading, graveling and blacktopping of the road leading to Peaceful Garden Cemetery.

Due to your efforts a road that was often impassable due to deep ruts caused by rain storms and often overgrown by weeds and foliage, making burial ceremonies difficult at best, has been transformed into a nice roadway befitting the respect and dignity of the citizens who will use it and the purpose for which it will be used.

This simple not alone cannot convey the depth of our gratitude; probably nothing can. However, rest assured that your efforts are much appreciated.

Your hard work will give a big boost to the community's efforts to fix up, clean up and maintain the cemetery. Because of your contribution, the community's efforts to turn this cemetery, which is the final resting place for some of Wheelwright's best citizens, into a cemetery that the community can be proud of, has a good chance of succeeding. Although others have contributed time and money and much work is still to be done, your contributions, combined with the continued hard work and financial support of other concerned citizens in the local community, has gone a long way toward insuring the success of this project. If the effort is successful, a large measure of the credit will be due to you three.

God bless and keep you and yours. Our hopes and dreams go with you.

Thanks again,

Exercise Right To Vote, Help Others, Country

Dear Editor,
I've just finished washing my supper dishes, and I've had an urge to sit down and take time out to write how I feel.

Today is Monday, Nov. 6, and tomorrow is a day when every American citizen has the right to go to the polls and cast their vote for the candidate of their choice. I have shed many a tear and prayed so many prayers for all the good honest freedom-loving people of this country and the world who are being denied the right to vote for the person of their choice. "May the Good Lord Bless us All."

"May God Bless America, Land of the Free and Home of the Brave." We still live in a free country, a country where anyone who chooses to seek an office may feel free to do so. But the time has come when an average citizen (down-to-earth person) can't seek an office because of the expense of the campaign.

I would love to live to see the time come when our government would put a limit on the amount of money a candidate can spend on any office that they may seek.

Make it affordable for anyone to run for an office in our "Great Country Called America." People, just let God and your conscience be your guide and you will never do any wrong. He's the only one we've got left. Put your trust in Him and things will always work out.

I get down real low sometimes but I always think things over and I always make a come back some way, somehow. I always remember, Marcella, this is what Marcella Bailey's Red, White & Blue Day is all about—our freedom and a right to stand up for what you believe in.

As most of you good patriotic citizens know, this was the 20th year for a wonderful day of celebration here in our own precious Floyd County. Red, white and blue.

The election will be over before you read this article and it comes from my heart.

I hope that everyone went out and exercised their right to vote for the person of their choice — and I hope and pray that there will be no malice and hatred, but instead there will be more love and concern shown for our fellow man. Let's all work together by reaching out a helping hand to others and we will all have a better home and much sweeter place to live.

As always,
Marcella Bailey,
Langley

Appreciates Photos Of Bridge

Dear Editor,
I was born and raised in Floyd County on the head of Middle Creek 75 years ago. I moved to Ohio on Feb. 10, 1944 with my wife and five children to keep the railroads going for World War II. But on March 4, 1944, I was called back to Kentucky to take my examination for the Army and I passed. I was sent to Hawaii to guard the Japanese prisoners; that is where I spent my two years. Then, I went back to Ohio to the same job at the railroad. I worked there 27 years before retiring.

Well, I still love Floyd County. I love to read the Floyd County Times — it takes me back to the good old days. As I read I can see the old places as they used to be, which isn't there any more. Things have changed so much.

I want to thank you and all who had a part in publishing the picture of the old bridge at the First National Bank. My dad, Abe, and I rode mules 12 miles out of the head of Middle Creek then hitched them to trees on the other side. We walked across that bridge to the Big Sandy Wholesale house and bought groceries. At the age of 18, I drank my first beer walking across that bridge on a Fourth of July. To this day, it looks so real. Well, I will close this one, but I have more to write later. If there is any one that knows me, feel free to write me. I will answer.

Yours truly,

Questions Precinct Placement

Dear Editor,
We have just completed another election, it is now time to heal the wounds and get to the work at hand.

I am a voter of Precinct 16 Garrett, Floyd County. For the past 40-plus years we as voters have been shifted from pillar to post to cast our vote.

No different this election. After having worked for many years to get a voting place that was convenient in every respect, ample parking, bathrooms, heat, accessible to the handicapped, etc., the county Board of Elections found fit to move us again; reason being, to save a dollar.

Any second grade class could point out where more could be saved than ever could be realized from joining voting precincts.

Seems that the Board of Elections failed to take into consideration the inconvenience and hardships they placed on the voters — after all votes are what counts.

Precinct 16, or what was 16, is made up of Stone Coal and part of Garrett.

Stone Coal in itself has some 170 plus families — of these families 70 plus are disabled, handicapped or retired — to move the precinct put a hardship on these voters. Many did not vote this time due to the move.

Since our voting public is declining every election we should not be placing such a hardship on them as this move did.

We should be using our time, talent and energies to encourage voters to get out and vote, make it so convenient for them that they can't refuse.

I would like to ask the County Board of Elections to reconsider their decision and put Precinct 16 back where it belongs. Forget about the dollars saved, if any, and do what is best for the voters. As a county, we can afford to pay for a convenient place for our citizens to vote, we must.

Return Precinct 16 back to its rightful place and its 435 plus voters.

Yours Truly,
Alen Turner
Garrett

Preliminary Report Raises Questions On Mine Death

by Frank Clark, Staff Writer

A mine cave-in Thursday at New Generation Mine #2 at Long Branch, near Dewey Lake in Floyd County, killed a Martin County man.

James D. Slone, 47, of Inez, was trapped by a rock fall and killed at approximately 5:20 p.m. on Thursday, as he exited the operator compartment of a cutting machine he was using to remove coal in the mine, in a process known as pillar extraction.

According to Mike King, engineering coordinator of the federal Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA), Todco Inc., the company operating the mine, did not have permission to perform this type of secondary coal extraction, based upon a preliminary report of the accident.

According to King, nine miners were working the section of the mine when small pieces of roof began dropping, warning of an imminent collapse. As Slone left his machine to evacuate the area, a large cave-in occurred, covering approximately 90 feet of the shaft with up to 12 feet of rubble. All miners except Slone reached safety.

Rescue work began soon after the accident, eventually involving four mine rescue crews from the state Department of Mines and Minerals, according to David Phillips of the state DMM. Slone's body was found at 6:20 p.m. Friday, but could not be removed until Saturday afternoon. The four rescue crews worked around the clock to recover the body.

An examination of the accident began Tuesday, as investigators from the state Department of Mines and Minerals (DMM) and MSHA went into the mine to examine the fall. Richard Watts, district supervisor of DMM, noted that investigations will take at least two or three days to complete. A full report is expected in approximately 20 days.

While Mike King of MSHA clearly stated that no cause for the Thursday mine collapse has been determined, he noted from a copy of a preliminary report filed after the accident that Todco Inc. was not authorized to perform secondary mining in New Generation Mine #2. This finding was based on a review of the roof control plan for the mine. The pillar extraction process, which was apparently being performed in the mine just prior to the accident, is considered to be a secondary mining method. King was unable to comment on the significance of this finding prior to the filing of the investigation report.

Tommy Marcum of Inez, operator of the mine, could not be reached for comment on the incident. Employees at Todco Inc. refused comment Tuesday.

Firefighters Respond To Two Fires In Allen

A fire at Allen Crumb's house on Arkansas Creek was reported Saturday night at approximately 11:30 p.m., according to Lt. Joe Reynolds of the Allen Fire Department.

Firefighters arrived to find a coach in the house on fire. The piece of furniture was removed from the house and extinguished. Smoke damage was reported and investigators from the State Police arson squad are looking into the incident.

A second fire started at approximately 9:38 a.m. Tuesday, beneath the home of Clyde Wood in old Allen. Allen firefighters responded and quickly extinguished the flames. Minimum damage was reported and investigation revealed a faulty light bulb as the cause of the fire.

You Can't Judge A Book By It's Cover — Or Title

Reviewed This Week:

- The Strange Story of False Teeth*
- A Field Guide to your Own Back Yard*
- Implants*
- Bridges*
- Kentucky Tidbits*
- Essays Today*

By Trisha Morris, PCC Librarian

Every library has books on its shelves which can snare a browser with a fascinating title. Some are true gems, while others are shams hiding behind their cover. The following are some of the "fascinating titles" that are sitting on the shelves of the PCC library.

The Strange Story of False Teeth, by John Woodfarde. Perhaps one of the first body replacement parts, false teeth have had a long and strange history. Whether as an aid to beauty or an aid to eating, false teeth are an unexplored branch of our social history. Historians don't know what the first set looked like or what kept them in place, but they do know that Elizabeth I used rolls of cloth to pad out her lips; that Lord Palmerston's fake teeth seemed always on the point of falling out; and that a world cruise was ruined for President Grant by the loss of his false teeth.

In the past, false teeth were so insecure they were commonly removed before meals. Today's achievements have witnessed exceptional adhesive agents, new techniques for jaw alignment and teeth implants.

A Field Guide to Your Own Back Yard, by John Mitchell. If your new vacation plans never get any further than your own patio, this book might open new vistas to the wilderness that exists just beyond your back door. Arranged in order of their seasonal occurrence, here are fascinating facts about the birds (and mammals) at your bird feeder, the flowers, weeds, mosses and fungi in your garden and lawn, the insects, the amphibians, the trees, the shrubs and everything else that grows or feeds within the confines of the typical back yard.

Mitchell tells us that the same laws that function in the larger wilderness areas of the world are at work close to home — once we know what to look for. Illustrated with 60 line drawings, reading this book is a painless way to learn about the ecological dynamics of even the most natural setting.

Armed with all this knowledge, you can "wow" the kids while sharing the wonders of nature with them.

Implants, by Wilfred Lynch. The human body is an assembly of the biomechanisms that, when weak and diseased, can malfunction. This book is about the "space parts" that biomedical engineers have developed to extend and comfort life.

Lynch successfully examines heart valves and pacemakers along with the function of the heat-lung machine for open heart surgery. He describes the wearable artificial kidney, analyzes total hip, knee and elbow replacements, and explores artificial lenses, ear bones, voice boxes and breast and facial implants.

Named biomechanisms, these modern prosthetic devices can add years to an individual's useful life, improve physical comfort and often emotional stability, as well.

Bridges, by Scott Corbett. Bridges are so familiar a part of our every day life that sometimes we almost forget they are there. Only when a bridge is closed for repairs and we have to take a long detour do we realize how difficult life would be without it.

Beginning with humanity's earliest attempts at bridge-building, this book traces the development of bridge design and construction by focusing on the most interesting and spectacular examples. From the London Bridge of "falling down" fame to covered bridges and the Brooklyn Bridge, the book tells the human story behind some of the most spectacular construction miracles of our world.

Kentucky Tidbits, by Robert Powell. Beginning with Mary Ingles, the first white female to enter Kentucky, and ending with the Kentucky Coffee tree, now the official state tree, the book is a collection of vital statistics and interesting information about Kentucky's past. Presented in shotgun fashion, the facts are simply stated with no descriptive narrative or transitional sentences. Although very interesting, the book lacks an index and, except for a loose chronological arrangement, it takes a lot of flipping through to find a single needed bit of information.

Some interesting tidbits make this a treasure for Kentucky trivia buffs: there are 70 Ionic columns of Bedford stone on the Kentucky Capitol, and Tom Cruise, star of the movie "Top Gun," was a student at Saint Xavier High School in Louisville.

Essays Today. The modern reader is in a hurry. Time is short and the information explosion threatens to bury him in details. Books take too long to read; fiction is too indirect, and poetry is short on facts. But periodical journalism has an immediacy and directness that books seldom achieve, and in the periodicals the dominant literary form is the essay.

The purpose of Essays Today is to present a sampling of the most interesting and effective essays published in the leading journals of the United States and Great Britain. The 23 samples here cover such diverse topics as endangered species, educational problems, the challenge of being fame and a writer, and the new mysticism — there's a critical biography of Joyce Carol Oats, an encounter with an Indian living in Washington, D.C., and biographies of men trying to make a more habitable world.

This is a book for quick dips into — it's great for people who live a hurried life but who still need to read.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF RICKY LEE (POOH) HALL. BORN JANUARY 6, 1955 PASSED AWAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1988

To our beloved son and brother, who departed this life one year ago today.

Your memory, your smile, still saddens our heart in such-away.

The days come, the nights pass. Your loving memory, your loving-kindness, that we knew, will always last.

It's said that time will take away the pain, the suffering, the sorrow. So we look, and we pray, to our heavenly father, that they'll be a brighter tomorrow.

We do not know the pain, the suffering, you knew. But in our grief, our sorrow, your loving family, we pray, that Jesus will sustain us the one, who loved you.

There's coming a time when we will meet in heaven, a place where we will never part.

A place, Jesus says never a broken heart.

May the good Lord bless and keep you, as we know he can.

For we will all meet again someday over in canaans land.

O praise God, for seeing us through the passing year.

Your memory and gentle smile, will always keep us near.

Sadly missed by "Mom" "Stepfather" "Brothers" and "Sisters"

Legislative Prespective

Rep. Greg Stumbo

I am proud that the General Assembly has stepped ahead of the crowd to take a leadership role in initiating a meaningful economic development movement in the Commonwealth.

The recent forum, "Shaping Kentucky's Economies: Legislative Strategies," held in Louisville was a commendable beginning for a legislative campaign to create new ideas and policies. It pulled together state and local officials and business and industry leaders to interact on this very critical necessity for the future of our state.

As a member of the General Assembly, I believe the forum sent a message across the state telling citizens that economic development has attained the highest priority on the legislative agenda. And, that as an equal partner in state government, the General Assembly will be looking at all issues as to how they relate with economic development. We will be using our influence to create new direction to our efforts.

The meeting utilized industry and business representatives to inform state policymakers and elected officials as to what areas of cooperation between industry and business and their respective communities have been developed. An IBM representative told forum attendees that they have developed a unique program for office efficiency designed with the assistance of a University of Kentucky professor. Nationally recognized economic development experts laid out projects and programs being successfully implemented in other states to enhance economic development in their particular areas.

The forum went further to utilize success stories in the state to spark the enthusiasm of Kentuckians. Pike County's representative from their Development and Economic Authority explained in detail their successful efforts to attract a cookie company hiring 600 to 800 employees to rural East Kentucky. Several speakers involved in the tourism trade explained how recreation is a $3 billion industry in the Commonwealth and is growing.

The forum could not tell the complete story without confronting the final piece to the economic development puzzle, and that is education reform. Kentucky students are not being taught the academics of what is needed to survive in the 21st century. We have one of the highest school dropout rates in the nation in an era when industry is even reluctant to hire inexperienced high school graduates, finding that many of them cannot read well enough to comprehend training manuals.

In this sophisticated society of drugs, pressure to succeed and peer competition, teachers are often unsuccessful in reaching students suffering from emotional problems. Discipline is also a problem.

In addition, there are areas of Kentucky that are severely economically and socially depressed, creating a group of children totally unprepared even for kindergarten. This factor heightens the need for positive preschool training such as that provided by Head Start. Children who do not receive this training begin school one step behind other children who may have had many social and academic learning experiences.

Another issue also vital to the overall picture of economic development is child care — an issue that Congress is currently grappling with. Questions such as who should provide or assist with child care is a volatile issue among policymakers. Many feel that business and industry should provide good day care for their employees. Lawmakers, however, do recognize the urgent need to provide day care for working single mothers who are borderline welfare recipients.

The legislative forum was meaningful and a keystone in legislative planning. Economic development in Kentucky will never quite travel the same road again as more and more lawmakers take an active role in the efforts to lure business and industry to their respective communities.

If readers have comments on this issue or any other that may require legislative consideration, please do not hesitate to contact me, or you can use the toll free message line in Frankfort, 1(800-372-7181).

First Lady Visits Betsy Layne Senior Citizens Center

By Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

Seniors and staff at Betsy Layne Senior Citizens Center celebrated their grand opening with an elaborate show of support from many area officials, including the First Lady of Kentucky Martha Wilkinson.

Also present were State Rep. Greg Stumbo, State Sen. Bennie Ray Bailey, Floyd County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo, Magistrates Jackie Owens and Eral Tackett, County Attorney-Elect Jim Hammond, Sheriff-Elect Paul Thompson, and many others.

The crowd was served a bountiful lunch of home cooking and was entertained by the Magoffin County Cloggers. Wilkinson honored the crowd by twirling with the other guests to country tunes and square dance music. She mingled with the senior citizens and the numerous other guests who turned out to hear the First Lady speak and contribute to the festivities. Many of the officials present were instrumental in getting the funding for the center to be built. Ted Stumbo, president of the senior citizens, introduced Wilkinson by saying, "She doesn't just make statements and give promises, she makes a difference by backing them up! ... Mrs. Wilkinson has a God-given talent to make people feel welcome around her."

Wilkinson addressed the crowd of over 200 and said, "If I'm not going to do something you won't find me saying I can." She praised the improvements she has seen in Floyd County and mentioned her sincere approval of The David School and the work done by Danny Greene there.

"This (center) is intended to make a genuine difference for a special group of people," Wilkinson said. "A portion of the proceeds from the state lottery has been earmarked for senior citizens programs and I know you will join me in my job of getting more programs established for seniors." She spent some time discussing her education program concerns with the audience, stressing that the most critical areas are guidance and direction and caring for young people.

"The critical part of education starts with the little people. Let's reach them when we can help, and that's at the beginning, and they will grow to value education. Dropping out shouldn't even be a consideration of our children," she expressed. "I want to see this dropout business stopped entirely; it's a waste of money and time."

Wilkinson encouraged the listeners to join her in her quest and "let their voices be heard." She thanked the seniors for having her attend and assured them that she would be back to visit, adding, "if you have the cloggers back I will surely return." Wilkinson ended her trip to Floyd County with a visit with the freshman class at Betsy Layne High School. She stressed to them the importance of remaining in school and growing to be a thinker and valuing an education.

Goochie Goo!

Kissing babies is usually a politician's ploy at election time, but this lady was not campaigning for any position — she just couldn't pass up the chance to give this little cutie a squeeze. The governor of Kentucky's wife, Martha Wilkinson communicated with this future vote caster, Alanna Greene, 23-month-old daughter of Danny and Anne Greene of David, during the Betsy Layne Senior Citizens Center's Grand Opening Ceremonies Friday.

Twirling To The Music

The First Lady of Kentucky, Martha Wilkinson, took time during her stop at the grand opening festivities of the Betsy Layne Senior Citizens Center to dance a few steps with Danny Greene, principle of The David School. Many guests enjoyed the unseasonably warm weather Friday, Nov. 10, by dancing to the calls of the Magoffin County Cloggers.

Greeting the Congregation

Bishop Kendrick Williams, right, leader of the Roman Catholic Church in Lexington and Eastern Kentucky, says hello to members of St. Martha's Catholic Church at Watergap in Floyd County. Father Joe Muench, left, the Pastor at St. Martha's, hosted the Bishop's visit to the county. Adam Hutchinson, far left, helped out by holding the Bishop's crook and hat.

Another job opportunity in the area is that of census collector, according to Mark Grayson of the Census Bureau in Ashland. Testing will be held Monday, Nov. 13 at the National Guard Armory at 10 a.m. and also at 7 p.m. for those who are interested in taking the census in 1990.

Grayson stated it was imperative that those desiring employment as census takers take this test. They plan on recruiting from the Floyd County area and jobs will be available here. The positions will require 6-8 hours of work a day and will last for 6-8 weeks. Applicants must have a car. After the completion of the census in this area, workers can transfer to other parts of the state and continue the operation there if they wish.

"The test is not a difficult one," Grayson stressed. "If the taker can drive, read and write they can pass the test, it is not hard. The test will consist of 28 questions and will take approximately 1 1/2 hour to complete."

Grayson expects there to be about 700 jobs available which will pay between $6.25 and $7 an hour.

For more information contact Grayson at 1-325-9692. People seeking employment must take this test to be eligible for employment.

Fiscal Court—

Pine Branch residents, was in court again to find out what would be done about the condition of their road. Apparently the road is affected adversely by high waters and any rain causes school-bound children to walk through mud or cut through a neighboring yard to steer clear of the water. The access through the yard is no longer available, according to Kidd, since the owner has put up a locked gate.

Several solutions were discussed, including pouring concrete, creating a six-inch curb between the ditch and the road, and shooting off the cliff on the side to widen the road. The court offered no Kidd no concrete solution but agreed to look at the problem again.

A Rock Fork resident, Barry Combs, came to the court asking about a petition which was filed three years ago. He sought knowledge of where Rock Fork was on the priority list to receive water lines. He said that he had been working with Francis Water Works to see what could be done. Stumbo said that they have had petitions from "every hollow in Floyd County" and he recommended that Combs continue his work with Francis.

"We work to get water where ever an however we can get it," Stumbo stressed. "Work it out with Francis and we will do anything we can. The right of ways are no problem with the county and the state."

Clark Allison, with the Floyd County Soil Conservation Service, offered a solution to the flooding in the Cliff area. He recommended that the court apply for a hazard mitigation grant through the Kentucky Department of Disaster and Emergency Services for a flap-gate/channelization and culvert replacement project in the Cliff area.

Allison said that the channelization would include the installation of a concrete culvert along the C&O Railroad's tracks with a one way gate allowing water to run out into the Levisa Fork but keeping back waters from flooding the area. He explained that an area down stream would be created to contain the overflow of water.

The total cost of the project would be $40-50,000 with city and county covering about $12-15,000, estimated Allison. He also noted that the county would be able to pay off part of their obligation by the donation of equipment and labor for the project.

The court wished to hold the approval of such a project until it was determined whether FEMA would pay half or three-fourths of the total cost of the project and to give DeRossett a chance to look at it closer since it is in his district.

In other action, the court: — Hired Janelle V. Carver as jail matron to replace Carol J. Neeley, at a salary of $416.15 biweekly, on the recommendation of Jailer Lawrence Hale; — Accepted bids for four-inch pipe, with Water Works of Huntington, W. Va., presenting the lowest at 86.8 cents per foot;

— Accepted a petition, pending proper advertisement, to close the old roadway behind Slim-Way Total Fitness Center on the old US 23 above Sugar Loaf;

— Passed the motion to pay all election expenses from the November General Election once the bills were submitted by the County Court Clerk;

— Accepted a resolution for Floyd County Fiscal Court to enter into an agreement with the State of Kentucky Division of Abandoned Lands for the purpose of conducting a study to determine and document the effect of pre-law mining on the ground and water supply in the Weeksbury area, and to propose solutions to any problems identified in the study. It was decided that the consulting firm of Howard K. Bell Engineers be retained to conduct the study.

Blackcats Fall To Somerset In Playoffs, 52-0

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Prestonsburg High School football team ended its football season on a disappointing note Friday night at the Prestonsburg field, falling hard to the Briar Jumpers of Somerset, 52-0, in the first round of the state playoffs.

Senior halfback Eric Jones, 5' 8", 185, ran for 173 yards on 16 carries and scored three touchdowns in leading Somerset to victory. Jones had gainers of 52 and 35 yards and scored on a 19-yard run in the first period.

A large contingent followed the Briar Jumpers to this Eastern Kentucky city and, just before the team took the field, a human tunnel with fire works was there to welcome them.

The Blackcats just could not get their running attack going as they did against the Cougars of Morgan County the week before. Blackcat starting quarterback Aaron Tucker suffered an ankle injury in the second period and was forced to leave the game and go for X-rays. Tucker was replaced by Allen James.

Two big plays hurt the 'Cats early on, when the Briar Jumpers scored on their first possession of the game to go up 7-0. Somerset had the ball on their own 20 yard line and in eight plays crossed into the end zone for paydirt. The big play in the time of possession came when Somerset's Scott Lynch went back to punt on a fourth and five situation. Lynch took the snap from center and faked the punt, passing to Jones, who ran 19 yards for the TD. Lynch kicked the extra point for the Briar Jumpers.

With 5:23 to go in the first period, Prestonsburg, on its next possession, could only move the football two yards on four attempts and was forced to punt. The Blackcats were also playing without their kicker, Jason "Golden Toe" Storey, who had injured his knee in an earlier practice.

At the 4:00 mark, Somerset had the ball on its own 43 yard line and moved into Blackcat territory. Facing fourth and eight, they were forced to punt. A Prestonsburg punt returner could not handle the football and fumbled on the Blackcats 26, and the ball was recovered by the Briar Jumpers.

On fourth and two, Prestonsburg was called for an off sides penalty and gave Somerset a first down, putting the ball on the Prestonsburg 16. On two carries by Jones, Somerset moved the ball to the Prestonsburg 5, where Jones carried the ball in for a touchdown to give Somerset a 14-0 lead after Lynch kicked the extra point.

After picking up a first down on an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against Somerset, quarterback Aaron Tucker was tackled hard as he attempted to hit Jeff Slone with a pass. Tucker left the game with a sprained ankle.

The Blackcats put together a good drive in the second period. With the ball on their own 27 yard line, Mike Hopson broke tackle and ran 33 yards for a Blackcat first down. On the next play, freshman John Goble went up the middle for 20 yards for another first down, putting the ball on the Somerset 28. The 'Cats stalled, and they elected to go for it on fourth and 13. The Allen pass was incomplete, turning the ball over to Somerset on downs. Neither team managed to score in the rest of the first half as the Briar Jumpers went to the dressing room with a 14-0 lead.

After taking the kick off in the third quarter, Jones ran 52 yards on the first play from scrimmage for a touchdown, giving Somerset a commanding 20-0 lead.

came on a Blackcat fumble on a first down in the fourth quarter. Somerset had scored moments earlier on a 72-yard romp by Perkins. The Briar Jumpers took the win, 52-0.

Rated the safest car in America.

ACCORDING to a recent insurance industry study based on millions of injury claims involving more than 200 kinds of cars, Mercedes-Benz S-Class sedans fitted with the Supplemental Restraint System had the best safety record on the American road.*

S-Class owners may not find this so startling. They know that such key safety-related ideas as the driver's-side air bag and ABS electronic anti-lock braking were first offered in America on the cars of the S-Class.

Technology now standard equipment on every new Mercedes-Benz.

We invite you to test-drive an S-Class sedan today. Among its many comforts and reassurances, you will also find an abiding sense of security.

Clark's 26 Points Lead Maytown Past Hornets

By Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Auxier Hornets mounted a late comeback but fell short in losing to Section One power Maytown, 55-48.

Maytown recorded its 10th win of the season against only two losses. Jeremy Clark's 26 points led Maytown in scoring. Clark also pulled down 18 rebounds while dishing off 10 assists, getting a triple-double. Clark had seven steals in the game as well.

The Wildcats had built a 14 point half time advantage, 30-16, and led in the fourth quarter by as many as 20 points. Maytown mentor Forrest Hughes began to put in subs and the

DEER SEASON: BITS AND PIECES

With deer bow season running Oct. 1 through Dec. 31 and gun season open Nov. 11-20, here we are smack-dab in the middle of both, and some Kentucky deer hunters continue to have questions they want answered.

With 450,000 deer statewide, Kentucky offers hunters excellent opportunities to be successful. However, deer hunting regulations (designed to sustain a healthy herd as well as provide huntible numbers) have become a bit complicated. Therefore, hunters need to read the current deer hunting guide booklet and be familiar with season guidelines.

Hunters automatically receive a copy of complete deer hunting information with their deer permit. Even so, it seems there are always a few questions that come up each year that need a little more clarification. Here are a few of them.

I'm confused about the hunter orange requirement. What is legal attire?

This year, anyone hunting deer where firearms are allowed must wear at least 500 total square inches of solid hunter orange color on the head, chest and back. A two-foot square panel of solid hunter orange color worn on the front of the upper body and on the back, in addition to a hat or cap, satisfies the requirement. If your hunting jacket or vest has only portions of the required color, make sure the solid orange areas meet this definition.

Requiring solid hunter orange means camouflage hunter orange is illegal. The idea behind wearing the brilliant, easily-identified color is to outline the human body, to set it apart from anything else in the woods. The design on orange camouflage tends to break the body's outline, making the wearer more difficult to distinguish by other hunters.

MAGISTRATE-DIST. 2

I want to thank ALL the voters that came out on November 7 and helped RE-ELECT ME Your magistrate—especially since you WERE NOT getting paid for your vote. My votes are good, honest votes. I'm glad that you took the time to come out and vote for me on Election Day. I want to thank everyone who helped me to get to November—the ones that helped me in May. I want to thank each and every one of you. I won't forget what each and every one has done to help me. You can count on 4 more years of hard work for Dist. 2.

P.S.—WE MUST BE DOING SOMETHING RIGHT. I carried all precincts but one and I only lost it by 12 votes. I believe the people of District 2 ARE NOT as blind as the "POLITICIANS" would like for them to be. This goes to show you the LITTLE PEOPLE CAN WIN, because there are more of us. THANKS AGAIN!

Quick Start Helps Martin To Defeat Harold, 53-37

by Ed Taylor
 Sports Editor

Coach Jimmy Hopkins' Martin Purple Flash opened hot and quick as they held the visiting Red Devils of Harold to just two first quarter points enroute to a 53-37 win Monday night at Martin.

Martin came at Harold with a half court zone press that caused the Red Devils a lot of turnovers and poor shot selection. In addition, Harold was playing without its top rebounder, Barry Clark, who was out with the flu.

Harold was held scoreless until Chris Potter hit a 12-footer with 2:15 left in the first period. Potter, who tallied 20 points, had game high honors. Charlie Wade scored six first period points and had several assists to the big men underneath. Ronnie Sammons scored five points in the first stanza for Martin as they led at the end of the first quarter, 23-2.

After a basket by Potter to start the second period, Martin ran off eight straight points to take a 31-4 lead. Potter broke the Martin string with a bomb from long range. Sammons scored underneath to make it 33-6 when the Red Devils caught fire and outscored the host team, 11-0, to pull to within 33-17. Byron Gearheart ended the Martin dry spell with a free throw as the half ended with Martin on top, 34-17.

Harold pulled to within 14 at 35-21 on two baskets by Potter. However, the Red Devils trailed by 21 at the third stop, 45-24.

Potter's bucket at the start of the final period and a free throw by Brian

The average little girl will be just about twice as tall and five times as heavy at the age of 18.

Hunter made it 45-27. With Martin up by 20, 53-33, Greg Hunter's two baskets gave the final margin of 53-37.

Byron Gearheart led the Purple Flash in scoring with 13 points. Sammons added 11 and Hubert Likens, coming off a brief stay in the hospital, netted seven.

Potter's 20 points led the Red Devils. Brian Hunter and Greg Hunter each scored seven points each.

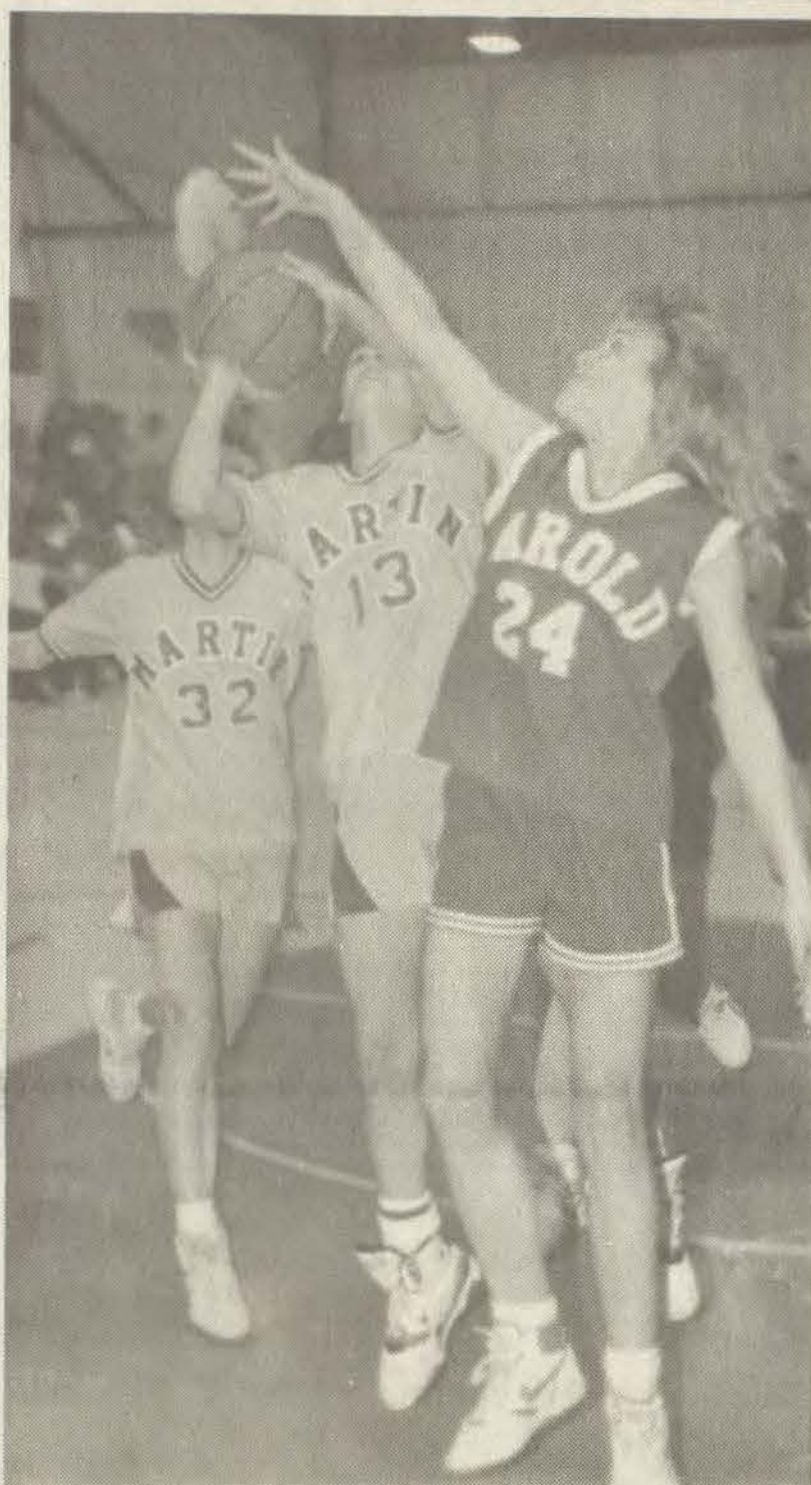

Each team shot 14 free throws with Harold hitting three and Martin connecting on six. Martin improves to 11-1 overall and Harold fell to 4-6.

Harold 213913 (37); Chris Potter, 100-020; Brian Hunter, 31-67; Greg Hunter, 31-

In an earlier game, Martin defeated Inez at Inez 48-23 behind the 13 points of Byron Gearheart. Martin was a bit sluggish in the first half, leading 16-6 at the half. But the Purple Flash out scored the host team 32-17 to win by 25. Kelly Stephens had 12 points for the Purple Flash and Ronnie Sammons tossed in 10 points.

James Bowling was the top scorer for Inez with nine points. Jason Crum added eight points.

Leads Flash

Traci Dingus (13) is shown scoring two of her game high 19 points against Harold Monday night at Martin. The Lady Flash defeated a good Harold team 50-39 to go 11-5 on the season.

Reitz's 20 Points Leads Allen To 63-61 Victory Over Harold

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Allen Eagles, after canceling their tournament because classes were not in session at the school, got back on the basketball trail Saturday afternoon at the Allen gym as they entertained the Harold Red Devils.

Cory Reitz scored 20 points to lead the Eagles to their third win of the season, a close 63-61 victory over the Red Devils. The Red Devils have been plagued by close losses all season.

Jamie Blackburn opened the scoring with a basket from six feet out. Reitz followed with a lay up to give the Eagles a 4-0 lead. Barry Clark hit a shot from the corner to make it 4-2, and then Allen ran off seven unanswered points — the last three on a three-point play by Phillip "Snake" Patton, to take a 11-2 lead. A three point play by Brian Hunter made it 11-5. A basket by Patton and two free throws by Reitz put the Eagles up 15-7. Harold then outscored their opponents 5-0 and pulled to within three, 15-12. Reitz hit a bucket and Hunter then scored four points to pull to within one point, 17-16. Allen managed a 19-16 lead in a well-played first period.

Patton scored quickly underneath in the opening seconds of the second quarter, and after three free throws by Harold, Joe Howell scored to give the Eagles a 23-19 lead. Harold took its first lead at 24-23 on buckets by Hunter, Chris Potter and a free throw by Clark. Allen ran off six straight points near the end of the second quarter on baskets by Matt Porter, Patton and Blackburn to lead at half time 35-27.

Allen went out front by eight points, 37-29, early in the third. Allen held on to lead at the end of the third stanza, 50-45.

With 1:40 left in the fourth quarter, Allen was holding a 60-54 margin. A Greg Hunter basket made it 60-56 and Clark's tip in cut it to two, 60-58 with 37 seconds to go. Porter's free throw gave the Eagles a three point advantage at 61-58. Harold had the ball, but Howell intercepted an errant pass; an intentional foul on Greg Hunter put Reitz at the free throw line for two shots, and the ball out of bounds to Allen. Reitz connected on both charity tosses to go up by five, 63-58. Harold turned the ball over again and Reitz was fouled again, but this time he missed both free throws. Clark hit the front of a one and one to make it 63-59. Reitz missed the front end of a one and one with Harold getting the rebound and calling time out. Brian Hunter then scored the final basket underneath as the clock ran out on the Red Devils.

Each team placed three players in double figures. Besides Reitz's 20, Patton added 17 and Porter tossed in 13. Harold was led by Brian Hunter with 25 points. Chris Potter added 15 and Barry Clark had 10. Patton had 15 rebounds in the game for Allen and Brian Hunter had 16 rebounds for Harold. In the assist department, Reitz and Blackburn had three each.

Harold 16 11 18 16 (61): Chris Potter, 63-5 15; Barry Clark, 4 2-4 10; Brian Hunter, 10 5-8 25; Greg Hunter, 4 1-3 9; Brandon Hall, 0 2-2 2.

at Allen 19 16 15 13 (63): Cory Reitz, 8-4 7 20; Matt Porter, 6 1-3 13; Phillip Patton, 8 1-1 7; Jamie Blackburn, 1 2-2 4; Scotty Williams, 1 0-0 2; Joe Howell, 3 0-0 6.

J. Williams scored 12 points to lead the Allen "B" team to a 43-14 victory over the Harold "B" team. W. Sammons tossed in eight points in the Allen win. J. Spurlock and T. Lewis added six points each. C. Spurlock had four and William Lester had three.

For Harold, J.P. Skeans scored five points and Mark Reed added four. Kevin Keathley had three and Shawn Lawson and Mike Gillespie tossed in two each.

Courtside Comments

Ed Taylor

Brian Meadows, Allen Central defensive lineman, says that he has lost 183 pounds since starting his diet. Brian looks good and is an inspiration to those who want to shed a few pounds.

Meadows plans on working out with weights through the winter to tone up his muscles. "It's like I've lost another person," he stated.

Outstanding elementary basketball players continue to impress a lot of fans this season. Those who are being counting on to fill the spots of those who graduate this spring will be quality players. Talking to some of the county high school coaches, they are pleased with what they see.

Kentucky's bowl chances look good after the Wildcats came back to defeat a stubborn Vanderbilt team. The Liberty, Peach and All-American Bowl representatives have been watching the 'Cats.

One of the Wildcats' big commodities is their fans. The bowl committees like that dollar, and the 'Cats fans have been known to follow their team and spend some money. According to the Peach Bowl folks, it will take seven wins to get an invitation. However, look for the 'Cats get serious consideration even if they lose to Florida and Tennessee.

On the subject of the Big Blue, Nov. 28 the Ohio University Bobcats will travel to Rupp Arena to test the first Rick Pitino edition of Wildcat Basketball.

I have been a big fan of the Wildcats for many years, as a lot of you have been. I believe the Wildcats will surprise a lot of people and experts this year. Not they are going to be a big winner, they still will win more than the experts want to admit.

High school basketball is around the corner. I have really enjoyed the football season this year, but I must admit my first love in sports is the game of basketball. When meeting some of the people I grew up with in the Martin area, we often mention the times we would sweep the snow off the outdoor courts just to get to play a game. The weather never seemed to be cold enough to stop us from playing a good old game of round ball. There used to be basketball goals all around Martin — Hoss Halbert saw to that. Hoss is a great person who cared for his students and players and those who wanted a chance to play. This should be a good year in the 58th District again. It may not be as strong as last year's season, but should be more balanced. I hope the basketball fans will support their local teams like they did last year. We'll be seeing you at the games this winter as we look forward to the start of the season.

Dickie Hall says that the Prestonsburg Youth League will be starting its basketball program around the first of December. Over 100 kids registered for the league this year. Hall is hopeful that a 15- and 16-year-old team can be formed this time around.

Battle For The Ball

Jennifer Damron (12) for Harold battles an Allen player for the ball in grade school basketball Saturday evening at Allen. The Lady Red Devils won a close over the Lady Eagles for their first win of the season. Amanda May is number 12 for Allen.

Floyd Schools Get Flags Of Excellence Certificates

Four Floyd County schools received five Flags of Excellence certificates and were honored Thursday in ceremonies at the Farnham Dudgeon Civic Center in Frankfort.

The Flags of Excellence program for school recognition began in 1984 and is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Education and the Kentucky Educational Foundation, Inc.

Twelve schools in the state earned Flags of Excellence, while 147 others received certificates showing noteworthy improvement in dropout prevention and attendance.

Floyd County schools receiving certificates, and the area for which they were earned, are Drift Elementary, most improved attendance; Auxier Elementary, most improved attendance; Prater Elementary, most improved attendance; Drift Elementary, most improved dropout rate; and Prestonsburg High School, most improved dropout rate.

In past years, schools were eligible for Flags of Progress, but no such awards were given this year, according to Rosemary Weddington, director of the division of recognition and special events.

"Because we changed this school year to the CTBS examinations, we must start again to gather data. Next year, we plan to have sufficient information to resume the Flags of Progress."

The Thursday program featured an address by Robert W. Best of Owensboro, president and chief executive officer of Texas Gas Transmission Corp. Additional comments were made by Dr. John H. Brock, state superintendent of Public Instruction, and G. Ted Smith, president of the Kentucky Educational Foundation.

"We do have good schools in Kentucky," said Brock. "In fact, we have some outstanding schools in our Commonwealth. The Flags of Excellence program is but one way that the department of education recognizes the good job being done by educators and administrators, with parental involvement in communities across the state.

Individualized awards were presented on stage to honor the 20 schools with the most improved dropout rate and the 20 with the most improved attendance rate.

Principals of each school were invited to bring up to 10 students. Among others invited were the district's superintendent, Ron Hager, and board chairman Dr. James D. Adams.

Principals of the schools are Gene Davis, representing Drift and Prater; Wayne Combs, representing Auxier; and Robert May, represented by Judy Burchell, coordinator of the school's Touchdown program.

Prestonsburg Native Honored

Lee Ann Bottoms, a Georgetown College student from Prestonsburg, has been recognized to appear in the 1990 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

The 1990 edition will include the names of 38 students from Georgetown College who have been selected as outstanding national leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Georgetown College, founded in 1829, is a four-year private liberal arts institution located 12 miles north of Lexington. Affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention, Georgetown has been recognized for its quality academic program.

Dr. W. Morgan Patterson is the college's president.

Annual Fruit Sale Now In Progress

Orders for tree-ripened citrus fruit are now being taken by Our Lady of the Mountains School and members of its parent-teacher organization.

Delivery is expected Dec. 1.

"We can't give potential customers a sample because the fruit isn't ripened yet," said the school's principal, Sister of Divine Providence Alma Marie Kraemer. "The fruit isn't picked until our order is received, and then it is shipped here immediately. When the fruit arrives, our parents hand-sort the fruit to make sure each piece is of premium quality for our customers."

The school is selling pink and white grapefruit and Hamlin, Tangelo and Navel oranges. All the fruit is Indian River citrus, which means it is grown on land lying adjacent to the Indian River along the Florida east coast. It is naturally tree ripened.

The fruit is sold in quantities of 2/5 and 4/5 bushels. For prices, more information or to place an order, call the school at 789-3661 or Lisa Hutchinson, 285-3327.

Literacy Tied To Economy, Says Commission Director

By Pam Shingler
The head of the Kentucky Literacy Commission came to Floyd County Friday evening with some data that linked literacy to the economic condition of Floyd County and the rest of the state.
About 46 percent, or 12,000, Floyd Countians over the age of 25 did not go beyond the eighth grade in school, a factor that negatively affects family income and economic growth for the area, Audrey Tayse told members of the Prestonsburg, Pikeville and Paintsville Rotary clubs at an inter-club meeting at the Holiday Inn.

Tayse, director of the state literacy effort since February, added that one out of every three Kentuckians over 25 dropped out of school before entering high school. Ten percent of these, she said, did not go beyond the median family income is about $25,000 a year, she said. In these counties, about 13 percent of the population is at or below the poverty level.

This contrasts with a median family income of only $13,000 in counties with the least educated population, including Floyd. In these counties, almost 30 percent live at or below the poverty level, and unemployment is almost double that of the more educated counties.

Citing the results of a 1987 Kentucky Chamber of Commerce survey, the Literacy Commission director said that 91 percent of respondents now require new employees to have a high school diploma or beyond.
The survey also showed that 84 percent of the KCC respondents said they had to interview up to eight persons for every one they hire. In addition, they indicated that most of their employees without a high school diploma or GED are in low paying, dead-end jobs.
Tayse predicted a skills shortage among employees in the 1990s. "What is considered middle-skilled (in jobs) today will be least-skilled tomorrow," she said, indicating a need for Kentuckians to push education.
Last year more than 4500 adults were enrolled in literacy programs across the state, Tayse said. "But that's a drop in the bucket, a small fraction," she added.

About 127 people locally were served last year by literacy programs sponsored by the Floyd County Literacy Council, she said. Floyd is one of 113 counties where organized literacy efforts are funded by the Kentucky Literacy Commission.

Tayse commended the local program for its success and efficiency. Statewide, she said the cost of serving a literacy student is about $285. "Locally, the council did it for about $80 per student," she said.
Tayse told the Rotarians, mostly business people, what they can do to help. "Find out about local literacy programs," she advised. "Find out what they need and help them get it."
"Then identify and help recruit students, and create an environment of support for them. The one thing that gets them to programs and keeps them in is support of family, friends and employers," she said.
"The economic advantages for this part of the state are so important to increasing the education level and decreasing the lack of skills," the director said. "You have to get the statistics changed. Industries look at that."
Tayse added that her home county, Adair, recently lost a potential manufacturing plant because of its poor educational statistics.

Good Writing Starts With Reading, Says Speaker

By Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

"The man who doesn't read good books has no advantage over the man who can't read them" — Mark Twain
Pam Shingler, director of development at The David School, spoke to members of the Eastern Kentucky Council of Teachers of English Monday evening at the May Lodge.
Her topic of discussion was "Truth is Beautiful, But so are Lies." She expanded this topic into the importance of reading in a child's life and what a teacher can do to encourage a student to learn to "love to read."
"Writing starts with reading," Shingler began, "and the appreciation of reading grows in you." Shingler related her earliest memory of sitting in her mother's or grandmother's lap and hearing them read a Little Golden Book. "We were not a wealthy family, but every Friday I could count on having a new Little Golden Book. I treasure this memory and it has been worth so much," she noted.

During most of her childhood, Shingler said, she sought out any opportunity to read, which led to her desire to become a writer. She pursued that desire by earning her bachelor's degree in journalism from the University of Georgia and later completing the requirements for a master's in non-fiction writing at the University of Pittsburgh.

"Non-fiction takes facts, pieces them together and gets truth. Fiction takes lies and tries to make truths," she commented. "Even in fiction writing there are times when universal truths are discovered." She explained that fiction books can take characters from any part of the world and put them in a situation which is closer to reality than a media report or encyclopedia can bring the reader.
She shared some of her favorite quotes to emphasize her point: "Most writers regard the truth as their most valuable possession and therefore they are most economical in its use (Mark Twain)," and, "The only reason for being a professional writer is because you can't help it (Leo Rosten)."

Shingler also told of a teacher she had in the 1950s in Paintsville who gave her a 1932 set of Compton's Picture Encyclopedias. "This was a big deal to me and I wish it were a great deal to children today," she said. "Fifth and sixth graders today get away from reading because they are moving out of the children's books and it's hard to determine what their interest will be in reading."
Many times, she said, a child just entering adult literature will get bored with the book before the story has even started. "Sometimes with a book, you have to keep going, to commit to getting past the dull part where the writer sets up the characters. It's wonderful to watch a child come alive after discovering a good book," she stated. "If you teach someone to read — to love reading — they can teach themselves to do almost anything."
Shingler said her love for reading has led to a love for writing, and the contradictions she has discovered since she's begun. "The process of writing is full of paradoxes. For example, it is so hard for me to start writing, I'll do anything to avoid it — all the while knowing that once I get started it pumps energy into me and I can't stop. It makes no sense," she said.

She noted that writing is painful, but healing at the same time. "It tears you up to write it, but afterwards you were able to vent your emotions and it heals you."
She said that the most valuable realization is that writing is done for the reader. "People who say that they are just writing for themselves is a crock or a copout. I believe when Emily Dickinson wrote her poems and put them in a drawer, all the while she was praying, 'Please, God, let someone find these and publish them!'"
As for herself, Shingler said she has several non-fiction pieces "stashed in a drawer" and that she plans to publish them someday.
"Writing is the scariest thing I do. That's probably why it's so hard to start it out. After all, the result is you are publishing your most private thoughts," she continued. "Writing is a record of your thinking and it's frightening to think your thoughts may be found out. I read things over and over before I let someone read it, and then sometimes I wish I hadn't."
She noted that negative criticisms seldom help, because a writer is his or her own most severe critic. "Writing is a personal activity, and even the smallest criticisms are devastating," she stressed. "No matter how you preface a remark, 'No one's attacking you,' or 'don't take this personally,' they are and it is. How can you separate your writing from yourself? You've created this, put your soul out there, and it's impossible to separate the two."
She ended with suggestions for teachers on how they can get students to read and develop writing talents in them:
— Teachers need to read to students, even seniors. It's soothing and they are able to listen to word flow.
— Push students to read things that interest them and turn them on. As long as they are reading, let it go.
— Let students write about something that interests them their hearts aren't in it as much when writing about predetermined themes.
— Encourage curiosity — why and how questions are important to the writing process.
— Find something good in everything a student does.
— Use rewrites to improve grammar and ideas. It helps in the long run, especially in correcting grammatical errors.
— Don't embarrass good writers by comparing them to others. Read it, but don't embarrass them.
— Stroke those with flair. It may be an abnormal need with writers, but they have to have someone say "that's good."
— Encourage a varied vocabulary and the love of words.
— Don't force students to adapt to your style or form of writing.

Local Students Selected For Academic Excellence

Ten students from Prestonsburg Elementary and five students from Clark Elementary Schools have qualified for participation in this year's Talent Search for mathematically and verbally brilliant students.
The search is sponsored by Duke University's Talent Identification Program, which identifies bright seventh graders from a 16-state region in the south, southwest and midwest.
To be eligible, students must have scored at the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement or ability measure. They will take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or ACT Assessment, normally taken only by college-bound juniors and seniors, in December, January or February.

Bond, Paul E. Collins, Carrie H. Francis, Jessica J. McKinney, Tonya A. Miller, Kathryn R. Mullins, Carrie Music and Stewart Robertson.
Clark Elementary students who were selected to during the 1989-90 Talent Search are David Baldrige, Jay Bradford, Carolyn Maria Hicks, Annaheta Salajegheh and Mashawna Wright.

Bright Seventh Graders

Five seventh graders from Clark Elementary scored in the 97th percentile or better in an achievement test given to schools in 16 states by Duke University. They are: (top row) Jay Bradford and David Baldrige, (middle) Mashawna Wright, (bottom) Maria Hicks and Anna Salajegheh.

"Many of these students score as well or better than the average college-bound senior on these measures," said Jane Meeks, school counselor. All participants receive Certificates of Merit and some become eligible for state-wide recognition ceremonies or a variety of education programs.
"TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options," Meek continued. "The purposes of the program are to help academically able students develop their special abilities, to assist schools in working with their brightest students, and to understand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability."

Students from Prestonsburg Elementary who are applicants for the 1989-90 Talent Search are Allison Allen, Mustafa S. Badrudduja, Aaron

Parent's Rights
By Joyce Everly

The seventh law of parent involvement: All problems referred to local officials relate to matters controlled by the state.

Corollary: All problems referred to state officials are strictly controlled by local school districts.

All you ever wanted or needed to know about schools is in one small book. The cost is $5, and it is worth a million dollars in terms of easy-to-understand information.

Information such as:
Do children have to go to school? Who makes the rules for student discipline? When do students graduate? Who can see student records? Can parents choose their child's teacher? How far must students walk or ride to school? What are extracurricular activities? How are superintendents chosen? How does the state fund schools? What can parents do to be sure schools are doing a good job? Who can be a board member?

These questions and their answers are just a small sample of practical information in this book. It gives you a short course on what your rights are as parents, how schools should work, and what you can expect from your schools as a parent and taxpayer.

It has taken me 12 years and lots of money to gather this same kind of information. Here it is in one small book called "The School Answer Book." Treat yourself and your children to an early Christmas gift—the gift of knowledge, the gift of power in that knowledge, and a gift for your child's future.

Copies of "The School Answer Book" can be obtained by writing to The Pritchard Committee, The School Answer Book, P.O. Box 1658, Lexington, KY 40592. If ordering one to nine copies, they are $5 each; if ordering 10 or more, they are $3.50 each.

You and the knowledge you can get from this book can make a great deal of difference. Order it, read it, come to board meetings, and get involved.

Local Teachers Tour Mines, Power Plant, Hear Speakers

Instead of heading for their classrooms one day recently, 34 teachers from Eastern Kentucky headed for the coal mines.

Teachers who attended the seminar, held at Jenny Wiley State Park, were from Floyd, Lawrence, Pike, Martin and Johnson counties.

The teachers toured a deep mine, a surface mine and reclamation sites as part of a three-day Kentucky Coal Issues Workshop sponsored by several companies and coal organizations.

Teachers said they enjoyed the opportunity to learn more about the coal industry firsthand and planned to take their education back to their students.

Kenneth Sammons, a social studies teacher at Lawrence County High School and a native of the county, had never visited an underground mine or large surface operation.

"People often think of the stereotype coal mine... workers with the pick and shovel, and I knew it wasn't like that, but I didn't realize how much was involved in the coal business — the tremendous amount of investment and the process of getting the coal to market," he said.

In addition to touring Martin County Coal Corporation underground and surface coal mines and reclamation sites, teachers toured Kentucky Power Company's Big Sandy Power Plant near Louisa. They also heard speakers on the environment, the greenhouse effect, acid rain, clean coal technology, safety, economics and geography.

Tom Duncan, Kentucky Coal Association president, said the seminar on coal for teachers was a first in Kentucky. One or two similar workshops may be offered in 1990 in other regions of the state, he said.

"There's a real lack of understanding of the coal industry and what it means to the present and future of Kentucky in terms of jobs, electricity, tax revenue and economic growth," Duncan said. "Teachers need to have accurate information about the industry — as it relates to the economy, the environment and careers for our young people."

Teachers attending from Floyd County were Tammy Allen, Pat Barnette, Mary Frazier, Kenny Caldwell, Steve Halbert and David Hall.

Workshop sponsors were the Kentucky Coal Association, Coal Operators and Associates, the American Coal Foundation, Kentucky Power Company, Pikeville College, Martin County Coal Corp., Island Creek Corp., Andalex Resources Inc., Costain Coal, Blue Diamond Coal Co., East Kentucky Power Cooperative and Stagg Engineering Services.

Teachers attending from Pike County public schools were Shalimar LeBreche, Fred Martin, Jack Matney, Sammie Wilson Mullins and Hank Mutter. Teachers attending from Pikeville High School were Patricia Putty, Tom Swartz, David Thomas and Lavone Taylor.

Teachers attending from Johnson County were Mike Burchett, Roger DeRossett, Robert Horne, Jim Melvin, Darrell Patrick and Jeffrey Richardson.

Attending from Martin County were Lynn Bentley, Vickie Collier, Nina McCoy, Lori Spence, Rick Osborne and Ruby Clark.

Attending from Lawrence County High School were Rebecca Hall, Diane Preece, Kenneth Sammons, Veronica Wheeler, Carolyn Preston and Carol Compton.

This Is In Response To Mr. Billy Arms

(Ad In The Floyd County Times Wednesday, Nov. 8)

I think the public should know about my being dismissed and why. I did have a permit to hunt on the Dewey WMA Draw Hunt which was issued to me by the Department of Fish & Wildlife, District Biologist, who was running the Dewey WMA Draw Hunt. This was a permit to hunt and work under cover, which has been a common practice to be issued to Department of Fish & Wildlife personal in the past and to other individuals who want to work under cover, this can be verified. This permit was also approved by my Supervisor of the 7th District and the Wildlife Biologists over the WMA Hunt. These undercover operations are used in other states to effectively control the shooting of Doe deer. And in the past this has increased the population of our deer herd. I had a permit of my fathers where he had gotten drawned to hunt, but was unable to use it, so he gave it to me. I gave this permit to one of our sportsmen who had helped to put in food plots at Dewey Lake. Why would I give a permit away if I didn't already have one to hunt and have conformation of this from my supervisor. I killed a deer and checked it in legally as I was told to do by the District Biologists. Yes I made a mistake by trying to keep the public from knowing that the Department of Fish & Wildlife issued free undercover permits and this is why Mr. Johnny Lafferty said he killed the deer, to keep public opinion high on the Department of Fish & Wildlife. This mistake I paid for with a 30 day working suspension, I could not live with this lie, so I had to tell the true story even if it hurt me or the Department of Fish & Wildlife. Evidently this hurt me and no one else because I was suspended in June of 1989 and now it seems that Floyd County will go back to the old ways of not having anything to hunt or fish for. But I don't think this is the way that true sportsmen want it. Only a select few that now have an opportunity to do as they please. I think I did my job effectively and was a friend to the sportsmen why would I be punished for something I was told to do. I was not a black top game warden as you all know and I guess this did not set too good with some selected few people that were used to this type of patrolling. I think to be an effective conservation officer it should be mandatory that each officer should have to hunt to work undercover during each hunting season. This has been effective in other states to control poaching. Why not ours?

Mayo Offers Drafting Program

The Mayo State Vocational Technical School in Paintsville offers a drafting class for persons interested in seeking a career in that field. The program is designed for the industrial needs in the fields of mechanical drafting, design and engineering.

In addition to the drafting curriculum, students can complete courses in mathematics, science, computer literacy, consumer education and technical communications which relate to this field of study.

Drafters prepare drawings from sketches and instructions furnished by designers, engineers and scientists. As experience is gained, the drafter may be involved in preparing more complex drawings, selecting materials, detailing and checking and preparing specifications, according to Lillian Wheeler, spokesperson for the school.

She recommends that persons interested in a drafting career have basic academic abilities. They should enjoy drawing and be able to visualize what is to be drawn. They should have some artistic ability and, considering design work, it is essential that they be mechanically minded. Likewise, they should be willing to work and learn and to adjust to varying conditions. Above all, they should be neat and accurate in their work.

"Upon completion of this program, the student may enter the workforce in the mechanical drafting field as detailer or layout designer," Wheeler explained. "After becoming familiar with a company's products and design standards, they will have the necessary background to do machine design."

For more information about drafting and other programs at the school you can write Mayo State Vocational Technical School, 513 Third Street, Paintsville, KY, 41240, or call 789-5321 from 7:45 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Waxing Eloquent:

Dan Lee Keeps Wayland Spotless

by Frank Clark,
 Staff Writer

If cleanliness is next to godliness, then Dan Lee of Wayland must be close to sainthood. For the last 30 years, Lee, head janitor at Wayland Elementary School, has worked to keep the three school buildings and campus in a high state of order and cleanliness. Considering that the combined age of the three Wayland school buildings reaches upward of 158 years, the shining walls and gleaming floors of the school stand in tribute to a career of hard work and pride in a job well done.

For Lee, it's simply a matter of doing things right.

"I was the oldest child in my family, growing up," said Lee. "I had to do a lot of cleaning, particularly when my mother was sick. Could say I was raised more like a girl than a boy, because of the work I did around the house. It came in handy with my later work."

Lee was born in Wheeler and went to school at McVeigh, in Pike County. He moved to Wayland in 1936, and worked first as coal loader, and then as a tippelman. In 1964, Lee took over the job as janitor for the Wayland school. "The building was in bad shape when I first came in," said Lee. "There was a lot needing to be done. I put in time on the weekends to get it the way I wanted."

Following the initial clean-up, Lee established a rigorous schedule for himself. "I'd usually come in around 6 a.m. and get the furnace going, and check everything to make sure it was ready for the day. After the kids left in the afternoon, the cleaning would start, because you can't do it when everyone's here. Often times, I wouldn't leave until 6 or 7 at night."

Four floors of the high school would be cleaned every day. All rooms in the elementary school would then follow. Plumbing, lighting and heating problems also received attention, as well as the large outside campus. In his 30 years of experience, Lee developed a series of cleaning tips, suited to the special needs of the school.

"We've got solid wood floors in all of the buildings. What you do is get a little bit of oil on your mop, and spread just a little of it all over a few times a year. It makes the floor shine and it keeps the dust from collecting."

These methods have earned Lee recognition from the Floyd County School Board and also from other county school boards, which have tried, at various times, to recruit Lee to their own schools.

"It's always a pleasure to go to Wayland," says Ned Bush, health coordinator for the Floyd County School Board. "The buildings are old but they are always immaculate, just really clean. Dan has done a tremendous job for a very long time."

Lee has many memories of days gone by in the old school buildings. "I remember when they used to show movies on the top floor of this old building (the high school). If you look through this hole here (pointing to a locked door), you can see where the projector used to be. The kids always used to come to see the shows here."

Walking into the large double deck gymnasium below the high school one can faintly hear the echoes of past basketball glories, when a boy they called King performed miracles on the wooden court.

"When King Kelly Coleman played, this place was full," said a reminiscent Lee. "It really was something to see. I haven't seen anything like him since."

Lee's days have mellowed somewhat since he first started working in the wooden halls of Wayland. Danny Watkins assists Lee in much of his work, and he's now able to finish cleaning before 5 p.m. most nights. Lee, who's now 70 and has a great-granddaughter, has no plans to stop work in the near future.

"My son tells me that when you're working, you're OK, you stay healthy, but when you retire, look out. I figure I've got plenty of work to do before my time to retire comes."

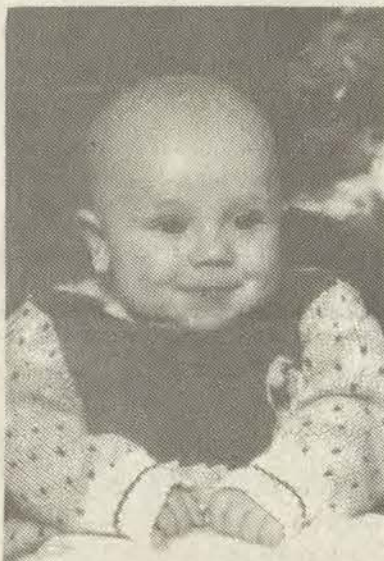

Standing Proud

Dan Lee stands in Wayland's gym, one of three buildings he's been responsible for over the last 30 years. At 70, Lee continues to oversee the maintenance of the entire school's campus.

A Well Known Climb

Dan Lee returns to well known stomping grounds. Over his long term of service as janitor at Wayland School, Lee has swept and cleaned rooms in the three building campus tens of thousands of times, keeping the facility in a high state of cleanliness. Lee plans to continue his work at Wayland into the foreseeable future.

The holiday season naturally attracts an assortment of singles and couples who, for whatever reason, are unable to join their own families for the holidays. The obvious solution to this situation is a pot-luck Thanksgiving dinner of friends, neighbors and co-workers—a group that for all intents and purposes becomes a family.

The following menu features dishes that travel well and are easily "farmed out" to guests. The Acorn Squash, Apple and Onion Gratin can be prepared in advance, up to the last step, and transported to the host's home wrapped in foil and placed in the oven with the turkey to melt the cheese and reheat slightly before serving. The host should cook the turkey—filling the house with the delicious aroma of the bird that brings back Thanksgiving memories of years past as it roasts.

ONION GRATIN
 Favorite autumn flavors and colors abound in this savory vegetable and fruit casserole.

2 medium acorn squash
 1 medium red delicious apple
 1 medium Granny Smith apple
 1 medium red onion, peeled
 Salt, to taste
 1/4 cup unsalted butter
 1/2 cup chicken stock
 1/3 cup maple syrup
 1/2 tsp ground cinnamon
 1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese (about 4 ounces)

Cut acorn squash in half lengthwise. Scoop out seeds. Cut each squash half crosswise into 1/2-inch slices. Carefully remove peel from each slice. Place squash slices, cut side down, in a 13 x 9 x 2-inch glass baking dish or shallow 2 1/2- to 3-quart oval casserole, forming compact rows. Core apples; cut each apple into thin wedges. Tuck apple wedges, peel side up, randomly between squash slices. Halve onion; cut each half into thin slices. Tuck onion slices randomly between apple and squash slices. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

In a small saucepan, combine butter, chicken stock, maple syrup and cinnamon. Cook and stir over medium heat until butter is melted. Drizzle mixture evenly over dish. Cover tightly with aluminum foil. Bake in a 375 degree oven for 30 minutes. Uncover; continue baking 30 minutes more or until squash is tender. Sprinkle shredded cheese over top. Bake 3 to 5 minutes more or until cheese is melted. Serve immediately. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

PINEAPPLE SWEET POTATOES
 Take advantage of the bountiful supply of sweet potatoes this holiday season. Spices and pineapple blend to create a heavenly vegetable dish.

4 medium sweet potatoes, unpeeled (about 1 pound)
 1/4 cup pineapple juice
 2 Tbsps. vegetable oil
 1 Tbsp chopped pineapple
 pinch of cinnamon, nutmeg and allspice
 1 Tbsp molasses
 1 tsp margarine

Boil potatoes until tender (about 30 minutes), and remove skins. Mash pulp. Add the fruit juice, oil and whip until fluffy. Add chopped pineapple and spices.

Turn into an oiled 1-quart baking dish. Spread molasses over the top, dot with the margarine, and bake at 425 degrees, uncovered until lightly browned. Yields 6 servings.

WHOLESOME HARVEST BREAD

Golden cornmeal, rye and wheat flours combine to give this bread a hearty and healthy Colonial flavor. Poppy seeds and sunflower seeds lend a contrasting crunch. This is a perfect bread to slice thickly and toast as a terrific beginning to a hot turkey sandwich.

1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
 1/2 cup honey
 4 Tbsps. unsalted margarine
 1 Tbsp salt
 2 cups boiling water
 2 packages active dry yeast
 1/2 cup warm water (110-115 degrees)
 1 cup rye flour
 1 cup whole wheat flour
 1 cup dry roasted sunflower seeds
 4 Tbsps. poppy seeds, in all
 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 cups unbleached white flour
 1 beaten egg
 1 Tbsp water

Place cornmeal, honey, margarine and salt in a large mixing bowl. Cover with the boiling water and stir until smooth. Let cool 1/2 hour. Soften yeast in the 1/2 cup warm water. Stir yeast into the cooled cornmeal mixture. Stir in rye and wheat flours, mixing well. Add the sunflower seeds and 3 tablespoons of poppy seeds.

Gradually add as much of the unbleached flour as you can mix in with a spoon. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface. Knead in enough remaining unbleached flour to make a moderately stiff dough that is smooth and elastic (about 8 to 10 minutes). Place dough in a large mixing bowl; cover with a damp cloth; let rise in a warm place until double (about 1 1/2 hours).

Punch dough down; divide in half. Shape each half into a round plumb loaf. Place each loaf on greased baking sheets. Cover with a damp towel. Let rise again until double (about 45 to 60 minutes). In a small bowl, combine the egg and water. Brush loaves with egg mixture. Sprinkle remaining 1 tablespoon poppy seed over the top of each loaf. Bake loaves in a 375 degree oven for 45 to 50 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm. Or, cool bread and slice to use for sandwiches. Makes 2 loaves.

PUMPKIN CREME CARAMEL

1 cup sugar
 1/4 cup water
 1/3 cup chopped macadamia nuts, lightly toasted
 1 1/2 cups half-and-half
 1/2 cup fresh or canned pumpkin puree
 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
 3 Tbsps. orange flavored liqueur or fresh-squeezed orange juice
 1 tsp ground cinnamon
 1/2 tsp ground ginger
 1/2 tsp ground nutmeg
 3 eggs
 1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened
 1/2 of a 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
 Fresh raspberries (or one package frozen, thawed and drained)

In a small saucepan, combine sugar and water. Bring to a boil over high heat, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Continue boiling, without stirring, for 5 minutes or until mixture turns golden brown. Watch carefully to avoid burning. Pour hot mixture immediately into a 6-cup ring mold. Sprinkle with macadamia nuts and tilt to coat sides of mold. Set pan aside. Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

In a small saucepan, bring half-and-half to a boil. Allow to boil until scalded. Set aside. In a large mixing bowl, stir together pumpkin, brown sugar, orange liqueur, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg. Gradually beat in eggs, cream cheese, scalded half-and-half and condensed milk. Continue beating 4 to 5 minutes or until mixture is very smooth. Pour into prepared ring mold.

Place mold in shallow roasting pan or large baking pan. Pour enough boiling water into the larger pan to reach 1 inch up sides of ring mold. Bake 50 to 60 minutes or until mixture is firm and knife inserted near center comes out clean. Remove from oven. Cool one hour. Cover; refrigerate overnight. Unmold just before serving.

To unmold, run tip of knife around side of chilled custard to loosen. Dip bottom of mold in shallow dish of hot water to loosen caramel. Invert custard onto serving plate. Using a blunt knife, forcefully jab any remaining caramel to break into pieces. Sprinkle caramel pieces over custard. Before serving, fill center of custard with raspberries, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MEET

The Presbyterian Women's Association met Nov. 7 at the church. Jane Bond, moderator, presided by reading from the Missions Year Book, of the crisis in Idaho, Oregon, and Washington states.

The program "Thank Offering" was received by dedication, with prayer, by Dora Osborne. (The Thank Offering, including Health Ministries, is an important part of the overall celebration giving of Presbyterian women. Approximately one third of the offering is used to support health ministries around the world. The other two-thirds is used to fund new creative projects selected by the Creative Ministries Offering Committee.) This offering is an exciting way in which the Presbyterian women participate in this church.

Present for this meeting were Jane Bond, Elma Jessen, Gladys Allen, Josephine Howard, Ella Faye Music, Mary E. Branham, Drema Miller, Marie Goble, and the hostess, Margie Adkins.

The serving table was covered with an ecru lace cloth, and had for its centerpiece an arrangement of autumn flowers, with crystal candelabra, holding matching candles, on either side. Pink and blue sheet cake was served by Dorothy Wells, and Elizabeth Frazier presided at the punch bowl. These, and other refreshments of assorted mints and nuts were served to the many friends and relatives of this couple, who called throughout the evening, bringing attractive and useful gifts, including

HALL THANKS VOTERS

Words cannot express my feelings of gratitude to each and every person who helped in my campaign for magistrate—those who gave their time, those who supported me financially, and last but not least, those who cared enough to go to the polls and cast a vote of confidence. You are the greatest!! We fought for a cause in which we can be proud. Even though they received more votes (in some areas) than we did, we were not defeated. Only when we give up and quit fighting are we defeated. I can assure you that I will not quit fighting until we have competent persons in all of our elective offices and have made voter fraud minimal. Of the 7,317 eligible to vote in District 3, only 2,660 found enough reason to go to the polls to vote in the magisterial race. We can only have majority rule when the majority care enough to vote.

I suppose the Republican party owes the taxpayers an apology. Our bid for a voice on the Fiscal Court has probably cost us in excess of one-half million dollars in gravel and asphalt. However, all was not lost. I understand that SOME of it went on public roads, cemeteries, fire stations, and churches. I would like to ask all potential candidates who find it too crowded in the Democratic primary to take a look at the Republican ticket where one can challenge the incumbent one-to-one. Only when we fill all positions on the ballot from constable to governor, will we have the potential to clean house. Once officials take the two-party system seriously, they will take their job duties and our tax dollars seriously as well. This will bring good government.

Again, thank you for your vote and support,

Larry's Heart Is Making A Comeback

In February, Larry Dean Adams, a 41 year old Prestonsburg fire fighter suffered a heart attack. He was rushed to the Emergency Room at Highlands where he learned another massive attack was coming on.

"It was frightening. But I did trust the people there. I'd seen the nurses and doctors work a lot of wonders. The nurses were just constantly checking on me. I could feel the love they were giving me and I just wondered if everyone got treated this way.

I did not have to undergo surgery because of the treatment I was given at Highlands...the TPA dissolved the blood clot that had caused my problem.

"The biggest fear that I had was that I'd never be a fire fighter again. I didn't want to be a burden on anyone."

A week later, Larry entered Cardiac Rehabilitation, a program designed to rebuild strength and stamina, aimed at getting patients back to work and back to a normal life style.

"It was a mental healing as well as a physical healing. The fear left as I started regaining confidence that I wasn't going to fall dead at the next step."

Larry's program included supervised exercise in his fire fighters' breathing apparatus, heavy equipment that put Larry's heart to the test under real working conditions.

More than exercise, the program included counseling for Larry and his family. "The entire family had the heart attack. Everyone suffered when I was suffering, and everyone was pulling for me in rehab."

They all learned about diet and handling stress. "It changed all of our eating habits. It changed our thoughts on exercise programs and it made our family a lot closer."

Larry—and his heart—are making a comeback. "I'm back to work—I'm going to be a fireman again!"

ALUMNI DAY HELD AT ALICE LLOYD

Alumni Day was held at Alice Lloyd College, Pippa Passes, Saturday, Nov. 11. Members of the Floyd County Chapter of the A.L.C. Alumni who attended were Adrian Hall, co-director of admissions and Robin Branham Moler, director of A.L.C. alumni affairs, there, both of Floyd County, and Clara Hicks Johnson, Ruby Akers, Arthur Haywood, Alma and Arnold Lowe, Bessie Conley, and Greg Johnson.

At 9:30 a.m. this group met at the Campbell Arts Center to discuss matters of importance, including final plans for a memorial for Alice Lloyd, founder, and June Buchanan, co-founder of this school. It was decided that a memorial made of native stone, bearing the inscription, "A Light Unto the Mountains," and the names of these two great ladies, is to be placed in front of "If," near the old, familiar Liberty Bell, near the rock wall there. A plaque, showing that the memorial is from the Floyd County Chapter of A.L.C., will be added.

It was also agreed that a textbook scholarship, for needy Floyd County students of A.L.C., would be started.

Clara Johnson, president of the Floyd County Chapter of the A.L.C. Alumni Association, and Robin Branham Moler, director of A.L.C.'s Alumni Affairs, presided at this meeting. Adrian Hall presented Dr. Fred Mullinax, president of this institution, and both discussed the college's progress, and present needs, and what Floyd County alumni members can do to help.

Former Floyd County A.L.C. students, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stewart, Grover Arnett, Polk Saunders, Virginia Stephens Beldon, and Margaret Stephens Lockwood joined the group for this meeting.

A film of Minnie Black, a 90-year-old folk artist, was shown, and a tour of the campus, and a brunch at Hunger Din were enjoyed.

LAND SOUGHT BY HOUSING AUTHORITY

The Floyd County Housing Authority is looking for a site to built 50 new housing units, according to Julia May. May said that the priority area that they are looking at is in the Left Beaver area, since no housing projects exist there yet. Although, the Housing Authority will consider other areas as well.

According to May a grant for $2.9 million dollars has been received by the Housing Authority and they are looking for 5 acres of land which is relatively flat, above the flood plane, on a water system and near a creek to accommodate a sewer treatment plant. The site also needs to have good access and a forbearance agreement with the mineral rights owner.

The Floyd County Board, consisting of Burl Shepherd (chairperson), Eddie Patton (vice chairperson), Morris Hilton, Hamlet Lovely and Deborah Stumbo, will take a bus tour of the possible site on Wednesday, Dec. 6.

By HAROLD COOLEY JOURNEY TO THE MIDDLE-EAR

It is estimated that nearly three-quarters of all children will experience one bout of middle-ear infection before they reach three years of age. Otitis media, as it is called, is probably the most common infectious disease seen in children. Most often, the ear infection follows a cold, or may occur with allergy. It results from a malfunctioning of the drainage tube (eustachian tube) that connects the middle ear to the back of the mouth. As a result, fluid and bacteria accumulate in the middle ear, the prime ingredients for infection. Colds often lead to this type of infection because swollen lymph tissue or glands in the back of the throat block the eustachian tube. In the case of allergy, swelling is also a factor. In either case, a middle-ear infection should be handled by a pediatrician who usually treats it with antibiotics.

COOLEY APOTHECARY can provide you and your family with your total over-the-counter prescription and first aid needs. Our entire staff keeps up to date on the latest developments in our industry. Complete patient profiles are maintained here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. MasterCard and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3.

HINT: Forty percent of children who have a middle-ear infection can expect a second episode.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notification is hereby given to the public of the intent of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to reimburse eligible local governments and State agencies for eligible costs incurred to repair all publicly-owned facilities damaged as a result of recent severe storms. The areas affected are the counties of Clay, Floyd, Jackson, Knott, Knox, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Owsley, Perry, and Pike in the Commonwealth of Kentucky, which were declared a major disaster area by the President on October 30th, 1989. This assistance is granted under the authority of Public Law 93-288 as amended, the Disaster Relief Act of 1974. This notice concerns those facilities which are within the base or one percent chance floodplain (also known as the 100 year floodplain), or critical actions within the 500 year floodplain. These facilities may have adverse effects upon the floodplain or may be vulnerable to damage by flooding if they are restored to pre-disaster condition. These facilities include, but are not limited to the following:

1. Non-emergency debris clearance.
2. Non-emergency repair to protective flood control and protective coastal facilities, including dams, reservoirs and channels.
3. Damage to roads, including streets, culverts and bridges.
4. Damage to water control facilities, pipes and distribution systems.
5. Damage to public buildings and related equipment.
6. Damage to public utilities, including sewage treatment plants and sewers, and electrical power distribution systems.
7. Damage to private, non-profit facilities (hospitals, educational centers, emergency and custodial care services, etc.)

The President's Executive Order 11988 on Floodplain Management requires that all Federal actions in or affecting the base floodplain be reviewed for opportunities to relocate out of the floodplain or to minimize future damage from flooding. FEMA has determined that for certain types of facilities, there are normally no alternatives to restoration in the floodplain. These are facilities which meet all of the following criteria:

1. The FEMA estimated cost of repairs is less than 50% of the estimated replacement cost of the entire facility and is less than $100,000.
2. The facility is not located in a floodway or coastal high hazard area.
3. The facility has not sustained structural damage in a previous Presidential-declared flooding major disaster or emergency.
4. The facility is not a critical one (i.e. hospital, generating plant, contains dangerous material, emergency operation center, etc.)

FEMA intends to provide assistance for the restoration of the facilities described above to their pre-disaster condition except that certain measures to mitigate the effects of future flooding may be incorporated into the restoration work. For example, culverts and bridges with insufficient waterway openings may be subject to washing out due to the back-up water. This back-up may also cause damage to other facilities in the area. One mitigation measure would be increase the size of the waterway opening. This will be the only notice to the public concerning these facilities.

Other facilities, which do not fall into one of the four criteria listed above, are required to undergo more detailed review including study of alternative locations. The public is invited to participate in the process of identifying alternatives and analyzing their impacts. Details on how to obtain information on specific projects and on the submission of comments will be found at the end of this notice. Further explanation on the final determination on the restoration of these facilities will be given in subsequent notices.

Because of urgent need for some facilities of the type described in the previous paragraph, an applicant may have already started restoration of a facility when the Federal inspector visited the site. Some of these facilities would normally fall into the category requiring examination of alternative sites. These facilities will be restored in their original location based upon the following rationale. One of the following situations applies in each case:

1. The facility is functionally dependent on its floodplain location. Flood control facilities, bridges and piers are examples.
2. The project facilitates an open space use. Facilities which are part of a park or other open space use are examples. This type of use represents sound floodplain management, and therefore there is no need to change it.
3. The facilities, such as roads and utilities, are an integral part of a larger network which would be uneconomical to relocate.

Additionally, the possible effects of not restoring the facility were examined. In each case, there was an overriding public need for the facility which clearly outweighed the Order's requirements to avoid the floodplain and which made non-floodplain sites not practicable.

FEMA also consulted with State and local officials and actions which will be carried out do not violate either State or local floodplain protection standards. The restoration of these facilities also will incorporate certain measures designed to mitigate the effects of the future flooding. This will be the only notice to the public concerning these facilities.

Interested persons may obtain information about these actions and their locations at the Office of the Federal Coordinator at 719 University Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653, or by calling 606-886-1111 between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Comments about specific projects and the application of the Floodplain Management Executive Order to them should be submitted in writing to Robert J. Adamcik at the above address by November 20, 1989.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Repair of Private Bridges and Protective Structures

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) gives notice to the public of its intent to determine whether the repair, replacement and provision of private bridges and protective structures, including mobile homes under the Individual and Family Grant (IFG) Program complies with the President's Order on Floodplain Management (Executive Order 11988). The assistance provided is under the authority of Public Law 93-288 as amended, the Disaster Relief Act of 1974. FEMA proposes to assist the Commonwealth to fund the repair, replacement and provision because of the recent flooding and heavy rains in Clay, Floyd, Jackson, Knott, Knox, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Owsley, Perry, and Pike Counties which were included in the President's Declaration of a Major Disaster for the Commonwealth of Kentucky (FEMA-846-DR).

Some of these facilities are within the 100-year floodplain and span the floodway and may be structurally located, in part, within the floodway.

FEMA may require that the restoration of these facilities incorporate certain measures designed to mitigate against effects of future flooding.

Although these projects are in the floodway, FEMA's participation is based on the following rationale:

1. The bridges are part of existing networks of roads that cannot economically be repaired.
2. No known alternative sites are available.
3. There are no other known practicable ways of crossing the floodway.
4. No long-range adverse effects to the physical environment are known to exist.
5. Failure to restore pre-existing routes could cause serious time delays for emergency and other vehicles.
6. Repair, replacement or provision of protective structures will mitigate against future damages (by flooding or slides) to private individuals.

This rationale, for proposed participation in the restoration of bridges and protective structures including mobile homes provide the basis for consideration of funding.

Interested persons may obtain information about these actions and their locations at the Office of the Federal Coordinator at 719 University Drive, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653 or by calling 606-886-1111 between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Comments about specific projects and the application of the Floodplain Management Executive Order to them should be submitted in writing to Robert J. Adamcik at the above address by November 20, 1989.

LESSON NO. 2

"As you know, Larry, pretty soon all cars will come with automatic safety belts or air bags—and I don't mean your mother-in-law!"

"Larry, do you know what works best when they fit tightly?"

"That's right, Vince, but these new automatic gizmos only do part of the job to keep you from being a windshield warrior. You've still got to make sure your safety belt is buckled up."

"My Uncle Bernie's false teeth?" "No Larry, safety belts. You've got to always make sure that yours is snug and that whatever safety belt system your car comes with is in a-ok-working order."
