A Blessed Relief

Mother Nature has decided to be kind to us once more. Wednesday should be sunny and mild, with highs in the low to mid-70s. Wednesday night will be clear, with a low in the mid-40s.

Thursday looks to be a repeat of Wednesday, with sunny and mild weather and a high of 75. Thursday night will be clear and 45.

Fall Back . . .

"Spring forward, fall back," goes the old saying, and this Sunday, Floyd County residents are reminded to turn clocks back one hour.

Deadline Extended

Deadlines for both Floyd County Times' contests in observance of National Newspaper Week will be extended to Nov. 1 due to school closings last week, according to Anne Chaney, editor.

The deadline had been Wednesday, Oct. 25 (today).

The newspaper is sponsoring an essay contest for high school juniors and seniors and a "Best Idea" contest for first and fourth grade students. The theme of the essay contest mirrors that of National Newspaper Week — "A Free Press: Democracy's Forum."

First and fourth grade students will be judged separately in the Times' "Old Newspapers Are Good For . . ." contest. Each student is encouraged to submit up to three ideas for creative ways to use old newspapers.

For more information, contact Chaney at 886-8506.

Grand Jury Info . . .

All persons who wish to appear before the Floyd County Grand Jury, which begins Nov. 20, should contact the Commonwealth Attorney's office at 886-1064 for a Nov. 9 appointment. Discussion and preparation for each case is necessary at this time, and a date and time to appear before the Grand Jury will be assigned.

FCEA To Meet

Due to last week's weather conditions and school closings, the regular meeting of the Floyd County Education Association was rescheduled for Thursday, Oct. 26, at 4:30 p.m. at the KEA office.

According to Bud Reynolds, acting president, it is imperative that at least one representative from each school in the county be present.

Recycling Day

The city of Prestonsburg will be collecting old newspapers along with the garbage collection for those areas of regular service on Thursday and Friday of this week.

City Manager Freddie James asks that all persons participating in this drive bundle the papers and place them beside the trash cans on their regularly scheduled pick up day.

According to James, this is a free service at present and is available for residential customers only.

County Requests Disaster Relief

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

Cleanup continues in Floyd County after last week's flash flooding, which damaged an estimated 235 homes in the area.

While a great deal of damage remains from the waters dumped on the Floyd County area by the remnants of Hurricane Jerry, normalcy has returned to places which, only a week ago, were covered with water and mud.

According to Frank Pack, principal of flood-ravaged McDowell Elementary, which suffered approximately $76,724 in damages to supplies and equipment, classes are back in session after four days of cancellations.

"We finished almost all of the cleanup by Saturday," said Pack. "State health inspectors came in late Saturday morning and told us we were OK. We had sprayed the place clean and put down disinfectant throughout the classrooms and all over the campus. On Sunday, we finished cleaning the tennis courts."

On Saturday, Gov. Wallace Wilkinson, accompanied by state, federal and Red Cross personnel, inspected and evaluated damages to the Eastern Kentucky region. In Floyd County, four teams from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), working with members of the state and local Disaster Emergency Service (DES), combed the county to determine damage to roads, bridges, schools, and private dwellings, according to David Chaffins of the Floyd County DES.

While some roads and bridges still remained under water and could not be evaluated, FEMA estimated that approximately $450,000 in damage was done to local roadways. A further $126,000 in damages were assessed for local schools, which included the two schools at McDowell, Drift Elementary, and Garrett Elementary. More than 230 houses were estimated to have received varying levels of flood damage.

These damage estimates were submitted to Gov. Wilkinson, along with the estimates from Clay, Jackson, Knott, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Owsley, Perry and Pike counties, totaling $11.3 million for the region.

On Monday, this figure was presented to President George Bush, requesting that the 10-county region be declared a disaster area. Approval is expected later this week.

About $7.6 million of the regional proposal is scheduled to be allocated for damages to public property and See DISASTER RELIEF Page 5

Osborne Out Of Jail

Margie Osborne, supervisor of the Big Sandy Juvenile Detention Center, is out of jail once more, despite facing charges of contempt of court and a 48-hour jail sentence.

Osborne, 54, served six of the 48 hours Thursday evening after a Pike Circuit Court judge held her in contempt of court for refusing to admit a female juvenile to the center. According to Osborne, male inmates had been housed in both the boys' and girls' dorms at the center, and there was no room for a female juvenile.

Osborne was released from the Pike County Jail late Thursday night, but returned Friday after refusing to apologize to Pike District Judge Miller Kent Carter. Pike Circuit Judge Charles Lowe upheld Carter's ruling Friday.

Osborne, however, was again released Friday evening after officials obtained a writ from another judge.

At present, the case awaits hearing by three appellate court judges; the contempt hearing must be held within 10 days.

Good News For Local Miners

Twenty-one retired miners and two widows of miners from the Drift area are once again receiving their UMWA Health and Retirement Fund benefits, which they lost on Feb. 1, 1988, according to spokesperson Ross Lewis.

Sixty-year-old Lewis, of McDowell, who worked for the coal mines for 29 years before retiring, was elected spokesperson for the group, which was represented in court by Prestonsburg attorneys Ned Pillersdorf and Janet Stumbo.

The return of health and retirement benefits follows a ruling in Federal District Court of the Western District of Pennsylvania, according to Pillersdorf. A number of similar suits had been filed, and litigants agreed to allow Judge Donald E. Ziegler to make an overall ruling.

Ziegler returned the miners' medical cards, and ordered reimbursement for all prior medical expenses and prior insurance premiums, and 10 percent interest on both.

The local suit was filed against Left Beaver Coal Co. in Drift and trustees of the United Mine Workers Association's Health and Retirement Funds. The UMWA Health and Retirement Funds are a separate entity from the UMWA.

All disabled or retired, the miners claimed that what they thought were lifetime medical benefits were cut off in 1988, when Left Beaver Coal Co. said it was no longer affiliated with the miners' union. The company also apparently said it was no longer responsible for carrying out the terms of the 1984 National Bituminous Coal Agreement, the last union contract under which the plaintiffs had worked.

According to the Pittsburgh court order, the UMWA Benefit Plan and Trust will provide health and death benefits coverage to the miners, widows and dependents as well as reimbursing them for any premiums for alternative health insurance coverage they paid and pay off any bills which they incurred during the time they were not covered, plus 10 percent interest.

The Fund has asked Ziegler to reconsider his order, but according to Pillersdorf, given the tone of the ruling, he is not likely to do so.

"Our attorneys worked hard getting this set up and getting the judge to review our case," Lewis noted. "The judge ruled on all cases, stating that all miners who had lost their health insurance had to be picked up by the UMWA."

Lewis said that the miners that were cut off were unable to find out who was responsible for their health benefits for 21 months. During this time several pharmacies and doctors carried the men and women on credit.

He added that Ronald Reid of the Pharmacy of Martin was one who carried Lewis and four other men for the full time, as did Dr. Mary Hall and Associates of the McDowell Clinic.

Floyd Schools Earn Statewide Recognition

Five Floyd County Schools have earned Flags of Excellence/Progress for their dropout and attendance rates for the 1988-89 school year.

Only 40 schools statewide received the honor.

Two Floyd County schools were among those with the most improved dropout rate — Drift Elementary, now defunct, and Prestonsburg High School. Three county schools were among those with the most improved attendance rates — Auxier, Drift and Prater elementary schools.

A recognition ceremony will be held at the Farnham Dudgeon Civic Center in Frankfort on Thursday, Nov. 9, with local officials and students invited to attend.

Individualized awards will be presented on stage to honor the 20 schools with the most improved dropout rate and the 20 with the most improved attendance rate.

Principals of each school are invited to bring up to 10 students. Among others invited are the district's superintendent, Ron Hager, and board chairman Dr. James D. Adams.

The program is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Education and the Kentucky Educational Foundation.

Time For Trick Or Treat

On Tuesday, Oct. 31, things that go bump in the night may seem more prevalent as many young Floyd Countians go from door to door begging for treats and threatening tricks.

The children bedecked as witches, ballerinas, vampires, cowboys and other sundry characters will be traipsing around the county areas, as well as in Allen, during the evening from 5 until 9 Tuesday.

The cities of Prestonsburg, Martin and Wayland have a somewhat more limited trick-or-treating time, slated between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m. As of press time yesterday, the city of Wheelwright is expecting to follow the counties time table.

It is a county-side policy that no one over the age of 12 will be permitted to wear a mask.

For those who don't care to "hit the streets" Tuesday night or just want to get twice as much "stuff," the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg is once again sponsoring "safe trick-or-treat."

Cleaning Up After Flood Busy Process For Fiscal Court

by Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

Following flooding throughout most of the county last week, a number of Floyd residents attended the fiscal court meeting Friday to voice concern about damage in their neighborhoods.

Magistrates unanimously approved a resolution drawn up by County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo authorizing the county to purchase items necessary to alleviate the emergency situation which exists due to the flooding.

Also, the prospect of getting an emergency 911 number in Floyd County was approved (see related story).

"At this time, a complete and detailed list of damage is not available, but needs must be addressed as soon as possible," Stumbo noted. "This (resolution) gives the (county judge) the authority to start the restoration process."

Stumbo asked the magistrates for a list of bridges damaged by the flooding so he could submit that report to See FISCAL COURT Page 10

County May Get 911 Service

By Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

Members of the Fiscal Court Friday heard a presentation on the costs and benefits on having a 911 service in Floyd County.

Joe James, South Central Bell representative, billed the service as "the cheapest form of life insurance available."

Installation of the system, he said, would run $58,123 and the monthly service charge would be $4,455. Both costs could be recouped by adding as little as 31 cents to the monthly bill of all county telephone service subscribers, James noted. He explained that several counties add up to 50 cents per month to the customers' bills and are able to use the excess funds to purchase emergency equipment and employ a dispatcher.

The central dispatch office would be located in Prestonsburg and would utilize a computer system, CRT, to send out ambulance, police or fire departments to respond to calls. James said when a call comes through, the computer automatically displays the caller's name, address and nearest servicing emergency department.

The benefit is two fold, he explained, increasing response time and cutting down on prank calls.

"Without the 911 service, a person in an emergency would need the presence of mind to look up the proper telephone number for fire, police and ambulance services in their area and then dial a seven digit number and attempt to communicate their need to the answering party," James explained. "The 911 service cuts down on these problems and could possibly save a person's life with the

The Jenny Wiley Saga

(Editor's Note: As part of the observance of the 200th year since the capture of Jenny Wiley, the Times has been running segments of the Jenny Wiley Story, written by the late historian, author and playwright Henry Scalf of Mare's Creek. This is the conclusion of the four part series, picking up at the final escape of Wiley from the Indians.)

For a few moments there was no plan, no intelligence of her movements but, after some deliberation, she waded into little Mud Lick Creek and down stream. It was as near as she could guess, about four o'clock in the afternoon and darkness would soon fall. Darkness would bring the hunters home and put them upon her trail. She must hurry, she told herself. Wading down Little Mud Lick and Big Mud Lick Creek she finally reached Big Paint Creek. The rain had filled the streams to overflowing, and Big Paint Creek was a raging torrent, but realizing that unless she waded the water there would be signs left for her captors to follow. She plunged into the turbid water. It was growing dusk and the clouds and trees further darkened the horizon. At times she was swept from her feet by the force of water, but ever fighting herself, See JENNY WILEY Page 10

Governor Tours Flooded Areas

EASTERN KENTUCKY — Gov. Wallace Wilkinson conducted a tour of flood damaged Eastern Kentucky counties on Saturday to determine the levels of state and federal assistance required to put the area back on its feet after last week's flooding. Wilkinson toured with survey crews from the state Division of Disaster and Emergency Services and the Federal Emergency Management Agency, examining damaged homes and businesses in Letcher and Pike counties. Other counties seeking disaster relief are Clay, Floyd, Jackson, Knott, Leslie, Magoffin, Owsley, and Perry. The total aid request by the state to the federal government has been set at $7,650,869.

School Board Lowers Taxes

KNOTT COUNTY — County school board members voted three to two, on Oct. 10 to drop the current tax rate of 30.5 cents per $100 valuation down to 27.3 cents per $100. School Superintendent R.B. Singleton fought the change, but the board overrode his recommendation to maintain the current tax. Board members cited the lack of accountability of current spending for education in the county for the tax decrease. (Troublesome Creek Times)

Alleged Theft Gang Leader Nabbed

PAINTSVILLE — U.S. Postal Inspectors tracked alleged postal thief William Burns, 42, of Paintsville, for one and a half years before his arrest on Oct. 12. Burns was accused of possessing stolen mail and food stamps. Investigators claim that Burns used a gang of juveniles to steal the mail from mail boxes. Burns faces a maximum of 10 years in jail and a $500,000 fine if convicted. (Paintsville Herald)

Sewage Dumping In Lake Cumberland OK'd

FRANKFORT — The state Division of Water issued a permit on Friday to allow the City of Jamestown to discharge sewage, including 35 tons of salt a day, into Lake Cumberland. Environmental groups and many private citizens have reacted negatively to the announcement and it is expected that a federal lawsuit will be filed in an attempt to prevent the dumping. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

Saying Goodbye . . .

Prestonsburg said goodbye Saturday to long-time police force member and Chief of Police Dickie Campbell, who passed away Wednesday. Dozens of cars threaded their way through downtown Prestonsburg, past City Hall where Campbell worked for many years, and in front of the flag that was at half mast to mourn his death.

David Fire Dept. Sponsoring Dinner

The David Volunteer Fire Department will be sponsoring a chicken and dumpling dinner on Saturday, Oct. 28, from 11 to 5 p.m. at The David School.

This is a fund raising activity and the firefighters are asking a donation of $3.50 per plate.

Marty Greene, secretary, warns David community residents to be aware of anyone soliciting donations for the fire department. Firefighters will provide identification to show they are department members. Anyone approached by false solicitors should contact Greene at the David School.

Water District Meeting Oct. 25

The commissioners of the Beaver-Elkhorn Water District will hold their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, Oct. 25, at 6:30 p.m. at the water office in Wayland.

quicker response time."

According to James, the system would take two years to become "live" due to the extensive mapping of the area required to make it functional. "Our people have to go through the entire county and name or number all the roads and houses so the dispatcher will have a clear system to work with," he continued. "This will help the county in other numerous ways."

James stated that most counties served by South Central Bell are already actively pursuing the installation of a 911 service. He added that Lee County had over 150 people at its public hearing on the matter and they unanimously agreed to install it.

When Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo asked the court for a motion to start the process, Magistrate Betty Caudill turned to Magistrate Ermal Tackett and said, "Are you in favor?"

"Lord, yes!" he responded — apparently summing up the attitude of the other Fiscal Court members. A public hearing will be scheduled at a later date.

'55 ALIVE' Course Planned Oct. 27-28

The Jenny Wiley Chapter (#3528) of the American Association of Retired Persons will conduct a "55 ALIVE" driving course at the Floyd County Library on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27-28.

Friday classes will begin at noon and last until 4 p.m.; Saturday's session will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

To register, call Delmas Saunders, 886-2463, or Orville Cooley, 886-9532.

Recently, when "55 ALIVE" instructor George Springer gave Betty Newcomer of California her graduation certificate, he had little idea of the significance of that gesture. Newcomer turned out to be the one millionth person to complete the course.

AARP and Newcomer were later acknowledged at the California state "55 ALIVE" meeting. Chief Deputy Director William Mackey of the California Department of Motor Vehicles presented Newcomer with a plaque depicting an antique car.

Kickoff Held For Big Sandy Labor/Management Committee

Better labor/management relations and economic development in the Big Sandy region are two primary goals the Big Sandy Area Labor-Management Committee will seek to address, after announcing last week the receipt of a $38,000 federal grant.

The committee, composed of labor and management leaders from Floyd, Martin, Magoffin, Johnson and Pike counties, was originally formed in 1987. Members wanted to change the negative perceptions held in business communities outside of the region about labor relations in the area, and to improve communications between local management and labor personnel. Over the past two years, a plan of action was designed, which has now received grant support from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. This $38,000 grant will be supplemented by locally raised funds amounting to an additional $13,000.

At the Oct. 18 press conference in Paintsville, Gary Moberly, executive director of labor/management relations for the Kentucky Labor Cabinet, laid out the basic philosophy of the state in labor/management relations.

"Labor and management don't have to love, or even like each other," said Moberly. "What the two parties must realize is that they need each other to survive and succeed. They're two halves of the same whole. What we hope for is a positive change in both the perception and substance of labor/management relationships."

Sam Campbell, of the Big Sandy Area Development District, detailed the plan which the Labor/Management Committee seeks to implement over the next one year period. A first priority will be to hire a program director, responsible for coordinating the committee's action plan for the region, while maintaining a rotating office schedule around the five county area. Within the next two months, a seminar is scheduled to be held in Pike County, focusing on labor/management relations there. Scheduled for next spring are presentations to graduating high school and college classes in the region, stressing the importance of labor/management relations in community and economic development.

Another primary project to be sponsored by the committee involves the development of a survey of manufacturing firms located in the Northeast and Great Lakes regions of the U.S., for the purpose of evaluating the impact of negative perceptions of labor/management relations in Eastern Kentucky, on decisions to locate industrial and manufacturing plants in this area. This will be done in order to develop a better understanding of the extent and impact of these negative perceptions on the development of the region.

The final goal year-end goal of the committee will be to sponsor a Corporate Olympics, which will bring members of labor and management from local industries together to compete against other labor/management teams in an enjoyable mix of events, showcasing the image of cooperation between these groups in the region, and acting as a recruitment tool for the committee. Several other projects are also in the works. The end goal of these activities is to stimulate economic growth and the creation of new jobs for the region.

The organization of the Big Sandy Area Labor/Management Committee, Campbell stressed, is one of equality between the two groups. There will be a management and labor co-chair position, and both groups will have equal voting rights in all decision making.

Campbell briefly summarized the overall thrust of the committee's work.

"We're looking to improve not just labor/management relations, but also the overall quality of life in the area for future generations."

October Declared Nat'l AIDS Prevention, Awareness Month

President Bush has proclaimed October 1989 as National AIDS Prevention and Awareness Month.

In keeping with this, the Floyd County Health Department hosted a two-day course on HIV Counseling and Partner Notification on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 11 and 12.

The course was taught by David Raines, manager of the STD Program in Frankfort, and Paulette McClure, STD investigator/counselor from Jefferson County. Also Reginald Funder, MD, MPH, acting director, division of epidemiology in Frankfort, presented a medical update on AIDS/HIV.

Upon completion of the course, those persons attending both days received Certification in HIV Counseling and Partner Notification from the Cabinet of Human Resources.

Floyd County Health Department staff receiving certification are: Joy Moore, registered nurse; Jane Estep, RN; Clara Martin, nurse practitioner; Janelle Cude, RN; Carri Branham, licensed practical nurse; Trena Ratliff, LPN; Delores Carpenter, community health worker; and Jane Bond, health educator.

Health Department staff are available for presentations on AIDS to civic, church and school groups. For more information call 886-2788.

or-treating." On Sunday, Oct. 29, between the haunting hours of 4 and 8 p.m. goblins can come for ghoulish fun on the "Trail of Terror."

Costumed kids, accompanied by adults, will have the opportunity to visit 50 rooms sponsored by area businesses and individuals, including the Floyd County Times, which will hand out wrapped treats. Marty Backus, publisher of the Times, invites all young goblins to come to the last room on the third floor and try to get past the frightening gorilla and shrieking witch yowling that station. The haunting experience will begin with games and prizes in the banquet area of the hotel and conclude after the completion of the Trail of Terror.

Another activity worth consideration is a visit to one of the area Halloween Carnivals sponsored by local schools and their Parent-Teacher Organizations, to include: The Mountain Christian Academy from 6-9 p.m. on Wednesday (today), Oct. 25; Clark Elementary School beginning at 6 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 28; Harold Elementary School's fall festival from 4-8 p.m. on Saturday; Allen Elementary School from 3-6 p.m., also on Saturday; Prater Elementary School, from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 28; Wayland Elementary School, Friday, Oct. 27, from 5:30 to 8 p.m. with 25 cent admission for students and 50 cents for adults (proceeds to be used to purchase a classroom computer).

Drug Awareness Campaign, Firefighter Pay Top Agenda

National Red Ribbon Campaign promoting drug awareness and a drug-free lifestyle was kicked off in Prestonsburg Monday night when Mayor Ann Latta declared the week of Oct. 23-30 Red Ribbon Week and Drug Free America Week in Prestonsburg.

This nation-wide grass roots community awareness program is coordinated by Champions Against Drugs, in conjunction with the National Federation of Parents for Drug Free Youth and a wide array of professional and private organizations. The campaign's purpose is to encourage participation in drug education activities and promote drug free, healthy lifestyles among all citizens.

Complementing the campaign, Latta announced during Monday's council meeting that the Floyd County Education Board had accepted the council's proposal to start a pilot project for the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program (DARE), to begin in Prestonsburg Elementary in the next school year. This program, directed to children in fifth and sixth grades, will send a trained police officer into the school to provide information on drug abuse and why it's important to say no to illegal substances. A Prestonsburg police officer will begin program training in January.

In other business, City Administrator Fred James, after discussion with members of the Prestonsburg Volunteer Fire Dept. and consideration at the Oct. 9 council meeting, made a proposal to council to increase payments to volunteers for training and turnouts to fires. This proposal was made in an effort to bring Prestonsburg volunteer payments in line with other cities in the area and in an attempt to maintain an adequate number of active volunteers. The council unanimously voted to pay $6 for every training session or fire turnout to volunteers who have not received state fire fighting certification, and $10 to volunteers who have received certification. Each will also receive minimum wage after two hours on any turnout for an actual fire.

In other council action, an examination of city liability insurance bids was assigned to the Finance Committee, headed by Michael Vance. A decision will be made to accept a bid by the entire council before Nov. 13.

In other action, Oct. 26 and 27 were declared to be Newspaper Recycling Days in Prestonsburg, and citizens are requested to place their bundled papers out for collection on these days.

A resolution honoring the late chief of police, Dickie Campbell, was made during the meeting, stating:

"Whereas, Dickie Campbell served the City of Prestonsburg for nearly 20 years, with dedication and distinction; and

"Whereas, Dickie Campbell was devoted to the calling of law enforcement, and was a police officer first and foremost, serving in every rank of the Prestonsburg Police Department, including Chief of Police at the time of his death; and

"Whereas, Dickie Campbell earned the highest respect of his fellow officers, fellow law enforcement personnel across the state, the Mayor, the City Council, and the people of Prestonsburg,

"Now, therefore, we adopt this Resolution in honor of the memory of Dickie Campbell to be placed in the minutes of this meeting, in the newspaper, and presented to his family with our most sincere sympathy on his untimely death, October 18, 1989."

The resolution was signed by all council members and a moment of silence was observed.

And Then...

By Ann Chaney

This is not going to be one of my better columns. I warn you ahead of time merely out of an innate sense of politeness; it is indeed possible to be grouchy in print.

*****
About two years ago, I made a serious vow to myself to quit smoking. I almost did — "almost" meant getting down to only two cigarettes a day. Not quitting completely after reaching that level was one of the poorer decisions I've made.

In any event, sitting here Tuesday mid-afternoon during full newspaper deadline crunch, I desperately want a cigarette. I can't write columns without a cigarette. I can't edit news stories without a cigarette. I can't decide what goes on the front page without a cigarette. I can't...

Actually, I can. For most of this morning, I have been.

This is the first day of "cutting down" after I decided Monday night to try, once more, to quit. I've limited myself to one cigarette every 45 minutes. Those of you who don't smoke will be unimpressed. Those of you who do ought to try it. The last cigarette was at 1:30, so the next is 2:15 — that's 14 minutes from now.

By cutting down to one cigarette every 45 minutes, it seems to make sense that by Friday, it can be cut to one cigarette every hour. Going from a pack-and-a-half to a half-a-pack is a fairly good performance. Perhaps by the following Monday, it can be limited to five or six cigarettes a day. At present, however, there are 12 minutes between me and sanity.

Why, oh why, you ask, am I rambling on about quitting? There are so many other things you'd rather read. Gosh, I'm trying hard. Besides, I figure if I make this public, any of you whose me with a cigarette can shame me into putting it out. (Please do.) Only 10 minutes to go.

Most of the cigarettes I smoke are out of habit; many smokers agree that there are certain times they light up, not necessarily because they want to, but rather because they're used to smoking right then. I have a cigarette with morning coffee, mid-morning coffee, lunch time coffee, mid-afternoon coffee, afternoon coffee, and please-let-me-stay-awake-until-the-paper's-finished coffee. (Hmmm. Maybe I ought to give up coffee instead.)

the story and tell myself I'll wait just a while longer until I take these pictures to the composing room. No, I'll get a cup of coffee on my way back, then have the cigarette. Maybe, please, please, someone will call me and distract me for a few minutes. (Only six minutes left! That's equal to just 360 seconds.)

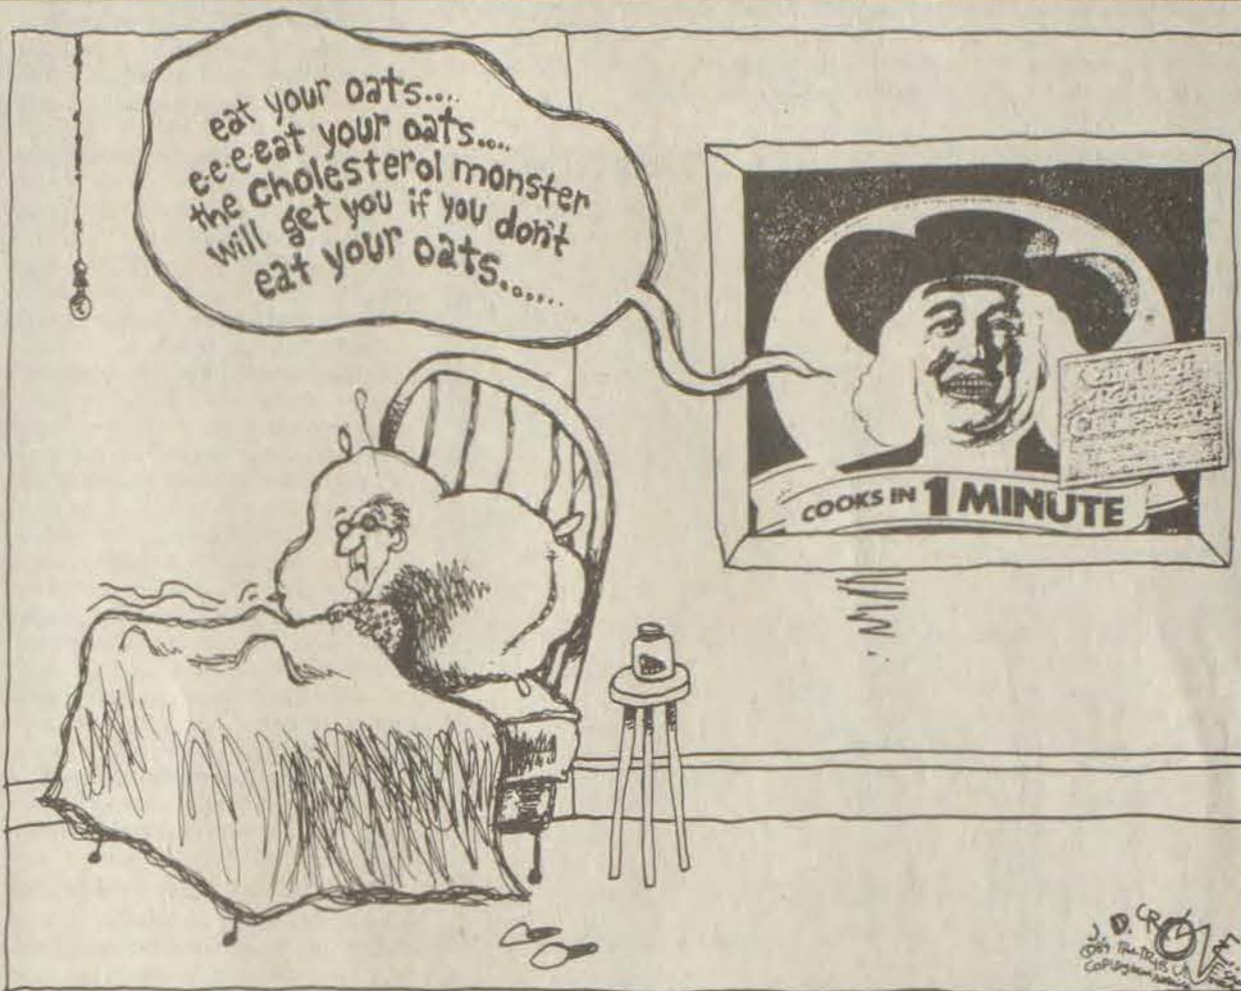

What's the line on that commercial? It doesn't get any better than this? I sincerely hope it doesn't get any worse than this!

I am now anticipating my next cigarette, which is four minutes — or 240 seconds — away. I am blithely addicted to a small cylindrical roll of tobacco less than three and a half inches long. You are being subjected to the mindless ravings of a nicotine addict, for which I sincerely apologize. I have, however, less than a minute and a half left.

Ahhh, an interruption.

I'm back. Thirty seconds to go. I am going to get a cup of coffee and enjoy this. I have only one small request, one that can be fulfilled 10 minutes from now. Take me out and shoot me.

Maybe someone will offer me another cigarette.

Well, the simple-minded telephone jerks are popping up again. These are the low-lives who use their limited talent getting kicks by calling in bomb threats to public institutions.

Last week, the Times reported two such incidents at Prestonsburg Community College. A female (if that's what you want to call it) phoned school officials with such a threat. Of course, buildings had to be emptied while a search was made.

Not even political rallies are immune. Last Thursday, such a call disrupted the rally for Court of Appeals Judge candidate Barkley Sturgill. It was being held at the local Holiday Inn, when a male caller told hotel employees that his brother had planted a bomb in the building. According to information, the caller said his brother had something against the candidate. What it is, I was not told.

After a search was made of the area, a second call was made by the same simple-minded pea brain who said something to the effect, "my brother planted a bomb," then laughed and hung up.

While on the subject of politics, it seems the challenger for the mayor's seat in Prestonsburg is coming out with all guns blazing.

Paul Joseph is taking on the record of Mayor Ann Latta, claiming little has been accomplished and a lot has been lost. However, he's not saying what he'll do if elected.

The Jenny Wiley Festival was great, weekend before last, all but one thing. Unlicensed trail bikes raced up and down Prestonsburg streets, apparently driven by underaged and unsupervised youths.

I witnessed their antics of popping wheelies and going faster than necessary while streets were crowded with visitors to the festival. I hope the mayor's office can do something about this, because I've made my complaint to her and two council members. The ball is in their corner now.

You've heard the old saying, "If you don't toot your own horn, no one else will." I'd like to take this time to toot the horn for Dan Green of The David School at David.

Danny conceived the idea of The David School some years back. It renews opportunities for young people who are on the road to dropping out of school and turning their back on education to face a usual life of hard knocks.

In the past year, Danny was named America's first Hero in Education, which is a nationwide honor. Since then, he has been on ABC News and featured in Reader's Digest.

Well, it's not over for Danny Green. This week, a television crew is scheduled to come in again to do a report on our David School leader. It will then appear on "48 Hours." However, when the showing can be seen is not known at this time. I believe this is a CBS network program.

Still, there's more. On Sunday, Nov. 5, crews from NBC's Today Show are supposed to be in to interview Dan. Scheduled time for showing is the week of Thanksgiving.

Besides being so involved with The David School, Dan is president of the Prestonsburg Rotary Club, which is another position that consumes a good bit of his time.

So, if you want to look for some good points locally, look no further than Dan Green at The David School.

Letters to the Editor

Questions Decision To Hold School Tues.

Dear Editor,
I am a parent who has children attending McDowell Elementary School. The near disaster last Tuesday leaves me with a sick feeling inside. I can't believe school administrators would be so incompetent to bus students into a school that is being flooded. School administrators get paid to insure the safety of our children and when they don't do their job, they should be fired.

A lot of questions need to be answered about last Tuesday and I think a public inquiry is in order so these questions can be answered. The parents in McDowell will not feel their children are safe until this whole mess is investigated by the state board of education and other investigative agencies. Some of the questions are:

— Does the transportation director have the authority to call off school? If so, why did he call (Ronald Hager, superintendent of Floyd County schools) Tuesday morning?

— How many bus drivers called in to report the high water before they started picking up children? How many parents called to report high water?

— Both principals at McDowell called Mr. Hager about this problem. What was his response?

— Mr. Hager said they decided to have school based on the facts known at that time. The facts he had came from the state highway department. Is it being paid to check roads to see if they are safe for school buses?

— The money wasted Tuesday is nothing compared to our children's safety, but how much did it cost to run all those buses for no reason at all?

— Should principals have to worry about being fired when they see children in a life-threatening situation and the superintendent tells them they can't send them home?

These are but a few of the questions that need to be answered. Until this happens, school administrators should keep a close eye on attendance at McDowell.

Ernie Moore,
McDowell

buildings. Another $2.6 million is targeted for private residences. Of the remaining $1.1 million, $790,000 is being sought for businesses and $300,000 for agriculture.

According to the Army Corps of Engineers, flood control dams operated in southeastern Kentucky helped to reduce actual flood damages in the region by as much as $1.6 million along the Levisa Fork. Cities impacted by these flood control measures include Pikeville, Prestonsburg, and Paintsville.

Thirty-five members of the American Red Cross have been brought in from other parts of Kentucky and several other states to assist in relief efforts in the region, and Red Cross reports estimate that over 700 families in Eastern Kentucky have been impacted by the floods. Addressing the situation in Floyd County, the Red Cross has opened a Disaster Service Center at the Rescue Squad Station #2 in McDowell for any county resident whose home was destroyed or damaged in the flooding. Flood victims may be assisted with emergency needs such as food, clothing, shelter, minor home repair, household furnishing, and medical needs. Specially designed flood cleanup kits will also be available. The center will accept applications for relief between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily, until further notice. All Red Cross disaster help is free.

David Chaffins of the Floyd County DES expects that FEMA Centers will be quickly established in the area once President Bush declares the region a disaster area. These offices will act to evaluate damage to private dwellings and assist in distributing federal funding to flood victims. According to Chaffins, there are still many reports of damage continuing to come in to his office.

"I'm still hearing from people in the county. It'll probably be weeks before all the damage is fully assessed."

of medicine and medical treatment are extremely appreciative of those who carried us through this time," Lewis commented. "If it hadn't been for them I don't know what we would have done."

"Twenty-one months is a long time to be without health insurance, and it's just not right or fair," Lewis expressed. He added that some of the men had worked for that mine for quite a number of years, such as Baskum Horne for 45 years and Herschel Stumbo for 40 years, and "deserved better treatment than that."

The other miners involved in the case were John Dalton, Ben Hall, Jimmy Ratliff, Chester Newsome, Cecil Newsome, Edward Newsome, Kermit Newsome, John D. Martin, Ballard Gibson, Freddie Gibson, Bobby McGuire, Jake Layne, Russell Jacobs, Thurman Page, Ross Lewis, Ray Walters, Clarence Turner, William C. Turner, Russell Pack and Don Ratliff. The two widows are Minnie Samons, who lost her husband since the insurance cut off, and Mrs. Hansel Honeycutt.

Lewis equated what happened at the Left Beaver Coal Company with what is presently taking place at Pittston Coal Company and said "If Pittston wins, the same thing will happen to those miners as happened to us. The UMWA is a strong union, and I don't believe they'll lose to Pittston, but if they do we are going to be hurting."

Lewis was one of the first miners to get their benefit cards back and he said that he was told by the UMWA Health and Retirement Funds representative in Washington D.C. that there are hundreds of retired or disabled miners waiting on theirs and these would take some time to "fix up."

He concluded by asking those who hadn't received their cards to "keep the faith."

Payment For War Veterans?

Dear Editor,
The United States Senate and Congress passed a law to pay Japanese prisoners in the United States during World War II $20,000 each. Prisoners were held for security reasons only during World War II. Most prisoners were safe in California where they were well fed, well clothed, and adequately housed.

Shame, shame, shame to our congressmen.

What about paying U.S. soldiers who were prisoners of war during World War II and the Korean and Vietnamese wars?

The U.S. prisoners of war during World War II were treated inhumanely by the Japanese, especially the prisoners of Corregidor and the Bataan Death March.

Shame, shame, shame to our congressmen.

All veterans should vote against all congressmen who voted for this bill. Were the Japanese prisoners more important than the U.S. prisoners of war who saved our country so we could be free?

Shame, shame, shame to our congressmen.

I was not a prisoner of war.

Garrett,

State's Community Colleges Underfunded, Says Commission

Recommendations For Improvement

by Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

The Commission on the Future of the University of Kentucky Community College System is a 35-member group consisting of professionals, educators, business and government leaders from across Kentucky who recently conducted an extensive study of the roles, effectiveness and potential of Kentucky's Community College System.

Open access, low tuition and quality education have brought Kentucky citizens into the state's largest segment of higher education, according to commission co-chairman Bert T. Combs. However, explosive enrollment and inadequacy of state resources have created a pattern of significant underfunding for the community colleges.

"Based upon the solid foundation of the system's achievements, the commission has proposed several recommendations to assure continued success of the system into the next century," commented Combs. "When implemented, those recommendations will allow the community colleges to become an even more vital force in their respective areas and to become symbols of educational enlightenment as they provide education, economic, social and cultural services to Kentucky's citizens."

Among the commissions recommendations are:

- Expand activities, such as off-campus and television courses, that will increase access to higher education for more Kentuckians.
- Increase technical degree programs, job-specific training and other services to produce more "job-ready" students.
- Increase the emphasis on basic skills education, reading, writing and arithmetic and help foster an attitude of lifelong learning.
- Help foster community development through partnerships between the colleges and private businesses.
- Provide for statewide advocacy and networking of the various community colleges.
- Strengthen the effectiveness of the local advisory boards.
- Implement additional leadership development activities within the community college system.
- Provide leadership to coordinate post secondary programs and services offered in community colleges and vocational-technical schools.
- Continue to refine measurements and evaluation of the colleges' effectiveness.
- Correct the disparity in funding between the community college system and other institutions of higher education
- Provide 100 percent formula funding to meet the demands of Kentuckians for higher education.

By Tess A. Whitmer,
Staff Writer

The community college system in Kentucky, with an enrollment of more than 36,000, has more than 25 percent of the students in the entire university system, but receives only 8 percent of all higher education money, according to a report from the Commission on the Future of the University of Kentucky Community College System.

Dr. Henry Campbell, president of Prestonsburg Community College, noted that the community colleges receive only 67 percent of the full formula funding recommended by the Kentucky Council of Higher Education, while the average for the state universities is 84 percent.

This is the reason Governor Wallace Wilkinson stated that he will ask the General Assembly to appropriate funds in the next session to bring the state's community college system to catch it up to the state's eight universities.

"We cannot continue to expand the educational opportunities these colleges provide to our citizens and at the same time steadily reduce their share of the money we appropriate for higher education," Wilkinson told several hundred people at a banquet celebrating the Community College System's 25th anniversary.

University of Kentucky officials estimated last spring, according to Campbell, that the community colleges needed $12.5 million to achieve parity with other state schools. However, Wilkinson did not mention how much money he would seek, although he said the amount would be substantial.

The Council on Higher Education is seeking to form a new formula right now. If we have to wait four years to get it that leaves three years that we can't be doing things we are supposed to be doing right now."

Campbell explained that this funding for community colleges would not take away from the other universities. The goal is to earmark new dollars for higher education and particularly community colleges, he said.

Prestonsburg Businesswoman Elected To Kentucky Retail Board

Ruth Goebel, owner of the B.F. Casual Shop in Prestonsburg, was elected to the board of directors of the Kentucky Retail Federation, Inc., at the group's annual meeting on Thursday, Oct. 12 in Lexington. Goebel was elected to a two-year term beginning Jan. 1, 1990. She has served as local chairman of the statewide retail group since 1986.

The Kentucky Retail Federation is the largest trade association for retail businesses in Kentucky. The group based in Georgetown represents over 2000 retail businesses state-wide. The federation primarily engages in governmental affairs activity on behalf of Kentucky's retail industry. The 50-year-old organization also offers a wide variety of information and insurance services to its members.

Flu Shots Offered By Health Department

The Floyd County Health Department will begin giving flu shots on Wednesday, Nov. 1.

To make an appointment call, 886-2788.

Also beginning next Wednesday, the Floyd County Health Department will be offering extended hours to the citizens of Floyd County by appointment only, 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Re-Elect Gerald DeRossett for Magistrate

We are taking this means through the newspaper to ask you our friends and relatives to go vote for my nephew Gerald. Gerald is the youngest son of my late brother Alex DeRossett. I have been around Gerald all of his life, and he is very close to me. I know beyond a shadow of a doubt (and it speaks for itself) that Gerald is the most qualified, honest, and experienced man for the office of magistrate.

We are moving in the right direction in District #1. Let's keep it moving.

Monday was the first day for the Kentucky Lotto game, the new on-line lottery where players can pick six numbers (or let the machine pick them) and hope to hit all six during the Saturday night drawings and become instant millionaires; or hit four or five of the six and share a nominal prize. Gwen Alexander, right, who works at The Market Place on North Lake Drive, sold Debbie Bailey of Prestonsburg her first $1 numbers ticket. A separate lottery contest, SuperSports, was slated to begin last Wednesday. However, a three-judge appellate panel issued a temporary injunction against the game.

Chain Has Three Local Stores

Dollar General Corp.'s 50th Anniversary Oct. 28

Dollar General Corporation, creator of the "dollar-store" retailing concept, turns 50 years old on Saturday, Oct. 28.

The company will kick off its month-long anniversary celebration with special discounts and bargains in its 1,300 stores.

There are three Dollar General stores in Floyd County — in Prestonsburg on Court Street, in Wheelwright on Main Street, and in Martin on Main Street.

"We wouldn't be 50 years old today if it weren't for the loyalty of our customers," said Cal Turner Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of the corporation. "That's why we want to give our customers to celebrate on our birthday. It's our way of saying thank you."

Inflation over the years has forced Dollar General from its founding concept of "Everything for $1," said Turner. But the stores still price merchandise in even dollar amounts.

A $10,000 stake in 1939 began Dollar General as a wholesaler in Scottsville. That wholesale business soon grew into the first "dollar store" retailer, which is today a publicly traded corporation with 1,300 stores in 23 states. Sales in 1988 reached $613 million.

After going public in 1968, the chain consistently set sales and earnings records through 1984. Major growth and acquisitions softened earnings in 1985 and 1986, prompting aggressive steps to bring the company around to its current status as a classic turnaround story.

At the helm of the corporation is its chairman, a man whose father and grandfather pooled that $10,000 stake equally to found the company. Turner is determined to see Dollar General continue its recovery.

But Dollar General isn't Turner's only passion. He's also driven by a cause that he sees as a basic human right — the opportunity for every man an woman to lean to read and write. Dollar General received a citation from President Reagan last fall for its work in encouraging and directing thousands of its customers to GED resources. Since it began distributing GED materials in its stores, Dollar General has helped more than 13,500 people get information about GED and Learn to Read programs.

"Some of our Dollar General customers know the crushing burdens of illiteracy and our 23-state market area has a disproportionate share of a tremendous adult illiterate population," says Turner. "That's why we've developed the GED/Learn to Read and other educational programs. Corporate America owes education more than lip service and token contributions; we must play an active role in helping educate our people. Our future depends on it."

Stores To Make Flood Donations

Six Take 10 stores in flood-ravaged areas of West Virginia and Kentucky will make donations of clothing apparel and shoes to local Red Cross Chapters, according to John Isaac, Heck's chairman.

Heck's, parent company of Take 10 stores, has also solicited shoes from its vendor, J. Baker Shoes, to donate to victims through the Red Cross.

Affected areas where donations are being made include the Martin store in Floyd County.

NEW FOR YOU!

We here at Appalachian Regional Healthcare have just installed a new telephone system which will be a lot more convenient for our patients and other people calling the Hospital and affiliated Doctor's offices. The system has an automated attendant which answers the telephone and if you have a touch tone phone and know the extension of the department or person you are calling you do not have to talk to the operator. If you do not know the extension the operator will come on and assist you. Attached is a listing of the new telephone extension numbers.

Patient rooms can be accessed in the same manner as noted above if the caller knows the patient's room number his telephone extension number will be the same, i.e. room 203, telephone 377-3400 and the automated attendant will answer the caller can dial 203.

Also another feature of the new system is the capability to call several departments within the Hospital without going through the switchboard at all. Those departments are accessed by a different number:

Floyd Nursing Home Rated Superior

The Cabinet for Human Resources has awarded a Floyd County nursing home the state's highest rating for two levels of patient care provided to residents of the long-term facility. The "superior" rating is the intermediate care and the skilled nursing units of the Riverview Manor Nursing Home in Prestonsburg. Kentucky nursing homes are rated for each level of care offered following the annual inspections by the cabinet's Division of Licensing and Regulation. Woodrow Dunn, licensing and regulation director, said, "Kentucky's nursing home reform law established the rating system for individual levels of care, so the public could get an idea of the quality of service provided by a facility. An "unrated" status indicates that the service is in compliance with the minimum standards and a "conditional" rating means the deficiencies have been found which must be corrected before that level of care will be in compliance, Dunn explained. "It's important for people to realize that each level of care is rated individually," he said. "Facilities offering more than one level of residential care have separate ratings for each unit."

A facility level of care earning a "superior" rating is in compliance with the minimum standards for licensing and has exceeded those standards in at least six of the 11 areas inspected. Those 11 areas are administration, drugs and biologicals, dietary and nutrition services, life safety code, nursing services, physical environment, physical and restorative therapy, social services and activities, medical services, patients' rights and record keeping. "The real incentive for nursing homes to achieve a 'superior' rating is in the message it gives the public about the home's quality of care," Dunn concluded.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Pink Osborne, Jr. wishes to thank all of those who were so kind and considerate during our time of grief. We want to thank those who sent flowers and gifts of love. We especially want to thank the Primitive Baptist Ministers and the Hall Funeral Home for being so kind. All your kindnesses were greatly appreciated.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Mary Alice McKinney wishes to thank all those friends, neighbors, and family who helped them in any way upon the passing of their loved one. Thanks to those who sent food, flowers, prayers and words of comfort expressed. A special thanks to the Regular Baptist Ministers for their comforting words and to the Hall Funeral Home for their kind and efficient services.

A proud tradition

Our funeral home has been responding to the needs of the community for many years. To continue this proud tradition of helping families in their time of need, we now offer the Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup> Plan.

Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup> offered by us as a member of the Kentucky Funeral Directors Burial Association, is a plan that lets you reduce the stress your loved ones will experience at the time of a funeral.

Through Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup>, you can pre-arrange a funeral now. The plan offers an inflation-proof feature that lets you save money by freezing the cost of a funeral at today's prices. And it provides special tax-saving advantages.

We'd like to give you a "Personal Record Guide" and tell you about the Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup> Plan. Just complete the coupon below and send it to us.

Fiscal Court

Frankfort and receive emergency funding for repairs. The list includes:

District One: Allen Branch at David, Stone Bridge at David and a bridge off Route 850 on Ned Allen Branch;

District Two: Becky Clark Branch, Raymond Lawson Bridge, Lizardville Bridge and Abutments, Bradley Branch, Riley Tulle Bridge, and four others which were under water and damage could not be assessed;

District Three: Frazier Creek at Dick Moore Hollow, Royal Hollow at McDowell, Simpson Branch at Drift, Tutor Hall Bridge at Jacks Creek, Maude Dye Bridge at Arkansas, Muddy Gut at Melvin, Hen Pen Bridge at Melvin, Caleb Fork Bridge at Weeksbury and Bevinsville Bridge; District Four: Mark Whicker Road Bridge, Katy Adkins Road Bridge, Spruce Pine Bridge and Simpson Fork Bridge at Prater Creek.

After hearing from Carl Coble of Wayland, the court also agreed to fix a culvert in District Two which is too small to properly channel high water. Curtis Miller from a community above Wayland on Route 7 brought to the attention of the court the condition of a swinging bridge in that area. Miller said 17 families utilize the bridge to get to their homes and, since the bridge has been washed out, they have to walk over two miles to go around. Stumbo agreed to fix the wood planking used as the floor of the bridge.

Patricia Kidd, representing residents of Spruce Pine Hollow, asked the court "what could be done about the road" in that hollow. Apparently the road gets impassable even to four-wheel drive vehicles after rains, and the school bus is unable to travel it to pick up the five children who live in the hollow. The children must walk through mud and water to get to school, according to Kidd. She cited a resident at the mouth of the hollow would not give right of way to allow graders access to the rest of the hollow. After several solutions were suggested and deemed impractical, Stumbo said he would look into it some more.

Representatives for the paving of Route 2030 at Printer were once again present at Fiscal Court. After taking their grievances to the state transportation department in Pikeville and to Frankfort, they said they still have not seen any progress made on their road. Stumbo reminded them that Rt. 2030 is a state secondary road and the county is not authorized to spend money on it. Residents said State Rep. Greg Stumbo them that the county was able to repair the road if not pave it.

Phyllis McKinney, a Printer resident, also asked the court if they would do something about the water there. Stumbo said that he was trying to get grants for water everywhere in the county. "We got the money but it has never been released," Stumbo said. He suggested that McKinney phone Congressman Chris Perkins again, since that is where she stated she got her information from originally, and ask him about the water money.

Carolyn Meadows came to the fiscal court representing residents of Meadows Branch who are concerned about the access to their area being cut off by a new building being built by the Job Corps. "We would have been blocked in Tuesday if we hadn't called Congressman Chris Perkins and had him stop the building," Meadows exclaimed. She asked why the court had not done something about the problem sooner since it has "known about it for over a year now."

Stumbo said that they have "been working on this practically everyday for the past month . . . and the residents have no fear of being blocked in because an alternate route will be provided." He added that a year ago it was uncertain whether funding would be approved to build a new dormitory at the site, and the Fiscal Court did not want to "waste" money surveying the area if there would be no need.

Another citizen who asked the court's help was Irene Hays of Hueysville. She presented the members of the court with before and after photos of the road in front of her store that had been rerouted by a coal company and reduced the store's parking area. Stumbo instructed Magistrate Jackie Edford Owens to get a grader up there and put the road back to its original position. Hays commented, "People say it's no use coming here (to fiscal court), but I didn't believe it."

Arnold Collins of Mare Creek (an area also known as Little Floyd) came seeking an update on the black top residents were promised last spring. He was satisfied with Stumbo's answer that water lines are scheduled to be laid there and he didn't see sense in destroying blacktop to install it. Collins added that he was there because he had been getting conflicting reports from Pike County, and he was worried that they would not be getting the pavement they were promised.

Ted Stumbo came on behalf of the Betsy Layne Senior Citizens and asked the court's permission to put the deed for the land next to the senior center in its name. He explained that the seniors would pay for the land but the interest rate on a loan would differ as much as 8-8 1/2 percent if it was in the county's name. Stumbo asked the county attorney to draw up some sort of agreement to that effect and to include a requirement to give the property back to the senior citizens center after the loan is paid off. The center plans to use the land to build a senior citizens housing complex.

In old business, the court agreed to accept the lease on three new back hoes recently received at 7.5 percent fixed interest.

In new business, the David Volunteer Fire Department has petitioned the court to establish a taxing district to help with funding. Larry Adams, representing the fire department, said "We are sitting out there with a Class 10 rating and with no financial help; we are at our limit." Adams added that the firefighters have received "overwhelming support" from the district and Stumbo agreed to advertise for a public hearing on the matter. "We've always gone along with the fire departments if the people want it," Stumbo noted.

In other fire department news, the court received an Area Development Fund check for $10,000 for the Southeast Volunteer Fire Department building construction project which they forwarded into the proper account.

The court also approved the hiring of Jeffery L. Jones as chief deputy jailer with the Floyd County Jail on the recommendation of County Jailer Lawrence Hale. The position was recently vacated by Larry Campbell. "I hate to see him go, he's been a really good man," Magistrate Owens commented.

The fiscal court will be advertising for the purchase of about 52,000 feet of water pipe for Floyd County shortly and it was also announced that the county tax rate for this year has been lowered from 17.8 percent to 15.2 percent on real property for the ensuing year; the personal property and motor vehicle rate is set at 19.7 percent.

Jenny Wiley

she kept fiercely to the stream. When she came to the mouth of what we now call Jennie's Creek in her honor, darkness had fallen, but being on the opposite shore from the mouth of the tributary of Big Paint, she saw across the opening where the stream emptied. Wading over, she started up stream but little progress had been made before complete darkness was all about. Fortunately there was a large hollow poplar log into which she crawled for refuge.

She was exhausted, mentally and physically, but spiritually she was exalted, for she was now on the first phase of her attempted escape. In this condition of exaltation and exhaustion, she fell asleep. Ever with the Wiley story have been stories of the unusual, the strange, even fanciful. Some of these were added by descendants and other mountain folk, for the tale of her captivity penetrated deeply into the consciousness of a people, becoming after the lapse of many decades, an integral element of their folk lore. Stories of dreams, of psychic phenomena, bordering on the abnormal, and certainly unusual and strange are attached to the tale of her escape. That night she dreamed — of a voice from afar that talked to her. She saw no one. The voice said: "When you come to the forks of the path, follow the one in which have chips from the white man's axe". The voice ceased, but there were other dreams, mostly unintelligible fantasies. Sometime in the night after the storm had ceased, she was awakened by the crunch of leaves and voices. The Indians marched in single file by her refuge and she heard the patter of the little dog's feet. It came to the log which lay a few feet from the trail, nosed around a moment, and chased after the savages. After that she slept no more, but lay awaiting the break of day. When it came she started again upon the trail and after a while, came to where the Lick Fork enters Jennie's Creek. There she stood in indecision, for the path beaten by animals and perhaps Indians, forked. Suddenly as if released from her unconsciousness, came the remembrance of the dream voice: "Follow the path in which have fallen the chips from the white man's axe." True enough, in the left hand path lay a few chips from some pioneer or explorer's axe. Came now a great exaltation, for she believed a Divine Providence was aiding her, the chips surely were from the axe of some nearby settler, perhaps Harmon or of others from Southwest Virginia who had often talked of a settlement on the River of Great Mystery.

A few hours after sunrise she had come out at the mouth of Little Paint Creek and was standing upon the river bank gazing across at the Harmon Blockhouse. She had not known it was there for it had been erected after her capture, and the Indians, although they had known, had studiously avoided any reference to it in her presence. As Henry Skaggs pushed over the crude raft towards the Blockhouse shore, her fear of the Indians began to fall away. The lilt of freedom was upon her and the ascent of the river bank was a climb up the golden stairs. Standing on the edge of the now historic bottom, she began to weep. Her old friend had to lead her for she had become as a little child. Thomas and Jennie Wiley emigrated to the Big Sandy Valley in 1800. Thomas died in 1810, but to Jennie was given a long widowhood. She often visited her brother John on the Buffalo Fork of Johns Creek in the present Floyd County, and after his removal to near the present level, she rode horseback once to see him. John Sellard's wife was Susan Sullivan, daughter of Peter Sullivan, Revolutionary War veteran, and the above version of the Wiley story is as Jennie told it to her sister-in-law. Death came to this courageous pioneer mother in 1831, at about her seventy-first year. She and her husband are buried in the present Johnson County.

now only $48<sup>00</sup>

For women over 40, having a mammogram is a recommended good health practice. And since we know how important this low dose breast X-Ray can be when combined with a physical exam, Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center has reduced the fee for its Mammograms to $48.00.

Physicians agree that a mammogram, accompanied by a physical exam, is the most effective way to find breast cancer early, when it's most curable.

For your health's sake consult your family physician about a Mammogram at Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center.

Rebs, Trojans Go To Wire In 28-26 Allen Central Win

The Allen Central Rebels went to the wire against Wheelwright Saturday, using the last two minutes of the game to pull out a 28-26 victory.

An interception by ACHS quarterback B.J. Aldrich with under four minutes remaining set the stage for the Rebel win. Aldrich fired his team 59 yards downfield in eight plays, then saw teammate Tommy Gibson carry the ball into the end zone to tie the contest at 26 apiece. Gibson made good on the two point conversion as well to lift his squad to the 28-26 homecoming win.

The Rebels opened the game in a strong fashion, as Tim Slone intercepted a Wheelwright pass on the Trojans' first possession of the game. With the Rebs taking over near midfield, Allen Central marched steadily towards the goal line. Gibson ran the ball in from nine yards out to put the Rebs up by six; the conversion attempt failed.

The Trojans responded in the form of speedster Chad Hall, to took the ball from the WHS 43 57 yards into the end zone to tie the contest at six apiece. The Wheelwright conversion was not successful.

Allen Central took over at midfield, getting tagged almost immediately for a five-yard penalty. After an incomplete pass, Gibson took the ball to the 51. Another incomplete pass brought up a punting situation for the Rebs—a blessing in disguise. Junior Kevin Clatworthy recovered the WHS fumble in the end zone to put the Rebels up by six, 12-6.

Wheelwright took the kick at the 45, and consecutive rushes by Mike Justice took the ball to the 42. The WHS squad fumbled and recovered their own mishap, but it wasn't enough for the first down and the ball was kicked away to the Rebs.

Taking the punt near the 40, Gibson was stopped at the 38 and the ball popped loose, into the hands of a waiting Wheelwright Trojan. Senior Bobby Hood broke tackle and scampered into the end zone to make quick work of the opportunity and tie the score at 12-all as the first period ended. The conversion was unsuccessful.

Allen Central's Brett Meadows took the kick up to the 48 yard line. Seven rushing attempts by Adam Tackett and Gibson enabled the Rebs to pick up a pair of first downs, getting to the 37. The next series saw ACHS come up short, punting away to the Trojans.

It was a back-and-forth possession for the Trojans. Wheelwright's Bobby Hood took the kick to the 38, but Steven Jackson was hit for a loss of yardage. Jackson took a pass at the 42, but a penalty against the Trojans set them back yet another time. Jackson got the ball up to the 41, but Hood was hit for a one-yard loss. WHS eventually punted away to the Rebs, and Gibson carried the kick back to the 38. Trojan freshman Steven Jackson intercepted Aldrich's next pass that bobbed off the hands of the intended receiver. Jackson raced more than 80 yards into the end zone to put the Trojans up 18-12. The conversion attempt failed.

Rebel Terry Spurlock took the kick back to the 20. Tackett picked up a first down when he carried the ball to the 34. Aldrich made it to the 37, and Gibson completed another first down by taking the ball to the 48. The trio combined rushing attempts to drive the ball down to the 33, moving into striking distance. Tackett carried to the 12, and Gibson picked up three more. Meadows followed with a four-yard gain and Tim Slone carried the ball to the three. One play later, Gibson went in from the one yard line to tie the score; the successful conversion put the Rebs back on top at 20-18.

Wheelwright took the kick back to the 42. Jackson carried the ball to the 31, and teammate Chad Hall made it to the 20. Hood carried the ball to the 15, and two plays later made it to the nine. Hall went in for the touchdown, and the conversion was good, putting the Trojans in the lead, 26-20.

The Rebels used a seven-play series of rushing attempts to move the ball to the 20, but got stalled by the Wheelwright line.

The Trojans mounted a long series of rushing plays, interrupted by one fumble the WHS squad recovered. Wheelwright was almost within striking distance when Aldrich intercepted a pass, giving the Rebs possession with less than four minutes remaining.

Aldrich hit Terry Spurlock for a nine-yard gain. Rushes by Gibson and Tackett netted no yardage, and Aldrich went to the air again. He found paydirt in the form of Adam Tackett, who caught the ball at the 23. Gibson carried to the 15, and Tackett carried twice more to get the ball to the 8 yard line. A penalty moved the Rebs even closer, and Gibson took the ball in for the tying score, 26-26. The junior powerhouse, who scored all of the Rebels' touchdowns against Wheelwright, completed the conversion attempt to lead his squad to the 28-26 victory.

Gibson had 158 yards on 34 carries.

Allen Central goes to 3-7 with the win, and will face Millersburg Military Institute in a 2 p.m. home game Saturday, Oct. 28. Wheelwright falls to 0-10, and will travel to Magoffin County for a 2 p.m. contest against the Hornets Saturday.

Clotheslined

A Wheelwright ball carrier seems to be clotheslined by the Allen Central Rebels defense. The Rebels won over inter-county rival Wheelwright in a good one, 28-26, at Allen Central Saturday afternoon.

Pikeville's 40-Point First Half Sinks P'burg Blackcats, 55-12

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Pikeville Panthers, defending state champions, exploded for 40 first half points enroute to a 55-12 defeat of the Prestonsburg Blackcats at Pikeville Friday in the midst of a cold football night.

The loss was the Blackcats' fifth in a row, but they are still in the thick of the District 2 title chase with Morgan County.

Pikeville wasted no time in scoring in the first quarter as Panther quarterback Jason Howard connected with Johnny Hale on a 33-yard pass play for the Panthers' first touchdown. After the extra point by Jason Blackburn, the Panthers were on top 7-0.

After the kick off, the Blackcats got the ball on the Panther 24 yard line. Mickey Webster picked off an Aaron Tucker pass and ran 31 yards for a TD to give Pikeville a quick 13-0 first quarter lead.

After the Blackcats were unable to move the ball on their next series of downs, with 2:39 to go in the first Steve Bailey broke tackle and ran 19 yards for a touchdown and gave the Panthers a 19-0 first quarter lead.

On the kick off before the quarter ended, Prestonsburg had good field position on their own 41 yard line. An unsportsmanlike conduct call on the Panthers gave Prestonsburg a first down. The Blackcats moved the football for another first down, putting the ball on the Panther 30. A personal foul on Pikeville moved the ball down to the Pikeville 15. The Blackcats had the ball on the 10 yard line when the first quarter ended.

At the beginning of the second period, Tucker hit Mike Crace with a pass to pick up the first down for Prestonsburg. With 10:12 showing on the clock, Tucker hit wide receiver Jeff Slone with a pass for a touchdown to make the score 19-6.

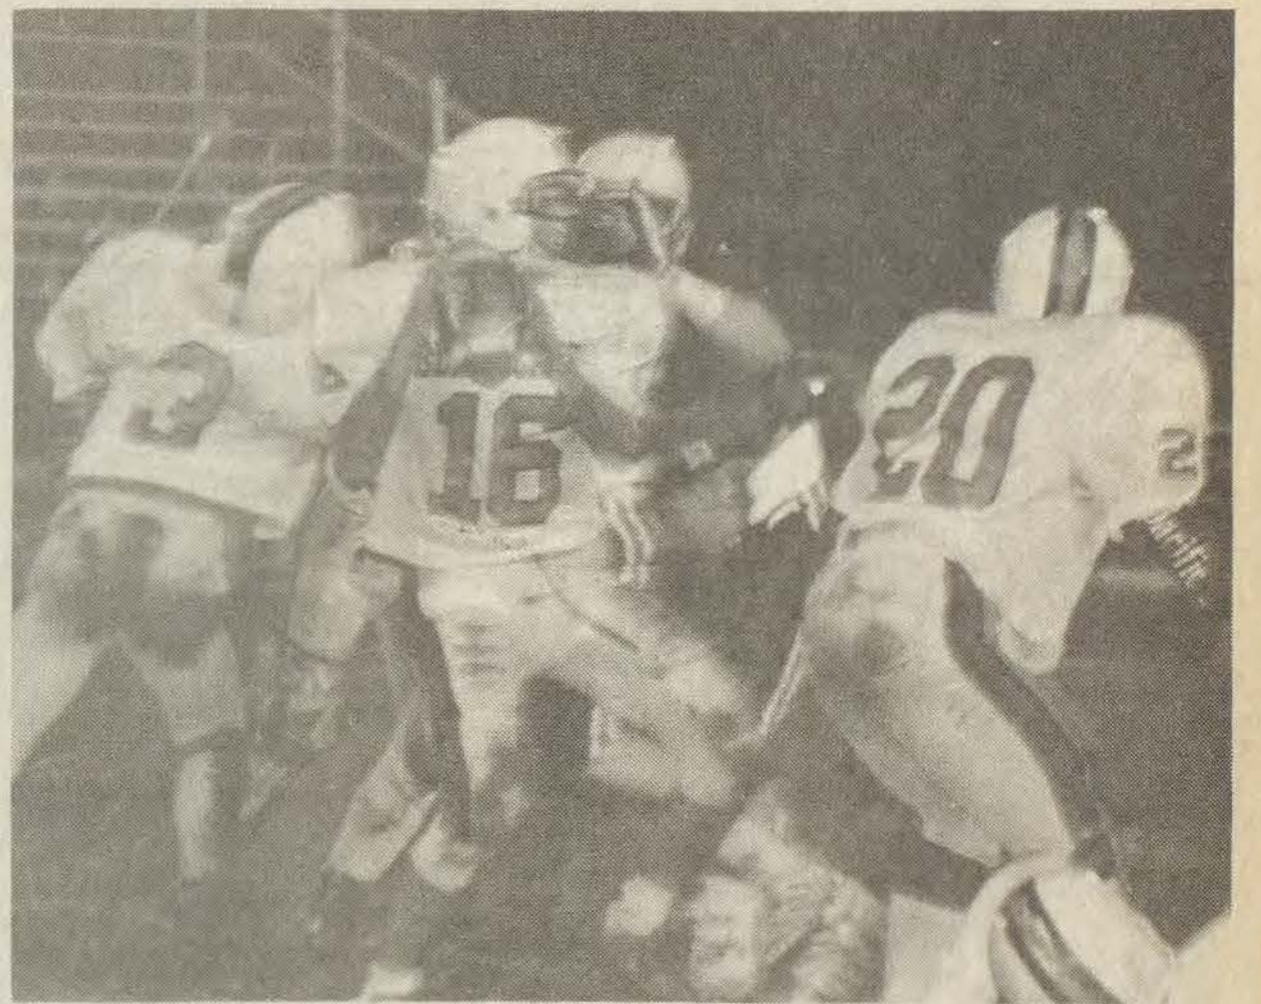

Pikeville received the ball at midfield on the kick off from the Blackcats. On the second play from scrimmage, Bailey ran 43 yards for a TD to give the Panthers a 25-6 lead with 9:36 remaining in the half.

Prestonsburg was forced to give up the ball on its next possession, turning it over to Pikeville on their own 46 yard line. On first play from scrimmage, Howard hooked up with Jason Justice for a 54 yard pass to give the Panthers a 32-6 lead after the extra point.

After the ensuing kick off, Prestonsburg moved the ball to the Panther 41. Freshman halfback John Goble picked up 13 yards, moving the ball to the Pikeville 29. On fourth and five, Tucker hit Slone again in the end zone for a TD with 4:57 to go in the half to make it 32-12. Pikeville went on top 40-12 on a 2-yard run by Bailey and a two point conversion pass from Howard to Cochran.

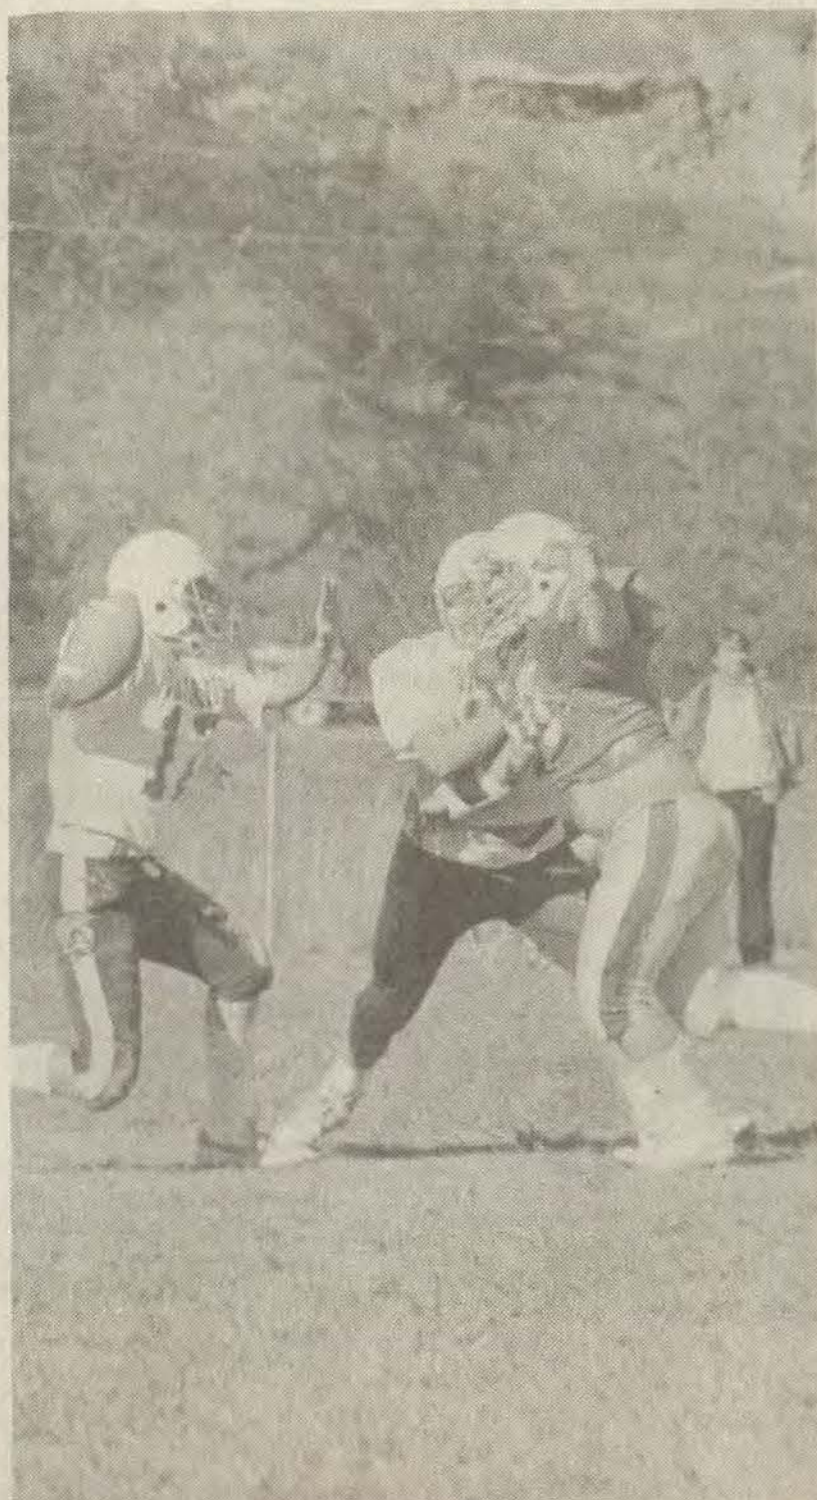

It was all Pikeville in the second half with touchdowns in the third on a 2-yard run by Bailey and an extra point by Bailey, and again in the fourth when Lance Rose carried the ball into the end zone from 1 yard out. Jeffery England ran the conversion play for two points.

Prestonsburg falls to 3-6 on the season, but remains tied for first place in the District 2 race with a 2-1 record. The Blackcats will play M. C. Napier this Friday night at the Prestonsburg field in an 8 p.m. start. They will then have a road game with Morgan County in the season finale.

Tucker To Hunter

Prestonsburg quarterback Aaron Tucker (16) looks for Jeff Slone on this pass. Tucker hooked up with Slone for two TD passes in their 55-12 loss to Pikeville Friday night at Pikeville.

Halt!

Wheelwright Trojan quarterback Steven Johnson seems to be holding his hand up to halt the charging Tracy Reed of Allen Central. The Rebels prevailed over the Trojans for their third win of the season and first District 2 victory.

Betsy Layne Falls At M.C. Napier

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The weather was anything but ideal as the Betsy Layne Bobcats visited the home of the M. C. Napier Navajos. Cool temperatures and a mixture of rain and snow preceded the game and fell during the second half of play.

The Bobcats, 3-5, came looking for their second District 2 win. The Navajos were trying to win their first. It was also homecoming night for the host school, as eight lovely ladies vied for the title of homecoming queen.

But for the Navajos, the big issue was the game. Running back Steve Dixon took a Paul Godsey pass and ran 64 yards for the game-winning touchdown as the Navajos defeated Betsy Layne, 14-6.

With 5:00 remaining in the first period, Larry Hall was forced to punt out of his own end zone. Hall's punt carried for 30 yards, where the Navajos took over on the Bobcat 30. After Napier had moved the ball to the Bobcat 21, they had the ball on a third and one situation. However, an illegal motion penalty for five yards made it third and six for Napier. Godsey's pass on third down was incomplete, bringing up a fourth and six situation. The Navajos decided to go for it and crossed up the Bobcats defense on a pass play, as Godsey connected with Dixon on a 19-yard pass where halfback Andura Hill carried the ball across the goal line

Get Bias

The cry for the M.C. Napier Navajos was to get Chris Bias as the halfback carried the ball for the Bobcats of Betsy Layne. Bias scored the lone Bobcat touchdown as they fell 14-6 in District 2 play.

Where's The Ball?

While everyone is looking for the football, a Wheelwright runner is heading toward open spaces Saturday afternoon at Allen Central. The two county schools hooked for a high-scoring affair at the Don Daniels Athletic Complex. The Rebels won their first District 2 game, 28-26, over the Trojans.

Likens Leads Flash Over Garrett, 65-15

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Hubert Likens scored 13 points in leading the Martin Purple Flash to an easy 65-15 win over the Garrett Black Devils.

Steve Turner scored six points in leading the Black Devils in scoring. Also for Martin, Byron Gearheart added 11 points while Glen Floyd tossed in nine points.

The Black Devils are having to play without their leading scorer, Jeremy Hall who is out with a broken arm.

Martin held a big half time lead over Garrett, 37-8. The Purple Flash used a balanced scoring attack as Coach Jimmy Hopkins used all his players in the game.

The Martin team goes to 5-0 on the season while Garrett falls to 1-4.

from two yards out to give M. C. Napier a 6-0 lead.

With 2:22 remaining in the second quarter, Jackie Jarrell intercepted a Godsey pass on the Navajo's 40 yard line. Jarrell had two interceptions in the game. Bobcat quarterback Craig Hunter went to his power runner, Chris Bias, as Bias carried the football on six carries to complete a 60-yard drive and tie the score 6-6 at the end of the half.

Betsy Layne put together another good drive in the third period, getting the ball on their own 21 with 7:00 to go in the quarter. Morris Adkins carried the ball five times in picking up 35 yards rushing on the drive. The Bobcats carried the ball to the Navajo 20, where they stalled out. Faced with a fourth and eight situation, the Bobcats elected to go for the first down. Hunter's pass was incomplete, giving the ball to Napier on downs.

Betsy Layne had the Navajos in a hole with a third and 13. Godsey then hit Dixon with a 64-yard touchdown pass and, after Godsey hit Chris Hill with a pass on the two point conversion, gave the Navajos a 14-6 victory. Betsy Layne had one last shot to tie the game but had their TD pass intercepted by Dixon on the 5 yard line.

M. C. Napier carried the ball 27 times in rushing for 161 yards. Dixon carried six times for 80 yards. Hill managed 50 yards on 13 carries. The Navajos picked up 77 yards in the air on eight attempts. They were intercepted twice in the game. Napier fumbled the ball two times recovering one of the fumbles.

Betsy Layne, which played a good defensive game, managed 115 yards rushing on 40 carries. Bias rushed for 78 yards on 14 attempts. Adkins picked up 54 yards on nine carries. Hunter attempted nine passes and completed three for 19 yards. The Bobcats had two passes intercepted and fumbled the ball twice, with M. C. Napier recovering both fumbles.

Betsy Layne is 3-6 on the year and 1-4 in district play, with two games remaining. The Navajos improve to 4-5.

Brown Rips Nets For 29 Points In Win Over Auxier

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Maytown's tiny Marsha Brown (4'7") burned the nets at the Auxier gym Monday night for 29 points in leading her squad to a 49-10 victory over the outmanned Auxier Lady Hornets.

Brown, one of the hottest players in the county this year, sat out the second period of play after scoring 11 points in the first period.

Auxier, who started out not fielding a girl's team this year, was led in scoring by Jeri Charles with six points. Chrystal Marsillett had two points as did Jennifer Lilly.

For Maytown, Michelle Castle added nine for the Lady Wildcats and Lisa Stumbo had four. Maytown improves to 4-2 and Auxier is 0-4.

Maytown 14 3 18 14 (49): Marsha Brown, 12 5-5 29; Michelle Castle, 4 4-1 9; Lisa Stumbo, 2 2-0 4; Janet Little, 0 2-1 1; Shella Brown, 1 0-0 2; Cita Miller, 1 1-0 2; Melanie Hagans, 1 0-0 2.

TO THE CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY

The Citizens of Floyd County's Magistrate District No. 2 are entitled to the best possible representation in government and the conduct of their fiscal court.

I have known James D. Fitzpatrick, candidate for Magistrate, District No. 2, my entire life (he is my uncle), and making every effort to be objective, I can say that he is a person of high values and honest commitment to carry out the obligations he has to the citizens of Floyd County and this country. Mr. Fitzpatrick has shown this as a World War II veteran, an arson investigator for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, as a worker for the EKCEP Program, an active member of the Shriners Orleika Temple, as well as countless voluntary efforts on his part to make Floyd County a better place to live. Further evidence of his unselfish and civic minded attitude is shown by his willingness to establish a scholarship fund at Allen Central High School for deserving young people, with his own Magistrate's salary. Clearly, there is no more lasting trust in which one could invest than the education of the youth of Floyd County and Magistrate District No. 2. Mr. Fitzpatrick has shown his intention to do just that.

James D. Fitzpatrick has the experience, ability and integrity necessary to effectively deal with the issues confronting the citizens of Floyd County. And as a product of Floyd County, I can say those qualifications are important to me. I harbor strong loyalties for the county and for its fine people. Also, I might add, the influence and guidance of James D. Fitzpatrick throughout my years as a youth in Floyd County has instilled in me his own importance of such human values and commitment to the community. The citizens of Floyd County and Magistrate District No. 2 would be better served by the election of James D. Fitzpatrick to the office of Magistrate. He is the most qualified candidate for the job. The citizens of this county deserve no less.

Next, I note that much has been said by the other candidate for this position about the fact that Mr. Fitzpatrick is campaigning for this office as an independent candidate. As a matter of fact, that is the only thing the other candidate talks about. He has not addressed the issues involved. He has not addressed the financial burden on this state and county as a result of the money necessary to run the government. He has not addressed the issue of education. He has not addressed the interests of the voters and taxpayers. Mr. Fitzpatrick has addressed all these points and commits himself to work positively for the betterment of the citizens of Floyd County and Magistrate District No. 2.

Finally, I feel compelled to comment on the status of independent candidacy. This country was built on that very concept—Independence. Our Constitution, Bill of Rights, and representative form of government are based on that principle. If one is independent, he is, according to Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary (1979), "not subject to control by others." That strength of character and compassion for Floyd County and Magistrate District No. 2 is well ingrained in James D. Fitzpatrick. He is independent, always has been, and always will be. That independence can work for the good of Floyd County.

I urge each and every citizen to exercise their constitutional right by voting on November 7, 1989. That vote, for the betterment of Floyd County, should be cast for James D. Fitzpatrick for Magistrate of District No. 2.

Yours truly,

Lady Purple Flash Win Twice In Pikeville Tourney

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Coach Doug Derossett's Lady Purple Flash of Martin won two of three games in the Pikeville Invitational Girl's Basketball tournament at Pikeville last week.

In first round play, Krystal Floyd scored 13 points and Jenny Robinson added 10 to lead the Lady Purple Flashes to an easy 52-18 win over the Inez Lady Indians. Martin held a halftime lead of 27-11, and blitzed the Lady Indians in the second half, 25-7.

In game two, the Martin team lost to a good and big Bevins team, 56-44. C. Thacker scored 18 points for the winners and T. Thacker tossed in 13 to lead Bevins to victory. Jenny Robinson had a big game for the Lady Purple Flash, scoring 22 points. Roni McKinney netted eight for Martin. Bevins went on to win the Pikeville tournament.

In consolation play, Martin ran past Millard, 45-19. Jenny Robinson and Angel Hancock each tossed in eight points in leading Martin in scoring. Maggie Hancock added seven and Kathy Conn netted six.

The double wins improved Martin's record to 6-2 for the season.

Sports Roundup

Former Superintendent Now Enjoying Jogging

Former Floyd County School Superintendent Ray Brackett called to remind me that "Brackett Field" in Wheelwright is spelled with two "T's". Brackett coached football at the school from 1957-65 and the field was named after him — he should know how to spell Brackett.

Brackett has become a jogging enthusiast, getting in some running time every day, weather permitting. He says he is feeling great and "just enjoying life."

Lady Eagle's Volleyball Team Extends Win Streak

The Morehead Lady Eagles volleyball team extended its winning streak to 12 matches in a row with a win over Marshall University. The Lady Eagles have not lost since Sept. 23 when they dropped a decision at nationally-ranked Florida State.

Baldrige Released From Lexington Hospital

Morehead State University football coach Bill Baldrige was released from Lexington's Central Baptist Hospital on Tuesday and attended the Eagle practice session that day. He had been hospitalized after suffering chest pains following MSU's loss to Middle Tennessee last Saturday.

"The doctors said the pain was caused by a problem with my gall bladder," Baldrige said. "I am being treated with medication." Baldrige expects to be on hand when the Eagles travel to Tennessee.

Wallyball League Organizational Meeting

There will be an organizational meeting for the Third Annual Gloria Marshall Wallyball League on Thursday, Nov. 2 at 6:30 p.m.

"Wallyball" is similar to indoor volleyball.

The meeting will be held at Gloria Marshall's Fitness Center located in the Daniel Boone Motor Inn building across from Weddington Plaza in Pikeville.

If you desire to play on a team and cannot attend the meeting, please call Carole Fields at 437-7633 or Nancy Meade at 297-4525 to register. Leagues are now forming for men's, women's, and coed teams. You must be 18 years old to participate.

Former Betsy Layne Coach Takes Year Off

Vince Tucker, former football coach at Betsy Layne High School, has taken a year off from coaching and is presently a foreman for a construction company in Virginia. According to Tucker, he plans to be back into coaching somewhere next year.

"I sure do miss it," he said. "I've always loved to work with the kids. I thought about staying at Betsy Layne and teaching this year, but I had already made other commitments."

Tucker was to go to Morehead State University as an assistant coach this season.

Eversole Takes Leave Of Absence From Coaching Women's Basketball

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Wheelwright Trojan women's basketball coach Judy Eversole has taken a leave of absence from coaching this season for medical reasons.

Eversole led the Lady Trojans to their first ever district basketball championship last year, earning the school a trip to the 15th Region tournament at Paintsville.

For Eversole, the highlight of her career came during her coaching stint at Allen Central, when she guided the Lady Rebels to the Sweet 16 in 1982.

"Coaching is my life," Eversole said. "I hate to give it up, but because of my illness it is just too much stress on me. I'll continue to do my teaching as long as I can."

A replacement for Eversole hasn't been named as of yet. However, a new coach should be announced by the Floyd County Board of Education at its next meeting (Wednesday, Nov. 8). According to Floyd County Athletic Director Frankie Francis, Eversole hasn't officially resigned as of yet. Eversole stated that she informed them some time back that she would not be able to fulfill her coaching duties this year.

"I am hoping that by next year that I will be able to return to coaching," the Trojan coach stated. "There's a lot of people out there pulling for me." Eversole may be able to draw from what they call the "sick bank" on days that she is not able to teach. Each person in the school system contributes one day or two to the "sick bank" and those that have need of extra days off can draw from the "sick bank" — days that others have contributed.

"The sick bank is something they started a few months ago," said Eversole. "Nobody has really used it as of yet."

Eversole looks for the Lady Trojans to have a winning season this year.

"On the county level they will compete with anybody in the county," she stated. "They have two seniors returning (Jedon Hood and April Bradford), plus some promising sophomores."

Eversole says she will miss coaching; coaching will also miss Judy Eversole.

MFLEX IT. THEN FORGET IT!

Hand trowel seamless rubber surfacing is the perfect solution to every problem you've ever had with the surface of your patio, pool deck, walk or drive—from chipping and cracking to slipping and sliding.

Unlike any other surface, MFlex is made of hard rubber granules mixed with high-tech polymer resins. We can install it right over top of your existing, problem surface, usually in just one day. The result is an extremely durable, resilient surface that's attractive, cooler than concrete, safer than other surfaces (bottles actually bounce on it) and virtually maintenance free. ### Martin Shakes Good Mustang Team, 64-54

Floyd County has some strong and quick grade school basketball teams this year, and two of those teams locked up at the Martin gym recently for one of the top games of the week.

Hubert Likens scored a game-high 26 points to lead the Purple Flash to a 64-54 hard fought victory over the Mustangs of John M. Stumbo. The Purple Flash, who consistently have a powerful grade school program, led at the first stop, 15-10, with Likens getting nine first period points. Both teams played on even terms in the second quarter as the half ended with Martin up, 29-24.

The third period proved to be the downfall for the Mustangs as they had problems finding the basket. The Purple Flash out scored them 15-5 to open up a 15 point lead, 44-29 at the third stop. Byron Gearheart, who had no points in the first half, and only four going into the fourth period, scored 14 fourth quarter points to stave off a Stumbo comeback, as the Purple Flashes held on to win, 64-54.

Gearheart scored 18 points for the Purple Flash, and Ronnie Sammons tossed in eight.

Jason Newsome led Stumbo with 17 points. Derrick Newsome added 13 while Steve Johnson tossed in nine.

Stumbo 10 14 25 (54): Jason Newsome, 6 6-3 17; Derrick Newsome, 6 3-1 13; Shannon Newsome, 22-1 5; Steve Johnson, 36-3 9; Chad Frasure, 20-0 4; Ryan Newsome, 1 4-4 6 at Martin 15 14 15 20 (64): Charlie Wade, 1 0-0 2; Hubert Likens, 11 8-4 26; Byron Gearheart, 6 11-6 18; Ronnie Sammons, 40-0 8; Kelly Stephens, 20-0 4; Toby Robinson, 31-0 6.

participated in — within reasonable distances. I enjoy sports, whether it be a junior pro basketball game or a good pro game. I consider myself an avid baseball fan and I enjoy a good game of football, especially on the high school and college level. I am a sports editor, and I suppose I am expected to take the sports side of things. I do to a point.

There is a strong emphasis put on sports today. Not just here in Floyd County and in Kentucky, but all over this country. Good clean sports is healthy and fun to participate in and watch. But what we have seen in the past is that it has become the most important part of life, and has replaced family values in the homes.

We hear a lot about the "football widow" on Sundays. Some husbands prefer a good NFL game rather than time with the family. Priorities have a way of changing if we are not careful. Once again, sports is fun and enjoyable, but it is not the most important part of life. A case in point is the recent cancellation of the World Series games because of a little old earthquake. Who, you would think, would dare cancel the World Series because of an earthquake? If you have been following the reports on television and in the newspapers, you will be quick to see that the 1989 World Series is not the most important part of the player's lives. Their first concern was for their families and others. "Forget the World Series" was the cry from many of the ball players as they hurried to seek out the members of their families. They realized that there was something more important than the national pastime, the big bucks to be made and the fame that goes along with it — life and well being.

A major golf tournament which would have brought in thousands of dollars was canceled after the "Hugo" experience. Reasoning: "How can you enjoy a golf tournament with so much suffering around you?" The thoughts of the Major League hierarchy are similar: you can't enjoy the game while others are suffering around you.

Sports is a priority in our lives, but life is a higher one. Experience is a great teacher. But even experiences, whether good or bad, are often forgotten. May all of us learn from the tragedies that have happened around us and remember there are more important things in life than sports.

YES, THE GARBAGE IS FOREVER

In my article on garbage (October 4th), I gave my opponent the opportunity to explain why HE voted to make Floyd County a regional garbage dump. As your duly elected magistrate HE had the authority to vote as he pleased, but on such an important issue I believe HE owed his constituents an explanation as to why HE thinks Floyd County should become a dumping ground for non-residents, who have never paid one cent in taxes, own no property that will depreciate as a result of the decision, and who have neither lived nor plan to live in Floyd County.

It seems that my opponents have chosen not to respond. I can only give the reasons why CURTIS HALL would never vote to import garbage at any price. First and foremost, with our terrain, it is impossible to "contain" the run-off from the landfill, which contains everything from our everyday household table scraps to hospital wastes and whatever is disposed of by the human race. Our PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY IS DOWNSTREAM from our present landfill, and whenever we get 3 or 4 inches of rainfall we are going to get SOME OF EVERYTHING GARTH HOLLOW HAS TO OFFER!! Garbage is not a business we can dissolve whenever we realize we have made a mistake, for contracts are hard to break. Yes, GARBAGE IS FOREVER, and the property can never again be used for other purposes. Example: It takes up to 500 years for a disposable diaper to decompose in a land fill.

According to one source, our Garth Hollow site was designed to last 44 years. Now that we will take "all we can get," how long will it last? In some East Coast cities, it costs up to $300 per ton to dispose of their garbage; yet, in Eastern Kentucky it costs only $3 to $8 per ton. When we fill Garth Hollow where will we dump then? Move to another hollow? Even "IF" it could be safely contained, we are using valuable space that our future generations will need. Then they, too, will be paying $300 per ton to dispose of their wastes. We are doing a greater injustice to them than the BROAD FORM DEED has been to our generation. With each new contract for more garbage, our homes and land will depreciate a little more.

Garbage should not be thought of in terms of "PROFIT." Our landfill should be used only for SANITARY disposal of Floyd County's wastes. In the May primary, Knott County Judge Executive Homer Sawyer listed his major accomplishments. Among those he said Perry County was asking $72,000 per year to use their landfill. They contracted with Floyd County for $35,000 per year for a 5 year period with the option of 3 more years and a cost increase of NO GREATER THAN 5%. This contract alone has saved Knott County approximately $300,000. If Knott County SAVED, then Floyd County LOST. We, the taxpayers, picked up the tab. We are also taking garbage from Johnson County and the city of Paintsville.

Whoever you choose to serve as your next magistrate will have the responsibility to negotiate the next contract with Knott County and others. I assure you that if I am elected your magistrate, I will NEVER vote to accept ANY garbage at ANY price. If you are concerned about the future of Floyd County, you will have the opportunity to speak loud and clear on November 7th.

Stand up and be counted—I Will Stand Up For You!

Conference Football Standings A Look At The Races In High School Districts

CLASS AA, REGION 4, DISTRICT 2

	Overall	District
1. Morgan County	4-5	3-1
2. Prestonsburg	3-6	2-1
3. Leslie County	3-7	3-2
4. Whitesburg	7-2	3-2
5. M. C. Napier	4-5	1-3
6. Betsy Layne	3-6	1-4

Whitesburg is playing the spoiler's role in the District 2 race. The Yellowjackets, 7-2 overall, defeated Leslie County, dimming LC's hopes of a district title. Morgan County, which had an open date last Friday, will play non-district opponent Fleming County this Friday night. Prestonsburg will entertain the Navajos of M.C. Napier in District 2 action. This will be a must game for the Blackcats to win. Should the Blackcats defeat Napier, then the road game at Morgan County will decide the District 2 champion. Leslie County has completed its season.

Lady Mustangs Defeat Martin Lady Flash, 37-28

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

The Martin Lady Purple Flash, Floyd County champions the last five years, lost to the Stumbo Lady Mustangs 37-28 Monday night in grade school basketball action.

Melissa McKinney scored 16 points in leading the Lady Mustangs to victory. The two elementary schools are considered the powerhouses of girl's basketball in the county this year.

"We had just played in the Pikeville Invitational and our girls were tired," Martin coach Doug Derossett stated.

The game was close during the first half. Stumbo held a 17-13 half time lead. However, Martin went cold in the third period as the Lady Mustangs outscored the host school, 13-5.

Martin helped the Lady Mustangs by missing 26 free throws in the game.

"If you are going to win the close games you have to be able to make the free throws," Derossett stated.

Angel Hancock led Martin with seven points. Jenny Robinson, Roni McKinney and Maggie Hancock each tossed in six.

Martin is 6-3 on the season. Stumbo stays undefeated at 4-0.

Stumbo 134 137 (37): Melissa McKinney, 7 4-2 16; Dee Dee Martin, 3 1-0 6; Amanda Hamilton, 3 1-0 6; Cynthia Hamilton, 1 3-1 3; Misty Johnson, 2 0-0 4; Christy Johnson, 1 0-0 2.

TO: Parents of Students Enrolled In The Floyd County School System

I, Harold Stumbo, as District Judge of Floyd County, believe that students should attend school punctually and regularly so as to attain the best education possible.

Since I was a member of the committee that developed the new attendance policy, I believe that the Floyd County School System is sincerely attempting to improve student attendance and I support this effort. KRS 159:150 defines truancy as follows:

Any child who has been absent from school without a valid excuse for three (3) or more days, or tardy on three (3) or more days, is a truant. Any child who has been reported as a truant three (3) or more times is a habitual truant.

Any parent or guardian of a truant will suffer penalties of a fine or "be held in contempt of court" for failure to send their child to school punctually and regularly.

With the cooperation of parents, the school system and the court system, student attendance can improve tremendously and the students will have a better opportunity to achieve the best possible education.

Thank you.

KENTUCKY'S NOVEMBER HUNTING SEASONS

For some folks November means a special meal with turkey and all the trimmings, while others anticipate a holiday from books and lessons. For Kentucky hunters, however, November means remaining motionless in a deer stand, shivering in a duck blind or trekking along streams or creeping into woods in quest of small game.

Here's a brief rundown of Kentucky's November hunting seasons for deer, rabbits, squirrels, quail, grouse, waterfowl and furbearers.

Deer gun season opens Nov. 11 in most zones and continues through Nov. 20. With an Oct. 1 opening date, deer bow season is underway and runs through Dec. 9-15 muzzle loading season.

Deer hunters who are required to have a hunting license must possess both a valid annual Kentucky hunting license and a deer hunting permit. Hunters under age 16 may purchase either a one tag permit for $11.50 or the two tag permit for $17.50 permit.

Since deer hunting regulations are a bit complicated, hunters should read the current deer hunting guide before going afield.

Small game season opens statewide Nov. 21. Check the current hunting digest for closing dates and hunting zones for rabbit, quail and grouse.

A free cap goes to quail and grouse hunters who send in wings and tail feathers from harvested birds for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' annual survey. (By studying wings and feathers, biologists learn how both species are progressing and can estimate quail and grouse populations.) Mailing envelopes are available from state conservation officers, district biologists and the central office in Frankfort.

Furbearer season (hunting/trapping) opens Nov. 21. A special bobcat harvest season opens the same day in several Eastern Kentucky counties.

The four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend (Nov. 23-26) affords duck hunters an opportune time to go afield. The daily limit is three ducks, with only two mallards (only one may be a hen), one black duck, two wood ducks, one redhead or one pintail allowed in the daily bag. Canvasbacks may not be taken. Hunters may take 15 coots or five mergansers (only one may be a hooded merganser) in addition to the daily duck limit.

The Eastern Goose Zone opens Nov. 23. In the western zone, the same opening date applies to species other than Canada geese. Hunters may take five geese daily with only two white fronted geese allowed. Consult the 1989-90 Kentucky Waterfowls Hunting Guide for complete details.

All waterfowl hunters age 16 and over must carry a valid federal duck stamp and hunters who are required to have a Kentucky hunting license must also possess a Kentucky Waterfowl Stamp. (Waterfowl hunters under age 16 are only required to have a junior hunting license, but neither of the stamps.)

For complete information on any Kentucky hunting season, contact the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY, 40601.

Fishing The Fall Transition

It's that time of year when bass are biting actively. They're aggressive, they hit a lot of different lures, and they can be found in a lot of different places, primarily in shallow water.

Hopefully, "Autumn is really one of the prime seasons to catch bass," explains Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff angler Larry Nixon, "but like all bass fishing, it can be tough, too."

"I think the main thing to remember about bass fishing this time of year is that because the fish are moving actively and in transition, patterns are likely to change during the day. What works well in the morning probably won't work at midday."

"Being able to adjust and change with the fish is the key to catching them this time of year."

Nixon's favorite fishing spots this time of year include weedbeds, open cover in the backs of coves, and the edges of standing timber.

"In the mornings I work weedbeds with topwater lures, particularly a buzzbait or a fast-moving spinnerbait," says the Evinrude pro. "I keep the lure moving fast because the bass are usually pretty active, and work the edge of the grasslines."

If he can't locate vegetation, Nixon works stumps, stickups or logs in the backs of coves. He likes water three to four feet deep, and tries to find cover near deeper channels. Crankbaits, spinnerbaits and worms are his lure choices.

"Later in the day the pattern often changes," explains the well-known tournament angler. "You may have to switch to a crankbait and work underwater ridges, stumpy points, or rocky riprap around bridges and dams."

"Look for baitfish activity in places like this, because the bass are feeding heavily, as if to stock up for the winter, and where you find bait you'll also find bass. Often, you'll find schools of bass, so make certain you fish each area thoroughly."

Another form of structure Nixon may look for is standing timber, which is present on many lakes.

"You don't fish the timber itself," warns Nixon, "but instead, key on its outside edges. Baitfish usually swim along the edges of the trees, and the bass follow."

"When I'm working standing timber like this, I look for old creek channels, roadbeds, or anything that may run through the timber to produce an edge."

"Depth changes are also important, and when you can find an edge where the depth also changes, you have a potential hotspot for bass."

Water temperature at this time of year is quite possibly the most critical factor affecting bass behavior, explains Nixon.

"During the summer when water temperatures are warm, bass are not active," the Evinrude pro notes. "In many lakes the bass stay deep and are hard to find."

"When the water temperature cools to about 70 degrees, these fall patterns in shallow water start. They continue until the water temperature falls to around 50 degrees. The bass gradually become less and less active as they start leaving the shallow water for deeper winter structure."

"In most parts of the country, this fall season lasts a minimum of several weeks. While it's in progress, it's certainly one of the most enjoyable times to be out fishing."

Maytown Rolls Past Auxier Hornets, 52-27
 by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

The Maytown Wildcats, having one of their best years, rolled past the Auxier Hornets, also having a good year, 52-27.

The win improved the Wildcats' record to 7-1 on the season; their lone loss was a three point fall to Martin.

Jeremy Clark, one of the standout players in the county this year in grade school basketball, scored 23 points to lead Maytown to its seventh win. The visitors only held a one point lead over the Hornets at the first stop, 7-6 and extended it out to seven by half, 18-11. Maytown out scored the Hornets in the third period, 21-5 with Clark gathering in 12 third period points. Chris Halbert added 10 points for the winners.

Maytown dominated the entire second half as its defense plagued the younger Hornets into several turnovers. The taller Wildcats also controlled the backboards.

Maytown stands at 7-1 and Auxier falls to 4-3.

During this two year term I have worked hard to become more involved with what I consider to be the three most important issues facing our city - Economic Development, services for youth and quality of life for all citizens. My record will support this in that I have served as an active chair for the youth center advisory board and I have also chaired working council committees on administration / finances as well as economic development.

CONCOCTIONS FOR CARP

For several reasons, American carp anglers rely almost exclusively on doughballs when they're chasing big bugle mouths. First of all, carp are omnivorous, meaning that they eat both plant and animal matter. While they will readily hit worms or crayfish, so will most other fish. So to catch them, anglers opt for baits which are appealing to carp but not to other fish. And doughballs fit that bill like a well-worn pair of blue jeans!

Like good fried fish recipes, productive doughball formulas are often developed through many generations of avid cooking and carping. While you may have your own personal favorite, these proven potions are guaranteed carp catchers.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

Although it is not a naturally occurring foodstuff, corn seems to be a carp delicacy.

Ingredients: two cups water, four tablespoons dark corn syrup, and yellow corn meal.

Mix water and corn syrup and bring to a boil. While stirring constantly, add cornmeal until the mixture begins to thicken. Lower heat and add more cornmeal until the desired texture is obtained.

CHEESE-WHIZ!

Cheeses are strong carp attractors, though the milder ones like Parmesan and mozzarella seem to be more effective than strong cheeses such as limburger and garlic, which are most often used for catfish baits.

Ingredients: one cup all-purpose flour (not self-rising), one cup white cornmeal, one half-cup grated cheese, one tablespoon sugar.

Mix all ingredients together, then add just enough cold water to make a thick dough. Pinch off pieces of the dough and roll into balls of the desired size. Next, drop the balls into boiling water and cook until they float to the surface. Remove the doughballs from the water and allow to cool.

ANGLER'S AMBROSIA

Ingredients: Three cups white cornmeal, one and a half cups all-purpose flour, two cups water, four tablespoons sugar, four tablespoons vanilla extract, one teaspoon oil of anise, two packages flavored gelatin (strawberry and blackberry are all-time favorites).

Mix together the cornmeal and flour in a large bowl and set aside. In a saucepan, mix together the water, sugar, vanilla and oil of anise, bring to a boil and then simmer for two or three minutes. Add gelatin to the mixture. This will cause the portion to foam and rise in the pan. When it nears the top of the saucepan, remove from heat and stir in the flour and cornmeal. Continue stirring until it's the texture of putty.

THE DEWEY DOUGHBALL

Ingredients: Three cups all-purpose flour, one cup molasses, one half-cup brown sugar.

Mix together well, adding water only if needed to hold it together. Next, form into a ball and then flatten like a pancake. Drop it into a skillet of boiling water and boil for about 30 minutes. Allow to dry and cut into bait-sized chunks.

THE PIKE COUNTY POTATO BALL

Believe it or not, carp have a taste for potatoes!

Ingredients: One cup wheat flour, one half-cup cornmeal, and two large potatoes.

Grate the potatoes, then mix all ingredients into a paste. Add a little water if needed. Roll into a ball, drop it in a cheesecloth bag and boil for about 45 minutes, making sure that the ball is cooked through and through.

THE FISHTRAP FLIRT

This simplistic recipe is versatile enough to meet the demands of every carpster in America.

Ingredients: One cup sugar, two cups all-purpose flour, and three cups white cornmeal.

Mix the ingredients in a large bowl, then add water and stir until the desired consistency is achieved. Drop the dough into a cheesecloth bag and boil for 20 to 30 minutes.

To add other dry ingredients such as cereals, mix them in before cooking. To add liquid scents or attractants, like anise oil or vanilla, knead them in after the dough is cooked.

TENNESSEE TAFFY

Though it will not stay on your hook very well, this on-the-water concoction is sure to attract the attention of something — whether it be carp, your fishing buddy, or the wind under the bridge!

Simply trim the crusts from several pieces of rye bread, dampen the bread with a little port wine, and knead into doughballs of the desired size.

For "clipping" carp, those feeding on the surface, save the crusts. Slip a small piece on a light wire hook and float it on the surface in the vicinity of the cloppers.

Note: All doughballs should be stored in an air-tight container or zip-lock bag and refrigerated until ready to use. For best results, do not freeze the doughballs.

DOUGHBALL FISHING TIPS

— A treble hook will better hold the doughball, and therefore is most often used. Select a relatively small treble, something in the neighborhood of a #9, #10 or #12.

— A treble hook fitted with a coiled wire spring over the shank will hold a doughball like glue. These hooks are available commercially from Eagle Claw and Mustad.

— Carp are, for the most part, shallow water feeders. Even in the hottest months of summer, they will rarely be found in water deeper than 10 feet. So, to catch more carp, look to shallow water.

— When fishing a lake, do not use a sinker or a float. When river fishing, use the smallest sinker possible.

Until next week, good fishing!

Being Mayor Is A Full-Time Job

The Mayor of Prestonsburg oversees a Two Million Dollar budget, 60 full-time employees, the fire, police, street and sanitation departments, more than a half a million dollars worth of city vehicles and equipment, and presides over City Council Meetings. It is a full-time job.

Besides doing all this, Ann Latta has been chosen to represent Prestonsburg on numerous state boards and commissions and as a speaker before in-state as well as out-of-state meetings. Her past experience and statewide exposure have given Prestonsburg recognition and attention and enabled her to work closely with State and Federal officials, the Legislature and our U.S. Senators and Congressman.

Ann Latta works full-time at being Mayor. She has missed only two Council meetings in four years—once because she was invited to speak at the National Congress of Cities in Nevada, and once to appear at the Governor's Local Issues Conference in Lexington. (Her opponent has missed more than one-third of the Council meetings this year and missed 19 of 47 in his last term.)

Shepherd Leads Clark To 7th Win

by Ed Taylor,
Sports Editor

Andrea Shepherd scored 14 points to lead the undefeated Lady Cardinals to a close 38-33 victory over the Lady Bobcats of Betsy Layne. The win was the second of the year for Clark over Betsy Layne.

The win was also the seventh for the Clark team who has yet to lose a game. Betsy Layne lead at the first stop, 8-4, and at half time 13-11.

However, a 13-7 spurt by the Lady Cardinals in the third quarter overcame the Lady Bobcats lead and Clark went on to win by five, 38-33.

Clark coach Keith Hicks says that he was pleased with the way his team had played despite not being able to practice for six days because of high water.

Besides Shepherd's 14 points, Maria Hicks added 11 points and pulled several key rebounds for the Lady Indians.

Misty Clark led the Lady Bobcats in scoring with 16 points. Becky Kidd and Jamie Ratcliff each tossed in eight points.

Voters of District One,

I come to you at this time to ask for your support in the November election. I stand on my record and service to the people of my district and Floyd County. For the past eight years, Floyd County has seen many changes for the better. Our parks, roads, sanitation and sewer systems have all been upgraded. I know that we are headed in the right direction, so with your help, allow me to continue to build a Floyd County we can all be proud of now, and for future generations to come. I will continue to serve all people of the district and cooperate with other county and city government officials to help Floyd County grow in all positive areas.

In closing, I have no mud to sling or arguments to pick. I can only ask you to let me continue to be your voice in the fiscal court. However, this cannot happen unless you, the voter, feels our future is important enough to go to the polls November 7 and cast your vote for continued, honest and efficient leadership. Please go to the polls and cast your vote for Gerald DeRossett and I will continue to serve the people with the utmost honesty and integrity.

Thank You,

Good For A First Down

Prestonsburg halfback Bill Tom Compton gets some extra yardage for a Blackcat first down against Pikeville. Prestonsburg is very much still in the playoff picture in District 2 play as they will host the Navajo's of M.C. Napier this Friday night.

Prestonsburg Over Allen, 54-50

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Damon Stepp scored 14 points in leading a balanced Prestonsburg Blackcats attack to defeat the Allen Eagles of coach David Mosley, 54-50, in a thriller at the Prestonsburg gym Monday night.

Lady Blackcats Topple Lady Eagles

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

Rebecca Leslie and Jenny Morrison combined for 21 points to lead the Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats grade school team to their second victory of the year over the Allen Lady Eagles, 39-30.

Leslie scored 11 points while Morrison tossed in 10.

The Blackcats held a seven point half time lead, 19-12. The two teams played on even terms with the Prestonsburg team outscoring the Allen team 12-10 in the fourth period.

April Newsome had 18 points to lead the Allen Lady Eagles in scoring. Jennifer Hunt and Jayne Bates added six each.

Prestonsburg is now 2-0 on the year while the Lady Eagles fall to 0-1.

Allen 6 6 8 10 (30): April Newsome, 18; Jennifer Hunt, 6; Jayne Bates, 6; Heather Shore, 3.

at Prestonsburg 12 7 8 12 (39): Rebecca Leslie, 11; Jenny Morrison

The Eagles led throughout the first half, building a half time lead of 28-17 after leading 16-8 at the first stop. The Blackcats came back in the second half with full court pressure that caused the Eagles some problems. Prestonsburg took a 35-34 lead at the end of the third stanza by outscoring the Eagles 18-8.

Chad Caudwell scored 13 points for the winning Blackcat team. Charles Shell added 12 and David Gearheart netted 11 to add to the balanced attack.

Troy Reitz led the Eagles with 16 points. Matt Porter tossed in 14 and Jamie Blackburn added 12.

Prestonsburg also won the boy's "B" team game over the Eagles, 45-19, behind the 18 point performance of Thomas Ratliff.

In an earlier game with the Auxier Hornets, Prestonsburg defeated the Hornets, 52-35. Stepp once again led the Blackcats with 16 points and Martin Newberry tossed in 10 in a reserve role. Mike Goble added nine.

The "B" team also won their second game, 29-19 over the younger Hornets. Ratliff had 12 points in leading the younger Blackcats. Bret James tossed in eight.

Allen 16 12 6 16 (50): Troy Reitz, 16; Matt Porter, 14; Phillip Patton, 4; Jamie Blackburn, 12; Jason Spurlock, 4.

at Prestonsburg 8 9 18 19 (54): Damon Stepp, 14; Chad Caudwell, 13; Charles Shell, 12; David Gearheart, 11; Mike Goble, 4.

Man And Machine: The Vital Match

But computers are only machines, helpless without trained operators and programmers. These two job functions, operator and programmer, are essential to a useful, smooth-running system. And current and projected demands cut across all job levels, through all sizes of computer installation, and over all geographic areas.

Computer Professionals: Sure Shot For Success

Planning your career in such a fast-changing world? Ask yourself these three important questions:
•What job will be in most demand in this decade?
•What will be the better paying job?
•What job will offer salary advancements that outpace inflation?
•Computer occupations will nearly double to more than 2.1 million jobs by 1990—a growth potential surpassing all other occupational groups.

•On the average, computer professionals earn about twice as much as all non-supervisory workers in private industry. Data processing salaries grow about twice as fast as the inflation rate.

RE-ELECT JACKIE EDFORD OWENS
MAGISTRATE - DIST. 2

THE ONLY 'DEMOCRAT' ON THE 'DEMOCRAT' TICKET FOR MAGISTRATE IN DIST. 2.

My "Independent Opponent" keeps "ducking and dodging" the question of "WHY" he switched from the "DEMOCRAT" party to the "INDEPENDENT" party only 3 hours before filing deadline in the May Primary. He came out as a "Democrat" and then dropped the "Democrat" Party. I don't believe that any "Democrats" should vote for him—because he's an "Independent" now on the "Independent" party. He tries his best to try to get everybody to "feel sorry" for him. It wouldn't matter if me and him were the same age and the same health—HE'S NOT QUALIFIED FOR THE JOB. I CAN run the equipment and I KNOW WHAT IT TAKES TO GET THE JOB DONE. People, winter is coming on and I've stayed out during snows as high as 36 hours straight trying to get the roads cleared so people can get to work and kids can get to school. (It takes approximately 48 hours just to clear the blacktopped roads.) I'm asking ALL "DEMOCRATS" and ALL "REPUBLICANS" to come out on Nov. 7 and VOTE FOR and RE-ELECT ME—JACKIE EDFORD OWENS—MAGISTRATE—Dist. 2.

P.S.—You all know my opponent's "political ties." I don't know "WHO" would be running the Magistrate's job for him, or telling him "WHAT TO DO" or "HOW" to vote, but I CAN tell you "IT'S THE PEOPLE" that tells me what to do—NOT THE "POLITICIANS".

People, we've got another flood and it's going to throw us months behind on our work.—We're doing the best we can.

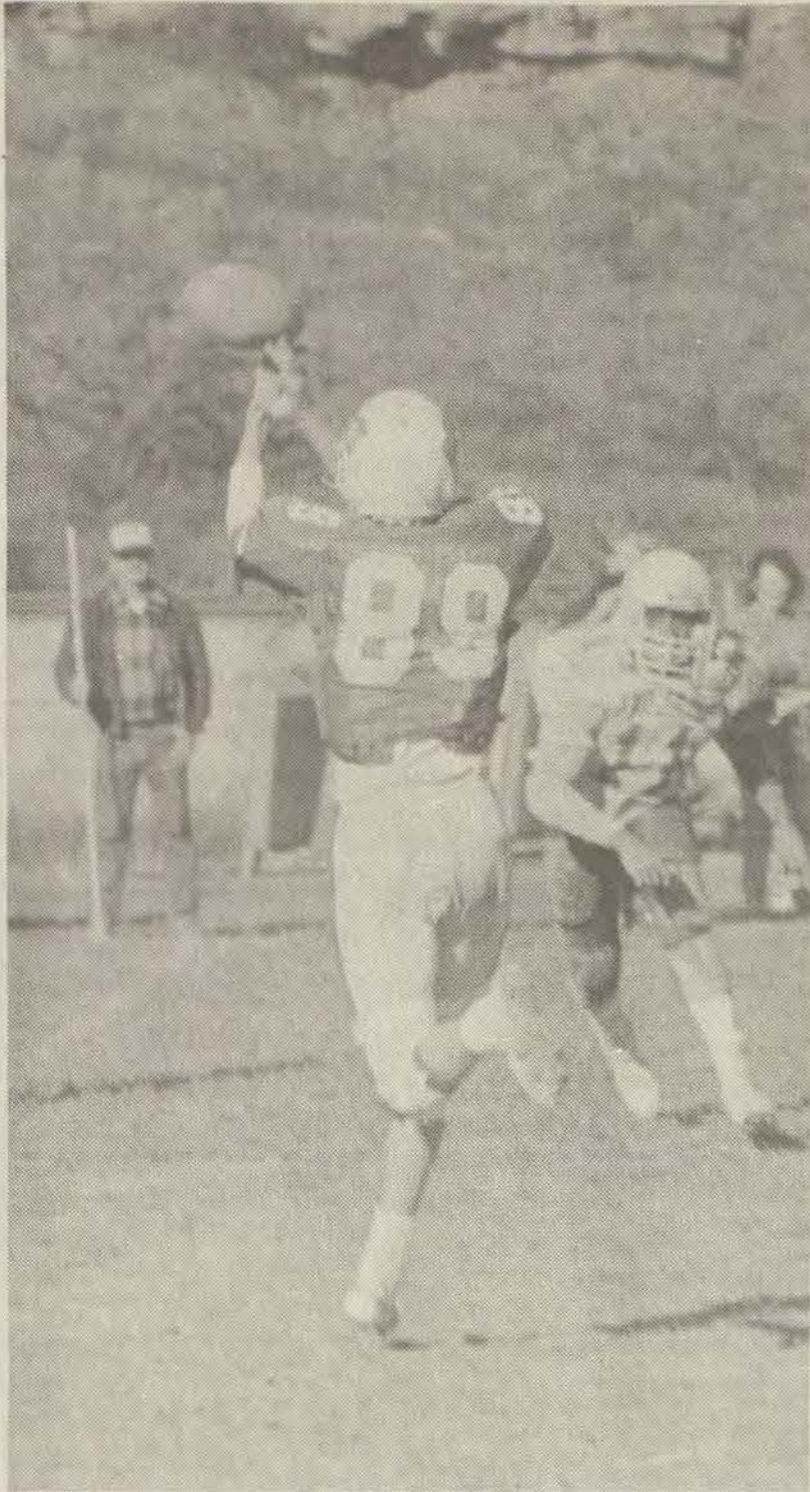

Adv. paid for by Candidate, Jackie Edford Owens

Why don't the people in our city give our friend Paul Joseph a chance to do the things that were promised to us? Like, a lot of our streets signs have been torn down in the past 5 or 6 years. I have been down there several times and called you on the phone, and all we have had is promises here in Goble Roberts Addition. We pay our city taxes, and the whole bottom was supposed to have been blacktopped again, on all our streets, but we didn't get anything but a promise.

I think the people in our city should wake up and vote for our friend Paul Joseph on election day.

Thank You

Re-Elect Gerald DeRossett

We would like to take this means to ask everyone living in District #1 to vote for and re-elect Gerald DeRossett for magistrate (No.6 on the ballot). He is in our opinion, the best qualified, most experienced, most humble and above all the most honest person for the job. He does not boast or brag about all of the good things he has accomplished. Gerald, has black-topped and graveled more roads, worked on more school projects, and cleaned-up more parks of our area than any person we know of. He also has done a great deal for the Senior Citizens and continues to do so. He is there to serve you the people 24 hours, day or night. We can verify this by the hard work which he does every day, and by the roads on which you drive.

But what really bothers me is that you say you are concerned about the people and children that live in or pass through Prestonsburg.

Then tell us why this RED LIGHT that was so needed to be placed where traffic is really heavy, such as the 4- way intersection at the unemployment office and where it could regulate traffic on nights of school events or so our children would be safe by having traffic stopped for them to cross the highway when going to or leaving school. How many more people will have to be killed in this spot of tragedy before something is done? The least you could have done was to take into consideration the children and people that may have to attend to this area of fatal tragedy.

Goblins, Ghosts And Cavities? Healthy Halloween Teeth Tips

Halloween... it's almost impossible to keep children from overindulging in candy and other sweet "treats" during this time of the year. According to a 1988 survey by the candy industry, 80 percent of all American households gave candy to "Trick or Treaters" last year.

And children are risking more than an upset stomach from these sweet "treats" — excess sweets, without proper oral care, can lead to cavities and tooth decay.

Allowing a child to eat small amounts of candy over several days is unhealthy for teeth because teeth will be constantly coated with sugar. This can be even more damaging to children's teeth than allowing them to eat it all at once.

But parents can keep their children's teeth healthy on Halloween and long after by helping their children follow these simple oral health tips:

— Halloween treats should be eaten after regular meals and children should brush their teeth afterward. (Remember, children need supervision while brushing until age seven or eight.)

— Always use a fluoride toothpaste that is accepted by the American Dental Association (ADA). Toothpastes specially designed to appeal to children make a parent's job of getting children to brush much easier.

— Young children tend to swallow toothpaste when they brush their teeth. Use a pea-sized amount of toothpaste — preferably one that contains less foaming action, such as Colgate Junior Toothpaste — on the toothbrush to avoid this common problem.

— There isn't much of a "trick" to flossing, but smaller children have difficulty. For Halloweeners over the age of eight, make sure flossing is a daily habit.

— Fluoride rinses can help prevent tooth decay. Use a rinse which bears the ADA's seal of approval. Colgate Flourguard Mouthrinse, when used daily along with brushing, has been shown to reduce cavities by up to 40 percent more than brushing alone. (Fluoride rinses are not recommended for children under six years of age.)

— Children should visit the dentist no later than the age of two or three. The dentist and hygienist will check for cavities or development problems and provide information on preventing children's oral health problems.

— After a long night of "Trick or Treating" sleepy young children shouldn't be put to bed with a bottle filled with anything but water. Other liquids can cause the upper front teeth to decay at the gumline soon after they appear in the mouth. This condition is often referred to as "Baby Bottle Tooth Decay."

Halloween can be safe and healthy for children if parents monitor treats and help children follow good oral care habits.

This Halloween, Kids Can Create Homemade Papier Mache Masks

Given the success of last summer's blockbuster hit, Batman, it's likely that the Joker, the caped Crusader's arch-rival, will encourage the revival of clownfaces for Halloween.

To avoid the high price tag of store bought costumes, why not help children make their own masks? Papier mache masks (more lightweight and breathable than their rubber and plastic counterparts) are easy to make and fun to wear.

Start with a blown-up balloon, plenty of old newspapers and a 50-50 mixture of Elmer's Glue-All and water.

Use wet, unglued strips of newspaper to cover the first layer of balloon. Then, dip strips in Elmer's Glue mixture, pulling the strips in between fingers to squeeze out excess and wrap four or more layers around balloon.

Apply one layer cross-wise on balloon, the next up and down and so on.

When thoroughly dry, split into two sections (front and back) and remove balloon. Cut small openings in each mask for eyes and mouth.

Paint whole surface with glue, tinted pink, yellow or green with food coloring. Let dry and paint or add on features.

Try using small pieces of paper dipped in glue-water mixture, squeezed out and molded into heavy lips, a pointed nose or heavy eyebrows. For a comic clown, use a plastic red ball for a nose, a paper cup for a hat and yarn for hair. Paint on a broad red grin and attach big, round ears.

Trick-Or-Treat Guidelines

Each Halloween thousands of Kentucky children don their costumes and go trick-or-treating. Unfortunately, many of these youngsters become the recipients of "tricks" such as tainting of food with toxic substances or the placing of sharp items in fruits, candies or cookies, according to Earl Compton, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department.

Compton stated that physicians and other health professionals can help these tragedies by reminding their patients about some basic safety precautions.

— Children should not eat any treats until they get home so each may be examined for tampering. Unwrapped treats should be especially scrutinized. Remember, "If in doubt, throw it out."

— Smaller children should be accompanied by an adult or older child.

— Stay within your neighborhood and go only to homes who's occupants you know.

— Costumes should be light, bright colored and trimmed with reflective tape so that drivers can more easily see them.

— Costumes should be short enough to prevent tripping. Costume accessories (swords, knives, etc.) should be made of soft, flexible material.

"By following these simple guidelines, children can have a safe and happy Halloween," Compton said.

Dressing Safely For Halloween Fun

Halloween is a wonderful time for children to step into the land of make-believe.

However, some costumes can pose a safety problem.

"The popular Batman costumes, for example, are made in dark colors which are hard for motorists to see at night," said Frances Pitts, Floyd County Home Economist.

If your youngster insists on a dark-colored costume, Pitts suggests sewing reflective tape on it for safety. These tapes are available in fabric, hardware, bicycle and sporting goods stores.

Regardless of the type of costume your youngster selects, make sure it's comfortable and allows freedom of movement.

"Avoid dressing young children in costumes with capes, long animal-like tails or very loose clothing which could hamper movement," Pitts advises.

"Hand-me-down or borrowed costumes are great, but make sure they fit your child," Pitts said. Oversized costumes are cumbersome and could cause accidents. Anything that is part of the costume, like wigs, beards and masks, should fit your child correctly.

"Also, buy only those costumes, masks, beards and wigs that carry a 'flame-resistant' or 'flame-proof' label," Pitts said. "The costumes can still catch fire, but they will resist burning and flames can be more easily extinguished."

Pitts suggests using make-up or face paint instead of a mask. "A mask can block vision and is sometimes hot and uncomfortable."

She suggests white face makeup to lighten a dark costume and make your little goblin more visible. Just remember to try out the makeup before the big night to test for possible allergic reactions.

Keep footwear simple and sturdy, Pitts advises. "This is definitely not the time for dressing up in mother's high-heeled shoes," she said.

Have a safe and happy Halloween!

Fall has arrived, bringing with it many varieties of winter squash. Pumpkin is perhaps the most widely known variety of winter squash and is in great supply as we near the Halloween season.

Pumpkins are fun to carve, but can also be enjoyed as part of a fall meal. Low in fat and sodium, the pumpkin is famous for its large amount of vitamin A. It also contains phosphorus, calcium, potassium and iron. One cup of cooked pumpkin provides more than the recommended daily allowance of vitamin A and has only 50 calories without added seasonings.

The Floyd County Extension Office offers these tips and instructions for selecting, cooking and storing pumpkin:

When selecting a pumpkin, look for one that is heavy for its size, has a hard rind, and is free of blemishes and soft spots. Store the pumpkin in a cool, dry place. Use it within a month.

To prepare the pumpkin, rinse in cold water, cut into halves or quarters, and remove the seeds and stringy portions. You can remove the rind before, during or after cooking. However, it is easier to remove the rind during cooking as it loosens.

Cover the pumpkin with a small amount of water to prevent sticking. Too much water will take away from the flavor. Cook the pumpkin until tender; drain and mash well. Then drain it a second time to remove excess liquid. A pound of uncooked pumpkin yields about one cup of cooked pumpkin.

Refrigerate cooked pumpkin for two to three days, or freeze it for later use. Cooked pumpkin can be used in breads, pies and cookies, or in a side dish prepared like sweet potato casserole.

Don't discard the seeds scraped from the pumpkin. Try toasting them for an unusual and nutritious treat.

Once the seeds are separated from the pumpkin flesh and string, wash and spread them on a towel to dry. Next, spread evenly over a cookie sheet and bake in a 350 degree oven for 20 to 30 minutes.

Better still, hull the seeds by cracking them with a nut cracker. Then toss each cup with one teaspoon of oil. Spread seeds on a cookie sheet and toast 15 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Salt may be omitted. Serve hot or cold.

Try these nutrient-plus cupcakes unfrosted for a brown bag snack or dessert. The raisins add iron.

PUMPKIN CUPCAKES

1 1/2 cup whole-wheat flour
1 cup all-purpose flour
3/4 cup sugar
2 Tbsps. baking powder
2 tsps. ground cinnamon
1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg
1/4 tsp. salt
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup skim milk
1/2 cup oil
1 cup canned pumpkin*
3/4 cup raisins chopped
1 Tbsp. vanilla

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place 24 paper baking cups in muffin tins. Mix dry ingredients thoroughly; mix remaining ingredients; add to dry ingredients. Stir until dry ingredients are barely moistened.

Fill paper cups two-thirds full. Bake about 20 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from muffin tins and cool on rack. Freeze cupcakes that will not be eaten in the next few days.

(To use fresh pumpkin, wash, cut into small pieces and remove seeds and stringy portions. Using a little water in a saucepan, boil 15 to 20 minutes. Discard the rind. Mash the pumpkin and drain well.)

With the impending arrival of winter, creatures that we enjoy seeing all spring and summer will be going into hibernation, flying south or hiding away in their holes. But those who are not able to stock up for the winter or leave the north winds will be foraging for food.

Concerned persons can help the woodland creatures by providing food in places where the animals will be able to go. Don't forget the birds, though, that stay in the Kentucky hills all winter long.

Many people enjoy mixing different ingredients to create food for birds. The goal is to create irresistible items that are packed with the protein, calories, vitamins and minerals that birds need.

Here are just a few of the many recipes available. Use the imagination to create variations.

BASIC BIRD CAKES

Bird cakes can be offered whole in a mesh bag or suet feeder, or crumbled and scattered on the ground.

2 cups peanut butter
2 cups cornmeal

Melt the suet in a saucepan. Mix in the peanut butter and cornmeal. Spoon the mixture into muffin cups and cool.

FRUIT CUP

This is a special treat for summer birds. Chop up and mix an assortment of fresh and dried fruits and berries. Put the mixture out for the birds in any empty grapefruit or orange half.

Birds seem to particularly enjoy apples, bananas, figs, dates, raisins, blueberries, strawberries or cherries.

For a special treat, serve the fruit in a halved coconut.

PEANUT BUTTER AND SUET MIXTURE

The peanut butter adds protein and the cornmeal adds carbohydrate to this easy-to-make offering. The mixture can stay fairly hard in warm weather.

2 cups suet
1 cup peanut butter
2 cups cornmeal

2 cups finely cracked corn millet, or other small seed

Melt the suet. Allow it to cool thoroughly, then reheat it. Add the peanut butter, stirring until melted and well blended. Add the cornmeal and cracked corn and blend well. Pour into forms or suet feeders and cool until hardened.

BIRD-FOOD SHISH KEBABS

Assemble an assortment of foods that can be threaded on a string.

Chunks of suet, apple slices, cranberries, raisins, dates and stale bread or doughnuts are only a few of the items that work well.

Make shish kebabs of convenient lengths and drape them in your trees or in any other suitable place.

SIMPLE PINE CONE MIXTURE

Pine cones are an attractive way to offer such foods.

1 cup suet
1 cup peanut butter
3 1/2 cups ground dog biscuits or cornmeal

Melt the suet in a saucepan. Add the peanut butter, stirring until melted and well blended. Add the ground biscuits to the cooling mixture, and blend into a dough. Pack the dough into the crevices of large pine cones.

Creative Space:

For Martin Women, Studio Offers Place To Grow

by Frank Clark,
Staff Writer

Stepping into the Martin art studio of Megan Corcoran, Heidi Porter and Anne Meiman, one is immediately struck by the powerful sense of energy and creativity which charges each room of the combined dance studio, art gallery and work space.

Located in a converted architect's office on the second floor of a downtown building in Martin, the place established by the three young women is one in which personal creativity is both encouraged and nourished, separated from daily cares and troubles. Within this environment of originality, the three concentrate on developing new forms of expression through the mediums of dance, sculpture, charcoal drawing, painting and photography.

Corcoran, Porter and Meiman are all migrants to the region, attracted to the area originally by the work of the Christian Appalachian Project (CAP), an area service organization which has offices in Martin. All were students at the College of New Rochelle in New York, and became interested in the volunteer program sponsored by CAP. Porter began as a volunteer in January 1987. Corcoran and Meiman followed in September of the same year.

While all three continued sporadically with their art outside of the social work commitments performed with CAP, and with Meiman's eventual work with the developmentally disabled and mentally retarded at Mountain Comprehensive Care Center, it was not until a crisis in work space occurred at the beginning of this year that the idea of an art studio took off.

"Megan and I are roommates," said Porter, 25, "and I was getting tired with having her paint all over the place in our house. Megan thought of us renting a separate place where she and Anne could work, and I could dance. It took me awhile to be persuaded, but we finally agreed to do it."

"We all needed a place to create and be original, outside of home and work," said 22-year-old Corcoran. "I wanted a space with an easel and a window. When I saw this place, I knew it was it."

From this beginning sprang the present art studio. A great deal of sweat and energy went into preparations for opening. With much help from friends and volunteers, the painting and refurbishing progressed rapidly, and the big night arrived.

"Everyone who hadn't been involved with putting the studio together was just floored that a few young people could do something like this," said Meiman. "It really was an incredible night."

The paintings and drawings of Meiman and Corcoran were displayed. Porter had created a dance which she performed for the large crowd in attendance.

"The theme of the dance involved the concept of unveiling our art, and of bringing everyone in the room into a participation with this process," says Porter. "Some people were a bit uncomfortable because I was dancing among everyone, but it went really well."

Since the initial frenzy of preparation for the opening of the studio, the work of the three women has been productive and, personally, very positive.

"We're able to take art seriously here," states Meiman. "I can release the energy inside me through painting, drawing and black and white photography. You could say it was a way of warding off neurosis, by getting out my emotions through art."

Corcoran agreed. "This place is magic to me. I may have a dry spell when nothing comes to me and the work doesn't happen. I'll build up and finally release, and I'll work for days and weeks, just creating. It's the only time I feel at peace. If I'm not creating, I'm not satisfied."

From these creative processes one can see tangible results. Corcoran has created a series of abstract paintings which vibrate the air of the studio—some of them done on plastic window shades, in place of expensive canvas. Meiman's drawings and large canvasses pull viewers into a closer focus and examination of her detailed work. Porter provides classes to young dancers interested in this physically demanding art form, as well as experimenting with the choreography of new dances. There is a strong desire among all three to reach out to the surrounding community and draw new members into the world of art.

"Everyone begins life with natural talent," says 24-year-old Meiman.

"Often, this talent is not developed after childhood. If we could, I'd like to get people from our community who are interested, involved in programs that let them express this raw talent."

Corcoran sees the area as having plenty of inspiration for artists.

"The paradox in this area is really clear, with wealth and poverty existing side by side, and so much suffering among people, while at the same time, so much happiness. I've found that the paradoxes have really affected my work as I try to make sense of it all."

Finishing Touches

Positioning one of her charcoal drawings, Anne Meiman places the work on a gallery wall. Meiman's current primary artistic interest is in the use of black and white, both in drawing and in photography.

Vance Celebrates Second Birthday

A Dramatic Abstract

Examining a final work, Meagan Corcoran stands before one of a series of abstract paintings she has completed in recent months. Next year, Corcoran plans to return to art school to complete her degree in fine arts.

Graceful Moves of the Dancer

Surrounded by the artwork of Meagan Corcoran and Anne Meiman, Heidi Porter practices dance steps on the dance floor of the Martin studio. After refurbishing the former architect's studio and placing mirrors on the surrounding walls, Porter began providing inexpensive ballet lessons to local youngsters. Porter, an Alaskan native, has danced since she was 8 years old.

Studio

Ultimately, however, the motivation of the artist must flow from inner experiences and needs. Art schools and classes provide the opportunity and tools for self expression, but it is the individual who must seek the inner well from which to draw out original works of art, meeting the private needs each feels.

"The work we do requires that we keep in touch with ourselves," says Porter. "I know that coming here to dance made me better in all my other work, and in my life in general. Dancing is a way to express myself to myself."

Change prompted by the loss of their rental lease for the studio is coming in the near future to these three Martin artists. While upset at the loss of their creative space, and the memories it holds, all are unwilling to let their dream of a working art studio die. Already, they are seeking a new place in Floyd County where the work can continue. They have great hopes for the future.

"Someday, we'd like to create a school for the fine and performing arts," says Corcoran. "Something open to people who may not be able to afford other schools." Meiman and Porter strongly support the idea. "It's the children who really need the chance to be involved," exclaims Meiman. "It's the motivated, creative children who are going to be the motivated, creative adults of the future."

Wells To Address

Area Historians Nov. 4

John B. Wells III, Paintsville businessman and historian, will be the keynotespeaker at the Saturday, Nov. 4 meeting of the Big Sandy Valley Historical Society meeting at Nell's Country Kitchen in Louisa.

Wells' address will be "The Civil War in the Big Sandy Valley with Emphasis on Confederate Activities."

A native Johnson Countian, Wells earned degrees in history from Columbia University and the University of North Carolina.

The meeting will feature a display of local and regional historical publications for sale. The program will begin with a noon buffet luncheon. Reservations for the program may be made by contacting Bennett W. Muncy, P.O. Box 723, Louisa, KY 41230, or calling 638-9056.

Larry's Heart Is Making A Comeback

In February, Larry Dean Adams, a 41 year old Prestonsburg fire fighter suffered a heart attack. He was rushed to the Emergency Room at Highlands where he learned another massive attack was coming on.

"It was frightening. But I did trust the people there. I'd seen the nurses and doctors work a lot of wonders. The nurses were just constantly checking on me. I could feel the love they were giving me and I just wondered if everyone got treated this way.

I did not have to undergo surgery because of the treatment I was given at Highlands...the TPA dissolved the blood clot that had caused my problem.

"The biggest fear that I had was that I'd never be a fire fighter again. I didn't want to be a burden on anyone."

A week later, Larry entered Cardiac Rehabilitation, a program designed to rebuild strength and stamina, aimed at getting patients back to work and back to a normal life style.

"It was a mental healing as well as a physical healing. The fear left as I started regaining confidence that I wasn't going to fall dead at the next step."

Larry's program included supervised exercise in his fire fighters' breathing apparatus, heavy equipment that put Larry's heart to the test under real working conditions.

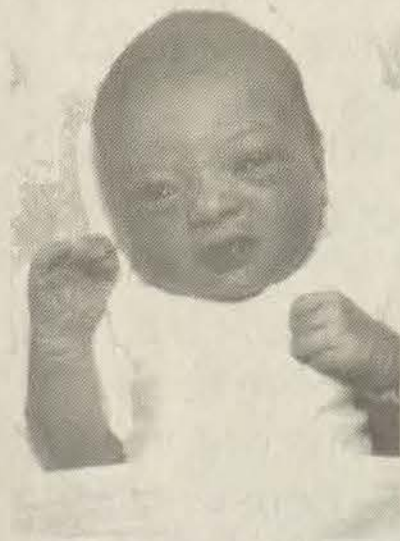

More than exercise, the program included counseling for Larry and his family. "The entire family had the heart attack. Everyone suffered when I was suffering, and everyone was pulling for me in rehab."

They all learned about diet and handling stress. "It changed all of our eating habits. It changed our thoughts on exercise programs and it made our family a lot closer."

Larry—and his heart—are making a comeback. "I'm back to work—I'm going to be a fireman again!"

To learn more about cardiac rehabilitation, ask your doctor or call, toll free 1-800-533-HRMC.

AARP KENTUCKY LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE MEMBERS SPEAK TO CLUB

Chalmer H. Frazier, a member of the AARP Kentucky Legislative Committee, and Mrs. Frazier held a regional legislative seminar on Wednesday, Oct. 18, at 12:30 at the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Prior to the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Frazier.

Mr. Frazier welcomed those in attendance and introduced James D. Maddox of Frankfort, vice chairman of the Kentucky AARP Legislative Committee, who discussed how issues affecting older persons at the local, state and national levels may be addressed in order to effectively influence the legislative process.

He said, "When the Kentucky Legislative meets in January 1990, we will need to make every effort to keep our present tax exemptions and not have to pay state income taxes on Teacher retirement, state retirement and social security."

He added, "We want to keep our exemption on homestead taxes, and not have mail order (medical) drug privileges taken from us."

He said that the KRTA and AARP legislative priorities will be given adequate attention.

Mr. Frazier introduced Pearl Miller of Elizabethtown, secretary of the AARP Kentucky Legislative Committee, who emphasized the importance of matters presented by Maddox, and discussed the possibility of the passage by the Kentucky Legislature of the "Living Will Act," which she said had been prefiled.

Attending this meeting were Orville Cooley, James E. Goble, Jack R. Freed, Mike Auxier, Delmas Saunders, Garnett Fairchild, Docia Woods, Nora Miller, Dale Miller, Sina Blanton and Flem Blanton, all of the Jenny Wiley Chapter #3528 AARP, and Edwin Benton of Caney.

Vote For James D. (Doug) Fitzpatrick

Magistrate, District No. 2 Nov. 7, 1989

I am going to answer my opponent's statement where he accuses me of sitting in an office at taxpayers' expense. I worked approximately fourteen years for Eastern Ky. Concentrated Employment Program. Our main goal was to train youth that come from an economically disadvantaged homes. The present magistrate, when he was a younger man, fit those guidelines and those guidelines were set by the U.S. Dept. of Labor. He attended Hazard Vocational School where he trained as a diesel mechanic. His brother trained under the E.K.C.E.P. and, also, a young man who became his brother-in-law. All three trained at Hazard Vocational School and they all three made good diesel mechanics and they all three hold good jobs in the diesel field. I am proud of them. They have paid for their training many times in taxes they have paid to our government. So the magistrate is wrong when he said I sit in an office at the taxpayers' expense and have done nothing. Yes, my salary was about 50% of what the magistrates receive, ($25,000.00 per year) for a part time job.

Our present magistrate says the magistrate's job is 24hr a day job, 7 days per week. I don't think the voters and tax payers believe that statement. I wonder when he finds time to work his full time job at Wheelwright Mining Co. If he does, he is working a 32 hours per day and that has to be an awful lonely shift.

The hue and cry in the Beaver Creek Area is the concern for the flooding in the Beaver Creek Area. In 1964, the creek was cleaned out and we did not have too much flooding for quite some time. I feel that if we would be conservative with our county taxes we could save up a fund where we could get the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to come up with a big share of that expense and get the creek cleaned out so the water would have room to flow.

My opponent and present magistrate attack me for running for magistrate as an Independent candidate. I advise him I was a Democrat long before he was born. I had the privilege of voting for Franklin D. Roosevelt for a fourth term. Absentee ballot in Hollianda, New Guinea in The Southwest Pacific, 1943.

I feel that I have earned the right to run as an Independent. I spent 1,106 hrs. combat flying time in World War II where I was decorated by Gen. George C. Kenny. I earned the Distinguished Flying Air Medal with oak leaf cluster and the Phillipine Liberation ribbon. I think I have earned the right to run for the office of magistrate. I believe in President Kennedy's great statement when he said, "It is not what the country can do for you but what you can do for your country". I feel the same about Floyd County.

I have always been interested in seeing the children of Floyd County get a good education. The only paved road out of poverty is a good education.

Again, I want to thank you, the voters, for the support you have shown me in this campaign. I will be on the job full time and will be available when you need to contact me about a problem - and I will return your telephone calls.

LOCAL AARP CHAPTER MEETS AT HRMC

About 50 persons were in attendance at the dinner meeting of the Jenny Wiley Chapter #3528 held Friday, Oct. 20 in the dining area of the Highlands Regional Medical Center. Orville Cooley, president, led the group in prayer and the flag salute, welcomed the members and presided at the meeting. Happy birthday was sung to John Evans.

In the absence of Sarah Laven, secretary, the report of September's meeting was read by Docia Woods. The treasurer's report was given by Delmas Saunders. He displayed one of the Christmas ornaments to be sold to raise money for gifts for the patients of one of the local nursing homes at Christmas time. Sina Blanton said she would secure a list of names of prospective gift recipients.

Cooley presented Chalmer Frazier, who told of the recent meeting of the AARP Legislative Committee held at the First United Methodist Church in which the matter of "Living Wills" was discussed. He outlined the advantages of this act and distributed literature on the matter.

Delmas Saunders talked about the "55 Alive" program to be offered by Eva and Harmon Hale at the Floyd County Library on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Oct. 27-28, and told of the car insurance reduction to be realized from taking this course.

Patsy Evans, director of the senior citizens center at Archer Park, announced the program there for the

The president said that officers and committee chairs for the forthcoming year would be announced at the next meeting scheduled for Friday, Nov. 17 and added that, due to weather conditions, this would be the last meeting until March.

James Goble dismissed the meeting with prayer.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY
THE POTENTIAL FOR ANEMIA

A great many rheumatoid arthritis sufferers take aspirin regularly to stave off pain and inflammation. There is a recent trend among middle-age men which calls for daily doses of aspirin to help avoid heart attack. While the benefits of taking aspirin in these cases are obvious, there is also a potential risk. People who take large doses of aspirin over an extended period of time may experience internal bleeding from the stomach. Those who take 12 to 15 aspirin tablets daily for a month can have blood loss from the stomach that exceeds normal amounts by five to 13 times. This amount is enough to cause iron deficiency anemia. While not everyone who takes aspirin regularly is at risk, it pays to eat iron-rich foods as a precaution.

COOLEY APOTHECARY, wants you to know that whether an over the counter remedy will help your problem, or if your physician feels to necessary to prescribe medication, we maintain the highest standards of the pharmaceutical profession. Learn for yourself why your friends and neighbors already rely on us. Complete patient profiles are maintained to aid us in checking for possible drug interactions. ## The Tree

My leaves are turning brown and oh, how crisp they seem;
my trunk is old and calloused never more to be green;
I'm afraid someone will want me someday to build a bridge; for only them to walk on me to get across the ridge;
I used to be so useful, with my flowing limbs and leaves;
and when I swayed upon the wind
I was pretty as can be;
but the years they were mean to me with all the cold and such;
I'm afraid if they take me now,
no one will miss me much;
but so if someone needs me,
just cut me down and please, take the sprout from underneath and plant it by the sea.

Apple Blessings

I must admit that I am blessed
When Mary Jane's my honored guest;
She is a lady of the hills
With simple tastes and fewer frills;
A rather homespun type of gal
Who's more like being my best pal.
When Terry's gone, she cooks and cleans
And washes Chris' mud-soaked jeans,
And as a preacher, she'll correct
My rough Virginian dialect,
All in all, it's nice to see
Her cheerful face look back at me.
She has her faults, don't get me wrong;
We haven't always gotten along;
May I point out that, after all,
She is just my old mother-in-law.
One day while walking, if you please,
She noticed all the (stately) trees;
She saw one that bore ample fruit,
Which fit her like a brand new suit.
She ran to me and said, "Make haste;
Don't let all those apples go to waste.
Go pick me all the ones you can,
And I'll make you a happy man."
If anything, I learned too late,
That she does not exaggerate.
I'd picked so many apples then
She could have fed a hundred men;
And by the time I have this read,
You might just find me apple-dead.
I never dreamed that so much use
Could come from plain old apple juice;
And that a single apple tree
Could have so much variety.
That night for supper, the menu
Was applesauce and apple stew;
Apples roast and apples green
Took the place of corn and beans.
And Mary Jane said, "It don't hurt
To have some apples for dessert."
So apple pie and apple cake
Left an apple bellyache.
Apple fritters and apple tea
Turned my stomach to agony,
And reconstituted apple mush
I ate, while drinking apple-slush.
Apples baked and apples dried
Lined the table side to side;
Apple bread and apple butter
Made my family start to mutter,
But apple cookies and apple chips
Silenced our rebellious lips.
As if that wasn't quite enough,
She said, "Now try some apple stuff."
Some apple stuff? "What's that?!" I cried;
"Just don't ask questions," she replied.
And with a generous helping cut,
She filled my plate with Lord-knows-what.
Well, supper's over, and I trust
My stomach wall won't break or bust.
I must confess, that night in bed
I paid for being over-fed,
As nightmares of strange apple-creatures
Stalked me with their ugly features.
But all is past, and I can say
I've lived to see a better day.
I know that I'll be feeling lucky
When she returns to old Kentucky;
And though it hurts to say good-bye,
She's still the apple of my eye.

— The Rev. Freddy Dutton, son-in-law of Mary Jane Blackburn;
written for her.

September

There's a sting in the air each morning
And the fog stays late in the day;
Then the sky peeps blue as azure
As fleecy clouds frisk away.

The shouts and cries of children
Through the morning air resound,
For the fall semester has started
And they are schoolward bound.

The corn is tall but drooping
From the heat of the noonday sun.
The yellow jackets are seeking
The fruit that's overdone.

The summer shadows lengthen.
The leaves float slowly down
To join decaying kindred
On warm September ground.

Early dusk is arriving
They day is gone too soon,
But yet a treat awaiting —
The gleaming harvest moon.

June days received their plaudits
From the poet in days of old,
But I'll take lovely September,
Her clear, bright days of gold.

Wayland

Untitled

My eyes are burning
From the tears I've cried,
I sat in my lonely world
Wondering why we never tried.
What we were
Time took it away,
What we are is living day by day.
You were my life.
You were all I lived for,
But what you were to me,
You are no more.
You were my blooming rose
In the wet spring dew,
I love all the flowers
But my true rose is you.
The doors to my lonely world
Are beginning to close
Like the dying petals
Of my willing red rose.

— Carolee Hobson,
McDowell

Autumn

A walk in the woods,
Oh what pleasure it brings,
To feel God's presence
In the simple things.
To see leaves sailing
In a colorful array,
And to know God is with us
With each hour of the day.
The beautiful rays of sunshine
That will soon be gone,
To make way for winter
That wind plays a sober song.
Let's enjoy the sights and sounds
Of autumn, and be thankful each day,
For a Heavenly Father who guides us,
Always leading the way.

What I Think of Our Love

I think our love was meant to be,
Just like the birds were meant to sing.
But unlike the bird, we'll never part,
Because this love is coming straight from the heart.

I think our love will never die,
Just like the stars that brighten the sky.
But unlike the stars that sometimes fall,
We'll stick together through it all.

I think our love is something to treasure,
Just like our memories we have together.
But unlike memories that sometimes fade,
I know an everlasting love is what God has made.

So now you know what I feel for you,
And I know your feelings too.
I know our love will always be bright,
Just as the moon brightens our nights.

Kentucky Morning In The Fall

As the sun peeps over the trees,
It is a beautiful sight to see;
The many colors of the leaves,
Yellow, gold and brown,
Making tinkling noises
As they come tumbling down.

Each dew drop shines like a diamond
On the beautiful colors of the leaves,
You would have to come to Kentucky
And see to believe.
We know man has done many things
To change the looks of this world,
But nothing to compare to the wonders
God has unfurled.

The light frost on the grass
Slowly covered as one by one,
The leaves cover the ground
In the bright morning sun.
Why should we wonder
That God with all His love
Spreads so much beauty over Kentucky
I don't know,
But it must have been fate
That placed us here
In this beautiful state.

— Myrtle Berry,
Martin

Second Time Around

People say the first love is the best,
But the second time still stands the test.
If we follow our hearts and believe,
The best love is what we will receive.
Our love will last forever and ever,
As long as we don't apt-and stay together.
The second time around with you is very special to me,
And maybe as the years pass by,
We will open our hearts and see.

— Quindeana Cook,
Halo

(This song was written by Lee May in 1915, when he was 15 years old, and was recalled from memory by his sister, Ella May Prater, in March 1983. She was 13 years old at the time it was written.)

The Battle of Mill Spring

The dying soldier boy, lying near the battlefield,
His comrades gathered around him, down by his side and kneeled,
At last the dying soldier boy raised his drooping head,
Saying, "Who will care for mother when her soldier boy is dead?"

Go tell my dear old father, in death I pray for him,
I pray that we may meet again, in a world that's free from sin.

My heart is like a captured bird, a-flitting in its cage,
I am my father's only son, to comfort his old age.

I am my father's only boy, my mother's only joy,
She may wipe the tears of anger for her dying soldier boy.

Go tell my dear little sisters not to weep for me,
If ever around the fireside, I'd take them on my knee,
And sing to them the good old songs they used to hear me sing,
For their brother now is dying at the battle of Mill Spring.

Oh, listen, comrades, listen, of the one I speak of now,
If she were here this lonely night, would sooth my aching brow.
But little does she care for me, as she walks and sings,
For her own true love is dying at the battle of Mill Spring.

Oh, Listen, Comrades, Listen, and don't forget to tell,
Await for him to speak again, he murmured a farewell.
He kissed those Army Stars and Stripes and laid them by his side,
And gave three cheers for the Union, and bowed his head and died.

If Running For Gold

The outcome was obvious after only 600 meters.
At the finish, he would not be among the leaders.

On the lead, the racers were straining and striding for gold
Last, he was struggling and striving only for his own soul.

At the finish, the celebration was jubilant, with "high fives" galore,
As he ran through the melee, the starter shouted "One more."

Alone on the track with still 400 meters to fall,
Will the will to complete, overcome the pain of the wall?

200 meters left of this grueling trip,
The crowd stirred; Dad prayed, "Don't quit."

Just 100 meters, and a lifetime to go,
The stride would be easy, if running for gold.

He crossed the final line, not to martyr it.
He finished the race, because he had started it.

Wallace Named To Georgetown SGA

Brian Wallace, a Georgetown College student from Prestonsburg, has been named a member of the college's Student Government Association.

Every Georgetown student is eligible to serve in one of three branches of the SGA. Under its constitution the executive branch is elected annually by the student community. Representatives to the legislative body, the SGA Congress, are elected by residence units and the judicial branch is both appointed and elected.

The Student Executive Council has the responsibility for planning and presenting social, cultural and recreational programs and events on campus.

Carnival At Clark

The Parent-Teacher Association of Clark Elementary School will be holding a carnival at the school on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 6 p.m.

There will be games with prizes and refreshments available. Admission is 25 cents and door prizes will be given away.

Floyd County Students Serve As Resident Advisers

Eight Floyd County residents are among approximately 90 Morehead State University resident advisors this year.

They are: Vanessa Burke, Martin senior and daughter of Donnie and Billie Burke. She is majoring in special education. Janet Rene Caudill, Banner sophomore and daughter of Fredric and Janice Caudill. A biology major, she is a member of Prae-Medicorium.

Travis Crum, Martin junior and son of Donnie and Francaen Crum. A history major, he is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Kristi Elizabeth Hall, McDowell sophomore and daughter of Troy and Eula Hall. An accounting major, she is a member of Student Government Association, Gamma Beta Phi, and serves as Residence Hall Council president.

Brian K. Handshoe, Hueysville junior and son of Glenn and Lora Handshoe. He is majoring in elementary education.

Jeffrey Hughes, Martin sophomore and son of Curtis Hughes and Brenda Bishop. He is majoring in psychology.

Steven W. Hughes, Martin junior and son of Curtis Hughes and Brenda Bishop. An accounting and real estate major, he is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, Rho Epsilon, Accounting Club and an MSU Eagle Guide.

Rodney Sparkman, Minnie junior and son of Eugene and Ann Sparkman. He is majoring in sociology.

A resident advisor's role is to assist students in adjusting to campus and residence hall life. RAs work with students in building a community atmosphere and feeling of togetherness by helping to organize residence hall programs and activities. A resident advisor serves as an informational person about the campus and the residence hall.

Youth Program Available Through Big Sandy CAP, Inc.

The Big Sandy Area Community Action Program, Inc., will operate a youth program in Floyd County to serve economically disadvantaged school dropouts between the ages of 17 and 21 who are interested in obtaining a GED and employment.

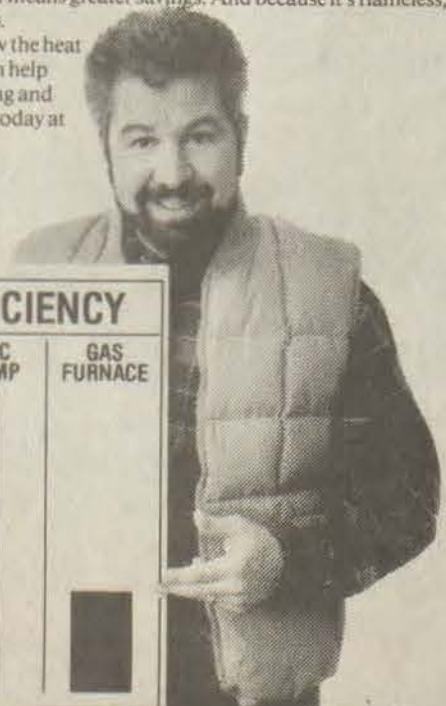

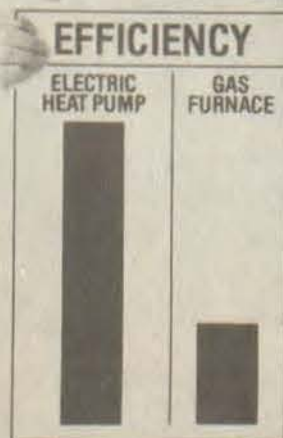

The program is funded by the Eastern Kentucky Concentrated Employment (EKCEP) of Hazard and the Department for Human Resources.

The program will begin on Monday, Nov. 13, and run for 13 weeks and is expected to lead to permanent employment. For more information contact the Floyd County CAP office on Route 1428, Allen, or call 874-2965. Applications will be taken Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Priority will be given to those applications received before Wednesday, Nov. 1.

"When you compare efficiencies, the Heat Pump beats the others 3 to 1."

When it comes to energy efficiencies, no other system comes close to the modern electric heat pump. Typically, existing gas furnaces range from 55% to 70% efficient. But the heat pump is up to 300% efficient! That means greater savings. And because it's flameless, it's cleaner and safer, too.

We'll show you how the heat pump's efficiency can help you lower your heating and cooling bills. Call us today at 1-800-422-1093.

Allen Central Academic Team Enthusiastic About Competing

This year, the Allen Central academic team is looking forward to a good year, and is expected to finish one of the best in the conference.

Although the academic team has a lot of new shoes to fill, Coach Joyce Watson says the elementary schools will help.

"I'm really excited about having so many new people who have had experience from grade school. Last year, Garrett Elementary won a game in the state tournament. So, I expect this group to develop into a great team," said Watson.

The first team meet was Oct. 21; the first quick recall meet was held Oct. 19.

"There seems to be more enthusiasm among the team," adds the coach.

Team members are Robyn Williams, William Wohlford, Chris Ousley, Robby Sexton, Diane Martin, Ronica Reid, Tara Branham, Scott Hall, Heather Watson, Matt Elliott, Delbert Goins, Patty Baldrige, Leah Martin, Donetta Martin, Johnny Stone, Magnus Edin and Missy Goble.

This year, all Thursday meets will be held at Allen Central. The team plans to participate in the academic Sweet 16, the Governor's Cup, the Kentucky Council of Teachers of Math exam, and the American High School Math Exam.

Getting Ready

Members of the Allen Central High School academic team, including Leah Martin, above, are getting into the swing of this year's academic competition. The ACHS squad is coached by Joyce Watson.

Nat'l Honor Roll

Robin L. Robinette, daughter of Rosetta Collins of McDowell and Jerry W. Robinette, who is in Alaska, has been selected to the National Honor Roll for maintaining the expected grade point average through her high school years. She is a member of Students Against Drunk Driving, and serves as co-editor of McDowell High School's yearbook staff. The senior is chapter president of the Future Homemakers of America, regional secretary of Future Homemakers of America, and is a banner carrier for the McDowell High School Marching Band.

Parent's Rights

By Joyce Everly

Someone once said, "Most people get the government they deserve." Does that apply to school systems, too?

Do the children of Floyd County deserve the kind of education they are getting? Maybe.

What school district are you in? Who is your school board member? Do you have a Student Handbook and Code of Conduct? If you do, have you read it? Have you ever attended a school board meeting? Have you ever attended an open house at your child's school?

The quality of Floyd County's educational system's future may depend on just how much we know and care about our schools.

I don't know of a single parent that, consciously, is willing to accept a school system that doesn't do an adequate job of teaching children, but

We, as uninvolved parents or citizens, may be a part of the reason for the poor quality of education in Floyd County. How? By our apathy. By our unwillingness to involve ourselves in what is going on in this school system. By allowing our school administration, board members, teachers, janitors, cooks, clerks and bus drivers to operate in a vacuum. By participating in the vote buying and selling at election time. By not demanding accountability of tax dollars.

We as parents and citizens can become part of the solution that helps to change the quality of education in Floyd County. How? By knowing the answers to the previous six questions. By knowing our rights as parents and citizens. By joining an educational organization. By attending school board meetings, volunteering at the schools (not just to sell cookies and candy, but by helping teachers with menial tasks so they are free to spend more quality time educating our children).

We can make a difference. How? By calling these resource people and joining their various organizations:

— Parent Volunteer Corps, Tamara Burchett, county coordinator, Allen Elementary, 874-2165; — School Community Partnership, Delores Smith, 874-2151 or 874-2894;

— Floyd County Education Forum, Delores Smith, 874-2151, 874-2894. Meetings are advertised in the Floyd County Times;

— Join your schools' parent-teacher organization (or start one if there isn't an active group)

— Pritchard Committee for Academic Excellence, P.O. Box 1658, Lexington, KY 40592 (get on their mailing list for information); — Attend school board meetings, which are the second Wednesday of each month at 6 p.m. Check the Floyd County Times or call the board office at 886-2354.

We may deserve the educational system we are getting, but our children don't. We have to get involved now!

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT 89-CI-017

First Commonwealth Bank of Prestonsburg, Ky., Plaintiff VS: NOTICE OF SALE

Ronnie G. Hicks, Cindy Hicks, his wife and Floyd County, Kentucky, Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the August 3, October 9 & October 17 term, 1989 in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 10 day of November, 1989, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of three (3) months, the following described property to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being on the waters of Steeles Creek of Right Beaver Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky, being the same property conveyed to Ronnie G. Hicks and Cindy Hicks, his wife, from Palmer Powers and Vickie Powers, his wife, by deed dated January 26, 1988, recorded in Deed Book 316, page 695, Floyd County Clerk's Office, being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a stake near the branch at Willie Howard's line and running 155 feet to a stake; thence an east direction on course around the hill 273 feet to a stake within 20 feet of Tony Mullins' line to the branch; thence with the branch to the beginning.

There is excepted and not hereby conveyed a certain tract or parcel of land previously conveyed Ronnie Hicks and Cindy Hicks from Palmer Powers and Vicky Lavond Powers by deed dated November 2, 1979, recorded in Deed Book 243, page 393, Floyd County Clerk's Office, being more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at Ethel Hicks line and State Highway R/W; thence with State Highway R/W down the creek fifty (50) feet to a stake, corner of Palmer Powers line; thence a straight line up the hill to a stake at Ethel Hicks line; thence with Ethel Hicks line around the hill about fifty (50) feet to Hicks line approximately two hundred fifty (250) feet to the beginning.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $2,593.44, accrued interest of $452.40 and interest thereon at 12% per annum from the 3rd day of August, 1989, until satisfied, and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

First Guaranty National Bank Martin, Ky.

KRS 151.250 and KRS 151.310, prohibit any construction or deposition of material in the floodplain without a permit having first been obtained from the Division of Water.

Any person who is planning to construct a fill, bridge, culvert, dam or building in the floodplain or floodway of a stream should contact the Floyd County Flood Coordinator, Ms. Janet Tackett, at the Courthouse Annex in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to determine whether or not their project requires a permit. The Department for Environmental Protection, Division of Water should also be contacted at the address below. In the event that the planned project lies within the floodplain or floodway, a permit must be granted by the Division of Water before the construction can begin. As required by law, our loan officers are advising all borrowers of the permit requirements prior to lending money for construction in the floodplain.

If you require additional information you may contact the Department for Environmental Protection, Division of Water, Hazard Regional Office, Hazard, Kentucky 41701 or telephone (606) 439-2391. 10-25-4tW.
