Speaking of and for Floyd County

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1989

Splish, Splash

Pull open the drapes and watch the cloudiness increase today...so says the meteorologist at the Jackson Weather Station. There's a 30 percent chance of showers in those clouds, continuing on into tonight. Temperatures are expected to range from the lower 80s during the day to 60-65 at night.

The odds for rain get even better tomorrow, with a 50 percent chance of showers, but the skies are expected to clear somewhat in the evening. Thursday's high is supposed to be around 80, with the nighttime low around 60. Look for mostly fair skies Friday with highs in the 70s.

Mud Creek Clinic Open House Tonight

The Mud Creek Clinic will sponsor an open house tonight (Wednesday, Sept. 13) from 5 to 7 p.m.

The public is invited, and free anemia screenings will be provided for children under age 5. In addition, a board-certified pediatrician will be present to discuss test results. Anemia screenings are recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics.

On hand will be Tony Mounts, pediatrician; Beth Laine, GP; Beth Schmidt, PA; and Eula Hall, the clinic's founder.

Caucus Club To Discuss UMWA, Coal Strike

The Caucus Club of Prestonsburg Community College will hold a meeting Thursday, Sept. 21, to discuss the Pittston Coal Strike and the future of the United Mine Workers within the coal industry.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in room 207 of the Magoffin Building at PCC.

Charles Dixon, UMWA International Executive Board member from District 30, will be the guest speaker.

The meeting is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Dr. Tom Matijasic, 886-3863, extension 246.

Bids Open

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet is advertising for bids to work on the guardrail on US 23 from just north of KY 114 to the south end of the bridge over the Levisa Fork.

The department is also advertising for bridge deck restoration and waterproofing for various Floyd County roads.

Dairy Meeting

The fall district meeting for area members of the American Dairy Association will be held Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. at Mount Sterling Community College in Mt. Sterling.

Hornet Reunion

Crew members of the USS Hornet who served in the US Navy from 1943 to 1946 will hold their fifth reunion Saturday, Sept. 16, at noon at the Paintsville Lake Recreation Area.

All members and their families are invited to attend, and are asked to bring a covered dish.

For more information, call 789-3165 or 789-4311.

Floyd Man Still In Jail For Holding Two Hostage

A 64-year-old Floyd County man is in jail on $150,000 cash bond after holding his wife and stepdaughter hostage Saturday night.

Sid Blizzard, 64, of Estill Bottom, is charged with alcohol intoxication, disorderly conduct and three counts of first degree wanton endangerment.

According to Floyd County Sheriff's Deputy Anthony Castle, Blizzard and his wife, Lillie Fay, had argued about use of the couple's vehicle. Mrs. Blizzard would not let her husband, who reportedly had been drinking, use the car, said Castle.

Blizzard threatened his wife and stepdaughter, Carla Huff, 25, with a gun, Castle said. Mrs. Blizzard faked a heart attack and escaped, going to a neighbor's to contact police. Her stepdaughter escaped shortly afterwards.

Castle said when he arrived, Blizzard was "standing on the porch with a gun. I just kept talking to him." Castle grabbed the gun and wrestled it away from Blizzard, arrested him and took him to the county jail.

Child Hit By Car, But Escapes Injury

A four-year-old boy was struck by a car Saturday morning on Ky. 1428 in Martin when he ran between two parked cars and into the road, according to a Martin Police Department report.

He was apparently not seriously injured.

The driver of the car was Jane C. Burke of Lexington, who attempted to stop but hit the child in "the hip area," according to the report. The child was reportedly taken to Our Lady of the Way Hospital where he was treated and released.

The name of the child was not included in the report, but his mother was listed as Joanne Sammons of Martin. The accident occurred at about 11 a.m., the report said.

There's A Moral Here Somewhere

The two copperhead snakes in Frank and Ann Bradley's barn Monday morning obviously weren't too happy. Somehow they both managed to get their tails caught in a rat trap the Bradleys had set to catch the vermin that had been filching the feed for the geese and ducks. So when Ann went into the barn to get breakfast for her flocks, the two vipers angrily struck at her. Fortunately for her, unfortunately for them, they couldn't get to her because of their predicament. The Conley Fork woman quickly dispatched the couple to snake heaven — or wherever. "I was shaking so bad, I just left the feed in the barn," the serpent slayer recalls. A little later she did muster courage to show off her victims, their tails still in the trap. One measured 35-1/2 inches long and the other, minus its head, was 26 inches long. The Bradleys claim vengeance has been wrought; they believe one of the snakes killed a family dog a month or so ago.

Council Discusses Insurance, Accepts Improvement Bids

After close to an hour of discussion, Prestonsburg City Council members agreed Monday evening to renew its employee insurance package with Blue Cross/Blue Shield, despite a 20 percent increase in premium costs.

Council members heard Blue Cross representative Earl Litton recap the proposal that was presented at an earlier meeting and independent agent Ron Gullett explain a "wraparound" proposal.

Gullett's proposal was to go with a Blue Cross policy with a $500 deductible and 80 percent payment of medical expenses up to $2500, after which 100 percent coverage would kick in. Gullett proposed adding a second policy, possibly at employee expense, that would pay $400 of the deductible and cover 100 percent of expenses. He estimated cost of the "wrap" policy at about $25 per month per individual premium.

The idea of increasing the deductible that would apparently lower the city's insurance costs and giving employees the option to pick up the "wrap" policy did not generate much positive reaction. Fire chief Thomas Blackburn said, "If we went with more (payroll) deductions, I don't think half of my employees could make it. You cannot keep taking deductions."

City administrator Fred James pointed out that every year the issue of increased benefits versus pay raises comes up for council discussion. "I

More Than A Dozen Arrested At Desperado

Several patrons of the Desperado Lounge at Brandy Keg were arrested Saturday night on charges of alcohol intoxication and disorderly conduct by members of the Floyd County Sheriff's Department and the Kentucky State Police.

According to Deputy Anthony Castle, shots were fired into the bar, and a fight was in progress when authorities arrived.

Three rounds were fired from outside the establishment through the door. No one was injured by the shooting, he said. However, at least one person sustained injuries during fighting which ensued, and was transported from the scene by P&B Ambulance Service.

Deputy Ricky Thornberry also responded for the Sheriff's Department. Both he and Castle arrested three persons, and approximately 10 others were arrested by state police.

Names of all individuals charged were not available.

"There had been a lot of fighting," said Thornberry. "Apparently, two men were fighting and some women got into it somehow."

Two sheriff's department units and four state police units were dispatched to the scene.

"The bar was crowded. It was just a mess," Thornberry added.

The sheriff's deputies said they plan to talk to County Attorney David Barber about the incident, to "see if there is any possible solution to this, including shutting it down," said Thornberry. "The case will be pending the county attorney's recommendation for further action."

Floyd Grand Jury Indicts 48 On Criminal Charges

Charges stemming from a shooting death and an automobile fatality top the list of indictments handed down Friday by the Floyd County grand jury in its third session of the year.

Darling Newsome of Wayland has been indicted on a charge of first degree manslaughter in the shooting death of Carl Ray Martin. Martin, then 39, who was allegedly shot once in the right side with a shotgun outside the residence of Will Bryant on Stamper Branch, near Wayland, on June 4. Martin was pronounced dead at the scene by Coroner Roger Nelson.

A charge of reckless homicide was levied in an indictment against Kevin Hall of McDowell. Hall's indictment arises from a head on collision July 11 on KY 122, two miles east of McDowell, when the car Hall was driving allegedly struck a vehicle driven by Buster Spears, 44, of Hi Hat. Spears died later that day at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital.

Indictments by a grand jury indicate sufficient evidence exists to pursue cases. They do not indicate guilt or innocence.

Three indictments were handed down on charges of arson. Eddie Bradley of Martin was charged with second degree arson for "starting a fire with intent to destroy or damage George Hale's house." Also charged with second degree arson was Floyd Carr of Prestonsburg, relative to a fire at the home of Tyrone Chaffins. Also charged in the same fire was Marty Chaffins of Prestonsburg, who was indicted for conspiracy to commit arson.

Five cases involving drugs were included in the grand jury presentation. Phillip Booth of McDowell was indicted for trafficking in a schedule II, controlled substance, allegedly selling 20 Tylox to a confidential informant.

Jeffery D. Collins and Barbara Elinberry, both of New Madison, Ohio, were indicted for trafficking in marijuana, specifically with having about two pounds of the substance in their possession with alleged intent to sell. The pair also received a separate indictment for possession of cocaine.

Charged with two counts of attempting to obtain a controlled substance by forged prescription was Virgil Conn of Martin. The indictment states that the alleged attempts were made at Wal-Mart Pharmacy, one for Tylenol #3 and the other for Valium.

Also indicted on drug charges was Ricky Johnson of Wheelwright, who is accused of trafficking in marijuana, specifically possessing three pounds of the substance "with intent to sell." Indicted for cultivating more than five plants of marijuana were Connie Mitchell and Phillip Hall, no address available.

Cret Caudill of McDowell was indicted on six counts of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended or revoked. The counts cover third through eighth offenses. Also indicted on the same charge were Earl Ray Johnson of Topmost, third and fourth offenses; Christopher Lawson of Harold, third and fourth offenses, and Randolph Jacobs Jr. of Wayland, third offense.

An indictment for food stamp fraud was handed to Mack Jerry Collins of Honaker, accused of receiving fraudulent benefits in the amount of $3,978 in food stamp bonus.

Thirteen indictments pertained to some type of theft. Larry Adkins of Pikeville was indicted on a charge of theft by failure to make required disposition of property. He is accused of converting to his own use more than $100 "while he was under obligation to pay said monies to materialmen by agreement with J&R Construction Co."

The same type of charge was made

School Board Meets Tonight

The Floyd County School board will meet tonight at 6 p.m. in the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria, following an agenda filled with primarily routine business.

The board will provide a due process hearing for a bus driver whose contract has been recommended for termination, and a separate due process hearing concerning a student expulsion.

Board members will likewise discuss approving a physical therapy contract, a contract between the district and Big Sandy Community Action Program for meals, and will discuss Francis Water Company's request to provide water service for the new Wayland-Garrett Elementary School.

In personnel matters, the board will hear the superintendent's rec-

Street Dance Planned Saturday

The teen advisory board of the Prestonsburg Youth Center is planning a free street dance in Prestonsburg this Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m., on Court and Front streets.

Music will be from the 1950s and '60s, and those attending are asked to dress in appropriate costumes.

Two $50 savings bonds will be given — one each to the girl and boy wearing the best costumes.

The board is planning additional activities in October.

Using the Old Solar Clothes Dryer

Old Sol provides all the drying power anyone needs on these hot summer days. No use wasting electricity. However, it is hard to imagine how long it took to wash all of these duds, recently spotted hanging on Middle Creek lines. Talk about Monday washday blues. Someone here's got 'em.

Inez Man Dies In Crash

BOONS CAMP — An Inez man was killed Tuesday afternoon in an automobile crash at Boons Camp in Johnson County. Woodrow Meek Jr., 45, was traveling west on Ky. 40 "at a high rate of speed," according to Kentucky State Police spokesman Ghomer Prater, when the car he was driving left the roadway, hit an embankment, overturned, then skidded back across the road. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Johnson County Coroner Bryan Fraley, according to Prater. The accident, which occurred at about 5:50 p.m., is being investigated by KSP Tpr. Earl Gorrell.

Companies Sue Man, Bank

PIKEVILLE — Two Pike County companies have filed suit against First National Bank of Pikeville and Caleb Cooley, alleging fraud and liability. Pikeville Medical Associates and Pikeville Surgical Center claim that Cooley, as their accountant, diverted their funds into his own account through his access to the companies' accounts at the bank. About $335,795 is involved in the suit, which alleges that a total of 77 checks were written by Cooley against the companies' accounts. Cooley is formerly of Floyd County. (Appalachian News-Express)

KSP Nabs Three

PIKEVILLE — Kentucky State Police over the weekend arrested three men for trafficking in marijuana. Walter David Williamson of Mullins and Leroy Justice and Victory L. Green, both of Battle Creek, Mich., were charged and jailed after KSP officers reportedly found 3.5 pounds of marijuana in their car. The trio had been under surveillance for suspected drug activity. (Appalachian News-Express)

Library Gets New Leaf

PAINTSVILLE — The Johnson County Public Library was the scene Sunday of an open house to show off the facility's $75,000 refurbishing. The redecorating of the 20-year-old building was made possible through a matching grant from the state Department of Libraries. The library apparently also relied a good bit on volunteer efforts of community members. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Pike Jury Undecided

PIKEVILLE — A Pike Circuit Court jury could not reach a verdict recently in the trial of Phamon Tackett of Virgie, who had been charged in the death of a 9-year-old when he passed a stopped school bus at Shelbyana last September. Tackett, a former Elkhorn City High School teacher, is expected to be retried with a new jury. (Appalachian News-Express)

Squirrel Fest Winners Tote More Than Acorns

While the crowd estimated at around 6,000 ate, listened to music and relaxed, the competitors were busy vying for trophies and ribbons at Sunday's Squirrel Festival at Slone Mountain.

Winners of the greasy pole climb were Josh Slone, Eddie Richie and Jake Poston, with Chrissy Tackett and Jennifer Miller taking top honors in rope skipping. Tackett also won the girls' 40-yard dash competition, while Jonathan Paige won in the boys' heat.

Winning the girls' sack race for the second year in a row was Tara Branham. Tarrence Mullins outsocked his opponents in the boys' version of the race.

In the cavers' crazy crawl contest, ages 7 and under, Jesse William Woods was the winner, with Cristy Ousley winning in the 8-13 age group. Ray Osborne and Chris Waugh won the egg pitching contests. Successful entrants in the greasy pig competition were Brenda Williams and Buddy Jervis.

On the adult side, Richard Huff and Pat Stanfield continued their winning horseshoe tradition. Both have won in their categories every year since 1983.

In the annual prize drawing, Girdle Moore won the lever action 30-30 Winchester rifle, and Von Prater won a microwave oven.

Grethel Home Destroyed By Fire

Tom Sparks lost his two-story home at Branham's Creek, Grethel, to fire on Friday, Sept. 8, according to Willa Tackett, wife of Mud Creek Fire Chief Glenn Tackett.

She said that the fire department arrived on the scene at about 10:15, after receiving a phone call from the neighbors, but the flames were already out of control.

Six fire fighters worked until 12:30 putting out the blaze; the cause is still under investigation. Tackett said that she was uncertain if the family was home when the fire started. It allegedly began on the top floor in the back of the house. The family was at the scene when the fire trucks arrived. There were no injuries, according to Tackett.

Kermit Bell, right, a neighbor, picks some of the cherry tomatoes, also known as "Tommy Toes." "The plant came up on its own. I didn't plant it, and I haven't watered or hoed it." The still-growing plant sports a number of blooms, and Meade continues to keep mowing around it to see how large it will get.

Civic Groups' Blood Drive Among Best For Local Center

The "Battle for the Blood," a first-ever blood drive sponsored by four local civic organizations last week, resulted in 125 pints of blood for the Prestonsburg office of the Central Kentucky Blood Center.

"Other than the annual Donorama each Christmas at the Holiday Inn, this is the best we've ever, ever had," said Georgia Sanders of the blood center staff. She said 154 persons came to the center to donate during the Tuesday through Friday event.

"We were about 400 pints low on our set inventory," Sanders said. "This came at a really good time."

Prestonsburg Rotary Club recruited the highest number of donors, followed by Prestonsburg Jaycees, Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club and Martin Kiwanis Club. Rotary will keep a plaque noting its achievement until the next civic club blood drive.

The winner of the prize for a business or organization sending the most employees or constituents to donate blood was the David School. The school will receive free advertising on WPRT-WXKZ radio, donated by Ed Walters.

Donors who won door prizes include Robert Herrick of Prestonsburg, a $50 portrait package from Porter Studios, donated by First Commonwealth Bank; Alex Johnson of Prestonsburg, a free 11x14 portrait, donated by Porter Studios; Don Combs of Auxier, 12 lottery tickets, donated by Floppy Mart; John W. Mann of Prestonsburg, a coffeemaker donated by Big Sandy RECC; Anne Chaney of Prestonsburg, $50 savings bond donated by County Clerk Carla Bolton; Mark Brown of Hager Hill, $50 savings bond from Bank Josephine.

Also, Christine Compton of Allen, three months of free HBO from Cablevision; Betty C. Blackburn of Prestonsburg, Sears gift certificate; Peggy Thompson of Hueysville, gift certificate from Castle's Jewelry; Billie Hall of Banner, gift certificate from Food Lyon; Regina Lafferty of Prestonsburg, free X-rays and dental exam from Dr. Anita Hale; Audrey Scarberry of Manton, skirt and sweater set from Christian Appalachian Project; John Hurd of David, free bowling games from Rebel Lanes, and Ricky Moore of McDowell, gift certificate from Raggs Emporium.

Winners may pick up their prizes at the blood center, located on the second floor of the Municipal Building in Prestonsburg.

On the average, a person takes in about 16,000 gallons of water during his or her life.

P'burg Police Report Stolen Truck, Accidents

A 1989 Ford pick up truck, black over red, was apparently stolen from Highlands Plaza parking lot Monday night, according to a Prestonsburg Police Department report.

The truck is owned by Bryan Whitten of Prestonsburg. As of Tuesday afternoon, the vehicle had not been recovered.

Among accidents reported was one Sunday involving vehicles driven by Christopher T. Judd and Beverly McGuire, both of Prestonsburg. McGuire's vehicle was reportedly stopped at a light at the corner of Court Street and Ky. 1428 when it was struck in the rear by the vehicle operated by Judd. Sgt. Mike Ormerod investigated.

The intersection of US 23 and Branham Street was the scene of an accident Friday in which a vehicle driven by Stallard Martin of Grethel was struck in the side while attempting to make a left hand turn. Driver of the other vehicle was Elizabeth Clary of Prestonsburg. Officer Roy Roberts responded to the call.

An accident last Wednesday on US 23 in the city involved vehicles driven by Wayne Spence of Winchester and Alice Chapman of Tomahawk. Spence's vehicle apparently passed a turn off and backed up, striking the Chapman vehicle, according to a report by Cpt. G. Hall.

Travis R. Sparks of Prestonsburg and Patricia Reynolds of Martin were the drivers of vehicles involved in a Sept. 5 accident at the intersection of Graham Street and South Arnold Avenue. According to Officer John Hunt, the Reynolds vehicle was traveling east on Graham when it struck the Sparks vehicle which was traveling north on Arnold.

History Of Local Reader Enjoys May-Fitzpatrick Pictures Of Area House Recounted

Dear Editor,
The article about the May-Fitzpatrick house featured in the Floyd County Times, Sept. 6, 1989, was long on architecture but left out the history, which is well known by the older natives of Prestonsburg.

Andrew Jackson May was born in 1829, a son of Catherine Evans and Samuel May, who built the first brick house in Prestonsburg in 1817, still standing. Andrew, as he was called, grew up in Prestonsburg and became a prominent lawyer, well known in Eastern Kentucky for his legal expertise. He gained even more prominence during the Civil War. He became a Colonel in the Fifth Infantry of the Confederate Army. He recruited men, supplies and guns all over Eastern Kentucky.

Colonel A.J. May was the commanding officer in the Battle of Ivy Mountain in 1861. Much more could be said about this well known and respected man, but let's get to the building of the house in question.

Colonel A.J. May did not build the house. After the Civil War, he moved his family to Tazewell, Va., became wealthy and stayed in Tazewell until his death May 3, 1903.

He married first Mary Matilda Davidson, sister to Samuel P. Davidson Jr. After the death of Matilda he married Nell Davidson, niece of Matilda. Nell and Colonel A.J. May had one son named Colonel, born May 1, 1903.

After her husband died, Nell returned to Prestonsburg and built the beautiful house on South Arnold Avenue. Sometime after her death in 1919, the house was sold.

Sally Davidson, grandmother of present owner Buddy Fitzpatrick, was a niece of Matilda. Also, the second wife, Nell Davidson, was a first cousin to Sally.

Congratulations!

Dear Editor,
Congratulations on getting a second issue in the week.

Keep up the good work, and who knows — one day we may be able to read the Times seven days a week.

Mrs. Ray Burchett,
Ashland

Dear Editor,
I just wanted to say I sure do enjoy the pictures of Kentucky in the Floyd County Times.

They are so beautiful it makes me want to catch a plane and rush home, but I have a house to sell before I come home. Keep on printing the pictures in the paper.

I enjoy my paper so much, I don't know what I would do if I didn't get it to keep up with what is going on in Kentucky.

LWV Calls For Finance Reform

Dear Editor,

The League of Women Voters of Kentucky calls on our representatives in Washington to commit themselves to meaningful debate on a vitally critical issue facing the American electorate: campaign finance reform. Partisan politics has so far placed the issue in "committee limbo." With the House and Senate soon to convene and 1990 races looming, Congress must act now.

The average price for a successful congressional race in 1988 was approximately $3 million for a Senate seat and $350,000 for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives. Total spending for those congressional campaigns exceeded $450 million, representing nearly a four-fold increase in spending since 1976. Based on current projections, the 1990 federal races will continue this pattern of escalating campaign costs.

These staggering figures have set up prohibitive financing hurdles for qualified candidates and are largely responsible for the increasingly influential political role special interest groups have with elected officials. Special interest groups contributed almost 34 percent of all receipts for House and Senate races in 1988, with an even higher percentage earmarked for ranking congressional members. More and more, calls for the reform of present campaign finance rules are being heard from all sectors, including incumbent politicians.

The League of Women Voters of Kentucky urges Congress to enact comprehensive legislation that will:

— Curb the undue influence of large special interest group contributors and wealthy individuals;

— Provide public benefits for congressional candidates who accept voluntary spending limits;

— Restore federal tax credits for political contributions by individuals;

— Provide for limits and full disclosure on such questionable campaigned practices designed to circumvent existing campaign laws such as "soft money" and "bundling" of contributions;

— Repeal the "grandfather clause," which permits certain members of Congress to retain unspent political contributions for personal use once they leave office;

— Support reforms that will enable the Federal Election Commission to more vigorously monitor and enforce campaign finance laws.

By acting now Congress can enable future candidates to compete more equitably and effectively prevent the undue influence on elected officials. Without action, suspect campaign spending practices, will undoubtedly further erode both the confidence and trust of the American people in our representative government.

Sincerely,
Mary T. Wakefield,
LWVKY President

Were Flash Fans Overcharged At Reunion Dance?

Dear Editor,
This letter is in reply to a letter published in the Sept. 6 edition of the Floyd County Times.

The homecoming at Martin for all the alumni of the Purple Flash school was a great success. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the renewal of old friends and classmates. The entertainment was great, the food was good, and the genuine enthusiasm of all was of high report.

The only fault was the misrepresentation of the charge of $10 per couple (at the dance). All single classmates and divorcees, widows and so on were also charged the same fee. This should be taken into account in the future. Anyone who comes alone should not have to pay the same.

A faithful, but concerned fan,

Urges Support Of Proposed Bill

Dear Editor,
I want to encourage everyone who will do so to write their senators and representatives concerning House Bill No. HR 1684, "Foods Are Not Drugs Act" of 1989. When enacted, the bill will exempt food from the statutory definition of a drug.

Write Sen. Wendell H. Ford and Sen. Mitch McConnell at the Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20510. Write Rep. Chris Perkins at the Longworth House Building, Washington, D.C., 20515. Ask them to support and cosponsor the bill.

Sincerely,
Irene Hayes
Hueysville

Washington Report

By Congressman Carl C. Perkins

BUSH DRUG BILL FALLS SHORT ON NEW FUNDING

I applaud President Bush's attention and initiatives in regard to the nation's drug problem. However, the funding requested by Bush falls far too inadequate to wage a successful war against drugs.

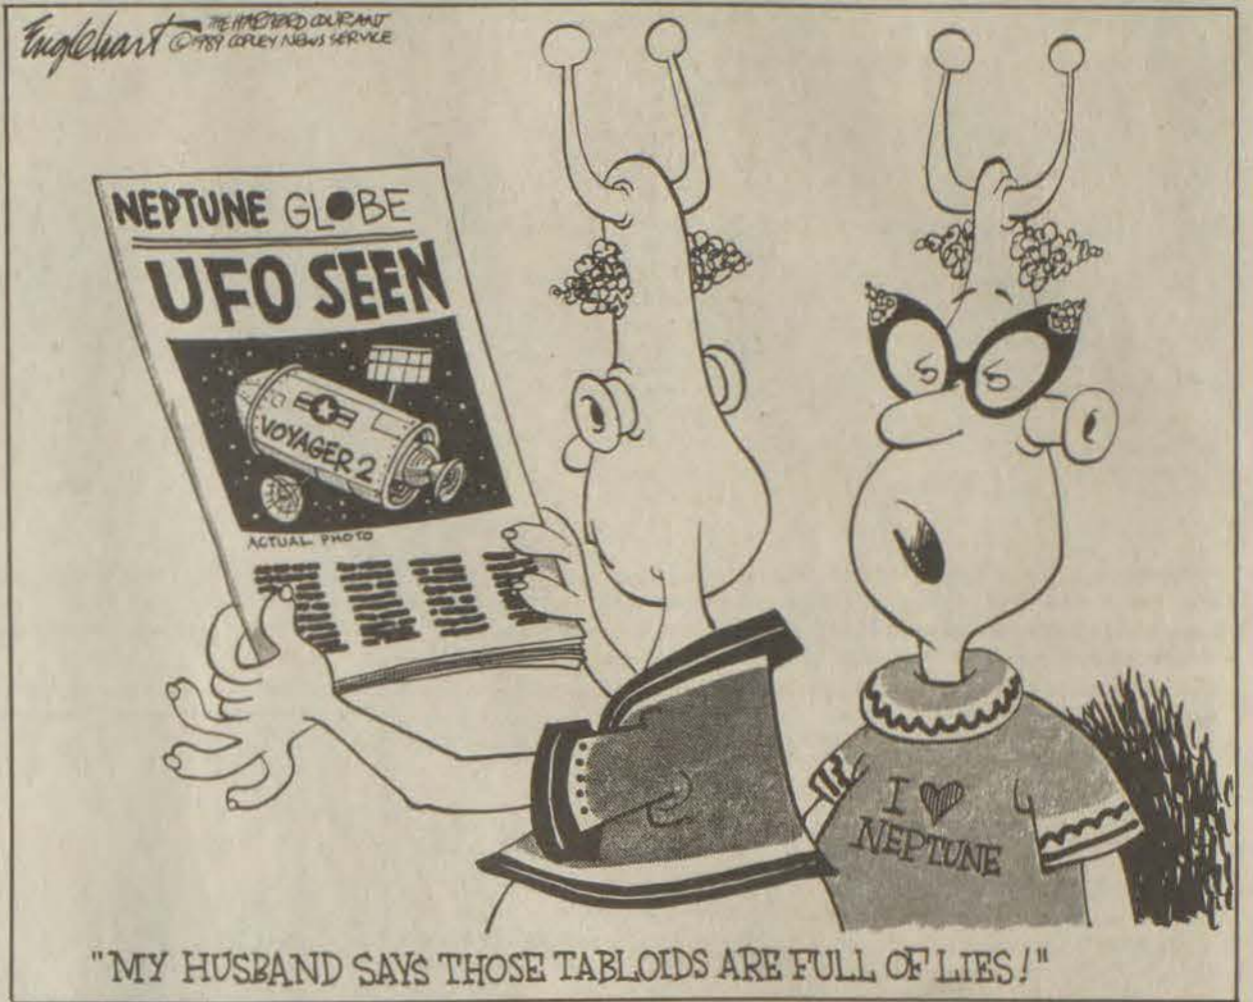

We're facing an all-out crisis in our nation and in our world. Drug abuse and drug-related crimes are quickly escalating beyond our control. And as you well know, the drug problem has not remained confined to the big cities, but has spread to our nation's rural areas as well.

While I admire President Bush's recognition of the seriousness of this situation, it is time we realize that the drug problem cannot be solved by simple political rhetoric. Bush's plan moves in the right direction and offers some good ideas. However, the small amount of money, less than 1 percent of the federal budget, with which he proposes to accomplish these lofty goals, falls short of what is needed.

We need greater funding for drug education and treatment. Though Bush's program provides more treatment programs, his increase will only reach about one-fourth of the people who need drug treatment. In addition, we need greater funding for the salaries of the our men and women working on the front lines of the drug wars. They deserve to earn a livable wage.

I believe that the drug problem is the greatest war our nation is fighting today. Our budget priorities should reflect this fact. I will be working closely with members of Congress to work out the details of this plan to ensure that actions rather than rhetoric are used to fight this war.

Report to Kentucky

SENATOR WENDELL FORD
U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510

A JOINT EFFORT TO HELP KENTUCKY COMMUNITIES

I was able to visit with local and regional groups across Kentucky during the Senate's August recess, and in each case I was impressed with the progress being made to meet the challenges facing our state.

This certainly was the case at the recent convention of the Kentucky League of Cities, a group representing large and small cities in every part of Kentucky. Formerly known as the Kentucky Municipal League, this group was celebrating its 60th anniversary and planning to dedicate its first permanent headquarters located in Lexington. The League, along with the Kentucky Association of Counties, is making great progress toward providing many of our communities with funds for improvements ranging from the purchase of new fire trucks to the construction of desperately needed jails.

I am pleased to have been able to play a role in allowing Kentucky communities to receive such funds through joint bond issues. I was greatly honored to receive the League's highest award to a public official, its Municipal Leadership Award, at the recent convention.

Our communities are just beginning to reap the benefits of the bond-issue measure that I was able to help shepherd through the 100th Congress in its final hours in October 1988. One of the technical corrections to the Tax Reform Act of 1986, this measure allows our cities and counties to band together to float public-improvement bond issues totaling $370 million.

Joint bond issues can be critically important financial vehicles for communities too small to float bond issues of their own. But the Tax Reform Act severely restricted the use of these tax-exempt vehicles because of financial abuses not involving Kentucky.

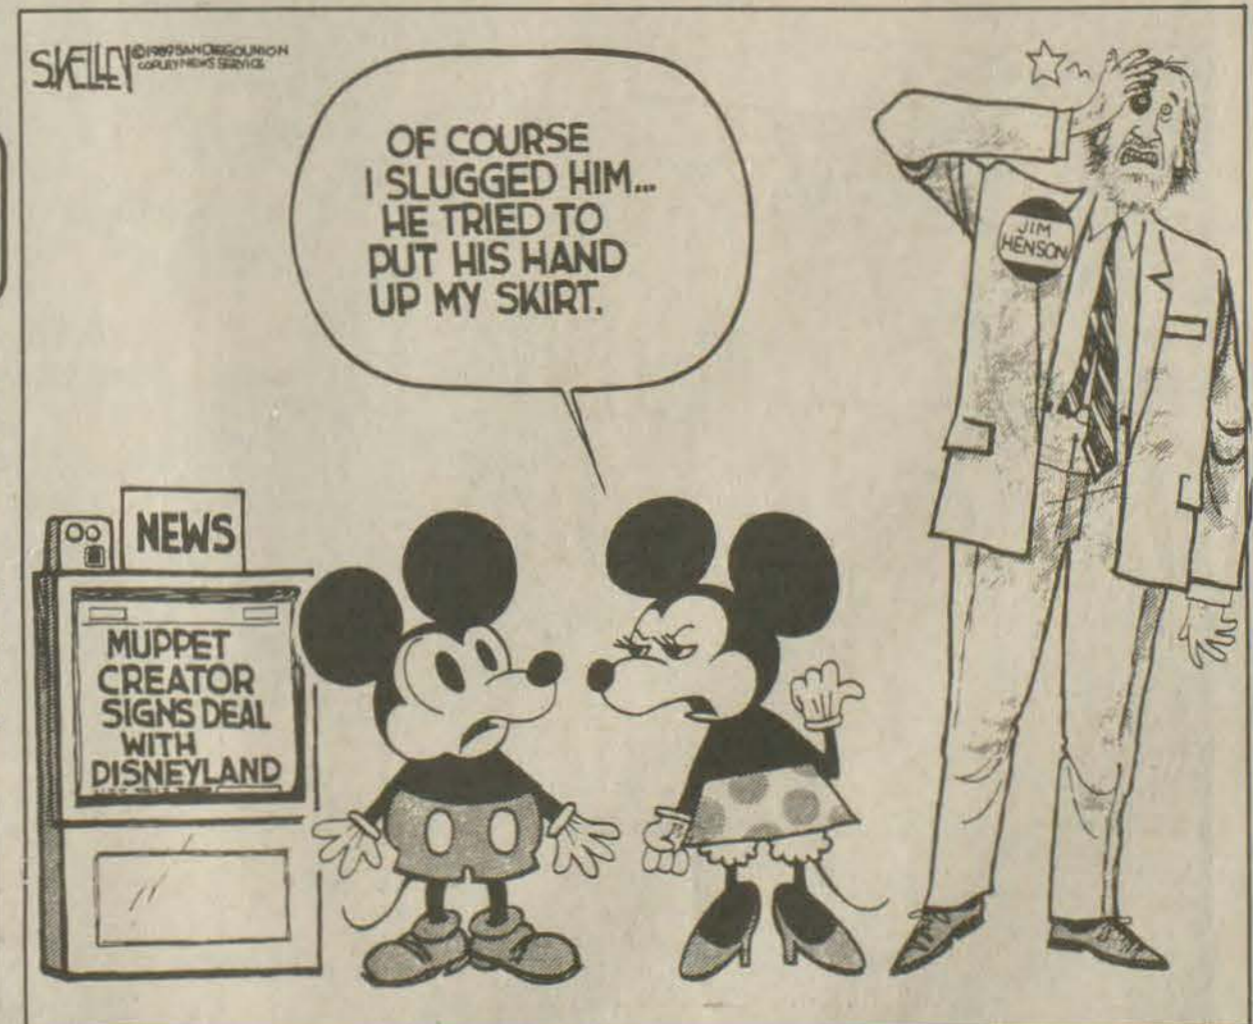

This blow hit our Kentucky communities at a time when they already were absorbing the loss of general revenue sharing — a devastating loss of federal assistance for many of our smaller communities. It also came at a time when many of our smaller communities were moving to float a much-needed joint bond issue under the old tax laws.

Fortunately, after a long struggle marked by many legislative complications, we were able to win passage of our measure granting transitional relief to communities in Kentucky and 10 other states.

This measure allows us to raise $170 million in a bond issue program administered by the Kentucky League of Cities and $200 million in a similar program handled by the Kentucky Association of Counties. Each of these groups now has issued its bonds and selected its first recipients. The City of Franklin is soon to receive funds for street improvements and other work, with Pike County getting funds for county vehicles and other equipment.

Scores of other communities across Kentucky will benefit from our joint bond issues in the months ahead. I am proud of the work being done by the groups issuing these bonds. And I am increasingly convinced that we can all benefit in these difficult times from an honest, working partnership of Kentuckians at all levels of government.

against Edward Scutchfield of Water Gap, who is accusing of selling two mules, valued at more than $100 and owned by Burnis Martin, and against Timmy Bryant of Teaberry, accused of renting a VCR from McDowell Video and failing to return it when due.

A theft by deception charge was levied against Maudie Crum of Eastern, accused of issuing an uncovered check for $25,000 to Ed Walters. Jimmy Crisp of Martin was also indicted for theft by deception on a charge of issuing a check to Warren Edwards Tire Co. in the amount of more than $738 "knowing said check would not be honored by drawee."

Two counts of theft by deception resulted in the indictment of Bobby Blackburn of Pikeville, who is accused of issuing two uncashable checks to Ricky Johnson, one for more than $262 and the other for more than $680. Theft by deception was also the charge against Peter Herzog of Swanton, Ohio, alleged to have issued a bad check for more than $4,300 to May's Body. Lois Johnson of Weeksbury was also indicted for theft by deception for alleging issuing a check to Hall's Bypro Market for more than $132, knowing the check would not be honored.

An indictment for two counts of theft by unlawful taking was given to Susan Clark of Pikeville, accused of taking more than $1,125 and $105 that belonged to John M. Stumbo School. Jimmy Craft of West Prestonsburg and Eddie Frank Craft and William Doug Nelson, both of Prestonsburg, were the subjects of an indictment for theft by unlawful taking in connection with the alleged theft of aluminum rails worth more than $100 from Bush and Burchett.

Harold Damron of Honaker was also indicted for theft by unlawful taking for allegedly taking concrete forms worth more than $100 from Akers and Akers Construction Co. The same offense was the source of an indictment against Shannon Riser and Eric Eugene Allen, both of Royalton, accused of taking tools worth more than $100 from Kenneth Taylor, and of an indictment against Johnny Joe Poe of West Prestonsburg, charged with taking a three-ton heating and cooling unit owned by Robert Hopkins.

Indictments for two counts of receiving stolen property were brought against Kevin Hutchinson and Alvin Newsome, both of Teaberry. They are accused of receiving a Pepsi machine, belonging to East Kentucky Beverage, and a Lance Snack machine, belonging to Lance Inc., apparently knowing the items were stolen. Paul Keathley of Galveston was also indicted for receiving stolen property, specifically tools belonging to Kenneth Hunter.

Indictments on charges of second degree burglary were given to James M. Howell of Prestonsburg and William Spencer, no address listed, accused of unlawfully entering the house of Johnny Clifton, and to Scotty Wright of Martin, accused of unlawfully entering the house of Ernie Duddleston Jr. First degree criminal conspiracy to burglary was the subject of an indictment handed to Curt Jervis Jr. and Angel Slone, both of Cow Creek, for unlawfully entering Duddleston's house.

Clifford Jarrell Jr. of Prestonsburg was indicted for second degree assault upon Jack Clark Hyden.

Two counts of first degree wanton endangerment were in an indictment against Ronnie Rowe of Martin. He is accused of driving his vehicle through a Kentucky State Police road check and creating "substantial danger" to KSP Troopers James D. Justice and Steve Auvenshine.

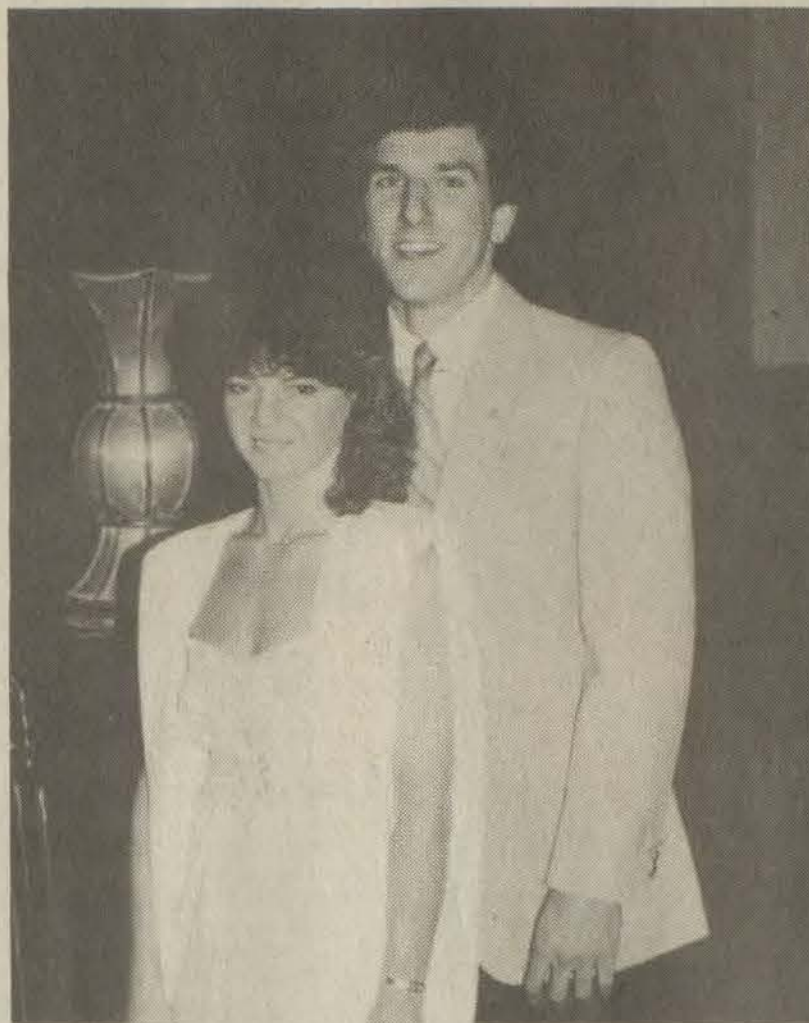

Seven counts of forgery were in an indictment against Randy Yates of Banner. He is accused of forging seven checks, totaling $1,642, on the account of Leonard Conn or Wanda Harris, drawn on First Guaranty National Bank. Sam Shepherd of West Prestonsburg was indicted on two counts of forgery, stemming from charges that he forged checks for $200 and $180 on the account of Lonnie Coots, drawn on First Commonwealth Bank.

Indicted for flagrant non-support, failing to support a child, were Kendall Layne of Prestonsburg and Terry

Moore of Martin. Allegedly, both had previously been ordered by Floyd District Court to pay support for their children.

Rodney Blackburn of Endicott was indicted for first degree bail jumping for allegedly failing to appear for trial on a felony charge in Floyd Circuit Court.

New Winn Dixie Manager

The new manager of Winn Dixie, Gerald Whisman, and his wife, Pamela, recently moved to the area. Mr. Whisman was transferred from the Breathitt County Winn Dixie, and says he plans improvements to the local store. Ms. Whisman is a real estate agent for Century 21 Classic Realty in Pikeville, and hopes to work in the Floyd County area. The Whismans have one daughter.

Nelson Indicted

Grady Nelson, 52, of Prestonsburg, was recently indicted by a federal grand jury in Lexington on two drug-related counts.

According to Louis DeFalaise, US Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, Nelson was indicted on two counts of possession with intent to distribute and distribution of cocaine, in violation of federal criminal law.

If convicted, Nelson faces a maximum 40 years in prison and a $2 million fine. The indictment was the result of an investigation by officers of the Kentucky State Police Post 9 in Pikeville.

Talk Is Always Part Of Stumbo Store Trade

By Gwen Hall, Freelance Writer
Foster Stumbo seldom occupies the corner behind the cash register of the Stumbo Store in McDowell alone. Three well-worn chairs testify that conversations are as much a part of the trade as groceries.

Stumbo describes the business as a "country store" that was one of several in McDowell when he opened it in 1944.

"People traded locally then," he says. "At that time there were four or five stores and we all made a living at

it. I started in a wooden building that stood where the service station next door stands now. It was smaller than this one and we kept adding to it.

"I used to live behind the hospital (McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital) and it would get broken into at night. So eventually we built this two-story concrete block building with living quarters above it."

Stumbo, who worked 17 years in the mines and 20 years as a school bus driver, says it was his wife who got him into the grocery business.

"My wife had the knack for running a business. She was a good storewoman. She knew how to manage and buy. She knew everybody on Left Beaver and everybody trusted her. She made money too. Every time she wanted to buy a new car or anything else, she had the money to buy it."

The Stumbos worked long hours. Foster would leave in the wee hours for the mines and his wife would open the store about 7:30 a.m.

"I'd come in about three or four o'clock from the mines and start delivering groceries," explains Stumbo.

"Back then we delivered a lot. Few people had cars. They'd come in to buy groceries and then we had to deliver them in my truck. I've taken groceries as far as Salisbury."

"We stayed open until the people quit coming, usually about 8:30 or 9:00 p.m., but many a night until 10:30 p.m. when people stayed to talk," continues Stumbo. "Even then they would sometimes call after we closed and get us to reopen the store."

Stumbo says the store has several customers today, but not as many as in the past.

"The biggest part of the business is credit," Stumbo says. "In the past, the miners paid on their accounts every two weeks. Now we have monthly customers. But because we're right here beside the highway, people stop here for cigarettes, pop, milk or when they get unexpected company and need groceries."

Stumbo says the best part of being a store owner is that "you can work it the way you want. When you work for somebody else, you do it the way they want it."

But there are disadvantages too.

"It ties you down," Stumbo states matter-of-factly. "Unless you have someone trained to work, you can't take a vacation, and even then, we rarely took more than a week. The disadvantage of a credit store is that you have to know the right people. When you deal with the public you have to figure out good people from the bad."

Stumbo says the business knew some tough times.

"When we depended on coal mining, there were some long strikes. We had customers who had been paying who we didn't feel we could cut off. So, I'd take the money I'd saved from my mining to buy groceries for them."

"We also had a lot of miners sue for Black Lung and we'd carry them eight or nine months through it (the lawsuit). I've had customers say, 'If it hadn't been for you, my family might have starved.' A lot of them appreciate it and some of them forget. They get their check and go to these big markets."

Stumbo says he has hung on to his country store "longer than any of them." But sometimes, when he's sick or feeling bad, he considers giving up the business.

"When Larry (the Stumbos' only child) was eight or nine years old, I wanted to sell it... But she wanted to keep it for the boy."

In 1978, the Stumbos turned the store over to Larry and his wife, Chris. Grandchildren Kelli Ann, Larry Jr. ("Brother") and 8-year-old Amanda believe employees would prefer having insurance paid. That's just an informal observation I've made," James said.

Councilman Mike Vance added that he has done several employee surveys for other organizations and found that "employees would rather have insurance paid for and get less pay raise. I hope we don't have to make that choice, but I think they'll choose to have hospital insurance paid."

Before moving to "stick with" the Blue Cross plan, Vance added, "I don't think we ought to ask employees to take on anything else. They just had to pick up retirement deductions, and they accepted the $200 deductible policy (last year). The wrap plan wouldn't appear to be worth the difference."

Following a second by Charles Hale, council, on a roll call vote, agreed to renew the Blue Cross coverage. Only Paul Joseph voted against the move.

A bid, submitted by Driveway Paving of Paintsville, to blacktop city streets was accepted on a motion by Vance, seconded by both Hale and Joseph. The bid specified labor costs at $12,000 with the city purchasing blacktop at state contract prices. James said a company spokesman said the project could "start tomorrow."

Ousley Concrete and Construction of Prestonsburg won the bid to rebuild city sidewalks at a cost of $3.55 per square foot for sidewalks and $12.75 per linear foot for curbs. Danny Hamilton made the motion to accept the bid, with a second from Joseph.

Reports will also be heard on building program progress, by James "Frankie" Francis; attendance, by Pete Grigsby Jr.; enrollment, by Grigsby; student test scores, by Larry Jervis; and transportation, by Earl Ousley.

The meeting is open to the public.

The council also approved the transfer of the city's 1974 Mack fire truck to the Prestonsburg Holding Co., which will seek a loan to cover the cost of renovation. The motion to transfer was made by Hale and seconded by William Callihan, with Joseph voting no.

The council also passed a "resolution of intent to apply" for a Hazard Mitigation Grant from the state Department of Emergency Services. As introduced by Sam Campbell of Big Sandy Area Development District, the resolution involves a joint effort by Floyd County Fiscal Court and the city to explore a project to lessen flood damage in the Cliff area. Motion was made by Hale and seconded by Callihan.

Following a second reading of an ordinance setting the city property tax rate at 25 cents per $100, the current rate, council members approved the motion by Callihan, seconded by Hamilton.

In other business, Hale asked City Administrator James to talk to Magistrate Gerald DeRossett and County Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo concerning a bridge in West Prestonsburg that Hale described as "rotted out." The councilman said he would like to see the bridge which is no longer in use "taken down and blocked" because of potential hazards.

Sam Campbell noted the need for a sign warning motorists to drive slowly where children play on Riverside Drive. Vance and Hale said they would secure such a sign from Prestonsburg Rotary Club, which has donated signs in the past.

Absent from Monday night's meeting were councilmen William O. Goebel and Jim Yates. The next meeting is Sept. 25 at 7 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

CRIMINAL COURT

See grand jury indictments on front page.

SUITS FILED

(Suits filed are not indicative of guilt, and present only the claims of the person or institution filing the action.)

Suits filed last week in Floyd Circuit were: Bertha Keen, dissolution of marriage to Joey Daryl Keen.

Kenneth C. Bradford, Prestonsburg, dissolution of marriage to Cybel L. Bradford, Prestonsburg, and for joint custody of their three minor children and an equitable distribution of properties and debts.

First Guaranty National Bank v. Roberia Luxmore of Hi Hat for alleged default on two loans, balance remaining of $679 and $11,520, and requests that First Commonwealth Bank and Floyd County come forth and assert any claims.

Bank Josephine v. Ray Howard Furniture Stores, Inc., for alleged default on a loan, balance remaining $265,763 plus interest and the collection of collateral, all accounts receivable and life insurance policy of Ollie Ray Howard.

Sherronda Lynn Akers, Prestonsburg, dissolution of marriage to Ellis Dewey Akers, Dana, and that their property settlement agreement be approved by the court.

Joy Caldwell v. Melissa L. Ferguson and Frances H. Corder of Wayland, for alleged damages for pain and suffering, lost wages, lost earning capacity, medical expenses, and damages done to her vehicle during an alleged auto accident in a Prestonsburg parking lot involving Ferguson as driver and Corder as owner of a car which struck Caldwell's vehicle.

Kathy Prater Sparks, Floyd County, dissolution of marriage from Donald Sparks of Magoffin County, custody of their two minor children, an equitable division of marital property, alimony and child support.

Leving Shelton of Johnson County v. Dreser Industry Inc., Gallon Manufacturing Division. Plaintiff claims that the Gallon tandem roller which she was operating on her job had brake failure and caused her to be thrown from the machine, resulting in permanent damage to her knee and ankles and lost effectiveness of both legs. She is suing for damages, trial by jury and court costs and expenses.

First Commonwealth Bank, acting as agent for Star Bank of Cincinnati, Ohio, and in its own interest v. John and Sharon Sparr of Floyd County for the alleged default of two loans, balance due $49,034 and $36,022, and asking that Floyd County come forth and assert its claim.

DUI, Drunkenness Arrests Put Dent In County Total, According To KSP '88 Stats

Arrests for driving under the influence of alcohol (DUI) accounted for almost a fourth of the total number of arrests made by law enforcement officers in Floyd County in 1988, according to a report just released by the Kentucky State Police Records Section.

The report, titled "Crime in Kentucky," indicates that state, county and municipal police made 2,812 arrests in Floyd County last year on charges ranging from murder to vagrancy. Of the total, 662, or more than 23 percent, were for DUI, including one arrest for DUI by the water patrol.

The report also shows that 780 arrests were made for drunkenness, the category with the largest number of arrests. (The report does not indicate if there is overlap in drunkenness and DUI charges.) Narcotics were the basis for 156 arrests, with the majority involving marijuana.

In what the state classifies as Part I crimes, or property and violent crimes, 523 arrests were made in Floyd County last year. Larceny accounted for the largest number, 226, followed by 147 arrests for burglary. Also included are 81 arrests for aggravated assault, 50 for auto theft, eight for murder, seven for robbery and four for rape.

Among surrounding counties, Johnson County had the lowest number of arrests, 375, and Pike County had the highest number, 3,931. The total number of arrests in other counties was: Magoffin, 1,054; Martin, 944; and Knott, 769.

Arrests for DUI in surrounding counties included: Johnson, 153; Knott, 205; Magoffin, 230; Martin, 205; and Pike, 939.

Comparing Floyd with Kentucky counties of similar population, the local arrest rate appears to be about average.

Total arrests for the entire state last year amounted to 51,146, which is a 30 percent increase over 1987, according to the report. However, the report attributes a major part of the increase to improvements in reporting processes by law enforcement agencies and court systems.

The report also states that of 304 murders in the state last year, 46 percent of the victims were killed by a firearm, with handguns the primary weapon. The leading circumstance leading to murder, the report says, was an argument.

In monetary terms, the report reveals losses due to robbery at more than $1.2 million across the state. Losses from burglaries totaled more than $33 million statewide, and losses from larceny amounted to more than $25 million.

The value of vehicles reported stolen last year in Kentucky is reported at close to $31 million. Of the 7,254 vehicles reported stolen, more than half were not recovered.

Also recorded were 452 cases of arson, with the estimated value of property damage at more than $7 million.

The report also includes a time relation for Part I crimes during 1988: one murder every 29 hours; one rape every 11 hours; one robbery every three hours; one aggravated assault every hour; one burglary every 21 minutes; one larceny every 10 minutes; one auto theft every hour, and one arson every hour.

Census Bureau To Collect Labor, Health Data Locally

The Census Bureau will collect data for its Current Population Survey (CPS) on employment and unemployment Sept. 17-23 from Floyd County and other area residents, according to William F. Hill, director of the bureau's Charlotte, N.C. regional office.

The local employment data will contribute to September's national labor force picture scheduled for release Oct. 6 by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Data will be collected on veterans

Vets' Questions & Answers

Question: Are common-law marriages recognized by the Department of Veterans Affairs?

Answer: Yes, if the relationship was established in a state that recognizes common-law marriages.

Question: Is there special mortgage insurance for veterans?

Answer: You may purchase Veterans Mortgage Life Insurance if, as a disabled veteran, you receive a VA grant for specially adapted housing.

Question: Do the eligibility assessment procedures for VA medical care apply to veterans age 65 and older?

Answer: VA's eligibility assessment procedures apply to all non-service-connected veterans regardless of age. The law allowing veterans 65 years of age or older to receive care in VA facilities regardless of income was repealed in 1986.

Question: I am a woman veteran. Can I obtain gender-related medical treatment at a VA facility?

Answer: Yes, provided you meet the general eligibility requirements for medical care. Women veteran coordinators have been designated at each VA medical center and at many regional offices to counsel women veterans seeking treatment.

Question: I will complete VA's vocational-rehabilitation program shortly. Can I draw additional subsistence while I am receiving assistance with job placement?

Answer: Yes. A veteran who has completed his or her vocational rehabilitation program is entitled to subsistence allowance at the full-time rate for two months following completion of the program.

Question: Did the change on March 15, 1989, making the Veterans Administration the Department of Veterans Affairs affect my VA benefits?

Answer: No. The law making the VA a cabinet department only involved changing its name and making a few organizational changes. The new Department of Veterans Affairs assumed responsibility for all laws and regulations administered by the VA that provide benefits and services to veterans.

Nursing Workshop Sept. 25

A special workshop for emergency room nurses and emergency medical technicians will be held on Monday, Sept. 25, in Paintsville.

Morehead State University's Continuing Education Program for nursing and allied health care professionals will co-sponsor the one-day session with the Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center, which will serve as the host site.

The workshop, "Initial Nursing Interventions for Multiple Trauma Victims," will begin with registration at 8:30 a.m., with class starting at 9 a.m.

Freda Kilburn, MSU assistant professor of nursing, be the instructor. The cost is $42, which includes handout materials and refreshments.

Nurses attending the workshop will receive contact hours as approved by the Kentucky Board of Nursing.

Additional information is available from MSU's Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences at (606) 783-2632.

Department Has Busy August

The Prestonsburg Fire Department, in its monthly report to the city council, listed 59 runs during August, the largest monthly total for the year, according to Chief Thomas Blackburn.

The highest number of calls was for emergency medical services, according to Blackburn's report. Eight of the runs were in response to fire alarms, and seven were related to automobile problems. Six calls were made to businesses.

Water removal was the reason for five of the calls, and power line problems accounted for four calls. Three department responses were for fuel spills and three were for bomb threats.

Defensive-Minded 'Cats Scratch Johnson Central

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

For the second straight game, it was the defense that was the silver lining for the Prestonsburg Blackcats. The Blackcats, who have had problems getting their offense going like it can, scratched out a 7-0 victory over a

"Johnson-less" Johnson Central. The Golden Eagle starting quarterback, Mitchell Johnson, will be out for the remainder of the season after suffering a broken leg in a game with Betsy Layne.

After Prestonsburg failed to advance the football on its first series of plays, Johnson Central got the ball on its own 31 yard line. The Golden Eagles using their running game to move the football, picking up first downs on their first two sets of plays. The Eagles' outstanding running back, Shawn Grass, carried the ball 17 yards to the Prestonsburg 27. Prestonsburg's defense dug in and held the Eagles to fourth and 12 with 4:59 remaining in the first period. Johnson Central, electing to stay on the ground, fumbled the football and Prestonsburg recovered.

Early in the second quarter, Johnson Central was in a fourth and 10 situation and was forced to punt from their own 13. Tailback Aaron Flannery took the ball on Johnson Central's 36 and ran it back to the Eagles' 6 yard line. With 10:07 to go in the half, Flannery carried the ball in for the game's lone touchdown. Jason "Golden Toe" Storey added the extra point to make it 7-0, Prestonsburg.

Late in the second quarter, Johnson Central put together a series of plays that moved the football from their own 34 yard line to the Blackcat 35 on some good yardage by senior Darren Gamble.

On a quarterback fake, Larry Stambaugh kept the ball and scampered up the sidelines to the Blackcat 23 for another first down. Gamble then carried the ball to the Prestonsburg 12. Stambaugh elected to go to the air and Blackcat Jonathan Leslie intercepted the pass on the 8 yard line to stop the scoring attempt. Neither team was able to score in the remainder of the game as Prestonsburg won its third game of the season.

Prestonsburg is 3-1 on the year and is undefeated in division play, with a perfect 2-0 record. The Blackcats will entertain the Paintsville Tigers in a big game this Friday night at 8 p.m.

Gotcha

Prestonsburg's Ryan Porter (40) tackles the legs of Johnson Central's Shawn Grass (33) in Friday night's encounter at Johnson County. The Blackcats won over the Golden Eagles, 7-0, to go 3-1 on the season.

High-Scoring Contest Sees Rebels Fall To Hornets, 55-20

With a flexible slate of pass-run plays, the Magoffin County Hornets soundly defeated the Allen Central Rebels Saturday, racking up as much as a 40-14 lead by halftime before eventually downing the Rebs 55-20.

With the suspension of Mickey Parsons haunting the Rebs, and leading rusher Tommy Gibson out late in the game due to heat exhaustion, ACHS battled for the game on a number of fronts.

The Rebs began the contest with a surprising on-side kick that the Hornets picked up anyway, giving Magoffin possession at mid-field. MC's Brian Osborne, on the second play of the drive, went to the 32 for a first down. Osborne then picked up 10 yards and on a third-and-two, and on the next series, at third and inches, took the ball into the end zone for the first score of the game. Magoffin failed in its two point conversion attempt, but was first on the board, 6-0.

Allen Central took the kick off on its own 42, and lost a yard on its first offensive possession. Things didn't get better on the next play — Hornet Robert Conley intercepted a B.J. Aldrich pass and took it to the 23. Magoffin was called for clipping, backing the ball to the 38. Conley hit Magoffin's Terry Traylor on the numbers at the 7 yard line, and the Hornets faced second down and goal. Coach Chuke Williams' squad put the offensive pressure on ACHS, running the ball in and making good on the two point conversion to lead 14-0.

Allen Central took the kick off on the 43, and picked up some free yardage when the Hornets were called offsidies. Tommy Gibson ran the ball across the 50 for ACHS, then got hit for no gain before going 14 yards for a first down.

Jason Clark took the ball up the middle to the 28 for second and four, and Gibson squeaked out three for third and one. ACHS picked up the touchdown on a 25-yard run by Adam Tackett. Gibson, looking for the two-

Betsy Layne Wins Martin Net Meet
DECEMBER 12, 1957

Betsy Layne's Bobcats won the 13th Annual Floyd County Preseason basketball tournament in Martin Saturday night, scoring 21 points in the final quarter to come from behind and down Martin, 62-56.

The victory was the ninth in a row for the Floyd County school. They had advanced to the finals by eliminating Wheelwright in the first round, 85-63, and Garrett, 63-45, in the semifinals.

Martin, tutored by Denzil Halbert, moved to the final round by whipping Wayland, 76-45, in the opening game and squeezing by Prestonsburg, 67-63, in a hectic semifinal game, but was out-pointed 8-2 in the final two minutes as Martin's all-around forward, Edgel Click, left the game via the foul route after scoring 20 points.

Click, a 6'2" senior, paced the overall tournament, scoring with 75 points in three games. Betsy Layne veteran Ray Clark flipped in 69 points in three games.

Despite Recalls, Hazard Rolls Past Trojans, 54-38

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Halfback James Williams rushed for 257 yards on eight carries and scored four touchdowns in leading the Hazard Bulldogs to a 54-38 victory over Roger Johnson's Wheelwright Trojans.

Wheelwright took the opening kickoff and kept the ball for almost six minutes in the first quarter. On their third series of plays, the Trojans were forced to punt. The snap was fumbled and Hazard took over.

On the first play from scrimmage, Williams raced 48 yards for a touchdown for the Bulldogs. Steve Sizemore added the two point conversion to give Hazard an 8-0 lead.

After Johnson's Trojans were unable to move the football late in the first stanza, Eddie Buck took the Trojan punt for 59 yards to paydirt for what seemed to be another Hazard touchdown. However, the Trojans were guilty of clipping and the TD was called back.

On second down and long yardage, Williams carried the football 71 yards for a TD to give the Bulldogs a 14-0 lead. Hazard had the ball with 2:06 remaining in the first period. After picking up a first down in a third down situation, Williams romped for 53 yards into the end zone, but the touchdown was again called back. The Bulldogs were flagged for two penalties, clipping and unsportsmanlike conduct, for a total of 30 yards that moved the football back to the Bulldog 10 yard line. On a busted play, Eddie Buck managed to break free and go 90 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was good and the score was 21-0.

Hazard made it 27-0 on a 32-yard run by Sharpey.

Wheelwright got on the board in the third quarter after recovering a Bulldog fumble. Trojan quarterback Steven Johnson ran the ball in from 8 yards out. Senior Bobby Hood got the two point conversion to make it 27-8.

On the ensuing kickoff, Williams took the football the length of the field for a Hazard touchdown. The TD brought the score to 33-8; the field goal attempt was blocked by Bryan Rhea.

On the Bulldog kick off, Chad Hall ran the ball for a 12 yard gain. On first and 10, Hall took the ball 63 yards for a TD.

Sizemore's touchdown with 6:33 remaining in the third quarter put the Bulldogs on top 39-14. Hood's touchdown with 3:14 to go in the third stanza and Justice's conversion made it 39-22.

Hazard had its third score reclaimed on a holding call late in the quarter. Buck had carried the ball 60 yards when the holding infraction was called. Three plays later Jody Sims ran into the end zone for the score and a 46-22 lead.

Hall scored for Wheelwright and Justice added the conversion for a 46-30 lead. Hazard caught Johnson in the Trojan end zone for a safety, and added the final Hazard touchdown on a 46 yard run by Williams, his fourth.

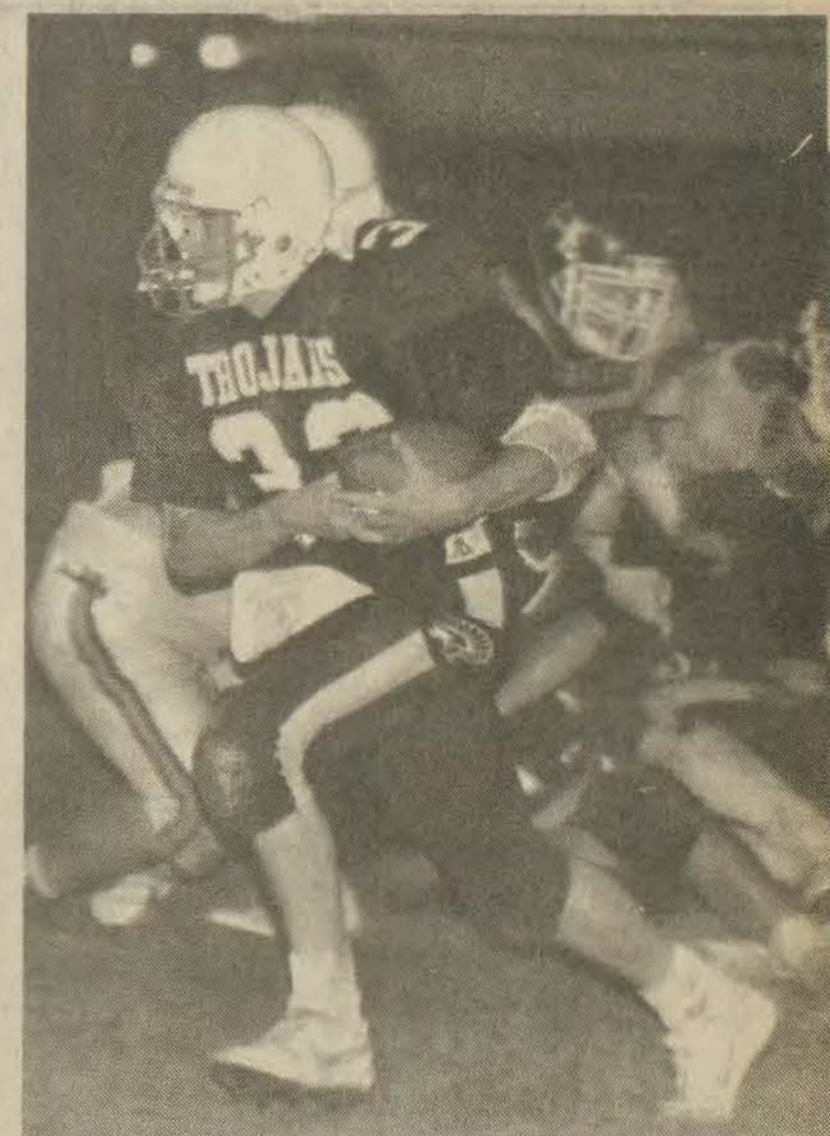

Hall added another TD for the Trojans with 1:03 left in the game. Justice got the conversion.

Hall carried the ball 21 times for Wheelwright for 270 yards. Hood carried 18 times for 180 yards, while Sims rushed for 130 yards for Hazard on six carries. Hazard had a total of 545 yards rushing and 62 yards passing. Wheelwright enjoyed a big game on the ground with 518 yards rushing. The Trojans had 54 yards in the air.

Hazard was penalized 140 yards while Wheelwright was assessed 75 yards in penalties.

The Trojans had to reshuffle their defense after the loss of Adam Hall and James Branham off the defensive line, according to Trojan Coach Roger Johnson.

Once A Big Man On Campus, He's Now 126 Pounds Lighter

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

This is a story of hope coming out of despair. A story of discipline and determination over giving in and quitting. It's a story of encouragement when others feel there's "no way."

It's a story of a football player's desire to "be happy."

At 6'7" and 431 pounds, Brian Meadows had a right to the claim of being a "big man on campus." Meadows played football for two years at Prestonsburg High School (during the '85-'86 and '86-'87 seasons). Meadows later transferred to Allen Central High School, where he plays football for Coach Donnie Daniels' Rebels.

The senior, a likable person, says he just wanted to be happy.

So, four months ago, Meadows embarked on a weight control program to try and shed some pounds. Shed pounds he has — 126 of them.

"I just didn't feel happy as I could be," explained Meadows. "I had gained most of my weight in the past two years. My dad had a heart attack and while he was in Lexington, I stayed around the hospital and was inactive and ate a lot and just began to pick up weight."

Meadows speaks of being self-conscious and the lifestyle he felt he had to lead.

"I was afraid to go out," he says, "even for a job interview, which I needed to do badly. I would just sit around the house and do nothing."

Meadows' story actually begins five months ago:

"My dad had to go to Paintsville to see Dr. Corazon Chau because of his illness. While in the doctor's office I read this pamphlet, The Burden Of Being Overweight. I ask the receptionist about it and she was real nice to me and explained the program," relates Meadows.

Meadows began a Medafast program, drinking five protein supplement shakes a day.

"I haven't eaten anything for 11 weeks now," he says. "I run a mile and a half each day. I do 175 sit ups and 150 push ups a day. I have gone from 431 pounds to 305. I want to get down to 255 and then start toning up my body."

What got this giant of a man interested in shedding some life-threatening pounds?

"In my overweight position I didn't expect to live to be 35 years old," Meadows said. "I couldn't enjoy my friends, do things, go places. I just wasn't happy."

What about his doctor's reaction?

"She's happy for me. She says that I have done so well and that there is so much time before school is out that I could slow down. But I don't want to. I just want to get it all off."

As with any diet, the beginning was the toughest.

"At first it was unreal," he said. "You have an addiction to food, and you feel you can't live without it. But you can live without it to an extent."

Meadows says that losing weight is 80 percent discipline and 20 percent activity.

"You sit around a lot and watch TV and become bored and you see those commercials on television and you get hungry and eat. Then you start gaining weight."

"I don't have to push myself now. It's easier after you discipline yourself. I had to push myself at first, but not now."

Meadows visits his doctor every Friday for a check up and to monitor his heart condition.

"I haven't had any problems. I'll be all right as long as I stay healthy," he said.

Meadows credits his teachers and many friends for their encouragement during the weight loss program.

"Kevin Spurlock, my brother Brett, and Mickey Parsons have all given me pep talks and encouraged me a lot. My teachers have been super, like Lisa Hamby and Pat Murphy. You think that teachers don't care about you. That's not true. They probably are the best friends you have. To me there's no one greater than Big D (principal Don Daniels at Allen Central) and Little D (ACHS football coach Donnie Daniels). They have helped me so much," Meadows related.

"My mother has always tried to stand behind me in whatever I have tried to do. My grandparents have been an encouragement to me. My friends have been there to help."

"Now I can go out with my friends to restaurants, and there is no temptations to cross over. I just begin to reason with myself, that if I eat I will just have to take it off again."

Losing more than 100 pounds has meant changes in Meadows' wardrobe, as well.

"I used to wear a 4X shirt and it was tight. Now I am down to a 2X size and it is starting to feel comfortable. I wore size 48 waist pants, and now I'm down to a 38. I even went from a size 14 shoe to a 12, and I didn't even know that losing weight would affect your feet," he said laughing.

"You can't put someone on a diet," the weight loss enthusiast stated. "You have to have some self-esteem. I would recommend this program to anyone who wants to lose weight. It is easy once you set your mind to it."

Another problem facing those who lose weight: How, after it is off, to keep it off.

"It takes determination," Meadows stated. "Anyone can do it if they are determined."

What has been the biggest change since dropping 126 pounds?

"My lifestyle. I'm happy now. I'm determined. Now instead of laying around I go out shoot a little basketball, lift weights and run," Meadows says.

What about the future?
"I want to get down to 255 pounds, and join the Airborne Rangers when I get out of school. Their requirement is 6'7" and 266. I want to get below that in weight. I just want to make something of myself."

A story with a happy ending. A story of determination. A desire to be able to be with friends and family without being self-conscious of one's weight.

Anyone looking for encouragement need only to look to Brian Meadows — football player.

Martin Liquors Falls 11-8, 8-6 To Duke Boys

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Martin Liquors, the terror of the Minnie Softball League, fell twice, 11-8 and 8-6, to the Duke Boys in tournament play recently at the Minnie Park.

The Duke Boys scored seven runs in the fifth inning in game one to come from a 6-4 deficit and defeat the Martin team 11-8. The loss dropped Martin into the losers bracket.

Thomas Meade, Darren Connand and Doug Derossett had doubles for the Martin team in the losing cause. Steve Ward tripled for Martin. Bobby Hall was the winning pitcher, while Doug Derossett took the loss.

In the second game, the Duke Boys built a seven-run lead going into the bottom of the sixth inning when the Martin team pushed across four runs to make it 6-4. The Duke Boys added a single run in the top of the seventh to go up 8-4. Martin threatened in the bottom of the inning with two runs, but fell short in the loss.

Thomas Meade, Robbie Fraley and Steve Ward each doubles for Martin. The Martin team also turned two double plays.

Martin was the division champion of the regular season with a 16-2 record and finished with a 19-3 tournament record for the year.

Doug Newsome from Weeksbury received the 110 percent award for the season.

Allen Eagles Roll Past Allen Central Grade, 52-0

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

After their first four downs in the game, David Mosley's Allen Eagle's had scored three touchdowns and led 24-0 only four minutes into the first quarter.

The Allen Central Grade football team is in its first football season, with a group of concerned parents working with players from Martin, Maytown, Wayland and Garrett to form a feeder program for football at Allen Central High School. This was the first game that many of the youngsters had ever played. Even though many did not score, there were some bright spots in the teams line up.

On first down from the line of scrimmage, Eagle Matt Porter carried the ball 50 yards to put the ball on the Rebel 12-yard line. Porter carried the ball in from the 12 for a touchdown on second down. He got the two point conversion, and the Eagles led, 8-0.

After Allen Central Grade was forced to punt, Joe Howell carried the ball 67 yards on first down for a TD and gave Allen a 16-0 lead after the conversion by Porter.

Porter scored again on a first down play as he romped 62 yards for a touchdown. Jason Spurlock added the two point conversion for a 24-0 lead.

In the second quarter, quarterback Corie Reitz hit wide receiver Philip Patton with a 36-yard pass for a touchdown. Howell converted the extra points and the Eagles were up with a 32-0 lead. Before the half ended, the Eagles struck again to lead 40-0 at intermission.

Reitz found Patton with a 33-yard pass and Patton carried it into the end zone for a TD. The play consumed 60 yards. Jason Williams carried the ball 48 yards for the final TD to give the Eagles an opening game 52-0 victory.

"We played well in spots," said Coach Ernie Moore of the Grade School Rebels. "We are inexperienced and we only have three eighth graders on our team. I thought we played well."

"I was pleasantly surprised how well we played," Allen Eagle coach David Mosley stated. "I believe we are better able to challenge Prestonsburg this year."

In the "B" team game, the two teams played to a 0-0 tie through the first three quarters. Late in the fourth period, Scotty Bellemay ran 23 yards for a touchdown to give the Rebels a 6-0 lead with 3:06 remaining in the game.

Allen had the ball on the Rebel 43 and marched 57 yards for a touchdown to tie the score at 6-6 with 1:13 remaining. The two point conversion gave the Eagles a 8-6 victory over the Allen Central Grade team.

Rush Is On

Allen Central's Grade School football team made its season debut recently against the Allen Eagles at the Allen Central Field. Most of the grade school team had never played football before. The Eagles won the contest easily over the young Rebels, 52-0.

Sweep Around End

An Allen Eagle takes the football around left end and goes all the way in for a touchdown against the Allen Central Grade School team. The Eagles won handily over the Rebels, 52-0.

Middle Creek Sportsman's Club Lists Winners Of Squirrel Hunt

The Middle Creek Sportsman's Club announced the winners in their recent squirrel hunt held.

The winners were Jim Dotson, first place; John K. Blackburn, second place; Lonnie Watkins, third place. All winners are from Prestonsburg.

The hunters left the club at 6 a.m. and returned no later than 11 a.m. The one returning first with the most squirrels was the winner.

Dotson claimed the top spot by returning at 10:10 with six squirrels. Blackburn came in 10 minutes later, also with six squirrels, and Watkins was two minutes behind Blackburn, to take third with four squirrels. Each received a trophy.

KENTUCKY DEER CLASSIC SET SEPT. 30

The Kentucky Deer Classic and Outdoor Show will be held Saturday, Sept. 30, from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m., at Greenville High School located on Highway 181 South and Paxton Drive in Muhlenberg County.

The one-day event, sponsored by the Greenville Muhlenberg County Chamber of Commerce, features Dick Idol's North American Whitetail Show and seminars conducted by nationally known hunting celebrities.

OVER 6,000 CAMPERS LEARN FISH AND WILDLIFE CONSERVATION

Over an 11-week span this summer, 6,204 Kentucky fifth and sixth graders attended three conservation campers operated by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' conservation education division.

Campers not only have fun and make lots of new friends, but in one week's time, each youngster is provided opportunities to learn valuable lessons and gain skills related to outdoor sports activities that can last a lifetime.

Topics include fishing and casting, swimming, boating safety, first aid, firearms safety, archery and nature study.

Of all the summer's campers, 73 percent earned hunter safety certificates. That's 4,548 more Kentucky qualified safe hunters! (The fish and wildlife department offers free hunter training classes to hunters of any age statewide. Nearly 83,500 have qualified for hunter safety certificates under the present hunter education program.)

Conservation education program leaders from the fish and wildlife department teach over 90,000 fifth and sixth graders in Kentucky schools each year. These youngsters are eligible to apply for a one-week stay at one of three conservation camps: Camp Webb on Grayson Lake near Grayson; Camp Currie on Kentucky Lake near Benton; and Camp Wallace on Lake Cumberland near Monticello.

Kentucky is the only state that offers this type of conservation education school and camp, in addition to a hunter education program, through its fish and wildlife department.

Former Floyd Countian Garnis Martin:

'Winningest' Coach In State's High School Football History

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Garnis Martin grew up in Wheelwright, where he played basketball and football, earning All-District honors in basketball. He graduated from Wheelwright in 1941. After a stint in the military, he enrolled at Tulane. He wanted to do something in athletics, and decided to be a coach.

Coach he has — after claiming his 250th victory in September 1986, Martin had chalked up more wins than any other coach in Kentucky high school football history.

How did this illustrious career get underway?
It all began 40 years ago at Prestonsburg High School. Kentucky's winningest football coach actually began his coaching career as a basketball coach at PHS in 1949, after graduating from Tulane University in New Orleans in May of that year. As head basketball coach at Prestonsburg from 1949-1951, Martin's Blackcats won the district tournament. He also was head baseball coach at the local school and added a district championship to his list in his first stint as head coach. He also served as assistant football coach at Prestonsburg during this time.

Martin moved on to Wayland High School where he was head football coach for one year (1951-1952). Martin's team finished 1-7 in his first season at Wayland.

In 1952, he went to Bardstown, where he has been coaching for 37 years. Martin has served as the school's athletic director 35 years, baseball coach, track coach, basketball coach and football coach. The Bardstown mentor has won five regional championships and two Class A state championships in track, 11 district championships and two 5th Region titles in basketball, and compiled a win-loss record in football of 269-98 and with seven ties as the 1989 season began. He is the winningest coach in Kentucky football, and has come a long way from a 1-7 record at Wayland 38 years ago.

In 1981 his team won the Class AA state championship. He also has the honor of winning the Class A State championships in 1967 and 1970.

Coach Martin won his 250th football game on Sept. 19, 1986, making him the winningest coach in the history of Kentucky high school football. Martin has had many honors bestowed upon him, but if you ask him, he will tell you his greatest honor came Aug. 18 when he was elected to the Kentucky High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

It all began at Wheelwright, Prestonsburg and Wayland, followed by 40 years in education and coaching.

Garnis Martin says he just loves to work with young people, see their accomplishments, and have them go on to better things.

WKU Schedules Coaching Clinic

Western Kentucky University and Nike are co-sponsoring the Hilltopper Basketball Coaches Clinic on the WKU campus Friday, Sept. 15, and Saturday, Sept. 16.

Nine sessions conducted by noted high school and collegiate coaches on improving coaching strategies will highlight the two-day event.

"We feel our clinic is the best in the south," said Western Kentucky Head Coach Murray Arnold. "We think the timing of the event — just before many schools open practice — will help a lot of teams get off on the right foot."

Among the topics to be covered will be promoting a basketball program, developing a strong full-court press, and strength and conditioning.

The program begins at 4:30 p.m. Sept. 15 in the lobby of Diddle Arena with registration, and concludes with the Hilltopper football game Saturday night at Smith Stadium.

Preregistration is $20 per coach, and $40 per coaching staff. Registration at the door will be $25 per coach.

Coaches interested in participating should contact the WKU men's basketball office in Diddle Arena at (502) 745-2131.

Profile: The Allen Eagles

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

At the grade school level, the Allen Eagles must be one of the most successful football teams in the county.

Coach David Mosley has had his share of success at the local school, and this year returns six eighth graders from last season's 5-1 team.

The Eagles welcome back one of the best tailbacks in the county in Matt Porter. Mosley sees this as one of the teams strong points. Transfer Joe Howell will be a key as well, says the coach. Howell has yet to play, but Mosley sees a lot of potential in prospective fullback.

According to Mosley, if the Allen team is to have a successful year, eighth graders Tim Stratton, Robert Lafferty and Jamie Blackburn must play well. All three are returning starters who played on defense and offense last season.

The big question mark for this year's Eagle squad is its field marshal: Philip "Snake" Patton, quarterback last year, has been moved to the end position, and Corie Reitz is the new QB.

The Eagles defensive backfield should be pretty good, says Mosley, with Matt Porter, Scotty Williams and Jason Williams returning with some experience. Reitz is also expected to add to this position.

Other new faces Mosley expects to help are eighth graders Brandon Barnette and Greg Nelson, seventh grader Jason Spurlock and sixth grader Tony Craft.

Four local boys recently made a trip to a pay lake in the Paintsville area and spent all night trying to catch at least one fish. The youths did not leave disappointed, as they pulled in a 17 1/2 pound catfish that measured 36 inches long. The four boys split the jackpot of $189 between them. Slow Down, You're Fishing Too Fast

You may remember these words of advice from a popular song years ago, but they're just as important today — especially to bass fishermen.

"We're all fishing too fast," says Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member Charlie Reed, winner of the 1986 BASS Masters Classic, "and as a result, we're passing right over fish we could catch."

"If you slow down your fishing, you'll keep your lure in the strike zone longer and that always increases your chances of getting a hit. Depending on water clarity, I'd say the actual strike zone of a bass is normally only a foot or less. That's why accurate casting to specific targets is so important, but once you're at that target, you need to keep the lure there."

For years, bass fishermen have tried to slow their fishing, but the run-and-gun style of tournament action makes it difficult. Now, however, Reed sees the trend to slower fishing becoming stronger and more widespread.

"I honestly think we're fishing for smarter bass today than we were several years ago," he says. "The bass have become conditioned to seeing lures and the constant pressure has made them more wary."

"I believe fish are looking at lures more carefully because the majority of the time they're striking from hunger, not impulse or anger."

One way anglers traditionally slow their fishing is by changing lures. Jigs, for example, will fall slower if they're worked with heavier lines and used with a large, buoyant pork chunk trailer.

"Now," says the Johnson Outboards pro, "manufacturers are beginning to design lures that can be fished slower. There is a new jig on the market with a plastic-coated head that falls as slowly as one foot every three seconds. Normally, jigs fall at the rate of a foot every second."

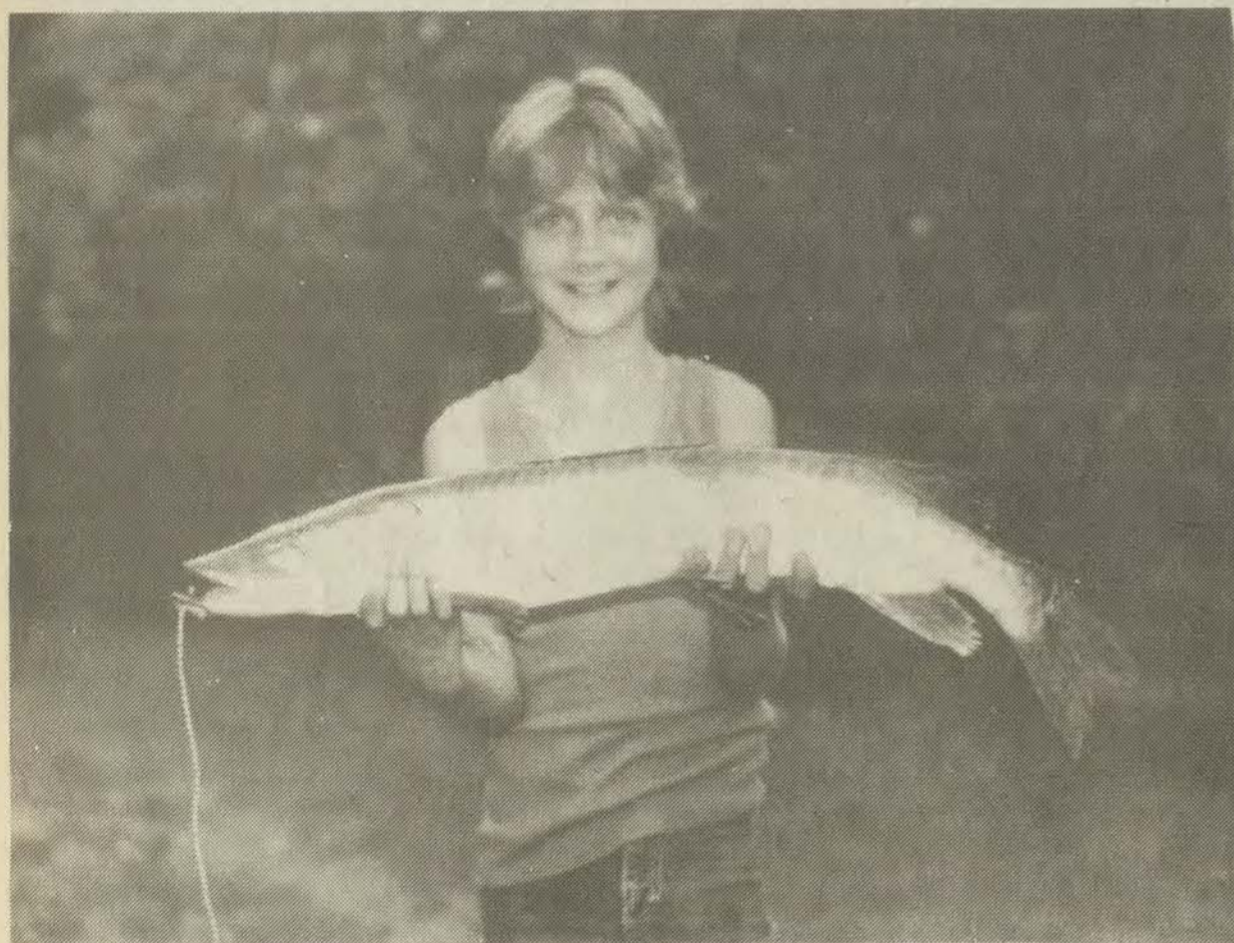

"When bass are suspended in flooded brush or around boat docks and pier pilings, a lure like this will not only be easier to control but much more effective, too."

"I think in the near future we'll also see manufacturers producing other lures that can be fished slower. There are already spinnerbaits and buzz baits with plastic instead of wire in them so they don't fall as fast."

Anglers need to remember bass are predators, Reed explains, and they usually try to attack young, old, or crippled prey that moves slowly and has little chance of escape. Thus, anytime an angler can slow his lure he improves his chances.

"The only time you really don't want to use a slow-falling lure, particularly a jig, is when the fish are really deep," he notes. "In those situations you want a lure that falls quickly down to the fish."

"The majority of the time, however, slower is definitely better."

Mighty Muskie

Valerie Boyd of Banner shows off a muskie she caught in a recent fishing trip with her dad at the spillway at Jenny Wiley State Park. The fish weighed 6 1/2 pounds and measured 33 1/2 inches. Boyd is a sixth grade student at Prater Elementary School.

Several Tips Offered To Help Catch Those Big Summer Bass

Isolated cover. Shallow water very near a sharp drop into deeper depths. A big lure presented very slowly and deliberately.

These are the key ingredients to catching big bass on practically any lake anywhere, according to top tournament angler and Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff member Larry Nixon.

"There are practically always two distinct patterns for small 'limit' bass and for larger, heavier bass," Nixon explains. "In tournaments, we go after the smaller fish first because they're easier to catch, but then we try for the quality fish that really add weight to a stringer, and it will normally be a different technique entirely."

"Another important part of catching big bass is using big lures," Nixon continues. "My favorite is a jig adorned with a large pork chunk, which I fish year-round. I also like large plastic worms, a tandem willow leaf spinnerbait, and for early morning and late afternoon fishing, a topwater plug or a buzz bait."

"I firmly believe you need big lures when you specifically want to catch big bass. Small lures will catch big fish, too, but not as consistently."

Fishing those lures slowly is critical, adds Nixon, whose largest tournament bass weighed 9 pounds, 4 ounces. Big bass seem to be more cautious than smaller fish, he says, so it's important to slow the lure and let the fish have a chance to study it.

"Sometimes I'll let a plastic worm sit motionless on the bottom 10 or 15 seconds," he says, "then just barely crawl it back. You may have to make repeated casts to the same spot, too, before you finally get a bite."

"One thing to keep in mind while you're fishing," concludes Nixon, "is to always be looking for possible hideouts for a big bass. Work the shoreline cover the way you always do, but never pass up the chance to cast to a single log or stump out by itself."

The first thing to realize, Nixon points out, is that big bass patterns are generally one-bass patterns. It is extremely rare to locate a school of big bass in one spot. This means going from place to place looking for similar conditions. On the other hand, you may catch several big fish out of the same spot over a period of two or three days.

"I believe the big bass push the smaller bass away when they find the perfect cover," Nixon says. "Then, when you remove that big fish, another big one moves in."

"Normally, larger bass seem to hold around isolated underwater cover rather than visible cover. This may be a retreat from fishing pressure, because the visible cover above water, such as sticks and logs, gets fished by more anglers."

"The key ingredient I've always found," adds the Evinrude pro, "is that the cover is very, very close to deep water. I believe big bass may use this depth as a form of cover, and simply move deeper when they feel threatened."

During the hot summer and into early autumn, Nixon recommends anglers try to locate areas where creek or river channels run close to shorelines when searching for big bass. The shallow water along the shore should have heavy cover, such as vegetation, stumps or fallen timber.

By Chris Altman

Whether you pull your boat just around the corner to the launch ramp or across the country to the next tournament, knowing how to tow a boat is of the utmost importance. While most anglers know how to tow a boat, few of us know how to take proper care of our tow vehicle or understand the myriad of possible vehicle, hitcher and trailer combinations.

The Chevy Trucks division of Chevrolet has recently entered the bass fishing industry in a big way. Not only is it sponsoring several tournament pros like Denny Brauer, Orlando Wilson and Larry Nixon, but it is also sponsoring bass fishing tournaments and thus helping support the industry.

A few days ago, Humminbird Depth Sounders announced that it will be using a fleet of Chevy Trucks for all of its tournament and promotional events. The following towing tips are offered by Chevy Trucks and Humminbird Depth Sounders.

— When trailer-loaded weights exceed 2,000 pounds, a frame-mounted load distributing hitch and sway control device with sufficient capacity must be used on a tow vehicle.

— The trailer tongue load should be kept at 10 percent of the loaded trailer weight for deadweight hitches and 12 percent for weight-distribution hitches to prevent trailer sway caused by such things as crosswinds, road roughness or being passed by a large truck or tractor-trailer.

— When towing trailers using a weight-distribution hitch, increase the front tire pressure 2 psi above the cold tire pressure or "maximum load" shown on the tire placard. However, this increase should never exceed the maximum pressure shown on the side of the tire.

— New tow vehicles should be operated for about 500 miles before towing a trailer.

When using a vehicle to pull a boat or trailer, more frequent servicing is a must. To keep your truck running at peak performance with the added load of a boat trailer, follow these helpful hints:

— Change the automatic transmission fluid every 5,000 miles of heavy continuous trailering for transmissions without an external oil cooler, and every 15,000 miles for transmissions with an external oil cooler.

— Change the engine oil and filter every three months or every 3,000 miles, whichever comes first, when towing a trailer frequently.

— Change the positive crankcase ventilation valve every year or 15,000 miles, whichever comes first.

During severe operating conditions, your standard cooling system may overheat. If the hot light comes on and your air conditioner is on, turn it off. If the hot light comes on while stopped in traffic, shift the transmission into neutral. If the hot light doesn't go out within a minute or two, pull over to a safe place and stop the vehicle, set the parking brake and shift into park until the light goes off. Another alternative is to keep the engine running, increase the engine speed until it sounds like it's revving about twice as fast as a normal idle, then bring the idle speed back to normal after two or three minutes.

If the hot light still does not go out, turn off the engine and lift the hood. Check the coolant level in the coolant recovery tank. That level should be between the "full" and "add" marks on the tank. If the coolant is boiling, wait until it stops before proceeding further. Do not remove the coolant recovery cap while the coolant is boiling. And whenever you open the hood with the engine running, remember to keep hands, tools and clothing away from the engine cooling fan.

Lonnie Hall, a car and truck salesman at Childers & Venters in Pikeville and an avid angler, recommends changing the standard 195-degree thermostat in your tow vehicle to a 180-degree thermostat.

— When traveling down long or steep hills, reduce your speed and use a lower transmission gear to assist braking.

— In all trucks and rear-drive cars, downshift the transmission to a lower gear and reduce speed to 45 mph or less on long uphill grades to reduce the possibility of engine overheating.

— For each 10 mph that you are traveling, allow one truck and trailer length between you and the car ahead.

— You should not park your truck and boat on a steep grade. But if you must, be sure to "scotch" or "chock" the wheels.

Happy trails, and Good Fishing!

MCA To Play Basketball; Needs Games

According to Coach Harold Tackett, Mountain Christian Academy will revive its elementary school basketball program this fall.

"We have one of the finest facilities for playing basketball in the county. Why not use it?" Tackett asked. "We had an organization meeting and 18 boys showed up wanting to play."

Tackett said that the school will field an "A" team, "B" team and possibly a "C" team. "We are in need of scheduling some games with the other county schools," Tackett said.

According to school officials, the school will not have a girl's team at the present. However, when enough girls become interested a team will be added.

Any county elementary school coach who would be interested in scheduling MCA this season may contact Harold Tackett at home in the evenings at 886-3444, or the school during the day at 285-5141.

weeks." Branham was thought to have been lost to the Trojans the remainder of the season, but has since found that knee surgery may not be necessary.

"I have to go in for another examination. My knee is in a mess. I believe surgery will be necessary to correct it," Hall related.

Shane McCoy, who also has been out with a knee injury, will be back next week.

"Our kids' attitude is good. They had a big offensive game against Hazard and they have the confidence

"Inexperience hurt us," Johnson said. "We had to find some ends to go the outside, and that weakened our middle. We did get some good news about James (Branham). He may be able to come back in about two weeks. They are a great bunch of kids. They could have laid down and quit, but they didn't. This is the first game we have played where we didn't have someone injured," says Johnson.

point conversion, was grabbed by the back of his jersey and nailed just shy of the extra points, but Allen Central was on the board, trailing, 14-6.

Magoffin County took the kick at the 30 and upfield before fumbling into Allen Central's hands at the 27. The Rebs couldn't take advantage of the opportunity, and ended a short drive by punting away.

Osborne took the ball near mid-field, and on the next play the Hornets made good on a 20-yard pass into the end zone. Rebel B.J. Aldrich kept the Hornets from making another two points when he knocked a pass away from the receiver in the end zone.

Allen Central's Terry Spurlock took the kick on the 12. Two incomplete passes and one gainless run later, the Rebs punted away on fourth and 10.

Magoffin returned the ball and, cutting to the sideline, returned the pigskin for a 45-yard touchdown with 9:26 to go in the half. Stopped short of the conversion, the Hornets still chalked up a 26-6 lead.

Spurlock again took the kick off, returning it just past the 20. Aldrich got busted on a quarterback keeper, getting hit back of scrimmage. On second and 16, Gibson got hit farther back, and Coach Donnie Daniels called for time on the third and 14.

Aldrich's pass to Spurlock met ill fate in the form of a Magoffin player, who intercepted the ball on the 36. Two plays later, a QB keeper surprised ACHS, and the Hornets were on the 20 within striking distance. A nine-yard gain took Magoffin to the 11, and ACHS junior Derrick Owsley stopped the next play at the two yard line.

Magoffin's quarterback snuck in for the touchdown at 6:18 to go in the half, and made good on a two point conversion pass to pull his team to a 34-16 lead.

Returning an earlier favor, Magoffin booted an on-sides kick that went between two Rebels and dribbled away from the hands of a third, resulting in a Magoffin recovery on the 35. The Hornets made quick work of the opportunity, completing a 23 yard-pass and scampering into the end zone to lead 40-6. The conversion was incomplete.

Magoffin stuck with the on-sides kick, and Allen Central's Gary Jacobs fell on the ball at the 27. John Slone carried the ball to the 40 for a Rebel first down, and the Rebs gained five more yards when a Magoffin player failed to have his mouthpiece in place before the snap.

Slone broke loose on the next play, out running the Hornets and planting both feet in goal territory, only to have the play whistled back — temporarily. The ball was called dead on the 45, but officials later ruled it an inappropriate whistle and credited Slone and ACHS with the touchdown run. Gibson went in for the two-point conversion to take the Rebs to 40-14, and four minutes later, the half ended with no additional scoring.

ACHS took a ground-bouncing kick on its own eight, and the next play saw Slone hit for a loss. Facing second and 12, Gibson took the ball up two for third and 10. A pass to Spurlock found paydirt, and Allen Central had a first and 10 on the 40 yard line. Gibson ran the ball to second and inches, and Tackett gained the first down. After a loss of two, an Allen Central receiver caught a bobbled pass and raced up the sidelines for a touchdown. The conversion attempt failed, but ACHS had cut its deficit to 40-20.

Magoffin took the kick near mid-field. The ensuing pass was almost intercepted, but the squad gained a first down. Plays later, Magoffin ran the ball in from the 23 and made the conversion, going up 48-20.

Central's Jason Clark took the on-side kick on the Rebel 45. Aldrich gained no ground on the next play, and Gibson was hit for a three-yard loss. Aldrich got sacked in the back-field, and the Rebs faced fourth and 23.

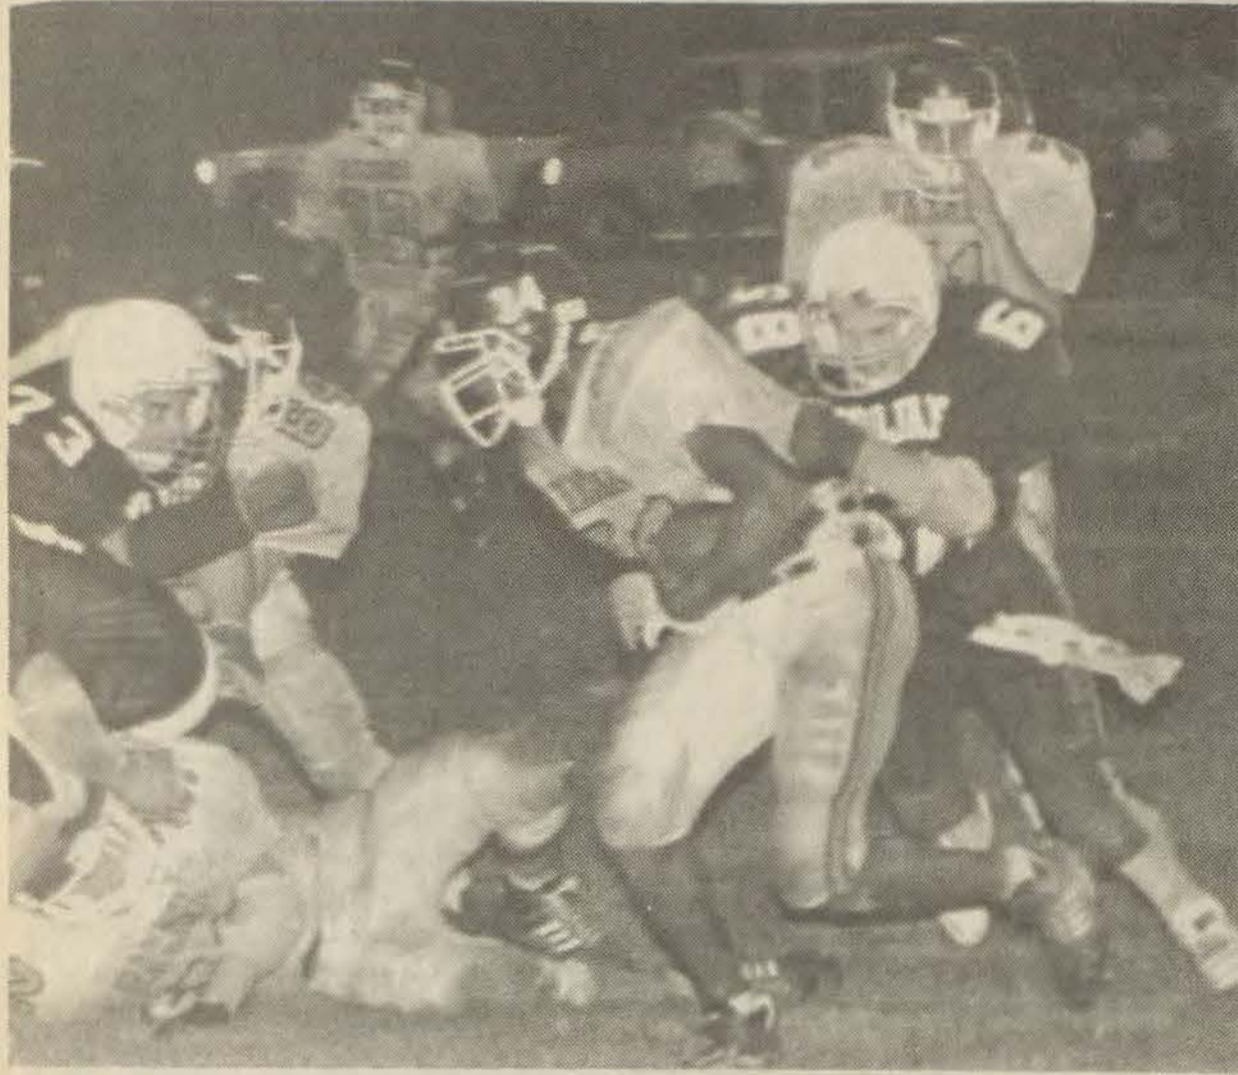

The punt appeared to bounce off a Hornet and be recovered by the Rebels, but after heated discussion between the officials and both coaches, the referees called it Magoffin's ball. With 3:52 remaining in the third, the Hornets threw an incomplete pass, bringing up fourth and 12. Central got the ball on its own 41. Gibson broke two backfield tackles to gain one yard, followed by an incomplete pass. A penalty against the Hornets gave ACHS a first down. Gibson ran the ball to the 42 for second and six, but his engine overheated and he suffered heat exhaustion, keeping him off the field and in the shade for the remainder of the contest.

The Rebels fumbled into Magoffin's hands, and again, the Hornets converted it plays later into a touchdown. The kick was good, and Magoffin led 55-20.

Neither team scored in the remainder of the contest, although Allen Central mounted one serious scoring threat midway through the fourth. A pass from near the 35 was intercepted by the Hornets, who kept possession and wound down the clock, taking home the 55-20 victory.

Whoa!

Hazard running back D. Sharpey is tackled from behind by a Trojan defender stopping him at the line of scrimmage. Sharpey was injured early in the game and had to leave. The Bulldogs ran past the Trojans 54-38.

Hood Wink

Bobby Hood (11) of the Wheelwright Trojans is brought down by the Hazard Bulldogs defense, but not until he picked up a needed Trojan first down. Hood carried the ball 18 times in rushing for 180 yards. He also scored one TD. The Trojans dropped a 54-38 game to the Bulldogs. Mike Justice (21) and Steven Johnson (12) are also pictured.

Player Spotlight

WHEELWRIGHT

Senior halfback Chad Hall carried the ball 21 times for 270 yards rushing in his team's 54-38 loss to Hazard. Hall also scored three touchdowns. Senior running back Bobby Hood rushed for 180 yards on 18 carries, scored one touchdown and added a two point conversion.

Adam Tackett, John Slone and Terry Spurlock scored their first touchdowns of the season for AC against the Magoffin County Hornets. With the absence of running back Mickey Parsons and Tommy Gibson having to set out much the second half, this trio tried to fill the holes.

PRESTONSBURG

Senior tailback Aaron Flannery scored the game's only touchdown for the Blackcats in their 7-0 defeat of Johnson Central. Jason Storey continues to kick the extra points for Prestonsburg. Prestonsburg's defensive team has likewise done well.

ALLEN CENTRAL

A trio of Rebels makes the spotlight for the Allen Central squad.

'Meet MSU Night' Set For November

Morehead State University officials are planning visits throughout the university's service region to help students learn about opportunities available at the school.

The visits are designed to inform students of opportunities available to them, including career possibilities and programs of study, according to Alan R. Baldwin, coordinator of recruiting activities.

"Meet Morehead State Night" will be held in Prestonsburg on Thursday, Nov. 9.

For more information, call MSU's Office of Admissions, 783-2000, or toll-free 1-800-262-7474.

State Education Is Topic For Three 'Reflections' Shows

Does Kentucky need eight colleges of education? Should a university spend millions of tax dollars on athletics when its faculty salaries are below average? Is it every Kentuckian's right to live within 25 minutes of a college program? These are some of the questions raised during Reflections on Kentucky "Education," the first of three one-hour specials dealing respectively with Kentucky education, politics and culture. Reflections on Kentucky premieres on KET at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 2.

In "Education," experts discuss education issues — past and present — and a recent court ruling requiring the state to devise a more equitable education system.

Al Smith moderates. Featured are Dr. Robert F. Sexton, director of the Prichard Committee on Academic Excellence; Dr. Lyman Ginger, former state superintendent of public instruction; Gene Binion, superintendent of Elliott County Schools; and Dr. A. D. Albright, former president of Morehead State and Northern Kentucky universities. Ginger is a current member of the Fayette County School Board.

The education problem is, to a large extent, an economic one, Sexton says. Kentucky has made some progress in the last 10 years, but has "never paid the bill" to provide for a quality system of education. Kentucky currently spends $1,000 to $1,100 per pupil below the national average, according to Sexton.

Improvements in teacher training and teacher salaries are needed also, Ginger says. "I'm in the hospital business now and I can pay the physical therapist, nurse, even the nurses' aids $10,000 to $12,000 more than a beginning teacher will make."

Guests on "Education" outline ways to rebuild public confidence in schools and provide more accountability. Other ideas the group explores are better use of school buildings; increasing the length of the school year; capitalizing on new satellite technology; appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction; and implementation of a statewide system for collecting school taxes.

Floyd Teachers Join English Telecommunications Project

Members of Floyd County's Writing Across the Curriculum program will be taking part in an experimental telecommunications project this fall.

English teachers from the high schools and some of the elementary schools in the county will be exchanging student writing and ideas across telephone wires not only with each other, but with other writing programs across the state. Through a central computer located in Cincinnati, teachers will be able to type student writing into a computer, send it across telephone wires and have other students and teachers read the work at the other end and comment

Mayo PBL Elects Officers

Mayo Vocational-Technical School's Upsilon Gamma Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda recently elected officers for the school year.

Officers are Tammy Moore of

Floyd County, president; Johnny Fraley of Johnson County, vice president; Marcelli Trimble of Johnson County, secretary; Anna May of Lawrence County, treasurer; Susie Mollette of Johnson County, corresponding secretary; Chris Caudill of Magoffin County, reporter; Teresa Mollette of Martin County, parliamentarian; and Desra Puckett of Magoffin County, historian.

'Testmate' Program Designed To Boost Student Achievement

This year, each school will have the capability of analyzing and utilizing test results more effectively to improve student learning.

A computer, optical scanner, and a software program called Testmate will enable schools to score, reorganize, and analyze data from a variety of tests. This will allow teachers and administrators to identify strengths and weaknesses of the curriculum and more effectively serve students who are exhibiting particular learning difficulties.

The pilot program will be operating at the fifth grade level in reading. This program is a cooperative effort of the Kentucky Department of Education, Floyd County Schools, CTB/McGraw-Hill, and the Scantron Company. It performs as a pilot to examine the positive effects of the teaching-testing-researching model with the use of a computer. An inservice program is planned early in the year with all principals and fifth grade reading teachers. A diagnostic test will be administered in reading at the beginning and the middle of the year and will permit teachers to identify specific objectives to be targeted for instruction. Interim tests will also be used, such as teacher-made tests and end of chapter tests. These tests may be scanned and scored at the school using the computer.

Floyd Students Earn MSU Degrees

Morehead State University's August graduates included 15 Floyd County residents who completed degree requirements during the 1989 summer sessions.

Graduating were Richard Bevins of Banner, associate degree, applied science; Timothy Gene Francis of Garrett, bachelor's degree, business administration; Jack Goodman of Prestonsburg, master's degree, education; Kathryn L. Gore of Prestonsburg, master's degree, education; Douglas R. Hall of McDowell, associate degree, arts; Zenith J. Hall of Bevinville, master's degree, education; Ernest

Johnson of Bypro, master's degree, education; Jeanice Johnson of Melvin, bachelor's degree, arts; Sharon Rose Justice of Wayland, master's degree, education;

Audreyetta M. Lawson of Garrett, master's degree, education; Janet L. Lawson of Hi Hat, master's degree, education; Kelli Stumbo of McDowell, associate degree, arts; Earl W. Thompson of Martin, education specialist, guidance and counseling; Deborah K. Walker of Prestonsburg, master's degree, education; and Thomas L. Webb Jr. of East Point, bachelor's degree, university studies.

Students Return to MSU Campus

Morehead State University's 1989 fall semester is in full swing as students return and classes begin. Completing the ever-present paperwork entailed in registration were Scott Lykins, left, West Liberty sophomore, and Lora Hardwick, a graduate student from Betsy Layne.

360-Plus Calls Received By Task Force

More than 360 calls have been made to the Task Force on Education Reform toll-free message line since it was created six weeks ago, according to Vic Hellard Jr., co-coordinator of the panel.

The task force was created in response to a June 8 Kentucky Supreme Court ruling that the state's educational system was unconstitutional because it does not afford each Kentucky child an opportunity for an equitable education.

One of the first actions taken by the 21-member task force was to create a toll-free message line to receive comments and suggestions from citizens across the state. The toll-free number, 1-800-372-7181, has been called more than 360 times, and those messages have been forwarded to the task force, according to Hellard.

"Those comments will be used by the three committees — on finance, curriculum and governance — that have been established by the task force," Hellard said. "The messages taken over the toll-free line will receive just as much consideration as the recommendations that have been made by experts who have appeared before the committees."

The message line operates between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and will remain in use as long as the task force is working. Since the 1990 General Assembly session is fast approaching, more operators will be hired later this month to help take messages, said Hellard.

Citizens may also submit written comments and suggestions to the task force by mailing them to Task Force on Education Reform, care of the Legislative Research Commission, Room 300, Capitol Building, Frankfort, KY 40601.

Slone Is God's Pantry's Newest VISTA Volunteer

Charles P. Slone of Wayland has been selected as a VISTA volunteer to work with God's Pantry-East in West Prestonsburg in the role of product solicitor.

He will be working throughout Eastern Kentucky to increase community awareness of foodbanking and contacting persons in the grocery industry asking for the contribution of products into the Foodbank, according to Mary Jo Votruba, director.

Votruba said that the type of products they collect are those that are nearing expiration date, overproduced, partially damaged or mislabeled but still usable. The God's Pantry Foodbank warehouse is located at 401 Happy Hollow in West Prestonsburg.

"It offers the food industry an alternative to throwing away usable product and allows private, non-profit agencies like day care centers, nursing homes, halfway houses, soup kitchens and emergency food programs the opportunity of stretching the buying power of their limited funds through use of product distributed through the Foodbank," Votruba said. Presently God's Pantry-East distributes about 20,000 pounds of product monthly to more than 60 agencies in its 10 county service area.

For further information contact Votruba at 255-6592, or Slone at 358-9157.

National Register of Historic Places

Methodist Church Is 'Architecturally Distinguished'

by Pam Shingler Assistant Editor

(Fourth in a Series)

The First United Methodist Church of Prestonsburg is noted in its entry in the National Register of Historic Places "as one of the most architecturally distinguished buildings in Prestonsburg."

Built between 1917-19, with a 1951 addition, the church at the corner of South Arnold Avenue and Graham Street, is among 12 sites recently added to the National Register.

When it was built, the church was known as the Methodist Episcopal Church South, reflecting one of the groups that later merged to form the United Methodist denomination. The congregation, dating to 1865, according to the Kentucky Heritage Council report for the Register, was the second religious organization to be established in the city.

Meeting first in the school or courthouse, the congregation was given a lot for a building in 1883 by Joseph M. Davidson and his heirs. The first building, on Court Street, was a "small gabled brick building crowned with a steeple," according to the report. Church records, the report says, show that the first wedding in the building took place in 1894 and the first baptism in 1897. The 1894 congregation consisted of 78 members, with 16 added the following year, according to the report.

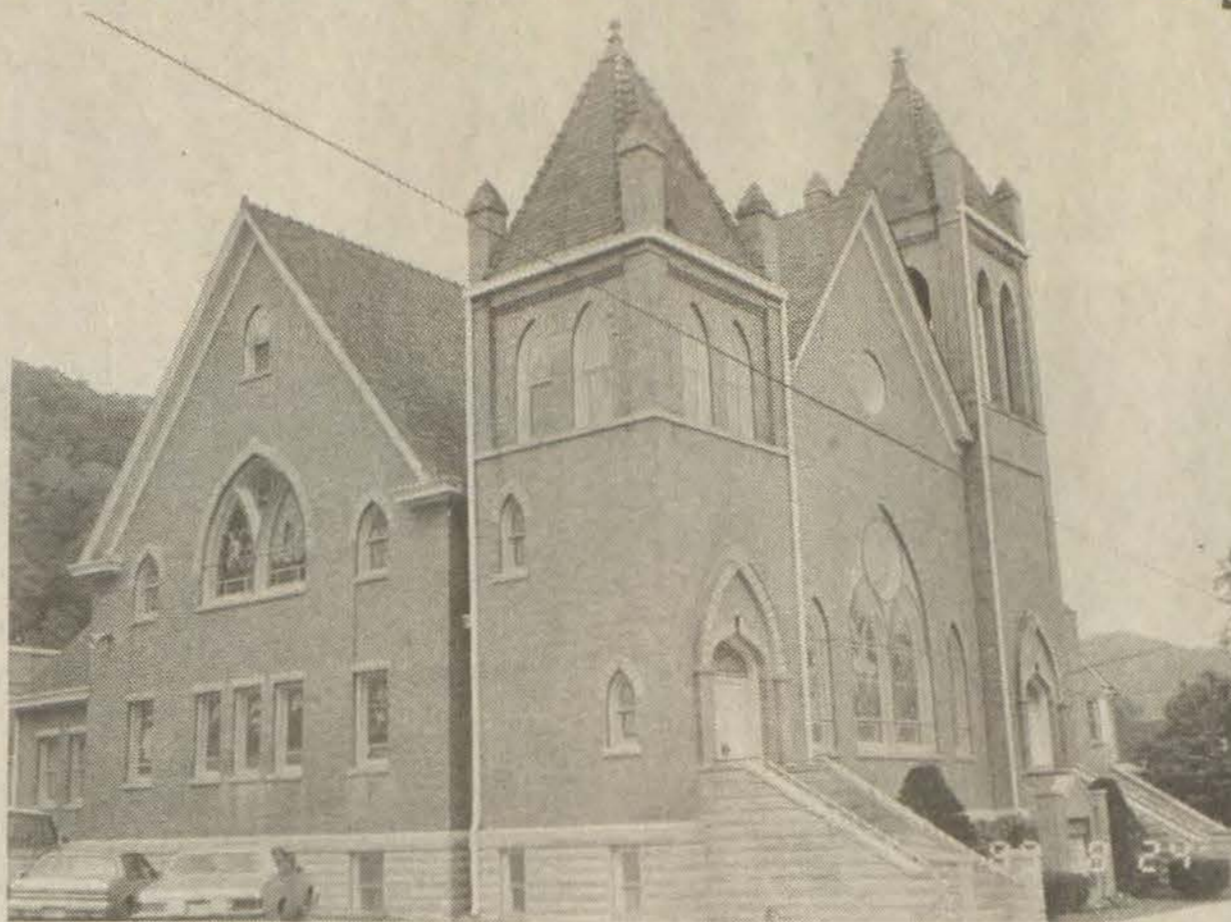

The church had 151 members in 1915, and a revival brought in 39 new members in January of 1916, leading apparently to the need for a new church building. That summer, the report says, George and Emma Archer donated the present site, a former potato patch.

The cornerstone for the present structure is dated 1916, but the report notes that May's church history considers the actual date to be 1917. World War I, which had heated up by this time, created a delay in construction because of the scarcity of materials and money. The notorious influenza epidemic in 1918 also resulted in delays.

The building was completed in 1919, the report indicates. The present organ was installed in 1935 and new pews were in place in 1949, the report states.

The report praises the church's architecture and particularly spotlights its art glass windows, described as "high quality" and made by the R. Mueller studio of Cincinnati.

The description includes: "The east sanctuary window features ecclesiastical motifs executed in clear, brilliant-hued glass on a translucent or opalescent ground, while those of the side elevations, anterooms, doorway transoms, and towers display abstract designs in shades of clear green and rose on a creamy-yellow translucent field. The east window tells the story of the Resurrection, and its quatrefoil displays Masonic symbols. Smaller panels depict the Agony in the Garden of Gethsemane, Christ the Good Shepherd, and the parable of the Sower Who Went Forth to Sow."

The report further states that the church "has been carefully maintained and is in very good condition."

Kentuckian Wendell Berry's Writings Spotlighted

by Trisha Morris
PCCLibrarian

Kentucky author Wendell Berry is a phenomenon of a seemingly backward success story. His sojourn took him from a farm in Henry County to a very distinguished academic career from which he enjoyed a Wallace Stegner Fellowship, A Guggenheim Foundation Fellowship and many distinguished awards—then back to that small hillside farm in Henry County.

In a "back to the land" consciousness, Berry resigned his professorship at the University of Kentucky in 1977 to live, as he describes, "responsibly." In going back to this marginal land which he calls "as much a reclamation project as a farm," the scholar found a renewed sense of belonging. Commitment to farming enabled him to live "according to a kind of destiny rooted in my origins," and to reinforce bonds deep in his history and culture. By becoming an "old-fashioned" farmer, using draft horses and no chemicals, Berry has helped the erosion-damaged land begin to renew.

In many of his published works, such as "The Unsettling of America," this Kentuckian argues against today's overspecialized agriculture. He urges the younger generation to learn the "ways" of their elders and to study the history of their family, community and state.

Berry has published many essays, poems and novels which advocate the gentler uses of land and the appropriate connections between a place and the human generations which live on it. An environmentalist, farmer and author, he has emerged as an eloquent spokesman for conservation, common sense and responsibility to place and community.

Reviewed This Week:
Works by Wendell Berry:
Remembering Collected Poems
The Unforeseen Wilderness: An Essay on Kentucky's Red River Gorge Home Economics

Remembering. This short but memorable novel is the fourth in a sequence ("Nathan Coulter," "A Place on Earth," and "The Memory of Old Jack") which establishes Port William, Ky., as a counterpart to Faulkner's Yoknapatawpha County, Miss.

Each of the books explores expressions of individual and social personality that arise best, and perhaps only, in a people rooted fast upon a specific place, who are heirs to a natural tradition.

Remembering's star, Andy Catlett, has been torn from his vocation by the loss of his right hand in a corn picker on his farm in Port Williams. The reader is witness as Andy finds his way home through his memories and his complex store of experiences through membership in family, community and craft.

Remembering is a "coming home" success story only people rooted in the land can appreciate.

Collected Poems. This is a collection of Wendell Berry's poetry from his previous eight collections ("The Broken Ground," "Openings," "Findings," "Farming," "The Country of Marriage," "Clearing," "A Part," and "The Wheel") it includes nearly 200 poems from the poet's first 25 years of work.

Berry is a writer of great clarity and sureness. His love of the language and his care for its music are only matched by his love and care for the subjects he has written about during his entire career — land and nature, family and community, and tradition as the groundwork for life and culture.

Husbandman and husband, philosopher and "mad" farmer, Berry writes of the values that endure — that must endure if we are to survive. His graceful writings show a vision of determination and faithfulness, of hope and memory and of love.

The Unforeseen Wilderness: An Essay on Kentucky's Red River Gorge. The Red River Gorge is an area of steep forested ridges and narrow valleys, of bold cliffs and shaded hollows carved by the Red River near the western edge of The Cumberland Plateau. In 1967 a large portion of this unique area was destined to be drowned under the waters of a man-made lake. From this sense of impending loss came this book.

Combining the talents of Wendell Berry as writer and Gene Meatyard as photographer, The Unforeseen Wilderness is an eloquent testimony to the values of this land and its meaning for contemporary man.

Like Thoreau's Walden, it is about only one small place, but its dimensions embrace eternal concerns.

Home Economics. This is not a book on kitchen management. Rather, it is about Berry's lifelong obsession with "responsibility." This collection of 14 new essays continues his discussion of making oneself "responsible" at home. He reminds us that the very root of economics is stewardship of our place in this world. That the health of its households is a measure of the health of the planet. And he prods us to get busy, with his motto of "To live is not to pass time, but to spend time." Wendell Berry's continuing argument of the connection of all things and the individual's responsibility to hold up his end of the connection, permeates all 14 essays. His critical insights and his accolades are all sung in a prose that is ringing and clear. Berry speaks to the soul of a national consciousness which needs to awaken if the earth, as we know it, is to survive.

Wed In Gatlinburg, Tenn.

Melissa Samons, daughter of J.B. and Marie Samons of Martin, and Ross Gibson, son of Robert and Herma Robinson of Larkslane, exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, June 10, at the Gatlinburg Wedding Chapel in Tennessee. The chapel was a replica of early churches of the past and served as a romantic setting for the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Allen Central High School and the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy, from which she is graduating with honors. She is employed as the pharmacist at Martin Rexall Drug. The groom is a graduate of Knott Central High School and the UK College of Business and Economics.

Many family members and friends accompanied the couple to Gatlinburg, and as the bride and groom departed the chapel the steeple bells were rung announcing their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson honeymooned at Myrtle Beach, S.C., and now reside in Prestonsburg.

Miss Big Sandy Coal

Robin Renee Jones recently won the title of Miss Big Sandy Coal Queen at the Sunday, Aug. 27 pageant in Prestonsburg. She received a crown, banner and trophy. ## Don't Be Confused! Stumbo's For Sturgill; Combs Is For Sturgill.

Barkley Sturgill's opponent in the November election for Judge of the Kentucky Court of Appeals is the wife of Ned Pillersdorf. She uses the name, Janet Stumbo.

Here's What Dr. Grady Stumbo Says:

"What's in a name? There's pride; a sense of family; a sense of identity. But there also can be a sense of confusion."

"Take the election for Judge on Kentucky's Court of Appeals. The candidates are a Stumbo and a Sturgill. There's no question in my mind. THIS STUMBO'S FOR STURGILL!"

Here's What Former Governor Bert Combs Says:

"Barkley Sturgill has a wealth of experience in the practice of law throughout Eastern Kentucky. He knows the people of the region and he has the maturity and integrity to represent his people with dignity and decorum as Judge on the Kentucky Court of Appeals."

Paul, Lovely Marry In Outdoor Ceremony Saturday, Aug. 5

Diane Inusteen Paul and Sean Alan Lovely were married at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 5, in an outdoor ceremony at Blue Springs, Lake Barkley State Park.

The bride is the daughter of Fay Johnson Paul of London and the late Emery E. Paul.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Lovely of Cadiz, formerly of Floyd County, and the grandson of Cynthia Dove of Manton and Ethel Lovely of Hueysville, as well as the relative of many other Floyd Countians.

The Rev. Grandville Courtney officiated the double-ring ceremony. Leah Lovely, soloist, Faye Stevens and Kaye Stewart, flutists, provided the nuptial music for the occasion.

Lovely sang "To Me," Friends and Lovers" and "El Shaddai."

The ceremony took place beneath an arch of greenery and white silk flowers. White wedding bells hung in the center. The arch was flanked by potted ferns set in Grecian urns with flower arrangements on each side.

The bride wore a white satin gown that featured a Basque bodice with heavily beaded lace motifs. The dress had a scoop sweetheart neckline and cousin of the groom.

The reception was hosted at Barkley Lodge immediately following the ceremony. The reception table was covered by a white cloth decorated with peach ribbon and candles. The bridesmaids' bouquets were placed on the table. The table was centered by a three-tier white wedding cake with peach and lilac flowers. The heart-shaped top tier featured a heart ornament surrounded by peach and white lace with wedding bells in the center.

Serving at the reception were Lana Eaton of Hopkinsville, Ann Snyder of Garrett, cousins of the groom, and Annette Hill of Lexington, cousin of the bride. Ginger Lovely of Hopkinsville, sister-in-law of the groom, kept the guest register. A gift reception was hosted at Lake Barkley State Park, by Elizabeth Hook, Marilyn Ladd, Sandi Strelec, Leona Boyd, Judy Braboy and Alice Propst. They were assisted by Virginia Hooks.

A dinner for the couple was hosted by Mark and Ginger Lovely.

Following a brief wedding trip, the couple is residing in Terre Haute, Ind., where he will be attending Indiana State University to begin work on his PhD.

puff sleeves of ruffled organza. The bouffant skirt was embellished with beaded lace and swept into a train of organza ruffles.

She carried a silk cascade bouquet of white roses and lace entwined with English ivy. The bouquet featured a white New Testament Bible given to the bride by her mother. The gold wedding band of the bride's late father was centered on the front of the Bible by a peach ribbon.

The bride chose her sister, Regina Paul Head of London, to be her matron of honor. The bridesmaids, alumni of Adrian College in Adrian, Mich., were Kathleen Harris of Lansing, Mich., Diana Jones of Decatur, Ga., and Lisa Yokes of Lansing, Mich. The bride's attendants wore dresses that were a Bill Leufkoff design. The dresses were tea length peach taffeta with a scoop sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. Attendants carried bouquets of white and lilac roses accented with peach carnations and trailing white streamers.

The groom chose his brother, Mark Steven Lovely of Hopkinsville, to be best man. Groomsman were John Dowell of Louisville, Eric Smith of Dayton, Ohio and Steven Spear of Bowling Green.

Ushers were Pat Head, brother-in-law of the bride, and Jack Lovely,

Annual Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival Has Another Successful Year

The annual Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival began Thursday with bluegrass music by area bands, followed Friday by arts and crafts and activities for adults and youngsters alike.

This year, the festival, directed by Kathy Lowe, featured a writer's workshop, poetry readings, gospel and bluegrass music, crafts demonstrations and more.

For the younger set, the festival included a children's fun fair at May Lodge.

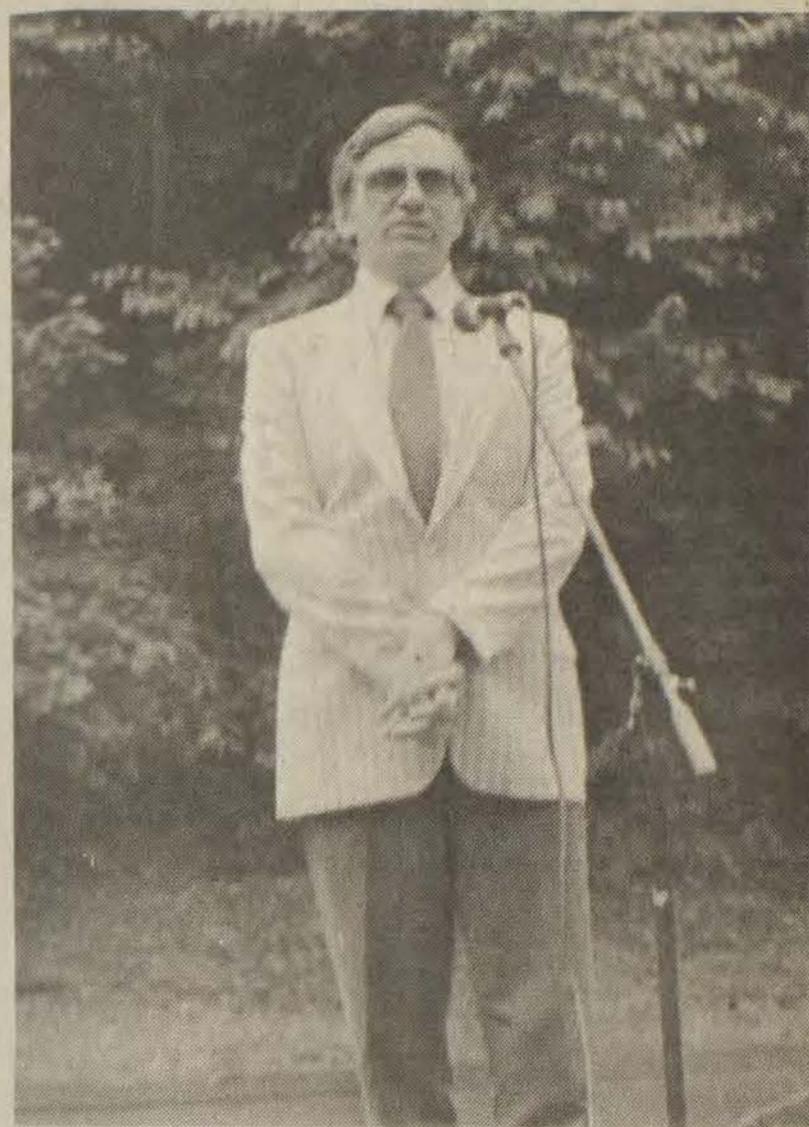

On Sunday afternoon, despite the threat of rain, a large crowd turned out to hear local folks sing gospel music in the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheater.

The singing moved to May Lodge after the skies stopped threatening and followed through with a rainstorm that had been building much of the morning.

Trio? Quartet?

Three members of the Little Paint Church of God quartet performed a gospel song Sunday for folks attending the gospel sing at Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheater. The trio soon became a true quartet, and continued to perform for the crowd on hand.

Giving Praise . . .

The Rev. Tim Jessen, above, led those attending Sunday's gospel sing in prayer and song. Despite rains which moved the bulk of the performance to the lodge, a number of folks braved the threatening weather to attend.

Sunday's Gospel Hour

The Pentecostal Travelers from Drift, a gospel singing group, was among a number of such groups performing Sunday afternoon during the Kentucky Highlands Folk Festival at the Jenny Wiley State Park amphitheater.

Arts and Crafts

Local residents, visitors and other out-of-towners came to Jenny Wiley State Park for the annual Kentucky Highlands Festival, held Thursday through Sunday, Sept. 7-10. Above, several folks take time to look at area crafts and visit with craftspeople at Jenny Wiley amphitheater parking lot.

County Kettle

County Kettle

Is a feature offered by the Floyd County Times. Send all recipes, kitchen tips and suggestions to "County Kettle," The Floyd County Times, P.O. Box 391, Prestonsburg, KY 41653

Remember those wonderful fresh vegetables mother (or maybe it was grandmother) cooked in the summertime? Nothing is better than a meal of vegetables just out of the garden and a skillet of hot buttered cornbread.

Whether one gets the vegetables from a garden, grocery store, farmer's market or roadside stand, the results are the same — but there may be some questions about exactly how to make them taste like mother's did. It is often difficult to find Southern-style recipes in print, so here are some to try.

FRIED GREEN TOMATOES

5 medium size green tomatoes
Martha White Colton Pickin' Cornbread Mix salt
fat for frying
Wash tomatoes and cut off stem ends. Slice about 1/2-inch thick, sprinkle lightly with salt, and coat with cornbread mix. Heat about 1/8 inch fat in a skillet over medium heat. Add tomato slices and brown on one side, turn and brown on other side. Serve hot. Makes six servings.

FRIED OKRA

To coat evenly, put cornmeal and okra in a paper or plastic bag and shake.

1 lb. okra, cleaned

3/4 cup Martha White Self-Rising Corn Meal

Cut okra crosswise into 1/2-inch slices; coat with cornmeal. Heat 1/2-inch vegetable oil in skillet over medium heat. Fry okra until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Drain on paper towels. Makes four servings.

FRIED CORN

6 ears of corn

1 tsp. salt

1/8 tsp. pepper

2 Tsp. sugar

3 Tbsps. Martha White Flour (Plain or Self-Rising)

1 1/2 cups water

3 Tbsps. bacon drippings or butter

Shuck corn and pull off silks, then wash under running water with a vegetable brush to remove remaining silks. In a large pan or bowl, cut corn from the cob with a sharp knife. Cut down the cob all around, just cutting off the tips of the grain, then scrape up the cob with a tablespoon to get the milk. Add salt, pepper, sugar, flour and water to corn and stir to blend. Melt bacon drippings in a heavy skillet over low heat. Add corn mixture and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally. Cook about 40 minutes. Makes four to five servings.

Following are two recipes submitted by Claris Hicks of Atlica, Ohio. She found the recipes in a church cookbook, submitted by Irene Lykins (United Baptist Church, Albion, Mich.). Hicks noted that "some time back someone formerly of Floyd County had requested this recipe. I hope this is what she is looking for." She sent a recipe for Old Fashioned Stack Cake, which uses lard instead of Crisco and dried apples instead of applesauce, and a recipe for Green Tomato Pie, which she assures us is delicious.

OLD FASHIONED APPLE STACK CAKE

1/2 cup lard

1/2 cup sugar

1 egg

1 tsp. vanilla

1/3 cup molasses

1/2 cup buttermilk

3 1/2 cups flour

2 Tsp. baking powder

1/2 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/4 tsp. nutmeg

Cream sugar and lard; add molasses, egg, vanilla and buttermilk. In a separate bowl combine all the dry ingredients; add to creamed mixture.

Refrigerate the dough for 20 minutes; separate into six or seven pieces, roll out. Spread pieces into greased and floured 9-inch cake pans and bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes each.

To create applespread, cook dried apples and season to taste with sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Spread apple mixture between each cooled layer, to create stacks and serve.

GREEN TOMATO PIE

2 prepared pie crusts (top and bottom)
sliced green tomatoes (don't grind or peel)

1 cup sugar

1 tsp. cinnamon

1 tsp. ground cloves

2 Tbsps. Flour

pinch of salt

oleo or butter

Combine sugar, cloves, salt, flour and cinnamon. Layer tomatoes in pie shell, sprinkling flour mixture between each layer and on the top. Dot with butter or oleo and add top crust. Bake at 375 to 400 degrees for 35 minutes or until done. Serve warm or cold.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS, HAS HAGER, SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT AS GUEST SPEAKER

Phyllis Herrick, newly-elected president of the KFWC/GFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club, presided at the club's executive board meeting and regular monthly meeting which followed on Thursday evening, Sept. 7, at the arts and crafts house at Archer Park.

During the board meeting, matters of importance to the club, to be brought before members at the 7:30 p.m. meeting, were discussed.

Attending were Phyllis Herrick, Linda McGuire, Lee Boswell, Lida M. Howard, Dorothy Harris and Docia B. Woods.

During the regular membership meeting, Herrick welcomed members and guests, and led the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag.

Lucy Regan presented the devotion, entitled "Privilege or Responsibility?" and led the group in prayer.

Roberta Davidson, program leader, introduced Ronald Hager, superintendent of Floyd County Schools. Hager gave a brief history of education in Kentucky as it relates to our area. He outlined a projected building program for Floyd County, discussed matters of the state versus local control of schools, and explained several matters relating to this subject.

He added that "as a society changes, so do the schools."

On behalf of the club, Davidson presented him with a gift.

The president introduced guests Shirley Branham, Judy Burchell, Phyllis Stanley and Ruby Lamping.

The minutes were read by Lida Howard, and Dorothy Harris gave the treasurer's report and presented the budget.

In the absence of Maxine Bierman, Shirley Callihan read thank-you letters to the club from the Big Sandy Hospice, the Jenny Wiley Drama Club, Katie Harmon (for support in the Floyd County Scholarship Pageant) and from the animal shelter here.

Linda McGuire, second vice president, distributed the yearbooks for 1989-90 to members who had paid their dues of $18. Lee Boswell, third vice president, discussed the club's birthday calendars, and explained that each name placed on the calendar will cost $1, with three names making one eligible for a free calendar. She said that names of patrons would be $10, and that "ads" would be $15, and added that she needed help in getting material submitted by the Oct. 1 deadline.

Dorothy Stover presented a colorful report on the program about Floyd County, shown recently by the Hazard television station. Among those interviewed was Eileen Burchett, a member of the woman's club.

In the absence of Garnett Fairchild, Eileen Burchett discussed the forthcoming contest sponsored by the club's Seventh District. Interested members should contact Fairchild.

The president reminded members of the ceramics classes to be held at the arts and crafts house at Archer Park each Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, with Eileen Burchett as instructor. She urged members to attend.

It was pointed out that an air conditioner is needed at the club home, and it is asked that anyone having one to donate please contact one of the club members.

Lida Howard announced the writer's workshops held in connection with the Jenny Wiley Festival at May Lodge.

The president told the group that she had represented the club at the summer workshop held in Pikeville in July. She announced that the KFWC/GFWC fall board meeting will be held Sept. 27-28 at Drawbridge Inn, Ft. Mitchell, and urged members to attend.

She also announced that the annual Seventh District conference would be held Oct. 17, at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. She discussed the program, and stressed the importance of the club's having a good representation for the event.

The president said that the Kentucky Bicentennial will be held in 1992, and that she had been invited to serve on the Bicentennial committee. The club's Kentucky Highlands Cookbook was displayed. Persons wishing to purchase one may contact Dorothy Harris.

Herrick thanked Mable Brown, who had recently donated several plates and cups to the club, and she thanked the hostesses for serving at Thursday's event. Hostesses were Helen B. Wells, Sandi Burchett, Roberta Sloan, Rebecca Rasnick, Janet Whitten and Kathryn Frazier, who served a dessert course and punch to Ron Hager, Phyllis Herrick, Linda McGuire, Lee Boswell, Lida Howard, Dorothy Harris, Docia Woods, Shirley Callihan, Myrtle Allen, Lucy Regan, Roberta Davidson, Burieta Gearhart, Ruby Lamping, Shirley Branham, Polly Sparks, Eileen Burchett, Beverly Hackworth, Nan Arnett, Fannie Runnels, Alice Harris, Turp Combs, Phyllis Stanley, Judy Kittle, Boots Adams, Dorothy Stover, Lillian Baldrige, Judy Burchell and Mable Brown.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 5, at 7 p.m. at the arts and crafts house at Archer Park. The topic will be "International Affairs"; the devotional leader will be Nan Arnett; the program leader will be Betty Porter, and the title of the program will be "Russia In Change," with Robert McAnich as speaker. Hostesses will be Maxine Bierman, Burieta Gearhart, Kathryn Poe, Honey May, Debbie Hall and Pauline Crisp.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club members are reminded to turn in names and ads for the birthday calendar to Lee Boswell, finance chairman, or other members of the committee (Pauline Crisp, Dorothy Stover, Dorothy Harris, Earlene Daniels, Roslyn Burchett, Elizabeth Ramey, Mable Brown, Christine Spradlin, Linda McGuire or Linda Howell).

The deadline is Sunday, Oct. 1.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY HYPERTENSION DRUGS

Hypertension afflicts about 60 million Americans. Because it features an elevation in blood pressure, hypertension has been linked to strokes, heart attacks, and kidney failure. Mild cases of hypertension are treated by restricting sodium intake, lowering alcohol consumption, weight loss, and exercise. However, when non-drug therapies do not work, physicians have four basic categories of drugs from which to choose. Diuretics work by eliminating excess salt and water from the body. There are beta-blockers which lower blood pressure by reducing the heart rate and the amount of blood pumped. There are calcium antagonists which dilate small blood vessels allowing blood to flow more easily. There are the ACE inhibitors which prevent the production of a hormone that elevates blood pressure.

COOLEY APOTHECARY is your local pharmacy where a registered pharmacist is always on duty to fill your prescription requirements quickly and accurately. Our pharmacy is well known throughout this area as truly the "Drug Store with a Difference". Take advantage of our everyday low prices here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3.

HINT: Hypertension has been linked to accelerated accumulation of fatty deposits that clog arteries.

MIRIAM REBEKAHS MEET, ELECT OFFICERS

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge #31 was held Sept. 5 at the IOOF Hall, with Noble Grand Matron Lorena Wallen presiding.

The business session was conducted, and those on the sicklist were noted.

Officers were elected, including Beverly Hackworth, noble grand; Mary Ann Prater, vice noble grand; Vicki Spencer, secretary; and Maman Leslie, treasurer. Mabel Jean LeMaster was elected as lodge deputy.

Appointed to attend the Rebekah Assembly meeting to be held in Frankfort Oct. 8-11 were delegates Mabel Jean LeMaster, Virginia S. Goble, Teresa Maynard, Violetta Wright and Maman Leslie. Alternates appointed were Orela Smiley, Paulena Owens, Norma S. Stepp, Sue Moore and Mary Zemo.

Plans were made for the district meeting, to be held Sept. 16 at the IOOF Hall in Prestonsburg. A covered-dish dinner will be served at 6 p.m., and the election of officers will be held on that date.

Members are urged to bring small gifts for door prizes.

Sister Virginia S. Goble presented an article entitled, "The Educational Foundation," which provides loans for members to pursue educational opportunities, and another article on "The Bald Eagle — Our Nation's Symbol."

Debbie Johns reported that several members had responded to the "Bakeless Bake Sale."

It was announced by the noble grand that cans of food for needy families should continue to be brought.

During the regular meeting, the noble grand will announce her appointed officers.

Debbie Johns and Mary Ann Prater each received a Rebekah pendant for bringing in new members.

The suggestion was made that members bring in small items to be used as Christmas gifts.

Present for this meeting were Lorena Wallen, Beverly Hackworth, Debbie Johns, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Mary Ann Prater, Hope Whitten, Donna Thomas, Mollie Hyden, Mary

Sue Martin, Jewell Bays, Virginia S. Goble, Dora Johns, Vicki Spencer and Vina Nuckles.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the IOOF Hall.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST REVIVAL SERVICES UNDERWAY

Revival services are in progress at the First United Methodist Church here with John and Barbara Brokhoff in charge. The public is invited to attend. The Rev. Quentin Scholtz is the pastor there.

On behalf of the members of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial), the Rev. Steve Hopkins, pastor, and Mrs. Hopkins, presented recognition pins to Thomas Foy, youth and music director there, and Mrs. Foy, during services this past Sunday morning. The Foy's were observing their first anniversary with this church.

HUFF, SIMMONDS CAMP AT JENNY WILEY

Mr. and Mrs. John Huff and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Simmonds of Cincinnati, Ohio, spent several days at Jenny Wiley campground recently. Honey May spent some time camping with them. They returned to their home on Tuesday.

MAY ENTERTAINS RECENT GUESTS

Honey May entertained with a cook-out on Friday evening, having as her guests Opal Fitzpatrick of Lexington, and Phyllis Herald, Helen Wilson and Roberta Sloan of Prestonsburg.

HRMC AUXILIARY TO MEET SEPT. 16

The Highlands Regional Medical Center Auxiliary will meet in the cafeteria there Saturday, Sept. 16, at 2 p.m. All members and prospective members are asked to attend.

CORRECTION

The name of Dora Johns should be added to the list of members of Miriam Rebekah Lodge #31, who attended a meeting at the IOOF Hall in Prestonsburg on Sept. 5.

DONAHOE VISITS MOTHER, SISTER IN WINCHESTER

Mabel Donahoe spent the Labor Day holidays visiting with her mother, Mrs. Rogers, and her sister, Joyce Beam, at Winchester.

DELONGS VISIT PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Bill DeLong and baby daughter Rachel, of Atlanta, are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Salisbury at Martin.

DIRECTORY IN PROGRESS

A new directory, including portraits of members and their families, and a roster of membership, addresses and telephone numbers is being prepared by the First Baptist Church here. For more information, please contact Myra Elliott, 886-6906.

HEARALD, MAY VISIT IN HAGER HILL

Phyllis Herald and Honey May visited with Verna Shepherd Ratliff at Hager Hill on Thursday.

COLLINS RETURNS HOME

Margaret Collins has returned to her home here, following a three-week visit at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bradley in Houston, Texas. During that time, they toured several points of interest.

RETIRED TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS, PLANS UPCOMING EVENT

One of the most active groups in Floyd County is the Floyd County Retired Teachers' Association, which was organized on April 9, 1971.

The group's charter members are May K. Roberts, the late Grace Conley, Ethel Ratliff, Norma S. Stepp, Lucy C. Regan, Alice Harris, the late Minnie Grace Sutherland, Carmel Akers, the late Martha H. Allen, Margaret Collins, the late Josephine Hill, and Josephine Spradlin.

Floyd County retired teachers also participate in the Big Sandy and Kentucky retired teachers' associations.

While making preparations for the forthcoming combined KRTA and BSRT event, to be held here, memories of past such events were recalled (see accompanying photo).

The annual workshop for the Kentucky Retired Teachers' Association will be conducted at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, on Thursday, Sept. 14, with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m. The meeting begins at 9 a.m.; coffee and soft drinks will be served during this time.

Following the roll-call, and remarks by the new president, John Vickers, several state officers will discuss interesting and informative topics, including insurance and health care, membership, legislation, pre-retirement, NRTA and AARP, and other matters of concern to retired teachers.

Following the luncheon at 12:30 p.m., the Big Sandy President, H.C. Dutton, will install officers and the new president, Imogene Salyer will preside during the remainder of the meeting.

All retired and pre-retired teachers are cordially invited to attend this combined event, which includes all of the Big Sandy district, comprised of Floyd, Johnson, Lawrence, Martin, Magoffin and Pike counties.

For more information, contact Norma S. Stepp, liaison person for these organizations.

Angie, 38. Found houseware parties the ideal excuse to mix a blender of margaritas. But in a few years, it went from women friends to lowlifes and losers hanging around her home late into the night. Sometimes, her husband had to load up the kids and go midnight bar-hopping to find her. Finally, he nailed up doors and windows to keep her out. In desperation, feeling she'd be dead within a year unless she got control of herself, Angie turned to CareUnit.

"I learned more about myself than I'd learned in a lifetime. For the first time, I feel good about myself." Angie is now sober, and is rebuilding her relationship with her husband and two daughters.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE Pursuant to Application Number 880-0018 Amendment No. 3

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Martin County Coal Corporation, HC 69, Box 640, Inez, Kentucky 41224 has filed an application for an amendment to an existing surface coal mining and reclamation operation. This amendment proposes to add an additional 49.4 acres of surface disturbance and transfer 13.5 underground acres to surface, resulting in a total permit area of 818.9 acres. The amendment is located 1.5 miles northeast of Thomas, Kentucky in Martin, Floyd, and Pike Counties.

The proposed operation is approximately 1.5 miles northeast from Brushy Fork Road's junction with KY 194 and located 1.5 miles northeast of Thomas, Kentucky. The majority of the disturbance is in the Cow Fork and Kitmarrow watersheds. The latitude is 37° 41' 34". The longitude is 82° 33' 13".

A brief description of the proposed amendment is to add additional mining areas and associated facilities.

The proposed amendment is located on the Thomas USGS 7.5 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed by this amendment is owned by Pocahontas Development Corporation, William McCoy Heirs, Martin County Coal Corporation, and T.J. Hardin Heirs. The proposed amendment will underlie land owned by Pocahontas Development Corporation, and Martin County Coal Corporation.

The pre-mining land use of forest land will be changed to wildlife habitat. The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, No. 2 Hudson Hollow, U.S. 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 8-30-4tw.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT 87-CI-508

Kentucky Housing Corporation Plaintiff VS: NOTICE OF SALE

Robert Carpenter, Delores Carpenter, United States Government Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service, Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the July 24 & August 15 term, 1989 in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 29 day of September, 1989, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or 10% of the bid price down in cash at the time of the sale and the balance thereof on a credit of 30 days at the rate of 10.875% per annum, the following described property, to-wit:

Being the same property conveyed to Robert Carpenter and Delores Carpenter, his wife, from Billy C. Blair and Shirley Blair, his wife, by deed dated January 23, 1981, of record in Deed Book 253, page 441, in the Office of the Floyd County Clerk, which is more particularly described as follows:

Being Lot Nos. 78 and 79 of Block 4 of the Dings and Layne Subdivision of Lancer, Kentucky, as shown on Map #54 filed July 27, 1942, in the Floyd County Clerk's Office, based on survey by W. E. May on April 22, 1935. Beginning at the corner of a twenty five foot lot adjoining the lot formerly owned by Chollie Fraley; thence a southerly direction 125 feet to the corner of Lot No. 90; thence in a northerly direction with the line of Lot No. 80, 125 feet to a stake in Fourth Street; thence in a westerly direction with the line of Fourth Street 50 feet to the place of beginning.

This sale is subject to 1989 property taxes and taxes of later years, all to be paid by the purchaser.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $33,049.42 with interest thereon at 10.875% annually from the 16 day of June, 1989 until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 11 day of September, 1989.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE Pursuant to Application Number 836-0196 AM #1

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Coal-Mac, Inc., P.O. Box 3428, Pikeville, Kentucky 41501, has filed an amendment to an existing surface and auger coal mining and reclamation operation. The amendment proposes to disturb an additional 24.52 acres of surface disturbance and will underlie an additional 10.70 acres for a total proposed permit acreage of 506.57 acres. The operation is located 1/4 mile southwest of Eastern in Floyd County.

The proposed amendment area is approximately 1/4 mile southeast from KY State Route 550's junction with KY State Route 80 and located 1/4 mile south of Right Fork of Beaver Creek. The latitude is 37° 30' 13". The longitude is 82° 47' 36".

The proposed operation is located on the Martin and Wayland U.S.G.S. 7-1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be disturbed by this amendment is owned by Gosling Branch Coal Company, Frank Justice et al., Charlie Martin et al., and Allen Heirs. The proposed amendment will underlie land owned by Gosling Branch Coal Company and Allen Heirs. The operation will use the contour, auger, and mountain top removal method of mining. The application also includes a proposed land use change from the undeveloped forest land pre-mining land use to a wildlife habitat post-mining land use. The operation will affect an area within 100 feet of a public road (Gosling Branch Road). The operation will involve mining thru the public road, but access will remain at all times and the road will be relocated at or near the original location.

This amendment proposes to add 24.52 acres of surface mining and 10.7 acres of augering on the Elkhorn No. 1, 2, & 3 coal seam. The amendment will also delete 17.25 acres of previously permitted surface disturbance acreage.

The amendment application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, U.S. 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 8-16-4t.

This is the final advertisement of this application; all comments, objections or requests for a permit conference must be received within 30 days of this date. 9-13-1t.

Lower Interest Rates May Keep Home Sales Steady

Long-term mortgage interest rates are expected to slip a bit further into the fall, which should help keep home sales steady, according to the latest monthly "Outlook for the Economy and Real Estate" from the National Association of Realtors.

The August issue says that the interest rate decline continued last month due to reports of lagging economic growth, resulting in a drop in the Federal Reserve Board's funds rate, followed by a drop in the prime interest rate.

However, the outlook notes that because no substantial retreat of inflation is foreseen, financial markets likely will keep long-term rates from falling significantly below their current levels. As a result, fixed-rate, 30-year mortgages probably will "bottom out at just above 9.0 percent," says the report, before increasing slightly in the late fall.

Sales of existing single-family homes are expected to pick up slightly over the next few months; the outlook does not predict a sales surge, despite lower rates. Slow employment growth and a sluggish economy probably will keep the seasonally adjusted resale between 3.30 million units and 3.50 million units during the second half of the year.

A copy of the outlook, published by NAR's forecasting and policy analysis division, is enclosed. It contains an economic commentary by Dr. John A. Tuccillo, NAR chief economist, along with the following predictions for the real estate industry and economy in general for 1989:

— Sales of existing single-family homes are expected to total 3.41 million units, dropping 5 percent below sales for 1988.

— Sales of new single-family homes are expected to total 631,000 units, dropping 6.8 percent from 1988.

— Housing starts are expected to total 1.44 million units, dropping 3.8 percent from a year ago. A total of 1.04 million units starts for single-family units is expected, dropping 4.4 percent from 1988. Starts for buildings with two-to-four units are expected to total 56,000 units, dropping 4.7 percent from 1988; and starts for building with five or more units are expected to total 342,000 units, falling 1.7 percent from 1988.

— The national median existing-home price is expected to reach $93,800, rising 5 percent from last year. The national median new-home price is expected to reach $121,800, rising 8.3 percent from last year.

— Interest rates for fixed-rate, 30-year mortgages are expected to average 10.2 percent, falling from an average of 10.5 percent for 1988. Interest rates for one-year, adjustable-rate mortgages are expected to average 8.8 percent, rising from an average of 8.5 percent last year.

— The gross national product (the total value of the nation's goods and services) is expected to total $5,228 trillion in current dollar terms, representing an inflation-adjusted increase of 2.6 percent from 1988.

— Consumer price inflation is expected to reach a rate of 5 percent, compared to 4.1 percent in 1988.

— The civilian unemployment rate is expected to be 5.3 percent, compared to 5.5 percent last year.
