

Simmer down, Hugo

As fall nears, the temperatures aim to please, with highs today and tomorrow around 80 degrees and nighttime dips to the low 60s, according to the Jackson Weather Service. The only way the weather could be better would be to have a little more sunshine; unfortunately, the outlook holds some cloudiness mixed in with the sun.

Of course, Hurricane Hugo might bring some changes to the forecast. The Jackson meteorologist says that if Hugo comes up the mid-Atlantic on the west side of the mountains, "we're in for a lot of rain."

Wayland Mine Fires Gain OSM Attention

When the smoke clears, the smoke should be cleared. That's the hope of federal officials who are funding the latest attempt to douse the mine fires that have been burning along Ky. 7 on the outskirts of Wayland for several years.

Workers for Coalfield Reclamation Co. of Betsy Layne have been shooting foam into cracks in the hillside since the latter part of August under an emergency appropriation from the Abandoned Mines Fund of the US Office of Surface Mining.

Over the years, heat from the burning coal inside abandoned mines in the area has weakened the hillside, resulting in repeated landslides along the state route that goes through Wayland and into Knott County, according to Jim Kennedy of OSM's regional office in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Travelers along the route have been able to see smoke emerging from the cracks in the rocks for years. State highway workers, as late as last winter, have dislodged threatening rocks before the rocks fell onto the road, and local residents say they have registered repeated complaints to state and county officials about the situation.

"OSM authorized the emergency appropriation because of the threat to the general well being of the public," Kennedy said.

The federal official said workers have been shooting the foam into the mine cracks almost continuously, "seven days a week, 24 hours a day, except for about six hours on Sundays," since Aug. 30. They have penetrated about 40 feet into the mined area, Kennedy said.

Half of the road has been closed off, with traffic lights used to direct motorists, while the project has been underway.

"We're in the winding down phase now," he said. "We have to do verification drilling to make sure there's no fire in the area we've been pumping into." Kennedy said the project is expected to be completed by Sept. 29.

The project cost is about $87,700, Kennedy said.

Adding Foam To The Fires

Workers have been laboring around the clock to put out fires in abandoned underground coal mines along Ky. 7 at Wayland. With federal emergency funds, they are shooting foam into the smoking cracks in an attempt to stop the burning which has weakened the hillside.

Under Fire, Floyd Fiscal Court Goes On

by Tess A. Whitmer
Staff Writer

An overflowing room, a rain storm and a persistent fire alarm all accompanied the Fiscal Court's regular monthly session Friday, Sept. 15 — but the court went on.

Sixty-three residents of Spurlock Creek of Left Beaver presented the court with a petition containing 800 names protesting the condition of their road.

In separate matters, Gene DeCoursey represented Wayland residents' concerns about an overflowing culvert, and Jerry Slone of Stone Coal voiced the desire of locals there to have that road black topped.

There was standing room only when Bruce Coleman, Dwayne Carroll and an entourage of other Spurlock Creek residents attempted to find out "who was responsible for (their) road... and why is it full of dust, mud and holes."

Coleman pointed out, and Judge Executive John M. Stumbo confirmed, that their road was on a state priority list for several years and its condition is worse than others on the list. Coleman added that the road, as a coal haul road, should be repaired with coal severance tax money. He said that Island Creek Coal Company had repaired it in the past, as had others. However, he added, a school bus went over an embankment on the road in February, and high water further damaged the road in June. "The work done only lasts two weeks, generally," Coleman explained.

Stumbo said that he would send the petition to the State Highway Commissioner. "Every year for the last four years we have given them our list of priority roads and yours has been on there," he said. "Legally they have to take our recommendations, but they don't have to do anything about them. Sometimes I wonder why the state bothers to come."

Coleman told the court that the Transportation Cabinet had been contacted by the group and officials had written saying there wasn't any money to repair the road.

"We don't mind fixing it ourselves if there's no money — (but) if we are being taxed and not getting any results, then we've got a problem," he noted. "County roads are black topped, but here's a state road that's dirt, holes and dust."

Gene DeCoursey of Wayland brought concerns from other residents there about blocked culvert which causes water from Steels Creek to overflow onto KY 7 at Beaver. Stumbo said the culvert belongs to the highway department, but the county would clean it out.

Another citizen, Gary Slone, presented a grievance about the lack of black top at Stone Coal. Magistrate Jackie Owens informed Slone that they had previously wanted to black top that road but it was too narrow to allow the paving machine to pass. "Maybe we could get an easement to get the machine up the hollow to black top it," Owens said. "Just a few feet on either side would be enough."

Slone added, "If you can get half way up there the other half will get mad and they'll move their fences and you'll be able to get up the rest of the way."

Sheriff Henry Hale informed the court about a problem he is having with the bill for the newly installed air conditioning at the jail. He noted that about $3,000 more than he had expected was added on to the bill.

Stumbo said the county would not pay the bill unless it was itemized and all charges cleared first.

Hale also requested that more money be budgeted into the jail account to finish the project, but County Attorney David Allen Barber reminded the court, "We are going to build a new jail. We cannot meet the state requirements with the facility we have. They (the state) have waived

What A Trip!

Nancy and George Johnson of Arizona display the purse that almost made their trip through Kentucky a nightmare. The bag, containing medications, credit cards and cash, was lost along Ky. 80 and retrieved, intact, by Ronald Shepherd of Gunlock, a "real Good Samaritan," according to the Johnsons.

Arizona Couple Discover Honest Man, Helpful People On Trip Through Floyd

by Pam Shingler,
Assistant Editor

George and Nancy Johnson of Green Valley, Ariz., left Floyd County yesterday with nothing but good impressions of local residents, county officials and a Magoffin County man.

"We'll always remember the wonderful people here," said Mrs. Johnson, after recovering the purse she left on the top of the family car when the couple stopped to switch drivers Monday afternoon near Garrett. Their praise extends to the Floyd Sheriff's Department and to the honesty of citizens who returned the purse and its contents.

They are on a leisurely, cross country trip, which began Sept. 11, en route to their granddaughter's wedding in Washington, DC. "We had only been through parts of Kentucky and we wanted to drive all through the state," said Mrs. Johnson, relating why they were in Floyd County.

The couple said they had driven about 10 miles before realizing the purse had been left outside when they pulled back onto the road. "A lady helped us look for it," said Mrs. Johnson. "We walked up and down the road but couldn't find the purse. We didn't get the lady's name but we appreciate her help."

Driving into Prestonsburg, the two went to the sheriff's office, where dispatcher Craig Bowling "was very nice and understanding." Bowling promised to help and gave them directions to some motels.

"We hadn't been in the motel an hour when Craig called to tell us a man had called to say he had found the purse," Johnson, who is 81, said. "We don't know what he had to go through to find us, because he didn't know which motel we were going to stay in."

Ronald Shepherd, 34, of Gunlock turned out to be the Good Samaritan. Shepherd, a foreman for East Kentucky Pipeline, said he was driving his crew back to the shop when he spotted the black bag in the middle of Ky. 80 on Garrett Hill.

He said the contents were scattered across the highway, and he and his men gathered up all the pieces they could find. He then went home and called the couple's Arizona telephone number to report the find. When there was no answer, he said he called Kentucky State Police who referred him to the Floyd County Sheriff's Office.

"She (Mrs. Johnson) had medications in the purse and I was afraid she needed them, so I wanted to get it back to her," Shepherd said. "It didn't belong to me and I just wanted to get it back to her."

Shepherd added that he had had a truck stolen a few years ago and he didn't want anyone else to go through the same feelings.

Mrs. Johnson said that Shepherd had managed to recover everything that was in the purse, including her medicines, cosmetic case, book and wallet with credit cards and money intact.

Bowling said Shepherd called to report that he had found the purse about an hour after the Johnsons left the sheriff's office, and asked that someone meet him about halfway from his Magoffin County home to take the purse.

With only one deputy on duty, Bowling, a trainee who's only been on the job for a month, asked Floyd County Jailer Lawrence Hale if he

by Pam Shingler,
Assistant Editor

Day after day, night after night, in 37-day cycles, a group of persons goes about the difficult and often agonizing process of changing their world, apart from and largely unknown to the world that buzzes around them in downtown Prestonsburg.

They are alcohol and drug abusers who are beginning the arduous process of recovery at the Layne House, a treatment center that is part of Mountain Comprehensive Care Center.

With their time largely programmed and contact with the outside world severely limited, they are in a kind of prison, but the object of the program is to free them from the personal prison in which alcohol and drugs have them enclosed.

"Most are cross-addicted to both drugs and alcohol, and most have hit bottom when they come here," says program supervisor Greg Ratliff. "For some, the continued abuse has led to their spouse leaving or to financial ruin and loss of job. Others are here because the court has forced them to come."

The center, always at capacity, houses 13 clients at a time, with 10 beds for men and three for women. Ratliff notes that female admissions are up and the facility needs to be expanded. "We turn away five or six referrals a day because of lack of beds," he says.

Clients range in age from 18 to 65, Ratliff says, and come from not only Floyd County, but also from neighboring counties and surrounding states.

The first seven to 10 days of residency are concentrated on the physical aspect of the addiction. "We try to get them feeling better physically and get something in their stomach," Ratliff says.

It is within those first days that the client experiences withdrawal, the body's painful adjustment to not having the drug or alcohol. An alcoholic who goes for two or three days without drinking may begin to have hallucinations, paranoia and tremors, Ratliff explains.

Originally, the physical side of the addiction was the only one addressed. When the Layne House was started in the early 1970s by the late Frank Layne, a recovering alcoholic, it was a seven-day detoxification program. "Chronic alcoholics came in to sober up," Ratliff says. "There was no treatment."

The residential program, started in the early 1980s, takes the client beyond the physical stage to therapy sessions, where he or she can examine the roots of the addiction. "Anybody who comes through the door is full of negative feelings," says Ratliff, who has headed the program for the past couple of years.

Daily group therapy sessions force clients to deal with their feelings. "For almost 100 percent, there's always something in life that has precipitated the drinking or drugs," Ratliff says. "Reasons range from incest to physical abuse to the parents being alcoholics to low self-esteem."

The typical day also includes two education sessions where staff members address such topics as communication, trust, assertiveness and relaxation. Discussion times are also scheduled, along with readings from the Big Book, used by Alcoholics Anonymous. Residents are also taken to AA meetings five times a week.

The entire program stresses changing the addict's environment. The chances of recovery — which are slim anyway — are naturally lessened if the patient goes back to the same setting and lifestyle, back to his or her "drinking buddies," as Ratliff puts it.

Teens Steal Gun, Flee The State

PIKEVILLE — A Pikeville man who apparently felt sorry for two teenage women who knocked at his door last week asking for food ended up in the hospital after the juveniles allegedly stole his pistol and he wrecked his vehicle chasing them. Tommy DeMurray, 69, said the girls hit him in the head with a pop bottle after he let them into his house to get something to eat, according to police reports.

Before he wrecked, DeMurray was able to get the license number of the car the girls left in. Two days later the girls were picked up with three male companions, all from Pike County, by police in Tampa, Fla. The girls were being held in a Florida detention center on charges of burglary, theft and being habitual runaways. The men, Dennis Blackburn, 18, Gary Adkins, 18, and Irvin Adkins, 20, were being jailed on second degree charges of unlawful transaction with a minor. (Appalachian News-Express)

Depot Dropped

JACKSON — Efforts by Breathitt County residents to save the old train depot in Jackson met with defeat as CSX Railroad razed the brick building recently. Yvonne Maggard, wife of State Rep. Jim Maggard, led the latest futile effort to preserve one of the area's last depots. One bright spot: the Jackson depot was the backdrop for a soon to be released movie, "Next of Kin," starring Patrick Swayze. Its movie name is the Carbon Glow depot. (The Jackson Times)

Escapes Still At Large

Four escapees from the Martin County jail remained at large yesterday after allegedly striking, binding and gagging a deputy jailer Monday morning while she was distributing bed sheets to inmates.

According to Ghomer Prater of the Pikeville post of Kentucky State Police, deputy jailer Linda Muncy was struck in the left jaw with an unknown object. One of the inmates then took Muncy's keys and released three other inmates. After securing Muncy, the four escaped on foot in "an unknown direction."

Muncy was treated and released at Louisa's Humana Hospital, Prater said.

The escapees and their descriptions, according to Prater, are:

charge of first degree burglary.

— Ronnie D. Meek (also goes by Meeks), 24, of Inez, 6'0", 140 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, scar on right hand, charged with second degree burglary and theft by unlawful taking.

— Danny Keith Crews (also Cruse), 34, of Williamson, W.Va., 5'11", 202 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, tattoos on right wrist and right forearm, charged with first degree robbery and second degree assault.

— Thomas Joseph Grubb, 23, of Beauty, 5'9", 134 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, tattoos on right shoulder and both upper arms, charged with first degree burglary.

KSP Det. Paul Estep is in charge of the investigation. Persons with information on the whereabouts of any of the escapees should call the KSP in Pikeville at 437-7311.

Floyd Man Stabbed In Johnson County

A Teaberry man was listed in stable condition yesterday at Paul B. Hall Medical Center in Paintsville after allegedly being stabbed during an altercation Thursday at Thelma in Johnson County.

Billy Brewer, 28, was reportedly stabbed two times in the left abdomen by Homer Davis, 51, at Davis' residence, according to Kentucky State Police reports. The incident occurred at about 2:45 a.m.

Brewer was taken to the hospital, and Davis was charged with second degree assault and lodged in the Regional Detention Center at Paintsville. Officials at the center said he was released Thursday on an unsecured bond.

The case is being investigated by KSP Det. Paul Estep.

United Way Give Funds To Local Groups

The Rev. Tim Jessen, Floyd County chairman of United Way Fall Campaign, presented Chris Conley, Hospice executive director, and John Cook, representing Mountain Comprehensive Care's Rape Victim Services, with checks for $2,000 and $1,000 respectively. The funds were part of the donations and collections received by the United Way throughout the year. Fifteen other local agencies also received checks this fall.

Anderson Sentenced For Embezzling

Louis DeFalaise, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, announced the sentencing of a former Pikeville man in United States District Court in Pikeville.

According to Assistant United States Attorney Thomas L. Self, who represented the United States in the case, Gregory Phillip Anderson, 39, of Lexington, and formerly of Pikeville, was sentenced Sept. 11 to three years probation with special conditions which included spending six months in a halfway house in Lexington, during which time he would be allowed to work but would be otherwise restricted to the halfway house. In addition, Anderson will be placed in a drug aftercare program supervised by the United States Probation Office.

Anderson pled guilty on May 23 to embezzling $27,648, a felony charge, while he was the manager of the Myers Towers, a federally subsidized housing project in Pikeville.

Anderson revealed his embezzlement to authorities and made full restitution prior to his guilty plea.

The case resulted from an investigation conducted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Pikeville.

Hit & Run Driver Sought; Fugitive Nabbed In P'burg

A hit and run accident and the apprehension of a man wanted by Texas authorities highlight reports from the Prestonsburg Police Department during the past week.

A 16-year-old Prestonsburg youth was injured when he was struck by a vehicle while he was walking along

US 23 near Wendy's Restaurant Saturday at about 8 p.m. Officer R.J. Conn said an "unknown vehicle" traveling south struck Jeffrey G. Bays of Prestonsburg and knocked him into a nearby ditch.

Conn said the vehicle failed to stop and witnesses were unable to give a description. Bays, he said, was transported to Highlands Regional Medical Center and then to Methodist Hospital of Pikeville, where he was listed yesterday in fair condition. Conn said the young man suffered a broken right leg as well as back and arm injuries.

The officer said the vehicle that struck Bays "should have damage to the right front and a missing passenger mirror." He requested that anyone with information on the incident call the Prestonsburg Police Department at 886-1010.

The city fire department also responded to the accident to provide medical attention to Bays.

In a separate incident Saturday, a traffic mishap led to the apprehension of Anthony G. Lucas, formerly of McDowell, who was wanted by the Bailey County Sheriff's Department in Mule Shoe, Texas, on a charge of felony theft and who was listed as a missing person in Simi Valley, Cal.

Capt. D.J. Conleysaid Lucas's car, which had been rented from Sears in Calhoun, S.C., struck a vehicle driven by Judith C. Hager of Prestonsburg

Saturday evening near the Holiday Inn on US 23. Conley said an investigation at the scene revealed that Lucas was driving on a suspended Kentucky operator's license, had no other valid license and was under the influence of alcohol.

The officer took Lucas to the Floyd County Jail where Lucas refused an alcohol breath test and was charged. A check with the National Crime Information Center computer turned up the Texas charge and the missing person report from California. Conley said Texas authorities have confirmed they will seek Lucas' extradition.

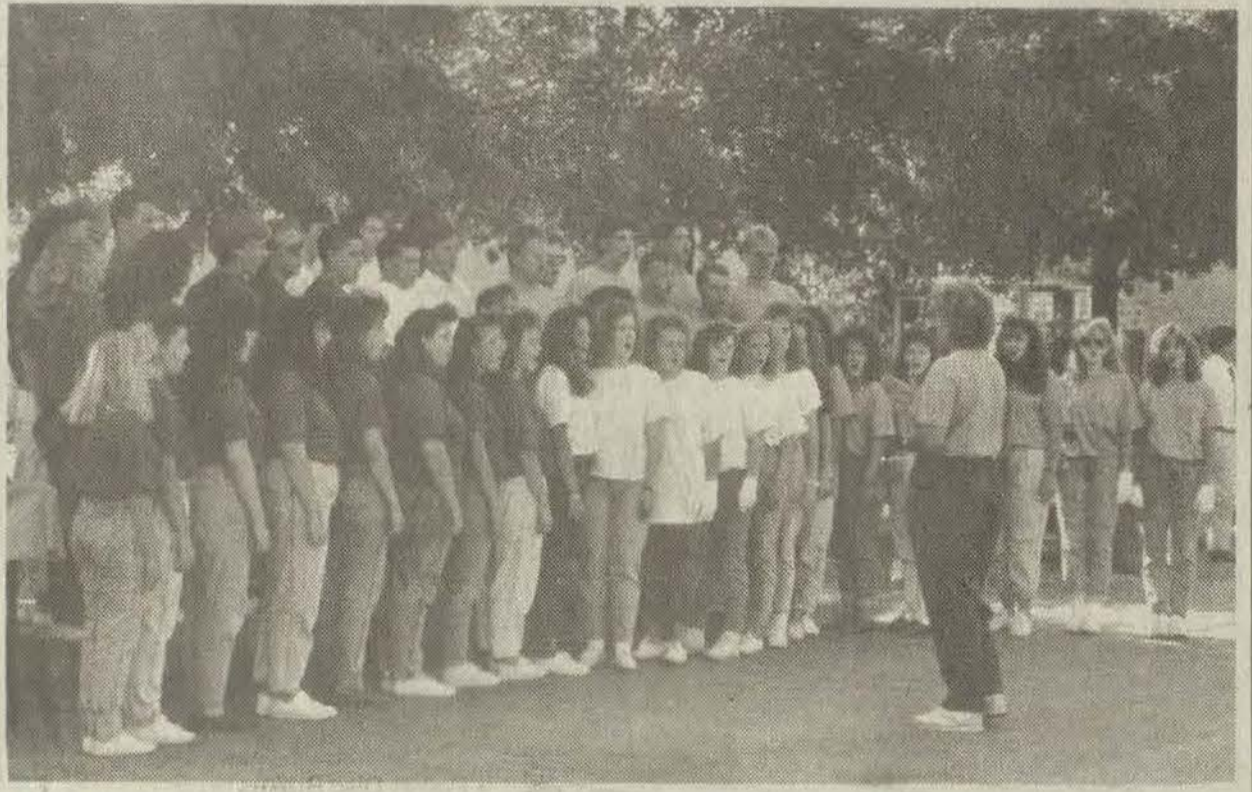

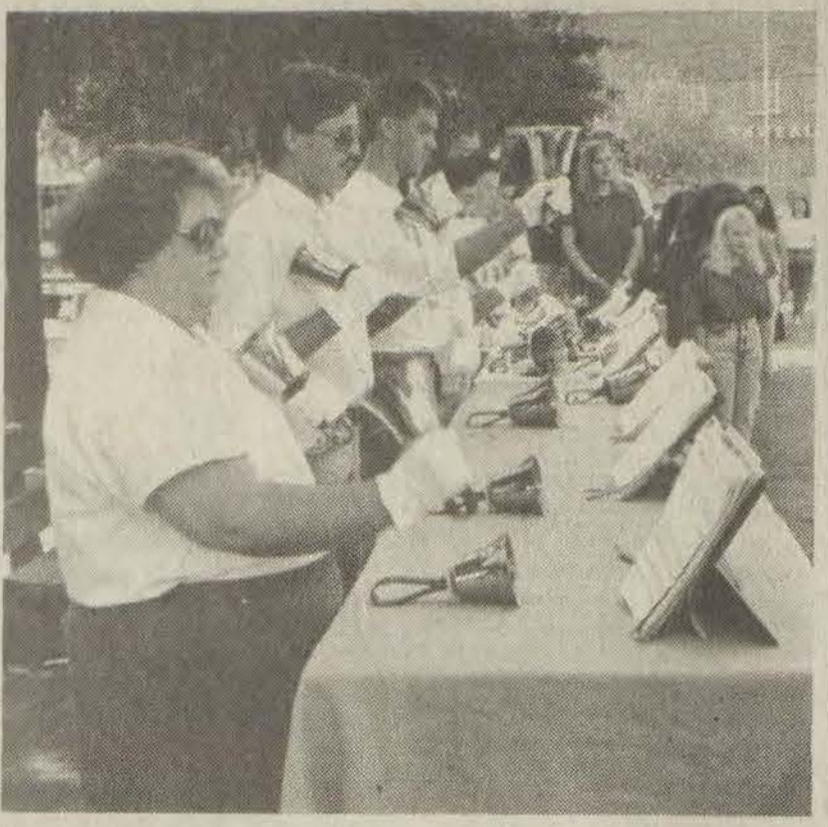

An apparent domestic dispute, played out on Ky. 1428 Sunday, resulted in the arrest of Lester Daniel of Fuget on reckless driving, speeding, possession of a defaced firearm, disregarding a traffic control device and two counts of wanton endangerment.

According to Officer Conn, Daniel attempted to pass and block a car driven by his wife Cheryl Daniel, also of Fuget. Conn, who said he was attempting to stop both vehicles, said Daniel "intentionally rammed" his wife's car.

An accident Friday on Ky. 1428 resulted in back and neck injuries to Joanna Arnett of Findlay, Ohio, according to Officer John P. Hunt. Arnett apparently drove into the path of a vehicle driven by Amy G. Cooley of Prestonsburg when Arnett exited the parking lot of Lee's Famous Recipe Fried Chicken. Hunt said Arnett was taken to Highlands Regional Medical Center, where records yesterday indicated that she had been treated and released.

Bells Across America
Bells rang simultaneously for 202 seconds across the nation at 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 17, in remembrance of the 202nd anniversary of the signing of the American Constitution. In observation of this event, the Honor Choir of Prestonsburg High School and the Bell Choir from the First United Methodist Church performed such tunes as "The Star Spangled Banner" and "This is My Country" in the Municipal Parking Lot in Prestonsburg. The Rev. Quentin Scholtz read dedications and cited moments to remember in the history of America. The honor guard from the Job Corp Center presented the colors at the event.

Letters to the Editor

Martin Purple Flash Reunion Was Great!

Dear Editor,
I've had a lot of people say, "How did your school reunion go?" All I can say is, "Great!"

Lots of memories came flooding back seeing "old" classmates, and isn't it strange how they look so much older than us?

As we walked down the street looking at the pretty, decorated windows (thanks to the Martin business people), I remember coming up to "Terry's" for lunch. Remember the chili they served? It looked watery, but Oh! the delicious flavor! And we could eat lunch for 25 cents. Those were the good old days!

I was so pleased to see such good attendance from my class, 1956. We had 28 present and some of the local people didn't come. As one of my classmates said, "We were always a close class."

Florence Biliter, Eula Mayo and I got tickled all over again, remembering the day Rodney Hutchinson got his fingers stuck in his typewriter keys during a timed typing test. I'm so glad Grace Allen was chosen favorite female teacher. She was a great influence in my school years, and she looks so young!

This class reunion was better than the one we had three years ago. I don't know why — maybe it was because we had seen each other that recently. I was so pleased to see Nora Sue Flannery, since I hadn't seen her in 33 years.

In regard to the letter from "name withheld" in last week's Times, why didn't the writer preregister for the reunion? The charge was only $10 for the whole weekend, including lunch on Saturday, refreshments, all the soft drinks one wanted and the dance. Where could you get a better bargain? Have you ever attended any social event for $10 a couple or a single? Sounds like we got '50s prices!

A great big thank you to the businesses in Martin for putting up with us, and a heartfelt thank you to the homecoming committee. If it wasn't for all of you, we would not have had a school reunion. I especially want to thank Delores Flannery. She was the "main spring" (she did everything, including moving chairs). Yes, I think she should be honored as Mrs. Purple Flash!

Until we meet again (Romans, chapter 10:10-13),

Residents Want Road Improvements

Dear Editor,
We, the people of Trace Branch and Spurlock 2030 are very concerned about our roads and our health. We are more concerned about our children, especially when they ride the school buses, because there are a lot of breaks in the road. Our homes are always covered with dust, and it is so bad you can't hardly breathe when you go outside. I also have two grandchildren who have to have croup tents because of the dust, and the rest are taking breathing medicine.

Let's all get together and give the little children a chance of life.

Thank you,
Alvanell Hall, Lee Hall, Ilena Kaye Moore, Cindy Herd, Matthew Hall,

Willie Hall, Andy Hall, Bert Hall, Charles A. Clark, Vivian Moore, Karen Leigh Spears, Gladys McCoy and Sue Carroll.

Parent Upset With Comment Heard At Meeting

Dear Editor,
I recently attended the Sept. 13 Floyd County School Board meeting and overheard a parent from the Betsy Layne river area make the following statement: "The only problem with the Betsy Layne High School was the kids from Mud Creek. Get rid of them and we would have no problems!"

He probably told the truth, because there would be no BLHS without the kids from Mud Creek. I think this man needs to come out of his shell and realize that for the last 10 to 15 years, the majority of the honor students in each graduating class were from Mud Creek! However, that is beside the point.

I think the parents, teachers, administrators and students need to acknowledge that Tommy Boyd (school board member) was right all along. They do need help in correcting problems at BLHS. I am a parent of a child who may attend BLHS if conditions are changed. I realize that change takes time.

Betsy Layne has some outstanding and hardworking teachers on their faculty and I realize it is difficult for them to teach to the best of their ability under the present conditions.

I firmly believe that Betsy Layne can be restored to the respected school that it once was. However, this will take the united efforts of the parents, teachers, administrators and students. It can be done!

Sincerely,
Charlotte Frasure,
Grethel

When Is It Bad To Go To Church?

Dear Editor,
I read an article in Friday's paper that stated that church attendance is rising. Sometimes I wish this weren't true.

At Wednesday night's prayer meeting, I was greeted with a familiar but unwelcome sight. As I entered the church, my heart was broken as I viewed the remains of the day before: litter scattered throughout the building, a broken window, toilets filled with tissue, and profanity written all over the walls. And this was one of the better times.

In recent months, our altars have been kicked over and holes stomped in them, lights and countless windows broken out, our piano was destroyed, and the pews chopped with a hatchet.

My heart was broken as we placed bars over the windows, and I can't help but wonder, have our children become so disrespectful and parents so uncaring?

In spite of all of our problems, we will continue to pray for those responsible, that they might read this letter, and that God might forgive them. We invite you to come and worship with us, and see just how much God and our church really love you.

Yours in Christ,
Elder Bobby Baldrige,
Pastor, The Martin Church

Appreciates Publicity For 'Battle For Blood'

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Floyd County Times for its excellent publicity concerning the Floyd County civic clubs' first "Battle for Blood." The frequency of your coverage, in addition to running the full size poster in the paper twice, really helped to bring in the great number of people we had to donate.

We subscribe to the Floyd County Times here at the Blood Center. For the last several months that I, myself, have been with the Central Kentucky Blood Center, I have enjoyed reading your paper and have appreciated the excellent coverage that you have given to our donor center in Prestonsburg.

The first "Battle for Blood" was a tremendous success, with 125 people donating. Each of the clubs, especially (Marty Backus, publisher) and the Rotarians, can be very proud of such a good response. We have established a precedent now and hope to build on that each year.

Once again, thank you for all of your support. The Central Kentucky Blood Center looks forward to your continued support and interest in meeting the blood needs of Eastern Kentuckians.

Sincerely,
Tim Thompson,
Donor Resources Consultant

P'burg Youths Appreciate Help

Dear Editor,
We extend our sincerest thanks to the following people and groups who assisted in the Saturday, Sept. 16 Street Dance:

— WQHY Radio and Jim Allen for providing music and DJ services.

— Playhouse Restaurant and employees for being open that evening and assisting with adult supervision.

— Prestonsburg Police Department and its auxiliary force for providing supervision and traffic control.

— Prestonsburg Fire Department for providing lights and power.

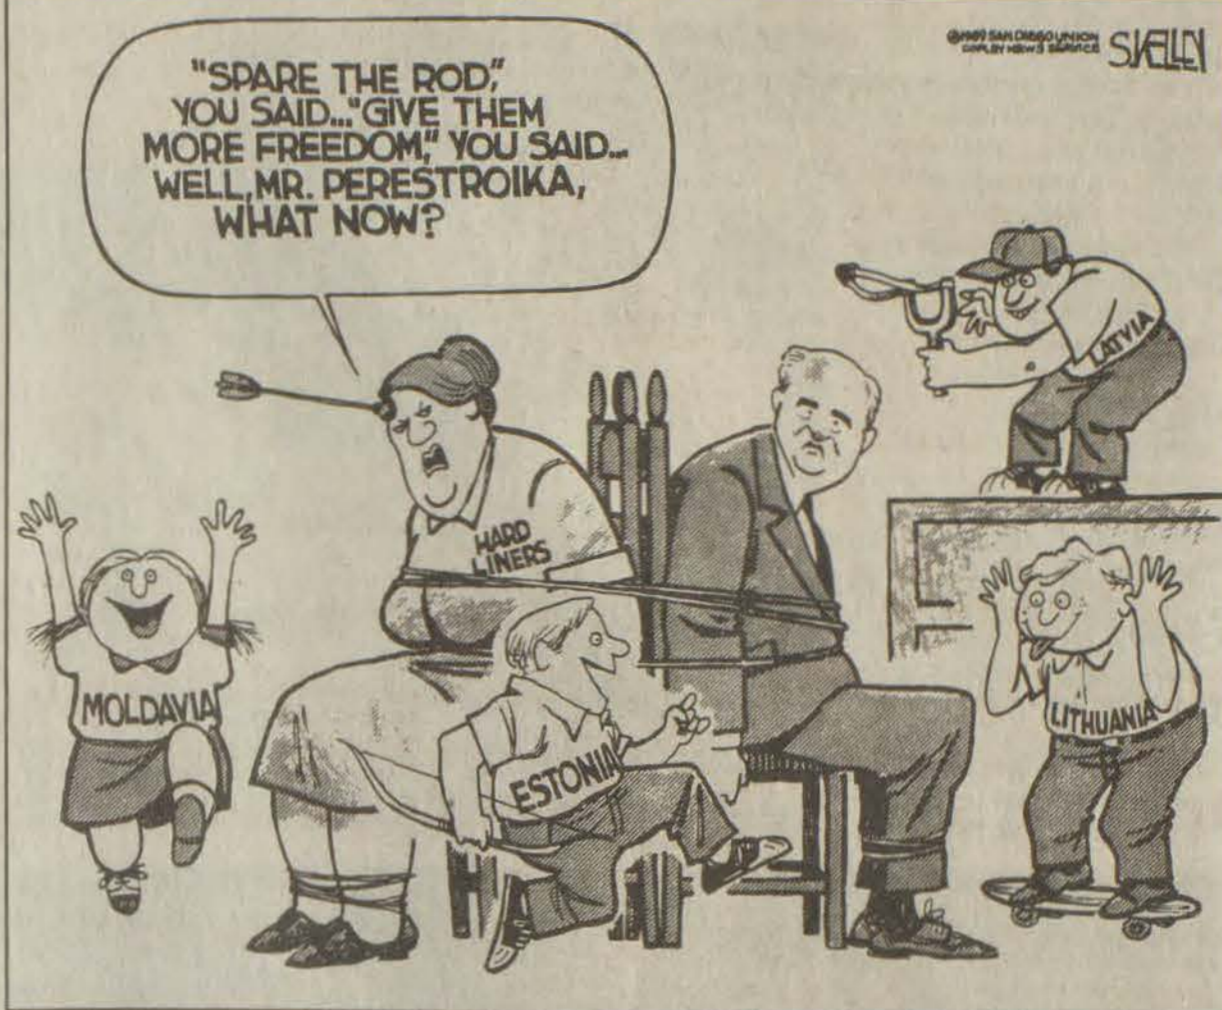

— Prestonsburg Street Department for constructing the stage and for the speedy cleanup the following morning.

— The Floyd County Times for promoting the dance and for reporter/photographer Pam Shingler covering the activity. Also to editor Anne Chaney, who was willing to donate a $50 savings certificate.

Although uncertain weather conditions played havoc with our plans, several young people did attend the dance and seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. Our commitment for future activities will be to try and plan them in such a way that inclement weather or unforeseen problems have less of an effect upon the end result.

As you can see from the list of people who helped, it takes a lot of work and help to have any activity for our youth. We can continue only if many more adults get concerned and involved. If you would like to help, please contact us.

on behalf of the Prestonsburg Youth Center Advisory Board, 1989-90 Prestonsburg Teen Board

Recently, when covering the story on the lack of blackout on Spurlock Creek section of Left Beaver, I had the opportunity to experience traveling to a part of the county I'd never gone to before. I say "experienced," because that is what it was — like a trip through a time warp. Until one travels down through the back country, it is easy to forget how prevalent coal mining really is, except of course for the subtle reminders like coal trucks.

But I digress. I was driving down this road thinking, "This isn't so bad; actually it's actually kind of quaint. What is everyone complaining about? This isn't any worse than other back country roads I've been on." The road seemed wide and flat, a real rarity. The houses were small but neat and the lawns were nice and trimmed with the wood line running right up to the back of the property.

But the road seemed to almost fade out. Patches would be paved, others were still wide and had gravel on them, but then the conditions got worse. Ruts were cut, dirt was much more prevalent than stones, and the road narrowed considerably, presenting a deep ditch on either side. As I looked around I noticed the contrasting homes, ones that were much more modest and showing a marked lack of additional possessions, such as fences, trailers and vehicles.

The road condition seemed to make a statement. I began to wonder why this section of road would be singled out. What made it any less deserving of pavement than the other portion. Could it be the lack of high priced homes? Could it mean that there was no politically influential person living on this stretch? That wouldn't make a difference, would it?

The stark realization occurred as I drove over Spurlock Mountain and came to a perfectly paved road, with contrasting homesteads from those I had just passed. It was as if passing into another world. I came to understand the struggle the residents face in trying to get their section of road paved. What an enormous victory this would be for them to achieve. They realize that they, too, have a voice, and they should be heard. How many times have they been told "There's not enough money," or "Why bother? The road will just get torn up again."

I certainly hope that there is no such unfounded reason for these people not getting equal consideration for asphalt. And I'd like to think that economics and political influence do not play a part in our country's

It's Time To Apply For The Service Academies

The time is now. If you or a member of your family are interested in the excitement and challenge of an education at the Air Force Academy, Merchant Marine Academy, Naval Academy or West Point, the Nov. 1 deadline for a nomination from my office is quickly approaching.

Our service academies are among the finest educational institutions in the world. They offer students the advantage of diverse subject courses coupled with the rigorous training designed to turn men and women into leaders. After graduation, the student will be commissioned an officer in that particular branch of the armed forces.

To be eligible for admission to a service academy, you must be:

— A U.S. citizen;
— At least 17 but not yet 22 years of age when admitted (up to 25 years of age at the Merchant Marine Academy);

— Physically fit and agile;
— Able to score competitively on the college board exams;
— Able to demonstrate leadership potential.

In addition, you cannot be married, pregnant or have a legal obligation to support a child, and you must be a resident of Kentucky. Either the applicant or the applicant's parents must claim Kentucky as their primary residence and/or be registered to vote in the Commonwealth.

The academic guidelines for the application, including college scores, class rank and grade-point average, count for 60 percent of the score used to select candidates. The other 40 percent of the score is determined from personal recommendations, extracurricular activities, indication of leadership potential and the applicant's exhibited desire to attend the academy.

Become part of the proud service academy tradition. Beginning in the fall of 1989, I encourage anyone who meets these qualifications and desires more information regarding a service academy nomination to contact me at the following address: Senator Mitch McConnell, ATTN: Nan Mosher, 120 Russell Building, Washington, D.C., 20510; or call (202) 224-2541.

Floyd Above State Average In Alcohol-Related Accidents

Forty-six percent of persons who died on the state's highways in 1988 were killed in accidents involving a driver who was drinking alcohol, according to a report released this month by the Kentucky State Police Records Section.

The percentage was somewhat higher—about 53 percent—for Floyd County, where alcohol was a factor in seven out of 13 traffic fatalities last year.

Of 1,375 accidents recorded by the state police in Floyd County, 128, or more than 9 percent, involved alcohol, KSP's 1988 Kentucky Traffic Accident Facts indicates. The report also notes that 119 persons were injured in the alcohol-related accidents.

Across the state, 7,860 accidents took place involving drinking drivers, with 389 persons killed and close to 6,000 injured.

The state recorded a total of 147,587 traffic accidents last year and 840 alcohol-related deaths and more than 52,000 injuries from vehicle accidents.

Floyd was among the area leaders in percentage of alcohol-related accidents. It was bested only by Magoffin County, where alcohol played a role in 11 percent of traffic accidents. Knott County roughly tied with Floyd by recording about 9 percent of its road accidents as alcohol related. Percentages for other neighboring counties were: Pike, 6.5 percent, and Johnson and Martin, 4.9 percent each.

Fatalities resulting from alcohol-related accidents were highest in Pike County, which recorded eight. Knott and Magoffin counties posted one each, and Johnson and Martin had none.

Floyd also recorded six accidents in which the drivers were suspected of being under the influence of drugs, with five persons injured. Figures for Pike County indicate nine accidents involving suspected drug usage; Johnson, six; Martin, two; Knott, one, and Magoffin, none.

In the six counties, 37 persons died last year as a result of traffic accidents and more than 2,700 persons were injured, according to the report.

The factbook also records that 90 percent of the vehicle occupants killed last year were not wearing any kind of safety restraint, such as a safety belt. Of the 15 children, four and under, killed in vehicle accidents, 12 were not in child safety seats, which is required by Kentucky law. The report does not give a breakdown by county for use of restraints.

Among other statewide statistics revealed in the factbook are:

— More fatal accidents occurred in the 15-24 age group than any other.

— Of the 840 killed, 561 were male and 279 female.

— Most fatal accidents were head-on collisions on dry pavement during the day.

— One of every 10 Kentuckians was involved in a traffic accident.

— One of every 69 Kentuckians was injured in a traffic accident.

— Kentucky traffic accidents in 1988 cost the state, in wage loss, medical expense and property damage, between $717 million and $804 million.

"We try to set them up with support systems, particularly AA. They can come back here for sessions and for individual therapy," he says. "They don't have to associate with the old crowd."

The importance of staying in AA is stressed throughout the treatment. "Once they stop going to meetings, they tend to get drunk. I've seen it over and over," says Ratliff. He tells of one man who was sober for more than two years and then stopped attending AA because he thought he had the drinking under control. He and they must wait six months before doing that.

The scope of the alcohol problem, alone, is significant. Ratliff says that out of 100 million drinkers in the United States, between 10 and 12 million are alcoholics — "that we know about." Many persons, particularly women, he says, are closet drinkers whose problem is not yet known.

Ten persons make up the center staff, and three are themselves recovering alcoholics. Don Howard, who has been sober for more than 16 years, provides an example to patients. "I can identify with the people who are having problems," says Howard, who has been with the Layne House since it opened. "I can relate quicker than someone who hasn't been through the same experiences."

Howard, the center's treatment coordinator, has seen many success stories over the years, but he says he has also seen many who didn't make it, who "ended up in cemeteries."

"Nobody is cured, they just learn how to deal with the problem," says Howard, adding that clients come from every social level. "The job has a lot of rewards, but also disappointments. But I love doing it because it helps me. A big part of my recovery has been being able to help other people."

Two staff members are always on duty at the center. In addition to assisting clients, they also staff a crisis intervention help line, where they counsel callers with problems ranging from contemplated suicide to boyfriend troubles.

Area persons who wish more information on Layne House services may call 886-8572. The crisis line is 1-800-422-1060.

deficiencies for 10 years now, but we have to do something about those soon or we will be shut down."

In other court business, a motion was passed to permit Coal Mac Inc. to relocate and reestablish certain sections of Gosling Branch Road for mining purposes. The court agreed to accept the State Audit for Fiscal Year 1987-88 and pay the Kentucky State Treasurer the sum of $4,519.

Also, the Sheriff's Fee Audit for 1988 has been released and the Tax Settlement for October 1988 through Aug. 16, 1989, has been completed. The court moved to accept both audits and pay auditor Steven R. Allen $3,000.

The court also voted to take "whatever steps are necessary" to remove the wooden pallets that are being used as a fence line blocking the county roadway on Turner Branch, and to use the county roadway and right-of-way for the utility easement on the county road at Prater Fork, as requested by Owens.

Stumbo was authorized by the court to open bids for blacktop millings at the next Fiscal Court meeting, scheduled for Friday, Oct. 20. He said that the county "doesn't have to buy it, but would try it (the millings) and see how it will look."

would drive to Huesville to meet Shepherd.

Hale, who had heard the Johnsons explain their plight to Bowling, said he was "glad to help them. They seemed like really nice people." Hale revealed that he had lost a wallet containing a good bit of money in Prestonsburg some years back. "A woman called to say she had found it and she returned it," Hale said, adding that he considered his part in retrieving Mrs. Johnson's purse as "returning the favor" done him by someone else.

Shepherd said the Johnsons "called me and thanked me" Tuesday evening from Roanoke, Va., as they continued their journey to Washington. "I think most people would have done the same thing," Shepherd said modestly.

One Convicted For Possession Of Stolen Mail

Louis DeFalaise, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, announces that a Johnson County woman was convicted in United States District Court in Pikeville on Sept. 13 on six counts of possession of stolen mail.

According to Thomas L. Self, who prosecuted the case, Karen Tipton, 34, of Van Lear, was found guilty of six counts of knowingly and unlawfully possessing six checks which had been stolen from the United States mails, knowing the checks to have been stolen.

Tipton was found guilty following a three-day jury trial of possessing six checks during October 1988, payable to Dr. Carmencita Gallosa, a Paintsville pediatrician, which had been stolen from Dr. Gallosa's mail box. Tipton is scheduled to be sentenced by United States District Judge Karl S. Forester on Nov. 15, in United States District Court in Pikeville. Tipton could be sentenced to 30 years in prison and fined up to $1.5 million.

The case was the result of an investigation by Postal Inspector John Soos of the United States Postal Inspection Service.

Dancin' In The Moonlight

As with the intermittent showers throughout most of the day, Saturday's street dance, sponsored by the Youth Center Teen Board, was off again, on again in downtown Prestonsburg. With young people waiting, the music finally started up around 10 p.m., and after some coaxing, the dancing began. The crowd of youngsters who showed up were able to dance and socialize under not only the light of the clear, full moon, but also the city lights that outline merchant buildings during the Christmas season. The teen board hopes to sponsor at least one activity a month for young people, according to member Mike Vance.

Receives Money
For Improvements

Fire protection services will improve in Floyd County as the result of a state grant announced recently by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson.

A $10,000 grant from the Area Development Fund has been awarded to Floyd County for the construction of a building to house fire trucks for the Southeast Floyd County Volunteer Fire Department. According to local officials, the nearest fire protection in this area is an average of four miles away. With the trucks being housed in the new location, the possibility of saving a home or business from fire will greatly improve.

The Big Sandy Area Development District Board of Directors recommended the project for funding.

The Area Development Fund is a capital projects' program administered by the Department of Local Government in the Office of the Governor.

Floyd County To Get $63,928
From Permitting, Acreage Fees

Floyd County Fiscal Court will receive $63,928 in fees collected from mining operations in the county, according to state officials.

Gov. Wallace G. Wilkinson has distributed checks for fee revenues to the state's 45 coal-producing counties, totaling $821,362. The funds originate in permitting and acreage fees paid by surface mining operations doing business in those counties. Applicant companies submit a $375 permitting fee and acreage fees of $75 for each new acre of proposed surface disturbance.

One third of those fees are returned to the coal counties each year for any use determined by the fiscal courts.

Slightly more than $1 million came back to the counties during the 1987-88 fiscal year. This year's dip in revenues is attributed to the fact that Kentucky is now completing its first five-year cycle of primacy—full responsibility for the administration of its coal production program.

Other area counties receiving funds, and the amounts, are:

Johnson County, $18,539; Knott County, $33,485; Letcher County, $34,879; Magoffin County, $15,163; Martin County, $34,028; Perry County, $50,265; and Pike County, $127,222.

Permit renewals continue to cost the operators $375 each, but there is no repeat of the $75 per surface acre fee for permits under which there is still coal to be extracted. Further, there was a slight decline in permit applications during the 1988-89 fiscal year.

"My administration continues to make every effort to assist the mining industry to extract coal in a safe, and efficient manner consistent with Kentucky's surface mining laws and the need to be protective of our environment," Wilkinson said. "It is extremely satisfying to work with our coal-producing counties to achieve those goals and to have the privilege of passing along to the counties this very deserved share of the revenues that come from that effort."

Area Chapter Of Mended Hearts Receives Charter

by Gwen Hall
Freelance Writer

The Big Sandy Area Chapter of Mended Hearts, Inc. received its charter from Charles Christmas, assistant regional chairman, Saturday evening at a banquet dinner given at May Lodge in Jenny Wiley State Resort Park.

Maxine Bierman, president of the Big Sandy Area Mended Hearts, Chapter 220, accepted the charter on behalf of the local organization. More than 60 persons attended the four-hour event.

The celebration began with a welcome by Bierman, introductions by Freddie Goble, first vice president of Mended Hearts, and an invocation by Evangelist Hondel Adams, pastor of the First Christian Church on Arnold Avenue.

Cardiologist Rodney Handshoe, M.D., gave a slide presentation past and present treatments of heart attacks and heart problems. He stressed the importance of immediate treatment in preventing permanent heart damage.

Handshoe's wife, Sharon, was instrumental in the founding of the area Mended Hearts group.

The aims of the group are to give help and encouragement to others who are faced with or have had heart surgery and to assist research programs which seek the causes and cures of heart disease.

After a heart-healthy dinner of baked chicken breast, baked potato, steamed broccoli, salad and raisin-bran muffins, two large, low-calorie cakes were cut by their baker, Connie Blevins. The white cake was shaped like the Mended Hearts logo and the chocolate cake was decorated with repeated logos.

As banquet guests ate cake, Goble, his daughter Robyn Conley, and his sister Clea Lawson entertained. The "Sweet Chariot Gospel Trio," as they call themselves, sang several folksy spirituals.

The charter presentation followed the entertainment. Christmas presented Bierman with a gavel that will be passed on to future presidents.

Christmas also installed the Big Sandy Area group's first officers. Each officer assembled a piece of a symbolic rose as his or her name was called.

"The rose symbolizes love and courage," said Christmas. "We share the love we've experienced from and with others."

Installed were Freddie Goble, first vice president; Ronald Hooker, second vice president; Mosaleete Patton, secretary; and Joe Adams, treasurer. Sharon Handshoe and Reesie Allen were called forth as representatives of the Mended Hearts membership.

Fourteen members of Mended Hearts, Inc., attended an all-day training seminar prior to the banquet. Ray Mitchell, workshop chairman for the Louisville Chapter of Mended Hearts, Inc., presented certificates to seminar participants Zina Goble, Teresa Boyd, Charlotte Adams, Kenneth Tate, Mollie Tate, Dan Adams, Joe Adams, Maxine Bierman, Mosaleete Patton, George Patton, Freddie Goble, Fleda Bunch, Sharon Handshoe and Garrett Arnett.

The next meeting of the Big Sandy Area Mended Hearts, Inc., will be Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. in Highlands Regional Medical Center's cafeteria, preceded by a 6 p.m. dinner. New members, especially heart patients and their families, are welcome.

For more information, contact Maxine Bierman, 17 North First Avenue, Prestonsburg, 886-6101 or Dean and Joe Adams, Rt. 6 Box 361, Bethanna, KY 41401, 349-3571.

Guests at the charter installation dinner for the Big Sandy Area Chapter #220 of the Mended Hearts, Inc. were able to dig into this cake guilt-free—it was low-calorie.

Second Recycling Day Scheduled On Sept. 30

Environment-conscious Floyd Countians can help make a difference in Kentucky's growing waste disposal problems by participating in Floyd County's second recycling day, Saturday, Sept. 30, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"We received enough of a response during our first recycling drive in August, that we hope even more people will want to participate this month," said David Schmidt, who has been collecting recyclables at Mountain Christian Academy and transporting them to recycling redemption centers in Kentucky.

Kentuckians For The Commonwealth and MCA are cosponsoring the drive during which people can bring their recyclable waste to convenient drop-off sites. The two groups are asking that people bring clean glass, plastic milk jugs and 2-liter bottles without caps, separated aluminum cans and aluminum foil, and neatly bundled newspapers.

The sites will be located at the intersection of US 23 and Lake Drive in Prestonsburg and at MCA, off Ky.

80 at Martin.

"Recycling is the easiest, most cost-effective method of reducing our waste stream," said KFTC steering committee representative Betty May. "If we want our state government representatives to listen to our concerns about the increasing number of landfills and dangerous incinerators being built in Kentucky and our outrage at becoming a dumping ground for out-of-state garbage, then we must show them that we can be responsible about our garbage situation," she added.

Schmidt stated, "There is no reason for Kentucky to fall behind in this national effort. To actively promote and participate in the recycling movement can only do us good."

Recyclables brought to the drop-off sites on Sept. 30 will eventually be taken to nearby recycling redemption centers. All profits from the event will go back into local recycling efforts.

ABSORBING READING

Most people are becoming educated to the fact that taking incompatible drugs can result in a risk to one's health. Many don't realize, however, that some drugs also interact poorly with certain foods. Often, drugs will have a nutrient-depleting effect that actually works to rob the body of the health advantages of food. For instance, certain antacids reduce phosphorous absorption. When this happens, intake should be increased of such high phosphorous foods as dried beans, fish, and whole grains. As for diuretics, some can promote potassium loss. If so, a person might want to eat more foods that are rich sources of this nutrient, such as fruit, potatoes, and dairy products. Laxatives and cholesterol reducing drugs may interfere with the body's absorption of nutrients. Ask your pharmacist about this possibility when taking any sort of drug.

At COOLEY APOTHECARY we're here to answer your questions where your medications or over the counter remedies are concerned. Our patient profile system allows us to check for drug interactions and allergic reactions. You'll find us located at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 and open Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments.

HINT: Laxatives can interfere in the absorption of fat-soluble vitamins.

Residents On State 2030 Demanding Better Road

by Tess A. Whitmer
Staff Writer

In a section of Floyd County sometimes referred to as Blue Moon, Route 2030 runs over Spurlock Mountain, connecting State Routes 122 and 1426.

Although a 1987 state road map shows a mile and a half of the road as "crushed stone or gravel," in reality a larger section, about four and a half miles, consists of patchy paved spots, dirt, rocks and ruts.

The poor condition of the road concerns the 300 to 400 people who live along this stretch of countryside. They want asphalt for the road, which is a secondary state road that has not been blacktopped since the early 1970s.

"This road was blacktopped in 1972 and it was really nice," recalls Dwayne Carroll, resident and a spokesperson for the group. "Since then it was scraped up instead of being repaired, and we have only seen gravel and dirt since then."

Another resident pointed out, "We weren't even good enough for real gravel—all we got was creek gravel which had glass in it and would cut up our tires."

The residents there say that requests for improvements have been made in writing and by telephone to many officials, including the Fiscal Court, magistrates, Congressman Chris Perkins, state Rep. Greg Stumbo, transportation secretary Milo Bryant and others.

"All say the same thing — not enough money, maybe next year," Sue Carroll noted. "We feel like we are being discriminated against, because there is blacktop on other sections of the road and just over the hill."

Carroll said Frankfort officials told residents that since Route 2030 was a "coal haul" road, they would not be able to justify blacktopping. "I would just like to know what road in Floyd County isn't a 'coal haul' road," she said.

Acting individually in the past, the residents have begun to band together to "make a bigger statement and maybe get noticed by the right people," said one resident.

Another resident added that citizens "down the road" have been able to get blacktop placed on small sections in front of houses by stopping coal truck drivers and asking them not to use the road because it raises dust and causes additional damage.

She added that the coal truck drivers were "very helpful," and some actually sat in with them during their protest.

"In the past, the only time anyone would do anything to the road was when the coal trucks couldn't get through," another resident noted.

Carroll said that three times this year work has been done on the road: once after a school bus was stuck in a turnaround spot after not being able to climb the hill, again after high waters damaged the road in June, and last week after the group started protesting the existing conditions. "Last week they came and gave us three truckloads of gravel to cover about five miles of road," a resident said.

In addition to filing a complaint with the Floyd County Fiscal Court Friday, at which time a resolution was drawn up requesting that the State Department of Transportation surface the road, the residents also spoke to Rep. Greg Stumbo to see if they could enlist his help with this situation.

"This is the worst road in the county and has been for several years," Stumbo said later. "Since I have taken office (in 1980) I have been pushing to see that road repaired, calling for a joint effort between county and state, but my plea has fallen on deaf ears."

"I agreed to hand carry their petition to the governor's office and give a copy personally to Secretary Milo Bryant at the Transportation Department," he added. "It's my understanding that the highway engineers in Pikeville feel that any blacktopping done on that road would be obliterated overnight by the heavy coal hauling traffic on it."

Dwayne Carroll said that he had spoken with Tommy Boyd, school board member, and asked him "to use his contacts at the state level to get things moving." According to Carroll, Boyd agreed to get an engineer to estimate the cost of blacktopping the road and he would have the results in three days.

However, Boyd said Tuesday that he said that he recommended that Carroll contact an engineer with the Pikeville transportation office, since obtaining a price would help the residents plead their case with highway officials.

The residents who gathered yesterday at the foot of Spurlock Mountain, carrying signs in protest of the road condition, nodded in agreement as several spoke out saying, "We won't quit fighting until we get something done about this road," and "We are tired of promises and want to see action."

Pavement Wanted

Several residents gathered at the foot of Spurlock Mountain on Tuesday, Sept. 20 adorned with signs protesting the condition of Route 2030 which they wish to see black topped, again. According to residents this road has been a dirt road ever since the black top was scraped off it in the mid 1970s and they feel it should once again be resurfaced. "We pay taxes just like everyone else and if we can't get our road black topped maybe we shouldn't," commented one resident. The people there hope to raise enough public attention to get their road off the "back burner" and back to its appropriate place on the priority list for road repairs.

Vet's Questions & Answers

Question: I am a widow of a Vietnam veteran and have been covered under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the VA (CHAMPVA). I recently remarried. Am I entitled to keep my CHAMPVA coverage?

Answer: No. A surviving spouse of a deceased veteran who remarries loses entitlement to CHAMPVA. Eligibility may be reinstated if the marriage is terminated.

Question: Last month, I filed a notice of disagreement with the decision to deny my claim for benefits. If the Board of Veterans Appeals denies my case, may I appeal to a higher court?

Answer: Yes. Recent legislation has resulted in the establishment of a Court of Veterans Appeals. Since the notice of disagreement was filed subsequent to the enacting date of the law, you may appeal your case to that body.

Question: How do I apply for a government marker for my husband's unmarked grave?

Answer: You should obtain an Application for Headstone or Marker from any VA regional office, veterans service organization or your local cemetery or funeral director. Send the completed application to Monument Service (42), Department of Veterans Affairs, Washington, DC 20420.

Question: Does the Department of Veterans Affairs help veterans find lenders for VA-guaranteed mortgages?

Answer: No. Veterans must make their own arrangements for loans through the usual lending channels, such as banks, savings and loan associations and mortgage loan companies. Real estate brokers may assist a veteran in finding a lender. The local VA regional office may also provide names of lenders who have recently made VA loans.

Question: I am a Vietnam veteran, and I am concerned about the possibility that I may have been exposed to Agent Orange. What does the Department of Veterans Affairs offer in the way of examinations and health care?

Answer: Since 1978, the VA has operated the Agent Orange Registry Program for Vietnam veterans who are concerned about the possible health effects of Agent Orange. Veterans who participate in this program will receive a comprehensive physical examination and be asked to complete a questionnaire about their service in Vietnam. The examination could help to detect any illness or injury the veteran may have.

Betsy Layne Trims Cards, Wins First Contest, 16-12

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Gerald Newsome's Betsy Layne Bobcats returned to the gridiron Friday night after a week-long layoff, hosting the Sheldon Clark Cardinals.

The Bobcats were coming off a good game against the Johnson Central Golden Eagles that had given the Bobcat coaching staff a glimpse of what its squad could do. The Bobcats didn't disappoint them, defeating the Cardinals 16-12 for their first win of the season.

"It was a big win for us," said Newsome, a first-year coach. "I believe we could have scored more had we been able to play on a dry field."

The game was filled with an array of fumbles by both sides as the football was hard to hold on to — on carries and snaps from center.

"I believe we had about 10 fumbles of our own in the game," said Newsome. "They were mostly on carries, although we had a few on the snap."

The Bobcats struck pay dirt first on a 56-yard run by Chris Bias in the second quarter of play. After the Bobcat defense forced the Cardinals to punt early in the second period, Betsy Layne had the ball on its own 44 yard line. On first play from scrimmage, Bias broke a tackle and ran 56 yards for a TD. Tackle Tony Lykins, who Newsome says "never misses practice," ran in the two point conversion to give the Bobcats a 8-0 lead.

On the kick off, Sheldon Clark got the ball on its own 37 yard line. Sophomore Mike Cooper ran the ball to the 47 for a Cardinal first down. After the Cardinals recovered their own fumble, Cooper ran the ball to the Betsy Layne 11. With 5:19 remaining in the quarter, Cooper scored from 11 yards out. The conversion failed and Betsy Layne led, 8-6.

The Bobcats came back in the third period after the Cardinals punted the football. Betsy Layne took over on the Cardinal 47 yard line. A holding penalty forced the ball back into the Bobcats side of the field on the 42. On third and 22, Hunter hit Wise with a 41-yard pass to the Cardinals' 17 yard line. Larry Hall carried the ball to the Sheldon Clark 7 on two carries. Quarterback Craig Hunter carried the ball over the goal line for a TD and Hall nabbed the two point conversion to put the Bobcats on top, 16-6.

Sheldon Clark scored its final touchdown in the closing stanza. The Cards had the ball on the Bobcat 37 when Chris Bias broke through the Cardinals' line to sack quarterback Chris Goss for a loss, making it second and 21 with 1:29 to go. On fourth and 21, Goss completed a 22-yard pass to his wide receiver for a first down on the Betsy Layne 18. A penalty moved the ball to the Bobcat 4 yard line, where Goss, on a keeper, took the ball into the end zone for a score. The Bobcats ran out the clock on their next possession to win 16-12.

"I put some of our substitutes into the game in the last quarter and allowed them to score," stated Newsome. "Sheldon Clark played good defense against us. They did a few things that didn't show in the scouting report."

"Craig (Hunter) did a great job for us. He played the whole game at quarterback and safety for us on defense. He had a tremendous game. We have a new fullback now, Blaine Depoy, and he had an outstanding game for us. We didn't let the rain get us down, and despite the weather we moved the ball well," Newsome continued.

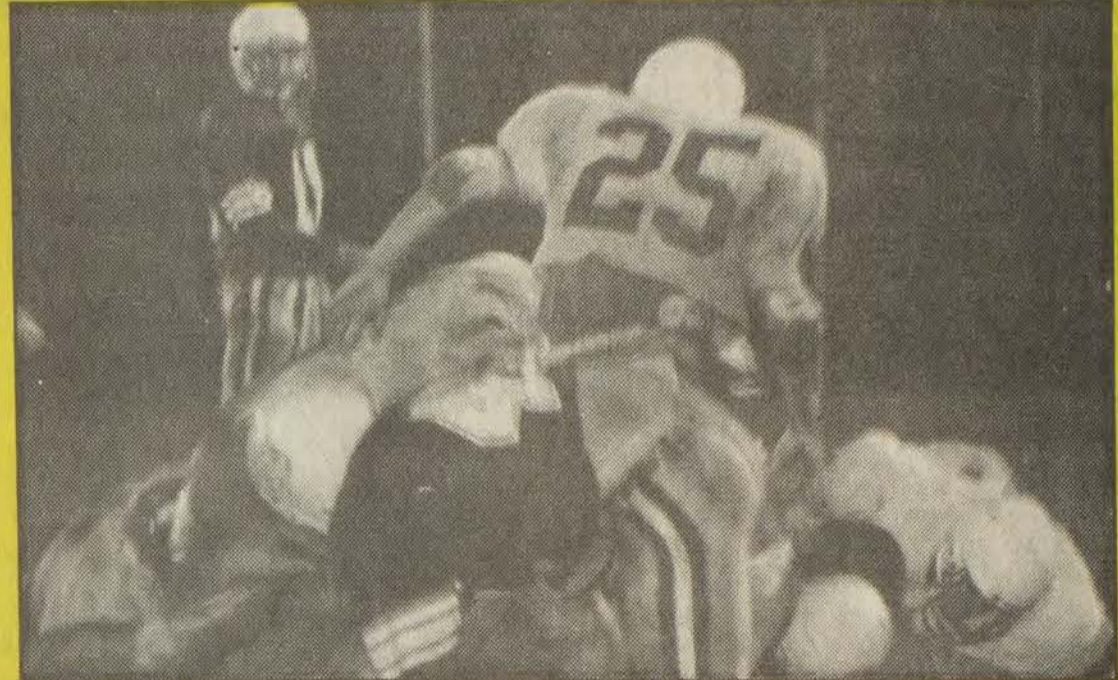

"Our passing game was lacking. We didn't throw the ball like we would have liked to. Our defense was great. One thing we did wrong was we didn't protect the ball in carrying the ball. Our kids are in great shape. Adam Gearheart hurt his shoulder in the first half and had to miss the second half. I'm going to have to play Gearheart at quarterback some to give Hunter some rest."

Reserve End Chad Mitchell was a standout for the Bobcats in their initial win. Mitchell caught a pass that took the ball from the Cardinal 40 to inside the 12 that set up a score. The Bobcats' down field blocking was a welcome sight for Coach Newsome. "We had excellent down field blocking," explained Newsome. "We had been getting from our backfield maybe 5 or 6 yards. Now we got more yardage from our backfield because of good down field blocking."

The Bobcats are 1-3 on the season and will entertain Leslie County Friday night at the Lloyd Hamilton Athletic Complex at 8 p.m.

Fumble

A pile up occurred when Sheldon Clark fumbled the football on a slick and muddy Betsy Layne field Friday night. The Bobcats captured their first win with a 16-12 win over the Cardinals.

Paintsville 'Slips' Past Prestonsburg, 14-6

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

What was to be a night of pomp and pageantry turned out to be a night of monsoons as rain began about 30 minutes before game time and did not let up during the entire contest between the Paintsville Tigers and the Prestonsburg Blackcats Friday night.

The two county rivals squared off on the Blackcat field for the PHS homecoming contest, and when play was done, the 'Cats had dropped a heart-breaker 14-6 to the Tigers.

Turning off the Mountain Parkway onto Arnold Avenue, fans needed only to follow the "cat tracks" painted on the street and leading to their lair to know that a rival team had come to town. The atmosphere was electrifying as the Blackcat faithful were looking for a homecoming victory over the Johnson County team.

Inside the PHS locker room, players stayed silent as their coaches encouraged them to "keep their minds on the game" and win the contest.

Outside, the band was playing and fans were being treated to a "bean supper." The band boosters were preparing the concession stand to sell their hot dogs, popcorn and drinks.

Then, the rains began to fall and the game got underway.

In the first quarter each team had problems holding on to the football, let alone moving the ball up and down the field. This was to be a game of breaks.

"The weather hurt both teams," Blackcat mentor Bill Letton said. "We thought it would hurt them more than us due to the style of play of both teams."

The 'Cats got the break they needed on a blocked punt. The Blackcats controlled the block and took over on the Tiger 14 yard line. Prestonsburg moved the ball to the Tigers' 1, where freshman quarterback Aaron Tucker failed on two carries to cross the goal line. On third down, Tucker handed off to Aaron Flannery, who took the ball in for a 6-0 Blackcat lead with 1:04 on the clock.

Jason Storey missed the extra point.

In the second quarter, Prestonsburg had the ball in Tiger territory on a fourth and five. Tucker completed a pass to Crace for a touchdown, but the TD was nullified because of a holding penalty called against PHS—a break for the Tigers. Prestonsburg was forced to punt and, with 5:11 to go in the second quarter, the Tigers had control of the football on their own 10 yard line.

Fleet-footed Greg Slone ran the ball out for a 25-yard gain. Slone carried again for 11 yards and a first down. A 3-yard pickup by Tucker Howard and a 7-yard gainer by quarterback Jeremy Holbrook gave the Tigers their third straight first down. With 3:11 to go in the first half, the Tigers were faced with a fourth and two. Slone took the ball 30 yards for what would have been a touchdown, but the play was called back because of a clipping penalty on Paintsville—a break for Prestonsburg.

After an incomplete pass on fourth and 11, Prestonsburg took over on downs with good field position. Allen James, hurt at the start of the season, had a couple nice gainers for the Blackcats. A face masking call against Paintsville gave the Blackcats a first down on the Tigers' 36. The 'Cats were thrown for couple of losses

Raceland 'Races' Past Allen Central Rebs, 48-14

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Bill Tom Ross' Raceland Rams, the winningest team in the area for the past decade, came to the Don Daniels Athletic Complex at Allen Central for a District 1 game against the Rebels.

"We played an awful good team in Raceland," Coach Daniels stated. "They are one of the top teams in the area, year in and year out."

The Rebels got a good running game out Tommy Gibson, who ran for 158 yards on 27 carries in the 48-14 loss to the Rams.

The Rams seemed to have things their way in the first half, especially the first quarter, scoring 28 first period points and adding 12 in the second to lead at halftime, 40-6.

"We didn't get much done on defense," Coach Daniels related. "We weren't able to accomplish what we wanted to on defense. We experienced some major breakdowns on the defensive line."

Gibson scored the Rebels' touchdown in the second stanza of play on a 18-yard run that capped a 62-yard drive for Allen Central. The conversion play failed. According to Daniels, the Rebels received good play from Brian Wallen and Brian Meadows on the line.

"Those two always give forth a solid effort," he said. "Our line has come a long way this year. We're doing better."

Adam Tackett added Allen Central's final score in the fourth quarter when he ran the ball from 8 yards out into the end zone for a TD. The Rebel drive started on the ACHS 16-yard line. Gibson added the two point conversion. The Rams added a TD in the third.

The Rams scored two of their touchdowns on passes from quarterback Jesse Justice to running back Matt Bostick, one of the area's best backs, who took the left handed quarterback's pass for a 31-yard

Goal Line Stand—Almost!

Quarterback Aaron Tucker gives a second effort for a touchdown against the Paintsville Tigers Friday night from the 1-yard line. Tucker failed to get into the end zone, but on the next play, Aaron Flannery took the ball across for a TD to give Prestonsburg a 6-0 lead. The Tigers rebounded in the second half and defeated the Blackcats, 14-6.

Trojans Fall To Johns Creek

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Roger Johnson's Wheelwright Trojans traveled to Johns Creek to take on the Bearcats in a game that started on Friday night and ended on Saturday evening.

The game, scheduled for a regular Friday night game, started on time. In fact, the teams played one full quarter. Then came the thunder, lightning and rain. The game was called off in the second quarter and postponed; play resumed Saturday evening.

"We started playing in the second quarter with 6:10 remaining when we got started back (Saturday)," said Johnson. The game, like many around the area, was hampered by the heavy rains that fell Friday night. Several regional games were postponed or canceled.

Phillip Birchfield, considered one of the best receivers in the area, led the Bearcats to their 27-8 victory over the Trojans. Birchfield took a pass for a touchdown in the first period, and the two point conversion gave Johns Creek an 8-0 lead.

The Bearcats made it 14-0 early in the second period on another pass to Birchfield for 23 yards. Johns Creek went up 21-0 when a linebacker intercepted a Trojan pass and ran it in for a TD.

Wheelwright scored in the third quarter when halfback Chad Hall recovered a fumble and ran it in from 15 yards out for the touchdown. Bobby Hood got the two point conversion to make it 21-8.

Johns Creek added six more in the fourth stanza when Birchfield scored his third touchdown of the game with 1:29 remaining, taking in a 15-yard pass.

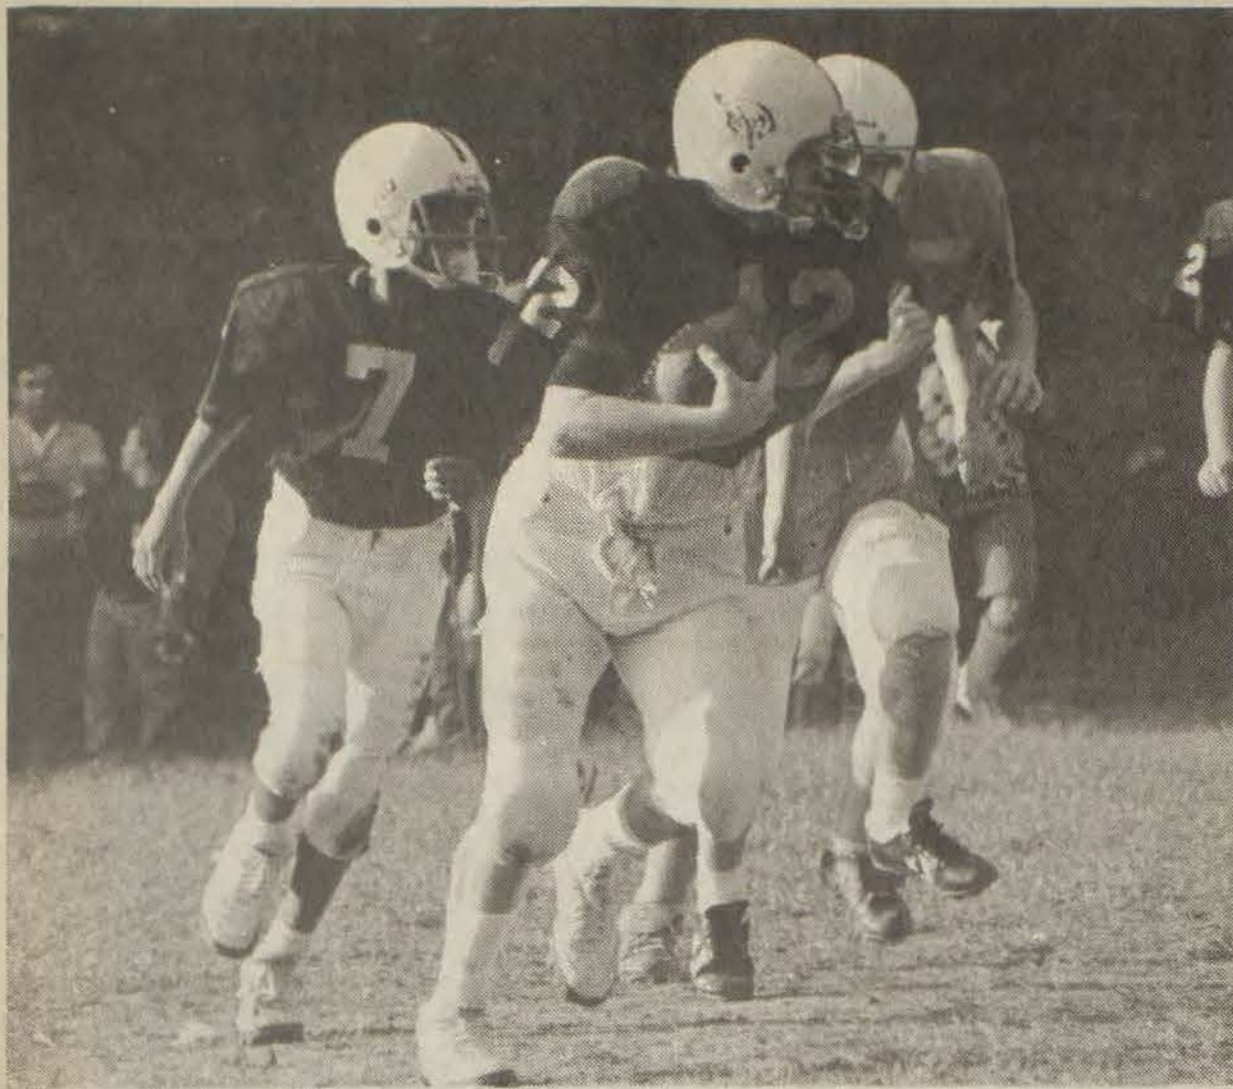

"We drove the ball well," Johnson said. "We had the ball inside Johns Creek 20 yard line four different times and turned the ball over. We just committed too many turnovers."

The Trojans fall to 0-5 on the season. Johnson's squad will host the Sheldon Clark Cardinals Friday night.

Leaning Post

A Raceland player seems to be using Allen Central quarterback B.J. Aldrich as a leaning post. The Rams defeated the Rebels, 48-14, in football action Friday evening at the Allen Central Athletic Field.

There's A Hole

Chad Frazier (42) spots an opening against the Osborne Eagles Monday evening at Betsy Layne Monday. The game was the season opener for the Mustangs of Stumbo Elementary. The Eagles won, 28-0.

John Goble (44) of the Prestonsburg freshman football team waits to tackle halfback Jerry Stephens (29) in a game with Montgomery County Saturday at Prestonsburg. The younger Blackcats defeated Montgomery County 30-0 in their first game.

Betsy Layne's Junior Varsity Shuts Out Wheelwright, 14-0

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Betsy Layne JV quarterback Adam Gearheart completed four of 12 passes for 55 yards (one a touchdown pass to Chad Mitchell) in leading the junior Bobcats to a 14-0 victory over the Wheelwright Trojans.

Gearheart tossed a 30-yard pass to wide receiver Blaine Depoy, who made a super catch for a touchdown, only to have it called back because of a clipping penalty on the last play of the game.

Trojan Fullback Mike Justice carried the ball 10 times in rushing for 48 yards.

The first score of the game came in the third period with 3:16 to go, on a safety, as Justice was tackled by Bobby Wise in the Trojan end zone. The Bobcats scored again at the 2:43 mark of the third when Gearheart hit Mitchell with a pass from 15 yards out. The conversion was no good, and the Bobcats were on top, 8-0.

Betsy Layne tacked six more points on the board in the fourth quarter with 1:38 to go when Gearheart again found Mitchell in the end zone for the touchdown to win, 14-0.

The winning Bobcats carried the ball 19 times and rushed for 86 yards. Tandy Howell carried five times for 36 yards. Betsy Layne fumbled three times and recovered all of its fumbles. The Bobcats were penalized 30 yards. There were no Bobcat interceptions.

Wheelwright carried 23 times for 73 yards rushing. The Trojans fumbled the ball twice with the Bobcats recovering both times. Wheelwright was penalized for 20 yards. The Trojans had one pass intercepted by Keith Mulkey on the Bobcat 2.

touchdown. The lefthander also connected with tight end Shawn Hencye on a 30-yard toss for a TD.

Tackett carried the ball for the Rebels nine times for 48 yards. Half back John Slone rushed for 27 yards on five tries. The Rebels were three-for-six in the passing department for 36 yards with one interception.

B.J. Aldrich led the Rebel defense with four first hits. Kevin Hall had three first hits and five assists.

According to Daniels, the worst of the schedule should be behind the squad as it prepares for the second half of the season.

"We will work on our defense and get ready for Berea Friday night," the Rebel mentor explained. "We need a win to get the kids' confidence back up. We'll just take these first five games and throw them away, put them behind us and start fresh, hoping we can win some of the next six we have left."

The Rebels will be on the road against Berea this Friday night. Allen Central is 0-5 for the season and 0-2 in district play.

An average of 150 tornados hits the United States each year.

and were unable to move the ball as the half ended with Prestonsburg up 6-0.

The momentum that was going the Blackcats way changed directions in the second half, smiling on the Tigers.

"Had the touchdown not been called back that might have broken their backs," said Letton of the Johnson Central squad. "But they seemed to have the momentum coming back out in the second half."

The Tigers wasted no time in taking advantage of the situation as Holbrook took the ball across the goal line into the end zone for a Tiger TD with 7:25 to go in the third quarter. Holbrook also added the two point conversion to give the Tigers an 8-6 lead. Slone's touchdown with 1:33 left in the game made it 14-6.

"We sure needed this win," says Coach Letton. "They just had good field position in the second half and took advantage of it. We got the breaks in the first half and they got them in the second. We thought we could throw more, but with conditions the way they were we couldn't."

Would the Blackcats have thrown more if the weather had been dry? "We sure would have," remarked Letton. "We knew we could pass against them."

The Blackcats drop to 3-2 on the season and will battle perennial power Danville Central Friday night at Danville. Paintsville improves to 4-1 and travels to Raceland Friday night.

Adam Gearheart (11) completes a pass to Chad Mitchell against Wheelwright in a junior varsity game at Betsy Layne Monday evening. The Trojans could not mount any offense and fell to the Bobcats, 14-0.

Young Bobcats Win Over Allen Central Grade, 16-0

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Betsy Layne Elementary "A" football team won its first game of the season with a 16-0 shutout of the Allen Central Grade football team.

The game was played in a steady downpour of rain that seemed to follow most of the weekend football games in the area.

The younger Bobcats were coming off an earlier opening season 48-0 loss to the Allen Eagles. The Rebels suffered a 20-0 setback at Osborne.

Players for both teams had a hard time keeping their footing as they played on a slippery field at Betsy Layne. Handling the football was also a problem for both squads, as each was guilty of several fumbles.

Betsy Layne scored late in the first period after recovering a Central Grade fumble. Betsy Layne, with possession of the football, found themselves in a third and 25 situation. With 1:38 remaining in the first, Timmy Parker took the ball 36 yards for a touchdown. Brandon Combs added the two point conversion to give Betsy Layne an 8-0 lead.

The Bobcats made it 16-0 on the first play in the second half, when Dan Kidd broke tackle and scampered 63 yards for a TD. Combs again added the two point conversion. Neither team was able to score in the remainder of the contest as the Cats won 16-0 over the Rebels.

Rebels Coach Ernie Moore was pleased with the way his team performed in the loss.

"They played better. They are getting better with each game," the Rebel coach said of his first-year team. "They didn't quit."

In "B" team action, the little Rebels won their second game of the year with an exciting 8-6 win over the Bobcats.

Betsy Layne scored first on a 75-yard run by its fullback. The two point conversion attempt failed and the Bobcats led, 6-0, at halftime. The Rebels came back late in the second half with possession of the football. Scott Bellamy pick up a Rebel first down with a 16-yard run. Rebel quarterback Brad Blackburn hit James Osborne with a 10-yard gainer and another first down. The Rebels were caught in a third and four situation, but an off sides penalty gave the Rebels a first down. Mickey Slone ran for 12 yards for yet another AC first down. After Bellamy was thrown for a loss of 4 on second and 14, Central was called for a holding and penalized 10 yards to bring up third and 28. Rebel quarterback Brad Blackburn ran around right end on a sweep play and went all the way for the TD. Bellamy took the ball in for the two point conversion to give the Rebels an 8-6 win.

Where's The Ball?

Montgomery County's defense seems to be confused as to where the ball is, as Prestonsburg freshman quarterback Jason Crisp (4) hands off to John Goble (44) for long yardage against the visitors. Goble ran for 106 yards as the Blackcats defeated Montgomery County, 30-0.

Osborne Tops Stumbo, 28-0

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Meredith Slone's Osborne Eagles are flying high with their second victory of the season, a 28-0 win over the John M. Stumbo Mustangs. The Mustangs were playing their first game of the football season. Osborne took the opening kick off and marched 49 yards for the first period scored. Arnold Adams' 24-yard run capped off the 49-yard drive to give the Eagles a 6-0 lead after the conversion try failed.

Stumbo came back with a drive of its own late in the first stanza. Chad Frazier took a hand off from quarterback Alonzo McGill on the first play from scrimmage following Osborne's kick off, and ran it for a 45-yard gain. On fourth and one, Frazier picked up a first down with a 10-yard jaunt. On a boot leg play, McGill pitched out to Frazier, who hit a wide receiver with a 15-yard pass to take the ball to the Osborne 1 yard line. On a first-and-goal, McGill was thrown for a 1-yard loss, bringing up second-and-goal. Stumbo fumbled the ball but recovered and was called for illegal procedure. On third-and-10, McGill fumbled the football in the backfield for a 6-yard loss. The Mustangs lost the ball on downs when they failed on fourth down play. On the first down for Osborne, Frazier broke a tackle and ran 65 yards before he was brought down on the Mustang 15 yard line. The Eagles moved the ball down to the Mustangs 4, where Stumbo made a goal line stand as the half ended before the Eagles could convert the final play.

Osborne went up 12-0 on a touch-down run by Adams with 5:32 remaining in the game. Frazier intercepted a McGill pass and took the ball 82 yards for a touchdown to make it 20-0 after the conversion by John Preston. Frazier scored his fourth touchdown with just :55 seconds on the clock on a 23-yard gainer. Chad Slone took a pass in the end zone for the two point conversion and a 28-0 victory.

Frazier carried the ball eight times for 154 yards rushing. The Eagles are 2-0 on the season. John M. Stumbo is 0-1.

Branham was injured in the opening game of the season against the Elkhorn City Cougars, and required reconstructive knee surgery. Branham will be out for the remainder of the season. "I'll be back strong next year," Branham vowed. "Next year will be our year as a team. We'll make the playoffs."

Tole Captures Kiwanis Road Race At Jenkins

In conjunction with the Mountain Heritage Festival in Letcher County, the Kiwanis Club of Jenkins sponsored a Two Mile Road Race Saturday at Jenkins.

Rick Tole of Cumberland took the top spot with a time of 12:37, according to local runner Rick Roberts. Paintsville sophomore John David Ratliff was third at 12:45, followed by Marvin McFaddin, also of Paintsville, at 13:02. McFaddin won his age group. Another runner from Paintsville, Garry McKenzie, finished seventh overall with a time of 14:58.

FALL TURKEY HUNTING RUN DOWN
 Kentucky hunters will have several opportunities to hunt wild turkeys on public hunting areas this fall. In connection with deer archery season, hunters who possess an unfilled deer tag and a turkey hunting permit may take one turkey of either sex. Areas open to turkey hunting this fall include Higginson-Henry Wildlife Management Area, Union County, Oct. 1-31; Fort Campbell, Christian and Tristram counties, Sept. 24-October 7; Land Between The Lakes (LBL), Trigg and Lyon counties, Sept. 23-Oct. 27, Oct. 31-Nov. 10 and Dec. 17-31. (Check for areas closed to hunting as posted by signs. Successful turkey hunters on LBL must fill out an official game check card and harvested birds must be tagged and checked out.)
 Exceptions to archery only at Fort Campbell: One turkey of either sex may be taken by shotgun Sept. 17-19, 22-23. White turkeys of either sex may be taken at the rate of one bird per deer gun season. Check with Fort Campbell for these hunting dates. (White turkeys taken on this area do not count toward filling the state-wide limit.)

GRASS CARP UNDER HANDS-OFF POLICY
 Grass carp may not be harvested or removed from department-owned lakes effective Jan. 1, 1990, according to a declaration issued by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.
 Grass carp eat aquatic plants such as musk grass, hydrilla, duckweed and curly leaf pondweed, in addition to some species of algae. These "housekeeping" fish effectively clean up lakes clogged with excess plant growth — that's why the fish and wildlife department purchases and stocks grass carp in some of its lakes. An overabundance of vegetation not only hinders fishing access and opportunities, but excessive plant growth can contribute to unbalanced fish populations. Leaving grass carp in waters where they are stocked will allow the fish to do their job, and in the end, anglers will benefit.

OPENING WEEKEND DOVE HARVEST UP SLIGHTLY FROM LAST YEAR
 Kentucky dove hunters harvested 20,632 birds during the Sept. 1-4, 1989 opening weekend — nearly 2,400 more doves than were harvested for the same period last year.
 State conservation officers checked a number of wingshooters who had taken 426 limits. More limits were taken in the second, third and sixth wildlife districts than the remaining five districts combined. This was not a surprise, since grain crops are harvested earlier in central and western portions of the state.
 Conservation officers issued 198 citations during this year's four-day survey period. Hunting with unplugged shotguns and shooting over baited fields are the most frequently occurring violations during dove hunting season.

I'm glad to hear you're going to be "SOBER" Doug. As far as "DEPENDABLE"—I know you are around 70 years old or older and I know that you have had a heart attack. "DEPENDABILITY"—I've not missed one Fiscal Court meeting in my 4 year term as Magistrate—not counting the road work we've done. Don't Overlook Boat Houses For Bass Almost every lake has some, and they're nearly always home to bass. Boat houses. Piers. Fishing docks and marinas.

"It's amazing how many fishermen ignore boat houses when they're fishing," says Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member Ricky Green, "but I think they offer some of the best cover available for bass. I finished second in a national tournament several years ago, simply by fishing boat houses for three days, and I only lost by five ounces."

Boat houses and similar structures like piers and even marinas provide cover and shade for bass, says Green. The water around them is often slightly deeper, and in many cases food is more abundant.

"For me, the most productive boat houses are those located on points or in the backs of pockets and coves," explains the Johnson pro. "I don't like to fish a long row of boat houses. I'd much rather find one by itself because it seems to act just like other types of isolated cover in attracting bass."

Green feels most bass using boat houses are suspended fish, so he often uses topwater or medium-running lures like buzz baits and spinnerbaits to bring them to the surface. If he uses jigs or plastic worms, he chooses lures that are light and fall very slowly.

"Normally, outside pilings or corners hold the most bass," says Green, "so I usually fish these first. Then, I'll make a long cast that brings my lure along the entire side of a boat house, in case the fish are further back or underneath the house."

"Sometimes, flipping is the only way you'll get fish to hit, and when that happens, you have to work very slowly and try to hit every corner. After you fish two or three boat houses, you should know how the bass are acting and be able to fish accordingly."

Often Green will idle slowly in front of a boat house watching his depthfinder before he begins casting. Many dock owners sink trees or bushes in front of a boat house to help attract crappie. These same brush piles are excellent places to catch bass, and readily show up on a good depthfinder.

"Just work a buzz bait slowly over a brush pile and you'll find out pretty fast if a bass is present," laughs Green. "If a fish hits and misses, switch to a plastic worm."

"When you visit a different lake for the first time and don't know where to begin fishing, or if you can't determine a pattern on your favorite lake, try the boat houses.

"They're among the most reliable places I know to catch a bass."

Scramble For The Ball

With the field soaked after a heavy rain, the ball was wet, slippery and hard to handle for the Blackcats and Tigers at the Prestonsburg field Friday night as the Blackcats fell to the Tigers 14-6. Above, Paintsville fumbled the football and a pile up ensued.

Whoa There!

An Allen Central defender grabs Division 1 prospect, Buck McCloud, as he picks up a first down for the Raceland Rams. The Rebels fell to the Rams 48-14.

Keepers

Did You Know... that the eyes of a bass continue to grow throughout its life? However, in relation to body size, the eyes of a newly hatched "fry" bass are much larger than those of a 10-pounder?

Did You Know... that large numbers of walleye in a lake are a sure sign that the reservoir is mesotrophic, or middle-aged? Theoretically, this is due to the washing away of the softer bottom, leaving a rockier, rugged bottom structure. As the lake continues to age, these areas are silted over and the walleye population subsequently declines.

Did You Know... that the Fat Rap, a deep-diving crankbait produced by Rapala, was designed by Roland Martin, possibly the greatest tournament bass fisherman of all time?

Did You Know... that the brook trout is not actually a trout? Rather, it is a member of the char family.

Did You Know... that largemouths are not indigenous to the entire United States? Originally, they were found from southeastern Canada through the Great Lakes area, up the Atlantic Coast as far north as Maryland, and south in the Mississippi Valley to Mexico and Florida. Their range was gradually extended west of the Rocky Mountains after 1887 when largemouths were introduced to the Columbia River system. Shortly thereafter, an employee of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad caught several bass from the Ohio River drainage and stored them in a perforated bucket hanging in the water tank of a locomotive tender. These bass rode over the Allegheny Mountains and were released into the Potomac basin, their naturally migrated eastward into the New England states. Still, there are no black bass in Alaska.

Did You Know... that some knots provide better lure control than others? The clinch knot, because it grips the hook eye or split ring tighter than any other knot, allows the most precise control of the lure by an angler.

Did You Know... that fly fishing dates back to the third century, A.D.?

Did You Know... that the first multiplying (several revolutions of the spool per each turn of the handle) baitcasting reel was made in 1810 by George Snyder, a Kentucky watchmaker? Prior to 1880, each baitcasting reel (or "Kentucky" reel, as they were commonly referred to at that time) was built entirely by hand down to each individual screw. The average Kentucky reelmaker produced about seven reels a month, and these often sold for $50 to $70. At that time, customers ordered a reel without knowing the price. When the craftsman completed the work, the buyer was charged what the builder thought the reel was worth. What is more, these reels were virtually indestructible, and many of them well over 100 years old are still in use today.

Did You Know... that at the turn of the century, the average bass lure weighed about an ounce? That weight had nothing to do with performance or productivity, but was the weight needed to put a bend in, or "load," the stiff metal rods of the day?

Did You Know... that carp are not native to North America? Unfortunately, they were introduced to American waters by the United States Fish Commission in 1876.

Did You Know... that fish and humans both have a blood pH of 7.4?

Did You Know... that a fish's "lateral line" is a series of connected pores containing ciliated (hair-like) cells? These cells, which are sensitive to low frequency water movements, help fish detect subtle changes in water current, nearby obstructions, and the presence of other fish.

Did You Know... that the family of black basses is not limited to the common largemouths, smallmouths, and spotted bass? In fact, the list of black basses is comprised of six major species and four subspecies, or 10 in all. The major species include the largemouth, red-eye or Coosa bass (which resembles the smallmouth), smallmouth, spotted bass, Suwanee bass (a Florida native seldom reaching 10 inches), and the Guadalupe bass (a Texas bass seldom growing over a foot in length). The four subspecies include the Florida largemouth, the Alabama spotted bass, the Neosho smallmouth (occurring in the Neosho River and tributaries of the Arkansas River in Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri), and the Wichita spotted bass (occurring in the Wichita mountains of Oklahoma).

Did You Know... that a bunch of eels is called a swarm?

Did You Know... that maggots are the most popular live bait in many European countries? Too, many of them are colored red, blue, green, and yellow with food dyes. To attract fish, usually trout, to an area, anglers will often fling a bunch of maggots into the water with a slingshot!

Did You Know... that a largemouth bass can "sprint" at speeds up to 12 miles an hour?

Did You Know... that the presence of bluegill in the area will sometimes make bass refuse to spawn?

'Rat' Fishing

Should Be Good This Fall

One of the newest techniques gaining popularity in bass fishing these days is known as "rat fishing," and one of the best times to try it is right now as waters slowly begin to cool.

Rat fishing involves the use of a small floating plastic lure, usually made to resemble a rat or frog. It works best when retrieved in lily pads, milfoil or moss.

"Rat fishing isn't a new technique," explains Evinrude Pro Staff angler Burma Thomas, who has used the lures with excellent success for years on the women's professional tournament circuits.

"It's just that the lures received some national publicity on television and in magazines, and suddenly everyone wants to try them. We've been doing it for years on Lake Gunterville in Alabama."

Thomas, the all-time leading money winner in ladies bass fishing competition, has also fished plastic rats on Georgia's Lake Seminole, Mississippi's Ross Barnett Reservoir, Lake Sam Rayburn in Texas, and even on the Potomac River in Washington, D.C.

"Bass are not keying on the color or shape of the lure," explains Thomas, "because most of the time they can't even see it. Instead, they're hitting movement."

"The best and most exciting rat fishing takes place over milfoil, where the lure is cast back into the matted vegetation and retrieved slowly back over the top.

"Bass literally explode right through the milfoil to get the lure, usually when you least expect it, too."

A number of manufacturers make plastic rats and frogs, explains the Evinrude pro, but many of the lures are too light in weight to cast effectively with heavy tackle. Thomas suggests pinching a small split-shot weight inside the lure on the hook shank. She also adjusts the hook slightly so it remains snag-free.

"These lures are not nearly as effective in open water," she explains. "The very best places to use them are around heavy cover. I ease my boat into a spot and look for baitfish or bream, and if I see them, I know bass will be present."

"Bass move into the milfoil or lily pads in hot weather because it's also cooler there, and the vegetation provides plenty of ambush opportunities."

Thomas says the hardest part of rat fishing is learning to hesitate momentarily after a bass hits before setting the hook.

"When bass hit, but you have to let them actually get the lure and pull it down before you set the hook," she notes. "If a bass misses, just leave the lure motionless and the fish will often come right back and hit it again."

"It's some of the most exciting bass fishing I know."

Ortega's Free Throws Sink The Garrett Daredevils, 44-42

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

No one expected the first game of the season to turn out to be a "barn burner," but that is what happened at Wayland Monday night as the Betsy Layne Elementary Bobcats hooked up with the Garrett Daredevils.

Keith Hamilton had a big night for the younger Bobcats with an 18 point performance against the host school. However, it was Ryan Ortega's two pressure free throws that were needed to avoid overtime and give the Bobcats their first win. With :24 showing on the game clock, the score tied at 32-32, Ortega was fouled in the act of shooting and awarded two free throws; he sank both of them.

Jeremy Hall tossed in 22 points for the Daredevils in the losing effort, which prompted Bobcat Ernie Tackett to claim that Hall "almost beat us single-handed." Randy Wallen had eight points for the Bobcats, while Ortega and Vince Williams netted six each. Steve Turner added eight for the Daredevils. Dale Kimbler, although he did not score in the game for Betsy Layne, hauled down nine rebounds for the winning team.

Brooke Allen topped the Lady Daredevils with 13 points. Nancy Duff and Megan Manns each had four points each for Garrett.

Christy Osborne had eight points for the winners and Misty Clark netted five.

Hale Earns Internship At English University

CHARLOTTE HALE

Charlotte L. Hale, 21, of Newport News, Virginia, began participating in the Boston University London Internship Program Sept. 8.

The Boston University senior will spend 14 weeks in London, England, as a student and intern. Hale will study and research the British media industry for five weeks in the classrooms of the University of London. She will also gain first-hand journalism experience during a nine-week, full-time internship at a British publication. Hale plans to return to Boston University in January to complete her studies and receive a bachelor of science in journalism in the spring.

Hale is the granddaughter of Mattie Ferrell of Manton and the late Herbert Ferrell, and the daughter of Walter D. Hale and Terri Ferrell Hale, both of Newport News, Va., formerly of Floyd County.

Two Floyd Countians Among Winners In State 4-H Poultry Judging Contest

Floyd County 4-H Club members Derek Hale and Ronnie Leedy will be two of five youngsters on the state poultry judging team, following individual third and fifth place wins at the Kentucky State Fair recently.

Lawrence County 4-H members captured first, second and fourth place.

The five will make up the state team, and will receive training from Cooperative Extension Service agents and state poultry specialists through Nov. 20. Their next judging event will be at the International Livestock Exposition at the Kentucky State Fair Grounds at Thanksgiving, according to Gene Ball, Floyd County Extension Service agent for agriculture.

Ball noted that the training and judging activities are broad in scope since the contestants are required to judge live birds for production, interior quality of eggs, both in the shell and broken out, and dressed birds ready for market.

"Those 4-H Club members who go through the judging activity must really know their poultry in order to come out a winner," Ball said.

Other Floyd County club members who were judged at the State Fair, and ribbons earned, were:

Nine Former Governors Asked To Address State Education Reform Group

Nine former Kentucky governors have been invited to speak to the Education Reform Task Force at the panel's next meeting, scheduled Oct. 11 at 9 a.m. in room 104 of the Capitol Annex, Frankfort.

The meeting is the first of a series planned to bring education experts and advocates before the task force as it prepares its response to a Kentucky Supreme Court decision nullifying the state's public educational system, according to House Speaker Don Blandford and Senate President Pro Tem John "Eck" Rose, co-chairs of the panel.

The governors have been asked to address the task force for approximately 30 minutes, prior to responding to questions. Invited are former governors A.B. Chandler, Lawrence Wetherby, Bert Combs, Edward Breathitt, Louie Nunn, Wendell Ford, Julian Carroll, John Y. Brown Jr. and Martha Layne Collins.

Other prominent individuals in education and representatives from education interest groups will be invited to address the task force at future meetings, Rose and Blandford said.

The panel is operating under an April 15 deadline for responding to the Supreme Court decision that Kentucky's educational system fails to offer school children in the state an equal opportunity for an adequate education.

Being A Winner— Academically

The Touchdown Program at Prestonsburg High School has proven itself a valuable academic tool for many students, say school officials.

Touchdown (Tutoring Opportunities plus Understanding and Counseling Help Dreams Occur With Nurturing) was established to help students recognize their potential. Goals include improving attendance, grades and attitudes, raising self-esteem and establishing long-term goals.

"These goals are accomplished through the combined efforts of the community, the school and the home," said school officials. Activities include community involvement, incentive programs, individual counseling, career awareness and media involvement.

Judy Burchell, program director, said she is excited about the program's past successes and adds that she is looking forward to this year.

Recently, Touchdown members sponsored a door decorating contest for the homecoming football game between Paintsville and Prestonsburg. Doors were judged Thursday, Sept. 15. Members of the winning homeroom were admitted free to Friday's football game.

MCA Open For Business

The Mountain Christian Academy, a non-denominational Christian school, opened its doors to children on Monday, Aug. 21.

She noted that there are still openings in some class. For more information contact Salisbury at 285-5141 or 285-9901.

October 1 Is Deadline For Material For Book On Floyd 'Coal Camp Kids'

Barbara Ford Ritch, a Floyd native who is writing a book about growing up in the coal camps of Wayland and environs during the Great Depression, said this week that Sunday, Oct. 1, is the deadline for submitting material to her.

Coal camp children interested in contributing their memories and photographs to this book may submit them to Ritch at Route 1, Box 313, Rabun Gap, GA 30568. She may be reached at (404) 746-2973.

Ritch is being assisted by Paul R. Jordan, former journalist and native of Wayland, who will write the introduction to the book entitled "Coal Camp Kids—Coming Up Hard And Making It."

Thus far, she said, "Many coal camp kids have contributed such wonderful memories to this book, I hope many others will share their memories as well. The deadline for submitting cassette tapes, longhand or typed material is Oct. 1. Material received after that date will be returned and cannot be included in the final work.

"For those who plan to attend the 1990 Homecoming at Wayland, hopefully the book will be in print and available for sale at that time."

She asks that material from those who grew up in Wayland, Steele's Creek, Stamper's Branch, Beaver, Martin's Branch, Glo, Estill, Pumpkin Center and other communities.

Material may include mining experiences and floods, especially the 1937 disaster; illnesses, schooling, birthing, dying and doctoring by home remedies, and living during the 1930's depression years.

Black and white pictures of all phases of coal camp life would be welcome, Ritch said. Photos should be properly identified with names and addresses on the back so they can be returned.

"While many coal mining stories have been told in print and film," Ritch said, "very little writing has been done about the children of coal camps. Their story is a rich heritage that should be preserved for posterity."

National Register Of Historic Places

'Bungalow' Typifies Architectural Era

(Fifth In A Series)

The G.D. Callihan house at 105 West Graham St. was chosen for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places for its architectural significance...

Described as a "semi bungalow," the house's styling is typical of domestic architecture that was popular across the country — and particularly in California — in the early part of the century.

common in the city... and is distinguished from other examples by its fine state of preservation and for its tile roof, the report states.

The house was constructed during the Great Depression by Dr. Grover Darbon Callihan (1931-32) on land owned by his family since the 19th century...

The masonry contracting firm of Tom Ellis, Bill Hubbard and Joe Harris reportedly did the actual construction.

The one-and-a-half story brick structure has a side-gabled roof of green Spanish tile, considered an unusual feature.

A sunroom on the east end of the front porch appears to be original, "or nearly so," according to the evaluators...

The report adds that the bungalow style was the "predominant mass market house style of the inter-war period."

The president then presented Charles DeWeese, who gave a report on the AARP and the NRTA. Vernie Nicholas talked about the "55 Alive" program, tax help for the elderly, and other matters of importance to retired teachers and added that the motto of the AARP is "To serve — not to be served."

Following the break, Vickers presented Frank Hatfield, executive director of the KRTA who spoke briefly. Then Jayne Birkett and Robert Kelly, representing KRTA, discussed insurance and health care, stressing the importance of having an active health insurance committee, and advising the group to use caution in regard to long-term insurance policies.

County Kettle

The old saying goes "Man (or woman) cannot live on bread alone," but with the right recipe one may not mind giving it a shot. A number of delicious breads abound: some are healthy, some are sweet and some are just plain traditional. This week's County Kettle offers a little of each from the three recipes.

Spicy Zucchini Nut Bread is always a welcome treat for breakfast, lunch, or snack time, — or give a loaf to a neighbor or friend as a thoughtful homemade gift.

ZUCCHINI NUT BREAD

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 Tbsp cinnamon
2 tsps baking powder
1 tsp salt
3 eggs
2 cups unpeeled grated zucchini (about 1 large)
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 Tbsp vanilla
1 cup chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Grease and flour a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Stir together flour, sugar, cinnamon, baking powder and salt in large mixing bowl. Beat eggs in separate bowl; stir in zucchini, oil and vanilla. Add zucchini mixture to dry ingredients, stirring just until blended. Fold in walnuts. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake for 1 hour and 5 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan for 10 minutes. Remove from pan and cool on wire rack. For easier slicing, wrap loaf and store overnight in a cool place. Makes one loaf.

1 tsp salt
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, melted and cooled
3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, melted and cooled
1/3 cup sesame seeds

Dissolve yeast in warm water in large mixing bowl. Stir in sugar, salt, eggs, 1/2 cup butter and flour; blend thoroughly. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Stir dough down and put into greased 13x9x2-inch pan. Pour remaining 1/2 cup butter evenly over top and sprinkle with sesame seeds. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Remove from refrigerator 25 minutes before baking. Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes or until golden brown. Cut into squares, serve hot. Makes 12 three-inch squares.

Note: If not refrigerating, allow dough to rise in pan about 45 minutes or until doubled in bulk. Bake as directed.
