

No Duelers Here

Swearing they had fought no duels, part of the oath required of public officials in Kentucky, members of the Prestonsburg City Council took their oaths of office Monday night.

Assembly Agenda

General Assembly. A bill sponsored by Rep. Preston would lead to the Public Service Commission's establishment of a telecommunications dual party relay service program for the hearing and speech-impaired.

introduced in the House is March 2 and in the Senate, March 5. March 30 through April 10 are designated as veto days, during which the legislature will be in recess.

If the legislature cannot reach an agreement on a plan for education reform, Gov. Wilkinson has indicated he will call for a special legislative session.

Proceedings of the General Assembly will be carried by Kentucky Educational Television stations each evening.

Car Accidents

The conditions of the other men involved in the accident were not released by the McDowell hospital. In another accident, Father Ralph Beiting, 66, founder of the Christian Appalachian Project which has an office in Martin and is based in Lancaster, was injured when the vehicle he was driving collided with a coal truck Tuesday.

Call 'Em Up!

To keep track of what's going on during the 1990 Kentucky General Assembly, folks may call one of three toll-free numbers. Members of the Legislative Research Commission will be at the other end to answer questions and refer callers to legislators.

Area Lawmakers Take On Committee Assignments

With the 1990 General Assembly in session, area legislators are well represented on several Standing Committees which draft legislation that affects all Kentuckians. In the State Senate, Sen. David LeMaster (Floyd, Johnson and Lawrence counties) chairs the Business Organizations/Professions Committee and is vice chairman of the Labor/Industry Committee.

Greg Stumbo is Democratic Floor Leader. He is also a member of the Rules Committee and Enrollment Committee. Rep. Russell Bentley (Floyd, Knott, Letcher) is a member of the following committees: Agriculture/Small Business, Counties/Special Districts, and Education.

and rehiring county employees, transferring funds between budgeted account numbers, rewriting three lost checks, and passing a resolution on the county attorney's salary, limiting the amount of money to be received by the state as a prosecutor and from the county as a court advisor to $12,000.

to relocate a county road around the Mink Branch and Craynor area. Also a resolution was drawn up to apply for funding for the dredging of the Beaver Creeks, tributaries of the Big Sandy and parts of the Big Sandy River itself.

On that note, Hammond said that he recently learned at a county attorney seminar that Floyd County is one of five counties with a delinquent tangible tax payment of 15 percent or greater.

Another required resolution was passed making the county attorney responsible for funds received by the state and county for child support enforcement. According to Hammond, the county is responsible for 32 percent of the funding for enforcement, the state picks up 66 percent, and the other two percent is handled by the county attorney.

Sheriff Thompson brought to the attention of the court that his office is unable to generate funds at this time because the tax records have been cut off and sealed, pending a state audit to take place in about a week.

"To keep the Federal Revenue Cabinet out of here, we need to collect taxes, otherwise they will come in, by-passing everyone, and collect it themselves," he stressed.

"It was a long process," said Hunt. "We had to work on the log piece by piece, using all of our equipment. We kept talking to the boy, telling him everything we were doing and trying to keep him calm. He was scared but was a good sport and did real well."

In Memory of Rebecca Lewis

(In loving memory of Mom on her real Mother's Day!)

Today is your day, Mom for you out shine them all in God's kingdom. Today, makes 3 years that Jesus really healed and set you free, for he took you home to worship and praise him while waiting for us—(your family) to come on home to be with you.

I know today, you're really free, for freedom only comes in serving Jesus, and there's more joy in your life today and that makes it all worthwhile. We love you, we miss you, but we are glad that you are happy and free and filled with joy in serving Jesus.

Sadly missed by, Dad, Sisters, and Brother. (Rudolph Lewis Family).

Respectfully,
Magalene L. Board

A proud tradition

Our funeral home has been responding to the needs of the community for many years. To continue this proud tradition of helping families in their time of need, we now offer the Sunset SecuritySM Plan.

Sunset SecuritySM offered by us as a member of the Kentucky Funeral Directors Burial Association, is a plan that lets you reduce the stress your loved ones will experience at the time of a funeral.

Through Sunset SecuritySM, you can pre-arrange a funeral now. The plan offers an inflation-proof feature that lets you save money by freezing the cost of a funeral at today's prices. And it provides special tax-saving advantages. We'd like to give you a "Personal Record Guide" and tell you about the Sunset SecuritySM Plan. Just complete the coupon below and send it to us.

Wheelwright Officials Take Oath

Prior to the Fiscal Court meeting Tuesday, Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo swore in David Sammons (left) and Kenneth Johnson (center), commissioner and Mayor of Wheelwright, respectively. Those who took their oath of office earlier were Commissioners Jerry Keith Tackett (Dec. 20), Dennis Holbrook and Larry Joe Mullins (Dec. 29). They were administered the oath by Wheelwright Notary Public Audrey Gates at the City Clerk's building.

Nutrition Program Takes In $7 Million

An extra 14,000 clients per month now take part in Kentucky's maternal and child nutrition program thanks to $7.8 million in rebates to the Cabinet for Human Resources from baby formula manufacturers. "The agreements with these manufacturers have allowed us to provide nutritious food to infants, children and pregnant women who otherwise would not have been served," said Harry J. Cowherd, MD, Cabinet for Human Resources secretary.

Since July 1988, contracts between the state and Mead Johnson and Company, Ross Laboratories and Wyeth-Ayerst laboratories have provided for a rebate to the state for cans of formula bought by clients of WIC, formerly known as the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children.

The state receives a rebate of between 99 cents and $4.08 per can, depending on the type and quantity of formula.

"The $7.8 million was plugged right back into the program," Cowherd said, "resulting in more Kentuckians receiving food through the WIC program now than ever before.

"The program grew from serving 74,000 clients in July 1988 to providing 88,000 Kentuckians with WIC foods in September of 1989," he said.

WIC provides nutrition education and specific foods high in protein, iron and vitamins A and C to low-income pregnant women, new mothers, infants and children up to five years of age who have health problems that can be improved through better nutrition.

Even with the program's expansion, all eligible Kentuckians are not receiving WIC services, according to Health Commissioner Carlos Hernandez, MD.

"We're serving about 46 percent of those women and children who are potentially eligible for the program," said Hernandez. "This means that many Kentuckians are not getting the nutrition help that they need."

The current rebate contract with the three manufacturers is estimated to bring in $7.5 million for the current federal fiscal year (October 1989 through September 1990).

State officials say that federal funding and the rebates for the current year will be sufficient to maintain services at the present level of 88,000 clients per month.

Catastrophic Repeal May Affect Taxes

With the repeal of the Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act, enacted in July 1988, those taxpayers who previously had computed their federal income tax withholding to reflect the supplement Medicare premium may wish to recompute their withholding.

A new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, or new Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments, may be filed with the appropriate employer or pension payer to make this adjustment, according to the Department of the Treasury IRS District Office.

Taxpayers who increase their estimated tax payment to reflect the premium may wish to adjust their last estimated tax payment for 1989 (due January 16, 1990) to reflect the elimination of the premium.

Any overpayment will be refunded after the 1989 federal income tax return is filed, or the taxpayer may elect to carry the overpayment credit forward to their 1990 federal income taxes.

If there are questions regarding these procedures, taxpayers should call the IRS toll free number 1-800-424-1040.

Advisory Groups Schedule Meetings

Three advisory groups of the Cabinet for Human Resources have scheduled January meetings, which are open to members of the public with an interest in the subject area.

The Public Assistance Appeal Board is set to meet Jan. 9 at 9 a.m. in the third floor conference room of the Human Resources building in Frankfort.

The Advisory Committee on Sudden Infant Death Syndrome is scheduled for Jan. 17 at 1 p.m. in the coroner's office at 801 Fiscal Court building in Louisville.

The Council for Health Services' advisory group is to meet Jan. 31 at 9:30 a.m. at the Capital Plaza Hotel in Frankfort.

Since meetings may be canceled or rescheduled, persons who plan to attend should call the Cabinet for Human Resources at 502/564-6786 for confirmation prior to traveling.

SUITS FILED

(Suits filed are not indicative of guilt, and present only the claims of the person or institution filing the action.)

Louise H. Spradlin of Prestonsburg v. Belvia and Taubly Slone of Prestonsburg, for damages caused in an accident which occurred June, 30 1989. Plaintiff was riding in her own vehicle, driven by Billie Spradlin, going east on Rt. 128, when a car driven by Belvia Slone and owned by Taubly Slone allegedly pulled out in front of the plaintiff, causing an accident. Plaintiff seeks damages for all medical costs, pain and suffering, lost wages, permanent disability, court costs and attorney fees, and other entitled relief.

Charles Hall of Garrett v. JCS Coal of Garrett, for failure to honor an equipment lease, and for not honoring an agreement to provide insurance to plaintiff. Seeks payment for equipment damaged in lease, and for $10,000 in punitive damages. Also seeks return of $10,000 deposit bond to plaintiff, and for all costs and other entitled relief.

John Spradlin, individually, and as representative of Sharon Robinson's estate, and as guardian to three minors, v. City of Prestonsburg, Larry Adams, Paul Chaffins, and Henry Setzer, for the alleged wrongful death of Sharon Robinson on Dec. 15, 1988, at the former Wildcat Lounge in Prestonsburg, when she was asphyxiated while trying to exit the building after becoming locked in. The suit alleges that building inspectors Adams, Chaffins and Setzer should have been aware of possible danger of a person being trapped in the building, because of locks which could not be opened from the inside of the building. Seeks damages for wrongful death, injury, funeral expenses, medical bills, lost wages, pain, suffering, and punitive damages, all in excess of $400.

Larry Tackett and Lorri Conn of Betsy Layne v. Denise Allen of Minnie, for damages caused in an accident which occurred on Aug. 17, 1989, on Ky 979 near Harold. Conn was operating a vehicle in which Tackett was a passenger. Allen allegedly was operating her vehicle in a careless manner, crossing the road's center line and striking the plaintiff's vehicle. Both plaintiffs seek compensatory damages for medical costs, pain and suffering, lost wages, court costs and other entitled relief.

Bank Josephine of Prestonsburg v. Alfred Wilson of Inverness, Fla.. Plaintiff seeks repayment of loan valued at $8,675, the sale of property used as collateral for the loan, a deficiency judgment if sale of land is not adequate, and all court costs and other entitled relief.

Lottery Agents On The Road In January

The Kentucky Lottery's ambassador program, in which teams visited retail outlets across the state during December, received rave reviews from retailers and players alike, according to a Lottery Commission press release. Next week, Floyd Countians will get the chance to see for themselves.

"We visited 85 sites and talked to about 17,000 people during the month," said Melanie Bridgemon, senior vice-president of marketing for the lottery. "It has been so well received that our teams will be back on the road in January."

Bridgemon said that, beginning Monday, Jan. 8, a team of two people would stop at nearly 40 retail outlets that sell both instant and on-line games, including Floppy Mart, in Prestonsburg, on Thursday, Jan. 11.

"The team will have a special 'mystery' guest with them who will add a lot of fun and excitement to the event," she said. Bridgemon added that the special guest would be identified at a press conference scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 3, in Louisville during which lottery officials will also announce details of the lottery's newest game.

McDowell Breaks 7-Game Skid With Win Over Betsy Layne

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Johnny Ray Turner probably was wondering when his team's first win would ever come. The McDowell Daredevils went into Thursday night's contest against the Betsy Layne Bobcats with a disappointing 0-7 record and hosting the Bobcats in an important conference match up.

Balanced scoring helped the Daredevils to record their first victory of the season with a 72-64 victory over Junior Newsome's always tough Bobcats. Stacy Hall did what he had to do to give the Daredevils their first win and that was display some offensive drive. The junior guard did just that in scoring a game high 23 points.

The big baskets came in the fourth period, not from Hall, but Scott Shannon. Shannon hit two three-pointers to stave off a late Bobcat charge. Shannon also pulled down some key rebounds for the McDowell squad. McDowell was able to convert some key free throws down the stretch to help preserve the win.

"This team is steadily improving," Coach Turner said after his team's first victory. "We played a good game at Virgie the week before. In fact we had a 12-point lead on them even though we lost. I believe this game is just a carry over from that game."

Turner also cited the fact that his team is playing together as a unit now instead of on an individual basis.

"Our defense is better. We played a good defensive game tonight," the McDowell mentor said. "Doug Hopkins (who started his first game) gave us some steady play on the floor. Doug can score, but he doesn't look to score."

The first time starter showed poise in the fire of the Bobcats pressure defense.

Betsy Layne opened on a fast note jumping out in front by nine points, 17-8, behind the surprising scoring of Keith Hall. The lefthander, whom McDowell admits to taking lightly, scored 13 first quarter points, mostly on medium range jumpers. A 10-4 run by the Daredevils late in the stanza, pulled the Daredevils to within three, 21-18 before the period ended.

A slick floor underneath the Betsy Layne basket was causing some of the Bobcat players problems as seven of them fell on the slick floor at one time or another during the first period.

McDowell took the lead for the first time at 25-24 on a basket by Stacy Hall. Betsy Layne then scored five unanswered points to go 29-25 with less than four minutes remaining. Mike Duddleson's three-pointer with 42 seconds showing gave McDowell a 33-32 half time lead.

McDowell was able to neutralize Betsy Layne's outstanding senior center Sam Stewart by holding him to only five first half points and seven for the game.

"We set our defense to where we could deny Sam the ball," says Turner. "They were not able to get the ball into him the way they normally do."

McDowell quickly went up by five, 37-32, on two baskets by Marc Hall at the start of the third period. Betsy Layne reclaimed the lead at 42-41 on a basket by Phillip King.

After Stacy Hall had a basket nullified on a charging call, King hit from the left corner from 12 feet out to put the Bobcats up, 44-41. Four charity tosses by Stacy Hall kept the Daredevils close at the end of the third quarter, 46-45.

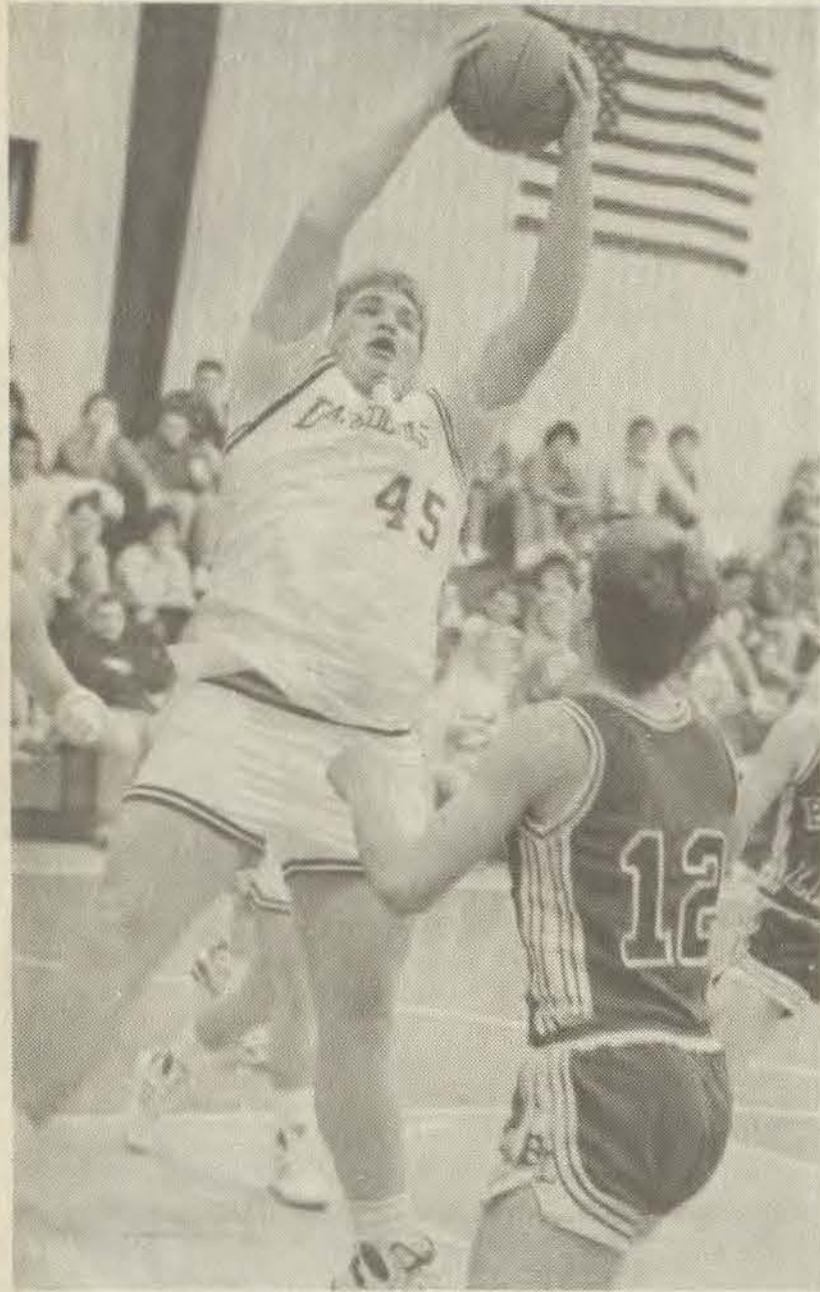

The game remained close through the final stanza, until McDowell opened up what seemed like a safe 66-59 lead with just 52 seconds remaining. After Betsy Layne called time out, Chris Newsome hit a three-pointer to cut the lead to four, 66-62. Chuck Lafferty hit a base line jumper to make it 66-64. When the Bobcats got close, Shannon hit his two three-pointers to bring a roar from the large crowd. McDowell scored the last six points of the game on four free throws, two each by Shannon and Shelton. Marc Hall's basket closed out the scoring.

Daredevils Victim Of Mighty Magoffin

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coming off a big emotional win over the Betsy Layne Bobcats, Johnny Ray Turner's McDowell Daredevils Saturday became the third Floyd County team to fall to the Magoffin County Hornets this basketball season.

Earlier in the year, Allen Central and Betsy Layne were victims to the 8-1 Hornets. The Rebels have felt the sting of Magoffin County twice this year.

The Hornets placed four players in double figures, led by Don Helton's 22 points. Scott Arnett tossed in 17 for Magoffin County. Marc Hall led the Daredevils with 30 points. Stacy Hall added 14 as the only other double figure scorer for McDowell.

The game was never in doubt after the first five minutes of the first quarter. The Hornets went out 5-0, but the Daredevils, on baskets by Marc Hall and Stacy Hall cut the lead to 5-4. Magoffin County then went on a 16-4 tear to claim a 21-8, first period lead.

McDowell got into early foul trouble in the first half as the team played perhaps the worst first half of the season. The Daredevils usually put together a good first two quarters. They put together two good halves in defeating Betsy Layne

Magoffin County rushed out to a 17-point advantage and went to the

In the opening game of the season, the Allen Central Rebels found the Magoffin County Hornets a tough basketball team to play. The Rebels dropped their home opener to the Hornets, 71-63. Last Friday night the Rebels found the Hornets tougher the second time around as they fell to the host school, 64-52.

A balanced Magoffin County attack helped the Hornets to record their seventh win against only one setback, led by Don Helton's 17 points.

The lefthander found the left corner to his liking as he tickled the twine from 10 feet on in for the Hornets. Scott Arnett added 13 points, and teammate Jeff Castle had 12 points

Lady Daredevils Give BLHS A Scare Before Falling, 54-36

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

In a game closer than the final score indicates, the Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats, leaders in the Floyd County Conference race, withheld a charging Lady Daredevils team and won 54-36.

The Lady Bobcats outscored the Lady Daredevils, 15-5, in the fourth quarter to pull out their seventh victory.

"If we play against other teams like we did tonight we will get beat," Betsy Layne mentor Gary Hopkins said of his team's win. "McDowell has a good team. We just didn't play well."

Melissa Bailey came off the bench and picked up the scoring for the Lady Bobcats. Bailey scored four quick points in the first period and four more in the second period.

"Melissa has really improved a lot for us lately," Hopkins explained. "She is becoming more consistent in her play."

Lori Bryant led the Lady Daredevils' charge in the first period by scoring all 10 of McDowell's points in the period. McDowell held a 10-8 first stanza advantage.

Brianna Boyd, getting a starting assignment for the Lady Cats, started the game off with a three-pointer. Boyd had two 'treys' in the game.

Offensive rebounding hurt McDowell in the game, giving Betsy Layne three and four shots at the basket. The Lady Bobcats were very aggressive on the boards pulling down 17 offensive rebounds in the game despite getting only one in the first period.

McDowell opened the second stanza with five straight points on a basket by Jenny Slone, who is coming back from a knee injury, and a three point play by Crawford, to take a 15-8 lead. Two free throws and a basket by Brenda Hamilton, coupled with a basket by Bailey, made it 15-14. Priscilla Crawford's free throw made it 16-14, and Bailey tied the game with an offensive put back.

McDowell had trouble hitting free throws and when the Lady Bobcats employed full court pressure, the Lady Daredevils began to turn the ball over. The McDowell players seemed to be standing around not coming to meet the ball and Betsy Layne intercepted several of the Lady

McDowell Majorettes

Half time of the McDowell Daredevils basketball games is an entertaining time for all the fans in attendance when the McDowell Majorettes perform during half time. Members of the majorette corp are: (not necessarily in order) seniors Kim Reynolds, Glenna Henson, Tara Slone and Gwen Sawning; juniors Stacy Conn, Kristi Pack, Wendi Martin and Christy Ousley; freshmen Shelby Howell and Courtney Cieslak. The majorettes are sponsored by Ernie Shelton.

Disabled Veteran Is A Marathon Man

Some people don't settle for doing things that are simply remarkable. They accomplish feats that almost defy comprehension.

Consider Bob Wieland, a Californian who once walked 2,784 miles from Los Angeles to Washington. It took three years, eight months and six days, mainly because he had to do it on his hands.

Wieland, you see, doesn't have legs. A land mine blew them away in Vietnam, but it didn't ruin his outlook on life, or stop him from completing marathons and triathlons.

Now a motivational speaker, Wieland, 43, has accumulated quite a list of accomplishments.

- He completed the Los Angeles and New York City marathons twice and the Marine Corps marathon once.
- He biked from Los Angeles to Washington, covering 2,700 miles in 35 days and 18 minutes.
- He is the first double amputee to complete the Ironman Triathlon in Hawaii.
- He broke the world record four times for the bench press, once lifting 507 pounds.

"I've walked about 6,000 miles on my arms," said Wieland, who recently finished the Marine Corps Marathon in Washington in 79 hours, 57 min-

Betsy Layne held a slim one point advantage at the half, 22-21, and led by four at the end of the third period, 35-31.

McDowell went cold in the fourth period, scoring only five points. Betsy Layne opened up a 10 point lead, 41-31, with 7:00 to go in the game. A 9-0 run late in the period made it, 52-34.

Hamilton led Betsy Layne in scoring with 21 points. Nancy Shepherd tossed in 12 points while Bailey had 10. Jamie Smith pulled down 10 rebounds for the Lady Cats. Bailey had eight. Betsy Layne turned the ball over just 12 times.

Bryant's 20 points led McDowell in scoring. Slone chipped in with 10 points after returning from her injury.

Betsy Layne enjoys a 7-1 win and loss record. McDowell loses for the fifth time this season, with two victories.

The Lady Bobcats will take on tough Elkhorn City in the Nothing But The Net invitational tournament Thursday night. McDowell entertains Dorton Monday evening.

earlier season games?
"We're running more and are in better shape," said Stacy Hall. "Coach Turner has us running more."
"Yeah, a lot more," echoed Marc Hall. "We're also playing together more now as a team, where before we were not."

"We're wanting to peak in February," Stacy Hall stated. The District Tournament begins in early March.

"The games we played against the two Lexington schools in the Holiday Classic really helped us a lot," Marc Hall remarked. "Playing against bigger players made us better."

Besides Stacy Hall's game high 23 points, Marc Hall finished with 18. Keith Shelton added 13 and Shannon finished with 12.

Keith Hall's 15 points led the Bobcats in scoring. King added 14 and Chris Newsome and Adam Gearheart had 12 and 11 points respectively. Both Newsome and Gearheart had a three-pointer in the game. Betsy Layne hit only 16 of 26 free throw attempts for 61 percent shooting. McDowell hit on 70 percent making 19 out of 27 from the charity stripe.

Betsy Layne evens its record at 3-3 overall and goes to 2-1 in the conference. The Bobcats will travel to Wheelwright Tuesday for another conference match up.

McDowell, Mullins Open Pike Tourney

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

One of the top regional tournaments will be held starting tonight at the Pikeville High School gym as the 34th Annual Pikeville Invitational basketball tournament gets underway at 7 p.m.

Coach Johnny Ray Turner and his McDowell Daredevils will take on an experienced Mullins Tiger team in the opening game. The Tigers return only one starter from last year's 10-18 team. Last year's leading scorer, Russell Clark, will be back for his senior year. Also returning will be last year's sixth man, Keith Justice. Mullins took the Pikeville Panthers to the wire before losing, 61-60 in the finals of the district tournament last year.

Inconsistent scoring will be one of the Tigers' weaknesses this year, as well as rebounding. The Tigers will possess some quickness and have the luxury of being deep off the bench.

McDowell (1-7) will bring to the Pikeville gym a team that defeated the Betsy Layne Bobcats last week. Marc Hall, Stacy Hall, Keith Shelton and Scott Shannon will lead the only Floyd County entry in the tournament. "Togetherness" seems to be the theme for the Daredevils the rest of the way this season. Game time is 7 p.m. tonight.

Hornets

for Magoffin County.

Rick Smith and Kevin Spurlock topped the Rebels in scoring with 13 points each. Joey Conn, whose twisting drives helped him to slip through the Hornets defense, tossed in 10 points.

Allen Central scored the first two baskets of the game to take a quick 4-0 lead. The Hornets were guilty of some early turnovers in the first period which would not allow them to get into their pressing game early.

Arnett hit a 10-foot jumper off the left side and the Hornets then began to employ their full court defense that caused the Rebels problems and dictated the tempo of the game.

Jeff Castle then hit a three-pointer and the Hornets were off and running as they went on a 10-0 run to claim a 10-4 lead. After two three-pointers by Spurlock, the Hornets ran off an 8-0 spurt, mostly on Rebel turnovers, and took a 20-10 first quarter lead.

Baskets by Arnett and Helton at the start of the second period put the Hornets up by 14 points, 24-10.

After Allen Central called time out with 6:52 to go, Conn and Smith hit two baskets sandwiched between with one by Helton, to make it 26-14. Allen Central looked like a team destined to win as the Rebels put together eight unanswered points to close the gap to 28-22. After a Rebel turnover, Jeff Castle hit two three-pointers to push the lead back out to 32, 34-22. The Hornets went to the locker room with a 35-24 lead.

Turnovers continued to plague the Rebels as the second half got underway. Six quick points and then the lead was 17 points for the host school.

The Rebels were having problems hitting the wide open lay ins as Ronnie Collins found himself open and missed. Frustration set in on the Rebels as they allowed the Hornets some easy, uncontested baskets on the run outs.

Magoffin County seemed to control both the offensive and defensive boards. It was 49-34 at the end of the third quarter.

Allen Central started going to the big men in the middle in the final stanza as Conn and Smith began to work free underneath for easy baskets. The new found offense was too late as the Hornets won 64-52.

Allen Central committed 16 rebounds for the game. For the Rebels, Smith pulled down eight rebounds while Cotton Parsons and Conn had seven and four, respectively.

Spurlock dished off four assists and Conn had three. Allen Central falls to 2-3 for the year and will play in the Laurel County Classic tonight.

Lady B'cats Face Area Power, Elkhorn City, In NBTN

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Elkhorn City, Sheldon Clark, Dorton, Phelps. What do these schools have in common. Each of them is a perennial power in girl's basketball in the 15th Region. Add another school to that list — the Betsy Layne Lady Bobcats.

Four of the above mentioned teams will take part in the Nothing But The Net girl's basketball tournament which begins tomorrow night at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse on the campus of the old Betsy Layne High School.

In one of those match ups, the Lady Bobcats of coach Gary Hopkins will take on the Lady Cougars of Elkhorn City. Elkhorn City, out of the 60th District, will bring a strong team into the tournament, led by senior Stacy Spake and guard Julie Belcher. In the second game of the night at 8 p.m., two other powerhouses will go against each other as Sheldon Clark and last season's regional champions Phelps tangle.

The Lady Cougars played in the Holiday Classic at Louisville over the holidays, defeating Louisville Iroquois, 77-27, and winning over Henry Clay girl's team, 61-50, with Spake scoring 18 points while Belcher tossed in 17. The Lady Cougars defeated the Phelps Lady Hornets earlier in the year and at this writing were 9-0 on the season.

Betsy Layne has a talented ball club led by all-conference candidate Brenda Hamilton. The upsurge of Melissa Bailey and the rebounding work of Jamie Smith makes the Lady Cats a legal threat. According to Coach Hopkins, his team matches up better with Elkhorn City than it would a Sheldon Clark team.

Betsy Layne's pressing man to man defense causes the opposing teams to commit turnovers. The young women are aggressive on the boards and play a tight man to man defense.

This should be a great girl's tournament. Game time is 6:30 p.m. See you there!

locker room, 42-25. Marc Hall had three fouls at the half for the Daredevils.

In the opening seconds of the third stanza, Scott Shannon picked up his third personal foul. The Hornets went on a 12-4 spurt and went on top, 54-31. Magoffin County led at the third stop, 67-40.

Marc Hall opened hot in the fourth stanza when he scored the first six points of the period to cut the lead to 21, 67-46. Marc Hall scored 12 points in the quarter before fouling out with 1:59 to go. Hall finished the game with 30 points as he had a good complete game in running the court and rebounding.

The Castle boys, Jeff and Scott, combined for 22 points with Jeff getting 10 points and Scott netting 12.

The victory allowed the Hornets to go 8-1 on the year. McDowell fell to 1-8 on the season. The Daredevils were guilty of committing 20 turnovers in the game.

McDowell will take part in the Pikeville Invitational when it takes on the Mullins Tigers tonight in a 7 p.m. game.

Volunteers Needed To Help Count Eagles

Volunteers are needed to help the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources count eagles.

Helpers are especially needed on Lake Cumberland's mid-sections and along the Ohio River from Covington to Ashland.

The count will take place between Jan. 4 and 18, with target dates scheduled for Jan. 12 and 13.

Both bald and golden eagles winter in Kentucky, and the fish and wildlife department sponsors the mid-winter count to keep track of eagle numbers. There were 207 eagles sighted during the 1989 count.

If you would like to volunteer to help count Kentucky's eagles, call David Yancy at (502) 564-5448, or write: Eagle Survey, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601.

The biologist would appreciate hearing from anyone (whether a volunteer or not) who sees any bald or golden eagles during the Jan. 4-18 period. If an eagle is sighted, you will need to identify the species, try to determine whether the bird is mature or immature and record the date, time of day and location (a small area map would be helpful). Send the information, along with your name, address and phone number to David Yancy at the above address.

Anyone wishing to make videos or still photographs of eagles should avoid doing so during the mid-January count.

Bald Eagles Winter In Kentucky

Majestically perched in tall, barren trees along a narrow waterway, bald eagles settled in for the night at one of their favorite roosting spots in Western Kentucky.

I was privileged to witness the wintering eagles along with a team of wildlife research biologists for the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Besides watching eagles in captivity, or on television, this was my first live, on-site experience with the regal birds. And what an experience it was — one that I plan to repeat!

Several eagles were already resting in the trees when we arrived at the roost site under a gray, late afternoon sky. The weather was cold, yet relatively mild, on this particular day in early December, making our observation post quite comfortable.

While quietly sitting in a vehicle only yards away, the three of us counted at least 24 bald eagles as they gracefully glided over our heads and across the water before taking up another night's lodging in Kentucky. The biologists identified eight eagles as mature birds, 15 as immature (less than four years old), but the age class of the last eagle to arrive before we left the roost site couldn't be determined because not enough natural light remained to distinguish the bird's markings.

The next day, 14 bald eagles were observed along the Mississippi and Ohio rivers in Western Kentucky as the biologists took to the air for a flight survey. I not only had the chance to spot two eagles near Fulton, but to take my first airplane ride while on a portion of the survey course.

The fish and wildlife department takes a keen interest in eagles year round. Specific research surveys are conducted November through March in Kentucky, beginning with bird counts that peak in January and continuing through the nesting activity period in late winter.

In 1987, for the first time since the 1940s, a pair of bald eagles produced two hatchlings on Ballard Wildlife Management Area in Western Kentucky. Unfortunately, the young did not survive, but those of us who care about eagles keep watching and hoping.

How You Can Help Eagles - Eagle research is conducted by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources through its Nongame Wildlife Program. Funds for this program come mainly from Kentucky citizens who donate all or a portion of their state tax refund by marking the Nongame Wildlife/Natural Areas Fund checkoff before filing their state income tax return form.

Awe-Struck Fisherman Encounters Eagles

Special thanks to a Lancaster supporter for sending me a copy of Ike Adams' "Just Plain folks" column that appeared in the Nov. 30, 1989, issue of the Garrard County News.

The following, taken directly from Adams' piece on his first encounter with eagles, will, hopefully, stir the hearts of all Kentuckians.

It seems all Ike and his friends had in mind was a good day of fishing for rainbow and brown trout at Lake Cumberland, but —

"I spent most of the day... watching a pair of bald eagles along the river just below the dam at Lake Cumberland - they swooped and glided up and down the river quite unperturbed at our presence. Often they flew within a hundred feet or closer to where we sat.

Finally one of them folded its wings back and extended its talons to begin a graceful slow motion dive directly into the river. Its legs snapped into the water, latched onto a fish just below the surface and hung suspended as its wings flapped for several seconds. We could see the fish just struggling to get away as the giant bird finally got it (the fish) airborne and hauled it back to a perch.

I discovered that my heart was literally pounding inside my chest - nothing that I've ever witnessed in nature has ever come close to stirring my emotions as watching the eagle catch that fish."

As Adams so clearly illustrates, eagles are thrilling to watch in their natural environment. For too long, these birds were taken for granted — coming dangerously close to extinction from the overuse of DDT.

Happily, with the banning of this pesticide, these great birds are showing signs of recovery in all sections of the United States except the south central states — and that includes Kentucky.

Places To Observe Eagles

Since eagles are fish-eaters, the birds are attracted to large bodies of water, and since most of Kentucky's large water areas are in the western portion of the state, that's where you were most likely to see these birds. To observe eagles during a Kentucky winter, try Land Between the Lakes, Lake Cumberland and Dale Hollow Lake. Though the birds may be fewer in number, eagles may also be seen at Barren River, Cave Run, Dale Hollow, Grayson and Martins Fork lakes.

Usually most (easily seen) eagle activity in Kentucky takes place during January. However, this year's icing conditions in northern climes seems to be forcing the big birds to head south earlier than usual.

A Sobering Thought

By Kevin Shannon, Substance Abuse Counselor

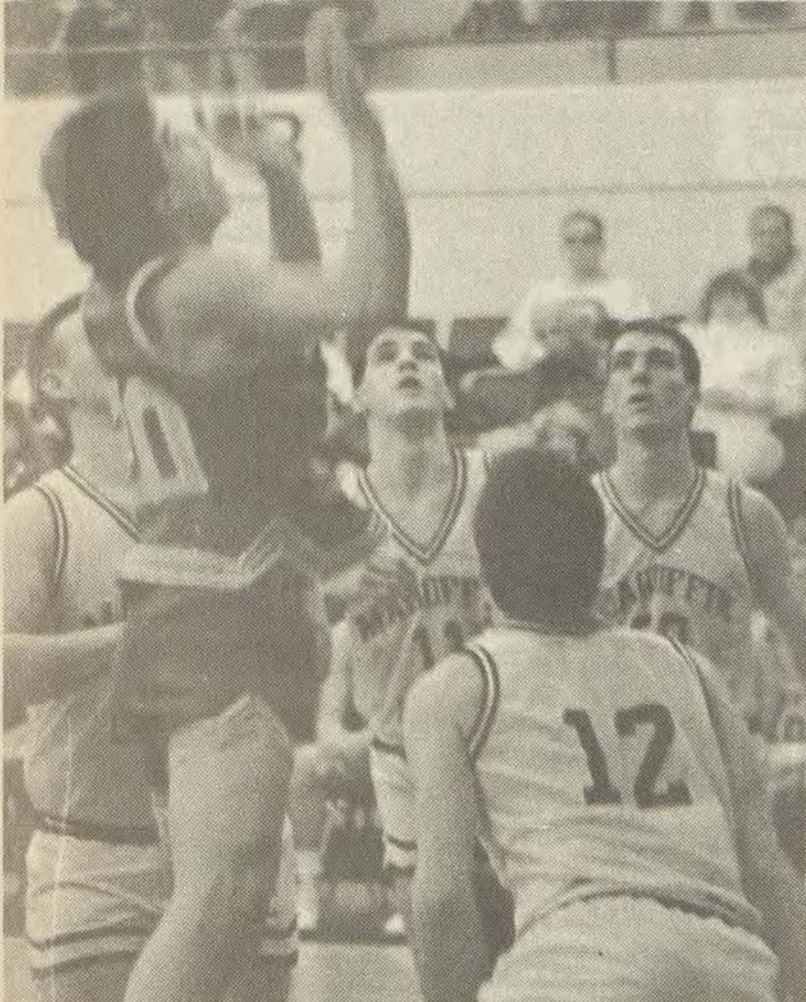

Q: What is alcoholism?

A: Alcoholism is a disease characterized by uncontrolled drinking of alcoholic beverages. A person suffering from alcoholism can't stop drinking because he or she depends on alcohol to function physically and mentally.

About six out of 10 adults drink alcoholic beverages. Of these, about one out of 10 is an alcoholic.

Alcoholism is treatable. Treatment for alcoholics and their families is widely available today in all parts of the country. Efforts focusing on education, early detection, research and community treatment facilities are the greatest forces operating today for the control and reduction of alcoholism.

Alcoholism is a chronic, progressive and potentially fatal disease and the earlier it is diagnosed and treated, the better the chances for recovery.

Bassin' with the Pros

Advice For Becoming A Professional Angler

"Professional bass fishing is just like any other professional sport. If you want to succeed in it, you have to dedicate your life to becoming the best fisherman you can."

That's how Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff angler Larry Nixon describes the road that has taken him to the top of the angling world. In his dozen years of active tournament competition he has become one of the leading money winners; captured one BASS Masters Classic world championship, and become an international spokesman for the sport.

"My advice to anyone who wants to become a professional fisherman today is to spend time on the water," he says. "You're not going to catch bass every day, but you have to be able to figure out why you didn't catch fish today so you can catch them tomorrow."

Nixon began guiding professionally on Toledo Bend in January 1972. He fished his first professional bass tournament in January 1977. During that time, he spent an average of 300 days — the equivalent of 10 months — on the water each year.

"That type of experience is invaluable," says the popular Evinrude pro, "and if you look at the top tournament pros today, many of them were fishing guides, too."

"It's not the mechanics of actually catching the fish or the hours you spend driving a bass boat. It's the knowledge you gain in simply understanding the bass itself and how it acts and reacts under such a wide range of conditions."

Guiding experience also helps anglers become more flexible in their thinking, adds Nixon. They not only recognize when they need to change tactics or techniques, they do not hesitate to do so.

"This is probably more important than many fishermen think," Nixon says, "because of the lengths of our tournaments. A lot of bass fishermen can catch fish one day, but a successful tournament pro has to catch them three or four days in succession, which nearly always includes a change in weather or water conditions."

Nixon also advises aspiring pros to promote themselves and the products they use.

"Professional bass fishing is much, much more than being able to catch fish," he emphasizes.

CHOICE OF GENERIC

The public has been turning to generic drugs in increasing numbers to save money on the cost of their brand-name counterparts. Recently, however, a controversy has arisen over the degree to which no-name brands and brand-name drugs are "bioequivalent." This term refers to how similarly generic and brand-name pairs are used by the body. The Food and Drug Administration uses a test to ascertain the rate at which a generic drug's active ingredient enters the bloodstream. If this rate varies by 20 percent (or less) from that of the brand-name drug, the generic is approved. Some contend that this standard is not stringent enough. Until the debate is settled, consumers should seek the pharmacist's guidance when making individual generic decisions.

COOLEY APOTHECARY can provide you and your family with your total brand-name and generic prescription needs as well as any over the counter remedies you require. Our entire staff keeps up to date on the latest developments in our industry. Complete patient profiles are maintained here at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106. Master Card and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments. Open: Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3.

HINT: The FDA contends that the average generic drug varies by only 3.5 percent from its brand-name counterpart.

Woman's Club To Sponsor Sale

Phyllis Herrick, president of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club, reminds members that the first meeting of the new club year and the annual "white elephant" sale will be tomorrow (Jan. 4) at 7:30 p.m. at the Floyd County Library.

The executive board is to meet one-half hour earlier than the regular meeting.

Last year's sale netted $250 which was earmarked for sending a child with leukemia to Indian Summer Camp.

Rev. Quentin Scholtz, pastor of First United Methodist Church, will serve again as auctioneer.

"It has been reliably reported that Woodrow Burchett, local 'prophet' has consulted his crystal ball and found that this white elephant sale will once again be a profitable one," said member Docia Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allen, who recently moved from Charlotte, N.C., to Lexington, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Allen and Mrs. Jess Mahan.

Officers for Miriam Rebekah lodge #31 were nominated: Beverly Hackworth, noble grand; Mary Ann Prater, vice noble grand; Vicki Spencer, secretary, and Maman Leslie, treasurer. Delegates to the Rebekah Assembly were also named.

Discussion at the meeting of the local Church Women centered on the future of the Loaves and Fishes Food Pantry.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hereford and son David II have returned from a vacation in Charlotte, N.C. En route, they stopped in Abington, Va.

Going by church bus to Pikeville for lunch at Blossom's restaurant and to visit May K. Roberts were several from First United Methodist: Rev. Quentin Scholtz, Julia Stephens, Fannie Runnels, Alice Harris, Jane Wallace, Maurine Mayo, Carlos Haywood, Ann Alley and Rose Glenn.

Dr. Mary Fox of the Pike County Health Department spoke to the Floyd County Retired Teachers on "Stress — An Ever-growing Problem." Music was furnished by Rev. Wayne Burch, pastor of Little Paint Church of God, accompanied by L.B. Fairchild and his band.

Mrs. Woodrow Burchett II re-

Our Family . . .

Cares For Your Family

"The potentially life-threatening nature of many heart problems requires that I have the confidence of the patient and his understanding of the problem," said Dr. Mohammed Haseeb when he joined the staff of Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center as a heart specialist in July 1989. Patients such as Robert LeMaster have learned that Dr. Haseeb's skill and knowledge match his dedication.

Now, Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center has opened a modern Cardiac Diagnostic Center with the latest medical technology including a sophisticated Stress Test System and Echocardiography. Through the use of non-invasive techniques Dr. Haseeb provides your family physician with a thorough report on the condition of your heart.

If you or a member of your family experience symptoms of heart disease, contact your personal physician at once. Ask about the advantages of the non-invasive Cardiac Diagnostic Center at Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center.

It's another reason why you can worry a little less, because we care a lot more.

Poet's Corner

The Wedding of Elmer and Letha Williams

December 30, 1933

In the glorious hills of Kentucky
The heart of our beautiful land
On a wintry day in December
Elmer and Letha joined hearts and hands.

Her father's home was the setting
Of the wedding that took place that day.
Their hearts were free and happy
As they started together down life's pathway.

Their first home on State Road Fork
Of Middle Creek in Floyd County
Was blessed just one year later
With a home's most precious bounty.

A teeny-tiny newborn son
Just four and one-half pounds, you see
To love and to adore
They named their baby Estill Lee.

In April of '37
A change of scene was made.
They left the hills for McGuffey, Ohio,
To try their hand at a different trade.

Just twenty cents per hour
Not much in this modern day
But weeding and topping onions
Brought in a very sufficient payday.

They picked tomatoes and cucumbers
Husked corn in the autumn-time.
Busy hours were great in number,
But working together made life sublime.

In September, nineteen-thirty-eight
Leathrice May came to bless
Their home and them and little brother
With an added wealth of happiness.

Then in '52 at Nigger Island
With money they'd put aside
They made eighteen acres with a long, mud lane
The first home of their own with pride.

Time passed swiftly as the children grew.
Elmer and Letha were a busy pair
He at the old steel foundry each day
She taking care of her family's welfare.

One more move was in sore for them.
Wyandot County became their home,
One hundred twenty acres
Made lots of work for her and him.

Nine years later came a big surprise,
Izania Kay was her name,
A sweet, little miss with big, blue eyes
To bless the family name.

Life has given precious moments
Contentment beyond measure
Mountain and valleys must pass through
To gain the richest treasure.

But the greatest gifts they have to share
Their children three all in God's fold
A humble home in Alger where love abounds
Satisfaction worth more than purest gold.

With children three, grandchildren eleven
Their happy life is blessed
Also great-grandchildren now eleven
Have been added to the rest.

Elmer and Letha, may these days
Of your golden years be best
Of all the time you've spent together
With hearts filled with love and happiness.

—Erma W. Conley

Who Has Beautiful Eyes?

The third annual search is on for the most beautiful eyes in Kentucky, but with a new twist—there will be two winners this year, a child and an adult (age 15 and over.)

The contest is easy to enter. Just submit any one photo that best displays your beautiful eyes along with a $10 entry fee to the Kentucky Society to Prevent Blindness, 101 West Chestnut, Louisville, Ky 40202. Entries must be postmarked by Feb. 28 and received by March 3.

This contest is not an ordinary beauty contest. The rest of the face is masked and the eyes alone are judged, based on their beauty and healthy appearance. The adult winner will be chosen from ten finalists at a dinner at the Galt House in Louisville on Friday, March 16. The child winner will be chosen from the photograph entered and will also attend the Most Beautiful Eyes Dinner.

The adult winner will receive $1,000 cash and a trip to Chicago next fall to compete in the Most Beautiful Eyes in America. The child will receive a $500 savings bond and his or her photo will be entered in the national child category. Prizes for the national winners will be a European trip for the adult and a trip to Disneyworld for the child.

Proceeds from the contest support the Society's screening and education programs. The largest of these is children's eye health, which includes preschool vision screening. Last year nearly 40,000 children in kindergarten, Head Start, day care centers and elementary schools were screened by Society-trained volunteers.

For more information call the society office at 1-800-828-1179.

Realtors Look At Growing National Dilemma

The growing complexity of family homelessness was discussed at a wrap-up session of the Board Leadership Forum of the National Association of Realtors during its 1989 Annual Convention and Trade Exposition here today.

which approximately one third are homeless families. These families contain between 500,000 and 750,000 children, half of whom are under the age of five.

"Comprehensive support services must be provided to meet the complex needs of our nation's homeless families."

Jordan commended Realtors for their hard work toward finding solutions to "this national disgrace".
