The Floyd County Times

Just Try And Nab Me!

This Floyd County 'Gray' fighting cock looks ready to take on all comers, despite Saturday's state police raid of one of the region's largest illegal cockfighting arenas near Minnie. Some 3000 years of breeding and tradition reside in these fighting birds, and, if the number of chicken roosts in Floyd County is any indication, it is doubtful if last weekend's raid will prevent this tradition from continuing.

Nothing To Crow About

Cockfight Cages 16 Local Residents

by Frank Clark

Though Chicken Little was apparently nowhere in sight, his admonition, "The sky is falling," had relevance Saturday afternoon as seven Floyd County residents were arrested and nine were issued citations when 23 state police officers raided the Doty Creek Sports Club near Minnie for cockfighting activities.

In all, 38 persons from six states were arrested or cited in the 2:30 p.m. raid, according to state police reports. Each faces charges of second degree cruelty to animals or complicity to commit second degree cruelty to animals. These are considered Class A misdemeanors, which may be penalized with up to one year in prison and fines of up to $500.

The raid occurred at an arena located three miles off KY 122, at the top of Sizemore Mountain, according to KSP Lt. Ed Shemelya. The 17-year-old 100-by-100 foot blue steel arena is owned by two brothers, Kelly and Ray Stone, coal operators who live in McDowell. Shemelya noted that the arena had seating capacity for 500 people, a snack bar serving hamburgers, barbecue, and non-alcoholic beverages, a main ring and two smaller pits for cockfighting.

"We've been investigating this operation since late May of last year," said Shemelya. "This is probably the biggest such operation that I've seen in my 10 years as a police officer. It was very professional."

Strict security was maintained at the arena during its operation. A security post was positioned on the gravel road leading to the arena, requiring each person admitted to be visually identified as a member or guest before entering. These measures made infiltration of the operation difficult for state undercover police officers, Shemelya said.

"We attempted to get undercover officers into the establishment last summer, but they were discovered by the operators and asked to leave," said Shemelya. "We went back and developed informants who got us in this time."

Confiscated during the raid was a ledger which listed 7000 members of the cockfighting club, from at least 10 states, dating back over 20 years. Statements from one person caught in the building during the raid noted that cockfighting has been going on at the Doty Creek location since 1936.

Other items confiscated included a large quantity of knives and spurs, which are attached to the birds for a fight, scales to weigh the birds, and vitamins and drugs used to improve the birds' fighting abilities. A large sum of money was also confiscated.

Shemelya adamantly denied the allegation that the recent exposure of an area cockfight on CBS-TV's "48 Hours" had spurred the raid.

30 Centuries Old And Still Strong: Cockfighting

by Tess A. Whitmer
Staff Writer

Although illegal now in most of America, England and Canada, cockfighting has not always been so condemned.

It has been traced to ancient civilizations in China and Rome, and more recently, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln were numbered among its fans. Washington, in fact, once noted that he had attended a church vestry meeting and a cockfight the same day.

But with the growing concern over cruelty to animals in the 19th and 20th centuries, cockfighting sank in the US public mind to the low moral station of bullfighting.

One of the most ancient sports, cockfighting originated in the Orient and was introduced into Europe in the 5th century B.C. The Romans were the first to equip the birds with artificial spurs and they introduced the sport to western Europe.

Though condemned by the Christian Church and at intervals outlawed, cockfighting flourished, especially in England, where it was a royal sport. The Spaniards carried it to their possessions in the New World, and the English to North America.

The pit gamecock has a long genealogy. It was worshipped in ancient Syria, Greece and southeast Asia. Down to the present day it has been bred with special care solely for fighting qualities and conditioned for battle with rigorous exercise and high-caloric diet.

The breed is usually brightly colored with long spurs on its legs. But breeders generally trim the spurs down and attach artificial spurs to the gamecocks' legs. The spurs are usually steel or brass. The birds use the weapons to rip and tear at their opponents.

Cockfights usually take place in pits about 20 feet in diameter, surrounded by a wall less than two feet high. Considerable betting almost always accompanies any cockfighting contest. Whether cockfighting owes its strength to the gambling instinct or to some other strain in the character of man, its popularity lives on, especially in those of Scotch-Irish, Mexican-American and Cuban descent. The widespread acceptance of the sport can be attested to by the numerous magazines devoted solely to the fighting of roosters, such as the 92-year-old Crit and Steel, published in Gaffney, S.C.

Reid was placed in the Floyd County Jail. Bond was set at $20,000. The location of the arrest was not released by the Prestonsburg Police Department.

Crack Arrest First In City

An Ohio man was arrested in Prestonsburg Monday on charges of possessing 12 'rocks' of crack cocaine. The arrest by Prestonsburg police for possession of this highly addictive drug was the first of its kind within city limits.

Prestonsburg Police Chief Greg Hall reported that he and Sgt. Jeff Stumbo arrested Craig Reid, 19, of Columbus, Ohio, on Monday, following a tip from an anonymous caller. Reid was found to have in his possession 12 pieces, or 'rocks', of crack cocaine.

Reid was placed in the Floyd County Jail. Bond was set at $20,000.

The location of the arrest was not released by the Prestonsburg Police Department.

PCC Adds Another Building To Rapidly Growing Campus

by Tess A. Whitmer
Staff Writer

Prestonsburg Community College is expanding its facilities once again with the construction of the long awaited Floyd Science Building. The funding for the building was approved in the 1988 Legislature, but it has been two years getting under construction, according to Dr. Henry Campbell Jr., PCC president.

Groundbreaking began last week and the bids were opened yesterday. Campbell projected to have the building opened for spring semester 1991.

The project will add 28,000 square feet of laboratories, classrooms and faculty offices to the present campus at a total cost of $3.2 million, Campbell noted. Included in the layout are 24 faculty offices, four classrooms (three large and one small), five labs with interconnecting doors, and a nursing area including two classrooms and a

River Search For Man Still Without Success

by Frank Clark
Staff Writer

A Branham Creek man remains missing and presumed drowned, following an intensive search over the past week of a six-mile stretch of the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River, below Harold.

James Rodney Keathley, 27, was reportedly involved in a three vehicle accident on Friday, Jan. 5, at the traffic light on US 23 in Harold. Following the accident, witnesses say the occupant of Keathley's car ran north, down the highway, before crossing the road toward the river. Footprints were found leading down to the river. Keathley has not been reported seen since the accident.

Dragging operations on the river continued over the weekend. The Floyd County Rescue Squad worked the river by boat Saturday, and the Pike County Rescue Squad combed the river Sunday.

On Monday, a backhoe provided by the county cleared debris and garbage from a low-water bridge in Ivel, about six miles below Harold.

Debris Cleared/Man Still Missing

The body of James R. Keathley remains missing, following Monday's clearing of debris from a bridge near Ivel. Searchers believed that Keathley, who's been missing for 10 days, may have drowned near Harold and his body washed down to the clogged bridge. A county backhoe worked to move the accumulated brush and trash, but did not locate the body of Keathley.

Growing Again

Earth moving for the new $3.2 million science building began last week on Prestonsburg Community College's campus. The construction of the Floyd Science Building will make the second addition to the campus in three years. The Magoffin Learning/Resource Center was completed during the Fall Semester 1988.

Chamber Examines Economic Plans

The examination of a plan for promoting economic development in the area, a petition requesting more equitable property taxes in Floyd County, and a request to local business leaders for the support of a new educational program topped the agenda of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday.

Jim Sawrie, regional manager of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, presented the third white paper to the Floyd Chamber, developed through the state Chamber's 'Project 21', a long-range proposal for promoting Kentucky's economic development.

"The question we want to answer is 'What will Kentucky be like in the year 2000,'" said Sawrie. "We have two primary goals. We want to develop the most improved educational system in the country and we want to create the best business and economic climate in Kentucky that we can."

Sawrie noted that local initiative in the project was essential. "Local communities are the front line in the development process," Sawrie stated. "The communities are where the jobs are. The communities are where Kentuckians live. Their involvement is vital."

Sawrie outlined the four key issues in the economic development plan. First, the plan recommends that each community prepare itself for economic growth. Suggested were the creation of a regional development organization (for example, the Eastern Kentucky Job Creation Authority), the development of long and short range goals that complement community assets, and the development of incentives to encourage local business development.

Secondly, the white paper recommended that Kentucky communities accept new technologies which are playing an increasingly important role in development.

"Many people look at new technology the way teenage boys and girls look at each other," said Sawrie. "First, there's a sudden realization that it exists. A period of infatuation follows, when it seems like this is the answer to everything. Then, terror strikes, and all the questions surface. How do I approach it? What if I fail? Is this really necessary?"

The third recommendation of the plan is for communities to take a balanced approach to environmental issues. Specifically, the study recommends that the community decide what type of growth it wishes, that community leaders are educated on the impact of existing or pending environmental regulations, that a plan is developed to provide community services to meet new growth, and

Ex-Floyd Legislator Dead At 76

Ann B Hall, 76, the second Eastern Kentucky woman elected to serve in the Kentucky General Assembly, died Saturday, at King's Daughters' Hospital in Ashland after a heart attack.

Born in Johnson County, she was a daughter of the late Harmon and June Kistner Butcher. She was elected a Floyd County representative to the 1958 session and was the only woman in the legislature at the time.

In 1960 she was named a member of the Kentucky Tax Commission by Gov. Bert T. Combs.

Before winning her seat in the legislature, Hall was a storekeeper and postmaster in Bypro.

Hall was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church, Order of Eastern Star, Frankfort Women's Club and Who's Who in American Women. Survivors include her husband, Gilford Hall; two sons, Morris R. Hall of Hi Hat and Jimmy J. Hall of Silver Spring, Md.; one brother, Harmon Butcher Jr. of Utica, Ohio; four sisters, Bobbi Davis of Detroit, Mich., June Hall of Bypro, Vonda Bates of Bevinville and Goldie Liske of Weeksbury; eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be today, Jan. 17, at 11 a.m. in Frankfort, under the direction of the LeCompte Funeral Home. Burial services will be in the Newman Cemetery at Hi Hat at 3:30 p.m. with the Rev. Harve Johnson officiating, with the Hall Funeral Home caring for those arrangements.

Duck Weather!

Get out the umbrellas again and pretend it's Spring!

Wednesday calls for mostly cloudy skies with a 50 percent chance of afternoon showers and highs reaching between 65 and 70. Wednesday night shows a 70 percent chance of showers and possible thunder showers, with a low reaching near 50.

Thursday will continue to be wet, with a 60 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. Highs will climb to near 60. Thursday night looks to be much the same, with a chance of rain and lows in the mid-30s.

Do January showers bring February flowers?

Miner Dies In Floyd Mine

A Pike County man died Saturday morning at a Mud Creek mine, after he collapsed without warning.

Darrell Marion Bentley, 32, of Speight collapsed at about 7 a.m. Saturday in the Nick Mining Co. mine on Dry Branch of Mud Creek, as he was inspecting a conveyor belt with his brother, Jeffery Bentley. CPR was administered unsuccessfully, and Bentley was pronounced dead on arrival at McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital. Floyd County Deputy Coroner Glenn Frazier said there is no current indication that Bentley died of unnatural causes. Autopsy results have yet to be released.

Cockfight

"It is a coincidence that this raid followed the '48 Hours' show," said Shemelya. "We have been working on this case since last summer. Neither CBS nor any other network dictates what the state police investigate in this area."

A Prestonsburg man, who was present during the raid and agreed to talk only if his name was not used, said the Doty Creek cockfights are generally scheduled for every two weeks. He claims the cockfighting arena is "the biggest east of the Mississippi," drawing gamecock handlers and bettors from throughout the country.

The man said he has seen "thousands of dollars bet on one chicken." He added that he has won as much as $3000 in one day and "was up" $1500 when the raid occurred.

He said the fights would probably have lasted until 11 p.m. or later under usual circumstances. "The raid scared everybody to death. People were just standing around," he said, noting that the raid was "very orderly."

A gambler on games at the arena for about 10 years, the man said the raid might signal the end of the gaming at that location. "But I'll be right back at it if they open it up," he said.

Of the Slone brothers who reportedly sponsor the annual Squirrel Festival on the site, the man said, "They're good people. They've done a lot of good for people around there."

Arrested in the Saturday raid were Tommy S. Bruce, 24, of Crossville, Tenn.; Alfred Link, 30, of Cranks; Terry G. Hudson, 32, of Nickolasville; Bobby Hudson, 37, of Asheville, N.C.; William A. Ray, 51, of Cottle, W. Va.; Ronnie Patton, 35, of McDowell; J.C. Ratliff, 40, of Thelma; Kendrick Mullins, 74, of Pocend, Va.; Rossini B. Feliciano, 53, of Cleveland, Ohio; Julian R. Slone, 21, of McDowell; William A. McCann, 45, of Helina, Ala.; Gerald Waller, 48, of Ashland; Vernon Slone, 41, of McDowell; Earl Thorp, 32, no address listed; William Fox, 59, of Junction, Ohio; Marty Little, 30, of Beaver; Shirley Slone, 46, of McDowell; and Otis Hicks, 52, of Minnie.

Cited by state police during the raid were Jerry Singleton, 34, of Canton, N.C.; Thomas Clough, 40, of Paris; Bobby Slone, 46, of McDowell; David Belcher, 36, of Jenkins; Brenda Frasure, 42, of Prestonsburg; Shirley Hall, 32, of Minnie; Joy Hall, 33, of McDowell; Jerry M. Banks of Hueysville; Earl Thard, 33, of Danville, Ohio; Judy Stumbo, 33, of McDowell; Mary Slone, 32, of McDowell; Merrill Slone, 33, of McDowell; Thomas Willard, 51, of Asheville, Ala.; and Cora Hall, 46, of Drift.

Those arrested were lodged in the Floyd County Jail and later released on bail.

"This building will enable us to have better equipped and larger labs and a much larger nursing area," Campbell stressed. "Expansion capabilities are being built into the plans with the hopes of one day, depending on the approval of funding, doubling the nursing program allowing more nursing students to enter classes."

Presently, PCC has a long list of applicants waiting on slots for the highly acclaimed nursing program which can only hold about 35 people to date.

Campbell said that a greenhouse was originally planned for the site but, due to funding, had to be postponed. "We will have the greenhouse someday soon, but right now I'm very pleased to have the much needed faculty office space, enabling all the science staff to be grouped together," he said.

With the continuing growth of student enrollment each year since 1978, including this semester, the increase in faculty members is inevitable, Campbell said. So much has been added to the college the newly hired instructors are now officed in untraditional spaces, such as the piano practice rooms.

As of Friday, PCC's enrollment was at 2135, but Campbell projects a figure of over 2200 after the completion of registration this week.

"I hope the building is built quickly, with enrollment figures like these, we need the space today," he said.

Doctor Barred In Tennessee Practices In Region

EASTERN KENTUCKY—Dr. George Sullivan, found guilty of improperly prescribing narcotics in Tennessee in 1981, has been operating in Eastern Kentucky for the past seven years.

Sullivan, who currently works for the Whitesburg-based Mountain Comprehensive Health Corp., operated out of clinics in Knott, Perry, and Floyd counties. His license was suspended in June by the state Medical Licensure Board due to new allegations of improperly prescribing drugs. The board accused him of 175 violations of writing unauthorized prescriptions at both the Perry and Floyd County clinics. The board was forced to restore his license in December after a hearing before the medical board was canceled.

Federal drug agents are investigating Sullivan for drug prescription violations. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

Clothing Fire Kills Johnson Man

TUTORKEY—Robert Jennings, 47, of Tutor Key, died Sunday after accidentally setting himself on fire Friday, while trying to light a cigarette.

According to state police reports, Jennings ignited his shirt while trying to light a cigarette from a piece of paper he lit from a stove. Johnson died at 10 a.m. Sunday at Cabell-Huntington Hospital in Huntington, W.Va. The incident remains under investigation by the state police.

Magoffin School Superintendent Charged With AI

MAGOFFIN COUNTY—Carter Whitaker, Magoffin County School Superintendent, was arrested Sunday for alcohol intoxication. He was allegedly a passenger in a vehicle whose driver was arrested for drunken driving.

Deputy Greg Patton made the arrests after noticing that the vehicle Whitaker was riding in was weaving on the highway. No field sobriety test was performed on Whitaker following the arrest. Patton reported that the school superintendent appeared to be impaired and had an odor of alcohol on his breath.

Whitaker, who reportedly had been convicted of drunken driving in the past, says that he will fight the charge and claims that political factors influenced the arrest. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Pike Occupational Tax Proposed

PIKE COUNTY—Judge-Executive Paul Patton placed a proposal before Pike County residents to set a one-percent occupational tax on county households, in an effort to generate funding for area economic development and other county needs.

Patton's proposal is seen as a reaction to negative publicity being received by Pike County following last year's allegations of inequitable property assessments by Pike PVA Reo Johns.

Reaction by Pike residents appears generally negative to the proposal, according to Magistrate Stirl Harris, who reported 29 calls against the tax in the 36 hours following the proposal announcement. (Louisville Courier-Journal)

River Search

Floyd rescue workers Charles and Ben Ferguson noted that the spot was a likely one for the body to be trapped.

"Considering the clothes that the boy wore and the strength of the water flow, it's possible that he got caught here at the bridge," said Ben Ferguson.

However, efforts to clear the debris from the bridge did not turn up Keathley's body, and further search efforts were suspended until the weekend.

"Considering conditions and the fact that members of the Rescue Squad work during the week, we probably won't be able to continue until Saturday," said Onda Hunt Jr., a rescue squad member. "At this point, we have no idea if he is in the river or not. He is simply considered a missing person. No one saw him go into the river."

James M. Keathley, father of the missing man, has spent the 10 days since his son was reported missing on the river. He and other family members continue to search for the body, renting a boat to sweep the river.

"I drove the boat from Prestonsburg up to the bridge on Sunday," said the elder Keathley. "I thought he might have jumped up somewhere along the way. Some rescue people said it might help to run boats along the river banks, to bring him up. That's what we tried to do."

Old State Capitol Featured On KET

Highlights of a special legislative day held at the old state capitol in Frankfort are featured in "The Legislature: A Day From The Past," airing on Kentucky Educational Television stations at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 27.

Costumed house members turn back time and stage a mock debate on the program, which marks the beginning of the bicentennial celebration in Kentucky. Other segments include a senate address by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson and interviews with Kentucky bicentennial commission members Sen. David Karem and Rep. Pete Worthington.

The old state capitol, which hasn't seen legislative action in 80 years, now serves as a museum and headquarters for the Kentucky Historical Society.

Stumbo To Speak At Conference

State Rep. Greg Stumbo of Floyd County is among several leaders of the Kentucky General Assembly who will speak at the annual Kentucky Transportation Conference, Jan. 24-26 at the Hyatt Regency in Lexington.

The conference will bring local, regional, state and national leaders together to focus on issues dealing with the improvement of safety and adequacy of transportation facilities during the next decade.

The conference is sponsored by Kentuckians For Better Transportation in cooperation with the state Transportation Cabinet. The theme is "Moving Into the 21st Century."

KBT President Jack Fish said the conference will give the state's 44 newly elected county judge executives and some 160 newly elected mayors an opportunity to discuss their road and street programs with top state officials and other leaders from across the state who are responsible for successful programs.

Fiscal Court Settles Taxes And Salaries

The Floyd County Fiscal Court held a special meeting Monday to accept former Sheriff Henry C. Hale's tax settlement and to pass a resolution on the county attorney's secretaries' salaries.

The acceptance of Hale's tax settlement enables the state to do its final settlement, after which time the newly elected Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson can go ahead with his tax collections.

The court also approved County Attorney Jim Hammond's proposal to have the court pay the salaries of his secretaries and have his office reimburse the county for its part. The court's portion based on the annual salaries of eight secretaries is $33,700, the balance of $63,540 to be reimbursed to the county by the county attorney, plus employer FICA and Retirement match.

The members of the court also agreed to begin the bidding process for four maintenance vehicles and to accept the lowest and best bid during the Friday, Feb. 16, meeting.

Also, the administration's proposal to improve the linkage of five major regions of the state to the interstate highway system will be an important topic at the conference, Fish said.

Legislative leaders will discuss future transportation and related legislation at the Thursday afternoon session. Area development district leaders have been invited to discuss regional transportation needs.

A Friday morning program will look at means of increasing cost efficiency in highway construction and improved delivery of transportation services, including improved commuter air service.

Editorial

The Times has faced the dilemma in the past of whether to accept the request of anonymity in its Letters to the Editor section on this page. Past and present editors have agonized over this issue.

It is hard to deny the political nature of this area and the fear of persons who want to speak their minds through a Letter to the Editor. This has generally been presented by the author as the fear of losing a most precious thing — his or her job — or of being intimidated by persons who disagree with the gist of a particular letter.

Though no other in this area does, newspapers throughout the country have traditionally allowed letter writers to request that their names be withheld as long as the paper's editorial staff knows who the writer is. The Times has practiced this policy, but times change — and so does The Times. The newspaper staff has determined that such a practice requires too much of a judgment call as to who is actually threatened by having their names included and who is not.

Starting today, anyone submitting a letter to be published in the Letters to the Editor section must agree to having his or her name attached to the letter as it is printed. In other words, if you want to say it, be willing to admit you said it.

The Times respects everyone's right to criticize public figures, public programs and public actions. But we do require that if you make accusations you have evidence to prove those accusations. And we also ask that you stick with rational arguments, rather than arguments based on personal prejudices, emotional tirades, private vendettas and tastelessness.

A good rule of thumb might be: Let he who is without sin cast the first stone.

Legislative Prospective

By Rep. Greg Stumbo

The start of any session usually finds legislators smoothing rough edges out of the process in anticipation of the onslaught of bills and resolutions requiring attention in 60, hectic days. At this point, 288 bills have been filed in the House of Representatives and 136 have been filed in the Senate.

In the 1988 session of the General Assembly a total of 1,030 bills were filed in the House and 399 were filed in the Senate.

Ten bills have already been passed by the House. Among them was a bill to prohibit desecration of the American flag and making desecration a class D felony. This was legislation that needed to be passed. The Kentucky General Assembly must assume a leadership role in the nationwide effort to protect this symbol of freedom and democracy. Remembering the many men and women who have given their lives so that those living under this magnificent flag might continue to live free leaves us no alternative but to protect this sacred memorial.

Several bills received committee action this week as legislators got their feet wet with legislative activity. The House Labor and Industry Committee approved several bills that would change some procedures in the workers' compensation process.

House Bill 147 would allow labor and management to have co-chairmen on the workers' compensation advisory council. Current law provides for only one chairman. House Bill 149 requires 45 days' notice to the workers' compensation board in claims against the special fund, which pays for injuries that preexisting conditions may have contributed to. House Bill 150 would clarify that the special fund is for permanent disabilities only. House Bill 151 would require all parties to be notified before settlement of a workers' compensation case is approved and House Bill 152 would require employees to give employers 10 days' notice of any third-party lawsuits. The full House should consider these bills sometime next week.

Legislation was approved by members of the House that would make Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday a legal holiday observed by state government by closing offices in memorial. It was passed unanimously.

Although barely out of the starting gate, stirring up considerable controversy is the state's certificate-of-need (CON) process, which requires hospitals and other health-care providers to get state permission before beginning any additional construction or expanding services.

Even before the gavel fell convening the first day of the General Assembly, a large medical corporation in the state was loudly calling for CON reform that would allow it to build a new medical center which would probably not be approved under the current process.

But, the Senate committee this week, passed a certificate-of-need bill that dramatically altered the content of the statute. The bill would exempt Jefferson County from the CON process and allow exemptions of construction projects of less than $1 million throughout the rest of the state.

Considering the intensity of support for each side of the issue and that the bill received consideration early in the session, it is safe to predict that the legislation could take a variety of shapes before it reaches the House floor.

Please feel free to contact me on the issues mentioned or any other that may require legislative consideration. Contact me by writing Room 304, State Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601, or by calling the toll-free message line available for public use, 1-800-373-7181.

House Week In Review

By Russell Bentley

Our attention in the House of Representatives may have been focused on Colonial times last Monday, but by week's end, we were turned squarely toward the future, awaiting the formal release of the state's spending plan for the next two years.

A busy and historic week in the House began with a session in Frankfort's old Capitol, the first in a series of events designed to highlight Kentucky's bicentennial celebration in 1992. Several lawmakers dressed in the garb of our ancestors of 1792 and held a mock debate.

But the debate in the General Assembly soon turned to more serious matters as the governor began releasing portions of his 1990-92 executive budget to the news media.

By the time you read this, my colleagues and I in the House should have in our hands the governor's formal budget proposals and we can begin in earnest the process of developing a spending plan for the state.

As you know, state law requires that the budget be introduced in the House of Representatives by Jan. 16. We expect to hear first-hand from the governor around that time, not just about his spending plans, which have been released to the media, but also about his revenue ideas on how to pay for them.

As soon as we know that the governor's intentions are, our budget review committees will begin close examination of the plan, section by section. I am confident the budget will look quite different after we've had a chance to make comments and suggestions over the next several weeks. Along with education, which everyone is talking about, the areas certain to receive the closest scrutiny will be corrections, the environment, transportation, human services and health care. Watch this space in future weeks as spending plans in these areas begin to emerge.

I want to again encourage you to be a part of this budget evolution process by making your opinions known to me and other members of the General Assembly. At the end of this column, I will give you a toll-free telephone number you can call to leave a message for me.

Two pieces of legislation were approved by the House last week and will now move to the Senate for consideration.

House Bill 7 makes desecration of the United States flag a Class D felony. It won overwhelming approval by the House after passing through the State Government Committee.

After approval by the Economic Development and Tourism Committee, a bill to help needy counties was adopted by the House. The proposal, House Bill 155, contains provisions that will give counties with high unemployment a competitive edge in receiving government assistance.

In other action last week, several important pieces of legislation emerged from committees and will be voted on in the House over the next few days.

A bill honoring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday gained approval from the State Government Committee. State employees would be given a paid holiday and state offices closed under the bill's provisions. Although King's birthday is currently recognized as a holiday by the state, state offices remain open.

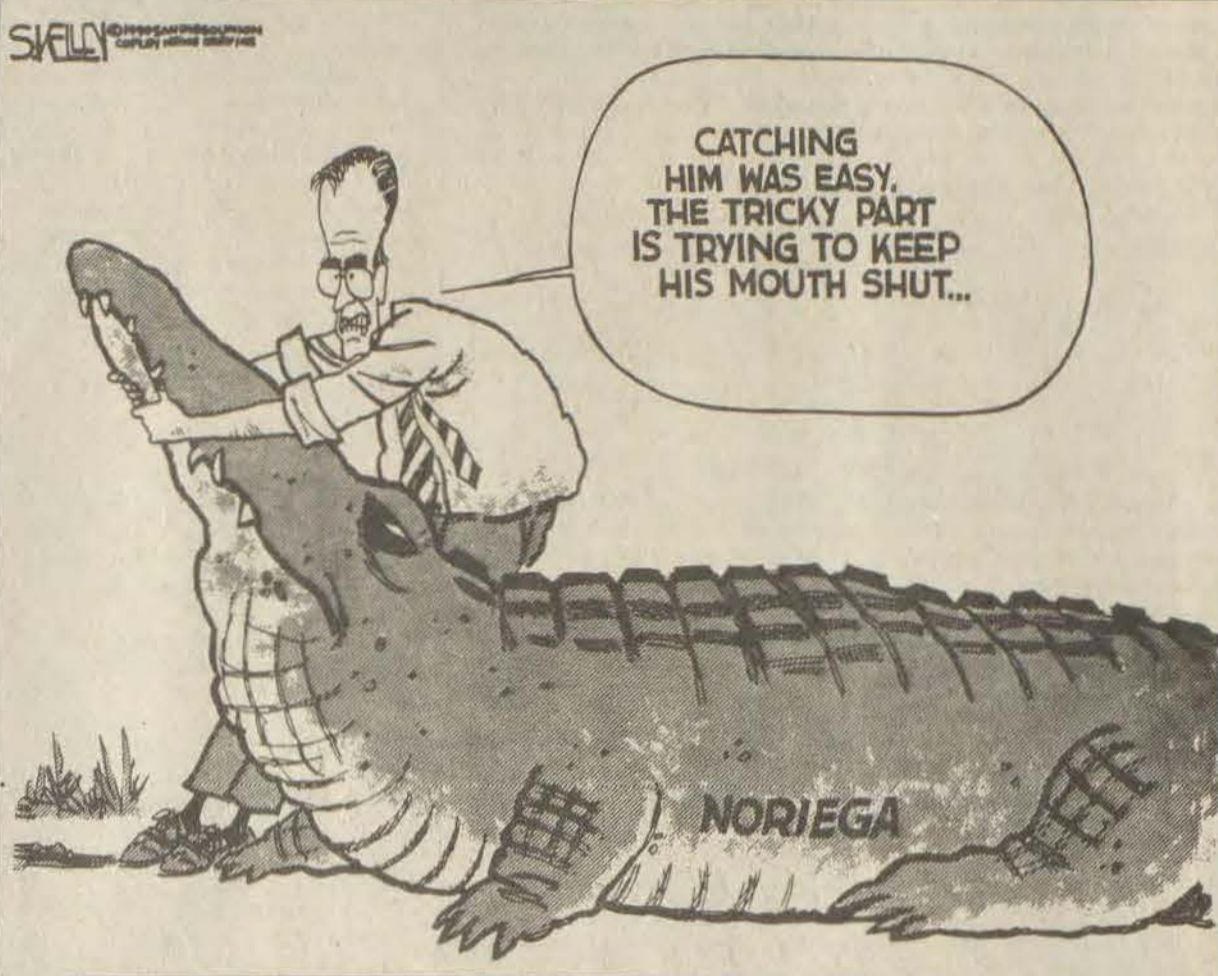

Guidelines for child-support payments were established in a bill approved by the Health and Welfare Committee. Courts would be required to consider the incomes of both parents when setting child-support payments under House Bill 119.

Remember, I want to hear from you. To talk to me about any of these issues call me toll-free in Frankfort at 1-800-373-7181. I will receive your message and I'll be happy to return your call.

48 Hours To Go

Poor but proud to be a Floyd County Mountain Boy!
Part of the heritage is the Hatfields and McCoy's!
But you being from "48 Hours" would not understand!
That the mountains are beautiful and still our land!
Even though some of us left the mountains for reaches beyond!
"48 Hours" made us more determined to make Floyd County a better home!
I sit here and think of all the bad things that "48 Hours" could have shown!
But it just goes to show you that some people never get grown!
I wonder if people like Phil Jones even look out their back door!
Mr. Jones, I think you need to clean up your act before you sweep our floor!
As far as Donna Dees there's not much to say!
It's hard to talk to someone hiding behind a typewriter anyway!
We are so proud that "48 Hours" thinks we are so dumb!
The last laugh is on you Phil and Donna, we don't live in a N.Y. slum!
God help you poor city folks who think us hillbillies are so bad!
I'm proud of where I came from, don't that make you slum dwellers of CBS sad!
Please CBS and "48 Hours", come back for a visit in the next decade!
But, for goodness sakes, don't forget to send Phil Jones with some foreign aid!

'Stand Up, Floyd Countians'

Dear Editor,
O.K. So we Floyd Countians would like to string up Dan Rather and his staff for their unbalanced reporting in "48 Hours".

We know we have problems. We also know we've got what it takes to do better. Most of our families have been there for 250-300 years. We're survivors and we're the best there is anywhere. I just hope and pray that the youth will be self motivated to do better. Get an education and if possible go back to Floyd County to make it better for the next generation.

There could be jobs in Floyd County if it didn't suffer from "Union Fever." There have been small factories there before and could be bigger factories if "Union Fever" wasn't so strong.

Eula Hall, in my opinion, shares some responsibility for the "hatchet job" done. I have worked for doctors for 25 years and I have yet to see anyone with an emergency or potential emergency turned away. To say that someone she knew died of tetanus (lockjaw) because she couldn't afford to pay for the shot, Rubbish!! She could have gone to the Floyd County Health Department, only a few miles away.

Dan Rather made the comment that with all the new roads people couldn't afford to buy gas to leave. Again, Rubbish!! Most people in Floyd County believe they are in the best place in the world so why would they want to go anywhere else.

Education is indeed important. Get rid of the apathy, as the Wheelwright teacher indicated, and self motivation will take care of the rest. Remember Abraham Lincoln?

Stand up Floyd Countians and show them what you can do. You're the best, don't let anybody tell you differently. You have problems but you can overcome them. It's up to you.

I was amused that the camera kept dwelling on pigs in a pen. Wonder if they know pigs grow up to be pork chops.

There is only one thing that is true about the mountain people: You can take them out of the mountains, but you can't take the mountains out of them.

Policy Is Irresponsible

Dear Editor,
I have just finished reading your editorial in Friday's paper, in which you commented on your policy re letters to the editor. I certainly believe that everyone has the right to express their opinion, whether vocally or in print, as to the policies and politics of this country.

But, I do not believe that allowing letters such as the one maligning Rep. Greg Stumbo was either necessary or responsible because of the manner in which it was written. If the letter writer had stated his/her views in a more mature manner, I think he/she would have signed his/her name without hesitation. My argument is not with the right of this individual to express an opinion, but with the policy of your paper which allows anyone to insult another person so blatantly, and then be allowed the anonymity of targeting their "cheap shots" in such an irresponsible manner.

(By the way, I could easily take up another column or two just responding to the remarks made against Mr. Stumbo. What a fine young man representing Eastern Kentucky, and what progress we can point to on his behalf! I frankly hope to see him sitting in the governor's chair in the very near future.) You stated in your editorial that your policy is for the letter writer's protection while making us aware of things happening in our county. Come now, did you print this letter because you honestly believe that its purpose was to inform the people of Floyd County or (a) you just didn't want to admit your policy is really irresponsible journalism, (b) subconsciously you agree with the writer, (c) you really don't like Goofy either, (d) it's a good way to sell newspapers.

The next time you receive a letter such as the one so insulting to another individual, please don't allow yourself to be taken advantage of, but, ask yourself if this person truly has the right to use the media under the guise of being a "concerned citizen" who is "sharing with us those things he/she thinks we should be aware of."

Sees Problems In Texas, Too

Dear Editor,
(Remarks are addressed to CBS executives.)

In regards to the "48 Hours" program, Boy ain't you all great, the way you portrayed us poor dumb hillbillies. There have been a lot of sad days in network programming but for someone from Eastern Kentucky, especially Floyd County, the day could not be any dimmer.

You did a great job on Muddy Gut, Wheelwright, the Mud Creek Clinic, etc. Since I am from Hi Hat and a new school is to be opened there very soon to consolidate Wheelwright and McDowell High Schools, and you had to drive right by the site of construction, and you made such a do about how bad Wheelwright is, shame, shame one you.

I live in East Texas now and I think we need "48 Hours" to come to Tyler County and do the same kind of show. We need some picking on down here also, since there are two Texas.

Please don't do us any favors by trying to undo what damages you have done. I just hope you take a good, hard look at the damage you have done with your program to the pride of a lot of good folks, through a few journalists that live in a world of ignorance and work for CBS. And CBS lets these people go out and exploit the wills of the poor and downtrodden without checking out the whole story, just for higher ratings. What ever happened to fact (Factual, Accurate, Concise, Truth) in checking out your stories.

In Favor Of Rep. Stumbo

Dear Editor,
I am writing this letter in support of Greg Stumbo, who had a very profound put down from a person who is very disturbed. Rather than being concerned about the environment in which he or she lives, it seems as if this person is more interested in what is happening on TV. It also appears that this person has a major hang-up on the Disney Channel and that his favorite character is Goofy as he repeatedly stated in his letter to the Editor on Jan. 5 against our representative, Greg Stumbo. This is absurd, and really makes the "48 Hours" program fit into his or her category. He probably thinks our representative is the Quaker Oats. I guess it must be jealousy because of his or her absence from the "48 Hours" program or their neglect of their own education, or they would not point a finger at someone as highly educated and respected in their field as our representative, Greg Stumbo. A very concerned and supportive citizen of Floyd County.

Everyone Needs To 'Pitch In'

Dear Editor,
This is a letter to our county government.

I saw in the Lexington Herald-Leader that we have mandatory garbage service in Floyd County. I would like to know what is mandatory? Is it one person paying their garbage bill and another not paying and throwing their garbage in the creek, over the hill and in the ditch lines.

It looks like there has to be something done to solve this problem. We have made the "48 Hours" program on CBS. We deserve anything they say about us if we don't make an effort to clean it up.

I keep the trash picked up in the road and creek near my home. Our churches, pastors and ministers should emphasize to their congregations what litter is doing to our environment. Any place there's a gathering of people bring the subject up, talk about it, that would help. If everybody gets involved we will get something done.

J. Tom Hewlett

J. Tom Hewlett, 56, of Lexington died Sunday, Jan. 14, at St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington.

Born at Drift, he was the son of Margaret Hill Hewlett of Prestonsburg and the late Horton D. Hewlett.

An employee of IBM for more than 17 years, he received his education at Mayo Vocational School, University of Kentucky and Indiana Tech. He was a member and Deacon of the First Christian Church, a 32nd degree mason, and a member of the R.M. Sirkle Lodge #954, Oleika Shrine Temple, the American Legion, Man O' War Post and an avid ham radio operator (W4EON).

He served in the US Army during the Korean conflict.

Survivors include his wife, Gwen Gibson Hewlett; two sons, Thomas Clark Hewlett and Mark Linus Hewlett, both of Lexington; two daughters, Beth Anne Hewlett and Judith Christine Hewlett, both of Lexington; one brother, Don Hewlett of Atlanta, Ga.; two sisters, Virginia Fridley of Gahanna, Ohio, and Patricia Salisbury of Martin; two grandsons, Justin Charles Hewlett and Kevin Logan Preston.

Services will be Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 1:30 p.m. at the W.R. Millard Mortuary, Southland, with the Revs. Ronald Hupp and Dan Roberts officiating. Burial will follow in the Bluegrass Memorial Gardens. Mason services were Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the funeral home. Memorials are suggested to the First Christian Church Memorial Fund or the American Heart Association.

Cloeva Warren Leedy

Cloeva Warren Leedy, 67, of Prestonsburg died Monday, Jan. 15, at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington, following an extended illness.

Born Nov. 1, 1922, in Pineville, she was a daughter of the late William Henry and Daisy Byrd Warren. She was a member of the Bonanza Free-will Baptist Church for 25 years.

Survivors include her husband William Henry Leedy; three sons, Bob Leedy of Wellston, Ohio, Harmon Leedy of David and Bill Leedy of Auxier; one brother, Elmer Ross of Oklahoma City, Okla.; two sisters, Virginia Boggs of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Brown Fortman of Oklahoma City; 16 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Thursday, Jan. 18, at 2 p.m. at the Young Funeral Home Chapel, Louisa, with the Rev. Clifford Austin officiating. Burial will follow in the Greenlawn Cemetery at Louisa. Visitation will be any time from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. Wednesday (today) at the funeral home.

Daisy Walker

Daisy Walker, 81, of McMinnville, Tenn., formerly of Price, died Thursday, Jan. 11, at Coffee Medical Center, Manchester, Tenn., following an extended illness.

Born Feb. 20, 1908, in Floyd County, she was a daughter of the late Bill and Fannie Howard Allen. A homemaker, she was a member of the First Baptist Church of Wheelwright.

She is preceded in death by her husband Furman Walker in 1975, one son Larry Joe Walker, a brother Clarence Carroll, and two sisters, Julie Bell Allen and Hattie Hayes.

Survivors include two sons, Robert Walker of Manchester and Johnny Walker of Greenville, Tenn.; five daughters, Boots Childers of Mt. Vernon, Ill., Pauline Vanover of Somerset, Audrey Huth of Portsmouth, Va., Helene Hall of Cleveland, Ohio, and Gloria Bennett of North Ridgeville, Ohio; one brother, Ed Allen of Franklin Furnace, Ohio; 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were Saturday, Jan. 13, at 1 p.m. at the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home with ministers of the Baptist Church officiating. Burial followed in the Little Cemetery at Price.

Dulcie Griffey Smith

Dulcie Griffey Smith, 84, of Cow Creek died Saturday, Jan. 6, at her residence.

Born July 25, 1905, in Virginia, she was a daughter of the late Sol and Elizabeth Baker Roop. She was a member of the Old Beaver Regular Baptist Church. She is preceded in death by her first husband, Alie Griffey, on July 2, 1957, and her second husband, Henry Smith, three daughters, Mary Elizabeth Griffey, Lysie Dye and Docia Alice Dilas, and two brothers, Ambrose and Bascom Roop.

that leaders are appointed to assist in the resolution of environmental issues.

Finally, according to Sawrie and the Project 21 Plan, new development should be built on a community's strengths. The "Rusty Bucket" approach of pouring new jobs into a community, while plugging holes through which old jobs might be lost, was recommended in the proposal.

Chamber members appeared generally receptive to the proposals of the white paper, despite the fact that most had been expecting a presentation focusing on educational improvements necessary for development. Sawrie noted that a number of activities in Floyd County matched the state Chamber's recommendations.

"Two new shopping centers are in the works in Floyd county," said Sawrie. "There's an enrollment of 2100 students at your community college (PCC). You also have an improved park system, an economic development program, county trash pickup, and a new convention center coming in. These are all big pluses for development."

Libby Hall, teacher at the Floyd

County Vocational High School, discussed the new programs of her school and requested that local business leaders participate in a Cooperative Education Program. The program is designed to place vocational students with area businesses to gain experience in their field of interest. Students would be paid the minimum wage, and would work about three hours a day for the employer. "We'll send the best students we have to you," said Hall. "There also exist tax incentives for local businesses who participate. What we need is for the word to get out about our program."

In final action, concerns were raised about the trash problem in Floyd County. According to Gary Frazier, assistant superintendent of Floyd County Schools, a cleanup of the county could attract industry to the area. Chamber members discussed various programs which exist to deal with the problem and suggested that the chamber become more involved in county cleanup activities.

The next scheduled Floyd County Chamber of Commerce membership meeting was set for Monday, Feb. 5.

Just Kidding

Tammy Compton models one of Floppy Mart's newest hits in fashion: "Muddy Gut Cockfighting Team" t-shirt. Owner of the Prestonsburg convenience store Greg Crum said he has sold between 8-10 dozen items, including t-shirts, sweatshirts and caps. Ironically, the shirts were big sellers before last weekend's police raid on a cockfight arena at Doty Creek. Crum said he has had requests from as far as Wisconsin from former Floyd Countians who want to get in on the fun. And it is just for fun. Crum added that no harm is meant by these items. They represent a way for Floyd Countians to get the last laugh after the December "48 Hours" segment which many felt unfairly portrayed the county.

Tariff Revision Said To Lower RECC Billings

About 10,000 customers of the Big Sandy Rural Electric Cooperative Company (BSRECC) will see a slightly lower electric bill this month, due to a tariff revision which reduces BSRECC's wholesale power costs from its supplier, East Kentucky Power (EKP).

The state Public Service Commission recently approved the tariff revision, which went into effect at the beginning of January. Don Combs, director of BSRECC, noted that the reduction in power costs for consumers resulted when EKP restructured its wholesale power rates, bringing them more in line with residential consumers.

"Wholesale and retail costs are now better matched up," said Combs. "This has allowed for a slight decrease in power rates."

The average residential consumer uses about 1000 kilowatts of electricity per month, said Combs, resulting in a monthly bill of about $61.49. The change by EKP will knock about 52 cents off of this bill, down to about $60.97. BSRECC expects an overall reduction of $88,360 in yearly costs for its area power consumers.

The BSRECC and 17 other power cooperatives have been affected by the tariff revision.

Group Offers Aid To Families Of Alcoholics

People with a loved one with a drug or alcohol problem often cannot see what it's doing to them. Families Anonymous helps persons gain insight into the disease of alcoholism and offers support to those in need of a friendly shoulder to lean on, or just someone in a similar situation to listen to them.

Families Anonymous is a free self-help program for those concerned about drug abuse and behavioral problems of a relative or friend. Completely anonymous, non-professional, and non-religious, with no dues or fees, the group is not connected with any hospital or agency.

The group meets ever Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the DanTax office, 24 North Front St., Prestonsburg, across from the Floyd County Health Department. Anyone is welcome to attend and all meetings are confidential. For more information call 886-9952, 886-1819 or 886-9295.

Blue Cross To Cover Mammogram Screening

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky has become one of the first insurers in the nation to offer coverage for screening mammograms to its individual health insurance customers. Individual coverage for this service will become effective March 15 at no additional charge, according to a company spokesperson. Group customers will be offered the option of adding the benefit to their group coverage at the time of contract renewal.

The screening mammograms must be performed at accredited mammography centers. Coverage will be in accordance with American Cancer Society guidelines, the spokesperson said.

women coverage for screening mammograms is a major step forward in improving the survival rate for breast cancer patients in our state," he said.

During 1989 in Kentucky, there were 2100 new cases of breast cancer and 650 deaths. According to the American Cancer Society, periodic mammograms and regular physical examinations can reduce breast cancer mortality by 30 percent.

State's Surplus Food Share Up For January Through March

Kentucky's allocation of food from the federal surplus commodities program is being increased slightly during the next three months, according to a spokesperson for the Cabinet for Human Resources.

For the second quarter of the federal fiscal year (January, February and March), low income Kentuckians will share in about 2.6 million pounds of surplus food. That amount compares to 2.2 million pounds received from October through December 1989 and 1.4 million pounds for January through March 1989.

Surplus commodity food totals, by the pound, that Kentucky will receive during the next three months include: beans, 705,600 pounds; butter, 345,708; corn meal, 252,000; flour, 756,000; honey, 360,000; peanut butter, 537,600, and pork, 36,018.

Despite the increase, Kentucky officials responsible for administering the federal program do not expect food allocations to approach the 26 million pounds of surplus food received here just two years ago.

"We take everything we can get," said Commissioner Mike Robinson of the Department for Social Insurance. "At this time, the program is holding its own." He added that the 4.8 million pounds of food allocated to Kentucky during the first half of this fiscal year is in line with the state's surplus commodity share for the same period the previous fiscal year.

Part of the reason for the fluctuation in the amounts of food available is the various issues that impact the surplus commodity program. "Market variations and the design of the federal farm bill are just two factors that affect the program," Robinson said.

Because of limits on commodities shipped to Kentucky, all commodities may not be available in every county of the state.

Seventeen regional agencies, including area development districts and community action agencies, set distribution schedules, most of which occur bimonthly or quarterly.

J.C. Compton, director of public education for the Kentucky chapter of the American Cancer Society, commended Blue Cross and Blue Shield for its leadership in addressing a critical health problem. "This positive step on the part of Blue Cross and Blue Shield to offer Kentucky

Mystery of the Messiah by Joe Damron Jr. Washington, DC

Who was Jesus of Nazareth? Was He only a man? Was He God in the flesh, a myth or a fraud? Was He a fanatic or a lunatic? Why did He keep company with sinners, the poor, sick and needy? Where did he get all that charisma, and the power to heal and perform miracles? Why didn't He use His power to overthrow the Romans, who held His people in bondage? Being uneducated, how could He teach as one having authority? The list of mysteries about our Savior is endless.

The fascinating story about Jesus is: He is truly the Son of God, sent into the world to set a precedent, for all time.

He brought the world a plan of salvation to save us undeserving sinners from the pits of hell for all eternity.

To know Jesus one must repent, be baptized and obey God's commandments.

He is coming again, in the twinkling of an eye, at the sound of a trumpet, to claim His own.

Are you ready to meet our mysterious all graceful, loving Savior? In Christ's Name.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Edward Wright wishes to thank all those friends, neighbors, and family who helped them in any way upon the passing of their loved one. Thanks to those who sent food, flowers, prayers and words of comfort expressed. A special thanks to the Regular Baptist ministers for their comforting words and to the Hall Funeral Home for their kind and efficient services.

If everyone knew what was happening at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky, we wouldn't need this ad.

Things are changing at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky. What was considered good performance in the past won't cut it in the present. We're working to get better.

In June, a new president, Steve Bow, took over the reins. He talked with employees about how to make our company better. He talked to customers: the ones we have, the ones who left, and the ones who never tried us. Now, we've begun turning those words into actions.

"We've got a real challenge ahead of us. It's up to every employee to energize our company...to make it more proactive, more customer-driven than ever before."

That philosophy is sparking a company-wide revolution. We're streamlining claims procedures for more efficient processing. We're breaking our customer service folks into smaller, specially trained teams so they can answer your questions more quickly. And there are more changes coming.

"I want to see this company move back to its original value system, a system of caring for the customer, and a belief that the customer is important. In our rapidly changing, complex and competitive world of healthcare, it is even more important for us to get back to personal service and products designed to fulfill customers' needs."

Changes were needed. Changes are being made. Choose us again, or for the first time. And choose the company that realizes good isn't good enough anymore. Call Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky or your independent agent.

Practical Ideas for Parents to Help Their Children
Published weekly by the Floyd County Board of Education's Office of Instruction Gary K. Frazier, Assistant Superintendent

Solving School Problems

Check School Progress Now

This month, the school year is half over. It's a good time to check with your child's teacher. Is your child doing as well as the teacher expected? Are there some concerns? What can you do at home to help?

Let your teacher know what you think, as well. Tell the teacher about the progress you see at home. And talk about any problems you face when helping your children learn at home.

There is still time to correct any problems and make sure your child has a good school year.

State Government News Summary

Moved ... The Kentucky Division for Air Quality, in the Natural Resources and Environment Protection Cabinet, is now in new quarters in downtown Frankfort, 316 St. Clair Mall. The division's telephone number continues to be 502/564-3382.

Help For Vendors ... The state's vendor information office has a new toll-free telephone number for companies interested in competing for state vendor contracts or for those firms with contracts seeking assistance. Persons dialing 1-800-367-8365 can be advised as to what steps must be taken to be placed on the state's vendor lists for specific commodities, how procurement operates or the schedule of upcoming bid openings.

Recognized ... H. Stanley Head, director of the Kentucky Division of Conservation, was honored recently by the National Endowment for Soil and Water Conservation for his work in advancing agricultural resource conservation as the state's coordinator of the National Outstanding Conservation Farmer/Rancher Awards Program.

Appointed ... Five new members have been appointed to the Kentucky Economic Roundtable by Gov. Wallace Wilkinson. They are: Dr. Bernard Davis of Morehead State University, Robert M. Hewitt of Kentucky Utilities Co., Dr. Lawrence Lynch of Transylvania University, Dr. James O'Conner of Eastern Kentucky University, and Dr. Thomas O. Wisely of Western Kentucky University.

Survey Says Kentuckians Believe They're Healthy

According to a recent survey, Kentuckians rate themselves as being healthy individuals. Although nine percent lower than the national average, 58 percent of Kentuckians perceive themselves as being in "very good" or "excellent" health.

In an effort to evaluate Kentucky's overall health care system, researchers at the University of Kentucky Survey Research Center and Center for Developmental Change recently concluded the 1989 Kentucky Health Survey.

The survey concentrates on issues such as general health perceptions, access to health care, insurance coverage, attitudes and behaviors.

The yearly survey, sampling 645 households statewide, also showed convenient access to health care for acute situations is not a severe problem for the majority of Kentuckians. Geographically, 75 percent of Kentuckians can reach a hospital within 20 minutes.

In addition, 87 percent of Kentuckians have insurance to cover health care costs. However, one-fifth of those policies do not cover office or clinic visits.

"The figures do demonstrate that Kentucky has come a long way in health care," said Dr. Peter Bosomworth, chancellor of UK Chandler Medical Center. "However, the percentage of those who do not have easy access is still too high. Not one single individual in this Commonwealth should be without health care. We must continue our efforts until we see 75 percent change to 100 percent."

Compared to the national average, Kentucky continues to be plagued with a higher than average prevalence of many chronic medical conditions. Among these are high blood pressure and arthritis.

The higher numbers can, in part, be attributed to the fact that Kentuckians tend to engage in certain risky behaviors. For example, 29 percent smoke cigarettes and only 54 percent report wearing seatbelts.

"Behavior and attitudes can and do contribute to a higher prevalence of certain medical conditions in particular areas," Bosomworth added. "We know through many programs, changes in behaviors and attitudes can easily be persuaded through education."

"We must increase our community medical education programs for our citizens. Educating the citizens and increasing awareness is a very concrete solution to decreasing the number of preventable deaths."

Bosomworth was referring to the high prevalence of ovarian and breast cancer, and infant mortality rate. According to the survey, 60 percent of women over 40 have never had a mammogram and 36 percent had not had a Pap smear within the last 18 months.

For a copy of the survey or for further information, contact Dr. Thomas R. Ford, director, Center for Developmental Change, UK, 365 Patterson Office Tower, Lexington, KY 40506-0027 or call 606-257-6051.

Polls show that newspaper advertising is considered more believable than that of any other medium.

Appalshop Exhibits Wooton Paintings

An exhibition of recent paintings by Clarence Wooton is on display until Jan. 27 at the Appalshop Gallery in Whitesburg.

The paintings depict scenes of everyday life, as well as the countryside of Eastern Kentucky, past and present. Included in the show are works for a series of paintings focusing on the early history of rural Kentucky.

Wooton, a Leslie County native born in 1904, began painting while an enlisted man after World War I. As a member of an armed forces entertainment troupe, "The Soldier Players," he painted background scenery for sets. After his tour of duty, he attended the Art Institute of Chicago and Detroit City College. During the Depression, he worked on WPA projects.

The Appalshop exhibition is the first one-man show in 40 years for Wooton, who now lives in Breathitt County. His work has been displayed in the Rockefeller Center in New York, Speed Museum in Louisville and in other museums and galleries across the country.

The gallery is located at the Appalshop Center at 306 Madison St. in Whitesburg. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Former Resident Honored By Project Concern

Ted R. Osborn of Lexington, formerly of Floyd County, was honored by the board and staff of Project Concern International as "Board Member of the Year," at the organization's annual meeting in San Diego, Calif.

Osborn, a land developer, has been a member of the PCI Board of Directors since 1980. In presenting the award to Osborn, PCI's chairman of the board Gary Allen, lauded the leadership, support and guidance given the organization by Osborn over the years.

His association with Project Concern, a non-profit, international charity which saves lives worldwide through child survival interventions and basic health care instruction, began through his association with Dr. James Turpin, a childhood friend.

Born in Prestonsburg, Osborn graduated from Ashland High School, as did Dr. Turpin. As young men, neither could have imagined themselves as integral leaders of a charitable organization which today touches the lives of some four million people in the US and around the world.

In addition to serving PCI for nearly a decade, Osborn has held numerous offices in civic and professional organizations including the office of president of Kiwanis International, chairman of the Kentucky Easter Seal Campaign and president of the Transylvania University National Alumni Association (his alma mater).

He also served in the State Legislature as chairman of the House Committee on Higher Education and various other State Commissions appointed by the governors of Kentucky.

Begun in 1961 by Dr. James Turpin, Project Concern has grown from a small Hong Kong clinic to an international charity with self-help programs on four continents. Today, Project Concern International is a recognized leader in establishing lifesaving, community-based health care programs for the disadvantaged in the US and around the world.

Cleaned from Turpin's first-hand experience in Hong Kong, Tijuana, Mexico, and South Vietnam, today's efforts are geared toward teaching people in remote, rural areas to care for their health needs and those of their neighbors. (The success of this teaching was confirmed last year when Turpin returned to South Vietnam and found the clinics he had helped build were still in operation, and the health workers he had trained were still helping their communities).

A special emphasis is on saving the lives of infants and children through immunizations and well-baby clinics. Considering the startling fact that 40,000 children under five years of age die everyday, PCI hopes to expand their programs to meet this need. Project Concern designates 86.5 percent of each dollar to program services and depends on individual contributions to help reach those in need.

For more information on Project Concern International and the work it does write PCI, 3550 Afton Road, San Diego, CA, 92123, or phone (619) 279-9690.

Open For Business

Martin area residents have a new place to shop for pharmaceuticals and other household and personal needs. Taxpayers Ask IRS

These are typical of questions asked by taxpayers and are presented as a public service of this publication and the IRS.

Q. My neighbor says that because my income is low and we have children we may qualify for a special tax credit called Earned Income Credit (EIC). What is EIC?

A. EIC was created by Congress to allow low-income families with children to keep more of the income they earn. A major feature of the EIC is that it is refundable. That means that even after reducing the tax liability to zero, a taxpayer may still get the benefit of the credit by receiving a refund of any amount over the tax liability.

Q. What is the maximum EIC credit?

A. For tax year 1989, the maximum credit is $910.

Q. What is the maximum income level to qualify for EIC?

A. For tax year 1989, you can earn as much as $19,340 and still qualify for a credit.

Q. Is there a minimum income level to qualify for EIC?

A. Yes. Since the credit is based on earned income such as income from wages, salaries and tips, you must report some earned income on your tax return to qualify.

Q. What other qualifications are there for the EIC?

A. You must file a tax return. If your income level is low enough so that you are not required to file, you may still want to file a return to claim the Earned Income Credit. Your filing status must be either head of household, married filing jointly or qualifying widow(er). You must maintain a household in the United States and must have at least one qualifying child.

Q. Is it possible to claim the earned income credit before filing a tax return?

A. Yes. It is called "advanced earned income credit" and, if you qualify, you can get the credit in your paycheck during the year rather than waiting until after you file your return. Fill out Form W-5, "Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate," which is available from your employer or IRS.

Q. How can I find out more about EIC rules?

A. Call IRS toll-free at 1-800-424-3676 and ask for free Publication 596, Earned Income Credit.

Overcomes Shaky Start

Betsy Layne Downs ACHS In Overtime Play, 52-51

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Junior Newsome's Betsy Layne Bobcats overcame some first half jitters and went on to defeat the front-running Allen Central Rebels, 52-51, in overtime at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse Friday night.

Betsy Layne was guilty of turning the ball over 14 times in the first half — seven times in each of the first two quarters. After the Bobcats righted themselves in the second half, they only had two miscues.

After Phillip King, who was playing his first game after coming off an ankle injury, scored the first two points to give the host team a 2-0 lead, Cotton Parsons and Joey Conn went to the offense for the Rebels and scored six points each to give the Rebels a 12-5 lead at the end of the first period.

Rebels center Rick Smith got into some early foul trouble and was forced to the bench. Smith picked up his third personal foul with 5:16 to go in the second quarter and Allen Central holding a nine-point lead, 16-7.

Two buckets by Sam Stewart and one by Adam Gearheart cut the lead to three, 16-13. The Rebels showed good ball movement in the first half as they were able to get the ball inside to Conn, and Parsons' outside shooting helped the Rebels to a 29-21 half time lead.

"We told our kids at half time to not get their heads down, that we can come back. We told them that we were a second half team and we had come back in previous games," Newsome explained.

With only six seconds off the clock starting the second half, Smith picked up his fourth foul and had to depart the game. A 10-4 spurt by the Bobcats cut the lead to one, 33-32. King, who had been rather quiet in the first half, began to find the range and led the scoring spurt for the Bobcats.

King's basket with 20 seconds showing tied the game at 39-39. However, Conn's bucket at the buzzer maintained the Rebels lead at two, 41-39.

Kevin Spurlock took a Smith pass for a lay up and was fouled on the play. Spurlock converted the free throw to help the Rebels out to a 44-39 lead. Smith followed with another bucket and it was 46-39 before Betsy Layne could score in the third.

With 6:35 remaining in the game, Smith fouled out on a foolish foul and Allen Central lost its big man.

"Smith fouling out was a big blow for Allen Central," Newsome remarked.

Newsome made the front end of a one and one, and with 6:18 to go the Rebels went to a delay game to try to pull the Bobcats out of their zone.

"They were successful against our man to man defense, and when we went to a zone they wanted to pull us out," explained Newsome.

During the delay game, Allen Central turned the ball over and Betsy Layne capitalized on the miscues on a basket by Gearheart. Another costly turnover and a bucket by Keith Hall cut the lead to two, 46-44. A steal by Sam Stewart with 3:39 to go tied the game at 46-46. During the Bobcat run the Rebels missed two front ends of one and one situations.

Betsy Layne had the ball with the score tied and 2:24 showing on the clock and held the ball down to the nine second mark. After a called time out to set up a play, Mike Hancock was whistled for a foul. The delay whistle of the official caused the Allen Central bench to question the call.

After Gearheart walked to the line to shoot the free throws, Spurlock protested who the shooter should be, and Newsome was sent to the line by the officials. Newsome missed the free throws and the game went to overtime.

After Gearheart missed the front of a one and one, Conn scored from underneath to give the Rebels a 48-46 lead. Gearheart's 15-footer tied the game at 48-48. Stewart then fouled Conn, picking up his fifth personal foul. Conn missed the free throw and Joey Conn (32) seems to lose control of a rebound against the Betsy Layne Bobcats in Friday night's conference match up with the Bobcats at Betsy Layne. Conn scored 15 points in the game as the Bobcats prevailed over Allen Central in overtime, 52-51.

Combs' Basket At :03 Zaps Blackcats, 64-62

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Missed shot by Carrier. Offensive rebound basket by Combs. Desperation shot by Slone.

So the story went as the Knott County Central Patriots won over a determined Prestonsburg Blackcat team, 64-62, on a basket by Mark Combs with three seconds to go in the game. Combs, having his best game "of the season," according to a member of the official Patriots scoring crew, scored 26 points to lead KCC to victory.

Prestonsburg spotted the Patriots six points in the opening minutes of the game and went to catch up speed to overtake the visitors. It was a basketball fan's type of game: a well-played game on both sides. No team was able to really mount any kind of lead as the lead changed hands on several occasions.

Prestonsburg finally caught up with Knott County Central at 19-all on a basket by Chris Slone, who led the Blackcats with 34 points, at the 5:50 mark. Jeff Slone's two free throws gave the Blackcats the lead for the first time at 21-19. Kevin Adams picked up his third personal foul with 2:19 remaining in the second stanza.

Prestonsburg went to the dressing room at the half with a 30-25 lead on a basket at the buzzer by Slone.

Slone, showing signs of brilliance on offense, kept hitting the long range jumpers as well as the short baseline shots.

The lead changed hands 12 times during the game and was tied six times. The Blackcats' last lead was at 59-58 with less than a minute to go. Combs hit a turnaround jumper to put the Patriots on top for good at 60-59. Prestonsburg was guilty of a crucial turnover with 37 seconds to go when the ball slipped out of the hands of Slone under the Blackcats' basket. Two free throws by Workman Conley made it 62-59.

With 12 seconds to go, Slone hit a three-pointer that brought the crowd to their feet, to tie the game at 62-62. Knott County Central had the ball after a time out.

On the ensuing play, Eddie Carrier broke loose under the basket for a wide open shot that he missed. Combs was there to put the ball back in with three seconds to go.

Prestonsburg called time out with one second showing; however, the officials ruled that the time out came with three seconds showing and the clock was reset. Slone took the inbound pass and tried a desperation shot from half court that fell short as the horn sounded.

Prestonsburg's biggest lead was at 40-34 with 4:50 to go in the third period.

Slone's 34 points led the Blackcats. Kevin Adams, who had to sit out a big part of the game because of foul trouble, added 12 points. Adams was six for six from the charity line. Stuart Robinson had eight points and played a strong game on the boards.

Knott County Central had two others in double figures with Bryan Adams getting 14 points and Carrier tallying 10.

Moves To 5-0 In Conference

Betsy Layne Ladies Hold Off Allen Central Team, 62-51

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

After a sluggish start by both teams, Betsy Layne got 31 points from senior Brenda Hamilton, enroute to a 62-51 victory over the second place Lady Rebels.

The victory did not come easy for the Lady Bobcats. After leading 9-6 at the end of the first period, Betsy Layne outscored the Lady Rebels 20-6 in the second quarter to go to the locker room with a 29-12 lead. Betsy Layne's trapping zone defense was a problem for the young Lady Rebels.

"Our defense really caused them a lot of problems," Betsy Layne coach Gary Hopkins said of his team's effort. "They had problems in handling our press and we were getting a lot of deflections."

Cold free throw shooting by the Lady Rebs in the second quarter did help matters. The Lady Rebels could only connect on two of 10 attempts.

In the third quarter, it was different story. The Lady-Rebels came out to open hot and match the Lady Bobcats basket for basket. Allen Central outscored the host team, 15-4, to draw to within three, 39-36, at the end of the third period.

Allen Central hit nine of 11 free throw attempts in the stanza, and the trapping defense of the Lady Rebels caused Betsy Layne to turn the ball over.

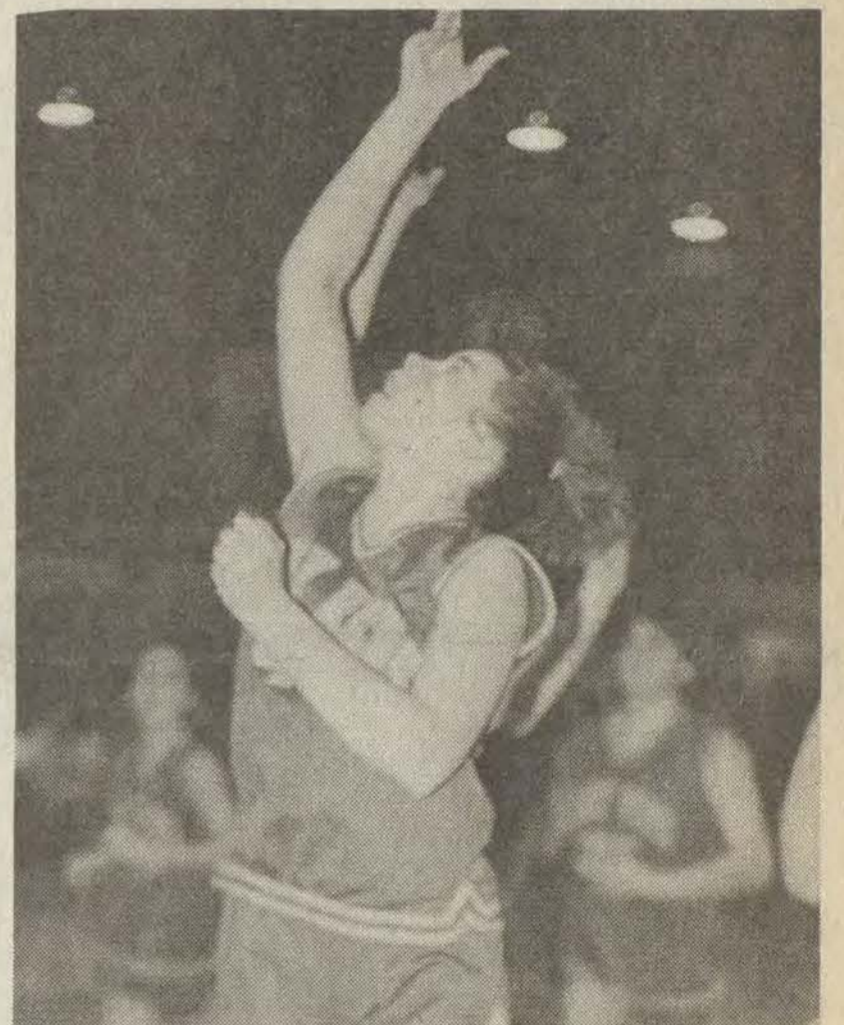

Hamilton, one of the region's best, put on a show for the Lady Bobcats with her hustle and scoring spree. Hopkins says that Hamilton is one of the most underrated players in the region.

"Brenda just doesn't get enough PR," Hopkins said. "She is a tremendous basketball player. She gives 110 percent. She works hard and is a complete team leader. The other players listen to her." No one in the region hustles like Hamilton. She uses her speed and quickness to break up the passing lanes and is not hesitant to mix it up Gearheart then hit from outside to give Betsy Layne a 50-48 lead.

With 1:02 in overtime remaining, Parsons recovered a loose ball for Allen Central, and King was whistled for a foul in frustration. With 36 seconds to go, Parsons missed the free throw.

Spurlock was called for his fifth foul sending King to the charity line. King missed the free throw, Gearheart missed an eight-footer and Allen Central knocked the ball out of bounds giving the ball back over to the Bobcats. Keith Hall was fouled on the inbound's play where he sank both charity tosses to give Betsy Layne a 52-48 lead. Ronnie Sammons hit a three-pointer at the buzzer to make the final score, 52-51.

"Allen Central played a real fine ball game," Coach Newsome said afterwards. "They seem to always play good here. Over the years that I have been here Johnny Martin's teams has always played good at Betsy Layne."

"They executed well against our man to man defense. They got some easy shots in the paint. We weren't able to keep them from getting these shots," the Bobcat mentor went on to explain. "Allen Central is a strong team who was patient on offense always working for their shots. We were just not able to put them away."

Newsome had praise for his junior guard, Gearheart. "In the big games Adam had made the big shot for us or got the big rebound or made the big steal."

Newsome said that his team went to the stall with 2:24 to go to spread the defense of Allen Central's.

"We knew they must be a little tired at that time," he stated, "and we wanted to bring them out of their zone."

"With nine seconds to go we had a special play set up but we didn't execute well."

Newsome said he is glad to be 4-1 in the conference race this time of the year.

"We've had injuries, but we've also had people to fill in for them and help us out," he remarked.

The Bobcats will take part in the Famous Recipe Basketball Tournament starting tonight (Wednesday) as they match up with Madison Central at Connors High School. On Thursday, Betsy Layne will face the host school Connors High School and Friday will play against Campbell County.

"We hope to learn something from these fine teams," said Newsome.

"We want to represent the 15th Region well."

Gearheart led the Bobcats with 16 points. Both King and Stewart each added 10 points. Stewart and King had eight rebounds for Betsy Layne. Betsy Layne was seven of 20 from the free throw line and committed 16 turnovers.

Conn led the Rebels in scoring with 15 points. Cotton Parsons tossed in 10 while Spurlock added nine. Allen Central shot just 10 free throws connecting on only four of them.

ton said. "You got to have a killer instinct."

Allen Central looked like a different team that it did in the early part of the season. The Lady Rebs were more aggressive both on offense and defense.

"We have been working on being more aggressive," stated Compton, "and we work on it everyday. We practice moving with our bodies, and to play the way we have been playing you have to be in shape."

Allen Central has better ball movement also.

"We have put in a new offense that won't allow them to stand around like they use to," the Lady Rebs' mentor said. "I tell them 'you got to move your feet, you can't be reaching with your hands.' We've had people foul out because they are reaching with their hands."

Compton says that Conn is getting more confidence with each game, and the more confidence she gets the better the Lady Rebs will be.

"Toward the end of the game she started to slow down. Around the middle of February, Jo Ann should be full strength. She plays with a lot of desire."

Stacy Moore added 13 points for the Lady Rebs. Yates tossed in 10 points, and teammate Teresa Gibson scored nine.

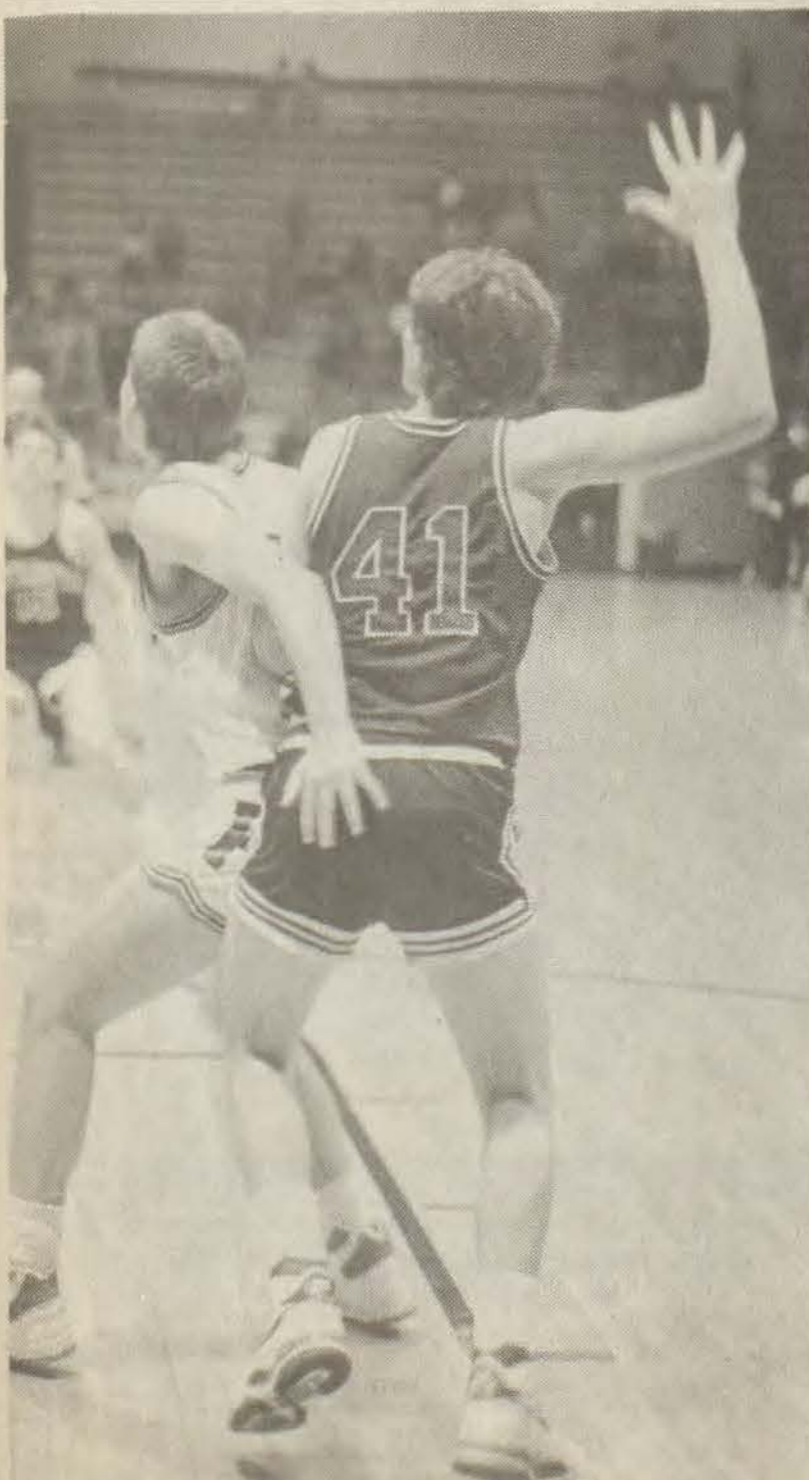

Game scoring honors went to Lawrence County's Melissa Marcum with 33 points, with 18 coming in the final quarter. Marcum hit three three-pointers in the game.

Allen Central is now 4-6 on the season. Compton's chargers will travel to Prestonsburg Friday night for another big conference match up with Bridget Clay's Lady Blackcats of Prestonsburg.

underneath for the rebounds. Betsy Layne's pressing defense was guilty of giving up some easy points for the Lady Rebels. But the Lady Cat mentor says that is normal.

"When you press full court you're bound to give up some easy lay ups," he stated. "Overall our press hurt them. We put them in the bonus early and fortunate for us they missed their free throws. That was the key, they missed early."

Hopkins said his team had a let down in the second half when the Lady Rebels made the comeback mainly because the night before Betsy Layne had to play hard against Dor-ton.

"We were slow getting into the passing lanes of the Lady Rebels. We were reaching on defense instead of moving. I know we were tired and that is the reason I stayed out of the press in the second half," Hopkins said. "We went to the zone in the half because I knew they would go to Jo Ann with the ball."

Hopkins looks at the remaining three conference games his team has to play, two on the road (Prestonsburg and Allen Central) and one at home (McDowell), and figures his team and Allen Central make up a two-team race.

Jamie Smith added 14 points for Betsy Layne and pulled down nine rebounds. Nancy Shepherd had 11 rebounds to go with her eight points. Hamilton also had six assists in the game.

Jo Ann Conn scored 15 points as the only Lady Rebel in double figures. Teresa Gibson and Sonia Allen scored nine points.

Betsy Layne will play at Mullins Thursday night and will travel to Prestonsburg on Tuesday night. Allen Central plays at Prestonsburg Friday night and at Wheelwright on Tuesday evening.

The Lady Cats are 5-0 in the conference and Allen Central suffered its first conference setback and goes to 2-1.

Jenny Yates and Jenny Wiley each tossed in 11 points as the Allen Central Lady Rebs junior varsity defeated Lawrence County, 42-34, at the J.H. Campbell arena Thursday night.

Pam Webb hit a basket with 22 seconds to go in the first half to tie the score at 20-20.

Allen Central went up by two, 26-24, on a basket by Wiley. Andrea Smith then tied the game with an eight-footer. The Lady Rebs would take the lead only to have Lawrence County tie it back up. The third period ended at 28-28.

Allen Central scored the first six points of the final quarter on a bucket by Stacy "Mini" Moore and two baskets by Jessica Wade. Lawrence County turned the ball over on its next three possessions and the Lady Rebs went out to an 11-point advantage, 39-28, and never looked back as they went on to a 42-34 win.

Allen Central has some of the top freshmen players in the county this year in girls' basketball. The Lady Rebs' hustle on defense caused the visitors problems throughout the game.

"Mini" Moore had eight points for the JVs, and Wade and Webb added six a piece.

Melinda Ratliff was the top scorer for Lawrence County with 14 points, and Smith added 10.

Patriot JVs Edge Younger Blackcats

Prestonsburg's junior varsity Blackcats lost to the Knott County Central JVs, 62-50, in JV action Saturday night.

Knott County was led in scoring by Sonny Huff with 18 points. John Clark led the Blackcats with 22 points including three three-pointers. Jason Crisp had eight points and two three-pointers.

The Blackcats led at the first stop 20-19 but trailed at the half, 34-26. Knott County built a good lead in the third stanza and coasted to an easy 62-50 win.

Geoff Cody had 16 points and Scotty Clark tossed in 13 for the winners. The junior varsity's next game will be against the Johnson Central JV team on Tuesday evening. The Prestonsburg freshman team will also play on Tuesday night in a 5:30 start, followed by the JV and varsity games.

LADY CARDS FINISH SECOND

Congratulations are in order for the Sheldon Clark Lady Cards who finished second in the Louisville Invitational tournament. The Lady Cards represented the 15th Region well in the tournament, as did the Phelps Lady Hornets and Elkhorn City Lady Cougars. All three teams are rated 1,2,3, in the 15th.

All three teams took part in the Nothing But The Net tournament in Betsy Layne. The state tournament title could be brought back to the mountains this year.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Ronnie Dean Ousley, former basketball player for the Allen Central Rebels, was in attendance Tuesday night to watch his former team defeat the Wheelwright Trojans. Ousley is serving in the Navy and is stationed in Virginia. Ousley says that he likes the service, except for being away from home.

ALLEN ENJOYING BASKETBALL SEASON

Good to see Dickie Allen, former teacher at Wheelwright, attending all the Lady Trojans games. I talked with Dickie recently and he is doing well. Allen was a teacher for 10 years at the Left Beaver school.

"I taught band five years and was guidance counselor for five, before going to work for the Bank Josephine," he said. Allen's daughter, Becky, is point guard for the Lady Trojans.

WONDERING OUT LOUD DEPARTMENT!

Wonder how the Allen Central fans could sit so quietly when their team is winning big against Wheelwright? The fans were almost not there. The situation also has Coach Johnny Martin wondering.

"Seems at district time is the only time they get excited," he said. When reminded of the Magoffin County fans, he said, "I like the Magoffin County fans' enthusiasm." Come on, you Rebel fans, get behind the team.

MULLINS GAME RESCHEDULED

The basketball game between the Mullins Tigers and Betsy Layne Bobcats has been rescheduled for Jan. 13 at Betsy Layne. Make note of this on your schedule.

VIRGIE GAME CANCELED
The basketball game between the Virgie Eagles and Allen Central Rebels scheduled for Jan. 27 will not be played because of contract difficulty. Another game is being scheduled in its stead.

CORRECTION

Another game that was reported in Wednesday's Floyd County Times as scheduled for Wednesday, Jan 10, between Prestonsburg and Dilce Combs is correctly scheduled for Saturday, Jan 13. The game can be heard over WKKZ-FM

THROUGH THE GRAPEVINE (OR RUMOR DEPARTMENT)!!

Now that Alabama coach Bill Curry will be Kentucky's next head football coach, C.M. Newton will retire as athletic director at UK because of failing health and Jerry Claiborne will be named AD. Newton? He will head to the office of the Southeastern Conference to become its new commissioner.

HALL OUT FOR REST OF SEASON

Betsy Layne guard Larry Hall will be lost to the Bobcats basketball team for the remainder of the season because of reconstructed knee surgery. Hall is a senior at Betsy Layne. He is a fine young man and we hate to see this happen.

WORTHY OF MENTIONING

Jamie Ratcliff of the Betsy Layne Elementary Lady Bobcats won the individual free throw trophy during the Section Three basketball tournament. Ratcliff shot over 50 percent.

GRADE SCHOOL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT UPDATE

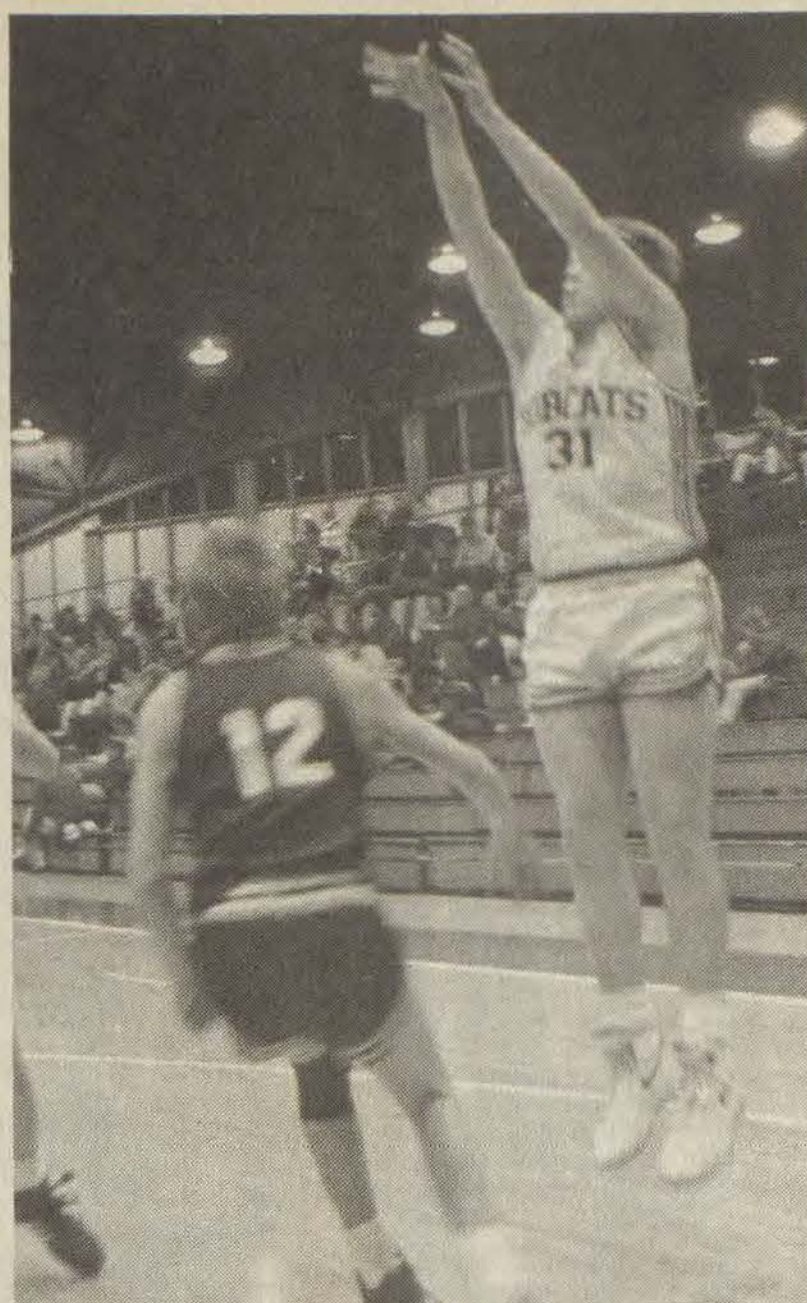

The new dates for the playing of the grade school basketball tournament are Jan 13, 15, 16, 17 and 18. All these dates are if weather permits, according to tournament director Mark Newsome. Hope the weather holds off so they can get the tournament in. They sure have tried hard enough.

PRESTONSBURG HOMECOMING

The Prestonsburg High School will hold its Homecoming event this Saturday evening, Jan 13, as the Blackcats will host the Knott County Central Patriots.

HOOD HAS HAIRLINE FRACTURE

Bobby Hood of the Wheelwright Trojans was found to have a hairline fracture in his left foot. Hood has not been able to play for the Trojans. According to Hood, he was to go back to the doctor today (Friday) for further examination. The senior guard has had a cast on his foot for a week.

Lady Wildcats Take Bite Out Of Bobcats, 61-56

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

"I wanted to go all out and win this one," said Betsy Layne coach Gary Hopkins in light of having two hard back to back games on hand. "I was up all night (Wednesday night) with these games on my mind. I decided about 4 a.m. that I was going all out for the Dorton game."

The other game was an encounter with conference foe Allen Central on Friday night.

The Lady Bobcats gave the Lady Wildcats a scare but could not pull off the much desired win as they fell to Dorton, 61-56, in a close one at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse on the campus of Betsy Layne.

Dorton's standout player Jodi Baker riddled the nets for 20 points, and Bridget Poe along with Sabrina Cable tossed in 16 points.

The Lady Wildcats hit 92 percent of their free throws, 23 out of 25 attempts, enroute to their 10th victory of the season against only two defeats.

Dorton led at the end of the first quarter, 15-13, and led by just four, 33-29, at the half.

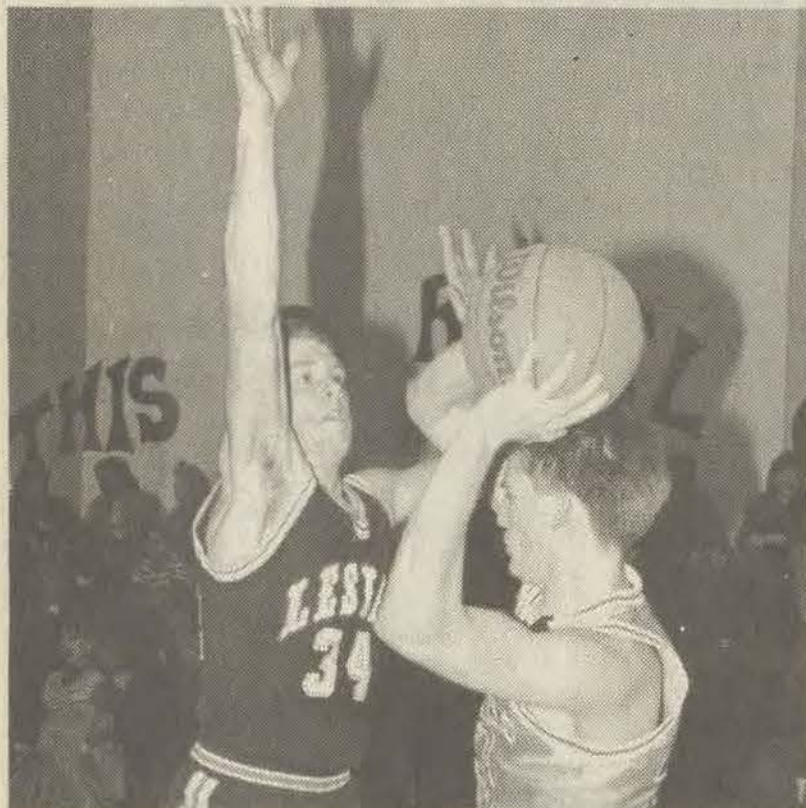

Jamie Smith led the Betsy Layne scorers with 18 points. Brenda Hamilton netted 13. Hamilton had six assists while teammate Nancy Shepherd had three. Smith pulled down 10 rebounds in the loss. Betsy Layne hit on only 32 percent of the team's shots as the Lady Bobcats found the Dorton defense tough.

Coach Bobby Spears' Lady Wildcats go to 11-2 on the year, and Betsy Layne falls to 8-4. Dorton is one of the perennial powers in the 15th Region and a well disciplined team.

Hamilton is the Lady Bobcats' leading scorer with 185 points in 12 games for a 15.4 average. Smith is second with 133 points in 12 games for a 11.1 points per game.

Dorton (61) Melissa Anderson, 9; Bridgett Poe, 16; Jodi Baker, 20; Sabrina Cable, 16. Betsy Layne (56) Brenda Hamilton, 13; Nancy Shepherd, 6; Jamie Smith, 18; Shella Hall, 6; Nikki Webb, 3; Brianna Boyd, 6; Melissa Bailey, 4.

Group Tickets Now On Sale For KY All 'A' Classic Game

Tickets for the first Kentucky All "A" Classic boys high school basketball tournament in Lexington Feb. 7-10 are now on sale.

Sets of tickets for all eight sessions can be purchased through the mail by writing the Kentucky All "A" Classic, 200 E. Main St., Lexington, KY 40507. The cost for a set is $40 plus $3 handling charge. Checks, cash or money orders will be accepted. Include name, address and phone number when ordering. To order using Visa or MasterCard, call (606) 258-3908 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

No individual session tickets will be sold until Feb. 5 when both individual and sets of tickets will go on sale at the 200 E. Main St. address. High schools which win on the regional level will also receive a block of tickets which will go on sale at the schools on Feb. 5. Student tickets sold at participating schools will be $4 each session. Non-student tickets will be $5 a session.

On Wednesday, Feb. 7 at 8:30 a.m., tickets will go on sale at Memorial Coliseum, site of the tournament. All tickets will be $5 a seat. Only certified checks, money orders or cash will be taken at Memorial Coliseum.

The tournament will include 121 schools of the 145 eligible that have enrollments of 424 students or less in grades 10 through 12.

Regional tournament competition will be held the week before the finals of the 16 winners from each region becoming eligible for the championship competition.

The state finals will feature two double-header games on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and nights, a double-header on Saturday morning with a single championship game on Saturday night.

Competitions for cheerleaders will also be held at the finals.

The roots of the Kentucky All "A" Classic grew out of the "Cinderella Team" tradition in Kentucky high school sports. In the last few years, school consolidation has done away with some of the smaller high schools in the state. School administrators, fans and coaches of Class A schools have been interested in revitalizing the Class A concept to give smaller schools a better chance to showcase their basketball teams' talents.

A group of coaches and school officials organized a tournament in Northern Kentucky that was so successful a statewide tournament, the Kentucky All "A" Classic was initiated.

The tournament is funded by the Kentucky All "A" Classic Inc. which is supported by corporate sponsors, donations and ticket sales.

Pikeville College B'ball Offers Prizes, Games

Spectators at this year's Pikeville College Bears basketball games will have the chance to win a Ram Tough Dodge truck, courtesy of Deskins Motor Company, to be given away at the Feb. 24 Pikeville vs. Cumberland game.

At every Bears game, two people will be chosen at random, four people at Lady Bears games. These finalists will each be given a key at the February 24 game; the person holding the key that starts the truck will win it.

"The more games a person attends, the better their chances at winning the truck," said Phillip M. Blake, associate director of external affairs for the college.

Employees of Pikeville College and Deskins Motor Company are ineligible.

The Lady Bears and Bears will host the Lindsey Wilson College Lady Raiders and Raiders at 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., respectively, Thursday, Jan. 18. The night has been designated Pikeville Methodist Hospital Night, when all hospital employees and their families will be admitted free of charge.

The next home game will be the contest between the Bears and the Berea Mountaineers at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 22. The game has been designated First National Bank Night, when First National Bank employees and their families will be admitted free.

The Lady Bears host Clinch Valley College at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 23.

Wildcats Put Heat To Lady Daredevils

by Ed Taylor
 Sports Editor

"Dorton was giving us the 12-15 foot shots, but we couldn't hit them," said McDowell coach Cassandra Keathley of her team's 59-43 loss to the Dorton Lady Wildcats.

Jodi Baker, a 15th Regional stand-out in girls basketball, scored a game high 26 points to lead the Lady Wildcats in scoring. Baker hit six of six from the free throw line in scoring her points.

The Lady Daredevils trailed by only five at the end of the first quarter, 14-9. Dorton then went on to pull out by 12 — 29-17 at the half.

"We turned the ball over 12 times in the game. That is down from the 25 we had been averaging," said Keathley of her team's ability to protect the basketball. "Where we really got beat was on the boards. We just didn't rebound well at all."

McDowell falls to 2-7 on the year and will play at Phelps on Saturday night.

Sha Barnette had 10 points for the winners. Melissa Anderson and Bridgett Poe each had eight points.

Priscilla Crawford added eight for McDowell. Kristi Pack had six rebounds in the contest.

Dorton.....14 15 15 15 - 59

"We got two quick fouls on Baker in the first quarter," Keathley explained, "and I thought it would affect the outcome. We just could not score from the outside."

McDowell's Lori Bryant had a good game with 22 points. Bryant also pulled down eight rebounds in the game.

"Lori played a better all around game this time. She would normally have games where she would score maybe 10 points in a quarter and then not score for awhile. In this game her point total was spread out," Keathley stated.

Stop The Action

Joey Conn (32) shoots over Sam Stewart of Betsy Layne for a basket. The score was nullified because the whistle had sounded before the shot. Conn tossed in 15 points in the game; however, the Bobcats won the conference match up, 52-51, in overtime.

Seasons End Early On Some Wildlife Management Areas

Hunting seasons close early on several wildlife management areas (WMAs) in Kentucky. Generally, WMAs that open before statewide hunting seasons begin also close early.

Statewide regulations allow quail and rabbit hunting in Zone A through Jan. 31, while the season continues through Feb. 18 in Zone B. Grouse hunting, which is permitted only in the eastern half of the state, runs through Feb. 28. Hunting ended the last day of December on some WMAs, while certain seasons remain open through Jan. 31 on other management areas.

The following WMAs closed Dec. 31 for rabbit, quail and grouse hunting: Beaver Creek, Cane Creek, Dewey Lake, Fishtrap Lake, Fleming, Grayson Lake, Mill Creek, Paintsville Lake, Redbird, Lake Cumberland and Big South Fork National River and Recreation Area.

Small game hunters may continue to pursue rabbits and quail through Jan. 31 on the following WMAs: Barren River Lake, Curtis Gates Lloyd, Green River Lake, Kleber, Mullins, Nolin Lake, Taylorsville Lake, Yellowbank and Higginson-Henry, and on tracts 2, 3, 6 and 7 on West Kentucky Wildlife Management Area.

The furbearer season, which includes both hunting and trapping, also closed Dec. 31 on Beaver Creek, Cane Creek, Dewey Lake, Fishtrap Lake, Mill Creek, Paintsville Lake and Redbird WMAs. The statewide furbearer season runs through the last day of January.

Anyone planning to hunt Fort Campbell or Land Between the Lakes (LBL) should contact each area before hunting. Both Fort Campbell and LBL have special seasons and regulations for all hunting.

For more information on exceptions to statewide hunting season dates, you may request a printed guide entitled, "Kentucky Wildlife Management Area Seasons 1989-90." The free pamphlet is available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Division of Public Relations, #1 Game Farm Rd., Frankfort, KY 40601.

Over Justice

Chris Newsome (23) of Betsy Layne scores over Keith Justice of Mullins at the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse Saturday night. The Bobcats won over the visiting Tigers, 78-63.

Stewart's 39 Spurs Bobcats To Big Win

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Betsy Layne Bobcats are on a roll and playing good basketball. The Bobcats, currently in first place in the Floyd County Conference, saw their leading scorer return and, with a big victory over the Allen Central Rebels, took on inter-regional foe Mullins Saturday night.

Phillip King, who had been nursing a sore ankle, returned to play in the Allen Central contest. However, the Bobcats were without the service of their starting guard, Adam Gearheart. Gearheart sprained an ankle in the Allen Central game and, according to Coach Junior Newsome, will be lost to the team for the Famous Recipe Tournament this week.

"There is a slight chance he will get to play, maybe Friday," Newsome remarked. "He had it x-ray and nothing was torn."

Betsy Layne center Sam Stewart scored a game high 39 points to lead the Bobcats to a 78-63 victory over the Mullins Tigers. Stewart also had 18 rebounds against the Tigers.

"Sam had a great game," said Newsome of his center's performance against Mullins. "He controlled the boards and just played great."

The victory was Betsy Layne's sixth of the year against four losses. It didn't take the Bobcats long to strike as they were able to find Stewart underneath for some easy shots. The 6' 5" center hit on the short turnaround jumper and was able to lead the Bobcats to a 21-9 first quarter lead.

Betsy Layne maintained a 12-15 point advantage throughout the game and led at the half, 35-22.

"We led all the way and the game was never in doubt. We got to play a lot of people in the game. We were real pleased with the team's effort," says Newsome.

King scored 13 points in his second game back from injury while gathering in eight rebounds. Chris Newsome tossed in 11 points.

Sophomore Jamie McPeek led the Tigers in scoring with 17 points. Jon Younker added 15 points and teammate Jamie Boyd tossed in 12.

Betsy Layne JVs Win Over Mullins, 52-42

Chuck Lafferty and Shawn Wallen each scored 14 points to lead the Betsy Layne Bobcats junior varsity to a 52-42 victory over the Mullins JVs last Saturday evening.

The win was the third of the season for the younger Bobcats against three losses. Betsy Layne led all the way holding a half time lead of 26-19.

Keith Compton added eight points in the win. Jody Coleman tossed in seven points.

Chuck Lowe was high man for the visiting Tigers with 17 points. S. West tallied 10 points.

Fouls Plague Daredevils In 74-65 Loss At SCHS

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

"We played terrible," is the way McDowell basketball coach Johnny Ray Turner described the way his team performed against host Sheldon Clark on Saturday night.

The Daredevils were strapped with foul problems early in the game as three left via the foul route.

"Keith (Shelton) had two fouls called on him in the first minute of the game," Turner said, "and he wasn't able to play much."

"The officials were calling it close," he continued. "Of course it was called close both ways. What happened was it turned into a free throw shooting contest."

McDowell led most of the game, holding leads of 15-11 at the first stop and 35-32 at the half. The Daredevils were on top, 52-49, going into the fourth period.

"I thought we were going to win one," Turner said. "We had the lead with six minutes to go and then we started missing some easy ones and they took the lead on us.

"We had three starters foul out (Marc Hall, Stacy Hall and Keith Shelton) and when you have three out, you have to go with your younger players," Turner stated.

Stacy Hall led the Daredevils in scoring with 23 points. Marc Hall added 18 points and hauled down 11 rebounds. Shelton tossed in 11 and had nine rebounds. McDowell turned the ball over 15 times during the game.

Brian Pinson had 21 points to lead Sheldon Clark. J.R. Hammonds scored 14 points while Shawn Curt and Max Hale each tallied eight points.

The Daredevils fall to 2-12 on the season and will entertain Greenup County Saturday night.

McDowell (74) Marc Hall, 18; Stacy Hall, 23; Keith Shelton, 11; Scott Shannon, 8; Doug Hopkins, 2; Mike Duddleson, 3.
at Sheldon Clark (74) Craig Grayson, 9; Brian Pinson, 21; Shawn Curt, 8; J.R. Hammonds, 14; John Stone, 4; Shawn Hale, 6; Max Hale, 8; Clayton Wells, 2; Kevin Fields, 2.

First Place In NBTN Tournament

The Betsy Layne Girl's Varsity cheerleaders recently won first place in the Nothing But The Net basketball tournament and have been invited to Busch Gardens Cheerleading competitions. They are (not necessarily in order) Michelle Depoy, Elaine Hunter, Delana Boyd, Tracy Kidd, Tonya Pugh, Tabitha Cooley, Becky Stephens, Karletta Howell and Dianah Hall.

Photo Correction

Player Spotlight

Allen Central Lady Rebels
Jo Ann Conn led the Lady Rebels to a 73-55 victory over Lawrence County by scoring 23 points and pulling down seven rebounds. Conn also had eight assists in the game. Conn tossed in 15 points in her team's loss to Betsy Layne.

Betsy Layne Lady Cats
Junior Jamie Smith tallied 18 points as her team lost to the Dorton Lady Wildcats Thursday night. Senior Brenda Hamilton scorched the nets for 31 points as the Lady Cats strengthened their hold on first place with a 62-51 win over the Lady Rebels of Allen Central. Hamilton had 26 points in a 64-62 win over Pikeville.

Betsy Layne Bobcats
Senior center, 6' 5", Sam Stewart tossed in 39 points to lead the Betsy Layne Bobcats to a 78-63 victory over the Mullins Tigers Friday night. Adam Gearheart scored 16 points to lead the Bobcats to an exciting 52-51 overtime conference victory over the Allen Central Rebels.

Prestonsburg Blackcats
Chris Stone had the hot hand as he scored 34 points against the Knott County Central Patriots Friday night. The Blackcats lost a close one, 64-62.

McDowell Lady Daredevils
Junior Lori Bryant scored 22 points for the Lady Daredevils in her team's 59-43 loss to the Dorton Lady Wildcats.

McDowell Daredevils
Stacy Hall tossed in 23 points against Sheldon Clark Saturday night in a 74-65 loss to the Cardinals. Marc Hall had 18 points against the Cardinals on Saturday evening. Hall also pulled down 11 rebounds.

Lady Cats Defeat Pikeville, 66-64

by Ed Taylor Sports Editor
Playing with two injured players, the Betsy Layne Bobcats won over a good Pikeville Lady Panthers team for the second time this season with a 66-64 victory over the host school Monday night. Brianna Boyd's basket with two seconds to go gave the visiting Lady Cats the inter-regional game. "I was trying to call a time out with 10 seconds to go," said Betsy Layne mentor Gary Hopkins, "but no one saw me. That is one time I am glad they did not see me." Brenda Hamilton, who has been playing great basketball, was suffering from an injured hip. The Lady Bobcats' workhorse on the boards, Jamie Smith, is nursing an injured ankle. "I taped up Jamie's ankle at half time and she was able to play some in the third quarter," said Hopkins. Smith pulled down nine rebounds in the game despite a hurt ankle. Hamilton played sparingly but managed to lead the Lady Cats in scoring with 26 points.

But the heroine of this game was Boyd. The score was tied at 64-64 when Betsy Layne grabbed the rebound with 10 seconds to go. Boyd came off a block and let the ball fly toward the basket. The ball danced around a couple of times and fell through as the horn sounded. Boyd finished the game with 11 points. "We started out slow," Hopkins stated. "We got down 13 points in the game and I kind of got on to the girls at the half and we came back out and played good ball the second half." Hamilton's 26 led the Lady Cats. Teammate Melissa Bailey tossed in 15 points in the win. Candance Tackett had 19 points to lead the Lady Panthers. Teresa Lockhart added 18. Betsy Layne improves to 10-4 and Pikeville falls to 1-7.

National Science Center Offering Summer Workshops For Teachers

Area teachers are invited to camp this summer, but it will be for much more than swimming and crafts.

Teachers of kindergarten through 12th grade will be learning more about science, mathematics, computers and electronics so that they can carry some fresh ideas into their classrooms next fall.

The National Science Center, located at Fort Gordon, Ga., will host the teachers for the TRACK, Technical Resources Applications through Communication and Knowledge, summer workshops. TRACK workshops were jointly developed by the National Science Center and Oak Ridge Associated Universities.

All interested teachers from the southeastern states, including Kentucky, who are teaching kindergarten through 12th grades are eligible for the teacher workshops.

The workshops include:

—"Get Physical With Science." Teachers will perform hands on science demonstrations and will be given curriculum and activities to begin a variety of different science lessons. June 11-15 and July 9-13.

—"Problem Solving With Mathematics." Educators will discuss and implement a variety of strategies for solving problems, including making models, making organized lists, looking for patterns, guessing and testing and working backwards. June 11-15 and Aug. 6-10.

—"Computers As A Teaching Tool."

This course is designed to introduce educators to the time-saving potential and educational enhancement the computer offers. Data bases, mail merge, gradebook and other classroom management tools will be examined. July 23-27 and Aug. 6-10.

—"Computer Literacy." Designed for Apple and IBM compatible computers, this course offers teachers a basic introduction to computers and basic programming. Participants will be introduced to computer assisted instruction and computer languages and will examine classroom software. July 9-13 (Apple) and Aug. 6-10 (IBM compatible).

—"Electronics I." This workshop offers teachers a chance to learn the basics of robotics and soldering, as well as practical applications of AC and DC circuits and meters. June 11-15 and July 9-13.

—"Electronics II." This workshop provides opportunity for a variety of hands on activities in the area of digital electronics. Teachers will build a digital voltmeter and temperature gauge. July 9-13 and July 23-27.

—"Grantwriting." Here teachers will focus on the do's and don'ts of proposal writing, and each participant will be encouraged to develop a proposal that could be submitted to a funding agency. June 25-29 and Aug. 6-10.

Teacher workshops have an optional second week. Those interested participants may opt to attend the second week and design, develop or demonstrate a course-related project. There is no charge for course participation. Teachers who elect to receive academic or unit credit will be assessed tuition and fees as determined by the sponsoring educational institution.

Teachers are responsible for their own transportation, lodging and meals, which the center hopes to have provided at a reduced rate.

Several states and local education associations are offering financial assistance in the form of stipends or grants. Teachers are encouraged to check with their state and local officials to see if this type of assistance is available.

Application deadline for teachers is April 16.

For information, contact Gerri Jones, National Science Center, ATZH-NSC-E, Building 25722, Fort Gordon, Ga. 30905-5689; telephone, 404/791-7862/2009.

Fifth Grader Shots Slated In County

The Floyd County Health Center has released the schedule for administering measles/mumps/rubella shots, second dose, to fifth graders in county schools.

Health educator Jane Bond reminds that children entering sixth grade in August 1990 will not be allowed to enroll unless they have had the second dose of the MMR vaccine, according to Kentucky law.

The schedule includes: Jan. 24, Allen and Maytown; Jan. 31, Betsy Layne; Feb. 7, J.M. Stumbo; Feb. 14, McDowell; Feb. 21, Melvin; Feb. 28, Osborne and Auxier; March 7, Clark; March 14, Wayland and Garrett; March 21, Harold and Prater; March 28, Martin, and April 11, Prestonsburg.

For further information, parents are advised to contact the principal at their child's school or the Floyd County Health Department at 886-2788.

Local Students To Compete In Sweet Sixteen Showcase

A total of 608 students from 63 high schools will participate in the first of four regional competitions in the 1990 Sweet 16 Academic Showcase, including the following students from Floyd County schools:

Allen Central: Rodney Wiley, Davina Chaffins, Thomas Gearheart, Cotton Parsons, Chantel Reed, Brian Meadows, Belinda Patton, Robyn Williams, Heather Watson, Delbert Gions, Robbie Sexton and Becky Biliter; Prestonsburg High School: Walter Owens, Chris Comer, Frank Davis, Ernest Croot III, Keith Exley, Byron Crider, Mark Blackburn, Mike Partington and Dustin Haley.

The first regional will be held Saturday, Jan. 20 at Morehead State University with students from regions 9, 10, 15 and 16 coming to Morehead for matches.

The top four winners in each of the 12 academic categories will come to Lexington in March for the state finals.

A total of 1927 students from 211 high schools have registered for the program statewide. This is the largest number of students and schools to participate in the program to date, according to spokesperson Marianne Blodgett.

The other three regional competitions are: Jan. 27, Murray State University; Feb. 3, Georgetown College; and Feb. 17, Eastern Kentucky University.

A total of $75,350 in scholarships will be awarded on the state level. First place individual winners receive $2000 in scholarships; second place $1200; third, $850 and fourth, $600. First place team winners received $1350 each in scholarships; second, $950; third, $650 and fourth, $400.

The scholarships can be used at any Kentucky post secondary educational institution. High schools which have first place winners also receive $1000 to be used for academic programs.

In the past four years about 5500 students have participated in the Showcase with more than $275,000 being awarded to 256 students from 130 Kentucky high schools, Blodgett noted. Money for the program is raised from donations from private businesses and an annual televised auction in Lexington. This year's auction will be held Wednesday, Jan. 24.

Categories of the academic competition are: Art, three-dimensional and two-dimensional; Music, vocal and instrumental; Journalism, feature writing and advertising/promotion; English, creative writing and essay writing; Speech; Computer problem solving; Math and Chess. All the competitions are individual except for math, computer and advertising/promotion which are team events.

The academic Showcase was started in 1985 by Lexington Mayor Scotty Baesler to recognize and reward academic skill, enterprise and achievement among the state's high school students.

Local Challengers

Though not advancing to the finals, a team from Garrett Elementary School was the only Floyd County team represented in Saturday's Math Bowl at Prestonsburg Community College. Team members are LeAnn Francis, Chrystal Mullins, Nathan Elliott and Phillip Chaffins. They are coached by Stanton Watson. Other schools represented in the tournament were Lee County, Loyall, Paintsville, Pikeville, Sebastian and Whitesburg. Lee County and Paintsville, as winner and runner up teams, will advance to state finals on Jan. 27 in Frankfort.

The Whiz Kids!

A team from Lee County Middle School in Beattyville proved to have the right stuff, mathematically speaking, when it took the Math Bowl championship Saturday at Prestonsburg Community College. The Lee Countians beat out Paintsville in the final round of the competition. At the award presentation ceremonies after the final match were team members, front row, l-r, Jesse Andrews, Amy Bush, Jamie Mays, Ryan Gabbard, Brian Powell, Bobbie Rosencrans, Raymond Rowland, Jason Tiley and Cassie Wilson; back row, Hassan Saffari of the PCC math faculty, tournament coordinator; PCC Academic Dean Robert Allen, and PCC President Dr. Henry Campbell.

KET To Feature The Planet Earth

"The Miracle Planet," a series of programs about the events and forces that have shaped the planet Earth, premieres Sunday, Jan. 21 at 8 p.m. on Kentucky Educational Television stations.

Hosted and narrated by television journalist Bill Kurtis, the six-part series explores the dynamic systems that make up the planet and unites the most current scientific thinking with state-of-the-art production technology.

The opening episode, "The Third Planet," looks at what Arizona's Barringer Meteor Crater reveals about the history of the Earth, including the extinction of dinosaurs.

The Jan. 28 episode, "The Heat Within," examines planet life on top of an inferno. The program demonstrates how the explosive force of heat from the earth's interior has formed new continents and continues to alter the face of the planet.

The third program, "Life From The Sea," airing Feb. 4, shows how coral life in Australia's Great Barrier Reef fosters an atmospheric balance that helps sustain life. It also emphasizes the vital role oceans play in maintaining Earth's climatic balance.

Future episodes look at the composition — and vulnerability — of the atmosphere, how climatic patterns have dramatically altered the Sahara Desert and what impact humans have had on Earth throughout history.

Local Students On ECU Dean's List

Twelve Floyd County students have been named to Eastern Kentucky University's fall semester Dean's List.

They include Charles Adkins, Marina Allen, Brian Conn, Nelvia Elkins, Monty Frazier, Sharon Fugate, Elizabeth Ousley, Lisa Reynolds, Melissa Rice, Lauren Slone, Andrea Stephens and Rita Watson.

To be eligible for Dean's List recognition at ECU, students attempting 14 or more credit hours must achieve a 3.5 grade point average out of a possible 4.0.

Students attempting 12 credit hours must earn a 3.75 gpa, and students attempting 13 credit hours must earn a 3.65 gpa.

For the spring semester, ECU named 1032 students to the Dean's List. Of this number, 321 were male and 711 were female.

Education Coalition Lists Reform Recommendations

The Education Coalition, a group of ten diverse organizations, last week released its recommendations on Curriculum and Governance to the Task Force on Education Reform. The recommendations go much further than those contained in the Coalition's earlier report, Kentucky's System of Education, issued in February, 1989.

The recommendations result from a dozen meetings of Coalition members since June, when the Supreme Court ruled Kentucky's system of education unconstitutional. Members of the Coalition considered all aspects of the education system in their deliberations in those meetings.

The new recommendations demonstrate, as did the group's earlier report, that the education community can build an extensive and meaningful consensus on reform measures. Members of the group believe the extent of agreement on divisive matters is evidence of new possibilities for real reform.

Mayo Sets Graduation

Mayo State Vocational Technical School will have its mid-term graduation exercises at 1 p.m. Jan. 19 at the school auditorium.

Students from 16 departments are scheduled to receive diplomas, as well as special recognition for perfect attendance and high grade point averages.

Counties with the greatest numbers of students graduating include Johnson, Floyd, Magoffin, Martin, Pike, Lawrence, Morgan, Knott and Perry.

The report includes recommendations on:

- Creating a performance based system;
- Strengthening the hand of the state in dealing with failures of performance at the local level, and in dealing with political abuse;
- Creating an independent education agency for monitoring and assessing performance;
- Employing a Commissioner of Education to manage the Department of Education;
- Supporting efforts to increase site-based decision making;
- Developing regional professional service and development centers.

Coalition members are encouraged that many of their recommendations are consistent with findings and conclusions that have already been presented to the Task Force. The Coalition sees a clear consensus emerging among all the citizens of the state, and sufficient momentum building to achieve significant education reform. The group believes that a majority of Kentuckians can and will support a significant reform effort.

The groups represented in the Education Coalition are:

Catholic Conference of Kentucky, Kentucky Association of School Administrators, Kentucky Association of School Superintendents, Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, Kentucky Department of Education, Kentucky Education Association, Kentucky Educational Foundation, Kentucky School Boards Association, and Prichard Committee for Academic Excellence.

Wheelwright High School Hosts Exchange Student From Mexico

by Haley Caudill
 "Kentucky is beautiful," said Lorena Aguilar when she first arrived at Wheelwright High School. Lorena is an exchange student from Vera Cruz, Mexico, who is attending WHS this year. She is residing with Tommy and Barbara A. Roop of Weeksbury until June 23, 1990.

"I came to Kentucky to learn more about your people, your language, your country...everything about you," said Lorena.

After completing high school this spring, Lorena plans to attend college to study various languages and architecture. She is considering attending Morehead State University at the present time.

Lorena's favorite subjects are English and French. "English class is harder in Mexico. Here you have to speak the language all day long. Therefore, learning to speak the language is much simpler," said Lorena.

However, English is not the only language class that Lorena's studying. She is also taking French I at WHS. Not only is she doing well in the class, she recently won the achievement award in that class.

Lorena also has a fondness for numbers. She plans to be an architect and loves all math classes. However, she says that the approach that people use here is much different from the methods used in Mexico.

"Here, one problem takes one whole page; in Mexico problems are much shorter," said Lorena. Other than trying to explain in English, she simply worked a problem Mexican style and then had a teacher work the same problem the way she would work it. When the papers were compared the class discovered that simple addition and subtraction (short method) were done in her head and not written down on paper.

"The only difference in this school and the one in Mexico is that I attended a private school. In the private schools you have to pay tuition. Wheelwright has everything to work with, like my school in Mexico," said Lorena.

The thing that Lorena finds the most different from home is the food. "The food in Mexico is much hotter and everything is made natural. People don't buy canned and boxed food very much," she said.

So far, Lorena has enjoyed her stay in Kentucky. Everyone wishes her the best.

Junior Bands In Lexington Christmas Parade

The combined Junior Bands of Betsy Layne, Harold, Prater and John M. Stumbo Elementary Schools, under direction of Sandy Tackett, participated in the WTVQ-36 Christmas parade held in Lexington Saturday, Dec. 9. They gave a performance for the live WTVQ broadcast and grandstand dignitaries. BLHS Band alumnus Marty Harris greeted the children along the parade route dressed as Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer. After the parade the band members went on a Christmas shopping trip to a mall.

Hughes Earns PhD

TONDA HUGHES

Tonda Hughes, daughter of Ruby and Earl Hughes of Weeksbury, recently received a Ph.D. from the University of Illinois at Chicago, Ill. Dr. Hughes, a graduate of Wheelwright High School, received Associate of Science and Bachelor of Science degrees in nursing from Eastern Kentucky University of Kentucky.

Honors and awards received by Dr. Hughes during her graduate work include a National Research Predoctoral Fellowship from the Division of Nursing, the Department of Health and Human Services; a scholarship and a research grant from Sigma Theta Tau, the International Nurses' Honor Society, and a Dean's Award from the University of Kentucky College of Nursing.

Dr. Hughes' dissertation research focused on nurses who are addicted to drugs or alcohol. She has written a number of articles and chapters on that topic and on the topic of women and addiction. She is the co-author of Addiction in the Nursing Profession, a book that won the 1989 American Journal of Nursing Book of the Year Award. She has presented her research on addiction at numerous professional meetings and conferences in the United States as well as in Hungary and France.

Dr. Hughes has accepted a position as Research Associate in the Psychiatric Nursing Department at the University of Illinois at Chicago.

OLM Students Recognized

Chrissy Tipton of Hager Hill and Marty Hall of David won runner-up trophies in Johnson County's Apple Day academic competition in October. Tipton is a third grader and Hall is a fifth grader at Our Lady of the Mountains School in Paintsville.

Both students won their trophies in the festival's adding matches. Tipton was runner up in the primary division, and Hall placed second in the intermediate division.

In order to compete in the intermural competition, students had to place first or second in grade and division competitions in their own schools.

School winners who represented Our Lady of the Mountains in Apple Day competition were: Kristina Arriola, Paintsville, primary adding match and primary spelling bee; Josh Collins, Staffordsville, intermediate adding match; Rhonda Williams, Paintsville, junior adding match and junior penmanship; Tara Pickrel, Prestonsburg, junior adding match; Telah Watkins, East Point, primary I coloring; Sashi Param, Paintsville, primary I coloring; Jamie Tipton, Hager Hill, intermediate art; Katy Mueller, Tomahawk, intermediate art; Kelli Sanders, Martin, primary II drawing.

Also, Jacob Karn, Whitehouse, primary II drawing; Sherrill Chua,

4-H News

By Willard Knipp

I hope everyone had a chance to enjoy their extended vacations. It is good to finally get back to school after such a long time away. Although I am not sure that all the 4-Hers would agree with me, but staring at a pile of snow can get a little boring after four to five days off.

We just about reported the last of the officer results. Every couple of days or so we get a letter in our office with names of officers, but the majority of clubs have long since reported in.

GARRETT ELEMENTARY

Congratulations go out to Garrett Elementary for becoming the first club to have a 100 percent return on their officer results. This despite the fact that I was forced to reschedule my first visit to that school and it was the last school that I visited.

Mr. Watson's Seventh Grade: Shonda Lawson, president; Roy Martin, vice president; Matthew Duff, secretary; and Jarrid Deaton, reporter.
BETSY LAYNE ELEMENTARY
Mrs. Blankenship's Seventh Grade: Becky Rogers, president; Erin Baker, vice president; Misty Reynolds, secretary; and Kambra Maynard, reporter.

Mr. Ratcliff's Eighth Grade: Garland Rogers, president; Jamie Robinette, vice president; Dawn Watson, secretary; and Dale Kimbler, reporter.

JOHN M. STUMBO ELEMENTARY

Harold Newsome's Fifth Grade: Richard Salisbury, president; Jess

Salisbury, vice president; Heidi Newsome, secretary; and Gina Hall, reporter.

Roy Johnson's Sixth Grade: Mark Tackett, president; Jamie Hall, vice president; Tash Akers, secretary; and Toby Newsome, reporter.

FLOYD COUNTY SELECTED FOR STATE CAMPING ARTICLE

Recently the Floyd County 4-H program received statewide recognition. It was asked by the state 4-H office to select a student who had attended 4-H summer camp to write an article about the experience. In the state of Kentucky only five counties were asked to participate in this program.

After much thought and discussion it was decided that Jennifer Reed, a student in Mr. O'Quinn's eighth grade at Garrett Elementary would be the best choice to represent Floyd County in this honor.

Reed is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Reed of Hueysville. She serves as reporter of her 4-H club and is an honor student.

Reed was selected to write this article based on the fact that she has attended 4-H Camp on several occasions and is active in 4-H. Her attitude and grades were also considered.

Her article and picture will be forwarded to the state 4-H office. When the promotional article is released, students in Floyd County will be able to read it.

Congratulations to Jennifer Reed. We are proud of you.

UK Counselors Look At Job Trends For '90s

by Ed Dietz
UK News Service

Economists are predicting a roller-coaster decade of growth and recession, advance and decline.

Trendwatchers are warning that major social changes lie ahead like dangerous curves on an unfamiliar highway.

Political leaders are saying they are sure the 1990s will unfold as one of the most crucial decades in US history.

All of this presents challenging questions to the young people of today who must deal with the changes of tomorrow: What kinds of careers, college students want to know, appear solid enough to endure throughout the coming decade and beyond, and what kinds of new careers will emerge?

Those are tough questions, asked at an uncertain time, professors and counselors at the University of Kentucky acknowledge.

They agree, however, that this much is sure: The industrial society is a relic of the past; the US is steering full-speed into the information age; and those who know how to gather, store, retrieve, interpret, communicate and distribute information apparently have the most lucrative futures.

John Naisbett, author of the book "Megatrends," puts it this way, "Information is wealth. Knowledge is power."

But that's not to say the traditional courses of university study will not lead to long-term successful careers, observes L.R. Crouch, director of student services at UK's Career Center, which helps students choose careers and find jobs.

There will be good-paying jobs, for example, even in declining industries, such as agriculture and mining, Crouch says.

Teachers will always be needed, Crouch and other university officials say.

Graduates with degrees in business and management, communications, law, medicine and science, as well as the liberal arts, will continue to find satisfying employment.

All those careers, however, are calling for a different kind of entry-level employee than in the past.

Professors and counselors at UK say employers want better-educated workers, opting more and more for those with advanced degrees. They want employees who can think more flexibly and creatively; persons who have obtained more practical experience in school, are familiar with computers and, in general, who can make the transition from college and career quickly.

UK's various schools and departments mirror those changes.

Students in the geography program, for example, are receiving intensive training in the use of computers and satellite transmissions to prepare maps.

Students in technical majors, such as engineering, are being encouraged to take more liberal arts courses in order to increase their awareness of the world around them.

Business and economics students are taught to think in terms of something called "the international view."

Students who seek the help of UK's Career Center are submitting themselves to mock interviews, often with real employers, while center assistants videotape the sessions for post-interview analysis and critique.

"What we're advising students," Crouch says, "is pretty much what we've been saying all along: Become computer-literate, seriously apply yourself academically and get as much real-life experiential, hands-on education as you can."

"We're not saying that that will guarantee you a successful career, but it will get you started."

'Teacher Of The Year' Earns ACHS Title

by Patricia Watson
ACHS

Active, energetic, multi-talented teacher Joyce Watson was presented the "Teacher of the Year" award by students at Allen Central High School for the 1988-89 school year.

Criteria used for selection included: overall effectiveness in the classroom, availability and willingness to work with students, participation in extra-curricular activities, and overall contributions to better the school.

Watson has proven an unending dedication to education during the 16 years of her teaching career. Before and after school, she is available to work with present students and graduates who come back to seek help.

In her classroom, she uses a combination of enthusiasm, encouragement and praise, along with a personal caring attitude, to motivate students to do their very best.

"Mrs. Watson takes her time while teaching," stated one student. "She wants to make sure you understand before she goes on."

"She's very patient!" was another student's description.

In addition to teaching a varied schedule which includes German I and II, calculus, probability and statistics, she has contributed countless hours to work with the school's academic team. After-school practice hours and Saturday district tournaments leave few free moments. Also, the spring heralds regional Sweet Sixteen Academic competition and Governor's Cup competition.

Last spring, Watson accompanied student Billy Terry to Louisville for math competition in the Governor's Cup statewide meet.

Other extra-curricular activities find her involved as the Math Club sponsor, member of the Kentucky Council Teachers of German and involved in regional and state foreign language festivals. She is also founder of Math Challenge, a varied day of math competitions among grade school students.

She is also actively involved in professional organizations that promote the need for quality in the educational system. She has served as a delegate for KEA; is first vice president for Tau chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma; is vice president of Eastern Kentucky Council for Teachers of Math which she helped to organize, and is an elected member of the Floyd County Evaluation Appeals Committee.

Recently she received a free membership to the Kentucky Council of Teachers of Mathematics when she was nominated for the President's Award for Excellence in Mathematics for outstanding teaching performance.

Her teacher preparation has included an AB from Alice Lloyd College; BA, Morehead State University; MA, Eastern Kentucky University, and Rank I, MSU. Since completing Rank I, she has earned numerous hours pertaining to her varied subject fields.

Besides being active in the public school system, she is a member of the Hueysville Church of Christ where she teaches Sunday School.

She resides at Garrett with her husband Stanton, who also teaches, and their two children, Heather and Brent.

Correction

Due to incorrect information received from Bellarmine College, Paula Lynn Gibson was said to have graduated in December with a bachelor's degree, when in actuality she received her master's degree in August. The Times regrets this error.

MSU Journalism Program Online

Morehead State University journalism students returning for the spring semester will find their instructional program has catapulted into the 1990s with the acquisition of more than $66,000 worth of Macintosh Plus computers and accompanying software. The new equipment, which includes 19 terminals, a two-page monitor for layout/design, optic scanner and laser printer, will be used for teaching and for production of the campus newspaper and yearbook. At left, Apple representative John Kwiecinski of Lexington Computer Store discusses the new technology with MSU President C. Nelson Grote.

Help For College Bound Is On The Way In State

The members of the Kentucky Educational Savings Plan Trust received a pleasant surprise during a recent board meeting when Gov. Wallace Wilkinson announced that $1 million has been pledged to the trust.

The state Higher Education Student Loan Corporation made the pledge using funds that had accumulated through revenue bond financings during the last decade.

The money will be deposited in the endowment portion of the trust along with private contributions from Kentucky industries. Earnings from the endowment will be available to trust beneficiaries on a pro-rata basis, providing they opt to attend a Kentucky institution of higher learning.

The KESPT offers families a planned savings program for their children's college education. "I've seen estimates that a four-year college education in Kentucky may cost as much as $50,000 by the year 2000. We are providing a way for people to be financially prepared when their children are ready for college," Gov. Wilkinson said.

The trust will allow anyone — parent, guardian or benefactor — to designate a beneficiary, no older than 15, on whose behalf savings are deposited with the trust. The fund will be invested and the savings, plus interest, will be available upon enrollment in any two-year, four-year or vocational-technical postsecondary institution.

Wilkinson said that the trust can make direct payments to the institution on behalf of the student. The payments can cover school-provided room, board, books and materials. There are also provisions for substituting a beneficiary.

Money invested in the savings plan is exempt from Kentucky taxes if the funds are used for education. Kentucky taxes are applied upon withdrawal from school or the trust. Federal taxes apply in all cases.

Information and enrollment kits for the trust can be obtained by writing to the Kentucky Educational Savings Plan Trust, Room 205, Capitol Annex, Frankfort, KY 40601. The toll-free telephone number is 1-800-338-0318.

School Board Job Openings

The following job openings are available at the Floyd County School Board, with a closing date of Friday, Jan. 19, according to Superintendent Ronald Hager:

Regular custodian at Melvin Elementary School: salary $4.06 per hour, 7-1/2 hour days; minimum requirements, high school diplomas or GED and a criminal records check; must be able to work evenings.

Part-time custodian, Osborne Elementary School: salary, $4.06 per hour, 4 hour days; minimum requirements, high school diploma or GED and a criminal records check; must be able to work evenings.

Dance Classes Offered At PCC

The spring semester of dance classes began Thursday, Jan. 11, at Prestonsburg Community College with ballet classes.

Returning as instructor is Jan Hurst, classical ballet performer, teacher and choreographer. She has taught ballet at PCC for several seasons and has been a teacher and choreographer for numerous companies, including the Portland Ballet and Springfield Ballet. This past term she was teaching and performing in Germany.

Measurements for recital costumes will be taken during the first weeks of class, according to Hurst.

In addition to teaching ballet and pointe, Hurst will take over the instruction of three jazz classes which will be taught on Wednesdays, beginning Jan. 17. Classes include children's beginning jazz, children's intermediate/advanced jazz and a teen/adult jazz class.

Tap classes for children and adults will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 16. Sabrina West will teach the children's beginning and intermediate/advanced tap classes. West has studied dance since the age of six, under Peggy Darius, Tonya Bennett, Robin Carlson and Yvonne DeKay of Ironton, Ohio, and most recently under Linda Francis of PCC. Jenny Wiley theater fans will remember West as "Annie." The teen/adult tap classes will be taught by Linda Francis who taught tap classes last spring for PCC.

For more information, call PCC's Office of Continuing Education and Community Services, 886-3863, ext. 278.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Smith, Horn In Holy Matrimony

The First United Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Sandra Renee Horn, daughter of Dexter and the late Emma Lou Horn of Prestonsburg, and Michael James Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith of Frenchburg.

Dr. Quentin Scholtz performed the double-ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16, before an altar banked with greenery and baskets of red and white satin flowers.

Preceding the ceremony, Kathryn Frazier presented a program of traditional wedding music. Elizabeth Frazier sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a dress of French silk designed by Illisa. The dress had a heavily beaded Sabrina neckline with applied yoke, padded shoulders and long point sleeves. The Basque waist featured a satin peplum over a full skirt and cathedral train appliqued with Alencon lace and sequins. The bride's headpiece was a beaded Alencon lace tiara with sparkle illusion royal-length veil and blusher. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of red and white satin roses, iridescent leaves, rhinestones and pearls.

Sherry Horn Crum of Martin, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a silver lame tea-length dropped waist dress with a deep V-back. She carried a nosegay of red and white satin roses with streamers of red and white ribbons and pearls.

The bridesmaids were Marci Salyer of Salyersville, Anglida Staton of Belfry, Christy Pugh of Feds Creek, Melanie Webb of Prestonsburg, all sorority sisters of the bride, Laura Hereford Goble of Huntington, Cathy J. Horn of Prestonsburg. The bridesmaids' dresses were identical to the matron of honor's. They carried red and white roses with red ribbons, pearls and silver streamers.

Serving as junior bridesmaid was Ashley Horn of Lexington, niece of the bride.

The best man was Dominick Yanchumas of Mt. Top., Pa. He, along with the groomsmen, wore a black tuxedo from the Dynasty Collection. Serving as groomsmen were Randy Horn of Lexington, brother of the bride, Scott Wells of Prestonsburg, Scott Rucker of Ashland, Terry May of Johns Creek, Scott Miller of Ashland and Tony Bentley of Weeksbury.

Kevin Crum of Martin, nephew of the bride, served as junior groomsman.

Keith Crum of Martin, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer and the flower girl was Jessica Horn of Lexington, niece of the bride.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the fellowship hall. It was arranged by Denise Stewart. Helping serve were Lola Hall, Jean Scalf and David R. Hereford II.

Leigh Ann Doslin of Ashland and Leigh Ann Blackburn of Belfry served at the guest register. Marie Ward of Prestonsburg and Johnna Arnett of Findlay, Ohio, handed out wedding programs. The wedding was under the direction of Mary Lou Horn and Peggy Hereford.

A rehearsal dinner, buffet style, was held in the fellowship hall. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Mt. Sterling.

A household shower honoring the bride was given in the church parlor Friday, July 28. The hostesses were Denise Stewart, Burieta Gearheart, Robin Horn, Tammy Horn, Carol Horn, Lorena Wallen, Paulina Owens, Rebecca Rasnick, Jewell Bays, Julia Curtis, Lola Hall, Peggy Hereford, Belle Conn, Mollie Hyden, Dolly Petry, Elizabeth Frazier, Sue Wells, Kathryn Frazier and Anne Ward.

A kitchen-linen shower was given at the home of Mrs. John Horn on Tuesday, Sept. 12. The hostesses were Mary Lou and Cathy Horn.

Wednesday, Jan. 24: Salmon loaf with white sauce, macaroni and cheese, cole slaw, cornbread and apple sauce.

PRESTONSBURG CENTER
Patsy Evans, director of the Prestonsburg Senior Citizens Center, supplied the following schedule of events for January, but she warned that activities for the winter months are flexible due to cold weather and snow.

She plans daily exercising, pool playing, games, checkers, puzzles, musical chairs, films, story telling, poems, quilting, canasta, and shopping trips.

Prestonsburg Seniors will visit Wayland Seniors on Wednesday, Jan. 24; the monthly birthday party and covered dish dinner will be on Monday, Jan. 19, with tips on microwave cooking presented; a good meal, fellowship and fun for every day.

Blood pressure clinic will be next month. "Something is planned for every day, for everyone, come join," Evans said. Transportation is available every day when weather permits; call 886-6855.

Books And Things

By Trisha Morris, PCC Librarian

The fact that we live in a world of dull and sometimes burdensome numbers — the nine-digit zip code, the 10-digit telephone number, the codes of banking machines and computer programs — says almost nothing about what mathematicians actually do, in their fabulous world of numbers, shapes, machines and people.

The following books from the Prestonsburg Community College's Library will take you into the lives of the almost unknown women mathematicians, the common phobia of math anxiety, the mathematically formulated world of gambling, the ancient riddles of science, the national disease of innumeracy and the unusual world of mathematics as conceived by Ivars Peterson.

Women in Mathematics by Lynn Osen. History traditionally bestows only casual recognition on mathematicians but of the known names in the field, the average person would only recognize the men. Beginning with the origin of mathematics in the great civilizations of antiquity and proceeding through the opening decades of the present century, this book presents eight of the notable women whose mathematical accomplishments influenced the science.

They are: Hypatia (370-415); Angnesi (1718-1799); Marguise du Chatelet (1706-1749); Sophie Germain (1776-1831); Sonya Kovalevsky (1850-1891); Emmy Noether (1882-1935); Mary Fairfax Somerville (1780-1872); and Caroline Herschel (1750-1848).

Most of the women lived remarkable lives. Their rich personalities and lifestyles reflect a variety of characteristics ranging from the wanton to the angelic, from the promiscuous to the pious. They traveled in the most avant-garde circles of their day, but they also faced obstacles and censure because of their gender.

These eight biographies of women mathematicians parallel the growth of mathematics and provides a new approach to the history of that mysterious science.

Mind Over Math by Stan Kogelman. From school children to adults many intelligent Americans avoid math and consequently restrict their personal and professional options to areas that are not math-related. Otherwise intelligent and capable people react so negatively to math that their ability to concentrate and learn it is effectively impaired; they assume they "don't have the aptitude" for it.

Mind Over Math evolved from a workshop program developed by the author for business and professional people, as well as students. Using a friendly informative style, he debunks "math myths," explores the roots of math anxiety, and demonstrates that doing math is not really so different from any other skill.

Different from a math review book, Mind Over Math is a unique combination of sympathetic analysis of an emotional disability and a practical guidance for overcoming it.

People of Chance by John Findley. In this richly detailed social history, John Findley focuses on the American fascination with games of chance. He traces the development of a distinctly American style of gambling through more than 350 years of history and finds a key to the national culture.

From 17th century Jamestown to 20th century Las Vegas, the book points out the affinity between gambling and frontier societies. It shows how both thrived on high expectations, risk-taking, opportunism and movement.

The first half of the book paints a vivid picture of gambling in the colonies. See BOOKS & THINGS, Page 8

County Kettle

County Kettle

Is a feature offered by the Floyd County Times. Send all recipes, kitchen tips and suggestions to "County Kettle," The Floyd County Times, P.O. Box 391, Prestonsburg, KY 41653

A young lady came into the Floyd County Times office the other day bearing good news: She was selling Girl Scout Cookies. She noted that she was not a member herself, but was selling them for a friend who was down with the flu.

Her benevolent motives were commendable, but that's not the reason she managed to sell more than 20 boxes to the staff. Like folks all over, we just happen to love Girl Scout Cookies. Since the cookies are sold for a good cause and only come out once a year, a person really has to stock up on these delicious goodies; they freeze really well. If after purchasing 10 or 15 boxes, you get tired of eating the usual cookies and milk, County Kettle offers seven recipes for alternative ways to enjoy them.

SLEUTH SNACK

5 Tbsps butter or margarine, melted
1 Tbsp Worcestershire sauce
1 Tbsp light brown sugar
1/2 tsp garlic powder
2 cups Golden Yangles

2 cups (already popped) popcorn
2 cups thin pretzel sticks or mini rings
1 cup salted cocktail peanuts

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. In a 15 x 10 x 2 inch baking pan, combine butter, Worcestershire sauce, brown sugar and garlic powder. Stir in Golden Yangles, popcorn, pretzels and peanuts. Bake for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

MIDNIGHT MINT PIE

Crust:
1-1/4 cups finely crushed Thin Mint cookies
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine Filling:
1 cup butter
2 cups sifted powdered sugar
4 ozs. unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
4 eggs
1 tsp peppermint extract

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Blend cookie crumbs with butter and press into bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Bake 5 to 7 minutes and cool thoroughly.

Beat butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add chocolate, eggs and peppermint extract, beating until well-combined. Mound filling into baked pie shell and freeze until firm.

SECRET CENTER ICE CREAM MOLD

1 cup finely chopped Caramel DeLite cookies
1/3 cup finely chopped pecans
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 pint butter pecan ice cream, soft-tened
1 pint chocolate ice cream, softened

Put a 5-cup mixing bowl in the freezer to chill, and take out ice cream to soften in the refrigerator. Meanwhile, gently fold chopped cookies and pecans into whipped cream and set aside.

Remove bowl from freezer and carefully spoon butter pecan pie ice cream over the entire surface of the bowl in a thick layer. Return to freezer for about 15 minutes. Remove bowl and spoon chocolate ice cream over butter pecan ice cream layer, leaving a hollow hole in the middle. Return to the freezer again about 15 minutes. Finally, fill the hollow with the whipped cream-cookie-pecan mixture, smoothing it so the bowl now has a flat, even top. Cover with aluminum foil and freeze overnight.

When ready to serve, wrap bowl with hot, wet towel for few minutes. Turn over and unmold.

LEMON CLOUD LOOKALIKES

4 eggs, separated
3/4 cups sugar
1-1/2 tsp gelatin
1/2 cup heavy cream, shipped
16-oz. can frozen lemonade, thawed
1 cup finely crushed Lemon Pastry Creme cookies

In a medium saucepan, blend 4 egg yolks, the can of lemonade, 1/4 cup of sugar and the gelatin. Stir over medium heat constantly, just until mixture simmers. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon.

Beat 4 egg whites at high speed until foamy. Gradually add reserved 1/2 cup of sugar, beating mixture constantly until thick and glossy. Fold into lemonade-gelatin mixture quickly and thoroughly; then fold in whipped cream.

Divide the cookie crumbs in half. Sprinkle one half of the crumbs on the bottom of 16 cupcake papers in muffin tins. Spoon lemon mixture over crumbs and top with remaining crumbs. Chill at least 3 hours.

DISGUISED ICE CREAM CONES

Favorite ice cream
Ice cream cones
Shortbread cookies, finely crushed
Assorted candies and decorations for face: chocolate chips, maraschino cherries, raisins, red hots, candy corns, M&Ms

Scoop ice cream into cones. Spread cookie crumbs over sheet of waxed paper. Holding cone, carefully roll all of one side and top in crumbs until ice cream is well-coated with "hair." Make a face in the exposed ice cream side using assorted candies and decorations.

"MOST WANTED" APPLE CRISP

1 can pie-ready sliced apples
1 stick butter or margarine

Adah Chapter #24, Order of the Eastern Star, met in regular session Monday, Jan. 8, at 7 p.m. Mollie Hyden, worthy matron, conducted the business session.

Present were Kimberly Jones, Ambassador of Good Will for District 5, Mollie Hyden, Lorena Wallen, Lilia Mae Price, MeqGray, Manis E. Gray, Polly H. Sparks, Shelby Willis, Paulena Owens, Janie Hicks, Jewell Bays, Patsy Evans, Billie Murdock, Burieta Gearhart, William Adams and Thelma Hebner.

The next regular meeting will be Saturday, Jan. 27 at 7 p.m. at the Lodge Hall.

BINGHAMS JOIN COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST

The Community United Methodist Church welcomed into membership recently Mrs. John (Mary) Branham and Karen Bingham, by transfer, and Mrs. Bingham's sons, Carl Ed and Jeffery Bingham, by baptism. The Rev. Ron Masters is the pastor there.

BRACKETTS HAVE FULL HOLIDAY HOUSE

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brackett had as their Christmas guests, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Thrasher of Lexington; and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Brackett and daughter, Angela Frances, and Mrs. Frank Preston, all of Ulysses. The group also visited with Ray Crisp and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Crisp of Allen; Eula Spurlock of Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Terry L. Hicks and sons, Josh and Jeremy, of Auxier; Dr. and Mrs. Tim Crisp and daughters, Rachel and Josephine, of Lexington, and Mrs. Thursa Crisp Williams, her daughter Beth and a friend Kathy of Costa Mesa, Calif.

JOHN GRAHAM CHAPTER DAV HOLDS MEETING

The John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Tuesday, Jan. 9, at noon at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, for an executive board meeting and luncheon. The regent, Mrs. Carl Horn, presided. Other board members in attendance were Virginia Goble, Norma Stepp, Dorothy Osborne and Frances Brackett. Eighteen committee reports were completed.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 13, at 3:30 p.m. at the Emma Wells May Cultural Center, Prestonsburg. The program will be given by Prestonsburg High School DAR Good Citizen Kimberly Horn, with Virginia S. Goble as chairperson. The hostesses will be Margaret Spradlin, Maurine Mayo and Pauline Burchett.

COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST WOMEN NEWS
The Community United Methodist Women met Tuesday, Jan. 9. Ernestine Collins gave the devotional and a presentation on "The Purpose of United Methodist Women," with scriptural references.

Marian Masters presented information in regard to pledges.

The group decided to "adopt" valentines for the February meeting and to take these "adoptees" to dinner.

Rose Glenn of the First United Methodist Church showed a slide series on Volunteers in Mission in Costa Rica. This presentation was highly informative and the group thanked God for the people called to the mission field.

Sharon May, president, closed the meeting with prayer. Refreshments were served by Marian Masters, assisted by guest Sue Robinson, to Debbie Patton, Rita Mounts, Mary Odell, Sandy Howell, Sue Spradlin, Carolyn Stout, Jean Burke, Anna Jean Howell, Leslie Burke, Goldie Music, Debra Burke, Esther Ward, Marian Masters and Sharon May.

LAMPLIGHTERS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

The Lamp Lighters of the First Baptist Church (Irene Cole Memorial) held their regular weekly meeting, Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 3:45 p.m. with Patsy Evans, director, in charge.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Thomas Foy, who also led the group in the singing of hymns including "Jesus Shall Reign," "There is Sunshine in My Soul Today" and "Oh, That will be Glory for Me."

Foy asked the group to prepare for a part in the forthcoming Easter Cantata at the church.

Evans read an item furnished by Vivian Fraley entitled "What a Difference a Nap Makes," containing such statements as: "Forty Winks during the Day, Make a Sharper, Happier Person." Some of the group enjoyed exercises led by Evans.

It was decided that the group would go to Shoney's Restaurant, Pikeville, for a meal, on Tuesday, Jan. 6, (if the weather permits), or eat soup beans, prepared by Evans, at the church in case of inclement weather.

On hand for this occasion were Foy, Patsy and Johnie Evans, Rebecca Rasnick, Lucy Regan, Maman Leslie, Docia Woods, Ora Bussey, Myrtle Allen, Bill and Dolly Pettrey, Dixie Webb, Vivian Fraley and Ruby Lamping.

JEFFRIES, SPRADLIN HOME FROM CALIFORNIA

Virginia Jeffries and Victoria Spradlin returned to their home here on Thursday, following a 2-1/2 month visit in California. During that time, they were guests of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Murrill, and Jeffries' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Atherton and the Atherton's daughter Jennifer in San Jose. Joining them for the Christmas holidays were another of Jeffries' daughters, Mrs. Stan Urbanski, and children, Lora and Peter of Whittier, Calif.

Earlier in December, Jeffries spent a week in Greenville, Texas, with another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McGrew.

STOVERS VISIT FAMILY IN W. VA.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Stover and their son Tommy of Prestonsburg and Mrs. Stover's mother, Mrs. George Conley of Williamson, W. Va., spent last weekend in Kingsport, Tenn., where they helped to celebrate the 100th birthday of Mrs. Conley's father, Warren Davis.

BABY SHOWER HONORS SIZEMORE

Joyce May Sizemore was honored with a baby shower on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 30, at the Assembly of God Church in Martin.

The reception hall was decorated in keeping with the occasion. The tables were covered with white cloths and accented with white wicker baskets holding pink and blue flowers.

Those in attendance participated in games, and a delicious buffet lunch was enjoyed.

The honoree received many useful and attractive gifts from relatives and friends who called throughout the afternoon.

Hostesses for this occasion were Vera Akers, Pat Bradford, Sandra Bellamy, Connie Sammons, Linda Layne, Linda Frye, Leslie Ann Sizemore, Donna Wells, Irene May, Kay Auxier, Brenda Ousley, Terri Heinsch, Donna Cox and Arby Bush.

LOCAL CHURCH WOMEN TO MEET JAN. 19

Otela Smiley, president of the Local Church Women, announces that the next meeting of this group will be at the home of Eva Collins, on First Avenue, Friday morning, Jan. 19. Breakfast will be served by Collins at 10 a.m., and the meeting will follow soon afterwards. The president urges Local Church Women members and prospective members from churches throughout this area to attend this event.

RASNICK, PETTREY HAVE HOUSEGUESTS

Rebecca Rasnick and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pettrey had with them during the weekend Rasnick's daughter, Joyce R. Rasnick of Lexington. Other recent guests have been Hazel Britton and a friend of hers from Lexington, who had attended the Old Christmas party at May Lodge on Sunday Jan. 7; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dempsey, of Williamsburg, and Pat Minns, formerly of Prestonsburg, presently of Lexington.

Tot Turns Two

Billy Keith Ousley celebrated his second birthday Saturday, Jan. 6, with a "Big Bird" birthday party. He is the son of Billy and Joan Ousley of Martin and has one sister, Cindi. His grandparents are John Paul and Wilda Hubbard of Auxier and Zeb Ousley and the late Eula Mae Ousley of Garrett.

MOORE VISITS FROM UK

Alan Kyle Moore, student at the University of Kentucky, spent the weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moore.

FEELING AT HOME

A recent Louis Harris survey lends statistical backing to the notion that Americans are trending toward medical self-diagnosis. According to the poll, nearly five out of ten U.S. adults showed an interest in using home medical tests. Of those surveyed, 24 percent had already turned to home-testing methods to measure their blood pressure or blood sugar, detect infection, screen for colon cancer, or check for ovulation or pregnancy. The age group most interested in self-diagnosis consisted of those between 40 and 64 years of age. Those aged 18 to 29 also showed a strong interest, while nearly two out of every three people indicated interest in home blood-pressure testing. It seems that the age of home testing has arrived.

COOLEY APOTHECARY carries what you would expect to find in a well-inventoried drug store, including many items for home testing. We are very proud to be able to provide families in this area with all their pharmaceutical needs. Our records are fully computerized so your doctor can check for drug interactions and allergic reactions. They can also be readily available to you for insurance and income tax purposes. You'll find us located at #2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 and open Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-3. MasterCard and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments.

HINT: Sixty-eight percent of young women polled by Harris said they were interested in home pregnancy tests.

KIWANIANNES MEET JAN. 25 AT MAY LODGE

Hope Whitten, president of the Prestonsburg Kiwanians, announces that the first luncheon meeting for the new calendar year will be at May Lodge, Thursday, Jan. 25, at 12:30 p.m., and she urges all members to attend. An interesting program for this event is promised by Jane Wallace, program director for this organization.

COLLINS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Gorman (Eva) Collins was honored with a surprise birthday party given for her by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Collins Jr., her daughter, Pam Collins, and other members of her family, at her home on Saturday, Jan. 13, at 4 p.m.

As the honoree entered her front door from a trip downtown, she was greeted with the singing of "Happy Birthday!"

The large crowd of fellow church members and other friends and relatives enjoyed a period of socializing and fellowship, after which those in attendance enjoyed a buffet dinner served from a table decorated in red and white, and holding a bouquet of mixed flowers, intertwined with greenery. A beautifully decorated birthday cake completed the menu.

With the help of her grandchildren, she opened many attractive and useful gifts as mementos of this occasion.

Enjoying the event with Mrs. Collins, the honored guest, were her husband, Gorman Collins Sr., other members of the family and friends, including Jodi and Gorman Collins Jr., Denise and the Rev. Steve Hopkins, Susan and Tom Foy, Dolly and Bill Pettrey, Patsy and John Evans, Betty Porter, Mildred Whitaker, Rebecca Rasnick, Docia Woods, Lynn nial frontiers, on the Mississippi River and in the California Gold Rush.

The second half traces the rise of Las Vegas as the culmination of almost four centuries of westward migration and chance-taking by America. He sees the town as embodying a link between America's frontier past and the contemporary forward-looking values of the "sun-belt" culture.

Informative as well as entertaining, the book adds an important dimension to our Western history.

Archimedes' Revenge, by Paul Hoffman. The world of mathematics is full of wonderful machines that may soon play chess better than any human being and that have now solved the insanely difficult problem thrown down in a rage by Archimedes to challenge and torment his enemies 2200 years ago. Mathematics is also a world of practical questions that sometimes elude firm answers.

Paul Hoffman's book describes the solutions to famous mathematical puzzles, beginning with the diabolical one attributed to Archimedes that was solved only recently with the aid of modern computers.

And it introduces some mathematicians and their famous problems: Thomas Beale, who in 1822 left in a Virginia hotel a list of ciphers, still not decoded, said to show the way to a treasure of $17 million; Ronald Fesch building the perfect Easter egg, tile by triangular tile; Alan Turing, attempting to invent a machine that can think; and the Prussian, Leonard Euler, solving the famous Königsberg Bridge problem — can a pedestrian go on a round-trip journey that will take him across each of the city's seven bridges only once?

Entertaining and intriguing, the book provides a mix of ancient history and very recent events. The best part is that Hoffman writes for the layman — he makes all the problems, ancient and modern, easy to understand.

Innumeracy by John Paulos. Innumeracy is mathematical illiteracy. In this thoughtful book, the author argues that our nation's serious, growing math illiteracy results in misinformed governmental policies, confused personal decisions and an increased susceptibility to all kinds of pseudo-science.

Sprinkling his discussion of numbers and probabilities with quirky stories and anecdotes, Paulos ranges freely from stock scams and newspaper psychics to diet and medical claims, sports records, elections, sex discrimination, insurance, lotteries and drug testing. The result is a romp through some intriguing concepts in mathematics that will appeal even (perhaps especially) to those who have difficulty balancing their check-books.

The Mathematical Tourist by Ivars Peterson. If you've ever felt as lost as an accidental tourist wondering a foreign country while trying to decipher a math problem, this book will bring you back to the right track.

Professional mathematicians in formal presentations and published papers rarely show the human side of their work. Peterson has written this book to show that mathematics is "rich with vivid images and provocative ideas."

Peterson gives the reader fascinating explanations of terms used in mathematical research. For instance, "Fractals," coined by Mandelbrot in 1975 to denote irregular, fragmented, self-similar shapes, is illustrated by considering the meaning of distance traveled by a determined ant taking an expedition along an irregular shore line, staying within a step of the water's edge.

Be prepared, the "mathland" excursions of Ivars Peterson have no firm itinerary — your first stop may be "Compumania" or you can sojourn south to "Analytica." Peterson, staff writer for Science News, has been writing about this bizarre stuff for six years. As you follow along, you'll gain an insider's understanding of the exciting and important discoveries being made every day — and, just perhaps, mathematics will never be dull again.

ARE YOU AN ALCOHOLIC?

To answer this question ask yourself the following questions and answer them as honestly as you can.

- | | | | |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Do you lose time from work due to drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 14. Is drinking jeopardizing your job or business? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 2. Is drinking making your home life unhappy? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 15. Do you drink to escape from worries or trouble? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 3. Do you drink because you are shy with other people? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 16. Do you drink alone? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 4. Is drinking affecting your reputation? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 17. Have you ever had a complete loss of memory as a result of drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 5. Have you ever felt remorse after drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 18. Has your physician ever treated you for drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 6. Have you gotten into financial difficulties as a result of drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 19. Do you drink to build up your self-confidence? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 7. Do you turn to lower companions and an inferior environment when drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | 20. Have you ever been to a hospital or institution on account of drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 8. Does your drinking make you careless of your family's welfare? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | | |
| 9. Has your ambition decreased since drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | | |
| 10. Do you crave a drink at a definite time daily? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | | |
| 11. Do you want a drink the next morning? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | | |
| 12. Does drinking cause you to have difficulty sleeping? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | | |
| 13. Has your efficiency decreased since drinking? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No | | |

If you have answered YES to any one of the questions, there is a definite warning that you may be alcoholic.

If you have answered YES to any two, the chance are that you are an alcoholic.

If you have answered YES to three or more, you are definitely alcoholic.

(The above Test Questions are used by Johns Hopkins University Hospital, Baltimore, Md., in deciding whether or not a patient is alcoholic.)

Recognizing the problem is the first step to solving it. You must recognize the warning signs, know where to go for help and seek treatment if you or someone you know needs help.

Also, many people have social, family, job or legal problems related to alcohol but don't fit the definition of an alcoholic. Remember — problem drinkers need help, too.

If you have a question you would like answered concerning alcohol or other drugs or their effects, please write to me in care of this paper. Next week — Identifying a chemically dependent teenager.

"HEY, THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW..."

Jan. 5, 1990

By Rep. Greg Stumbo

I'm pleased to report to you that the first week of the 1990 General Assembly has set what I hope will be the tone for the remainder of this session. A spirit of cooperation and determination has emerged among both houses of the legislature and, if this trend continues, you may be sure that this session will produce effective results that ultimately will be to the benefit of all Kentuckians.

Many times voters feel that once they step out of the voting booth their participation in the activities of government is over. How often have you said to yourself "there ought to be a law" about a personal concern? These questions are designed to keep in touch with your opinions on some of the issues we may be considering during this session. Please consider the following items, indicate your response and return the questionnaire to me. Your response will better allow me to represent your views on these issues and you will have an opportunity to participate in the legislative process.

2. There ought to be a law providing for pre-school education as a way to better prepare children for formal education beginning in kindergarten. Yes ___ No ___
3. There ought to be a law to provide medical screening for pre-school children. Such screening should be designed to detect conditions such as vision and hearing impairments that could interfere with school achievement. Yes ___ No ___
4. There ought to be a law requiring all schools to offer computer skills education. High technology training is of vital importance in the general job market and such training will enhance employment opportunities for our children. Yes ___ No ___

5. There ought to be a law to allow Living Wills to be legally recognized in our state. It is each person's right to decide at what point and whether life-sustaining measures should be discontinued in the event of terminal illness. Yes ___ No ___

6. There ought to be a law to prohibit the importation of solid and hazardous waste from other states for disposal in Kentucky. Yes ___ No ___

7. There ought to be a law to ensure that all state highways receive equitable maintenance and funding for improvements and repair as a way to make all counties competitive for new business and industry. Yes ___ No ___

8. There ought to be a law making financial assistance available to small communities that can not otherwise provide clean water supplies to all residents. Yes ___ No ___

Additional Suggestions:

Please clip and mail this questionnaire to:

Making Christmas Ornaments

The Garrett School Hearing Impaired class, taught by Cindi Hughes and Debbie DeRossett, readied for Christmas with a different project every school day in December. The students' parents donated all the material for the projects, geared toward improved reading and ability to follow directions. They completed such items as clay dough ornaments, Rudolph paper bag puppets and popcorn snowmen. Working here, from left, are Chris Burke, Abe Howell, Principal Ralph O'Quinn, DeRossett and Donna Burke.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE Pursuant To Application Number 836-5204 Revision No. 1

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Koch Carbon, Inc., P.O. Box 727, Martin, Kentucky, 41649, has filed an application for a major revision to an existing underground coal mining and reclamation operation. This major revision proposes to add an additional 3.57 acres of surface disturbance and underlie an additional 2.25 acres for a total proposed permit acreage of 319.25 acres located 1.0 miles southwest of Orkney in Floyd County.

The proposed major revision area is approximately 0.30 miles west from Moore Branch Road's junction with KY Route 122 and located 3,000 feet north of the Pilgrim Rest Church. The latitude is 37-25-36. The longitude is 82-44-42.

The major revision is located on the McDowell and Wayland USGS 7 1/1 minute quadrangle maps. The surface area to be affected by this major revision is owned by Elk Horn Coal Corporation. The proposed major revision will underlie land owned by Elk Horn Coal Corporation.

This major revision proposes to add surface area to incorporate a slide in the permit boundary and to add a fan entry for the underground area.

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must have attached a copy of the newspaper clipping and must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, No. 2 Hudson Hollow Complex, U.S. 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. 1-3-3tW.

Drawer 295, Wayland, Kentucky 41666. The new permit number will be 836-5226. This operation affects a surface disturbance of 2.82 acres and will underlie an additional 74.00 acres. No new acreage is affected by this transfer.

The operation is located 0.5 miles west of Wayland in Floyd County. The operation is approximately 0.5 miles northwest from Ky. Rt. 7 junction with Ky. Rt. 1086 and located 0.2 mile southwest of the Right Fork of Beaver Creek.

The operation is located on the Wayland U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map at latitude 37 26' 46", and longitude 82 49' 03".

The application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 503 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653. Written comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow Complex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. All comments, objections, or requests for a permit conference must be received within fifteen (15) days of today's date. 1-17-1tW.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Housing Authority of Prestonsburg will receive bids for the complete construction of the project entitled Comprehensive Improvements/Assistance Program No. KY035-904, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, involving complete modernization of interior and exterior of units and site improvements. (Includes site concrete work and landscaping, vinyl siding/trim, gutters/downspouts, lighting, attic insulation, kitchen renovation, bath GFI outlets and exhaust fans, water heaters, closet doors, and unit conversions). Bids will be received until 11:00 a.m. E.S.T. (Eastern Standard Time) on the day of February 8, 1990 at the office of the Housing Authority of Prestonsburg, at which time and place all bids shall be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file at the office of the Housing Authority of Prestonsburg and at the office of Omni Architects, 212 North Upper Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40507.

For the public use of material and subcontractors, plans and specifications will be on file at the following offices:

F.W. Dodge Corporation, One Paragon Center, Suite 230, 2525 Harrodsburg Road, Lexington, Ky. 40504; Dept. of Economic Development, Minority Business Div., 222 Capital Plaza, Frankfort, Ky. 40601; F.W. Dodge Corporation, Hurstborne Forum Two, Suite 265, Louisville, Ky. 40218; AGC of Kentucky, Inc., 2321 Fortune Drive, Suite 112, Lexington, Ky. 40505.

Copies of documents may be obtained from Omni Architects, by depositing $25.00 made out to the Housing Authority of Prestonsburg, for each set of documents so obtained. Such deposits will be refunded to each person who returns the plans, specifications, and other documents in good condition within ten (10) days after the bid opening. Bidders requesting plans to be mailed to them shall submit a separate, non-refundable check for $4.00 made payable to Omni Architects to cover postage and handling.

Attention is called to the provisions for equal employment opportunity, and payment of not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the specifications must be paid on the project.

The Housing Authority of Prestonsburg reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding. No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of forty-five (45) days subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Housing Authority of Prestonsburg.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Honorable Ann Latta, Mayor and the City Council
City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky

We have audited the accompanying general purpose financial statements of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky as of June 30, 1989, and for the year then ended as listed in the table of contents. These general purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these general purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the general purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the general purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The general purpose financial statements referred to above do not include financial statements of the Prestonsburg City Utilities Commission, the Prestonsburg Recreation, Tourism and Convention Commission and the Prestonsburg Park Board which should be included in order to conform with generally accepted accounting principles. The amount of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures of the omitted funds are not reasonably determinable at this time.

In our opinion, except that the omission of the financial statements described above results in an incomplete presentation, as explained in the preceding paragraph, the general purpose financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky as of June 30, 1989, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the general purpose financial statements taken as a whole. The combining and individual fund and account group financial statements and schedule listed in the table of contents are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the general purpose financial statements of the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the general purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the general purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

THE VALUE OF HOME OWNERSHIP

The owner of a home can truly appreciate the value of home ownership. An owner establishes himself or herself... puts down roots... becomes an involved member of the community. This ownership brings the homeowner security, stability and a sense of fulfillment.

REALTORS*, members of a local board of REALTORS*, know about homes in the local community. As such, they work hard to help you find a home best suited to your budget and lifestyle.

You'll experience a sense of professionalism when you work with a REALTOR*. They do all they can to help fulfill your dream of home ownership.

Let one of the Realtors listed in the Floyd County Times help you!
