Additional hike in property tax is studied :

Board does about-face on utility tax

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd Countians will not see an increase in their utility costs after the board of education reversed an earlier to impose a three percent utility tax at Wednesday's special board meeting.

Board members voted unanimously not to levy the tax, but opted to participate in Tier 1 funding through an increase in property tax rates.

The board cannot set the property tax rate, however, until the 1990 property assessments are received from the state.

Board members discussed a 58 cent per $100 assessment property tax rate in order to participate 100 percent in Tier 1 funding. That figure was based on 1988-89 assessments but, should the new assessment figures be higher for 1989-90, the property tax rate could be less, according to superintendent Ron Hager.

Tier 1 funding is a part of the new Kentucky Education Reform Act that will provide $3 in state funds for each $1 raised by the school district from local taxes. Based on last year's figures, the minimum rate that can be set without participation in Tier 1 funding is 38.5 cents per $100 assessment. Any additional tax over that amount would go toward participation in the funding program, according to Hager.

The board cannot decide the percentage of participation in Tier 1 funding until the real estate assessment figures for 1990 are released.

The board held a public hearing Wednesday before the special called meeting to listen to citizen comments concerning the proposed three percent utility tax.

Three Floyd Countians spoke at the hearing with Dallas Sammons making the longest appeal against the tax.

"I don't think you need the money," Sammons said. "If we take care of what we have, better management of our money, we can do it."

"I beg you not to go along with the tax; put it (a tax) on the property where it belongs," Sammons said.

Sammons spoke for about an hour and a half and made very pointed comments concerning the school board and some of its past actions.

"You think I came in here to raise hell," Sammons said. "But, I came here to speak up; not enough people in Floyd County speak up. Most people sit back and let the other person do it."

Sammons had numerous newspaper articles concerning the school board and read excerpts from most to the board.

"Says here, more students are switching schools. Do you know the reason why?" Sammons asked. "It's not a thing but management.

"Let's all be true soldiers. When I ask you a question, I expect you to be your own man, be your word, be honest. Floyd County's going down boys, whether we like it or not."

Sammons also made several comments concerning board chairman James D. Adams.

"I give you credit for one thing Doc, being a registered Republican in a Democrat county and being able to run it," Sammons said. "President

Dog pack, copier use top agenda

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Free-running dogs and excessive use of the office copier were the top subjects at the Wayland City Council meeting Monday night.

An ongoing problem with residents who fail to keep their dogs under control has town residents asking for stricter enforcement of the city's leash ordinance. Citizens reported that a mother dog and her pups have been seen roaming the streets and are creating a nuisance in the community.

Wayland Mayor Hobart Webb asked City Policeman Danny Franics to contact the owner of the animals and inform them a fine would be levied if the dogs are not restrained.

In other business, City Clerk Carol Stapleton reported the city's copier was in need of a toner cartridge due to excessive usage of the machine. The clerk explained the cartridge, which costs close to $100, was replaced not too long ago and it needs to be replaced again.

Council members, along with members of the fire department, determined someone had been using the copier excessively. The mayor agreed to discuss the situation with the suspected party.

The council also approved a payment of $1,100 to Calvin Howell for the construction of six speed bumps on the back alley. The council approved the four-inch traffic control devices to stop speeders along the road. The mayor and police chief reported the devices seemed to have solved the problem.

Payment to Buford Slone was approved for cutting weeds and picking up trash in the community. The mayor reported 16 large garbage bags of trash were collected from along the roadside and the town's appearance had been much improved.

Also approved was a $70 per month pay raise to the city clerk; and a motion to inform Congressional candidate Will T. Scott he would have to pay a $100 deposit for a political campaign sign to be posted in the city.

Former firefighters issue request list

Current and former members of the Martin Volunteer Fire department submitted a list of requests to improve conditions in the department at Wednesday's meeting of the Martin City Council.

The meeting began with a request from Councilman Joe Simpson regarding a sidewalk near the city's walking track which he felt was a hazard for senior citizens in the area. Simpson said that the sidewalk was owned by the state and that efforts had been made in the past to have repair work done at the site.

"If some older person were to fall over there he might not be found for two or three days," said Simpson. Council members agreed to approach

McDowell man is arrested on pot charges in Morgan

A 33-year-old McDowell man was arrested September 27 in a Morgan County cornfield and charged with possessing more than five pounds of marijuana.

Robert W. Akers was arrested by Morgan County Sheriff Bill Frank Lacy and Deputy Robert Lewis after officers received an anonymous tip that Akers would be harvesting the pot crop. Akers was apprehended after the officers entered the cornfield. A plastic bag containing approximately eight pounds of marijuana buds and leaves, and three mature marijuana plants was also confiscated by the officers.

Akers was originally charged with cultivation of marijuana, a misdemeanor, but the charge was changed to a felony on Tuesday, after Kentucky State Police officers, in a Civil Air Patrol airplane, saw several more plants growing in the field.

City Senior center tops in Kentucky

"Can I scream? Patsy Evans asked the people assembled for the Senior Citizens Center Directors' Workshop yesterday in Frankfort.

With their assent, she let out a whoop that shook the crystal lights in the ballroom of the Capital Plaza Hotel.

Evans had just learned the Prestonsburg Senior Citizens Center, which she directs, had been chosen the top such center in the state.

Following the scream of joy and appropriate thank yous, Evans excused herself from the podium, saying, "I've got to go call my people (at the center). I know they're waiting to hear."

Shortly before the awards were presented, Evans had received hugs, pats on the back and words of encouragement from staff members of other centers who were attending the workshop sponsored by the state Division of Aging. Having won district and regional honors, the Prestonsburg center was competing for the top award against centers in Danville, Owensboro and Mason County.

In addition to a variety of plaques, the local center received $500 from Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperatives, which sponsored the first-time state competition.

The competing centers each compiled notebooks showing a summary of services offered, use of volunteers, member participation and community involvement. They were also visited by state officials.

"What judges looked for is how a center is able to utilize community resources in providing services," said Bonnie Hale, director for aging for Big Sandy Area Development District. "And the Prestonsburg center is excellent."

Other Floyd Countians present for the meeting were: Lois Curry of Wheelwright Senior Center; Darlene Walker of the Betsy Layne center; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Crisp of the Martin center; and Karen Bingham, director of Prestonsburg center's adult day care program. Walker received a certificate for participating in the competition.

Also from the Big Sandy ADD staff was Adaline Stambaugh.

Other area center directors in attendance at the workshop were Audrey Pierce, Johnson County; Sue Richmond, Martin County; Vickie Barnett, Magoffin County; Brenda Maynard, Pikeville Adult Day Care; Sarah Blackburn, Elkhorn City; Gloria Hall and Moselee Williamson, Phelps; and Joyce Sykes, Marrowbone.

Water tainted by blasting, Teaberry plaintiffs contend

Six couples at Teaberry have filed legal action against Coal Mac, Inc. alleging substantial damage to their homes and contamination of two wells. Prestonsburg attorney Ned Pillersdorf, representing the plaintiffs, filed suit on September 27 in Floyd Circuit Court.

Pillersdorf said at least five homes were damaged by blasting which began in the summer of 1988 and concluded in January 1990. Edgar, Verbal, Deborah, and Eddie D. Martin; Gary and Fayette Slone; Jessie Douglas; Reba Fay; Pearl, and Jessie James Jones; Otis and Cosietta McClanahan alleged that damage to the homes includes interior and exterior damage and foundations which are "splitting and cracking."

Water in two wells belonging to Jessie Douglas Jones, Reba Fay Jones, Gary Slone and Fayette Slone is undrinkable and has a foul odor due to the blasting activities by Coal Mac, Inc., the lawsuit states. Pillersdorf compared the blasting to an earthquake, explaining the blasting also caused underground damage. "Basically, the blasting caused a break in the water table and contaminated water seeped into two wells."

Pillersdorf said nothing can be done to save the wells, but the couples hope to have city water installed in their homes or have new wells dug.

Efforts by The Times Thursday to reach Bobby Rowe, attorney for Coal Mac, Inc., were not successful.

A complaint in a civil suit lists only the plaintiffs' cause of action.

Product liability suit is filed after man injured by saw

Prestonsburg attorney Ned Pillersdorf wants "an all male jury" for the civil suit he has filed on behalf of his client, Kermit Newsome. Newsome suffered severe and permanent injuries to the leg and groin area in 1989, the suit alleges, because an Emerson Skilsaw Newsome was operating lacked safety devices and was defective.

According to the suit, the saw was not equipped with an automatic brake, and the protective shield failed to operate.

The Skilsaw was being used in repairs to the roof of Newsome's home at McDowell on October 2 when the incident occurred. The

No exemptions on bridge, Mayor says

Reports that some overweight trucks were being permitted to cross the weight-restricted Bert T. Combs Bridge in Prestonsburg are false, Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta said Tuesday.

"We can't catch them all," Latta said in reference to enforcement of reduced weight limits on the Big Sandy span, "but there is no truth to the rumors the city has exempted some trucks from the weight restrictions."

Latta added that enforcement of weight limits would be improved soon as the result of a loan from the state Transportation Cabinet.

"The state has loaned us a set of scales," the mayor said, "so now we won't have to call in a state officer to weigh suspected overweight vehicles."

Weight limits on the bridge were imposed last summer.

Police issue warning on area check scam

Morehead-A counterfeit check scam is currently going on in the Morehead area, the Morehead Post of the Kentucky State Police is warning. "Unknown subjects are fabricating payroll checks in the name of General Telephone of the South," a spokesperson for the KSP post said. False social security numbers are being used and the checks have been made out to persons with Ashland addresses in amounts exceeding $200, according to the KSP. (The Morehead News)

State slow assessing coal

Inez-The state is moving slowly to assess and collect a court-ordered tax on unmined minerals-including coal-which will yield hundreds of thousands of dollars for Martin County government and the Board of Education. Kentuckians for the Commonwealth, a citizens group which has pushed for the tax on unmined coal, has filed a motion in Franklin Circuit Court asking Judge William Graham to order the state to hire more assessors and work faster. (The Martin Countian & Mercury)

Civil rights lawsuit filed against trooper

Pikeville-Alleged brutality and deprivation of rights are the basis of a civil rights suit filed by a Mouthcard man against a Kentucky State Police trooper. Trooper Michael Crawford has been charged with allegedly assaulting Barry J. Shortridge with a nightstick. The suit was filed in the United States District for the eastern district of Kentucky on Sept. 20. (Appalachian News-Express)

Suit seeks to block state road bond issue

Frankfort-A lawsuit was filed Tuesday, Oct. 2, in Franklin Circuit Court to block the state's $600 million road bond issue. The suit challenges the constitutionality of the bonds and also questions a fundamental assumption the state had made in selling dozens of other bond issues. Major road projects funded by the bond issue include U.S. 23 in Eastern Kentucky and U.S. 68 from Bowling Green to Cadiz. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Secret Service agent's death ruled suicide

Richmond-A U.S. Secret Service agent who was found fatally shot in Estill County committed suicide, officials ruled Wednesday, but investigators still do not know why. State police are not going to close the case until they can determine why agent Gary Joe Bergsen was in Estill County, and what caused him to end his life on an isolated road leading to a cemetery. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Pikeville trio indicted in mail fraud

A federal grand jury in Lexington Wednesday returned a 14-count indictment charging three Pikeville residents with mail fraud and conspiracy. The indictment, the result of an investigation by the U.S. Postal Service, says the trio sold insurance written on non-existent insurance companies to people who bought cars from them through Lloyd's Used Car Co. Inc., no longer in existence. Indicted were Alvis Lloyd Keene, 51, his wife, Beatrice Ann Keene, 34, and Keene's sister, Peggy Schnell, 45. (Lexington Herald-Leader)

Beiting honored as caring individual

State Representative Greg Stumbo and ask that he contact state agencies to initiate repair work.

Councilman Denzil Holbert then requested that a minimum of four lights be installed at the city's walking track. Other members expressed that more than four lights might be necessary for proper lighting of the track and said that they believed that the lights had already been purchased. Mayor Raymond Griffith said that a meeting would be scheduled with representatives of Our Lady Of The Way Hospital to discuss installation of the lights, as hospital officials plan to use the area for emergency transport helicopters servicing the hospital.

Council members were then presented with a list of eight requests regarding the Martin Volunteer Fire Department. The list, which was signed by several of the volunteer firefighters who resigned after last month's council meeting, requested several changes in the department's operations including separation of city police and fire departments along with department input at council meetings on subjects concerning the volunteers.

Mayor Griffith initially scorned the list because it was signed by volunteer members who had resigned and he added that any of the resigned volunteers who wished to join the department would have to fill out new applications and seek council approval before being placed back on the volunteer fire department.

After council members read the list of suggestions individually, a motion was made to go into executive session to discuss the list. Following the closed door discussion the meeting was reopened in regular session, wherein council members said that a special meeting would be held with members of the volunteer fire department to determine what aspects of the proposals submitted would be considered for adoption by the city. No date has been set for the meeting.

All council members were present at the October meeting. The Martin City Council's next regular meeting is scheduled for November 7, at 7 p.m. at the Martin City Hall.

Bush don't have that much power."

Sammons also complained about the lack of information available from the state Department of Education and the local board of education.

C.M. Issac and Buford Puckett also voiced their disapproval concerning the tax and asked the board not to impose it. Both men contended that better management of school funds would be wiser than levying a utility tax.

Board member Mary Hall told the board, before the vote, they should remember they are representatives of the people in their district and should consider that when casting their vote.

"I could afford a three percent utility tax, but the people in my district can't," Hall said.

Chairman Adams asked for a show of hands from the registered voters in the audience who would disapprove of a three percent utility tax. The vast majority of approximately 35 people who attended voted against the tax. Four members of the audience said they would favor the tax.

"It seems the majority of those in the audience are not in favor of a utility tax," Adams said.

Board members questioned Finance Officer Russell Frazier about the affect of not imposing the utility tax. Frazier explained the board could still reach Tier 1 funding without the tax by way of, if necessary, increased property tax rates.

The board of education will consider what property tax rate to set when the 1990 assessments become available.

Property Valuation Administrator Lovel Hall could not be reached Thursday for information on when those figures might be available.

Jim Coffman, with the state Revenue Cabinet, said a date cannot be determined until the preliminary assessments have been turned into the cabinet.

Injury

Skilsaw was placed on a flat surface and the trigger was released, Pillersdorf said, indicating the incident happened "pretty quick."

"The saw walked toward him (Newsome). The guard (protective shield) should have protected him, but the shield didn't work," Pillersdorf explained. "The saw just chewed him up."

Newsome, who kept pressure applied to his wound to slow the bleeding, was taken to Potter Clinic where he was transported by ambulance to Highlands Regional Medical Center. Newsome's wife, Barbara, said doctors at Highlands Regional Medical Center told her that her husband was lucky to be alive. "The saw missed the main artery by the width of a fingernail (about 1/4")." Mrs. Newsome said. "He was wearing bib overalls which wrapped into the saw blade and stopped it." One hundred stitches were required to close the cuts in the leg and groin area.

Efforts to contact Emerson Electric Corporation were not successful Thursday.

A civil complaint lists only the plaintiff's cause of action.

Two people escaped serious injury Thursday when they slid off the road at David. According to Floyd County Sheriff's Deputy Lloyd Powers the accident was likely caused by a combination of rainfall and the presence of fuel and oil from previous wrecks at the site. ## Prestonsburg soldier Army's Northern-Most soldier

by Vince Crawley
Staff Writer
The Stars And Stripes

FORWARD OPERATING BASE BASTOGNE, SAUDI ARABIA - Spec. Eddie Watkins was the Army's northern-most soldier in Saudi Arabia on Wednesday morning.

He wasn't the northern-most American. The Marines, dug in well beyond the dunes in front of Watkins, took that honor.

And to the left of a hill that creased the otherwise level horizon, Watkins and his bunker mates could just see the rear most vehicles of a Saudi mechanized division several miles to their front.

This let them know that there were still many layers of Arabian men between the U.S. Army and Saddam Hussein.

Watkins, 21, comes from Prestonsburg, Kentucky. He's a .50 caliber machine gunner for the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) based at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. And Watkins was one of four men inside a five foot deep bunker dug into the sand. They'd been there a day and would stay for three more before being relieved by the next watch.

Paratroopers from the 82nd Airborne Division originally dug the hole. Then, they abandoned it and the 101st moved in.

"The 82nd might have dug it," said Spec. Don Smith, 26, of Hart, Texas. "But, We're taking credit for it."

He pointed to a 101st Div. emblem that had been scratched onto the bunker's hard sand wall. Someone had also honored a woman named Beth, carving her name in similar fashion.

The bunker looked like an excavation from World War I. Running North to South, it's floor was eight to ten feet long and about four feet wide. Inside were stacked rucksacks, field ration boxes and ammunition cases.

The roof was made of scrap lumber covered with sand, but there were openings at shoulder height for the men to see outside.

No one had a thermometer, but the air inside the bunker felt ten to fifteen degrees cooler than outside. A thermometer at a nearby command post only went up to 120 degrees and had already maxed out.

Watkins' machine gun nest was in a shallow adjoining cellar burrowed into the trench's north wall. There was just enough room for him to crawl in and sit on a sand ledge beside his weapon and go through the dull routine of watching the horizon outside.

On Tuesday, he'd killed a scorpion, he said. But that was nothing compared to the camel spider that had stalked him inside the machine gun nest.

"I took a .50 cal. ammo box and just went running after him," Watkins said, pointing to the scene of the battle. "He jumped from that wall to that one, and down to the floor."

Watkins said he hit the insect three times with the ammo box before it was dead. He used two shovels to send the scorpion to its fate.

Smith, the Texan, said he heard about a camel spider that bit into a steel cleansing rod for an M-16 and dented it.

The bunker at Forward Operating Base Bastogne is so comfortable that all the desert's creatures visit it at night. So, the four men crawl out and sleep under the stars.

During the four day stay, they said they'd eat nothing but MRE's.

Maj. Gen. J.H. Binford Peay III, division commander, calls the 101st a national treasure. It's soldiers were the heroes of the battle of the bulge, and Forward Operating Base Bastogne is named after the Belgian town where they withstood the unexpected German onslaught over Christmas 1944.

The division also had a forward base in Vietnam, and that too was named for Bastogne.

It's possible that this third Bastogne in the Saudi desert could also earn a page in the history books.

"I wish I could be a lot closer," said Sgt. Jack Batten, a 26 year old from Loris, South Carolina, as he looked North. "I really would like to see what the Iraqi Army looks like."

These men may find out.

Let's talk about mental health

In celebration of Mental Health Awareness Week, October 7 through 13, the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center is initiating a new feature in the Floyd County Times. Each week MCCC will publish an article on some aspect of mental health or mental illness. MCCC and the Times hope the readers will find these articles informative and enjoyable.

Do people ever recover from mental illness?

In reality, as many as eight in ten people suffering from mental illnesses can effectively return to normal, productive lives if they receive appropriate treatment. While learning about various mental illnesses, scientists have discovered effective, specific medication and psychotherapies that restore patients to normal, happy lives.

Scientists think some people may inherit a predisposition to certain mental disorders which could be triggered by a stressful life event. A traumatic experience, a childhood of abuse or neglect, loss of a parent or other event may make a person more sensitive to psychiatric problems. Some people suffer only one episode of depression, while others may have repeated episodes. Both the single and chronic forms of the disorder can be successfully treated.

In addition, researchers have discovered an association between some mental illnesses and an overabundance or lack of chemical messages in the brain. For example, some people suffering from depression have a malfunction in their adrenal system, which produces the hormone cortisol. Their adrenal systems don't respond normally to the body's regulatory mechanisms. Other people suffering from depression have abnormalities in their thyroid or growth hormone systems.

However, antidepressant medications help bring these abnormalities into line and reverse the symptoms of depression in 80 to 90 percent of those receiving treatment. When psychotherapy is added to the treatment, these people can better cope with the social, emotional and vocational complications brought on by their illness.

Likewise, psychiatric care can bring much needed relief to people suffering from anxiety disorders. Medications reduce the acute symptoms of anxiety disorders. In treating phobic disorders, medications often are combined with behavior therapy, which exposes a patient to the source of his fear under controlled circumstances. In fact, scientists have found that appropriate treatment often alleviates phobic disorders without relapse for at least seven years.

Schizophrenia, the most mysterious of the mental illnesses, also responds well to treatment. Scientists have found that the brains of some people suffering from schizophrenia have abnormalities in the biochemistry or physical structure. Research continues into whether these abnormalities actually cause the symptoms of schizophrenia.

Psychiatrists know that medications alleviate the severe symptoms of schizophrenia such as hallucinations and delusions, which are the hallmarks of this disorder. Only twenty percent of those who take medications for schizophrenia will suffer a relapse within two years of being discharged from a psychiatric hospital. Once the psychoses are under control, psychotherapy helps these patients understand their illness and learn to distinguish reality from distorted perceptions.

Though no single cure for schizophrenia has been found, the disorder can be effectively treated. Given treatment tailored to their needs, many people suffering from schizophrenia can return to the community. In fact, one long-term study found that of almost 2,000 patients, 25 percent fully recovered and half partially recovered.

Despite impressive gains in treating mental illnesses, only one in five people suffering a diagnosable psychiatric disorder seeks treatment. Instead, they suffer in silence, reproaching themselves for not "pulling themselves up by their bootstraps." Most people who take this approach will, in fact, never get well. Only by receiving appropriate psychiatric assessment and referral to treatment can those suffering from mental illness recover.

Assessment and treatment services are available at your local Community Mental Health Center, Mountain Comprehensive Care. Our goal is to provide the highest quality services to meet the needs of those who suffer from mental illness, are chemically dependent or mentally retarded or developmentally disabled.

The end to Yuppies as we know them?

It is time to wake up and smell the coffee that can only be found in an exclusive shop in that quaint, little neighborhood. Conspicuous consumption must be a beast of the past and this country needs to be serious about the budget deficit.

The restructuring of the income tax schedule in the early years of the Reagan administration created the Yuppie Hydra that has enjoyed a rabid, buy-now pay-later shopping spree, resulting in designer everything. We have been lost in a surreal fog where politicians are elected because they resemble either our grandfathers, or a Ken doll, where spending has no limit and bills never have to be paid.

The federal budget has followed suit. The Reagan administration, elected twice on the promise to reduce the federal deficit, has tripled our national debt. Most of the programs that have been financed have had little domestic impact. Yet, we kept spending.

Lately the fog has been burning off and America is shaking its credit-induced stupor. In short, we're not in Bloomies anymore.

Our elected officials need the same wake-up call. They need to find the backbone to address this country's problems regardless of risk to their political futures.

A good example is the recent budget negotiations, which seem to be largely ineffective. They look good in the headlines, but lack substance.

Granted, the increased federal gasoline tax was a tremendous political risk. But, added to the rising price of oil, this could land the nation in a deep recession. Perhaps a better solution would be a tax on imported oil, which might spur domestic exploration and the development of new energy resources.

With the exception of the welcomed cuts in military spending, however, the budget proposal offers, at best, short-term measures toward long-term problems.

Social security seems to be the biggest fumble in the Elephants v. the Mules game. There is no mention of cost of living increases and there is no attempt to cut the benefits of wealthy Social Security recipients.

The budget proposal helps, but it helps like a bandage helps a corpse.

When all the dust settles, all the noses have been cut off to spite all the faces, and all the mud has been slung, we will still need strong leadership instead of political grandstanding.

For goodness' sake

by Scott Perry

A member of the Floyd County Board of Education said this week that community involvement in schools "can be good, can be bad."

He was half right.

We can think of no instances when community involvement in education can be bad. There may be times when it is misguided, ill-informed or downright unpleasant, but it is never bad.

When a public agency sets itself up as judge to decide who should and who shouldn't be heard, it violates the basic principle under which it was founded...to serve the public.

Any resident of Floyd County, whether they have children in school or not, has the right to question board policies, plans and procedures, and they have the right to become involved in the school system which is funded with their tax dollars.

Community involvement in education often leads to positive action. The recently enacted Education Reform Act is a most obvious example.

If more public servants took time to listen to the people they are elected to serve, they would likely hear fewer gripes and more positive input.

That input should be encouraged.

Dear Editor:

Re: "Words Slap Eastern Kentuckians"
(Lexington Herald-Leader, October 1, 1990)

The Editor of The Paintsville Herald was somehow offended because Dr. Wethington stated "I want to see us take graduate programs into West Kentucky. I want to see us take rural health programs into East Kentucky. I want this institution to truly be one that serves the entire commonwealth."

What the editor did not understand is that UK has a tradition of taking rural health programs to Eastern Kentucky and obviously it is the desire of the UK President to continue and enlarge on that tradition. Those of us who have lived in Eastern Kentucky over the past 20 years or more appreciate that effort.

Secondly, the editor did not understand that the state is divided into regions and that each region is served by a Regional University. A University may offer classes in another region if that Regional University does not have that particular program and if there is sufficient demand. I might add that UK has offered and is offering graduate classes in Eastern Kentucky through the cooperation of Morehead State University and also by satellite through its Community College System. In our particular region, Morehead State University is responding to graduate study needs including the MA in Education and the MBA. The market for other programs is limited.

Dear Editor:

For those who have never attended a Homecoming, I can only say they have missed, and are missing, a rare human experience.

The Wayland Homecoming was just that — folks from all over the country "came home."

The Wayland Homecoming Committee is to be congratulated for bringing this friendly, heart-warming affair into being — especially since so many of the committee members were embroiled in the teachers' efforts to get a much deserved raise — meeting each and every Waylander was like seeing and visiting dearly loved relatives.

How sad to think that the next Wayland Homecoming will be held elsewhere. Maybe Providence will intervene and all can meet again — in Wayland.

My heartfelt thanks to all of Wayland. Thomas Wolfe was wrong. You really can go home again.

Dear Editor:

I have written a letter to your readers. I thought that it might be interesting to the people who know who I am to read about someone who is a little close to the Persian Gulf Crisis right now.

Needless to say, my parents are worried sick about us being over here in Turkey while all of this is going on. So I thought it might be a little relief to them to read something that I wrote in their newspaper. I know that it is kind of lengthy. But if you can edit it and put even a few paragraphs in my hometown newspaper, it would be much appreciated.

Does Budweiser make champagne?

Not long ago I stopped at a store in Martin and saw a display asking if I wanted to pay four dollars more for every case of beer that I buy.

Well, I couldn't say that I did care for the idea so I asked the lady behind the counter what the sign was about. She explained that our leaders in Washington were planning legislation which would raise the tax on beer and other so called "luxury items" and said I could call a certain 800 number to protest.

So, I called the number and a representative of a major brewery told me that she would put my name on a petition which would soon be mailed to our legislators. After that I must admit that I forgot about the whole thing.

Until this week that is. I read that such a taxation measure had indeed been approved in the nation's capital. The tax will affect luxury items such as cars that cost more than $30,000, boats which cost more than a certain amount and beer.

For some reason I never considered beer as something that the rich and famous bought in quantity.

Actually beer has never been referred to as the rich man's drink of choice, thus the expression, "Champagne taste on a beer budget".

A legislator who apparently voted against the tax measure was quoted by a national news service as saying, "Taxes drove me to drinking, and now they've put a tax on that."

Now, I am not going to suggest that we threaten terroristic acts against members of prominent politicians families, but this madness has to stop.

By my estimates the new luxury tax, once enacted, will drive the price of a case of premium beer up to approximately $16. At that price a single can of beer will cost .666 cents.

Could this be one of the first signs of the coming of the antichrist? Could this be the work of Satan and his followers?

I wonder if Nostradamus had anything to say about a beer tax.

Charles arraigned in Floyd District Court

A bankrupt Ashland businessman turned himself over to Floyd County authorities Monday on theft by deception charges after a local fuel company obtained a warrant for his arrest for allegedly writing over a half-million dollars in worthless checks.

Eric Charles, 35, was booked in the Floyd County Jail on two counts of theft by deception for allegedly writing $534,917.16 in bad checks to Continental Fuels of Prestonsburg. Virgil Wiley obtained the arrest warrant for Charles.

Charles posted a $7,000 cash bond in district court and was released until November 7 when he is scheduled to appear in district court.

Charles also appeared in Pike County District Court Monday to face similar charges. Charles was accused of writing $523,294.30 worth of bad checks to coal companies in Sydney and Phelps.

Charles and his wife, Susanna, declared bankruptcy in U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Lexington on September 21. Charles, an Ashland car dealer and coal broker, listed the Bank Josephine of Prestonsburg as one of his creditors. It is estimated the Charleses owe millions to creditors. The couple had been in hiding since receiving death threats around September 14.

Keeping Pace

by Carl Lafferty

Let us take a look at a command little used in DOS today to copy files. The usefulness of this command is evident when you need to copy files from one size of a disk to another.

Suppose you had several files on your computer at home you had written for work. You wanted to be really organized about the way you have arranged your data and you keep it in a subdirectory called C:/DOC. Inside this directory you have more directories that categorize your data into the type of data that it pertains to. You might have a subdirectory named C:/DOC/WORKLET and another one named C:/DOC/ADDRESS. Inside these directories you have files that you have typed at home for work and you decide to copy them to a floppy disk and take them to work to print. You decide to manually make subdirectories on your floppy disk that are named the same as your end directories (WORKLET and ADDRESS) and then manually copy the files into the appropriate subdirectories. (If you are unfamiliar about the COPY command refer to past issues.)

A smile, that is, until you remember that you use 3 1/2 inch disks at the office and 5 1/4 at home. That is no problem because your machine at the office has both types of disks built in for compatibility, but there still is the problem that you will have to copy the files into subdirectories on a 3 1/2 inch diskette. More work than you had intended, right?

Well, let us make DOS come to the rescue. There is a command called XCOPY that comes with your DOS purchased with your computer. It will usually reside in the C:/DOS directory or on a floppy disk somewhere if you do not have a hard disk. This command is a very powerful way to copy files. It will read as much of the file, or a group of files, into the computer's memory as it can before writing them to where they are to be placed. This method is somewhat faster depending on the job needing to be done. We are going to see XCOPY at work in a different light.

What we really want is a command that will take the files on a disk with data in directories and copy the files to another disk. If the disks are the same size this can be done easily, but if the disks are different you can not use the DISKCOPY program. (DISKCOPY will be discussed in the future.) For these demonstrations we will assume a hard disk "C:" a 3 1/2 inch drive A: and a 5 1/4 inch B: Drive B: will contain your data.

Place a formatted disk in your drive A: and your data disk in your drive B:. Type the command XCOPY B:*.*A:/S. The "S" is the important feature. This will tell the program to make your directories on A: and copy the files in B: to them. Many other features exist with this command. To find out about them visit the next PACE Computer Users Group meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7 p.m. at the Floyd County Library. If you need help and we can answer you in this space, write us a letter in care of the Floyd County Library.

This event may be rescheduled or postponed in case of inclement weather.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER—DIST. #1

On October 1, 1990, at an open luncheon held by the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce, I appeared with my opponent, the present chairman of the Floyd County Board of Education, James D. Adams. In that open meeting, James D. Adams once again stated that all it takes to solve our problems in the Floyd County schools is more of your tax money. I say that it takes all of us together! We need to roll up our sleeves, get involved, make responsible decisions, and put pride back into our schools. We cannot spend our way out of bad management, and that is a fact we can no longer ignore. Let's look at the facts that no one can deny:

1. My opponent, James D. Adams, wants to build a new high school for District No. 1 several miles north of Prestonsburg. He says that he can build this school for 6.6 million dollars, and will include tennis courts and soccer fields. DON'T BE FOOLED! The Floyd County School Board has spent nearly 6 million dollars for the new middle school that bears my opponent's name, and they cannot even get the sign to light up. How are they going to acquire property, fill it, run sewer and water lines, and construct facilities that exceed those of the middle school in luxury and accommodations, for just a few dollars more? The simple answer is—they cannot, and at the right time and place (after the election) my opponent will admit this by again asking for more tax money.

I propose that we not follow the plan of James D. Adams, which includes taking the existing Prestonsburg High School and making it into offices for the central office.

I believe we should follow the recommendations of the state, which they made in 1988, and renovate the existing high school to a condition equal to any school in this area, then use the remaining monies for the renovation of Prestonsburg Elementary School, Clark Elementary, and Auxier Elementary.

2. Examine the figures below and you will see that it is not a question of money. With current tax increases, the Floyd County School System is NUMBER ONE IN OUR AREA for new money coming into the system. On the right side below, you have the figures for "spending per pupil" which is the money that actually makes it through the central office, gets past high salaries, favored contracts, and big budget spending projects. This amount of money is that which is ACTUALLY SPENT ON THE CHILD for hands-on education in the classroom! Even though Floyd County School System is NUMBER ONE IN NEW REVENUE, we are FOURTH FROM THE BOTTOM IN OUR AREA for money spent per pupil. We are below our neighbors in Knott & Magoffin counties. This tells the whole story. So I ask you, when the children do not get their fair share of this new money, what will it soon mean? That my opponent, James D. Adams, will be asking for more revenue that they might supposedly educate our children.

Certainly we need better facilities, but we have known this for a lot of years. Repair would have been appreciated long ago, but should be demanded now! Let's spend your tax dollars wisely and not grab for more. Let's put our money on the children and their future. The answer is not more money alone, it's the wise and responsible use of the money the board now has! I personally witnessed the attitude of the chairman on this October 1, 1990 meeting. He held up his right hand and rubbed his fingers together as he spoke of the need for more money to get the job done. He is speaking of your money and my money. Look again at the chart below and see what we have compared to the other systems around us, and see how little of it actually goes to the children. It is time for a school board member that has the courage to ask "where is all the money going, and where can it be better spent for the children"? THAT IS WHY I AM RUNNING FOR THIS OFFICE—to educate our children effectively, efficiently, and to give responsible leadership in the use of your tax dollars.

Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution Meeting

by Tim B. Preston
Staff writer

A joint meeting of the Ashland Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution and the John Graham Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held recently at the May Lodge located at Jenny Wiley State Park.

The meeting began with a buffet style luncheon which was followed by an address from keynote speaker Representative Greg Stumbo. Stumbo focused on the absence of interest in education of the public during the formation of the United States of America, pointing out that the word "education" is never mentioned in the constitution of the United States.

Following the well received speech, Stumbo was presented with the Sons of the American Revolution Silver Medal for Good Citizenship for his contributions to the local community. The Silver Medal is a distinguished award because of its status as the highest award which can be bestowed upon an American citizen by a chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

After the presentation of the award, chapter President James Goble honored his brother Bradis Goble with a memorial tribute, noting that Bradis was one of the first lifetime members of the Ashland Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Clerk's Office earns $24,507 in excess fees

An audit report released by State Auditor Bob Babbage shows that Floyd County Clerk Carla Bolton invested funds which earned $8,641 in interest for the 1989 calendar year and $24,507 in excess fees.

Gross receipts were $4,674,236, according to the report, and the largest source of revenue was from the sale of licenses and the collection of taxes. Disbursements of the office were $4,609,736 with the largest portion being payments to the state for various licenses and taxes collected by the clerk's office.

Babbage noted the clerk's accounting procedures and compliance policies were in good order. The audit consisted of the statement of receipts, disbursements and excess fees of the clerk's office.

National Child Health Day Celebration

Monday, Oct. 1, marked 1990's celebration of National Child Health Day. This year's theme focused on "Adolescent Health." As part of a continuing effort to help young, pregnant teens develop their minds and bodies to their full potential, Our Lady of the Way Hospital has offered the "I Love My Baby" program for one full session, and will start another session in the next week.

Pregnant teens from Floyd and surrounding counties, along with their support people, gather together on Thursday afternoons to receive basic childbirth preparation and to meet other young people in a similar situation. Teens then have the opportunity to share decisions, hopes and fears, build self-esteem through exercises and experiences, and explore educational options. The classes also provide instruction in newborn care and parenting skills, and are an excellent way for expectant mothers to share their experiences with one another.

Some of the favorite classes, according to some of the teens, are "hands on" experiences. Topics covered during the session have included issues evolving around birth, labor and delivery, a tour of the OB/Delivery room at the hospital and a tour of Prestonsburg Community College. Teens also receive instruction on taking care of the mother and the baby through eating right and exercising, Caesarean section, natural delivery, bottle and breast feeding.

Anyone who may be interested in becoming a participant of the "I Love My Baby" program, or learning more about it, please contact us at the Community Health Education Office, 285-5181, ext. 358.

Log home at Minnie being moved; will be relocated in Pike County

by Tim B. Preston
Staff Writer

"This is my heritage," said Carol Likens as she watched workers methodically disassembling the log home of her ancestors. "I feel good about what they are doing though, because I know that they are going to rebuild it in original or better condition."

The home which was built by the Beaux Burnett family around 1834, is located on Route 122 at Minnie, and was the spot where the Turner family originally settled in Floyd County.

The home was reportedly purchased in the late 1800's by Floyd County settler John "Bull" Turner and family, who passed the estate on (Martin), Bee Bird Turner, Lizzie Turner (who was first married to William Turner and later married Edward Hall) and Lee Turner were all born in the old log home. Two of down as the wind blows harder. The weather boards were put on the house by Jeff and Ted Shannon approximately 33 years ago to protect the big logs. Ted told me that the weather boards came from old camp houses that were torn down at Star Bottom.

Likens rests assured that the dignity of the old log home will be preserved by the new owners of the structure, Paul and Edda Chaney of Pike County. The Chaney's spent considerable time marking and numbering every major log and plank in the home before starting the laborious task of disassembling the home. "They plan to make this place as close to original as possible," said Likens. "When they are done this home should look just as it has for years. He is really into genealogy and said that he would like to eventually make the place a museum."

more than one million students who entered the 1991 Merit Program by taking the qualifying test. Commended Students scored slightly below the level required to continue in the 1991 competition for Merit Scholarships, but they have shown exceptional academic promise.

Blackcat Marching Band Going For The Gold!

(Photos By Jeff Sammons and Cecil Lester.)

by Jeff Sammons
P.H.S. Band Alumni

The road to an excellent band is sometimes harder than some people think. It takes a lot of time, practice and 110% effort. Lately, the Prestonsburg band has shown more than 110% in a lot of ways. The band recently traveled to Harrodsburg where their ability paid off in a number of ways. At the competition they received second place band, best field commander, and best Auxiliary. The first for the squad in five years. They missed first place by a minimum number of points and hope to, as their band director would say, "Do more than their best," this weekend.

"The Harrodsburg competition was the best I've seen the band march since I've been here". Joe Briley, the band director, noted major improvement in all sections.

In his second year directing at the Prestonsburg High School, the band has come a long way. As the old saying goes, "Big does 'nt mean better" but the band will be picking up in size thanks to the new middle school program and a steady stream of leadership and support.

The Prestonsburg High School Band, now approaching their fourth competition this weekend at The Blue And Gold marching band festival in Morehead. The band would like to invite all parents and alumni to the band competition as they will vie for yet another "excellent" award.

4-H Conference attendees

Greg Tackett, Larry Miller, Delbert Goins and Floyd County 4-H Agent Willard Knipp represented Floyd County at the Kentucky Youth Seminar held in June.

School Notes

by Misty Little and
Carla Shepherd
McDowell High School

Every Friday students in Bobby Allen's U.S. history and world civilization classes at McDowell High School become engaged in an intense discussion of current events and topics of interest.

Allen said he started the student discussion panels to keep his students interested in what was happening in the world around them. He also said that the panels offered the students something different, and he thought his students would have fun, and learn at the same time.

Each class panel consists of five to six students who pick a topic of discussion that interests the class. Each panelist then researches an aspect of the subject and presents the facts for group discussion. All other students in the class must prepare three questions to ask the panel.

Topics that have been discussed this year include abortion, child abuse, the Middle East crisis, censorship, the teacher's strike, racism, drugs and the environment.

The abortion issue seemed to have created the most interest among students. Everyone has an opinion on this greatly debated topic. Some aspects of the abortion issue that have been discussed are: Should it be legal, or not? Is having an abortion murder? Should teenagers have parental permission? How do court cases such as Roe v. Wade affect the issue? When does life begin? Who has abortions? Should the father have a say in the matter?

Even though the panels are conducted in Allen's classes, the whole school often gets involved in certain debates. Many of the students here at McDowell, and at other schools, are very concerned about these subjects. Some students misunderstand

Allen's intention and think that the panels are an opportunity to avoid class work. Most find that the panels require a lot of hard work and research before class to prepare for a successful panel.

All of Allen's classes seem to be doing a great job with their panels, and learning a great deal in the process.

Editor's Note: The Times appreciates this contribution to our Academic section and encourages students from all Floyd County schools to write articles about their classes, or about their schools, for publication in our newspaper. Your voice should be heard!

This meeting will have important information for all educators, Kindergarten through College, so please make plans to attend and support your regional professional association.

The meeting will adjourn at approximately 6 p.m.

Davis — academic all-star at KSU

Ralph B. Davis III couldn't have known it when he was a sophomore at Prestonsburg High School, but his decision to become a lawyer put him in line for experiencing some of Kentucky State University's distinct advantages.

When Davis, a son of Ann and Ralph B. Davis II, enrolled in the Whitney M. Young, Jr. College of Leadership Studies following graduation from Prestonsburg High in 1987, he knew it would give him a good preparation for law school.

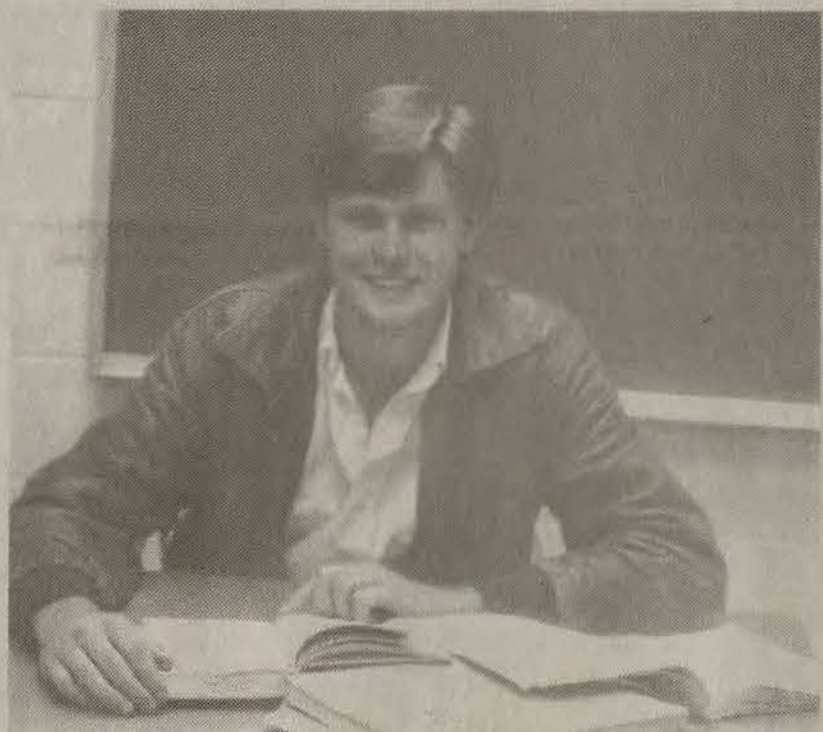

close to all the machinery, I got to really understand how it works," Davis said. Davis is considering a career in constitutional law.

College life has not been all seriousness for Davis. Academic competition has had its lighter side.

Davis says he greatly enjoyed being a member of the university's academic team. The team advanced to the national playoffs last spring in the 1990 Campus All-Star Challenge, modeled after the College Bowl television show. The team eventually placed fifth nationally in total points, winning $5,000 for KSU's academic scholarship fund.

Davis has enjoyed the camaraderie that has developed among the academic team members. Davis and the academic team will be competing again this year. "We're planning to go all the way this year," said Davis optimistically.

ARE THE PIRATES AND REDS AS EVENLY MATCHED AS THEY SAY

The 1990 National League Playoffs began last night (weather permitting) in Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds. The last time the two teams met was in 1979 when the Pirates swept the Ohio team three games to none.

I followed the Reds ever since I was a junior in high school. I can still remember the teams of the 50's, 60's, 70's, 80's and now here we are starting the '90s in the playoffs.

A lot of type from the media and fans from both sides on how the two teams are so evenly matched. How this could be a series that is a toss up. Meaning that either team could win it and go on to World Series play.

The Reds are the top hitting team in the National League. Who's second? That's right the Pirates. The Pittsburgh Pirates leads the National League in ERA. Who's second? That's right again. The Cincinnati Reds. The two teams met 12 times during the season with each team winning six. The Pirates swept the Reds in four at Riverfront. The Reds won three of four at Three Rivers. Pretty even teams those Reds and Pirates.

However, there one area I have yet to read about and hear others talk about and that is intensity, desire, determination and attitudes. These are areas that needs comparison more that averages, ERAs, etc. I think here is where there is a vast difference in the two teams. The Pirates have shown they can win when the pressure is on. They won seven of their last eight games and won with authority. The Reds can be thankful to the Giants for beating the Dodgers in the final week of the season. The Reds backed in because they lacked the desire to win. The lack the determination to win it outright with an offensive showing. The attitude of the club seems to be "we don't know if we can win" attitude. There is no leadership on the Cincinnati Reds. It just isn't there. To sum it all up there seems to be one ingredient missing on this years Reds team — desire.

Here is where the Reds need a veteran to lead them. Here is where they need someone who has been through all this before. Here is where they need a Ken Griffey, whom they forced first of all to retire and then sympathetic gave him his release so he could sign with Seattle. While the gesture was good, the need for leadership still exist. The position Griffey could have filled very nicely without swinging one bat.

Unless the Reds Tom Browning and Danny Jackson get well in a hurry, the Reds are in trouble. The bats in the second half of the season have become anemic. A lack of offense and a pitching staff that has only one starter that has shown any consistency does not spell V-I-C-T-O-R-Y, but rather P-R-O-B-L-E-M-S.

Momentum definitely seems to be on the side of the Pirates. They have more power at the plate than the Reds can produce. Bobby Bonds and Bobby Bonillia each have 30 plus home runs. Andy Van Syke, the underrated ball player can also hit with power. The Reds counters that with Chris Sabo's 25 and Eric Davis' 24. After those two the totals fall off to Paul O'Neil's 16. Sabo's bat has been very quite of late whereas Davis' bat has been more productive than earlier. However, Davis is on the same kick he was last years end — hurt.

The Reds are riding all their pennant hopes on Jose Rijo, who has pitched brilliantly in his last eight games (six complete games). The hard throwing right hander is expected to pitch at least two of the Reds games in the best four-of-seven series. It is a possibility that he could pick three if the series goes the full seven.

Rushes for 92 yards

Gibson Scores 2 TDs To Lead Rebels To Second Win

It was College Football Day at Centre College as the Allen Central Rebels made the trip westward. However, the Rebels went for another reason — to face the Kentucky School for the Deaf (KSD) in high school football.

Tommy Gibson (6-0, 210), a senior halfback, scored two touchdowns and rushed for 92 yards on eleven carries to lead the Rebels to their second victory of the year, 36-26 over KSD.

"Boy, it was a beautiful day for football," said an elated Dewey Jamerson, the Rebel. "We played good football the second half of the game. But that's how it has been lately for us, we play good in the second half."

Allen Central took a 8-0 lead in the first quarter when Gibson scored his first touchdown after the Rebels moved the football down to the KSD 5 yard line. The senior fullback carried the ball to pay dirt and Todd Lucas ran the two point conversion.

The lead didn't hold up long as Isaac Harris (6-2, 210), senior fullback carried the ball across the goal line for KSD for a touchdown. The two point conversion tied the game at 8-8.

"I tell you, that Harris kid is a big one," said Jamerson. "He's not really that fast but he just lumbers along and when someone hits him he just keeps rumbly on. Several people around there was talking that if Harris played somewhere else he could be "Mr. Football" in Kentucky."

Allen Central took a 16-8 lead on a ten yard touchdown run by Jamie Rister, with Gibson running the two point conversion. The Rebels were generating some offense, something they had not been able to do earlier this season.

Harris scored his second touchdown of the game on a 45 yard break away in the second quarter. The two point conversion was no good and the Rebels went to the locker room with a 16-14 half time lead.

"When Harris made that run, players were just bouncing off of him," Jamerson remarked. "He picks his holes well and gets to the right spot."

Gibson, who prior to the KSD game had not scored a touchdown, gave the Rebels a solid lead at 22-14, on a ten yard carry in the third period. The Rebels began to add to the lead on a twenty yard jaunt by Jason Clark. Quarterback B.J. Aldrich ran the conversion and it was 30-14. Todd Lucas topped off the scoring for the Rebels with a five yard run late in the fourth quarter.

The final margin came when Harris, again on a 46 yard run, made it 36-20. If that wasn't enough, the big fullback went on a 44 yard gallop for his fourth touchdown of the game to make it 36-26.

The Rebels got good play from their offensive line, according to Coach Jamerson. "Robert Jervis, Ricky Green, Kevin Clatworthy, Tim Slone, Jeremy Bellemey, Brian Wallen Bret Meadows did an excellent job on our offensive line."

The Rebels had a total offense of 342 yards with 334 coming on the ground. Aldrich had one completion for eight yards.

Gibson's 92 yards led the ground game for the Rebels. Lucas had 86 yards on 14 carries. He had a 60 yard run that was called back because of a personal foul. Rister finished with 79 yards on eleven carries and Clark had 54 yards on just eight attempts.

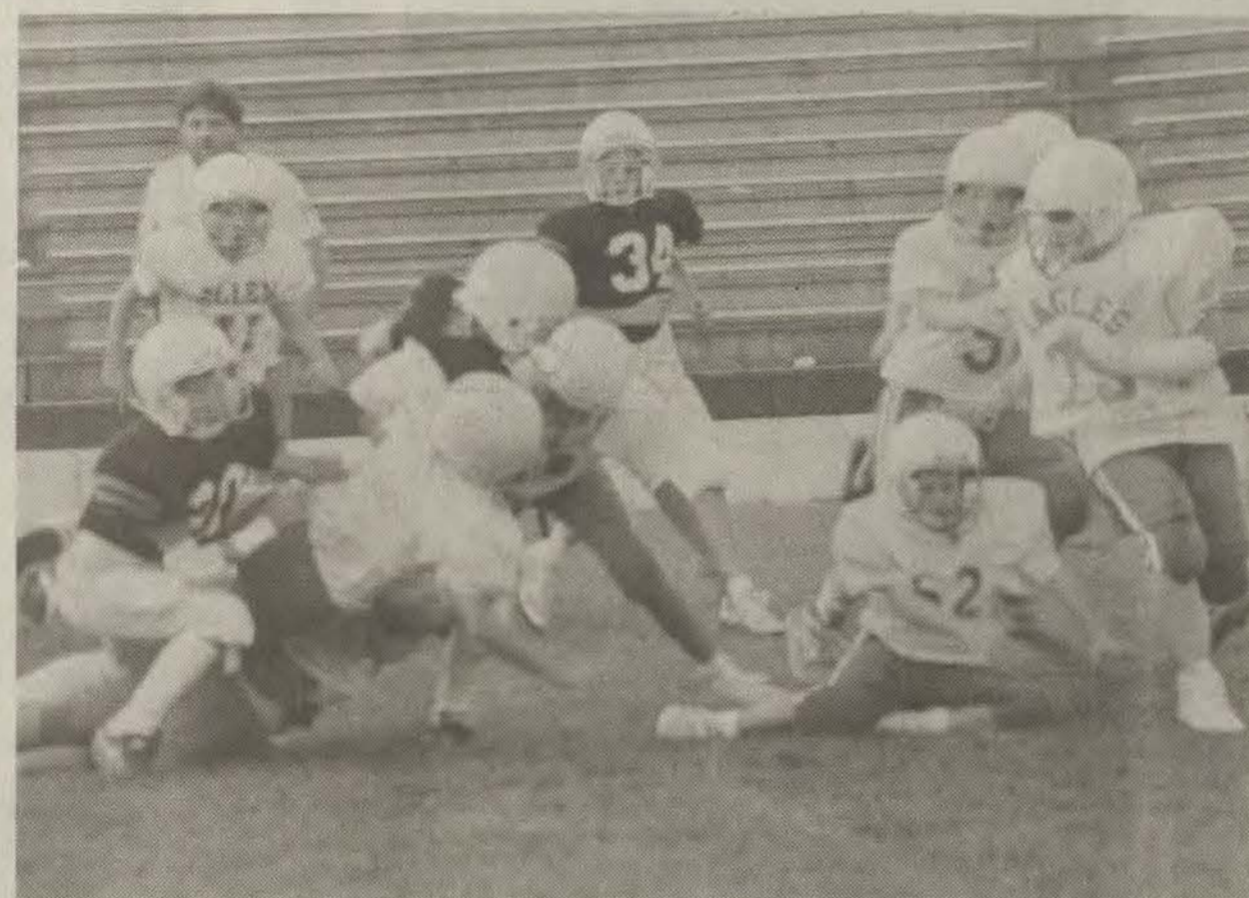

The Rebels picked up eleven first downs in the game and the defense was led by Tim Slone who had six solo hits and one assist. Others that stood out on defense for the Rebels were: Meadows, one solo, seven assists; Clark, two assists; Brian Wallen, one solo and five assist; Gibson, five solo, four assist; Robert Jervis, two assists; James Howard one solo, one assist; John Martin, one solo, three assist; Rister, three solos, one assist; Jamie Slone, two solo,

Craft's 225 yards, 3 touchdowns leads Allen over Inez Indians, 38-0

The Allen Eagles won their first football game of the season as they handed visiting Inez a 38-0 shutout at the Prestonsburg field Tuesday night.

Tony "Air" Craft was unstoppable as he rushed for 225-yards and scored three touchdowns in leading the Eagles to victory. The win evened Allen's record to 1-1. The Eagles lost in their first game to Magoffin County.

It didn't take the Eagles long to light up the scoreboard in the first quarter. The Eagles won the toss and elected to receive. After the kickoff and the ball resting on the Eagles own 22 yard line, Craft took on the first play from scrimmage and rushed for a 32 yard gain and a first down. On first down (second play), Craft picked up fifteen yards on a carry to the Inez 32 yard line. The fleet-footed Craft moved to the 16 yard line of Inez with a sixteen yard gainer where he carried the ball across for a touchdown. Craft ran the two point conversion to give the Eagles a 8-0 lead. The drive involved 78 yards on five plays.

After Inez's first drive stalled out, the Eagles took over with 3:52 remaining in the quarter. After Robert Lafferty picked up fourteen yards on a carry for Allen and Darren Kidd ran for six, Craft broke tackle and raced the sidelines 44 yards for the Eagles second TD. Kidd ran the conversion and it was 16-0.

Inez put together a good drive behind the running of Dane Mills and Joe Maynard, in the second quarter. Actually, Inez had the ball as the first period ended. The Indians moved the football from their own 38 yard line to the Allen 42 yard line, where a penalty stalled out the drive. On the turnover, Allen received good field position and marched from their own 42 yard line for a touchdown. Eagle quarterback, Jason Williams, carried the ball across the goal line from five yards out for the score. Kidd ran the conversion for a 24-0 half time lead.

On the ensuing kick off to the Indians, Inez fumbled the kickoff and Allen recovered the football on the Inez 35 yard line. Lackey carried the ball to the Inez 20 yard line where he went across on a second-and-10 play, for the touchdown. Craft added his second conversion.

Allen made it 38-0 when they recovered a second fumble in the fourth quarter. The fumble came at the end of a pass play for eighteen yards for the Indians. Inez lost the ball on the Eagles 38 yard line. After moving the ball to the Indians 23 yard

Allen JVs Drop 16-6 Game To Jr Indians

It wasn't a very good night offensively for the Allen Elementary Junior Varsity team Tuesday night at the Prestonsburg field. The JV Eagles dropped a 16-6 game to the Inez JV Indians.

Inez took the opening kick off and controlled the football the entire first period. They scored early in the opening minutes of the second quarter when Ken Horner scored from the one yard line with 4:23 left in the second. Richie Masichia added the two point conversion to make it 8-0.

Allen tried hard to get something started on their first possession, but lost 15 yards on three downs before fumbling on their own 15 yard line.

Inez made it 16-0 with 4:06 remaining in the third period on a 72 yard romp by Jason Horner. The two point conversion was good.

Allen came back in the fourth period, taking possession of the football on the Indians 35 yard line. Keith Marsillett scored on a four yard run, bringing the score to 16-6.

Inez had a total offense of 137 yards all coming on the ground on 22 carries. The Allen JVs managed only sixteen yards total offense on 14 carries. Allen fumbled the football once and Inez coughed up the ball once. Allen received no penalties and Inez was flagged for an illegal procedure call and issued a 5 yards penalty.

The loss was the first for the Allen Junior Varsity.

Blackcats Still In Playoff Picture As They Travel To Leslie County

Last year, the winner of the District 2 title went down to the last game of the year as the Prestonsburg Blackcats traveled to Morgan County on a very cold November night. The game was for the top spot in the district. The winner would advance on and the loser would stay home. Prestonsburg came away with a very impressive victory to capture that district title. This year, things are a little different. The top two teams will be able to advance on to the playoffs.

Whitesburg presently leads the pack with an unblemished 3-0 record followed by Leslie County at 2-0. The Blackcats bring up the number three spot at 1-1 (a loss to Whitesburg at home) and has an opportunity to tie for the number two spot with a win over Leslie County tonight at the Hyden based school.

The other three teams in the district — Betsy Layne, Morgan County and M.C. Napier — are without a district win. To stress the importance of this game with Leslie tonight one would only have to say it is a must. If the Blackcats want to entertain any playoff hopes this game is a must!

Leslie County has two other district games remaining besides tonight's match up with Leslie County. Friday week, Leslie will face M.C. Napier in a road test. Napier sports a 3-3 overall record and is 0-1 in the district. Then comes a road game at the always-tough-to-beat Whitesburg, who holds first place with a 3-0 mark and is 7-0 overall. The Yellowjackets defeated Fleming-Neon this past Friday night and host Betsy Layne tonight.

Realistically, it looks as if the Yellowjackets have the District 2 title in the bag, barring any major upsets at the hands of Betsy Layne and Leslie County — which could happen. So that leaves second place for a playoff berth.

The only team that either school (Prestonsburg and Leslie County) has already played is Betsy Layne. Prestonsburg faced the Bobcats at Betsy Layne in the seasons opening game and defeated the Cats 30-0. Leslie County defeated Betsy Layne 72-0 two weeks ago at Leslie County. But last Friday night Leslie fell to Wayne County 27-12 for an overall 2-5 record. Prestonsburg is 3-3.

After tonight's Leslie County game, only two district foes remain on the Blackcats schedule — Napier, October 26 and Morgan County, November 2. Napier is on the road and Morgan County will play at Prestonsburg.

One thing the Blackcats have going for them is that they have already played Whitesburg and Leslie hasn't.

However, Blackcat coach Bill Letton doesn't concede the number one spot to Whitesburg. "I don't think they have sewed it up as of yet," he said. "If we can beat Leslie County and win our remaining two games, then Leslie beats Whitesburg there could be a three way tie." Then the three teams would go to a tie breaker.

"If we win our remaining three games, we will be assured of the second spot in the district," the Blackcat mentor explained.

It is still a close race between Jackie and Mike for first place. The only game they were different in, in last weeks picks turned out to be a tie - Auburn and Tennessee. Watch out! Susan Allen had a chance to move into the top spot but faltered in her picks also. Well maybe after this week we will see how things are going to go. Kentucky is favored to lose at Ole Miss by the Times prognosticators. Louisville looks like a winner and in the pros the Browns and Bengals are picked to come out on the losing end this week. Big game out of the Big Ten, with Illinois visiting Ohio State. On the high school level, it is Allen Central getting the pick in their homecoming game on Thursday.

Duff Follows Hall's 26 Points To 62-39 Victory Over Devils

The Duff Bulldogs went on a 15-4 run midway in the first quarter en route to a 62-39 defeat of the McDowell Elementary Daredevils Monday night at the E.P. Grigsby Jr Fieldhouse. The score before the run was 7-5 as the Daredevils were matching Duff basket-for-basket.

Jeremy Hall scored a game high 26 points to lead the Bulldogs to their second win of the season against only one defeat. Hall found the Daredevils defense a little loose and he went low for some turn around jumpers. The Bulldog standout can find the range from the outside also.

Donnie Combs, the sparkplug guard for Duff tossed in eighteen points and he was on the front end of several Bulldog fast breaks.

Duff would put the pressure on every time McDowell made a run in the game. The Bulldogs led at the half 39-20. A 11-2 outburst late in the third period put the game in the win column for the Bulldogs as they never looked back.

Scott Little, McDowell's center, led the Daredevils in scoring with thirteen points. Ryan Hamilton added seven points and Mike Stevens tossed in six.

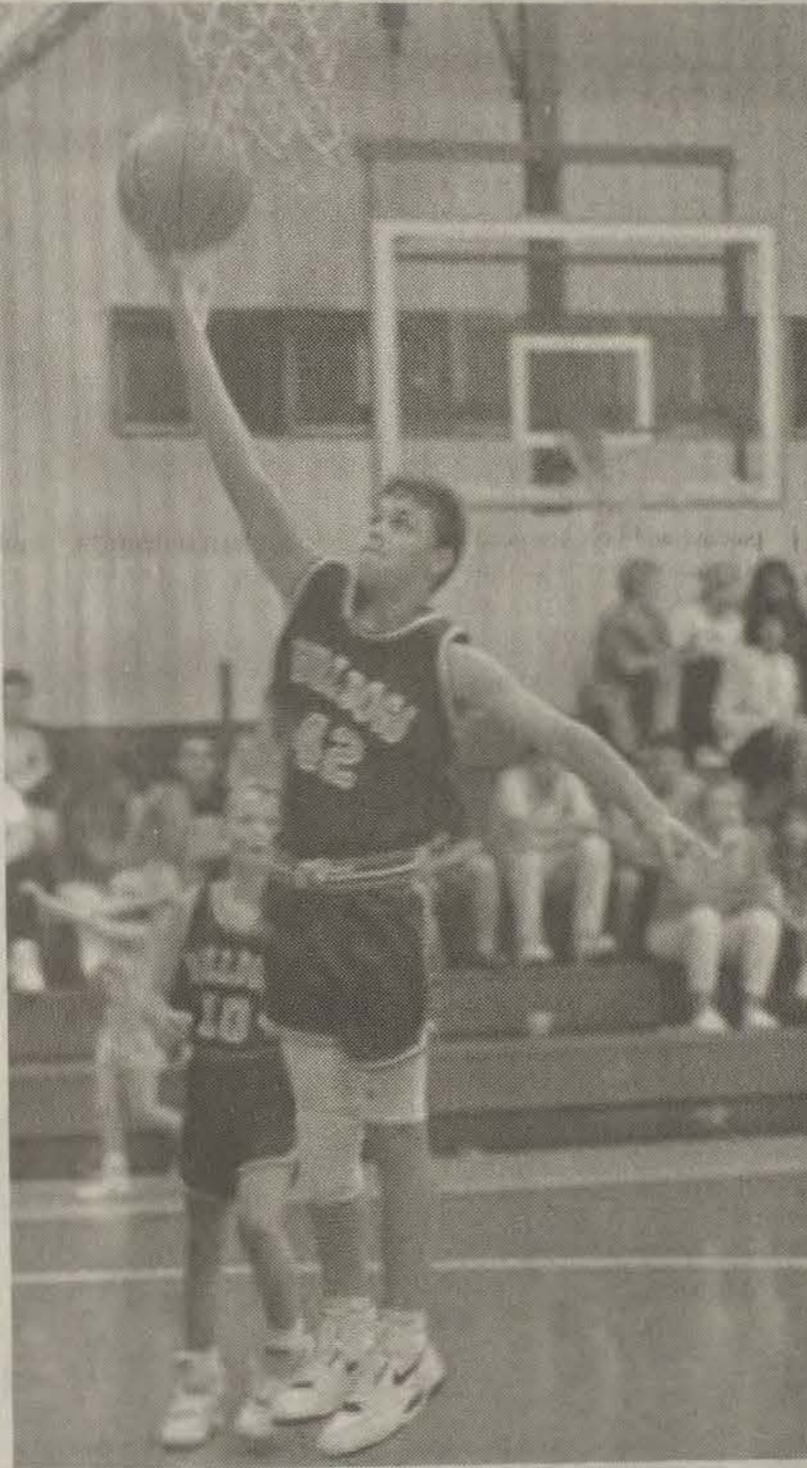

McDowell will host Martin Monday at McDowell.

Blackcats—

get into the playoffs? The Leslie County game could be a good gauge to determine that question. Injuries haven't been too kind to the Blackcats lately. Against Belfry last Friday night, a host of Cats were nursing injuries. Mike Hopson, Todd Goodman, Charlie Thompson and Allen James were sitting out.

Non-district games also remain with Sheldon Clark and Pikeville, both home games.

A healthy Blackcat football team could make the next four weeks very interesting — shades of last year.

Special note on this game. Starting time will be at 7 p.m. instead of the usual 8 p.m. start. So get out and support the Blackcats in their district title drive. If you can not make the game, tune to WKKZ-FM, 105.5 for all the play-by-play by Jeff Meek.

three assist; Clatworthy, five solos and seven assist; David Gilliam, two assists.

Jamie Slone and Rondal Stewart each had one interception. Stewart was playing in his first game.

"We had our good spots and down spots in the first half," Jamerson remarked. "The second half we played football and we need to keep it going. If we can win the remaining games on our schedule, and we can, we will have a winning season (6-5) which would be a first at Allen Central.

"Our kids must keep their heads up and be emotionally ready each week in order to win."

On the Rebels injured list are: John Martin, two broken fingers; Jamie Slone, bruised shoulder; James Osborne, strained knee. Osborne is a wait and see situation when he may be able to play again. Martin is playing taped up and Slone could be out for the season.

"We (Rebels) really appreciate the fans that came down to watch us play Tuesday afternoon," said Jamerson. "We didn't have that many there but we had some and that meant a lot to the players."

Two fans that drove down from Louisville was Shorty Jamerson and Don Daniels.

The Rebels will see action this coming Thursday night, October 11, as they host Fairview at the Don Daniels Athletic Complex for homecoming night.

KENTUCKY PICKED TO LOSE
14-24 THIS WEEK AT OLE MISS

Mississippi has been one of the teams this year that has surprised most experts. Mississippi, 3-1-0 shocked Arkansas two weeks ago 21-17 in a game that may not be an upset. Kentucky has a week off and may show improvement as a result. Kentucky may win if they can get the early lead and if Mississippi is looking past Kentucky to their game with Georgia on October 13.

LOUISVILLE STILL IN BOWL PICTURE

Louisville lost to So. Mississippi last week which ended any thoughts of an undefeated season, but Louisville is very much in the preseason bowl picture. Cincinnati finally won a game beating Kent State 27-24. Cincinnati is idle this week. Morehead also won, blasting Morgan State 47-0. Morehead is picked to lose to Tennessee Tech this week by 8, however.

NOTRE DAME POWER RATINGS NUMBER ONE TEAM

On the national scene, Notre Dame took over the number one position again, and is heavily favored over Stanford (22 points). Number two Florida State will lose at Miami (30-31), but then everyone seems to lose in Miami. Michigan moved to number three when Auburn and Tennessee tied last week and Oklahoma was unimpressive against Kansas.

UPSETS HURTS POWER RATINGS

The POWER RATING was only 20-11 this week in games involving the "Top 50" as a wave of upsets struck the ratings. Victims included last week's number 10 BYU, number 11 Texas A&M, number 15 Ohio State, number 23 Arizona and number 25 Arizona State.

EASTERN TOP GAME IN DIVISION I-AA

The top game in Division I-AA pits number 1 Eastern Kentucky against number two Middle Tennessee State. Eastern is favored by seven points. A victory will just about cinch the Ohio Valley Championship for Eastern and probably put them in the playoffs. Only an away game against Marshall much later this year poses a threat to Eastern's undefeated season.

Prater past
Auxier, 67-48

The Prater Cougars used their running game in the fourth quarter against the Auxier Hornets, of coach Jerome Greathouse, to subdue a determined Hornet team 67-48 Wednesday night in grade school basketball at Betsy Layne. Brent Akers tossed in 29 points to lead the Cougars to their second victory of the season against one loss.

Auxier, a team that could be a surprise this year, got a 31 point performance from Hornet standout Jason Burke.

The Hornets held a four point advantage at the end of the first quarter, 17-13. However, the Cougars went ahead in the second quarter, gaining a five point lead, bringing the score to 27-22 before going to the locker room at half time.

In the third period, behind the scoring of Ronnie Hamilton and Akers, the Cougars began to open up some day light between them and the Hornets. Prater lead by nine at the third stop, 45-36.

"I think they tired in the fourth quarter against us," said Prater coach Zenith Hall. "That Burke kid sure is a good ball player. He is tough to handle."

Hamilton finished with nineteen points for Prater Creek. Brandon Combs tossed in six points and Wesley Collins had four.

For Auxier, besides Burke's 31, Ervin Osborne scored eight and Ty Wright netted six. Catrell Farler and Tony Honeycutt had two and one point respectively.

Auxier is 0-1 on the young season.

Auxier (48): Jason Burke, 31; Ervin Osborne, 8; Ty Wright, 6; Catrell Farler, 2; Tony Honeycutt, 1 at Prater (67): Brent Akers, 29; Ronnie Hamilton, 19; Brandon Combs, 6; Wesley Collins, 4; Darren Kidd, 2; Daniel Cox, 2; Matt Kidd, 2; Shawn Caudill, 2; Jamie Kidd, 1.

Lady Bulldogs Fall At McDowell 25-24

Of the five great lakes, only Lake Michigan is wholly in the U.S. The others are partly in Canada.

Out on the break!

Amanda Roberts, McDowell, scored on this basket against the Duff Lady Bulldogs. Roberts tossed in 14 points to lead the Lady Daredevils to an exciting 25-24 victory over Duff. (Photo by Ed Taylor)

The McDowell Elementary Lady Daredevils outscored the Duff Lady Bulldogs 8-0 late in the third quarter to take a 19-12 lead. After trailing 12-11 going into the period, the Lady Devils went on to win a close one over the determined Lady Dogs, 25-24.

At the end of the second quarter McDowell held a 11-10 lead until Lucianna Francis hit a basket to give the Lady Bulldogs a 12-10 lead. Amanda Roberts then hit a short jumper to put the Lady Devils back in front, 13-12. Kathy Stumbo, Roberts and Nikki Reid scored to open up the seven point advantage.

With 4:08 remaining in the game, Roberts hit a bucket to five McDowell a 21-16 lead. Duff then ran off six unanswered points to give the Lady Bulldogs a one point advantage, 22-21 with 1:29 to go. Stumbo then worked her self open underneath and hit a lay up for a 23-22 McDowell lead. Duff's Francis lead the open break on a run out only to have the shot go in and come back out with McDowell rebounding the basketball. On the trip down the floor, Reid was fouled and awarded two shots.

Reid calmly stepped to the line and sank both shots to put the Lady Dare-devils up by three 25-22 with 25 seconds to go. The free throws were even bigger as Jamie Fultz hit a shot from outside for a final score of 25-24.

McDowell held a 9-6 first quarter lead on the shooting of Roberts who scored seven points in the period. Roberts finished with thirteen points to lead the Lady Daredevils. Stumbo added six and Reid had four. Latitia Wilhite scored two.

Francis had fourteen points to take game honors. Lisa Walters and Fultz each finished with four points. Tiffany Francis added two for Duff.

Blackcats host Special events

It will not be just your usual homecoming events at the Prestonsburg football field next Friday night (October 12) when the Blackcats will host the Sheldon Clark Cardinals. It will not just be the crowning of another "Homecoming Queen", although that will take place also and is the main attraction. However, this year a "special homecoming" celebration will take place as homecoming chairman Freddy James is putting together a celebration of recognizing former player for the Blackcat from the 1960's back.

A lot of memories should flood the Prestonsburg football field as players from the by-gone days converge on the stadium.

A special celebration has been planned for October 12 when all the former players will meet and held celebrate the return of Coach Farrell.

James is in need of any information on any of the past teams, pictures, schedules, scores prior to 1960. If you have any such information contact James at 886-6324. The information is needed by Thursday, October 12.

Craft

line, Craft hit pay dirt when he scored his third touchdown of the game from 23 yards out.

Craft carried the football ten times for 225 yards rushing. Lafferty had 67 yards, on four carries. The Eagles had a total offense of 342 yards, all on the ground.

Inez was led by Mills with 54 yards on twelve carries. The Indians amassed only 79 yards total offense with one pass completion of eighteen yards.

Inez received on five yard penalty, Allen received twenty yards on two flags.

Information Needed For Special Homecoming Football Program

Freddy James is in need of anyone with information about schedules, teams with scores and play prior to 1960. The information is needed for a special homecoming football program for "Homecoming 1990" against the Sheldon Clark Cardinals on Friday, October 12.

TV PIPELINE

Fantasies, ambition fueled Steven Spielberg's career

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I am a big fan of Steven Spielberg. Can you sum up his childhood background for me? Plus, if one is interested in becoming a director or a producer, what would be his first step? Is there a school for it? If there is, may I have the address? —Matt Hua, Riverside, Calif.

A: Steven Spielberg was born Dec. 18, 1947, in Cincinnati, Ohio. While still in grammar school in New Jersey, he shot his first movie — a three-and-a-half-minute western. One day he missed a Boy Scout troop excursion on which everybody spotted a UFO. Hearing about the incident prompted him, at 16, to write, direct and edit a two-and-a-half-hour movie called Firelight, an outer space invasion saga. While a film student at California State College at Long Beach, Spielberg wrote and directed a short called Amblin'. On the basis of this film he was signed by Universal Studios to a seven-year director's contract at the age of 21. He directed a number of episodes of TV's Marcus Welby, M.D. before his Emmy-winning made-for-television movie Duel. His first feature film, The Sugarland Express starring Goldie Hawn, was hailed by critics and led to his directing Jaws. Fueled by fantasies and ambition, Spielberg is a perfectionist and a workaholic. These qualities have combined to make him a successful director and filmmaker. Living in California as you do, you are near some of the best colleges in the world to study the art of filmmaking.

Q: I would like all the information you have on Richard Chamberlain. Place of birth, date of birth, marriages, brothers or sisters, etc. The last series I saw him in was Island Son. Does he plan to do any other shows for TV? —Donna Burbank, Mt. Home, Idaho.

A: Richard Chamberlain is one of those rarities — a native Californian! Born George Richard Chamberlain on March 31, 1935, in Beverly Hills, he has a brother, William. His goal, upon entering Pomona College, was to become an artist. He switched gears after participating in several college theatrical productions. His career was interrupted when he served a two-year Army stint in Korea. Returning to Los Angeles, he studied acting under Jeff Corey and became a founding member of Company of Angels, the L.A.-based theater group. After a series of bit parts, he gained national prominence in the 1961 series, Dr. Kildare. He maintains homes in New York, Los Angeles and Hawaii. He keeps fit by horseback riding, surfing and playing tennis. He has never married and there are no children. Though Island Son has been canceled, I am sure he will be back on television in the near future.

Diane Keaton

The Log Lady, a familiar figure in Twin Peaks, seems to possess an extraordinary, otherworldly understanding. Catherine Coulson has known she would play the character of the Log Lady since 1972. She first met director David Lynch when he cast her in the role of the nurse in his cult classic, Eraserhead. Over the course of the four years which that movie was in production, she found herself mastering many skills. Most memorably, she created Henry's famous hairdo for the film. It was then Lynch told her: "Someday you're going to play a girl with a log in a TV series that I want to do."

Jay Leno will perform two shows for U.S. troops stationed in the Persian Gulf during the Thanksgiving holiday. Leno's appearances will be the first USO shows in the area since Iraq invaded Kuwait.

ABC Sports commentator Al Michaels has become only the second sports broadcaster in history to be nominated for a national news Emmy Award by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. The nomination of Michaels is based on ABC's coverage of the San Francisco earthquake, and Michaels' calm, comprehensive report of the chaos that hit the Bay Area as game three of the 1989 World Series was about to begin.

Danny Elfman, who composed the memorable music for such films as Dick Tracy, Batman, Beetlejuice and Pee-wee's Big Adventure, has written the score for The Flash, the new CBS action-adventure series based on the classic DC Comics superhero. The Flash celebrates its 50th anniversary in the comics this year.

Academy Award-winner Maximilian Schell has joined Wiseguy, starring Steven Bauer, for the drama series' first arc, a six-hour story now filming in Miami. The actor-director plays Amado Guzman, a Cuban-American crime kingpin who has sold out his own people for personal gain. Wiseguy is scheduled to return to the CBS prime-time lineup later this season.

At Matt Williams' press conference with the Hollywood Foreign Press, he was asked the difference between working with Carol Burnett (which he does) and Rosanne Barr (which he did). Said Williams, "I'll say only one thing. It's the difference between heaven and hell."

VIDEO BIJOU

Release of 'Rocky Horror' has been in time warp

By Steven Alan McGaw

The biggest current video news is the announcement that, at long last, The Rocky Horror Picture Show is finally being readied for release on home cassette. The suggested list price is a whopping $99.95, and the date is a very specific "sometime in December."

I realize that many people go to the movie theater far less frequently than they once did because of the comfort and convenience of home video. And obviously my VCR sees plenty of action, or I wouldn't be able to write this column. Nevertheless, I still go to the theater for most first-run shows, 'cause that's the way, I believe, they're meant to be seen. (End of editorial.)

What I really enjoy home video for is repeat viewing. I recently watched Martin Scorsese's brilliant 1983 film The King of Comedy for, probably, the fifth or sixth time; I still laugh, I still marvel at Jerry Lewis' terrific performance and I still notice things I didn't catch.

Another frequent performer in my living room is Running on Empty, a terrific 1988 work by Sidney Lumet starring Jobeth Williams, Judd Hirsch and River Phoenix.

Here's the question: What video offerings do you find yourself turning to again and again? (Aerobics, how-to's and porno don't count!) Write and tell me of return video performers at Video Bijou, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, TX, 76102. C'mon!
