Records will verify, May says :

Bingo revenues went to school

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer and Scott Perry
Times Editor

Prestonsburg High School principal Robert May said Wednesday that all funds raised through a controversial bingo game at the school had been spent for school-related expenses and records maintained by the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association would confirm that claim.

May also said Wednesday that the association's records had been turned over to superintendent Ronald Hager, who denied a request to review those documents Thursday made by the Floyd County Times. The Floyd County Board of Education has asked Commonwealth Attorney Jerry Patton to investigate Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association financial records, but Patton had not yet received those records Thursday.

An effort by the Floyd County

Times to inspect the association's records was denied Thursday, according to a secretary for superintendent Ronald Hager. Hager apparently denied the request Thursday in a letter to Time's reporter Susan Allen, but the contents of that letter were not detailed and it had not been received by the newspaper by presstime Thursday.

The Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association's weekly bingo game was questioned earlier this month when an investigation of the operation by the Times revealed that the game was not operated in accordance with state laws. An attorney with the state Department of Education called the bingo game "illegal."

In a telephone interview Wednesday, high school principal Robert May, a member of the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association, said news reports on the organization's activities wrongly "inferred" that the association was involved in criminal activities.

May said none of the members of the association had profited from the weekly bingo games and that all revenues from those games had been spent for school-related expenses.

When asked about reports that some association members had received "reimbursements" from association funds, May said those reimburse-

Roof fall kills two in Knott

A roof fall in a Knott County mine on Tuesday which killed two miners, including one from Floyd County, has sparked a state investigation questioning the length of the bolts which held the roof in place.

Thirty-inch bolts were used at the Bullion Hollow Mining Co.'s No 1 Mine at Big Branch several miles south of Hindman. Roger Reynolds, supervisor of the state Department of Mines and Minerals' Hazard office, said Wednesday that this length may have been inadequate to adhere the 30-inch-thick seam of slate to the above layer of even thicker sandstone. Reynolds said that the bolts did not appear to have entered the sandstone and since slate and sandstone have different textures they don't bond very well.

The mine's roof control plan is also being investigated by Reynolds. According to both state and federal reports, the mine had relatively good roof and general safety records.

The two miners who were instantly killed by the fall, according to Knott County Coroner Ken Gayheart, were Willard Bailey, 28, of Langley and Arthur Joseph, 44, of Viper.

Bailey's body was recovered from the mine by state and federal mine inspectors on Tuesday afternoon and Joseph's body was reportedly brought to the surface at 1:50 a.m. Wednesday, Gayheart said.

The delay in finding Joseph's body was due to the size of the rock fall which officials estimated to be 6,000 cubic feet.

At the time of the fall, Joseph was operating a continuous mining machine and Bailey was tending the machine's cable, according to mine employee Ricky Jacobs.

Funeral services will be held today, Friday, at 1 p.m. for Willard Jeffrey Bailey, a 1980 graduate of Allen Central High School, at Hall Funeral Home Chapel, Martin. Bailey is the son of Arnold and Geneva Prater Bailey of Hueysville. He is also survived by his wife, Marilyn, his 2-year-old son, Ryan, four brothers, two sisters and his paternal grandmother.

Toll-free hotline is nixed by state

Toll-free state government numbers in Kentucky counties have been discontinued and replaced with a 900 number.

Floyd County residents used to be able to call state government offices without charge by dialing 886-1027. The new number, which costs 30 cents for the first minute and 25 cents each additional minute, is 1-900-896-7500. Persons using a touch-tone phone then must punch in the last four digits of the state office they are dialing.

Officials said the old system was extremely expensive; had no cost control; offered poor service; that the line was out of service frequently; and that only 80 out of 120 Kentucky counties had the toll-free service available.

The 900-number can be reached from anywhere in the United States.

For proposed industrial site :

Bridge pact okayed

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

Development of a 500-acre industrial park near Ivel took a giant step forward this week when state officials okayed construction of a bridge spanning the Big Sandy River near the site.

Floyd County Judge Executive John M. Stumbo told members of the Floyd County Development Authority Wednesday that development of the $1.4 million bridge would be cost-shared by the state, the county and Costain Coal Company, a mining firm involved in coal removal on the proposed site of the industrial park. Eighty percent of the total cost of the project will be paid through the Federal-aid Highway Bridge Replacement Program. Costain Coal will contribute $175,000 toward the span's construction, leaving the county's contribution at approximately $100,000.

The bridge will open to development a 500-acre site which industrial authorities from Floyd and Pike counties have agreed to jointly promote. Property acquisition is expected to begin soon.

The Floyd County Development

Authority also agreed Wednesday to cost-share the services of Pike County economic development director Jerry Vaughn in the development and promotion of the proposed 500-acre industrial park.

Vaughn, a former state Commerce Cabinet official, was instrumental in locating Mountaintop Baking, a cookie manufacturing company, in Pike County.

The Pike-Floyd industrial development coalition hopes to purchase, develop and market the Ivel site with a combination of funding from local and state sources.

Agape': unrequited love

Libby Jones, left, wife of gubernatorial candidate Brereton Jones, presented Patsy Evans, Prestonsburg Senior Citizens Center director, a print of the old Governor's mansion during the open house for the Agape Center on Wednesday. Jones said she was confident that "the love and caring that has been expressed in the number one senior citizens center in the state will be extended to the adult day care center." Pawnbroker charged :

Suit vowed over arrest

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A Prestonsburg pawnbroker claims she was falsely arrested on a charge of receiving stolen property last Friday and plans on responding to the incident with a federal lawsuit.

Becky Kuss, 41, owner of the Hock Shop in Prestonsburg was arrested by Prestonsburg Police Detective Sergeant Jeff Stumbo at approximately 4:30 p.m. Friday on a warrant obtained by Teresa Hall of Wayland. Hall claimed that a ring allegedly stolen from her was for sale at the Hock Shop.

Floyd County Attorney Jim Hammond said he saw no reason for Kuss' arrest and advised city policemen earlier this year that a warrant should not be issued because he felt Kuss had handled the transaction properly. Hammond said Hall told him the ring was valued at $69.

According to district court records, a criminal summons for receiving stolen property was issued February 8 to Brian Nickles for pawning a ring allegedly belonging to Hall at the Hock Shop. The summons was served on Nickles March 27. Court records show that the case was dismissed on April 2 at the request of the prosecuting witness.

Hammond said Nickles said he found the ring near a dumpster at Prestonsburg Community College.

Kuss said she offered to walk with policemen to the jail Friday, but she said Stumbo insisted she be placed in the back of the police cruiser. She was taken to the jail and placed under a $20,000 property bond. Kuss said she was not allowed to put up her personal property for the bond and that she was not allowed to use the telephone at the jail until 5:15 p.m. when, she said, everyone had left the district judge's office. Kuss claims District Judge Harold Stumbo's wife, Pluma, was called about getting bond set and that Mrs. Stumbo said it would have to wait until Monday morning.

Kuss said her husband, Ed, phoned Jailer Lawrence Hale who came to the jail and approved Charles Diskey to put up property for Kuss' bond.

District court records note that bond was approved by Hale.

Detective Stumbo said Hall brought the warrant to the city police

Martin authority gets HUD funds

The Housing Authority of Martin will receive $95,454 to assist its operations this fiscal year, according to Ginger Van Ness, acting manager of the Louisville Office of the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The funds represent annual assistance according to Linda Hall, secretary for the Martin Housing Authority. The federal funds will be used by the Martin Housing Authority to help cover the difference between projected expenses to operate the 128 apartments it manages and the rental income received from the families residing in the apartments.

The Martin Housing Authority is a local agency formed under state law to serve the low-income needs of the area. The Housing Authority is assisted by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Area office will open doors to world market

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

Eastern Kentucky manufacturers and service providers could soon find that the opportunity to enter the world marketplace knocks close to home.

In an informal meeting Thursday, area business and government leaders gathered at the Prestonsburg Municipal Building to review a proposal to locate a branch of the Kentucky World Trade Center in Prestonsburg.

Kenneth Current, executive director for the Lexington-based Kentucky World Trade Center, characterized the local project as an effort to open doors to a "global economy" for Eastern Kentucky businesses. The key, Current said, "is to convince business leaders to think in terms of a world market."

"In the past 25 years," Current said, "we have lost 99 percent of the television market and 30 percent of the automobile market to foreign competition. If I took a poll today of the people in this room, I suspect I would find that each one of you is wearing at least one article of clothing made in a foreign country. It's a different world," he added. "Even sports have gone global."

Current said expansion of the Kentucky World Trade Center, which is itself a part of a worldwide network, would introduce new markets to existing businesses in the state and allow them to compete and survive.

"If businesses don't get into the global economy," Current said, "they face the same fate as the 'mom and pop' groceries that suffered when our economy shifted from regional to national."

Open reception set for retiring president

There will be an open reception for retiring President Henry A. Campbell, Jr. on the Prestonsburg Community College campus on Friday, April 26, from noon to 2 p.m. in room 132 of the Johnson Building. The public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

City officials have already given tentative approval to the establishment of a World Trade Center branch office in Prestonsburg, one of several proposed for the state and the only recommended site in Eastern Kentucky. Current said the city should encourage other area communities to participate in development of the office.

"This shouldn't be called the 'Prestonsburg' branch of the World Trade Center," Current said, "it should be the 'Eastern Kentucky' branch."

The local branch, which could be located in city hall offices vacated by the move of the Big Sandy Area Development District, will provide regional businesses access to an international network of information and assistance for introducing their products and services to the world market. The office, to be staffed by a trained professional, will also offer personalized trade counseling, conferences and seminars, and on-site trade answers.

ments were not improper and represented repayment to members who had spent their own money on school-related activities.

"Reimbursements in and of themselves are not illegal," May said, "there's nothing wrong with them. They were legitimate reimbursements but you all inferred that they were not."

May said the Times had "used stolen information on (the) last article to infer a lot of stuff that wasn't even true. You've embarrassed me and the school and everybody else on something that's not even true."

May said all association funds had been properly accounted for and that "all the records were kept, the expenditures made by check and every one of them is legitimate."

May said all association funds were "going back into the school." He added that questions about a pick-up truck purchased by the Prestonsburg Athletic Academic Association were unfounded and the truck was "over here to be used by the school. It is used by every department in this school. It's used for athletics, it's used by maintenance, it's used by agriculture, anyone who wants to use it and it does not cost the taxpayers a cent and it is right here for the school to use. I don't see what the problem is. You're inferring that something is wrong with that, but no one has said there is anything wrong with that."

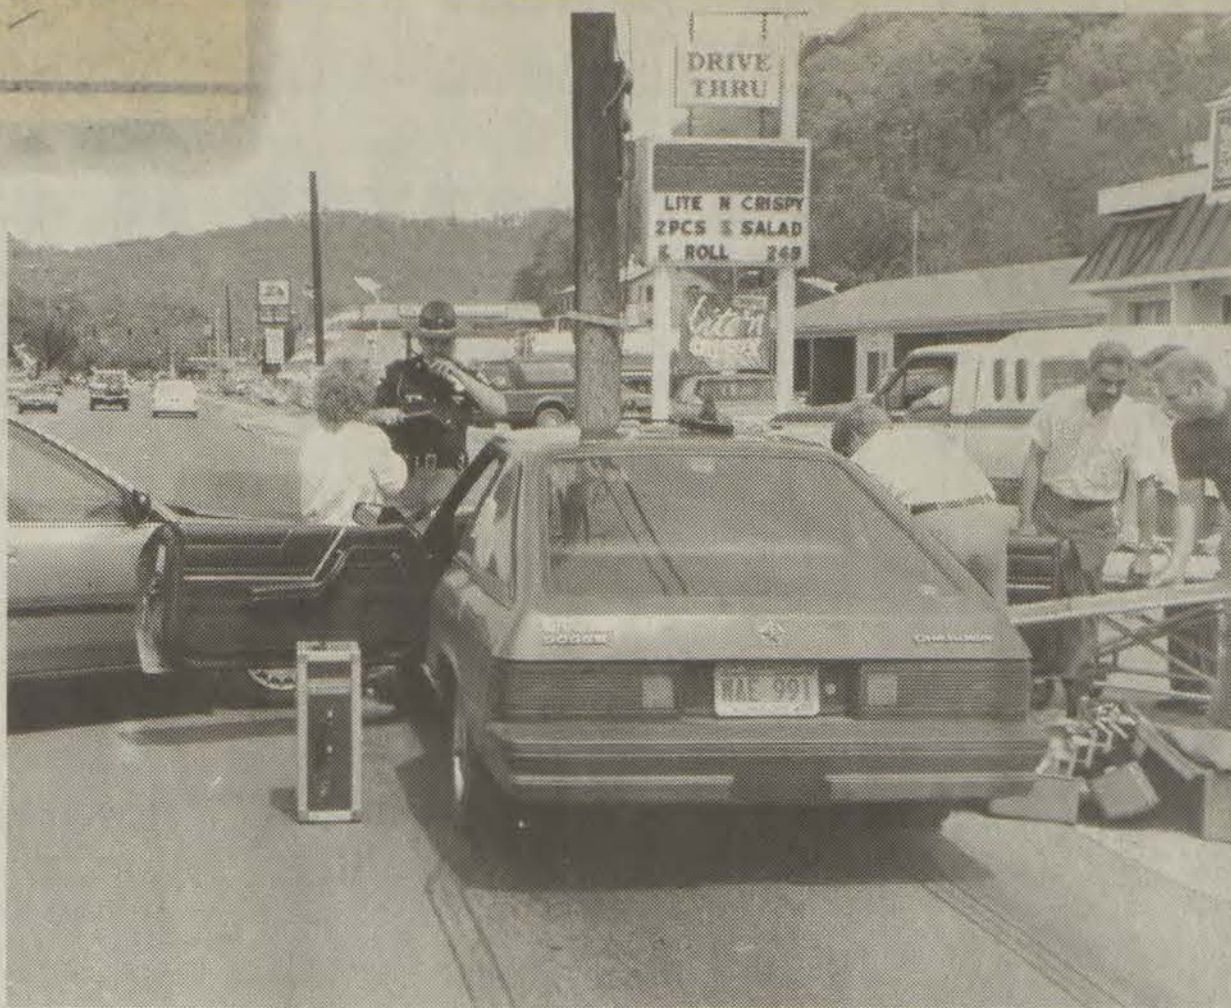

May admitted that his organization had failed to adhere to state laws concerning the operation of bingo games, but he said the group was unaware of the legal requirements. He said he was also unaware of a law that requires charitable gaming operations to obtain a federal tax exemption.

Bingo is illegal in Kentucky unless the games are operated by a charitable organization which meets strict criteria.

"If we had known about it (required registration) we would have done it. It was nothing but not knowing on our part," May said.

May said the Prestonsburg bingo game was started on an agreement with the board of education as an effort to raise funds to air condition the high school. The board was to pay for installing the air conditioning, May said, and the cost would be repaid through the Prestonsburg Academic Athletic Association.

"They (the board) knew at the time we were going to do it through bingo," May said. "Everybody understood what we were doing, there was no question about it. We're not running an illegal game and using school facilities without their knowledge."

Lunchtime collision

An automobile accident around noon yesterday caused a slight backup in the lunchtime traffic in Prestonsburg. Anna Rice, 62, of Salyersville apparently turned in front Cynthia Gillenwater, 21, of Paintsville, attempting to make a left at Patton Street. Gillenwater's mother Jenny Gambill, 44, was transported to Highlands Regional Medical Center complaining of back and neck injuries as a result of the accident, according to investigating officer R. Frasure. (photo by Tess Whitmer)

Local bankers unite for Special Olympics

Employees of The Bank Josephine and First Commonwealth Bank in Prestonsburg recently joined the Kentucky Bankers Association (KBA) in its premier sponsorship of the Kentucky Olympics 1991 Summer Games. They will participate in a Walk-A-Thon on Saturday, May 11. Employees and members of their families will be walking within the city limits beginning at 10 a.m. at the Main Office of the First Commonwealth. They seek the support of their friends and bank customers in sponsoring the Walk-A-Thon.

"Although our banks do make donations and support the Special Olympics, we felt the need to do something more for such a worthy cause," said Pam Herrick, who is co-chairperson of the event and is an employee of The Bank Josephine.

"We felt that this would meet that need and would provide a little friendly competition between our banks while showing our unity for something so worthwhile," added Brian Ousley of the First Commonwealth Bank, who is helping Herrick organize the event.

Kentucky Special Olympics is a program of physical fitness, sports training, recreation and athletic competition for children and adults who are mentally handicapped. Special Olympics is unique in that it provides for competitors at all ability levels by assigning them to competitive divisions based on both age and actual performance. Even participants in the lowest divisions may advance all the way to the International Games. In Kentucky, over 12,000 participants train regularly to be Special Olympians. According to Herrick, approximately 2000 of these will be competing at the state games which will be held in Lexington at the University of Kentucky on May 31 - June 2, 1991.

As premier sponsor, the Kentucky Bankers Association has established a goal of $50,000 to help fund the state games. Both banks will be sending volunteers to assist at the event.

Archer senior citizens scheduled to meet

Patsy Evans, director of Archer Senior Citizens has announced the next luncheon of this group at the Holiday Inn here, will be Wednesday, May 8, at 11 p.m. The scene will be Mexican. She suggests that those attending wear Mexican attire. As usual Tim Collins will be the D. J. A program will be presented following.

S.I.D.S. awareness

The Prestonsburg Professional Firefighters Local 3298, with the Floyd County Health Department, will sponsor a S.I.D.S. (sudden infant death syndrome) awareness class at the Prestonsburg Community College, Pike Auditorium building, on May 7, at 6 p.m. This program is for parents with children between the ages of newborn and two years, also for couples who are planning to start a family. There will be no charge for this class.

Waste management coffer increased by Magoffin County company's fine

As a result of a recent federal environmental crime prosecution of a Magoffin County company, the Kentucky Hazardous Waste Management Fund was presented a check for $55,000 at a ceremony held recently in Lexington.

The funds were received as part of the sentences imposed in the case of AEI-KAARS Production Company, Inc. In that action, AEI-KAARS Production Company, Inc. was ordered to pay a fine of $100,000. Of that sum, one-half or $50,000 was suspended on condition that the $50,000 be paid to the Kentucky fund. A similar sentence was also imposed on AEI-KAARS' president, Samuel T.

Alcus, III, who was ordered to pay a fine of $10,000, $5,000 of which also goes to the Kentucky fund.

AEI-KAARS Production Company, Inc. and Alcus, who operated oil and gas wells in Magoffin County were sentenced in February for violations of the Clean Water Act which occurred when brine was discharged into streams which flowed into the Licking River.

The investigation leading to the conviction and the fine was jointly conducted by the Kentucky Division of Water, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Allen named Miss Knott County

Christina Kaye Allen, 19-year-old daughter of Ted and Fayla Allen of Pyramid, was crowned Miss Knott County, Friday, April 12, at Knott County Central High School.

A 1989 graduate of Prestonsburg High School, Miss Allen is a sophomore at Alice Lloyd College. She will represent Knott County in the 46th Annual Miss Kentucky Scholarship Pageant to be held July 3-6 in Lexington. Miss Kentucky will compete in the Miss America Pageant this September in Atlantic City.

She received various scholarships valued at $2,250, plus other gifts. Miss Kentucky, Nancy Jane Cox, served as emcee and entertainer. She crowned Miss Allen as Miss Knott County 1991.

station and he "only" served the warrant for her. Stumbo said the city police office had not discussed the case with the County Attorney's office prior to the arrest.

Assistant County Attorney Dan Rowland said he was approached early Friday afternoon by Stumbo, who he said had a warrant signed by District Judge Harold Stumbo. Rowland said he told Stumbo the County Attorney's office did not recommend the warrant be issued.

Under state law, pawnbrokers must keep a register of all loans and purchases of all articles effected or made by him. The register must show the dates of all loans or purchases and the names of who left property.

Redeem winning lottery tickets before May 6

Winning tickets from the Kentucky Lottery's instant game, "Derby DreamStakes III," must be redeemed before May 6.

"DreamStakes II" was introduced during the 1990 Kentucky Derby season and featured a top instant prize of $5,000. But it was the losing tickets that made the game one of the lottery's most popular. Players used their losing tickets to enter weekly drawings held between March 23 and April 27, 1990 for an expense paid trip to the Kentucky Derby. Those winning the trips then had the chance to win additional cash prizes up to a grand prize of $1 million. The grand prize winner was Leona Bevins, a widowed grandmother from Shelbyana in Pike County.

According to lottery rules and regulations, each game is closed for payment 365 days after the end of ticket sales. Winning "DreamStakes II" tickets will not be honored after May 6, 1991.

Korean War is remembered as veterans honored

Governor Wallace G. Wilkinson has proclaimed July 27, 1991 as Korean War Veterans Day. July 27 will be the 38th Anniversary of the signing of the Korean Armistice. The Korean War began on June 25, 1950 when the Communist army of North Korea invaded and attacked South Korea.

One thousand and twenty-five Kentuckians died in the conflict along with 53,235 other Americans. Nearly 51 percent of the over 7,000 Americans taken as prisoners of war died while in enemy hands before the war's end on July 27, 1953.

The proclamation urged "all citizens to remember the ultimate sacrifice made by those servicemen and women who so bravely took part in this war."

Between the lines

by Susan Allen

World Trade

The opening of a branch of the Kentucky World Trade Center in Prestonsburg will be a big economic boost to craftsmen and manufacturers in Floyd County and Eastern Kentucky, which in turn will mean a boost to the county's economy.

Imagine selling crafts and machinery manufactured right here in Floyd County to other countries. The trade center will provide instant access to valuable information and overseas connections.

Imagine Korean customers turning over their merchandise and reading, "Made in Kentucky." This should also put our own talents in the local spotlight as well. Maybe once the right connections are made a few more factories could open up here at home. Things are looking up for Eastern Kentucky.

Highway To Heaven—Eastern Kentucky

The Legislative Task Force to Study Highway Needs got an earful Tuesday when Eastern Kentucky officials testified to the committee on the area's road needs.

Recommendations to connect new Route 23 and Route 3, and four-laning all of the Mountain Parkway would open up Eastern Kentucky for trade and tourism. It would also open up this area of the state for business which would result in more jobs for Eastern Kentuckians.

The legislature should heed those recommendations and give the eastern part of the state a chance to grow and prosper like the rest of our state. That way, Eastern Kentuckians could sit back and reap the rewards of central and western Kentuckians flocking to our part of the state to shop, admire our beautiful mountains and find out Eastern Kentuckians are just like everyone else.

No different. Good hospitality, friendly service and open for business. Come see us.

Branch Road

Going before the Floyd County Fiscal Court and asking for a road to moved out of a creek in order for older residents to be able to seek medical attention is both a huge and small request.

Huge as in what benefits and peace of mind it would offer to those who live on Home Branch at Endicott. Huge as in it could possibly save someone's life in the event of an emergency. Huge as making it comfortable to travel in and out of the branch.

Small as in how much money is wasted by local governments every year. Small as in the amount of gravel and roadwork which appears on private property every year in May and November. Small as in how much more money will be received by the new property tax assessments.

Local government says it's private property and to hire a lawyer. Local government says it's between private individuals.

The people say take into the county road system and use our tax dollars to make medical attention readily available to those who desperately need it. Which makes better sense?

Low Bid, No Bid

Allegations that county officials and a Lexington company purposely tried to circumvent state bid laws is disturbing news. No new news, but disturbing nonetheless.

Paying for work in four installments so a project would not have to be bid is illegal. Plain and simple.

Rather than saying, "Let them sue," shouldn't some investigating body be taking a look at this?

Letters

Editor:

I recently received a request from Jesse P. Cole, district manager, District 6, Mine Safety and Health Administration in Pikeville, Kentucky, which concerns the last wish of a seven-year-old boy, Craig Shergold, of Morristown, Tennessee.

Craig has a brain tumor and has very little time to live. Craig's wish, as expressed to the Children's Wish Foundation, is to have an entry into the Guinness Book of World Records for the largest number of "Get Well Wishes" ever received by an individual. I would like to ask everyone in Floyd County to send a card to:

Editorial:

Full time, full pay

by Scott Perry

Before the natives become too restless over the sizable salary increase okayed by city council for Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta, some things to consider...

City government is a business, more so in these modern times than ever before.

There are departments to manage, services to provide and (yes, it's true) stockholders to please.

Prestonsburg is a $2.5 million-a-year business that before Monday expected its chief operating officer to run the show for 7,800 bucks a year. Before Monday, that salary might be considered reasonable since the city had an administrator paid to handle the business end of city government.

Prestonsburg has no city administrator now, and the mayor is a full time worker.

How many multi-million dollar corporations do you suppose pay their CEOs just $7,800 a year?

Council has the flexibility to reduce the salary to fit the amount of work the mayor performs.

City voters, like corporate stockholders, have the option to fire the mayor if he or she doesn't perform up to par.

As long as the office calls for a full day's work, it should draw a full time salary.

Politicians may have asked for all the headaches incumbent to their jobs by asking to be elected. But they should, at least, be paid enough to buy the aspirin.

McConnell's Comments

Sen. Mitch McConnell

A permanent resolution to the Kurdish crisis

The numbers are staggering. The accounts—numbing. The stories of death, illness and suffering among the Kurdish refugees dominate the news.

The current plight of the estimated 1.5 million Kurdish refugees fleeing to Turkey and Iran saddens me deeply. Suffering on this scale should never happen. Nevertheless upon hearing some of my colleagues and constituents call for U.S. military, and not political, intervention in this calamity, I feel I must temper my outrage with reason.

I wonder where these individuals were in January when they wanted to leave Saddam Hussein in Kuwait. Now is not the time to change course.

Kurdish uprisings have occurred in present-day Iraq since the Seventh Century and have become increasingly prevalent since the country's independence in 1932. Including Saddam Hussein's recent offensive, these conflicts are as bloody and brutal as any internal struggle, the world has ever witnessed.

Hussein's troops have used chemical weapons on civilian targets. The Kurds have adopted guerrilla tactics. So, neither side can rightly boast of upright behavior.

Just this week, President Bush underscored the United States' policy:

"The United States is not going to intervene militarily in Iraq's internal affairs, nor will we become an occupying power. But we must do everything in our power to save innocent life."

The world community agrees with President Bush. There is no international support for getting involved in a civil war.

However, there is a political and judicial course of action which the United Nations must not only endorse, but pursue. This past week, the Senate passed my War Crimes legislation. This bill would lay the legal foundation for trying Saddam Hussein and his advisors for their war crimes against the Kurds, against Kuwaiti citizens, and against U.S. and allied prisoners of war.

The belligerent action currently being pursued by Hussein is nothing more than an extension of the war that technically ended on the 27th of February.

Operation Desert Storm used international military power to enforce international political will. The next obvious step is to create an international court to enforce international laws, particularly the Geneva Conventions. We must create an international tribunal, if we are serious about a new world order where the rule of law prevails over the rule of tyrants.

There is certainly no shortage of Kurdish or Kuwaiti victims. Shouldn't we set an example so that these crimes will not be committed in the future?

It was the United Nations which authorized the use of force, and I think it should be the United Nations that once again comes together in legal judgment.

If we act now and prosecute war criminals like Saddam Hussein, the principles of the Geneva Conventions will become practice, crowning our victory in Kuwait. This action will permanently end the barbaric treatment of the Kurds, sending a clear signal to the rest of the world's tyrants.

Pike Hospital is tutorial site for respiratory program

To fill the demand for certified respiratory technicians in the area, the Methodist Hospital of Kentucky has become the state's only tutorial site for a respiratory care technician program.

A respiratory technician performs all types of respiratory procedures, ranging from simple hand-held nebulization to ventilator care of acute patients.

Due to a state law that was passed by the 1990 Kentucky General Assembly, anyone who practices respiratory care in the state of Kentucky must be certified by the Kentucky Board of Respiratory Care. As of July, 1991 all who provide respiratory care must either be certified or be enrolled in a respiratory program leading them to certification.

Fourteen students are currently enrolled in the program which began March 11. Upon completion of this 48 week program, the students will be eligible to take the national boards to certify them as respiratory care technicians.

Students participating in the program, a correspondence program through California College of Allied Health Sciences, gain clinical experience at Methodist, as well as tutorial aid several times each week, and assistance in job placement.

"I've been working to begin this type of program for the past three years," said Paul Hopkins, director of Cardiopulmonary services. "At Methodist, our cardiopulmonary department is busier than those at most hospitals in Lexington. We're busier because we live in the Ohio River Valley, one of the two worst areas for respiratory problems. Our geographic location, coupled with the large number of people in this area that smoke and the predominant coal industry amount to a high number of respiratory problems."

In February every cardiopulmonary procedure performed at Methodist broke all previous records. Over 40,000 respiratory procedures were performed including EKG's and EEG's. Hopkins said, "our staff is large (49 people including 14 students) but the demand for our services and certified technicians to provide those services is larger."

Now that Methodist is the tutorial site for a respiratory care technician program, the certification issue is being addressed.

Pictured are students enrolled in the Methodist Hospital of Pikeville's Respiratory Care Technician Program. A new state law which becomes effective in July requires all individuals who provide respiratory care to be certified.

The great divide

Mrs. Bartum's seventh grade class at Auxier Grade School, created a model of the Continental Drift. In this activity, they created a model that illustrated the large-scale changes described by the theories of plate tectonics and continental drift. Students observed and related their observations to the theories of continental drift and plate tectonics. For extra credit the students calculated an average rate of drift and compared the drift to that of real continents.

Cancer HelpLink referral service is now available

Cancer HelpLink, a new telephone information and referral service on cancer, was launched recently by Alliant Health System.

By dialing 629-5555 in Louisville (or toll-free, 1-800-852-1770), callers can request information about cancer diagnosis and treatment, recent research developments, communication with physicians, and a host of other topics related to the disease. The telephone line is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Callers can discuss their questions with trained medical professionals who use a sophisticated information system to provide callers the most recent cancer information. The Cancer HelpLink staff is headed by Barbara Kruse, R.N., a nurse with 12 years of experience in cancer treatment. In addition to answering general informational questions, Kruse and her staff can provide referrals to physicians for diagnosis, treatment, or second opinions.

Cancer HelpLink's data base is updated regularly with research publications from the most prominent national cancer research centers.

The attached brochure provides additional information about Cancer HelpLink. Kruse is available for interviews—please call the Alliant Public Relations Department, 502-629-8072.

Alliant owns and operates Kosair Children's, Methodist Evangelical, and Norton hospitals in Louisville and provides a wide range of other health services to patients in Kentucky and surrounding states.

Summer jobs available to disadvantaged youth

Low-income Kentucky teens and older youth looking for summer jobs may earn money and experience and enhance their educational skills by applying to the Summer Youth Employment Program.

Nearly 11,000 positions in public and private non-profit agencies are available to qualified economically disadvantaged 14-21 year olds. The federally funded Job Training Partnership Act program is managed by regional private industry councils in 11 service delivery areas (SDA) in conjunction with the Kentucky Department for Employment Services.

"The Summer Youth Program is not only a source of income for participating youth, it's also a chance to sharpen basic math and English skills and gain actual work experience," said Employment Services Commissioner Darwin Allen.

The program is operated April 1 - Sept. 30 under general federal guidelines, although each SDA sets certification and work dates and positions offered.

"For example," Allen said, "all SDAs will serve 16-21 year olds and provide educational courses, but seven SDAs also will have classes for 14 and 15 year olds. Some areas include vocational exploration training."

Most jobs involve office, clerical or maintenance work in such sites as government agencies, parks or schools. All summer workers earn at least minimum wage and most are paid while taking educational courses. Educational opportunities have become an increasing part of the Summer Youth Program since federal law began requiring classes in 1987.

"Each year the educational component expands," said Jill Day, assistant director of the agency's Division of Training and Employment. "About 22 percent of last year's 13,234 participants took educational courses. This year about 33 percent of the youth can benefit from classes."

Application schedules by SDA are as follows:

EKCEP (Bell, Breathitt, Carter, Clay, Elliott, Floyd, Harlan, Jackson, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Lawrence, Lee, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Menifee, Morgan, Owsley, Perry, Pike and Wolfe)—applications accepted through the end of April through school counselors.

Weddington is a graduate of Prestonsburg High School and Central Texas University. He is employed by the United States Army.

The wedding will be held at 6:30 p.m. on April 27, at the First Freewill Baptist Church in Paintsville.

A reception will follow at the Highland House Restaurant in Paintsville.

Chief petty office returns home

James Potter

After serving active duty in the Persian Gulf, Chief petty officer James M. (Jimmy) Potter returned to his home town of Garrett, to a surprise celebration Saturday, April 6, held at the Bethel Church lunchroom at Maytown. Also celebrating the occasion was his father, James Potter, who celebrated his 70th birthday. They both celebrated with many family and friends.

Those attending were the guest of honor, James M. (Jimmy) Potter; Pearl and Jeffery Potter of Virginia Beach, Va.; James and Ora Potter, John, Kin, James and Amanda Potter, Vansal, Alice and Brandon Sparkman, Charles, Tammy and Matthew Amburgey, Linda Barger, Arlie, Sarah and Arron Jackson, Sheila, Mike and Nick Jackson, Peggy and Amy Turner, all of Garrett; Henry and Ellen Reiffert, Edna Click, Johnny and Allen Mullins, Van and Misty

Jackson, Ethel Presley, and Lois Martin, all of Maytown; William Boyd of Martin, Gloria and Jada Hall of Price, Ky.; Kristi, Amanda and Kayla Tackett of Minnie.; Terry Mullins of Hi Hat; Howard, Alma and Mitch Patrick of Prestonsburg. Those attending from out of state were Shiron, Anita and Brad Turner of Burlington Heights, Ohio; Billie and Norleaka Saunders of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mike, Star and Ashley, Bud and Shirley of Greenville, Ohio.

His family expressed their thanks to all those who participated in helping put this celebration together.

Floyd veterans received millions

Floyd County veterans received $3,678,945 during fiscal year 1990 in Kentucky through the US Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

Of the more than $3 million distributed in the county, more than $3,416 million went directly to veterans as compensation and pension for disabling injuries or diseases incurred while in the armed forces.

The VA spent $53,547 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation, and $209,022 for insurance and indemnity payments.

KET airs live from Pikeville

Pikeville—part of Kentucky's Big Sandy Area—will be the site for a special broadcast of Comment on Kentucky, KET's weekly public affairs analysis program.

Comment on Kentucky's "Live from Pikeville" airs at 8 p.m. Friday, April 26 and repeats at 12:30 p.m. April 28 on KET.

Journalists joining co-producer/host Al Smith for this special will be Evelyn Bernit, WYMT-TV, Hazard; Bill Bishop, Lexington Herald-Leader; Al Cross, The Courier-Journal; and Ron Daley, Troublesome Creek Times, Hindman.

The broadcast, held in conjunction with The East Kentucky Leadership Conference, will originate from the Chrisman Auditorium at Pikeville College. Carrie Cinnamon, KET Friends Board member and site coordinator will be the hostess for a reception immediately following the program.

A question-and-answer session will be held following the show. Although it will not be aired, the session will give audience members a chance to converse with some of Kentucky's top journalists.

Prestonsburg attorney appointed to Project Triggerlock

A Prestonsburg attorney has been appointed to a newly created task force which will give top priority to prosecuting and imprisoning the most dangerous offenders who use firearms to commit crimes in the Eastern District of Kentucky, said Louis DeFalaise, U.S. attorney for the Eastern district.

Karen Alfano with the Appalachian Research and Defense Fund will serve on the Prosecutors Manual Committee. James Arhart, Chief of the Criminal Division will coordinate the new group.

DeFalaise said the new anti-crime effort here is part of a nation-wide program, Project Triggerlock, being set into motion by the Department of Justice. Attorney General Dick Thornburg said in Washington, D.C., that Project Triggerlock is a major step in the government's priority campaign against street crime and violent offenders.

"There will be no plea bargaining in these cases. The goal is to protect the public by putting the most dangerous offenders in prison for as long as the law allows," Thornburg said.

U.S. Attorney DeFalaise said the Triggerlock Task Force here is "a coalition of local, state and federal agencies that will focus on major offenders, drug traffickers, gang members, and habitual criminals using firearms in violation of federal law." Federal firearms statutes contain stringent, often mandatory prison terms for a variety of offenses. Triggerlock will assist state and local agencies by prosecuting in federal court gun crimes that may be beyond the effective reach of state law. More federal felons and fugitives also will be prosecuted for gun offenses. DeFalaise noted that President Bush has proposed even tougher gun statutes in a new comprehensive anti-crime bill and has called on Congress to swiftly enact the measures. The 93 Triggerlock Task Forces share the same priorities but each will be shaped to deal most effectively with local problems.

DeFalaise emphasized that participating local or state agencies are full partners in the new program. "Most violent crimes are local and state enforcement responsibilities. We want to give all possible help from the Federal Government to target the most deadly offenders and to make certain that, as Attorney General Thornburg said, they do 'hard time in federal prisons.' The government also believes widespread prosecutions—and certainty of prison terms—will have a major deterrent effect."

Here are some ways Triggerlock will focus on local, state, and federal offenders:

—One federal law permits prosecution of all felons or interstate fugitives possessing a firearm. Penalty: Up to 10 years in prison.

—Another allows prosecution of armed career criminals—felons or interstate fugitives with three previous violent felony convictions or serious drug offenses who are in possession of a gun. Penalty: Mandatory 15 years in prison. No early release.

—A third permits prosecution of persons who use or carry a gun in a federal crime of violence or drug trafficking. Penalty: A five-year term added to the term for underlying offense. No early release: A second offense carries a mandatory 20-year term.

Triggerlock also will look carefully at the possibility of federal prosecutions for firearms violations of state and local convicted offenders who receive sentences far lighter than the gravity of their crimes. U.S. Attorney DeFalaise said Triggerlock builds on a long-term federal effort against gun offenses. Examples:

—Two major Justice Department programs already target some gun crimes: The Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program and the Organized Crime Strike Force Units.

—Justice Department prosecutors work closely with the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms in ATF's Project Achilles, which has achieved substantial success against gun offenses in certain high-crime areas in the past year. There have been more than 1,700 convictions.

Triggerlock will be effectively integrated with those continuing programs, with no duplication of effort. To help implement Triggerlock, Attorney General Thornburg recently announced creation of the Terrorism and Violent Crime Section of the Department's Criminal Division. It will give top priority to developing national strategy against gun crimes.

Professor Leo Weddle, Prestonsburg Community College professor of sociology and psychology was selected by the University of Kentucky Alumni Association as one of five to receive the 1991 Great Teacher Award. The five are chosen from among all of the teaching faculty of the University of Kentucky and the fourteen community colleges. Professor Weddle was selected for his innovative teaching practices, his rapport with his students, and his ability to incorporate community professionals and facilities into his classroom presentations. He was honored Wednesday, April 17 at an awards luncheon on the main campus of the University of Kentucky, where Dr. Charles Wethington, president was the speaker.

Hall and Oates, Thunderbirds to appear at Hunger Relief concert

Tickets are now available for the upcoming USA Harvest National Hunger Relief Concert! This official Kentucky Derby Festival event, scheduled for 8 p.m. on Friday, May 3, at Louisville Gardens, is being sponsored by Bluegrass Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Winn Dixie and UPS. Tickets for the concert are available at the Louisville Gardens Box Office or Ticketron locations. (Call 502-589-9070 for information).

Admission will be $10 plus 4 canned food items, and proceeds from the event will benefit USA Harvest. This concert provides a special opportunity for music lovers from around the country to join thousands of Louisvillians in helping our nation's hungry. And, due to the generosity of all the event's sponsors, they can also enjoy an exciting evening of musical entertainment.

Two artists the New York Times has called "pop music's number one singing duo," Daryl Hall and John Oates, are the featured entertainers. The Fabulous Thunderbirds, known for their uncompromising brand of rocking blues, will round out a dynamite evening of music.

Winn Dixie has committed to 220,000 cans of donated food, and UPS has agreed to deliver at least 10,000 cans to 22 different Harvest Chapters around the United States.

PHS history club goes to Frankfort

Prestonsburg High School's History Club and Society sent eleven members to the Kentucky Junior Historical Society Convention in Frankfort on April 19 and 20.

The members won several awards. Bernard Shayne Wicker, the high school sponsor and Sherrie W. Slone, the grade school sponsor, won the KJHS Director's membership trophy for having the largest number of new members. Wicker also won a blue ribbon and a silver cup for the Rookie club of the year award for the best new club.

In student competition, Martha Slone won a second place red ribbon for her photo exhibit of Floyd County. William (Bill) Cash won an honorable mention ribbon for his individual exhibit of an Indian teepee. The club's history bowl team, comprised of Carter Hamilton, Jody Wallen and Michael Shepherd, came in third place in state in the history bowl/academic team competition.

Club member Carter Hamilton was also selected as district representative for the 13th Eastern District. He will represent the club and the district all year in Frankfort and will help determine the convention for next year.

Other members who were active at the convention were Katrina Thomas, Tonia Hale, Merlin Osborne, Ronnie Slone, Brian Horn and John Goble. Many of the elementary school members also sent exhibits, but were unable to attend the convention.

Both clubs express their appreciation to Mary Rose Martin, Prestonsburg; Phillip Dingus, Martin; and the First Commonwealth Bank of Prestonsburg for their contributions that helped make this trip possible.

UK board of trustees approves tuition increase

Undergraduate tuition at the University of Kentucky for full-time, in-state students will increase by $60 a semester beginning with the 1991 fall term.

The UK Board of Trustees approved Tuesday the new tuition rate of $810 a semester. Rates are established by the state Council on Higher Education, which determines tuition at all state-supported universities in Kentucky.

A mandatory registration fee of $104.75—which covers athletics, student health, student activities, student government and other student functions—was increased 7 percent to $112, raising the tuition/fee payment to $922 a semester, which is 7.9 percent higher than last year.

Tuition for undergraduate students from outside Kentucky increased from $2,250 a semester to $2,430.

The new tuition rate for resident graduate students is $890 a semester, an increase of $60, and non-resident graduate students will pay $2,670, an increase of $180.

The board also ratified increased tuition rates for students in law, pharmacy, medicine and dentistry.

Students at Lexington Community College will pay the same tuition and fees as students on UK's Lexington campus. Tuition at other community colleges will be $340 a semester for resident students, up by $20, and $1,020 for non-residents, a $60 increase.

BL Japanese I student honored

Learning the language

Betsy Layne High School students, Alan Williams and Joe Meade were honored for perfect scores on Japanese I unit tests.

by Anita Kidd

Joe Meade, senior at Betsy Layne High School, was recently honored by his Japanese I teacher, Hiroko, from Nebraska for receiving a perfect score on his unit Japanese test. He was awarded with a hand painted book marker crafted by Hiroko which is traditionally given to Ms. Hiroko's Japanese students who earn perfect scores. The only other student at Betsy Layne who received a perfect score on a Japanese exam was Alan Williams.

Betsy Layne is one of five high schools in Kentucky which offer Japanese I via satellite. It is also the only school in Floyd County that offers Japanese I. The students are taught by television three days a week, and two days each week the students communicate by way of telephone with a Japanese instructor.

Business seminar at Pikeville

The East Kentucky Small Business Development Center will offer a seminar entitled, "Business Loans: Where And How To Get Them". This seminar will be scheduled for Tuesday, May 14, from 6 p.m.-9 p.m., and will be conducted by John Blackburn, VP and Commercial Loan Officer of the Citizens Bank of Pikeville, Jerry Vaughan, president of the Pikeville Pike County IDEA and Mike Morley, general management consultant of the Small Business Development Center.

This seminar will be presented at the Kentucky Power Company Auditorium, U.S. 23 North beside Big Lots. This seminar will be open to the public and free of charge. This seminar is sponsored by The Citizens Bank of Pikeville-Pike County IDEA Program, and The East Kentucky Small Business Development Center.

Adams PTA meets Tuesday

The PTA of Adams Middle School will meet Tuesday, April 30, at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. All parents, teachers and students are encouraged to attend because after the business part of the meeting, a special program called "High School and Beyond" will be presented.

Local high school, college and vocational education counselors will discuss educational requirements and tracks so students and parents will understand how course selections will affect and prepare students for future educational and vocational endeavors. Since eighth graders make choices about subjects that will be taken in high school, the PTA felt it was important that middle school students and parents learn now about how these choices affect and shape students' futures.

Breakfast at Little Nancy

Little Nancy Church at Hi Hat has been having a series of breakfasts on the third Saturday of each month in order to raise money to help with the expenses of building a new church house. (The Old Regular Baptist churches in this area have a custom of scheduling church times and other events in terms of the first, second, third, and fourth weekend of the month). These breakfasts have become very popular and I can understand why.

I take advantage of these breakfasts each time. The members thank me for coming and invite me back the next time. I don't understand it: I give three dollars and eat enough food to account for twice that price. The members always come around while

I am eating to see if I need anything else. I told Anita Comptom one of the reasons that I loved coming to the meal was because they babied me so. I know that on these Saturdays I have a good chance of seeing Thelma Frazier. Thelma used to work at the McDowell lunchroom before she had a heart attack. It is good to see that Thelma is doing so well now, and I always enjoy taking to her.

These breakfasts become more than just a quick meal on Saturday morning. The people who are doing the cooking and other chores needed to prepare the meals seem to be having a terrific time. This mood rubs off on the diners. One leaves the church feeling good because he feels he is a part of a community that cares. I told Linda that this was the best bargain left in the land. Give three dollars and get all those benefits. She told me, "Willie, the three dollars has nothing to do with it. That is the work of the Lord." Could be.

The members of the church (and community members who are not members of the church yet) raise the money to build a new church building. This method of doing things is a throwback to the days when the community took part in what goes on. It occurred to me that the people responsible for carrying out the plans for our new approach to education could take lessons from these people. This type of cooperation is the very thing that the new education package would ask us to do. This kind of cooperation is essential for the councils of the Site Based Decision Making part of the reform.

If you are in the Hi Hat area on the third Saturday of the next few months, stop by the church. You can see what a beautiful church the group is building. You will be treated to a wonderful breakfast, and the conversation and fellowship will be at least as good. I told Anita Comptom that I hoped they were very successful and got the money for the church soon, but I went on to say that I hoped they would continue to have the breakfasts for at least the next thirty years.

Soapbox

And a-one, and a-two, and a-three, now stretch to the right... That's right, spring is here which means bathing suit weather is just around the corner, and if you're anything like me you can't stand the thought of seeing your thighs again. I guess the only answer is diet and exercise, neither of which is very popular. Ah well, it is a burden we must bear, especially us females who like to look nice for the male gender.

The other day some of the women in the office were sitting around the lunch table munching on salads and discussing weight loss, or weight maintenance as Susan prefers to call it. Everyone had a horror story of how they had once lost so much weight and then, poof, gained it all back again. I'm no exception. Each time I go off to some Army function or another I always lose an amazing amount of excess flesh. It started me thinking about how I am able to accomplish this during times of active duty but not while I'm playing my civilian role.

I imagine the biggest contributing factor is Army chow. Unappetizing is an understatement. Most times I do tend to exercise a little bit more, but I usually try to minimize that as much as possible. So, after much thought, I've determined that it is a whole change of lifestyle rather than the addition of an exercise program or calorie counting.

Now, the question is, how do I accomplish this monumental task? Easy, I tell my comrades in the weight loss battle, I just learn to hate food, no matter how good it looks or tastes. When I bounced this theory off the girls they were astounded to say the least. "Just how do you plan on doing that, Tess?" they cynically replied.

"Willpower, that's all it is. A simple matter, right?" I retorted.

"Right."

I could tell they weren't convinced. But, since willpower is something I've always wanted and I have not yet found in stores, I decided I must manufacture it myself. The recipe I'm trying includes the 10 percent of willpower I already have, 25 percent guilt, 15 percent pride, 15 percent self-loathing and 35 percent humiliation. The co-workers graciously volunteered to supply the humiliation. We agreed that we would all report back to each other the amount of exercise we did the day before and be our own support group.

With this recipe, a few carrot sticks to get me over that half an hour from 3-3:30 p.m. where I feel I must eat or die, some shock therapy (translate "mirror and scale sessions"), a good diet and some semi-strenuous exercise, I can do this. I can, I swear. I know I can. I'm the little engine that could or the ant that moved the rubber tree plant.

See, it's working already.

In addition to trying to get back into work these days, I am also struggling on a decision about where to live. Apartment hunting is not one of my favorite things. I guess it rates right up there with dieting and exercising.

I tried running an ad in the paper and got a few calls. Of course, I also got calls from people wanting to know about the apartment I have for rent. Since there are not a lot of apartment "complexes" in this region, apartment hunting really means looking at the upper level of someone's house or a small rental home. This is not easy.

I remember looking for a place to live back in Ohio a few years ago. I went from one complex to another and must have had 15 vacancies to choose from. I recall that I ended up going back to the first place I considered. I'll probably do the same thing this time and re-rent my old place, but it is nice to have a choice.

Maybe I'm too picky. I'm trying to find somewhere that is not too secluded, yet not crowded with small children. Somewhere with a lot of closet space or a storage room, a large bedroom and an up-to-date kitchen and bathroom. That sounds simple enough, but here's the kicker, I need one close to Prestonsburg.

I have come to realize that everyone has a different definition of "close" in these parts. My definition means "within five miles." Am I wrong? Can't somebody help me?

Luckily I have a good friend with whom I'm staying, who has just gone through searching for a place to live and has something just like what I'm looking for. So she understands how long this could take and is willing to put me up for the duration. After all, what are friends for? I figure if I stay with her long enough I'll have the perfect volunteer to help me move—a person who is dying to get me out of her house.

Adams honored at Union College

Billy R. Adams of West Van Lear was honored recently during Union College's annual Honors Day Convocation on April 4.

Adams received the Health and Physical Education Faculty Award, given to the senior health or physical education major with the highest cumulative academic standing.

Adams was also named one of the Top Twelve Campus Men.

Union College in Barbourville is a four-year liberal arts school affiliated with the United Methodist Church, and was founded in 1879.

Floyd students receive ALC scholarship

Three Floyd County students are the recipients of Alice Lloyd College's most prestigious scholarship—the Memorial Scholarship.

Students receiving the scholarship are Franklin Ray Stumbo, son of Harlan Stumbo of Minnie; Gregory Alan Tackett, son of Harvey Tackett of Teaberry; and Kevin Walter Garrett, son of James Danny Garrett of Prestonsburg.

The memorial scholarship guarantees the student room, board and tuition expenses at Alice Lloyd College for the academic year. The scholarship is the equivalent of an annual grant of $8,272. The scholarship will remain in effect each succeeding year for four years so long as the student pursues 15 credit hours each semester at Alice Lloyd College and maintains at least a 3.0 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale), "B" average.

WHS plants trees to celebrate Earth Day

by Tonya Johnson

Wheelwright High School has done it again. For the second year Carol Stumbo, leading her Earth Day troops, has planted one hundred white pine trees. In the last three weeks the journalism class has not only planted trees, but they have cleaned up the environment surrounding the school and even encouraged the other students to take part in the festivities.

The class is divided into two groups—one consists of ten students and the other consists of eight students. Both groups have their own ideas and have planned their own celebration on Earth Day 1991, April 22.

Even though the students didn't have much time to decide on what they were going to do, the tree planting idea was successful. The members of group two, Tonya Johnson, Tracee Hutton, Billy Ray, Christy Lackey, Shelia Jenkins, Beth Cook, Darrin Johnson, and Polly Slone, have all worked hard on the project. Several of the students in group two voluntarily planted trees in the yards of many citizens after they donated trees. Each person who received a tree had to sign a contract which stated they are fully responsible for the tree after it was planted and that they agreed to take care of it.

Planting trees is one of the most important tasks of an Earth Day troop. Not only does a tree add beauty to the environment but it removes carbon dioxide, which is harmful to humans. Therefore, students said they felt as if they had planted several friends—so to speak.

Native Pike countian is outstanding administrator

An innovative Eastern Kentucky school superintendent has been recognized for his professional achievements by the Morehead State University Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa.

Larry M. Burke, Pike County School Superintendent, received the 1990 Outstanding Administrator Award. In his current post since 1989, Burke began his career as a classroom teacher in 1965 in Orlando, Fla., and served one year as English Department chairperson at Cherokee Junior High School there.

Returning to Eastern Kentucky in 1967, the Virgie native taught at Millard High School in Pikeville and later became principal. An administrator with the county school system since 1976, Burke worked his way up through the ranks holding various posts, including director of special education, supervisor of gifted education, director of public relations, director of vocational education and director of personnel.

Describing Burke as "innovative and creative," one colleague said the superintendent was responsible for "several reforms in the Pike County schools which have brought that system to the forefront in Eastern Kentucky."

Burke earned his baccalaureate degree from Pikeville College, majoring in English and minoring in social studies. He received the M.A. degree in educational psychology and the Rank I certification in educational administration from Eastern Kentucky University.

He is active at the national and state level in the Association of School Administrators and the Association of School Superintendents as well as holding membership in the Kentucky Education Association.

That's a lotta bull

Call it coincidence, but it seemed appropriate that Washington, D.C. was the site of a robbery which netted thieves over two tons of elephant manure.

It didn't necessarily concern me how the robbers managed to pilfer the fertilizer from the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus location. I was more intrigued as to why. A telephone call to the circus' main office netted little insight into the incident.

"Sir," I began. "I'm calling from Eastern Kentucky. I'd like to know if you have any suspects in the recent robbery of the elephant manure?"

"Are Eastern Kentuckians interested in manure?" the informant asked.

"Only when it's coming out of Washington," I replied.

"I see," he answered. "So far, we're up to our knees in speculation, but no real evidence."

"Did they use shovels?"

"The equipment they used confuses us because it was hot."

"Everything stolen is hot."

"No, Maam," the man intoned. "This stuff was really hot."

"Why would anyone do such a thing?" I asked.

"It could have been a farmer, or a landscaping firm.

No one saw or heard a thing."

"What do the police think?"

"They said they wouldn't touch the stuff with a ten foot billy club."

"I can't understand, but tell me about your investigation."

"It's a smelly situation, but if you're sure you can stomach the nasty details, I'll proceed."

"Dump it on me," I advised.

"Well, here's the poop, er, I mean scoop. The robbery took place about 2 a.m. after the elephants had been fed and watered. The trainer said he didn't notice anything unusual except one of the elephants had an odd expression on his face."

"What do you mean by odd?"

"Said one of them had a constipated look on his trunk. He should have paid attention because when the trainer awakened the next morning, the manure was gone."

"Was he upset?"

"Upset? Hell, he was elated!" the informant exclaimed. "That's the down side of his job."

Realizing how much our dog can deposit after digesting only two cups of Kibbles and Cheesy Chews, I sympathized. I could only imagine what a herd of elephants could dispose of after a hay and grain feeding.

"Do you intend to prosecute?"

"For stealing elephant doo doo? There's no stinking law against it. There should be though."

"I agree. Have you contacted your legislator?"

"Why? He may be the culprit. He's been shoveling it for so long now, he's probably acquired an appetite for it."

I couldn't argue that point as I thanked him for his time and hung up the telephone, leaving me to ponder the revelations of our conversation. What puzzled me most—aside from why—was that no one had seen or heard anything. But realizing suspects in robberies can be hard to sniff out, this case seemed to me like an investigator's dream.

"Jimmie," I said when my husband came home from work. "I made a long-distance call to Washington, D.C. today."

"How was the president?"

"Don't be absurd. I called about the elephant manure theft."

"Sara," Jimmie lamented. "Your mind's so cluttered up with crap, your brain probably resembles a dish garden. Why would you waste money to call about something so stupid?"

"I'm fascinated about the mentality of a manure thief."

"Why? Don't great minds think alike?"

He can laugh all he wants, but if Barbara Bush gets an award next month for growing a 40 pound American Beauty in the White House Rose Garden, he'll realize my interest.

How does banking benefit my and other communities? This is a seemingly complex question which in fact is quite simple.

There are many ways banking benefits the communities in Kentucky and the rest of the United States. Banks give us money without banking we wouldn't have money; and without money we wouldn't be able to buy the important things we need to live, such as homes, cars, and vacations.

Banks provide for many things like schools, where banking helps to provide the students with a better learning environment. Banks help improve playgrounds, school buildings, and fund extra-curricular activities.

Banks help local businesses and business people on their road to success by making loans and financing easier to receive. Banks most importantly benefit the people of the community. Banks are like the foundation of a community holding up the local businesses and families representing the different branches of a group working together to ensure a good future. Banks help the people by helping them manage their money and help it grow to finance their hopes and dreams. These are important to give the children good opportunities in the future, such as college education, good homes, and good jobs. This in turn benefits the community and also the bank itself which gives itself in all ways possible to help the people of this country. The hope is that each new generation will become a better generation. All thanks goes to our banks—the biggest benefit of all.

Miss Heart of the Highlands pageant to kick off May 2

The activities scheduled for the Miss Heart of the Highlands Scholarship Pageant has been completed. The pageant will kick off on Thursday, May 2, with a "Business Show". The "Business Show" will present area businesses in a live commercial advertisement for their business. The concept is unique and is expected to be one of the highlights of the pageant. All businesses are invited to participate by contacting Debbie Daniels or Main Street manager, Monica Donchatz. Tickets for the Thursday night performance are $3 on sale at the door.

On Friday, May 3, young ladies from the ages of 6 to 17 will be competing for the titles of Miss Heart of the Highlands Sweetheart (ages 6-9), Little Miss Heart of the Highlands (ages 10-13), and Junior Miss Heart of the Highlands (ages 14-17). The Sweetheart winner will advance to the Miss Kentucky Pageant to compete for the title of Little Miss Kentucky. Teens from across the Highlands area are represented in the Junior Miss category.

The contestants are from Paintsville High School, Johnson Central High School, Sheldon Clark, Oil Springs Elementary, Magoffin County High School, Allen Central High School, Prestonsburg High School, Betsy Layne High School and Pikeville High School. Girls in the Little Miss category represent Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, Pike and Floyd Counties.

Saturday night, May 4, nine talented young ladies will compete for the title of Miss Heart of the Highlands and the chance to become Miss Kentucky. Special guests, Kelli O'Connell, Miss Heart of the Highlands 1990; Rachel Craft, Miss Morehead State University 1991; and Jill Fraley, Miss Teen Kentucky, 1990, will be on hand to crown the new queen. New York Style carriage rides will be available from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on all three nights of the pageant. Carriage rides will be stationed in front of the Sipp Theatre at $10 per ride. Tickets for Friday and Saturday nights are $12 for reserved seats and $8 general admission. Tickets are on sale now by calling 297-1667 for reservations.

In order for all to see the show without interference, no videotaping equipment or camcorders will be allowed in the theatre; however, the pageant is being professionally taped and videotapes of all three nights may be ordered.

Special coupons for $2 off admissions can be obtained by purchasing items from participating businesses the week of the pageant.

Shows for all three nights will feature some 15 special entertainment performances including "Like and Prayer" and "Vogue" from the "Madonna Collection"; Janet Jackson's, "Black Cat"; a Patriotic Salute; Dolly Parton's, "Why'd You Come In Here Lookin' Like That"; "My Girl"; "Unchained Melody"; and many more. This year's theme is "Takin' Care Of Business". All shows begin at 7:30 p.m. with special Preshow entertainment beginning at 7:10 each evening at the Sipp Theatre on Main Street in downtown Paintsville.

A reception for the queens and their courts will be held Friday and Saturday nights at Wilma's Restaurant. Tickets for the reception will be on sale in the lobby during pageant night shows.

The pageant is still accepting applications for the competitions. Contact Debbie Daniels at 297-1667.

Comedy night at PCC

Comedy Night, a series of skits and a one-act play, will be performed Saturday, April 27 at 8 p.m. in the Pike Auditorium at Prestonsburg Community College. The show will be presented by The Theatrical Experience, drama club at PCC. Admission charge is $2, payable at the door.

The skits include "Maytag Indiscretion," by Nan Arnett, a student at PCC; "Person-in-Street Interview," and "Good Old Radio Days." The play is called "The Potman Spoke South," by David Fulk, a 1940's-style comic mystery. The play starts out as a whodunit but soon turns into theater of the absurd, with some surprises for the audience.

The performance is directed by Alice Adams; assistant director and stage manager is Scott Bentley; Chris Griffith is technical co-director. Performing in Comedy Night will be Roy Kidd, Matthew Meek, Katie Harmon, Jonathan Goble, David Coleman, Andrea Newsome, Lynon Frazier, Chad Pratt, Alice Adams, and Kami Collins.

A PCC student, Scott Bentley, designed and built the sets himself. The play "The Potman" takes place in England one winter in the 1940's. An isolated couple in the country is visited by a police inspector, who informs them that the notorious peanut murderer is at large in the neighborhood. Mysterious clues proliferate as suspects change from Col. Wiggins, to his wife, to the butler, to the police sergeant himself. The audience will be intrigued by a set of surprises, piling one on top of another, until it is impossible to tell what is really in the play and what is not.

Steffey returns to stateside

Emfn. April Steffey, 1989 graduate of Betsy Layne High, was deployed to Persian Gulf in September 1990.

She is an electrician serving on USS Acadia. The Acadia is a supply-repair ship.

She will return to Dan Diego, Calif. where she is stationed. Her mother, Dee Steffey, Dove will fly to San Diego to meet her ship which will arrive April 26.

A Look At Sports

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

"THEY HAVE TO COME OUT OF THEIR SLUMP!"

So goes the phrase over and over about the hitting of the Cincinnati Reds. The man in the restaurant, on the street, and even the announcers on television are constantly repeating the phrase, "they have to come out of their slump, they are too good of a team and have too much talent to stay there." And so it goes.

Folks, if they are still saying that come All-Star game time, Reds fans are in trouble.

This is a much different Cincinnati team than I am accustomed to. I remember the Reds of the '50s, '60s, '70s and early '80s. No facial hair. No long hair. No earrings. Women wear those. Now it is all different. Eric Davis wears a large hanging earring. Jose Rijo sports one as well, so does Mariano Duncan and I am sure there are others.

How did I get on this subject? I don't really know. I personally think the ballplayers who wear them look silly in their baseball uniforms. They should wait until they go out in the late evenings with their lace on. It just doesn't go with batting helmets and snuff.

Someone asked me what I thought the Reds' problem was. I said that some of the players were unbalanced, this is the reason they can't hit. "Unbalanced?" they quizzed. I told them that when Duncan and Davis bat, their head is hung to one side because it is overloaded by their earring. They should put another one on the other ear and that way balance their head, then maybe they could see the ball better.

The other day I was remembering how I used to be a big Reds fan. I mean I would watch every game they played on TV. I would stay up and even watch the late night games without even getting sleepy. Now I discover they are a very boring team to watch and it's all that I can do to stay awake at the 7:30 p.m. games.

LARKIN CONTINUES TO STRUGGLE

I say, if there is one player that the Reds have worth the $3 million he collects a year, it is Barry Larkin. He seems to be a player that would really give it his all. But lately the shortstop has been in a slump with no sign of coming out. He is even striking out more than he normally does. Oh well, they are World Champions drawing big bucks, what have they got to play for. They are already getting what they want — millions.

Big Lou is trying to keep Rob Dibble happy and Randy Myers at the same time as far as closing games. Myers has been ineffective thus far this season. But he is a professional and once he gets it together he will be the Myers of old.

Horrible thought! If Myers, Dibble and Norm Charlton get earrings, they can't be the "Nasty Boys" anymore. Perish the thought!

Until Wednesday, Good Sports everyone!

Betsy Layne Track & Field Competes At Pikeville

Betsy Layne track and field coach Jim Bowling has been busy these days shuttling between Betsy Layne and Pikeville's Bob Amos Park taking part in the track and field meets there.

The Bobcats harriers have improved over the season in only their second year of competition. The program was started last year and this is the first year that Bowling has coached the sport.

In last Thursday's meet, in the boys 110 high hurdles, Chad Wilson had a time of 18:85. Shawn Wallen ran a 56:93 in the 400 meters and Kenny Hamilton finished with a 22:33 in the 200 meters run.

In the field events, Jamie Kidd had a toss of 30' 8" in shot put. Reggie Hamilton recorded a throw of 29' 5" while Shawn Wallen posted a 33' 11".

Ossie Yelder was the only one to compete in the long jump for the Bobcats squad and finished with a jump of 11' 8". In triple jump competition, Chad Wilson placed third with a jump of 38' 1".

The Betsy Layne relay team finished with a 49:49 in the 400 meter relay. In the mile relay the squad had a time of 4:36.34.

In the girls track and field events, Jamie Ratcliff ran a 1:15.94 in the 400 meter run. Kelli Stanley finished with a time of 1:22.78.

Ratcliff posted a time of 3:09.73 in the 800 meter run.

In girl's shot put Elisha Meade tossed 18' 6".

On April 11 the Betsy Layne team took part in the Pikeville meet. In the girls 100 meter run Angie Keathley had a time of 15:97 and Kelli Stanley was clocked at 16:10.

In the girls 400 meter race, Crystal Boyd finished with a 1:51.18. Amy Tackett came in at 1:36.92 and Mary Ann Tackett posted a 1:26.91.

Ratcliff took part in the girls 800 meter run and was timed at 3:18.16. Ratcliff also ran the 1600 meter (mile) run with a 6:47.00. Ratcliff tossed the discus 51-feet in girls discus.

The Betsy Layne girls relay team ran a 1:05.34 in the 400 meter relay.

For the boys, Chad Hunter, Reggie Hamilton and Brandon Combs competed in the shot put events. Hunter threw a 38' 9" and Reggie Hamilton recorded a 29' 5". Brandon Combs had a throw of 29' 2".

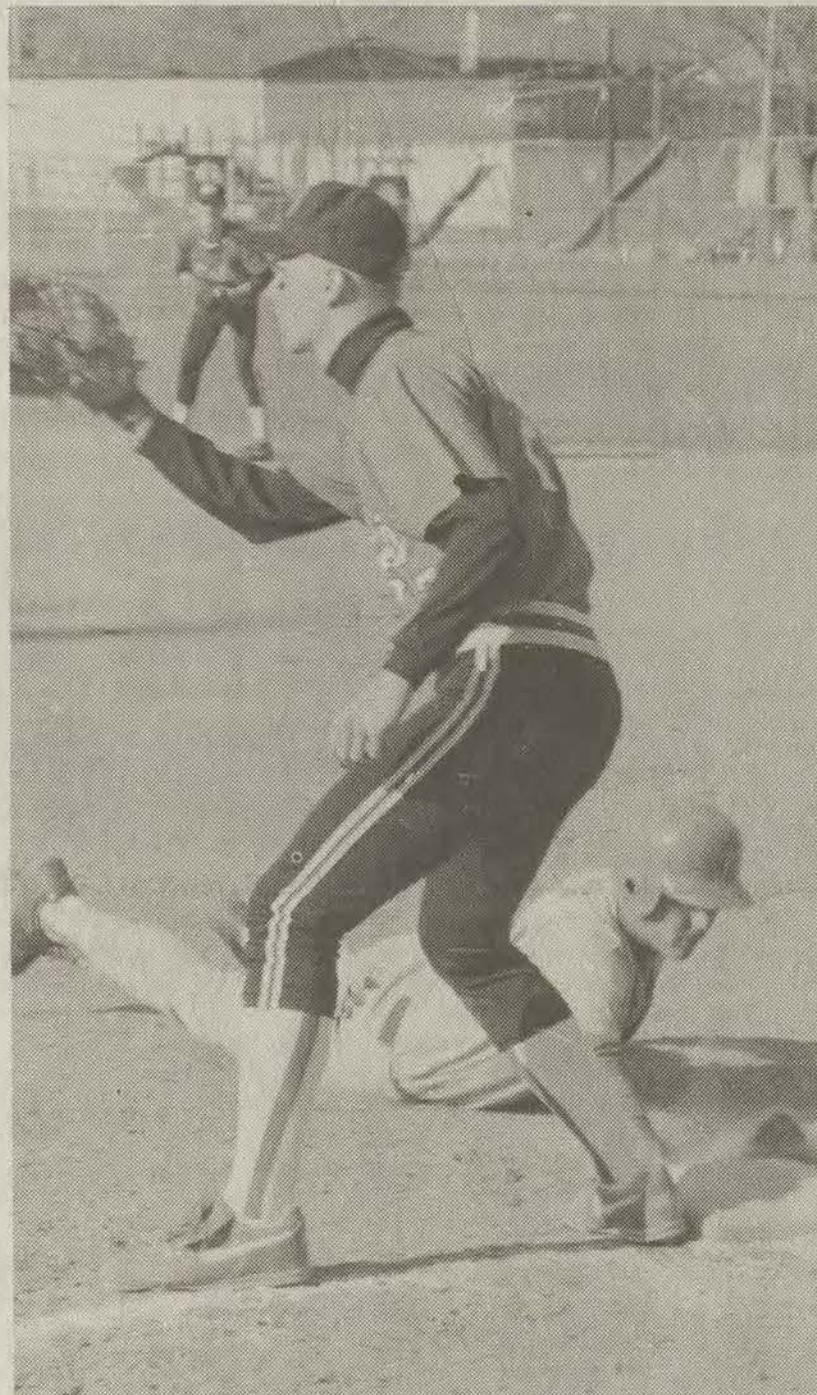

In the boys triple jump, Chad Wilson finished with a jump of 37' 3". Wilson had a jump of 16' 9" in the long jump event.

In the 110 high hurdles, Wilson posted a time of 19:01 and Randy Woods was clocked at 20:96.

Damron's "Slow Stuff" Keeps Tigers Off Stride In 6-4 Win

Dives Back!

A Paintsville runner dives safely back into first base as Prestonsburg first baseman, Jason Storey, takes a throw from pitcher Sean Damron in high school baseball play at Paintsville. The Blackcats scratched the Tigers 6-4. (photo by Ed Taylor)

He wasn't actually fanning batters in every inning, but Sean Damron kept the Paintsville Tigers off stride at the plate as the Prestonsburg Blackcats came away with a 6-4 win over Charlie Adkins' Tigers in a good outing for Russell Shepherd's ballclub. When you look at his stats, you wonder how he ever won the game. Eleven hits, five walks, two hit batters.

Damron found the pitcher's best friend to be there in a couple of anxious moments when the Blackcats quenched two Tiger rallies with two double plays.

In the second inning with runners on second and third with one out, Todd Porter hit a hard liner that Aaron Tucker made a good play on and doubled off Blankenship who had doubled in a run. In the Tiger's fifth, bases loaded, one out, John Holbrook bounced back to Damron who threw to catcher Kevin Hall and Hall's relay to first baseman Jason Storey doubled up Holbrook to end the inning.

Damron gave up 10 hits in the game and Paintsville stranded 11 runners on the bases. Damron struck out one Tiger batter and walked five. He also hit two batters. It wasn't that Damron wasn't putting runners on the base paths but the Blackcats defense was excellent, committing just one error. However, Damron was not showing any of his hard stuff.

Prestonsburg had a quite first inning with only a base hit from Jason Crisp. But, the Blackcats made a lot of noise in the second inning scoring five times to take a 5-2 lead over the Tigers. Tucker collected a one out base hit and Chris Cavins' grounder to short was mishandled by freshman Brad Tiller. Ronnie Goodman walked to load the bases. Scott Stephens took a couple of swings at two pitches out of the strike zone and struck out. Damron help his own cause with a base hit that scored Tucker and left the bases loaded.

Clark picked up an RBI that forced home Cavins with the second run of the inning. Crisp then unloaded a long drive to right center field that cleared the bases for a 5-2 game and picked up three RBIs.

Paintsville got one run back in the second inning on a one out base hit by Tiller, a walk and Blankenship's RBI double. Prestonsburg then got their first double play to end the inning.

The Blackcats knocked on the door but found it closed after putting the first two runners on in the third. Jason Storey and Neil Slone got back-to-back base hits but was left stranded as Cyrus got Tucker on strikes, Cavins flied deep to right and Goodman struck out to end the threat.

Again in Blackcats' fourth, Stephens and Damron opened with base hits with no one out. Again, Cyrus rose to the occasion and shut the door. Clark skied to left, Crisp forced Stephens at second and Storey's fly ball to center ended the threat. All this time, the Tigers were still trying to figure out how to score against Damron.

While searching for a way, Aaron Tucker took Cyrus deep to straight away center field (350-feet) for a long home run and a 6-3 game in the fifth inning.

Joe Collins finally scored the fourth run for Paintsville in the bottom of the fifth frame reaching on a one out base hit. Billy Phelps followed with a single and Mike Eldridge walked to load the bases on Damron as the Tigers threatened to bust things wide open. Collins scored on a wild pitch and Jamie Hinkle reached on an infield hit to load the bases again. However, Holbrook barely got a piece of an off speed pitch of Damron's and bounced the ball back to the pitcher to start the Blackcats second double play and end the inning.

Prestonsburg put Damron in the sixth inning with one out when the pitcher singled. Clark reached on a second baseman's error with Damron going to third. With Crisp at the plate, Clark broke for second and on a decoy throw, Tiger catcher Mike Eldridge fired the ball to third to try and pick-off Damron. The ball went to the foul side of third base where third baseman Matt Williams had to dive across the foul line laying on the base to keep the ball from going into the outfield. Damron, scampering back to third, touched third base and laid on top of the prone Williams. The base umpire then called Damron out without Williams tagging him.

The call drew a vocal disagreement from Coach Russell Shepherd. The umpire claimed that Williams was laying across Damron and had to tag him. It was an unusual call that killed the Blackcats rally.

Paintsville put two runners on base in the bottom of the seventh inning when Damron hit his second batter leading off. Phelps flew to left field and Damron walked Eldridge. Shepherd then brought in Clark to pitch to

Betsy Layne Scores Six In 10th; Blackcats Fall 10-4

Barry Clark and Chris Cavins hooked up in an old fashion pitching duel Tuesday night at Archer Park with the Betsy Layne Bobcats going home with a 10-4 extra inning win to run their record to 12-3 on the season. The game went 10 innings before the Bobcats broke it open with six runs in the top of the 10th.

Both Clark and Cavins were outstanding on the mound for their respective schools. Cavins retired the first eight he faced in the game, until Barry Collins broke the string with a line drive base hit off the glove of third baseman Jason Crisp.

Clark put a base runner on in the first three innings he pitched, but was able to get the side out without any damage being done. Clark retired the Blackcats in order in the fourth.

Both teams squandered chances to win the game, especially the home standing Blackcats.

Betsy Layne plated their six runs in the 10th inning as 10 batters paraded to the plate and snapped a 3-3 tie. Ronnie Goodman, who was also outstanding in relief of Cavins, suffered the loss for Prestonsburg. With one out, Darren Gearheart drew a walk off of Goodman and Danny Paige, who had three hits in the game, singled. Goodman walked Chris Newsome to load the bases. Barry Clark roped a base hit to right center driving in two runs. Designated hitter Shannon Newsome followed with a base hit of his own and drove in the third run of the inning. Collins collected his second consecutive — and third hit of the game — to send home Newsome with a fourth Bobcat run.

Keith Hall kept things going for the Bobcats with a long double driving in Collins. Freshman Chris Potter picked up Hall with a solid base hit. Adam Gearheart, who began the inning by grounding to shortstop, did the same thing to end the inning.

The game was scoreless through five innings when Betsy Layne pushed across three runs in the top of the sixth. The damage took place after two were out. Darren Gearheart drew a two-out walk from Cavins. Paige singled hard to center sending Mike Damron, who was pinch running for Gearheart, to third base. Newsome hit a one hop liner that hit the fence with Damron scoring and Paige going to third. Clark scored both runners with a long double to right center field. Ronnie Goodman came on to relief Cavins and got Todd Akers on a bounce back to the mound.

With a 3-0 lead and things going his way, Clark ran into some trouble in the sixth inning. Prestonsburg put together their own rally and tied the game at 3-3 on a two-run double off the bat of Aaron Tucker and Jason Storey's run producing single. Clark and Crisp scored on Tucker's two-base hit and came on to score the tying run on Storey's single.

Neither team could mount any offense in the eighth inning. Betsy Layne took a 4-3 lead with a single run in the ninth frame when Collins got a one out single off of Goodman and stole second. Collins moved to third on a passed ball and scored the go-ahead run on a sacrifice fly by Keith Hall to center field.

The Blackcats came right back and tied the game at 4-4 in the bottom of the inning and had a chance to put the game in the win column. Damron opened the inning by flying out to center. Clark reached on an error by Potter at shortstop — a rarity. Clark stole second. Crisp singled but not deep enough to score Clark. Todd Akers came in to relieve Newsome and faced Scott Stephens who came in to pinch hit for Kevin Hall. Hall lined a base hit to left field sending Clark home with the tying run and Crisp going to third representing the winning run. Akers got Tucker to fly out to left and Storey popped to the pitcher.

Prestonsburg's final run came in the bottom of the 10th inning when Worthie McGuire hammered one out for a solo home run.

Clark had four RBIs for Betsy Layne to go with his three hits. Clark, besides pitching a good game, displayed some defense prowess in the field at first base also. Paige had a hot

Johnson Too Much For Blackcats As Eagles Defeat Prestonsburg, 5-1

Johnson Central outfielder/pitcher, Mitchell Johnson plays as if he owns the Prestonsburg Blackcats. The tall, hard throwing left hander set the Blackcats down 5-1 Monday afternoon on the Eagles home field. Johnson struck out 12 Blackcat batters and stroked a fifth inning home run over the right field fence to ignite a four-run fifth for the Golden Eagles.

The home run was the fourth of the season that Johnson has hit off Prestonsburg pitchers. It was his 12th of the year.

Mitchell scattered six Blackcat hits in yielding the lone run. Johnson was near perfect with his control walking no one.

The game was part of an odd double header for the Prestonsburg squad as they played Paintsville in the earlier afternoon game at the Paintsville field. The Blackcats then loaded the bus and journeyed to Johnson Central for the game.

John Clark, who pitched a very good game himself, suffered the loss for Prestonsburg. Clark worked four and two-thirds inning giving up all five Eagle runs on seven hits. Clark fanned two batters and issued no walks.

The Eagles got to Clark as he seemed to tire in the fifth inning. The damage was all done with two out in the bottom of the frame. After Price fanned, J. D. Ratliff flied to left for the second out. Stambaugh laid down a perfect bunt for a base hit and promptly stole second. Williams then singled home Stambaugh to break a 1-1 tie. Johnson walked to the plate and hit a Clark pitch over the right field fence for his home run and a 4-1 lead. The Eagles pushed across another run in the inning when Jennings singled and scored on an error in left field for Prestonsburg.

Ronnie Goodman came on in relief of Clark and got Compton to ground to third ending the inning.

Johnson Central took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on an unearned run. With one out, Williams singled and Johnson hit a "mile high" fly ball to centerfield that was dropped for an error. After Jennings grounded to first, Sublett's fly ball was mis-played in right field and Williams scored.

Prestonsburg had a first inning threat going with back-to-back hits by Clark and Jason Crisp. Jason Story fanned and Neil Slone flied to center.

The Blackcats tied the game at 1-1 with a run in their half of the second inning. Aaron Tucker reached on an error at third base and scored on Anthony Howell's base hit.

Clark had no trouble with the Eagles in the third and fourth innings as he retired the side in order in each of the innings. Prestonsburg put together another threat in the fourth inning when the first two batters reached base. Slone and Tucker each collected base hits with no one out. But the Blackcats could not stand prosperity. Goodman sacrificed the runners up with a perfect bunt. However, Howell grounded to third and Chris Cavins fanned to end the inning.

After Clark singled in the top of the fifth, Johnson retired the last eight batters he faced in recording the win.

Goodman gave up one hit in the inning and a third he pitched. Goodman had one strike out and walked no batters. The Blackcats stranded six runners on base while Johnson Central left seven runners on base. Prestonsburg committed two errors in the game as did Johnson Central.

Stambaugh and Williams had two hits each for Johnson Central while Clark collected two for Prestonsburg.

Prestonsburg falls to 11-3 on the year and will host Magoffin County tonight at 5 p.m. at Archer Park.

Rebels place third overall.

Jervis, Crum, Wallen Place First In T&F Events At Pikeville

The Allen Central Rebels track and field team placed third in Tuesday's meet at the Bob Amos Park in Pikeville. The Panthers took the number one spot and Knott County Central placed second. The third place finish delighted Coach Dewey Jamerson.

"It was a real good meet for us," he said, "and our kids are really learning how to run and take part in the events they participate in. With each new event, our kids are getting faster because they are learning. The meets we have been going to has gotten into their system and they are learning how to run the races."

Brian Wallen once again dominated the discus throw as he had all season. Wallen took first place in the event with a toss of 138-feet and six-inches. Wallen competed in the discus throw at Jenkins last Monday and placed first with a throw of 137-feet.

Coming on strong for the Rebels in discus is Tim Slone. Slone finished third at Pikeville with a throw of 114-feet and three-inches. Slone came in second behind Wallen at Jenkins with a very good throw of 127-feet.

Shawn Robinson was at the Pikeville meet and finished with a toss of 74-feet and six-inches.

Kenny Crum took the number one spot in shot put with a toss of 39-feet and two-inches. Eighth grader Steve Goodman got in on the act with a good toss of 27-feet and seven-inches.

"Steve is at practice everyday and attends every meet," said Jamerson, "and we just wanted to let him get into some of the events." Tim Slone placed third in the shot put with a throw of 38-feet and seven-inches.

Another first place finish for the Rebels Harriers came as Robert Jervis, who Coach Jamerson has a lot of hope for, finished first in the 400 meter run. Jervis set a new school record with a time of 54:32. Not far behind was Randy Conn with a 57:46 good for fifth place.

One of the region's top girl's runner is Jessica Wade, who seems to get faster after each meet." Jessica is getting faster with each meet," conceded Jamerson. "She ran the 1600 meters in 6:07 Tuesday, and that was about 14 seconds faster than the last time she ran it."

Wade placed second in the two-mile run (3200 meters) with a time of 13:32 and third in the girl's 1600 meter event at 6:07.42. The fleet-footed Wade claimed third place in the girl's 800 meter run with a 2:54.75.

In the boy's 100 meter run, eighth grader Jason Sammons set a school record for the Rebels with a time of 12:58 that earned him fifth place. Mike Cox came in at 13:89 and Shawn Robinson had a time of 14:89.

In the 200 meter race, Shannon Adkins set a new personal record with a 29:66 and Rondell Stewart ran a 29:81.

A new Allen Central school record was set by Phillip Anderson who finished sixth in the 800 meter event. Anderson had a time of 2:29.89. Shane Stumbo ran a 2:55.31 and Kenny Bradley posted a 3:00.37.

Jamie Slone took fourth place in the boy's 1600 meter battle. Slone was clocked at 5:21.14 and Josh Flannery came in at 6:52.00 while teammate Eric Moore ran a 8:50.00.

In the 3200 meter race, Todd Howard finished fifth with a time of 13:18.00 and Ray Lyon took sixth place at 13:37.00. Chad Compton came in at 17:17.00.

Shane Stumbo established a new school record in the 110 high hurdles with a time of 19:45—good for fourth place. Gary Webb ran a 21:75 and Mike Cox finished with a 23:71.

Stumbo did it again as he set a new school record for the 300 hurdles with a 47:49 and placed third in the event. Randy Conn ran a 52:69 and Gary Webb finished with a 55:07.

School records continued to fall as the relay team of Robert Jervis, Jason Sammons, Jamie Slone and Tim Slone finished fourth in the 400 meter relay at 50:60. In the mile relay (1600 meters) Randy Conn, Jervis, Sammons and Jamie Slone came in first with a 3:53.48—another school record.

"Those kids ran a good race," said Jamerson. "Everybody ran good." The Rebels got the win when Jervis leaned on the finish line. The finish time was 10 seconds faster than the previous recorded time.

In other field events, Jervis placed third in the long jump with a jump of 18-feet and eight-inches. Phillip Anderson recorded his jump at 15-feet eight and a half-inches.

It was Delbert Goins taking third place in the high jump with a leap of 5-feet and four-inches. Goins also established a new school record. Jamie Slone placed fifth in the event with a jump of 5-feet and two-inches.

In the girl's 100 meter run, sophomore Missy Goble posted a 17:35 for a school record. Another sophomore, Evelyn Howard ran a 18:56. Goble ran the 200 meters in 40:59.00.

In the 400 meter event, Glema Yates placed fifth with a time of 1:15.97 a school record. Nicole Fitch placed sixth with a posted time of 1:16.55. April Newsome had a run of 1:22.03 and Anita Manns finished at 1:46.07.

In girl's shot put, Yates tossed the steel ball, 26-feet and five-inches. Newsome threw at 25-feet and six-inches.

In girl's discus, Newsome throw landed at 52-feet and six-inches.

The relay team of Yates, Howard, Goble and Fitch saw a new school record established with a 2:22.37 performance good for third place.

Coach Jamerson and his track and field squad will travel to Boyd County tomorrow (Saturday) for the Boyd County Invitational. Jamerson is very confident that his team will win the district run and will place well in the upcoming regional meet.

"We're going to win the district," he said. "I know we are. We're coming on strong when we need to and we'll do well in the regional."

Rebels Roll Past Trojans, 12-2

For Allen Central's left fielder Joey Brown, it was "double or nothing" at the plate against Wheelwright Wednesday night. Brown had three doubles in four plate appearances and helped lead the Rebels to a 12-2 win over the host Wheelwright Trojans.

Chuck Laferty had a fourth inning three-run homerun as the Rebels exploded for five runs in the inning.

John Martin picked up the win for Allen Central with Jimmy Helton suffering the loss.

Brad Scott got the Rebel fifth under way with a lead off walk and Scott moved into scoring position with a stolen base. John Martin singled to score Scott. After Stewart Hall walked, Brown's second double of the game scored Martin with Hall moving to third. Frank Martin went out to center field and Aldrich grounded to short for the second out. Laferty then unloaded his home run scoring Hall and Martin ahead of him.

The Rebels put three runs on the scoreboard in the first inning on a lead off walk to Hall, Brown's first double and a base hit by B.J. Aldrich. Aldrich eventually scored on a wild pitch by Helton.

Allen Central made it 4-0 with a run in the second inning when John Martin walked, stole second and scored on a single by Hall.

Wheelwright scored a run in the fourth on a lead off walk to Helton. Helton, who is quick on the base paths, stole second and came around to score the unearned run on a wild pitch by Martin. Martin then struck out the side in the fourth.

The Rebels made it 12-1 with three more in their half of the sixth inning. Hall coaxed Helton for his third walk of the game. Brown followed with his third double of the game and both runners came home to score on a two-bagger by Frank Martin. Two outs later, Martin scored on an error at third base.

Wheelwright had one run in the last of the sixth inning with two outs. Back to back walks to pinch hitter Matt Johnson and Crager put two runners on base. Johnson stole third and scored on an error on the pitcher.

The Trojans had a rally going in the third inning when Charles Johnson collected a one out single. Layne Bailey followed with a base hit. Matt Johnson walked but Chad Allen fanned to end the inning.

Wheelwright collected on two hits in the game and committed one error. Helton fanned five Rebel batters while issuing five walks. Wheelwright stranded five runners in the game.

Allen Central reached Helton for 10 hits in scoring their 12 runs. The Rebels made two miscues in the contest. Martin struck out six batters while walking seven. The Rebels left three men on base.

Frank Martin had two hits for Allen Central including a double and one RBI. Brown drove in two runs with his three doubles.

Allen Central had seven stolen bases against the Trojans. Wheelwright swiped six bases with Bailey getting two in the third when he stole second and third.

Cubs Improve To 3-0 In 20-9 Win Over Hindman

The Wayland Cubs kept their perfect record in tact with a 20-9 four inning mercy win over the Hindman Blue Jays Wednesday afternoon at Hindman in the American Amateur League.

Byron Patton drove in four runs with two hits to lead coach Donnie Crawford's team to their third consecutive win of the young season. Crawford is assisted by Ricky Casebolt.

The Cubs scored five times in the first and third innings and pushed across six runs in the second and four in the top of the fourth.

Eric Casebolt had two hits in the contest. Brian Crawford drove in two runs with a single as did Corbett Howard. Brandon Merrill had a double, single and one RBI for the undefeated Cubs.

Jay Arnett had three hits in the game for the winners, a double and two singles in picking up three RBIs. Rodney Bentley had two RBIs with a base hit. Charles Bentley drove in two runs with two base hits. Nicholas King also had two hits in the 20-9 win for the Cubs driving in one run.

The American Amateur League allows players to lead off the bases. Sometimes a pitching machine is used to do the pitching and players are allowed to take two or three steps off the bases. However, when a real pitcher is used, a player may lead off as far as he chooses.

Monday the Cubs will try and keep their winning streak going as they face the Caney Indians.

pinch hitters Williams and Holbrook. Clark fanned both batters to preserve the Blackcats win.

Cyprus went the distance for Paintsville giving up all six runs on 11 hits. Cyprus struck out five and walked two.

Prestonsburg is 12-3 with the win. The Blackcats left seven runners on base and Paintsville stranded 11.

Damron had three hits for Prestonsburg with one RBI. Crisp had two hits and three runs batted in. Slone and Tucker had two hits each. Tiller, Collins and Phelps had two hits for Paintsville.

HOROSCOPE

April 28 through May 4

By C.C. Clark

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

Whatever happens this week, make sure you tell the truth and are truthful with yourself. Even the smallest white lie can cause dire consequences.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)

As if you haven't been through enough change over the past few weeks, now you must prepare for more. You will be ready for anything after this transitional period.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)

Career concerns will drive you crazy if you don't get a handle on them soon. While there is quite a lot going on right now, things really aren't as tough as they seem.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)

Your strong desire to be the best will get you through the next few weeks. As with many other signs, you are going through a period that is bringing change into your life.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)

Remember you are under a tough schedule this week and that all elements of your life can't be perfect. Take some time out to thank those who have made your life easier.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)

This is a time for travel and fun. Let loose and just have a really good time. Although you feel you don't deserve time away, you do. Make the most of it.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)

Don't be so stubborn when dealing with co-workers or family members. If they become persistent, tell them you appreciate their efforts, but you need time to work things out.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)

Avoid certain heartbreak by listening carefully to a loved one's needs. They have been trying to express their feelings for weeks, only to be ignored by you.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)

All you have been doing lately is work, work, work. Unfortunately, you have ignored important domestic and fiscal problems. Turn your attentions to these matters.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)

A new venture will have your wheels turning like mad. Remember not to burn yourself out too quickly. Those creative juices will be flowing for weeks to come.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)

A new love interest may turn your head and your heart this week. But what looks good and what may be good for you are two different things.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)

This is a terrific time for you to start a new project or hobby. Not only will the new interest bring new people into your life, but it will also improve your attitude.

TV PIPELINE

Dick Cavett has new program airing weekends on CNBC

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I'm an old Dick Cavett fan and was wondering what he is doing these days. What years did his talk show appear on TV, and how could I send him a letter? Do some of his "old" interviews still run on TV? —Bruce Ladd, Athens, Ga.

A: Now entering his third season on CNBC and the proud possessor of an ACE Award, Dick Cavett began his career in television in 1960. Working as a copy boy at Time magazine, he accosted The Tonight Show host Jack Paar and presented him with a collection of jokes he had written for Paar's opening monologue. Parr used some of the gags, and Cavett's career was launched. He became a comedy writer for Groucho Marx, Johnny Carson, Merv Griffin and others. In 1964 he started performing stand-up comedy in nightclubs and began appearing as a guest performer on the Carson and Griffin talk shows. In 1968 he signed with ABC to host a morning talk show and eventually landed his own late night program opposite Carson. His show ran on ABC until 1975. From 1977 to 1982, The Dick Cavett Show appeared on public television. He also appeared briefly on CBS. Look for The Dick Cavett Show weekends on CNBC, known as Smart TV. I wouldn't dare say his previous interviews are not airing somewhere on TV. They may be. Write to: Dick Cavett, c/o CNBC, 2200 Fletcher Ave., Fort Lee, NJ 07024.

Q: About five years ago KHET Channel 11 or KHNL Channel 13 ran the story of the life of Moliere (French playwright). Will this ever run again, or is there any possibility of obtaining a video copy? I've been trying for years to get this information to make a friend very happy. —Mahalo, I. Murphy, Paia, Hawaii

A: Aloha! The best I can do is give you an address to write to for information on your video tape. Write to Video Library, Inc., 7157 Germantown Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. 19119, or call 215-247-6616. This company rents or sells tapes, including foreign films.

Q: Is it possible that the old All in the Family show will be in syndication? My husband and I just watched the 20th anniversary. We so enjoyed it. It was a classic. I am sure a lot of people would watch it. —Carol Centi, Amsterdam, N.Y.

A: I cannot believe you have never seen All in the Family before. Are you sure you weren't living out of the USA? The series was first telecast on CBS on Jan. 12, 1971. It was last telecast on Sept. 21, 1983. CBS then telecast reruns of the series weekdays from December 1975 to September 1979. Since then it has been in syndication in every town in America. Check your local TV listings; I am sure you will find it somewhere in that 24-hour period.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, Texas 76161-1009.

'Dallas' calls it quits after Friday's episode

Ex-cast members reunite for show

By Christy Bergslien

A decade ago Texas was booming, and the prime-time soap Dallas was hip. The oil business has, alas, bottomed out in the Lone Star State, and the mega-rich Ewings are now hanging up their holsters.

Friday, May 3, is, of course, the final episode of Dallas, TV's second-longest-running series.

The series scored a major ratings coup in 1981 when it asked the question "Who Shot J.R.?" Actress Mary Crosby, of course, did the dirty deed. The series' ender Friday asks, "What would life in Dallas have been like without J.R.?" Guest-star Joel Grey will accompany J.R. back to the past in Dallas' version of It's a Wonderful Life.

A number of ex-cast members will return for the show including Linda Gray, Steve Kanaly, Jack Scalia, Ted Shackelford, Joan Van Ark and Crosby. Of the original cast, only two actors, series star Larry Hagman and Ken Kercheval saw Dallas to its finale.

Although, Dallas has fallen in the middle of the ratings pack in recent years, the series by no means ranks at the bottom. It simply was very expensive to produce. Some expenses were cut when the series discontinued its summer shoots at South Fork in Dallas in 1987. The owners of South Fork held a bankruptcy sale this year in January.

The end of J.R. will not be the end of Hagman, however. The actor plans to vacation in the south of France and London following the series, and he currently has three projects on line.

Linda Gray, Joel Grey and Larry Hagman (from left) star in the final episode of Dallas, Friday on CBS. TV's second-longest-running series is ending after 13 years.
