Apparent heart attack strikes:

Appellate Judge Howard dies

by Tess Whitmer
Assistant Editor

One of the original members of the re-structured Kentucky Court of Appeals, Judge Harris Stephens Howard, died Wednesday morning as the result of an apparent heart attack.

Judge Howard, 62, was found dead in his home by his wife at 6:30 a.m. on June 12, according to Floyd County Coroner Roger Nelson.

Judge Howard was appointed to the Kentucky Court of Appeals at its inception under the Judicial Article of 1976 and had served since that time as judge for the Seventh Appellate District. At the time of his death, he was Chief Judge Pro Tem of the Court. He was born in Prestonsburg April 16, 1929, and was a lifelong resident.

Judge Howard attended the University of Virginia and graduated from the University of Kentucky and the University of Kentucky College of Law. He practiced law in Prestonsburg for 25 years before his appointment to the Court of Appeals in 1976. He was a member of the American Bar Association, Kentucky Bar and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity. He served on the Judicial Council from 1962 to 1966. He was a member of the Methodist Church and the Zebulon Masonic Lodge No. 273.

Judge Howard's death creates a vacancy on the state's nine-member Court of Appeals which can be filled by appointment by Governor Wallace Wilkinson. The appointee will serve until January 1, 1992, the remainder of Howard's term.

Howard was seeking re-election to the court and had narrowly edged Johnson District Judge John Gardner in the non-partisan May Primary. Howard and Gardner were set to face off again in a November General Election run-off vote. Gardner's name will appear on the No-member ballot, but he will be running unopposed, according to the state Administrative Office of the Courts.

Judge Howard is survived by his wife, Jane Davis Howard, and three children, Harris Stephens Howard, Jr., of Frankfort, John Woodford Howard II and Vanessa Lynne Howard, both of Prestonsburg.

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. on Saturday at the First United Methodist Church with burial following in the Mayo Cemetery Prestonsburg. Visitation is scheduled for today (Friday) from 4-9 p.m. at the Carter Funeral Home and tomorrow from noon until 2 p.m. at the church.

Action approved by state:

Issue resolved, contracts halted

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

The Floyd County Board of Education voted Tuesday to terminate all contracts for security services at school facilities and the move met with approval from the state's Office of Education Accountability (OEA).

Dr. Penney Sanders, director of OEA, said Thursday that the issue had been under review by that office, but Tuesday's decision put the matter to rest.

"This office has had under review the no bid security contracts of the Floyd County School System," Sanders said. "OEA concurs with the Floyd County School Board's action taken on June 11 in voiding these contracts; and in accordance with previous recommendations, we would suggest contracts for security be advertised for competitive bidding per man/per hour in compliance with the provisions of KRS 424.260."

The board had employed five security companies to provide patrols at 10 school facilities in the county at an average cost of $9,455.60 per month. Questions were raised after it was discovered that the contracts were not put out for bid; not all contracts and no performance bonds were on file at the central office; and security personnel could not be found at several of the facilities.

In his recommendation to the board to cancel the contracts, Superintendent Ron Hager said the contracts should be continued until September 3.

Board Chairman Ray "Shag" Campbell said he thought the contracts should be canceled immediately.

"Why wait until September 3?" Campbell asked. "I think we spend too much money there. We should do it by July 1."

Hager said that according to the contracts, the companies must be given a 30-day notification before the contracts can be terminated. He said if the contracts were canceled before September it could cause a lapse in security at some of the school facilities.

Campbell recommended that custodian's schedules be rotated to have someone in the buildings at night or to install electronic security systems linked with the Kentucky State Police's network.

"I've already checked with the state police and the Martin city police," Campbell said. "We can hook-up our system directly into theirs. I think we should have one installed at Martin Elementary immediately."

Hager said it would cost approximately $1,200 to install the system.

Board halts route bids, funds saved

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A decision by the Floyd County Board of Education Tuesday night to reject bids for four contract bus driver routes could result in a significant savings to the county schools.

Bids for contract driver runs for Daniels Creek, Ivel, Prater Creek and Little Mud Creek cost the board $73,220 last year, finance officer Russell Frazier said Thursday.

The four contract routes provide transportation for 173 students, transportation director Earl Ousley said Thursday. The Little Mud Creek run picks up 60 students; Prater Creek, 45; Daniels Creek, 26; and the Mare Creek and Ivel run 42 students, Ousley said.

The board will purchase four used mini-buses to transport students to meet the larger school buses that run in those areas, Ousley said.

"The board will be saving the profit that the contract drivers make on the routes," Ousley said. "At this time, we don't know what the savings will be."

Abbott Mountain is quickly disappearing into the back of rock trucks and being deposited about a quarter of a mile down the road in order to level the ground for new Route 23. Opening night celebration planned:

Theatre welcomes Ledford

by Don Lowe
Contributing Writer

Scenes from the Roaring '20s and special guest, Cawood Ledford, will open Jenny Wiley Theatre as Arthur Laurent's Tony award winning musical, "Gypsy," premieres Friday, June 21.

"Gypsy," based on the life of a burlesque artist Gypsy Rose Lee, is the story of a stage mother striving for the success of her two daughters on the Vaudeville stage.

The musical has been described as a kaleidoscope of life in the theatre during the 1920s. The bright and brassy musical follows Rose as she battles stage directors, theatre owners and hotel managers.

The Broadway productions have made stars of Ethel Merman, Angela Lansbury and, just last year, Tyne Daly, who won the Tony for her portrayal of Rose.

This summer, Jenny Wiley Theatre presents Tatiana Michelle as Rose. Tatiana is a master's candidate in performance at the University of Cincinnati's College Conservatory of Music. Last year at Jenny Wiley she played a narrator in "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," Jonsey in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," Miss Lynch in "Grease" and Ann Skaggs in "The Jenny Wiley Story."

Rose's love interest, Herbie, will be played by Michael King, an assistant professor of theatre at Northern Kentucky University for the past five years. King will also direct "Big River."

Making her debut at Jenny Wiley in Gypsy is Jennifer Lampert. She will play Rose's daughter, Louise.

Jennifer is a native of New Jersey and a student at the University of Cincinnati's College of Conservatory of Music.

Rose's other daughter, June, will be played by Lori Scarlett. She is a junior majoring in music theatre at Kent State University.

The show is directed by Skip Fenker. Skip is the artistic director of Aurelia Theatricals in Cincinnati.

Before the curtain goes up, the public is invited to an opening night celebration like no other. A guest list that includes Governor Wallace G. Wilkinson, First Lady Martha Wilkinson and the Voice of the Kentucky Wildcats, Cawood Ledford, will be on-hand for the festivities, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Cawood Ledford is joining the Wrong number.

After running out of fingers and toes, Floyd County Times publisher Scott Perry miscalculated the savings to Times in-county subscribers in an article Wednesday detailing an upcoming per-copy rate increase for the paper.

The article incorrectly noted that in-county subscribers who pay $24 for a year's subscription to the Times could save "$80" a year on new per-copy prices.

The actual savings would be $28 per year.

Perry promised that future articles requiring mathematical calculations would be "proofed" by the newspaper's accounting department.

The circus comes to town:

"G" rated fun for the family

For a growing number of urban-dwellers the circus is something they see in an air conditioned arena. But, those who live outside the big cities are lucky because they can still marvel at the sights, sounds, and yes, smells of the traveling circuses of yesteryear.

Allen Brothers Circus will show in Prestonsburg on Sunday, June 16 under the sponsorship of Prestonsburg Professional Firefighters Local #3298. The circus big top will be set up at Archer Park and performances will be given at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Allen Brothers Circus is an opportunity to relive the childhood excitement of the circus or to experience this special excitement for the very first time. This circus is one of ten tent circuses which operate in the United States.

Allen Brothers Circus has it all — jugglers, clowns, acrobats, aerialists, elephants and much, much more. Virtually every night during their annual tour of one-day stands through the United States, the performers and workmen pack all their equipment, seats, tent poles, props, musical instruments, animals and personal belongings into trucks and trailers and move on to the next town.

Allen Brothers Circus preserves the very essence of circus; a few magical hours of dazzling marvels, romance and incomparable entertainment that materializes mysteriously in town one day and is gone just as mysteriously with the morning's light the next.

Another unique feature of Allen Brothers Circus is that performances are sponsored by a local organization, the Firefighters Local #3298. It is a family show, the kind that PTAs, churches, service clubs, and Little leagues are eager to sponsor in their towns because the entertainment is rated "G."

Stumbo's home

Floyd County District Judge Harold Stumbo is back at home recovering from an angioplasty procedure to unblock an artery.

Judge Stumbo's wife, Pluma, said Thursday that Judge Stumbo returned home Wednesday from Atlanta and is "doing wonderful." She said Judge Stumbo will be returning back to work after a short rest.

The circus is coming

At Allen Brothers Circus one can find exotic beasts, such as a cage full of lions and Bengal tigers. The circus will be in Prestonsburg on Sunday, June 16 under the sponsorship of Prestonsburg Professional Firefighters.

The question is, "To pay or not to pay?" Every day, children become pawns in the game of chess known as "support after divorce." In most cases, the non-custodial parent is ordered to pay child support to help insure that the child will be provided with the necessities until age 18.

Though most divorced parents will eventually remarry and bear other children, it does not hinder the fact that the first child will still need financial security in a world of poor economy and inflation. For low-to-middle income families, these payments are not a luxury, but a necessity.

In today's world, however, it seems that more non-custodial parents are choosing not to pay child support and are getting away with it. Though motions are filed in court at the expense of the custodial parent, it still seems that the proverbial buck is being passed to every hand except the one who needs it most, the recipient. The future is anything but bright for these children because the financial and emotional strain this puts on a family is awesome.

How can justice prevail when the ordinary citizen takes the law into his own hands and rewrites the rules to fit his needs? Contempt of court is a punishable offense, so why are these offenders still walking around care-free as a bird?

Is justice only for those who can afford it?

I want to thank all of the generous citizens who sponsored a child in our "Bring-a-Bike Day" safety course. I don't know all of you, but I want you to know that with your help, we raised $982 for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

This program helps combat two of our most pressing problems in America, bicycle accidents and childhood cancer. I hope that the basic bicycle safety habits stressed in this program will be remembered throughout the year. I know that the research at St. Jude, the World's reading center for the study of childhood cancer, will benefit stricken children everywhere. If through this program we prevent an accident and save a cancer-stricken child, your support will be rewarded in full.

He wanted to be a trapper boy. "Everybody wanted to trap," he recalled. He explained what "trapping" meant, and the bottom line was, if the trapper boy did not get the door opened and then closed, air flow into the black depths of the mine could be hampered.

After he married, he moved away from the camp and "didn't use the company store much after moving, 'cause they charged." He recalled that the Company put movie tickets into the pay envelope, "And charged you for 'em, whether or not you went to the show house, the cost of the tickets was cut over the payroll and you were stuck with 'em."

He and his wife, Carole, laid down their paint brushes and made we three strangers feel right at home. Sitting at their picnic table, it was obvious that the tape recorder made him just a tad nervous. He kept pushing it away, and I'd push it back, but all the while he talked. His eyes were bright and, as memories surfaced, they sparkled like the morning sun on dew laden leaves in a glade by the river.

The river flooded him out, time and again, but they swept out, mopped up, put down new carpet, cleaned up and went on, time and again. He and his family never made a profit on the grants given by the Red Cross, "now a lot of folks did, but we never did. Always got just enough to put us back into the house, but never any extra," he recalled.

It is doubtful he would have taken the extra without making prior arrangements that every cent of it would be paid back, in cash money. The other, lesser grants, he "had to give somethin' back, time or volunteering to help, but somethin' always had to be given back."

He embodied all that defined his life's work, coal miner. He was in more than one slate fall. Once, his eye was pushed almost out of his head; another time, several ribs broke through the skin; it was hard work for not even $2 a day. Later, he ran a joy loader and raised a fine family. He wore two hearing aids, but that did not slow him down. He was sharp and keen, and never realized he was what southeastern Kentucky has always been about — people, wonderful, wonderful people.

He was one of the finest men I had ever met. He enriched my life on a warm, sunny afternoon in May 1989, as he grinned and laughed, chuckled and paused, sharing with me what his life had been. Through it all, ran a golden thread of how much he loved his family, the life God had given him and his world.

As long as I draw breath, he shall live in my memory. I shall never forget what a privilege it was to know this man, Mr. Ruben Lafferty. May God grant him peace and may the light of His countenance shine upon Ruben Lafferty's face until we all meet again.

I was born in Allen on May 24, 1931, the son of A.B. Webb and Ruby Calvert. I was christened James Arthur Webb. At the approximate age of two years I was taken into the family of Lacy and Blanche Webb Vicers. The Webb side of the family is no mystery and as long as my adoptive parents were living I would never question who my biological mother was nor where she might be.

This is my problem! Now, the Vicars have passed on and I would like to locate the Calvert family. Some say they were from Floyd, Pike, or across the border in West Virginia. The only known fact I have regarding Ruby Calvert is that she remarried and moved to Florida. She supposedly wed a man named Taylor and moved to the vicinity of Melbourne, Florida.

If anyone could help me locate the Calvert family or at least find out if Ruby is living, I would be most grateful. All I want is to know something about my biological mother and her family.

Editorial :

What's good for the goose...

by Scott Perry

The list of personnel employed and placed for the 1991-92 school year in the Floyd County School System provides for some interesting reading.

Not necessarily for the names included, but for those which aren't.

Noticeably absent from the list recommended by school superintendent Ronald Hager are the names of three teachers who had run-ins during the course of this school year with their principals.

We won't get into who they are at this point or what their individual situations are, but we will wonder why their employment status merits further consideration from Hager while their "adversaries" were re-employed in their positions without question.

While the best and most proper solution to resolving dispute may be to separate feuding parties, these particular cases go beyond what might be described as typical personality conflicts. Some serious charges and allegations are involved and, no doubt, litigation will ensue.

Our question is why did Hager choose to place only the teachers' careers in limbo instead of putting all involved on the block?

At first glance, it would appear that, regardless of who is to be found at fault for what, the teachers will be required to pay the penalty through reassignment to another school or through dismissal.

Without passing judgment on individual merits of individual cases, we will offer our two-cents worth...

What's good for the goose is good for the gander.

Report to Kentucky

Senator Wendell Ford

RECC's: A Wise Investment for Kentucky

Over the past week, I have had the good fortune to participate in several meetings with members of the 29 Rural Electric Cooperative Corporations who were in Washington for their annual visit.

I came away from these meetings highly impressed at the dedicated service they are providing all across Kentucky. I also came away with serious concerns about the Bush Administration's continuing insistence on targeting the Rural Electric Administration for budget cuts, especially given its record of achievement over the years.

The record speaks for itself. Without a doubt, the REA and its cooperatives are one of our federal government's earliest and best examples of economic development in our rural areas. They also serve as one of our most successful examples of public and private partnerships at work.

Established in 1935, the REA began their work when only 11 percent of American farms had electricity. Today, virtually every area in this country has reliable electrical service.

In 1949, the REA was given the authority by Congress to make loans extending telephone service to rural areas. At that time, only 36 percent of the nation's farmers had telephone service. Today, virtually every farm in America has access to a telephone.

In Kentucky, our 27 electric distribution cooperatives and two generation and transmission cooperatives serve over 546,000 consumers in 117 counties.

Kentucky is currently ranked fifth in the nation on the number of consumers served and ranks first among all states in the total sale of cooperative electricity.

Given this track record, it is hard to understand why the REA budget is being targeted for additional cuts, especially in light of the reductions over the past decade.

During the 1980's, insured electric loans to communities were reduced over 40 percent. Under last year's budget agreement, these loans were cut back an additional 25 percent.

To add to the reductions already in place, the proposed Bush Administration budget would further reduce direct loan authority and significantly lower loan guarantees.

The Administration needs to get the message on the true meaning of rural development and the role RECC's are continuing to play in creating opportunities in rural areas.

RECC's already provide an infrastructure for dealing with many of our serious national problems in today's rural economy. The 1990 Farm Bill relied on RECC's for many important initiatives including water and waste facility financing, the promotion of business incubators and rural development project financing.

VIDEO BIJOU

'Palm Beach,' 'Pickup Street' are 'p'perfect video choices

By Steven Alan McGaw

Let's go back in time a bit and review two classic movies. Do they have anything in common? No, except that they both start with the letter "p."

Pickup on South Street (1953) Venerable Sam Fuller directed this tough, intelligent thriller about a pickpocket who accidentally (well, practicing his trade) acquires top-secret microfilm, making himself a much-sought-after man. Richard Widmark stars as the unlucky crook, with terrific supporting work by Jean Peters, Richard Kiley and the great Thelma Ritter as a hard-bitten street peddler who also dispenses information ... for a price. Fuller, whose brutal, straightforward movies have long been more appreciated in Europe than in his own country, also wrote the screenplay for this film. Other important works by Fuller include Fixed Bayonets, Shock Corridor and 1979's terrific The Big Red One.

Palm Beach Story (1942) This screwball comedy is Preston Sturges in top form. The plot is, at best, secondary, but for the record: Claudette Colbert runs away from hubby Joel McCrea and arrives in Palm Beach with zany millionaires Mary Astor and Rudy Vallee. Some moments are puzzling. Some are silly. But nearly every frame is a comic gem. William Demarest and Franklin Pangborn add to the fun.

TV PIPELINE

Kyle McLachlan had early ties with producer David Lynch

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I would like more information on Kyle MacLachlan. He is now starring in Twin Peaks but has done many movies. I would like to know what other movies he has been in. —S. Price, Anchorage, Alaska

A: Kyle MacLachlan made his film debut in the 1983 film Dune under the direction of David Lynch, who directs Twin Peaks. His other theatrical film credits include Blue Velvet (also by Lynch), The Hidden and The Boyfriend School.

Q: Could you please tell me the name of the theme on the Highway to Heaven series? —A.F. Meunier, Garden Grove, Calif.

A: The song, written by David Rose, is simply called the "Highway to Heaven Theme."

Q: About two or three years ago there was a made-for-television movie filmed in Australia that starred Linda Evans and Jack Thompson. It was about Linda marrying an Australian chap and moving to the outback where he owned a sheep station. He was killed, and she stayed on in Australia with his two children and ran the sheep station. It was a great movie. I would like to know the name of it, where I might get a video copy, or if it will ever air again. —Pat MacArthur, Carlsbad, N.M.

A: The movie you are asking about was called The Last Frontier. It was re-broadcast last year and will probably turn up again at some time. For more information about its availability, I suggest you call the Video Library of Philadelphia at 1-800-669-7157.

Q: I am a fan of The Young Riders, and I was wondering if you could give me some information about Gregg Rainwater, his age, where he is from and his real name? —Delores Rance, Cedar Lake, Ind.

Kyle MacLachlan in Twin Peaks

A: Twenty-four-year-old Gregg Rainwater was born in Flint, Mich., of Cherokee and Osage descent. He turned to acting while in grammar school. His American-Indian heritage comes in handy playing Buck Cross, the part-Indian Pony Express rider on The Young Riders. He feels his role holds a special significance as it gives him the opportunity to investigate his American-Indian heritage. For more information on his personal life, write him c/o The Young Riders, MGM/UA, 10000 W. Washington Blvd., Culver City, Calif. 90232.

Q: Please give me some information on actor Nick Mancuso, such as his age, marital status and where he lives. —Claudia Todd, Santa Ana, Calif.

A: Nick Mancuso was born in Italy in 1956. He is married to actress Barbara Williams, and they reside in Los Angeles.

Board

In other action Tuesday, the board directed administrative and central office personnel to begin submitting a weekly tentative itinerary on July 1 and follow that with an actual itinerary describing their daily activities.

The measure was suggested by board member Eddie Billips, who said it would provide some means of accountability and it would be beneficial to superintendent Ron Hager.

"It's a matter of accountability," Billips said. "This way we will have a written record of daily activities and can prove to the public the need for possibly more or less employees. It would also let superintendent Hager know where the employees are and what our needs are."

Board member Tommy Boyd said central office personnel "should be there to shake your hand" when the office opens at 8 a.m.

"Teachers have to be at the schools before eight, and administrators should also be at work at eight," Boyd said. "They make $50-$60,000 a year, they ought to be there (in the office) to take their calls."

During the public comment session at the board meeting, new Floyd County Education Association president Carol Stumbo told the board she had had "words" with her principal at Wheelwright High School Tuesday. Stumbo said the principal talked to her in a very harsh manner.

"Then he said, 'see if you can do anything about it,'" Stumbo said. "Let's put an end to the war taking place between teachers and administrators. Nobody wins in a situation like that. If you want us to do our jobs, give us an atmosphere where we can do that."

Outgoing president Bud Reynolds had harsh words for the board of education and voiced his frustration about the current school year.

"We did have a work stoppage in an effort to exert our rights as educators and advocates for the children in Floyd County," Reynolds said, "but the administration and this board carried the strike and/or its effects for a much longer period than nine days. This is the 182nd day of school and we are still being penalized and little has been changed."

Superintendent Ron Hager strongly disagreed with Reynolds.

"I don't think myself, as superintendent, or this board carried the strike on, I think it was FCEA," Hager said. "I totally disagree."

In other matters, the price of school lunches will be raised to .90 cents; $1.75 for employee lunches; and $2.50 for non-employee lunches. A student breakfast remained at .50 cents, but raised to .90 cents for an employee breakfast; and $1.00 for a non-employee breakfast.

Assistant food service director Wayne Ratliff said he didn't like recommending the increase, but said it was needed due to rising food costs.

In other action Tuesday, the board instructed Adams Middle School architect Randy Burchett to notify the bonding companies of contractors that the companies have not lived up to the performance of their contract.

A sixth grade area of the middle school has to be replaced due to settling in the foundation.

Burchett said contractors had been sent certified letters, but he has not received any response from the contractors. Burchett said the school's general contractor, Ervin Akers, had "pumped" concrete into the foundation and the settling appeared to be under control. The architect said work to correct the problems in the sixth grade wing will be performed during the summer.

In other business Tuesday, the board:

- agreed to enter into a one-year agreement to install IBM computers in the schools to implement the TLC (Teachers Learning with Computers) program at a cost of $250,000;

- approved a grant application for Duff Elementary to develop a pilot resource site for the primary program;

- awarded bids for transportation supplies, student insurance, athletic equipment, custodial supplies and the yearbook;

- received bids for the food service program;

- approved contracting with Kaiser-Taulbee Associates Inc. to inspect the Martin Elementary school building;

- called a special meeting for June 24 at 6 p.m. at the administration building; and

- declared a house on the Martin school grounds to be surplus property and ordered it to be torn down.

All members were in attendance at Tuesday's meeting.

Security

The superintendent said he had been considering electronic security systems since last fall.

"We've been talking with two companies about installing the systems," Hager said. "We've been given a start-up cost of $20,000 to get it installed."

The board directed attorney Cliff Latta to give the companies a 30-day notification on Wednesday.

Companies receiving payments for security services were: State Security; Security Inc.; Collins Security Service; B & D Security; and Thunderbolt Protection Service.

The Times conducted its own investigation in May into the issue after questions were raised at May's board meeting by a member of the audience.

An inspection of records on file at the central office revealed that only one contract was on file and that no performance bonds from those five companies were recorded in that office. Bonds required by contracts ranged from $10,000 to $1 million.

A visit by the Times to two facilities employing night watchmen on two different occasions failed to locate any personnel. The facilities, Floyd County Technical High School and Martin Elementary, were under contract to B & D Security.

Bill "Crush" Dingus, spokesman for B & D Security, said last month that he and his son provided security for the technical high school, Martin and the county's bus garage. When asked by the Times about the absence of a night watchman, Dingus replied his son was on duty.

A review of break-in reports on file at the central office showed two reports for Martin Elementary, both filed by B & D Security. One report, undated, related to the theft of ham and the other, dated May 3, 1991, said hamburger had been stolen. Dingus said those were the only break-ins at the school.

Dingus' claims were countered at the May board meeting in reports to several board members detailing numerous other alleged break-ins and alleged thefts of school equipment.

Kentucky state law requires that any purchase over $10,000 by a public agency must be put out for bid.

Finance office Russell Frazier said last month that he did not know why the security contracts had not been bid.

The board employed the five security companies to provide services at Prestonsburg High School; Melvin Grade School; Martin Grade School; Duff Grade School; Betsy Layne High School; Allen Central High School; Floyd County Technical High School; Martin Grade School; the county bus garage; Betsy Layne Grade School; and Clark Grade School.

The first anti-discrimination law against women was passed by the Illinois legislature in 1872, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

A Sporting Chance

(Or, if you don't like Michael Jordan, skip this column)

If you are a real Floyd County Times fanatic, you've seen that I've written a few lines for Ed in the Sports department. As anyone who knows me well can attest, I'm a sports junkie, and it does go beyond Duke basketball. I watch enough sports to be sick of Rickey Henderson's whining because he didn't get a Porsche with his $5 million contract, and I join with some people in saying that the love of the game isn't much of a factor anymore. Players will use their talents for the sole purpose of making money. The spirit is leaving professional sports, some say. Even so, I saw something Wednesday night that did my heart good:

Michael Jordan in tears.

After the Chicago Bulls won the NBA finals, Michael Jordan, the man, the legend, the only man who can shut down (or shut up) Spike Lee (aka Mars Blackmon), was sitting on the floor with his wife, holding the NBA Championship trophy, crying for joy. True champions are made of such stuff.

This man has every right to be arrogant. He is the greatest player in his sport in the known universe, and yet, he takes winning in the proper perspective — with his team. Jordan knew he couldn't win it alone, and role players like John Paxson and Horace Grant chipped in to make Jordan's last hurdle conquerable. Even before the victory celebration began, the entire team huddled and recited the Lord's Prayer.

In a time when pitchers Larry Andersen and Bud Black held out of spring training because they weren't awarded $1 million contracts (if you don't recognize the names, don't feel bad, neither do a lot of other people), it is refreshing to see the man who sets the standard exhibit the qualities of a true winner.

I've gone to Durham Bulls (the Atlanta Braves' A-ball team) games while at school and have seen 18 year-old kids playing their hearts out for meal money, hoping for that elusive chance to make the Big Show. The looks on their faces after winning a game are much like Jordan's when he wins. The sheer thrill of playing the game keeps these players going.

When faced with Jose Canseco, Eric Davis and Barry Bonds in a sport once known as America's pastime, it's good to see that some people still enjoy what they're doing in the world of sport for the same reasons they did their stuff on the playgrounds and sandlots — because they love the game.

Audience Participation

I'm going to be driving to Connecticut by myself in a few weeks — one long drive, let me tell you. I'd like any readers of this column to send me your best ways to amuse yourself while on the road. Mountain Voices — by Willie Elliott —

HIP! HIP! HURRAH! SUMMER VACATION

Happiness is getting out of school for the summer. You may think that sounds a little "unprofessional" coming from a teacher. It's not that teachers don't like teaching, but they just like to go home, rest up, and get ready for a new year. There is something therapeutic about throwing out all those papers that have accumulated throughout the year and handing in one more red record book. (Oh, the stories those red record books could tell.) I have this iron-clad rule: don't throw anything out during the school year because you will need it sooner or later, or worse yet, the central office will ask for the document to triplicate the very next day. The things I throw out will more than likely be needed again next year, but there is just so much stuff that will fit in a room. My room is quickly approaching that point.

It is too bad that the school year has to end with such force and passion. Each event takes its toll. Sure, they are all nice. We get emotional about our seniors leaving as we spend time thinking about their future. All this fussing and carrying on does not come cheaply. After a while the combined weight of teaching and saying goodbye runs the body down. That is why summer vacations were invented. If it weren't for summer vacation, the average teacher would weigh sixty-five pounds and be as crazy as a Bessie Bug. I can hear some of you saying, "They are already crazy." Shame, shame on you.

If you haven't had the experience of ending a school year as a teacher or other school employee, consider yourself lucky. The longer the school year runs, the more maddening it becomes. The same children that were trying to make the TAG (Talented and Gifted) program, Beta Club, or some other academic programs in November now have decided they would rather be on the A Team with

Mr. T. At this stage we teachers have to resort to some vicious means to insure that students make some attempt at school work. The last week of school I had to resort to the ultimate punishment: I told them they had to eat in the lunchroom twice and watch a rerun of Channel One if they didn't do their work. That worked fine until one smart-aleck child got his hands on that child abuse number.

Dealing with rumors that surface at the end of the school year can run into a big job. I have tried to tell the teachers that I will be in charge of starting rumors at my school. Some ill-advised souls add to the rumors, and in a few days I can't remember the ones I started from the others. I start believing them all. If we get extra money next year under the KERA program, I am going to suggest a new position for which I will have first dibs since I thought of it. It will be called Assistant Superintendent in charge of rumors. Pay will be commensurate with creativity and believability of rumors that are started. Anyone other than the superintendent of rumors that is caught starting a rumor will be punished severely. The culprit will be required to translate all the material that is covered at board meetings into Greek. I know some of you are going to say, "I thought it was already in Greek." It is irresponsible remarks of that kind that causes friction between the two sides. Hereafter, you will have to get permission to make such statements.

If you see some teacher acting a little strange, don't worry too much about it. More than likely that person will be fine when September rolls around. If you find any writing errors in this article, keep it to yourself. During the summer, I do not do windows or rewrites. I'd just like to add a couple of words to this article to sum up my feelings on the ending of another school year: hallelujah, hallelujah.

LITTLE BROTHER'S GETTING MARRIED

Next Saturday is the big day, my little brother is tying the knot. Such a monumental occasion as this calls for a little reflection. (I hope I don't embarrass you Arron.)

by Tess Whitmer

I come from a family of six children, at the present time none of us are married. My older sister was, but she terminated that a couple of summers ago. We all have this running bet as to who will provide the first grandchild for my mother. No one wants to take the baton and run with it. We all point at one another and relinquish the burden from ourselves. My money was always on my older sister. After all, she's the eldest, she should lead the way, but Erica isn't ready.

We used to have the "I'm not married" argument to fall back on. That will soon end. This year sees two of my younger brothers taking the step into matrimony.

Clifford, who is 24, put it off for as long as he could. He always told his girlfriend (of about seven years) that they would get married when he graduated from college. He drug that at for as long as possible, but somehow the diploma snuck up on him this spring, and his girlfriend is now his fiancee.

Everyone expected Cliff's announcement, so none were surprised. Actually most were saying "it's about time." Now there will be no betting, because Lisa (my soon-to-be sister-in-law) has graciously volunteered to be the bearer of the first grandchild.

However, last month, the family received a shock. The words "Arron is doing what?!" were heard through the telephone wires from Pennsylvania to Ohio to Kentucky.

Arron has come out of his secretive existence and informed us that he has a girlfriend, and to top that, is marrying her on June 22. Arron has always been a sort of private person, whether he is just introverted or can't compete with his flamboyant family during gatherings has always been a question.

As a matter of fact, he is so mysterious he took two girls to his senior prom, just to throw the rest of us off his trail. We never heard Arron talking about girls or even on the phone with them. Come to think of it though, he didn't spend much time at home and we were curious as to what he was doing with himself. I guess now we have a better idea.

Gosh, it seems like only yesterday that Arron was a skinny little kid that had to sit at the dinner table until 9 p.m. just to clean his plate. I remember my mom struggling to teach him how to read late into the night, my youngest sister (who was about three at the time) memorizing the words to the books he was learning before he could read them.

Poor Arron used to have to always hang out with the two other younger kids in the family, because us three older ones were always together or gone. Consequently, we treated him as if he were at least two years younger than he was and we were reluctant to admit that he was growing up.

Now Arron is a full fledged adult (the big 2-1), is employed at Paul B. Hall Hospital in the respiratory therapy department, is working towards a professional license and doing really well at it, and is getting married.

Sigh...I guess it is time to admit that we are all getting older and moving on. My mother is just realizing what it is like not to have anybody but her and her husband at home. My youngest sister still technically lives there, but only passes through to shower and change clothes, it seems.

Well, Arron and Alicia, I wish you both happiness and the best of luck for many years to come. My money is still on Lisa, however.

EKU Triple P alumni will meet at park

Many of the nearly 1,000 graduates of Eastern Kentucky University in the Paintsville, Prestonsburg and Pikeville area will gather on Saturday, June 22, for their annual Triple P Chapter meeting.

The picnic will begin at 5:30 p.m. at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park's Sky Lift Picnic Pavilion.

Following the dinner of fried chicken, potato salad, baked beans and apple cobbler, participants will watch the musical comedy "Gypsy" at the Jenny Wiley Theatre.

Cost of the picnic and play will be $15 per person.

The play is set in the 1920s and tells the emotional story of Gypsy Rose Lee and her mother, Rose, as they struggled in vaudeville.

The original production, with music by Jule Styne and lyrics by Steven Sondheim, opened in 1959 on Broadway, starring Ethel Merman.

Critics called it one of the best musicals of the decade. "Gypsy" has recently enjoyed a third Broadway revival starring Tyne Daily.

Guests from campus will include EKU President and Mrs. Hanly Funderburk and EKU National Alumni Association President Juanita "Boots" Adams of Prestonsburg.

The EKU National Alumni Association's Triple P Chapter serves alumni in Floyd, Johnson and Pike counties, but alumni and other friends from neighboring areas are welcome also.

Reservations for the picnic and play are needed by June 13.

Persons interested in reservations or who wish more information should call the EKU National Alumni Association toll free at 1-800-262-7493, ext. 1260; or call direct, 622-1260.

Pete Grigsby Jr., Assistant Superintendent of Student Services and Programs, emceed the program in lieu of Superintendent Ronald Hager, who was ill. The banquet featured a performance by the Kentucky Opry and a speech by Dr. Steve Henderson. Henderson urged the students to "be good human beings, set good goals, get good habits, be creative, compassionate, caring, humble and, most of all, be yourselves." After trophies were awarded to the students, Grigsby gave a final congratulation to the parents. (photo by Mike Rosenberg)

A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO MIDDLE AGE

Last summer I could wear everything in my closet. This summer, something strange has occurred. I can still wear most of the things in my closet if the items don't have to be entirely zipped or buttoned.

What is truly amazing is I weigh the same amount this year as I did last year at this time. I think the axis has shifted or something. What else could cause this phenomena?

"Jimmie, just look at these pants," I announced to my husband.

"A little snug, aren't they? I'd take them back and get a larger size."

"Back where? I just got them out of my closet!"

"Put on a few pounds, heh?" he asked.

"Absolutely not!" I answered. "I weigh exactly what I weighed last year at this time. Something's not right here."

"I agree, and it must be the scales," he laughed.

I looked at my husband as he sat in his chair eating crackers and cheese and announced, "I weighed the same on the doctor's scales, too."

"Then what do you think is the matter?" he asked as he tried to stifle his laughter, but failed as cracker crumbs spewed from his mouth. "Do you think little elves visited over night and washed all your clothes on the hot cycle?"

I was not amused. A woman is never amused when she realizes her entire wardrobe has been reduced to an out-dated Moo Moo that no one would even consider buying at a yard sale, and a chenille bathrobe with "Remember the Alamo" emblazoned on the back.

"I think it's the moisture in the house," I stated.

"What moisture? This house is so dry we could be candidates for spontaneous combustion simply by clapping our hands together."

"Oh, really," I replied.

"Sara, as you grow older, your body changes shape. When that happens, things don't remain exactly where they once were."

"That's ridiculous. My head's where it always was."

"Yeah, but your chin is a little lower."

"That's not true. My neck is just a little shorter."

"All right. I won't argue with you, but just tell me one thing. If my clothes get too tight on me, what do you think causes it?"

"Phosphates,"

"Phosphates?"

"Certainly, Phosphates have contributed to the deterioration of the ozone, and most washing detergents contain phosphates. This, in turn, depletes the thread count in clothing making them smaller. I'm thinking about filing suit against Proctor and Gamble."

"Good. While you think about that, I'll think about contacting a good doctor. Do you want a private room?"

"But, Jimmie," I cried. "I've been watching my body all year long, and I didn't notice anything different. The only remarkable incident I can recall was the morning I saw myself in the mirror as I was getting out of the shower and wondered whose legs I was drying off."

"Whose legs were they?" he asked, incredulously.

"Oh, they were mine, but I thought they were someone else's. Particularly when I saw the dimple."

"I didn't know you had a dimple," he said. "Smile so I can see it."

"Jimmie," I said dejectedly. "If I let THIS dimple smile at you, you'll ask for twin beds."

"That just proves my point," he said. "The older a person gets, the more their bodies drop."

If Jimmie's theory proves correct, I have a little less than two years before my "dimple" will be large enough to adequately house a family of four comfortably.

I really dread getting out the winter wardrobe.

Understanding the struggle for Democracy in East-Central Europe

by Dr. Thomas D. Matijasich

During the past two years, Americans have watched the rapid decline of Soviet power in East-Central Europe and the emergence of democracy in many of the former Communist states. With the withdrawal of Soviet forces from the region, problems, as well as opportunities, have appeared.

For two generations, Americans have viewed the satellite states of the Soviet Empire as part of a large, gray, monolithic culture, devoid of sparkle or independent heritage. Nothing could be further from the truth. The states of East-Central Europe — which include Poland, Czechoslovakia, the former German Democratic Republic (East Germany), Hungary, Yugoslavia, and Rumania — each has a special heritage of their own. What they have shared in the twentieth century is a common struggle to preserve their national existence against the forces of totalitarianism.

All of the states of East Central Europe felt the heavy-hand of fascism during the era of the Second World War. Various ethnic groups were pitted against one another in order to satisfy the desires of the Nazi War Machine. Millions were killed, cities were destroyed, and families were separated.

Following the Second World War, the Soviet Union extended its dominion over most of East-Central Europe. Demoralized by their recent struggle against Germany, most of the people of the region were unable to effectively resist the pressure exerted by the Soviets.

Viewed as enemies by most Americans until recently, we have failed to recognize the long-term struggle waged by the citizens of the Eastern bloc in an attempt to preserve their national identities. Like us, the peoples of East-Central Europe dreamed of living in prosperity under governments of their own choosing.

I have written these series of articles so that the people of Eastern Kentucky might better understand the history of East-Central Europe. It is a story of tragedy and inspiration, of suffering and achievement. The struggles of individual human beings are often overlooked as we focus on the great historical events of the day. Yet, it is from these struggles that democracy has emerged in Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

My first essays attempt to illustrate the tragic impact the Second World War had on the lives of people in East-Central Europe. These are followed by essays on the years of Communist rule. The final essays will be on the revolutions of 1989 and the present state of affairs in the region.

Part I: The scattering of peoples

When the Twentieth Century began, East-Central Europe was dominated by three large empires — Tsarist Russia, Hapsburg Austria, and Imperial Germany. All three of these empires contained a substantial number of minority groups within them. All three were destroyed in the horror of the First World War.

When the leaders of the world gathered together in Paris in 1919, they hoped to redraw the map of Europe based upon the ideal of national self-determination. A host of new states were created, including Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, and Finland. Unfortunately, each of these new states contained substantial minorities who remained restive under the rule of the dominant group. Germans, Hungarians and Slovaks resented the primacy of the Czechs in Czechoslovakia. Croats remained discontented because a Serb sat on the throne of Yugoslavia. Ukrainians lived in both Poland and the Soviet Union without a state of their own.

The minority groups within the young nation-states of East-Central Europe helped to undermine the strength of the central governments. When the Nazi Party came to power in Germany, Hitler cynically exploited ethnic rivalries in order to promote a program of German conquest. In reality, Hitler and his associates had little respect for the aspirations of European minorities. He hoped to exploit the human resources of East-Central Europe for the benefit of the German war machine while taking the land of Germany's Slavic neighbors to create more living space for members of the Third Reich.

The case of Michael Walkowicz illustrates the impact of Hitler's policies upon the people of the region. Walkowicz was born in 1924 in the Ukrainian village of Dubrovitzka. Dubrovitzka was located in Polish territory so "at home everybody speak Ukrainian, but at school you speak Polish." He recalled that the Polish people "treated us okay. You can go where you want and you have to work."

On September 1, 1939, Germany invaded Poland and the European phase of World War II began. As increasing numbers of nations joined the war effort against Germany, the Germans forced peoples from conquered lands to work as virtual slaves in German factories. On May 3, 1942, Michael Walkowicz was unexpectedly seized while walking down a street in his hometown by the Gestapo and shipped off to Germany.

After spending a few months as a farm laborer, he was placed in a work camp. "We was in factory like prisoner. We got guards watching us, taking us directly to the factory. We stay in barracks. In one room we have 32 people. It was double bunks. They close the door and put bar over it. If you want to go to the bathroom, you got to use a bucket on the floor."

Conditions in the camp near Dinkelsbühl, Germany were bad. Mattresses were made of straw and virtually everyone suffered from lice. The prisoners were fed a bowl of soup and three slices of bread and yet they were expected to work a full day in the factory. Allied bombs frequently shook the barracks but terrified inmates faced German bullets if they attempted to escape.

Within the camp were Ukrainians, Poles, Russians, Hungarians, Czechs, Slovaks, and Serbs. After the camp was liberated by American forces, many of the prisoners could not or would not return home. The Soviets had liberated Dubrovitzka and annexed the Polish Ukraine. When the war ended, the Soviets wanted the Americans to turn over all Russian and Ukrainian refugees to them. Walkowicz recalled that a "lot of people killed themselves, because they don't want to go back to Russia." Fortunately, General Eisenhower refused to permit forced repatriation.

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration found itself responsible for eight million European refugees in 1945. Most returned to their homelands within a short period of time. One million refused to be repatriated, some remaining in camps as late as 1962. After spending five years in refugee camps, Michael Walkowicz made his way to the United States where he found work as a carpenter. He never returned to visit his Ukrainian homeland.

McKenzie Captures Regional Jr. Classic Title At Pikeville; Advances To State

It an exciting weekend for McDowell's John Alan McKenzie at Pikeville's Green Meadow Golf Course. All McKenzie did was shoot a three-under-par 67 to win the Independent Insurance Junior Golf Classic and advance on to state competition.

McKenzie, who tries to get in four rounds of golf a week, defeated Grover Justice of Pikeville for the junior title. Boyd County's Bruce Walters II finished third in the classic. Justice shot a 69 while Walters had a 71.

The McDowell golfer has been hitting the links ever since he was nine years old. He is the son of Claude and Martha McKenzie of McDowell. McKenzie's dad is an avid golfer also, while mom doesn't take part.

By winning the Independent Insurance Classic at Green Meadows, McKenzie will now advance to state competition at Shelbyville where he will play on the Undulatta Golf Course. The state finals will be held June 25-26.

"I will be shooting a practice round on the course on June 24," said McKenzie. McKenzie said that he entered the tournament with four other golfers from McDowell High School.

"We've never had anyone enter the tournament before," said McDowell golf coach Johnny Ray Turner, "because I never felt that we had anyone that could win it. This year I felt that John had a good chance to win."

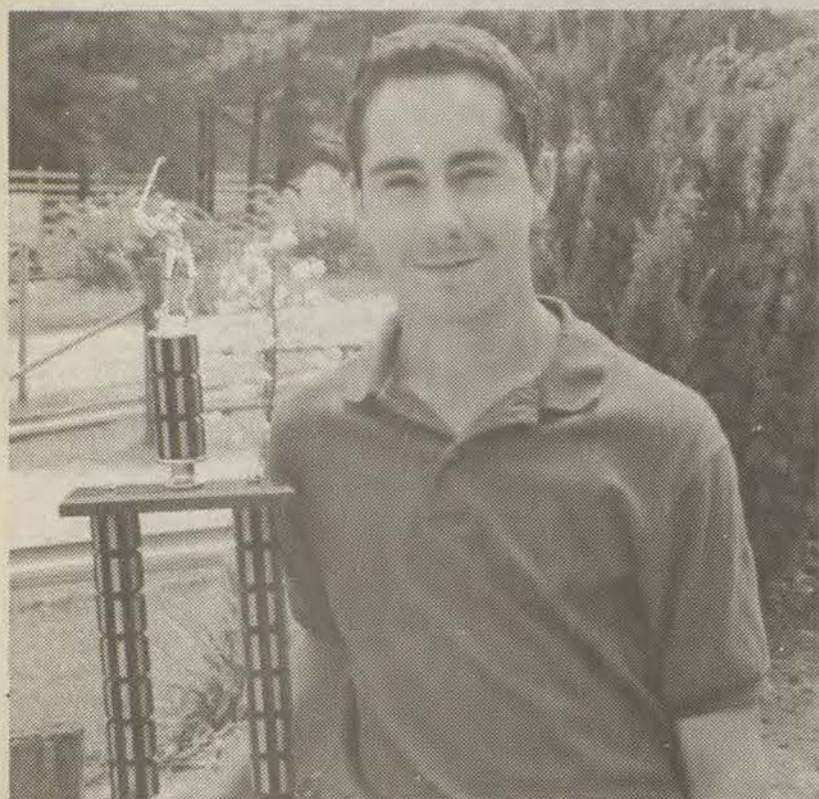

Turner said that he would like to enter McKenzie in more of the available junior tournaments.

"There are more out there," he stated, "and I feel he could do well in any of them."

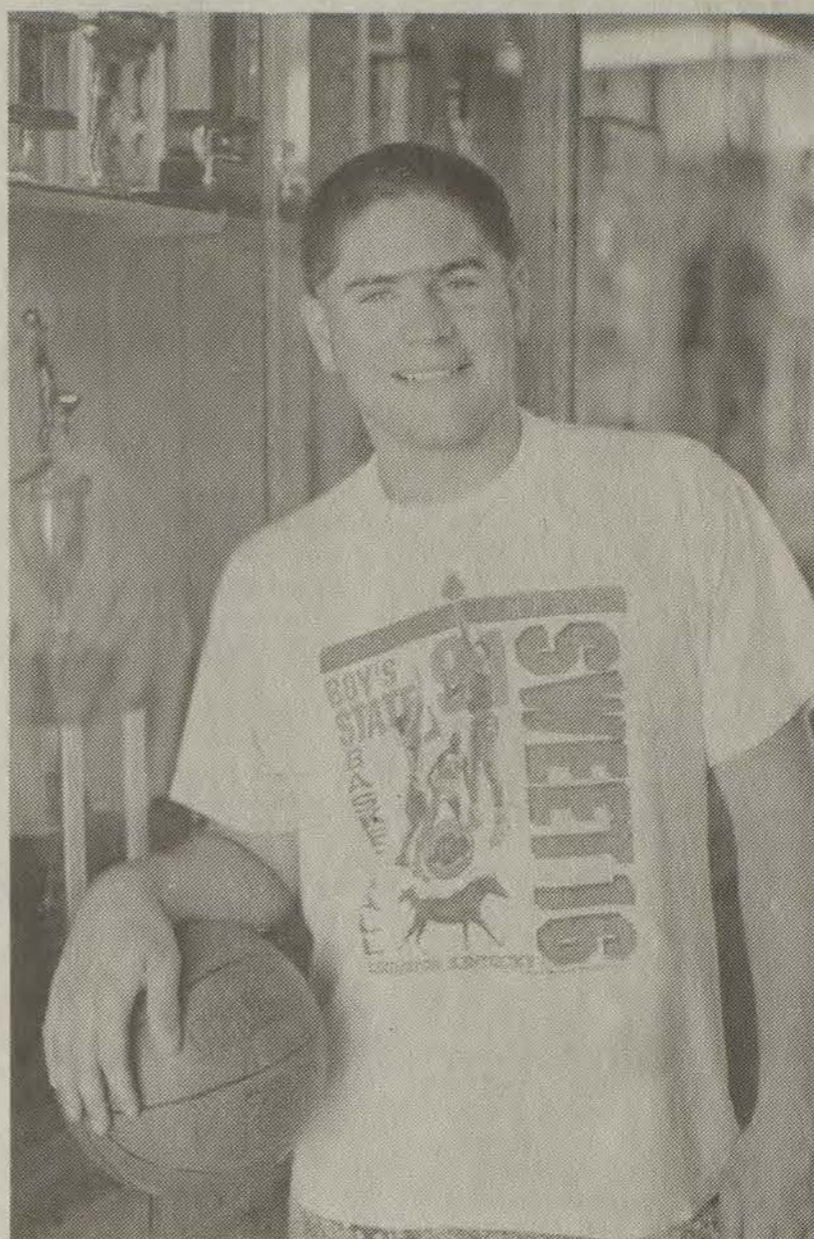

The low 25 percent in each regional advances to the state level of competition. There are 10 regions in Kentucky. The lowest two qualifiers will go on to the Nationals at Ann Arbor, Michigan where they will play the Radrick Farms Golf Course, close to the University of Michigan.

The regional match was for those 18 and under. The Independent In-

Harold Pee Wee Tournament

Triple Play Highlights Pirates 23-16 Win Over Tigers

A rarity in Pee Wee baseball, an unassisted triple play. That was the highlight of the day as the Betsy Layne Pirates pulled the unusual feat in the third inning of their game with the Harold Tigers in the opening game of the Harold Pee Wee Tournament at Conn Field in Harold.

The Tigers were trying to get back into the game trailing 20-12 in the bottom of the third. Jason Hunter singled and Lance Collins followed with a base hit. Joey Hall then lined a drive to shortstop with the runners on first and second on the move. The shortstop caught the ball tagged second and ran to first to complete the unassisted triple play.

The Pirates scored 10 runs in the third inning to erase a 12-10 Tiger lead and go on top 20-12. After two walks and an error at first base, the Pirates collected three consecutive hits by Barrett Blankenship, David Knausz and Aaron Swiger, as four runs crossed the plate. Justin Morton had an RBI single in the inning as did Wes Meade. Josh Howell collected two RBIs in the inning.

Grant Newsome led a Tiger rally in the first inning as the Tigers scored nine times to take a 9-4 first inning lead. Newsome led off the game with a base hit and later scored on a triple by Ryan Hamilton. Hamilton's triple also scored Austin Clark, who had walked. Hamilton came in to score on a double by Ricky Goble. Jesse Clark's base hit drove in a run also. Newsome completed the Tigers' scoring in the first when he double home two more runs to make it 9-4.

The Pirates scored their four runs in the top of the inning on Blankenship's triple and Knausz's base hit. Josh Hayes had a first inning single in picking up an RBI.

Elizabeth Clevenger had a double with the bases loaded for the Tigers in the bottom of the second inning

Dodgers Handle Yankees 14-3

In the second game of the tournament Monday evening, the Dodgers posted a 14-3 win over the Yankees to advance on in the double elimination tournament. The Dodgers scored all the runs they needed in the first inning as they pushed across seven. Nick Roberts, Dustin Elkins and Josh Hall singled to load the base for the Dodgers in the inning. Scott Collins walked to force home Roberts. Chase Gibson fanned and David Johnson drew a bases loaded walk to force in Elkins. Jason Lake scored two runs with a base hit and Cane Williams sent Lake home with another run. Williams scored the final run for the Dodgers in the inning on a base hit by Jonathan King.

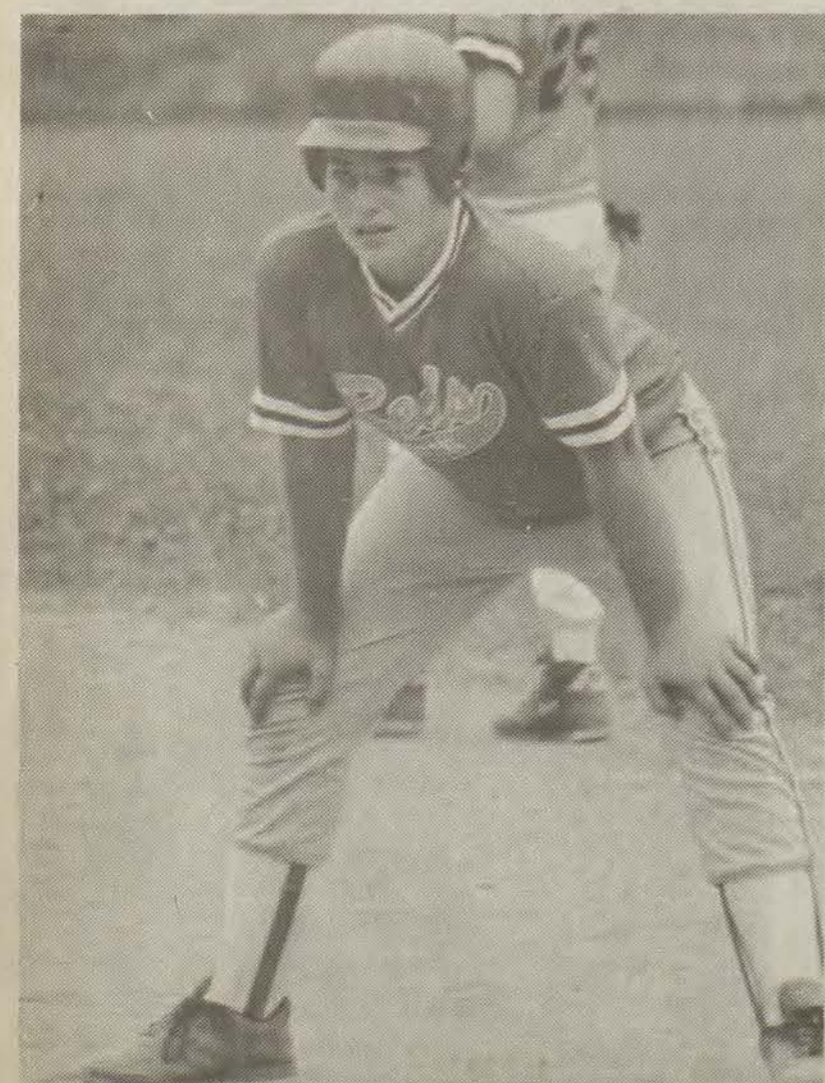

It was 10-0 after two when three more runs crossed home plate. Elkins got his second hit of the game with one out and later scored on a base hit by Scott Collins. Josh Hall had singled in between Elkins and Collins. Chase Gibson picked up an RBI with a base hit as Hall crossed the plate. David Johnson's single completed the scoring for the Dodgers.

The Yankees played hard never quitting and finally scored three times in the fourth. Justin Kidd singled and Casey Brown got a one out base hit. Kidd scored on Robert Robinson's base hit. Amanda Clark reached on an error on the pitcher and that loaded the bases for the Yankees. With two out, two runs scored on Doug Adkins base hit.

Back to back doubles by Elkins, Hall and Collins help the Dodgers to put the game in the win column as they scored four runs for a 14-3 game. Roberts singled ahead of the three doubles and David Johnson's base hit completed the scoring for the Dodgers. The Yankees went out in order in the fifth.

Scott Collins was the winning pitcher and Amanda Clark suffered the loss.

Drove In Four Runs!

Phillip Robinson of the Martin Reds had a big day at the plate with two hits, including a bases-loaded double, in driving in four runs against the Drift Giants. The Reds defeated Drift 18-0 behind Kevin Robinson's no-hitter. (Photo by Ed Taylor)

Robinson Tosses Second No-Hitter

Kevin Robinson fired his second no-hitter of the season by shutting out the Drift Giants 18-0 Tuesday in the Beaver Creek Little League at Martin.

Robinson fanned 11 batters in the four inning "mercy" game while walking only two. In fact, the two bases on balls that Robinson gave up were the only two base runners the Giants had. He walked Steve Hamilton to open the game. Hamilton advanced to third base but was stranded as Robinson struck out the next three batters. He allowed a two-out walk to Chad Tuttle in the third inning and got Hamilton on strikes to end that frame.

At one point, Robinson struck out eight consecutive batters before walking Tuttle in the third. The only ball hit off Robinson was a ground ball to second baseman Sam Bentley.

The game was a battle of the two division leaders in the Beaver Creek league. Drift came into the game with only one loss — a season opening loss to the Martin Braves and was the front runner in the Beaver Creek South Division. The Martin Reds, losers of only one game, an earlier loss to the Garrett Pirates, leads the Beaver Creek North Division with a 11-1 record.

The loss drops the Giants into a first place tie with the Martin Braves with records of 8-2. Pending the outcome of the Martin Braves/Drift Astros game, the two teams will meet this Tuesday at Drift in what could be the deciding game for first place in the South Division.

Chris Moore suffered the setback for the Giants in a game that was uncharacteristic of his talent as a pitcher. Moore seemed to suffer from the intimidation by the Reds hitters and struggled early. The big righthander, one of the top pitchers in the county's Little League programs, struck out seven Reds batters but walked 20. He allowed only six hits but his location was consistently low and outside.

The big blow for the Reds was a bases-clearing double by Phillip Robinson in the second inning when the Reds scored eight times. Moore walked 10 batters in the fateful second while giving up but one hit.

Kevin Robinson had a first inning double that scored Sam Bentley, who had walked, from second base. Robinson scored on Phillip Robinson's first inning single. The two Robinsons had four of the team's six hits. Shannon Stone singled in the third for the Reds.

Shepherd triples twice.. Hackworth Tosses No-Hitter As Indians Fall To Rangers 8-0

Jason Hackworth won his second game in a row for the Prestonsburg Rangers and also tossed his second consecutive shutout as he posted a 8-0 win over the Prestonsburg Indians in the Prestonsburg Little League at Archer Park Tuesday night. Not only did Hackworth shut out the Indians, he did not allow a hit in the game. He fanned 14 batters while walking only three. Hackworth has struck out 103 batters in just 42 innings of work.

Jeremy Shepherd helped provide the offense against the Indians pitching. Shepherd tripled twice in going perfect at the plate in three at bats. Shepherd also had a sacrifice fly in the game. Drew Brown had a two hit night with a single and a double. Hackworth chipped in with two base hits. Eric Kelly singled in the fifth. Michael Harris collected a double also.

The losing pitcher for the Indians was James Allen who worked the first three innings. Allen gave up two runs on two hits and he walked two. Shane Branham came on in relief and worked the final three innings, walking five in allowing six runs on seven hits.

Earlier in the week, Hackworth hooked up with Jake Poston in a pitchers duel and won over the second place Mets 3-0.

insurance Classic is not the first tournament win for the young golfer. He took the Paintsville Junior Club tournament two years ago and finished second this year.

"I'm a member of the Paintsville Club and I play a lot there," explained McKenzie. "My dad and I go there and play." McKenzie says that he enjoys playing the Jenny Wiley Course and also shoots at the Stumbo Park course.

"This is the first tournament winner we have had here at McDowell," said Turner of McKenzie's win, "although we did have Wesley Case, who was an excellent golfer, playing for us. We also had Steve Newsome, who is a better golfer now than when he was in high school."

Advancing to the tournament besides McKenzie will be Justice and Walters along with fourth place finisher Tony Justice of Frankfort.

Four other junior golfers from McDowell took part in the junior classic. Bud Kidd shot a 78 while Brandon Moore scored a 93. Mark Duddleson finished with a 103 and Matt Rose shot a 118.

This was not a KHSAA-sanctioned tournament. High school golf is a fall sport in Kentucky.

Reds Tryout Camp

A tryout camp for baseball players will be conducted by the Cincinnati Reds on Saturday, June 15th in Ashland at Central Park. The camp is open to all boys from 16 to 22 years of age. High school sophomores and juniors are especially urged to attend.

Reds scouting supervisor Gene Bennett will be in charge of the workouts which is scheduled to start promptly at 9:30 a.m. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. and all players participating in the workouts must be registered prior to the 9:30 a.m. starting time. Bennett will be assisted by Reds Scouts Don Moyer, Fred Hayes, Steve Kring, Dave Bennett and Bob Kouns.

All eligible players are requested to bring their own uniform, glove and shoes. The Reds will furnish all other equipment. In addition, each player will be responsible for his traveling and living expense, if any, unless signed to a contract with the Cincinnati Reds organization.

Players must be 16 years of age to be eligible to participate and all American Legion players must bring written permission from their Post Commander or their Legion Coach in order to try out.

Several of the players now playing baseball in the Major Leagues today were first seen at tryout camps such as this one and any boy seriously interested in playing professional baseball should make every effort to attend this camp.

The game was billed to be a close one that would develop into a pitchers duel between the two hard throwing righthanders.

Robinson, in fanning 11 batters, has amassed 100 strike outs in 28 1/3 innings.

The Reds need only one victory to clinch their division title for the second consecutive year. With two games remaining—the Martin Cardinals tonight and the Martin Blue Jays on Tuesday—the Reds could be in good shape to capture that crown.

"The Cardinals are a very good team," said Reds' coach Lonnie Robinson, "and anything could happen. We certainly are in the driver's seat but we are not ready to celebrate yet. Kevin pitched an awfully good game for us against a very good team. It was a win that we needed, as I said before."

The Reds carry a two game lead over the second place Garrett Pirates. Phillip Robinson finished the game with four runs batted in, while Kevin Robinson had three.

The Giants will face the Wayland Dodgers in their season finale on Thursday.

Wayland Cubs Win Over Reds

The Wayland Cubs American Amateur baseball team won their 12th consecutive game of the season with a doubleheader sweep over the two Hindman teams. The Cubs handed the Reds a 15-10 loss in game one and posted a mercy rule 24-4 win in the second game.

Against the Reds, the Cubs trailed the Hindman team 10-5 going into the top of the third inning. Wayland pushed across three runs in the top of the third to trail by only two and then tied the game with two runs in the top of the fourth. A two-run fifth and three in the sixth gave the Cubs the win as they held the Reds scoreless over the final three innings.

"I was worried about the outcome of that game," said Ronnie Patton, one of the Cubs coaches.

Brian Crawford, Byron Patton and Ethan Blackburn led the way for the victorious Cubs. Each had two hits in the game including a double. Blackburn drove in one run. Eric Casebolt had two hits in the game — both singles. Corbett Howell had two singles in picking up two RBIs. Rodney Bentley tripled home two runs for the Cubs. Jay Arnett had a RBI single and Nick Samons picked up a base hit. Brandon Merrill had a run producing base hit also.

The Cubs record went to 12-0 with a 24-4 mercy win over the Hindman Blue Jays in the four inning game. The Cubs scored six runs in each of the four innings.

"We hit the ball better in that game than any game we have played this year," said Patton.

Blackburn had three hits for the Cubs with a triple, double and a single. Blackburn picked up four RBIs in the game. Crawford tripled and singled in driving in a run. Brandon Merrill had a three-base hit along with two singles with two runs batted in.

Nicholas King had a triple and single plus one RBI. Howell managed three hits in the game and one run batted in. Patton singled twice with three RBIs and teammate Rodney Bentley had two triples in the contest. Samons collected two hits in the win for Wayland and both Charles Bentley and Eric Casebolt had base hits.

Carl D. Perkins Softball League

HAPPY'S VS RUDY'S

The Carl D. Perkins Softball League continued play Monday evening with two games. Happy's, the league leaders, disposed of Rudy's 20-2 in the first game of the evening. Happy's scored five times in the second, fourth and sixth inning to easily post the win.

The winners blasted three home runs in the contest. Gary Lemaster homered in the second and Mocher Kazee duplicated the feat in the third. Daniel Cole hit one in the sixth.

Danny Kenster was the winning pitcher for Happy's and Dwayne Dawson suffered the loss.

Happy Rowland tripled in Happy's five-run sixth. Rowland also had a double in the second inning. Jesse Cole had two two-baggers in the game — one in the third and again in the fifth.

Jesse Cole had three hits in four at bats with five runs batted in. Rowland collected five RBIs also. The heavy bat belonged to Daniel Cole who posted eight runs batted in with a four-for-four performance. Gary Lemaster had three hits and two RBIs.

Happy's had 16 hits in scoring 20 runs. They committed two errors. Rudy's didn't score until the bottom of the sixth when they pushed across their two runs. Rudy's collected four hits and committed eight errors.

ROWE'S CONSTRUCTION VS MARTIN

The "new team on the block", Martin, got a rough reception into the Perkins Center league by falling 14-12 to Rowe's Construction. Martin trailed 14-10 going into the bottom of the seventh inning, but their two-run rally fell short.

Martin took a quick 4-0 lead with a four-run first and made it a 7-1 game with three more in the second. However, Rowe's finally got the bats out of the bag and plated six runs in the third to tie the game at 7-7. Rowe's took their first lead in the fifth when three runs crossed home plate. Martin scored a single run in the bottom of the inning for a 10-8 game. Two runs in the sixth for Rowe's made it 12-8 and Martin kept close with two in their half of the inning.

Jamie Howell had the game's only home run for Rowe's in the third inning. Chuck Rowe and Rocky Rowe doubled twice in the contest and Terry Moore had a third inning double for Martin.

Jason Story was the winning pitcher for Rowe's and Tommy Hall took the loss.

Howell went four-for-four for Rowe's. Tom Poe and Delmar Collins each collected three hits for the winners. Moore and Bill Hall had three hits for Martin.

ROWE'S CONSTRUCTION VS RUDY'S

Rudy's opened hot against the Rowe's Construction team by scoring nine runs in the first inning with Jack Endicott hitting a home run to take a 9-0 lead. Rowe's made it 9-4 with four runs in the bottom of the second.

Rowe's kept chipping away at the lead as their defense held Rudy's and their offense picked up. Rudy's scored a single run in the top of the third inning to make it a 10-4 game. It was 10-5 after Rowe's scored in the bottom of the fourth.

In the bottom of the sixth, Rowe's bats awakened and they scored six times to take a 11-10 lead. However, Rudy's wasn't through as they scored seven times in the top of the seventh to resume a 17-11 lead. Rowe's scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh, but the rally fell short as Rudy's took a 17-13 win.

CDP VS HAPPY'S

Happy's continues to lead the Carl D. Perkins Softball standings as they handed the Perkins Center team a 17-7 setback last Thursday. The win was number five for Happy's against only one loss.

It was a come from behind win for the league leaders as Perkins scored two runs in the first inning to take a 2-0 lead. Happy's went out in front 3-2 with three in the first only to see Perkins take a 7-3 advantage with four runs in the top of the second.

Happy's exploded for nine big runs in their half of the third inning to take a 12-7 lead. Perkins could not score in the fourth or fifth innings while Happy's pushed across five more runs.

CASTLES VS FIELDS

The game was never in doubt as Castles scored at will and posted a 21-2 win over Fields. Fields avoided a shutout as they scored two runs in the final inning. Castles scored six runs in the first inning for a 6-0 lead and never looked back.

RUDY'S VS CASTLES

In Friday's games, Rudy's posted a 25-20 win in a wild one at the Perkins Center diamond. Neither team scored in the first inning, but Rudy's pushed across seven runs in the top of the second and Castles came back with eight in their half of the first. Castles took a 11-8 lead after three innings. A seven-run seventh for Rudy's put the game in the win column.

FIELDS VS ROWE'S

In the second game on Friday, Ken Hamilton scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning with two outs for Rowe's Construction in a 26-25 win. Fields held a 25-19 lead going into the bottom of the seventh.

HAPPY'S VS CASTLES

Happy's posted a 16-2 win over Castles in the third game on Friday. Happy's scored nine times in the third inning to put the game away. Castles plated their runs in the third and fifth inning.

ROWE'S VS CDP

In the final game of the afternoon Sunday, Perkins won over Rowe's Construction in a wild one 25-24. Perkins took a 5-0 lead in the first inning with Rowe's coming back with four in the bottom of the inning. An eight-run fifth for Perkins gave them a 20-10 lead. The lead didn't hold up as Rowe's pushed across three runs in the fifth and seven in the sixth to climb to within one of Perkins, 21-20. Perkins scored four times in the top of the seventh.

RUDY'S VS HAPPY'S

In Sunday's games, Happy's defeated Rudy's 24-9 in the first game of the afternoon. A big nine-run fifth sewed the game up for Happy's and kept them in first place.

Allen Brothers Lead Brewers Past Expos 13-12 In Extra Innings

It was "The Allen Brothers Show", starring Bryan and Bennett Allen, when the Brewers faced the Expos in the Prestonsburg Senior League at Archer Park this week. Bennett Allen singled to score brother Bryan from third base to give the Brewers a 13-12 extra inning victory over the Expos.

Each player had three hits in the game. Bennett had a double among his three hits and drove in two runs.

In the eighth inning, Bryan Allen opened the inning with a base hit. Kevin Crum followed with a double. Greg Jones walked to load the bases for the Brewers in the bottom of the inning. Bryan Allen then delivered the base hit that scored brother Bennett.

The Brewers held a 7-0 lead over the first four innings until the Expos exploded for four runs in their half of the fifth. Back-to-back one-out walks to M. Collins and F. Collins put runners at first and second. Ervin Osborne's fly ball to centerfield was misplayed as Collins scored. Seth Hyden then doubled home two, scoring Collins and Osborne. Hyden scored on Matt Crum's double.

After the Brewers went out in the bottom of the fifth without any noise, the Expos took a 10-7 lead with a six-run sixth. A walk to Baldrige and a hit batsman but runners on first and second base. Collins fanned and F. Collins walked to load the bases. With two out, Osborne walked to force home a run and Seth Hyden drove in two runs with a base hit. Matt Crum followed with a run producing single.

The Brewers scored five runs in the bottom of the sixth to reclaim the lead to 12-10. Cory Reitz doubled with one out and scored on David Gearheart's single. Robbie Risner doubled with Gearheart stopping at third. Bryan Allen's second hit of the game scored both Gearheart and Risner. After Crum singled and Greg Jones struck out, Bennett Allen doubled home Allen and Crum with his second hit.

The Expos tied the game with a two run seventh on a two out double by Bellamy. Baldrige and Stoudt walked and scored on Bellamy's hit.

Prestonsburg Giants Win Season's First With 10-8 Win Over Braves

The Prestonsburg Giants of the Prestonsburg Little League finally got a taste of what has been a long time coming — a win. The Giants won their first game of the season when they posted a 10-8 win over the Prestonsburg Braves Monday night at Archer Park.

The Giants scored two runs in the top of the sixth inning to snap an 8-8 tie and give the Giants the lead. The Braves failed to score in their half of the sixth.

In the Giants' sixth, with one out, Kyle Richardson walked and Ryan Hardy reached on an error by second baseman Zeth Shepherd. John Arnett singled home Richardson with the go-ahead run. Richardson was tagged out centerfield to short, trying to take second. With two out, the Giants scored an insurance run on a RBI single by Ed Prater, scoring Hardy.

The Braves found themselves down 8-3 going into the bottom of the fourth inning. The Braves knotted the score at 8-8 when they pushed across four runs. J. B. Hall walked, opening the inning. Troy Mounts reached on a fielder's choice. Shepherd doubled home Hall and Mounts as Hale drew a walk off Hardy. Shepherd scored on an error at third base on an overthrow. Hale stole second and then third and came home on a wild pitch to tie the game.

The Giants took a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a lead off base hit by Matt Lafferty. With one out, Hardy walked and Arnett singled, scoring Lafferty. Hardy scored when the third baseman failed to handle the ball. Prater then drilled a base hit, scoring Arnett.

The Braves came back in the bottom of the second with two runs to make it a 3-2 game. Mounts singled and Shepherd walked. Each runner moved up on passed balls, and Mounts scored on an error on the catcher while Shepherd stole home. Luster had the only hit in the inning which came with two outs.

Mark Sosby collected a one-out single in the Giants' second inning, and Lafferty followed with his second base hit of the game. Richardson walked to load the bases for the Giants, and Hardy's single up the middle scored Sosby and Lafferty. Arnett got a base hit to right field, scoring both Richardson and Hardy. Arnett advanced all the way to third when the right fielder misplayed the ball.

Josh Luster led off the Braves' second with a base hit and advanced to second on a wild pitch. After Hall went out to centerfield and Luster advanced to third, Mounts hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Luster to make it a 7-3 game.

Mark Sosby's double in the Giants' third scored Dustin Crisp who had walked leading off the inning. Sosby was nailed at third trying to stretch the hit into a triple.

A run in the bottom of the third for the Braves made it a 8-4 game. Lansdale drew a one-out walk from Hardy and after the next batter flied out to center, T. Lansdale singled home L. Lansdale.

The winning pitcher was Ryan Hardy. Hardy had 10 strike outs in the game while issuing six walks. The losing pitcher was Josh Luster who came on in relief of Hall. Luster had three strike outs and walked two. Hall fanned four batters and walked three.

The Giants left five runners on base while the Braves stranded six. The Braves committed six errors and the Giants four.

The Giants will face the Rangers tomorrow (Thursday) in their last regular season game. The Braves face the A's on Friday.
