Teachers will pursue legal avenues :

Walkout is last resort

A second teachers' strike by Floyd County educators is unlikely, but the Floyd County Education Association (FCEA) has retained an attorney to fight the board of education's negotiation of part of an agreement to end

Principal accused of threats

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson confirmed Tuesday that a complaint had been filed against Adams Middle School principal Thomas Tackett, alleging Tackett had threatened members of the Floyd County Education Association.

Thompson said the complaint was filed by Kentucky Education Association director Betty Rowland Tuesday afternoon on behalf of two middle school teachers.

Rowland said the complaint involved allegations that Tackett threatened physical harm to all FCEA members in attendance at Tuesday night's session of the county board of education.

"The two teachers came to me and told me Mr. Tackett had threatened to take a gun to the board meeting and shoot all FCEA members who were at the meeting," Rowland said. "The teachers believed what they said Tackett told them and that's why I called the sheriff."

Thompson said Tuesday that he would assign a deputy to attend the meeting "to make sure there would be no problems."

Rowland said the teachers attempted to obtain a restraining order against Tackett Tuesday, but could not reach the appropriate county officials.

Thompson said the complaint was not a criminal charge against Tackett.

Attempts Tuesday to reach Tackett, who has an unpublished phone number, were unsuccessful.

Gunfire leads to arrest on Abbott

A shooting Saturday night on the left fork of Abbott Creek resulted in the arrest of Billy E. Frazier, 39, of Prestonsburg.

According to a Sheriff Department report, Frazier shot into the car of Virginia Howard while she was in the vehicle. He allegedly rammed his car into her's and verbally stated that he would kill her. Frazier also allegedly hit Howard on head with his fist twice.

The incident occurred at about 8 p.m. Saturday, May 11 and Frazier was arrested around 11 p.m.. He was charged with criminal mischief in the first degree, assault in the fourth degree, two counts of wanton endangerment in the first degree and terroristic threatening.

Frazier was lodged in the Floyd County jail and released on bond on Sunday. Arresting deputies were Randy Davis, Roy Compton and Lloyd Powers.

Dedication is slated

The Carl D. Perkins Job Corps Center will hold a dedication ceremony for the new female dormitory on Friday, May 17. The dormitory is being named after Verna Perkins, widow of Carl D. and mother of Representative Chris Perkins.

Festivities will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will include a continental breakfast. After the breakfast, activities include guest speakers, a ribbon cutting ceremony and a tour of the center.

Prestonsburg attorney Ned Pillersdorf said in a May 13 letter to the board that FCEA intends to file a lawsuit in federal district court if a 13.5 percent pay increase is not met.

Pillersdorf said FCEA sees the board's decision as a violation of "the good faith agreement to provide the teachers with a raise of 13.5 percent for the coming year."

The board voted last week to rescind two parts of proposal eight of the teachers' agreement. The two parts of the proposal called for the reduction of extended employment personnel and a five percent ceiling on raises for administrators. The agreement said teachers would receive a 13.5 percent increase next year if funds were available.

The Floyd County Administrator's Association objected to those two parts of the teachers' agreement, saying that teachers had no authority to negotiate their salaries.

Pillersdorf's letter said the administrators' claims are "frivolous, and demonstrate contemptible greed on their part." The letter also claims that the majority of the administrators were members of FCEA during the strike and "therefore, bound to the agreement that the Floyd County Education Administration signed."

William McCann, representing the administrators, said Tuesday that he "was sorry" to see that the teachers intended to file a lawsuit.

"We attempted to work toward an agreement with the teachers, the administrators and the board," McCann said. "We felt the board's latest action would resolve what was impasse between the teachers and administrators."

McCann said Pillersdorf's statements about administrators being greedy, were "a poor choice of language, at best."

McCann confirmed that "some administrators" were members of

Too many drownings :

Corps to take hard line on booze

When you think of recreation in Floyd County, you probably think of Dewey Lake. The lake is the most popular attraction in the county for fishing, swimming, boating, skiing and much more.

But if your definition of recreation includes the consumption of alcoholic beverages, beware, because that is illegal at Dewey Lake and the Corps of Engineer Park Rangers will strictly enforce that prohibition this year.

The lake's popularity brings the

Drug deal "witnessed," Cow Creek man cited

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County sheriff's deputies arrested a 29-year old Cow Creek man Friday after officers allegedly watched the man conduct an illegal drug transaction at Allen.

William H. Goble was arrested at the scene and deputies obtained a search warrant for his home. Officers found a wide variety of weapons, drug paraphernalia and a police scanner.

Sheriff's deputies confiscated from Goble's home and vehicle a .22 caliber long rifle gun; a .38 caliber special handgun; a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson pistol; a .22 caliber long rifle target handgun; a 9 mm pistol; 11 bags of marijuana; and approximately $179 in cash.

Deputies Lloyd Powers and Linzie Hunt had Goble under surveillance at Allen and witnessed the transaction, the complaint said. Deputies found eight bags of marijuana in a welder's glove in his vehicle, court records said. Goble had been under investigation for approximately five weeks, said Sheriff Paul Hunt Thompson.

Goble was charged with trafficking in marijuana, less than eight ounces; possession of marijuana, less than eight ounces; and possession of drug paraphernalia. He was released from the Floyd County Jail Saturday on a $10,000 unsecured bond.

people in. But, with this popularity comes problems, problems like boating accidents, individuals in the water who can't swim or can't swim well and drownings.

During the lake's 40-year history there have been 54 drownings. In the past 10 years there have been 12 drownings on Dewey Lake, seven of which alcohol was involved in or suspected. These statistics correlate with those compiled nationally. Nationwide the US Coast Guard estimates that over 50 percent of all drownings are alcohol related.

In the 12 drownings that occurred, none of the individuals were wearing personal flotation devices (PFDs) or life jackets. During a five-week period in the summer of 1990, there were three deaths by drowning on Dewey Lake.

To promote water safety in and around the waters of Dewey Lake, a water safety council was formed in April of 1990. This council, estab-

City gas rates at stake :

Courts will settle spat

by Tess A. Whitmer
Assistant Editor

Prestonsburg's city council will let the courts decide the validity of a 20-year-old contract that forces the city to purchase natural gas from a local supplier and which could lead to higher gas rates for city customers.

At issue is a contract signed in 1971 between the city council and John Allen, trustee for the local gas producer, which requires the city utilities company to buy natural gas from the local company at a rate equal to the rates charged by Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company.

City utility officials have contested the present status of the agreement, however, noting that it is no longer a valid contract.

Utility superintendent Bill Howard explained to city council Monday that the contract required the city company to purchase gas from Allen's company as long as the city purchased gas from Kentucky West and at the same rate paid to Kentucky West.

Howard said the Prestonsburg Utility Company no longer purchased natural gas supplies from Kentucky West and now received supplies from Equitable Resources Exploration at rates much lower than those previously paid to Kentucky West. Howard argued that the city utility company should not be required to pay Allen's company on the basis of Kentucky West rates because such a requirement could force the utility company to raise local rates by $1.19 per thousand cubic feet. (This figure is an average difference based on gas rates for the months of December 1990, January 1991 and February 1991).

Morris Kennedy, of Louisa, acting as legal counsel for Allen, contended that the intent of the 1971 contract was to always pay Allen the rate Kentucky West charges regardless of whether the city was still purchasing gas from Kentucky West.

Kennedy told the council that his client wanted to give them the opportunity to review the contract and vote on a revision before any legal action was taken.

Council member Bill R. Collins said in response "In effect you are asking us to vote on raising gas prices.

I couldn't vote for a rate increase to be placed on the back of the citizens."

The current pricing dispute arose due to a settlement agreement reached between the city utility company and Kentucky West on July 1, 1990. Kentucky West was granted the right to reprice certain pipeline production sold during the period of December 1, 1978 through March 2, 1983. This amounted to a bill for the city of Prestonsburg of $2,877,809. Kentucky West agreed to lower that charge to $1,297,138 and allowed the city to suspend their contract in order to seek gas supplies from a cheaper dealer, Equitable Resources. The agreement enabled the city to recoup its losses without raising gas prices. In effect, the local rates for gas service remained the same, but the city

Allen will command Air Patrol

Denzil Allen of Prestonsburg was installed as Commander of the Kentucky Wing Civil Air Patrol during recent ceremonies in Lexington.

The Kentucky Wing Headquarters located at Bowman Field in Louisville include 26 subordinate units with 760 members. Kentucky's fleet has six single engine airplanes.

Prior to becoming commander, Allen served as deputy commander, inspector general, group commander and aerospace education officer. He also serves on the National Legislative Liaison Committee and is a member of the governor's marijuana strike force. Allen has been a member of the Civil Air Patrol for 14 years.

He is a mission rated pilot and his awards include: commander's commendation; aerospace award, Grover Leoning; disaster relief; and distinguished service award.

Allen is married to Janice Blackburn Allen, who is a major in the Civil Air Patrol and serves in the aerospace education department for the state. The Allen's live at Endicott. Allen said he is the first Eastern Kentuckian appointed as commander.

Civil Air Patrol, part of the United States Air Force Auxiliary, provides emergency service, aerospace education and cadet training.

Murder case remanded, Conley won't step down

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley ruled Friday that a 12-year old murder case must be resubmitted to a grand jury and he overruled a motion that he step aside as judge for the case.

Daniel Taylor III, of Louisville, representing Wendell Ray Newman of Halo, argued Friday that a motion to amend an original indictment from complicity to commit murder to willful murder was improper because it increased the charge against Newman.

Taylor said the grand jury that indicted Newman indicted him on the lesser charge of complicity from the evidence presented. To amend the indictment to a more serious charge was improper, Taylor said. Taylor asked that the indictment against Newman be dismissed.

Judge Conley overruled the motion to dismiss charges against Newman and ordered the case resubmitted to a Floyd County Grand Jury this June.

The state's special prosecutor, J.D. Johnson of Paintsville, countered that the motion to amend the indictment was made in the judge's chambers just before the trial was to have started and the defense agreed to the change.

Conley also overruled a motion to remove himself from presiding over

Coalition plans second meeting

The newly formed group, We Are Floyd County, made up of members from civic groups within the county, will hold its second meeting on Tuesday, May 21 at the Jenny Wiley Convention Center, at 6 p.m.

Representative Greg Stumbo, Kentucky Opry's Keith Caudill and the Big Sandy Area Development staff will moderate the planning session.

Welcome to Goose Creek

Members of the Goose Creek Symphony were surprised when Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo showed up at a television interview being conducted by "Dr." Don Bevins (left) to tell them Saturday, May 18 had been proclaimed Goose Creek Music Appreciation Day in Floyd County. The band will perform during the Kentucky Opry presentation Saturday at the Prestonsburg gym. Members include (from r-l) "Pearl" Spradlin, Charlie Gearheart and "Willard" Honke. Gearheart said of the award, "it makes me feel like I've come a long way from the holler." (photo by Tess Whitmer) lished by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, includes representatives of the Kentucky Water Patrol, the Kentucky State Parks, the Floyd County Rescue Squad, Floyd County Sheriff's Department, the Area 9 Disaster and Emergency Services and the Kentucky State Police.

As a result of the lake's history of drownings, and more importantly, the recent high number of drownings, the council developed proposals designed to reduce the potential for water-related accidents through education and enforcement.

Four council meetings have been held so far, including a public meeting on August 27, 1990 at Jenny Wiley State Park. This meeting was designed to allow public input and as federal, state and local agency input on six water safety proposals under consideration.

According to Patti Williams, resource manager at Dewey Lake, this public input was considered as well as other actions, including the positive results of banning alcohol at other Corps' projects such as Paintsville Lake and John W. Flannagan lake in Haysi, Virginia.

The council approved the following actions:

1. Banning the possession and/or consumption of alcoholic beverages on project lands and water.
2. Requiring all children 10 years of age or younger to wear PFDs while involved in any boating activity on Dewey Lake.

3. Increasing efforts in public education on water safety through school programs, news articles, public service announcements, etc.

4. Installing and maintaining additional life jug stations (a life saving tool for those standing on shore observing a swimmer in trouble).

5. Placing water safety informational signs in high use areas (launch ramps and marinas).

The first two actions will be enforced by Corps of Engineer Park Rangers under authority of Title 36 of the Code of Federal Regulations, according to Williams.

Williams, who is the chairperson of the Water Safety Council, said that these two actions officially go into effect on Friday, May 24.

"Alcohol was banned in the Downstream Recreation Area and Picnic Hollow last year," she said. "The ban will now include the lake, the Corps' Shoreline Campgrounds and German Bridge Campground."

There is a Kentucky state law already in existence that prohibits drinking alcoholic beverages in public places including lakes, streams, boat docks and ramps, parking lots and swimming areas. The Corps' ban on alcohol echoes the state statute, but also includes a restriction on the possession of alcohol.

"Beer and alcohol are prohibited and, for the safety of the public, the regulation will be enforced," Williams stressed.

Pertaining to the PFD requirement for children under 10, Williams said, "Most parents already have their children in the habit of putting their life jacket on before they even get on the boat, but to get the complete effectiveness of the jacket, parents should make sure the jacket is the right size and is fastened completely."

If you have trouble convincing your child of the importance of a PFD, Williams suggests purchasing some of the new, brightly colored jackets that are now available.

The Corps of Engineers has been very busy making sure that all the Water Safety Council actions are being carried out. Park Rangers have been presenting water safety programs to area school children since March. The life jug stations are already in place along the lake shoreline. Public service announcements on the Water Safety Council's actions will air on local radio stations starting May 24 and all water safety signs will be in place by the same date.

Anyone wishing to become a member of the Dewey Lake Water Safety Council can contact Williams at 886-6709 or 789-4521.

Taylor filed a motion May 6 asking Conley to withdraw from the case claiming the judge was biased against Newman.

The motion claimed Judge Conley was biased against Newman because Newman refused to buy a coal mining permit from Conley for $20,000. Newman's affidavit said that Conley had mentioned the criminal indictments against him "with a strong inference to offered assistance as to the same." Sterling Hamilton of Teaberry was listed as witnessing Conley's remarks.

When Taylor did not call any witnesses Friday in reference to the motion, Conley overruled the request. Conley has denied Newman's allegation of prejudice.

Taylor also wanted independent court reporter Lillie Whitt of Mount Sterling to replace the court's reporter Betsy Fugate. Taylor said it was important to "record every word said" Friday and said it was "no reflection on anyone" that he wanted Whitt to record the record the proceedings.

Judge Conley firmly said "no" and overruled the motion.

Newman was indicted in February 1990 along with Dave Slone and Danny Meade for the 1978 shooting death of Walter Hall of Letcher County. Charges were brought against the three after a 1987 autopsy showed Hall had been shot in the back of the head. No autopsy was performed in 1978 because investigators thought Hall had been accidentally shot in the face.

FCEA during the strike, but he said did not know the specific number.

"The administrators did not take part in the strike," McCann said. "Some administrators have been members of FCEA for years."

FCEA president Bud Reynolds said Tuesday that FCEA members had met Saturday and Monday to discuss the issue. Reynolds said a majority of the membership opted to pursue legal avenues to counter the board's decision.

"At this time, there is no intention for teachers to strike," Reynolds said. "We hope the board and the superintendent will do the right thing at Tuesday's meeting. The ball's in Mr. Hager's court."

Reynolds said petitions are being circulated to the public asking for their support in the teachers' efforts to get the board of education to look at reducing extended employment positions in the administration.

State law says that a superintendent must notify teachers in writing by May 15 of a reduction in salary. The salary shall not be lower than the salary paid during the preceding school year, unless the reduction is part of a uniform plan affecting all teachers in the entire district, or unless there is a reduction of responsibilities.

was buying it cheaper. Kennedy noted that Allen could legally ask for a similar repricing settlement under his contract with the city, but would agree not to pursue the alleged debt if the city council would agree to continue to honor his contract.

Most of the council members received the contract and background information the day of Monday's meeting and were very hesitant to make a vote for or against Allen.

"It seems at one time the city council was involved in setting utility rates and they haven't been since," Mayor Ann Latta said. "I don't think it is a position we should be in."

Kennedy pointed out that, although the city was allowed to delegate their authority to a commission, it was "their ultimate responsibility" and the city would be named in any lawsuit brought by Allen pertaining to the dispute.

Howard disagreed and said that the commission had a contract with the city making the commission responsible for any indebtedness.

Council member Danny Hamilton motioned to let the courts decide the outcome of the dispute. He was seconded three times and the motion was passed unanimously.

Later in the meeting, Councilman Charles Hale moved to have the city attorney research whether there was a conflict of interest when the contract was signed since Burl W. Spurlock was a council member at that time and also listed as a stockholder in Allen's gas wells. The motion carried with one member voting against and one abstention.

Other actions taken by the council included:

— Approval of the first reading of the city annual budget for $2,821,000.

— Approval of the Archer Park annual budget of $363,920 and the Tourism, Recreation and Convention Commission annual budget of $293,000

— Acknowledgement that the $40,000 in bridge replacement money arrived from the Transportation Cabinet to rebuild the Archer Park walking bridge and was deposited into an interest bearing account.

— Approval of a $13,820 bid to repair the roof of the Municipal Building.

— Authorization to advertise for bids on a sidewalk contract, a black-top contract and an auditor's contract.

— Approval for the city to enter into a solid waste plan with the county.

— Authorization to Prestonsburg High School Band Parents' for a road block on May 27.

— Approval for the volunteer fire-fighters to operate a concession stand and raffle at the Festival of FACES.

— And council agreed to seek business owners along Route 1428 within the downtown area to have "no trespassing" signs erected in order to allow the police to clear parking lots continuously without waiting on a complaint.

All council members were present at the Monday, May 13 meeting. The next meeting of the Prestonsburg City Council will be Monday, June 10 at 7 p.m..

The Yoakam look

Country music star Dwight Yoakam donated two of his jackets and hats — and, it seems, part of his charisma — to Kentucky Opry performers Misty Daniels and Raetta Damron. The outfits, which are also worn by Yoakam during his performances, will become part of the Opry's ensemble during its performance at the Festival of FACES concert scheduled Saturday night, May 18. Yoakam also donated his autographed guitar to be given away during the concert. Picture with Opry performers is Billie Jean Osborne, director of the Kentucky Opry. ## Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

Half of the Wilkinson entry of First Miz and NoneOfTheAbove dropped out of contention for the "other" Kentucky Derby last week when the filly pulled up lame and was scratched.

No word yet on how First Miz supporters will redeem the $1 million of worthless win tickets they hold.

Two weeks 'til post time, and it's a four horse race in the Run for the Rooster while the Elephant Child Stakes look to be heading toward a photo finish. The winners of each will square off in the fall for the coveted Governor's Mansion Trophy.

Here's how the prelims are shaping up...

In the first race of the daily double, KeepUpWithTheJoneses has post position one and is the betting favorite to go the distance. Jonesy was the winner four years ago of the Lt. Guv Allowance and is the only horse in the field with statewide race experience.

BeamMeUpScotty appears secure as the number two challenger and he is poised for an upset now that First Miz is out. The Lexington-bred Scotty, who claims distant kinship to the world famous King Rupp, could close in on the favorite if the Eastern Kentucky turf is found to his liking.

Post position three goes to Don'tCallMeFloyd, who could also benefit from the departure of First Miz. Floyd's known for his surgical precision and could slice his way through the field on a muddy track.

The longshot bet is Gatewood's Gall, an outsider with unconventional form. Double G is expected to be on "medication" for the race and he could float into the money if he isn't sidetracked by the munchies.

The second race on the May 28 card is a GOP Challenge Match between Brother Larry and MyOtherBrotherLarry, and the race looks to be a dandy.

Brother Larry's past performance chart shows just one defeat in Government stakes races, but his ability to withstand a strong challenge has not yet been tested.

Providing that first test, MyOtherBrotherLarry comes to the race a maiden but with decent lineage, including a tie to Louie Louie, the last GOP stallion to win the big prize.

The betting windows open May 28 at 6 a.m.

The truth is out. Eastern Kentucky's fate is not tied to the declining coal industry nor is it dependent on industrial development.

Nope. It seems our future is clouded by the fact that too few folks are making whoopee or, more specifically, making children.

Census figures show that Eastern Kentucky's population decline between 1980 and 1990 can be attributed to more families having fewer children, not the massive out-migration of folks seeking jobs as "experts" previously suggested.

Now, speculated a report in Sunday's Lexington Herald-Leader, Eastern Kentucky has to face the fact that fewer children mean we face the loss of welfare dollars and food stamps.

Lower birthrates in Eastern Kentucky bring the region more into line with the state's annual birthrate, the story says, and that is bad for our economy.

What? Fewer people on welfare, the Herald-Leader indicates, would mean businesses which rely on welfare dollars would have to lay people off and those people would have to go onto the welfare rolls and then welfare would increase, which as noted above, isn't bad, it's good because our economy depends on welfare, and the worse off we are the better off we are, economically speaking, of course.

What? If we spent less time trying to figure out the Herald-Leader's reasoning and more time having children, we wouldn't have all these problems. Or would we?

Speaking of children and birthrates, we'll go on record as having done our part to keep the numbers up and we're celebrating our efforts this week.

Happy 4th Birthday, Allan Scott Perry IV.

As we have noted in the past, our son does not celebrate a birth "day," but a birth "cake" which requires that the rest of his family bestow honor and gifts as long as a morsel of birthday cake remains.

Out of financial necessity, we have become quite adept at wolfing down with lightning speed mounds of cake in shapes of dinosaurs, cartoon characters and, of course, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

Plop, plop, fizz, fizz. Oh what a joy a birthday is.

Editor:

I attended Melvin School when I was a child. Now my son is attending this small school, and I am very proud of it. Even though some of the teachers have passed on or left, Melvin is a very good school. I will be sending my second child to Melvin Grade School in two years, and I hope he will have some of the teachers that my oldest son has had.

My oldest son is in the first grade, and what he has learned in this first year has really made me appreciate the teacher he has.

When school started, I was worried about the strike and the effect it would have on my child, but when school started and things began to get back to normal a little while later, his teacher told me he was reading. I thought it was too early in the year for that, but when he read his first story for me, I was one proud parent, and I owe it all to Melinda Hopkins, first grade teacher at Melvin. I helped with his homework, did all I could, but it's the teachers of this world who do all the work.

I am proud of the teachers and of the school system at Melvin. I support the teachers and always will because it takes a lot of time and patience to help children learn—not just anybody can do that.

A person could not give me $200 a day to teach a class of 24 students. It takes someone very special to teach today's children. If a person thinks it's easy, try walking in a teacher's shoes for a week and then listen to yourself talk.

In conclusion, I just want to say that the teachers at Melvin Grade School are the best of teachers.

Oh! By the way, thanks "Teach" for a job well done.

Recently, we hosted in Daytona Beach the Prestonsburg High School choir under the direction of Elizabeth Frazier.

What a wonderful tribute these young people are to their High School and Robert May, principal. It is evident from the exemplary conduct exhibited by these students that values, which will stay with them the rest of their lives, are being taught both in your community and your schools.

Congratulations to the Prestonsburg High School Choir, Elizabeth Frazier, Robert May, Ron Hager, the students, the parents and your community as a whole on a difficult job being extremely well done!

Rest assured the Prestonsburg High School Choir is welcome in Daytona Beach at any time.

Child sexual abusers must be stopped

Few crimes committed in the United States today affect one as deeply as the crime of child abuse and neglect. It has almost become a daily occurrence—news reports of a child being sexually or physically mistreated. According to the Department of Justice, in 1989 alone, there were 2.4 million reported cases of child abuse. Of those, 380,000 involved sexual abuse. In addition, ChildHelp USA estimates that one out of every six boys and one out of every three girls will be sexually abused or victimized before the age of 18. These astonishing figures reveal the need for federal, state and local officials to become involved, to eliminate these affronts to human decency.

The horrifying facts and statistics do not stop there. According to the National Institute of Mental Health, the typical child sexual offender will molest an average 117 youngsters in his/her lifetime and garner multiple child abuse convictions. These child molesters aren't local bums that hang out on the corner—they are pediatricians, child psychologists, and counselors in boys' camps, among other professionals. These individuals have sought out employment that enables them to have easy access to children.

For example, in 1985, a Maryland school psychologist was convicted of child molestation and received a probated sentence. He moved to Virginia, was hired as a school psychologist, and was subsequently arrested for the molestation of 12 to 15 elementary school children. In 1986, a physician in Ohio was convicted of molestation. He moved to Washington, D.C., resumed medical practice, and was again arrested in 1987, convicted for molesting children in a hospital. Without a means of tracking convicted child sexual abusers, how are we to protect our children from these monsters?

One way is through tough legislation. Later this year, I intend to propose a bill that will assist in combating this very problem. By requiring convicted child abusers to be registered with the National Crime Information Center, we can and will be able to clamp down on second-incident offenders by having information available, and easily accessible for every child care organization in the United States. Taxpayer expense would be limited merely to records administration.

I am currently working with the Justice Department, the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to further develop this legislation and other methods of protecting children. The time has come for Congress to aggressively address the growing problem of child abuse and neglect in America. As lawmakers, we must act to safeguard the lives of children today, and tomorrow.

Report to Kentucky

Senator Wendell Ford

"Fast track" legislation needs major slowdown to save American jobs

Along with many of my colleagues, I have serious reservations about extending the so-called "fast-track" authority for negotiating foreign trade agreements, scheduled for a vote in the Senate this month.

My opposition to this measure is based on the belief that providing an extension will cost American jobs, draw U.S. industry overseas and ultimately serve to lower our present standard of living in this country.

In March, President Bush called on Congress to grant a two-year extension of his "fast-track" authority, which provides expedited procedures for Congressional consideration of trade agreements negotiated by the Administration.

Current authority is due to expire on June 1, but will automatically be extended unless Congress acts to disapprove such an extension.

The "fast-track" authority would apply to all trade negotiations currently in progress—including the Uruguay Round of GATT, the North American Free Trade Agreement with Mexico and Canada, and the Enterprise for the Americas Initiative.

Under this authority, implementing legislation will be submitted to Congress under tight time restrictions. No amendments are allowed to this legislation, either at the committee level or during floor debate on the measure. We are also limited to an up-or-down vote on the final passage.

In my opinion, this take-it-or-leave-it approach to approving such legislation that Congress has neither negotiated nor can amend, should give cause for concern to those who demand responsible government.

For this reason I am particularly concerned about the ramifications of granting this authority in our trade negotiations with Mexico; I see very little chance of the Administration negotiating a fair agreement that will eventually benefit American workers and small business.

There are several reasons I believe we should be skeptical of a possible Mexican free-trade agreement that could well undo many of workers gains over the past decades:

* The average wage in Mexico is 57 cents per hour, which could very well pull American industries south to take advantage of cheap labor costs.

* Our worker's gains in health and safety standards would be effectively displaced by the huge disparity in regulation, enforcement and uniformity of standards between America and Mexico;

* A disparity also exists in the environmental standards between the two countries. As industry builds on the border, we will steadily see jobs go south while the pollution comes north;

* Small business, which will not be able to relocate to Mexico, would be placed at a competitive disadvantage as large firms move south to take advantage of these disparities.

I want to make it very clear that I am not an isolationist, but I believe we have to be very careful how we enter into trade agreements. There is a distinction to be made between "free trade" and "fair trade."

More than eight million Americans are out of work and the unemployment rate stands at approximately 6.6 percent.

Our workers need a fair shake and protection of their jobs during this recessionary period. Unfortunately, the proposed Mexican-American free trade agreement and "fast-track" authority would provide neither.

Howard celebrates 90 birthday

Mrs. Nell Burchett Howard enjoys a visit from her great-granddaughter, Addie Langford, during the celebration of her 90th birthday in March. Mrs. Howard is now a resident of Mt. Manor Nursing Home. (photo by Rose Price)

One of Floyd County's long-time residents celebrated her 90th birthday on Saturday, March 23.

Mrs. Nell Burchett Howard, now a resident of Mt. Manor Nursing Home in Prestonsburg, received about 100 guests at a party hosted by her children and grandchildren.

Musical entertainment was provided by Dr. Timothy Jessen and Libby Ratcliff of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Howard is the widow of Harvey Howard, who until 1963 operated a barber shop next to the Fountain Korner Drug Store. She is the mother of James Wesley Howard, Winifred (Peachie) Collins, Bill Harvey Howard, and Don Howard, all of Prestonsburg, and Alice Raybourne (now deceased).

Out-of-town guests included Mr.

and Mrs. Nick Raybourne, of Ashland, and Dr. and Mrs. Mac Langford and daughter Addie, of Louisville.

The family expressed their deepest appreciation to the many guests who helped make the event so pleasant.

Crum receives early Navy promotion

Senior Chief (Submarine Qualified) Maynard Crum was promoted on April 19 to the Navy's highest enlisted rank of Master Chief Petty Officer (E-9).

Formerly of Allen and a 1972 graduate of Martin High School, Master Chief Crum was chosen by a selection board in Washington, DC for early promotion among a group of elite candidates, with only five being selected within his field from the entire Navy this year. This major accomplishment was awarded with less than 18 years of naval service, a position normally taking at least 22 years.

He is currently assigned to Commander Submarine Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, Norfolk, Virginia as the Staff Flag Writer and Executive Aide.

Early promotion

Master Chief Crum was promoted by Vice Admiral H. G. Chiles, Jr. (Commander Submarine Force, Atlantic) with his wife Connie participating in the ceremony. Maynard, Connie and their daughter, Crystal currently reside in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Jackson Weather Service office to remain open

Jackson Weather office received a reprieve Thursday, when Congressman Chris Perkins introduced two amendments which successfully blocked the National Weather Service from closing the weather service office.

The amendments will prevent the National Weather Service from closing the Jackson office until 1995, said Perkins.

"Jackson's office is critical to forecasting potential flooding in our hills and hollows and letting those in charge know when hazardous weather is on the way," Perkins said.

"I had to act immediately," said Perkins, who explained that proposals were introduced which "sought to kill" the Jackson office.

Perkins introduced the amendments at a bill mark-up of the Science, Space, and Technology Committee, of which he is a member. The amendments were passed unanimously. The Bush Administration had publicly opposed earlier language introduced by the Congressman, which would have mandated a study by the General Accounting Office before any weather sites could be closed.

The amendments require the Commerce Department to retain personnel at each weather office for at least two years in the event an office is ordered closed, Perkins said.

Vietnam veterans' reunion slated in Frankfort

The annual Kentucky Vietnam Veterans Reunion will be held May 17-19 in Frankfort, at the Fountain Plaza next to the Capital Plaza Hotel.

The reunion is billed as a patriotic celebration to honor those who served in the military during the Vietnam era (1962-1975) and will include a tribute to all veterans on May 18th, Armed Forces Day.

A highlight of the reunion will be the raising of a POW/MIA flag for permanent display at the War Memorial in Frankfort Cemetery. According to Cindy Dumas, coordinator of the reunion and nurse-veteran of the Vietnam War, this event has special significance since the US Government has recently agreed to open an office in Hanoi to account for the 2,000 plus POW/MIA's from the Vietnam War.

Other reunion activities will feature helicopter maneuvers, military displays dating back to the Civil War. The reunion is open to the public and all events are free.

For further information, contact L.Z. Bluegrass, Inc., P.O. Box 4884, Louisville, KY 40204.

Area Hospice director is elected to KAH board of directors

Chris Conley, executive director of Hospice of Big Sandy, was elected to the Executive Board of the Kentucky Association of Hospices at the annual spring meeting on May 9.

Conley, director of Hospice of Big Sandy since 1985, was unanimously elected to serve as a member of the governing body of KAH. Conley has, in the past, served as treasurer for KAH for a two-year period.

The KAH spring meeting brought together staff and volunteers from hospices throughout the state to discuss issues relevant to providing quality care to those terminally ill patients and their families. At this meeting, President Elaine Cox announced that only 20 counties in Kentucky are without hospice care. Cox reminded those present at the luncheon meeting that workshops are being presented in these 20 counties to encourage local communities to consider developing hospices for their residents.

Also at the meeting, Sr. Margaret Jacobs, Patient Care Coordinator for Hospice of Big Sandy, gave a presentation to nursing care coordinators, patient care coordinators and staff nurses on the hospice approach to pain control. Sr. Margaret has given this presentation locally to nursing staff at Highlands Regional Medical Center, Our Lady of the Way Hospital and the Paul B. Hall Medical Center as well as the nursing staff at the newly-formed Hospice of Pike County.

Sr. Margaret's presentation was well received and her protocols for pain management were taken back to over 17 programs in other parts of the state for implementation in those hospice programs.

Methodist hospital celebrates hospital week

The Pikeville Methodist Hospital is celebrating National Hospital Week May 12-18. This year's theme is "Celebration of Health".

"Hospital Week is a special time of year when we acknowledge and show our appreciation to the hundreds of care-givers that dedicate their time to serve our community," said hospital administrator Dr. John Tummons.

Events scheduled throughout National Hospital Week include:

*Building your own ice cream sundae in a souvenir stadium cup on Tuesday

*Viewing posters created by Pike County fourth graders on display in

*Drawings for giveaways Tuesday through Saturday at noon in the cafeteria

*Cholesterol checks for all employees any day of the week

*Coordinated hospital tours

*Submitting "tried and true" recipes for the first-ever Methodist Hospital cookbook—selected recipes will be prepared by our cooks during the week.

The Methodist Hospital joins in this national observation of Hospital Week to help foster better communication and understanding between the hospital, its patients, employees, and community residents they serve.

HALL FUNERAL HOME

Proudly Adds Another Feature:

A Life Remembered® Tribute Program Videotape

We at Hall Funeral Home are excited about a new optional service we can offer you.

"Tribute Programs" is a tasteful and wonderful way to add new meaning to the funeral or memorial service. The six-minute video tape is a tribute to a LIFE carefully prepared from pictures of the person.

Yes, a tribute program may also be pre-arranged and completed. Selections of pictures, a musical theme from a long list of hymns or other music, and favorite scripture passages are all part of this unique service. All these elements are combined with sophisticated video technology and a sensitive production approach provided by National Music Service.

Eastern Ky. families have expected Hall Funeral Home to provide leadership. This new feature is expanding nationally, and we are proud to be the first in the state to offer it to the people we serve.

As your next governor
Floyd Poore
will lower your tax bill.
He will:

- Exempt the first $10,000 of a farmers' income from state income taxes;
- Base the sales tax on new and used vehicles on the actual cost, not the sticker price or Blue Book value, as the law now requires;
- Exempt all private pensions from state income taxes, just as government pensions are now exempt;
- Make state inheritance laws compatible with federal inheritance laws, so that the first $600,000 of a person's estate is tax free; and
- Cut in half the tax on the purchase of a manufactured home or trailer.

Dr. Poore will cut the administrative costs of state government and pass the savings onto the working men and women of Kentucky through these tax reductions.

We have learned to live with less and now the government must live with less too!

VOTE for Dr. Floyd Poore
The only Democratic candidate who will cut your taxes.

Paid for by Paul J. Branham, Floyd County Chairman for the Campaign to Elect Floyd G. Poore.

Every season brings change to Hillenmeyer Nurseries. But since 1954, their health insurance has been firmly rooted with Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

Truly one of Lexington's garden spots, Hillenmeyer Nurseries has been on the same 275-acre spread since 1841. Five generations of Hillenmeyers have planted, pruned and nurtured the trees, shrubs and evergreens they sell across the country.

At Hillenmeyer's, something new is always sprouting up. Except when you talk to Louis, Chris and Stephen Hillenmeyer about their health insurance. For the past 37 years, just one health insurance company has tended to their needs - Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky.

Innovative thinking and a wide range of quality health plans have enabled Blue Cross and Blue Shield to meet the Hillenmeyers' ever-changing needs.

While some companies change insurers like the seasons, the Hillenmeyers have opted for the strength, stability and resources of Kentucky's most popular health insurance company.

If you want your health plan to come up roses, contact Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kentucky.

MSU presidential search committee to host forum

Morehead State University's Presidential Search Committee will host a public forum on Monday, May 20, at the Prestonsburg Holiday Inn from 4:30 to 6 p.m. to gather views from area residents on desirable qualities in the University's next president.

Dr. C. Nelson Grote, MSU's current president, announced last spring that he would retire when his contract expires on June 30, 1992.

The Prestonsburg forum is the fourth of six scheduled throughout the region by the committee with the MSU Alumni Association as host.

"Selection of the best qualified person to head MSU at this time is a very important task and we want — and need — as much public input as possible," said Wayne Martin, committee chairman.

"This committee is committed to conducting these forums where alumni, donors, parents, friends of MSU, school personnel, civic, business and government leaders may express their views on the selection of Morehead State's 12th president," Martin added.

The committee has set an October 4 deadline for applications and nominations and plans to submit a list of six candidates to the Board of Regents by mid-December. Dr. Grote's successor is expected to be named by the board in early March and will begin work July 1, 1992.

In addition to Martin and Dr. Wheeler, the committee members include William Cofield and Charles D. Wheeler, regents. Also on the committee by virtue of their positions are student regent Chris Hart or his successor; Ted Coakley, MSU Alumni Association president; Dr. Robert Lindahl, Faculty Senate chair, and Teresia Parker, Staff Congress chair. Mrs. Madge Walters Baird, of Pikeville, serves as a citizen-at-large.

Prescription for a sagging economy: try a primary election?

Welcome to the Kentucky version of Jeopardy.

Answer: A wh-o-o-o-o-le lot of money!

Question: What is involved in the 1991 state election primary?

Through April 23, the end of a reporting period, the candidates for Kentucky governor—including campaign dropout Martha Wilkinson—had raised more than $13 million from individual contributors and Political Action Committees (PACs).

Add to that the take from raising events at country clubs, elementary schools and community centers across the state and the figure becomes more like $14.5 million.

Then add in the in-kind donations—individuals preparing food for receptions or buying stamps for a candidate or paying for advertisements—and the total jumps to almost $15 million.

That's enough to give a couple thousand dollars to every person in Wolfe County or to buy a nice steak dinner for the nearly 500,000 Kentuckians who receive food stamps.

And don't dismiss the candidates for other state offices. Those vying for lieutenant governor have pulled in some $3.2 million, including individual, in-kind and fund raiser contributions.

Counting all those who reported their campaign finances from the period that began Jan. 1, the amount raised totals just a tad under $19 million. Not included are the dozen or so candidates for state office who signed a Statement of Intent with the Registry of Election Finance, saying their campaign coffers were likely to be under $3,000 each; they'll file a final funding report in June.

This spring's primary, set for May 28, looks—on paper—like a big shot in the arm for Kentucky's sagging economy. Since the campaigning began in full force, the gubernatorial candidates have put well over $10 million back into the marketplace.

Besides paying their campaign staffs, the candidates have pumped money into the real estate industry for office rental in what they perceive are key areas around the state. They're paying to heat, cool, light and water those offices, so the utility companies get a cut.

The candidates have also boosted business for the novelty industry by ordering huge supplies of t-shirts, caps, emery boards, matchbooks, yardsticks and other items bearing the reminder to "Vote for _____."

You just look around at yards and billboards to see that sign companies are experiencing a hefty infusion of capital from the campaigns.

The communications industry is far from hurting as a result of the fervor for state office. Open your newspaper or turn on the radio or television to find out where a big chunk of the campaign money goes. Those advertisements and commercials are not free.

Political consultants, poll takers, public relations firms, advertising agencies, writers and artists also receive a significant piece of the pie as would-be office holders clamor to make a positive impression on the May king—the voter.

What happens when a candidate drops out of the race before the election, as Wilkinson did on May 10? According to the Registry, the options are to give the money to the state, give it to the candidate's political party, return it pro rated to the contributors or save it for a future run.

Another financial reporting deadline is May 21, with all candidates' final accounting due after the election.

Here's a rundown of what the candidates who filed a report have collected, discounting in-kind and fund raisers, through April 23.

—Governor's race: Scotty

Baessler, $1,575,556; Larry Forgy, $300,573; Gatewood Galbraith, $86,456; Larry Hopkins, $1,525,927; Brereton Jones, $3,752,339; Dr. Floyd Poore, $2,324,120; Martha Wilkinson, $3,527,819.

—Lt. Governor: Steve Collins, $218,152; Judge Ray Corns, $128,114; Fred Cowan, $1,081,040; Eugene Goss, $44,230; Paul Patton, $925,334; Bobby Richardson, $265,210; John Frith Stewart, $41,233; Lawson Walker, $41,933; Pete Worthington, $177,482.

—Attorney General: Chris Gorman, $105,595; John Lackey, $19,589.

—Auditor of Public Accounts: Ben Chandler, $137,893; Robert Mead CPA, $8,427; Betty Holmes, $6,245.

—Commissioner of Agriculture: Barry Drew Barmore, $5; J. Kenneth Evans, $9,562; Michael J. Greene, $8,235; Glen D. Holbrook, $5,107; Julian T. Harris, $2,300; Ed Logsdon, $110,193.

—Secretary of State: Bob Babbage, $286,836; Gerald Benson, $490; Joseph P. Evans, $35,167.

Utility rates go up, down

The Public Service Commission recently approved rate adjustments from Floyd County utility companies.

Equitable Gas Company was granted a gas adjustment that will mean an average annual decrease of $115.98 to its residential customers. The adjustment reflects a $123,655 decrease in wholesale costs from its supplier.

A rate decrease to East Kentucky Utilities, Inc.'s customers became effective on April 1, but one month later, a rate increase was also approved.

In April, the commission granted a decrease in rate that would lower the residential customer's cost by $17.18 per year. This rate decrease reflected a $15,498 decrease in wholesale costs from East Kentucky Utilities' supplier.

The Commission's May decision will mean an average annual increase of $18.83 per residential customer. The gas rate adjustment is to reflect a $16,978 increase in wholesale costs from its supplier.

Cicadas make rare appearance en masse in Floyd County area

After an absence of almost two decades, the cicada made its presence known throughout Floyd County Sunday with its high-pitched whirring monotone. The insect emerged from its 17-year underground abode to begin its metamorphosis into an adult.

The sound is louder in the rural, wooded areas, and will continue through the summer, said Gene Ball, Floyd County extension agent.

The piercing "singing" is the mating call of the Cicada. It is produced by the male cicada vibrating membranes on the underside of their first abdominal segment.

The adult cicada emerged from their outer skeletal shell Sunday en masse throughout the county. After struggling out of the pupal skin, adult cicadas rest on that site for several hours until their bodies and wings have expanded and are dry and hard.

After mating, the females disperse to lay their eggs. They prefer grapevines and oak, hickory, apple, peach and pear trees for egg laying. They first slit the bark and then insert a row of eggs into the opening. The eggs hatch in six to eight weeks. The nymphs fall to the ground and burrow down to the root system where they stay for the next 17 years. Damage occurs as they use their piercing-sucking mouthparts to feed on the roots.

Though adult cicada like to feed on leaves of shade trees, fruit trees or grapevines, most tree damage results from egg laying when females slit the bark on twigs to lay their eggs, said Doug Johnson, extension entomologist with the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture. Johnson said the small branches can turn brown or break, and damage can be severe in new plantings of shrubs or shade trees.

"When the eggs hatch, they drop down to the ground and the nymphs burrow into the soil down to the roots," said Johnson. "There they remain, sucking on the roots and causing damage."

There are steps that homeowners can take to protect their trees, Johnson said. Small trees can be covered with protective netting like cheesecloth which is secured at the bottom around the trunk, he said. This protection will need to stay on the tree for four to six weeks until egg laying is complete (Females are ready to lay eggs about a week or so after emergence). Because egg laying is the real danger from these insects, consider emergence as the signal to begin protecting plants, he said.

Pruning infested limbs before the eggs hatch can be helpful. Also trees can be sprayed, Johnson said.

The cicada and the 17-year locust are often misidentified, said Ball. "A locust is a species of grasshopper," Ball said. The cicada is a different type of insect.

The cicada is about 1 1/2 inches long. It has clear wings with orange veins and red eyes.

For more information about the 17-year cicada, call the Floyd County Extension Service at 886-2668 and ask for publication Ent-52.

Once in a lifetime

Once every 17 years, the cicada insect emerges from its underground home, to begin its mating cycle. The high-pitched whine made by the insects' membranes can be compared to the squealing of a car's brakes. The noise will continue throughout the summer months. The sound does, however, stop at night. ## Awarded the dean's award pin

Charles Kevin Adkins, son of Charles and Maggie Adkins, was recently awarded the dean's pin at Eastern Kentucky University. The award is given to students for being on the dean's list for three consecutive semesters.

Adkins has an overall GPA of 3.56. He has also been selected to join Golden Key National Honor Society and has had an article published in the KBEA journal pertaining to teacher employment in Kentucky.

His future plans include a Ph.D. in accounting at the University of Kentucky. He resides in Richmond, with his wife, Frankie, and daughter Kristy. He encourages all students or non-traditionalists to stay in school or get back into school.

Prestonsburg receives grant to purchase new fire truck

Fire protection services in Prestonsburg will improve with the help of a grant approved recently by the state.

A $20,000 grant from the Area Development Fund has been awarded to partially reimburse funds used to purchase a fire truck for the city of Prestonsburg. The city will contribute $217,288 in additional funds to the project for a total cost of $237,288.

The purchase of the aerial truck improved the city's ISO rating to Class Four. The new rating will save businesses on their insurance premiums.

The Area Development Fund is a capital projects program administered by the Department of Local Government in the Office of the Governor.

Floyd County tourism industry gains in tourism expenditures

Results of a new study on the economic impact of tourism throughout the state indicate Floyd County gained in tourism travel expenditures by approximately $2 million.

In 1989, travel expenditures were $16,321,411. Those figures increased to $18,648,406 in 1990, creating 549 jobs in the county's tourism industry.

Statewide, total tourism spending in Kentucky soared to nearly $5 billion in 1990, and travel expenditures jumped by a record $662 million, according to data compiled by the University of Kentucky on behalf of the state Department of Travel Development.

Tourism is the state's third largest industry. Tourism spending generated $347 million in state and local tax revenues, the study concluded. This compares with $321 million in 1989. The study also showed that 126,000 jobs were supported by tourism spending last year, an increase of 8,000 jobs over 1989.

Tourism Secretary Ron Gentry pointed to a major increase in the state's travel advertising campaign and the administration's unprecedented investment in state park facilities as reasons for tourism's gains.

In the Eastern Highlands-North Region—Floyd, Bath, Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Greenup, Johnson, Lawrence, Magoffin, Martin, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan, Pike, and Rowan counties—direct tourism expenditures totaled $145.2 million, an increase of $17.2 million between 1989 and 1990. This represents a 7.6

percent increase in direct tourism spending during 1990, when adjusted for inflation. An estimated 4,600 jobs were supported by travel spending in the region last year.

Frazier honored by KET

Gary K. Frazier, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction for the Floyd County Schools, was honored by Kentucky Educational Television (KET) at the Spring Coordinator Meeting held at the Carriage House in Paintsville. According to Jim Blevins, KET regional representative, Frazier was recognized for "his valuable contribution to education and for outstanding service to KET."

Frazier has been instrumental in establishing KET's Star Channel

Network in the Floyd County Schools. The Star Channel Network allows students in each Floyd County high school and the Floyd County Technical High School to take courses that range from Russian and Japanese to advanced mathematics and physics through an interactive satellite system. Floyd County Technical High School is the only vocational program in Kentucky to offer such a program. The Floyd County Schools lead the state in the implementation of the Star Channel Network.

A Look At Sports

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

COUNTY FOLKS TALKING TRACK AND FIELD

This past weekend I had the opportunity to attend the Regional Track and Field Meet at Boyd County High School where they held the A, AA, AAA meet this year. The facilities in Boyd County are excellent. It is ideal for such a meet.

I enjoyed the meet and I found myself getting caught up in the events one by one. I didn't even know all the teams or kids who are taking part, but it sure was exciting.

Jessica Wade of Allen Central ran an exciting 3200 meter run. The way she paced herself and then made her move on the seventh lap. That was very entertaining to watch.

I am always fascinated with the pole vault and hurdles. The way some of those athletes bend their poles in pole vaulting is something to watch.

These past two days, Sunday and Monday, I have heard some of the parents in our county expressing that they wish McDowell or Prestonsburg had a track and field team. So do I! More than that I wish we had track and field facilities in the county. But that's another problem. The parents start telling of so and so who can run like a deer or is strong as an ox. How this person would do in the shot put event or distance races. I like hearing talk like that. Maybe McDowell and Prestonsburg can get a program started next year.

I never was one to watch the sport on television very much. But since I have been covering the Allen Central, Betsy Layne and Wheelwright teams, I've realized I've been missing a great sport. A fun sport! I look forward to the meets this weekend at Lexington and Clay County. I get anxious to know how each athlete did in her or his event.

"WHY ISN'T OUR TEAM IN THE PAPER?"

I don't know how many times I have been asked that the past two weeks. "We still have a Little League team going," says another. No one who wants to put all the game results in the paper more than I do. I can honestly say that I want to put it in there more than the coaches want to see in there. However, with so many high school events to cover, and I am one person, I have to put off attending all the Little League games in order to cover the high school events. After the high season (baseball, track and field and softball) are over I will be able to make more of the other events personally. In the meantime, I have forms for each team coach or representative to fill out and turn in to report games. The form is not complicated but self explanatory. If you wish to have a few of the forms call me here at the paper and I will get them out to you.

At the last count we have approximately 65-70 summer baseball teams in the county. You can see what I am up against. Many newspapers will not bother to try and cover such games. But not here at the Times. All we ask is that the coaches work with us.

On the other hand, I appreciate the many, many comments on the coverage we have been giving and how parents enjoy seeing it in the paper. That is encouraging.

I want to say that I appreciate all of those who have been reporting their scores and stats. I will get pictures of your team just as soon as I can get to it. I am currently into the boys' district tournament as well as girls' regional softball. We have teams in the sectional track and field meets and we feel we should cover them.

Anyone out there who has an upcoming sporting event they want put in the paper, call me. Anything for the kids! They are our most precious commodity.

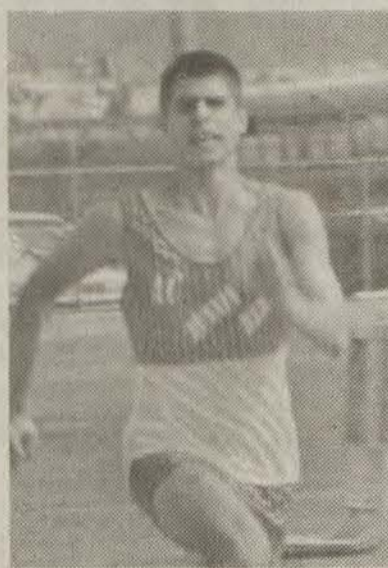

Until Friday, all Little League coaches and parents have a great week and be good sports!

Wade, Wallen Place First In Regional Track And Field

The Allen Central track and field team made the long journey to Boyd County High School this past Friday and Saturday as part of the Regional Track and Field Meet. The Allen Central runners and field participants were a pleasant surprise to coaches Dewey Jamerson and Forrest Hughes.

Jessica Wade made a lot of people stand up and take notice in the way she ran the women's 3200 meter race. Paintsville's Angela Tackett held the lead until the seventh lap when, at the 11:47 mark, Wade kicked it in and passed Tackett to take the lead and win first place in the two mile run. Wade finished with a time of 13:33.06 to advance on to the sectionals at Clay County this Saturday. Wade became the first women's regional winner at the Allen Central High School. Wade also finished the cycle with a second place finish in the women's 800 meters and she took third in the women's 1600 meter run. Wade along with Glema Yates, Missy Goble and Evelyn Howard placed fourth in the women's 1600 meter relay. All will advance to the sectionals Saturday. For Brian Wallen, there were some very anxious moments. Wallen is considered one of the best discus throwers in the state of Kentucky, but for the senior thrower, it wasn't very promising the first two times around.

Each thrower is allowed three tosses at each meet. Wallen, on his first two throws, threw the discus out of bounds, therefore, scratching. On his third and final throw, Wallen tossed the discus 132-feet and three-inches to take first place.

Tim Slone, who up to that time was the leading thrower, placed second behind Wallen and the two will travel to Clay County Saturday. Slone had a toss of 120-feet and four-inches for second place.

Some bad news hit the Rebel track and field camp when Robert Jervis, the up and coming distance runner and long jump participant, pulled a hamstring while taking part in his last

(See Track, B 2)

Potter, Page Lead Bobcats Past Wheelwright 13-3

When can you blast a home run over the left centerfield fence and be called out? We're talking about a long blast over the fence and reach first base only to learn that you're out. That is what happened to Darren Gearheart, designated hitter for the Betsy Layne Bobcats in game one of the 58th District Tournament being held at the Allen Park — a game that Betsy Layne won 13-3 over the Wheelwright Trojans.

Gearheart came to the plate in the third inning with no one out and sent a 2-1 pitch from Chad Allen way over the fence in left centerfield, and as he reached first and started to round the bag, the home plate umpire had called him out because he stepped in front of home plate on the swing. The ruling — out of the batter's box.

Danny Page had a three-hit night for the Bobcats including a home run in the third inning. Page drove in two runs. In fact, Page followed the long misfortune belt by Gearheart in the same inning with a drive over the leftfield fence for a solo home run.

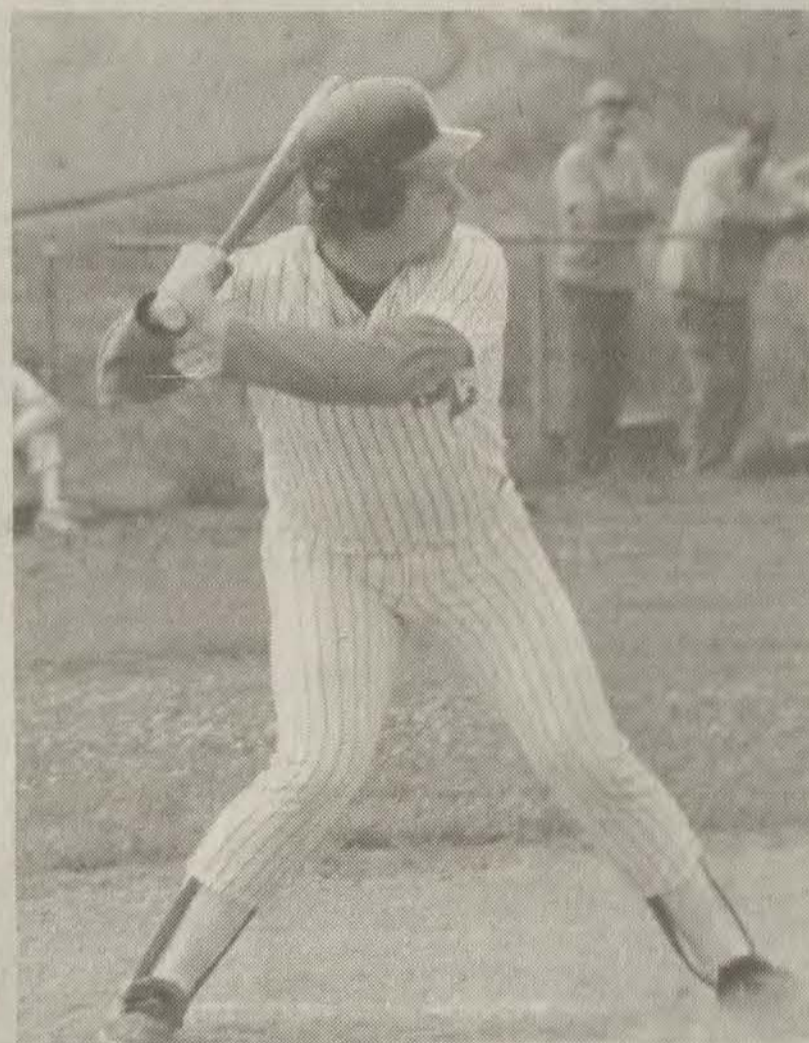

Chris Potter enjoyed a strong performance at the plate and played a good defensive game at shortstop for Junior Newsome's ball club. Potter went three-for-four at the plate with an RBI. His strong throwing arm in the hole cut down several Trojan runners.

Betsy Layne scored four times in the fifth and sixth innings to break open a close game. Potter singled to start Betsy Layne's four-run fifth and the shortstop advanced to second as his drive was misplayed in center. After Adam Gearheart grounded out, Potter scored on Darren Gearheart's single to rightfield. Page collected his second hit of the game and came in to score along with Gearheart on Chris Newsome's two-out, two-run double. Newsome later scored on a wild pitch.

In the Bobcat's sixth, a lead-off

Pitcher turned batter!

Barry Clark a freshman at Betsy Layne High School is one of the bright prospect in Floyd County high school baseball for the years to come. Clark scattered six hits in helping the Bobcats to a 13-3 win over Wheelwright in the first round of the 58th District tournament Monday. (Photo by Ed Taylor) walk to Keith Hall and Potter's RBI double gave Betsy Layne a 10-3 lead. With one out, Darren Gearheart doubled home Potter, and he came in to score on Page's third hit of the game. Page reached second on an error in centerfield and scored on a passed ball.

Wheelwright drew first blood in the first inning when Layne Bailey hit a drive over the head of rightfielder Derrick Newsome for a double. Mickey Johnson went down on strikes, and Allen reached on an error at third base, putting runners on first and third. Bailey scored when Jimmy Helton hit a slow roller down the third base line. The play went to first with Bailey coming home.

Betsy Layne tied the game at 1-1 in the first inning and took a 4-1 lead with three in the second on Keith Hall's line drive three-run homer over the rightfield fence. Newsome and Barry Collins, who had singled, scored ahead of Hall.

Wheelwright kept pace with the Bobcats as they plated two runs in their half of the third to make it a 4-3 game. Charles Johnson reached on an error at third, leading off the third, and went to second on a second error at third base for the Bobcats. Bailey walked. After Mickey Johnson and Chad Allen were retired by Clark, Helton singled home Johnson, and Bailey scored on a series of errors by Betsy Layne.

Barry Clark got the win for Betsy Layne as he hurled seven strong innings, scattering six hits from Wheelwright and walking just two. Clark fanned three, and all three runs were unearned against the big right hander.

Allen took the loss for the Trojans as their season came to an end. Allen struck out only one batter, and he issued one base on balls. Allen was relieved by "Big" Kevin Johnson in the sixth inning when Betsy Layne scored four times against him. Johnson walked two batters and did not strike anyone out. Allen pitched a strong four innings of baseball and seemed to tire in the fifth inning as he was missing low with his pitches.

Betsy Layne left four men on base, and Wheelwright stranded three. The Trojans committed three errors in the game; Betsy Layne had five. Betsy Layne is 22-9 on the year, and Wheelwright closed out at 4-15.

Betsy Layne will face the Allen Central Rebels, today, at 5:30 p.m. at the Allen Park, providing the tournament remains on schedule with weather permitting.

Betsy Layne Makes Strong Showing In Regional Track And Field Events

It is on to Lexington this Saturday for Coach Jim Bowling and his Betsy Layne Bobcats' track and field team as they advance on to the sectionals. The Bobcats will have four participants plus their men's relay team representing the school at Lexington.

In the regional meets at Pikeville this past weekend, Jamie Ratcliff, who is fast establishing herself as one of the top women runners in the county, placed third in the women's 1600 meter run. Ratcliff recorded a time of 1:44.92 in the mile run. Ratcliff is an eighth grader at Betsy Layne Elementary. She is a strong participant in the local 5k runs also.

In the women's 300 hurdles, Kelli Stanley, another one who is coming on strong, placed fourth in posting a time of 1:03.83. Stanley is also an eighth grader at Harold. Both Ratcliff and Stanley will be in Lexington for the sectionals.

In the boy's long jump, Ossie Yelder took fourth place with a jump of 18 feet and 11 inches. The fourth place finish allows Yelder to advance on to sectional competition at Lexington.

In the men's 400 meter relays, the team of Joe Meade, Chad Wilson, Shawn Wallen and Yelder ran a 49:24 and placed fourth for the Bobcats.

Chad Hunter placed fifth in shot put with a throw of 39-feet, three and a half inches. Chad Wilson had two fifth place finishes. Wilson finished fifth in the men's 110 hurdles with a 18:35 and fifth in triple jump.

Reggie Hamilton took part in the shot put with a toss of 31 feet and five inches. In the men's 800 meter run, Kevin Keathley ran a 2:56.90. Keathley is an eighth grader at Harold Elementary.

Steve Bryant competed in the men's 200 meters and 1600 meter races. Bryant ran a 28:02 in the 200 and finished with a 6:24.00 in the 1600 run.

Moore Fans 15 In 13-3 Drift Win

It was "The Chris Moore Show" at the Minnie Park earlier this week as the righthander hurled a complete game as the Drift Giants won over the McDowell Stars 13-3. Moore picked up the win for Drift fanning 15 batters and allowing the Stars just one hit — a base hit to Ryan Shannon in the first inning.

Not only was Moore the top man on the hill for the Giants but he led the Giants' hit parade at the plate with a three-for-four performance. Moore hit two home runs in the game, one coming in the first — a two-run blast — and a two-run shot in the fifth. Moore now has hit four home runs in his last three games picking up nine RBIs. Moore collected four runs batted in against McDowell.

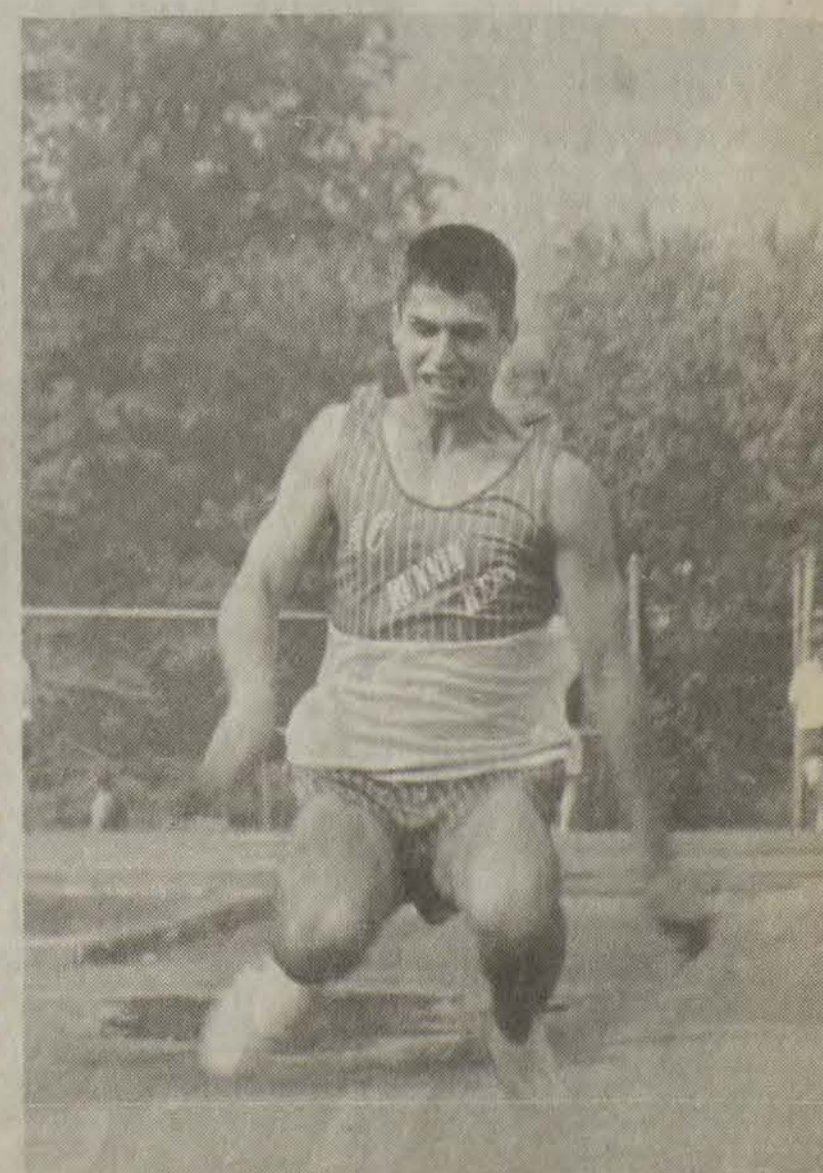

Kenny Hamilton came in at 28:46 in the men's 200 meter run. Shawn Wallen was clocked at 57:60 in the men's 400 meter race. Ossie Yelder posted a time of 12.68 in the 100 meter run.

This is the second year for track and field events at Betsy Layne. Coach Bowling and his staff have seen a lot of improvement in the ability of the Bobcat harriers to compete. The squad will be traveling to Lexington this Saturday.

Eric Cook was perfect at the plate for the Giants with four hits in four plate appearances. Cook tripled in the fourth inning with a man on base. Jeremy Huff also collected a three-bagger and an RBI in the fourth when Drift scored five times.

D. Newsome was the losing pitcher for the Stars. Moore struck out four Giants and walked nine. R. Hall came on in relief and struck out two batters and walked none.

attempt in the long jump events. Jervis has been a been on a roll in running the men's 400 meters, an event in which he placed first.

In the shot put, Kenny Crum advanced to sectional competition with a third place finish in the field event. Crum had a toss of 42-feet and three and three-quarters inches. Coach Jamerson believes that Crum has a shot.

"I believe that Kenny will have a good chance in shot put at the sectionals in Clay County," said Jamerson.

Tim Slone placed fifth in shot put with a toss of 40-feet.

In the men's 100 meter dash, Jason Sammons placed fourth with a 12:70 time. Rondell Stewart ran a 28:73 in the men's 200 meter dash.

Randy Conn set a new personal record in the men's 400 meter dash with a time of 56:98 for fourth place. Jervis won the men's 400 with a 53:22 time.

In the men's 300 hurdles, a personal record and school record was set. Randy Conn set a new personal record with a 56:98 for third place in the event. Shawn Stumbo took second place and established a new school record with a run of 45:46.

In the finals of the men's 400 meter run, Conn finished fourth with a time of 55:76, a personal record. Kenny Bradley posted a 2:48.00 in the men's 800 meter race. In the 1600 meter run, Todd Howard came in at 6:13.79 and Jamie Slone, who got off to a slow start, placed fifth with a new school record time of 5:12.90.

Josh Flannery had a time of 15:18.41 in the men's 3200 meter run. Todd Howard finished at 13:47.30.

In the men's 110 Hurdles, Shawn Stumbo established a new school record and placed second with a run of 18:87.00.

"That was very pleasant surprise for us," commented Jamerson. "We didn't expect his to come so high."

In the 300 hurdles, Stumbo finished sixth with a time of 45:08.00. Randy Conn posted a 47:00.

The relay team of Jason Sammons, Jamie Slone, Shawn Stumbo and Tim Slone placed fifth overall with a time of 50:06.

In the 1600 relays, Randy Conn, Sammons, Jamie Slone and Stumbo, finished fourth at 3:57.06.

Stumbo had to replace Jervis in the relay meets because of his pulled hamstring. Because of the replacement, the Rebels ran their best time.

"We never had three runners run under 60 before," said Jamerson. "If anything good can come out of the injury to Robert, and I say "if", it is that Shawn Stumbo did a great job and now we know that he can run the relays. That's good for next year."

Despite his injury, Jervis finished fifth in the long jump with jump of 18-feet and one-inch. Randy Conn's longest jump was 16-feet and six-inches. Conn had a jump of over 18-feet but scratched on the jump.

Jamerson stated that he was glad to have coach Forrest Hughes back out helping with track and field.

"Forrest was here when it all started," explained Jamerson. "I value his opinion very much. He works with the distance people and works very well with them and I work with the sprinters. Neither one of us knows much about the field events.

"I'm glad he came back out and he loves it as well as I do."

In the other girl's results, Evelyn Howard stumbled at the 60 meter mark of the women's 100 meter run. Howard finished with a time of 16:77.00. Jamerson believes that Howard would have placed in the race had she not stumbled. Missy Goble posted a new school record with a 15:95.

In the women's shot put, Anita Marcum placed seventh with a toss of 26-feet and one-inch.

Glema Yates ran a 1:17.14 in the women's 400 meter, good for seventh place.

The Allen Central track and field team will head for the sectionals at Clay County High School this Saturday. The meet is scheduled to get started with the distance running around 10 a.m. and the field events will follow.

The Rebels girl's relay team will journey to Manchester as will Wallen, Tim Slone, Randy Conn, Shawn Stumbo and Kenny Crum. The men's relay team also will make the trip.

Martin Blue Jays Come Out With 32-17 Win In Slugfest

The Martin Blue Jays scored six runs in the top of the fourth inning to break a 15-15 tie and went on to post a 32-17 win over the Garrett Cubs in a marathon of a game at Garrett.

The Cubs had scored 12 runs in the bottom of the third inning to tie the Blue Jays at 15-all. Martin took a 1-0 lead in the first, only to have the Cubs come back and tie it at 1-1. It was 5-1 after an inning and a half when Martin pushed across four runs in their half of the second. Garrett made it 5-3 with two in the bottom of the second.

Martin broke the game open when they pushed across 11 runners to take the 32-17 win.

Melissa Mullins had a fourth inning home run for the Blue Jays. Mullins picked up two RBIs with her homer and added a double in the second. Jason Bentley collected four hits for the Blue Jays including a pair of doubles. Kevin Slone had a triple and a single for Martin. Rory Patton tripled in the third. P. J. Holbrook doubled for Martin in the second also. Daryl Shepherd was about all the offense for Garrett with a three hit night. Shepherd collected a third inning double for Garrett and had two singles.

Jason Bentley started for the Blue Jays, striking out five. Bentley experienced some control problems with 10 walks. John Barker came on in the middle of the third inning and got the win in relief of Bentley. Barker fanned three batters, but his control was no better as he issued nine walks.

Shepherd suffered the setback for the Cubs. He struck out four batters and walked 11. All totaled, 30 walks were issued by the three pitchers.

Martin evened their record at 1-1 and will face the Garrett Pirates this Friday. The Cubs fall below the .500 mark at 1-2.

Fannin Singles Home Two Runs To Break 3-3 Tie As Cubs Win

The only girl Little League player in the Prestonsburg Little League, Jenna Fannin, singled home two runs in the top of the sixth inning to break a 3-3 tie, start a four run sixth inning rally, and help give the Prestonsburg Cubs a 7-3 win over the Prestonsburg Indians and their third straight victory this season.

In the inning, Mike Castle singled and stole second, third and home. The next three batters for the Cubs walked to load the bases. Fannin then came through with her base hit, scoring two runners. Jeremy Osborne completed the scoring with a sacrifice fly.

Jason Osborne started for the Cubs, pitching the first three innings. Osborne allowed two hits in his three inning stint. Osborne walked two and fanned seven batters. Brother Jeremy Osborne came on in relief in the fourth inning and went the final three innings to pick up the win. Jeremy allowed no runs on no hits and struck out eight batters. He walked two.

James Taylor was the losing pitcher for the Indians. Taylor gave up five hits and six walks while striking out eight Cub batters. In the third inning, Taylor blasted a homerun with two runners on base to tie the game at 3-3 after the Cubs had jumped out to a 3-0 lead with three in the second inning. The Indians collected but two hits in the game. Both teams played errorless baseball.

Elkhorn City, Allen Central EKMC Co-Champions

With the difficulty of rescheduling rained out games, the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference named the Allen Central Rebels and Elkhorn City Cougars as co-champs of the EKMC tournament. The two teams were to have met in the championship game, but all sorts of conflicts took place. The tournament directors decided rather than to play it on Sunday with the district tournaments starting, both teams would be co-champions.

Mud Creek Pee Wee League

REDS VS SMURFS

The Mud Creek Reds defeated the Smurfs 5-2 in Pee Wee action at the park behind the John M. Stumbo School. The Reds scored four times in the top of the fourth inning to break a 1-1 tie.

In the fourth, Leroy Adkins singled to open the inning and scored on Ryan Hall's triple. Derrick Martin scored Hall with an run-producing double. Martin scored when Justin Martin singled in the inning. The final run came across on Dan Osborne's ground out. Osborne received an RBI on the out.

The Reds scored a single run in the first inning on a base hit by Adkins and Derrick Martin's RBI double. The Smurfs tied the score at 1-1 when Brent Hamilton doubled and scored on Shannon Williams' base hit. The Smurfs scored their final run in the bottom of the fourth when Williams hammered a home run.

Derrick Martin was the winning pitcher for the Reds and Williams took the loss.

PIRATES VS TIGERS

The Mud Creek Tigers scored three runs in the fourth inning to hand the Mud Creek Pirates a 5-3 setback. Shawn Hamilton was the winning pitcher for the Tigers and Craig Hall was the losing pitcher.

The Tigers collected five hits in the fourth inning in scoring three times. Leslie Hamilton had a double and Bubo Hamilton followed with a run-producing double. Christy Johnson advanced the runners and Matt Stone scored Bubo Hamilton with a base hit. Scotty Howell singled and Shena Akers base hit loaded the bases. Sabrina Bentley drew a bases loaded walk forcing in the third run.

The Tigers took a 2-0 lead in the first inning with two runs on five hits. Leslie Hamilton singled and Steve Mitchell followed with a base hit. Hamilton came around to score on a double by Shawn Hamilton. Josh Hamilton RBI single scored Mitchell.

The Pirates knotted the game at 2-2 with two in the top of the second. Carlos McGill doubled to open the inning and Derrick Akers singled behind him. McGill scored on Brent Newsome's double and Akers came home when Corey Williams grounded out. The Pirates took a 3-2 lead with one run in their half of the third inning. Manual Coleman walked. Hall and Bentley singled loading the bases and Coleman scored the lead run on a base hit by McGill.

The Tigers are 1-2 on the season and the Pirates fall to 0-2.

The Mud Creek Pee Wee League plays their game on Monday's and Wednesday's at 5:30 at the Stumbo school.

NATIONAL TENNIS CLINIC

Leon Brenneman, a Prince Tennis Pro, will direct a tennis clinic on Tuesday, May 21 at the Paintsville Tennis courts. The clinic is made possible by the Johnny Lemaster Sports Center in Paintsville.

Prince Manufacturing will supply racquets for everyone to try their hand at the great game of tennis. Each participant will have the opportunity to win prizes during the clinic. There will be music, prizes and loads of fun for all. The charge? That's the best part — no charge! That's right it's free!

There will be three sessions scheduled for 5:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. Again from 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. The last session will begin at 8:30 p.m. and end at 10 p.m.

It is suggested that adult players sign up for the 8:30 p.m. until 10 p.m. session.

Anyone who is interested may sign up at the Johnny Lemaster Sports Center, Rt 23, Paintsville or call 789-7272.

THIRD ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF FACES RUN

This Saturday, May 18, will mark the Third Annual Festival of FACES 5k run in Prestonsburg. Pre-registration will be held between 8 a.m. and 8:45 a.m. with race time at 9 a.m.

The run is sponsored by the Rotary Club here in Prestonsburg, and entry fee is $7 if a runner pre-registers or $8 on the day of the race. Entry forms may be obtained at Johnnie Lemaster's Sport Center and Sport About in Paintsville. For further information call Rick Roberts at 789-3747.

Trophies and Memory T-shirts will be given to each participant and trophies will be awarded to winners in each age group.

According to Roberts, the 5k run should be an open race since there will be no clear-cut favorite this year. Last year's champion "Swag" Hartel will not be a participant, leaving way for a new champion to be named.

Women's champion and current course record holder, Debbie Biddle, will be back to defend her title.

ALUMNI BASKETBALL GAMES

Don't forget to sign up to play for your old alma mater this Friday night as the Festival of FACES Old Timers Alumni Games will be getting underway with a three-point shooting contest as well as slam dunk festivities at 5 p.m. at the Prestonsburg gym. At 6 p.m. Martin will face Wheelwright in the first game of the semifinals of the three-year tournament. In the second game, Garrett plays Wayland at 7:15; McDowell faces Betsy Layne at 8:30 and Prestonsburg will take on the former Wildcats of Maytown in the night's finale.

The Alumni Games are for former players from 1987 back. See the current high school coach or get in touch with Hoss Halbert, Tommy Boyd, Pete Grigsby Jr., Ron Robinson, Jimmy Cox if you wish to be part of this year's games.

ACCOUNTING SEMINAR

Computer Management Systems will be conducting a computerized Accounting Seminar on Tuesday, June 18th in our office located on North Mayo Trail in Pikeville. The seminar will be in four sessions covering general ledger, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and payroll. We will be showing some of the things involved in automating your accounting records on a personal computer. There will be a $25 registration fee that is refundable upon attendance. You may attend any single session, but there is limited space and registrants will be accepted on a first come first serve basis. Lunch will be provided.

For information and registration, contact Rhonda Harless at 432-0043

Casebolt collects 5 RBIs

Wayland Cubs Record 20-8 Win Over Beaver Yankees

Eric Casebolt had four hits and drove in five runs as the Wayland Cubs' American Amateur baseball squad won for the seventh time this season without a defeat. The perfect-standing Cubs broke open an otherwise close game with six runs in each of the third and fifth innings to post a one-sided, 20-8 win over the Beaver Yankees at Hindman.

Casebolt had a triple, double and two singles in picking up five RBIs for Wayland. Brian Crawford had a good outing with three hits, a triple, two doubles and a base hit. Crawford also reach a fourth via a walk.

Corbett Howell collected four runs batted in with five base hits — all singles — in the game. Byron Patton drove in two runs for the Cubs with three base hits including a double. Patton also had two singles. Nick Sammons had a good outing as he managed three singles in driving two runs. Charles Bentley's two runs batted in came as a result of a single. Tim Moore drove in a Cubs' run with a base hit, and Jay Arnett had a double for the winning team. Nicholas King was three-for-three at the plate.

Casebolt pitched two innings for the Cubs and struck out three batters while walking just two.

The Cubs will continue to try and keep their record unblemished as they face a tough Carr Creek Indian's team this Saturday at 1 p.m.

Martin Braves Win Big Over Wayland Dodgers 33-1

Thomas Jenkins hurled his second consecutive complete game for the Martin Braves as they posted a 33-1 lopsided victory over the Wayland Dodgers in the Beaver Creek Little League. Jenkins hit his second grand slam home run of the young season in driving in five runners.

Jenkins fanned nine batters for the Braves and walked six in going 2-0 on the year.

Beau Tackett continued to sting the baseball with a perfect three-for-three night and knocking in seven runs. Jenkins was three-for-four and Chris Cornette, looking like a player that was never out with an injury, chipped in with a two-for-three evening. Cornette had four RBIs. Cornette had the only other extra base hit — a second inning double. Jerry Combs took the loss for Wayland as he went just one inning. The Braves scored 10 runs off him in the first inning. Mike Taylor relieved Combs in the second and didn't fair as well. He was hit hard for 18 runs in the second inning.

Martin collected nine hits in the game and the Dodgers had three. Martin improved to 3-1 on the season and will face the Martin Cards tonight at 5:30 p.m.

Nelson Homers As Astros Post 26-1 Win Over Indians

Sammy Nelson "slammed" a fourth inning two-run home run to help Brandon Castle and the Allen Astros to a 26-1 mercy win over the Prater Creek Indians Monday evening in the Harold-Allen-Prater Little League.

Castle picked up the win for the Allen club as he went the distance in the one-sided game. Castle had the fastball working as he fanned 10 batters while issuing no walks.

Nelson came to the plate in the fourth inning with a runner on base and parked a Anthony Smith pitch over the leftfield fence for a two run homer. Nelson had two hits in the game while walking twice in picking up four RBIs.

Ryan Ortega had a big evening at the plate for the Astros as he collected four hits in four plate appearances. Wesley Sammons had two hits as did Castle. Eddie Roe reached base four times for Allen on a walk, hit batsman and two base hits. Roe had three RBIs in the game.

Austin Lumpkins delivered a run producing double in the third inning for the Astros in collecting two hits. Billy Mitchell had a fourth inning two-bagger and RBI.

Wes Collins tripled for the Indians in the fourth inning and doubled in the first. Josh Hamilton had a first inning double as the Indians scored their only run in the first inning. Collins was two-for-two at the plate.

Anthony Smith was the losing pitcher with two strikeouts and eight walks.

Allen improves to 8-1 in the league.

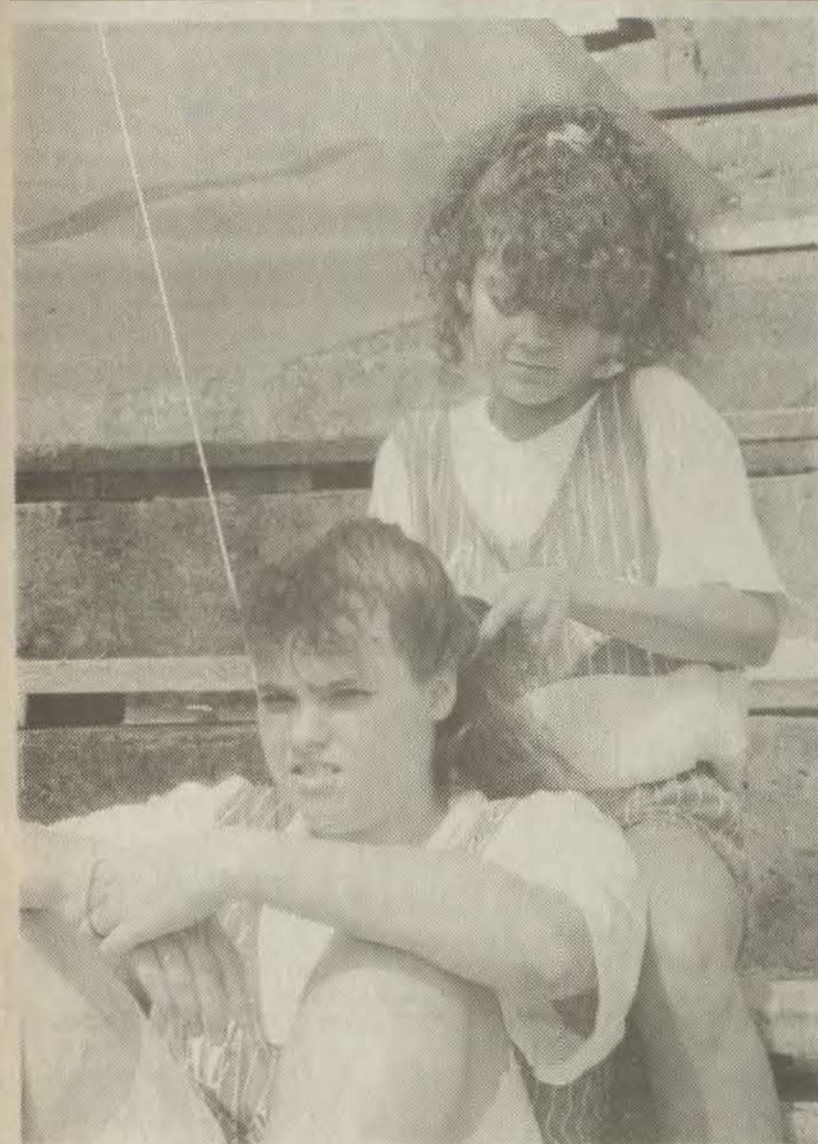

The Astros will face the Reds this Saturday at 11 p.m. and the Indians will play tomorrow (Thursday) at 5:30 p.m.

Braves Win First One With 5-4 Squeaker Over Rangers

The Prestonsburg Braves Little League team won their first game of the season in the Prestonsburg Little League when they posted a 5-4 win over the Prestonsburg Rangers.

Joshua Luster was the winning pitcher in relief for the Braves in going four innings. Luster allowed one run in his four inning stint and struck out four Ranger batters.

J. B. Hall was the starter for the Braves going the first three innings and allowing three runs on one hit. Hall fanned four batters, but he walked six.

The game was tied in the bottom of the sixth inning when Zeth Shepherd walked, then stole second and third to set up the winning run. Shepherd trotted home on Gavin Hale's game winning base hit. Hale was the offensive leader at the plate for the Braves with two hits and four RBIs. Hale scored one run and walked twice.

The defensive player of the game for the Braves was Jeremy Watkins with four unassisted put outs.

The Braves improved to 1-3 on the season and will play the Prestonsburg Giants on Thursday (tomorrow). The Rangers lost for the third time this season with one victory. The Rangers will face the Indians on Friday at Archer Park.

Experts Agree: Work Back Into An Active Lifestyle - Slowly

Spring is a marvelous time of year. The sun comes out, lawns and trees turn green, flowers bloom and as the weather turns warmer you can become active again in your favorite outdoor sports. But if you don't watch out — OUCH!

For people who have been deskbound and sedentary all winter, rushing back into an active summertime outdoor life can be a painful experience, according to Dr. Douglas Goar, chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Kentucky State University.

"You go out and your expectation is to go back to the level of participation at which you were performing last summer," Goar explains. "But your muscle use has not been the same during the winter as what you're asking it to do."

And trying to do too much, too soon, can easily cause sore muscles — and may even lead to a torn muscle or an inflamed or torn tendon.

So, whether a person is involved in tennis, baseball, softball, jogging or just yard and garden work, Goar says that "just like any athlete, you've got to go through "spring training" to get yourself ready." But unlike professional athletes, "most of us are doing this for our own enjoyment — and we have to be our own trainers."

"You need to go through a warm-up routine — stretch out — and then warm up to your activity. That means you start out slowly and build back into that activity."

But Goar warns that if anyone has been a "couch potato for years and years," and is just now planning to become more active, "the first thing you should do is consult your physician."

A stretching routine increases the flexibility and range of motion of the body's joints. Many stretching routines have been published and are readily available, but the basic idea is simple: "You want to stretch all your muscles," says Goar. "You may want to concentrate on the large muscles in the arms and legs," he says, but adds that little muscles can be just as painful if they are not properly stretched before exertion. Areas that should get particular attention are the Achilles tendon ("commonly injured") the back and the hamstrings.

Once stretched out — as a person should do before every activity — about two weeks should be taken to ease back into an activity.

"If you haven't played tennis all winter, don't go out and try to play a three-set match," Goar cautions. On the first outing for example, simply hitting the ball around for awhile is best.

Goar says the process is like getting a suntan. "Just as you gradually increase your exposure to the sun to prevent burning, you should slowly increase your level of activity to prevent injuries," he said.

And last but not least, Goar says, "Listen to your body."

"The human body is a fantastic device," he points out. "When you abuse it, it tells you you've abused it."

And the adage, "No pain, no gain," should not be taken too literally.

"There's a fine line between muscular discomfort and pain," says Goar. When you're in pain, your body is telling you, "Back off, you're hurting me!"

Roberts Captures Apple Blossom 5K Run; Third In Dogwood 5K

It has been a busy month of May for Rick Roberts. Roberts has put some miles not only on his tires but his feet also, and it looks as if the month of May will continue to be a busy one for the local runner.

Roberts defended last year's title in the Elkhorn City Apple Blossom 5K run with a time of 17:50. Roberts was 23 seconds slower than the 17:27 he posted last year at Elkhorn City.

Other local runners who took part in the 5k race was Don E. Howard, of East Point, who finished 10th with a time of 22:30.

On May 5, Roberts ran in the 12th Annual Mullins Dogwood 5k run and placed third overall when he was clocked at 17:01. Danny Stowers has the winning time of 17:01. Howard also ran the Mullin's run and took third place in his age group of 45-49. Howard had a time of 23:42.

Warm temperatures affected the runners in the Lady of Bellefonte 5K Heart Run at Russell, where Roberts placed sixth overall and third in his age group. Tom Cox of Lexington came in first with a 16:56.

"The weather really affected the way everyone ran," said Roberts. "That's the reason for the high time. Usually, the winning time would have been lower."

Roberts was running in the 11th position until the two mile mark when he kicked and passed five runners.

"I just turned on the burners and passed about five of them at one time, and they never did catch up with me," explained Roberts. "I missed fifth place by about two seconds."

Roberts will be readying himself for the upcoming Festival of Faces 5K run here in Prestonsburg, and then it will be off to Burlington, Vermont for the running of the Vermont Marathon, a 26 miles run, on May 26.

Bassin' with the Pros

WHEN BASS DON'T BITE, TRY THESE LAST DITCH TACTICS

If you're a bass fisherman, you've probably faced this situation before: it's late, you haven't caught any fish and you're running out of time, patience and ideas.

What do you do to keep from going home empty handed?

"There are a couple of things to try," suggests Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member David Wharton, who admits he's been in that situation a few times.

"First, if I've been concentrating in shallow water, such as shorelines or flats, I would move to slightly deeper water. For me, this would nearly always be a major point with a lot of depth variation, and I'd stay there fishing with a worm or jig until I positively had to leave.

"If I'd been working points like this all day without success, I'd move to a shallow bank and simply start covering as much water as fast as I could with a spinnerbait."

Wharton, a former guide on Sam

Rayburn Lake in Texas and now a highly respected tournament pro, emphasizes the main thing to do in those final minutes or hours of fishing is to concentrate in one area or on one technique, and keep your lure in the water.

It's not a pleasant situation to be in," the Johnson pro laughs, "but we've all been there. You can't panic and start running from spot to spot hoping to stumble into a school of fish, because all you really do is use up your remaining fishing time.

"You need to find one place, like a point, and sit there and work it thoroughly. Or, if you're fishing shallow water, simply fish your way down a long shoreline."

Putting the trolling motor down and flinging a spinnerbait as fast as you can wind it in the final minutes, isn't always as desperate as it may seem. During a recent tournament on Alabama's Lake Martin, Wharton began doing just that, and with only 15 minutes remaining in the contest, caught a six pound 15-ounce bass, the largest of the tournament.

Track, Tennis Seasons Getting Into High Gear; May Busy Month

May is a busy month for high school athletics in Kentucky as championship competition is conducted in baseball, softball, tennis and track.

The track season will culminate with the state championship which began with the regional meets last weekend. The Sectional Track Meets are set for Saturday, May 18, and the championship series concludes with the State Track Meet on May 25. The state meet will again be held at the Shively Track on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

The tennis season will end with Regional Tournament this week and the state meet will be on Thursday, May 30 through Saturday, June 1, at the Downing Tennis Center on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

Allen Central will take part in the Sectional Meet at Clay County High School in Manchester Saturday, May 18. The events will get underway at 10 a.m. Field events and distance runs will follow with a scheduled break at 12:15. Events will resume at 1 p.m.

The Rebels will have a good representation at the Sectional Meet. Jessica Wade will take part in the women's 800, 1600 and 3200 meter run as well as the mile relay. The mile relay team includes Glema Yates, Wade, Missy Goble and Evelyn Howard. Wade had a strong finish in the regionals at Boyd County this past weekend placing first, second, third and fourth in different events.

Brian Wallen will continue his drive toward a state championship in discus, and Tim Slone will also be a discus participant. Wallen won first place and Slone came in second at the Boyd County regionals.

Others making the trip to Clay County will be Randy Conn in the 400 meters; Shawn Stumbo, 110 hurdles; Kenny Crum, shot put and the Rebels mile relay team — Randy Conn, Shawn Stumbo, Jason Sammons and Jamie Slone.

Reds Strong Bats Post 10-4 Win Over Cubs; Shannon, Robinson Shine

Jason Shannon had two triples and Kevin Robinson clouted a two run homer to lead the Martin Reds to their third straight win with a 10-4 victory over the Garrett Cubs.

Martin scored five runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to add to a 5-4 lead to win over the visiting Cubs.

In the fifth inning, after a lead off walk, Robinson clubbed his first homerun of the season to make it a 7-4 game. Phillip Robinson followed with a double and Shannon got his second triple of the game, scoring Robinson. Rusty Young singled home Shannon to give the Reds a 10-4 lead.

The Reds scored three times in the bottom of the third inning on an error and Kevin Robinson's RBI triple. With one out, Shannon hit his first triple of the game, scoring Robinson. Shannon came in to score on a ground out.

Phillip Robinson doubled home two runs for the Reds in the first inning after Shannon Slone had singled and Kevin Robinson had walked.

B.J. Caudill, who had a double for the Reds, was the winning pitcher. Caudill struck out nine batters in the three and two-thirds innings he pitched. Caudill walked five batters. Kevin Robinson came on in relief and pitched the last three and third innings, fanning seven batters. The seven strikeouts gives Robinson 16 in the 6 1/3 innings he has worked this season. Brandon Hicks took the loss for Garrett, going the first four innings for Garrett. Hicks struck out six batters and walked one. Mike Combs came on in relief in the fifth inning.

Garrett had only three hits in the game against Reds pitching. Daryl Shepherd collected all three hits with a double, single and triple. Shepherd drove in three of the Cubs four runs.

The Reds are 3-0 and will face the Garrett Pirates at Garrett on Monday. The Cubs fall to 1-1.

LMU Signs Smith And Hunter To Letter-Of -Intents

Lincoln Memorial University inked two standout basketball players to National Letters-of-intent recently, bringing to five the number of scholarship athletes signed by coach Marc Comstock and his coaching staff this recruiting season.

Marc Smith, a junior college transfer from Blackhawk College in Moline, Illinois, averaged 13 points per game last year and hit 50 percent of his field goal attempts. Smith canned 72.4 percent of his free throw shots. In addition, he averaged 6.0 rebounds, 3.9 assists and 3.8 steals per contest.

Coach Marc Comstock said, "Marc is one of the finest defensive players we have seen in some time. He uses his quickness and energy to be a defensive stopper. He's a high percentage offensive player, who can score and create opportunities for himself and his teammates."

Smith attended Lanphier High School in Springfield, Illinois and now lives in East Moline, Illinois. He will be a business/accounting major at LMU.

The fifth recruit, who Coach Comstock signed was 6-6, 200-pound Titus Hunter, a front court player who made the All-Wyoming Junior College Conference team. Hunter averaged 18 ppg last year along with 9.8 rebounds, 2.4 steals, 3.0 assists and 3.2 blocked shots. His single season high production was against West Nebraska when he sank 28.

"Titus is a good rebounder, he runs the floor well, and he can score from inside or out to 15 feet. He will be an immediate impact player for us."

Titus is a transfer from Laramie

Garrett Pirates Remain Undefeated With Two Wins; Defeat Reds

The Garrett Pirates remained undefeated in the Beaver Creek Little League with two wins this week in league play. The Pirates are a perfect 2-0 after whitewashing the Martin Cardinals 17-0 and defeating a strong Martin Reds team 7-2.

The Pirates had things their way against the Cardinals as Gary Hunter fired a one-hitter, giving up a single to M. Hall. Hunter had seven strikeouts in the game. Mike Pack, Kyle Turner had two hits each for the winning Pirates against the Cards. Allan Hicks had a double and single with Donnie Owens banging out two doubles. Timmy Bellamy was the big RBI man for Garrett with six. Bellamy had two hits in the contest.

Losing pitcher for the Cardinals was Gary Scarberry.

In the second game, the Pirates

County Community College in Cheyenne, Wyoming. He attended Harding High School in Fort Wayne, Indiana where he averaged 17 points per game, nine rebounds and was an all area player. Hunter is a communications major took care of a very good Martin Reds team 7-2. Bellamy hurled the Pirates past Lonnie Robinson's ball club despite the 15-strikeout performance by Kevin Robinson. Robinson now has 26 K's in just 12 and third innings pitched. The Reds were guilty of committing several errors in the game.

Bellamy helped his own cause with two runs batted in on a base hit. Gary Hunter had a double and triple for one run batted in. Brady Scott tripled home two runs for the winning Pirates.

Bellamy was the winning pitcher with six strike outs as he scattered four Reds' hits. Phillip had a double and single for the Reds.

Kevin Robinson suffered the loss for Martin. It was the first loss for Martin as they fall to 3-1. Garrett is 2-0.

NOT ALL CHANGE IS FOR THE BETTER

The debate over high salaries for baseball players, free agency and related topics heats up every time there is a new round of contract signings. I don't begrudge any player the opportunity to make the best deal he can. But, I have been thinking about some of the less obvious ways baseball has changed as a result of the new economic facts of life.

Until recently, fans were able to identify star players with certain ball clubs. When fans thought of the St. Louis Cardinals, they thought of Stan Musial. During the 1940s, if fans thought of the New York Yankees, they thought of Joe DiMaggio. Back then, the Brooklyn Dodgers were Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and their other stars.

Fans no longer can do that. A player like Darryl Strawberry comes with the New York Mets, but when the Los Angeles Dodgers offer more money, that's where he's going to play.

There's another aspect to it. What is Strawberry going to do when his five year contract is up? What is Roger Clemens going to do for an encore when his five year deal is up with the Boston Red Sox? Are teams going to be willing to put out all those millions of dollars again when the players are five years older? Will the players themselves even want to continue playing?

I doubt that many of today's stars will bother playing baseball after 10 years or so of making the big money. They will play their 10 years and then get on with their investments and life after baseball.

Even if they want to play longer, I cannot see teams paying the big salaries to players for 20 years. How many millions of dollars would that take? Until a few years ago, a player would spend 15 years, sometimes 20 years with one team. Even when his batting average began to dip and home runs became fewer, the team would keep an older star player on the roster as long as he could contribute. Today, they couldn't afford to pay his salary.

So, here is one final, sad result: I think some players who may have made it to the Hall of Fame are going to be cheated out of that opportunity. They won't have the career statistics to match those already in the Hall. They also won't be challenging some of the all-time records now on the books. Will teams pay a big salary to a player for the 20 years or more it would take to challenge Pete Rose's total-hit record? Or a certain number 44's homerun record?

Threadfin Shad, New Resident At Dewey Lake

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife has recently introduced a new fish into the waters of Dewey Lake. Approximately 100,000 threadfin shad were released during the month of April. The stocking of threadfin shad is part of an ongoing project designed to improve crappie and bass fishing.

The threadfin shad is a cousin of the gizzard shad that is already abundant in East Kentucky waters. The threadfin shad, however, grows slower and seldom grows beyond lengths of seven-inches. The gizzard shad can reach lengths of 20 inches. Most larger predator fish (bass) prefer shad in the range of three to five inches. It is hoped that the threadfin shad will successfully reproduce and therefore provide an abundant source of food for the crappie and bass in Dewey Lake.

The stocking of threadfin shad is not new for Eastern Kentucky lakes. The difference at Dewey Lake is the amount of fish stocked. Other reservoirs receive approximately 10,000 threadfin shad each spring, whereas Dewey received 100,000. This is an attempt to determine once and for all if stocking threadfin shad improves the quality of fishing. This project will continue for two more years.

The threadfin shad come from Lake Herrington and must be restocked each spring because they usually do not survive the cold winter temperatures. Lake Herrington has the luxury of a warm water discharge from a power plant and consequently the threadfin shad can survive the year round.

Wheelwright Posts 10-0 Win Over Letcher County; Defeats Neon

The Wheelwright Trojans posted a 10-0 shutout victory over Letcher County for their fourth win of the year Tuesday night. Kevin "Big" Johnson was the winning pitcher, fanning six batters and walking just three. It was a complete outing for Johnson.

The Trojans scored five times in the bottom of the fifth inning to win the "mercy rule" game.

In the Trojan fifth, Mickey Johnson drew a lead off walk and Chad Allen followed suit. Jimmy Helton hit into a double play, leaving Johnson at third base. Mike Justice picked up Johnson with an RBI single. Kevin Johnson singled and Bryan Rhea reached on an error to load the bases. Charles Johnson sent two runners home with a two-run double. Chad Allen doubled in the first inning and came around to score an unearned run to give Wheelwright a 1-0 lead. The Trojans made it 2-0 in the second on a base hit by Mike Justice.

In the Trojan third, Layne Bailey singled and stole second. Bailey came around to score on Mickey Johnson's base hit. After Chad Allen fouled out to the pitcher, Jimmy Helton scored Johnson with a solid base hit to left. It was 6-0 after Wheelwright pushed across two runs in the fourth frame. A lead off double by Kevin Johnson and singles by Charles Johnson and Jody Johnson produced two runs. Johnson limited Letcher County to just five hits as the Trojans played errorless baseball.

In an earlier game, Wheelwright scored a 6-2 win over the Pirates of Fleming-Neon. Chad Allen picked up the win for the Trojans as Layne Bailey scored three of the Trojans six runs. Bailey had two hits in the game and Allen had two.

The Trojans dropped a couple of close games in a doubleheader at Cordia earlier in the week. The Trojans lost the first game 5-4 and dropped the nightcap 6-4.

BREWERS VS CUBS

Greg Jones tripled and Cory Reitz doubled in the fifth inning as the Prestonsburg Brewers scored two runs in their half of the inning and stopped the Prestonsburg Cubs 10-7 in Senior League play at Archer Park.

The Brewers had taken 4-0 lead and added two more in the second inning to extend it to 6-0. The Cubs plated four runs in the third and three in the fourth to draw within striking distance of Ashland Gearheart's ball club.

Kevin Crum was the winning pitcher for the Brewers and Jason Burke suffered the loss. Burke had eight strike outs and walked two batters.

Offensively for the Brewers, Jones and Reitz had the only extra base hits. Michael Roberts and Jason Keathley doubled for the Cubs — Roberts coming in the fourth and Keathley's in the third.

Bluegrass festival

The Festival of the Bluegrass will be held June 6-9 at the Kentucky Horse Park campgrounds, the concert will be outdoors and the Sunday show will feature Bluegrass Gospel music. For more information, call Jean Cornett at (606) 846-4995.

PRESTONSBURG SENIOR LEAGUE RESULTS

REDS VS EXPOS

The Prestonsburg Reds slipped by the Prestonsburg Expos 7-6 at Archer Park behind the pitching of Jeff Hicks. Tony Craft took the loss for the Expos.

Clint Shuts and Sean Poe had doubles in the game for the Reds while Merlin Osborne, Freddie Collins and Matt Crum doubled for the Expos.

TIGERS VS REDS

The Prestonsburg Reds posted their second win of the week by posting a 8-7 win over the Prestonsburg Tigers in Senior League play.

Jason Spencer was the winning pitcher for the Reds while Anthony Howell suffered the loss.

Sean Poe had a double for the victorious Reds.

EXPOS VS BREWERS

Ashland Gearheart's Brewers remained undefeated in Senior League play as they scored a 5-1 win over the Prestonsburg Expos. Corey Reitz was the winning pitcher while Ervin Osborne took the loss.

Martin Braves Slip Past Drift Astros 7-6

Beau Tackett hit a solo home run in the third inning and Travis Johnson hurled a complete game as the Martin Braves got by the Drift Astros 7-6 in the Beaver Creek Little League Monday evening at Minnie.

Johnson, in going the distance for the Braves, struck out eight batters and walked four. It was the first win of the season for Johnson as he evened his personal record at 1-1.

Tackett was perfect at the plate for Martin, getting three hits in the game. Phillip Holbrook had three hits in four at bats and Thomas Jenkins collected three base hits.

B. J. Moore took the loss for the Astros, fanning 11 batters and walking four. Todd Walters had two hits for the Astros as did Clade Hall. Hall doubled in the third for Drift, driving in a run. Billy Hall hit a solo home run for the Astros.

For the Braves, Gordon Maynard tripled home two runs in the third inning as the Braves scored four times. Tackett had a two run double in the Braves' first inning as they scored three times. Jenkins doubled in the fourth and Phillip Holbrook had a sixth inning double.

The Astros had the tying run on first base in the bottom of the sixth inning when Johnson fanned a batter and got the final out on a grounder to second base.

Martin improves to 4-1 on the season and the Astros fall to 1-2. Martin will face the Martin Cardinals in a 5:30 p.m. start today. The Astros will travel to Garrett to meet the Cubs on Thursday in a 5:30 p.m. start.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT 91-CI-172

Orville Hamilton and Gladys Hamilton.....Plaintiffs
VS: NOTICE OF SALE
Millard Adkins and Beulah Adkins; Radford Lee Adkins and Aretta Adkins; Lillard Adkins and Martha Adkins; Eulavene Ray and Jackie Ray; and Arlie Gene Adkins...Defendants

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the March 29 term, 1991, in the above styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 24 day of May, 1991, at 11:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of three (3) months, the following described property, to-wit:

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being on the waters of the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River at Betsy Layne, Floyd County, Kentucky, being the same property conveyed Floyd Adkins and Rebecca Adkins by deed from Gary Thomas Daniels and Maggie L. Daniels, dated July 17, 1973, recorded in Deed Book 214, page 111, Floyd County Clerk's Office, and being more particularly described as follows:

Lots 12 and 13 of the Hill Addition to Betsy Layne, Kentucky.

This property is being sold to settle the estate of the late Floyd Adkins.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall include the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 6 day of May, 1991.

Real estate roundtable Ky. real estate commission

Question: Can you tell me what a "due-on-sale" clause is and how it is used?

Answer: A due-on-sale clause is usually found in mortgages obtained from a savings and loan association and requires the mortgagor (owner of the property) to pay off the loan when the property is sold. This clause is also known as an acceleration or alienation clause.

The use of a due-on-sale clause, in effect, eliminates the possibility for a new buyer to assume the existing mortgage unless the lending institution approves the assumption. The lender may choose to approve the assumption as is, increase the interest rate, or charge some additional fee for handling the assumption.

All VA and FHA mortgages are assumable, thus, this type of clause would not be found in these type of mortgages.

When shopping for a mortgage, be sure that you fully understand all of the requirements and regulations governing the lending institution and the loan you are applying for.

If you have other real estate questions, please contact the Kentucky Real Estate Commission, 10200 Linn Station Road, Suite 201, Louisville, Kentucky 40223; (502) 425-4273.
