Principal named in complaint

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

An Adams Middle School teacher filed a criminal complaint Monday in Floyd County District Court against middle school principal Thomas Tackett for allegedly interfering with normal school activities.

Gwendolyn Hammonds filed an abuse of a teacher charge against Tackett Monday claiming that Tackett, on May 14, "committed the offense of abuse of (a) teacher... when he directed speech and or conduct toward the affiant, knowing that said conduct will disrupt or interfere with normal school activities or will nullify or undermine the good order and discipline of the school."

Trial commissioner Jack Hyden ordered Tackett to stay away from Hammonds and to have no contact whatsoever with her or he could be found in contempt of court.

The case has been scheduled for a hearing on July 3 at 9 a.m.

Juvenile may be tried as an adult

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A 17-year-old juvenile charged in the March shooting death of a Goble Roberts man could be tried as an adult in the case.

A hearing held May 16 in Floyd County District Court transferred the case against Douglas Todd Keathley, 17, of Betsy Layne, to Floyd Circuit Court, said County Attorney Jim Hammond.

Keathley was charged with murder in March 27 shooting death of Larry Douglas Calhoun, 35, of Goble Roberts. Calhoun was shot once in the head with a .12 gauge shotgun at Keathley's home at Betsy Layne, according to police reports.

District Judge Harold Stumbo ruled that Keathley met criteria required to be classified as a youthful offender rather than a juvenile offender, Hammond said.

The case will be presented to a Floyd County Grand Jury to determine if enough evidence exists to bring charges against Keathley.

One more battle to go

Battle strategy

Civil War site targeted for historic designation

by Janice Shepherd
Staff Writer

Plans are underway to establish an historical landmark at the site of a Civil War battle on Middle Creek, which would bring Floyd County's past into its future.

The property, which has been owned by the Fitzpatrick family for more than two centuries, is located near the junction of the Middle Creek and David roads, and is the site of the Battle of Middle Creek, which was fought on January 10, 1862.

If the site is recognized as a national landmark, it will come under the guidance of the National Park Service, and could prove a boost to the tourism industry in the county and to the educational system.

Frank Fitzpatrick, who is donating the site, hopes to see the development of a museum or an interpretation facility, where students and their parents can learn about the historical significance of the battle. The site would also be used for an annual reenactment of the battle.

Fitzpatrick has been working with officials in the National Park Service for the last few months, both in Kentucky and in Washington, D.C. He has also begun the "ground work" to have the site listed as a National Historic Place, while also submitting an application for the site to be recognized as a National Historic Landmark.

Fitzpatrick said before the listing would be approved, documentation must be submitted that would prove the battle was a crucial one. Fitzpatrick expressed optimism that the site would become a National Historic Landmark by the end of the year.

The Battle of Middle Creek was significant, said Fitzpatrick, because it inspired the Union soldiers. "It renewed their enthusiasm," said Fitzpatrick, who explained that the Union was on a losing streak until they won the battle. Though both side claimed victory (few casualties were recorded on either side), word got back to Colonel James A. Garfield that his soldiers were victorious, and three days later at Mill Springs (near Somerset), the Union was again victorious.

After the Mill Springs battle, with its heavy casualties, "Middle Creek was shoved under the rug" in the press coverage, said Fitzpatrick.

"Middle Creek was really like the first battle won in setting up a line of defense," explained Lieutenant Jimmy Epling, a Union encampment officer at the site during Sunday's Battle of Middle Creek tour. "The Union gained control of the valley. When the confederate posts started to fall, it opened the way to Tennessee."

Epling and John David Preston, author of "Civil War in the Big Sandy Valley, Kentucky," plan to coordinate a reenactment at the site next year. The event must be scheduled one year in advance in order not to conflict with other reenactments and encampments in Kentucky.

Preston, who is also Paintsville's mayor, is recruiting would-be soldiers to form a group in the Big Sandy area. Though the endeavor could become expensive, according to Preston, the uniform and equipment do not have to be purchased immediately. For more details, call him at 789-5625.

Preston stressed the importance of preserving the Middle Creek site because few Civil War battlefields are available. "The location of the Battle of Bull Run was once in danger of becoming a shopping center," Preston said.

"Our children need to understand what happened here," said Fitzpatrick. "If they do, they will carry it with them throughout their lifetime."

Court asked to close or regulate burner :

Waste issue is rekindled

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A Floyd County citizens' group asked the Floyd County Fiscal Court Friday to either close a Prestonsburg medical waste incinerator or limit the amount of refuse the facility can accept.

Scott Walker, speaking for Floyd Countians in Action (FCIA), told the court Medisin's incinerator could be closed under Senate Bill 169, passed in 1988, or under Senate Bill 3, passed during the state's 1991 special session.

Joe Childers, an attorney representing FCIA, said the court could close the incinerator under SB 169 or limit the intake of waste by the company under SB 2.

Childers said under SB 169, the state cannot issue the facility a permit without the permission of the fiscal court.

Childers said under SB 2 the court must submit a plan to the state by October outlining the amount of waste it intends to accept in the next 10 years. Childers said the county could include in its plan a certain amount of medical waste that equals an amount produced by facilities in the county.

County Attorney Jim Hammond and magistrates Jackie Owens and Gerald DeRossett said they would work toward closing the incinerator or limiting the amount of waste disposed of by the facility.

In other action Friday, the court heard the first reading of the county's 1991-92 budget that totaled almost $6.5 million.

The 91-92 budget lists appropriate as: general fund, $2,027,609; road fund, $1,307,822; jail fund, $246,116; Local Government Economic Assistance fund, $2,916,040; and state grant, $1,085. The budget totals $6,498,672.

At Friday's meeting, several residents asked the court for assistance with roads in their area. Citizens from Allen Lick, Ligon, Water Gap, and Hippo told the court about various road and bridge problems in those areas.

Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo and magistrates Gerald DeRossett and Betty Caudill told the citizens the court would see what it could do to help them resolve their problems.

A discussion between Stumbo and DeRossett became heated at one point when the county's park employees were up for approval.

Teen-ager, man are lake's first drownings

by Tess A. Whitmer
Assistant Editor

The first drowning in the Paintsville Lake's five-year history occurred this weekend, taking the lives of two young people.

April Pennington, 16, and Timothy H. Stambaugh, 24, were swimming near the picnic area, across from the boat dock, with friends late Saturday night, according to Trooper Ghomer Prater of the Kentucky State Police.

When their friends got out of the water, Pennington, of Van Lear, and Stambaugh, of Sitka, told their friends that they were going to stay in a few minutes more.

The others came back about 20 minutes later and found Pennington floating in the water. They then transported her to Paul B. Hall Hospital where she was dead on arrival, ac-ording to J.R. Frisby, Johnson County coroner.

The Johnson County Rescue Squad was called to the lake to look for Stambaugh. They found his body submerged under water at the swimming site within a couple of minutes, Frisby said. Stambaugh was pronounced dead at 1:40 a.m. Sunday by Frisby.

Although the blood test results won't be back for about three weeks, Frisby said the autopsies led him to believe there was nothing unusual about the drownings. Trooper Prater confirmed that no foul play was suspected.

Although both Johnson Central and Paintsville High School had their proms that night, Frisby said the drownings were not prom related.

The incident is under investigation by Trooper Earl Gorrell.

Floyd pair indicted for Pike bank heist

Two Floyd Countians and two Indiana residents were named in a four count indictment last week for the May 7 armed robbery of a Pike County bank.

Kenneth David Warth, 35, and Daisy Helen Warth, 44, of Endicott, were charged along with Nelson Zepeda, 37, and William Arthur Burchett, 25, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, by a federal grand jury in Lexington.

The four were charged with conspiracy to commit armed bank robbery, armed bank robbery, using and carrying three pistols and using and carrying three destructive devices during the bank robbery.

The indictment alleges that Kenneth Warth, Zepeda and Burchett, aided and abetted by Daisy Warth, robbed the Ferrells Creek Branch of the First National Bank of Pikeville at Belcher on May 7.

If convicted on all charges, each defendant faces a maximum sentence of 60 years in prison, of which 30 years would be a mandatory sentence based on their alleged use of a dangerous device in committing the robbery.

The indictment was the result of an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Kentucky State Police, Pike County Sheriff's Department and the Virginia State Police. All four defendants are presently in custody awaiting an appearance in United States District Court in Pikeville.

An indictment of a person by a grand jury or the charge of a person by information or otherwise is an accusation only and that person is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty or otherwise pleads guilty.

Tense moments

A Prestonsburg woman escaped serious injury Thursday after the car she was driving collided with another vehicle and plunged over an embankment on Rt. 1428 at Lancer. Maudine Caudill, 56, of Prestonsburg had to be freed from her car by the Prestonsburg Fire Department using the Jaws of Life. Caudill was treated at the scene for neck and head injuries and transported to Highlands Regional Medical Center by P & B Ambulance. Teddy Blackburn, 20, of Endicott, who was driving the other vehicle, was treated for a broken left leg and transported to Highlands. Caudill was treated and released. (photo by Susan Allen)

Prestonsburg Employment office unites individuals and jobs

Staff of the Prestonsburg Employment Office, including satellite offices in Salyersville and Paintsville, of the Kentucky Department for Employment Services helped 1,634 Kentuckians find jobs in 1990, plus provided other job services to area employers and applicants.

"The local level is where the real work of helping Kentuckians find jobs takes place," Employment Services Commissioner Darvin Allen said.

"Last year more than 79,000 people were hired statewide due to the efforts of job placement counselors and interviewers at our 28 local offices," Allen said.

Deborah Allen, manager of the Prestonsburg Employment Service office said, "Each placement takes a lot of hard work and time. Many of our job hopefuls need training, counseling, or testing before they begin their job search."

She added, "But taking that extra time means another resident of this area will have a job and our local economy will benefit." Ms. Allen said, "At the same time, the confidence of this area's employers, some who use only this office for their job search and application process, is an honor we take great pride in and plan on continuing to live up to."

Employers and job-seekers may obtain information about screening, testing and placement services through the Prestonsburg office (or satellite offices in Salyersville and Paintsville) of the Department for Employment Services. Following are addresses and telephone numbers for each office. The Prestonsburg office is located on North Lake Drive and the telephone number is (606) 886-2396. The Salyersville office is located on the 1st floor of the Courthouse and the number is (606) 349-3120. The Paintsville office is located on the 2nd floor of the Johnson County Courthouse and the number is (606) 789-6692. A representative of the Employment Office is also in Martin County in the building behind the Courthouse each Thursday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"None of mine (employees recommended by DeRossett) are on that list," DeRossett said to Stumbo. "You hired everybody else's."

Stumbo said that qualified personnel had been chosen to fill the positions and that who submitted names to the court was not considered.

DeRossett also submitted the names of several roads in his district for repairs. DeRossett said that he was not informed by the judge or the road department about which roads in his district were being blacktopped or worked on.

"I don't know when any work is being done because you never tell me anything," DeRossett said to the judge.

"You need to work up a road schedule and submit it to the road department," Stumbo told DeRossett.

"I've done two or three but it don't do me any good," DeRossett said.

Stumbo said the road work DeRossett submitted to the court would be noted and work could possibly begin on Monday.

In other business Friday, the court:

- Approved an agreement between the court and the Floyd County Fusing Board to add 300 units in the Left Beaver area.

Rosenberg stressed the importance of public service by relating some of his own experiences, both in Eastern Kentucky and in the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department during the 1960's. Rosenberg challenged the graduates to "stick to their principles" and not to be caught up by the lure of money. At the graduation, Floyd County Times reporter emeritus Ron Marstin, formerly of Banner, received his law degree. In addition, Marstin was awarded the Samuel L. Ceremonies will mark the first presentation of the Regional Vietnam Veterans Memorial to the public on Saturday, May 25, at the Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Mountain Home, Tennessee. The Johnson City Vet Center announced a candlelight ceremony which will honor the region's dead and missing from Vietnam, including 14 Floyd County soldiers. The program will begin at 7 p.m.

The memorial consists of four lighted and framed frosted glass panels, and will be mounted at the Vet Center. The panels for counties in Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina and Tennessee will list the region's dead and missing from Vietnam.

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

A really big shew.

That's how Ed Sullivan would have billed Saturday night's Kentucky Opry-Festival of FACES benefit concert, and we can't think of a more appropriate description.

We've been to many big-time, big-name concerts, but few were any more entertaining than the show offered by the Kentucky Opry, the Gum Branch Heart-breakers, and Goose Creek at the P-Burg High gym.

While we don't count ourselves among the die-hard country music fans, Saturday's concert was foot-stomping fun, well orchestrated and, as far as the Goose Creek segment was concerned, a trip down memory lane.

A tip of the hat to all the folks who helped put the concert and all the festival events together. We suspect the annual festival is well on its way to becoming something big.

A special salute to Tourism Director Freddie James, a human dynamo during the festival, who, as far as we could tell, ran non-stop throughout the weekend's schedule of events.

Yep, the whole festival was a really big shew.

All those who helped make it so, please stand and take a bow.

Number, number who's got the number.

The Lexington Herald-Leader offered some interesting, if not eye-opening, statistics in a report Sunday titled "Murder in the Mountains."

The article concerned murder rates in Eastern Kentucky and detailed some shocking numbers which suggest some areas of the region were more prone to violence than New York City and Los Angeles during the decade of the 80s.

The story went into considerable detail to speculate why "mountain" people killed one another so frequently and compiled murder stats on a per capita basis for the period between 1980 and 1989.

Per capita rates are those killed per 100,000 people.

For the average reader, the Herald-Leader article painted a pretty scary picture of Eastern Kentucky.

Now, for the other side of the story.

What the Herald-Leader article failed to compare were actual murder numbers.

For instance, the Sunday report compared Perry County's per capita murder rate of 21.6 for the decade to Fayette County's rate of 6.5 for the same period.

How does that compare in actual murders, you ask?

Perry County had 69 murders between 1980 and 1989, for an average of 6.9 per year. That's high.

Working backward from the per capita rate for Fayette County, the actual number of murders during the 1980-89 period would total 137, or 13.7 per year. That's nearly twice the number for Perry County.

Jefferson County's per capita rate was 8.2. That translates to 554 murders during the decade and 55.4 per year.

So, which part of the state is the safest?

Take a number and decide.

With the primary just a week away, we had intended to use this space this week to offer our suggestions on who would be the best choices for governor on both the Democrat and Republican sides of the ballot.

We won't do that, though, for a very good reason.

We haven't made up our own mind yet.

In the race for Lt. Governor, there is but one choice for Eastern Kentucky Democrats.

That's Paul Patton.

It's been a long while since Eastern Kentucky had one of its own in a position of power in Frankfort, but Patton stands poised to end the drought.

The position the Pike County Judge Executive seeks may be a do-nothing job, but it's just a step away from the mansion. We assume that residence is Patton's ultimate goal, and we can find few reasons not to help him attain it.

Vote Patton next Tuesday, and let's start turning the tide.

For those of you who won't exercise your right and duty at the voting booth next Tuesday, here's something to ponder...

"Every country has the government it deserves."

That's a profound observation in very few words and something we should all consider when considering our choice in leaders.

Vote Tuesday.

Editor:

I think I have read the front page of the Times a dozen times since I got in this afternoon. I thought, after twenty years of teaching, that there wasn't much left that I had not seen or heard, but I was wrong, I don't understand what is happening in Floyd County. This morning, I stood in the Carter Center in Atlanta, Georgia, as one of the five Christa McAuliffe educators and felt honored to be a teacher. A plane trip and a few hours later, I am back in Floyd County reading about two teachers who have been physically threatened because they belong to the Floyd County Education Association and wanted to attend a board meeting. What little joy I could take in any kind of award was gone.

No one should have to put up with those kinds of threats or intimidation. Yes, some of my anger is because it involves teachers that I know and respect, but mostly, I am angry because of what this kind of behavior means for the children in this county. Is this what we are willing to accept? How can we teach children to solve their problems in a grown-up manner when the adults around them, the ones that they are supposed to learn from, are threatening to hurt others because they don't hold the same beliefs as they do? What are we teaching children if we say, either through what we do or don't do, that it is alright for people to have to live under those kinds of conditions?

My father is a retired coal miner and I am proud of that. He taught me that if you gave your word that you ought to keep it. He also taught me to stand up for what I believe in. I watched him go on strike and fight people that were richer and more powerful than he could have ever been. He didn't always win, but he fought. That, in my mind, is real courage. I just wish there was more of it in Floyd County.

One of the things that I thought about while I was in Atlanta was how I came to be there in the first place. I know the answer to that, at least. I was there because of a $300 piece of equipment and the work that my students had done with it. Never mind that they are a group of high school students from the head of Left Beaver who attend a school that some people consider the worst in the district. They stood toe to toe with rich kids from New York and Brazil and Vermont and made them take notice of what they could do. They won the Christa McAuliffe Award, the first in the state of Kentucky. Every one of the other McAuliffe educators has more computers than we do. They can bury us in technology. All we have is a $300 modem and respect for each other. I love these children from Wheelwright. I don't tell them that, but I do.

If I went tomorrow and asked this school system for $300 for another piece of equipment, I would be turned down. I know that, and it's wrong. The board or the administration didn't buy the modem at our school that helped us win this award. Not one administrator from that central office has seen what we do at Wheelwright with telecommunications. Not one has been to our Mantrip or magazine class in the five years that we have been doing it. KET has come and teachers from across this country have been in and out of Wheelwright, but not one person from this system has cared enough to walk through our classroom door. This district has not spent one cent on either program.

There are students throughout this county who are as smart as kids from anywhere in this nation, but they don't stand a chance—not really. They sit in buildings that are not clean, are not comfortable, without the small amount of money—the $300 that a teacher who cares about those students needs to make something exciting happen, and no one fights for those children. Students and teachers are the instructional program in this county. Give a bad teacher a million dollars of equipment and he will still be a bad teacher. Beat your good teachers down until they feel nothing but despair and all of our children will lose.

I have decided to fight alongside the teachers in this county. If that means that I will end up in jail, I am willing to do that. I will fight for teacher salaries because I know it's important for teachers to feel good about themselves and their work. I think the students and the good teachers in this county deserve that, and a great deal more.

I am looking for descendants of Stephen and Christina (Crissy) Fields Sexton. In 1850, they lived in Letcher Co. They moved to Floyd County sometime later. Some of their children were William Sexton, born in Letcher County on April 29, 1853; Lilburn Sexton, born on the same day as William; Hiram Sexton, who may have married Hannah Hughes and Isabella. I'm sure there must have been more children. There may have been a Jason, John and a Jonathan Sexton.

Was Stephen Sexton the son of William and Nancy Moore Sexton of Letcher Co.? They came from Russell Co., Va. Who were Nancy Moore Sexton's parents? In the 1850 census of Letcher Co., there was a Stufflely Moore and his wife Linda living in William and Nancy's house. Who was Stufflely?

I am also looking for the parents of my great, great, grandmother, Catherine Fraley (Friley). She and her husband lived in Russell Co., Va. in the 1850 census. Their first child was Patsy. Was her grandfather Fredrick Fraley or James Fraley? Both men were Revolutionary War soldiers from Russell Co., Va. Who were the children of James Fraley? James was in Floyd Co. in the early 1800's. Fredrick came over from Germany before the Revolution. He and James may have been brothers.

If anyone sees this in the paper and can help me, please write to me at 2011 Riverview Blvd. West, Bradenton, Fla. 34205, or call me collect at (813) 748-6342.

I just finished leafing through Barbara Ford Rich's book, Coal Camp Kids—Coming Up Hard and Making It. Flavia's quotation, "Time rolls back to touch the age of gold," kept going through my mind as well as another quote from Goodbye Mr. Chips, "I'll love them all my days."

When Barbara's book arrived, it seemed that I had to absorb it all at once, for many golden memories rolled back and I was once again a youngster living in the Martin's Branch area. When we first moved there, we lived in the old Martin homestead. There were four gigantic rooms in the main part of the house, two on each floor. These rooms were as large as two modern rooms. In the back was an immense kitchen, separated from the downstairs by what was known years ago as a "dog trot." Here, the Martin family's slaves used to prepare the meals. On the left, at the back, was a smaller kitchen. Before we'd moved to this fascinating house, our means of light had been kerosene lamps and lanterns. Here, we had gas lights as well as a gas stove in the small kitchen. The gas lights fascinated me. Roy Gibson mentioned that he had gas lights on Martins Branch. This old house should have been preserved for posterity, and I was heartbroken when my father, I.B. Caudill, had it torn down.

I started looking at Coal Camp Kids at about 7 p.m. I became so engrossed that it was 1:30 a.m. before I realized it. For six or more hours, time stood still.

I'm so grateful that my young friend from across the railroad and highway years ago decided to write Coal Camp Kids. Harry Caudill told Barbara, "You can do it!" when she talked about writing this book. His words encouraged her a great deal.

For Barbara, Coal Camp Kids is a dream that has become a reality. She went in search of her roots and, in doing so, she helped us find our roots as well.

I'm especially proud of Paul Jordan's job in editing Coal Camp Kids, and I'm wondering if he's Eva Jordan's younger brother. We owe a special thanks to both Barbara and Paul for this marvelous book of shared memories.

Nellie Marie Leslie and Florence Castle Ison brought me more up-to-date about the first school for the kids of the coal camp at Estill. I was unaware that there was ever a school in the valley until I learned that an immense flood destroyed it.

I'm 68 years old now, and I remember the "schoolhouse on the hill" with nostalgia. Brothers Carson, Robert and I were fortunate enough to have attended school for a few years there.

My parents would have loved Coal Camp Kids. I certainly will love these kids with whom I grew up "all my days."

Friends have sent excerpts from Coal Camp Kids clipped from your newspaper. I do appreciate your newspaper's interest in this book. Thanks.

McConnell Comments

Senator Mitch McConnell

Where the dollar you check off goes

"Tax Freedom Day" was May 8. The average American's tax burden equaled every penny earned through the first 4 months and 8 days of this year. With this in mind, I'd like to talk to you about one of the Federal programs consuming your tax dollars—an entitlement program for politicians.

For the last 16 years, you have been asked on your Federal tax form whether you wanted to designate $1 for the Presidential Election Campaign Fund. What the form does not mention is that $1 less, if you check yes, then goes to programs that help provide for child nutrition.

The $1 is being used to pay for balloons and champagne at the quadrennial festivals called presidential nominating conventions, for television advertisements, and for political consultants.

Recently on the floor of the Senate, I proposed an amendment to transfer funds from the check-off to federal child nutrition programs. By the end of this year, there will be about $150 million in the presidential fund. That's a lot of school lunches. Our nation's children need money that now goes to politicians.

The Food Research Action Center (FRAC) estimates that approximately 5.5 million children under 12 — or one in eight—go hungry in the United States. And studies show that children eating school lunch receive one-third to one-half of their daily nutrients from the program.

Still, one in four American children is suffering some degree of hunger. The public interest would be better served by providing more nutritious meals for needy children, and letting politicians fend for themselves in paying for their campaigns.

The presidential campaign system is a bad joke funded by taxpayers who are not amused. Fewer than one in five taxpayers now check the box on their tax forms to designate $1 from the treasury to the Presidential Election Campaign Fund.

The check-off on tax forms which directs money to the presidential fund allocates money from general revenues. The 20 percent minority who check "yes" are not contributing a dollar, nor are they reducing their tax refund by a dollar. They are diverting one dollar from the treasury—money that belongs to all Americans. Five hundred million dollars from the fund was spent on the last 4 presidential elections.

It's a matter of priorities. Which is more important: children or politicians? Feeding kids or paying consultants? Milk for school children, or champagne for delegates at political conventions?

We need to end this waste of tax dollars. My amendment would help do that by plugging at least one of the black holes in the Federal budget.

Not in Auxier: Residents oppose alcohol-selling entertainment establishments

by Tess A. Whitmer

The residents of Auxier are adamantly opposed to alcohol-selling entertainment establishments locating in their neighborhood. Over 300 people signed a petition against such a proposed site and presented it to Judge-Executive John M. Stumbo.

Judge Stumbo heard the protesters and the applicant at a hearing Thursday and denied Lena Faye Baldwin's application.

Baldwin met all the other requirements to obtain an entertainment license, but the Auxier residents protest apparently swayed the judge to deny the application.

"We want to stress that we have nothing against Mrs. Baldwin as a person," said Beverly Goble of Auxier. "But we had a terrible situation with the 'Warehouse' and we just don't want that kind of place in our neighborhood."

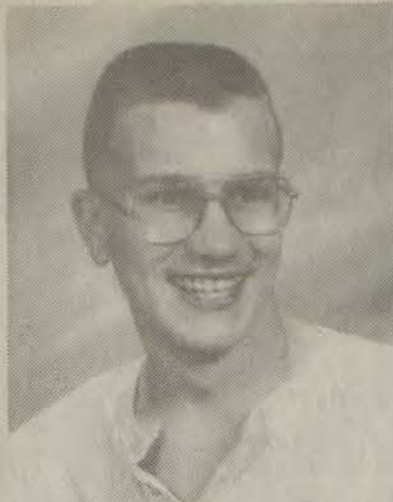

Other residents voiced objections, claiming that Auxier was full of children and retirees. Wanda Sturgill asked why Baldwin "chose our community, to interrupt our peace and tranquility."

Baldwin said she chose Auxier because it was where property was available and she had reports that it was a nice community. "I don't want to run a strip-tease, honky tonk, I want a good, clean place," she said.

Upon denying the permit, Judge Stumbo said it was "a bad situation with the railroad tracks" and the residents didn't want it.

He cautioned Baldwin that other places, like what she had planned, "aren't making a very good living," but told her if she wanted to go somewhere else he would be willing to reconsider her application.

A Life Remembered® Tribute Program Videotape

We at Hall Funeral Home are excited about a new optional service we can offer you.

"Tribute Programs" is a tasteful and wonderful way to add new meaning to the funeral or memorial service. The six-minute video tape is a tribute to a LIFE carefully prepared from pictures of the person.

Yes, a tribute program may also be pre-arranged and completed. Selections of pictures, a musical theme from a long list of hymns or other music, and favorite scripture passages are all part of this unique service. All these elements are combined with sophisticated video technology and a sensitive production approach provided by National Music Service. Eastern Ky. families have expected Hall Funeral Home to provide leadership. This new feature is expanding nationally, and we are proud to be the first in the state to offer it to the people we serve.

Lesson in history

Approximately 500 elementary students were on hand to hear the Civil War presentation by John David Preston at the Festival of FACES' museum on Friday, May 17. Students were told that soldiers who had no teeth were refused admittance to the Army because the soldiers had to tear the bullet's cartridge out with their teeth. The bullet was .6 of an inch long. What's a P.F.D.?
by Ranger Bonnie Maki

If you've been hanging out around the water lately, you may have heard someone mention "P.F.D.". You probably nodded your head and pretended to know what they were talking about, but did you? We Park Rangers use the term so frequently that we forget to explain it. So, here's our chance.

A "P.F.D." can be Prevention From Drowning or even Protection From Dumb mistakes. What it really means is "Personal Flotation Device"—simply put, a life jacket. You might say, Why all the Who-ha, glittery names and acronyms for just a life jacket. Well it's not just a life jacket, a "Personal Flotation Device" is a little more. The first word "Personal" means that it is designed to fit the person who is wearing it and the activity they are doing. "Flotation" says that it will keep you on top of the water.

"Devices"—there are five different types approved by the U.S. Coast Guard. The old ski belt that used to be popular is no longer approved and should not be worn. If you still have one use it as a boat bumper or throw it away.

TYPE I: The Boating on the Deep Blue Sea Jacket

This jacket will float even an unconscious person face up. It has a lot of buoyancy so it's very bulky.

This jacket would be used by someone working on the Ohio River barges or sailors at sea.

TYPE II: The Dewey Lake Vest
This vest will float an unconscious person face up, but is not good in rough or cold water. It should be used near shore. That's why this is the most popular "P.F.D." at Dewey. It's the cheap one, about $5, that you buy at your local discount department store—the orange horseshoe type.

TYPE III: The Fun and Games Jacket

The waterskiing, jet skiing jacket, is also used for canoeing and small sailboats. It keeps the person upright if they stay active.

TYPE IV: The Throw Cushion
Most everyone has used or sat on this ring or cushion. It's not designed to be worn but thrown to a person in trouble. A person using it to keep afloat may hold it against their chest with arms through the handles.

TYPE V: The Wear-It-All-The-Time Jacket

You probably won't encounter many of these unless you go white-water rafting, board sailing or buy a special-use jacket. These are required to be worn all the time to count as a regulation P.F.D.

To find the right jacket for you, decide what kind of fun you'll be having, and find a jacket tailor-made to fit your needs and your body too. Then remember "It won't work if you don't wear it."

Lifesaving Brownies

Members of Brownie Troop No. 413 display four of the different types of lifesaving devices. Displayed are Types I, II, III (two of these are shown), and IV.

White water safety

Ranger Bonnie Maki (pictured in back of the raft), with her parents and a group of adventurous White Water rafters, wear a Type IV life vest.

Prestonsburg Blackcats
1991 58th District Baseball Champions

Allen Central Rebels
1991 58th District Baseball Runner-Up

Clark Hurls, Bats Blackcats To District Title Over Rebels

Outside of the third inning, John Clark was near perfect for the Prestonsburg Blackcats as Russell Shepherd's young ball club captured the 1991 58th District baseball title with a 9-4 win over defending champion Allen Central Thursday evening at the Allen Park.

After struggling in the third inning, when the Rebels scored four times, Clark settled down and retired 12 of the last 15 batters he faced in the route going performance. Clark hit Stewart Hall with a pitch and gave up a base hit to Brad Scott in the fifth inning. He walked Scott in the seventh.

Clark not only starred on the mound for the Blackcats but at the plate as well. The big righthander came to bat with the bases loaded in the sixth and his ball club trailing 4-1. Clark ripped a triple to left center clearing the bases and tying the game. In the seventh, Clark hammered his first home run of the season, an opposite field shot over the left centerfield fence. Clark had a base hit leading off the game in the first.

While it was a great day for the Prestonsburg starter, the bats for the Rebels were somewhat anemic. The Rebels collected only three hits in the game but held a 4-0 lead after the third inning. Frank Martin drew a one out walk from Clark and the Blackcat starter, then issued back to back walks to Hall and Scott to load the bases with Rebels. Stewart Robinson then lined a two-run single to left center, scoring Martin and Hall. John Martin hit a grounder to second that Sean Damron could not come up with cleanly and, an errant throw from first baseman Jason Storey to home, allowed Scott to score. Robinson scored on a wild pitch by Clark.

Prestonsburg threatened in the top of the first inning when Clark lead off with a base hit and advanced to second on a wild pitch by Robinson. Damron got a one out walk, but Robinson retired Chris Cavins and Worth McGuire to end the inning.

Allen Central had a scoring threat in the fifth inning when the first two batters reached against Clark. Hall was plunked by Clark and Scott singled. Both runners were stranded as Clark got the next three on strikes.

In the Prestonsburg third, Howell and Damron singled with one out and moved up on a Robinson balk. However, Robinson got the next two batters to ground out to shortstop.

Prestonsburg did score a single run in their half of the fourth when Scott Stephens singled, leading off the inning. Jason Crisp was safe on a fielder's choice play, putting runners on second and third as Stephens beat the throw to second. Aaron Tucker bounced to short forcing Crisp, and Story scored Stephens on a grounder to third base for the second out. Robinson began to run out of steam as he walked Clark and hit Howell. Coach Anthony Moore's visit to the mound prompted him to bring on John Martin in relief of Robinson.

"I didn't want to take Stevie out, but he said that he was starting to tire," said Moore.

Martin got Damron to bounce to third to end the threat. Martin fanned all three batters he faced in the top of the sixth inning, but the bottom fell out on the Rebel relief man in the sixth inning. Crisp singled to open the inning and Aaron Tucker followed suit. Story walked to load the bases with no one out. Clark then delivered his hit that tied the game at 4-4. Prestonsburg took the lead for good when Clark scored on a Martin wild pitch.

Clark struck the side out in the Rebels sixth, and Prestonsburg added four more runs in the top of the seventh inning. A one out walk to Scott Stephens and a triple by Jason Crisp, followed by Tucker's base hit, made it 7-4. Clark topped off the scoring for Prestonsburg when he nailed a four. John Martin suffered the loss in relief, hurling two and two-thirds innings. Martin struck out three — the side in the fifth — and walked one. He allowed four runs on three hits. Jason Martin went one inning allowing four runs on three hits, striking no one and yielding one walk.

Clark had three hits for the Blackcats with five RBIs. Crisp and Tucker also collected two hits and one RBI each. Hall, Scott and Robinson had base

Clark was the winning pitcher, going the distance for Prestonsburg. Clark fanned 12 batters while scattering only three Allen Central hits, giving up five runs — only four earned. He struck out the side in the sixth and seventh innings and walked

Martin Reds Mercy Dodgers 15-5

The Martin Reds scored eight times in the third inning and went on to score a 15-5 mercy win over the Wayland Dodgers in the Beaver Creek Little League this week.

Shannon Slone (1-0) picked up the win for the Reds in his first start of the season. Slone struck out six batters in the game while walking three. Mike Slone suffered the loss for the Dodgers with four strike outs.

Phillip Robinson had a third inning double that drove in two runs. Robinson also had a single in the game. Rusty Young continues to sting the ball well for the Reds with two base hits. Sam Howell and Jeff Sexton each had a pair of singles.

P. Slone had a triple for the Dodgers in their only extra base hit. The Reds collected 10 hits and the Dodgers four.

Wayland had taken a 2-0 lead with two runs in the top of the first. Martin came back with three in their half of the first to go up 3-2. Wayland tied the game at 3-3 with a single run in the top of the second. Martin took the lead for good in the second with three big runs.

Wallen places first...

Crum, Wallen Advance To State Finals

The Allen Central track and field season has been narrowed to just one more meet, but a big one for Kenny Crum and Brian Wallen. Crum placed second in the men's shot put, and Wallen once again took first place in discus at the Section 4, Regions 7 and 8 Track and Field Meet at Clay County this past Saturday.

Both Crum and Wallen will now move on to Lexington this coming Saturday for the State Finals at the Shively Sports Arena on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

Crum had a toss of 41-feet, three and a half inches in taking second place. First place went to Mike Fraley of Elkhorn City with a throw of over 46-feet. Crum scratched on one throw of some distance because he reached in front of the pad to retrieve his glasses that fell off. The judge ruled that you enter by the back and leave by the back on and off the pad.

In the discus, Wallen struggled on his first two tosses but maintained first place throughout. On his first toss in the finals, Wallen's title winning toss was 135-feet, five and a half inches. His earlier lead was of 122-feet and then 125-feet. Wallen continues to be a favorite to win the state title this season.

Wallen is a senior at Allen Central this season and will be making his final appearance in field competition for Allen Central. It has been a rewarding career for Wallen, as he has earned a scholarship at Cumberland College this fall.

Trying hard for second place in the discus was Tim Slone. Slone placed third in the meet and missed a trip to Lexington by two inches. Slone toss of 120-feet and nine inches, just missing second place.

Slone seemed to be tense and pushing himself on his throws while he needed to loosen up. It was a heart breaking performance for the Allen Central senior.

Jessica Wade made a strong bid to finish second in the women's two mile run, but placed third by five-yards. Wade ran the race hurt and the heat was most unbearable. Yet, the sprinter never gave up, and made a very strong showing. Wade was running in fifth position through the first four laps. She slowly gained the fourth and third position, and, on the final lap, tried to kick it in and overtake the second place runner.

"If there had been another 15 meters to go, she would have come in second," said Rebel coach Dewey Jamerson. "She really gave it all she had and did a great job of running the race."

The quick sophomore ran the finals on pure determination, trying hard to overcome all obstacles in the race. Jamerson was quick to point out that she was in trouble the whole race.

"She was hurt, and the heat was a factor in the race," he said. "She was in trouble from the word go. But I thought she ran with a lot of determination."

"Jessica ran that race on pure guts," said coach Forrest Hughes. "She is a hard one to give up."

Wade placed sixth in both the 800 and 1600 meters. She posted a time of 3:24.76 in the 800 meters and came in at 6:51.97 in the 1600. She teamed with the team of Glema Yates, Evelyn Howard and Missy Goble in the women's 1600 meter relays and placed fifth with a time of 5:31.00 which is a new school record.

In the 110 hurdles, Shane Stumbo placed sixth and established a new school record with a time of 17:70.00. Randy Conn was eighth in the men's 400 meters with a time of 59:96.00. The 400 meters is the race that Robert Jervis has excelled in all season, but was unable to run because of pulling a ham string. Jervis had placed first in the regional meet, but, while competing in the long jump at the regional level, he injured himself.

For Coaches Jamerson and Hughes it has been a very successful year for the Allen Central track and field team. A year that has had some very pleasant surprises.

"The biggest surprise in this sport is the number of kids that came out this year," said Jamerson. "Their attitudes and work ethics have been outstanding. You can tell them to do something and they would do it.

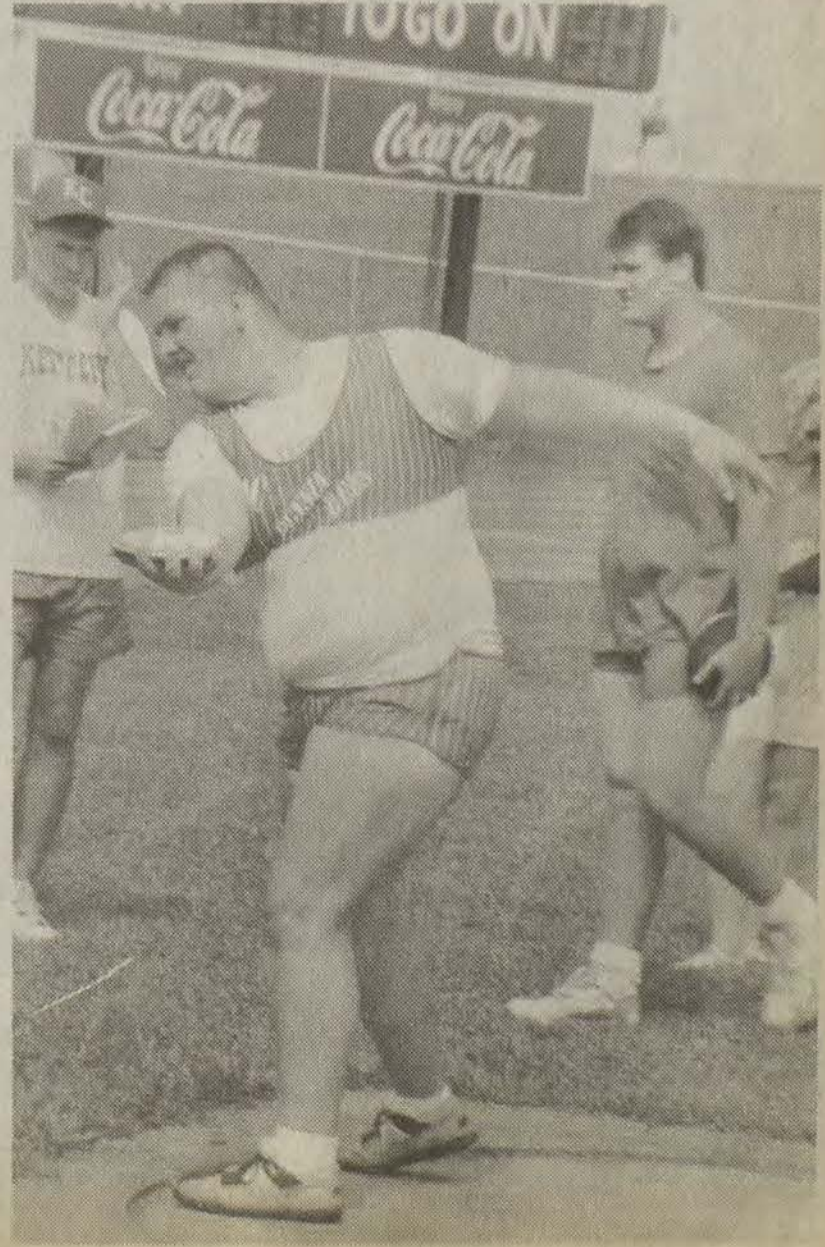

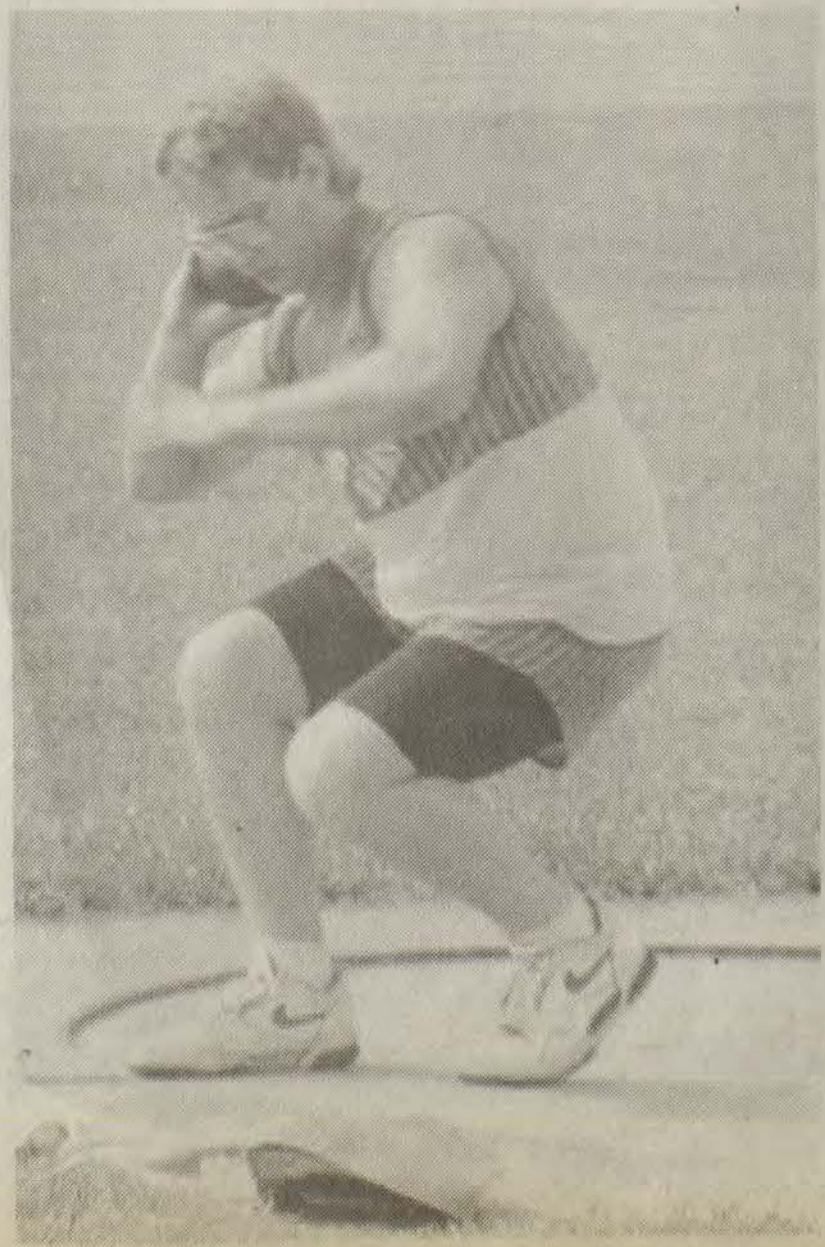

"I think that is because they love the sport. They enjoyed competing and they had fun doing it."

Jamerson said that he was surprised that they did as well as they did. "We have set new school records, scored more points than ever before and won more ribbons than any other year.

"Really, outside of Tim Slone and Brian Wallen, this is the first year of track and field for this school. I think

UK NEW LOOK SCHEDULE

Add Arizona State, Ohio University, Morehead State, South Carolina and Arkansas and you will see several new names on the University of Kentucky 1991-92 basketball schedule. Arkansas and South Carolina are two new members in the expanded South-eastern Conference this year. Morehead State is the third Kentucky state college to appear on the Cats' schedule in the two years. Last year Kentucky faced Western Kentucky and Eastern Kentucky.

The season will open with two exhibition games against the Athletes in Action and the USSR National team. Kentucky will be tested early in the regular season as they take part in the Pre-season NIT tournament. This will be no easy schedule for the Wildcats as some of the top teams appear on it. Arkansas is many of the experts' clear choice as one of the top three teams in America next year. The Hogs are favorite to win the SEC in their initial season.

The honeymoon, that Kentucky fans and Rick Pitino have been on, could get a little rocky this season as the Cats' new recruits are not going to make an early contribution to the program. Returning players from last season continue to be just role players under a great coach. One has to wonder how long they can play the way they do and with the same result. Can they improve or come close to their 22-6 finish of last year? The always tough SEC will provide plenty of opposition for the Cats as well as the non-conference games.

ANOTHER KENTUCKY TEAM SNUBBED

Well, the NCAA went and did it again. They shunned the University of Kentucky Wildcats baseball team by not inviting them to the NCAA Division I baseball tournament. The Batcats had their best season in a long while and some very talented baseball players. The NCAA opted for Alabama instead of the Wildcats—a team that Kentucky destroyed on their home field. Cats finished strong 41-20 on the season while the Crimson Tide had a 39-18 record.

The decision of the NCAA had Kentucky head coach Keith Madison up in arms, and I really don't blame him. Kentucky, who has been ranked in the nations top 25 most of the season, deserves to be in the tournament. Oh well, just mark it down as another error on the NCAA.

ALLEN PARK LITTLE LEAGUE FIELD NEEDS LIGHTS

Needs lights? But they have lights! I know that, but the lights are just about all burned out. The light pole in left field of the Little League diamond has only one light out of four burning. It is causing a dark area in the outfield and could prove to be dangerous when fly balls are hit that way. The lights have been out for most of the season and don't seem destined to be replaced.

On the bigger field, around 14 lights are out, mostly in the rightfield side. Why do our teams have to play under non-burning lights? What good is a light pole if the lights don't burn? The park officials should see to it that the lights are replaced when they go out. If the pole was designed to hold one burning light I am sure that one light is all that would have been put up there. But there is a bank of five lights and only one burns. Periodic inspection of the poles would reveal if lights need replacing. I know for a fact that there are more people concerned about it than just me. Many more!

Until Friday, support our teams in the 15th Regional tournament at Pikeville and be good sports.

that we did all right here at Allen Central," Jamerson said. We will have several back, some talented kids, next year and I look for more kids to come out and take part."

Jamerson said that this team was the most enjoyable group of kids that he has worked with.

"Jessica will be back next year for us," said Jamerson, "and this was her first year. I remember running against her in the Red, White and Blue race at Martin last year. All the time I'm running with her I'm giving her advice and she ends up beating me. Jessica was a big, very pleasant surprise this year and she said that she is going to be running a lot this summer."

One runner that Jamerson wishes had another year left is Robert Jervis. "I knew what type of athlete Robert was from football," explained Jamerson. "To think that he would run a 52 in the 400 meters in his first year is beyond belief. If he had had just one year of training he could have ran in the 40's. He steadily learned how to run the 400 meters."

"Randy (Conn) was another that really came on strong this season," stated Jamerson.

Jamerson said although his squad will lose some points from the seniors on this years team, he still has a lot of talent coming back next season.

"We will have Jason (Sammons), Jamie (Slone), Shane (Stumbo), Todd (Howard) and Kenny (Crum) back next season, as well as Jessica and hopeful others. We're talking about grade school students that have some experience. Levi Wells is a sixth grader and he can throw the discus 80-90 feet. By the time he is a senior in high school can you imagine what he can throw? Shawn Bailey will also be back for us next year."

Jamerson said that he was trying to encourage his squad to participate in the Blue Grass Games in Lexington this summer.

Returning runners for the women's team, along with Wade, will be Missy Goble, Evelyn Howard and Glema Yates. All are sophomores at Allen Central.

Crum and Wallen will be trying to bring home a state title to Allen Central this weekend.

Moore Homers Twice; Hurls No-Hitter

Chris Moore continued his torrid hitting in the Beaver Creek Little League last week as he hurled and batted the Drift Giants to a 20-1 victory over the Wayland Dodgers.

Moore tossed a no-hitter for the Giants and belted two home runs in the game. Moore just missed the shut out, as the Dodgers scored their lone run in the top of the sixth inning. The runs came as a result of walks.

Drift pounded out 16 hits in the game and scored 12 runs in the fourth inning. Moore collected a total of six RBIs as four came on his second grand slam home run of the season in the fourth inning. Moore has six home runs and has collected 15 RBIs in the four games his team has played.

Keeping pace with Moore is Eric Cook who also clubbed two round trippers giving him three home runs and nine RBIs in four games. Cook's blasts came in the first and third inning — both solo shots. Cook did not just stop with the two homers, but tripled twice in the game — in the first and fourth. John Stumbo also had a fifth inning triple for Drift.

Jeremy Huff and Brandon Howell had third inning doubles for the Giants. Howell was perfect at the plate for Drift collecting two hits and driving in two runs.

Jason Wood and Steven Hamilton had fourth inning two-baggers. Wood was a perfect three-for-three in the game and Hamilton had two hits in two plate appearances.

Justin Hopkins was the winning pitcher for Drift working three innings before being relieved by Moore. Hopkins fanned seven batters, walking but two. Moore struck out nine batters and issued no walks. Hopkins helped his own cause with two runs batted in on a base hit.

Combs was the losing pitcher, but recorded 10 strikeouts.

The win ran the Giants and coach Ed Moore to 3-1 on the season.

Cline and Davis: Bringing Home The Gold

Stephanie Cline, six-year-old daughter of Jeff and Denise Cline of Mullins, and Brooke Davis, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Davis of Paintsville, will be competing in the U.S. National U.S.T.A. meet which will be held in Springfield, Illinois on June 21-23.

Both participants qualified for the Nationals at the U.S.T.A. Kentucky State Meet which was held at the Thomas Moore College on April 20. Both are students at Eastern Kentucky Gymnastics.

The two students attend local schools in the area and both compete on the sub-advanced level, which is just two levels under the elite division.

This is extremely rare, especially in the case of the only six-year-old to ever have achieved this position.

Cline attends Mullins Elementary in Pike County. She received three Gold Medals, first in all events in six and under age group. Davis received third place in tumbling in the 12-13 age group. Total competitors at the state meet totaled 179.

Davis will be attending Johnson Central High School where she will be a member of the boy's varsity cheerleading squad.

Kerry Cantrell placed ninth in her age group. Eastern Kentucky Gymnastics is coached by Henry S. Young, located in Prestonsburg.

Martin's Harris Top Money Winner At Isom Speedway

by Linda Smith
 Troublesome Creek Times

1990's top money winner at the Mountain Motor Speedway at Isom, Paul Harris of Martin, had the right slogan on his T-shirt, "Show No Mercy," and in Saturday's $1500 late model action, the man with the Midas touch took no prisoners. Harris set fast time at 14:37 with last week's winner Terry Hall 1/100th of a second slower at 14:38. Harris gave a six lap, taste of what was to come, by out distancing the field for the trophy.

In the 40-lap late model feature race, Harris jumped out to the early lead in a 12 car field with #23 Hall, #16 Davis and #53 Haddix playing catch up. Harris had his Twin Bridge Auto Parts/Harris Trucking racer tuned and moving on the right grooves as he stretched out to a half track lead over Hall and Davis who battled for second. Harris lapped the field up to fifth place, but a caution on lap 32 regrouped the cars saving #99, Dixon, from going a lap down.

On the restart, it was Harris, Hall, Davis. Harris's tires started to go soft as Hall caught up to Harris and made several attempts in turns three and four to pass the leader, but the challenge came too late in the race, and Hall finished on the tail-end of Harris. Harris not only took the checkered flag, but was the first driver to get two first place finishes in the late model. Hall locked up second, followed by Davis and Noble.

Banks paced the nine car street stock field at 16:68 and danced off with the trophy. In a race that took 70 minutes to run, the street stockers had some problems getting pointed in the right direction around the track. Banks had the lead on all four restarts, followed by Adkins, Prater and Fields.

Banks went to the pits on the fifth restart with a flat and came back out to last place, a decision that did not sit well with Junior. Adkins went on the pole with Combs, Prater and Fields rounding out the top four. Prater took the lead with a lot of side swiping and fender banging with Adkins.

On the last lap Prater, who was running loose, lost it in turn two, causing Adkins, who was running against Prater's rear end and having nowhere to go, to tangle up hard, sending Prater to the pits. Adkins took the lead with Fields in second. Adkins got his first feature win on a last lap push with Fields taking second.

Tony Collins, of Blackey, set best time at 19:08 and out ran the four car field for the trophy. In the first bomber feature, Collins jumped out to the lead in a 16 car race, with Matt Amick and Stevie Craft battling Mason for second. By lap 11, Mason had moved into second behind Collins, a familiar sight at Isom.

The feature race has been decided on the white flag lap for the last three weeks, and Saturday night was no exception. Collins had led from the green but, on the last lap, his car overheated sending him to the pits and giving Mason the victory. Mason was followed by Amick and Stevie Craft at the checkered.

In the bomber feature number two, thirteen cars went to war with James Ritchie of Vicco taking the lead on the green. Ritchie huffed and puffed and blew some smoke but held off a strong challenge for 15 laps. It was Ritchie's first victory at the Mountain Motor Speedway this season.

In the IMCA class, Sexton set fast time at 17:61 and took the trophy dash over Thornsberry. It was a two car field in the 20 lap feature race, with Sexton taking the lead briefly but being over powered by Thornsberry. Thornsberry never looked back as he roared past the checkered for his second feature win at Isom.

Bradley, Slone Ink Letters-Of-Intent With Lee's College

Lee's College head women's basketball coach, Susan Orr, made a trip into Floyd County Monday to try and fill some vacancies on her Lee's College Girl's team. Coach Orr is looking to improve on last year's 8-17 record. According to Coach Orr, her team had to play with just eight players.

This time around, though, the Lee's College coach landed two good ones in Allen Central's Darnella Bradley and Prestonsburg's Kathy Slone. Both players signed letters-of-intent Monday at their respective schools.

In Bradley, Coach Orr filled a spot that desperately needed filling for Lee's.

"Darnella will playing center and the power forward position," said Coach Orr. "We looked at her strength, which is rebounding, and she is fundamentally sound on offense. She needs to be able to control her temper while playing high school basketball."

Bradley averaged 12 points per game for the district champions Allen Central Lady Rebels. She pulled down an average of 10 rebounds per contest. Not only did Bradley's talent on the basketball floor impress the Lee's College coach but also her academic standing.

"Darnella will be one of our top students at Lee's this fall," said Orr. Bradley holds a 4.0 grade point average and scored a 26 on her ACT test.

"Darnella also is fundamentally sound in the game of basketball, and she sees the floor real well and has a good set of hands for a big girl," Orr went on to explain. "She will fill a much needed position for us. We'll be looking to her."

"I like the school," said Bradley in explaining her reasons for choosing Lee's College. "It is a small school and I like it better after looking at other schools. I know some of the people there."

Bradley says that she will have to work on her studies more in college but sees the challenge of coming into a new program as exciting.

"I will have to fill the position that Coach Orr recruited me for," Bradley said. "I will do the best that I can in fulfilling that position. It will be a faster pace game than high school basketball."

According to Allen Central coach Bonita Compton, Bradley should have no problem and should be able to play if she can control her temper. The fiery Bradley has had problems this past season with the opposition, and has lost her composure on more than one occasion.

"Darnella played a great regional tournament for us," said Compton. "I'm glad to see her go to Lee's and I think that she will be a big asset to the school. She is a very good student and will know the game of basketball."

Compton said that Bradley could be a real team leader if she applies herself at Lee's.

Coach Orr says that she plans to use Slone at the point guard position this fall, a position that will be foreign to her. Slone has played small forward during her high school career averaging 23 points per game and six rebounds.

"Kathy will have to work hard on her ball handling abilities," said Coach Orr of the change in position for Slone. "She will also have to improve on her passing abilities. She is a very good defensive player and we look forward to having her at Lee's."

Slone's mother, Nancy, approves of her basketball player's decision to attend Lee's College. "I really like it," she said. "They are really nice down there. It really shocked me in just how nice they were. We went and visited the school and I am glad to see her going there, close to home, and we will be able to watch her play some this year."

"If Kathy is willing to work hard and stay in school she will get to play a lot of basketball next year," said Lady Blackcat coach Bridget Clay. "She just has to dedicate herself and work hard on her ball handling and she will be all right."

Clay said that her standout player this past basketball season will have to make some adjustments in college and one will be learning to go both ways on the court. "But she doesn't learn it right off, she is so quick, that just going to her left, she gets the first step on the defense. She is so quick."

Clay says she thinks that Slone would be better at the off guard spot and that she has improved her outside shooting a great deal. "She has developed a deadly outside shot and she keeps improving."

Clay says the biggest adjustment, for any high school player, is the campus life and having to adjust to a new coach. "Any adjustment at the college level is that there are plenty of good players and making that adjustment to be one of them."

"I'm excited about going to Lee's," said Slone. "The people were so nice to us down there and I like Coach Orr. It is close to home and I just need to get in there and work hard on my ball handling skills. I think it will be real nice there. My parents are excited about my going there."

Both Bradley and Slone will be joining two other Floyd Countians this fall at Lee's College. Former Prestonsburg standout Karen Frasure and Allen Central's Jo Ann Conn will return to the school this fall. Both players left the school this past basketball season because of a need at home. With the signing of Slone and Bradley, they will add to the Floyd County connection at Lee's College. Coach Orr is taking the necessary steps to build a strong women's program at the Jackson school.

Kathy Slone of Prestonsburg, top, and Darnella Bradley of Allen Central both signed letters-of-intent to play college basketball for Lee's College next season. Slone averaged 23 points per game and Bradley scored at a 12 ppg average. Bradley also averaged 10 rebounds per contest. (photos by Ed Taylor)

Pro Anglers Encourage Boating Safety

The theme for the 1991 National Safe Boating Week which occurs June 2-8 is "Know Before You Go."

Professional bass anglers Penny Berryman of Dardenelle, Arkansas, and Stacey King of Reeds Spring, Missouri, know the meaning of safe boating. Both of these anglers make their living out of a bass boat and certainly spend more time on the water than the average boater.

To help bring about safe boating awareness in America the Tracker Pro Team members offer the following facts, tips and suggestions to make your days on the water safer and more enjoyable. Especially since it is estimated that 70 million people will be out boating this year.

There are certainly days when increased awareness should apply. Holidays, like the Fourth of July, will see increased use of America's waterways. Be especially careful on these kind of days.

It is a fact that nearly 80 percent of all drowning victims of boating accidents were not wearing a life jacket. As Penny Bergman suggests, "Remember to Buckle Up."

Operating a boat while under the influence of alcohol can be as dangerous as drinking and driving on the highway. A designated operator is a good suggestion while on the water.

It is also a known fact that the majority of boating accidents occur on calm water when the visibility is excellent. We tend to be a little more careless when conditions are best.

If you are a newcomer to boating or are unfamiliar with the rules of navigating, a course in safe boating might be a tremendous help. Many such courses are offered locally by the Red Cross, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, the U.S. Power Squadron, Marina's, DNR's or other groups. Most of these are free of charge.

Also remember the more weight you add to the boat, the lower it will ride in the water. Stability is also affected when someone stands in a boat. This raises the center of gravity making it more likely to tip.

Safety equipment such as fire extinguishers, signal devices, throwables and bilge pumps should be checked periodically, easily accessible and kept in good working order. Stacey King encourages the use of an engine cut off switch.

"Anytime the big engine is running, hook up the kill switch," suggests King.

And finally, make certain your trailer is designed for your boat. Boaters should choose a trailer with professional help to make sure it is the right one. Make certain your weight is distributed evenly. Putting the weight too far forward can make steering difficult. Too far back can cause the tow vehicle to fishtail.

It is important that the boat be secured with tie downs while trailering. And always be sure the safety chains are attached. Periodically check trailer brakes, lights, wheel bearings, rollers and pads to assure a safe trip to and from the water.

Safe boating is no accident when you plan ahead. As the pro anglers suggest, "Know Before You Go", then have a safe and enjoyable summer.

LMU Team Basketball Day Camp

Lincoln Memorial University basketball coach Marc Comstock has released details of his team basketball camp to be held July 7-12.

Coach Comstock stated, "The purpose of the camp is to provide an unique combination of extensive team play with individual instruction and coaching discussions in an enjoyable atmosphere."

This year's camp will be held in the air conditioned B. Frank Turner Arena and will be limited to the first 12 teams that register with a cost of only $300 per team. There will be eleven games in a single elimination tournament with tournament and round robin champions to receive awards.

Comstock added, "The camp will enhance the probability of tapping each teams potential by providing coaches and their players with the opportunity to get to know each other better on and off the court."

Interested coaches and school officials should call Coach Marc Comstock at (615) 869-6240 for further information or to register.

A MESSAGE FROM JAMES R. ALLEN

Now that I have officially withdrawn from the race for Court of Appeals, Seventh District, Division 2 (under State law my name will still appear on the primary ballot, but any votes cast for me will not be counted), I would like to take this time to urge all my friends, relatives and supporters to vote for JUDGE HARRIS S. HOWARD. I have known Judge Howard personally for many years and I have great respect for his honesty, integrity, and legal ability. Judge Howard has done a very fine job on the Court of Appeals and deserves to be re-elected.

To the People of Floyd County:

Members of the Floyd County Education Association want you to know that if another strike in Floyd County occurs, it will not be this school year. There are only a couple of weeks of school left and students are preparing for jobs and summer school. All of that has played an important role in our decision to wait on any action that we might take. We are sorry that we have caused concern for some parents but we could not make any kind of statement until we had talked to all of the teachers in our association. Because of the help that you gave us in August, we feel a responsibility to let you know our intentions as soon as possible. We will do NOTHING that will harm the children of this district if we can help it.

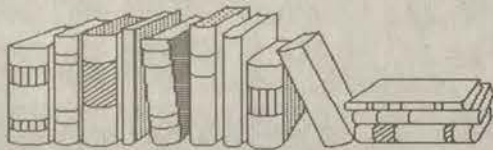

We don't want another strike, but we may have no choice about that. We will poll our membership soon about what they want to do in the fall and as always, we will listen to what they want to do. Many of us are the sons and daughters of coal miners and we feel strongly that if we don't stand up now, then we will have lost everything that we fought for last summer and we will not let that happen.

What Others Would Have You Believe

1. That administrators tried to settle this dispute in the two meetings that we had with them
2. That teachers don't have the RIGHT to strike
3. That they have to employ these administrators 12 months a year
4. That the great difference in administrative and teacher salaries has been closed

5. That our fight is just for better salaries

6. That the Board and the Superintendent have been fair and above board with members of the public and teachers

7. Some board members would have us believe that they broke the agreement in order to help us
"This way, if the issue goes to court, it will be taken to court by the teachers--it will be your decision to make. It's up to you how to proceed."

Eddie Billips, Floyd County Times

May 17, 1991

8. Chairman Campbell wants us to believe that this board has begun to do its job.

The Truth

1. When they learned that we didn't want to make a "deal" and when we asked them instead to make sure that all their members actually worked 12 months a year, they ended the meetings.
2. Some of our parents certainly didn't when they helped start the United Mine Workers here in the hills of eastern Kentucky. And we're sure that mine owners tried to break their agreement with them too, but they held out. And that's what we intend to do. Federal law gives employees the right to strike. We're willing to let the courts and people of Floyd County decide if what this system is doing is right.
3. Go by a school or the central office some afternoon this summer and decide for yourself. The board and the superintendent could have reduced their employment anytime they wanted to. Makes you wonder why such a small group of people always get what they want from the Board and how they got their jobs.
4. The difference in teachers' and administrators' salaries is as great as it ever was. Administrators received in effect a 16.5% salary increase along with teachers at the insistence of the superintendent.
5. Like most people we want to earn a decent wage but that is only part of it. We spent an entire year meeting with Mr. Hager and members of the board. We have fought for cleaner schools and more money for students. We wanted better planning so we submitted one to the board. We did what administrators get paid to do. We have sat on committees where promptly at four o'clock, some administrators have gotten up and left. We stayed, not because we were being paid, but because we thought the work was important for the students we teach. If money was all we cared about, we would have left at 4:00.
6. The board never meant to keep its word. The board could have found out that the agreement that ended the strike was binding if they had asked the Attorney General's office as they said that they would. They did not. Instead they listened to Bill McCann, the lawyer for the administrators. What did they expect him to say? Thirty administrators belonged to FCEA but dropped their membership when they threatened to sue on the advice of their lawyer. Why do you suppose he told them to do that? On March 14th, our Superintendent wrote the attorney general's office for the first time (he promised teachers this would be done right after the strike) asking if he had to keep his word to teachers. Doesn't sound like someone who is willing to honor a commitment. A person's word ought to be his bond. The Board of Education passed a motion in March stating that they would not enter into any agreement with special interest groups. In simple language, they won't sit down and bargain with teachers again. Sounds like the board already knows that it's going to do about next year's promised raise. Good faith? We don't think so.
7. When hasn't it been up to teachers, Mr. Billips? We have kept schools going while others have grown wealthy from our school system and children. Good teachers who dared to speak out were sent to the head of some hollow somewhere. And we took money out of our own pockets because we knew that we couldn't count on this system to supply students with what they needed. Don't tell us that it's up to us. We've known that for a long time. Teachers are used to the fact that they can't count on support from the Board or administration, but Mr. Billips, what about your responsibility to the people of Floyd County? How do you explain spending $400,000 of their money? At the regular board meeting, why didn't you make sure that the 12 month employment was cut as the state department had recommended? Why is it that neither the board nor the administrators can explain why we need to employ people twelve months a year? We think that was up to you, not teachers. We can't teach the children of this county and run this school system.
8. We'd like to believe you, but we are not going to be as trusting as we once were. We met with administrators twice because we were asked to. When those talks broke down, you didn't even ask why they had broken down. You refused to allow any discussion at the board meeting. We want to know if any of the board's job will ever concern what happens inside classrooms? When will this board and system begin to care about education rather than who gets what contract or bid? And who schools are named for? What are you going to do to make sure that teachers are prepared for the changes under KERA? That our schools get cleaned up? That taxpayers' money is not wasted? You had the option of requesting a recommendation from Superintendent Hager regarding extended employment. Why didn't you?

Some parents have been disappointed that teachers didn't accomplish more this year. We have done the best that we can and we will continue to try to make things better for students and teachers in Floyd County. We will fight for teachers salaries but we promise you that is not all that we will fight for. If we have to strike again, we will not go back until all the changes that we want are made. We are not afraid to go to jail if we have to. This administration will have plenty of time to get their injunction and that is what they will have to do. Thank you for your help and support.

Wayland Cubs Win Three To Run Unblemished Record To 10-0

The Wayland Cubs, of the American Amateur League out of Hindman, won three games last week to keep their record unblemished at 10-0, a league leading mark. The Cubs played the Hindman Blue Jays, Carr Creek Indians and the Dilce Combs Chargers.

Against the Blue Jays, the Cubs scored four times in the first and fourth innings to post a 15-3 four inning mercy win over the Hindman team.

Eric Casebolt had two hits with two runs batted in for the winning Cubs. Byron Patton drove in three runs with three base hits and Ethan Blackburn, who is starting to swing a potent bat, had four runs batted in with two hits, including a double.

Corbett Howell had two hits with a double and a run batted in. Jay Arnett had an RBI single, and Brandon Merrill drove in one run. Tim Moore and Charles Bentley had base hits.

In the Cubs second win, the opposition was the Carr Creek Indians, a team the Cubs had trouble with the first time they faced each other. However, this time the Cubs came away a 12-8 winner with six big runs in the top of the fifth inning.

Carr Creek had taken a 3-0 lead with three in the bottom of the first. Wayland tied the game with three in the top of their second. Neither team could score in their next at bat until Carr Creek pushed across a run in the bottom of the third inning giving them a 4-3 lead. The lead lasted half an inning, as Wayland scored three times in the fourth for a 6-4 lead. The big six-run fifth proved valuable for the Wayland team as Carr Creek mounted a rally in the bottom of the fifth scoring four times. The rally, however, fell short as the Cubs came away with the win.

Howell had a double and triple for the winning Wayland team with one run batted in. Jay Arnett had a triple and single with one RBI. Casebolt singled twice with a run batted in and Brian Crawford had a two hit evening with a run batted in.

Brandon Merrill had a base hit and Ethan Blackburn doubled in the game. Nick King had a RBI on a fielder's choice.

The Wayland Cubs went to 10-0 on the season with a 15-2 four inning win over the Chargers of Dilce Combs. It was a shut out all the way until the fourth when the Chargers pushed across two runs. The Cubs experienced two big innings with a five run second and scored six times in the third.

Casebolt led the Wayland hit parade with four hits and one RBI. Crawford collected three singles as did Arnett. Arnett drove in two runs. The big bat was swung by Merrill with three hits including a double as he picked up six RBIs in the Cub victory. Patton drove in two runs with a two-run single. Rodney Bentley had a run producing single in the win. Blackburn and Mike Morgan also had base hits.

The three wins for the Wayland team ran their consecutive winning streak to 38 straight over the past three seasons. The team will return to the diamond after the holidays with a June 1 game against the Hindman Reds at 1 p.m.

He has directed camps in several locations in past years.

Street Ball Showdown IV; Three On Three Basketball

Thousands of players of all ages, shapes and sizes will take to the courts in downtown Louisville June 22-23 for the Winn-Dixie Street Ball Showdown IV, the fourth annual three-on-three basketball festival to benefit the Cabbage Patch Settlement House.

As of May 1, approximately 160 teams have registered, compared with only 64 teams at this time last year. If this pace were to continue, total registration forms received would total more than 2,000 teams. However, according to Tournament Chairman Barney Long, "It's a nice problem to have but, logistically, we would not be able to have more than 1,500 teams this year."

Registrants are encouraged to send in their entries soon to ensure a spot in the tournament as the official deadline to register of May 31 is fast approaching. Registration forms can be picked up at area Winn-Dixie supermarkets, Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurants, Thornton Food Marts and SuperAmerica stores or players can call the Street Ball Office at 1-800-445-0256. Teams are matched by computer to compete with players of similar experience, age and height so everyone has a shot.

Registration is $70 per team of four, including one substitute. All participants receive a special gift, and the division champions and runners-up receive prizes. Each registered team is guaranteed to play a minimum of three games in the double elimination tournament. A maximum of nine games could be needed to win a division title.

Street Ball has grown from 1,200 players in 1988 to over 3,300 last year. Last year, over $70,000 was raised for the Cabbage Patch Settlement House, a Christian service ministry which helps inner-city children and their families. Tournament officials project Street Ball IV to raise between $90,000 to $100,000 for the Patch this year.

To participate in regional games Darnella Bradley, left, and Teresa Gibson, right, posed with their high school coach Bonita Compton on the announcement that both players had been selected to play for the Pike County All-Stars against the Mingo County All-Stars at Phelps on June 8. # Garrett Posts 11-3 Win Over Wheelwright In FC Babe Ruth

The Floyd County Babe Ruth Parent League got their season underway Monday night at the Allen Park when Garrett rode the pitching of Jeremy Hall to a 11-3 win over Wheelwright in the first game of the season.

Hall fanned 10 batters in his first start and walked just four. Kevin Johnson took the loss for Wheelwright striking out six and walking five.

Garrett scored six times in the bottom of the third inning to build a 9-0 lead. Wheelwright scored twice in the fifth and a managed single run in the sixth to avoid the shut out.

Hall had a third inning triple for the Garrett team. Barry Combs doubled in the second for Garrett, and team mate Aaron Jackson had a two-run double in the third. Larry Hunter went two-for-two with two RBIs in the contest.

Timmy Bryant had a fifth inning double for Wheelwright and drove in two runs.

FISHIN' TIPS FROM THE TRACKER PROS

Doug Dwyman

Throughout America one of the most popular sportfish for food and fun is the Rainbow Trout. Trout are popular because they can be raised easily in cold water hatcheries and stocked frequently in lakes and streams.

Through the Midwest there are a number of outstanding "put and take" rainbow lakes and rivers. Missouri and Arkansas are states which provide much of this type of fishing.

The Little Red River below Greers Ferry Dam and the White River below Bull Shoals are two of Arkansas best. In Southwest Missouri try Roaring River state Park near Cassville and the ever popular Lake Taneycomo at Branson.

Go light for rainbows. Ultra light spinning outfitted with four pound test mono is fun. Trout love salmon eggs, whole kernel corn, marshmallows and nite crawlers.

Astros Explode For 21 Runs In 3rd; Defeat Ivel Reds 35-2 In Slugfest

It just wasn't your typical Little League game; it was more like a football score, rather than baseball. But the Allen Astros went 9-1 on the year with a 35-2 victory over the shorthanded Ivel Reds in the Harold-Allen-Prater Little League this past Saturday.

The Astros cranked out five home runs in the barrage, with Brandon Castle leading the way with three personally. Wes Sammons and Greg Horn each had a solo shot for the winners. All three of Castle's home runs came in the 21-run third inning. Sammons also homered in the third.

Wesley Sammons hit for the cycle for the Astros with his home run, triple, double and single. Actually, Sammons had two singles in the game in his five-for-five effort. Sammons collected four RBIs. Sammy Nelson collected six hits in six at bats which included four triples. Nelson drove in two runs.

Castle had five hits for the Astros with seven runs batted in, and Eddie Rowe collected four hits in the game. Rowe had a double and triple in the win. Ronnie Kidd went three-for-five and drove in five runs.

Ryan Ortega had three doubles in the contest in a four-for-five outing. Billy Mitchell, Jason Roberts and Greg Horn had two hits each for the Astros. All three picked up RBIs.

Mitchell had two doubles in his two-hit effort.

Mike Keathley doubled and singled for the Reds, and starting pitcher Shawn Deskins collected two hits, including a double. Deskins had two RBIs in the game. Jason Hall had a base hit for the Reds.

The Astros scored five runs in each of the first and second innings and plated 21 in the third.

Wes Sammons was the winning pitcher, striking out six. Sammons walked just one. Deskins took the loss for the Reds with six strike outs and six walks.

FISHING DEEP SPINNERBAITS

Most anglers consider spinnerbaits as shallow water lures to be fished around bushes, logs and other cover in water less than four feet deep.

Tom Mann Jr., a long time bass tournament professional agrees and disagrees.

"Spinnerbaits are excellent shallow cover lures, especially in the spring," says the popular Evinrude Outboards Pro Staff angler, "but they're also extremely effective in deep water, too. I frequently fish them 15 to 20 feet deep."

At such depths, Mann prefers to work the lures over submerged grass, such as milfoil or hydrilla that has not grown to the surface. Bass frequently use vegetation like this in the spring both before and after the spawning season.

"The key is keeping the lure moving right over the grass," he continues. "For that reason, I prefer either a three-quarter ounce or one ounce spinnerbait because the weight helps keep it down."

"For blades, I use a small size three Colorado blade ahead of a much larger size six willowleaf. The big willowleaf provides a lot of flash and vibration, while the smaller Colorado blade adds balance and seems to help keep the lure running straight."

This combination has worked well for Mann in tournament competition, for during one recent event he caught two largemouths over eight pounds.

A slow retrieve that keeps the spinnerbait just above grass triggers the most strikes, according to the Evinrude pro, and will usually be even more effective if the lure can be brought over the edge of a deep grassline where the water falls to even greater depths.

"This is what we call 'slow-rolling' a spinnerbait," Mann explains. "The lure is retrieved very slowly so the blades are just rolling over instead of really spinning fast. The lure is actually touching the top of the grass, and it just rolls right over the edge of the vegetation."

Developing a feel for the grass and keeping the lure there throughout the retrieve are difficult to learn, says Mann, especially for someone who has never fished a spinnerbait slow and deep.

"The tendency is to retrieve too fast, but with such a large blade, the lure rises too far above the grass to be effective," he explains. "If the bass want a fast moving lure, change to two size four willowleaf blades."

"Keep the same lure weight so the spinnerbait will stay deep, then vary your retrieve until you get just what the bass want."

Moore Leads Astros Past Garrett Cubs

The Drift Astros won their second game of the season as they posted a 10-7 win over the Garrett Cubs in Beaver Creek Little League action last week. Joe Hall got the win for the Astros, striking out seven Cub batters. Clave Hall started for the Astros, but went just the first three innings when Hall came on in relief. Hall fanned four batters in the three innings he worked. Losing pitcher for the Cubs was Brian Hicks. Hicks fanned 10 Astros batters.

B.J. Moore carried the big stick for the Astros with a third inning solo home run. Moore also tripled in the fifth inning for Drift. John Page had a third inning three-bagger for the Astros.

Clave Hall had the only extra base hit for the Cubs with a second inning double driving in a run.

Drift collected seven hits in the game, while the Cubs managed four.

The victory evened the Astros record at 2-2 on the season. The Astros will face the Drift Giants Friday at 5:30 p.m.

STEEL SHOT REQUIRED FOR WATERFOWL HUNTING

For the 1991-91 Kentucky waterfowl hunting seasons, hunters will only be permitted to use nontoxic steel shot throughout the state.

The use or possession of lead shot while hunting waterfowl will no longer be allowed under state or federal law. Extensive government and private studies have indicated that waterfowl can pick up lead pellets spent by hunters in feeding areas, and when ingested, lead can poison the birds.

The Kentucky department of Fish and Wildlife Resources reminds hunters and sporting goods retailers that the new steel shot requirement will take effect in Kentucky this fall with the opening of the wood duck season in September.

Hunters will likely find it necessary to make some minor adjustments in their shooting techniques. A few trips to the range for some encounters with clay birds before heading to the blinds will no doubt prove beneficial. Shooters also should pattern their guns when first adjusting to steel shot and note the differences in shot distribution.

Steel shot is both harder and lighter than lead. Most steel start out with greater velocity than lead, but being lighter, they slow down more quickly. As a result, hunters have found it necessary to compensate in their lead distance, that is, how far in front of the target they shoot. When shooting at close range (30 yards or less), the aiming point for steel shot will be closer to the bird than with lead. At medium range (30-50 yards), the aiming point for steel shot will be considerably farther ahead of the bird than for lead.

A good "rule of thumb" to remember when selecting steel shot for the first time is to use two shot sizes larger than the lead you've been accustomed to. It may even be a good idea to go three sizes larger for longer ranges such as in pass shooting. For example, use number four or three steel shot to replace number six lead; use number two or one steel to replace number four lead.

The steel shot requirement for waterfowl hunting already has been in effect for some portions of Kentucky during recent seasons. Steel shot is becoming mandatory under federal law in each of the 50 states this year as their respective waterfowl seasons open.

Subject to approval by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, waterfowl seasons usually run from late November through early February in Kentucky.

NEW STATE RECORD EQUALS WORLD RECORD

Louisville's Mark A. Wilson has posted a new state record for a hybrid striped bass he caught while fishing the Barren River tailwaters. The record hybrid weighed 20 pounds, eight ounces and measured over 32 inches long.

Kentucky's Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR) officials believe Wilson's fish also ties the current line class world record. However, Wilson's whopper was caught on 10 pound test line and there is no actual 10 pound line class category. A spokesperson for the International Game Fish Association (IGFA) says while there is no plan to establish a 10 pound line class, Wilson's hybrid may be listed as a tie in the 12 pound class, if his fish clears IGFA's stringent verification process which usually takes up to six months.

Identification of hybrid striped bass (male white bass x female striped bass) can be difficult, even for experts. Smaller rockfish frequently are mistaken for large hybrids because they often display some of the same physical characteristics, particularly the broken lateral stripes on the sides of their bodies.

Anglers sometimes mistakenly assume that if a fish has broken lateral stripes, it's a hybrid; if it has solid lateral stripes, it's a rockfish. Remember, in some cases rockfish also have broken or irregular lateral stripes. The shape of the fishes' mouths and bodies are probably better identifiers than the lateral stripes. Remember too, hybrids seldom exceed 20 inches in length.

Hybrid rockfish are found at Barren, Herrington, Taylorsville, Fish-trap, Kentucky and Barkley lakes, as well as in the Ohio and Kentucky Rivers.

COMMISSION SELECTIONS COMING UP

Two seats on the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission are up for selection later this month.

The selection for the seventh district commissioner will be May 28 at the Knott County Central High School auditorium, one mile southeast of Hindman. The seat is currently held by Doug Hensley, Hazard.

The selection for the ninth district commissioner will be May 30 at the Laurel County High School gym, on U. S. 25 one mile south of London. The seat is currently held by David Godby, Somerset.

Both selection meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Commission members are appointed to four-year terms by the governor from a list of the top five vote getters in that district. Kentucky resident sportsmen who have held a hunting or fishing license for each of the past two consecutive years are eligible to vote in their district selection process.

Martin Tigers Roll Past Martin Dodgers 22-3

In a game played in the Martin Pee Wee League last week, the Martin Tigers posted an easy win over the Martin Dodgers, 22-3, in defense of their league title from last year.

The Tigers batted around in the first inning as they sent 20 batters to the plate in scoring 17 runs in the first frame. Shannon Sizemore had a first inning home run for the Tigers. Brandon Sizemore reached second and scored. Later in the inning, Josh Yates and Shannon Sizemore each picked up run producing doubles for the Tigers. Brandon Sizemore also doubled in the first inning the second time up. Carlie Ratliff had a home run for the Tigers in the first inning.

In the second inning, the Dodgers scored two times to make it a 17-2 game. Brett Patton opened the inning with a double. Patton scored on Eric Swope's two base hit. Swope came in to score the second run for the Dodgers on a base hit.

The Tigers plated five runs in the second inning to take a 22-2 lead. Amber Hutchinson doubled to lead off the inning and Josh Yates tripled her home. Yates then scored on a two out single by Trish Hall. Carlie Ratliff got her second hit of the game driving in Hall. Ratliff later scored the fifth run of the inning for the Tigers.

For the Dodgers in the top of the third, Jeremy Hayes scored the Dodgers third run of the game on a base hit by Patton. The game was called after three innings because of the mercy rule.

"FRONTLINE" ON KET

During the last 30 years, the world's commercial fishing industry has undergone a technological revolution. Fishing has become increasingly more productive, while at the same time, fish stocks have dropped dramatically worldwide. Biologists warn that the world's fisheries are in a dangerous state of decline, and that if something isn't done now, it may be too late to save vast populations of ocean fish.

Frontline "To The Last Fish" airing on KET at 10:00 p.m. Thursday, May 23, examines one of the major problems of humans in nature — the tragedy of mankind's inability to administer limited resources in an equitable way.

It is now estimated that by the year 2000, fishing will be able to supply only half of the marine protein needed for the world's populations. Despite this dire prediction, countries around the world are slow to enact stricter regulations that could help reverse the trend.

The camp will be open to all interested in officiating basketball games this coming basketball season. and they will sit down and watch the tape and listen to the comments of the instructor. Besides all of that, the instructors at courtside will also be giving some helpful advice, such as positioning or moves and techniques."

Hall said the camp is for women officials as well as men. New referee's are needed in the 15th Region Association and this is a good opportunity for new officials to get involved.

Each official should have a black and white officials shirt, black and white or navy shorts, black referee shoes and a whistle.

Several guest will be on hand for lectures. Included in the guest line up is John Radjuna, Sectional Director Kentucky High School Athletic Association Official; Kentucky Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference; Great Lakes Valley Conference.

Paul Dotson, assigning secretary in the 15th Region. New KHSAA Commissioner Billy Wise will be on hand. Wise was a former official in the Collegiate Conferences. Larry Bougher and Marvin Moore will also make an appearance at the camp.

Remember the camp is designed for experienced as well as inexperienced officials.

For more information or camp application contact Paul Dotson at Box 491, Belfry, KY 41514.

"The camp is open to anyone that has an interest," said Teddy Hall, one of the camps officials. "If there is anyone out there that has never blown a whistle but wants to learn, this camp is for them. It doesn't matter how long you have officiated we want you to come to camp."

Cost for the week long camp is just $30 per person. Each official will be calling two games a night in conjunction with the Belfry High School Team Camp that will be going on at the same time.

"We will have instructors that will be at courtside evaluating each official. We will also have someone on a video camera and an instructor with a microphone in hand explaining what each official is or is not doing," said Hall. "The tape will be handed to that official at the end of his or her game

Governor Wilkinson Issues Proclamation For Kentucky Cheerleaders

Governor Wallace G. Wilkinson has proclaimed the period of July 15-19 as "Cheerleaders Week in the State of Kentucky" in recognition of a special state-wide high school training camp to be held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond.

The event, conducted by the International Cheerleading Foundation, the world-wide organization for cheerleading and school spirit arts, will bring together cheer and leadership experts from across the United States who will conduct an intensive four day cheer skills and student leadership course for junior and senior high school cheerleaders from throughout Kentucky.

In issuing his proclamation, Governor Wilkinson states that, "one of the great learning experiences for our young people is in the examples set by the traditional leaders in America's schools, most especially their own elected leaders such as athletes and cheerleaders who, traditionally, are key student pacesetters among their peers."

A key basis for the proclamation is to draw attention to the role the cheerleader plays apart from his or her "on field" activities as cheer and stunt performer. Traditionally, cheerleaders are viewed as entertainers when, in fact, their off field duties are to serve as coordinators of important student activities and to serve as

"example-setters" within their schools. The ICF training camp will focus on this all encompassing role and provide a broad range of day and evening classes for both junior and senior high school cheerleaders and future cheerleaders.

The camp is open to all Kentucky students. Free enrollment information is available by calling 1-800-255-0296 or writing ICF at 10660 Barkley Lane, Shawnee-Mission, Kansas 66212.

Robinson Hurls Second No-Hitter; Martin Reds Roll Past Astros

Hard throwing Kevin Robinson recorded his second no-hitter of the still young baseball season with a nifty 16-1 victory over the Drift Astros at Minnie this week.

Robinson continues to build up the numbers in strike outs, as he fanned 13 batters in the game. Robinson has 44 strike outs in 18 and one-third innings pitched. He has yielded only four runs in his four outings. However, the flame throwing righthander walked seven batters in the game.

"Kevin seems to be walking more batters this year than he did last season," said Reds coach Lonnie Robinson. "It may be because he is throwing so hard."

Phillip Robinson added fuel to the fire with a sixth inning two-run homer. Robinson also double for the winners in the fourth inning. Shannon Slone and Jason Shannon had triples for the Reds. Shannon went two for two with one RBI. Slone had a two hit outing with a triple and double and one run batted in.

Kevin Robinson helped his own cause with a two hit evening, driving in two runs. Rusty Young had three runs batted in with two hits. Phillip Robinson had three hits with his homer, double and a single collecting five RBIs.

B.J. Moore was the losing pitcher for the Astros. Moore fanned 10 batters in the five innings that he worked. Clave Hall came on in relief in the sixth inning for the Astros.

Drift scored their lone run in the bottom of the second inning to close the lead to 2-1. The run came as a result of two walks and a passed ball. Two were out when the run scored.

Martin improves to 5-1 on the season, and the Astros fall below the .500 mark at 2-3.

The Reds will face the Martin Blue Jays tomorrow (Thursday) at the Martin Park at 5:30 p.m. and the Astros will play the Drift Giants on Friday at 5:30 p.m.

Braves Kris Lawson No-Hits Giants In 13-2 Victory

The Prestonsburg Little League Braves jumped on Giants starting pitcher Ryan Hardee for six runs in the first inning last Friday enroute to a 13-2 complete game victory for the Braves.

In his first starting pitching assignment, Kris Lawson held the Giants to two runs on no hits, while striking out nine batters, in the four inning mercy game.

The Giants scored a run in the second inning with four walks, but, was shut down the rest of the way, as Lawson fanned two Giants with the bases loaded. The Giants threatened again in the third by loading the bases on two walks and a hit batsman with only one out. Again, Lawson rose to the challenge and fanned the next two batters.

Joshua Luster had the hot bat for the Braves, with three hits including a triple and a first inning single as the Braves sent 11 batters to the plate.

The Braves improved to 2-4 on the season, and will play the Indians this Friday at Archer Park. The Giants are still looking for their first win of the season, after dropping their first six games. The Giants will face the A's Thursday afternoon at the local park.

Schoolchildren. It's a topic that members of the new Partnership For Kentucky School Reform know a lot about.

They were all schoolchildren themselves once. And now, as leaders in business, labor, government and education, they know that the future for Kentucky's children will be bright only if they emerge from our schools well-educated and prepared for the demands of the work place in the next century.

That is the promise of the Kentucky Education Reform Act.

That is also why these leading citizens have joined the Partnership and made a 10-year commitment of time, energy and resources to building better schools for Kentucky's kids.

It's time we all joined together to make these reforms a reality. If we do, the future will hold more opportunity for our children, and our state, than anytime in history.

In Living Color

Ted and Marlene Stumbo have a continuing interest in children—not only their own, but those they come in contact with in any area.

When their daughter Mary Ellen was a star basketball player for Betsy Layne High School a few years ago, they were there to support the team in all the special ways that parents help.

More than once, they found themselves in the hospital emergency room while Mary Ellen or another team member was treated for an injury suffered in a game.

One night, they were waiting to see if X-rays would reveal a broken bone when a man was brought in for treatment. His clothing was torn and his body was bleeding.

"What happened to you?" asked a nurse.

"A cat clawed me," he answered. "What kind of cat?"

"A yaller cat." "I don't mean the color," pressed the nurse. "What kind of cat was it?"

"A big yaller cat," he repeated.

The nurse had a chart in her hand and recognized that the man needed treatment immediately. However, she wanted all the information she could get to have ready for the doctor.

"Mr. Smith," she tried again, "can you tell me what kind of cat mauled you?"

"How many times do I have to tell you?" he persisted. "It was a BIG YALLER CAT!"

And so she wrote it on her chart—"mauled by a big yaller cat."

Lesson in Patience
My husband Walter was once a patient in a hospital where he shared a semi-private room with a fellow named Gerald.

They asked the usual get acquainted questions—"Where do you live?" "What's your occupation?"

"Are you pretty sick?"

Then, they talked about the weather, the programs on TV and the convenience of their room. Soon, it was time to settle down to sleep. Gerald went to the bathroom.

"Would you mind closing the door while you're up?" asked Walter.

"No, I never close my door," answered Gerald.

"But it's noisy in the hall."

"They'll quieten down in a little bit."

"I don't understand," queried Walter, "What's the point in leaving the door open?"

"My wife might come by."

"Is your wife in town?"

"I don't know."

"Well, if she came by, you know the nurses would bring her in." "I'm not sure," insisted Gerald. "I never close my door, not even in a motel."

Walter's curiosity was aroused. "Where is your wife?"

"I don't know."

"How long has she been gone?"

"Thirteen years."

After observing such a profound lesson, you'd think my husband would have learned SOMETHING about patience himself—but he didn't.

Kim's Korner

Saturday night's performance by the Gum Branch Heartbreakers, Kentucky Opry and members of the Goose Creek Symphony brought goose pimples to my skin.

This was the first time I'd ever seen the Kentucky Opry perform, and boy can they! Cory Caudill is an absolute doll, and every single inch of the child's body spells T-A-L-E-N-T, at the ripe old age of five.

Ms. Billie Jean Osborne has done an extraordinary job constructing such a program. I've always heard that she was an exceptional lady, and, after viewing the Kentucky Opry, now I know why.

Eastern Kentucky is full of talent and this group proves it. Shawn Caudill, what a voice, what a hunk. I can remember when he was Cory's age and, looking at him now, WOW!

Keith Caudill, so musically inclined it's unreal. Keith can honestly play with his toes, and not like the way he did Saturday night. He's a Steve Martin, Stevie Wonder and Billy Joel all rolled into one, and he and his wife, Kathy, have produced an A-1 protege.

Ray, like Keith said, is one of the nicest guys you'll ever meet. He can make his guitar talk and has the most gorgeous head of hair I've ever seen.

Joey is another very talented soul who can bring out goose pimples on one's skin.

These are a few personal comments on members I've known over the years. Other members are extremely talented as well and compliment this group undeniably.

The heart fills with pride to sit back and see Eastern Kentuckians like Dwight Yoakam, Gum Branch Heartbreakers, The Kentucky Opry and Pearl, Willard and Charlie of Goose Creek perform their hearts out.

From Jack's Creek to Goose Creek, Eastern Kentucky is filled with talent. Aren't you proud to be a Creeker? I sure am. Till next week...

Caney Girls and Caney Boys reminisce during annual Alumni banquet meeting

by Docia Woods
Society Editor

Usually referred to as "the annual Floyd County-Alice Lloyd College Alumni banquet meeting," this event is, in reality more like a family reunion, when "Caney Girls" and "Caney Boys" get together at May Lodge once each year, and oh, so many memories are revived.

Like the iron-clad rules that governed Caney Creek Community Center (presently Alice Lloyd College)—"No smoking; no drinking; no firearms, and no unauthorized meetings with the opposite sex;" the separation of girls and boys—in the classrooms, the dining hall (Hunger Din), and on separate walking paths on the campus; the influence of outstanding teachers and administrators there, like: Prof. Charles Houghton, who demanded—and in a few instances, almost realized this goal in his English courses; and Prof. Charles Dix, whose history lectures were so down-to-earth, but brilliant. And, of course, of Mrs. Lloyd and June Buchanan.

Memories of persons connected with C.C.C.C.—like Sam Allen, (father of the late Woodrow Allen, here), who "could fix anything," be it a pair of shoes which had heels a fraction of an inch too high for Caney footwear, (and to whom some of the Caney Boys showed their lack of appreciation by catching his rooster, fattening him under a tub, and cooking him for a mid-night snack); and there was "Big" Laura, who took country food, (brought in by people on Caney Creek, and exchanged for used clothing, which had been donated by "people from all over the U.S. and Canada") and turned it into food that would at least partly satisfy the appetites of the multitude there.

And the family of Lee Hall, who operated the local store, and in case students didn't have a nickel to pay for the Mr. Goodbars or other "goodies" to satisfy the desire for sweets, found lacking in the "stick-to-the-ribs" food Laura was able to "dish out." And of course, these events are never complete without the mention of "three-cornered notes," and "wahoo trees," and many, other remembrances.

The last get-together, at May Lodge, was on this past Friday evening, May 17. Most of the Alice Lloyd dignitaries and Floyd County Alumni arrived early, with reminiscing starting soon afterwards.

Mrs. Robin (Branham) Moler, director of A.L.C. Alumni Affairs, was in charge of this event. The group assembled on the main floor of the Lodge. In the background was an art exhibit, entitled, "War Song," by Mrs. Moler's husband, Robert Moler, an art professor at A.L.C., based on this artist's impressions of the recent war in the Persian Gulf. The Molers' baby daughter, Amanda, was held by her father as he discussed these painting with the group.

Mrs. Clara (Hicks) Johnson, former president of this organization, expressed a plea for donations for the purchase of textbooks for needy Floyd County students attending this college. Dues for the coming year were paid by some of the members.

The banquet followed, with Adrian Hall, co-director of Admissions, at A.L.C., giving the blessing.

Mrs. Moler presented the new president, Arthur Haywood, who presided during the remainder of the business meeting. He gave a list of the other officers and committee chairpersons, for the coming year, as follows: vice president, Joy (Blevins) Wells; secretary, Anna Sue (Moore) Stumbo; treasurer, Willis Hall, and publicity, Docia (Baldrige) Woods.

Then, Dr. Fred Mullinax, president of Alice Lloyd College, gave an inspiring lecture to the group. He said that 75 students had recently graduated from A.L.C., and that many of them were from Floyd County. He told of the new Caney Cottage to be built on Rose Street, Lexington, near the University of Kentucky, for which the ground had recently been broken, and said that a new Student Center on the campus of A.L.C., should be completed by next spring, and that Tom O. McGuire and Randy Burchett, both of Floyd County, were the architects of this building.

President Mullinax and Adrian Hall said that 371 students, many of whom are from Floyd County, had signed for dormitory rooms for next year, and that several commuter students would also be attending this school. The president referred to such progress as, "Fulfilling the mission of this institution." He invited the group to visit the school often.

Mrs. Moler presented Adrian Hall, a Floyd Countian, who is co-director of admissions at this college, and president of the Alice Lloyd College Alumni Association, who spoke briefly, and expressed the hope that some of the other counties in this area, who do not have alumni chapters, would work toward this goal and added that, (borrowing a term from the Old Regular Baptists). "We get out of anything what we put into it."

Members were saddened by the announcement by Mrs. Moler that this was her last alumni meeting before leaving this job to work in the Mental Health Program, at Hindman. But the group was pleased at her announcement that she and her family would continue to reside on the A.L.C. campus, where her husband is employed, and that she would continue to work on a volunteer basis there—"especially with alumni members from Floyd County," since she is also a native Floyd Countian.

It was announced that the Eagles Nest Building at A.L.C. has been renovated, and was being converted into a museum, and Mrs. Moler said that alumni members were invited to contribute "keep-sakes" from "Caney Days" to be put on display, there. The first of this group to offer a contribution was Delmas Saunders, who said he would donate a tie he once purchased at the Caney Exchange for a nickel, or dime (he wasn't quite sure which), and Mrs. Moler suggested that this tie be placed in a frame and hung on the wall, there.

The closing prayer was given by Miss Ruby Akers, who also had served as photographer for this memorable event.

Signing the guest register were: President Fred Mullinax, Adrian and Olive Rose Hall, Richard Kennedy, Dian Wallace and Jane Campbell, Robert and Robin Moler, and their baby daughter, Amanda, all of Alice Lloyd College; and Arthur and Carlos Haywood, Joy Wells, Docia B. Woods, Clara Hicks Johnson, Luther Hall, Norma S. Stepp, Arnold and Alma Lowe, John Davidson, Opal S. May, Bessie R. Conley, Delmas and Edna Saunders, Russell and Sarah Laven, Alice O. Martin, Ruby Akers, Virginia S. Goble, Louise Howard, and Mildred Whitaker.

The next regular dinner meeting will be held in June, of 1992.

I'd rather kiss the pig

Unless you've been out of the area for the past couple of weeks, you already know that the locusts are back.

I first began hearing them a week ago this past Saturday, and I've heard folks from other parts of the county talking about seeing them in vast numbers on their fruit trees and stuff. As far as I know, there's not very much we can do about them.

Actually, what we have here (according to science books) are of the cicada variety. Real honest-to-goodness locusts are akin to grasshoppers and are in the family Locustidae.

These cicadas are a different thing altogether and are in the family Cicadidae. Now, since I'm not a scientist, that doesn't mean jack. Anyway, though, the book says that here are two kinds of cicadas.

The dog-day cicadas are large, very dark and often have greenish markings. They generally appear in small numbers around here in July and August. I expect these little critters are what we referred to as jar flies when I was a kid growing up in Muddy Branch.

The other kind of cicada—the kind we're infested with now—are called the periodical cicada. We also call them (among other things that are unmentionable) 17-year-locusts. They take either 13 years or 17 years to develop—depending upon the exact species.

The irritating singing noise we hear is the male vibrating a drumlike membrane on his belly. This attracts the female. She then lays her eggs in holes that she has made in twigs and shrubs with a little saw-like thing that's attached to her stomach. (Of course, all this sawing and drilling is what makes the twigs and shrubs die.)

Then, after a few weeks, the eggs hatch and the young cicadas fall to the ground, enter the soil and live off roots. Seventeen years later they come out, shed their skins and emerge as adults. They then go through the whole thing again, and after they breed, they live a few weeks and then they die.

Hardly seems worth it, does it? Anyway, my driveway's littered with their ugly little bodies every morning, and the other day a live one flew right slap into my face.

I read in the paper last week where a fellow from over in Huntington—a Douglas Miller—instead of sweeping them aside like I've been doing, has been gathering them up and eating them.

Now, in a couple of places in the Bible—in Matthew 3:4, and Mark 1:6: to be exact—it says that John ate locusts and wild honey. I'm not sure that these cicadas are the same kind of locusts that John ate, but they are, apparently, the same kind that Mr. Miller ate.

Miller was even quoted as saying that he fed them to his daughter and her prom date as hors d'oeuvres. He just dipped them in egg batter and deep fried them. He says they taste like shrimp.

After seeing these big brown bugs with their big red eyes up close, I think I'll pass on the hors d'oeuvres. I mean, if I want something that tastes like shrimp, I'll eat shrimp.

Like the fellow once said when he kissed the pig, though: "Every man to his own taste."

AARP conducts May meeting

Members of the Jenny Wiley Chapter, A.A.R.P. enjoyed dinner at the Highlands Regional Center's cafeteria, on Friday evening, May 17. Following the dinner, Mrs. Sina Blanton, president, conducted the regular meeting, in the Floyd Room, there.

Orville Cooley gave the devotions and led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag. Mrs. Shirley Callihan read the minutes of the April meeting, and gave the financial report. The Health Fair, which this groups helps to sponsor, was discussed, and it was decided that, if agreeable to the hospital, it would be best to have it there.

Orville Cooley introduced Jesse Stapleton and Peggy Fraley, assistant state director. Mrs. Fraley talked to the members concerning the work of the American Association of Retired Persons throughout various sections of the nation, and added that a chapter of this organization would possibly be organized in Paintsville, with a meeting concerning this matter to be held at the Carriage House, there on May 31, at 6:30 p.m. The speaker, Peggy Fraley, asked the group if there was any matter they would like for her to discuss with the state officers. Orville Cooley expressed the hope that the AARP would become actively involved with the Hospice Program. The speaker said that AARP Health Care publications contain answers to many of the questions senior citizens need to know, such as crime prevention, housing and other matters.

Present for the dinner and meeting were Peggy Fraley and Jesse Stapleton, guests, and Sina Blanton, Flem Blanton, Gladys Allen, Shirley Callihan, Bill Callihan, Jack Freed, Marie Goble, James E. Goble, Gladys Cooley, Orville Cooley, Lucy C. Regan, Hager White, Nelva Lewis, Shirley Lewis, Matilda Johnson, Elva Spradlin, Herbert Spradlin, Maman G. # For Bill Loftus, It Was A Better Way To Get Home Sooner.

Bill was lucky. He walked away from his car wreck last September. His seat belt probably saved his life, but it left him with a nagging pain in his lower abdomen. He toughed it out for two months before seeing his family physician, Dr. Blake Burchett. It was a hernia, needing surgical repair.

Bill did some homework on the hospital, a surgeon and even an anesthesiologist. He checked costs and reputations, looking for the right balance between economy and quality care. He needed to be in and out of surgery fast, and back home as soon as he could. The answer was Same Day Surgery at Highlands.

Bill is one of a growing number of smart healthcare consumers who ask for information and prices these days. With the help of his family doctor, his surgeon, Dr. William Cook, and the surgical and nursing staff at Highlands, he learned what he needed to know.

"We went into all the little details...how long it would take...what we were going to do...what recovery time would be like. I wanted to get in, I wanted to get it done and I wanted to get out. Everything went like a well-oiled machine...the people were wonderful, the care and concern that I experienced was wonderful."

To learn more about Same Day Surgery, ask your family doctor or call Ann Martin at Highlands, toll free 1-800-533-HRMC or locally, 886-8511.

We keep getting better at getting you better a whole lot closer to home

County Kettle

By M. L. Harmon

Last week I was talking about people being born with their "sweet tooth", well mine was late getting here, but now sweets are the only kind of food that interest me. I have been accused of turning down a steak for a plate of home made candy. I do not like steak, but the candy, I love — along with cakes, pies and ice cream. On this sweet note, I will go on into the recipes and hope you find several to sate your "sweet tooth."

CHOCOLATE TRUFFLE PIE

1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs
1/4 c. sugar
1 1/2 c. whipping cream-whipped
8 or 9 inch chocolate crumb crust
In medium saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over orange juice, let stand one minute. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Add instant coffee and chocolate chips and heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate is thoroughly melted. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla, let stand 10 minutes or until luke warm.

Meanwhile, beat eggs with sugar in a large bowl for 5 minutes on high speed until thickened. Gradually add lukewarm gelatin mix and beat until just thoroughly blended. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into prepared crust. Chill until firm. Garnish if desired with whipped cream and chocolate shavings. Serves 8.

Cabbage Patch

By Nell Harmon

Gladiolus is one of the most beautiful flowers, in my opinion, with its stateliness. These flowers bring beauty and color to gardens and flower beds throughout the summer. They can be found from Maine to California and from North Dakota to Texas. Their brilliant flower heads are crisp and full on tall spikes that are sometimes known to grow five feet tall. I have never been lucky enough to grow any that tall since the climate and soil here just don't produce that large a glad.

Each bloom is a delicate blend of pastel colors. There are a few glads that boast heavier and deeper tones of red, blue and purple and that have a texture of pure velvet. Each variety, regardless of height, color or size bloom, produce beautiful, proud flowers that are outstanding eye-catchers.

The best quality of this flower is its ability to adapt to almost any soil and climatic condition. This simplicity of culture is responsible for its nationwide popularity.

The gladiolus is a member of the iris family. The first ones are believed to have been found in the steaming jungles of Africa. With cross-pollination, the glads today are larger, hardier and more beautiful than the original small, wild ones.

Garden soil that has good drainage and is rich in organic matter will grow these beautiful flowers. Plant glad bulbs in small, circular beds with other flowers, in rows by themselves or anywhere for beautiful results.

Dig the beds for the glads deep, at least eight inches, and loosen the soil. Mix in some old manure or compost as you loosen. Plant your glad bulbs at least two inches apart in all directions. Cover with five to six inches of soil, leaving a shallow depression to catch water. Firm the soil only enough to eliminate air pockets. If planted at least six inches deep, the flowers will not need any staking when the spikes appear. However, if the spikes do become quite large and tall, it might be wise to stake to prevent wind damage. We do have some heavy winds here.

Always try to plant in the full sun for best results. If planted in full sun, glads generally bloom within 80 days. Unless it is a wet summer, glads should be watered at least once a week. Most disappointments in glads are from a lack of sufficient waterings. Water one or more inches weekly. Keep the soil around the plants damp at all times with no puddles, since glads dislike wet feet.

When the plants are about eight inches tall, add a fertilizer high in phosphorous. Fertilizing will determine the flowers per spike. When you cut the flower spikes, try not to get any leaves since the bulbs need all the leaves to mature for next year's flowers. After the plants have finished blooming, fertilize again with any good, well balanced, organic fertilizer. Dig the bulbs after the first light frost and dry them in trays in an outside building. After drying, store them in paper bags in a cool, dry place until spring planting time.

Birthday girl

Her maternal grandparents are Homer and Mary Hall, of Weeksbury. Her paternal grandparents are Jeanette Spears of Jacks Creek, and the late Hobert Spears.

Floyd County History

rard County. She graduated from Buckeye High School. An excellent student, she showed talent as a writer at a very early age. When she was 14, she won a $500.00 prize for an essay she entered in an international contest on Victor Hugo's Les Miserables. She graduated from Berea College in 1933, and was a charter member of the Berea College Writers.

In 1934 she married Virgil O. Turner, a Floyd County native. Mr. Turner was also a Berea graduate, and earned a law degree from Duke University Law School. The couple made their home in Floyd County, where Mr. Turner served as Superintendent of Schools for several years. Their son, Dr. Jack Justin Turner, teaches international relations at Middle Tennessee University, in Murfreesboro.

Mrs. Turner taught in public schools in Garrard County, 14 years at Maytown High School in Floyd County, six years at Prestonsburg High, and a short time at Pikeville High School. An accomplished poet and writer, she was published in various books and magazines such as the Anthology of Kentucky Poetry, Twigs, Ladies' Home Journal, American Farmer, Approaches, and Poetry. Playwright Thornton Wilder in a visit to Berea, read some of her work and predicted a distinguished career for the aspiring writer. Her writings did receive wide critical acclaim. She died June 22, 1970. A book of her poems entitled Cat Claws and Treebark was published posthumously in 1972 by the Appalachian Studies Center of Pikeville College.

A dedicated and caring teacher, she made sure that her students were well-versed in the fundamentals of grammar and writing. Her advanced English classes were forums for discussion and lively debate. She encouraged her students to think critically and to write creatively. She instilled in them a love for literature and a sense of awe and respect for the world around them. Her example is that of someone who loved life, accepting its gifts with reverence and humility, and facing its hardships with a quiet and enduring courage.

Floyd County schools selected for energy conservation study

Floyd County Public Schools will receive two Institutional Conservation Program grants totaling $167,053 from Kentucky's Energy Assistance Trust Fund to assist in reducing the energy costs of its buildings, according to the Kentucky Division of Energy.

One grant will provide $4,130 for a Technical Assistance Study of Betsy Layne High School. The school's cost is $758, for a total project cost of $4,888. These studies, performed by professional engineers, will analyze the potential of the building for capital expenditures in energy-efficient equipment and savings that can be realized from low or no-cost changes in maintenance or operational procedures. The heating, cooling, and lighting systems, plus the building envelope, will be carefully studied to reveal all energy saving possibilities.

A second grant in the amount of $161,923 was issued for energy conservation measures in 15 buildings at eight separate school sites: two buildings at Auxier Elementary, one building at Betsy Layne Elementary, two buildings at Clark Elementary, three buildings at McDowell High, two buildings at McDowell Elementary, one building at Martin Elementary, two buildings at Maytown Elementary, one building at Melvin Elementary, and one building at Osborne Elementary. Most of the buildings will install energy management systems, and some will receive ceiling insulation or lighting improvements. The total cost of all projects will be $191,634, with the schools paying $29,711 for their part. Savings on all Floyd County projects is estimated at $74,000, which means the investment of the school system will be returned in about five months. Future savings from these energy measures can be used to benefit student education.
