The Floyd County Times

In mock election :

Burchett, Jones top balloting

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Brereton Jones grabbed the lion's share of ballots cast in a six-day mock election held at A.J.'s Market at Allen, grabbing 72 percent of the votes cast in that race.

In a battle of local interest, Paul Burchett breezed past Harold Stumbo in a non-partisan race for Floyd Circuit Judge. Burchett drew 54 percent of the ballots cast to Stumbo's 36 percent.

The outcome of the mock election, held at the market between Friday, October 25 and Wednesday, October 30, is non-binding. The election was sponsored by A.J.'s Market, Statewide Press, County Court Clerk Carla Robinson Boyd and The Floyd County Times.

The results in other races:
Lt. Governor-Goss (R) 20 percent; Patton (D) 77 percent.

Secretary of State- Wright (R) 20 percent; Babbage (D) 62 percent.

Attorney General- Handy (R) 23 percent; Gorman (D) 57 percent.

Auditor- Holmes (R) 23 percent; Chandler (D) 56 percent.

Treasurer- Bell (R) 26 percent; Mills (D) 57 percent.

Supt. of Public Instruction- Shedd (R) 23 percent; Stephenson (D) 57 percent.

Commissioner of Agriculture- Beasley (R) 25 percent; Logsdon (D) 54 percent.

Railroad Commissioner- McGuire (R) 23 percent; Combs (D) 61 percent.

In uncontested races for two seats on the state Court of Appeals, Janet Stumbo drew 36 percent of the votes in Division One while John A. Gardner drew 33 percent in Division Two. John Earl Hunt got one write-in vote in the Division Two race.

The difference in the sum of percentage points and 100 percent in any given race reflects the percentage of voters who did not cast ballots in that particular race. A total of 381 ballots were counted by County Clerk Carla Robinson Boyd.

The actual general election will be held next Tuesday, November 5.

Judicial race, council contests :

Election has local flavor

A sprinkling of local flavor is expected to spice up next Tuesday's general election ballot in Floyd County, where a race for circuit judge and contests for seats on two city councils should pique voter interest.

For the first time in 30 years Floyd County will have a new face on its circuit court bench where non-partisan contenders Paul Burchett and Harold Stumbo vie for the office vacated by retiring Judge Hollie Conley.

Though four city council races will appear on Tuesday's ballot in Floyd County, only two are contested.

Voters in Wheelwright will choose four city commissioners from eleven candidates while Prestonsburg voters will elect eight councilmen from eleven contenders.

The city commission race at Martin drew only four candidates for four available seats while at Allen just one candidate is running though four seats are open.

Other local non-races include two seats on Kentucky's Court of Appeals where Janet Stumbo and John A. Gardner are unopposed in their respective districts.

As for the state ballot next Tuesday, all races are contested.

For Governor, Democrat Brereton Jones faces Republican Larry Hopkins while two Eastern Kentuckians, Democrat Paul Patton and Republican Eugene Goss square off for the Lt. Governor's post.

Airport hearing slated

A hearing will be held Wednesday, November 6, in Johnson Circuit Court to determine if six newly appointed members of the Paintsville-Prestonsburg Airport Board will be allowed to take their offices.

The hearing is in response to a request for a restraining order sought by Paintsville attorney C.K. Belhasen, who claimed in a suit filed this week that the airport board appointments were illegal. Belhasen alleged in the suit that the new appointments must first be approved by city councils in Paintsville and Prestonsburg. Paintsville Mayor John David Preston has countered that state law authorizes the mayors of both cities to jointly appoint airport board members without council approvals.

The new appointees include Dr. David White, Ted Naim, Sam Isbell, Scott Perry, J.K. Wells and Mike Schmitt.

The hearing will begin at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Johnson Circuit Court.

School will be in session :

Polls set for voters

Floyd Countians will be going to the polls Tuesday, November 5 to cast their votes for candidates seeking the state's highest offices and for candidates hoping for a place on local city councils.

Floyd County schools will be in session Tuesday, said County Court Clerk Carla Boyd.

Nine precincts have been moved to different locations. Those changed are: Middle Creek, Cow Creek, Garrett/Rock Fork; John Ant; Ivel; Jack Allen; Prater Creek; Branham's Creek; and Arkansas.

In each precinct the doors open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, November 5 at the following polling places:

Courthouse, courthouse; Trimble Branch, Prestonsburg Elementary School; Depot, warehouse at Christian Appalachian Project (old sewing factory building);

Prestonsburg is named to Hall of Fame

Prestonsburg was inducted Thursday into Kentucky's Certified Cities Hall of Fame, signifying recognition from the state Chamber of Commerce for the city's continuing effort toward development.

The award was presented at a luncheon Thursday in Frankfort and culminates a six-year project by city leaders to qualify for the state Chamber's certification program.

The Certified Cities program is a self-help system of evaluation which allows Kentucky communities to weigh their efforts in business and industry support, civic enhancement, education and tourism development.

Prestonsburg was twice recognized as a Gold Medal City before achieving the program's highest honor, designation as a Hall of Fame city.

The Hall of Fame award means that Prestonsburg will maintain continuing certification without having to participate in the evaluation process.

In addition to the self-help criticism provided by the certification project, certified cities take priority over non-certified communities in matters involving the state Commerce Cabinet.

Eleven candidates seek Prestonsburg offices

by Beth Jones
Contributing Writer

In the general election on November 5, 11 candidates are running for the eight seats on the Prestonsburg city council. The following are brief profiles on each candidate. Each profile consists of background information on the candidates and his answer to the question, "What are your objectives if elected to the city council?"

Gary D. Brown is a candidate who has been a resident of Prestonsburg for most of his life. He has a dental practice in Paintsville and says, "I feel I have insight into the region, not just the city." He feels that he has the leadership capacity to help run the city. Brown says, "The people can come to me with their problems, and I will try to help guide them."

Another candidate, Bill Ray Collins, has been in business in downtown Prestonsburg for 11 years. Collins says, "As a town, we face some slow times and it's important for us to pull together to strive to make the town better. I represent and stand for what I believe in and I want to help the community in any way I can. I want to serve."

Jerry Fannin has lived in Prestonsburg most of his life. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce. He is also a tee-ball coach and helped to organize the Pop Warner football league. Fannin wants to be re-elected to help bring about the "growth of the town." He says, "I'd like to see the Kentucky Opry get off the ground. I think it'll help the economy more than anything. We need something to keep the kids in the area."

William R. (Bill) Callihan says his record is available for everyone to look at and decide what they think about him for themselves. He states, "My objective is to do what I can, in my little way, to help the city grow and help any of the people that need it. I'll try to bring prosperity back to the city and county."

Two hurt in shootings

Two Floyd County men were injured in two separate shooting incidents Wednesday at Drift and Teaberry.

Anthony N. Allen II, 18, of Drift was shot one time in the face after he allegedly threw corn at a vehicle near Drift at approximately 9:30 Wednesday night, according to a state police report. The motorist stopped and fired several shots into the area with one shot striking Allen in the face.

Allen was taken to McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital where he was admitted in good condition. He was transferred to U.K. Medical Center Wednesday evening and is listed in good condition.

The incident is under investigation by Kentucky State Police detec-

Times cartoonist dies

Floyd County Times editorial cartoonist Dudley Jack Martin, 67, of Price, died Thursday at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington after a brief illness.

An avid artist, Martin's cartoons were regular features on the editorial pages of the Times and various other regional newspapers, including The Troublesome Creek Times at Hindman.

A former shipping clerk for Island Creek Coal Company and Wheelwright Mining Company, Martin often used his pen to depict issues of local concern, drawing his share of praise and criticism along the way.

Funeral services for Martin are set for 2 p.m. November 2 at the Hall Funeral Home Chapel at Martin. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Watts Martin; two daughters; a sister and three grandchildren.

Fires rage on

Division of Forestry crews and local fire departments have been working around the clock to put out the rash of forest fires in the county. National Guardsmen were expected to arrive in the area Thursday afternoon to offer aerial support to the ground crews. (photo by Susan Allen)

Rock throwers hit school bus

The windshield of a Floyd County school bus carrying about 50 students was broken Tuesday afternoon by someone throwing rocks from a passing vehicle.

Floyd transportation director Earl Ousley said Thursday that a bus traveling near Lancer was hit by rocks thrown from a passing vehicle. The incident occurred near the site of a 1958 bus crash that claimed the lives of 27 students.

"It happened in a real dangerous place," Ousley said. "It was near the site of the bus crash where those children were killed. The driver, Glen Holbrook, did an excellent job of keeping his bus on the road."

Flying glass struck Holbrook but he was not seriously injured, Ousley said.

The incident is under investigation by the Prestonsburg Police Department and Ousley said that he believes that several juveniles have been arrested in connection with the incident.

Trick or treat adult style

Prestonsburg Adult Day Care seniors paid a trick or treat visit to Cieda's Day Care Center Wednesday. The children jumped at the chance to receive their treats from the visitors. It was apparent the two groups enjoyed each other's company. (photo by Susan Allen) ested in getting new industry into the city. He has hopes that a new regional golf course will be built, as well.

"I want to be re-elected to put something back into the city for what I've taken out of it", says Charles G. Hale. A contractor by trade, Mr. Hale has made Prestonsburg his home for most of his life. He thinks that coal is a big industry in this area, but the labor demand is getting slower. He feels that we have to look to alternatives, such as tourism, to help Prestonsburg grow.

Gorman Collins, Sr. hopes that he might be able to add something to the community for the people. He says simply, "I'm 77 years old and I know good from bad."

George Preston Archer is a life-long resident of Prestonsburg. He was administrator of the Archer Clinic for five years. He was a downtown merchant for five years and is still a downtown property owner. Archer says, "I am very interested in dealing with the Kentucky Opry expansion."

It will bring revitalization to the area through tourism-related businesses." He also believes that the new U.S. 23 will help bring new opportunities to us. He hopes to bring small industries to our area to make up for the slump in the coal industry.

Prestonsburg has always been the home of James Clay Osborne. He has served as an assistant engineer at Our Lady of The Way Hospital, as well. Currently, Mr. Osborne is employed by a large wholesale company based in Huntington W.Va. He is very interested in the city government. If elected, he would try "to make sure we have a good form of government and would make sure all people are represented."

William O. Goebel, III, has been a councilman since 1984. He is the dean of the council (the member with the longest tenure), and has only missed six meetings since being elected in '84. He says that serving on the council has been the best experience anyone could have. He says that the Kentucky Opry will "bring people to the city of Prestonsburg to see things that they once could only see in places like Gatlinburg or Nashville." He feels the Opry will help to bring business to the area, as well. Goebel says that the Kentucky Opry will be 90% education. "That alone", states

Goebel, "is success."

Michael D. Vance is a candidate who has already served for four years on the council. He has earned a master's degree in business administration and a bachelor's degree in political science. Vance hopes to serve on the council again "to just be a spokesman for the people who live in town." He says, "I hope to help create a city with identity, jobs, recreational, and cultural activities. I want to make Prestonsburg a good place to live."

The top eight vote-getters in next Tuesday's election will serve two-year terms.

Akers-Johnson

Terry Leigh Akers, daughter of Artis Akers and the late Blanch Mulkey Akers of Dana, and Phillip Johnson, son of Rev. and Mrs. Belmont Johnson of Virgie, wish to announce their forthcoming marriage.

Miss Akers is a 1990 graduate of Pikeville College. She is presently employed by the First Guaranty National Bank.

Mr. Johnson is a 1991 graduate of Pikeville College. He is employed by Mountain Top Baking as a staff accountant.

Wedding vows will be exchanged, 2:00 p.m., Saturday, November 2, 1991, at Boldman Freewill Baptist Church, Harold, Kentucky.

The reception will follow in the dining hall of the church.

The gracious custom of an open wedding will be observed. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

In an unrelated incident, Jerry Dale Hall, 36, of Galveston was shot one time in the leg allegedly by his brother, Edgar Hall, 39, of Teaberry Wednesday afternoon. Jerry Hall was shot at his home after a dispute with his brother at approximately 4:30 p.m., said a state police report.

Jerry Hall was admitted to McDowell Appalachian Regional Hospital where his is listed in stable condition.

Edgar Hall was arrested at the scene and charged with assault by KSP trooper Mike Thorpe.

The incident is under investigation by detective Les Stapleton.

Liberty of thought is the life of the soul—Voltaire

Editorial :

Only you . . .

by Scott Perry

It was a dark and smokey night Tuesday as we drove along Route 23.

In the distance, the flames of a forest fire outlined the ridgetops.

The scene took us back a couple of Novembers to another smokey night when we stumbled through the woods with volunteer firefighters, National Guardsmen and Forestry Department workers, raking fire breaks and smothering embers as trees exploded in flames.

We were impressed at how quickly these men and women, mostly volunteers, went about their business of stamping out forest fires, without complaint and despite the assurance that as soon as one was out another would begin.

In the morning the scene was devastating.

Hundreds of acres and millions of dollars worth of hardwood was destroyed, but the real truth was in the faces of the firefighters.

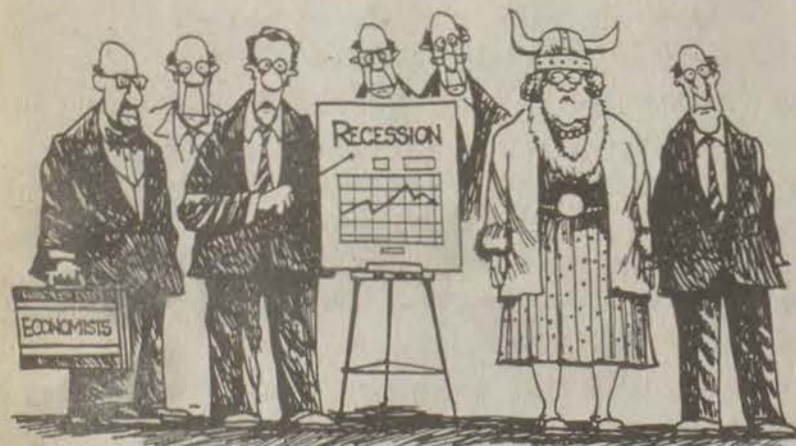

Eyes reddened by smoke, faces blackened by soot and shoulders hunched by fatigue, they kept up the fight and prayed for rain.

We were thankful that night for such people and we thought about them again Tuesday night as the distant hilltops glowed.

Ahead of us a car window was rolled down, a cigarette was flipped out and a shower of sparks drifted upward to the trees.

People don't cause forest fires.

Idiots do.

Death cancels everything but truth....

U.K. Professor Pessimistic About The Future of Eastern Europe

By: Thomas D. Matijasic
P.C.C. Professor

Curtis E. Harvey, a Professor of Economics at the University of Kentucky, addressed the topic of Eastern Europe in transition at a Saturday Seminar held at the U.K. Student Center on October 19. Even though he considers the fall of the Soviet empire "the most significant global event since 1945," he maintained that for the moment, "things are in a terrible state of disarray." Harvey firmly believes that the new democracies of the region are not prepared for the shock of free market competition.

The problems faced by East European nations in their transition to capitalism include a lack of private ownership, millions of unproductive workers, currency inflation, a lack of energy resources, and the absence of market rules. In Russia alone, the inflation rate is running at 50% per month. The Poles and the Czechs are dependent upon high sulfur coal and many East European nations are still using outdated nuclear technology.

The region also lacks laws dealing with bankruptcy, pension systems, accounting and banking. Harvey believes that the transition to capitalism will take at least 15 to 20 years.

Harvey reported that few East Europeans desire to use the U.S. economy as their model. Most want some degree of government intervention in their economies. Harvey noted that even in Western Europe, industries associated with power, defense, communications and transportation were under the control of government agencies.

Harvey recommended that the nations of Eastern Europe take a staged approach as they move toward free market economies. He urged their leaders to gradually privatize business, reduce government deficits, create market institutions, and to allow prices to reflect the true cost of production. However, he predicted that if the distribution channels begin to break-down this winter, Europe could witness a mass migration of people to the West.

Perkins Announces Grant for "Destination Graduation"

A $390,813 grant has been awarded to Destination Graduation by the U.S. Department of Education (DOE) to continue its program to help secondary students in danger of dropping out. Rep. Chris Perkins announced today. The award marks the second time DOE has approved Destination Graduation's application for a three-year grant.

The Destination Graduation program is administered by Kentucky's Council on Higher Education, and serves the Fifth and Seventh Congressional Districts in Kentucky. The Seventh District will receive $194,957 of the total grant.

"One of the most serious problems in Eastern Kentucky is the high dropout rate in secondary schools. I'm very pleased Destination Graduation has received this grant, because they have done a tremendous job in working to reduce the dropout rate," Perkins said. "But I know this grant would not have been possible without the dedicated people that work in this program. They deserve all the credit for making it happen."

A spokesman with the Kentucky Council on Higher Education said 14 universities participate in the program. Schools in the 7th District includes: Morehead State University, Pikeville College, the Community Colleges in Maysville, Ashland, Prestonsburg, and Hazard and Southeast Community College in Whitesburg. The University of Kentucky submitted the grant application.

The spokesman said the program is unique because college students themselves are involved in it. The college students tutor secondary students who are "at-risk" for dropping out in core subjects such as math, English and study skills. The tutors work with local secondary schools to work out a tutoring schedule for secondary students in the program.

The CHE spokesman added that the program, now beginning its fourth year, will see students graduate for the first time. Many are the same students who were in ninth grade at the time Destination Graduation was started. The withdrawal rate of students involved with Destination Graduation is improving on the region's overall dropout rate of 36%, the spokesman added.

Floyd County Arts

Traveling the distance

Bob and Carolyn Walsh with the Sailor's Valentine Gallery on Nantucket Island, dropped into Floyd County Tuesday to view the artwork of Russell Rice of East Point. Rice is a cane maker and is fast gaining a reputation for his quality craftsmanship. Also pictured are canes which Rice is currently completing. Rice put 24 hours of work into carving the cane and 3 hours into painting it. The Diamond Back rattler measures 7'11" as it climbs its way to feast on the owl perched atop the stick.

Bob and Carolyn Walsh, with Sailor's Valentine Gallery on Nantucket Island, visited Floyd County Arts' member Russell Rice. This was the Walshs' second visit to Rice's home to view his art work.

Walsh said she heard about Rice's cane craftsmanship through Morehead University where Rice's canes have been on display. Walsh was impressed by the quality of Rice's work and noted that his canes are "some of the best I've ever seen anywhere — old or new."

Walsh's gallery specializes in American Folk Art. "We're interested in artists working with contemporary art. There's a real fascination in comparing today's art with some of the older work," said Mrs. Walsh.

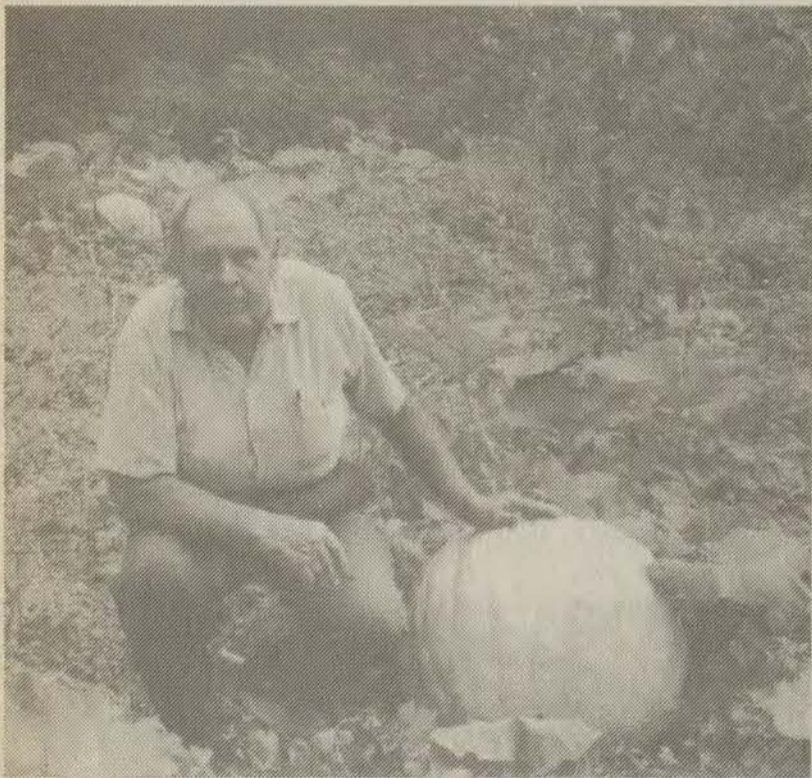

"When you think of folk art, you think of quilts, whirligigs, and walking sticks. This art form evolved socially. Women made quilts to keep their families warm. Men, caring for their family in their own way, made walking sticks," she said.

Over the years, she explained, "function became secondary to design." Canes were valued for their designs and not their functions. The snake cane which Rice is currently working on weighs approximately 20-25 pounds.

Mrs. Walsh said she enjoys traveling to Eastern Kentucky to meet people like Rice and finds Morehead an "invaluable resource." Finding folk artists is "like poking around in a dark closet," said Walsh. Morehead locates the artists and passes along the address to those like Walsh.

After viewing Rice's work, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh left Combs' airport Tuesday afternoon for Louisville to visit the Kentucky Arts and Crafts Foundation before returning home to Nantucket.

In Memory Of Our Son and Brother Ronnie D. Dotson on his birthday, November 2.

Lord, as I sit here, my heart is in prayer, of the memories of a brother and son, when he was a child.

I can remember the animals that he loved a lot, If he wasn't carrying one, they were following him in a trot.

As he grew from a little boy, up to a young man, he was a joy to be with, for he was such a clown.

Lord, the years have passed, since he has been gone, but memories of him, are still very strong. Our love never weakens, our memories are still strong, for our brother and son that has gone from home.

We are so thankful, Lord, that you gave us the years, to have many pictures and memories of this brother and son we so dearly loved.

With our hearts and our minds, we can still see his face, as he walked thru the door with a smile on his face.

The Rape Victims Services Program of the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center will be conducting a training for volunteer advocates on December 3, 4, 5, and 6 from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the agency's new offices on Front Street in Prestonsburg. Anyone interested in attending the training or needing more information may contact Eileen Recktenwald at 886-8572, extension 330.

Adopt-A-Highway

On November 2 at 10:00, the Mount Tabor Benedictines will be cleaning up a portion of Hwy. 80, beginning at Bucks Branch and ending 2 miles west on Hwy. 80. They would like people to drive slow while they are cleaning up the highway.

Kentucky Cities Honored in Louisville

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce will honor 78 Kentucky cities at the annual Certified Cities luncheon at the Galt House East in Louisville at noon on Thursday, October 31. Mayors, county judges, and community leaders will accept their city's awards.

Each year, cities enlist in the program to seek help in determining their strengths and eliminating their weaknesses. Cities are evaluated in the areas of tourism and industrial development, chamber organization, community planning, utilities and infrastructure, downtown revitalization, and community appearance. Nine communities have earned the Certified Cities status for the first time this year after passing a comprehensive evaluation. Awards will also be given for innovation in community projects and a "Hall of Fame" status for cities that have shown a commitment to long-range strategic economic development planning.

The Certified Cities program is a nationally award-winning, private sector initiative sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber. More than 100 communities have benefited from the Certified Cities program since its inception in 1981, and among the cities honored were Paintsville, Prestonsburg and Pikeville.

For more information contact Bob Elliston at the Kentucky Chamber, at 502/695-4700.

THE HOME OF THE BRAVES

It's been a long time since sports enthusiasts have been exposed to a more enjoyable though exhausting World Series. By the time you read this, it will all be over for another year. But as I write, the Atlanta Braves are ahead 3 games to 2, and the teams are in route to the Metrodome for the final game (or games) of the series.

Unfortunately, the games in Atlanta have been marred by the demonstrations outside the stadium. Native Americans (Indians) are on the warpath against the Atlanta fans' use of tomahawks, face paint, and chants as they cheer their team to victory. For a race of people who have been ignored for years, you'd think any attention they'd get would be appreciated. Right?

Wrong, Paleface. I ask you, how would the Cleveland Indians sound if they were referred as the Cleveland Dirty Lakers? And the Washington Redskins would lose credibility if they were called the Washington Yellow Bellies. Remember when the Dodgers moved to L.A.? Half the United States still refer to them as the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Speaking unbiassedly, I can't help but wonder where these native Americans were when the teams were naming themselves? Okay, so they were on reservations trying to fend off unsolicited attacks by unfriendly invaders. And I'll concede that they were probably in no position to protest the use of their names, but geez! It's been almost 100 years. Why bring it up when the Braves are close to winning a pennant?

Many Americans feel more strongly than I do about the demonstrations. Former President Jimmy Carter refused to bend to their demands telling reporters that he would be participating in the "Tomahawk Chop". And movie actress and Indian advocate Jane Fonda, Braves owner Ted Turner's main squeeze, didn't relinquish her hatchet when game four got under way. Why should she? She knows what side her Tofu is buttered on.

Even though the Indians may think that fans should be tied to the stake and burned for their action, they should really feel honored because, for once, they're receiving positive publicity that could be used to their advantage.

Just think of all the talk shows they could book. Donahue could have the Indians on his program addressing real problems such as; smoke signals depleting the ozone, buffalo meats contribution to baldness, or how to maintain a wigwam on little or no wampum.

It goes without saying that Gerardo would exploit them. In fact, to hear the old "tepee creeper" himself tell it, he's practically been intimate with half the Seminole Nation.

The Indian's best bet would be to appear on Oprah's show and tell how they were abused by the white man. A panel composed of General Custer's descendants could be used for rebuttal - if there are any.

Truthfully, as an eastern Kentuckian, I can't understand all the hoopla. The late cartoonist, Al Capp, didn't suffer our wrath when we allowed him to portray us as ignorant, bare-footed hayseeds in his comic strip. We also didn't converge upon New York and lynch the president of C.B.S. when newsmen waded into our region and painted the worst picture anybody could paint of a depressed area.

Anyway, next week - Indians protest or not - it will all be history. I'm rooting for a Braves' victory, but if they lose I'm willing to bury the hatchet for another year and look ahead to basketball season. Speaking of basketball, you don't think the Wildcats are going to have a worry about animal activists, do you?

Mayo to Hold Special Testing

Mayo State Vocational-Technical School will be holding a special testing day for applicants interested in the Practical Nursing Program and our proposed Respiratory Care Technician Program on Monday, November 11 at the Mayo Auditorium at 8:00 a.m. The test will be free of charge. For more information call Sue Garland at the Mayo School.

IN-SERVICE DAYS

Anyone that is in the teaching field has found at one time or another, reasons to hate in-service days. For the most part they are presented by people who are in a hurry to get somewhere else and attended by teachers who wish they would hurry up and get there. There are, however, on rare occasions, in-service days that neither of the above criteria applies. Such was the case in the meeting that Dr. Charles Whitaker from Eastern Kentucky University conducted for the language arts teachers of Floyd County this past Saturday at Jenny Wiley State Park Lodge.

It was apparent from the outset that Dr. Whitaker was very enthusiastic about his topic and not in any kind of hurry to rush through the material. The material was doubly important since it concerned writing and the new assessment phase of KERA. Teachers who attended this meeting came away feeling much better about teaching writing and the assessment that will be done on writing this coming spring. They also came away feeling better about themselves and their students.

All presenters give handouts. That is a given, but Dr. Whitaker has a novel idea: he gives handouts that wind up in the hands of the students. These handouts are designed to help students get through the process of completing a writing assignment. Many of the suggestions that Dr. Whitaker made were about things that I already use in my classes. Included in these are class reading time, recreational reading, talk days, and conferencing. It was reassuring to know that I was doing some things that are known to be effective learning strategies.

The teachers and Dr. Whitaker analyzed a letter that one of his students had written to him about her writing. We pick out both the positive and negative aspects of the writing. When we finished the comparison we found that it had more positives than negatives. This experiment was an eye opener for me. For one thing it made me feel that I don't grace too easily after all. For another thing it drove home more forcefully the idea that writing is more than misspelled words, sentence fragments and verb tenses. I jokingly said to Dr. Whitaker, "What we have discovered is that this work is more better than it is bad." What can anyone say to a silly statement like that? Not much! He couldn't either.

Dr. Whitaker has a writing strategy that I am excited about trying. He has his students write him letters about their assignments. He has a number of letter formats that students use. The students and teacher write back an forth about the writing that is going on in class. This tells me many things, but the number one thing I get out of this is how much he cares about those students in his class.

Since am a cluster leader for portfolios which is one of the new ways for grading writing, I will more than likely be seeing more of Dr. Whitaker. He has agreed to come back to Floyd County and help. It behooves the Floyd County Board and the language arts teachers in this county to take advantage of this man's expertise. He knows what he is talking about.

Dr. Whitaker emphasized the effectiveness of letter writing over and over. Trying to be as good a student as I could, I wrote a letter. I expressed my appreciation for the information that he furnished. I also invited him back. Oh, and one last thing. He liked my jokes: the man has made a friend for life.

Allen Central at KFWC Art Show

The annual Kentucky Federation of Woman's Clubs Art Show is being held at May Lodge this year. Students from Floyd County and surrounding counties are eligible to participate. Allen Central has selected four categories to enter.

An acrylic painting by Michael Frasure, a watercolor by Michael Ousley, and a pastel drawing by Chuck Compton were winners of the school competition. Their work was on display at Jenny Wiley State Park on October 28. All are members of special art under Mrs. Caralita O'Quinn.

ACHS Academic Team

The 1991-92 season appears promising for the Allen Central Academic Team. Although many team members graduated last year, A.C.H.S. made a good showing at the October meets of the Jenny Wiley Academic Conference. Allen Central students placing in the written assessment competition were Robert Sexton, 1st place math; Roy John Martin, 2nd place social studies; Heather Watson, 2nd place math and 2nd place language arts. The quick recall team has achieved a 3-1 record this season. Quick recall members include Heather Watson, Melissa Corbett, Nathan Elliott, Roy John Martin, Diane Martin, Phillip Chaffins, Tonya Griffith, Dewayne Shepherd, Patrick Collins, Josh Flanery, Donnie Wallen, and Brad Blackburn.

Spirit Week gives way to Senior Night at ACHS

During the week of October 14th through the 18th the Allen Central High School participated in spirit week. Spirit Week is a week set aside where students take part in numerous activities to lift the Rebel spirit before the big games. Monday everybody wore their college sweat shirts, Tuesday was costume day, Wednesday was hillbilly day, Thursday was school color day and Friday was clash day. During the Homecoming Game as the seniors were recognized, the Rebel spirit was alive and well! The senior football players recognized were Robbie Sexton, Shawn Baily, Keith Griffith, James Howard, Brad Scott, Paul Akers, Kenny Crum and Diane Martin, the manager. Others recognized were the cheer leaders, Mika Gayheart, Ronica Reed, Tonya Crum and Jane Gray. Also the Majorettes, Millison Ratliff, Allison Ratliff and Millie Gibson.

ACHS students participate in program at Holiday Inn

On Sunday, October 6, five students from Allen Central High School had the opportunity to meet with Michael Haynes, director of the State MCA. Mr. Haynes lectured on the problems facing the students' school and community. Mr. Haynes also provided information concerning the State Youth Assembly. This is a program which allows students to participate in a mock presentation of the state legislature. Students from Clay County, Magoffin County, The Plarist School, and Prestonsburg High School also participated in the program. The students representing Allen Central High School were Melissa Corbett, John Paul Dove, Traci Hicks, Kevin Hughes, and Jessica Wade. Mr. Danny O'quinn, teacher at Allen Central, also attended the program.

Allen Central Equity Project

Allen Central High is one of two Kentucky schools which have a very special project for the 1991-92 school year. A voluntary team of teachers are pioneering efforts to enhance equity for girls in math, science and computers. The group has studied research from Princeton University, M.I.T., California Polytechnical Institute, and the U.S. Department of Labor which shows the relationship of mathematics, science and technology learning on the student's future earning power in the job market.

The changing demographics of American economics includes more and more women entering the job market, and with a better grasp of technology learning, female students will possess skills that are more highly marketable. Statistics show that Eastern Kentucky has a high percentage of families headed by females; therefore, the group of teachers see the need to become more aware of gender-bias in the classroom and to encourage female students to excel in these areas of study.

The project involves math teachers, Pamela Frasure, Charlotte Moore, James Spurlock; science teacher, Lowell Martin; computer teachers, Rita Osborne, Stanton Watson (Duff Elementary) and trainer, Joyce Watson. The project is part of a national project Mrs. Watson attended during the summer at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The group recently received funding for training from the Mathematics and Science Alliance mini-grants.

ACHS Oktoberfest

Autumn is a time for festivals and A.C.H.S. German students incorporated an Oktoberfest with their monthly German club meeting. Although Allen Central's Oktoberfest may not have been as authentic as those held in Munich, it presented an opportunity for the students to learn about German culture. Activities included singing German songs (including Mozart's ABC song) and eating foods associated with German culture. Traditionally, the Oktoberfest has been hosted by the German II class.

German club officers were elected for the 1991-92 school year. The following officers were elected: Pal Johnson, president; Jennifer Goble, vice-president; Heather Watson, secretary; and James Howard, treasurer.

Melvin Highlights

Welcome

Welcome to our new staff members, Mr. Walter Bentley, principal, Mrs. Colleen Johnson, kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Eloise Branham, kindergarten aide, Mrs. Mary Dawson, Write to Read aide, and Mrs. Clara Tufts, library aide. These people have already become a tremendous asset to our school.

S.B.D.M. Council

Our School Based Decision Making Council has been very busy. Since August, our council had hired a principal, a teacher, three aides, and a temporary custodian. Our council, along with special committees, has written and approved a discipline policy, an attendance policy, and the bylaws to govern our Council. A committee is presently working on an extra-curricular policy.

A Needs Assessment Committee completed its work and several needs stated have already been accomplished.

We are presently finalizing our goals and budget for 1991-92.

Our P.T.O. has already begun to function. In September, we had an excellent meeting with approximately 35-40 parents present. We had our annual Haunted House on October 4 and raised $601.00. Our Fall Festival is scheduled for November 1.

Red, White, and Blue

Miss Shea Couch was elected to represent Melvin Elementary in the Little Miss Contest for the Red, White, and Blue Day activities. Miss Stacey Dawn Johnson was elected as our Junior Miss representative. Good luck, girls!

Duke T.I.P.

Congratulations to Bobby Akers, Jennifer McKinney, and Brent Tackett for qualifying for the Duke University Talent Identification Program. Seventh grade students qualifying for this program are allowed to take the ACT or the SAT along with high school seniors. Students qualify for this program by having high achievement scores on the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills.

Writing Program

Ms. Carol Stumbo is coordinating a writing program for some of our students. Ms. Stumbo will work with homeroom teachers to monitor the writing progress of students throughout the year. Teachers participating in this program will be able to order $500.00 worth of supplies. This project was made possible by a grant received by Ms. Stumbo.

Special Programs

Our Students have enjoyed the following special programs this month:

- (1) The Ronald McDonald Ecology Program.
- (2) The Ninja Turtle Fire Safety Program presented by the Prestonsburg Fire Department.
- (3) The Bus Safety Program presented by the transportation department.

Thanks to all those who made these programs possible.

Allen Central Champions Against Drugs

The Allen Central Champions Against Drugs group has many new and exciting things on the agenda for this year. The group is planning to attend the Red Ribbon Rally in Frankfort on October 23rd to celebrate Red Ribbon week.

They plan to help with the safe trick or treat program at the Holiday Inn, as well as many more activities as the year goes on.

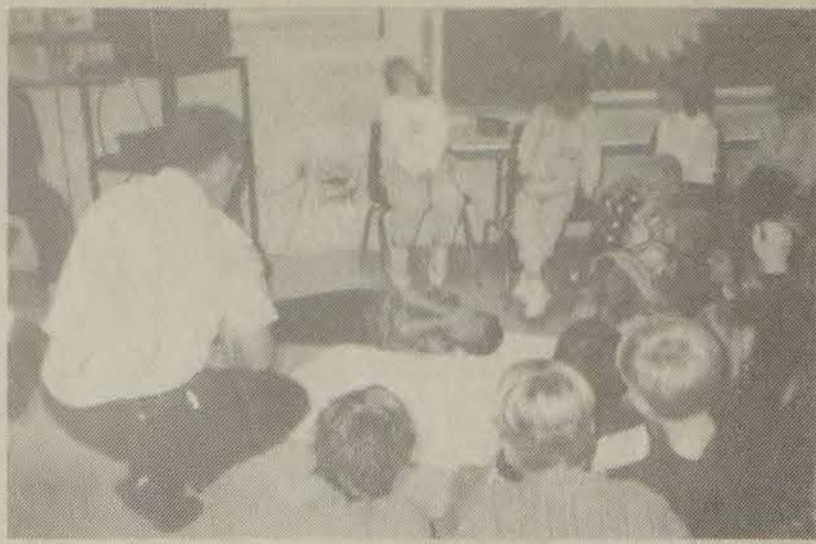

Recently we sent eleven students to the Governors Conference on Drugs and Alcohol and six students to the Regional Teen Leadership Conference. We were also proud to have fifty students march in the Red, White, and Blue Parade in Martin.

The students in Allen Central's Champions Against Drugs are striving to make our school a little better.

New Flags brighten Allen Central campus

The campus of Allen Central was recently improved with new flags. The school now has four new rebel flags, a new Kentucky State flag, and an American flag. The rebel flags were purchased by the Allen Central Beta Club. The Kentucky flag was donated by Russel Bentley and the American Flag was donated by congressman Chris Perkins.

The students and faculty of Allen Central would like to thank the donors of the flags as well as Mr. Monroe Samons, who placed the flags on the poles. Mr. Samons works for the Floyd S. Pike Electrical Contractors, who are bases in Auxier. Thanks to the helpfulness of Mr. Samons and the generosity of the Floyd S. Pike Electrical Contractors as well as the donors of the flags, the Allen Central campus now shines with the pride exhibited by the flags.

Fire Prevention Week

During Fire Prevention Week (October 6-12) Allen Fire Department Captain Joey Reynolds and Firefighters Clarence Elkins, Danny McCoy, Leonard Hall and Craig Harmon went to Allen and Prater Elementary Schools to instruct kids on the proper use of smoke detectors and how to stop, drop and roll. They also showed a film called the "Inspector Detector".

Piarist School announces first quarter honor roll

Piarist School Headmaster Rev. Thomas Carroll announced yesterday that nine students achieved honors during the first quarter of the 1991-92 school year.

The only student earning first honors was sophomore Matthew Hale of Prestonsburg, who had a 3.95 Quality Point Average (QPA). First honors is assigned to those students with a 3.7 QPA or better.

The eight students attaining second honors each earned a QPA above 3.0 and they were: Sophomores, Leigh Ann Blackburn of Betsy Layne, Duran Bryant of Harold, and Tara Pickrel Bohr of Martin. Freshmen, Elizabeth Blackburn of Prestonsburg, Robbie Freels of Prestonsburg, Michael Sanders of Prestonsburg, Marisa Tindler of Martin, and Wendy Vanderpool of Drift.

The Piarist School is a private, college preparatory school in Martin.

ACHS participates in Math Day at EKU

On Wednesday, October 16, students from Allen Central High School participated in Math Day at Eastern Kentucky University. They enjoyed a full day of excitement and fun on the university's campus. Activities included: Fractals, statistical game rooms, biology, medical technology, a mathematical game rooms, and a tour of the campus that included seeing some of the dorms.

The following students as members of the math club participated in the trip: Heather Watson, Jessica Wade, Stacie Moore, Cathy Allen, Jenny Wiley, Mika Gayheart, Ronica

Allen Central Cross-Country Teams

Although Allen Central didn't have enough girls to participate as a team. Their doing well with two individuals, Jessica Wade and Jenny Wiley. Both girls finished in the top ten. Jessica Wade finished with two, 1st place ribbons and one, 3rd place. Jenny Wiley finished with two 6th place ribbons and one 5th. The Allen Central Boys Cross Country team are hard to reckon with. They consist of a lot of young boys and have a successful future ahead of them. Stewart Hall, Kenny Scarberry, Mike Allen, Jeremy Hall, Jeremy Clark, Todd Howard, Chris Halbert, Kevin Stumbo, Josh Hansford, Donovan Hall, Trevor Fitch, Carl Watkins, Philip Patton, Gary Webb, Jackie Webb, Donnie Combs, Eric Cathers, Brian Conn, Claude Webb, Larry Patton, Glen Floyd, Kevin Martin, David Martin, David Moore, Keith Compton, Steve Turner, and Ronnie Samons.

Allen Central will participate in the Regional Meet November 2 at Oneida Baptist High School. Girls will run at 1:00 p.m. and Boys will run at 1:30 p.m.

Debbie Bradley's kindergarten class at Maytown Elem. enjoyed learning fire safety from the Ninja Turtles. Mrs. Bradley has since transferred to Harold. We sure miss her.

The Prestonsburg Fire Department presented a fire safety program at Maytown Elementary's lower grades. Many important messages about fire were presented in a "fun way".

Maytown Elementary received a special visit from Ronald McDonald recently. Ronald presented a program on ecology entitled "Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle". The classroom teachers conducted follow-up lessons on how to save our earth.

FHA holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Allen Central High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America was held on October 18. The officers for 1991-92 are Leann Francis, president; Kelly Fitzpatrick, vice-president of programs; Cathy Twiss, vice-president of achievement; Amanda Waddle, vice-president of STAR events; Renee Meadows, secretary; Stephanie Scott, treasurer; Jennifer Carroll, reporter; Myra Patton, parliamentarian; Chrystal Mullins, historian; and Evelyn Howard, activity leader.

Various club projects and activities were discussed. Club projects will focus on the following five areas: safety, environment issues, emphasis on health and wellness, career awareness, and special populations. Plans were discussed to take field trips to the University of Kentucky and Eastern Kentucky University for career awareness. The members voted to participate in the Adopt-A-Highway project and to create fire and stranger safety programs for elementary students. Committees were appointed to work on the by-laws of the organization, finances and budget, program of work, recreation, STAR events, degrees, and publicity. Regional, state, and national activities were outlined for the year.

The next meeting will be on November 11th. A demonstration on crafts for Christmas and a presentation on dating violence are on the agenda for the meeting.

The Allen Central Chapter would welcome any community or business suggestions for future projects and activities. If anyone has any suggestions call Mrs. Janet Bowling at ACHS 358-9543.

Golf Team

Allen Central is proud of this year's golf team. The team members are: Stewart Hall, Robbie Sexton, Phillip Ritchie, and Jason Martin. The team finished 10th out of the 21 teams in the regional tournament held at Paintsville Country Club.

McDowell Academic Team

McDowell Elementary's Academic Team got off to an early start this year with the selection of team members. The team will be participating in the Jenny Wiley Academic Conference, as well as the Kentucky Academic Association, a division of Governor's Cup competition.

Returning 8th graders are Rachelle Howell, Penny Pajel, and Brandon Stumbo.

Seventh grade members are Jessica Frazier, Jada Hall, Michael Hall, Brandon Howell, Jessica Maldonado, and Nathaniel Meade.

In addition to 7th and 8th grade members, several new 6th graders have been selected for the team. The team practices weekly and is looking forward to competition at the first meet on November 2.

McDowell's coach for the 1991-92 season is Kitty Frazier.

This is the last time I will be speaking to many of you, at least through the Times, before we all go to the polls. In 4 days (November 5th, 1991) YOU will choose the city council you want to guide the city for the next 2 years. These 8 council members will want and need YOUR ideas and hopes so that YOU will get the kind of local city government you want.

I would like to see a record turnout for the election, because the only way YOU or I have of helping OUR hometown is by VOTING for the leaders of OUR choice. Your government NEEDS to hear YOUR voice. Through YOUR vote, your message will be heard not only by the new council, but by your friends and neighbors. Loud and clear it will say, "I CARE, I WANT A HOMETOWN WITH A FUTURE FOR MY FAMILY AND FRIENDS!"

I want to help to build the kind of future I have been talking about. I want to make a difference, not for myself, but for ALL OF US. This is, after all, OUR HOMETOWN. Please vote next Tuesday.

At Sports
by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

SOLER LEAPS OUT OF AC GYM...

Egg on my face! Tony Soler has graduated from the Allen Central Rebels basketball team and all the time I thought that Tony would be coming back this year for the Rebels. Will that affect my picking Allen Central third in the conference? Nope! The Rebels will still be a solid contender this year.

CAN BELFRY REPEAT AS 15TH REGION CHAMP...

On paper the Pirates have to be the region's favorite. However, I feel there will be several teams this year that will challenge that right. In two weeks in the Times sports section, I will have some of the sports editors and broadcasters from around the region pick who they feel will be the top 10 boys basketball teams in the 15th Region. Should be interesting.

WPRG-TV TO SHOW
PLAYOFFS IF...

If the Prestonsburg Blackcats are the top team in District 2 and host the first game of the playoffs, Dr. Don Bevin says that he will be right there with his television camera to record all the action for delay telecasting. Says Bevin, "we will show both playoff games from Prestonsburg."

MCDOWELL SCHEDULE TO INCLUDE
NEW YORK TEAM...

A new twist in mountain basketball. Ripley Central High School out of New York will travel all the way to Floyd County to face the McDowell Daredevils in basketball.

"I received a letter from their coach indicating they wanted to play someone from around here," explained McDowell coach Johnny Ray Turner. "So I called him and we worked out the game." The game is scheduled for December 27.

Turner said that he has reserved rooms for them at the Jenny Wiley Lodge.

ALLEN GYM TRIMMED IN PURPLE...

Someone told me that an interior decorator decided the colors to trim the new Allen gym in. Allen's colors are green and white, yet the gym is trimmed in purple. There could only be two interior decorators with that in their blood and that is Steve Halbert and David Mosley who played for the Purple Flash at Martin.

I've heard a lot of good things about the new gym. If any school needed a gym it was Allen, unless of course Prater Creek. They have their outdoor court.

GAMES BEING CANCELED ALREADY...

Grade school games are being canceled around the county already and for no real reason. Maytown canceled out both games with Osborne and then canceled out both games with McDowell. To replace the canceled games is a little too late. Once a schedule is made out it should be played accordingly.

That is why the county athletic director should be the one that oversees the schedule making. And then sees to it that it is played. Still, some teams are looking for games to play because "no one in the county will play us."

HOPKINS TO DEVOTE TIME TO MCDOWELL
BASKETBALL...

Citing a conflict in scheduling, long time Martin Elementary basketball coach Jimmy Hopkins has stepped down. Doug Derossett has assumed the helm of the boys varsity squad that is off to a 5-0 start. Hopkins quit to devote more time to the McDowell basketball program where he is an assistant to coach Johnny Ray Turner. Hopkins son, Dougie, plays for the Daredevils and is in his senior year.

"When they moved the county grade school tournament to January," explained Hopkins, "I would have had problems in coaching at Martin and helping out here at McDowell." Hopkins said had there being no scheduling conflict that he would have remained as coach at Martin this season.

Jimmy has done a great job, not only for Martin basketball, but for basketball all over the county. His teams have been consistently competitive through the years. He certainly has paid his dues in the elementary system and I still contend that he deserved a shot, a long time ago, for a high school coaching job. Hopkins will coach the junior varsity team at McDowell as well as helping Coach Turner.

Until Friday, be good sports and all the way Blackcats.

Local Angler Tee Watkins Moves Up The Red Man Ladder

by Chris Altman

Noted Prestonsburg angler Tee Watkins moved one step closer to competing, once again, in the $100,000 Red Man All-American bass fishing tournament this week when he travels to Virginia's Kerr Reservoir.

Watkins hit the water Wednesday and Thursday to practice for the Red Man Regional Tournament to be held today and tomorrow (Saturday). A model of angling consistency this year, Watkins placed in the top 50 (out of approximately 360 anglers) in five of the six qualifying tournaments in Red Man's Mountain Division. Two 12th place finishes, one on Tennessee's Watts Bar Lake and the other on Fort Loudon in Knoxville, thrust him into 14th place in the division and ensured his berth to the Red Man Regional.

The Operation Bass Red Man Tournament Trail is a wickedly competitive national tournament series designed for the grass roots angler. In essence, the country is divided into 20 divisions, and up to 360 anglers in each division compete against each other in a series of six qualifying tournaments. Following those six tournaments, the top 30 anglers from each division advance to one of four regional tournaments. Ultimately, the top 10 anglers from each region compete in the Red Man All-American, a tournament boasting the nation's largest cash prize awarded to a single angler. The All-American victor will not only garner the satisfaction of being proclaimed the top Red Man angler of the year, but will also take home a check for $100,000.

Tee Watkins is no stranger to the Red Man circuit. In the 1990 season, his success in the Mountain Division earned him a spot to the Red Man Regional Tournament on Alabama's Demopolis Lake. A fifth place finish there secured his "all expense paid" trip to the Red Man All-American in Buffalo, New York. In that tournament, held in June of this year on the Niagara River and Lake Erie, Watkins not only finished in 19th place with a catch weighing 16-pounds, 12 ounces, but also caught the largest bass of the tournament. That four pound, five ounce smallmouth merited him a check for $1000 and a gift certificate from Browning Sporting Goods Company in the amount of $3000.

"The fishing at Kerr is going to be awfully tough," Watkins says. "I practiced there a few weekends ago and only caught four fish that would have bettered the 14 inch minimum size limit. I think that a five fish limit each day of the tournament would get me into the Red Man All-American, but that's going to be tough to do. To win this tournament, I believe it will take at least 24 pounds of fish."

Watkins is competing in one of four regional tournaments held across the country. The top 10 finishers from each regional contest will travel to Muskogee, Oklahoma, in June of next year to compete in the Red Man All-American.

Now 37, Watkins began fishing the Red Man circuit nine years ago. A switchman for South Central Bell by profession, Watkins' avocation is bass fishing. Already feared by local tournament competitors, Watkins is now gaining a national reputation and enjoys sponsorships from Nitro boats and DuPont "Siren" fishing line. His skill and expertise have warranted his inclusion into several national articles in such magazines as BASSMASTER and NORTH AMERICAN FISHERMAN.

M.C. Napier Navajos Invades Prestonsburg

When the 1991 football season got underway good things were expected of the Prestonsburg Blackcats with some very good talent coming back from last year. With the array of talent some were predicting a 8-2, 7-3, 9-1 and even a 10-0 season.

After the first four games hope turned to despair. Gladness to gloom. High expectations to confusion.

It all began at Estill County where the Blackcats were to face a new opponent in the Engineers. What resulted was a 21-2 surprise at the hands of Estill County. In fact, the only points for Prestonsburg was a safety. Prestonsburg started out with what became a problem for them in the first four games—moving inside the 10 yard line and losing the football. Another item: only 147 yards rushing on 28 carries. Blackcat quarterback Aaron Tucker had a respectable 82 yards passing.

Trying to forget the Estill County game, the Blackcats went back to the practice field in preparation for a visit from powerful Middlesboro. The Yellowjackets walked away with a 30-0 shutout over the young Blackcats. Top rusher for the game—Dwayne Garza with 38 yards on eight carries.

Having dropped their first two games, it was time to enter the all important district race with a very tough Whitesburg team. Having been stung by one Yellowjacket team, the Blackcats tried to avoid a repeat against Whitesburg.

Prestonsburg looked like a different ballclub on the Whitesburg field. In fact, the game was theirs except for the final 3:52 of the game. That's when Whitesburg quarterback Jason Rose directed a drive that started on his own 34 yard line and marched his squad 66 yards for the game winning touchdown. A break down in down field coverage (after playing great defense the first three quarters) allowed Rose to pick out his receivers. It resulted in a heart breaking 23-19 loss for Prestonsburg and an unexpected 0-3 record.

Although Prestonsburg looked much better against Whitesburg, Phillip Haywood would bring his Belfry Pirates and their reputation to Blackcat Stadium. Improvement was the signal although the score would not indicate such. The Blackcats dropped three TD passes that could have made the score a little more respectable than the 48-20 final.

Now the Blackcats stood at 0-4 and thoughts turned to "would it be a disaster year? Questions began to be asked. Should there be changes on the offensive line, defensive line? Do the Blackcats lack the aggressiveness to be a winning football team? What's wrong with a team with so much talent?"

Getting well was in order for Prestonsburg as Betsy Layne, Shelby Valley and Magoffin County was the next three on the Blackcats schedule. A 61-22 win over Betsy Layne was definitely a confidence booster for the Blackcats and the beginning of a new second half as the Cats reeled off five consecutive wins. A road trip to always tough Shelby Valley and an outstanding performance by the Blackcats resulted in a 26-13 win over the Wildcats. Now the Cats were 2-4 with Magoffin County coming to town.

The Hornets under new coach Pete Greene, and in a rebuilding year themselves, provided the opposition on Homecoming night. The Blackcats would rack up 356 yards on the ground and 74 in the air for 430 yards of offense enroute to a 63-0 wounding of Magoffin County.

But many began to say that "the real test will come next week when

Vance, Off Bench Sparks McDowell Past Allen 37-36

One game earlier, Coley Vance stood at the free throw line with a chance to send his team into overtime against the Auxier Hornets. Vance miss-fired on the second charity toss and the Daredevils fell. This time, however, Vance came off the McDowell bench and sparked his team to a 37-36 win over a good Allen Eagle team Tuesday night at McDowell as part of the Shoot-Out at the E.P. Grigsby gym.

Vance scored eight points with some clutch baskets down the stretch for McDowell. With the Daredevils up by one point, 23-22, Vance hit a basket on a drive to make it 25-22, and then his free throw snapped a 25-25 tie to start his team on a 7-0 run with Vance getting the final two points in the run. Vance scored three points in the third period to help his team keep a one point advantage over the Eagles.

Allen, playing only their second game of the season with limited practice, stayed with the Daredevils throughout the game. The Eagles fell behind by seven points, 32-25, but baskets by Tony Craft and James Jarrell before the end of the third period cut the lead to three, 32-29.

Chris Moore hit a jumper to start the fourth quarter to give McDowell a 34-29 lead but Timmy Nunnemaker's two free throws cut the lead back to three. Vance's solo lay up made it a 36-31 game before Corey Patton cut it back to three with his two-pointer. Vance hit the front end of a bonus free throw for a four point game and then the Daredevils missed three straight front end bonus shots as Nunnemaker's free throw and a basket by John Hurd, who just entered the game, cut the lead to one, 37-36. Allen could not get another shot off as time expired.

McDowell got field goals from Terrance Mullins and Mike Stevens to take a 4-0 first quarter lead. Back to back two-pointer by Patton tied the game and T.T. Pack's basket gave McDowell a 6-4 first quarter lead as play was ragged in the first period.

Allen came out hot the second period and scored the first six points to assume a 10-6 lead. Patton, Jarrell and Chad Spurlock hit field goals for the Eagles. McDowell reeled off six unanswered points to go back on top 12-10 before Brandon Kinzer hit a long one-hander to tie the game at 12-12. After a Chris Moore free throw, Allen went on top 15-13 on Patton's free throw and Keith Marsillett's field goal.

Ryan Adams hit a shot underneath and Mullins lay up put McDowell up by two, 17-15, before Jarrell's basket and a free throw by Nunnemaker gave Allen a 18-17 lead at the half. Nick Little and Mullins scored back-to-back baskets to begin the second half for a 21-18 McDowell lead. Nunnemaker cut the lead to one, 21-20 with a basket as the lead went back and forth.

Mullins led McDowell (6-2) with 12 points and Vance added eight. Moore finished with seven points for the Daredevils.

Patton and Nunnemaker each scored nine points to lead the Eagles (1-1) in scoring. Jarrell added six points and Spurlock scored four.

McDowell will visit Betsy Layne Monday evening and Allen will travel to Auxier on Thursday.

Crawford Leads Duff Past Maytown

Maytown coach Rick Hancock could do nothing but shake his head as he watched his team continue to miss at the free throw line against the Duff Bulldogs Tuesday night in the McDowell Shoot-Out at McDowell.

The Wildcats had just come off a horrible night of shooting against Harold the previous night. Maytown hit on only 12 of 42 charity attempts in the game against the Red Devils. But things weren't better percentage wise, even though Maytown shot fewer free throws, against Duff. The Wildcats hit only seven of 23 free throw attempts and most of those came in the first half. Maytown hit five of 16 attempts in the first half.

Duff held a 26-8 lead at the half but the Wildcats look like a determined ballclub as they came onto the court in the third period. Chad Martin hit his first bucket of the game and after Todd Bingham scored for Duff, Maytown put on a rally by scoring 12 unanswered points to cut the lead to six, 28-22. Kyle Turner broke the drought for the Bulldogs with a free throw. Duff scored the next four points for a 33-22 lead at the end of the third period.

An 8-2 run by Duff early in the fourth quarter opened up the game for the Bulldogs as they coasted to their 54-28 win.

Matt Crawford led all scorers with 16 points before he had to leave the game after hitting the bleachers hard in the fourth quarter. Turner added 11 points and Brad Allen scored nine. Cecil Maggard had six points.

Todd Howard led Maytown with eight points. Martin finished with seven and Estill Stumbo scored four.

Maytown will host the Mountain Christian Academy Falcons on Tuesday night for their homecoming festivities. Duff will travel to Martin for a sectional match up Monday evening.

Lady Blackcats Defeat Bobcats

Crystal Layne scored 14 points to lead the Adams Middle School Lady Blackcats to a 42-31 win over the Betsy Layne Elementary Lady Bobcats Monday night at Adams.

After both teams put on a scoring spree in the first quarter, just like that both teams struggled in the second. Adams built a 20-12 lead after the first stanza but could only score four points in the second period to Betsy Layne's one. The two teams played on even terms in the second half.

Misty Price had eight points for the winning Lady Blackcats. Jeanna Fannin and Heather Collins each scored six points.

S. Yates led the Lady Cats with 12 points. C. Hamilton added seven while T. Kidd and C. Scarberry scored four each.

Martin Wins Behind Jenkins, But The Victory Could Be Costly

The Martin Purple Flash kept their perfect record in tact as they rolled past the Osborne Eagles for a 61-32 win for their sixth win without a defeat. It was the play of Thomas Jenkins on both ends of the floor that sparked the Flashes. Jenkins scored 16 points in limited action, but was a force on defense and the boards. Jenkins was all over the court making things happen.

"If he ever learns to square up when he shoots his jumper he will be hard for anyone to stop," said his coach Doug Derossett.

However, the victory had its bitter moments also when starting center Jason Bevins (6'2") went down hard against the bleachers at McDowell and broke his index finger on his right hand. Bevins will be a big loss to the Martin team; for at least two to three weeks. He was taken to the McDowell emergency room where his hand was placed in a temporary cast.

Martin had their way all night as they took a 13-2 first quarter lead and was up 21-5 at the half. Coach Derossett began emptying his bench as all the players saw action. Osborne, who has a good team, showed some signs of a mild comeback early in the fourth quarter when they scored the first seven points. Aaron Hall hit a free throw and field goal and then came back for two more points. Mike Stanley's basket made it a 47-21 game before Martin went on a run to open up a 31 point bulge.

Kevin Robinson scored nine points in the Martin victory while Beau Tackett was impressive with seven points. C. K. Dingus and Adam Coleman each added six points. Wade Damron scored five points.

"I need another player that can come off the bench for me and contribute consistently," explained Derossett. "Wade did a good job for us tonight and he may be that player." Dingus is usually the first player off the Martin bench but Coach Derossett is looking for someone else also.

"If we get into foul trouble we are going to need someone to come and help out on offense," said the Martin mentor.

Arie Michael's eight points led Osborne in scoring while Hall added six points. Don Tackett and Chris Hall each scored four points.

Osborne (0-2) will travel to the Mountain Christian Academy Thursday and Martin (6-0) plays host to Adams on Wednesday night.

Watkins

ter, Watkins is more concerned with helping his fellow anglers whenever possible. Each year, he teaches an instructional class called "The Basics of Bass Fishing", a community service class offered through Prestonsburg Community College. Additionally, Watkins has initiated several anglers into the world of tournament bass angling and has been instrumental in their success. As the Big Sandy Sales Representative for Larry's Marine in Morehead, Watkins also hosts angling seminars at several area boat shows each year.

Watkins, who makes his home in East Point just outside of Prestonsburg, says his number one sponsor is his family. His wife, Sharon Rice Watkins, provides his inspiration and unwavering support, while his son Jeremy and daughter Telah are his most devout fans.

Other area anglers who will competing this weekend in the Red Man Regional include Paul D. Whitt, who finished third in the Mountain Division, and Keith Humble, who placed 16th. Whitt and Humble are both from Salyersville. It is interesting to note that Humble qualified for the red Man Regional in this, his first year of fishing the Red Man circuit. That feat not only moves him one step closer to fishing the coveted Red Man All-American tournament, but also puts him in the running for the tournament trail's Rookie of the Year Award.

The first official basketball game was played in 1891.

Morehead Announces Exhibition Games

The basketball Eagles and Lady Eagles of Morehead State University will be on public display in early November, as both squads will be featured in exhibition contests.

The Eagles of first-year Head Coach Dick Fick are in action first, as they host "Korabel," a national select basketball team from the Ukraine on Saturday, Nov. 9 at 7:30 p. m. in the Ellis T. Johnson Arena.

A professional club, Korabel was organized in 1967 and has been one of the top squads in the Ukraine, reaching the medal round in national tournaments each of the past 10 seasons.

"First, we'd like to win this game, as this is one of the better teams in Eastern Europe," Fick stated. "But beyond that, we'll use this experience to give us an awareness of where we are."

He continued, "We need to see how our players react to game situations and what kind of carryover they have from practice to games. We have a level of expectation on how we play and we want to get there every time out."

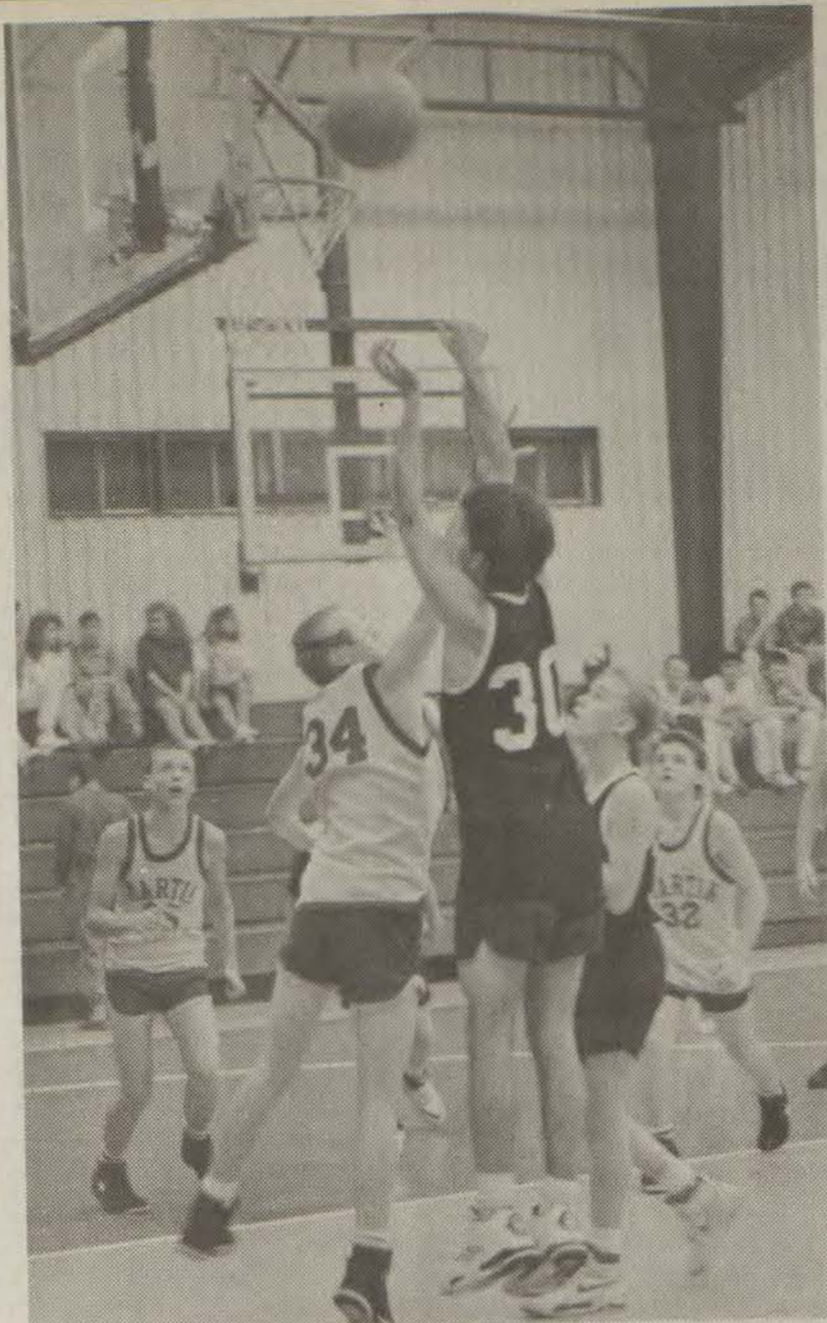

Both MSU squads will be featured on Thursday, Nov. 14, as the host military teams from Ft. Campbell, Ky. The women's contest tips off at 5:15 p.m., while the men's game begins at 7:30 p.m.

Lady Eagle Head Coach Loretta Marlow had several goals for her squad.

"We'll use this game to check our players conditioning to this point, as well as evaluating both our newcomers and different combinations of veterans," she stated. "We expect the Ft. Campbell team to be very physical, and that should really do us some good at this point in the season."

The Eagles will be paced by senior forward Brett Roberts and junior center Doug Bentz, while the Lady Eagles will count on senior forward Julie Magrane and junior center Bev Smith.

All seating for both nights is general admission. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for students and children. MSU students are admitted free with their ID cards.

Tackett Scores 24 As Lady Mustangs Hold Off Harold

At the D.W. Howard Fieldhouse Tuesday night the John M. Stumbo Lady Mustangs edged the Lady Red Devils of Harold 39-35, as Ashley Tackett poured in 24 points to lead all scorers.

Stumbo outscored the Lady Red Devils 6-2 in the final 2:30 of the game to post the four point win. The score was tied for the final time at the 2:30 mark on a short jumper by Kelli Stanley. Tackett hit a short jumper with 2:18 remaining and then hit a lay up at the 1:08 mark to give Stumbo the lead for good at 37-33. Penny Tackett nailed two bonus free throws with just 16 seconds remaining. Jessica Johnson finished the scoring for Harold with a basket for the final 39-35 count.

The game was closely contested being tied seven times and the lead exchanged hands seven times.

Kelli Stanley led Harold in scoring with 18 points. Jessica Johnson added 14 and Donita Kidd scored three.

Along with Tackett's 24 points, Mandy Hall tossed in six and Penny Tackett finished with five.

Prestonsburg travels to Sheldon Clark. The Cardinals were sporting a bright 7-0 record and dreaming of a district championship in their first year of district competition. Cardinal quarterback Jesse Watts had just set a new national passing record for a high school quarterback against Allen Central the week before. But that did not intimidate the Blackcats as they scored on the second play from scrimmage on a quarterback option play and the tempo was set as the Blackcats posted a 28-24 victory over the Cardinals and took first place in the district and evened their once dismal record to 4-4.

Last Friday night in their second consecutive road game to always tough Morgan County, it was the pulling together of the Blackcats that saw Tucker hit James Derossett with a 35 yard scoring pass with 1:05 left in the game. Morgan County had claimed a 22-21 lead on a late touchdown in the closing fourth quarter. While fans fretted over the score, the Blackcat team proved they had matured during the course of the season, especially Tucker. Tucker never hung his head but went to work at mid-field and directed his team to a 29-22 thrilling win over Morgan County and a spot in the upcoming playoffs.

But the Cats are not just interested in having a spot in the upcoming playoffs a week from this Friday, Prestonsburg wants that home field advantage that first place will afford them.

A win over the Navajo's tonight would give the first place spot to the Blackcats and along with that, home field advantage in at least the first two playoff games should they win the first one.

If the Blackcats finish in the top spot they will face either Mason County or West Carter in the playoffs at Prestonsburg. That will be decided after tonight when West Carter (4-5, 3-3) travels to Mason County (5-4, 3-3).

A loss to Napier would put Prestonsburg third in the district by virtue of their loss to Whitesburg. Of course Whitesburg would have to beat Magoffin County Saturday at Magoffin County. Sheldon Clark plays at Betsy Layne tonight and the Cards must win without quarterback Jesse Watts, who is out with a broken knuckle.

If the Cats place third, they would then play Fleming County (8-1, 6-1) on the road. Fleming County finished second in Region 4, District 1.

In summing up what was the difference between the first half Blackcat team and the second half squad, Coach Bill Letton simply said "it was all a matter of us coming together as a football team."

Sports Card Show!!

We will be having a sports card show, Sunday, November 10, at Jenny Wiley with lots of area card dealers and collectors. The show will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is only $1.00 per person. The lodge will have a concession stand open during the show. This promises to be one of the best sports card shows in the area!

Coming together they have as they collected their fifth consecutive win last Friday night and look to win number six tonight. But the Navajos are not going to lie down and die for them. Stopping Napier's fine running back Steve Dixon will be the key to a Blackcat win. Dixon passed the 1000 rushing mark against Betsy Layne last Friday night and scored three touchdowns. Larry Begley and Sam Mullins will be other Navajos to keep on the reservation. Mullins rushed for 100 yards against the Bobcats and Begley had 60 yards rushing. Napier likes to run the short screen pass and does not throw long often. However, Napier may try and exploit the Prestonsburg safeties and give them a try.

Tucker gave Blackcat fans a stir when he came down with a virus that put him under for 24 hours. Many thought it was worse than expected. Leading rusher Dwayne Garza has been bothered with a sore hip but should be ready by game time.

The defensive play of Brian Horn, Kyle Fitzpatrick, Bill Bottoms, Dicky

Johnson and others have certainly contributed to the success of this year's team. The Blackcats are really a young football club and just needed to time to jell.

It will be put on the line—offensive and defensive—as the Navajos come to Prestonsburg Stadium tonight. Game time is 8 p.m. and it will be senior night as well as parent night. Radio stations WQHY and WKKZ will be on hand to do all the play-by-play for those who have to work. If you don't have to work, come out and show your support for this fine football team.

Osborne, Adkins Combine For 30 Points:

Auxier Slips By Allen, 38-33

Ervin Osborne scored 16 points and Steve Adkins added 14 as the Auxier Hornets went over the 500 mark and improved to 3-2 with a 38-33 win over the Allen Eagles Wednesday night at Allen. It was the second game of the season for the Eagles in their new gym. The win gives Auxier a 2-0 sectional record.

"It was a monumental win for us," said assistant coach Jerome Greathouse. "We were fortunate to be ahead at half time. I feel like this team is coming together and we will be able to compete in the county tournament."

Allen led 9-4 over Auxier at the end of the first period of play. The Hornets outscored Allen 11-4 in the second stanza to take a 15-13 lead at the half.

"We missed a lot of shots we should have made," explained Greathouse. "In the first quarter we played our basic game and just miss easy shots. We came out in the second quarter and went to our 2-3 zone and took the lead at the half."

Cory Patton could be the first player in the county to leave the game under a new rule this year. Patton fouled out of the game but his fifth personal came as a result of a technical foul in the final quarter. After Patton had picked up his third personal, he slammed the ball to the court in disgust and was whistled for the unsportsmanlike conduct. A technical foul this year counts as a personal.

James Jarrell led Allen in scoring with eight points. Patton tossed in seven before leaving the game. Chad Spurlock added five.

Allen (1-2) will travel to Auxier Thursday night for a rematch between the two teams. Before that, Auxier will play Harold at Betsy Layne Tuesday night.

In "B" team action, Allen posted a 27-20 win over the younger Hornets. Billy Mitchell led the Allen junior Eagles with 11 points. Brandon Castle added eight points and Todd Hurd tossed in six. Kyle Conley scored two.

Greg Richmond tossed in 10 points to lead the Hornets in scoring. Catrell Farler scored six and Tony Honeycutt had four.

Auxier lead at the first stop, 3-2 and the two teams were tied at the half 10-10. A 12-6 fourth quarter for Allen gave the seven point, 27-20 win.

AUXIER 4 11 9 14 (38): Johnson, 0 2-2 2; Osborne, 6 4-7 16; Adkins, 5 4-6 14; Hall, 2 0-2 4; Ousley, 1 0-0 2 at ALLEN 9 4 6 14 (33): Patton, 3 -2 7; Nunnemaker, 2 0-2 4; Marsillett, 1 0-0 2; Jarrell, 3 2-2 8; Spurlock, 2 1-2 5; Craft, 2 0-1 4; Mitchell, 0 1-2 1; Lafferty, 1 0-0 2

Re-Elect J. E. Combs For Railroad Commissioner

During the past four years with the help of the State Legislature and especially Senator Benny Ray Bailey we defeated a pay raise bill that would increase commissioner salaries from $3,000 to $15,000 and abolished all salaries as of January 1, 1992. I had bills introduced at both the 1988-90 Legislature to abolish the office of Railroad Commissioner.
 Senator Mike Maloney plans to introduce a bill at the 1992 session of the State Legislature to abolish the office of Railroad Commissioner and this bill has the support of both candidates for Governor, Jones and Hopkins.

Several Students Move Up In Karate School At Betsy Layne

On September 29, Grand Master Sin The' of Lexington was in Betsy Layne to give an advancement exam to several students that are taking classes under instructor Frances Hunter and her son Greg. Some students moved from the white belt (beginners) to the yellow belt. Yet, others advanced from the yellow belt to the blue and from the blue to the green.

Leslie Rogers and Becky Rogers moved from their green belt to third brown on their way to becoming a black belt. There are three level in the brown- third, second and first.

"All the students did an excellent job," said Hunter of her students. "All had high scores and some were so good in their stance and in power that they received extra bonus points."

Moving from the white belt to the yellow were: Orville Tackett, Terry Boyd, Eddie Hall, Brandice Blankenship, Lawrence Brewer, Christopher Burgess.

From yellow belt to blue belt were the following: Justin Akers, Mary Frances Akers, Marcus Allen, Joshua Allen, Andy Hall, Nicholas Hall, Jonathan Tackett and Brandon Tackett.

From the blue belt to the green was Glenn Tackett.

"I am very proud of all my students," continued Hunter, "they did an excellent job on their test and the show they did."

Before the test was given my Grand Master Sin The', the group of students put on a demonstration. Those doing katas were: Justin Akers, Mary F. Akers, Marcus Allen, Joshua Allen, Andy Hall, Nicholas Hall, Jonathan Tackett, Brandon Tackett, Becky Rogers and Glen Hamilton.

Those performing weapons were: Flora Castle Morse, Joe Meade, Glen Hamilton, Frances Hunter and Kelly Case.

The iron man kata was performed by: Flora Castle Morse, Kelly Case, Joe Meade and Joe Jacobs.

Taking of apple: Jonathan Tackett, being attacked, Brandon Tackett and Marcus Allen, the attackers.

Taking of purse: Flora Castle Morse, being attacked, and Ray Rattliff, the attacker.

Spider man: Marcus Allen
 Rubber men: Justin Akers, Joshua Allen.

Knife attackers: Glen Hamilton, being attacked, and Frances Hunter, the attacker.

Board Breaks by hand: Flora Castle Morse, Joe Jacobs, Kelly Case, Joe Meade, Frances Hunter.

Foot breaks: Kelly Case, Joe Meade, Frances Hunter, two boards at a time; Greg Hunter, five boards at a time.

Board breaks over the body: Frances Hunter, throat, arm and leg; Flora Morse, arm and legs; Joe Jacobs, arm and legs; Kelly Case, arm and legs.

Both Frances and Greg Hunter are certified instructors under Grand Master Sin The' of Lexington.
