For new school organization :

Unity, input are targets

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Unity, politics and organization were the words of advice Saturday to classified personnel of the Floyd County School System as the birth of their own organization unfolded.

Prestonsburg attorney Ned Pillersdorf directed the group of about 40 classified workers who elected interim officers and took their first steps toward becoming an organization to voice grievances and concerns to the board of education.

Pillersdorf began the process by explaining to the workers what they needed to do in order to become a legal organization. Pillersdorf urged the group to hold an official election

Grant awarded for Mud Creek water

A $10,000 grant has been awarded to the Mud Creek Water District from the Area Development Fund for the purchase of a maintenance and operations vehicle.

The Area Development fund is a capital projects program administered by the Department of Local Government in the Office of the Governor. The state's 15 area development districts make recommendations to the department on the basis of state law and policy for project funding. The Big Sandy Area Development District board of directors recommended this project.

of permanent officers and form a political organization to actively endorse candidates and become involved in school board elections.

"I don't mean this to offend anyone, but if you don't become involved in school board elections, you're a bunch of fools," Pillersdorf said. "You have every right to do that. You're dealing with a pretty rough bunch and you need to stick together."

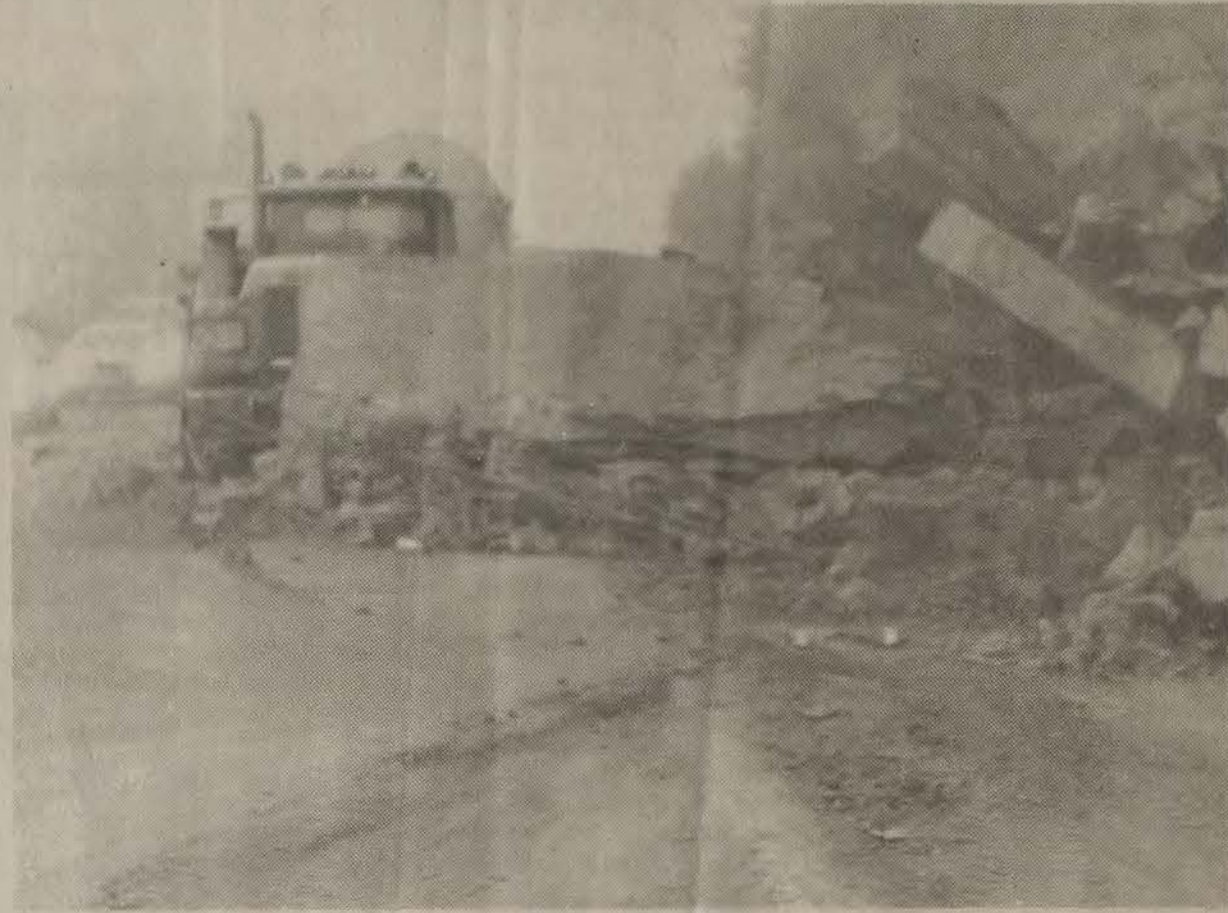

First on the agenda were nominations and the election of five members to the board of directors, one from each educational district. Following that step, the group elected a president/treasurer; vice president; and secretary.

"I suggest that by the first Saturday in November, you hold an open and announced election for permanent officers," Pillersdorf told the group. "I realize there is some division among you, but with having an open and announced meeting (to elect officers) it will give those who may not like your decision (of officers) an opportunity to vote and be part of the organization."

Pillersdorf said the group was a legal organization after their appointments Saturday and they now had the right to sue and be sued. He said the group now needs to form a list of concerns to be presented to the board for negotiations.

"I understand there are problems concerning how extra bus runs are

Rocky road

U.S. 23 motorists traveling between Paintsville and Prestonsburg got an unwelcome surprise Friday morning after tons of rocks fell from a highwall. Five vehicles were involved in the accident, but no serious injuries were reported. The rockfall occurred at approximately 4:30 a.m., said local DES director Bob Carpenter. This tanker carrying asphalt tar ran head-on into the boulders. (photo by Susan Allen)

Brother shoots brother :

One wounded, one jailed

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A 41-year-old Floyd County man was charged with first degree assault after allegedly shooting his brother early Sunday morning.

Billy Jay Scott of Hueysville was charged Monday after his brother, Oney Scott, 55, was shot in the neck at 12:20 a.m. Sunday with a .38 caliber revolver, said Floyd County deputy sheriff Ricky Thornsby. Thornsby said both men were extremely intoxicated at the time of the incident.

Oney Scott was taken to Our Lady of The Way Hospital in Martin where he is listed in good condition. The bullet lodged in Scott's back and was removed Sunday, Thornsby said.

Billy Scott walked one mile after the shooting to another brother's home, Tony Scott, and his sister-in-law reported the shooting, Thornsby said. Both the victim and the accused have refused to discuss details of the incident, Thornsby said.

Recovered at the scene were a .38 revolver, a .38 caliber spent cartridge; and one bullet from the floor, the deputy said.

"Oney Scott was shot one time in the right side of his neck approximately two inches below his earlobe," Thornsby said. "It passed through his body and lodged midway on the left side of his back. He's a lucky man. He was standing up waiting for the ambulance to arrive. We had to make him sit down."

Billy Scott was charged with alcohol intoxication and placed under emergency mental detention at the scene.

Floyd County deputies Thornsby, Denver Spurlock, Danny McCoy and Bobby Hackworth responded to the scene. Also responding were Constable Bob Hackworth and KSP trooper Earl Gorrell.

Babbage dismissed from suit

A Pike County judge last week dismissed State Auditor Bob Babbage as a defendant in a lawsuit concerning school construction projects.

Pikeville architect James Ellis filed suit against the Pike County Board of Education and Babbage in August claiming that Babbage's audit of school construction projects in Pike and Floyd counties prompted the board to withhold payments from him.

Pike Circuit Judge Bayard Collier ruled Friday that Babbage not be a party to the suit, but refused to dismiss the board of education.

Babbage contended his report of school construction projects was not binding and he did not order the board to withhold payments to Ellis.

Ellis claims the board owes him $58,972.23 for work performed on Pike County Central High School.

Ellis' attorney, Phil Damron of Prestonsburg, said at Friday's hearing that the school board claims the School Facilities Construction Commission (SFCC), which provides funding for school projects, would not authorize payment to Ellis based on Babbage's report.

Damron, however, said he had a letter from SFCC director Woody Barwick that said the commission

Five Floyd mining projects get funds

The U.S. Office of Surface Mining has awarded $8.4 million in grant money to Kentucky for the reclamation of abandoned coal mines.

Five projects in Floyd County will be funded by the grant, including abandoned mines on Henry's Branch, the Orkney Slide, Powers Highwall, Tinker Fork and Campbell's Slide.

The grant was announced Monday by U. S. Senator Mitch McConnell.

By state task force :

Coal tax proposal okayed

A state legislative panel voted Monday to increase to 50 percent the share of coal severance taxes returned to coal-producing counties and to eliminate allocations to coal-impacted counties.

Under a current state formula, coal-producing counties and those affected by coal transportation share 12 percent of the revenues raised by coal severance taxes.

In a non-binding vote Monday, the state's Coal Revenue Allocation Task Force, co-chaired by Representative Greg Stumbo, D-Prestonsburg, agreed to recommend an increase in tax revenue allocation to coal-producing counties and set strict guidelines for the use of those funds.

All revenues which exceed the original 12 percent return would be earmarked for economic development projects that would have to be approved by the secretary of the state's Economic Development Cabinet and Kentucky Development Finance Authority.

Also, the proposal would bar any county from getting additional coal tax funds if salaries for its magistrates were higher than the statewide averages.

Last year, 38 coal-producing counties and 41 non-coal producing counties received allocations from coal severance taxes. Floyd County received approximately $1 million.

The task force's recommendation to eliminate allocations from new revenues to coal-impacted counties could draw opposition from those counties if the plan is presented for deliberation during the 1992 session of Kentucky's General Assembly.

Nearly $2.5 million from coal taxes went to non-coal counties last year, mostly to finance road repairs for damages caused by coal transportation.

Know any good ghost stories?

If so, The Floyd County Times wants you...to send them to us.

In the spirit of Halloween, the Times is seeking original works from aspiring local authors in our Halloween Things Go Bump In The Night contest. The top three stories will share $100 in cash prizes with $50 going to first place, $30 to second and $20 to third.

Each entry should be 250 words or less and must begin with the phrase...The things that go bump in the night...

The deadline for entries is Friday, October 25 and selected stories, including the top three winners, will be published in the Wednesday, October 30 edition.

Mail your entry before the deadline to: The Floyd County Times, Halloween Contest, Box 391, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653.

Voter turnout a concern as general election nears

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

If last May's primary is a measuring stick, November's general election isn't likely to measure up to much in the area of voter turnout in Floyd County.

Figures released this week by Floyd County Court Clerk Carla Robinson Boyd indicate a paltry 33 percent of the county's registered voters turned out for the May primary, which included heated contests for a variety of statewide positions.

In a break-down of voters by age group and gender, the May primary ballot appeared most attractive to men aged 50 and up, with about 48 percent of registered voters in that classification casting ballots. The biggest yawns came from men and women between the ages of 17 and 24, who sent just 21 percent of their registered voters to the primary polls.

Voter registration for the November 5 general election will continue through Monday, October 7. The last day to apply for an absentee ballot is Tuesday, October 29.

For more information on how to register or how to vote by absentee ballot, contact the County Clerk's office at 886-3816. Office hours are 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Friday; and 9 a.m. until noon on Saturday.

A lasting impression . . .

Travelers' group gives high marks to mountains

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

First impressions are ones that last and Floyd County received high marks as hosts for a group of nationwide travelers.

Campers from across the nation met last weekend at Jenny Wiley State Park for one of the four annual meetings of the Vintage Birds. About 50 campers from Alaska to California, driving Blue Bird motor homes enjoyed the weekend sightseeing in Floyd, Johnson and Pike counties.

"They (club members) didn't realize what we have here (in Eastern Kentucky)," said Wilna Dixon, a Paintsville member, last Friday. "Most had been through Lexington, but they had no idea this part of Kentucky existed."

The Vintage Birds is a club composed of people who own Blue Bird motor homes, manufactured by a company in Fort Valley, Georgia. The vehicles are virtually houses on wheels, sporting bedrooms, a living room and on some, a satellite dish on top.

The group was formed in 1984 and travels four times a year to various parts of the country for rallies. A rally usually consists of "meeting, eating, sightseeing and talking about our motor homes," Dixon said.

The group traveled to Butcher Hollow Friday to see the home of country music star Loretta Lynn; planned a tour of coal mines in Pike County and to the Breaks on the Virginia state line Saturday; and back to Jenny Wiley for dinner at May Lodge.

"These people are very impressed with the Kentucky park system," Dixon said.

would approve payment to Ellis. Damron told Collier he wanted to take depositions in the case and re-schedule another hearing.

Babbage conducted an audit of school construction projects in Pike and Floyd counties earlier this year after a series of articles in The Floyd County Times.

College of Med. names Potter to Advisory Board

Dr. Ira B. Potter of Prestonsburg has been named to the University of Kentucky College of Medicine Dean's Advisory Board.

Advisory Board members meet quarterly with UK College of Medicine Dean De. Emery A. Wilson to review medical education, research and patient care missions of the college.

"We have invited board members to suggest new ideas, offer ways to improve all of the college's programs and make suggestions about how we can make the UK College of Medicine one of the top medical schools in the nation during this decade," Wilson said.

Board members discuss issues such as medical education curriculum changes, rural health care, continuing medical education programs for physicians and other topics.

All board members are graduates of the UK College of Medicine who are practicing in Kentucky.

Potter is an active member of the American Board of Family Practice, American Association of Family Practice and the Kentucky Association of Family Practice. He serves as vice chief of staff for Highlands Regional Medical Center and is a member of the executive council and chairman of the Physicians Credential Committee. Potter also serves as treasurer of the Floyd County Republican Party.

Honored for commitment to safety

The newly formed Pike-Floyd Holmes Safety Council honored Jesse Cole (left), District 6 Supervisor for the Mine Safety and Health Administration, for his continued commitment to mine safety. Cole was presented a plaque by Safety Council President Jack Hughes of Aero Energy (right) during a recent meeting of the Council. The Pike-Floyd Holmes Safety Council was formed for area coal operators, inspectors and government officials to stay informed on safety regulations and methods within the industry.

given out," Pillersdorf said. "And, some drivers feel teachers shouldn't be bus drivers. These are the kinds of things you need to bring to the board."

Group members asked the attorney about what they could do if their buses were unsafe or they were physically unable to drive.

"Well, it's federal law that you don't have to operate unsafe machinery," Pillersdorf said. "And, if you're physically unable to drive a bus, you probably need to have a doctor's slip stating that. But, these are the kinds of problems you need to put into a contract that you can negotiate with to the school board."

Members of the board of directors are:

- District one- Glen Hall;
  - District two- Okie Combs;
  - District three- Donald Osborne;
  - District four- David Turner; and
  - District five- Shannon Wallen.
- Interim officers:
- Neal Clevenger- president/treasurer;
  - Robert Willis- vice president; and
  - Rebecca Blevins- secretary.

The new board decided that group dues would be $24 annually, with a $12 payment due every six months.

Clevenger told the group that now they were a legal organization and a lot of "work" was in store for the members before they went before the school board.

"There's two things you can't put in a contract: a backbone and a rear end," Clevenger said. "We've broke their last hold on us—power. We've just took some of their power away."

The group decided to go into closed session to discuss their future plans.

After Saturday's meeting, Pillersdorf said he hoped the group would choose to represent themselves, rather than opt to name another organization to speak for them.

"These people ought to represent themselves, they're perfectly capable of that," Pillersdorf said. "If they can do that and negotiate with the board themselves, I feel they're less likely to be exploited."

Soon after the closed session began, Teamster organizer Ron Abshire entered the meeting to a resounding round of applause.

The classified workers went on strike against the board of education September 13 because the board refused to recognize the Teamsters union as a bargaining agent for the workers. The board called a special meeting September 26 and agreed to recognize "designated spokespersons" for the classified workers.

Small loans are important at First Guaranty National Bank

Every bank likes to loan large sums to qualified customers. But, at First Guaranty National Bank, we welcome the opportunity to make even the smallest loan too. We know that small beginnings can lead to steady and constant growth because we were small once too.

When we first opened back in 1946, we made small loans to our neighbors. Young couples borrowed just enough to fix up a place to start housekeeping. Soon, families grew and eagerly anticipated a new home of their own.

We were especially pleased when those couples came back to let us finance their new homes. Folks didn't move around much in those days and homes were built with a lifetime in mind. A lot of care and planning were involved and we were there to help.

First Guaranty National Bank is and always has been locally owned so we've been around to watch as those homes assumed characters all their own. We've seen skinny seedlings grow into tall shade trees and flower beds flourish more beautifully each year. Now some of those homes are called the old homeplace and the memories they hold are precious.

Yes, small loans are important at First Guaranty National Bank. They give us the opportunity to meet needs and to establish lasting relationships with new customers. Relationships that have taken us from a brand new bank back in 1946 to a strong and sound financial institution today. So sound, in fact, that we are one of only three banks in Kentucky recognized in the Top 100 Best Midsized Banks in America.*

If you need a loan, from $50 to $1 million, we welcome your business at First Guaranty National Bank.

In this world of complicated events, sometimes we have to pause to consider what the future holds. At every election we are given a choice to elect what we believe will be the best qualified person for the job. It is an important decision because the person you elect Circuit Judge will be making decisions that affect your lives for the next 8 years.

Over the years we have traditionally re-elected individuals to office because they have served us well and retain their energy and determination to continue on. But I believe there comes a time in every public servant's life when he must step aside and let another carry on.

Our retiring Circuit Judge made that very observation when he announced his retirement. He said it was time to turn this job over to another generation. He realized that the job of Circuit Judge in Floyd County required an energetic man to handle it.

My opponent has been an elected official in this county for over 25 years. I encourage you to honor the past and his service, but look to the future and elect the one candidate who has the energy and determination to serve you day in and day out, rendering consistent, sober, fair and just decisions. I am that candidate.

I have handled cases in 11 different counties in Eastern Kentucky. I was City Attorney for 4 years and Assistant Commonwealth Attorney for 1 1/2 years. My experience as a defense attorney and a prosecuting attorney has given me valuable insight into the pros and cons of both sides of criminal trials. This experience, along with my courtroom experience in other types of cases, would help me serve the people of Floyd County as their Circuit Judge for the next 8 years.

Perkins' job training bill passes key test

A comprehensive job training bill introduced by U.S. Congressman Chris Perkins has passed a key House committee, his office announced yesterday. The Job Training Reform Amendments (HR 3033), as Perkins' bill is known, were approved unanimously today at a markup of the House's powerful Education and Labor Committee. The bill is seen as an integral part of Perkins' effort to reform the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), one of the nation's preeminent job training programs. It will now go before the full House for consideration and a vote.

"Now, more than ever, we need job training programs for people who can't find work or those that have been laid off from one job but don't have the skills to do another. It's these people that need our help, and this bill is the major vehicle for doing that," Perkins said after the markup.

Perkins, chairman of the Education and Labor's Employment Opportunities Subcommittee, introduced the bill in his subcommittee in late July and has held numerous hearings to gather support for it. As a result, the bill enjoys strong bipartisan support in Congress as well as agreement from the Labor Department, he said. The bill also received strong support from the full Committee chairman, Rep. William D. Ford (D-Mi.), at the markup.

"I congratulate the Subcommittee Chairman Chris Perkins for his leadership in moving a bill that breathes life back into America's foremost job training program. This bill will give our country a better trained and more competitive American workforce," Ford said.

Perkins stressed that his bill was of poverty and unemployment and a changing workforce that is looking for us to help. This bill is an important step in...this Committee's efforts to present a strong and reliable platform of assistance to America's workers," he said.

for American workers hard hit by the current recession and faced with even greater odds to getting a job.

"I must ask how can we afford not to push ahead with this program when we are facing multiple challenges in the form of world market competition, fewer federal dollars, rising rates

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

Still looking for that special something to help you decide who's who in the race for Kentucky governor?

- Us too.
- Here's what we know so far...
- The Democrat candidate used to be a Republican.
- The Republican candidate used to be a Democrat.
- The Democrat candidate won't make public his personal tax returns.
- The Republican candidate thinks that's why we ought to vote for him.

That's certainly made things a lot clearer now, hasn't it?

Ah, for a return to the good old days when real issues (like who would or who wouldn't pee in a jar) decided major political races.

The times they are a changin'.

In a matter of days our house went from one with two fans in every window to one with two blankets on every bed.

Is that Ma Nature a kiddier, or what?

The only thing consistent with the weather in Kentucky is the central heat and air system at our house.

The air conditioning unit melted down during the last heat wave and now we can't get the furnace to believe summer's over.

The frost ain't just on the pumpkin...if you catch our drift.

This week is Banned Book Week, an occasion to reflect on the glue that binds this great country together.

Narrowmindedness.

The American Library Association and others have set aside the week of September 28-October 5 to publicize censorship...that ugly wart on the nose of free expression.

Here's a sample of some real dangerous books challenged at one time or another by folks who think they need to look out for us:

- Alice in Wonderland
- Where's Waldo
- Webster's Collegiate Dictionary (we're not kidding)
- The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn
- My Friend Flicka
- Diary of Anne Frank

There are plenty more, including Little Red Riding Hood which book banners found objectionable because of an illustration which showed a bottle of wine in Red's basket of goodies to be delivered to grandma.

No wonder the Big Bad Wolf had such an easy time with grandma. The old bat was plastered.

And just where did little miss innocence pick up that bottle of wine?

Knocked off some hapless, homeless hobo, no doubt.

The censors will find out, we're sure.

My, what big noses they have.

Kentucky teachers averaged a 10.7 percent pay increase in 1990-91, a figure twice the national average and second only to West Virginia's 13.7 percent average in a comparison of salary hikes among all 50 states.

Kentucky teachers ranked 29th overall with an average salary of $29,115.

Alaska, where teachers no doubt earn hazardous weather pay, was first with a per teacher average of $43,406; while South Dakota, where nobody really lives, was last with an average of $22,363.

The U.S. average was $32,880.

The most astonishing ranking was Hawaii, at 15th.

We'd take a teaching job there for room and board.

OUR WAR ON DOMESTIC CRIME MUST START WITH AWARENESS

All Kentuckians and Americans are familiar with our continuing war on crime and drugs, but I am convinced that the time has come to increase our awareness of one aspect of this vital struggle.

It is time for all of us to become more aware of the growing — and intolerable — problem of domestic violence.

Domestic violence is one of the most common of all crimes. Acts of domestic violence occur every 18 seconds in the U.S., with half of all families experiencing at least one violent incident.

Every citizen of this nation deserves the right to live in their homes and walk through their neighborhoods free from the fear of violence.

A strong step in the direction of awareness and prevention has long been overdue. I am pleased to report that the Congress has received that message and has designated October, 1991, as National Domestic Violence Awareness Month.

1991 needs to mark the time when all levels of government and communities across this nation, come together to make this problem a top national priority.

As Americans, we need to support rights for those victimized by domestic crime with the same determination that is used to protect the rights of those accused of crimes.

I am pleased to report that Kentucky has been in the lead in confronting the issue of domestic crime. In 1978, we became the first state to require that, if reported, incidents of domestic violence must be investigated by the Department for Social Services.

Kentucky leaders know that domestic violence takes a heavy toll on the family, society and the future. Over one million women each year seek medical help for injuries caused by battering. The children involved are emotionally traumatized by witnessing such family violence or abuser.

We are still searching for answers, but I believe Congress is moving in the right direction. We are looking at legislative recommendations, including proposals addressing spousal immunity, child custody, visitation, and interstate child support enforcement.

Progress will come only through recognizing and understanding the seriousness of this problem. The debilitating effects of these crimes, most of which are against women, are dramatic and long-lasting for the victim and for society. Yet the very nature of these crimes and the consequences of them mean that victims are often unwilling or even unable to report them to the police.

Domestic violence and crimes against women are everyone's problem. I am pleased to see that Kentucky, along with the rest of the nation, is taking a significant stride toward addressing this domestic issue.

But this can only be the beginning. I urge all Kentuckians to join together in the fight to wage a winning war on the long overlooked crime of domestic violence.

SOUTHEASTERN KENTUCKY

I would like to recount the wonderful experience shared by myself and my staff during our annual staff retreat. In past years, our staff meetings have been held in Washington, D.C., with our Kentucky staff making the long journey to the District. However, this year we decided to take a different approach, and my D.C. staff rode a bus for 600 miles to southeast Kentucky. There we joined my Kentucky staff in Cumberland Falls State Park, situated in McCreary and Whitley Counties. Throughout this trip, my staff ventured through some of the most beautiful and inspiring countryside in the United States.

Everyone agreed the drive, although it was long, to have been well worth it. The final hours of the trip seemed to rejuvenate the weary travelers as we drove among the stunning Appalachian Mountains. Anyone who has had the incredible opportunity to travel through southeastern Kentucky knows of this rewarding beauty. We found ourselves to be extremely fortunate because we had the pleasure of spending a wonderful and relaxing weekend in a part of the state where one "can still escape to the peace of the great outdoors," as it is described by a travelers guide.

The weekend's activities consisted mainly of a series of business meetings focusing on constituent services, legislative priorities, projects, and correspondence. Considering the beautiful landscape which surrounded us, it was extremely difficult to remain business minded the entire time. It is needless to say that we did spend quite a bit of time indulging ourselves in the vast outdoor opportunities which presented themselves to us.

The relaxing part of our weekend began with a trip to Big South Fork National River and Recreation Area where we traveled six miles on the Big South Fork Scenic Railway up through a gorge. This trip enabled us to view more of some of the most magnificent scenery in the United States.

The excitement did not end here, as we later journeyed to Laurel Lake, located amid Daniel Boone National Forest. This lake offered some of the best relaxation therapy yet for the fast pace of Washington. It also appeared to be the water sports capital of Kentucky. Our group certainly did not hesitate to join in the fun of jet-skiing and inner-tubing.

It is impossible to completely experience the natural beauty of southeastern Kentucky without having enjoyed the warm hospitality of the local residents. These residents have a history which is legendary for both enduring hard times, and welcoming visitors with genuine, warm hospitality. The hospitality of the residents must be experienced first hand, and I think anyone who visits southeastern Kentucky will wholeheartedly agree with me, that this is one of the most enjoyable parts of the country.

It was with great sorrow and regret when our weekend came to an end, and we wished only that we had a few more days to spend in this wonderful part of the state. I cannot thank the residents enough who made this trip so delightful, simply by doing nothing more than what they do on a normal day to day basis. I strongly encourage anyone who is looking for a beautiful, relaxing place to vacation to head for southeastern Kentucky.

Letters

Editor:
On September 21 I attended the Womens Conference at Jenny Wiley Convention Center. I was greeted at the door by a Chamber Ambassador. The packet of information and gifts were very much appreciated, but the rose was the extra touch.

Thank you for your thoughtfulness. I'm sure your "extra touch" made every woman feel "extra" special.

-- Jennifer Anderson
Prestonsburg

Editor:
Why, why are we just not good enough? Why encourage our children to return to Eastern Kentucky? Our schools are not good enough, our dentists are not good enough, our doctors are not good enough, our retail stores are not good enough, our interior decorators are not good enough and our architects are not good enough. I happen to agree with Alice Lloyd, the founder of Alice Lloyd College, that Eastern Kentucky people are good enough.

-- Mrs. Clyde (Eileen) Burchett
Prestonsburg

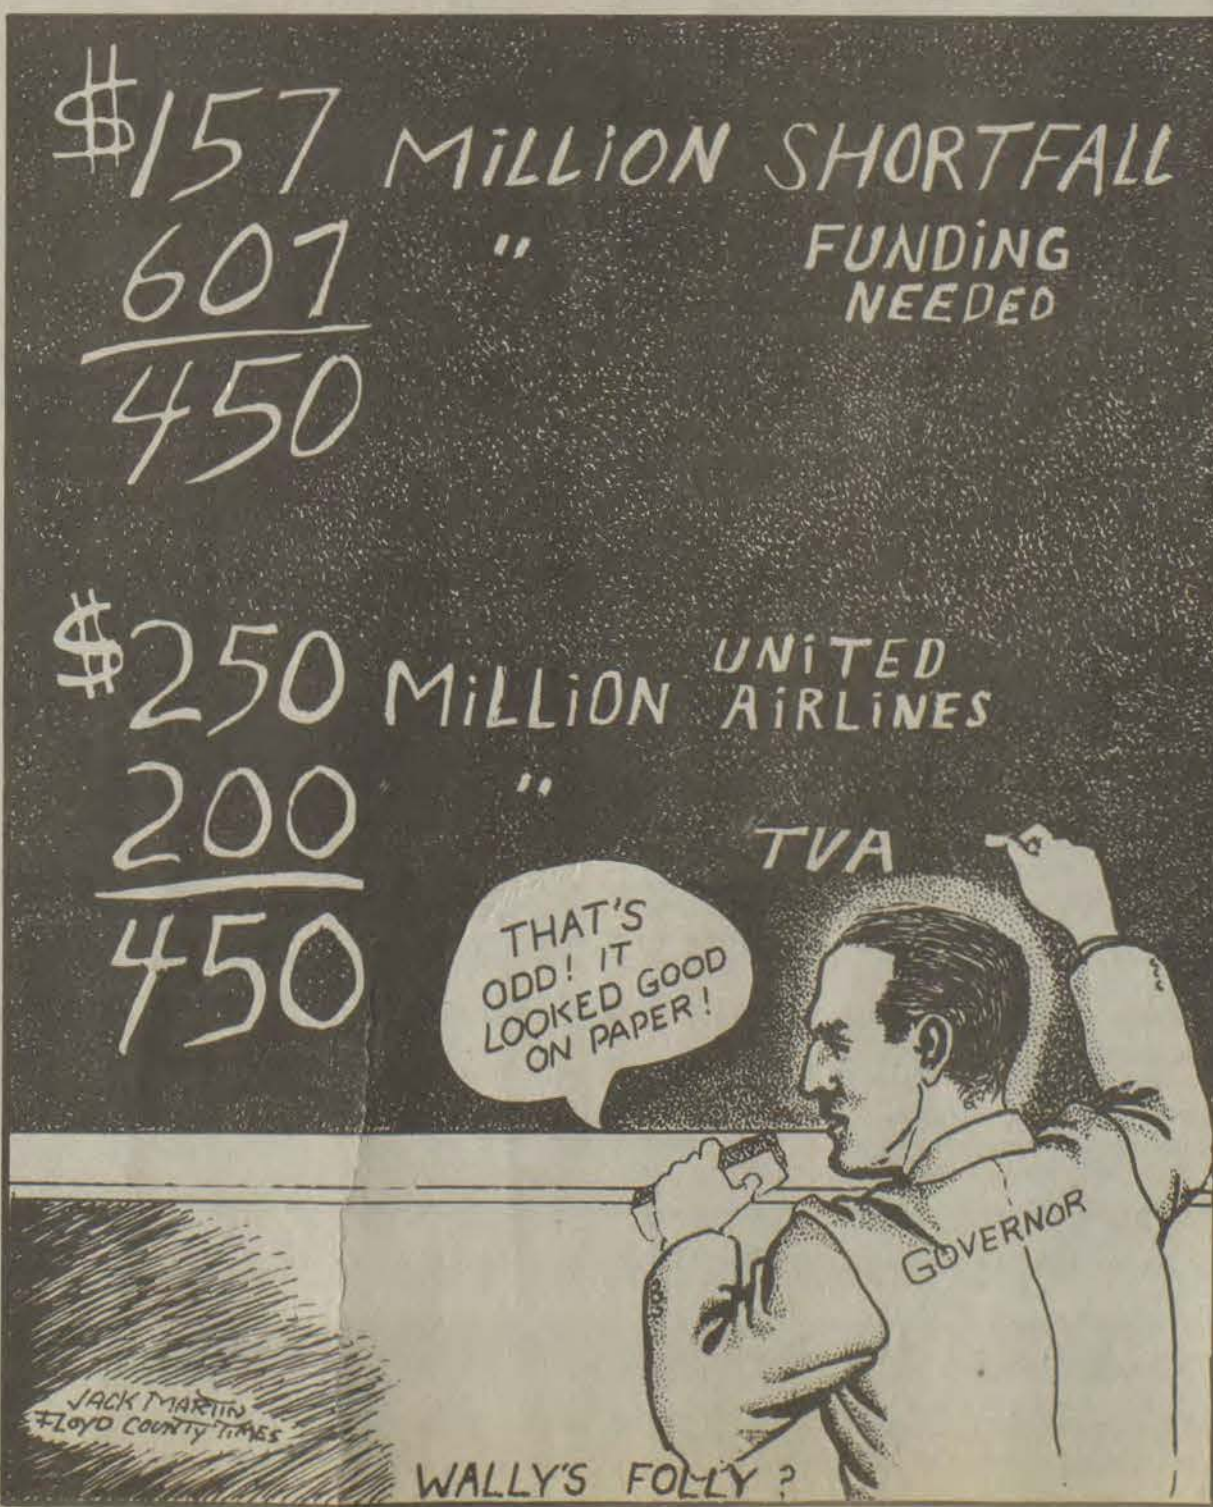

Dear Editor:
What can you say...to have been there...to have seen all those walkers...says it all! What a fantastic endeavor and tremendous compliment to Pike and Floyd counties for the team spirit and support in the fight against birth defects. 450 walkers stepped out Saturday, September 21, to begin a four mile hike for the March of Dimes WALKAMERICA, raising $15,500.00 for the special event.

I want to thank all the walkers, sponsors, and contributors for making this the most talked about event in town. Your team efforts has created a positive and caring image within the community. Again thank you, and I'll be looking forward to seeing everyone next year.

-- Barbara Maynard
Chairman

Dear Editor:
I want to thank the Floyd County Times, the editor, and Mrs. Hall that wrote the nice article in September 18th Times concerning part of my life and work habits in my younger days. Aileen certainly has an interesting article every week in the paper. We take three papers, the Lakeland Ledger, The Ypsilanti Press and the Floyd County Times. The Floyd County Times is far ahead of the other two. The Floyd County Times is the most educational paper you can read in all walks of life. The paper covers sports, mining, education, landscape, travel and most things that any one would be interested in.

Keep up the good work.

Fall Forest Fire Season begins

October 1 is the beginning of the fall forest fire season, Donald A. Hamm, director of the Kentucky Division of Forestry, reminds Kentuckians.

The spectacular blaze of autumn colors across the Commonwealth's forestlands also can be accompanied by destructive forest fires. "August, September, October, and November are generally the driest months of the year in Kentucky," Hamm said.

Kentucky law designates October 1 through December 15 as Fire Hazard Season." For these two-and-a-half months, the law prohibits burning within 150 feet of the woods or burning anything capable of spreading fire to the woods except between the hours of 4:30 p.m. and midnight. This is called the 4:30 Burning Law and is intended to prevent fires.

"Even after 4:30 p.m., no one should burn unless the air is calm and there is adequate moisture in the air to allow control of the fire. It is also illegal to start a fire at anytime on or near timberland without taking all reasonable precautions to prevent its spread. The same law requires all outdoor fires to be attended until extinguished," Hamm said.

"Forest fires do multi-million dollar damage to the forest-based economy of Kentucky and are something we cannot afford," Hamm added. All Kentuckians are encouraged to get out and enjoy our beautiful scenery but to exercise care with the use of fire in and around the forests.

A proud tradition

Our funeral home has been responding to the needs of the community for many years. To continue this proud tradition of helping families in their time of need, we now offer the Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup> Plan.

Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup> offered by us as a member of the Kentucky Funeral Directors Burial Association, is a plan that lets you reduce the stress your loved ones will experience at the time of a funeral.

Through Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup>, you can pre-arrange a funeral now. The plan offers an inflation-proof feature that lets you save money by freezing the cost of a funeral at today's prices. And it provides special tax-saving advantages. We'd like to give you a "Personal Record Guide" and tell you about the Sunset Security<sup>SM</sup> Plan. Just complete the coupon below and send it to us.

PCC group combats child abuse

Dr. Alice Adams

Floyd County investigated 340 reports of child abuse, involving 618 children, in 1990, according to the Department of Social Services. These figures show an increase since 233 reports involving 435 children were recorded for 1989. To combat these figures, Prestonsburg Community College has a weekly self-help group for parents who are under pressure.

The group, Parents Who Care, is dedicated to preventing child abuse by helping adults learn to deal with their problems without taking them out on their children. Meetings are free and childcare is provided, but members must furnish their own transportation.

According to the group's sponsor, Dr. Alice Adams, PCC professor, child abuse in Kentucky is on the increase. "Statewide cases have increased by one-half over 1982 figures," she indicated. "In 1982, 8,063 cases were proved. In 1989 these cases increased to 12,697. Social workers say that it is not just the number of reports that is increasing; it is the number of children being abused."

All kinds of problems are brought up at the group's meetings. One parent may have a problem putting a two-year-old to bed and keeping him there. Another wants a way to deal with temper tantrums. Still another may say, "My child was sexually molested." No situation is too big or little for the group to handle. Some members say that attending it helps them keep their sanity. According to the group's sponsor, "Right now we need new members. If you are one of those parents who feel as though you are in a pressure cooker, we need you to join us."

One way the group helps members keep their sanity is by raising the self-esteem of the members, some of whom were abused children themselves. Members learn the ways in which abuse, physical or emotional, lowers a person's self-esteem. They learn to connect what their parents did with how they feel inside, and they learn not to repeat their parents' mistakes with their own children. They also learn to identify their needs, especially emotional needs, which have been neglected in the past, and they learn to get these needs met.

The college sponsors this group in connection with its community service program, so it is open to the community. Membership in the group and all issues brought up at meetings are kept confidential in accord with procedures set up by the Kentucky Council of Child Abuse, which administers Parents Anonymous groups all over the state. The local group changed its name to Parents Who Care in 1988 to reflect a more positive image.

Law update seminar to be held in P'burg

The Kentucky Supreme Court, civil, criminal and appellate rule changes, the special session and changes in the evidence code will be among the topics discussed during the Kentucky Law Update 1991 Seminar beginning on Thursday, October 3, at 8:20 a.m. at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park in Prestonsburg. The seminar is sponsored by the Kentucky Bar Association's Continuing Legal Education Commission. Guest speakers for the two-day event will include local and area attorneys.

For further information contact Ellen Razor at 502-564-3795.

Paul B. Hall unveils latest lab technology

"The practice of Laboratory Medicine involves getting the right answers to the attending physician in the shortest possible time."

With these words, Shane Anderson, a Medical Technologist and member of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, unveiled the latest in diagnostic technology for medical laboratories at Paul B. Hall Regional Medical Center.

Anderson, Clinical Systems Specialist with Abbott Diagnostics Division of Abbott Laboratories, had just installed the new Abbott Spectrum EPX. Joining Anderson for the initial training demonstration were PBH Administrator Debbie T. Meadows, Associate Administrator Kevin VanHoose, PBH Lab Supervisor Dottie Coffey and Debbie Barrows, Medical Technologist and Technical Director of the PBH Lab.

The EPX and a companion piece designed to retain the computerized information in the event of power outages were installed last week by Abbott technicians and have already been put to their intended use.

Meadows noted, "The Abbott EPX will allow our Lab technicians to provide timely, economical and highly accurate blood analyses to our staff and ER physicians. The EPX represents yet another example of the 'state of the art' medical technology and service available at Paul B. Hall."

Anderson added that "this is the only equipment in Eastern Kentucky capable of performing these functions with this capacity."

Meadows and Anderson agreed that "the real winners (with such technological advances) are the patients who will benefit from this service."

Community Calendar

Editor's Note: As a service to the many clubs and committees that meet in our community, the Floyd County Times' Community Calendar will host meeting and public service announcements.

Recycling seminar

A special program entitled "Recycling: Fact and Fiction, what recycling can do for your community" will be presented on Monday, October 7 at 7 p.m. at the Floyd County Library. There will be discussion on how schools can earn money by recycling and how to build a better future for the children.

Randy Osborne, executive director of State of the Art Recycling in Ann Arbor, Michigan, will present the program.

"Members of the community determine their own destiny," Osborne said. "Garbage is a new resource. It's up to each member of the community whether they want funds to go to the government or back into the community."

The seminar is free to the public.

Walk for Hunger

God's Pantry East of Prestonsburg will be holding their second annual "Walk For Hunger" on Saturday, October 12, during the Jenny Wiley Festival Parade. This is a project to help support the Crisis Food Bank. Refreshments and prizes will be available.

Teams are asked to sign up now. For more information call 886-8598 or 886-1719.

Marine lauded

Corporal Mark E. Stumbo, formerly of Harold, was recently awarded the Navy Achievement Medal for his professional achievement from February 1990 to September 1991. He is the son of Sue Stumbo of Harold and Phillip Stumbo of Allen. A 1985 graduate of Pikeville High School, he attended Pikeville College and married the former Angela Justice of Pikeville.

Kentucky's unemployment rate rose for third straight month in August

Even though employment rebounded, Kentucky's jobless rate continued to climb for the third consecutive month to 7.7 percent in August as more new job seekers entered the labor force.

August's preliminary rate compares to July's 7.4 percent and 5.2 percent last August, and is Kentucky's highest rate since February 1989's 7.7 percent according to the monthly Cabinet for Human Resources labor trends report.

Nationally the rate fell from 6.7 percent in July to 6.5 percent in August. Comparable state and national rates are not seasonally adjusted.

"Although employment improved in several sectors, new hirings didn't absorb all of the new applicants in August and that pushed the rate up," said Ed Blackwell, the state's chief labor market analyst.

"Our rate may decline some this fall, but winter is usually our hardest time, so any significant improvement probably won't come until spring."

"In August, we had a 51.4 percent increase in the number of Kentuckians looking for work compared to August of last year," he said. "The impact of the national recession continues to force people who previously hadn't sought employment, and others needing a second income, to enter the labor force."

However, Blackwell said, in comparison to the last recession, Kentucky is nowhere near approaching the extended periods of double-digit jobless rates in 1982 and 1983 as the state's employment has expanded by about 146,000.

The government sector got the biggest boost in August (+3,800) because education employment shot up 4,200 as students began returning to school.

Manufacturing gained 2,200 jobs with a 1,500 increase in transportation equipment at the Louisville Ford Motor Co. truck plant and a 300-job jump each in fabricated metals, and petroleum, rubber and plastic products.

On the other hand, losses occurred in electrical equipment (-300) as General Electric Co. in Lexington closed for a two-week vacation, he said.

Trade regained strength with 1,100 additional jobs in apparel and accessory stores, automotive dealerships, and home furniture and equipment. Compared to last August, trade grew by 2,400.

Transportation, communications and utilities rose by 800 in telephone and other communications, air transportation, trucking and warehousing. Jobs increased 600 in construction mainly in home building, special trades and heavy construction.

Students returning to school may have adversely affected agriculture and services sectors, which employ large numbers of students during the summer.

Agriculture forfeited 9,300 jobs as August's dry weather hindered work, especially in tobacco, Blackwell said.

Services decreased 800 mostly in amusement and recreation, hospitals, hotels and membership organizations, Blackwell said. However, services jobs were 7,700 ahead of last August.

The category that includes self-employed people, domestic employees and people working in family businesses rose by 2,600 workers.

The U.S. Department of Labor's estimate of Kentuckians working, based on census surveys, showed 1,670,500 people with jobs in August, up 5,900 from July's 1,664,600, and 19,700 below August 1990's 1,690,200.

The federal estimate of unemployed Kentuckians was 139,900 in August, up 7,100 from July's 132,800 and 47,500 above August 1990's estimate of 92,400.

Kentucky's civilian labor force estimate for August was 1,810,400, a gain of 13,000 from July's 1,797,400, but 27,800 more than the August 1990 figure of 1,782,600. The civilian labor force includes non-military workers and unemployed Kentuckians who actively are seeking work. It does not include the unemployed who have not looked for a job in our weeks.

Unemployment statistics are based on estimates and are compiled to measure employment trends rather than to actually count people working.

Methodist gets red wagons

Pediatric patients at Methodist Hospital have a new way to travel thanks to a recent donation made by Eastern Telephone Company. Three red wagons were added to the hospital's pediatric floor after one parent initiated the idea.

Sandy Johnson recalled that when her 10-month-old son was a patient at Methodist, she could never take him for a walk because he and the IV pole were too much to handle on her own. She said she thought the wagons were a good idea because "you can push along the IV pole with one hand while pulling the wagon with the other". "Besides," she said, "children would much rather ride in a wagon as opposed to a stretcher or wheelchair."

Johnson said she hopes the wagons will be used by anyone who transports children at the hospital, whether it be to x-ray, to surgery or parents who want to take their child for a ride around seventh floor.

Director of Development and Community Relations Penny Stratton said "the wagons are a great idea! Not only will they be enjoyed by the children, but parents and hospital staff will appreciate them as well. Methodist would like to thank Sandy and Eastern Telephone Company for investing in the children's services at our local hospital."

MSU extended campus sets conference dates

Morehead State University's Big Sandy Extended Campus Center, located at Highlands Shopping Plaza in Prestonsburg has three conferences scheduled for Fall 1991.

Success in Sales will be held October 12. A Tourism conference will be held October 18 and an Employer/Employer Relations will be held November 12.

Contact the Morehead State University, Big Sandy Extended Campus Center at (606) 886-2405 or 886-2629 for registration information, times of conferences or any other questions you may have. The number of participants will be limited only by the available space.

Correction

The household shower held last Friday for the Crider family at Cow Creek was not sponsored by the volunteer fire department but rather by women of the community. It was just held at the fire house.

Middle Creek Community Development meeting

The Middle Creek Community Development club will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, October 7, at 7 p.m. at the Middle Creek Volunteer Fire Department Building on the Mountain Parkway. All the residents of Middle Creek and Rough & Tough are encouraged to attend.

The club needs to elect a new water committee for Middle Creek since State Road Fork has completed their water arrangements. Also being discussed at the meeting is the flood plain level.

Jenny Wiley Festival

The Jenny Wiley Festival will be held beginning Sunday, October 6, each evening through Thursday, all day Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12 in the Municipal Parking Lot, downtown Prestonsburg. The parade is scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday. For further information and a free brochure, call 886-1341 or 886-6101.

Allen PTO to meet

Allen Elementary PTO will meet Monday, October 14, at 7 p.m. at the new school. Parent council members will be elected.

Gospel convention

The 46th annual Kentucky State Gospel Singing Convention will be held in Scottsville at 7 p.m. on Saturday, October 12, and at 1 p.m., Sunday, October 13. The convention will be held at the Allen Country-Scottsville High School Auditorium. The school is located 23 miles south-east of Bowling Green on highway 231. Everyone is invited.

IMPACT Conference scheduled

During 1990 and the beginning of 1991, Kentucky has implemented a program to work with severely emotionally disturbed children and their families, called Kentucky IMPACT (SED program). This program is multi-agency oriented and its goal is to keep children in their home and community.

In order to better understand the program, all persons who work with children and parents of children with emotional/behavioral problems are invited to attend a conference on Wednesday, October 2, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Prestonsburg. Contact Diane Yoder at 886-8572 if you are able to attend or for more information.

Kiwanis to install officers

Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club will install its new officers for the 1991-92 year on Thursday, October 3, at a banquet to be held in Highlands Regional Medical Center cafeteria. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and all spouses are invited to attend.

Kiwanis Division 16 Lt. Governor, Steve Bliffen, will attend to take part in the installation service. For the first time in the 68-year history of the club, the gavel will be passed to a woman, Lane H. Dutton, co-owner of a local business. Mrs. Dutton will be installed on Thursday night as president of the club and will be installed on Thursday night as president of the club and Robert Lewandowski as president-elect. Len Grant will remain as the club's secretary-treasurer. All Kiwanians are urged to attend with their spouses.

MSU Information Night being held in Prestonsburg

Morehead State University representatives will host an information night in Prestonsburg on Tuesday, October 15, to inform prospective students and their parents of the opportunities available on the campus.

The "Meet Morehead State" program will begin at 7 p.m. at Jenny Wiley State Park.

"Because it may be inconvenient for students to visit the campus, we want to provide information at a location that is accessible to them," said Sandra Barker, admissions counselor. "This is a perfect opportunity to talk with a variety of persons — current students and faculty — and ask specific questions about the programs MSU offers and career possibilities available in various fields."

The evening's activities will follow an informal format beginning with registration and a videotape of campus life. Information about admissions, academic programs, student life, scholarships, campus housing and athletics will be provided.

MSU officials are including a special session on student financial aid and paying for college, Barker said.

Additional information is available from MSU's Office of Admissions, (606) 783-2000, or toll free at 1-800-262-7474 in Kentucky and 1-800-354-2090 from adjoining states.

75th Anniversary celebrated at ALC

In 1915, Alice Geddes Lloyd left her Boston home to come to Knott County, Kentucky. Her first residence, "Hope Cottage" at Ivis, was made possible by Presbyterian missionaries who had earlier abandoned the house.

After a year at "Hope Cottage," in 1916, a stranger from Caney Creek, Abisha Johnson by name, knocked on Mrs. Lloyd's front porch. He had come with a special request. Could she come to Caney Creek to help educate his children? If she would come, "Bysh" would deed her several acres of land for a school and community center.

Not long after that visit, Mrs. Lloyd, her husband, Arthur, and her mother, Mrs. Geddes, gathered their material belongings, and set out across Caney Mountain. That journey marked the beginning of an educational project of historic significance. Thousands of young men and women have come to Caney Creek to continue their educational adventure. In the majority of cases, students paid little or nothing to receive an education, and the brightest of them have been scholarship through graduate and professional schools.

On October 16, 17, and 18, Alice Lloyd College will celebrate the 75th anniversary of Mrs. Lloyd's journey to Caney Creek. Alumni Grad friends of the College are expected to gather for the three-day event which includes a dramatic portrayal of Mrs. Lloyd and her work; a film festival of the documentaries and television productions of Alice Lloyd College; and a concert by the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra.

A photographic display and archive collection will be on exhibit during the celebration, as well as an Appalachian Book Fair.

The public is invited and may call in advance regarding the evening programs. A schedule of events is listed below. For more information, phone 368-2101 ext. 4002 or 368-2101 ext. 4601.

75th Anniversary Schedule of Events

Wednesday, October 16: Appalachian Book Fair, Photographic Display, Tours of Campus, "Remembering Alice Lloyd" at 7:30 p.m. (A dramatic presentation with reception to follow).

Friday, October 18: Appalachian Book Fair, Photographic Display, Tours of Campus, Anniversary Dinner at Hunger Din from 5:30-6:30 p.m. (Please make reservations), Aaron Copeland's "Appalachian Spring" performed by Knoxville Symphony Orchestra at 7:30 p.m. (Reception to follow).

All activities, except for the Anniversary Dinner, will be free of charge.

Film Festival Schedule; Thursday, October 18:

7 p.m. - "This is Your Life, June Buchanan" and music video; "Miracle on Caney Creek" (Michael Johnathan) Ralph Edwards Auditorium (Library); "Stay on, Stranger" and "Miracle on Caney Creek" Library Classroom 102; "Miracle on Caney Creek" and "This is Your Life, Alice Lloyd" Library Classroom 104.

8 p.m. - "Stay on, Stranger" and "Miracle on Caney Creek" Library Classroom 102; "Miracle on Caney Creek" and "This is Your Life, Alice Lloyd" Library Classroom 104. 8:05 p.m. - "This is Your Life, June Buchanan" and music video "Miracle on Caney Creek" (Michael Johnathan) Ralph Edwards Auditorium.

Films may run over the 9 p.m. hour due to rewinding. No films shown past 9:30 p.m.. Refreshments served in downstairs lobby of library before, during, and shortly after films.

MSU sponsors quality leadership for small businesses conference

Morehead State University will be the site Wednesday, October 16, of a state wide teleconference designed to help Kentucky businesses improve quality and obtain a competitive edge on today's marketplace.

The live telecast, entitled "Quality Leadership for Small and Mid Size Businesses" will be held in the Eagle Room, Adron Doran University Center, from 8 to 10 a.m. There is no charge for attendance but preregistration is encouraged.

Step by step suggestions on how to become a better leader of any organization, regardless of size, is the focus of the session. Viewers will have the opportunity to interact with the panel guests. A question and answer session will conclude the program.

The teleconference is the first in a five part Innovation Teleconference Series which stresses total quality management and includes creative and innovative strategic planning and the latest in technological advances.

Other sessions, scheduled for the coming year, will include: "Positioning Your Firm as a Market Leader," December 4; "Realizing the Full Potential of Your Work Force," February 5; "Five Strategies to Improve the Quality of Your Products and Services," April 8; and "Building Customer Confidence," June 3.

The series is sponsored by the Kentucky Office of Business and Technology, Kentucky Science and Technology Council, Inc. and Kentucky Educational Television (KET) in Lexington, where the programs will originate.

Area sponsors for the program are MSU's College of Business Small Business Development Center, Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, Kentucky Department of Libraries and Archives, and University of Kentucky Community College System. Registration and additional information is available from MSU's Small Business Development Center at (606) 783-2895.

Berea "best buy" among colleges in the south

Berea College again has earned inclusion in U.S. News & World Report magazine's annual listing of the nation's top colleges and universities.

For the third consecutive year, the U.S. News survey ranks Berea third among top regional universities in the South. Wake Forest University in North Carolina is first in the category and Virginia's University of Richmond is second. Sharing third place with Berea is Stetson University in Florida.

And, in its new college guidebook, U.S. News designates Berea as the "best buy" among educational institutions in the South.

The annual rankings of the nation's top schools appear in the magazine's September 30 "America's Best Colleges" issue which went on sale

Monday, September 23.

Berea has been ranked in each of the magazine's "Best Colleges" surveys which began in 1985.

Factors considered in the magazine's America's Best Colleges rankings were academic reputation, student selectivity, faculty resources, student satisfaction, student SAT/ACT scores and acceptance rate.

Berea, a private and independent college, charges no tuition. It admits only students who have financial need and covers their educational costs with institutional funds. Through work in the on-campus labor program, students earn money to meet living expenses.

In last year's U.S. News guide to the nation's best educational bargains, Berea also was first among schools in the South.

Workshop to be held for Medical Technologists

Morehead State University's Continuing Education Program for nursing and allied health care professionals will sponsor a workshop for medical technologists on Thursday, October 10, on the MSU campus.

The program, entitled "Laboratory Testing—Selection and Validation of Methodology," will be held in the Eagle Dining Room, Adron Doran University Center.

Susan E. Spires, M.D., staff pathologist at Mary Chiles Hospital in Mt. Sterling and Clark County Hospital in Winchester, will serve as faculty for the program.

Registration will begin at 12:30 p.m. with class to start at 1 p.m. The cost is $18 which includes handout materials and refreshment breaks.

Nurses attending the workshop will receive contact hours as approved by the Kentucky Board of Nursing.

Additional information is available for MSU's Department of Nursing and Allied Health Sciences at (606) 783-2632.

TO THE FAMILIES OF PRESTONSBURG

I would like to announce that I am a candidate for the office of Councilman for the city of Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Like my father, the late George P. Archer, I want to see our town grow and change for the better. My dream, like his, is to give your children and mine a hometown that they can be proud of. A place for all our businesses and industries to locate, grow and flourish. A place where we, the citizens, can work together, to keep our way of life peaceful and easy while heading into the next century with plans and dreams for all of us for a better tomorrow.

Over the next few weeks, I hope to be meeting and visiting with most of you and I am looking forward to hearing your thoughts and ideas on what you see for the future of our hometown.

Sincerely,
George Preston Archer

Catlett - Tackett announce wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Mark R. Catlett of Zanesville, Ohio, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kimberly Kay, to Robert Timothy Tackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Tackett, of Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Wedding vows will be exchanged Saturday, October 12th at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Christian Church, 205 East Short St., Lexington, Kentucky. A reception at the Bodley Bullock House Museum will follow.

All family and friends are invited to attend.

"The Heat Pump Really Cuts Down On Dust."

—Craig and Cindy Smith

To keep the air in their home cleaner, Craig and Cindy Smith installed the electric heat pump: "Both of us have allergies. But when the heat pump is on, we don't notice them as much. We feel better. We can really tell a difference." Plus, less dust in the air means Craig and Cindy's home stays cleaner: "Buying the heat pump was a good decision. We're very pleased."

To find out more about the clean, energy-efficient heat pump, call your Kentucky Power office, or call 1-800-562-8989 ext. 1249.

KY Trailblazers make annual wagon train trip to Renfro Valley for Harvest Festival

On Friday afternoon, October 4, folks from far and near will turn out to welcome the Kentucky Trailblazers, as their wagon train rolls into Renfro Valley for the 11th consecutive year. Estimated time of arrival is between 3 and 4 p.m. "It's a little hard to give an exact time," said Kim Franklin, one of the group's founders. "With anywhere between 18 and 25 wagons, most anything could happen. We've had good luck so far, though, and never arrived any later than 4 o'clock."

The excursion will begin on Tuesday, October 1, as the group meets that morning around 9:30 in Mt. Eden, Kentucky. The first day's jaunt is the shortest — from Mt. Eden to Lawrenceburg, via Route 44. Wednesday's leg of the journey takes the train from Lawrenceburg to Danville, and on Thursday night, the group will camp at Crab Orchard, Kentucky.

"We take the back roads for the most part to stay out of the way of highway traffic," Franklin said, "and the few places where we have to use the more traveled routes, we pull off to let the traffic go around us."

The Kentucky Trailblazers is an organization whose members get together at least one weekend per month from April to October, and travel by wagon train. During the winter months, when the weather is cold, they hold meetings and pot luck suppers, while planning the next season's trips.

The annual journey to Renfro Valley for the molasses festival is a tradition started long ago by Franklin's father, Joe.

"When I was growing up, my family used to attend the festival every year," she said. "We'd haul our horses down to Rockcastle County and ride around in the hills. Then my dad was hurt in an accident and couldn't ride (horseback) any more, so he decided to make the trip in a covered wagon. From there it just mushroomed. More and more people join our group every year."

Yearly membership fees for the Kentucky Trailblazers are very reasonable: $10 per person, or $15 per family. The money is used each year for a dinner for the group to meet and plan another annual undertaking: At Christmastime, members go caroling on horseback to nursing homes in and around the Frankfort area.

"We don't have it nearly as rough as the pioneers did," Franklin explained. "For instance, nearly all of the wagons have automobile tires. A 99-mile trip on those old iron-rimmed wagon wheels could make you pretty miserable. And we use CB radios to help keep the wagons together."

"For the most part, wagon train members cook by campfire, but it isn't a requirement, so some of our people will go to a restaurant or pick up some fast food in one of the towns along the way. Nearly everyone carries a cooler of soft drinks," she added, "and each year, we think of new and better ways to make the trip more comfortable, without getting too modernized."

The wagon train members will camp on the west side of the creek at Renfro Valley Friday and Saturday evenings, and will begin the journey home Sunday afternoon, as the 'Lasses Makin' and Harvest Festival draws to a close.

Morehead State has four open houses scheduled

Morehead State University's Office of Admissions has scheduled four "Open House" activities to introduce prospective students and their parents to the University.

The first Open House will be held on Saturday, October 12, according to Michelle Richmond, admissions counselor and coordinator of the event.

"The activity is designed to give students and their parents an opportunity to visit the campus, find out what the University has to offer and talk with various faculty and staff members about MSU's programs," Richmond said.

Registration for the Open House will begin at 9 a.m. on the third floor of the Adron Doran University Center (ADUC). Refreshments will be available in the Crager Room and participants may browse through displays set up on the second and third floors showcasing various programs — academic, athletic, housing and financial aid — available at Morehead State.

The group will be welcomed by MSU President C. Nelson Grote as well as faculty members and Student Government Association representatives.

Other activities on the day's agenda include time to visit academic areas, where a faculty member will be available to speak to students and parents about specific program requirements, and tours will be conducted to give the participants a thorough look at the campus.

"In the past, attendance has ranged from local families to people from as far away as the state of Michigan. For many, it's the first time they've visited a college campus," said Richmond.

Another Open House is scheduled for November 16 with two activities planned for the spring semester, February 15 and April 4.

Additional information is available from the Office of Admissions at (606) 783-2000 or toll free in Kentucky at 1-800-262-7474 or 1-800-354-2090 from adjoining states.

Annual VIP Day to be held Oct. 12

High school juniors and seniors are invited to attend the 14th Annual VIP Day at Georgetown College on Saturday, October 12.

The visitation to campus enables prospective students and their parents the opportunity to tour the campus and to meet and talk with faculty.

Registration for the day-long event begins at 8 a.m. in the Cralle Student Center. The opening session then follows at 9:15 a.m.

Georgetown College is a four-year, private, Christian liberal arts institution affiliated with the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

For reservations or further information about VIP Day, write: Admissions office, Georgetown College, 400 East College St., Georgetown, Ky., 40324, or call: (502) 863-8009.

VOTE AND ELECT

Harold Stumbo for Circuit Judge

If there is some doubt about my qualifications to serve as Circuit Judge, perhaps the following will help clarify this:

I was born near Sizemore Branch on Left Beaver Creek. I attended Drift and Sizemore Grade Schools and McDowell High School.

I attended the University of Kentucky for four years and received my Law Degree from the University of Louisville.

I served a tour of duty with the U.S. Army attached to the 5th Armored Division.

I was selected Who's Who among American Colleges and Universities and was President of the Student Bar Association, and graduated from Law School as an Honor Student.

After graduating from Law School my family and I came back to Floyd County and I engaged in the Practice of Law.

I entered Politics in the year of 1963 and ran for Commonwealth's Attorney and was elected. I served twelve years as Commonwealth's Attorney. I then served two years as County Attorney and have served thirteen years as District Judge. I think the above qualifies me to serve as Circuit Judge.

During the years my wife and I have developed pride in our four children and four grandchildren. I have received several awards during my life in School, Army and as a Public Official.

Let the word go forth that Honor, Duty, Honesty and Respect of my Fellow Citizens is my goal until the day that I either die or fade away from Political Life.

Your Public Servant,

Pd. by Pluma Stumbo, Campaign Treasurer for Candidate

DISMAL YEAR ABOUT TO END....

This weekend will end the 1991 Major League baseball season for the present World Champion Cincinnati Reds (they are the World Champions until after the World Series). The Reds can finish no higher than fourth place and certainly can fall to fifth place. Only Houston keeps them out of the cellar.

It has been a disappointing season for the high expectations the team had going into the season. Being world champions, big salaries, prestige and yes, a little arrogance no doubt led to the downfall of the Big Red Machine. Cincinnati Red fans can only hope that the front office of the Reds will make an honest try at changing some personnel on the team. I personally don't think some of the players gave their best. I also feel that if the Reds are to ever be competitive again they must get players that want to win.

Barry Larkin, no doubt, is the best shortstop playing the game today, but he doesn't seem to have the aggressiveness he needs to be a leader. I know that he clubbed a career high 20 home runs, is currently batting .306 and has had an all-star year with all those figures. But Larkin must be the team leader and he has failed to step forward and take charge.

Eric Davis continues to be a "joke" as a $3 million plus baseball player. I said it before and I repeat, Davis could post some very impressive numbers if he was playing for someone else. He just doesn't want to play for the Reds.

If the Reds are to be contenders next season, then some changes must come this winter and during spring training. Look for the Reds to go to the bargaining table at the winter meetings—something they failed to do last winter. Bob O'Quinn's job will depend on it. ALLEN CENTRAL TO GET NEW FLOOR...

If everything goes as scheduled, the Allen Central Rebels will be playing their home basketball games on a new floor this year. No, not a new location, but a new floor. The old tarp-type floor is going to be history at the Right Beaver school and a new wood floor will go down.

According to Allen Central Athletic Director Bert Layne, the floor should start being laid around the middle of November. "They said that once they start, it will take six weeks to complete," said Layne. "That means that we may have to change two home games scheduled for the first part of December, and then we may not."

Layne said that the Rebels would probably hold their practices in the old Wayland gym until the work is completed. The old Wayland gym is still a good place to practice and play basketball. It has been well cared for over the years and holds a lot of basketball memories.

I am glad that the old floor at Allen Central is about to be history and a new floor is on the way. Coach Johnny Martin should have a fine basketball team this year and a new floor will add to it.

While on the subject of Allen Central's gym, they need to build a press box and radio booth somewhere in the gymnasium. The lower section opposite of the benches would be an ideal spot. This certainly would be beneficial to the radio stations that cover the games. MORE REBELS NEWS.....

Word is that Coach Martin has his Rebel team in the upcoming Class A State Tournament this year. The Rebels had declined entrance because of a question of school size. If the Rebels are considered a Class A school in football, why not in basketball. Well, this year Martin's team will make the third Floyd County team to take part. McDowell and Wheelwright have already competed in the tournament the past two years.

Good sports everyone, and be good sports.

Clark scores 90 yard return....

Blackcats Roll to 61-22 Victory Over Betsy Layne

Coach Bill Letton's Prestonsburg Blackcats broke their four-game losing streak with a convincing 61-22 win over the Betsy Layne Bobcats Friday night at the Prestonsburg Athletic Complex behind a strong performance by quarterback Aaron Tucker and the running of John Clark and Dwayne Garza.

Tucker looked to have returned to his freshman form, when he passed for over 1,200 in his first year for the Blackcats. He was sharp in his first four passes, completing all four. Tucker hit split end Clark with a 23-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter.

The game also allowed Letton to give some of his reserves some playing time in the final period and the junior Blackcats looked very impressive in their moment of glory. Larry Morris, who played extensively in the ball game, was impressive both on defense and offense. Morris scored the final touchdown for Prestonsburg in the final minutes of the game on a 14-yard run. Freshman Thomas Rattliff, one of many bright spots for future Blackcat football, had a touchdown pass also in the final period.

Clark looked as if he was ready to take the game into his own hands as he had a kickoff return of 90 yards for a touchdown. Earlier in the game Clark ran 85 yards for what appeared to be a touchdown but a clipping call nullified the score.

There were other bright spots in the game for the Blackcats, who seem to be playing with much more confidence than earlier in the season. The defense was strong behind the leadership of Kyle Fitzpatrick and James Derossett.

Betsy Layne struggled against the Blackcat defense in the first half, particularly in the first period when they had minus yardage.

It didn't take Prestonsburg long to get on the scoreboard in the first period when the Bobcats were forced to punt on their first possession. The Blackcats got excellent field position when Shawn Reynolds' punt went straight up in the air and carried only about 15 yards. Prestonsburg took over the football on the Bobcat 41-yard line and, after two plays, sophomore running back Dwayne Garza scampered 28 yards for the touchdown. Clark picked up 13 yards on the first carry for the Blackcats before Garza's TD run. Clark added the extra point for a 7-0 Prestonsburg lead.

It didn't take Prestonsburg long to add to their lead. Betsy Layne failed to move the football on their next possession as the Blackcats took over on the Bobcat 30-yard line following a bad snap from center to Reynolds. Prestonsburg was assessed a 15-yard penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct and the ball was placed at the 30-yard line. Fullback John Goble carried the ball for a 13-yard pick up. Goble carried again and was stopped at the line of scrimmage but the Blackcats were penalized again, this time for holding, placing the ball back on the 27-yard line. Tucker hit Derossett with a 7-yard pass and then, on a third down play, Tucker connected with Clark for a 23-yard touchdown pass for a 13-0 game. Clark's extra point attempt was off to the left.

One of five!

John Clark of Prestonsburg kicks one of five extra points as Ronnie Goodman (35) holds. Clark had a 90-yard kick off return for a touchdown against Betsy Layne Friday night.

Has big game at Johns Creek!

Jamie Slone carried the football 29 times for Allen Central Monday at Johns Creek and rushed for 211 yards while scoring two touchdowns. The effort by Slone was not enough as the Bearcats recorded a 65-22 win over the Rebels. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Flags, Penalties, Confusion Prevail As Rebels Fall 65-22

Even the Allen Central coach was hollering "would someone tell me what's going on." That seemed to be the state of things as Monday Night Football took place at Johns Creek. No, it wasn't the NFL Monday Night Football, but it did have some resemblance. It was rough and several players suffered injuries as tempers flared. However, when it was over it was the Johns Creek Bearcats coming away with a 65-22 win over the Rebels. The game was a completion of a game that was postponed during the school bus drivers' strike.

It was a much improved Allen Central team offensively that faced the Bearcats. But the same problem defensively existed and that was no down field coverage as Johns Creek took three kickoffs and returned them all for touchdowns.

Freshman Brad Blackburn started his first game at the quarterback slot and was one of the many bright spots for Allen Central. Blackburn engineered several good Rebel drives that resulted in scores—something the Rebels haven't enjoyed very often this season. The freshman signal caller tossed to Shane Stumbo for a 49-yard touchdown pass and had five completions for 70 yards passing.

Another illuminating sight was the running of Jamie Slone. Slone was constantly finding holes in the Bearcat defense as he rushed for 211 yards on 29 carries. Slone scored two touchdowns and ran two conversion plays.

Again, determination was shining as the Rebels did not quit after falling behind early in the game. Constantly they were reminding one another to keep their heads up and go after the Bearcats.

If there was one thing that hurt the Rebels it was in the penalty department where they were flagged nine times for 95 yards. Four of those calls were for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Johns Creek looked very good and were quick coming off the ball as they took an early 19-0 lead on their first three possessions behind the play of quarterback Chris Gannon and Jason K. Taylor. Taylor had two kick off returns of 53 and 84 yards for touchdowns. Taylor also had two interceptions on defense for the Bearcats. Gannon had an 80-yard kick off return for a touchdown and he kicked five extra points.

Allen Central took the football early in the second quarter and Blackburn directed the Rebels down field as they got the ball down on the Johns Creek 12-yard line only to see Blackburn fumble the football and Johns Creek's Elswick recovered the ball.

"They really came at me and I felt their defense behind me," said Blackburn of the fumble, "and I just lost the ball. I believe they jumped early on defense."

Trailing 32-0 in the third period, Jamie Slone took a Bearcat kick off and returned the ball 42 yards to give Allen Central good field position. Kevin Patton carried for a 3-yard gain and Slone picked up 24 yards and a Rebel first down. Johns Creek was flagged for facemasking on the tackle of Slone and the 15-yard penalty moved the ball Johns Creek 6-yard line where Slone carried the ball into the end zone. Slone added the two-point conversion to make it a 32-8 game.

After Robert Collins struck paydirt for Johns Creek on a 15-yard run, David Gilliam made a great block of Gannon's extra point and the Rebels took over the football on their own 15-yard line. Behind the running of Slone and Patton the Rebels drove the ball to the Bearcats 4-yard line where Slone scored the second Rebel touchdown on a 4-yard run. Slone had one pick-up of 29 yards during the drive orchestrated by Blackburn.

Tempers started to flare—as they did all through the game—as the two teams were hitting hard on the line and in the backfield. With 2:50 remaining in the third period, Johns Creek was in possession of the ball when confusion began to dominate the Bearcat offense. The officials were trying to sort out certain situations as the Rebels were flagged for three unsportsmanlike conduct calls with Brad Scott and Jeff Kilburn being ejected from the game. It was the second

Fleming Brothers Lead Neon Past Trojans 60-6 In District Game

Running like deers, Kevin and Josh Fleming piled up the yardage as they lead the seventh ranked Fleming-Neon Pirates to an easy 60-6 district win over the Wheelwright Trojans.

The two backs totaled 367 yards between them as they weaved in and around the Trojan defensive line. Kevin Fleming carried the football 12 times for 197 yards rushing while brother Josh managed 170 yards on eight attempts.

All together, the Pirates rushed for 430 yards on 25 carries. Fleming-Neon quarterback John Hall had four completions in nine tosses for 57 yards in the air. Hall had one touchdown toss—a 25-yard connection with Mike Quillen.

Wheelwright took the opening kick off and put together a good drive that ended when Trojan quarterback Steven Shelton's pass was intercepted by Josh Fleming on the Neon 46-yard line. Fleming returned the ball to the Wheelwright 27 before he was hauled down. Kevin Fleming picked up 10 yards on a run moving the ball to the Trojan 17 where Josh Fleming took the ball into the end zone for the score. Shannon Strange added the extra point for a 7-0 game.

The Trojans were the victims of a turnover on the kick off when the football was fumbled and recovered by the Pirates on the 19-yard line of Wheelwright with 6:30 left in the first quarter. After a clipping penalty had been called on the Pirates the ball was placed on the Wheelwright 34-yard line where Hall hit Quillen with a pass for a touchdown to give Neon a 13-0 lead.

Wheelwright continued to struggle on the speciality team as Arnold Adams was having too high snaps from center and ended up having to pass the football. Adams, who had been averaging around 31 yards per punt, only had one for 35 yards.

Neon took over the football after an intercepted Adams' pass and, on five plays that covered 46 yards, Kevin Fleming scored from 11 yards out and Strange added the extra point for a 20-0 first quarter lead.

Trailing 26-0 in the second period, Wheelwright got on the scoreboard on a 28-yard pass play to Chuck Hutton from Steven Shelton. Shelton looked like a quarterback that knew

Blackcats

With 3:02 remaining in the first quarter, Prestonsburg took over the football on the Betsy Layne 43. Garza ran the ball to the Bobcat 25-yard line on a 15-yard gain. Goble moved inside the 20 to the Bobcat 16-yard line with a 9-yard run. On a second-and-one from the Betsy Layne 16, Garza scored his second touchdown of the game on a sweep play to give Prestonsburg a commanding 19-0 lead.

The first quarter ended with the Blackcats in control of the football on a second-and-four situation on the Betsy Layne 4-yard line. On third down Goble carried the football into the end zone for the score and Clark added the extra point to give Prestonsburg a 26-0 lead.

Betsy Layne finally got some good field position in the second period and made good of it as Bobcat quarterback Bryan Combs hit Shawn Reynolds with a 9-yard pass to put the ball on the Blackcat 18-yard line and a Betsy Layne first down. James Keathley moved the ball to the 5-yard line where Jamie Kidd carried the ball into the end zone for a touchdown. Doug Hammond ran the two-point conversion and it was a 26-8 game.

Betsy Layne got a break (sort of) after Clark took the Bobcat kick off and returned the ball 90 yards for a touchdown. The score was called back when the Blackcats were flagged for clipping.

After the ball was spotted on the Prestonsburg 23-yard line, the first time the Blackcats didn't have good field position, Prestonsburg marched 77 yards on a drive that was culminated when Tucker, on a keeper, trotted into the end zone from 11 yards out for the score. Clark added the extra point and it was 33-8 at half time.

At the start of the second half, Betsy Layne kicked off to Prestonsburg where Clark fielded the football and he broke tackle on the 40-yard line and went the rest of the way for a 85-yard TD. This time there were no flags. Clark, instead of getting a rest, kicked the extra point to give the Blackcats a 40-8 advantage.

Seth Hyden made it a 48-8 game with a nice 36-yard run in the third period and Clark ran the two-point conversion. Betsy Layne got their second score when junior quarterback Bryan Combs hit Randy Woods with a 61-yard touchdown pass in the third period for a 48-14 game.

It was the reserves who played the final period for the Blackcats and they put two touchdowns on the scoreboard in the frame. Thomas Ratliff, in to quarterback the ball club, hit Cling Shutts with a 19-yard pass for a score and Larry Morris added the final Prestonsburg touchdown with his 14-yard jaunt.

"Bill (Letton) was good about playing his junior varsity team the fourth quarter," said Betsy Layne head coach Gerald Newsome. "I also thought it was a very well called ballgame. We put together a good drive in the game and we looked good in places.

"On the 61-yard touchdown pass, we ran what was a halfback pass play and showed a reverse and made a weak side pass to our tight end," explained Newsome. "We played a 'hurry up' offense in the second quarter and that was when we scored our first touchdown. That's something Mr. Osborne put in."

Jamie Kidd scored the final points for Betsy Layne in the fourth period on a 38-yard touchdown run and Kidd also converted the two-point conversion play.

Unofficially, Garza rushed for 123 yards on eight carries. Goble carried the football eight times for 53 yards. Hyden attempted two carries for 44 yards. Passing, Tucker tossed for just over 90 yards with one TD.

Betsy Layne falls to 1-4 on the year while Prestonsburg improves to 1-4. Prestonsburg evens their conference record at 1-1 while Betsy Layne stands at 1-2.

what he wanted to do in the game as he had 31 yards on seven carries. The extra point failed and the Trojans trailed 26-6. It was all Fleming-Neon from that point as Wheelwright played catch up the rest of the way.

The Trojans did put together a good drive in the fourth period when they faced a fourth and eight on the Neon 47-yard line. The Trojans went for the first down with the clock running out. Shelton hit Hutton on a screen pass for 12 yards and a Trojan first down. Wheelwright moved the football inside the Pirates 10-yard line only to see the drive stall out on downs.

Wheelwright collected nine first downs in the game. They were penalized only one time for 10 yards, on a holding call. Shelton had two passes intercepted and the Trojans fumbled away the football twice.

Shelton was six of 13 in passing for 64 yards. Wheelwright rushed for 161 yards on 46 carries for a total offense of 225 yards.

Adams was the top rusher for Wheelwright with 71 yards on 22 carries. Hutton carried eight times for 35 yards and Shelton had his 31 yards.

Steven Jackson, the leading rusher for the Trojans, was injured early in the second quarter and had to sit out the remainder of the game. Jackson carried the football only four times for 17 yards. Jackson had two kick off returns for 59 yards before leaving the game. Hutton returned the ball four times for 68 yards and Cruise Caudill saw action with two returns of 35 yards. Caudill carried the football out of the backfield for 6 yards.

Wheelwright falls to 2-3 on the season and 1-3 in district play. The Trojans will head to Letcher County and face the Jenkins Cavaliers this Friday night.

Jenkins Comes Away With 72-16 Win As Youthful Rebels Continue To Struggle

The first half of the 1991 football season has been a rough one for Coach Dewey Jamerson's very young Allen Central Rebel team. Youth, inexperience and size have been problems for the Rebel offensive line. Things continued to go wrong for Allen Central when the Cavaliers of Jenkins posted a one-sided, 72-16 victory Friday night at Jenkins.

However, the Rebels did put some points on the scoreboard, something they hadn't been able to do since the Whitley County game to start the season. The Rebels were shut out by Fleming-Neon and Pikeville in earlier games.

Jenkins had the Rebels shut out 52-0 until the fourth quarter when they scored twice. Brad Scott scored the first touchdown for Allen Central on a 85-yard kick off return. John Parrott ran the two-point conversion to make it a 52-8 game. Two touchdowns by Bill Harris, on 3-yard and 15-yard runs, made it 74-8. Allen Central freshman quarterback Brad Blackburn took the ball on a keeper from the 1-yard line and plunged into the end zone for a touchdown. Parrott ran the conversion play.

Blackburn replaced Brad Scott at the quarterback slot for the Rebels as Coach Jamerson decided to go with the freshman and give him some playing time.

"I told Brad (Scott) that he would be leaving me after this year and that Brad (Blackburn) was going to be the quarterback for the next three years and that I was going to go with him the rest of the season. Brad took it well and he knew that he was just back there until we had someone else to call the signals."

"I think that Brad did well being he is just a freshman," continued the Rebel coach. "I asked him if he was nervous and he said yes. He made a few mistakes but he didn't rattle. Brad is a smart kid and he will be alright."

Jamerson said that he liked the way his defense hit against the more experienced Cavalier team.

"For the first time this year we punished someone out there," stated Jamerson. "Our defense hit hard and I noticed some of their players limping off the field. We may have gotten beat but they knew we were in the game. That's the first time I could tell my kids that."

Turnovers hurt the Rebels as they lost three fumbles deep in their own territory which made it easy for the Cavaliers to score. Sammy Elswick scored the third touchdown for Jenkins in the second quarter when he recovered a Rebel fumble and ran the ball in from 25 yards out for the score.

"Losing those three fumbles hurt us," explained Jamerson. "They scored a cheap touchdown off of one of them and then they scored with just 25 seconds left in the game. We just fell apart in the fourth quarter. But I can say that our players gave forth a good effort. We are young, inexperienced and small on the line. I only have two seniors there and Shawn Bailey played his first regular season game Friday night." Bailey had been out since being injured in a panorama game earlier.

Allen Central had trouble running against the Jenkins defense as they managed just 32 yards on 27 carries. The Rebels were two for 17 in the passing department and had three passes intercepted for 51 yards passing. Slone, who started at quarterback, was 0 for 1 and Blackburn was 2 for 16 for 51 yards. The Rebs were penalized five times for 40 yards. The Rebels had six first downs in the game.

Jamie Slone carried the football nine times for 33 yards. Kevin Patton was the top gainer for Allen Central with 70 yards on just five attempts. Blackburn was sacked four times for a minus 27 yards. Parrott finished with 13 yards on five carries.

James Osborne had one reception for 40 yards and Shane Stumbo had one reception for 11 yards.

David Gilliam and James Howard led the Rebel defense with five solo hits each. Patton, Stumbo and Parrott each had four.

Jenkins had a total offense of 521 yards with 275 yards coming by air. The Cavaliers carried the football 44 times for 531 yards rushing. Don Wright was the leading gainer for Jenkins with 76 yards on nine carries. Jody Baldwin had 54 yards on nine carries and scored one touchdown in the game. William Figger, who had been injured, returned to the Cavalier lineup and carried the football eight times for 45 yards.

Cavalier quarterback Mark Walker completed eight of 11 passes in the time that he played. Jenkins used three quarterbacks in the game. Overall, Jenkins was 15 of 23 in passing for 275 yards. The big receiver for Jenkins was Kenny Stanley with four receptions for 114 yards. Stanley scored two touchdowns for Jenkins.

Allen Central stands at 0-4 on the year after the first half of the season and goes 0-3 in the conference. The Rebels will face 2-A powerhouse Sheldon Clark this Friday evening at home in a 8 p.m. start.

Halftime.....

The 1991 Floyd County High School football season has reached the halfway mark of the season. It is safe to say that the season has been somewhat of a disappointment to our county coaches who, before the season began, were optimistic.

Currently, the Wheelwright Trojans sport the best overall record of 2-3. The Trojans are 1-3 in Class A, Region 4, District 2 play. It has been a different Trojan team with the Wheelwright team deep in backs. However, for Coach Donnie Daniels' squad, the tough teams have been faced in the first part of the year. In the remaining five games, three could very well go the Trojans way.

Prestonsburg in Class AA, Region 4, District 2, has faced some very stiff competition. Although the Blackcats returned several players from last year's 7-5 squad, the early going was almost unbearable. Losers in their first four games (Estill County, Middlesboro, Whitesburg and Belfry) the Cats have played some quality teams. With the remainder of the 1991 schedule including district opponents, the Blackcats are playing a much better brand of football. Though they dropped a heartbreaker at Whitesburg (the Cats had the lead with 3:51 remaining) and then fell hard to Belfry, Prestonsburg has shown a lot of poise and improvement and no doubt will still challenge for a playoff spot when the 10 game schedule is complete.

Of the four county schools, Allen Central is the by far the youngest. The Rebels have had some very rough outings, not just getting beat, but getting roughed up by large margins. One thing you have to like about this young Rebel team is that they are not quitters. They give forth a good effort every time they take to the field. Scores such as 64-8, 68-0, 78-0 and 72-16 have not dampened the desire of this inexperienced team. Looking ahead the Rebels still must face some very good football teams, but they will rise to the challenge.

Betsy Layne has seen a very positive improvement in the team spirit. A team that started the season really without a named head coach. The Bobcats were taken under the wings of a group of coaches headed by Gerald Newsome and school principal Alan Osborne. Newsome credits Osborne with instilling some pride in the Bobcat program.

Betsy Layne has a tough second half of the season facing them. Three of the final five will be played at home. Morgan County, Whitesburg, M.C. Napier, Elkhorn City and Sheldon Clark make the remainder of the schedule.

To date, Floyd County teams are 4-16 for the first half of the season. Only Wheelwright has one more than one win (2) and the second half favors the Trojans. Prestonsburg will have some very good games coming up in the next five weeks. Allen Central's offense just keeps getting better and better but the defense still lacks aggressiveness. Betsy Layne will surprise some teams the second half.

With the upbeat progress of the Floyd County grade school football program, the high school programs in the county can only get better. It may take a couple of years, but it will improve.

KIDS + FISHING = FUN

Eighteen Kentucky youngsters from all over the state will fish for striped bass at Lake Cumberland during Striper Adventure weekend, October 18-20.

Fifth and sixth graders, who earned outdoorsman patches at conservation camp last summer, were eligible to apply for the Striper Adventure, an annual fun fishing event sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR). Participants are selected by random drawing.

The youngsters, two from each of the state's nine wildlife districts, will have their transportation, lodging and meals provided by the KDFWR. In addition, several fishing guides in the vicinity will offer their services free to help insure a quality experience for the youngsters.

YOUNGSTER WINS STATE FAIR CONTEST

Eight-year-old April Edwards, Louisville, is the proud owner of a 35mm Pentax camera, the prize awarded the winner of a wildlife identification contest sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources at the state fair.

April's contest form was drawn from hundreds of entries which correctly identified nine wildlife species from photos displayed around a large terrarium at the fish and wildlife department booth.

MUZZLE-LOADING DEER SEASON OCTOBER 19-20

The first segment of the 1991-92 Kentucky muzzle-loading season for deer is October 19-20. Hunters required to possess a hunting license must also purchase a deer permit and wear hunter orange on the head, chest and back during the muzzle-loading seasons. Bowhunters hunting October 19-20 must also wear hunter orange on those days. Deer hunters are reminded that squirrel hunters, who are not required to wear hunter orange, will also be in the woods during this period. Always positively identify deer, and what lies beyond the animal, before shooting.

This year, mandatory hunter education is required for hunters born on or after January 1, 1975, before going hunting. Hunters required to have a hunting license may purchase a license before completing the course, but must have the orange, course completion card in possession while in the field. Those hunting on their own lands are exempt from this requirement, but strongly encouraged to take the free, 10-hour course covering gun safety, ethics and other issues relating to hunting.

Kentucky has now joined over 40 other states in requiring mandatory hunter education. Kentucky's program (and course completion card) is recognized in all states as meeting hunter education requirements, and cards or certificates issued from other state's programs are valid in Kentucky.

For more information on hunter education certification and upcoming classes in your area, contact the KDFWR, I&E Division, #1 Game Farm Road, Frankfort, KY 40601; phone (502) 564-4762.

Bassin' with the Pros

THICK HYDRILLA STILL FISHABLE IN LATE SUMMER

Don't despair if a thick mat of hydrilla now covers your favorite fishing lake. You can still catch bass out of the greenery, even though it probably looks solid enough to walk on.

The secret, explains professional angler David Wharton, is to fish under it, not over it, through it, or around it.

"One of the common misconceptions about hydrilla is that it is as thick down on the bottom as it is on the surface," says the Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member, "but in truth, there is actually open water under the hydrilla, and that is where the bass are."

The reasons bass gather under the vegetation, says Wharton, are because the vegetation provides cover, cooler temperatures, and food.

"Earlier in the year when the hydrilla is only two or three feet above the bottom, bass roam over the top of it," says Wharton, "and we catch a lot of fish by slow-rolling a spinnerbait right over the vegetation."

"Now, with the bass back up and underneath the thicker hydrilla, you have to change techniques completely. The best lure is a large plastic worm with perhaps a 3/4 or 5/8-ounce slip sinker. The heavy sinker is needed to penetrate through the matting on top; a lighter sinker will get stopped and never reach the bottom."

Once the lure breaks through the matting, explains the Johnson pro, it can be jiggged vertically, or allowed to fall completely to the bottom and then hopped.

"The way we fish this thick hydrilla is by moving right along the edge of it and pitch-casting our lures a short distance into it. We're not really fishing vertically right under the boat, but we're close."

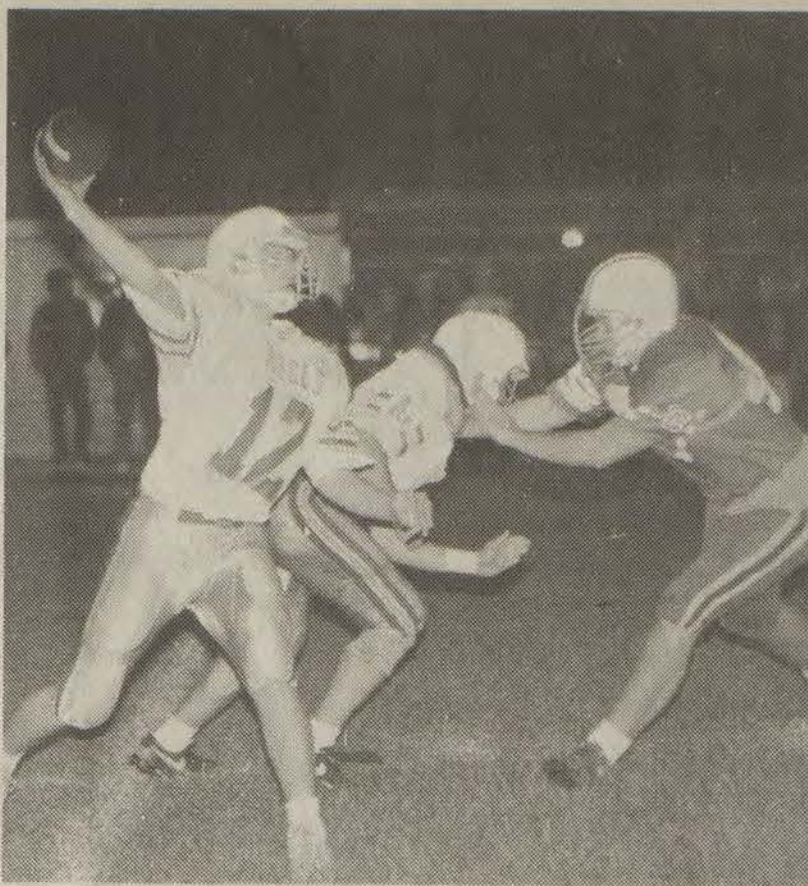

"We jig the worm a few times and if we don't get a strike, we reel in for another cast. My experience has been that fish in hydrilla will hit quickly or not at all."

Another characteristic of bass in this thick vegetation is that they will often gather in small schools. Thus, when one fish is hooked, several more may be caught on successive casts.

"Frequently, these are quality bass, too," adds Wharton. "It isn't uncommon to catch several bass in the three to five pound class on successive casts."

Service experts at OMC recommend a frequent check of the gearcase lubricant of your outboard motor. If any water has worked its way into the gearcase, it could lead to major problems in the winter months if it freezes and cracks the case. When you drain the fluid, check for water, metal filings or a burned odor. Any of these could signal trouble and you should have your motor checked by a qualified technician as soon as possible.

To guide Rebels rest of the way!

The Allen Central Rebels has a new quarterback in freshman Brad Blackburn (12). Blackburn was behind the offensive line Monday night for Allen Central against Johns Creek. The frosh had five completions for 70 yards, including a 49 yard touchdown pass. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Punt time!

Shannon Reynolds of Betsy Layne puts the boot to the football on this punt attempt against Prestonsburg Friday night. Prestonsburg posted a 61-22 victory over district rival Betsy Layne Friday night.

Rebels

unsportsmanlike conduct call against Scott. The flags came after the Bearcats had scored to make it a 44-14 game. Johns Creek also was penalized in the confusion.

Allen Central scored their final touchdown late in the game with 5:37 showing on the game clock. Allen Central got possession of the football on their own 33-yard line after a Johns Creek score by sophomore Hamilton Harris on a 13-yard run. After a 13-yard pick up by Slone to put the ball on the Bearcats 49-yard line, Blackburn found Shane Stumbo with a 49-yard touchdown pass and Slone added the two-point conversion for a 58-22 score.

But, the Allen Central cheering hadn't had time to die down when Taylor took the kick off and returned the football 84 yards for a touchdown. Gannon's extra point gave the final score of 65-22.

Taylor, who is very quick, had 137 yards in returns to go with his two touchdowns. Gannon had one return of 80 yards and rushed for 21 on four carries.

Gannon was three of eight in the passing department for 89 yards. He passed for one touchdown, a 50-yard strike to Taylor. Harris, who came on to call the signals for Johns Creek in the second half, had one TD pass, a 36-yard play.

Kevin Pugh led the Bearcat ground game with 88 yards on six carries. Collins finished with 41 yards on three attempts. Collins scored two touchdowns also.

Johns Creek had 343 total yards with 254 coming on rushes. The Bearcats were flagged six times for 50 yards in penalties. They had no turnovers in the game.

Allen Central had 385 yards total offense led by Slone's 211 yards on the ground. Patton carried the football 15 times for 88 yards.

Allen Central falls to 0-5 on the year and must face a very good Sheldon Clark Cardinal team this Friday night.

ELECTION NOTICE FOR LOW-INCOME RESIDENTS

The by-laws of the Big Sandy Area Community Action Program, Inc. requires all five counties in the Big Sandy Area to hold countywide low-income representative elections each year. In these elections, low-income persons democratically choose representatives to serve on the Big Sandy Area C.A.P., Inc. Board of Directors.

Floyd County's countywide low-income representative election will be held at the Allen Park Convention Center, Allen Park, Allen, Ky. on October 17, 1991, at 2:00 p.m. All low-income residents of Floyd County are eligible to vote in this election.

Also, this agency is requested to involve the low-income population in the development of an annual grant application. This public meeting will take place following the low-income board election.

Pop Warner teams ready for regular season!

Monday night the Pop Warner Football League team played three practice games as they gear up for the real thing starting this Thursday night. League President Don Chaffins said there was good turnout for the practice games and that the upcoming season games should "be very interesting." Games will be played on Thursdays and Saturdays at Archer Park. The league also has cheerleaders (right) who will be cheering for their team during the season. (photo by Kim Frasure)

Times Needs Grade School Schedules

With the approaching of grade school basketball the Times is in need of all the completed basketball schedules of each grade school, boys and girls. We plan to attend all the games that we possibly can but it is certain we cannot be at all the places all the time. Therefore, we would ask when a grade school team plays that the results will be called in to us here at the Floyd County Times. We have forms that can be completed over the phone or we will leave some with each coach to complete and mail in. We will make every effort to see that it is reported in the sports section. Again we plan to attend all the games that we can personally. But you can help us out by calling or sending in your teams results — win or lose. Mail to Ed Taylor, c/o Floyd County Times, Box 391, Prestonsburg, KY 41653.

Small World

by Aileen Hall

A DREAM VACATION

I went to Hawaii with my granddaughter, Leigh Ann Blackburn, for a wonderful vacation in August. Our room at the Hilton Hawaiian Village had a balcony with a nice view of both Waikiki Beach and the city of Honolulu.

We were on the top floor — the 35th — of Tapa Tower so we could see all the way to the airport and the entrance to Pearl Harbor. The weather was perfect and the setting so beautiful that once Leigh Ann asked that I pinch her to convince her it was real.

Two white doves roosted on a ledge over our balcony and, just like the people we encountered, they were friendly and trusting. They sometimes shared the cake I had with morning coffee — they ate what I tossed to them — and once, when the sliding glass door was open, they came into our room. We thought they might be a good omen.

I attended the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters — that was my incentive for going — and seeing so many good friends from all the states was the icing on the cake. Though I retired as a postmaster, these friends remain an important part of my life.

From our balcony we enjoyed watching a beautiful cruise ship, The Independence, and an aircraft carrier, the USS Nimintz, enter the harbor. They were a splendid sight from the distance as they glistened in the sun and the water; and when we toured Pearl Harbor later in the day, we got a closeup look at the giant gray military vessel as it sat anchored there.

The most touching part of our trip was a visit to the USS Arizona Memorial. This impressive floating monument spans the sunken battleship that is the final resting place of some 1,100 of our finest young men who had no warning of their doom nor explanation of why they died.

Through the crystal clear water we could see the giant vessel from bow to stern and the bits of oil that, after almost 50 years, still escape and float upward. The names of 1,177 sailors and marines killed aboard the ship are engraved on a wall of marble, and thousands of small fish swim back and forth in pretty patterns as if to compensate for the grass and flowers that can never grow over their burial ground.

We toured other scenic spots such as Waimea Falls where two world famous divers made daring plunges into a pool 60 feet below. We saw exotic fish, birds and flowers, hula dancing and other demonstrations of Hawaiian arts.

We went to vast pineapple fields and to Punchbowl Crater that shelters the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific. We went inside Diamond Head Crater, one of Oahu's most famous landmarks, and Leigh Ann had her first snorkeling venture in picturesque Hanauma Bay. We saw some great shows and posed for pictures with Don Ho, Al Harrington and Charo.

We enjoyed good music and fine food and, all too soon, it was time to come home again. The days had been long and the nights short as we wanted to miss no more than we could help. There is a six hour time difference between there and home making our first day 30 hours long. I ate five times that day.

Our return flight began at 5:00 in the evening and we would travel through a short night, for the six hours gained going out would be lost again coming back. As we took a last look at the beautiful skyline of Honolulu, we could see the sun dropping over the horizon.

As the sun journeyed westward on its continuing circle of the earth, we were moving eastward on a giant Delta jet. Somewhere over the mid-western states we met it again. It was shining in our eyes once more — and we weren't nearly home yet.

It was a reminder that we do live in a small world after all.

Kim's Korner

Have you ever been in one of those "No matter which way you go, it's wrong" situations. A lot of us, by the looks of the morning traffic are in this situation right now.

by Kim Frasure

If you travel by the four-lane, north into Prestonsburg, you know that the good old "election time road work" is taking place with one lane closed on each side. You can travel approximately 10-20 miles per hour. Excellent, when you're late for school and work.

So you take a short cut. WRONG! The Lancer-Water Gap route to Prestonsburg which passes the Adams Middle School is no short cut. Sitting in traffic backed up to the four-way stop at the entrance to Jenny Wiley State Park is no short cut.

So, you sit and wonder which way do I go?

Town Branch, maybe? No, got to hit the four-lane. Oh well, this is a no good solution situation. Somehow I think Mr. Murphy still lives only to complicate my mornings.

Maybe I'll try leaving at 5 a.m. instead of waking up at 5 a.m., sleep in the cartil 7:30 in front of Prestonsburg Grade School and be at work at 8 a.m. Think that alternative might work? Nah, no alarm clock.

Oh, well, till next week... Drive safely and be nice to your fellow drivers.

****

Just when I thought it was safe to answer the phone....

"Kim," my husband's grandmother scolded me in her firm, strong voice. "Do you not consider me a part of this family?"

"Of course I do Granny Hager, what on earth makes you think I don't?" I ask.

"Your column a few weeks ago," she said.

"Which column?"

"The one where you said you were married into one of the strongest Republican families in Floyd County," she said. "In case you didn't know it, Kim honey, I am one of the strongest Democrats alive."

"Oh no," I said, "Granny, I didn't cover Ronnie's Mom's side of the family did I?"

"No," she said, "you sure didn't. And, you better make sure you do!"

Okay, Granny, I'm sorry, here it is. I'll never intentionally leave you out of this family ever again!

Jennie Sellards Wiley (1760-1831), a Floyd County legend

by Frances Preston Brackett

John Graham Chapter NSDAR (October 1, 1991, marks the 202 anniversary of the capture of Kentucky's best-known Indian captive, Jenny Wiley. The Jenny Wiley Festival, inaugurated 10 years ago by the late Edward L. Bierman and Maxine S. Bierman, currently director, honors this pioneer woman.)

(As a little girl, I loved hearing my Grandmother Mary Borders Auxier, tell the Jenny Wiley story. Not having the slightest idea of the location of Walker's Creek, Virginia, I decided Jennie and her little baby must have been captured and taken across "Lost Creek" a rather wild valley about two miles from my childhood Lawrence County home at Borders Chapel. How I wished I could have been along on Jennie's journey to help her — I knew, as any five-year old knows — I could have saved her if only I had been along! And, even these many years later, I still envision the tree on Lost Creek where Jennie's baby son's brains were splattered. When I pass that old tree on occasion, I remember the little girl who wanted to save Jennie and her baby, and then start telling my own little five-year old granddaughter the Jennie Wiley story.)

Legend of Jenny Wiley. Jennie Wiley-Pioneer. White Squaw, The True Story of Jennie Wiley. Jenny Wiley Country. Jenny Wiley Trail. Jenny Wiley Festival. Jenny Wiley State Resort Park. The Battle of Jenny's Creek. Jennie Wiley Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. Jenny Wiley Stakes. Who was Jennie Wiley?

The story of Jenny Wiley is one episode concerning the pioneer mothers of our nation. They endured hunger, braved the elements, suffered exhaustion, and watched their children die far from the comforts of their earlier homes in this strange and wilderness land.

Little is known of Jennie's mother, but her father, Hezekiah Sellards, a Scotch-Irishman, shown living in 1732 near the present Staunton, Virginia, was a farmer, a man of considerable property, and a lay leader of the Presbyterians, holding services in his own home, and seeing that his children were educated in the elementary sense. Besides Jennie, other children were Catherine Elizabeth born ca 1764 who married Hessian soldier, John Borders I; John born ca 1765 married (1) Annie Alford and (2) Suzannah Sullivan, daughter of Revolutionary soldier, Peter Sullivan of Floyd County; Samuel born 1773 married (1) Nancy, widow of James Daniels, Sr., and (2) Widow Hayes; and Batt (nickname) killed by Indians at age 15. Many descendants today are living in Floyd and surrounding counties.

Jennie born ca 1760, probably in Pennsylvania, moved to Walker's Creek, Virginia, about age three. She married Irishman Thomas Wiley in 1779. They bought a farm and lived near the Harman family, one of whom, Capt. Mathias Harman, was a close friend of Thomas Wiley. Jennie's sister, Catherine Elizabeth and John Borders lived nearby, also.

At the time of Jennie's capture by the Indians, she and Thomas had four children: Ruth, Naomi, Hezekiah, and Thomas.

October 1, 1789, a day probably like many other ordinary pioneer days, Thomas had gone to hunt herbs or to a nearby settlement (according to which author one reads), Jennie was weaving, her children playing in front of the fireplace, her brother, Batt, working about the Wiley cabin, when brother-in-law, John Borders, came to warn Jennie that Indians might be in the vicinity. She promised to come to his cabin a mile or so away as soon as chores were completed. She delayed a little too long, however, and a mixed group of Indians broke into the cabin killing three of the children and her brother. According to family history, Jennie managed to save the youngest child by bravely fighting the Indians.

The Indians, thinking they had captured the Harman family, for whom they had a deep hatred, set fire to the cabin and set off with Jennie, her small son, and the family dog on a difficult journey. After a day of travel, Jennie's feet and legs were cut, she was wet and cold, and the baby was wet and refused to eat. She was tied at night with her baby placed beside her. What torture it must have been to hear her crying baby and not to be able to hold him in her arms. The Indians soon found the baby too much trouble and he was killed.

Meantime, neighbors and family buried the murdered family, and Capt. Mathias Harman, along with neighbors, Lazarus Damron, James Fraley, Henry and James Skaggs, Capt. Daniel and Capt. Henry Harman, John Sellards, Simon Auxier, and John Porter, followed the Indian party, but flooded rivers kept them from catching the Indian party.

The Indians, with Jennie, followed short cuts to the Tug River, and they forced her to swim the Tug; they then crossed the Louisa River (Levisa River - in 1954 - Big Sandy River) somewhere near the present Louisa, Kentucky, and traveled to the south bank of the Ohio River across from current Portsmouth, Ohio. The Ohio River was flooded so the group traveled up the Little Sandy River to Cherokee Fork of Big Blaine Creek and sheltered in a rockhouse, a natural cave. Jennie's son was born here. Tested by the Indians to see if he would make a brave warrior, he was tied to a flat piece of wood and slipped into the water to see if he would cry. Of course, he cried! He was taken by his heels and his head bashed against a tree.

Leaving this rockhouse, the group traveled to Little Mud Lick. Jennie had to work hard doing the cooking and most of the camp work. An old chief taught her Indian ways of cooking and cleaning skins for he had decided to take her to his Indian village to replace a daughter of his who had died. This chief might have been Chief Benga, a Cherokee with a bad reputation in Virginia. On April 7, 1794, he was caught transporting slaves and shot by a Lt. Hobbs of Lee County Militia. He was interrupting the economy by removing slaves from the plantations, and taking them north to sell them!

Various Indian groups visited Little Mud Lick during the months and one group brought a young white man to camp where he was tortured and burned. Jennie probably would have seen or heard this happening.

One rainy day Jennie found a chance to escape. Legends have Jennie guided by dreams and fantasies. How did she know where to go? Perhaps Jennie recalled the hunting camp which the Harmans and other long hunters of Walker's Creek had been coming to since 1755 on the "Sandy River"; perhaps she remembered the cabin fireside talks of Mathias Harman and Thomas Wiley planning a new settlement in the Sandy Valley. Her son Adam had described his mother to historian Elsey Connelley as follows: "Strong and capable...familiar with woodcraft and a splendid shot with the rifle; even after she settled in the Big Sandy Valley around 1800, it required an expert to equal her. She was at home in the woods and could hold her way over trails of the country by day or by night." In short, a powerful wilderness woman.

Having lived on the frontier, her sense of direction would have been good, and she was headed from the Indian encampment in the general direction of Walker's Creek. Whatever the means, Jennie found her way to the west side of the Big Sandy River (East Point) directly across from the newly built Harman Station at Blockhouse Bottom (Combs airport). It was miraculous that in all that wilderness she could find that one exact spot. She managed to get the attention of the people at Harman Station, and Henry Skaggs or Simon Auxier (depending upon the author), made a makeshift raft, tied together with vines, and set her across the river to safety to Harman Station. She had been in captivity about six months. Jennie was escorted back to Walker's Creek and in 1790 reunited with husband Thomas Wiley.

At the time of Jennie's capture, this area was the Kentucky District of Montgomery County, Virginia. When Jennie and Thomas moved to Tom's Creek (named for Thomas Wiley), around 1800, this area had become Floyd County, Kentucky. The Wiley farm was some 15 miles from the old blockhouse. They had five other children: Hezekiah, Jane, Sally, Adam, and William. Thomas died in 1810, his grave unmarked; Jennie who is buried on the Wiley farm at River, Kentucky, her grave marked with a large granite monument engraved with a short precis' of her remarkable life, died in 1831. In 1843, the new county of Johnson was formed from Floyd County and River, Kentucky, lies in that county.

HEADS IT'S JONES, TAILS IT'S HOPKINS

Well, it won't be as long as it has been, and as would be expected, Larry Hopkins and Brereton Jones are really having at it — sort of. It can't be described as being as exciting as a main event at the Omni, but by the time what little smoke there is clears, we'll have us a new champion.

The next question is, then, what will happen to the fans at ringside? Each candidate implies that if the other wins, were in for a rough four years.

On the other hand, each man is indicating that if he wins, well have it so good that it conjures up visions of living in a land of milk and honey.

(That's not to imply, however, that we'll have a cow in every pasture and all develop hives.)

If either, or both, of these fellows can be believed, we're in a situation here where we either can't win or we can't lose.

It all seems like such a waste to me. Oh, I'm intelligent enough to know that that's how the game is played. At the same time, though, you don't have to be a genius to see that voters aren't really swayed by exposing the faults of the other guy while promising the front-row seats to everything that's good in life.

I'll bet my autographed picture of Roy Acuff against the hole in a doughnut that the results would be the same regardless of whether the election were held last May or last June or next month. The only thing different would be the amount of money spent hiring all those big trucks to move the dirt, or paying for those armour-polishing TV ads.

Believe it or not, though, this match does have a positive side. The winner should do us (or at least his party) proud. Both men look like a governor ought to. Both present a stately appearance and are fairly good speakers. Both are experienced politicians and have a certain amount of charisma (whatever on earth that is).

So, we'll either end up with a lousy governor who looks good, or one who's as good as he looks. In my opinion, we could flip heads or tails, wet or dry, or simply draw a name from a hat, and four years from now, not be able to tell the difference.

And the part about "four years" is really the good news. Chances are that by 1995, we'll all welcome the next big grudge match, in hopes of getting some relief.

Hopefully, what happened in Minnesota won't happen here. They're apparently having trouble evicting one of their past governors. I read in the paper last week that the capitol in St. Paul is believed to be haunted by what could have been a former resident. LeClair Lambert, who is educational programs coordinator for the Minnesota House, was quoted as saying that the "presence" is "not threatening, it's friendly."

Nevertheless, I can't imagine any former Kentucky governor (or any future one either) that I'd want to occupy forever those hallowed halls in Frankfort.

Since Jones and Hopkins are very much alive, though, what I suggest we do is simply try to ignore the hype and vote for the fellow we'd have voted for six months ago.

Heads, I vote Jones. Tails, I vote Hopkins. If it lands on its side I might write in Hulk Hogan. Or Jake the Snake. Or even better, I could write in the "presence" that's roaming around the Capitol in St. Paul.

Outstanding service

The GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club's first meeting of the club year was held on September 5, at the Arts and Crafts House, at Archer Oak. The topic for this meeting was "Community Improvement/Public Affairs," with Eileen Burchett as leader. Burchett, on behalf of the club, presented awards for "outstanding efforts to beautify the community, and for providing employment for Floyd Countians." In the above photograph, (l-r) Frank Delzer of Elkhorn Coal Company, Veronica Miller, substituting for Frank Schenck of Mountain Comprehensive Care, and Donald Pelphrey of Pelphrey Real Estate and Development, are shown after accepting these awards from Eileen Burchett, chairperson of the community development committee, and Linda McGuire, president of the GFWC/KFWC Prestonsburg Woman's Club for 1990-91. Garnett Fairchild, the club's president for 1991-92, was in charge of the meeting at which these awards were presented. (photo by Sandy Burchett)

Honored on birthday

Jody Spradlin was honored recently when his wife, Margaret Spradlin, entertained family members with a dinner at their home, in commemoration of his birthday. Enjoying this event were Mr. and Mrs. Spradlin, their daughter, Lida M. Howard, and other family members: Vicki Harris of Prestonsburg and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mike Vaughan and daughter Rachael of East Point. The honoree was presented with useful and thoughtful gifts. Following the dinner, Mrs. Spradlin served birthday cake and other refreshments.

South Prestonsburg Homemakers met

The September meeting of the South Prestonsburg Homemakers' Club met at the home of Joyce Allen and Theckley Short. The meeting was called to order by the president, Drema Miller. The devotions, entitled "Encouraging Others" was presented by Joyce Allen. The members answered the roll call by telling something exciting they'd seen or done this past summer. The minutes were read by the secretary, Carlos Haywood, and Ora Bussey, treasurer, gave the financial report.

During the business session, Frances Pitts, Joyce Allen and Vivian Fraley displayed samples of work they had done during Homemakers' workshops.

The October and November meetings will be combined, and held on November 18, at the home of Vernie Tackett. Pitts discussed the new products that had been introduced this past summer, including some new fabric samples.

The hostesses, Short and Allen, served a fruit and desert course to: Lois Ball, Vernie Tackett, Carlos Haywood, Vivian Fraley, Drema Miller, Mary Lou Horn, Judy Burchell, Ora Bussey and Frances Pitts.

She asks that members of the Executive Board, which consists of the club's officers, and membership, finance and publicity chairmen, meet there at 7 p.m. The regular meeting will be held at 7:30. The topic for this meeting will be

"International Affairs," with Dr. Bader as speaker. The devotional leader will be Fannie Runnels; the program leader, Burieta Gearhart, and the program will be on "Customs and Religion." Hostesses for this event are Wonnell Godsey, chairman, and Turp Combs, Dorothy Osborne, Carol Martin, Mable Brown, Martha Johnson and Maman Leslie. A special invitation is extended to prospective new members to attend this event.

Attend Big Sandy Historical Society meeting and luncheon

Prestonsburg persons who attended the recent Big Sandy Historical Society luncheon and meeting, at the Highlands House, in Paintsville, recently were: Fannie Runnels, Alice Harris, William Runnels and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins.

The speaker for this event was Carolyn Clay Turner, coauthor with Carolyn Hay Traum of Prestonsburg, of the book, John C.C. Mayo, Cumberland Capitalist, who spoke on the subject of "Early Settlers of Eastern Kentucky."

Guests of Osborne

Dorothy Osborne had with her at her home here this past Sunday, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brady and her great-granddaughter, Sonya Snellenberger, of Payne, Ohio, who flew here for the day from their homes there. All of them went for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Hershell Osborne, Judy Barnett, Sue Osborne, Pam Osborne, Valetta Halbert and Romer Osborne, at Eastern during that time.

Pettrey hospitalized again

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Bill (Dolly) Pettrey were saddened that Mrs. Pettrey, who spent several weeks recently in a Lexington hospital and a nursing home due to a fall at her home which broke her hip, fell again at her home this past Sunday morning and is presently a patient at the Highlands Regional Medical Center, Prestonsburg. Pettrey, who was showing so much improvement and courage, has the very best wishes of a host of fellow church members and other friends and relatives.

Wayland Seniors meet

The Board of Directors of the Wayland Area Senior Citizens met Tuesday, September 17, at 4 p.m. at the Center, with Chairperson Elmer Morrison in charge. The roll call indicated all board members present. Morrison appointed Libby Martin and Jerry Fultz to meet with him and Bonnie Hale of Big Sandy ADD on September 30 to up-date the By-Laws of the Center.

The secretary, Libby Martin, read a thank-you note from Janet Collins of Eastern Kentucky University thanking the Center for its hospitality to her.

Some questions concerning the policies of the Center were brought up and Morrison called for the Board to go into executive session, which lasted nearly an hour, after which the meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting will be October 15, at 4 p.m. at the Center.

Those present were: Morrison, Jerry Fultz, Hobert Bates, Lula Ratliff, Mattie Gibson, Ernestine Hall, Ena Mills, Dewey Hall, Shirley Martin, Libby Martin, Odys Perry, the director and van driver, Bonnie Hale and Doug Lawson of Big Sandy ADD, and two visitors of the Center participants.

Prestonsburg Kiwanianes hold luncheon meeting

The Prestonsburg Kiwanianes held their first luncheon meeting of the club year, Thursday, September 29, at 12:30 p.m., at May Lodge. Hope Whitten, president, led the group in the Kiwanianne Grace, and conducted the business meeting. The minutes were read by the secretary, Dorothy Osborne, and the financial report was given by the treasurer, Garnett Fairchild.

Jane Wallace presented the devotions, the theme of which was "Thought for the Day." She said that "God's love leads us through the hard times of our lives." Her scripture reading was from Isaiah, 40:31. She ended the devotions with prayer.

It was decided that cards would be sent to Mildred Salisbury, whose husband, William Salisbury, had passed away since the last meeting, and to Annabelle Maggard, who was ill and could not attend Thursday's event.

Officers for the year 1991-92 were announced by Jane Wallace, chairman of the nominating committee. These included: Mabel Jean LeMaster, president; Ada Meade, vice president; Dorothy Osborne, secretary; and Garnett Fairchild, treasurer. These officers will be installed during the next luncheon meeting.

Present for this event were: Hope Whitten, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Dorothy Osborne, Garnett Fairchild, Minnie Pearl Robertson, Jane Wallace, Ada Meade, Lucy Regan, Maman Leslie, Myrtle Allen, Minerva Cooley and Docia Woods.

The next luncheon meeting will be Thursday, October 24, at 12:30 p.m., at this same location.

Cabbage Patch

By Nell Harmon

Get a jump on next spring with easy to grow dwarf fruits — apples, pears, peaches, apricots, nectarines, plums and cherries, to name a few that fit the small garden.

A small garden and/or yard is no excuse for passing up the fruit trees you and your family love. One quick glance at the prices this year should give you a better incentive to get your own fruits growing. Half the good taste of home grown fruits from your own garden, is knowing your fruits are insecticide free (if you prefer to not spray). The crack and flavor of a just picked apple, the moist gleam of a ruby red plum or the tantalizing blush of a juicy peach, will more than make up for the one and only cost of a few fruit trees. The price of one bushel of apples at the going price this year will buy at least one and a half dwarf apple tree.

Getting an assortment of fruits growing in your back yard, or along driveways, is doubly practical, even if you do not own the property but plan to live there for some time. Fruit trees, not only furnish fresh fruits for eating they also give you food for later use by canning, freezing and storage. There is also a health factor, along with the great taste, there are; the bulk in your diets, and fruits are packed with nutrients — lots of vitamin C and vitamin A, plus generous amounts of iron, calcium, and trace minerals. They have a high water content and low proportions of fat and protein. Fruit are a great source of vitamins, iron and minerals — plus a very low calorie rate.

Dwarf fruit trees withstand weather extremes, diseases and insects better than the regular standard trees. Smaller sizes at maturity, and space savings ways, enable them to fit into the most compact gardens.

They produce very soon after planting, and their fruits are as large, and sometimes larger than the standard tree. Most dwarf fruit trees will bear fruit the second year after planting. I have had a few that have borne fruit the first year if they were fall planted.

Other advantages include the ease in pruning, fertilizing, mulching and harvesting, with less effort, time and cost. They are less likely to suffer limb breakage and wind damage or fruit loss from storms.

With the present day dwarf fruit tree sizes, you can plant 40 dwarf apple trees in less space than you must have for 4 regular apple trees. Who needs 40 apple trees? Plant some other fruit your family enjoys, including some berry and bush fruits.

Fall is the ideal time to set out dwarf trees. As this allows the plants to become acclimated and to recoup energy spent in transplanting before starting their spring growth. Winter's alternate freezing and thawing helps settle the roots.

Order early to assure you will receive your young trees in time to set out before the ground starts to freeze. There are many good reliable nursery companies to order from. Just remember to order from a company that will give a total refund or a free replacement should the tree not live. The highest priced tree does not mean the highest quality. Some very good trees can be purchased for a very reasonable price, if you look around.

Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club hold picnic

The Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club held its annual picnic September 16 on the patio at the home of Don and LaFaye Hughes of Garrett, with each club member bringing a covered dish.

Following the picnic supper, the Pledge to the Flag was given and the Club Collect read by Louise West, followed by devotions by Marsella Bradley.

Club members then went indoors for a business meeting conducted by the vice president, Marsella Bradley, due to the resignation of the president, Jo Ann Hall, because of health reasons.

It was decided that a business meeting in conjunction with the Drift Woman's Club be held October 14 at 6 p.m. at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, to finalize plans for co-hosting the Seventh District Fall meeting October 26.

Monthly programs and hostesses were assigned. A money-raising project was decided on and Libby Martin, corresponding secretary, will place an order.

It was reported that Matthew Elliott was the graduating senior from Allen Central High School to receive the club's $100 award based on scholarship and citizenship. It was also reported by the treasurer, LaFaye Hughes, that the two scholarships had been sent to Prestonsburg Community College and Alice Lloyd College and thank-you letters had been received.

An election was held to replace the resigning president and Maxine Martin was elected.

The next meeting after the October 14 meeting at Jenny Wiley will be October 21 at the home of Libby Martin, south of Wayland on KY 7.

Those present were: Louise West, Blanche Bamer, Vera Allen, LaFaye Hughes, Betty Mullins, Alma Souleyrette, Elizabeth Duff, Maxine Martin, Loretta Martin, Marie Mullins, Marsella Bradley, Libby Martin and a guest, Anna Marie Martin.

County Kettle

By M. L. Harmon

I have had several comments on recipes for covered chocolate candies that were run recently. All good ones. One lady stated one member of her family is allergic to the cocoa butter in semi-sweet chocolate bars and she will have to substitute cocoa for the semi-sweet bars; IT CANNOT BE DONE! There is no way cocoa can be tempered, nor will it harden and stay that way. I would hate to see anyone waste all that good candy fillings and blame the recipes for the sure failure. If anyone does know how she can use cocoa instead of the called-for semi-sweet chocolate bars, please call me at 886-6200 and I will pass it on to her.

SAUCY TURNIPS

by Emra Jackson
 6 c. peeled, sliced turnips
 1-1/4 c. water
 3 small green onions, sliced
 1 tbsp. butter
 1 tsp. garlic powder
 1 tsp. seasoning salt
 1 tsp. cornstarch
 1/4 c. water
 1 c. shredded cheddar cheese
 Place turnips in a large saucepan, add 1-1/4 cups water, and bring to a boil. Cover and cook 12 minutes. Add green onions, butter, garlic powder and salt; cook an additional 5 minutes.

Dissolve cornstarch in 1/4 cup of water; add to turnips, stirring until combined. Add cheese and cook until cheese melts. Yields 6 servings.

COUNTRY STYLE TURNIPS

Wash, peel, and chunk turnips to bite size
 1 tsp. sugar
 1 tsp. salt
 water to cover
 1 small square of bacon
 Place all ingredients in a large Dutch oven, cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and cook slowly until turnips are soft. Drain off water, and retain. All uneaten turnips can be reheated in retained liquid for another meal, they will taste better the second time around. Pepper to taste, if desired.

GRINDER SANDWICH

1 green pepper, cut into rings
 1 clove garlic, minced
 3 tbsp. olive oil
 1/2 tsp. onion salt
 1/2 lb. ham, thinly sliced

2 small tomatoes, thinly sliced
 1 loaf French bread, split lengthwise

1/2 tsp. oregano
 2 c. shredded mozzarella cheese
 Saute green peppers and garlic in oil until pepper is crisp-tender. Sprinkle with onion salt. Remove green pepper, reserving olive oil mixture.

Layer ham, tomatoes and green peppers on bottom half of French bread. Drizzle oil mixture over green peppers. Sprinkle with oregano; top with cheese. Cover with top of bread.

Wrap in aluminum foil, and bake for 35 minutes, at 350 degrees, until cheese melts. Slice before serving. Yields six servings.

SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

by Bobbi Shaw
 6 med. sized sweet potatoes, peeled, cooked and mashed
 1/3 c. milk
 3 tbsp. light brown sugar
 2 tsp. butter, melted
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
 1/4 tsp. ginger
 1 c. miniature marshmallows
 Combine all ingredients, except marshmallows, stirring well. Spoon into a lightly greased 1-1/2 quart casserole. Cover and bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Uncover, sprinkle with marshmallows and bake five minutes until marshmallows are melted. Serves four.

ORANGE-GLAZED BEETS

1/4 c. butter
 1/2 c. orange marmalade
 1/4 c. orange juice
 1 (16-oz.) can sliced beets, drained
 Melt butter in a medium saucepan, add marmalade and orange juice, mixing well. Gently stir in beets;

cook five minutes or until thoroughly heated. Yields four servings.

MASHED POTATOE

CASSEROLE
 by Myrtle Carroll
 10 medium potatoes, peeled and cubed
 1 tsp. salt
 1 (8-oz.) pkg. cream cheese, cubed
 1 c. commercial sour cream
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 1/4 tsp. garlic powder
 1 tsp. chopped chives
 Cook potatoes with 1 teaspoon salt in boiling water to cover, 10 to 15 minutes, or until tender. Drain and mash. Add cream cheese, sour cream, 1/2 tsp. salt, pepper, and garlic powder; beat until cream cheese is blended. Stir in chives and spoon into a shallow, lightly greased 2-quart casserole. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Yields eight servings.

SPICY GRILLED CATFISH

by Claudia Ainsworth
 2 tbsp. lemon-pepper seasoning
 2 tsp. blackened redfish seasoning
 6 catfish fillets
 1/2 c. butter, or margarine, melted
 1/4 c. lemon juice
 Combine first two ingredients; set aside. Place fish in a single layer in a lightly greased fish basket. Combine butter and lemon juice; brush on each side of fish. Grill fish 3 to 5 inches from hot coals five minutes on each side, basting with butter mixture when turned. Sprinkle each side of fish with seasoning mixture; baste and grill three additional minutes on each side, until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

EASY CHERRY TRIFLE

1 (20-oz.) angle food cake
 2 pkgs. vanilla instant pudding mix
 6 c. milk
 2 c. commercial sour cream
 1 (2-oz.) can cherry pie filling
 Cut cake into 1/2 inch cubes. Combine pudding mix and milk; beat at low speed until smooth and thickened. Add sour cream; beat until just blended. Line bottom of a four quart glass bowl with half the cake cubes; spoon half the pudding mixture over cake. Repeat procedure using remaining cake and pudding mixture. Spoon pie filling evenly over top. Cover and chill at least one hour before serving. Yields 14 to 16 servings.

SOUTH TEXAS BEAN AND RICE ONE-DISH MEAL

1-1/4 lbs. pinto beans
 7 c. water
 1 small ham hock
 1 medium onion, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 1-1/2 tsp. salt
 1 lb. ring smoked pork sausage, thickly sliced
 1 (10-oz.) can tomatoes with green chilis, undrained
 1/2 c. regular rice
 Combine beans, and next five ingredients, in a large Dutch oven. Bring to a boil. Cover and reduce heat to medium, and cook 45 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Cover, reduce heat and simmer one hour, stirring occasionally. Remove ham hock, shred ham from bone with a fork, return meat to bean mixture. Yields six servings.

EASY CINNAMON ROLLS

1/4 c. plus 1-1/2 tsp. shortening
 3 c. self-rising flour
 1 c. milk
 1/2 c. butter, softened
 1/2 c. sugar
 1/2 c. firmly packed brown sugar
 1 tsp. cinnamon
 3/4 c. chopped pecans
 1/2 c. raisins
 1-1/4 c. sifted powdered sugar
 3 tsp. milk
 Cut shortening into flour with pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add one cup milk, stirring until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a floured surface. Knead lightly.

Roll dough into a 20 x 14 inch rectangle; spread butter on dough, leaving a 1/2-inch border. Combine sugar and cinnamon, mix well, and sprinkle over butter. Top with pecans and raisins. Beginning at long side, roll up jellyroll fashion, press edges and ends together securely. Cut into 1-inch slices; place cut side down in a greased 13 x 9 x 2 inch baking pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes.

Combine powdered sugar and three tablespoons milk; drizzle over warm rolls. Yields 20 rolls.

Contest for student writers

"Inscape," Morehead State University's student literary/art magazine, is sponsoring a contest for student writers.

First place awards of $50 and second place awards of $25 each will be presented to winners in each of these categories: poetry, fiction and black/white art.

Only MSU students are eligible to enter, but they may be full or part time students taking classes either on campus or at any of the University's regional sites, according to Dr. Michelle Boisseau, associate professor of English and magazine adviser.

The deadline for the writing competitions is noon Wednesday, October 23, and copies of the submission requirements may be obtained at 103 Combs Building. Additional information on the literary contest may be obtained by writing Dr. Michelle Boisseau, Morehead State University, UPO 779, or by calling her at (606) 783-2201 or the department at (606) 783-2185.

Artists desiring to enter the black and white art competition may contact Robert Franzini professor of art, by writing him at Morehead State University, UPO 981 or calling him at (606) 783-2771 or (606) 783-2766. Any students interested in joining the Inscape staff are welcome to attend the weekly meetings, held each Wednesday at 3 p.m., in Faculty House 3, behind the Combs Building.

Celebrates first birthday

Elmer Bentley Jr.

Elmer Bentley Jr., son of Elmer and Lesa Bentley of Spurlock, celebrated his first birthday on August 16 at his home.

A clown was present to hand out party hats, favors and treat bags to the smaller guests. The door prizes were won by Lauren Preston, Cody Davis and Jourdan Patrick. Pin the tail on the donkey was won by Kevin Scott Hylton.

A paper mache donkey was broken by the smaller guests to stuff their treat bags with the toys and candy which was inside.

A clown cake was served with sandwiches, ice cream and chips. Elmer Jr. was presented with many nice gifts.

Guests attending were: Greg, Cheryl and Courtney Howard, Jimmy, Carlana and Cody Davis, Elisha, B.J. and Kevin Hylton, Carol, Tina and Tammy Shepherd, Debbie and Kelli Jo Thompson, Dana and Lauren Preston, Mashawanna Wright, Clifford, Jan, Brandon, Nathan and Kristen Bentley, Barbara Caldwell, Jeanette, Burnis and Stephen Pitts, Damron Bentley, Sammi and Clinton Jarvis, Eric Hill, Ricky and Ronnie Knox, Sam Burchett, Brandon, Justin and Darcus Lovely, Pearlie and Zenith Goble, Kenneth and Sherri Williams, and Alan Pitts.

Elmer Jr. has an older sister, Crystal Lynn, and a brother, Eddie. He is the grandson of Jimmie and Darcus Lovely of Magoffin County and Pearlie Goble of Auxier and Gilbert Bentley of Toledo, Ohio.

"Beatles" come to Morehead

Morehead State University's Student Government Association will present "1964: As The Beatles" in a free concert on Thursday, October 10, in the Academic-Athletic Center at 7:30 p.m.

The group is back by popular demand, according to Susette Redwine, University programs and special events coordinator. "A dance floor will be set up in front of the stage to accommodate dancing during the concert," added Redwine.

1964 has been featured on numerous nationally televised programs such as Entertainment Tonight, PM Magazine, the USA Network, the Nashville Network and scores of other local television and radio programs.

In addition, the group recently completed eight Beatles tunes for the sound track to the motion picture "Concrete Angel."

The performers—Mark Benson as John Lennon, Gary Grimes as Paul McCartney, Tom Work as George Harrison and Greg George as Ringo Starr—have spent years researching the "Fab Four."

Through the vintage costumes, haircuts, mannerisms and sound, the group has created an authentic and endearing tribute to the Beatles.

The musicians will present nearly 100 minutes of the Beatles songs from a repertoire of more than 50 of their smash hits.

Additional information is available from the Office of Student Activities at (606) 783-2071.

New center dedicated to James Still

The Hindman Settlement School will be dedicating the new James Still Learning Center on Saturday, October 5 at 2 p.m. Tours of the facility will begin at 1:00 p.m. Hilda Legg, Alternate Federal Co-Chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission, will be the featured speaker. James Still, nationally known author, will be reading from his works. The program will also involve some of the first students to take part in the Settlement's work with children with dyslexic characteristics. Closing comments will be made by Lois C. Weinberg, founder and Director of the Settlement's work with dyslexics.

For the past eleven years the Hindman Settlement School has provided coordination of tutorial services for children with dyslexic characteristics throughout this area. During this time, over 700 students and 700 parents have been involved in this program. Students from 15 eastern and southeastern Kentucky counties have received remediation skills through the after-school programs and the ten summer schools. The James Still Learning Center will house all the activities of the East Kentucky Tutorial Program including a full-time school, called The Hindman School. Lois C. Weinberg is the director of this school. Plans are under way at this time to make the services of this school available to the surrounding public schools. Once the procedures for placement and financing are worked out, students will be enrolled on an individual basis. The Hindman School is the only school of its type in Kentucky east of Louisville.

The public is invited to attend the dedication ceremony on Saturday, October 5.

ALL CARDS OF THANKS AND IN MEMORY MESSAGES NEED TO BE PAID FOR IN ADVANCE.

Borders, journalist, who started the first newspaper, Chatterbox News, 1881, in Louisa; Floyd Countian Henry Preston Scalf who researched and saved many old records and authored a book every Floyd Countian should read, Kentucky's Last Frontier. This list could go on and on.

Many of us know that Harman Station at Blockhouse Bottom, a few hundred feet from the Floyd-Johnson county line, is now part of Combs Airport. The late Norman Allen, editor, Floyd County Times, wrote of the blockhouse, "This spot was the first toehold the white man held in all the eastern region of Kentucky. Known as Harman Station, it antedated Boonesborough. Daniel Boone visited Harman Station before he ever saw the rolling Great Meadow that was the Bluegrass. The spot is recognized downstate and in official circles for its importance in the history of the state. But we to whom its name and story have become compliance, do little or nothing to leave any evidence for future generations of what took place there."

Historians write that Jennie and the Harman Station pioneers traveled up John's Creek to return to Walker's Creek in the year 1790. They would have traveled through the area that later was named Jenny Wiley State Resort Park, a park in the heart of Kentucky's beautiful highlands located near Prestonsburg, and named for this 16th century pioneer woman. Too, West Virginia remembered

Jennie. The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, with organizing regent, Jessie Baker, chartered the Jennie Wiley Chapter, and a stream was named Jennie's Creek, the same stream which she and the Indians had followed in the October fall of 1789.

SIDETRIPS

When it comes to pumping thousands of dollars into a local economy in a brief period of time, feature films are practically in a league of their own, in the view of Tom Nelson, executive director of the Kentucky Film Commission.

Henderson residents are about to learn first hand about the economic benefits of location filming as the cast and crew of Columbia Pictures' "A League of Their Own" prepare to begin shooting scenes in downtown Henderson.

"A League of Their Own" stars Tom Hanks, Geena Davis, Madonna, and Lori Petty and is directed by Penny Marshall. The film tells the story of a 1940s-era women's baseball league.

Filming has been underway at a baseball stadium in Evansville, Indiana, for the past several weeks. In early October, the location will shift to Henderson for about 10 days of shooting.

The production company will spend an estimated $500,000 in the area during that time, Nelson estimates.

In addition to the economic shot in the arm, there are the intangible benefits of hosting a feature film.

"The folks in Henderson are thrilled to have a major motion picture being filmed there," Nelson said.

The film commission staff has worked with the movie production company for more than a year. The producers' first priority was finding a suitable stadium that retained a 1940s look. They found one in Evansville, Indiana, then began looking for a downtown area that retained its character of that period. The film commission staff, working with the Henderson Chamber of Commerce, pointed to the historic character of downtown Henderson. After looking at other sites, the production company settled on the Ohio River city.

Before long, the production crew will be taking down modern awnings and light poles, parking vintage cars in the streets and otherwise transforming the downtown area into a 1940s town. The attention to detail will extend to people, too. Some employees in downtown businesses will be wearing period-looking clothing as they run errands around town. That way, if they inadvertently walk into a scene, the shot won't be ruined.

Location filming also can enhance a community's image both among residents and visitors.

"A movie can often be a source of community pride," Nelson said. "In Kentucky, we're not blasé about being the location for a film. We're still excited by the experience."

Film locations also can reap tourism benefits, he pointed out. A recent increase in tourism spending in South Dakota has been attributed to the breath-taking scenery in the hit movie "Dances with Wolves." As an agency of the state Tourism Cabinet, the film commission hopes to capitalize on such opportunities as they become available, Nelson said.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO MINE

Pursuant to Application Number 836-0200, Amendment #3

In accordance with the provisions of KRS 350.055, notice is hereby given that Laurel Creek Coal Company, Inc., P.O. Box 940, Paintsville, Kentucky 41240, has filed an application for an amendment to an existing surface coal mining and reclamation operation. This amendment proposes to add 18.25 acres of surface disturbance, delete 7.03 acres of surface area and delete 42.06 acres of auger area for a total proposed permit acreage of 212.00 acres located 0.5 mile north of level in Floyd County.

The proposed amendment area is approximately 0.5 mile east of U.S. Rt. 1426's junction with U.S. Route 23 and located 0.25 mile north of Davison Branch. The latitude is 37° 36' 22". The longitude is 82° 40' 10".

The proposed amendment is located on the Harold U.S.G.S. 7 1/2 minute quadrangle map. The surface area to be affected by this amendment is owned by S.P. Davidson Heirs, Marshall Davidson, Harkins Heirs, Roger Reynolds, Don Trimble and James E. Dillon. Mining activities have been completed. This amendment application proposes the addition of downslope area, deletion of undisturbed road acreage, deletion of auger acres, overlap of an adjacent permit and redesign of dugout sediment structure.

This amendment application has been filed for public inspection at the Department for Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement's Prestonsburg Regional Office, 1346 South Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, Kentucky 41653.

Written comments, objections or requests for a permit conference must be filed with the Director of the Division of Permits, #2 Hudson Hollow, U.S. 127 South, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. W-TFN

Martha Sexton (Now Deal) Plaintiff VS: NOTICE OF SALE

Kenneth Ray Sexton and Doc Reynolds, Jr. Defendants By virtue of a Judgment and Order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the March 30 term, 1990, in the above styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 11 day of October, 1991, at 11:30 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or upon a credit of three (3) months, the following described property, to-wit:

A tract of land located on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, which was conveyed Dock Reynolds, Jr. on May 10, 1989 by Kenneth Ray Sexton, as recorded May 24, 1989 in Deed Book 327, page 645 in the records of the Floyd County Clerk's Office, described more particularly as follows:

Beginning at the corner of Johnny Hall's line and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway right-of-way and running with the C & O right-of-way straight line to Oliver Elam and Flotline Hall Elam's line to a stake, thence running back onto the bottom with Oliver and Flotline Elam's line to Johnny Hall and Nancy Hall's line; then running with Johnny Hall's line and Nancy Hall's line 86 feet to a stake; thence running with Johnny Hall's line and Nancy Hall's line to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad right-of-way at the beginning, containing 1/2 acre, more or less.

This land conveyed Kenneth Ray Sexton by deed of Hazel Miller on July 6, 1988, as recorded in Deed Book 322, page 678 on October 25, 1988.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $11,252.00, accrued interest of $3,690.65, with interest thereon at 9.535% annually from the 1 day of July, 1990, until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 20 day of September, 1991. Marshall Davidson, Master Commissioner Floyd Circuit Court

Mid-State Trust, II Plaintiff VS: NOTICE OF SALE

Jeffrey Adkins and Letha Adkins Defendants

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered at the August 27 term, 1991, in the above styled cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 11 day of October, 1991, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., same being a day of the regular term of the Floyd Circuit Court, for cash or 20% of the bid price in cash with the remaining 80% to be paid within a thirty (30) day period, bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum during said thirty (30) day interval, the following described property, if the Plaintiff is the successful bidder, the 20% cash deposit shall not be required.

That certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being on the waters of Boyd's Branch of Prater Creek in Floyd County, Kentucky, being the same property conveyed Jeffrey Adkins and Letha Adkins, his wife, by deed from Jim Walter Homes, Inc. dated May 19, 1990, recorded August 6, 1990 in Deed Book 338, page 603, Floyd County Clerk's Office, and being more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at a post on the east side of Lynn Hollow Road right of way and said post being 5 feet south of the southeast corner of Boyd cemetery; thence with east side of said road right of way S28° 00' W 47.0 feet to a post corner of Emmitt Howell; thence leaving said road right of way with Emmitt Howell's line fence, S42° 30' E 58.0 feet to a post; thence S07° 30' E 233.0 feet to an 8 inch dogwood; thence leaving Emmitt Howell's line with a new line of Mart Boyd, N76° 00' E 133.0 feet to an 8 inch Mulberry next to a gas line; thence with gas line, N11° 19' W 240 feet to an iron pin; thence N69° 45' W 138.0 feet to the point of beginning, containing 0.8220 acres, more or less.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale shall be in the principal sum of $26,244.39, with interest thereon at 12% annually from the 27 day of August, 1991, until satisfied and the costs of this action, including costs of advertising of this sale and the fees and commissions for conducting this sale.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.
