Hager suspended :

Removal hearing is slated

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County school superintendent Ron Hager was suspended from his job without pay Friday by the State Board for Elementary and Secondary Education, but not before making an eleventh-hour bid to hire employees for the 1992-93 school year.

The day before Hager's suspension and in the midst of a district hiring freeze, Hager notified board members by a letter dated April 9 that he had hired 175 employees. The list included Martin Elementary principal Bill Hughes, who is on a medical leave of absence. Hughes was named in the charges filed by Education Commissioner Thomas Boysen against Hager.

The employment moves taken by Hager are expected to be nullified and they were reportedly called improper in a closed session of the board Monday evening.

Hager's suspension came Friday after a summary hearing was held in Frankfort on the charges of willful neglect of duty and misconduct in office levied against Hager by Boysen in March.

A hearing was set for May 11 before three members of the state board to determine if Hager should be removed from office.

Hager did not attend Friday's proceedings and waived his right to

A retired Glasgow educator officially took over operation of the Floyd County School System Monday at a special board of education meeting. Tuesday's regularly scheduled board meeting was postponed until April 21.

Eldon J. Smith, 59, a retired superintendent of the Glasgow Independent School District, is the interim superintendent appointed to replace Floyd superintendent Ron Hager, who was suspended without pay from that position Friday by the State Board for Elementary and Secondary Education.

Education Commissioner Thomas Boysen charged Hager in March with willful neglect of duty and misconduct in office.

After a brief closed session with state deputy commissioner Dave Thomas and Boysen's legal counsel, Steve Wolnitzek, Floyd County board chairman Ray "Shag" Campbell publicly introduced Smith to board members and members of the audience.

After Monday's meeting, Smith said he had been instructed by Boysen to review the district's financial situation, staffing and troubled school construction projects. Smith said he will meet with Boysen later for "more specific instructions."

In light of the circumstances surrounding his appointment, Smith said he "looked forward" to serving in Floyd County and would not hesitate to make any needed changes.

"I have no preconceived ideas and I will not make changes just to make changes," Smith said. "But, I will not hesitate to take whatever action is required. I publicly ask for cooperation among all of us to move forward."

Smith said he had "heard quite a bit" about problems in the school system through media accounts, but added that he would look for the positive aspects within the school district.

The interim superintendent said he had seen fine facilities and excellent programs in the school system during his first day and that he was an advocate of site based decision making and parental involvement in the school system.

City may move mountain to make room for racing

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

Prestonsburg may be willing to move a mountain to provide a home for harness racing in Floyd County.

Mayor Ann Latta told city council Monday evening that she had met Friday with members of the state's new racing commission to discuss a proposal for locating a track in Prestonsburg and she expected to meet Tuesday with the full commission.

Latta's proposal calls for a dual-purpose development which would provide a facility for the Kentucky Opry and a five-eighths mile track for harness racing.

The mayor said Monday that she was exploring the possible use of city-owned property at Cliffside to serve as the site for the proposed facility. She indicated the site offered a potential of 87 "developable" acres.

Development of that property could prove costly since considerable excavation, amounting to mountaintop removal, would be required to provide adequate flat land.

City Main Street manager Henry Mayo said the city would not likely recover any costs for excavation from the mining of coal on the site, indicating the property was "probably the only piece of land in Floyd County without any coal on it."

The costs aside, Latta told council that the economic impact of a dual Opry-racing facility would be great, pumping an estimated $10 million per year into the local economy after 5 years.

Latta said studies indicated the harness racing facility could draw between 150,000 and 200,000 visitors per year while the Kentucky Opry was expected to bring 108,000 visitors annually to the Prestonsburg area.

The city has explored several alternatives for housing the Kentucky Opry over the past two years. The opportunity to develop a city-owned harness racing facility arose recently with state approval for a track license in Floyd County.

Council took no action on the issue Monday.

The panel did, however, put the finishing touches on three ordinances that concern annexation proposals and minimum fees for occupational licenses.

By a 6-0 vote, council gave final approval to the annexation of nine tracts of property along Route 3 at Bull Creek, where property owners

Teacher takes crisis into his own hands

by Susan Allen

Quick action and proper training helped a Floyd County teacher save the life of a 12-year-old student at Adams Middle School last Tuesday.

John DeRossett, a learning behavior disorder teacher, was alerted while on lunchroom duty that Lora Dingus appeared to be having trouble breathing.

"She was grabbing her throat and was having a lot of anxiety," DeRossett said. "There wasn't a lot of time to act, she was turning blue and I didn't hear her breathing. Natural instinct took over and I performed the Heimlich Maneuver on her. I gave her two thrusts between her ribs and out came the food she was choked on."

Paramedics were called to the scene to check the student, who ap-

Jacks Creek couple arrested :

Booze, weapons seized

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A Jacks Creek couple were arrested and charged with the illegal sale of alcohol Sunday after a Floyd County deputy sheriff allegedly purchased a case of beer at Hilltop Carry Out.

Pearl Hall, 43, and Henry Hall, 63, were charged with selling the beverage when the time of delivery or sale of malt beverages is prohibited; possession of a police radio; and trafficking in a schedule IV controlled substance. Mr. Hall was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Mrs. Hall was charged with two counts of possessing prescription drugs not in proper container.

Approximately 50 cases of beer and a large assortment of weapons were confiscated by Floyd County Sheriff's deputies during the Hall's arrest Sunday.

Deputy Ricky Thornsberry said deputy Roger Slone purchased the case of beer early Sunday morning. After the buy was made, deputies moved in at the establishment.

A 9mm Cobra assault weapon was seized along with a .22 caliber long rifle pistol; a .357 magnum pistol; a .38 special handgun; a .22 automatic Jennings pistol; two rifles; a .22 gauge shotgun; a .22 caliber Derringer that Hall was carrying; and a large amount of ammunition.

Deputies also confiscated one large assault knife, two hunting knives, a police scanner, a small amount of drugs and $2,131 in cash.

The operation was the result of an investigation by the sheriff's department into the illegal sale of alcohol beverages on Sunday.

In a related incident, David Short,

Judge-executive John M. Stumbo was elected chairman and Delores F. Dingus was named vice-chairman in balloting Saturday for seats on Floyd County's Democratic Executive Committee.

Other committee members include Paul Hunt Thompson, Joey Boling,

Members of the executive committee will serve through 1996.

Main Street loan program gets state grant funding

Prestonsburg's Main Street program received an economic boost last week from the Kentucky Heritage Council.

The Main Street program received $170,000 to fund revitalization of Prestonsburg's downtown area. The money will be used to provide low interest rate loans which can be used for a general facelift of the area, said Henry Mayo, manager of the Main Street program.

Several efforts are underway by the city to update services to the area, including changing parking and traffic flow downtown for easier access. The main thrust of this revitalization effort will include diagonal parking, underground utilities and new lower level sodium (amber) lighting.

The Main Street program is currently organizing a public-private partnership capable of managing the downtown physical environment and financial climate. The program will provide property owners and leasees appropriate design for the central business district and will help in the total promotion package. There will also be assistance and direction to downtown participants concerning marketing and economic development.

"Our program is designed to bring our downtown back to the prominence it once enjoyed and provide our people with the desire to maintain a program that will ensure its continuance," Mayo said.

For more information about the project or to participate, call Mayo at Prestonsburg's City Hall, 886-2335.

Raid results

The haul included a number of firearms, a small quantity of drugs and over $2,000 in cash. The raid occurred after a deputy purchased a case of beer at the establishment early Sunday morning. State ABC agents also participated in the investigation. (photo by Susan Allen) be heard on the charges at the summary hearing in a motion filed by his attorneys, Robert L. Chenoweth and William G. Francis.

Chenoweth's motion also asked that any attorney from the state's Office of Education Accountability not be allowed to participate either directly or indirectly in the removal hearing.

OEA attorney Steve Yater assisted Steve Wolnitzek, Boysen's legal counsel at Friday's hearing. A ruling on that motion had not been issued at presstime Tuesday.

OEA, a watchdog agency created by the state legislature to oversee the implementation of the Education Reform Act, began investigating the Floyd County School System in 1991. OEA's investigation into the district led to the charges filed against Hager.

The motion presented to the board by Chenoweth included a request for the May 11 hearing date; asked that the hearing be closed; requested a list of witnesses and exhibits 10 days from the summary hearing; and asked that Hager be provided access to subpoenas for use prior to the removal hearing.

The state board moved to go into closed session at Chenoweth's request to discuss his motion. After approximately 30 minutes of discussion in closed session, the state board excused the attorneys to begin their deliberations.

State board members announced Hager's suspension at 10:45 a.m. and named members Jane Mountjoy, Wade Mountz and Helen Montgomery to hear testimony at the May 11 suspension hearing. The panel will report their findings to the full board.

Board member John Williams abstained from voting on Hager's suspension, saying he wanted to wait until the "rest of the evidence is presented" before making a decision.

Chenoweth said after the hearing that Hager did not attend "on my advice."

Boysen has accused Hager of filing false annual financial reports, failing to place monies in two major construction accounts into interest bearing accounts at The First Guaranty National Bank, allowing an illegal bingo game to operate at Prestonsburg High School and failing to advertise for bids for security contracts.

Mother, son dead after Friday crash :

Wreck causes two deaths

A Floyd County man was killed in a traffic accident Friday afternoon and his mother died at Highlands Regional Medical Center a short time later, apparently of a heart attack.

Robert Glen Johnson, 33, of Printer was driving west on Ky 114 near Middle Creek when, making a left turn, he crossed into the oncoming lane and his vehicle struck a dump truck.

Johnson's mother, Dorothy Johnson, 72, of Salyersville died at the hospital when she went to visit her two-year-old granddaughter, Heather, who was also injured in the accident. The child was later transferred to U.K. Medical Center, where she is listed in fair condition.

Joblessness rate climbs

In the Big Sandy region, the unemployment rate grew from a revised 11.3 percent in January to a preliminary 11.6 percent in February.

Local rates ranged from 10.3 percent in Johnson County to 21.7 percent in Magoffin County, as all five counties in the ADD registered double-digit rates. Floyd County's rate for the period was 10.8 percent.

The monthly sample of claimants of unemployment insurance benefits showed 37.2 percent had worked in mining, 18.5 percent in construction, 17.5 percent in trade, 9.4 percent in transportation, communication and utilities, and 8.6 percent in services.

Robert Johnson was an engineer with Abbott Engineering and survivors include his wife, Lana Spurlock Johnson and his daughter.

Dorothy Johnson's survivors include her husband, Clarence Johnson and a son, Tim Johnson of Hollybush in Knott County.

Joint funeral services were held Tuesday, April 14 at the Hindman Funeral Service chapel in Hindman. Burial was made in the Turner Campbell Cemetery at Mousie.

peared to have recovered from the incident. The girl's parents took her on to the hospital for an examination which showed she suffered no ill effects, DeRossett said.

"It happened so fast," said teacher Mary Franklin. "Everyone should be aware that such a simple procedure like that can save a life, anyone's life. Anyone can get choked at anytime. It was a serious situation."

DeRossett appeared to take his actions in stride and said the required first aid courses needed to be an athletic coach paid off.

"If I never used my training again, it was worth it to just help one person," DeRossett said. "Once you have the training, in a situation like that you just do what comes natural. I feel great about it, it pays to attend the two hour classes."

DeRossett, 25, has been a teacher at the middle school for two years and previously taught at Belfry High School in Pike County. He lives in Prestonsburg with his wife, Linda.

are participating in a voluntary annexation plan. The property officially becomes part of the city after publication of annexation ordinances.

Meanwhile, as the city's limits are expanded, so are the costs of doing business in Prestonsburg.

Council voted 6-0 Monday to approve increases in the city's minimum occupational tax license fees after debating and amending a proposed ordinance.

Occupational license fees are to be paid annually on a basis of one and one-half percent of a business' net profit or on the basis of minimum fees, whichever is greater. License fees must be paid by all businesses and professions operating within the city limits.

Before adopting the final license fee ordinance, council accepted an amendment to resolve an apparent conflict over the licensing of vending machines. State laws allows licensing only of those machines which provide entertainment, like video games, and exempts those machines which vend a product.

Council's ordinance, which originally set a fee of $10 for licensing all vending machines, was amended to set a fee of $75 on the operators of machines which were exempted from individual licensing.

In other business Monday, council:

- approved the creation of an employee classification for a traffic safety officer, setting the salary range at $5.09 to $7.13 per hour;

- adopted a resolution urging the city's recreation and tourism commission to provide $750 in funding to Little League baseball;

- approved by a 5-1 vote a cooperative agreement with the Floyd County Fiscal Court authorizing application for a Community Development Block Grant to finance proposed extension of water lines along Middle Creek. Councilman Billy Ray Collins opposed the measure, suggesting water line extensions should be tied to annexation;

- transferred to the personnel committee a proposal to require training for auxiliary police officers. Training

The three posted bond and were released Sunday afternoon.

Deputies participating in the investigation were Thornsberry, Randy Davis, Fred Mynhier and Slone. The sheriff's department was also assisted by state Alcoholic Beverage Control agents.

- transferred to the finance and revenue committee a proposal to provide cafeteria plan medical benefits to city employees; and

- agreed to seek expert advice on the renewal process for awarding cable television franchises. A current city franchise expires at the end of 1992.

Before adjourning, council retired to executive session to "discuss litigation." No action was reported from the closed session.

All members but William Callihan were present for the council's regular meeting.

Liberty of thought is the life of the soul—Voltaire

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

There's probably not much we can say to cheer you up today, it being April 15 and all, so we'll just ask that you join us in a moment of silence in memory of our dearly departed tax dollars.

The taxes you pay today, thanks to the federal deficit, are going to pay off some government purchase made years ago—like BandAids for Gerald Ford or recording tape for Richard Nixon.

If it makes you feel any better, look at it this way...

The poor saps who'll be paying the salaries of the bozos we have in Congress now haven't even been born yet.

We are somewhat amused by these folks who suggest we shouldn't get all bent out of shape over the congressional check-kiting scandal.

Newspaper columnist John Ed Pearce wrote Sunday in defense of Congress:

"Many, if not most, of the culprits seemed honestly unaware that they were overdrawn. But that is neither here nor there. It was, and is, their money. If they want to handle it sloppily, let him among you who has never failed to balance his or her checkbook throw the first demand that everyone retire."

Pearce goes on to call all of us upset over the check issue "suckers" of campaign propagandists.

Okay, there's a sucker born every minute, and Pearce is probably right that the issue has been blown out of proportion.

So what?

Congress has been blowing itself out of proportion for years. Turn about is fair play.

We Eastern Kentuckians tend to get our bib overalls in a wad anytime somebody from outside our region says bad things about us.

We've been guilty many times of lashing out at one-sided portrayals of our region and, as long as we're able to hit the right keys on our word processor, we'll continue doing so when necessary.

Sometimes, though, we need to take the advice of that great philosopher Bugs Bunny, who once said:

"Don't be so sensitive."

The best way to dispel stereotypes is to stop reinforcing them.

That means we'll have to quit throwing our garbage over the hillsides; quit electing good-old-boy politicians; start giving serious consideration to educating our children and quit blaming everyone else for our problems.

Paul Patton is taking some heat for casting the tie-breaking vote against a bill requiring mandatory seat belt use in Kentucky.

We've yet to hear any organized criticism of the 19 senators who also voted against the measure and who put Patton in the position of having to make the decision. He said before the vote he would vote against the measure if it came to a tie and he lived up to his word.

As a result, all of us who have the least bit of sense will continue to use our seatbelts while those short of brains exercise their freedom to be ignorant.

So what's the problem?

Earth Day is April 22.

So is Secretary's Day.

That's no coincidence.

Everyone knows that without secretaries, the world as we know it would cease to exist.

Editor:

It is highly doubtful that The Floyd County Times would ever print this letter, even though they purport to serve the public and write the truth. The Floyd County Times has been very selective with its reporting of the "bingo scandal" and its alleged mismanagement of bingo revenues. In doing so, that newspaper has sought to destroy one man's career—Robert May's. In my opinion, shared also by many of my colleagues, Robert May has been the best principal that Prestonsburg High School has ever had. He set high standards for teachers and students alike. He put together a disciplined and dedicated staff who worked diligently to bring out the best in PHS students. He rejuvenated the pride and respect that had long been missing from Prestonsburg High School. All that has been overshadowed by bingo. All that has been ignored by The Floyd County Times.

It is easy to understand why. Robert May made some enemies along the way. Robert May was not a calm, smooth, politician or diplomat. He was a man who had a job to do—a man who got the job done, and who rubbed some parents and teachers the wrong way in doing so. Being tactful was not his greatest attribute. His enemies tried, often in vain, to get him removed from Prestonsburg High School. And herein lies the tragedy—the injustice that The Floyd County Times has brought unto Robert May.

To the best of my knowledge, bingo operations began in Floyd County about nine years ago at Betsy Layne High School. Betsy Layne High School operated these games for the benefit of their football team. That game and the money it generated prompted other schools to follow suit. More importantly, it was still operating when The Floyd County Times made damaging allegations against the Prestonsburg High School game. Did Betsy Layne High School keep records of its bingo operation? Did Betsy Layne High School meet all its statutory obligations? It might be interesting to find out. How about Allen Central High School? What of their records and legal authorization? The Floyd County Times try to drag those schools' principals through the mud? Forgive me if I'm wrong, but I don't believe that that happened.

I challenge The Floyd County Times to present evidence that either Betsy Layne's or Allen Central's games were accounted for as well as the game that operated at Prestonsburg High School. I understand now that the game at Prestonsburg High School was an illegal bingo game operation, but Mr. May and the teachers who helped were not aware of this at the time and simply followed the leads and recommendations of those who were running bingo games long before.

Gross mismanagement of bingo revenues? Please. Wasn't this, in fact, a product of someone with an axe to grind? Someone who overlooked both Betsy Layne and Allen Central High School because Robert May was not the principal there. Let me add this. The bingo operation generated money for Prestonsburg High School's athletics, academics, and clubs that could never have been provided by the Floyd County Board of Education. Robert May and the volunteers who worked the bingo game were performing a service for Prestonsburg High School. This was no vulgar attempt to fleece the public or fatten one's pockets, but it has been made out to appear so.

Robert May is retiring at the end of this school year. Public education will lose a great administrator. Unfortunately, he had to suffer public humiliation during his last year here. Why? The answer is obvious: his enemies never gave up, and The Floyd County Times served up its version of the truth.

For those who remember what Prestonsburg High School was like before Robert May came here, I can't see much cause to celebrate. I regret that I may have played a role in helping The Floyd County Times and Robert May's enemies fulfill their compact.

Dear Editor:

The time has come for the people of Floyd County to ask for some explanations from the Board of Education and board members, Dr. Mary Hall, Ray "Shag" Campbell, Eddie Billips, Tommy Boyd and James Duff. There is no way possible that one man alone, Ronald Hager, can be solely responsible for the mess in the school system of Floyd County. The blame has to lie elsewhere, too.

Stop and think for a few minutes; exactly what ultimate power does a superintendent have. Doesn't he have to get approval for actions from the board members? The finance officer is ultimately responsible for record keeping of incoming and outgoing funds, but every dime spent must first be approved by the board members.

What has Ronald Hager done for our school system? Since taking the position of superintendent, to which he was elected by board members, he has been for our children. There have been three new schools built in the county and computers installed in most schools since he took office in 1988. He has shown an interest in the education of students in Floyd County for the past 20 years; ever since I have known him. Mr. Hager has served in many different areas of education in Floyd County: classroom educator, assistant principal, principal and superintendent. Throughout these years, he has been available to students and parents for consultation about educational concerns.

The board members must now answer for their actions. Many of the present board members have been involved in previous problems in the school system; before Mr. Hager was appointed superintendent. Have they ever been held accountable or asked any questions? No!! Maybe it is time we ask them to step down too!! Nobody asked them any questions during the times before 1988 when Mr. Grigsby and Mr. Brackett, former superintendents of the Floyd County Board of Education, were relieved of their positions, by whatever means. When was the financial situation worse, now or years before?

Taxpayers and voters of Floyd County, ask yourselves if your board member has your child's best interest in mind or their own. Money funded for construction of new schools in the county will be lost if our board members don't get off their haunches and begin construction of a new Prestonsburg High School, regardless of site selection. As for the disrepair of many schools, are the principals and the superintendent the only ones responsible for seeing that repairs are made? What are the jobs of grounds and building inspectors, board members and assistant superintendents: to sit at the central board on their thumbs, exchange stories and look good to be paid large salaries? It is time we know exactly why our tax dollars are being paid to many at the central board and what their job duties are.

At the state level, since Mr. Boyesen has been involved with the education system, all the school systems investigated have been in Eastern Kentucky. In each of these investigations, the superintendent of the school system in question has shouldered the blame, been asked to resign or fired. What of the school systems in the rest of the state, are they without problems?

Maybe it is time for a big change, should we ask board members to resign. We should be allowed to elect school superintendents from county or at least state residents.

For three years, the Kentucky Lottery Corporation has attempted to answer one most frequently asked question—where does the money go? While Kentucky Lottery proceeds have always gone to benefit all Kentuckians, the 1992 General Assembly has now made it easier to show citizens how those dollars are spent.

Beginning in July, all Kentucky Lottery proceeds will be dedicated specifically for primary and secondary education. In its wisdom, the Legislature has now chosen to designate Lottery profits to the SEEK (Support Excellence in Education in Kentucky) Program for the next fiscal years—$92 million in fiscal 1992-93 and $104 million projected for fiscal 1993-94. The SEEK Program is the primary funding mechanism for local districts throughout the Commonwealth.

In the past, lottery proceeds were funneled into the general fund with other forms of revenue. Once in that fund, lottery dollars lost their identity, even though they were used to fund valuable projects.

The Kentucky Lottery wishes to thank Kentucky lawmaker's, especially the two chairmen of the House and Senate Appropriations and Revenue Committees—Representative Joe Clarke of Danville and Senator Michael Moloney of Lexington.

To date, more than $244 million has been earned for the Commonwealth by the Kentucky Lottery Corporation; which now is, by the way, the fastest growing of the nation's 34 state lotteries. The Kentucky Lottery—it's your game, and it's a winner!

What I am about to say does not necessarily reflect the opinions of any other member of the Floyd County Screening Committee. I speak only for myself when I say that I have serious problems with the editorial by Scott Perry that appeared in Friday's Floyd County Times... The easiest part of the editorial to deal with is the statement that the screening committee for the new superintendent "has indicated that they will not consider any Floyd County applicants for the job." That statement is simply wrong. No one on the committee has ever said or "indicated" to my knowledge that they are unwilling to recommend someone from Floyd County. The screening committee is, in fact, considering applications from people in Floyd County right now.

Scott's editorial raises another issue. How important is it where a candidate comes from? In one sense, it shouldn't matter at all. This search is not about hometown pride. Some people seem to feel that the screening committee has an obligation to recommend someone from our own area. If we don't, we are insulting our own region, these people argue, and creating a bad image for Floyd County. In addition to not understanding how the recommendation of a top-notch candidate for superintendent, regardless of where that person is from, could harm us, I believe once again we are using the wrong criteria. Our children deserve the best leadership. We are going to have to be willing to put everything else where it belongs—in a secondary role. Birth place and family connections shouldn't be important. I will not vote against people simply because they come from Floyd County, but neither will I allow myself to be put in a position where I feel that I am obligated to include a candidate from here in order to maintain county pride. Neither one of those cases would be fair.

It is fair, however, to evaluate the candidates on their past performance. In the case of candidates outside of the region, the committee plans on examining applications closely, making phone calls, talking to individuals about the school system that the individual comes from and what the candidates has or has not been able to accomplish in that district. If the district has had problems, we want to know how the candidates have dealt with those problems. Performance is the most important criteria. In a similar fashion, Floyd County candidates will have to fall under that same kind of scrutiny.

Scott argues that the committee should examine the records of the candidates from Floyd County, and not overlook good performance. I agree with him completely. I am just not sure that the example of Martin is a good one nor do I believe that one individual should have been singled out for an endorsement. With the exception of the tapping of the office phone, the information about the conditions at Martin Elementary is not new. Who in the administration in Floyd County has not known about the bathrooms, the unsanitary conditions or the financial crisis at the school? Why are we acting as if these conditions have just been discovered?

If anything, the example raises the questions that have caused me problems as I have served on this committee. How do you evaluate fairly the performance of people with a system that has had serious problems? How do you determine responsibility and individual accomplishment? The important question is not who should receive credit for exposing this situation—because the information has been out there for a long time. The question is, instead, why were these conditions not taken care of before and who bears the responsibility for that? Could the conditions at Martin only have been dealt with by a principal?

I have real problems in seeing the situation at Martin as a mandate for the recommendation of any candidate. Correcting these conditions is the least that we should expect from people in authority. If there are any heroes at Martin Elementary, I think it is the parents who have been fighting for a long time to improve their children's learning environment. Some of them have given unselfishly of their time, hour after hour, to bring attention to the problems at their school. They deserve our respect for that and they have mine.

I want to find the best candidates for this job. Despite the conflict that has existed between administrators and teachers in this county, I am not interested in getting even with anyone. What matters the most to me are the candidates' abilities, their knowledge and understanding of educational issues, and the fact that they have the skills necessary to make tough decisions and stand by those decisions even when they result in the loss of success and advancement. I care about the candidates' competency, their experience, honesty, integrity and willingness to put our children before everything else, and that alone. If the candidates from Floyd County are superior to others in those areas, they will get my vote. If not, they won't.

By May 12, the Floyd County Board of Education will have the names of five candidates from our screening committee. No matter who the committee recommends, some people will be unhappy with our decision. I can't prevent that. What I can assure Scott Perry and others of is the fact that I take this process seriously and that I will continue to do what I have been doing all along; trying to look at all candidates as objectively and fairly as I can. Members of the screening committee will be held responsible for our decisions once the work is completed, and that is as it should be. When it is finished, I think I will be able to look people squarely in the eye and tell them that I have done my best.

As we move towards the end of this search, all of the members of the committee will need the support of the community. I hope we will have earned it. I would also like to express my appreciation to Scott Perry. Even when I disagree with him, he causes me to think about important issues and I am grateful for that as always.

THE ALL-NEW 1992 CAMRY. FROM OUR OLD KENTUCKY HOME.

One of the biggest automotive successes of 1992 is an American car.

It is the Toyota Camry. Now, if that seems contradictory, consider this. Seventy-five percent of what goes into all new Camrys built in our Georgetown, Kentucky plant comes from right here in the United States. But the most important thing that goes into each of those Camrys is the hard work, know-how and pride of over four thousand Americans who build them. That's the real secret to Camry's success and why critics acclaim Camry as "One of the 10 Best Cars"™ and "One of the Best New Cars and Best in its Class."

Dog day afternoon

Every dog has his day, and for one very lucky dog that day will be Saturday, April 25.

That's the day Jenny Wiley Theatre will hold auditions for this summer's production of "The Wizard of Oz."

The auditions for dogs to play the lead role of Toto will be held from noon until 1 p.m. in the student center on the Prestonsburg Community College campus.

"The role calls for a small, dark, scruffy-looking dog—you know—like Toto," said Jenny Wiley Theatre general manager Tedi Vaughan. "We're looking for a dog with an excellent disposition (no biters!) who likes to work well with people, especially females."

In addition to being listed in this year's playbill, our lucky dog will be featured in 16 performances of the John Kane theatrical adaptation of this now legendary film. He or she will also work closely with Dorothy throughout the summer.

Pre-registration is not necessary as this is an open audition. Plan to arrive early and have your dog on a leash. Training and theatrical experience are preferred but not required.

Vaughan encourages area dog owners to come out and show us what your pet can do on Saturday, April 25, from noon until 1 p.m. in the Student Center on the Prestonsburg Community College campus.

Continuing Education is tasty experience

Attending continuing education classes at Prestonsburg Community College can be a "tasty" experience. Under the instruction of Dr. John Shiber, a biology professor at the college, students in the spring session learned to make pita bread and yogurt at home.

Classes on how to prepare these and other nutritious and delicious foods are planned by Dr. Shiber for the summer and fall sessions. If you wish to have a tasty experience, contact the college for details.

For Your Eyes Only

CHOOSING SUNGLASS LENSES

This is the time of year when the public looks to sunglasses for protection from harmful rays from the sun.

Tinted lenses lower the amount of illumination, or the amount of light entering the human eye. Green tinted lenses make everything look green and generally subtract the red colors. Likewise brown tinted lenses make everything look brown but subtract the blue colors, such as in the sky.

Due to the absorption of blue colors, yellow tinted lenses are recommended for hunters to subtract the "blue" background of the sky and provide improved contrast.

Gray tinted lenses are most widely recommended because they do not distort colors. Traffic lights remain green, yellow, and red.

But color is not the only consideration. All the recent flurry about "holes in the ozone" has caused many articles to be written about damage to the skin and eyes by additional ultra-violet light reaching the earth. In recent times, the most important consideration is the innovation of absorbing ultra-violet light, which although not perceived by the human eye, is radiated by the sun. Such ultra-violet light is believed to induce cataracts and cause damage to the retina.

These new absorptive tints are known as "UV-400" (ultra-violet light in the 400 nanometer wavelength) of "blue blockers." This absorptive tint is not actually a "tint" at all. As manufactured for the professional optical industry UV-400 is almost invisible.

Thus UV-400 can be applied to all clear plastic lenses, both prescription and non-prescription, almost without detection. The addition for such tint to prescription eyeglasses is in the $15 to $20 range and qualities can vary.

Remember, when purchasing sunglasses, look for the label of the addition to the lenses of 100% ultra-violet protection in non-prescription sunglasses and consider its advantages to all prescription eyewear.

Marine Fish Oils

Marine fish oils have received attention recently for their role in the prevention of atherosclerotic disease. The human body is unable to synthesize or build-up similar oils. It is theorized that marine fish oils may reduce cholesterol levels and reduce the risk of heart disease and stroke. These oils, referred to as Omega 3 fatty acids, are found only in certain types of fish and in some vegetables. Investigators feel that fish oils called EPA and DHA, may be especially beneficial. EPA is found primarily in deep water fish such as salmon and tuna. Leaner fish also contains fatty acids but in lower levels.

The marine fish oils may retard the disease known as atherosclerosis. Normally, the inner wall of an artery is smooth and firm allowing the blood to flow freely. However, the inner lining can become thickened and rough by a build up of cholesterol, fat, calcium, platelets and damaged cells. This build up acts much like rust in a pipe, causing the artery to narrow or even close off completely.

Interest in the relationship between dietary marine fish oils and blood cholesterol was initiated by a study of Eskimos in the 1970s. Investigators reported that Eskimos, who consumed a diet high in marine fish oils, had low blood levels of cholesterol and triglycerides and a low incidence of heart disease.

In Japan, similar studies also suggest that the intake of marine fatty acids may have a role in the low coronary artery disease rate in that population. This finding may be attributable, in part, to the fact that fish constitutes a large percentage of the Japanese diet.

Most investigators concluded that the general public would benefit from addition of fish in their diet several times weekly. The specific benefits are in the prevention of coronary and carotid artery disease. In patients with high blood cholesterol, fish may be an additional therapeutic low-fat diet. These fatty acids have the ability to lower serum triglycerides and reduce platelet adhesiveness.

Seek a physician's advice before supplementing your diet with excessive amounts of fish or commercial fish oils.

Card of Thanks

The family of Luther Hicks wishes to extend thanks and appreciation to all who sent flowers, food, and prayers upon the passing of their loved one. A special thanks to clergyman Dan Heintzelman for his comforting words, to the choir for the beautiful songs, and to Mrs. Mary Webb, who comforted and assisted the family in every possible way. Mere words cannot express the loss that this family felt and will continue to feel, but the comfort and kindness given to them during that time will never be forgotten.

BASKETBALL NOT OVER YET!

The Floyd County Varsity All-Stars will be making tracks to Knoxville, Tennessee, this weekend, where they will be playing in the National All-Star tournament. Floyd County will face Evansville, Indiana, in their first game Friday morning at 9:15 a.m.

This is a talented ball club, and with a healthy Jason Bevins making the trip, they could be a team to be reckoned with on the national level.

Also playing in the tournament will be the Mountain Christian Academy AAU team that has a 20-1 record this year. MCA will be in Berea over the weekend for the state AAU tournament. We wish each of these teams well as they compete.

SUMMER SPORTS SCENE UNDERWAY!

Folks, I have never seen so many baseball games going on since the weather turned nice. I sure have enjoyed all the games that I have been able to attend. We have some very solid baseball teams in the district this year and it should be a banner year in Floyd County.

The Little Leagues are starting to organize and I understand that Harold-Allen-Prater will start in a week or so with a preseason tournament. Also, Mary Jenkins informed me that the Martin Pee Wee League will open this month with a preseason tournament.

Get out and support all the youth programs in the county. Take in some good high school games during April and May. You will certainly enjoy it.

QUOTE OF THE DAY!

"My sunglasses are making marks on my toes." Rita Crisp

RATLIFF FORCED TO RESIGN

I hated to hear of Coach Alvin Ratliff resigning at Johnson Central as head basketball coach. I understand that he was forced to do so. That's the breaks with coaches nowadays. You produce a winning program or you're out.

I personally feel that Coach Ratliff was one of the top coaches in the region. He certainly did a good job this past season taking his team to a 16-12 record. But no district or regional titles to show and it's departure time.

Kind of makes you wonder how some of the other coaches hang around so long.

....AND ALSO LEAVING THE COACHING RANKS....

Pikeville's Howard Wallen made it official that he is leaving coaching to concentrate on other administrative duties. Wallen is an outstanding individual that I feel has his priorities in order. He is a family man and winning is not the most important thing in his life.

I am proud to say that I know Coach Wallen, for he has always been one of my favorite coaches. I wish him the best in whatever he does.

ROBERTS A GOOD ADDITION

Bip Roberts has proven that he is a very good catch for the Cincinnati Reds this past winter. The versatile infielder has already been pressed in playing two positions this early in the season. With the injury to Chris Sabo, Roberts has done a great job of filling in after starting the season at second base.

Roberts is a very good lead off batter and all we need now is for Rob Dibble to get back into the bullpen.

The middle relief work as well as closer has fared to well for the Reds. Maybe "Hoss" Halbert knew what he was talking about when he said they would struggle once the grapefruit juice ran out.

However, if Dibble can return in last years form (after not having such a great spring) the Reds could be set. There is no fault in the starting rotation of the Reds. It is everything that everyone thought it should be.

The Reds are going to be tough to handle once everyone is healthy.

Until Friday, good sports everyone and be good sports!

MCA AAU to take part in state meet in Berea this weekend

It may be spring time and baseball season may be upon us, but there is still some basketball to be played.

Friday night the Mountain Christian Academy AAU basketball team will head to Berea this Friday night to face Lewis County in the first round of the state tournament. The top three teams in the tournament will advance on to national play in Coca, Florida later in May. A MCA victory would pit them against Maysville-Mason County in a Saturday morning match up at 10 a.m. Should the MCA team falter in the opening game, they would play at 3:20 p.m. on Saturday against the loser of game eight which could produce another MCA/Phelps matchup.

MCA will be one of the top teams in the state tournament at Berea being winners of 20 games to go with only one loss. The only setback for the MCA team was in the championship game of the Pikeville AAU League tournament. The local team fell to Phelps in the final game.

Phelps will be in the tournament along with third place finisher Pikeville. Phelps gets a first round bye and will play Saturday morning at 11:20 a.m. Pikeville faces Kenton County in a Friday night game at 9:30 p.m.

AAU basketball is played under high school rules. The only exception is that the 11 and under players use a smaller basketball (girl's size). The three-point basket is allowed along with free substituting. The AAU quarters will be six minutes in duration instead of the high school eight.

Following the state tournament, a Kentucky All-State AAU tournament team will be announced. Each player on the first, second and third place teams will receive medals or gold, silver and bronze.

Hall chosen junior varsity MVP at Centre

Former McDowell basketball standout Stacy Hall added yet another prestigious award to those he earned while playing basketball at McDowell. This one, however, comes as a freshman at Centre College where Hall is a freshman.

Hall received the Most Valuable Player Award for Centre's junior varsity team. Hall is also a member of the varsity squad at Centre College. The award was presented at Centre's 1992 basketball banquet at the Danville Country Club by coach Tom Bryant. Bryant presented the awards and made comments about this past year's team.

This past year's team completed a decade of Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference championships for Coach Bryant. In early March, the Colonels played Hampden-Sydney in the NCAA Division III tournament. Centre fell by the score of 88-83 in two overtimes. The Colonels finished the season with a fine 19-8 record.

Hall is the son of Katie and Lanny Hall of Versailles and is maintaining a 3.0 grade point average as a freshman at Centre.

Roberts winner of Citizens Bank One Mile Run

Rick Roberts got his 1992 racing season underway on a positive note as he captured the 10th Annual Citizens Bank One Mile run in Pikeville over the weekend. Also, former UK All-American runner, Ben McIntosh dethroned former champion Jim Estes of Louisville in the 10K run.

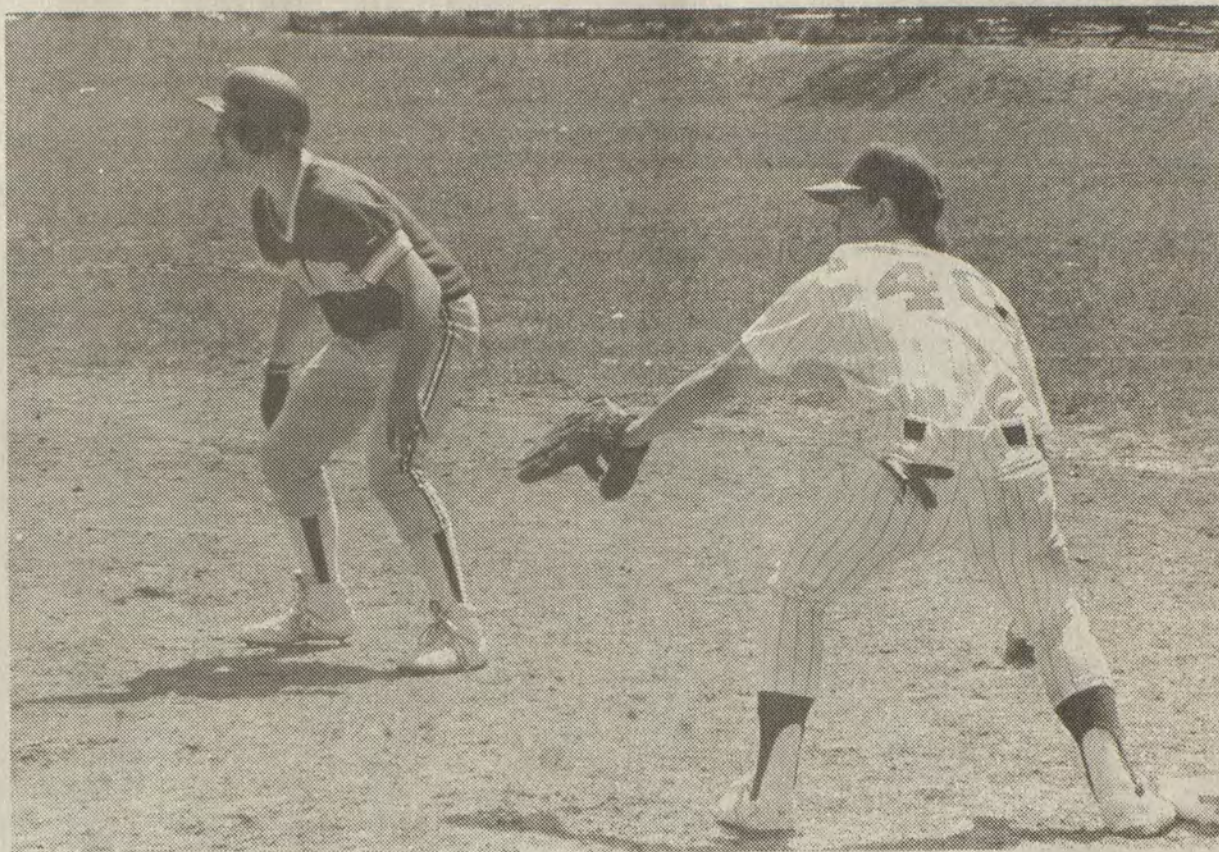

Van Lear's Roberts won the Mile Run for the third year in a row with a time of 5:23. Kent Catron of Winchester placed second with a 5:36.

In the women's Mile Run, Debbie Biddle won in 6:27 while Jamie Ratcliff of Prestonsburg came in a close second at 7:22. Jackie Robinson of Hager Hill placed 30th overall in 9:30, winning a second place award in the 33-39 age group.

Paintsville's Brandon Tosti was eighth overall in 6:24, winning the 17-24 age group. Matt Burchett placed 11th in 6:29 which was good enough for second in the 17-24 age group.

In the 6.2 mile event, Roberts finished 12th overall taking a third place award in the 35-39 age group. Marvin McFadden of Paintsville placed 18th overall winning the 55-59 age group.

Ron Robinson of Hager Hill was 20th overall and second in the 40-44 age group. Dave Wright of Paintsville placed 23rd followed by Paintsville's Garry McKenzie 33rd and Kennis DeBoard, also of Paintsville, in 38th place.

Getting a big lead!

Helton spoils no-hitter but Millard spoils Trojans opener

Millard starting pitcher Jason Smith had things going his way against Wheelwright through the first five innings until Jimmy Helton spoiled his bid for a no-hitter. Helton singled to lead off the Trojans' sixth inning with a solid base hit that ended five hitless innings.

However, it was the Mustangs ruining Wheelwright's opening game by edging the Trojans 5-3 in what turned out to be a good high school baseball game.

Wheelwright coach Jackie Pack played "musical chairs" with hit pitchers running Kevin Johnson, Chad Allen and Helton on and off the mound.

Smith (1-0) ended the game yielding just three hits in the game winning for the first time. He struck out 14 batters while giving up seven base-on-balls and he hit two batters.

Kevin Johnson suffered the loss for the Trojans. Johnson went the first 2-2/3 innings with Chad Allen coming in relief in the top of the third with two out. Allen went 11/3 when Helton replaced him on the mound at the start of the fifth inning.

Millard scored three times in the fifth inning off Helton to take a 4-0 lead. Helton gave up a lead-off single to Neil Lawson and walked lead-off batter Steve Coleman. Ronald Adkins' grounder forced Lawson at third base. After both runners moved up on a passed ball, Kevin Justice singled home both base runners and Justice rode home on a two base hit by Reed Adkins.. Adkins was nailed at the plate on a bizarre play for the third out.

Blackcats sweep DH over Harlan County, 8-5 11-2

Sean Damron (1-0) and John Thomas Clark (1-0) put together two strong pitching outings as the Prestonsburg Blackcats ran their seasonal record to 4-1 with a double-header sweep of the Harlan Dragons Friday at Archer Park.

Damron got some strong offensive support from his teammates in the third inning of game one to post an 8-5 win. Clark hurled a two-hitter in handcuffing the Dragons 11-2 in the nightcap.

Prestonsburg scored six times in the bottom of the third inning in game one to give Damron a 7-5 lead after trailing 5-1 going into the inning. Anthony Howell got the offense going with a lead-off double off Charles Rutledge, who had an easy first two innings. Brandon Lowe and Damron drew walks to load the bases for the Blackcats. Howell and Lowe scored on a base hit by Thomas, and Aaron Tucker followed with a two-run double scoring Damron and Clark. After Thomas Ratliff reached on a error in left field on his fly ball, Ronnie Goodman's base hit scored Tucker to tie the game. Ratliff also scored giving Prestonsburg a 7-5 lead.

Harlan had taken a 2-0 lead in the Reed's bat leads Lady Blackcats to sweep Allen Central, 4-3, 5-4

The Prestonsburg Lady Blackcats got a big lift from the bat of Amy Reed as they swept the Allen Central Lady Rebels in a softball double-header at Archer Park last Friday afternoon.

Prestonsburg posted a 4-3 win in the first game and came back to record a 5-4 victory over the Lady Rebels in game two.

It was the long ball hitting of Amy Reed in game one that brought the Lady Blackcats from a 4-3 deficit to a 5-4 victory in the second game. Reed hit a solo home run in the bottom of the third inning of the second game to tie the game at 3-3. Allen Central regained the lead with a single run in their half of the fourth when Jennifer Mullins led off with a walk and scored on a bases loaded walk to Stumbo.

Prestonsburg scored twice in the bottom of the fourth to win the game 5-4. Hale singled to lead off the frame for Prestonsburg and pinch hitter Jamie Ratcliff drew a walk. Tara Fitzer walked to load the bases with Lady Blackcats. Jamie Clay then popped out with Ratcliff being doubled off second for two outs. Reed singled but loading the bases with no run scoring. Carolyn Reffitt tied the game with a base hit that scored Hale. Stephanie Music walked with the bases loaded forcing home the winning run.

Allen Central had taken a 3-0 lead in the second game only to have Prestonsburg come back in the bottom of the first inning and score twice on Reed's two-run home run.

Kerrie Merion was the winning pitcher for Prestonsburg with Staci Moore suffering the loss.

In game one, Prestonsburg held off Allen Central in the late innings and won the first game 4-3 with the deciding run scoring on Reffitt's long sacrifice fly that scored Amy Reed who had tripled in the third inning.

Prestonsburg went out in front 2-0 in the first inning on a base hit by Jamie Clay and Reffitt's single. Bailey sent Clay home with a single and Reffitt scored on a sacrifice fly by Kerrie Merion.

Allen Central tied the game at 2-2 with a two-run second. Veronica McKinney tripled to lead off the Lady Rebs second and scored on Jenny Parsons' base hit. Parson later scored on a fielder's choice.

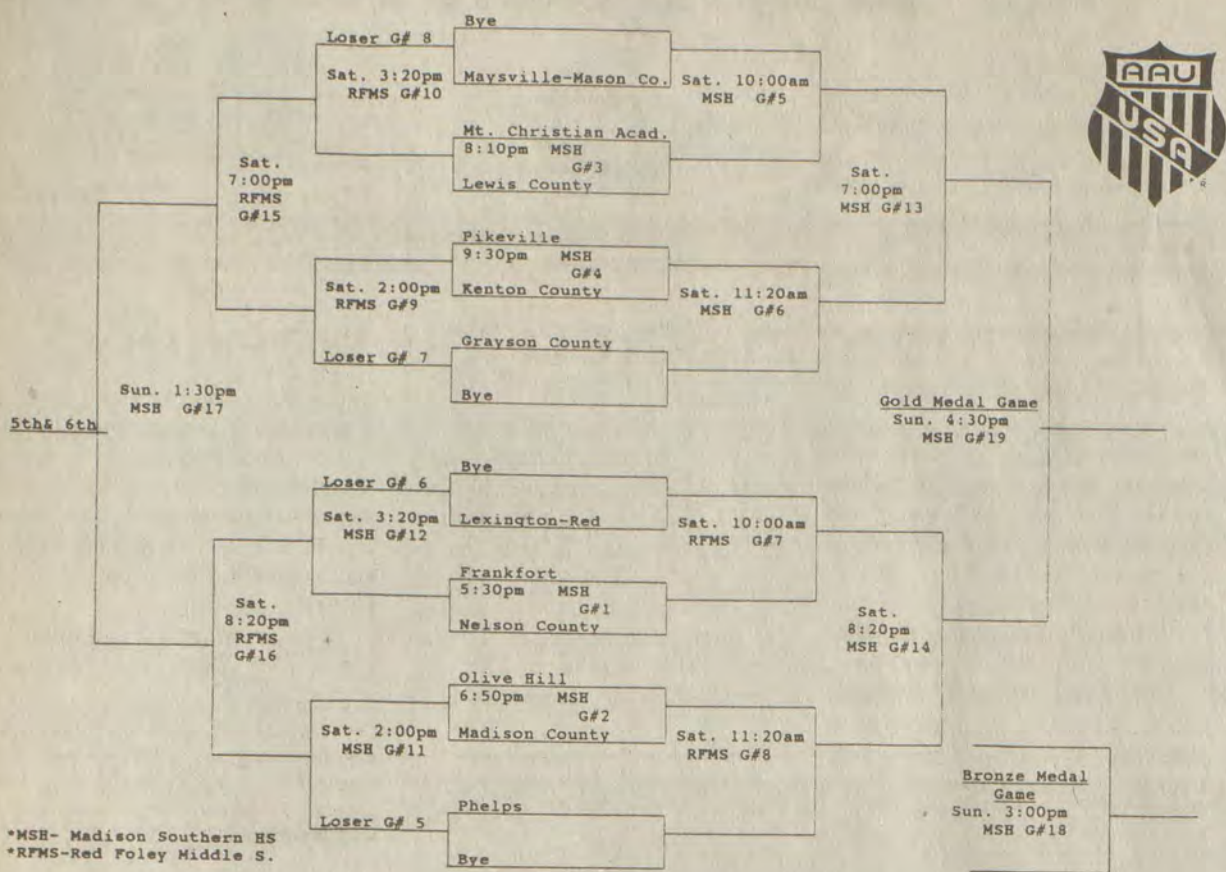

Prestonsburg went back out in front 3-2 in the bottom of the inning on Music's base hit and Stacy Powers' double. Allen Central made it a one-run game, 4-3, with a single run in the top of the fourth. Gray walked and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jennifer Mullins.

Reed was two-for-three in the game with Clay, Reffitt and Music each collecting one hit. Powers was a perfect two-for-two that included her run scoring double in the second inning.

Melissa Bailey was the winning pitcher and Moore suffered the setback. Allen Central falls to 0-2 on the season and Prestonsburg stays undefeated at 3-0.

teams thinking of switching over next year.

The state tournament will continue through the weekend with the finals being played Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. Unlike other junior tournaments, AAU basketball is not a double elimination format but does allow for a team to play more than one game. While the losers of first round play drops into the loser's bracket, the losing teams cannot come out of the bracket and compete for the title but only a fifth or sixth place finish.

The games will be played at Madison Southern High School and Red Foley Middle School in Berea.

Maysville is the tournament's defending champion in the 11 and under division. MCA will need to win the first two games to make the semifinals and a chance to advance to Florida for the nationals.

Smith got lead-off batter Layne Bailey on a sweeping curve ball for the third out and two runners left stranded.

Millard got the run back to lead 5-1 on three hits in the sixth inning. Gary Adkins singled, stole second base and came around to score on pinch hitter Matt Damron's base hit. Damron was batting for designated hitter Bradley Slone, who had struck out twice. Lawson had the other hit for Millard in the sixth.

Some poor base running spoiled a scoring opportunity for Wheelwright in the bottom of the sixth. After Helton broke up the no-hitter of Smith's and lead off with a solid base hit, the shortstop tried what appeared to be a delay steal but he was caught stealing when catcher Reed Adkins threw him out at second base. The poor base running was costly in that Kevin Johnson drew a one-out walk and Charles Johnson immediately singled behind him. Catcher Mickey Johnson ended the inning when he drilled a Wheelwright got their first run in the bottom of the fifth to snap not only the no-hitter but avoided a shut out as well. Smith, who was breezing through the Trojan batting order, walked Charles Johnson to lead off the inning. Mickey Johnson hit a grounder to second baseman Mark Coleman that was mishandled for an error. Smith's wildness continued when he walked Matt Johnson on a 3-2 pitch to load the bases. Steven Shelton grounded weakly back to Smith, who tossed to catcher Reed Adkins, to force Charles Johnson at the plate. But Jody Johnson picked up an RBI when he grounded out to second, scoring Mickey Johnson.

Smith started to tire in the Wheelwright half of the seventh. Smith fanned lead-off batter Matt Johnson but then hit Shelton and Jody Johnson to put two runners on base. Bailey walked to load the bases for Wheelwright and Helton drilled a 3-2 pitch to right field, scoring Shelton.

Lawson came on to relieve Smith with one out in the seventh inning only to lose Chad Allen on a 3-2 pitch and force home Jody Johnson to make it a 5-3 game.

With the bases still loaded, Lawson got Kevin Johnson on a swinging third strike after the count had gone to full. Charles Johnson strolled to the plate and, after taking a called strike and a ball, Bailey, who was on third base, ended the rally when he was caught trying to steal home.

Smith, in picking up the win, retired the first six men he had faced and struck out five of them. In fact, he struck out the first four and struck out the side in the first inning.

Wheelwright had three runs on three hits and committed two errors. The Trojans stranded seven base runners. Millard scored five runs on seven hits and had one error while stranding seven base runners.

Wheelwright (0-1) will face

McDowell at the Stumbo Park tomorrow (Thursday) at 5 p.m. On Friday, Wheelwright travels to M.C. Napier.

Hall handcuffs Tigers on two hits as Bobcats take two

The Betsy Layne Bobcats went to 4-0 on the young baseball season with a doubleheader sweep of the Mullins Tigers at Bob Amos Park last Friday evening.

The Bobcats posted a 26-2 mercy win over the Tigers in game one and then recorded a 12-0 shutout of the Tigers in the nightcap.

Barry Hall (1-0) tossed a two-hitter in the late game in shutting down the Tigers offense. Hall whiffed eight Mullins' hitters and walked four in picking up his first win of the season.

Mullins only two hits came off the bats of Scott Barnette and George Mitchell. Barnette singled in the third inning and Mitchell had a lead-off double in the fourth.

Hall struck out the first three batters he faced but a passed ball on the third strike allowed Kerion Charles to reach safety at first base. Hall got Mitchell to pop out to end the inning.

Betsy Layne held a 2-0 lead going into the top of the fourth inning when they pushed home 10 runs to lead 12-0. Fourteen batters went to the plate for the Bobcats. Shannon Newsome tripled for the winners and Shawn Newsome had a two-run double. It was a big day at the plate for Shawn Newsome as he collected three hits in the game and drove in three runs. Greg Hunter had an RBI single in the 12 run fourth. Mullins committed three errors in the frame also.

Betsy Layne scored their first run in the first inning on a sacrifice fly off the bat of Bud Kidd. Chris Potter reached on an error with one out, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and came home on Kidd's fly ball.

It was 2-0 after the Bobcats batted in the second inning. Hall had a lead off single and he scored on Shawn Newsome's first double of the game.

George Mitchell was the losing pitcher for Mullins. He yielded all 12 runs in giving up seven hits. Mitchell walked just three batters while striking out five. His team committed seven errors behind him.

Betsy Layne had one error in the contest and stranded only one base runner.

The Bobcats went out in order in the top of the fifth. Mullins got three walks in the bottom of the fifth but left the runners stranded as the game was called after five innings in favor of the mercy rule.

In the nightcap, Betsy Layne collected 17 hits in scoring a one sided, 26-2 win over the Tigers. Barry Hall had a perfect five-for-five in the outing as he hit his second home run of the season in the second inning. Hall also collected two doubles in driving in six runs and he scored five times in the contest.

Freshman Derrick Newsome collected three hits in the game and picked up three runs batted in. He tripled in the fourth when Betsy Layne scored 15 runs. The Bobcats sent 20 batters to the plate in the fourth inning and left only two stranded in collecting seven hits in the frame. Mullins had three errors in the inning.

Barry Clark also hit his second home run of the season in the big uprising in the fourth. Clark's home run was a three-run shot.

Derrick Newsome picked up the win for Betsy Layne in the second game. He gave up two runs while scattering four hits. Newsome struck out six Tigers and walked only one batter. The two runs came in the third inning when Kevin Charles took him deep for a two-run home run.

Nathan Parsons was the losing pitcher for Mullins.

Betsy Layne will visit Allen Central tonight at 5 p.m. and then travel to Pikeville on Thursday night. The Bobcats will host Shelby Valley on Friday in a doubleheader.

order in the second inning and saw the visitors bat around in the top of the third inning when they sent nine batters to the plate in scoring three times. Thomas, Carroll and Rutledge each had runs, batting in singles in the inning. Damron walked one in the inning giving up four base hits.

After the third, Damron settled down and pitched some strong baseball giving up only two hits the rest of the way.

Prestonsburg scored their final run in the bottom of the sixth on a run producing hit by Ratliff scoring Damron who had walked.

Damron had four strike outs and issued three walks. Prestonsburg committed three errors in the game while leaving eight runners stranded. Rutledge suffered the loss for Harlan allowing six hits, striking out three and walking 10. The Dragons stranded seven runners and committed one error.

In game two, Clark scattered four Dragon hits to post a 11-2 win behind the hot bat of freshman Thomas Ratliff. Clark pitched perfect baseball through the first three and a third innings retiring the first 10 batters he faced. The steak ended when designated hitter Scott Shoop worked Clark for a base on balls. Rutledge then collected the first Dragon hit with a single. Harlan scored on a double off the bat of Carroll as Shoop and Charles Thomas, who reached on a fielder's choice, crossed home plate. Clark fanned Saylor to end the inning.

Prestonsburg scored four times in the third inning and plated five runs in the fourth to take a 11-2 lead. Tucker and Ratliff had the big bats for the Blackcats in the third inning. Tucker doubled home Clark and Damron to make it a 4-0 game. Ratliff then tripled for the second time scoring Tucker. Ratliff scored on a fly ball to centerfield by Ronnie Goodman.

In the Prestonsburg fourth, back-to-back doubles by Anthony Howell and Brandon Lowe produced a run. Ratliff had his third hit of the game—a single—to drive in two more runs.

Goodman followed Ratliff with a run scoring single also.

Clark went the distance and was very impressive in striking out six batters. Clark fanned the side in the top of the third inning. His control was excellent in walking only one batter. Clark seemed to be upset when he gave up back-to-back singles to two pinch hitters in the bottom of the fifth.

Ratliff was a perfect three-for-three with two triples and a single. He drove in three runs and scored twice.

Prestonsburg faces Allen Central tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at Allen Central. Prestonsburg travels to Shelby Valley on Saturday to face the Wildcats.

Allen Central brings home the medals in first track and field meet

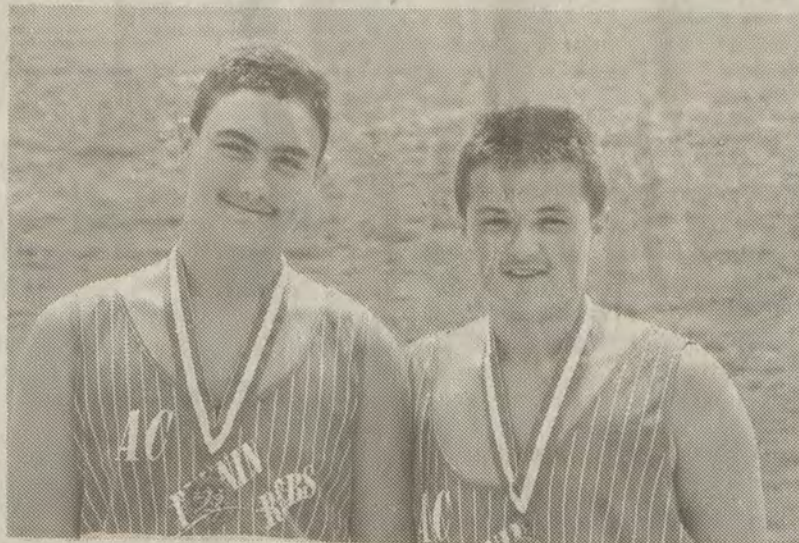

One thing that Allen Central coach Dewey Jamerson loves to talk about is his track and field squad. While they are not the most talented team he has assembled, they show a lot of promise for the years to come in track and field meets.

The Running Rebels track and field team headed to Clay County this past Saturday to participate in their first meet of the season—the Clay County Invitational in Manchester. While it was the first meet of the season, Coach Jamerson was proud of the accomplishments of his team.

"It was great day for us," explained the Rebels' mentor. "It was a good day and everyone was excited about it. I am very pleased with our overall performance. I thought our younger and first time runners did a very good job."

Allen Central brought home four medals out of the event. Veteran runner junior Jessica Wade took first place in the women's 3200 meter run with a time of 13:41.14 which is third best overall at Allen Central.

"Jessica just missed the school record by 10 seconds," said her coach.

Medal winners!

Shawn Robinson, left and Levi Wells proudly displayed the medals they won in the Clay County Track and Field Invitational Saturday afternoon. Robinson finished second and Wells third in the discus throw.

track and field events was Kevin Patton, who set a new record for the men's 400 meter run. Patton, a junior, posted a 58:73 in the run while Shane Stumbo set a new personal record with a time of 59:27.

In the 800-meter run, Chris Yates recorded a time of 2:17.34 for a new school record and fifth best overall. Kenny Scarberry ran in the 800 meters but hurt his ankle and had to drop out.

Phillip Anderson ran a 5:25.00 in the men's 1600-meter race. Anderson's time was new record for senior runners and sixth best overall in the school's history. Junior Ronald Stewart finished with a time of 6:29.00 13th best overall and a personal record.

Freshman Josh Flannery ran a 16:13.02 in the men's 3200 meters. Flannery's time help established a new freshman record. However, sixth grader Todd Howard set a new school record in the 3200-meter run with a time of 12:33.00 breaking the old record of 13:12.23.

In the men's 110 hurdles, freshman Justin Scarberry finished with a recorded time of 23:30.00 which is 12th best overall at the school and a freshman record. Gary Webb had a time of 25:96.00 in the event.

Shane Stumbo ran well in the men's 300 hurdles with a 50:99 which was 10th best overall at Allen Central.

In the 400 meter relays the team of Fitch, Patton, Samons and Stumbo placed fifth overall with a time of 50:06. The time was the sixth best overall at the school.

Chris Yates, Kevin Patton, Samons and Stumbo placed fifth overall in the meet in the 1600 relays with a time of 3:57.00 which was second best at the school.

In field events, Shawn Bailey placed fifth with a toss of 33-feet and 3 1/2-inches in the shot put. Wells finished sixth overall in the meet with a toss of 32-feet and five inches. The toss for wells was personal best as was for Bailey also.

Patton broke the school record in the high jump with a leap of 5-feet and 6-inches. The old record was 5-feet and 4-inches. The jump placed Patton fifth overall for the meet. Webb also competed in the high jump with a jump of 5-feet and 4-inches.

Webb finished with a jump of 16-feet and 6 1/4-inches in the long jump.

Competes in first event!

Trevor Fitch of Allen Central took part in the men's 100-meter race and posted a time of 12:75. Fitch also ran in the men's 200 meters as well as the men's 400-meter relay. It all took place at Clay County in the first meet of the year for Allen Central. (photo by Ed Taylor)

First time runner, junior Jenny Wiley placed second and won the silver medal with a time of 1:08.65 in the women's 400 meter race. Wiley's run established a new school record and caused the runner to fall in love with the sport.

In the field events, Shawn Robinson and Levi Wells showed a lot of promise for future events as they placed second and third in the discus throw. Robinson took second place with a toss of 112-feet and 4-inches which set a new record for a freshman at Allen Central. Wells was winner of the bronze with a toss of 91-feet and one inch. Robinson is only a freshman at Allen Central while Wells is just a seventh grader at Maytown.

"We probably won't be as talented as we were last year," explained Jamerson, "but we will be deeper than what we were last season. Coach (Forest) Hughes told me that we might not win the regional this year but we could decide who does."

Allen Central brought home four medals with one first place, two second place and one third place finishes. Central had several ribbons for their efforts in the meet.

"I think we will be okay this year," said Jamerson in summing up his team's future meets. "We have several first timers and they will do all right."

In other events, freshman Jason Samons set a new school record in the men's 100 meter race. Samons posted a 12:27.00 for the new record. First time runner, freshman Trevor Fitch, posted a 12:75.00 which is a personal record and seventh best overall for Allen Central High School.

"Trevor's run in the 100 meters was the second best finish we have had for a first time runner," said Jamerson.

Kenneth Bradley, sophomore, finished the men's 200 meter run with a time of 29:23.00 which set a new 10th grade record and was the school's ninth best overall. Fitch ran a 29:37 in the 200 meters.

Fall to Greenup Co...

McDowell Lady Daredevils place third in Hillbilly Classic with 11-2 win over Shelby Valley

The McDowell Lady Daredevils rolled past Shelby Valley 11-2 to take third place in the recent Hillbilly Days Girls' Softball Invitational at Pikeville over the past weekend. McDowell fell to Greenup County in the first round of the tournament 5-1.

The Lady Daredevils scored seven times in the fifth inning to add to an already impressive 5-0 lead. Ashley Tackett, a seventh grade student at John M. Stumbo Elementary, collected three RBIs to lead the Lady Devils on offense. Tackett picked up a run batted in with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and then scored two runs with a base hit in the fifth.

Karrie Newsome had a perfect three-for-three outing with a run batted in. Kristy Mullins had two hits for the winners and scored two runs.

Lisa Hopson got credit for the win while Damron suffered the setback for Shelby Valley.

McDowell took a 3-0 lead in the first inning when Mullins led off with a base hit. Debbie Fannin reached on an error with Mullins moving to third base. Tackett then lofted a fly ball to centerfield with Mullins tagging up and scoring. Kerrie Newsome singled home Fannin to make it a 2-0 game. Newsome scored as Crystal Newsome reached on an error.

It was 4-0 after four innings when Nikki Mullins had a one out single and scored on an error off the bat of Lisa Brown.

The lead went to 11-0 in the seven run fifth for McDowell. Tackett, Newsome and Stephens had back-to-back base hits to drive in four runs. Crystal Newsome reached on an error and Stephens scored on the miscue. Newsome came on to score when Nikki Mullins singled for the second time.

Shelby Valley avoided the shut out with a single run in their half of the sixth inning. Christy Wright reached on an error with one out in the sixth frame. Susan Flannery scored Wright with a double. However, the rally stopped when Damorn and Roberts popped out to short and third to end the threat. Shelby Valley put a runner on in the top of the seventh on a two-bagger by Campbell. Campbell came around to score on an error at third base for McDowell.

In the opening round of the invitational tournament, McDowell fell to last year's regional champion Greenup County 5-1. The game was a rematch of the championship game last year.

Greenup County scored two runs in each of the second and fourth innings and added a single run in the sixth to hand McDowell their first defeat.

McDowell took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a lead-off hit by Kristy Mullins. Mullins was forced at second on Misty Shannon's ground ball.

Shannon scored the first run on a triple by Karrie Newsome.

After the first inning, Greenup County pitcher G. Hager was tough to hit, allowing only two McDowell hits the rest of the way. McDowell collected only five hits in the game with Mullins and Nikki Mullins getting two each.

In Greenup's second inning, the Lady Musketeers got back-to-back hits from Hager and Traci Meade to get the inning started. Carla Henning singled Hager home to tie the game at 1-1. Henning scored on a base hit by Brown.

Greenup County plated two more runs in their half of the fourth on an error and a base hit by Henning. Alexander's double-scored Henning.

In the sixth, Meade scored on a base hit by Alexander.

McDowell put a runner on in the seventh but was unable to move her around as Hall popped out to short to end the game.

BABE RUTH IS COMING

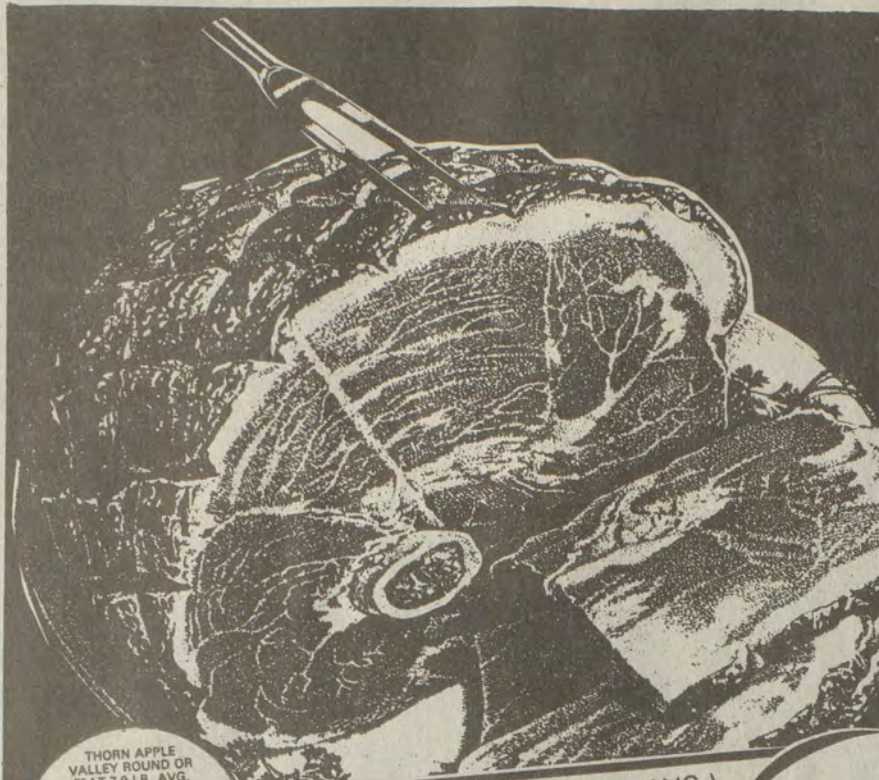

The legendary Yankees slugger George Herman "Babe" Ruth has come to life as a part of the WAL-MART Grand Slam Celebration.

The celebration — a traveling collection of the rarest and most valuable baseball cards and other memorabilia — showcases an animatronics character that looks and sounds like the home run king himself. Animatronics characters are amazingly lifelike robots with human features, movements and speech.

The museum will be on display at the Prestonsburg WAL-MART on April 28 in the store's parking lot.

The museum is free to the public and includes some of the oldest and most valuable baseball cards ever printed, with some dating back to the late 1880's. It promises fun for the entire family. Free give aways and mementos will be given to those who attend the exhibit, while quantities last.

The Grand Slam Collection also offers collectors the opportunity to purchase special cards and other collectibles, some of which are available only from the museum.

Fannin, Newsome hit for cycles as McDowell takes two from Lady Cats

The McDowell Lady Daredevils, last year's district softball champions, posted easy wins over the Lady Cats of Betsy Layne at the Minnie Park last Friday evening. The Cats are in their first year of organized softball.

McDowell won the first game 20-3 under the mercy rule and then posted a 24-5 win in game two, also under the mercy rule.

Lisa Hopson picked the win in game one while Misty Shannon was the winning pitcher in game two. Debbie Fannin and Karrie Newsome both were perfect at the plate hitting for the cycle. Each had a home run, triple, double and single in the second game.

In game one, McDowell scored 16 runs as they batted around three times to take a 16-0 lead. Betsy Layne got on the scoreboard with a three run third but it wasn't enough to avoid the mercy rule. The game was called after three innings.

McDowell collected 21 hits in the game while Betsy Layne banded out nine. Seventh grader Ashley Tackett had three hits in three at bats as did Susan Stephens. Tiffany Stone collected three hits in the game with Crystal Newsome, Fannin, Nikki Mullins and Karrie Newsome each getting two hits for the Lady Daredevils.

Ashley Bartley and Heather Thacker had two hits for the Lady Cats in the first game.

Tackett, Stephens and Mullins had doubles in the game with Misty Clark collecting a third inning triple. Fannin's homer for the winners in the first inning.

In the second game, Fannin and Newsome unleashed a barrage of hits against three Betsy Layne pitchers. Both Lady Devils homered in the first inning when McDowell scored 13 times. Fannin had a first inning triple and Newsome tripled in the fourth. Each collected their doubles in the third when McDowell scored four times.

McDowell scored 13 times in the first inning with Betsy Layne pushing across four in the top of the second inning. But the Lady Daredevils put the game away with a four run third and seven in the fourth.

Tackett had a double in the second game with Stephens and Lisa Brown also collecting two-baggers. Nikki Mullins doubled for the winners in the fourth frame. Stephens had three hits and Tackett was a perfect four-for-four. Candi Hamilton, Rachel Howell and Christy Tackett each had two hits.

Shannon was the winner and Kidd suffered the setback.

Ashley Bartley had a double for the Lady Cats in collecting three hits. McDowell will host the Allen Central Lady Rebels this evening at 5 p.m. and then will host the Lady Pirates of Belfry tomorrow evening at 5:30 p.m.

Betsy Layne travels to Elkhorn City tomorrow to face the Lady Cougars and faces Paintsville Monday evening.

WDOC-AM & WQHY-FM to carry coverage of Summer Olympics

NBC Radio Sports, a division of Westwood One, announced recently that sister stations WDOC-AM and WQHY-FM in Prestonsburg are the official radio stations of the 1992 Summer Olympic Games for the Prestonsburg area.

NBC Radio is the official radio network of the XXVth Olympiad, taking place July 25 through August 9 in Barcelona, Spain. As official radio stations, WDOC-AM and WQHY-FM will be the only stations in the area allowed to broadcast play-by-play and in-depth coverage from the various Olympic venues.

WDOC-AM and WQHY-FM will carry NBC radio sports' exclusive daily coverage of the games, which will originate live from the various Olympic venues, including track and field, swimming, gymnastics, boxing, basketball and baseball. NBC radio sports will also broadcast live from the opening and closing ceremonies and report from medal ceremonies. Additionally, the network will have exclusive live interviews with the athletes before and after they compete, plus Olympic profiles and features, produced specifically for radio listeners.

NBC Radio has assembled a team of expert sports reporters and commentators who will provide up-to-the-minute coverage of all the action as it happens. Because of the time difference between the eastern United States and Europe, NBC radio sports' exclusive Olympic coverage will scoop network television—bringing listeners not just the results, but the competition itself hours before the nightly television broadcast.

Happy base runner!

Roy John Martin headed for home plate for the Allen Central Rebels as he scored in the fourth inning against June Buchanan in Monday's high school baseball game. Central dropped a 11-9 game to the visitors. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Allen Central loses first year to June Buchanan

This is the first year that June Buchanan has fielded a baseball team and the Allen Central Rebels played their junior varsity team so they could go easy on the new program.

Instead of putting the varsity squad on the field, Rebel coach Anthony Moore gave his starters the day off and sent his freshmen and sophomores onto the diamond to face Buchanan. The result was an 11-9 shocker as Buchanan defeated the home standing Rebels and handed them their third defeat of the year.

"They are trying to build a program over there," said Moore before the game Tuesday. "I'm just going to play my younger players against them."

Allen Central had a chance to get back into the game but some shaky base running proved costly to the Rebels in the bottom of the sixth inning when they loaded the bases with no one out and trailing 11-6.

Barry Combs drew a lead-off walk from starting pitcher Chad Slone. Slone then walked Roy John Martin and Donavon Hall to load the bases. On a wild pitch to the plate that got away from the catcher, Combs headed for home with his coach telling him to hold. In the confusion, Martin journeyed on to third base and Combs was caught in no man's land and tagged out at the plate.

Slone then fanned pinch hitter Jeremy B. Hall and got Brian Reed to end the inning by flying to centerfield for the third out.

The Rebels did plate three runs to make a late run at Buchanan. Kevin Allen singled to lead off the Allen Central seventh and Glen Floyd walked on four straight pitches. Slone fanned Josh Hansford for the first out. Shelton Austin grounded a base hit into centerfield to score Allen and Floyd to make it an 11-8 game. After Eric Cathers struck out, Martin singled home Austin to make it 11-9. Slone struck out Hall to end the game.

Buchanan struck for two runs in the top of the first inning on two opening walks off Rebel starter Donnie Combs. Both runners scored on an error that got away from second baseman Martin and was mishandled in right field also.

Buchanan scored a single run in the top of the second inning for a 3-0 lead on a run producing double by Ryan Patrick. Patrick 'stwo-bagger scored Todd Stumbo who had singled with two out.

Allen Central tied the game at 3-3 by pushing three runs across in the bottom of the inning. Back-to-back base hits by Cathers and Martin put runners at first and second. Both runners moved up on a walk call and scored on a base hit by Donnie Combs. Combs later scored on a wild pitch to tie the game.

One run in the top of the third on a sacrifice fly and three in the top of the fourth gave Buchanan a 7-3 lead. Stumbo batted in two runs in the fourth inning after Bailey singled and Cook walked.

Allen Central came back with two on back-to-back doubles by Cathers and Martin. Martin scored on Ben Moore's sacrifice fly to centerfield.

Four runs in the fifth for Buchanan made it an 11-5 game with only one hit in the inning off Austin, who relieved Combs in the fourth. Austin walked four consecutive batters and Risner had a two-run single to account for the four runs.

Combs was the losing pitcher working the first three and two-thirds innings. He gave up only three hits in the stint he worked but waked five batters while striking out four.

Shelton was relieved by Glen Floyd in the fifth inning with no one out and the bases loaded. Floyd struck out Slone to end the inning and then fanned the six men he faced, striking seven in a row.

Slone went the distance for Buchanan in earning the win. He gave up 9 runs on 10 hits and he struck out nine while walking four.

HAS SPRING SPRUNG?

Well, it looks like it might really be spring. I really love this weather. There's just something in the air that makes me happy. Of course, other things are in the air, too. Thoughts that seem to say, "You don't want to go to class, you want to get in your car, roll down the windows, and drive," are often in the springtime air. But I always ignore these thoughts.

Spring also makes me want to play softball. I really miss being on my old high school team. We had such great fun and we won most of the time. I went down to the ballpark and played a game with the high school team last week and it was really fun. The best part was that I didn't have to run around the diamond and do sit-ups before the game. I always hated that.

When it is warm outside and I'm out driving (which I thoroughly enjoy), only one sight can put me in a bad mood. What atrocious sights some people put on their lawns. Yes, folks, I'm talking about Easter egg trees. I know I've mentioned my dislike for them in this column many times, but I am just compelled to do so again. With Easter rapidly approaching, some of my loyal readers (one of the three of them) would think I was sick if I did not say it. Easter eggs DO NOT grow on trees. Enough said.

This time of the year, I even enjoy the smell of fresh-cut grass. This is very surprising, since fresh-cut grass gives me terrible, terrible, headaches (allergies, you know). However, that aroma is truly a smell of spring.

I haven't figured out if I like this time change or not. I don't guess it really matters because the time went ahead and changed without even asking my permission. It feels a little weird though. Last week, I came out of my night class and it was still daylight. Strange, huh? I just don't know.

I like the sound of crickets and frogs, don't you? I don't know why, but I don't ever notice it until I get into bed. It's kinda like having my own little symphony outside. Boy, wasn't that a poetic line. I just don't know where I get those lines (if I did, maybe I could send 'em back). Oh, well...

I guess I'll just end up this little column of merry sunshine (doesn't that make you sick) with a few words of wisdom. These come from one of my few (oh, just 10, 15, or so) heroes, Arthur Fannin. This advice pertains to softball, but if you find it relevant to any other situation, use it. I'm sure he wouldn't mind. Here they are...

- 1) Use two hands while learning, and
 - 2) First bounce only counts in kickball.
- Thanks, Arth. See ya next week.

MORE OF THE STORY

If you want to find out whether anyone reads the paper, all you have to do is get some information wrong.

I wrote about Ben Hall and his family last week and I said that his parents had two children, Gretchen and Grace. I should have said there were two other surviving children. Also, his daughter, Charline, is married to Owen H. Park—not Clark—and that makes his grandson and namesake Dr. Ben Park.

Ben had six other brothers and sisters, but they are deceased. The clan had made up one of Floyd County's most solid families. They were a colorful and highly regarded group and there are many descendants who carry on the name and the traditions.

Two children of Maggie and K.F. Hall, Susan and Leo, had died very young, but their first child, Elizabeth "Lizzie", had married Joe Hall. They were parents of Mrs. Mabel Goble of Prestonsburg, and Susan Frazier, John Graham and K. F. "Cookie" Hall, all of Banner.

Ben had three other brothers—John, Jackie and Mont. I remember Mont best for he and his wife, Mae, had a daughter, Betty Lou, who was a dear childhood friend to me. Betty married David Salisbury and I believe they live in Catlettsburg.

I'll not go any deeper into the genealogy but they are a fine bunch of people, and Ben's letter from Somerset aroused my interest in all of them.

OUR WANDERING READERS

Hazel George writes from Pensacola, Florida, where she and her husband Curt escaped to during our winter months.

She sent a clipping about a festival in the nearby town of Milton that had originally been named Scratch Ankle. The old name had been given to the area by pirates who first landed on its briar laden shores and has been kept alive by celebrations such as this.

The Scratch Ankle Festival began 20 years ago and continues to grow. Hazel didn't say if she attended, but she wonders what they would have named the town had the briars been a little taller.

The George's should be returning to their Ivel home very soon, in time to plant some pretty flowers and catch up on what their neighbors have been doing.

THE BATTERED KIND

One of my favorite young ladies is all grown up and doing well in her chosen profession. She didn't give me permission to use her name, but her mother remembers a time when she was very small and willing to go to the neighborhood store for an item.

"My mother wants some spanked margarine," she told the clerk.

"What kind?" she was asked, and so she repeated, "Some spanked margarine."

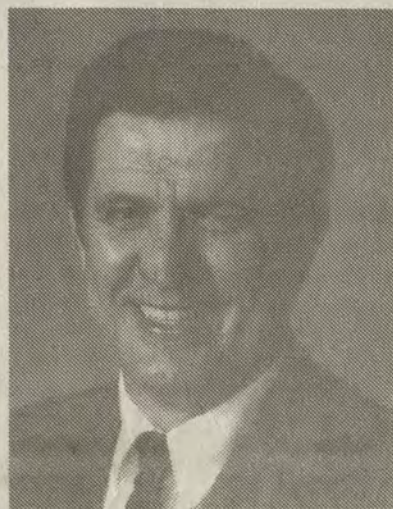

The clerk couldn't figure it out so she picked up the phone to inquire to the parent, "What kind of margarine did you want?"

The mother said, "It doesn't matter what brand. I just wanted some whipped margarine."

Jessamine superintendent teaches math for a week

Dr. Larry Allen

by Pattie M. Clark
Managing editor of
The Jessamine Journal

Dr. Larry Allen (a former Floyd countian) made his annual trek back to the classroom recently.

The Jessamine County school superintendent left the relative calm of his office at the central office for the hectic halls and classes of Jessamine County High School.

Allen put the normal part of his day—facilities planning, budgeting and expulsion hearings—behind him and took on the role of teacher—geometric means, attendance, public announcements and classroom discipline.

"Don't let me confuse you," he told students in a geometry class last Thursday. "Carry on."

Allen says he likes to be a teacher for a week at least once a year to remind him what his teachers are going through every day.

"If you're not in it for a while, you forget a lot of what goes on in the day-to-day," he says.

He says being a teacher doesn't always mean instruction and being back in the classroom helped him remember that.

"There's a myriad of things that account for the teacher's time," he adds. "Things that aren't instructional like taking attendance. You tend to forget the hectic pace and the frantics of trying to get everything done when you're not doing it every day."

Allen last taught full-time 22 years ago in 1969. Since then he has been in administrative roles.

"I love to teach," Allen says, "but the things that have changed since I taught are unbelievable. Even the language of teaching mathematics has changed. I would have a tremendous amount of catching up to do if I were a teacher again."

Allen taught March 23-26. An in-service day was held last Friday.

"I wanted to change that so I could teach all week," he says, "but I wasn't able to do so."

He says it was Wednesday before he was really comfortable in the classroom again.

"You even lose the control techniques every teacher has to keep the kids on task," he says. "You forget what it's like to budget and manage your time, to pay attention to all the students individually, to diagnose problems and to provide help."

He added that not using teaching skills causes the teacher to get rusty. "You lose the finesse and the art form of teaching," Allen says.

His classes included two transition math classes, two algebra classes and a geometry class. He filled in for Cindy Owen, who used the time to visit other classes and to substitute for another teacher. Allen says she sat in on his class the first day.

"She was my safety net," he says.

Allen also used the time to use a different teaching style than he had before.

"I used the geometry class to try out some cooperative learning techniques I had heard about. That type of teaching builds students into the learning-teaching cycle," he says. "The kids did pretty well with it, especially by the end of the week."

He says the kids also grew accustomed to his presence by the end of the week.

"When I first went in, they seemed a little in awe I was there," he says,

"but by the end of the week they were back to their old selves."

Allen wasn't daunted by his experience. He says he'll be back in the classroom next year.

"I try to do it every year although sometimes I don't make it," he says. "It gives me a better perspective on what's going on. It also helps me remember the bad parts of teaching instead of just the good parts."

"Aunt Alice"

"Aunt" Alice Gray Lafferty celebrated her 101st birthday Saturday, April 11 at her home with her children, Lula DeRossett of Water Gap and Marie Stanley of Burbank, Ohio; her brother, Jackie Gray of Wetmore, Michigan; her sister, Rebecca King of Auxler; her many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews. Her daughter Linda Wyatt of Pt. Pleasant, Ohio and son, Earl, of Dover, Ohio, were unable to attend. Five generations attended the celebration

Poison Oak

LIFE'S LITTLE BUMPS

When I was a teenager, I walked the halls of ole Meade Memorial High School wearing a butch-waxed haircut, skin-tight pegged jeans, a shirt with the collar turned up behind (like Elvis) ... and a face full of red and yellow bumps.

Kids today call them zits. We called them pimples. Regardless of what they're called, though, they're about the only thing that my generation and today's generation have in common. I'm sure that modern kids are just as embarrassed over them as we were. I was always made to feel that having them—especially as bad as I had them—was akin to having lice or something that it was my fault and that they were caused by something I did (or didn't) do. I hated the boys who didn't have them and envied the girls who did because they could cover them with pancake makeup.

I had them so bad that when I'd shave in the mornings (something I couldn't wait to start doing then and hate to do now) I'd take the hide off the top of so many pimples that I'd look like I'd been shot slap in the face with a double-barreled acne gun. I'd wear dozens of bits of tissue paper until I was about ready to catch the bus. Most of the time I'd get them all off, but if I didn't, some smart alec would yell, "Hey, everybody! Clyde put a blade in his razor this morning."

Anyway, what brought the subject up in the first place, was an article I read in the paper last week about benzoyl peroxide, an ingredient found in Clearasil. It seems there's a possibility that this stuff might cause cancer because some rodents in a lab developed cancerous tumors when it was used on them. (Wonder where they found mice with pimples?)

So, quite naturally, there's been talk that Clearasil, as well as Oxy-5 and Oxy-10, which also contain benzoyl peroxide, should require a doctor's prescription. Now don't panic. Medical experts did say, however, that the benefits of using these products outweigh the possible risk of getting cancer and therefore should remain available over the counter. Besides, industry spokespersons, like Debra Bennetts of Proctor and Gambel, argue that the doses received by these rodents were massive and that these laboratory animals have been bred to develop cancer quickly.

I sure hope that's the case and this is all a bunch of baloney, because I too used Clearasil when I was a teenager. Furthermore, Dick Clark, who looked then exactly like he looks now, sold it on American Bandstand every weekday afternoon from 4:30 until 5:00 (I think) on ABC. Even though I used it, I really didn't have much faith in it and thought it didn't do anything to prevent pimples. It just covered them up because it was skin colored. It certainly did, however, beat some of the other things I tried—one of which was kerosene. Was I desperate or what? An old lady who lived in Ohio told me that if I'd rub lamp oil on my face every night, my acne would go away. I apparently felt that ladies from Ohio were pimple experts, because I used it. It didn't help. They didn't go away until I was in my twenties. Looking back, I'm just glad I didn't smoke.

We probably haven't heard the last of the benzoyl peroxide debate, but if kids today hate their zits as much as we hated our pimples, it's a pretty safe bet that they'll keep on buying the products that contain it. (The article also stated that over $100 million worth was bought last year.)

All I can say is that I hope it helps them more that it helped me. The good news is that (so far) my using it hasn't hurt me. Neither has having pimples. The scarring has been minimal and it's use did little to hamper my handsome, rugged appearance. No matter what people think, I've always had this big nose.

What I'm wondering now is if there's something out there I can buy that will do something for age spots.

Out of the mouth of Babes

While sitting at my mother-in-law's the other night, the family began reminiscing of the spouse's younger days when my mother-in-law remembered the incident I'm about to tell.

She was laughing so hard we could barely understand her.

It was my husband's third grade year and he was asked by the teacher to befriend a class bully.

This was a classmate who never did his homework, pulled the boys and loved to pull the girls' pigtails.

Since Ronnie was such a good child, the teacher was hoping he could become friends with the classmate and his goodness would reflect in the bully.

Ronnie, (using his grandpa's words) said to the teacher, "but teacher what if it works back-ass-wards?"

The teacher, shocked at his comeback, couldn't help but laugh, and never pushed for Ronnie to befriend the bully.

Out of the mouths of babes. Till next week.

Vaccinate pets during Peak rabies season

Spring is Kentucky's peak animal rabies season, go public health officials are urging Kentuckians to make sure pets have been vaccinated against the disease.

Clarkson Palmer, M.D., manager of the communicable disease branch in the Department for Health Services, says that it's important to have dogs and cats vaccinated against rabies to protect not only the animals but people as well.

"Because people have much more contact with dogs and cats than with wild animals, the vaccine provides a barrier between people and wild animals, which frequently carry the rabies virus and often come into contact with pets," Palmer said.

"Wild animals — ferrets, raccoons and hybrids such as wolf/dog mixes — should not be kept as pets," he said.

In 1991, Kentucky had 50 laboratory-confirmed rabies cases in animals, compared to 56 in 1990. Skunks remained the most common carrier of the disease with 31 confirmed cases last year and 35 in 1990. The requested tests performed in Frankfort detect only a fraction of actual cases statewide.

Animals testing positive for the rabies virus during 1991 were bats (four); cattle (three); dogs (six); foxes (four); horse (one); raccoon (one); and skunks (31).

"All animal bites must be taken seriously," Palmer said, "even if the animal has been vaccinated. Furthermore, anyone bitten by a wild animal, especially a skunk, fox, raccoon or bat, should seek immediate medical attention.

"Bite wounds should be immediately washed with soap and water and reported to a local health department within 24 hours," he said. "Cats and dogs can be quarantined for 10 days to see if rabies symptoms develop. Wild animals that bite people can be tested for the virus in Frankfort. Only their heads should be sent for testing."

If a wild animal bites someone and escapes, health officials recommend that the attending physician administer the post-exposure rabies treatment to the victim — just in case the animal has rabies. There is no laboratory test to detect whether a person has been exposed.

"Treatment for exposure to rabies is much less traumatic than it was a decade ago," Palmer said. "Treatment usually involves five inoculations in the upper arm and one in the buttocks compared to the old regimen of a shot in the abdomen every day for 23 days."

Palmer says that controlling stray dogs and vaccinating pets can reduce the incidence of rabies in cats and dogs. Vaccinations are available from private veterinarians, and many health departments sponsor periodic low-cost rabies vaccination clinics.

Education workshop set for Floyd teachers

The Kentucky Council on Economic Education (KCEE) and the Center for Economic Education at Alice Lloyd College are co-sponsoring a workshop to focus on a program entitled, "The Community Publishing Company."

This program is designed to teach basic economic concepts and vocabulary to youngsters in grades 3-4.

Lessons are built around a class research project. First, students explore their community — homes, businesses, transportation, public services, schools and other institutions. Next, they write (and revise and rewrite) reports about their findings. Finally, they form a publishing company and manufacture and sell their book about the community.

Students learn the economic concepts: scarcity, opportunity costs and tradeoffs, productivity, economic institutions and incentives, exchange, money, interdependence, markets and prices, and supply and demand.

This workshop is being offered to teachers in Floyd, Knott and Letcher counties. It will be held Wednesday, April 15, in the CAC choir room at Alice Lloyd College. Registration will begin at 5:30 and the workshop will last from 6 until 8 p.m. Refreshments will be provided.

Each teacher in attendance will receive a Community Publishing Company kit valued at approximately $200.

A crash course in feeding babies

For the mystified new mother, knowing when and what to feed the baby can be a real challenge.

Jodie Shield, M.Ed., R.D., — and mother of two youngsters — has spent the last 10 years studying children's nutrition. Her professional achievements include being named Illinois Recognized Young Dietitian in 1988 and currently serving as president of the Chicago Dietetic Association. She drew on both her professional and personal experience in developing a feeding guide available from the Dairy & Nutrition Council.

The colorful, 16-page pamphlet explains the nutritional needs of babies and toddlers from birth to 24 months and gives suggestions on how to meet those needs. "Every baby is unique, though, so the guidelines in the pamphlet are just that—guidelines," says Shield. "Parents need to know that babies are the best judge of how much they need to eat."

The booklet includes the most up-to-date nutritional recommendations, including when to add whole milk to the baby's diet. "If a child is at least six months old and eating 1/3 of his or her calories from foods other than fluids, the baby may be ready for milk," says Shield. "Most children are ready for milk between 9 and 12 months old."

Many parents feed their young children low-fat milk with the best of intentions, according to Shield. "Thinking that it is best to start children off on a low-fat, low cholesterol diet is misguided," she says. "Children at this age need an enormous amount of energy because they are growing rapidly, both physically and mentally. Foods such as whole milk, cheese and yogurt are nutrient-dense foods that provide extra energy for critical brain development and growth."

In the booklet, the nutritional needs of infants and toddlers are broken down into the following categories: 0 to 4 months, 4 to 6 months, 6 to 8 months, 8 to 12 months and 12 to 24 months. A step-by-step feeding guide for 0 to 24 months can be pulled from the pamphlet and posted in a convenient spot, such as the refrigerator, for easy reference.

Also included in the pamphlet are tips on serving sizes, food preparation, feeding while traveling, storing baby foods and incorporating nutritious snacks. It tells parents what foods to avoid for children under a year old, how to make meals interesting, and when to introduce new foods.

To order copies of "Airplane, Choo-Choo and Other Games Parents Play," contact your local Dairy & Nutrition Council Mid East office at 304/346-5908.

Dairy & Nutrition Council Mid East, an affiliate of the National Dairy Council, is a non-profit nutrition education organization dedicated to promoting optimal health through sound nutrition.

DRUG ABUSES IN NURSING HOMES: A few years ago, some investigators discovered that many elderly people living in board and care homes were being overmedicated. In some cases, it was an attempt to treat certain symptoms which, as it turned out, were caused by previous over-medication. In other cases, unfortunately, the over-medication with tranquilizing drugs was deliberate; to keep the patients passive. Several administrators reportedly rationalized the drugging by stating that they were working with reduced staffs, reduced budgets and increased work loads. Having hyperactive or "demanding" patients put a strain on the facilities.

These reports did lead to some action being taken that served to reduce the abuses in many nursing facilities. But, apparently, the abuses have continued in some board and care homes. Last month, Congressman Edward R. Roybal, the chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, and its subcommittee on Health and Long Term Care, conducted a hearing on the abuses in medication of elderly persons in these homes.

Representative Roybal indicated that prior to scheduling the hearing, "Aging Committee staff visited board and care homes in Ohio, Texas, California and the District of Columbia between 1989 and 1992."

Their findings are documented in a report ... Residents of these facilities were excessively medicated—over 85 percent of them were on three prescribed drugs a day, two of which were psychoactive, despite the fact that not one home maintained medical or mental health records to justify the residents' drug use. Clearly," said the Congressman, "what we have is a system out of control."

ELDERCARE PROGRAM IN THE WORKS: An agreement has been signed between the American Association of Retired Persons and the Administration on Aging to set up a three-year program to develop the National Eldercare Institute on Health Promotion.

The eyes have it

Good vision is an important part of your good health. You use your vision more than any other sense to enjoy an active and independent lifestyle. Here are five ways you can keep your good vision as you grow older:

1. See your eye doctor regularly—at least once a year. Eye exams can help you discover if and how your vision is changing. Many vision conditions form very slowly and are not noticeable to you when they first develop; they can only be detected through exams. Early detection and proper diagnosis are crucial since serious vision problems are most treatable in their earliest stages. Early treatment may help prevent more serious problems from developing.

2. Learn more about vision changes that may occur as you age. Most people experience some vision changes as they grow older. For example, you may find you need more light to see by or take longer to adjust to darkness or glare. Any change in your vision is cause for concern and for visiting your eye care specialist. As you age, be aware that your risk increases for some major eye diseases, including cataracts and glaucoma. Find out more about the prevention, detection and treatment of these diseases from your eye doctor.

3. Find out if you are in a high-risk group for specific vision problems. Your family and medical history (eye injuries, eye surgery) can place you at higher risk for certain problems. Health conditions such as diabetes, arthritis or arteriosclerosis may increase your likelihood of experiencing certain problems.

4. Take your eye medication as prescribed. To be effective, eye medications must be taken at specific times in specific dosages. Skipping a dose or not following directions can be dangerous and may even allow loss of vision to progress. Always follow your medicine schedule and ask your doctor if you have questions.

5. Protect your eyes from injury. Follow instructions for using equipment, sprays and household supplies. Wear sunglasses in bright sunlight. Contact your eye doctor immediately if you experience the following: any changes in vision, flashes of light, eye injuries, eye pain, excessive watering ("tearing") or dryness, unusual eye secretions, sensitivity to light, stinging, burning, itching or redness. For more information on eye care, contact Bonnie Hale at the Big Sandy Area Development District, 886-2374.

EASTER IS THE SEASON FOR JELLY BEAN CUISINE

This year, borrow some "beans" from the Easter Bunny to create festive desserts for the family. Easter jelly beans from Brach's—called Jelly Bird Eggs—add the crowning touch to polka-dot butter cookies and colorful cupcakes.

Jelly Bird Eggs, pastel miniatures of the hen's egg, are sweet symbols of the season. The practice of giving and eating candy Easter eggs is relatively new—dating back only to the middle of the 19th century, but the egg has been a symbol of renewed life since ancient times. At least as far back as 900 B.C., the Chinese exchanged scarlet-tinted eggs during their Spring festival. In Medieval times, eggs were a part of Christian religious ceremonies.

Americans will purchase 17 million pounds of Brach's® Jelly Bird Eggs this Easter season and another 13 million pounds of Brach's Jelly Beans the rest of the year. If you're counting, that's 4.5 billion jelly beans annually!

Cookies and cupcakes decorated with Jelly Bird Eggs will bring excitement to your Easter meal, but other treats for the Easter table are desserts. The following cakes and pies should be eye pleasing as well as palate pleasing.

JELLY BIRD EGG COOKIES

Cookie:
1 c. butter or shortening
3/4 c. sugar
3/4 c. brown sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. very hot water
1 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 c. sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
2 c. non-instant oatmeal
1 1/2 11-oz. bags Brach's Tiny Jelly Bird Eggs

Heat oven to 350°. Cream butter/shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs and mix. Combine soda and water and add to the mixture. Blend in vanilla, flour and salt. Add oatmeal and mix. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Space cookies about two inches apart. Partially bake 5-7 minutes (until cookies flatten). Remove from oven and arrange Brach's Tiny Jelly Bird Eggs into half-baked cookie dough. NOTE: Placing candy in cookies before baking will cause candy to melt, smear or bubble. Bake an additional 7-10 minutes until light golden brown.

JELLY BIRD EGG CUPCAKES

Cupcakes:
Prepare cupcakes using your favorite recipe or mix and let cool.
Frosting:
1 3-oz. package cream cheese, softened
1 tbsp. milk
1 tsp. vanilla
dash salt
2 1/2 c. powdered sugar
food coloring
1 11-oz. bag Brach's Tiny Jelly Bird Eggs

Blend cream cheese, milk, vanilla and salt. Gradually add sugar, beating until frosting is smooth. (If necessary, stir in additional milk, one teaspoon at a time until desired consistency is reached). Add one or two drops of food coloring (red for pink, red and blue for lavender). Spread frosting on cooled cupcakes and immediately decorate with Brach's Tiny Jelly Bird Eggs.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE

1 3 oz. pkg. wild strawberry gelatin
1 cup boiled water
1/2 cup cold water
1 8 oz. container frozen whipped topping, thawed
1 cup fresh strawberries
1 9" graham cracker crust

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water. Stir well. Chill till like unbeaten egg whites. Fold in whipped topping and 1 cup strawberries. Spoon in crust. Chill at least 4 hours. Arrange, add topping and strawberries on top.

COKE CAKE

2 cups cake flour
2 cups sugar

2 sticks butter
3 tbsp. cocoa
1 cup coca-cola
2 eggs, beaten
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 1/2 cup small marshmallow
Mix flour and sugar in large bowl. Bring butter, cocoa and coke to a boil. Pour over flour and sugar while hot. Add eggs, soda, vanilla and buttermilk. Beat until smooth and add marshmallows. Bake at 350° for 35 minutes, in 9"x12" pan.

Icing
Mix 1 stick of butter, 3 tbsp. cocoa, 6 tbsp. coke and bring to boil. Pour over 1 box of powdered sugar while still hot. Spread on hot cake.

CHOCOLATE LAYERED ANGEL CAKE (18 servings)

1 box (14.5 oz.) angel food cake mix
1/4 cup Hershey's Cocoa or Hershey's Premium European Style Cocoa
Chocolate glaze (recipe follows)
Adjust oven rack to lowest position. Heat oven to 375 degrees F. Prepare cake according to package directions. Measure 4 cups batter into separate bowl; gradually fold cocoa into this batter until well blended, being careful not to deflate batter. Alternately spoon plain and chocolate batters into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake 30 to 35 minutes or until top crust is firm and looks very dry. DO NOT UNDERBAKE.

Invert pan on heat-proof funnel or bottle; cool completely, at least 1-1/2 hours. Carefully run knife along side of pan to loosen cake; remove from pan. Place on serving plate; drizzle with Chocolate Glaze.
Chocolate Glaze: In small saucepan, combine 1/3 cup sugar and 1/4 cup water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Stir until sugar dissolves; remove from heat. Immediately add 1 cup Hershey's Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips; stir until chips are melted and mixture is smooth. Cool to desired consistency; use immediately. About 2/3 cup glaze.

1 package Betty Crocker Super-Moist Light devil's food cake mix
1 container (8 ounces) frozen whipped topping, thawed
10 hard peppermint candies, crushed

1 teaspoon peppermint extract
4-5 drops red food color, if desired

Heat oven to 350°. Grease and flour tube pan, 10x4 inches. Prepare cake mix as directed on package. Pour batter into pan. Bake 45 to 50 minutes or until top springs back when touched in center. Cool 10 minutes. Invert onto wire rack or heatproof serving plate; remove pan. Cool cake completely.

Slice off top of cake about 3/4 inch down; reserve top. Make cuts down into cake 3/4 inch from outer edge and 3/4 inch from edge of hole, leaving substantial "walls" on each side. Remove cake within cuts, using spoon or curved knife, being careful to leave a base of cake 1 inch thick.

Mix remaining ingredients thoroughly. Spoon half of the mixture into cake cavity; press firmly. Replace top of cake; press gently. Frost side and top of cake with remaining peppermint mixture. Refrigerate any remaining cake. 12 to 16 servings.

Carbohydrates: Finally Getting Some Respect

A well-known comedian complains often about not getting enough respect. The same could have been said of carbohydrates in years past. Today, however, carbohydrates are finally getting the respect they have long deserved, says Mary Helen Gunkler, registered dietitian and staff nutritionist for Total cereal.

Carbohydrates, fat and protein make up the body's sources of energy. In fact, carbohydrates are the primary—and most efficient—energy source.

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans suggest that we increase consumption of foods high in carbohydrates. Health experts say that the American diet should get 50 to 60 percent of calories from carbohydrates.

Most of these calories should come from complex carbohydrates—or starches—which are found naturally in pasta, rice, breads and cereals, such as Whole Grain Total. Dry beans, vegetables and fruits are other good sources of complex carbohydrates. Foods like these also contribute fiber and a wide variety of essential nutrients.

Simple carbohydrates—or sugars—are found naturally in foods that are good sources of many essential nutrients, including milk, fruits and vegetables. In addition, they are found in foods that are also high in fat, such as many desserts and sweet treats.

Health experts suggest substituting foods high in complex carbohydrates for those high in fat to help reduce the amount of total fat in the diet. In addition, this approach to eating can contribute to weight loss because carbohydrates have less than half the calories as the same amount of fat.

Foods high in carbohydrates, both simple and complex, have an important place in the diet, says Gunkler, and the best choices are those offering plenty of other nutrients in company with the carbohydrates.

FmHA Rural Housing Guaranteed Loan Program is on the move

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) Guaranteed Housing Program has gotten a big boost in the last few weeks as area banks have increased their usage of the program. "Due to rising interest rates and a slow down in refinancing, several area banks have started processing their loans with FmHA," said Mary Ann Baron, FmHA state director. The FmHA is a credit agency of the United States Department of Agriculture. The guaranteed program is a new focus for the agency which is shifting more emphasis toward guaranteed lending instead of making direct loans through the government. The FmHA has guaranteed $1,214,870 in Kentucky's housing program. This represents 12.4 percent of the total allocation available for loan guarantees. During the last month, FmHA has doubled the amount of outstanding obligations in the Guaranteed Housing Program, according to Ms. Baron.

SPRINGTIME SHOWERS BRING FLOWERS

The showers that bring spring flowers also bring a higher risk that lightning could strike people at work or play, according to extension specialists at the University of Kentucky.

"Thunderstorms tend to be more numerous in the spring because weather patterns are more active this time of year as they pass through Kentucky," said Tom Priddy, meteorologist with the UK College of Agriculture. "This increases the chances that lightning could strike you during the spring."

"However, you need to remember that lightning can come from a thunderstorm any time of the year," he added. "Most people don't realize how often lightning strikes; it strikes the earth 100 times each second."

Priddy said lightning injures more people than it kills. "In Kentucky, lightning injuries have averaged just over five a year from 1959 to 1990; lightning deaths, just over two a year for the same time period," he said. "Lightning injures about 250 Americans each year; it kills about 100 Americans annually. In general, most deaths attributed to lightning occur in open fields under trees or around the water."

"You can't be safe in the middle of a golf course, lake, or field with thunderstorms popping all around," he added. "You have to take precautions."

"One of the most important safety precautions is simply to be aware of an approaching thunderstorm and take shelter before it actually arrives," said Larry Piercy, safety specialist. "Seek shelter inside a building, home or automobile. The best protection is a farm building or home with a properly installed lightning protection system that provides the lightning a direct pathway to ground. Check the system periodically to be sure its connected properly and is not damaged."

"Stay away from open doors and windows and avoid standing in small, isolated sheds or other small structures in open areas," he added. "This could put you right in the pathway of lightning because electricity looks for the path of least resistance to the ground."

Piercy and Priddy offered the following safety guidelines:

- * Do not stand beneath a natural lightning rod, such as a tall, isolated tree in an open area.

- * Avoid projecting above the surrounding landscape as you would by standing on a hilltop, in an open field, on the beach, or on a piece of open farm equipment, especially a tractor or other metal equipment.

- * Get off or away from motorcycles, scooters, golf carts and bicycles.

- * Stay away from wire fences, clotheslines, metal pipes, railroad rails and other metallic pathways which could transmit lightning from some distance away to you.

- * In a forest, seek shelter in a low area under a thick canopy of small trees. In an open area, go to a low place such as a ravine or valley.

- * If you are isolated on a level area and feel your hair stand on end—indicating lightning is about to strike—drop to your knees and bend forward putting your hands on your knees. Do not lie flat on the ground.

EKCEP will share in job training funds

Kentucky and eleven regional agencies, including the Eastern Kentucky Concentrated Employment Program (EKCEP), will share $50 million in federal aid for employed and training services during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

EKCEP, which encompasses Floyd, Bell, Breathitt, Carter, Clay, Elliott, Harlan, Jackson, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Lawrence, Lee, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Menifee, Morgan, Owsley, Perry, Pike and Wolfe counties, will receive $5,443,007 for job training and $2,620,395 for its summer youth program.

Each state's Job Training Partnership Act federal allocation is based on a formula which includes the number of economically disadvantaged and unemployed residents. Kentucky's share of the 1992-93 JTPA budget is about $5.5 million less than in the current fiscal year, due to better economic conditions in Kentucky as opposed to other states.

Last fiscal year nearly 51,000 Kentuckians enrolled in JTPA programs.

For statewide programs, the state Cabinet for Human Resources will have $7,032,754 to help dislocated workers make the transition to new jobs; $2,533,412 for education programs; $1,900,059 for incentive awards and technical assistance to SDAs; $950,029 for programs for older workers; and $1,583,382 for administration and oversight of Kentucky's JTPA programs.

Furcolow receives certification

Internal medical specialist, John R. Furcolow, M.D. has achieved board certification in Critical Care.

Critical Care is a relatively new medical sub-specialty, having been in existence for only five years. As a prerequisite for Critical Care board certification, a physician must previously have been board certified for a minimum of four years in internal medicine.

Critical Care covers a broad spectrum of medical specialties including: resuscitation, cardiovascular, respiratory, renal, metabolic, endocrinologic, infectious disease, hematologic disorders, gastrointestinal disorders, genitourinary disorders, trauma, perioperative and pharmacokinetics, as well as administrative and management techniques.

Expertise in Critical Care means dealing with minute by minute decisions involving diagnostic and therapeutic procedures related to critically ill patients in an intensive care/coronary care unit.

Dr. Furcolow is a specialist at Highlands Regional Medical Center.

The Geiger counter was developed by German physicist Hans Geiger in 1912.

A nip and tuck is no longer deductible

Q: I just had surgery for a tummy tuck. Of course, this was performed by a licensed surgeon. My sister, who also had this same operation several years ago, took a deduction on her tax return. She thinks this surgery is no longer deductible. Is this no small piece of change. Is she correct? — B.F., Waterbury, Conn.

A: Unfortunately, your sister is right. Congress recently said no more deductible tummy tucks. Starting in 1991, this kind of medical expense has been deleted from the rule books as a deduction.

However, it's not only tummy tucks, but also face lifts, liposuction and many other elective cosmetic surgeries. The present law is intended to apply to purely cosmetic surgery.

Surgery to correct birth defects, accidents, burns or disfiguring diseases is not part of the IRS definition of cosmetic surgery and still remains as a medical deduction.

cluded with our property taxes? — V.E., Boise, Idaho

A: Fee charges for trash and garbage pickup services are not taxes and, therefore, are not deductible. However, real-estate tax remains deductible even if your real-estate tax statement itemizes the types of services provided by the taxing jurisdiction, such as trash collection or fire protection.

Q: I am going to have a will prepared. The attorney said he is going to also prepare a living trust. What is a living trust? — J.M., Phoenix, Ariz.

A: A living trust is a legal instrument created during an individual's lifetime, usually for their own benefit, and for as long as they live. Upon death of the individual, the assets transferred to a living trust will pass to designated beneficiaries separate of the will.

Living trusts appeal to many people because they can be structured to provide a broad range of benefits. These trusts can accomplish almost any protective financial purpose, including income support for your family now and in the future. They can also be set up for tax purposes to minimize estate taxes.

JOBS program is praised in national report

Kentucky's 18-month-old welfare reform effort is being cited in a national report on the importance of involving both public assistance recipients and their children in programs designed to help the family escape the generation-to-generation welfare cycle.

The report, developed by the Foundation for Child Development (FCD), consists of two parts. The first presents elements of two-generation programs. These are programs which link employment and training activities for parents with services which benefit children, such as parental education and quality child care.

The second part discusses two state JOBS programs and six local programs which accomplish this link, including Kentucky's Job Opportunities and Basic Skills (JOBS) program.

JOBS educates, trains and provides Aid To Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) recipients with other services needed to become self-sufficient.

FCD is a private organization which supports policy, research and service programs that address the needs of poor children and their families.

"We're delighted to have JOBS highlighted in such a prestigious report," said Commissioner Mike Robinson, whose Department for Social Insurance oversees JOBS.

Robinson said one glance at the statistics shows the importance of reaching not only AFDC recipients but also their children.

"Young women who experience long bouts of family welfare dependency as children are twice as likely to receive welfare as adults," he said.

"We know poverty is a cycle. And we know in order to break that cycle we have to work with families; with both parents and their children."

The report stated that, "Kentucky is seeking to offer the kind of practical assistance and encouragement that parents need to redirect their lives and open doors to a more hopeful future for their children."

Kentucky's two-generation approach to the JOBS program is evident in many forms: from long term goals focusing on children to an emphasis on adult education and the provision of life skills and parenting classes.

Currently, over 9,000 Kentucky AFDC recipients are assigned to case managers. About 4,500 are participating in components; about 55 percent of those JOBS participants are in basic education activities and over 30 percent of the clients are in post-secondary activities.

Over 1,000 JOBS clients have gained either part- or full-time jobs.

Sharon Perry, senior state JOBS coordinator, said that the success of JOBS cannot be measured by only short term accomplishments. "We expect to help our clients gain education and employment. In the long run, we expect their children to be better off by following the example of their parents."

THE TAX ADVISER

GEORGE SMITH

Q: What is this "kiddie" tax? Do I pay the tax on my children? It seems complicated! I think I'll go to a tax preparer this year.—B.T., Kansas City, Mo.

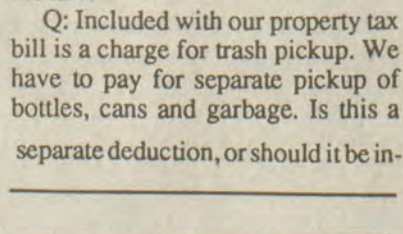

A: Complicated? To say the least. The "kiddie" tax requires children under age 14 with unearned income over $1,000 to pay tax at their parents' highest bracket. Unearned income includes interest and dividends.

Although your children owe the tax obligation, Uncle Sam really doesn't care who pays the tab. Yes, even you could pay their income tax.

Q: My husband and I are separated, but not legally. The reason for the separation is that we get along much better this way and it's closer to work for him. He does his thing and I do mine. He still gives me his paycheck, and I still manage our affairs. I am not employed. We would like to know whether we can still file our income tax as a married couple living at one address.—J.L., Cedar Rapids, Iowa

A: Not only can you file as a married couple living at one address, you can most certainly file a joint income tax with the maximum tax benefits allowed under the limits of the law.

Q: Included with our property tax bill is a charge for trash pickup. We have to pay for separate pickup of bottles, cans and garbage. Is this a separate deduction, or should it be in-
