Impact of federal shutdown will vary

by Patti M. Clark
Staff Writer

Around Floyd County, Tuesday was business as usual. Most people were talking about the snow flurries, not the federal government shut down.

Most, but not all.

Employees of several federal agencies with offices in Floyd and surrounding counties, spent the early part of the morning waiting for an announcement on whether they should pack up and go home. Most operated with skeleton crews by early afternoon.

"Our official time of notification was 10 a.m.," Jim Kelly, district manager for Social Security, said. "We will shut down at 1 p.m. All of our employees will be off the payroll. Even the three management personnel required to stay will not be paid for their time."

Or even, possibly, for the time they are off.

"There will probably be an attempt to permit retroactive pay," Kelly said. "But there's no guarantee. The general view is that it (back pay) is not going to happen. If they aren't on the job, they won't be paid."

Kelly said if the shutdown lasts long enough, workers will be eligible to apply for unemployment benefits.

The local employees are among about 800,000 federal workers who were preparing to be furloughed earlier this week as President Bill Clinton and Republican congressional leaders battled over the budget.

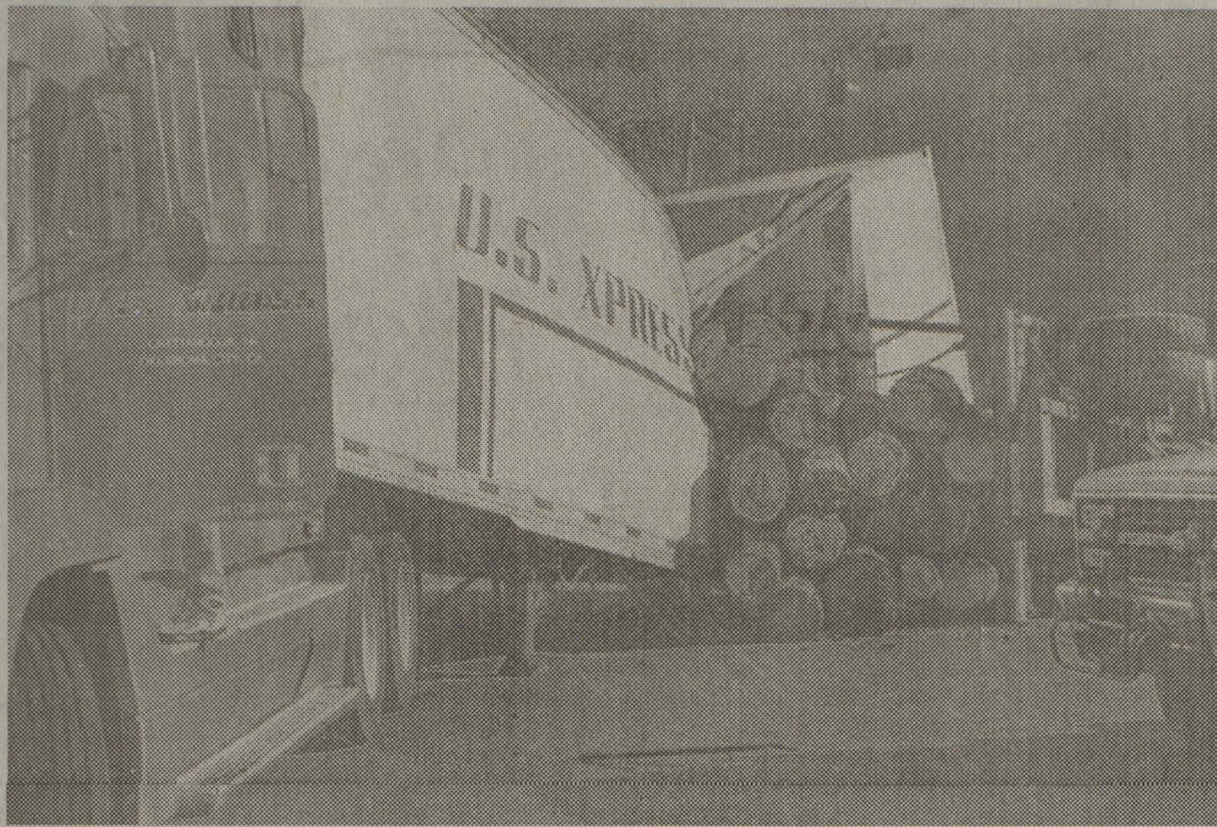

Clinton refused to accept the stopgap measures because they contained conditions Clinton said were unacceptable. Clinton said he wants clean bills, free of all conditions, to keep the government operating while a budget for 1996 is negotiated and that he will continue to fight until a fair budget is prepared.

The first stopgap bill, which Clinton vetoed early Monday morning, would have allowed the U.S. Treasury to borrow money through December 12.

The second bill had that provision through December 1, but both, Clinton stated, made it difficult for the federal government to avoid default.

Group joins old and new to 'pioneer' new festival

by Janice Shepherd
Managing Editor

After taking one step forward and three steps back, the Prestonsburg Tourism Commission's festival committee, agreed Monday night to name its new festival Jenny Wiley Pioneer Festival.

The festival committee has conducted at least two previous meetings with an intent to name the festival, but committee members could not agree on a name. For at least the first 45 minutes of Monday night's meeting, it looked as if the name issue would be delayed again.

Prestonsburg Tourism director Fred James presented a survey of area business representatives that suggested several names for the new festival. Those names included the Jenny Wiley Mountain Arts Festival, Jenny Wiley Pioneer Days, Jenny Wiley Pioneer Festival, Jenny Wiley October Fest, and Autumn Fest. The group voted and narrowed the selection.

A member of the new festival committee asked why the name Jenny Wiley Festival wasn't included in the selection. Donna Blackburn, chairman of the Jenny Wiley Festival board, said that her board could submit a name change and also revisions to the bylaws if the new festival committee wanted to combine the two committees.

James explained to the group that the new festival will be part of the city and the bylaws for its committee would be done through a city ordinance.

Jim Daniels, president of the Jenny Wiley Association, a genealogical society, said that if the committee planned to use the name Jenny Wiley in its festival title, then it had better make the decision within the next two weeks. Daniels, a fifth generation descendant of Jenny Wiley, said his association planned to apply for a Jenny Wiley trademark.

A discussion ensued about keeping the Jenny Wiley Festival name. "Why have the Jenny Wiley name here?" Daniels asked.

"Heritage, history," Norm Marcum, a member of the committee, answered.

"I don't care what you call it, it will be the Jenny Wiley Festival to the people who know it," Daniels said.

Man, woman arrested after shots fired into two buildings

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Two Floyd Countians are charged with first degree wanton endangerment for allegedly firing three shots into an apartment building and variety store at Martin early Monday morning.

Martin police officer James Stone arrested Clarence Miller, 38, and Velma Banks, 35, both of Wayland. The two are also charged with first degree criminal mischief.

According to the arrest warrant, Miller and Banks are accused of firing three 12-gauge slugs from a shotgun into Slade Apartments and the Martin Variety Store, "endangering the occupants inside."

The two are also charged with intentionally damaging the glass, a door and three couches in those buildings by shooting into the buildings.

Miller and Banks were arraigned Tuesday morning before Floyd District Judge James Allen. Not guilty pleas were entered for them and the public defender was appointed to represent them. A $12,000 or 10 percent cash bond was set in each of the cases.

A preliminary hearing is set for November 21 at 2:30 p.m. in district court.

Wayland police chief David Gray assisted in the investigation.

Hale, Johnson take seats on fiscal court

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County's newest elected officials took their oaths of office Monday in separate swearing-in ceremonies at the Floyd County Courthouse.

New Floyd Judge-Executive Ben Hale was sworn into office Monday afternoon by Circuit Judge John David Caudill before a crowd of supporters in the circuit courtroom.

Hale told the audience that it "is a new day" in Floyd County.

"I renew by pledge to each of you to do all within my power to make Floyd County a better place for us all, now and in the future," Hale said. "This can only truly happen if every elected official is willing to act unselfishly for the common good, with persistence and wisdom."

"I will give immediate attention to the judge-executive's office itself, and how it operates," Hale continued. "I will act to fulfill my pledge of certain reforms within the first 30 days. I will also move quickly to determine our current financial status..."

Interim Judge-Executive Bob Meyer, who was appointed to the post in March due to the death of John M. Stumbo, will assist Hale during the early part of his administration, Hale said Monday.

Also, District Three Magistrate Elmer Ray Johnson was administered his oath of office Monday morning by District Judge James Allen.

Johnson thanked the voters of Floyd County for electing him to the post and promised to do his best as a magistrate.

The two were slated to attend their first fiscal court meeting as court members on Friday, November 17, but that meeting has been postponed to November 29 at 10 a.m.

Twenty-one seek to lead Floyd schools

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County's screening committee for a new superintendent met Monday night at May Lodge, but the public and the media were not notified of that meeting.

Floyd school board member Phyllis Honshell, the board's representative on the committee, said Tuesday that she did not know that the committee fell under the provisions of the state's Open Meeting Laws, but that she would inform the board's consultant that it does.

Board members voted in September to hire Edward Ball, with the Kentucky School Boards Association, as a consultant in the district's search for a new superintendent.

At Monday's meeting, Ball informed committee members that 22 applications had been received, but that one applicant had withdrawn from consideration, Honshell said.

In 1992, over 100 sought the job as superintendent of Floyd County schools.

The group also discussed Monday what criteria a new superintendent should meet and the time line for getting a new superintendent hired. The criteria was developed by Ball, who sought input from school administrators, teachers and the public, Honshell said.

Former superintendent Steve Towler left the Floyd School System in August to take a job as superintendent of the Russell County School System.

The board hopes to have a new school chief in place by January 1996. Interim superintendent Ed Allen will serve until then.

Honshell also said that the committee will meet again on November 20 and on November 28 to continue discussions on the superintendent search.

A report on Monday's meeting and the criteria to be used to evaluate applicants were to be presented to the school board at Tuesday's board meeting. Honshell stressed that no individuals were discussed during Monday's session and that the criteria to be used has not been approved by the board.

Gary Frazier is director for arts center

by Alisa Goodwill
Staff Writer

A former Floyd County school administrator has been named executive director for the Mountain Arts Center and he will earn $12 during the first year of his contract.

Gary Frazier, who retired in June as assistant superintendent of instruction for the Floyd school district, was hired by the arts center management commission Tuesday evening.

Frazier, who continues to work for the school district under a consulting contract, will be paid one dollar per month for the first twelve months as executive director for the arts center.

He will earn $3,000 per month during the second year of the 24-month contract.

Also Tuesday, the arts center management commission hired Greg Crum as operations manager

Funeral services for former councilman set for Thursday

A former Prestonsburg City Councilman died Tuesday at his home in Lexington.

Cloyd Jennings Johnson, who served three terms on the Prestonsburg council in the early 1980's, died November 13 after a long illness. He was founder of Operation Santa Claus.

Johnson, a retired pharmacist, was co-owner of Herrin-Johnson Pharmacy in Prestonsburg. After graduating from the University of Kentucky School of Pharmacy in 1963, he practiced pharmacy at the Fountain Korner Drug and Herrin Drug in Prestonsburg.

Johnson, 59, suffered a spinal injury at his family home in Flemingsburg when he was nine years old that affected him throughout his life.

Shutdown

agencies fairing? As of press time Tuesday afternoon, most had closed their doors and were operating with only a few personnel, those necessary for safety precautions in most instances.

Social Security

Kelly's office in Floyd County had only two people — Kelly and an operations supervisor — working. The Pike County branch had only the branch manager in place.

Early Tuesday, Kelly said his employees were "taking care of things already in the pipeline. We're doing all those things as rapidly as we can."

He said he will have two people to answer phones and answer basic questions and do the things that will "protect people from losing benefits, but we won't be accepting new applications."

The office will be open its regular hours.

Kelly emphasized that Social Security and SSI recipients would receive their checks as anticipated on the first of the month.

"Those expenses have already been budgeted and that mechanism is in place," he said. "Most of that is automated and those checks are already being printed."

More than 41,000 people receive about $23 million each month in the Big Sandy Social Security district.

Rural Economic and Community Development

Formerly ASCS, FHA and Soil Conservation, this agency won't be affected by the shutdown, according to Tom Keith, county development manager.

"We were told that the USDA budget was one of only two that had been approved," Keith said. "We were told to report to work as usual. It will not affect us."

U.S. Post Office

The post office will be open as usual and all mail delivery will take place. That's according to Lonzo Bolen, a supervisor at the Prestonsburg office.

"It won't affect us, not at all," he said. "We are not subsidized. All deliveries will take place as usual. There will be no change whatsoever."

Office of Surface Mining

The Interior Department's Office of Surface Mining closed its doors at noon Tuesday.

"All of our employees will be sent home until the budget is improved," Gail Smith, acting area office manager at the Floyd County office, said.

The office has eight employees. "We're getting the 'last minute' details in order so we can leave here in the next few minutes, Bill Kovacic, field office director in Lexington, said.

In case of emergency in connection with an abandoned mine, Kovacic said mine personnel should call the Ashland office at 606-324-2828. For active mining problems, they should call the regional director in Pittsburgh at 412-937-2828.

"They should probably be in touch with the state folks as well," Kovacic said.

Mine Safety and Health Administration

Federal safety and health inspections of the nation's mining operations were set to continue, according to the Labor Department's Mine Safety and Health Administration. However, education and training activities aimed at prevention of mining accidents ceased.

"We are prepared to carry on all mine safety and health efforts which are allowed during the federal funding emergency," J. Davitt McAtser, assistant secretary for labor for mine safety and health, said. "However, we are quite concerned that a number of agency preventive measures would have to cease and we call upon all the mining community to be particularly mindful of potential hazards during this time."

Headstart

Headstart and other Community Action Programs will continue during the shutdown.

"We are not a federal agency, we are just federally funded," Mike Howell, area headstart director, said.

He said the program had recently submitted a budget for approval and had been told to cut it by 3.9 percent.

"We're not going to close down, we're not going to reduce the number of students we serve by cutting the budget that much," he said. "But if we're asked to cut it more, we'll have to."

Veterans Outreach Clinic

The Veterans Outreach Clinic near Highlands Regional Medical Center had not shut down by mid-afternoon Tuesday, but the Veterans Hospital in Huntington was already turning away clients.

"Not that I know of, not yet," Ernie Simpson, administration officer for the clinic, said. "My understanding is it's a day-by-day thing. My office hasn't told us we will be shut down. I hope not."

If the clinic does shut down, he said he will keep essential personnel only and many of the clerks will be furloughed.

Corps of Engineers

Dewey Lake, Paintsville Lake and Fishtrap Lake could be operating only on the basis of flood control until the shutdown is over.

According to Steve Wright, Corps spokesperson, the Corps is funded a bit differently than the rest of the federal government, and Clinton signed the Water Resources Development Act of 1996 Monday night.

"That act provides funding for the Corps of Engineers," Wright said. "That may mean we may not be furloughed."

If the Corps is furloughed, Wright said most activities will shut down. "Where there are gates, they would be shut. Where there are facilities, such as restrooms, they will be locked. Nothing is definite yet. We just do not know at this time."

Hal Roger's office

"At this point, our offices here (in Washington) are open," Frank Maisano, spokesman, said. "And our district offices remain open as well. We feel that if people have a problem, they still need to be able to call us."

He said about 3 p.m. Tuesday, Congress and the president were still working on the budget and the shutdown was still in place.

"They've been meeting, but there's nothing new at this point," Maisano said.

He said a shutdown had occurred several times before. "It never happens for very long," Maisano said. "It is temporary. We will work through it."

Born on July 23, 1936 at Dixon in Webster County, he was a son of Bessie Edith Forester Johnson of Lexington and the late Landmon Rice Johnson, a former USDA Soil Conservationist of Floyd County. He graduated from Prestonsburg High School in 1954 and was class valedictorian. He attended Berea College and returned to Floyd County to teach at a one-room school at Rough and Tough on Middle Creek from 1958-60 and Prestonsburg High School, from 1960 to 1961.

He returned to school to become a pharmacist and graduated first in his class at the University of Kentucky.

Johnson was a past deacon of the First Baptist Church in Prestonsburg.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his daughters, Lisa Rene Johnson Howard and Diana Maria Johnson; his brother, Larry G. Johnson; and his sister, Carol Johnson Simmons, all of Lexington.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Milward Funeral Home in Lexington with the Rev. Bill Jagers officiating. Burial will be made in the Ephesus Church Cemetery in Lincoln County.

Visitation may be made from 5 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home, located at 159 N. Broadway in Lexington.

Pallbearers will be Marvin Music Jr., John Smallman, Ernie Jenkins, Clarence Rice, Estill Lee Carter and Todd Nairn.

Name omitted

The name of Jason Goble was inadvertently omitted from a listing of the honor roll at Prestonsburg Elementary. Goble is a fifth grade student in Scott Tackett's home-room.

Beans, beans, good for your...

by Scott Perry

We've been told, politely of course, by those who consider themselves our social conscience to mind our manners at the dinner table and not demand any extra helpings now that our cook is in the kitchen.

Being the sociable folks we are, quite naturally we'll comply and, with our pinkies held high, we'll ask only for our fair share at the buffet, contented, we suppose, with being allowed at long last to sit at the table with the grown-ups.

Buuuuurrrrr!

Oops. Pardon our French.

Must have been those beans we had for breakfast, lunch and dinner during the last forty years.

After all that time in the line for surplus commodities, we imagine our "fair share" has earned a considerable amount of interest.

But we're not greedy. Maybe a pone of cornbread and a slice or two of onion to go with those beans.

A pork chop and some fried potatoes would be nice, but we wouldn't want to overdo it. Gotta watch that blood pressure, count those calories.

Well, maybe a slice of pie. Just a small one. We'll be glad to pay for it.

Here, triple our property taxes. Oh, that's not enough.

Take another trainload or two of coal severance taxes.

Forgot the tip.

Can we send you a few more of our young folks to work in your factories and offices?

Nothing much for them to do around here anyway.

We can always visit them when we come down to spend our yard sale profits in your malls, doctors' offices, hotels and convention centers.

Don't mean to sound gluttonous, but do you suppose we might get a little something to wash this all down with?

We'd go to our own well, but darned if it hasn't gone dry.

And, you know, we had to trade our cow for those beans...

Daredevil band engaged in various activities

Editor:

The McDowell Daredevil Band has had a busy schedule so far this year. We began our year three weeks prior to the start of the school year. We held summer band practices for three weeks in which band students learned the basics of proper sound production, instrument care and cleaning, uniform care, marching fundamentals and advanced music instruction. We also had a drum major clinic with tryouts for band students who were interested in the position. Morgan Hall was chosen as our drum major for the 1995-96 marching band season.

Band students and director, Mr. Ord, worked very hard in preparation for participation in local parades. We kicked off our marching season with a pep rally for the band in which the band played the old McDowell High School fight song. Many of our teachers who graduated from McDowell were pleased to hear an old familiar song.

Teachers had the students stand and clap along as the band played the fight song. The band also played the song America that was to be used to honor our American Veterans in the Red, White and Blue parade. For the song America, half of the band played while the other half sang the words. Also during the pep rally, Mr. Ord explained to the students the different parts that make up a marching band. The parts that made up the McDowell Marching Band this year include two banner carriers, three color guard members, five majorettes and a drum major along with 30 band members.

The Jenny Wiley Festival Parade was the first parade for the band and we almost got rained out. Actually, we did get rained out but thanks to a parade official's suggestion, we did get to participate in the parade. We rode the bus through the parade and played while our majorettes did their routine out in the rain about five times.

A special thanks goes out to our band majorettes sponsor Patti Hicks who taught the girls routines for our performances and also managed to round up some uniforms that looked very good!

Every band was awarded a participation trophy. The Red, White and Blue parade was our next performance. We almost got rained again but we did get to march. There were two bands in the parade and we were the only band that was to be judged.

Every month, Mr. Ord, the band director at McDowell, picks one student to honor for their hard work. In August, the band member of the month was Lance Sparkman. Lance is an eighth-grade student at McDowell. He had perfect attendance for the summer band and successfully learned to play the clarinet over the summer, along with being chosen to participate with the band at South Floyd. Congratulations, Lance!

In September, the band member of the month was Tiffani Rivera. Tiffani is also an eighth-grade student at McDowell. She is one of our hardest working band members. She plays the clarinet and she memorized both our parade songs. She also passed the music T.A.G. test this year. Congratulations, Tiffani.

October's band member of the month was Johnathan Turner. He learned to play the drums during summer band well enough to be a strong leader in our percussion section. He also learned his part to the song America in only one week! He is an eighth-grade student at McDowell. The band is getting better and stronger with the help and hard work of students like Lance, Tiffani and Jonathan.

The McDowell Band is grateful to have the support of our principal, our school and our Band Boosters organization. We had our first band boosters meeting on October 19, directly after our PTA meeting.

We elected officers for the 1995-96 school year which are: president, Don Sparkman; secretary, Kathy Spriggs; and treasurer, Walter Ord. We also discussed our annual fruit sale which will end on November 15.

To encourage our sellers, we decided to offer the following awards: top seller, $75 award; second top seller, $50 award; and third top seller, $25 award.

We then discussed giving band members of the month individual trophies or plaques instead of honoring them all on one big plaque like we did last year.

Our two parades were discussed in great detail. The decision to begin a band executive council was made in which students would elect officers to represent the whole band during other meetings.

Our band majorettes were also discussed with many positive comments about our band majorette sponsor, Patti Hicks. Our next band boosters meeting will be announced at a later time.

On behalf of our principal, our students, our teachers, our staff and our community, I would like to thank everyone in the Jenny Wiley Academic Conference for coming to the Saturday meet that we hosted on October 28.

We apologize for the mix up concerning the gym and our use of the facilities. We were told by our principal that we could use the gym because there were not enough seats in the lunchroom. We look forward to hosting future academic meets. Thank you for your consideration.

Member of 1965 class expresses appreciation

Editor:

I am writing this letter to express my appreciation to Donna Ball Collins, Connie Wallen Sammons, LaDonna and David Miller and Rose Howard Price. They worked very hard to put on one of the best class reunions that a class could have. Those not present surely missed a lot.

The reunion was held at the Prestonsburg High School cafeteria and when I first read that, I thought "Why not someplace more exciting?" but it was great going back to the school and reminiscing about the past and discussing the present. A better place could not have been selected.

I hadn't been back to the school since I graduated thirty years ago and being there brought back so many good memories of the time I spent there and the teachers that worked so hard to help us become the best we could be.

Thanks, again, for all the hard work, decorating, getting addresses, planning the food and choosing the great music. These five sure deserve a lot for all the time and energy that this took from their daily routine. GREAT JOB!!!!!!!!!!!!

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

Well by golly, boys, we're in the catbird's seat now, ain't we?

An Eastern Kentucky governor for the first time since Elvis was skinny.

Things just might be looking up.

With jobs in the coalfields dropping like flies after a hard frost, up is the only direction we've got to look. Hard to imagine things sinking any lower, economically speaking, that is.

We've got a reason to hope, now that Frankfort has a hillbilly as potentate.

Where do we begin?....

...At the beginning, of course.

Before we can expect to attract new jobs, we need to determine what types of work our people are qualified for now; what sector of the global economy will generate the most jobs in the future; and what we need to do to get those jobs here and our folks qualified to fill them.

Lot of guesswork and groundwork required, but the mission is not impossible.

In fact, we already have the foundation.

If we can expand our existing educational network of community colleges and vocational-technical schools to provide more hands-on job training flexibility that will allow us to adapt quickly and efficiently to employment trends, we might just make a difference.

Most businesses are having a tough time these days finding capable, qualified employees.

If we can respond to their needs, maybe they'll respond to ours and bring some of those jobs here.

While we're waiting for that to happen, it might be a good time to recall a lesson we all learned in Sunday school.

The Lord helps those who help themselves.

So, instead of devoting all our energies to attracting new jobs to our area, why don't we try growing a few of our own?

We've offered this proposal before, and we'll offer it again, and again...until somebody either makes it happen or proves to us that it can't be done.

We have considerable potential and untapped talent in the area of food processing that could provide a wide range of economic benefits.

Small area farmers could provide many of the raw materials to a series of processing facilities that could be staffed and even owned by Eastern Kentuckians.

We have experienced marketing experts around here to head up the sales effort, plenty of truckers looking for work, and enough butchers, bakers, even candlestick makers, to comprise a pretty impressive workforce.

There's an ace in the hole, too.

Everybody has to eat.

Let's get cooking.

Saw an article the other day which offered an interesting theory.

It suggested that we can track the growth of democracy in developing countries by the amount of exposure given to government corruption.

In other words, the more we read about crooked politicians, the fewer secrets they are able to keep and the more open government is forced to become.

Hmm.

If that theory applies here, critics who claim we print only negative news may want to change their tunes.

Negative news may be the most positive news you can get.

Marsillett charged in assault case

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A West Prestonsburg man is charged with assault and first degree stalking after allegedly following his ex-wife, assaulting her and her two-year-old son.

Eugene Marsillett, 45, is charged with fourth degree assault after he allegedly hit Janet Marsillett and hit her son "into a door facing" on October 29.

Court records say that Eugene Marsillett made explicit or implicit threats to Janet Marsillett which put her in fear "of serious physical injury or death" after a protective order was issued against him.

Eugene Marsillett was arraigned Monday before Floyd District Judge James Allen and was placed under a $5,000 cash bond.

The public defender was appointed to represent Marsillett and a preliminary hearing is set for November 21 at 2:30 p.m. in district court.

Charities road blocked next year

by Alisa Goodwill
Staff Writer

With this year's Christmas season already here, Prestonsburg city council decided Monday night to help downtown businesses next year.

Councilman Estill Carter recommended that next year from mid-November to the end of December not to allow fund-raising roadblocks.

The motion was made after a roadblock for Allen Central High School ROTC was approved for December

9. Carter said the Christmas holiday was the busiest for local stores and he didn't want the roadblocks to hurt the businesses.

"The organizations that do the roadblocks are good causes, but when there is a roadblock every weekend patrons may get mad," Carter added.

The recommendation was approved.

In other business:

- The second reading of an amended tax ordinance that applies tax rates on bank shares passed. Councilman Dick Clark and Robert Allen disqualified themselves from the vote.
- An amended liquor license ordinance received a first reading. The ordinance defines what a "bona fide restaurant" means and how that affects the sale of liquor by the drink for those establishments.

• Carter, finance and revenue chairman, recommended the purchase of a 1996 police cruiser at the state bid price of $19,139 and to get bids for a four-wheel drive vehicle for the police department. Both vehicles would be purchased in the 1996-97 fiscal year.

Council accepted the recommendation.

Mayor Jerry Fannin and all council members but Billy Ray Collins were present.

Allen City tax remains the same

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Allen City Commissioners held a short meeting Monday and voted to keep the city's existing tax rate. Also, one city commissioner reportedly withdrew his resignation.

City officials voted not to use reassessed values on city property, which keeps the property tax rate at 23 cents per $100 valuation.

Also, commissioner Jimmy "Fudd" Parsons, who announced at the October meeting that he was resigning, will apparently stay on the commission.

Parsons did not attend Monday's meeting, but city clerk Bill Parsons said that Jimmy Parsons did not accept a job driving a truck cross-country and has not tendered his resignation.

Commissioner Donald Calhoun has missed the last two commission meetings and commissioners said that he may have to be replaced. There is one vacancy on the commission.

In other business, commissioners agreed to sell three surplus heaters. Commissioner Larry Castle made the motion to do so saying, "If we're not using them, sell them. We need the money more than the heaters." Commissioner Billy Salisbury seconded the motion.

Mayor Sharon Woods asked commissioners to decide the date for the city's Christmas party for children. It was agreed that the party will be held Friday, December 15 at 6 p.m. at city hall.

911 board reviews bids

by Alisa Goodwill
Staff Writer

The county's 911 board opened nine bids Friday morning for Primary Answering Point System (PSAP) equipment at a special meeting.

Bids were received from 911 Inc.; Emergi Tech; Communications Maintenance Inc./ Highlands Communications Inc. (CMI/HCI); Positron; Comdial Enterprise Systems and Interact. Bids were also received from Dictaphone; Doble and Communications Systems Inc. for voice equipment only.

The 911 equipment review committee — Chris Waugh, Doug Wells for Mayor Jerry Fannin and Jim Caldwell — reviewed all nine proposals Friday afternoon.

In a special 911 meeting today (Wednesday) the top four bidders, recommended by the committee, will present their bid proposals to the board.

In other business:

- 911 board members discussed the issue of new road signs for the county, but no decision was made.
- Jim Caldwell reported on the 911 Advisory Council meeting. The advisory council discussed a board of trustees, new taxing districts and mutual aid agreements. No actions were taken.

The next meeting for 911 will be December 3 at 10 a.m. in the courthouse annex conference room.

Harmon and Gray wed

Mr. and Mrs. Shawn Christopher Gray

Katie Jo Harmon, of Richmond, daughter of P.J. and Kevin Shannon of Prestonsburg, and Shawn Christopher Gray, son of Chris and Pauline Gray of Richmond were united in marriage on September 2 at the First Baptist Church in Prestonsburg with Dr. Valentine performing the ceremony.

Stephanie Miller was soloist; Missy Carter, organist; pianist, Lisa Carter. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Kevin Shannon.

The bride wore a full-length ivory heavily beaded silk gown. The waist-length veil was held by a headpiece of lace flowers inlaid with drop pearls and sequins. Her earrings were matching drop pearls. The silk train was detachable and layered with pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of ivory roses with pearl spray. The bride chose as her color scheme—black, silver and rose.

The maid of honor was Sherry Castle and bridesmaids were Ashley Bailey, Misti Bloom, Kerri Carrier, Mila Dobnicker, Crissy Lawson, Tara Robinson, Kristina Schneider, Mrs. Grace Weedman, Mrs. Vivian Shannon and Mrs. Otis Gray.

Flower girls were Devan Rollins and Kathleen Shannon and ring-bearer was Taylor Ross.

Bestman was Terry Estes. Ushers were Dwayne Gray, Brian Hedges, Jacob Pogrosky, Woody Schat, and Gordon Shelton. The wedding was followed by a buffet reception at the Holiday Inn. A three-tier ivory fountain cake graced the center of the room which was decorated with candles and flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Gray received several gifts from family and friends.

Martins celebrates Thanksgiving

by Alisa Goodwill
Staff Writer

Thanksgiving hasn't come and gone yet, but most retail stores are already decorating for the Christmas season.

This year, the Prestonsburg Martin's Department store wants their customers to remember the Thanksgiving holiday.

Assistant manager Donna Slone said other stores are already going into the Christmas holiday, but her store wanted to do something for Thanksgiving.

"Everybody is overlooking Thanksgiving," Slone said. "Everybody is skipping an important holiday."

To stay in the Thanksgiving spirit, Slone and her staff decorated the store front windows and the countertops with Thanksgiving memorabilia.

In commemoration of Thanksgiving, the store will host an open house on Saturday from 10 a.m. - 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Thanks

Sheri Porter (left) and Wanda Conn, both sales clerks at Martin's Department store, showed off the store's Thanksgiving display Monday afternoon. The store will hold an open house Saturday in honor of the Thanksgiving Holiday. Not pictured are Mickie Meade, manager; Donna Slone, assistant manager; and Jan Chaffin, a sales clerk. ADA MOSLEY PASTOR

In Memory of Little Ellis Tackett

It has been 10 years since Daddy passed away. We remember him like he was with us just yesterday. The way he would talk to us and give us advice, the big smile he had on his face all of the time. The way he would light up when we brought the grandchildren over to see him. I can remember how he would be so pleased when he came home from church, he would tell us how good church was that day and how it would not hurt us to go more often.

Mommy left us this year. It seems the old homeplace isn't the same, the memories of the good times, Christmas, Thanksgiving, and Easters on the rock overlooking the house. How your hands would reach out to us when we would cry or to give us a big hug when we needed encouragement or love.

We want Mommy and Daddy to know that we love them and miss them every hour of every day, it doesn't matter how much time goes by, we will never forget you or those hands that held us when we needed it. You have your own little family in Heaven now, you're there with Mommy, your four children, three grandchildren, your Mom and Dad and son-in-law. I hope you will continue to look down on us as we live our day-to-day lives and know that we will be looking toward the heavens to see your star.

Card of Thanks

The family of Margaret Slone Phillips wishes to thank all of those who were so kind and considerate during our time of grief. We want to thank those who sent flowers and gifts of love. We especially want to thank the Clergyman Wayne Stephens for his comforting words; the sheriff's department for their assistance in traffic control; and the Hall Funeral Home for their kind and professional service.

THE FAMILY OF
MARGARET SLONE PHILLIPS

Card of Thanks

We, the family of Sam Wallen, would like to thank our friends, neighbors, loved ones and church families for the flowers, food, cards, prayers and visits during the recent loss of our husband and dad. The love and kindness shown to us during this time is greatly appreciated. A special thanks to Rev. Jack DeRossett and Rev. Clifford Spencer. Also, special thanks to Floyd Funeral Home and the sheriff's department for help in traffic control.

Irene Wallen, Connie Wallen Sammons,
Sammy Wallen, and Jim Wallen

Card of Thanks

The family of William C. Counts would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their help in the loss of our loved one. Those who sent food and flowers and for just being there meant a lot to us. A special thanks to Minister Ivan Bystroff for his kind and comforting words; and Hall Funeral Home for their kind and professional service.

THE FAMILY OF
WILLIAM C. COUNTS

Card of Thanks

The family of Ruth Compton Hall would like to extend their appreciation to all those friends, neighbors and loved ones who helped comfort them during their time of sorrow. Thanks to all who sent food, flowers, prayers, or spoke comforting words. A special thanks to Dr. S. Thomas Valentine for his comforting words; the sheriff's department for their assistance in traffic control; and the Hall Funeral Home for their kind and professional service.

Crum will be paid $500 per month during the 24-month contract.

Both employment contracts are subject to final approval by the Prestonsburg City Council.

Though just approved by the management commission Tuesday, the contracts apparently took effect November 1. Frazier and Crum have been performing arts center duties since that time.

The commission unanimously agreed to recommend the council approve the contracts after discussing them for about 20 minutes in executive session Tuesday.

Council is expected to take action on the employment agreements at the next regular session November 27.

Jenny Wiley AARP to install officers

The installation of officers for the coming year will be conducted at the dinner meeting of Jenny Wiley Chapter No. 3528, American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) to be held Friday, November 17, in the cafeteria of Highlands Regional Hospital, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Gladys S. Allen will be the installing officer. Those to be installed are Sylvia Allen, president; L.J. Allen, vice president; Mary DeRossett, secretary and James E. Goble, treasurer.

The treasurer will also be collecting dues for 1996.

Patton looking for a few good men or women

Governor-elect Paul Patton is looking for a few good men and women to run the state.

Patton says his success in the governor's office will depend on the first two dozen or so appointments he makes, and he is seeking the "best and the brightest people to fill slots in the Governor's office."

Friday, he appointed his campaign manager, Andrew "Skipper" Martin as Chief of Staff for his administration and Bill Beam Junior, finance director for the Patton-Henry campaign, to the post of Transition Coordinator.

Martin served a Patton's Chief of Staff and Beam also served as finance director for the Lieutenant Governor's office. Beam will facilitate the changeover between the Jones and Patton administrations.

To fill the other positions in his administration, Patton is making phone calls to people with corporate, education and other expertise for input. He is soliciting recommendations from all Kentuckians to fill those positions.

Anyone with recommendations for these jobs may send applications to the Lt. Governor's office, 700 Capital Avenue, Suite 142, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601-3474.

Anyone with questions about the transition of administrations, should call Bill Beam at (502)564-7562 at the Lieutenant Governor's office.

Free Bible correspondence course offered

George F. Raines, a chaplain in the Civil Air Patrol since 1982 and a minister of the gospel since 1953, is now offering a free 30-lesson Bible correspondence course. The course provides an easy-to-follow step-by-step study, enabling the student to follow a systematic plan in learning the basic truths of the inspired scriptures.

The only textbook the student will need is his own Bible. His lessons will be promptly and accurately graded and returned. Upon completion of the course, he will receive a certificate of achievement suitable for framing.

Interested persons are invited to mail their requests for enrollment to: Studies in the Bible, P.O. Box 97, Newton, MS 39345. Enrollments may also be processed by phone: (601) 683-3248 (George F. Raines) or (601) 774-5552 (Paul C. Swindle).

A Look At Sports

Young players thrill fans in Right Beaver Classic; Patton Arena

It certainly was good to see the folks at Duff Elementary dedicate their new gym in honor of present basketball Coach Ronnie Patton. The new facility was named Patton Arena after Coach Patton.

He is very deserving of the honor because of the many unselfish hours and hard work he puts into the program at Duff. I am glad to see there are those who recognize hard work and want to reward those who work hard.

Duff just completed hosting the Right Beaver Classic grade school tournament this past Monday night. The gym was packed each night and it was a very noisy place. As I covered all the games, I couldn't help but wish that the high school scene was as excited and noisy as the grade school games. The parents, fans and kids really get involved in the sport.

Maybe it is because the players haven't been spoiled yet and they still like playing the game for the fun of it. Maybe it is because parents are more understanding of the fact that it is just a game and not a life-and-death situation.

High school basketball has been on a decline in the past four seasons because of lack of fan interest. I remember when the gyms would be packed with fans watching a high school basketball game. We don't have county rivalries like we used to. We don't have that school spirit that was so prevalent before.

But in the grade school ranks it is still there. There's still a desire to bet on Adams, who has dominated the county for the past three years. Now comes along a McDowell team. A Betsy Layne team. A Duff squad. And others I haven't seen play yet. It makes the county more balanced and more competitive and that is what parents and fans want. It creates excitement.

The Right Beaver Classic was a classic. Every night we saw thrilling games and all the kids played their hearts out. Coach Patton and school principal Ralph O'Quinn did an outstanding job of hosting the tournament. There were no problems and everyone seemed to enjoy the hot dogs.

By the way, Mr. O'Quinn is going to enter the political arena soon. He was there every night, supporting and cheering for the kids. The staff at the school and all those who worked hard to clean the gym afterwards or worked the concession stand or just took up tickets at the door, put in a lot of hours.

Todd Duff and Kevin Webb ran the floor every night and sometimes did three games an evening. They made calls that weren't acceptable to everyone, but they were fair and consistent. My hat goes off to them for coming out and officiating the games. I personally think they did a great job.

We had a chance to wish D.I. Henson a happy birthday (at least three times). The Allen Central baseball team had a lottery going to raise money for its program this spring.

There was just so much going on. The cheerleaders were recognized and they entertained the fans between halves and games. Their sponsors are to be applauded for the effort they put forth.

James Layne and Bimbo Collins were the official scorer and timer. James also did the P.A. work.

The hospitality room was very good and we who made the scene appreciated it.

The players. Amber Scott,

Martin edges Stumbo with clutch free throw shooting

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Shanna Howell scored 18 points and Jennifer Risner added eight as the Martin Lady Flashes edged a good John M. Stumbo team 38-36 in the semifinals of the Right Beaver Classic at Patton Arena this past Friday night.

Sheena Akers led Stumbo's scoring with 13 points. Amber Biliter finished with eight.

Risner and Howell hit clutch free throws in the final 47 seconds of the game to give Martin its second win of the season against no losses.

Risner, who played a good floor game, stepped to the charity stripe with 47 seconds left and hit two free throws with the first one taking a Martin bounce. The two tosses gave Martin a four-point lead, 37-33.

Amber Biliter step to the line and misfired on two attempts with 42 seconds to play, but after Shannon Sizemore missed at the line, Biliter launched a long three-point shot that banked in to make it a 37-36 Martin led with just 26 seconds left to play.

Both teams missed from the stripe as the battle of nerves played havoc on a packed Patton Arena.

Leslie Johnson missed for Martin and Biliter missed for Stumbo.

With five seconds to play, Risner toed the line for Martin and could not get the ball to fall. On the second miss, Howell came up with the loose ball and was intentionally fouled by Lesli Hamilton with four seconds left. Howell hit the first, but missed the second attempt.

Biliter tried to duplicate her earlier feat and launched another long three-pointer that had Martin fans holding their breath. The ball bounded off to the right as the horn sounded.

Martin scored the final eight points of the first quarter, after falling behind 4-0, to lead 8-4 at the first stop. A rebound basket by Akers and layup by Jenny Parson gave Stumbo the 4-0 lead. Baskets by Rebecca Smith and Howell tied the game at 4-4. Risner scored with 20 second left to make it an 8-6 game and the Lady Flashes tied the game when Risner hit Howell with a super pass for the lay in and an 8-4 Martin lead.

The game was tied at 10-10 in the second period as Heather Hamilton hit a running four-footer to tie the game. Martin took a 14-10 lead on a short jumper by Sizemore and a baseline jumper by Risner. Howell scored the final two baskets for Martin to give them an 18-15 half time lead.

Stumbo outscored Martin 6-2 to start the second half to lead 21-20 with 2:10 left in the third period. But Martin got a rebound basket by Johnson and a put back by Howell to go in front, 24-22, after three quarters.

Akers got inside for an easy bucket at the onset of the fourth period and Hamilton hit one of two free throws to give the lead back to

Sexton's basket at :09 lifts Duff over Martin in finals

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

April Sexton only had two points in the entire game when the Duff Lady Bulldogs faced the Martin Lady Flashes in the girls' championship game of the Right Beaver Classic that concluded this past Monday night at the Patton Arena.

But what a big two points it was. The rebound and put-back basket with just nine seconds left to play gave the Lady Bulldogs a 27-26 win over the Lady Flashes and the Classic championship.

"If someone told me that we would be playing in this game (finals)," Duff Coach Ronnie Patton said, "I wouldn't have believed them."

Duff had to play the entire tournament without the services of Natalie Cooley, who has been out with a knee injury.

Martin saw two seven-point leads disappear in the fourth quarter as break downs on basic fundamentals were evident. The Lady Flashes also missed some key free throws down the stretch that could have sealed the victory.

Martin led 19-12 on a short base line jumper by Shanna Howell with under five minutes to play. But Duff hit three of four free throws and Mary Mullin's basket made it a 19-17 game.

Then the Lady Bulldogs got lost on their defensive assignments and the Lady Flashes pulled out to a 24-17 lead with 2:40 left to play in the game. Jennifer Risner hit a 14-foot jumper and Rebecca Smith canned two free throws for the seven-point margin.

But Martin started taking some ill-advised shots and Duff took advantage of Martin's impatience.

Two free throws and a rebound basket by Beth Combs cut the lead to three, 24-21. Risner hit the back side of a two-shot foul with 1:43 left to play to give Martin a 25-21 lead. Martin had the ball coming inbounds under the Duff basket when Combs stole the inbounds pass and scored pulling the Lady Bulldogs to within two of Martin, 25-23.

Martin gave the ball up when Leslie Johnson tried to throw in from 15 feet out. The ball careened high off the backboard and Duff was on the run. Amber Scott, the shortest player on the floor, drilled a 17-foot jumper and tied the game at 25-25 with just 47 seconds left to play.

With 42 seconds left, Risner stood at the free throw line for two shots missing the first, but sinking the second to send Martin back out to a 26-25 lead. The Lady Flashes got another break when Kari Osborne was whistled for a walking violation. On a break out, Risner raced toward the basket and laid the ball through the net, but the basket was nullified when she was called for walking.

Duff got three shots at the basket in the final seconds of the game. Combs forced a shot from the left baseline, Mullins' rebound attempt was off to the left where Sexton was standing all alone. Sexton rebounded the ball and laid it in with just nine ticks left on the clock.

Martin called a time out with seven seconds to play, but Howell's long desperation shot fell short as Duff came away the winner.

The game got off to a snail's pace in the first three quarters. Martin took a 7-4 first-quarter lead on baskets by Smith, Howell and Risner. Combs scored the four Duff points.

Martin got a free throw from Smith and Ashley Stephens' rebound basket in the second period to give Martin a 10-4 lead. Combs' two free throws at :02 made it a 10-6 game at the half.

Two turnovers by Martin allowed Duff to get back in the game. Combs scored on a layup and Mullins got inside for two and tied the game at 10-10. But Martin scored six unanswered points to lead 16-10 on a three-point play and two free throws by Howell. Shannon Sizemore buried two charity tosses. Martin led 16-11 after three quarters.

Combs led all scorers with 18 points. Mullins finished with four, while Sexton and Scott had two each. Osborne scored one point.

Howell's ten points led Martin, with Risner tossing in six points. Smith scored five and Sizemore had three points. Stephens finished with two.

Martin hit 12 of 23 free throws, while Duff hit 11 of 18. Combs attempted 12 shots from the free throw stripe and sank ten.

Duff improved to 3-0 on the season while Martin fell to 2-1.

Combs scores 14 as Duff Lady Dawgs surprise McDowell

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Duff Lady Bulldogs put the defense on high-scoring McDowell guard Martha Crawford, held her to just six points and posted a surprising 33-27 win over the Lady Daredevils in the semifinals of the Right Beaver Classic at Duff Saturday night.

Beth Combs scored a game high 14 points to lead Duff in the scoring column. April Sexton added six points. Sanya Tackett netted five points for McDowell with Monica Newsome totaling four.

Duff went on an 8-1 run in the third period to open up a 23-15 lead, a lead they never relinquished. McDowell did, however, cut into the lead narrowing it to one point, 26-25 with 2:32 left to play in the contest.

Consecutive turnovers by McDowell proved costly as Combs stole the ball and went coast-to-coast for a layup and then hit a free throw to send the Lady 'Dawgs to a 29-25 lead with 1:27 to play.

McDowell struggled at the free throw line in the final minutes of play. Misty Halbert hit one of eight charity tosses in the final two minutes as Duff held off the Lady Daredevils.

Duff opened quickly with a 5-0 lead, but McDowell came back to make it a 5-4 game on a basket by Halbert. Sanya Tackett had a chance to give the Lady Daredevils the lead, but a lane violation canceled out a made free throw. Duff led 5-4 after the first quarter.

McDowell took its first lead at 6-5 when Halbert opened the second period with a layup. The game was tied at six and eight before Duff took a 10-8 lead on a Combs layup. Tackett's rebound basket with just more than a minute left in the first half gave McDowell a 12-11 lead, but Combs hit an eight-foot jumper and Kari Brown's layup gave the Lady 'Dawgs a 15-12 first half lead.

McDowell pulled to within one point of Duff to start the third period, 15-14, on a layup by Monica Newsome, but the Lady Daredevils could never get the lead back.

Sheena Allen finished with three points for McDowell and Melissa Thacker added two.

Brown netted three points for Duff while Christina Crase, Amber Scott and Leslie Martin scored two each. Mary Mullins had one point.

Betsy Layne survives McDowell scare, 80-71

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Patton Arena was a place of high-level noise with the championship games of the Right Beaver Classic taking place at Duff Elementary. The finals was no different from the first round as the gym was crowded with basketball fans who came to make some noise.

They were not disappointed when Coach Dwight Newsome's Betsy Layne Bobcats and Coach Brent Rose McDowell Daredevils hooked up in what was expected to be a good barn burner.

It was Betsy Layne holding off a late McDowell surge to preserve an 80-71 win over a very good McDowell team. Many left the gymnasium believing they could have witnessed the finals of the grade school county tournament to be held in January.

Betsy Layne placed four players in double figures led by Scott Collins with 18 points. Josh Howell added 17, Josh Kidd netted 15 and Justin Bartley tossed in 12.

Ryan Shannon led all scorers with 25 points. Kyle Tackett tossed in 11 with Zack Layne, Byron Hall and Nick Moore scoring ten each. It marked the first time Moore has played this season after an illness. The fact was evident during the course of the game.

"I'm still weak," he said while looking for some air to breathe.

It was Kidd who was the Player of the Game in this one. Kidd, who doesn't measure much more than five feet, came on and showed he could play with and against the big boys. It was his fourth quarter heroics that kept the Bobcats from being scratched from the winner's circle. He scored 13 of his 15 points in the final period and hit a big, big three-pointer that seemed to break McDowell's spirit.

The Bobcats were clinging to a precarious 56-54 lead when Kidd

Newsome to showcase Bobcats in Blue-White game Friday

Betsy Layne basketball fans will get a preview of the 1995-96 edition of the Bobcats and Lady Cats basketball team Friday night, November 17.

Coaches Bill Newsome and Junior Newsome said they are excited about the upcoming season and both teams should be very competitive this year.

The boys' freshman team will face the sophomores in the first game set to tip off at 5:30 p.m. At approximately 6:30 p.m. the Lady Cats will play an intrasquad game. The boys' varsity intrasquad contest will follow at 8 p.m.

Between the first two games, a three-point shootout will be held and between games two and three, a half-court contest will take place with the winner receiving $100 for his or her effort.

Admission to the Blue-White scrimmage is $3 for adults and $2 for students.

Betsy Layne

entered the game. He immediately was sent to the free throw line and drilled two free throws with 4:25 left to play.

With 3:31 left to play, he hit two other free throws to keep his team in front, 62-56. With 2:54, he again connected on two from the charity stripe for a 66-56 Betsy Layne lead. On the inbounds play by McDowell, Kidd stole the ball and scored. Betsy Layne 68, McDowell 56. After McDowell made it a 68-60 game, Kidd drills a long three-pointer to send his team up by 11 points, 71-60. After McDowell pulled to within seven, 71-64, Kidd hit an eight-foot jumper and it was 73-64.

Betsy Layne, who averaged more than 80 points in the three games, looked as if they were going to make short work of the Daredevils, pulling out to a good-size lead rather easily. Coach Newsome's ballclub led by 16 points at the half, 40-24, and their pressure defense was a problem for McDowell. Twice the Daredevils were forced to use up two time outs because they could not get the ball inbounds. Three times they were whistled for a five-second violation for not getting the ball in play in the allotted time.

Betsy Layne, behind the early scoring of Collins, kept the lead around 14 or 15 points until late in the third period when they went cold from the field and were guilty of some sloppy ball handling. Moore made his presence inside known as he led a McDowell charge that pulled the Daredevils to within six points. The run got the crowd more involved as the intensity picked up.

Moore scored on a pretty reverse layup and Shannon hit his first three-point basket with Tackett scoring on a layup with 1:23 left in the third period to make it a six-point game, 49-43. Betsy Layne got baskets from Aaron Swiger and Bartley to take a nine point, 53-44, lead into the fourth quarter.

Betsy Layne, as they did in the previous two tournament games, got into some serious foul trouble and Shannon Williams was the first to depart the game with 5:30 left to play. The loss of Williams sparked the Daredevils and they put together a frenzy 8-0 run and pulled to within one point of the Bobcats, 55-54, after which Newsome walked onto the floor and was called for a technical foul.

Betsy Layne could not convert uncontested layups as the team was searching for a way to slow McDowell down. The Daredevils were only down by four points, 60-56, when Moore was called for a technical foul and Kidd entered the contest.

"McDowell has a very good ballclub," Newsome said of his opponents. "They are a strong team."

It was Collins who was missing in the second half for Betsy Layne. He carried the Bobcats the first half, particularly the first period when he scored seven points quickly for a 7-2 Betsy Layne lead.

The Bobcats' defense took the high scoring Shannon out of his offense as he struggled to get to the basket. It was Moore who made an impact late in the first period when he came off the bench. He put back a rebound basket and scored on a layup to make it a 16-15 game. Betsy Layne took an 18-15 lead after the initial quarter.

A 10-1 run by Betsy Layne netted a 28-16 lead behind the play of Bartley and Howell.

Williams finished with six points before fouling out. Eddie Tibbs hit a second quarter three-pointer for three points. Bradley Brooks added two points and Swiger scored seven.

Jimmy Stumbo had five points for the Daredevils.

Betsy Layne goes to 3-0 on the young season while McDowell falls to 2-1.

Offense minded Betsy Layne blitz Stumbo 77-62 in Classic

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Betsy Layne Coach Dwight Newsome's elementary Bobcats can put some points on the scoreboard and that was evident when Betsy Layne met rival John M. Stumbo this past Friday night in the Right Beaver Classic at Patton Arena at Duff.

Four players scored in double figures for Betsy Layne, led by Scott Collins' 22 points. Shannon Williams added 14, Justin Barley and Josh Howell netted ten points each. Chase Gibson finished with seven points.

Aaron Prater, in his first season of organized basketball, led the Mustangs with 20 points. Larry Kiser tossed in 18, while Nathan Tackett scored 11.

It was mentor against former player as the two coaches met at midcourt just before the jump ball to start the game.

"I hope he remembers all the good things I've done for him," Stumbo Coach Hayes Hamilton, the mentor, said. Newsome played for Hamilton when he was in elementary school at Stumbo.

But once the ball went up for the start of the game, the father-son relationship ceased and the hardwood battle begun. The Mustangs were able to stay close to Betsy Layne despite the pressure the Bobcats applied. Stumbo managed to lead after the first stop, 12-10, but Betsy Layne scored 13 unanswered points to start the second quarter and to take a 23-12 lead.

Betsy Layne's aggressive defense also causes the Bobcats to get into foul trouble, but Coach Newsome has a long bench and he does substitute frequently. Stumbo attempted 24 free throws hitting only eight.

Betsy Layne's defense held Stumbo to only one field goal in the second period and the Mustangs did not connect on six free throw attempts in the quarter. Betsy Layne held a 30-14 lead at the half.

The Mustangs played hard, without starting center Adam Tackett, who went on a hunting trip.

Turnovers started to show on Stumbo in the third period as they fell behind by 25 points, 54-29.

A 10-3 run by the Mustangs in the final two minutes of the third period narrowed the margin down to 18. Stumbo made one last run in the fourth period when Coach Newsome went to his bench. The Mustangs reeled off ten straight points to close the gap to 12 points, 61-49. Coach Newsome immediately sent his starters back in and took control of the game once more.

Stevie Mitchell scored eight points for Stumbo and John Howell added five.

Bradley Brooks finished with four points for the Bobcats. Aaron Swiger, Josh Kidd, Nick Coleman, Brad Daugherty and Eddie Tibbs each scored two point each.

Williams hit four three-point baskets for Betsy Layne with Collins and Bartley having one trey each.

Stumbo 25-24. Martin would take a five-point lead on a turn around ten-footer by Johnson, a 14-foot jumper by Risner, and Sizemore's rebound put back for a 30-25 game.

The Lady Flashes held their biggest lead at seven points, 35-27 following a technical foul on Stumbo coach Danita Johnson. Howell hit three of the four shots and Martin was up by seven.

But the technical foul seemed to only make Stumbo play harder as the team scored six unanswered points on layups by Biliter, Parsons and Gigi Henson. Two of the baskets were results of two Martin turnovers.

After Martin got two free throws from Risner, Biliter hit the three-point basket.

Parsons and Hamilton finished with six points for Stumbo. Henson had two points and Cortney Hall added one point.

Johnson netted six points for

Martin with Sizemore and Smith finishing with four each.

Lady Bulldogs bite hard in win over Auxier

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Beth Combs scored 14 of her game-high 22 points in the second half to lead the Duff Lady Bulldogs to a 44-22 win over the Lady Hornets of Auxier last Friday night in the Right Beaver Classic at Patton Arena on the campus of Duff Elementary.

Duff had an easy time with the Lady Hornets, who appeared to run out of steam in the final period.

Brandi Wells had a good outing for Auxier, finishing with 17 points.

Wells scored 48 points in the two tournament games for an average of 24 points per game.

Duff went on an 18-0 run that netted them a 38-16 lead in the fourth quarter. The runs started in the third period when the Lady Bulldogs scored the final 10 points of the third quarter and the first eight of the fourth period.

The Lady Bulldogs led 18-11 at the half.

Nicole Moore scored the other five points for Auxier. April Sexton and Christina Crase totaled six points for Duff. Kari Osborne netted four with Mary Mullins, Amber Scott and Johnna Ison scoring two each.

Duff improved to 2-0 on the season and Auxier fell to 1-1.

Powers scores 27, but still Hornets lose

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Auxier's Ricky Powers had a career night as the Hornets hosted the Harold Red Devils last Wednesday night in grade school basketball. Powers scored his career high when he finished with 27 points. He drilled one three-point basket and was six of seven from the free throw line.

Jonathan Gillispie added ten points as the only other scorer for the Hornets.

Brandon Conway led Harold with 14 points and Doug Kidd scored in double figures with ten points.

The Red Devils raced out to a 12-9 first quarter lead with Conway scoring ten of his 14 points in the first period. It came down to a shoot out between Powers and Conway. Powers hit his trey and two field goals as the two teams exchanged leads. Conway scored two consecutive baskets that erased a 9-8 Auxier lead.

Auxier had trouble finding the basket in the second period as the team could only score four points, all by Powers. The Red Devils held a 26-13 halftime lead. Kidd and Keathley each had four points for Harold in the second period.

It was 36-22 after three quarters with Kidd scoring four points for the Red Devils. Keathley had six points in the fourth period when the game was put in the win column for Harold.

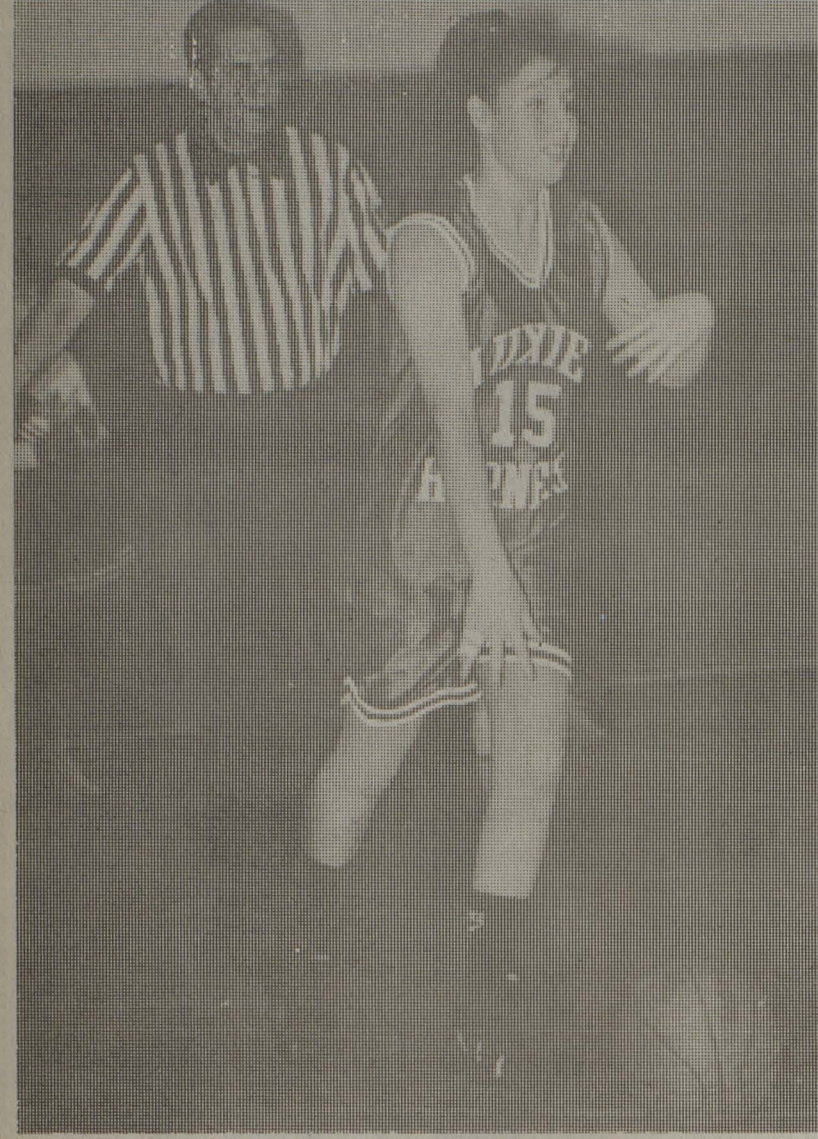

Robert Rose added eight points for Harold. Keathley finished with eight. Keathley netted six while Anthony Tackett tossed in four.

Duff. The smallest player to take part, but what a job she did when she got into the game. Leslie Martin. About the same size as Amber. Both played hard and well. The inspired play of Josh Kidd, Betsy Layne, in the championship game. He didn't back off regardless of how tall the rest were. Chad Samons, Martin. Another small player who performed well.

It was good, clean and wholesome fun for everyone.

Well, that was just the beginning of the grade school season. Many games remain to be played and it looks like we have some very, very good young players heading to the high school level.

Here is my all-tournament team, boys and girls. Now these are my picks and do not have any association with Duff Elementary or any of the other participating teams.

ED'S ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAMS (RIGHT BEAVER CLASSIC)

- Boys' All-Tournament Team:
- Scott Collins, Shannon Williams, Justin Bartley and Chase Gibson of Betsy Layne
 - Ryan Shannon, Byron Hall, Zack Layne and Kyle Tackett, McDowell.
 - Leslie Slone, Ryan Manns, Duff.

Crawford helps McDowell nip Maytown 37-36

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Martha Crawford and Sanya Tackett combined for 26 points to lead the Lady Daredevils of McDowell to a 37-36 edging of the Maytown Lady Wildcats Friday night in the Right Beaver Classic at Duff.

Crawford tossed in 14 points and Tackett finished with 12. Sheena Allen scored eight points.

Maytown missed a golden opportunity to tie the game and send it into overtime. Jessica Martin grabbed a rebound with 13 seconds left to play and put it back to make it a one point affair, 37-36. She was fouled on the play and stood at the charity stripe with the game on the line. But she misfired on the free throw and McDowell came up with the basketball for the victory.

But poor free throw shooting by the Lady Wildcats was not their only problem. Hitting uncontested layups proved to be just as damaging.

McDowell became their worst enemy as they failed to take care of the basketball. With less than 20 seconds left to play, McDowell lost control of the ball as it rolled out of bounds. Martin took the ball hard to the basket at the other end and missed a wide open layup with no one around. Angie Green was fouled on the rebound, but she could not connect on two attempts from the charity stripe. On the second miss, Martin grabbed the rebound and stuck it back in and was fouled. McDowell held an 11-point lead, 22-11, at the start of the third period. But Maytown chipped away at the lead to narrow the margin to three, 24-21, on a layup by Barbara Prater with 2:44 left to play. A short jumper by Tackett and her rebound basket gave the Lady Daredevils a 28-21 lead with just under two minutes to play.

Still Maytown wouldn't quit. Martin scored on a 12-foot jumper and Angie Green made a layup with 24 seconds left in the third period to pull her team to within three, 28-25. McDowell lost control of the basketball and Martin scored on a lay up just ahead of the horn as the Lady Wildcats trailed by one, 28-27.

Anna Mitchell's rebound basket tied the game at 29-29 with 4:49 left to play. But Maytown turned the ball over on their next three possessions. Sheena Allen gave McDowell the 31-29 lead on a super play underneath the basket. The score was tied at 31-31 before Maytown took its first and only lead of the game at 32-31 on a free throw by Prater.

Allen scored on a steal and Monica Newsome came up with a loose ball and scored to give McDowell a 35-32 lead. Tackett scored on a good post-up move in the lane and McDowell went on top 37-32. Maytown's rally fell short and they dropped to 1-1 on the season.

Crawford was very active in the first half of the game. She had all 14 of her points in the first two quarters. She hit a three-point basket early in the second period that gave McDowell a 13-4 lead.

The Lady Daredevils looked like a team that could be a county contender this season.

Maytown rally falls short in 66-61 loss to McDowell

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Up to the final quarter, the game between McDowell and Maytown was just your ordinary basketball game where one team builds a lead and then comes home with the win without any problem.

Not when you play the Maytown Wildcats!

Coach Rick Hancock has his teams ready and they never know the word quit. They play hard the full 32 minutes of the game.

Such was the case against McDowell last Thursday night in the first round of the Right Beaver Classic at Duff. McDowell coasted to a big lead behind the scoring of Ryan Shannon, but had to fight for their lives in the fourth quarter in securing a 66-61 win over the Wildcats.

While most teams have an array of standout players, Maytown has none. They have a group of players who are scrappy and play hard, never believing they are out of a game.

The Daredevils blew out to a 35-19 lead in the second quarter as they were breaking free for layups, getting rebound baskets and hitting free throws. Shannon, a very good shooting guard, hit ten points in the second quarter and had 14 at halftime as McDowell led 37-23 at the half.

In the third period, McDowell led by as many as 14 points and still held a comfortable lead, 52-42, after three quarters of play.

Then came the fourth quarter and here came the Wildcats. Employing a full-court pressure defense, the Cats scratched their way back into the game by taking the Daredevils out of their half-court game and forcing them to run the ball up court. The result: turnovers for the Daredevils.

Shannon had just hit a three-pointer to give McDowell a 59-46 lead. Maytown pressured the ball and a short base-line jumper by Brandon Hoover, a layup by Stevie Bailey, and Hoover's basket off a McDowell turnover cut the lead to seven, 59-52, with McDowell coach Brent Rose calling a time out.

After the Daredevils regrouped, Shannon hit an eight footer and canned three of four free throws to extend the lead back to eight, 64-52, with just more than two minutes left to play.

But the Wildcats weren't through growling. A short jumper by Tim Davis and Richard Brown's three-point basket made it a 64-57 game. Two turnovers by McDowell allowed Maytown to get right back in it. Hoover stole the ball and went the length of the court for a basket and Brown scored inside to make it a three point game, 64-61. With 17 seconds left to play, Shannon connected on two free throws to seal the win for McDowell.

McDowell jumped out early, scoring the first 11 points of the game. Zack Layne hit the first of his four three-pointers in the first quarter as McDowell led 11-0. The Daredevils went up 14-2 before Maytown scored the final seven points of the quarter to trail 16-9. David hit a three-pointer in the first for the Wildcats.

Layne had two treys in the second period as McDowell built a 37-23 halftime lead. McDowell's biggest lead came in the third period at 17 points, 41-24.

Layne finished with 12 points for McDowell with Jimmy Stumbo and Kyle Tackett scoring seven each. John Meade finished with six and Byron Hall tossed in four. Steve Ward scored two points.

Hoover topped Maytown's scoring with 24 points. Brown added 14 and Bailey scored ten. Tim Davis finished with nine with Nathan Goble and Michael Hagans adding two each.

CINCY GAME SAVED CURRY'S JOB BUT... KEY FOR PITINO 'CATS: THE HAPPY FACTOR

Yes the Cincinnati victory probably saved Bill Curry's job (if he wants it). But how much optimism can Kentucky fans have if Moe Williams opts for the NFL draft.

Interesting that Williams stepped up for his coach while talking to reporters after UK's victory Saturday.

Whether or not Tim Couch signs with Kentucky, Wildcat football has itself a caliber of quarterback every coach hopes for in Billy Jack Haskins. Grit, courage and "...yeah it hurts, coach, but lemme go back in."

LOYALTY....?

Whatsamatter with folks north of the Ohio River these days, spewing hatred at Art Modell for taking the Cleveland Browns to Baltimore. What do fans expect in this life, loyalty?

Won't find any at the professional level.

In college, C.M. Newton, UK's director of athletics has become to Bill Curry what Atticus Finch was to Tom Robinson, the ultimate loyalist. And...some of us sat up and took notice the other day when Rick Pitino said "...this is my seventh season at Kentucky."

Seven years. Let's hear a little loyalty applause of Da Coach. Then those of us who thought the number would never get past four, raise our hands.

Is Pitino's seventh season the One? Pollsters believe so. UK is ranked No. 1 in 11 of 18 various preseason ratings. Kansas is next with seven.

"What's the key to UK's success this year?" a fan asked last week. Team play. Not an easy thing for an all-star team.

• What to watch for: On offense, the assist column. On defense, willingness of all-stars to apply, in concert, furious all-court, three quarter and half-court defense.

• Key, the Happy Factor: Pitino must artfully divvy up playing time and media space to everyone's satisfaction? Will there be enough great epithets to go around? Stay tuned.

Unless Kentucky is unbeaten at Christmas, watch for Pitino's pre-SEC doctor routine. "We still don't have a point guard? or "What we need is a center."

In the end, if Da Coach molds this outfit into a national champion, persuades his all-stars to sacrifice, play together, then he deserves Coach of the Year honors. Unanimous.

Another key: Keep Dick Vitale away from UK players. The ABC/ESPN motor mouth could be on hand for as many as eight UK games during the regular season alone.

• Individually. After watching the Wildcats in preseason — Anthony Epps is still the most reliable and least selfish on the team. Player likely to make big difference — Derek Anderson, a very good shooter, who can be very good passer. Most likely to be to this team what Jack Givens was to '75 NCAA runner-up team — Ron Mercer, steady over spectacular. Top candidate to be this year's problem child, Antoine Walker. The man or go-to-guy/team leader — Tony Delk. Critical roles — Walter McCarty on the boards, likewise Jared Prickett, and Jeff Sheppard off the bench.

Final Four predictions? My dance card reads: Kansas, Kentucky, Georgetown and Louisville.

CHEERS 'N JEERS

CHEERS to Rick Pitino who reportedly has scratched from UK's recruiting list, the name Jermaine O'Neal after the Columbia, S.C. high school star was arrested and charged with having sex with a 15-year old.

JEERS to Art Modell.

CHEERS to Louisville Coach Denny Crum for his remark in Memphis last week that is sure to energize rich housewives everywhere. Asked what would you like to come back as in a second life? Crum responded "an (Louisville) East End housewife because they don't have to work. They go to the country club every day and play golf and play cards and eat and socialize. No responsibility."

JEERS to Miami Heat Coach Pat

Riley who told his players anyone helping an opponent up from the floor will be fined $1,500.

CHEERS to KET for airing Hoop Dreams this Wednesday. The highly acclaimed documentary focused on the vagaries of two inner-city youngsters. Arthur Agee and William Gates, who grew up dreaming the NBA dream, but who became victims of their families, coaches along the way, and their own naiveté.

JEERS to NBA basketball (National Brawl Assoc.). Permit me a suggestion — Send a message. Do not feed this monster. Do not spend your money on any NBA endorsed products. None. Zero.

CHEERS to Jaime Walz who signed with the Western Kentucky Lady Hilltopper last week, saying, "I wasn't sure I wanted to be the leader and the go-to player anymore. At Western I'll be just another player."

CHEERS to Lady Hilltopper Coach Paul Sanderford for uttering the perfect combo compliment challenge. Walz, he said, "could be on the USA's Olympic team in the year 2,000."

JEERS to media herd's latest fashionable way to report a dunk. Flush it.

CHEERS to University of Cincinnati Coach Bob Huggins for kicking reserve Marcus Moss off the team for not attending practice. No ifs, and or buts.

KHSAA ARCHIVES

Want to revisit an exhilarating moment in Kentucky high school athletics? The KHSAA archives are now open and located at Eastern Kentucky University in the John Grant Crabbe Library.

Remember the three-overtime classic in the 1983 Sweet 16 between Carlisle County and Henry Clay? It's on tape. Or the 1988 classic Sweet 16 showdown matching Allan Houston and Ritchie Farmer. It's on video as well.

Photos, newspaper clips, game programs, items about your alma mater, are all available now at Eastern.

"It's a treasure trove of information, a marvelous resource," Charles Hay, EKU Archivist, says.

KHSAA Commissioner Louis Stout: "Eastern is the best place for this. They've done an amazing job breaking down the records by school."

The EKU Special Collections and Archives Section is open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday. Anyone who would like to donate an item, box score, news clip, anything, should call the KHSAA at 606-299-05472. For more information telephone Hay at 606-622-1792.

MERRIWEATHER MILESTONE

Most remarkable performance in Kentucky high school football for the 1995 season belonged to Leslie County's Tim Couch, right? Wrong!

Consider Todd County quarterback/safety Malcolm Merriweather. In a 45-28 victory over Fulton November 3, Merriweather threw for a touchdown, rushed for 126 yards, recovered a fumble and intercepted five passes.

KHSAA figures are sketchy, but five pass interceptions in one game is unofficially an all-time record.

DIS 'N DATA

Remember this name — Marcus Brown, Murray State. The 6-5 senior will be the 'Breds best gift to the NBA since...Popeye Jones. And remember this name — Jermaine Brown, Georgetown College, could be KIAC Player of the Year. Joke around the Southeastern Conference — Rick Pitino has more autobiographies than NCAA titles, three to zero. Repeat after me, Tommy Bowden. While I am not so sure, one SEC sage whispered last week, "Tommy would take the Kentucky job in a heart beat." Trailing by ten, 1,126 to 1,116, can Kentucky catch North Carolina, the nation's winningest college basketball program this season?

Heisman Trophy. I'm having difficulty resisting the urge to write the words Darnell Autry (Northwestern) at the top of my ballot. But Danny Wuerffel (Florida), then Tommy Frazier (Nebraska) are still 1-2.

MORE AND LESS

Sports landscape. Things I would like to see more and less of today.

• More Hakemm Olajuwon, Cal Ripken and Pete Sampras. Less Rob Dibble and George Belle, Steve Spurrier and Deion Sanders.

• More sanity between player's unions and franchise owners.

• More Raphaei Belliard. Less Greg Maddux...More smiles on the faces of baseball players.

• One time see a pitcher ask a batter he's just plunked with a pitch, "hey, you all right?"

• More basketball players helping opponents up from the floor and less standing over him/her woofing.

• More golfers like Tiger Woods and more thoroughbred horses with names like Cigar.

• More talking heads like Joe Morgan, Bob Costas and less about Steffi Graff's tax problems.

• More good copy about umpires/game officials. Less teevie replays of how umpires miss calls.

• More Colin Powell and less Louis Farrakhan.

• More demonstrative sportsmanship, more kindness, more respect. More fun.

Rebound

Betsy Layne seventh grader Chase Gibson (32) pulled down this rebound over Martin's Jeremy Sexton. The two teams met in the first round of the Right Beaver Classic last week at Duff. Betsy Layne won 91-70 over the Purple Flash. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Shannon's 29 points lead McDowell past Duff

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The McDowell Daredevils moved into the championship game of the Right Beaver Classic by whipping the Duff Bulldogs 57-45 at Duff Saturday night, but the Daredevils had to hold a late Duff charge to secure the win.

Ryan Shannon netted 29 points for McDowell driving the lane and slashing to the basket. Shannon hit four three-point baskets. Byron Hall added nine points for the Daredevils with Zack Layne scoring eight. Layne hit two three-point baskets.

Leslie Slone led Duff with 16 points and Ryan Manns netted 11. Matt Hall, on some strong moves inside, totaled 12 points for the Bulldogs.

McDowell dominated the game through the first three quarters, but appeared to tire in the fourth quarter. Duff scored seven unanswered points to start the fourth period to make it a 42-29 game. McDowell had trouble handling the Bulldogs' press. Slone scored all seven points for Duff and completed a three-point play to conclude the run.

Jimmy Stumbo hit one of two free throws to break the drought for McDowell, but a jumper by Slone, a three-point basket by Manns and two Slone free throws put Duff to within seven points, 43-36, of the Daredevils with 3:11 to play.

A free throw by Hall gave McDowell a ten-point lead with under two minutes to play at 48-38. But Duff stayed close and refused to fold as Matt Hall grabbed a rebound and scored, then hit two free throws for a 48-42 game.

Duff committed two critical turnovers and McDowell took advantage of the mistakes and got two free throws from Kyle Tackett, a layup by Shannon, and Byron Hall's rebound basket to go in front 54-42.

Duff had a chance to pull close to the Daredevils after Shannon was whistled for a technical for mouthing the officials. Manns hit the first of the two-shot technical, but the Bulldogs turned the ball over on the possession and time ran out for Duff.

McDowell led 13-7 behind the scoring of Shannon after the first quarter. Shannon hit a three to start the game and had nine points in the first quarter.

Duff pulled to within four points, 15-11, in the second quarter, but Shannon scored seven straight points to give his team a 22-11 advantage. Layne buried a trey at the end of the second quarter to stake McDowell to a 25-15 first half lead.

McDowell's biggest lead came in the third period when they scored six unanswered points for a 42-22 lead after three quarters.

John Meade came off the bench and scored four points for McDowell. Tackett finished with six and Jimmy Stumbo scored one point.

Brent Slone had four points for Duff with Rodney Scott tossing in two points.

Duff was playing without two starters as Rodney Bentley and Shawn Henson were suspended for the tournament because of an infraction at school.

Reinstated Gillispie sparks Auxier past MCA, 47-30

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Jonathan Gillispie returned to the Auxier Hornets line-up after having to sit out the first game of the season and he did it in a big way.

The Hornet center scored a game-high 22 points to lead the Hornet to their first win in two seasons. Auxier posted a 47-30 win over the Mountain Christian Academy Falcons. Ricky Powers added 14 points in the win.

Matt Goey and Kyle Scalf scored eight each to lead MCA.

The Hornets' defense held the Falcons to only two points in the first period as they ran out to a 11-2 lead. Goey hit two free throws for the Falcons as they went without a field goal. The Falcons missed six charity tosses in the first quarter.

Powers hit two first quarter baskets for Auxier.

Gillispie had eight of his 22 points in the second period as the Hornets built a 26-10 halftime lead.

Powers tossed in six second quarter points.

Auxier continued to build on the lead in the third period and held a 37-19 advantage after three quarters. The Falcons could never recover.

Randy O'Neal scored four points for MCA. Dustin Stumbo added three, as did Andrew Burchett. Drew Petry scored two while Bard Barnette and Joe Fitzgerald had one point each.

Donald Derossett netted four points for the Hornets with Brian Collins, Matt Woods and Chris Vaughn scoring two each.

The Hornets connected on three of nine free throws for 33 percent.

MCA attempted 42 free throws and hit only 12.

NOVEMBER BRINGS BITTERSWEET TIME

Although my father passed away a little more than three years ago, I often enjoy remembering some of the entertaining stories he would share with me about his days as a youngster growing up in the 1930s.

One of his favorite activities was getting to go to the "picture show." His story was always the same. You know... "I had to walk five miles to get there. I bought my movie ticket, popcorn, soda-pop, and box of Milk Duds all for less than 15 cents. Gene Autry rode in on his white horse, shot the bad guys, saved the girl and rode off into the sunset.

Dad always made it clear he was anxious for the cowboy to ride in and save the day, but it always made him sad to leave the theater when the movie was over. He would have to wait at least another week before he could do it again. He used to say it was bittersweet.

Dad, I know what you mean. For race fans all over this land of ours, November marks a rather bittersweet time. Yes, we hungrily thrive in all the hoopla of crowning a champion, yet we cannot help but feel a certain amount of sadness due to the fact that another Winston Cup season is ending. It's a love/hate kind of deal.

And last Sunday, the 1995 NASCAR Winston Cup season became part of the history books when Doyle Ford waved his checkered flag on the field at the NAPA 500 in Atlanta. I hate to use clichés, but this one just fits to a tee — Dale Earnhardt won the battle, however, it was Jeff Gordon who won the war.

After leading an early race lap, Gordon wrapped up the championship in what has been a monumentally successful season for the 24-year-old. He and his entourage of Rainbow Warriors will be the recipients of the $1,300,000 championship bonus to be handed out by series sponsor, Winston, at the Winston Cup Awards Banquet in New York City.

Dale Earnhardt didn't go down without a fight. Of course one would expect that. For the driver of the GM Goodwrench Chevrolet, it was simply a case of too little too late. His string of ten consecutive top ten finishes continued with his dominating victory in the NAPA 500. Earnhardt led 268 of the race's 328 laps.

Sterling Marlin's top-five finish allowed him to reclaim the third-place spot over Mark Martin in the final point standings. For Martin, grabbing the position meant an extra $100,000.

Mark Martin and Rusty Wallace were the first Ford drivers to stake their claims in the final point standings. Martin's fourth place spot among the leaders marks the third consecutive season he has been in the top-five at the season's end.

And while I'm at it, a big thumbs-up to Rusty Wallace for putting up his strong season-ending numbers under the circumstances of losing many of his team members to other organizations during the last part of the season.

Next week, I'll let you know who you, the fans, have selected as the 1995 TNC Winston Cup Driver of the Year.

Yep, dad, I know how you felt when ol' Gene rode off into the sunset.

Lady Railsplitters edge Kentucky Crusaders 81-73

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

In their final tune up before the real season begins on November 21, the Lincoln Memorial Lady Railsplitters edged a group of former college players 81-73 in an exhibition game at home.

The Lady Railsplitters open their regular season at home against Milligan College.

Robin Cox, a 5' 10" senior forward, hit ten of 21 field goal attempts as she scored a team-high 21 points to lead Lincoln Memorial past the Kentucky Crusaders with April Hutsell tossing in 12 points. Heather Brown scored in double figures with ten points.

Former Prestonsburg Lady Blackcat standout Jamie Ratcliff played 11 minutes of the game and hit her only field goal attempt, a three-pointer, to finish with three points. Ratcliff pulled down three rebounds and had three assists.

Former LMU All-American Debbie Green led the Crusaders with 25 points. Kathy Wooten was the only other Crusader in double figures with 17 points.

Neither team shot well from the floor with the Lady Crusaders hitting a poor 34.1 percent on 29 of 85 from the floor. They shot a cool 39 percent from the three-point circle and 75 percent from the charity stripe.

Lincoln Memorial was a little better with 41.6 percent shooting from the floor. The Lady Railsplitters hit nine of 23 attempts from the 19' 9" circle for 39.1 percent shooting.

Lincoln Memorial committed 19 turnovers in the game compared to 15 for the Lady Crusaders. Ratcliff had three turnovers.

Cox pulled in 13 rebounds for the Lady Railsplitters while center Tennille Blair had 11 caroms. Lincoln Memorial out rebounded the Lady Crusaders 58-52.

Lincoln trailed Kentucky 42-38 at the half, but put together a strong second half to come from behind and record the win.

Betsy Layne places six in double figures

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

91 points in one game!
Done every day? Not in grade school basketball!

But for the Betsy Layne Elementary Bobcats, the final score is indicative of their ability to put some points on the scoreboard and are one of the favorites to win the county championship this season.

Justin Bartley scored 20 points to lead five players in double figures in the 91-70 win over a good Martin Purple Flash team. Chase Gibson, just a seventh grader, added 18 points and Josh Howell finished with 14. Scott Collins and Josh Kidd finished with 12 and 11 points respectively.

Patrick Martin and Larry Mullins scored 19 points each to lead Martin. Mullins' points came from the free throw line where he hit 12 of 18 tries. Jeremy Sexton netted 14 points for Martin.

Finding themselves open and missing uncontested shots underneath haunted Martin as they fell behind 54-30 in the third period. Martin did have a third quarter run where the team outscored Betsy Layne 16-4, 56-44. Sexton scored seven points in the spurt. Martin hit a three-point shot and scored on a 14-footer to pull the Purple Flashes to within 12 points.

But Betsy Layne regrouped and went on an 8-2 run for a 64-46 lead.

Four players fouled for Betsy Layne as a result of "kamakazee defense." The Bobcats are very aggressive defensively and do commit a high number of fouls.

Martin stayed close to Betsy Layne from the foul line in the first quarter. With the new rule this season of shooting two free throws after ten team fouls, the Purple

Flashes did not have to wait too long to get there.

Martin shot ten free throws in the first period alone, hitting six of them. Betsy Layne built a 15-9 lead, only to see Martin tie the game at 15-15 on a rebound basket by the smallest man on the floor, Chad Samons. Brad Daugherty hit a long desperation shot, a three-pointer, from almost center court as the horn sounded to end the first quarter. Betsy Layne led 18-15 at the initial stop.

Bartley hit a three-pointer and scored on a layup to start the second quarter and Betsy Layne rolled after that. The Bobcats led 40-25 at the half.

Martin lived at the free throw line in the fourth period as Betsy Layne players started to exit the game. Shannon Williams, Josh Howell, Justin Barley, Brooks Bradley and Aaron Swiger each departed with five fouls. Betsy Layne was whistled for 36 team fouls while Martin had 13.

Coach Dwight Newsome continued to freely substitute throughout the game and the deep bench did not hurt the Bobcats' game plan. Williams had only six points in the game, but played well off the boards. Daugherty had six points as well.

Swiger, who was in early foul trouble and had to sit the bench, finished with two points.

Samons finished with seven points for Martin. Dale Banks and Dwight McKinney scored three each. Henry Napier and Chris Damron scored two points apiece.

Martin attempted 47 free throws connecting on 29. Betsy Layne shot 14 and hit five.

OUTDOORS FISHIN' TIPS

HUMMINBIRD PROS

Multiple Uses For Boat Cushion

The U.S. Coast Guard requires a number of safety features on a fishing boat. In addition to a fire extinguisher, boat paddle, sounding device, navigational lights, life jackets, and kill switch is required a throwable cushion.

If you're a hunter, as well as a fisherman, here's a suggestion for selecting your next cushion. Choose one in a camouflage pattern. Be sure it has the U.S.C.G. approved label.

Deer hunters can cart these up a tree and use them in their stands. Dove hunters can take them to the fields. Duck hunters can use them two-fold. Carry it in the duck boat as a safety cushion and use it in the blind as a seat. Reflective tape along one edge serves a good night time purpose.

But it's too early to buy Christmas toys

Apparently, it's never too early to start thinking about Christmas. I mean, here it is still more than a week until Thanksgiving and we're being inundated with Christmas stuff.

TV is already selling the Christy Lane albums, department stores have displayed their cute little snoring Santas, and I've seen at least one newspaper article attempting to explain the best way for parents to let their kids know that even Santa's well runs dry sometimes.

Ironically, the same article listed 18 to 20 of what is expected to be this season's most popular toys. They range from a one-dollar box of Crayola crayons to a video game called Sega Saturn which sells for $400. They also list a Pocahontas doll from Mattel for $15.

The problem, at least from my perspective, is that since the season starts so early, coupled with the fact that kids change their minds in a heart beat, by the time Christmas actually gets here, all these new toys might be out of style. That means early shoppers, like my wife Wilma (who will have all her major purchases wrapped and hidden away long before the "shopping-days-to-go" countdown begins), may end up with a bunch of expensive stuff that nobody really wants.

Who's to say that the appeal for the Baywatch Barbie, for example, won't be replaced by the new Kids from KERA dolls? You know the ones I mean. You wait until it rains, wind them up, and they run out in it.

Poison Oak

And what if the Playstation System by Sony Computer Entertainment is forced to give way to the Curry and the Wildcats video game? That's the one where, no matter which button you push, you lose.

The Kitchen Center All-In-One by Fischer-Price is bound to lose out to the brand smacking' new Paul Patton-DemoMachine vacuum cleaner; the one that guarantees a clean sweep, right down to the last peanut. It has a four-year warranty...with an option (but no guarantee) for four more.

New "Pull-the-string-and-I-talk" toys, are bound to go over big, too, including the sharply dressed Colin Powell doll. You pull his string and he says, "I'm not running, but boy wasn't that a good book."

A hit locally will undoubtedly be the talking Batman and Robin Cooper Pooper Scooper doll. It comes equipped with a pair of gum boots and a shovel. You pull the string and he says, "Waste not, want not! Waste not, want not!"

I guess what we really need to do, then, is take a wait-and-see attitude before we jump in and start buying gifts, especially toys. Like everything else in today's world, kids' tastes change daily.

AND SPEAKING of kids, as one growing up in an Eastern Kentucky mining camp, I practically lived in a state of confusion.

The recent controversy surrounding the use of tobacco products reminds me of a time when smoking cigarettes was just something else to add to that confusion.

When I was six or seven years old, mom couldn't keep brown store pokes because I kept cutting them up into cigarette paper in order to roll and smoke life-ever-lastin'.

Neither mom nor dad ever as much as scolded me for smoking that, but when I tried a Philip Morris that my uncle had left smoldering on the kitchen table, I caught the dickens.

It seemed that everybody who wanted to smoke could, except me.

It sure was confusing.

Murder Along
the Pioneer Trails

There were unsavory characters and terror along the pioneer trails.

The terrain of Northeast Tennessee, Southeast Kentucky and Western Virginia was largely forested in the dangerous times of the late 1700s and early 1800s. People traveled in groups or companies as dangers lurked around the next curve and over the next hill.

Micajah and Wiley Harpes, brothers from North Carolina, crossed the tri-state area in 1799 and murder and mayhem rode with them.

Micajah was a large, unkempt man while Wiley was smaller but equally vile. The two had a knack for befriending individuals they encountered along the trails and then waylaying them after catching them off guard.

In early April of 1799 they murdered a 12-year-old boy as he was returning from an errand. After killing another man for his horse and money, his body was covered with brush and leaves alongside the trail.

The Harpes were captured but escaped and continued their spree as they murdered a man for his gun and then used it to kill two other men, taking their canoe.

In late July of that year, they killed the young son of Chesley Coffey and tried to make it appear as though his horse had led him under a tree with low hanging branches. Two days later they killed William Ballard new Knoxville. They cut his stomach open and filled it with rocks before sinking him in the river.

Robert and James Brassel were overtaken by the Harpes on July 29 and were asked the news of the day. The Brassels said several men had been murdered and that it was thought the Harpes could be in the area. They were unaware they were in the presence of the wanted men.

The Harpes said they were in pursuit of the killers and said they would have to tie up the Brassels until others arrived because they thought they could be the guilty party. James Brassel agreed to be tied but his brother could not be duped. He bolted and ran with the Harpes shooting after him as he fled.

Later when Robert returned with a group of six men and one of their wives, they found his brother "dreadfully butchered." The Harpes had fled toward Knoxville. Then men followed hoping to overtake them. The Harpes learned that a posse was ahead so they turned back toward Kentucky putting them on a collision course with Robert Brassel and the men who had been tracking them.

The two parties came upon each other so suddenly they each let the other pass without incident. Robert Brassel had difficulty restraining himself but he knew that he must.

Robert soon met another company of men riding toward Kentucky and they agreed to kill the Harpes so he went with them. Soon after entering Kentucky they came upon a company of men looking for a Mr. Tulle whose body they soon found covered by logs near the road.

Written statements were sent to Frankfort and Knoxville for purposes of publishing so as to alert the public of the Harpes. The two wanted brothers heard of this and tried to overtake the messenger going to Frankfort but couldn't catch him. Word of the Harpes spread and people were afraid to open their doors and few traveled far from home.

The Harpes came upon a man named Graves who was clearing land along with his son. One of the brothers grabbed the ax from the younger Graves and used it to kill the two. The bodies were later found under a pile of brush when a flock of buzzards gathered nearby.

Soon thereafter they went to the Stigall home which they burned after murdering the three occupants.

A dozen men pursued the Harpes and after two days they came upon them, catching them in the act of assaulting a man and his wife. The man being held at gunpoint by the Harpes was killed during the gunfire that followed. At their first opportunity the brothers took off at a fast gait on the horses they had stolen.

The posse chased after them for several miles before overtaking Micajah. They shot round after round at him as Wiley Harpes continued riding away.

"Fire away you dogs," he bellowed. "You've not hit me yet."

Captain Christian fired a shot, striking Micajah, but he continued to ride along, seemingly unaffected.

A man by the name of Leeper jumped from his horse in order to get a better shot and his volley

Salatino to sign book Sunday

by Patti M. Clark
Staff Writer

It's an age-old question and it concerns something few people want to talk about — poverty.

Dr. Anthony J. Salatino tries to answer the question of whether Eastern Kentucky will ever break the grips of poverty in his new book "Will Appalachia Finally Overcome Poverty?"

Released by McClanahan Publishing House this summer, the book has already received rave reviews from all over the country.

"Dr. Anthony Salatino gives us a profound look at the reality of poverty and how it might be overcome," Martha Sexton, literary critic for the "Tennessean," said.

"A.J. Salatino sincerely looks at Appalachia's problems from the past to the present with calls for action, which are necessary for regional improvement," corporate CEO William Madden said.

Salatino will be signing the book from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday at Ritchie's Hallmark. The store is located at 22 Court Street. For more information, call 886-8111.

The author received his doctorate degree from Columbia University. He has lived and worked in Appalachia, serving as academic dean at Alice Lloyd College, in Pippa Passes in the early 1960s.

His professional background includes serving as a college campus CEO at Rockville, Maryland, and director of the Institute on Educational Accountability. He has also taught at several educational institutions, including Columbia University and the State University of New York at Buffalo.

He also gained national recognition as a consultant, researcher and popular speaker in the fields of health, education, and management.

Throughout his professional life, Dr. Salatino's unending passion for the people of Appalachia to overcome poverty has led him to write the book.

He has recently received the Charles Award for Literary Excellence relating to social consciousness.

Salatino remembers his first experience with Eastern Kentucky when his father brought his family here for the funeral of a friend who died after he developed black lung disease after years of working in the mines.

His look at the area was much more in depth years later when he was serving at Alice Lloyd.

"Appalachia didn't develop its uniquely difficult economic situation overnight," Salatino said. "The dynamics that combined to produce the region's signature set of hardships have evolved since the late 1700s."

Other reviewers have praised the book "as a masterpiece of social and economic importance for the people of Appalachia."

Anne F. Caudill, the widow of Appalachian writer Harry Caudill, said her husband would have found the book of "great interest and a valuable contribution." She also said "nobody has summarized and assessed the last 15 years of Appalachia's changes any better than Dr. Salatino."

The book looks at local government, health and health care, education, and coal mining in different eras of Appalachia's history, beginning with 1750 and running to the present, with an additional chapter on "The Future — A Time for Change."

It explains how "greedy business interests, corrupt and neglectful officials, or a lack of the basics for economic development have combined to keep Appalachia disadvantaged as other regions prospered," Salatino said.

The book also recounts the efforts of several humanitarians who have tried to focus the people of Appalachia so they might improve against the tough odds.

These people include Father Ralph Beiting and his work with the Christian Appalachian Project, Eula Hall and her work with the Mud Creek Clinic, Dr. Grady Stumbo, the late Dr. Campbell and his staff at Prestonsburg Community College, and, of course, former governor Bert Combs.

Second generation

Matthew Skeens, son of Tony and Mary Skeens, is a student at Clede's Daycare. His mother and father are former students at the same center. The children at the daycare have been very busy decorating the center for Halloween with their own artwork. In doing so, they have learned much about colors and shapes. They have also been learning the difference between real and pretend. They know that Halloween is really not scary at all, but is a time to celebrate with costumes, parties, games, and trick or treating.

Michael and Barbara MacKenzie, Hillsdale, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Tiffany-Marie MacKenzie, August 17, at the Hillsdale Community Health Center. She weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce. Maternal grandparents are Alice Slete, Hillsdale, and Mr. and Mrs. Kent Slete, Hanover. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill James Flanery of Michigan Center. Paternal great-grandmother is Dorothy Fogel, Litchfield; great-great-grandparents are Grace Flanery of Martin and the late Parley Flanery.

Nothing.

That's right. Now you can save up to 30% on residential local toll calls to nearby communities automatically with BellSouth. Whenever you make more than $20 of local toll calls a month, BellSouth will discount those calls by 30%. There's no need to sign up - the savings are automatic. In fact, you could be saving 30% right now, just by calling the way you always have. Plus, after the first 30 seconds, your calls are charged in six-second increments, instead of whole minutes. So, with BellSouth, charges end just after your conversation does, instead of at the next whole minute. Isn't it nice to know there's one phone company that provides real value every day?

Think About It...

by Sheldon Lee Compton

MY TOY CHEST IDOL
When I was a kid I had a toy chest-like most kids. It was the kind with padded sides and a top with pictures of boys and girls running and having a good time on it. I loved my toy chest. As a matter of fact, it was my second favorite toy.

My most favorite was my Ernie puppet.

I'm speaking, of course, about the Ernie of the beloved Bert and Ernie pair.

Ernie and I would spend hours at a time down inside my toy chest carrying on conversations about the color of Superman's cape and why The Power Company only came on once a day. Ernie was one of my best friends and I still have him, battered but in one piece, in a box beside my desk. I planned to give him to my son, Tyler, but now I'm not so sure.

It's possible that Tyler will never be able to watch Bert and Ernie because someone, somewhere, decided it would be best to take them off the air.

On my way to Prestonsburg a couple of mornings ago, I made my usual stop at Vance Quick Mart for a Pepsi and a bacon biscuit. While I was waiting in line, I caught some of the news playing over the loudspeakers. A gruff voice came over the speakers and told me that Bert and Ernie were being taken off the air. I could hear that his voice was breaking. He loved Bert and Ernie, too, but was trying to maintain a firmness for the radio. He went on to say the reason was because the show promoted homosexuality.

My heart stopped for two or three seconds and I nearly dropped my biscuit over the shoulder of the woman ahead of me.

Homosexuality?
I asked the woman in front of me if she had heard what the man had said. It didn't hurt to double check to make sure I wasn't going crazy.

"Yeah, I heard it. They do sleep in the same bed, you know. I guess they're right to do that, ain't they? I mean take it off the air, not sleep in the same bed."

I told her it was ridiculous to take them off the air. It never bothered me that they slept in the same bed, and then I skipped in front of her, stepping on her foot as I did so.

Who made this decision? Rush Limbaugh is my guess, or someone just as stupid as he.

For the moment, allow me to lay my bias aside. Let's look at it in another way. Is this the biggest problem facing us? Maybe in Bill Clinton's dreams, but in reality, where most of us like to stay, it's not even on the scale. So why is so much attention being given to it? The people with the power are afraid to not give attention to it.

Back to my biased opinion.

This is Bert and Ernie we're talking about here, puppets loved by me and children all across America. Bert and Ernie are as American as apple pie. Are we going to yank apple pie off store shelves because it can make you gain weight?

There will be a meeting of the Mud Creek Community Resource Center Council on Wednesday, November 15, at 4:30 p.m. in the John M. Stumbo Elementary Library.
All interested members of the public are invited to attend.

Mather and Patton exchange vows

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Moran Patton

Ms. Karen Lynn Mather of Waukesha, Wisconsin and Mr. Darwin Moran Patton of Auxier were united in marriage at 1 p.m. on September 16 at the St. Mary's Catholic Church. Father Michael Neuman officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and father, Mary and Thomas Mather of Madison, Wisconsin. She wore a white v-neck sequined gown with a long train, Victorian-style long sleeves and bustled with a large bow.

Her bridesmaids were Nancy Mather, Kelly Andrew, Christy Roberts and Sue Alswager. Catherine Karrels was the maid of honor. Kasey Mather was the junior bridesmaid.

The groom's parents' are Darwn and Christine Patton. The groom's father served as bestman. Groomsmen were Glen Chapman, Roger Akers, Brian, George, and Eric Mather.

Petition readers for the ceremony were David and Lindsay Mather. Soloist for the wedding was Matthew Kulzick, accompanied by his son, John on the trumpet and daughter, Katie, on the violin. Mary Dahl served as the organist.

Among the honored guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. James D. Clarke of Annandale, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, Rob and Liz of Belleville, Michigan; Francine Justice of Hennepin, Illinois, Peggy Cover and Patricia Padden of Euclid, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Colston of Spring, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fairchild, Tyrone and Ty Christopher Martin, all of Auxier.

A reception, dinner and dance was hosted by the bride's parents at the Best Western-Midway Hotel in Milwaukee. On the day of the wedding, an open house was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Bob and Laurel Walker of Waukesha.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted on September 15 by the groom's parents at the Albaneese Restaurant in Waukesha.

The couple honeymooned in Southern Indiana and Kentucky where they went fishing, hiking, and biking, eventually visiting the groom's family in Auxier at the end of their two-week trip.

The couple reside in Waukesha, Wisconsin.

a Medicare card?" The same way, somebody, someplace got his/her hands on a computerized list of Medicare recipients. A company who puts together such lists and offers them for sale will oftentimes, for a mammoth fee, sell the complete national list of every recipient. For a lesser fee a regional list can be purchased, and for an even lesser fee a list for only a very limited area—like, let's say the Big Sandy Area—can be purchased. If this potential Medicare fraud scam is presently limited to Kentucky, someone may have obtained a list consisting only of Kentuckians.

"O.K. But how does someone use my number to commit fraud?"

Senior citizens, we live in the age of instantaneous communications. Virtually everything is done by computers, fax, on-line services and other high-tech electronics. High-tech experts know how to crack the codes to get all kinds of information—even incorrect information—that was once considered "confidential." Today confidentiality is virtually non-existent. Unscrupulous technicians can program high-tech equipment to do anything they want done including illegal activities such as posting, transfer of funds, and even check writing—checks being made out, of course, to their "dummy" companies. They take the money and run with it. That is until they're caught in the fraud.

"This frightens me. What can I do about it if I feel I had one of those telephone calls or if I get one where I feel Medicare is going to be "ripped off?" Call Adminastar of Kentucky toll free at 1-800-999-7608. Adminastar handles Medicare claims in Kentucky.

"Will my call be confidential?" What do you think?

Sunshine Lines is brought to you as a service of the Kentucky Benefits Counseling Program for Senior Citizens serving Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, and Pike counties. For more information about this program call Carol Napier at 886-3876 or toll-free at 1-800-556-3876.

Launa Deal celebrates her 84th birthday

Mrs. Launa Deal of Lexington, recently celebrated her 84th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mary Lee Shockley of Benton, Illinois. Joining in the celebration were her other four daughters: Marlene Bartuka of Roanoke, Virginia; Patricia Collins of Florence, Nancy Hunter of LaGrange, Indiana; and Gwynne Katzenbach of Lafayette Hill, Pennsylvania. Two grandchildren, Kenneth Bartuka of Ogunquit, Maine and Richard Shockley II of Benton, Illinois were also in attendance.

evening at the Inland Steel Coal Company 25-year-club dinner.

Mrs. Deal is a former resident of Wheelwright where she was active in many civic affairs. She has been a member of the Eastern Star for over 50 years and while living in Wheelwright was involved in many fund raising functions for the Wheelwright band and football team.

For those who would like to extend additional birthday greetings she may be contacted at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Shockley, 406 N. Main Street, Benton, Illinois 62812.

Senior citizens, do you protect your Medicare Card number as you do your credit card numbers? You should!

A bulletin was received this week, via speedy fax transmission, from the Cabinet for Human Resources in Frankfort. Urgent, the bulletin read... Medicare fraud scam.

The Medicare Fraud unit is developing a public service announcement to be broadcast on radio and TV stations across the Bluegrass State to warn senior citizens, and all Medicare recipients, of unscrupulous callers asking for one's Medicare number.

It is my understanding that these calls are made in such a "professional" manner that they sound legitimate. Here's a scenario. The telephone rings. You, or someone in your household, answers. The call may be so personalized that the caller asks for you by name. That's impressive! This, in itself, immediately builds confidence between you—the person being called, and the caller.

The conversation progresses. The caller may state a fictitious company name which further substantiates the impression that he/she has a genuine reason to be calling you. Then the caller may ask you a few lead-in questions to further build your confidence in his/her credibility. You are convinced that the "nice" lady or gentleman on the other end is representing a government agency or a service provider. The caller may tell you something like, "Your Medicare number was inadvertently left off a form and to prevent you from having to pay a particular medical/service bill out of your pocket, we must have your Medicare number to process your claim." The caller indicates that he/she has your best interest at heart. Of course, you don't want to have to pay this bill since Medicare "will" cover it. You're hooked! You excuse yourself momentarily while you dig through your billfold or look for your purse. You find your card and give the concerned caller your Medicare number. You have just done the caller a big favor! You provided the caller with the information he/she needs to commit fraud.

"How did the caller get my name? I'm not listed in the phone book." Thousands of companies throughout the U.S. sell lists. Have you ever ordered a magazine and before long you started receiving all kinds of mail from places you've never heard of? Or, Have you ever ordered anything from a catalog and all of a sudden your box is full of catalogs from companies you've never heard of, or from specialty gift houses that you didn't know existed? Why, all of a sudden, have you and your mail box become so popular? The answer is simple—some company you ordered from sold your name and address and maybe oodles and gobs of other information about you. Also, information—names, addresses, telephone numbers, etc., etc. can be gotten illegally through computer fraud. "Well. O.K. That's how the caller got my name."

"But how did he/she know I have

Mountains

Continued from C 1. struck Harpes giving him a mortal wound. Micaiah dropped his gun as he bled profusely from the wound in his stomach. His horse continued walking along slowly before Captain Christian grabbed the reins.

After being pulled from his horse Harpes confessed to killing about 20 individuals. He said he wasn't bothered by any of the murders except for the death of his brother's baby boy. He said he killed the baby because it had kept him awake.

After Harpes died they took his head and hung it by the road as a warning to evil-doers. Wiley Harpes was captured in Mississippi and executed.

No longer would their evil deed cause bloodshed and grief on the pioneer trails of the era.

CRANBERRY CHERRY PIE

1 (15 oz.) pkg. Pillsbury All Ready Pie Crusts

Filling

2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
3/4 cup sugar
2 tbsp. cornstarch
1 (21-oz.) can cherry fruit pie filling

Prepare pie crust according to package directions for two-crust pie using 9-inch pie pan leaving 1/2-inch of bottom crust extending beyond edge of pan. Heat oven to 425°F.

In large bowl, combine cranberries, sugar and cornstarch; mix well. Stir in cherry pie filling; mix lightly. Spoon into pie crust-lined pan. To make lattice top, cut second crust into 1/2-inch-wide strips. Arrange strips in a lattice design over filling; trim and flute edges. Or top with second crust and flute; cut slits in several places.

Bake at 425°F. for 35 to 45 minutes or until crust is golden brown and filling is bubbly. Cover edge of crust with strips of foil after about 15 to 20 minutes of baking to prevent excessive browning. 8 servings.

PARADISE PUDDING

12 candied cherries
12 marshmallows
1/2 cup pecan pieces
1/2 dozen macaroons
1 tbsp. granulated gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup Carnation milk, diluted with 1/2 cup boiling water, scalded
1/8 tsp. salt
1/3 cup sugar
2 cups Carnation milk, whipped
Soak gelatin in the cold water for 5 minutes, then dissolve it in the hot scalded milk. Allow to cool. Cut marshmallows, macaroons and cherries into small pieces. When the gelatin thickens, beat with egg whip, fold in the whipped Carnation milk and the other ingredients.

4 cups pineapple juice
4 cups apple cider
1 1/2 cup apricot nectar (12 oz.)
1 cup orange juice
6 (1-inch) cinnamon sticks
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
Bring all ingredients to a boil; simmer for at least 20 minutes. Just put it in a crock pot.

HOT HOLIDAY PUNCH

4 cups water
3/4 cup sugar
1 stick cinnamon
4 whole cloves
2 cups orange juice
1 qt. grape juice (white is nice)
Boil sugar and spices in water until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat and add juices. Heat and serve. Makes 20 (1/2 cup) servings.

GOOD-FOR-YOU BAKED APPLES

4 small apples, washed and cored
1 tbsp. plus 1 tsp. raisins
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tbsp. plus 1 tsp. brown sugar
1/2 cup apple juice
Remove pieces of apple from the bottoms so they will stand straight. Peel a strip of apple skin one-third down around apple to keep apples from bursting.
Place apples in 10" round pie dish. Mix together raisins, cinnamon, brown sugar and apple juice. Put one-quarter of mixture into each apple core. Cover with wax paper, tucking edges of paper under dish.
Microwave on high power 6 to 10 minutes or until apples are tender. Let stand 2 to 3 minutes before serving.

MOCK CHOCOLATE CROISSANTS

Makes 8 croissants
8 Mallomars chocolate cakes
1 (8-ounce) package refrigerated crescent roll dough
Powdered sugar glaze and melted semisweet chocolate, optional
Separate crescent roll dough into 8 triangles. Wrap each dough triangle around each Mallomar, pinching seams to seal. Place in 8-inch round cake pan. Bake at 375°F for 15 to 17 minutes or until golden brown. Cool in pan on wire rack for 15 minutes. Remove from pan to serving plate; drizzle with powdered sugar glaze and melted chocolate if desired. Serve warm.

PUMPKIN LOAF WITH CARAMEL GLAZE

1 pkg. Pillsbury Pumpkin Quick Bread Mix
Glaze
2 tbsp. margarine or butter
2 tbsp. brown sugar
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tbsp. whipping cream
1/3 cup powdered sugar
1/4 tsp. vanilla
Garnish
Pecan halves
Red and green maraschino cherries, well drained
Heat oven to 350°F. Grease and flour bottom of 8x4 or 9x5-inch loaf pan. Prepare and bake quick bread according to package directions. Cool completely.

In small saucepan over medium heat, melt margarine. Add brown sugar, sugar and whipping cream; bring to a boil. Boil for 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; cool 20 minutes. Add powdered sugar and vanilla; stir until smooth and thick. Spread over cooled loaf. Garnish with pecans and cherries. 12 servings.

COFFEE BASKETS

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup strong coffee liquid
2 egg whites
1 cup pastry flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
Beat eggs until light, add sugar slowly and continue beating. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together, add coffee, then dry ingredients and beat well. Pour into greased muffin tins and bake. When cool, remove centers and fill with coffee cream filling. Temperature: 400°F. Time: 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 16 cakes

COFFEE CREAM FILLING

3/4 cup sugar
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1/3 cup flour
1 cup Carnation milk diluted with 1 cup water
3 tbsp. ground coffee
Scald coffee with the milk and stir. Mix dry ingredients, add egg yolks slightly beaten and gradually pour on scalded milk. Cook 15 minutes in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Cool. Top baskets with whipped Carnation milk.

DOUGHNUTS

3 tbsp. butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
4 cups flour
4 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup Carnation milk diluted with 1/2 cup water
1 tsp. vanilla
2 pounds fat for deep frying

Cream butter and sugar, beat in eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, add vanilla. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut with doughnut cutter. Heat fat in deep fat frying kettle for about 15 minutes and fry doughnuts. Drain on brown paper. To serve, shake in paper bag with powdered sugar. Temperature frying fat: 380°F. For variety cover with chocolate icing. Makes 2 dozen.

APPLE CREAM PIE

Unbaked pastry shell
5 medium sized apples
2 tbsp. flour
4 tbsp. sugar
1 egg
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
2/3 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
Red jelly
Green jelly
1 1/2 cups Carnation milk, undiluted
Line pie plate with pastry. Peel apples, cut in half. Sprinkle first flour and sugar on crust. Arrange apples with cut side up. Pour over them the milk mixed with egg. Sprinkle with rest of sugar and flour, nutmeg and cinnamon mixed together. Bake at 450°F. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 325°F. for 30 minutes. When baked and cool, put a cube of red and green jelly on each apple. This is an excellent dessert for Thanksgiving dinner or other holiday meals. 6 servings.

CREAM OF POTATO SOUP

1 1/2 cups Carnation milk diluted with 1 1/2 cups water
1 cup potato water
2 tbsp. flour
2 tbsp. butter
4 medium potatoes
4 onions
1 tbsp. chopped parsley
Salt and pepper
Boil potatoes and onions together until tender. Drain. Save the water and rub the vegetables through a coarse strainer. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, potato water and milk and combine with potato and onion pulp. Season with parsley, salt and pepper. Beat with an egg beater and serve hot with croutons (little toasted squares of bread). 8 servings.

Pathways

by Dr. Raj (Nagaraja An Rao) Neurologist

Decade of the Brain

Remarkable advances and breakthroughs in research particularly in immunology and genetics have changed the present day neurology practice.

Newer diagnostic tools lead to early diagnosis and better management of patients with neurological problems. Several new anti-seizure medications introduced recently are leading to good management of patients with epilepsy. Multicenter clinical trials for management of early strokes are in progress with promising hope of minimizing the neurological deficit.

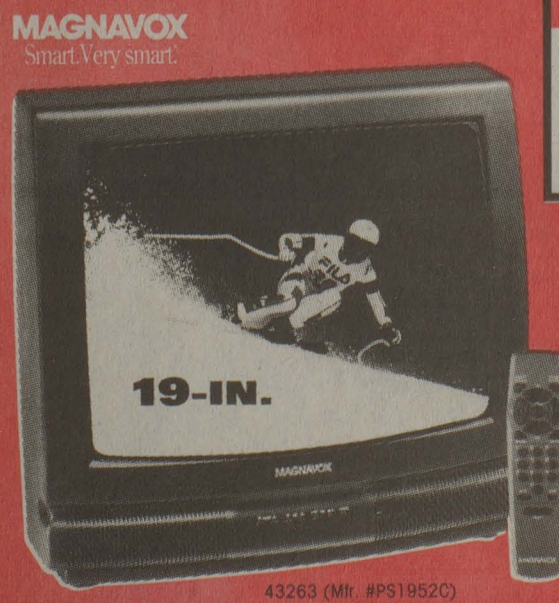

Exciting developments in identification of abnormal genes in muscle wasting disorders and some degenerative diseases is leading to an early recognition of these diseases. Immune mediated peripheral neuropathies are treated more confidently with IVIG (intravenous immunoglobulin) and plasma exchange.

Neurologists at present are more equipped for early detection, and management of these neurological disorders.

The greatest masterpieces were once only pigments on a palette.

Dental Health Today

by Michael K. McKinney, D.M.D.

SETTING THE FACTS STRAIGHT

It is not a "fact of life" that several or all of the permanent teeth have to be lost as we grow older. Except for accidents or malformations, teeth are lost as a consequence of decay or periodontal (gum and bone) disease—conditions which can be prevented or arrested by timely and proper care. The primary cause of loss of teeth is neglect!

A toothache that "goes away by itself" does not mean that the tooth has recovered from whatever affected it. Pain is a warning signal that something is wrong and that no time should be lost in consulting a dentist.

Fillings do not weaken teeth! The truth is that unfilled cavities weaken teeth, and if neglected lead to loss of a tooth which timely filling could have completely prevented. Drinking lots of milk does not prevent tooth decay. Milk is the richest dietary source of calcium, needed for teeth and bone building, and an excellent food. But milk cannot arrest the process of tooth decay or prevent its inception.

IMMEDIATE DENTURE

One of the cosmetic miracles of modern dentistry is the "immediate denture." These are constructed BEFORE all remaining natural teeth are removed and inserted as soon as the final teeth are extracted. Naturally, they will need some adjustments as your swollen gums recede back to normal, but it's a much better sight than facing the public with no teeth while your dentures are being constructed in the laboratory.

In this procedure, the back teeth are removed but the front teeth are allowed to remain. When the day of reckoning arrives, the front teeth (and perhaps a few others which may have remained) are extracted and your "immediate dentures" are inserted at the same appointment.

Healing beneath the immediate denture is usually uneventful. One might expect pain to result from wearing a denture over an area from which teeth have been extracted, but just the opposite occurs. The immediate denture acts as a protective covering for the jaw as it is healing.

Health Matters

Health foods that aren't

It is true that supermarkets, delis, and health-food stores now offer many excellent new products for people who watch their diet. But do not be too quick to trust those labels that promise nutritional miracles. Here are a few foods that sound promising, but often do not deliver.

Frozen vegetarian pasta: Pasta by itself is almost fat free. But prepared pasta products, even if they do not contain meat, often use whole milk dairy products, which are high in fat.

Bran muffins: Most store-bought muffins are high in fat as well as simple sugars. If the muffin weighs heavily in your hand and has a sticky surface, it is likely to be high in calories and fat.

Carrot cake: Typically a whole cake will contain more than a cup of oil. This alone provides at least 200 calories from fat per slice. This is before you even consider the other ingredients.

Popcorn: Popcorn can be a low fat snack if popped without oil. However, microwave (even "lite" varieties) and pre-popped popcorn usually contain a large number of calories from fat and a hefty dose of salt. In fact, they usually contain more fat per ounce than cookies.

Reduced-fat snack foods: To be labeled "reduced-fat," a product simply must have less fat than the original version. If the original product is very high in fat, such as potato chips, then the new product may still have more than an acceptable amount of fat. Other products to watch carefully include snack cakes and cookies. Also note that many cakes and cookies that truly are low-fat or even fat-free are very high in sugar, and therefore, have a surprisingly high calorie count.

"Lite" salad dressings: Again, these products have less fat than the original versions but typically still have a very high percent of calories coming from fat. Look instead for fat-free products. Ditto for "lite" margarine.

Turkey or chicken hot dogs: These usually have fewer grams of fat than beef hot dogs but are still typically very high in fat. As many as 80 percent of the calories may come from fat. They also tend to be high in sodium. However, there are a few brands on the market that truly are low fat. Read labels carefully.

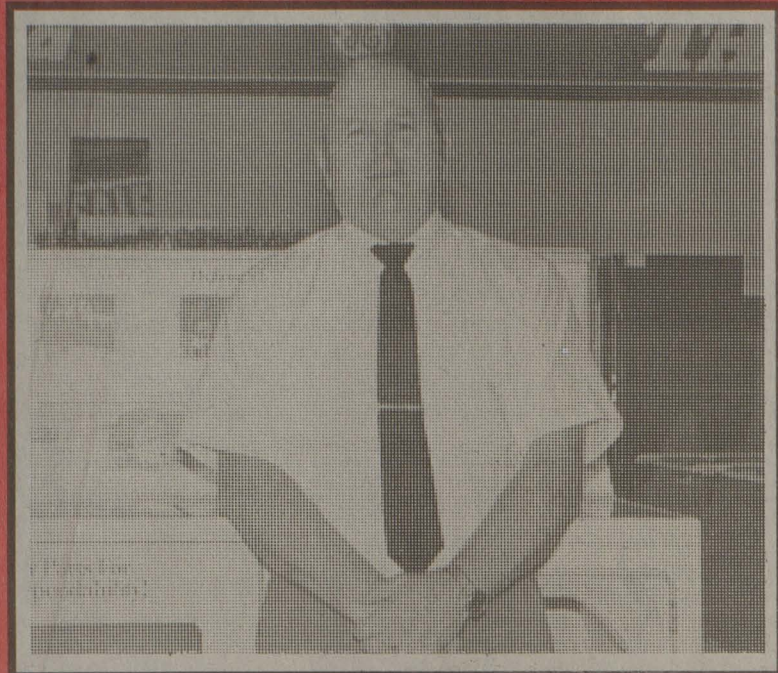

As you can see, not all that looks healthy is. Be a wise consumer and examine the amount of calories from fat on the label. As a general rule of thumb, there should be no more than 30 calories from fat per 100 calories.

Tip of the Week: Coconut is one of the richest sources of saturated fat. Three-quarters of the 100 calories in an ounce of raw coconut comes from saturated fat. But like all plant foods, coconut is cholesterol-free.

Managers of Prestonsburg McDonald's complete SERVSAFE training program

Tammy Hall and Charles Everidge, managers at the Prestonsburg McDonald's, owned by Bob and Tom Hutchison, have completed training in the 16-hour SERVSAFE Serving Safe Food program.

SERVSAFE was developed by The Educational Foundation of the National Restaurant Association in 1974 and has been used to train more than one million managers and employers.

The Industry Council on Food Safety, a coalition of foodservice industry operators, suppliers and associations committed to addressing food safety, supports SERVSAFE as its standard because the program is widely recognized as the most complete and up-to-date food safety training program available for the foodservice industry.

The Industry Council was formed to encourage industrywide training in safe food handling and preparation procedures, and to focus attention on the prevention of foodborne illness.

Wanda Mollette, manager of the Salyersville McDonald's, attended training on the SERVSAFE program in Pittsburgh, completing an exit exam with a score of 98.

This successful completion of the program enabled Mollette to become a SERVSAFE instructor and she is now training all restaurant managers in the McDonald's group owned by Bob and Tom Hutchison.

"As experts in food preparation and service, it is natural for the restaurant industry to take a leadership position in addressing the critical issue of food safety," said Bob Hutchison. "We support the Industry Council's position that the best way to prevent foodborne illness is through training to handle and prepare food safely."

"Through our participation in the Industry Council, we are demonstrating our concern for our guests and our commitment to food safety," said Tom Hutchison. "We are proud to post our 1995 Industry Council decal on our doors to show our customers how seriously we take food safety."

The detailed course teaches restaurant managers and employers the correct methods to handle and prepare food safely.

Century 21 hosts free real estate career seminars

Century 21 American Way Realty will hold free career seminars on Monday, November 20th, at its Pikeville office at 338 Main Street, and Tuesday, November 21st, at its Paintsville office in the Town and Country Building at 229 Broadway.

Both seminars will begin at 5 p.m. Individuals considering a change of career or re-entering the workforce are encouraged to contact broker/owners Dorothy Harris or Jim Gambill to learn more about becoming licensed as an agent, auctioneer, or appraiser.

There is no fee or obligation and everyone is encouraged to attend this one hour seminar which will explore the rewards and challenges of a real estate career.

"We have a demand for quality real estate professionals in Eastern Kentucky counties," Gambill says. "This is a special opportunity for people to find out how they can realize their professional, financial, and personal goals with a flexible work environment."

"A real estate career gives you the chance to be paid what you're worth, not what someone else thinks you're worth," said Gambill.

For more information about the free career seminar, contact the Paintsville office at 606-789-0021 or the Prestonsburg office at 886-9100.

Money Management

BOUNDING TOWARD RETIREMENT: BABY BOOMER PLANNING STRATEGIES

If you're one of the 76 million Americans born between 1946 and 1964, the Kentucky Society of CPAs recommends you develop a strategy to ensure you'll have sufficient income to accommodate your needs during your retirement.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Contrary to what most baby boomers think, some experts believe that Social Security still will be available when boomers retire. If those experts are correct, the problem will be that there may be less money to go around or that the benefits you receive will be taxed more. The amount of Social Security you receive is based on how much you earn during your working career. Generally, the more you've earned, the more you can collect. However, boomers should plan to supplement their benefits with other sources of income in order to maintain their pre-retirement lifestyle.

For an estimate of your future benefits, call the Social Security Administration at 800-772-1213 and request a Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement.

PENSIONS

Another traditional source of retirement income is pension plans. However, as a result of voluntary job-hopping to get ahead and involuntary changes due to corporate downsizing, baby boomers may not qualify for the generous pensions their parents received by staying with the same company for the majority of their career. That's because each time you switch jobs, you must meet the company vesting period before you qualify for a pension contribution. As a result, you can lose years of pension-saving opportunities.

If you're entitled to any retirement benefits from a current or former employer, you should determine exactly how much you'll be receiving during your retirement years so that you can plan accordingly.

CLOSING THE GAP

You'll need about 70 percent to 90 percent or more of your pre-retirement income to live comfortably during retirement. Social Security pays the average retiree today about 40 percent of pre-retirement earnings. Making up the difference is up to you. If you're an employee, the best strategy is to take full advantage of a 401(k) plan or other employer-sponsored tax-deferred retirement plans. These plans allow you to invest pre-tax money for retirement directly from your paycheck. What's more, your company may match a portion of your 401(k) contributions.

If you're self-employed, consider setting up a Keogh plan. With a Keogh plan, you can make tax-deductible contributions. Annual employer contributions to a money-purchase contribution plan cannot exceed the lesser of $30,000, or 20 percent of your annual taxable compensation (not to exceed $150,000). Earnings from all Keogh plans are tax-deferred.

You also should consider investing in Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs). All taxpayers can deposit up to $2,000 each year in an IRA. Individuals who are not covered by a retirement plan at work, or who have modest incomes, may be able to take a tax deduction for their IRA contributions. The advantage of making a nondeductible IRA contribution is that earnings on the account accumulate tax-free, making it an attractive retirement-planning vehicle for anyone.

Tax-deferred annuities are another option for building retirement savings. An annuity is a contract promising to pay you a regular income during retirement in return for the premiums you pay during the accumulation period. The tax on income earned from your annuity is deferred until you withdraw your savings, just as with an IRA or Keogh. However, contributions are not tax deductible.

DON'T PLAY IT TOO SAFE

The biggest challenge for most baby boomers is to invest aggressively. Lower interest rates have made it tougher to build a retirement nest egg with "safe" instruments like certificates of deposit and Treasury securities. While growth stocks are considered volatile investments in the short term, with the retirement horizon roughly 20 years away, most boomers can afford to choose stocks and mutual funds that promise higher returns.

POST-RETIREMENT WORK

To fund a comfortable retirement, the Kentucky Society of CPAs recommends that baby boomers begin a diversified savings strategy today. If you don't think you'll have sufficient income to retire comfortably, give some thought to how you can turn a hobby into a business or market your talents to earn extra income.

Goebel honored for service to Kentucky Retail Federation

Ruth Goebel, former owner of the B.F. Casual Shop in Prestonsburg, was honored recently by the Kentucky Retail Federation for five years of outstanding service on the Federation's Board of Directors.

"Ruth has been a real asset to me since I became chairman of the board," said KRF Board Chairman George Cunningham. "I could always count on her for support and a valued opinion."

Goebel purchased the B.F. Casual Shop from her father-in-law and mother-in-law in 1968 and operated the business until its closing.

Before retiring from the board earlier this year, she served as a state leader for the retailing industry. Goebel has been a community leader as well, with membership in the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Woman's Club.

"Ruth emphasizes the small store owner who creates strength for the Federation through her strong local civic and political involvement," said KRF President John Hinkle.

Located in Frankfort, the Federation is a non-profit association whose members include the Kentucky Restaurant Association, The Kentucky Propane Gas Association, The Kentucky Pharmacists Association, The Kentucky Fertilizer and Agricultural Chemical Association, foodstores, and general retailers. The Federation consists of over 6,000 retail outlets in Kentucky striving to keep abreast of the issues of the day. For further information call (502) 875-1444.

PUBLIC NOTICE
The North Floyd Area Fire Protection District is required by KRS 75.031 to hold an election to elect two (2) members to its board of trustees.

These two (2) board members must be property owners who own and reside on property located within the district and are not active volunteer fire fighters.

There will be an open meeting at the Pleasant Home Baptist Church located at Water Gap, Kentucky on November 16, 1995 from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. to accept nominees for these board members. Anyone living within the North Floyd Fire Protection District is encouraged to attend this meeting. For further information, contact Chris Waugh at 886-9193.

FOOD FACTS

Did You Know?
(NAPS)—Here are some facts from the National Eating Trends Service on what America is eating for breakfast:

• Margarine is used either as a spread or as a topping over 70 percent of the time. Its biggest use? Spreading on toast.

Biggest use of margarine? When it's spread on toast.

• Bagels, which are the fastest growing breakfast food, also often have margarine spread on them. But a bagel with margarine is still second to the classic "bagel with cream cheese."

• Since 1987 Americans have been eating more healthy. Far fewer breakfasts include bacon and eggs while foods like margarine, which has no cholesterol and less fat than butter, remain popular.

• Healthy may be in but we still like the taste of butter. One of the more popular spreads is Shedd's Spread Country Crock Churn Style which has the taste of sweet butter from the farm.

• What do we top most often with margarine? Vegetables of all kinds, especially baked potatoes and corn on the cob.
