Prestonsburg business a total loss

Mike's B & W went up in flames in the early hours of Friday morning. The business was located on North Lake Drive in Prestonsburg. Firefighters were on the scene for most of the day Tuesday. Traffic had to be rerouted due to the location of the nearest fire hydrant, which was on the opposite side of the road. Mike Williams had owned the business for 21 years.

by Pam Shingler

When the call came into the Prestonsburg Fire Department at 3:30 a.m. last Friday, Mike's B& W on North Lake Drive had already been burning for some

"It (the fire) had a real good head start on the guys," said city fire inspector Larry Adams, referring to the local force of firefighters who were at the scene until mid-afternoon.

Trairie on the busy inroughway had to be re-routed until around 11 a.m. since the closest fire hydrants were on the opposite side of the road, Adams said. A hydrant on May's Branch in back of Pizza Hut was also used.

The electronics retail store, automobile repair shop and all the inventory were a total loss. The business is owned by Mike Williams and the building by P.D. Pelphrey of Johnson County, according to Adams.

An insurance representative has estimated the loss of the building at about $113,000, said Adams. Business owner Williams said yesterday he could not estimate his loss because all his inventory records were on a computer that was destroyed in the fire. "My hard drive is gone with all the inventory," he said.

Williams, who lives at Wittensville in Johnson County, has been in business in Prestonsburg since 1978 and at the burned-out location for almost six years. "Twenty-one years was gone in five hours," he said.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined, but Adams said he has been able to pinpoint the place where it started within a four foot square area.

Before he can do much more inspection into the cause of the fire, Adams said insurance inspectors will have to examine the damage, and then the section of the roof that burned and fell over the ispected starting point will have to be removed.

Adams said that despite the building's bricked exterior, it was a "basic 2x4 construction," and as the fire progressed the double roof caved in. The fact that it had a double roof "made it worse," Adams said. "The heavy units on the roof brought it right down."

What made the fire even harder to fight, the inspector said, was the large amount of plastic materials in the electronic appliances that the store sold. "It's not hazardous until it burns," he said. "We ended un with some pretty toxic stuff

"We were fortunate not to have any injuries," Adams said, "because of the danger of the rooftop units and the poisons in

Water seepage over the years has caused deterioration of the flooring in the Prestonsburg Elementary auditorium. The Floyd County Health Department cited the school for a safety hazard because of the condition of the flooring. (photo by Willie Elliott)

*Inspector tells school to fix flooring ASAP

by Willie Elliott Staff Writer

Reporting conditions that the Floyd County Board of Education is aware of and has made plans to correct, the Floyd County Health Department last week cited Prestonsburg Elementary School for safety hazards in the auditorium and other violations.

Lack of gutters or other rain removal devices has allowed water to seep under the flooring of the auditorium over the years, and the floor near one of the exits has begun to rot. Another section of the auditorium has a buckle in the flooring.

According to the School Inspection Report, the floor has insufficient strength for walking. This part of the building is marked "Do Not Enter." While keeping students away from that part of the room, the school continues to use the auditorium.

According to the report, the condition must be corrected within 10 days of the inspection date, May 27.

At its last meeting, the Local Planning Committee (LPC) identified Prestonsburg Elementary as one of the schools that needs major maintenance work. Similar conditions exist at John M. Stumbo Elementary.

The committee agreed that the conditions causing the problem must be fixed before the floor would be repaired. This will require water removal procedures and may even call for a new roof.

The inspection report also cited the boys' bathroom for bad ceiling repair, cracked plaster and unclean

The report also said the lighting in the hallway was not adequate. According to the report, 20 foot-candles or more of light must be in the area. The report did not indicate the level of foot-candles at the present

Cocaine found at Prater

by Willie Elliott Staff Writer

A warrant for the return of a $3,000 gold piece led law enforcement officers to an alleged cocaine dealer last week.

Floyd County Sheriff John K. Blackburn, Deputy Thornsberry and Deputy Matthew Slone went to serve a warrant on David Hurst, 33, of Orchard Branch on Prater Creek, and uncovered a supply of cocaine and other drugs valued at over $20,000 Thursday evening.

Blackburn said he had a warrant for the gold piece and when he asked Hurst if he could conduct a search, Hurst first told him no. Blackburn then told Hurst he could get a search warrant, and Hurst agreed to the search.

Included in the confiscated items was $2317 in cash in denominations of $5, $10, $20 and

In addition to the cocaine, several pills of the prescription drug Loritab were taken.

Hurst was taken to the Floyd County Detention Center where he was charged with possession and trafficking in cocaine and theft by unlawful taking in connection with the gold piece.

Hurst was released Friday from the jail on a $30,000 bond,10 percent cash.

Deputy Ricky Thornsberry and Floyd County Sheriff John K. Blackburn escorted David Hurst to jail last week. When deputies served a warrant on Hurst, they discovered a cache of drugs. (photo

Mother says school system responsible for student failure

by Pam Shingler

Her son reportedly missed 78 days of school last year and failed his courses at Prestonsburg High School, Now, Lucy Burchett is holding the school system responsible for not informing her of the son's absenteeism.

The Prestonsburg woman has filed a complaint in Floyd Circuit Court, contending school officials were negligent for failing to tell her that her son, Larry Calhoun Jr., was missing so much school.

The suit names the Floyd County Board of Education, former Superintendent Michael King, former Prestonsburg High School Principal Thomas Tackett, teacher Elizabeth Frazier and the pupil personnel staff in the system's main office.

Burchett's attorney, Jerry Patton, said it is his understanding that his client received "no notification whatsoever" of her son's repeated absences, which amounted to more than 15 weeks spread out over the school year.

The complaint contends that Tackett, who has since retired as principal, "was ultimately responsible for (the student's) supervision while at said school."

It also says that Frazier, who was the student's homeroom teacher, had the "duty ... to properly supervise him and monitor his absenteeism...

School system Interim Superintendent Woodrow Carter said last week that PHS officials have records indicating that they did attempt to reach Burchett, the mother, on numerous occasions but were unsuccessful.

Burchett is asking the court for a judgment to cover "past, present and future mental and physical pain, suffering and anguish, future lost wages, medical and hospital bills, expenses and costs."

Remembering WWII

With the meaning of Memorial Day still fresh in our minds, it is a good time to remind about the National World War II Memorial that is being planned for the nation's capitol. The US Congress has directed the American Battle Monuments Commission to raise money for the monument. Retired Senator Bob Dole and actor Tom Hanks are among celebrities who are helping to raise the necessary $100 million. Area veterans are encouraging Floyd Countians to contribute to this cause. Times Staff Report

David School held its graduation ceremonies on Thursday at its new facility at David.

Dennis Jacobs, director of the Work Colleges Consortium at Berea College, was the guest speaker. Tiffany Robinson, 19, of Prestonsburg, was valedictorian of the class and also spoke during the commencement. Her topic centered on friendship and the strong bond formed by the students at the school.

Robinson, who worked parttime at McDonald's while she completed her high school studies at David School, is enrolled at Prestonsburg Community College for the fall semester. She plans to finish her college education at Eastern Michigan University, which is located near her former home in Michigan. She is the daughter of Mary Robinson of Prestonsburg and Robinson of Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Graduating from David School's spring semester were Robinson, Thomas Allen Bormes, Jayme Grimm, Larry Jarrell, Terry Ramey, and Dustin Robinson.

'It's official 'Josephine' is retiring

After 108 years, The Bank Josephine name is being retired today. After a 9 a.m. name change ceremony at the Prestonsburg branch on North Lake Drive, new signs for Citizens National Bank will replace the old name at seven branches in Floyd and Magoffin

The ceremony kicks off a nineday merger and name change grand opening celebration.

"The merger of these two homegrown banks is a reason for celebration," said Dennis T. Dorton, president and chief executive officer of Citizens National Corporation (CNC). "Our banking company that is headquartered in Johnson County is independently-owned and operated by people from the Big Sandy growth and prosperity of the people who live and work in eastern Kentucky... Uniting these two successful locally-owned and operated banks will enable us to build upon the best practices of both."

Persons who open new accounts between June 2 and 11 can draw for an instant reward, including a wall clock, golf umbrella or t-shirt.

Those who visit any of the 11 Citizens National lobby locations may register to win a trip to Myrtle Beach or one of 11 other branch rewards, one for each bank location. The prizes include a color television, portable stereo, cordless telephone, power mower, Kentucky Kingdom passes, outdoor cooking grill set, Kentucky State Parks certificate, free groceries, 35 millime-

"We are highly interested in the ter auto focus camera, Mountain Arts Center certificate, and Paramount's King's Island tickets.

Winners will be announced in the June 17 edition of the Salyersville Independent and the June 18 edition of the Floyd County Times and Paintsville Herald.

Citizens National purchased The Bank Josephine in 1997. Combined assets total $270 million, making Citizens National the second largest locally-owned and operated independent banking company in the Big Sandy region.

The merger received regulatory approval on May 26, allowing the corporation to retire the Bank Josephine name and reopen each of its locations with the Citizens National Bank name.

scholarships established

To honor the eastern Kentucky heritage of The Bank Josephine and its namesake, Josephine Harkins, a scholarship fund has been established by Citizens National Corporation.

The new scholarships will help pay for six Floyd County to attend students Prestonsburg Community College or Mayo Technical College.

By creating and funding the scholarship fund, CNC can assure that the Josephine legacy in the history of Floyd County can be remembered.

Editorial Listing

We've been reading lists, again, and wondering, again, why we don't see more Floyd Countians and more eastern Kentuckians on them - the good ones, at least.

For instance, this year's crop of Leadership Kentucky participants was released a couple of weeks ago. Of the 52 members of the "Class of 1999," only three persons are from eastern Kentucky. One from Hazard, one from Ashland and one from Morehead. None from the Big Sandy area.

The East Kentucky Leadership Conference has started a local version of the statewide training program, and that's well and good. But we should have more than three persons from this region rising to the top among candidates for the larger program. And, goodness knows, we need more and better leaders.

Some eastern Kentucky police departments were represented on the list of agencies that were to participate in Operation ABC Mobilization: America Buckles Up Children, but none were from Floyd County.

The departments that did participate vowed to have "zero tolerance" for drivers who did not properly restrain child passengers in their vehicles between May 24 and May 31. With traffic crashes reportedly the leading cause of death for children in this country, were our police saying that Floyd County children are less precious by not participating in this promotion? We hope not.

When the list came out earlier this year of 48 worker training projects funded by Bluegrass State Skills, only one was in eastern Kentucky. All of the projects to improve the skills of Kentucky workers and make them more marketable were developed by community and technical colleges.

The only program funded on this side of the divide was at Hazard Technical College, and, at $615, it was the smallest of all the grants. Could it be we have no need of skills training in these parts?

Then, on the list of schools participating in KET's Safe Night Kentucky on June 5, none is in Floyd County. The event, planned in conjunction with the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension, is part of a nationwide effort to promote non-violent behavior and to prevent substance abuse. The list is old now, so we hope some local schools and groups have been added.

Just yesterday, the fax machine brought news of the latest round of Early Reading Incentive Grants for 24 projects across the state that hope to improve reading skills of primary-level students. A mere four are for schools on this side (Clay, Perry and Wolfe counties and Pikeville Independent). None goes to Floyd County.

Although we know this section of the state has not always received equal consideration when programs have been developed and prizes have been awarded, there's the possibility that sometimes we don't do enough to help ourselves.

Perhaps we don't always compete like we should for grants. Perhaps we're reluctant to take on one more project, even if it's for the public good. Perhaps we lack the skills and the leadership to participate.

We still don't have any answers, but we surely would like to see more local names and organizations on the good lists. - Pam Shingler

Reader offers tourism ideas

We keep talking about bringing tourists to the area and I'd like to throw out a couple of ideas.

We keep digging up railroad tracks all around Pike and Floyd counties. Why? If the coal companies no longer use or need them, why don't we do like the folks in the mountains of North Carolina and have a scenic regional train?

It could go around this area and go down to the Breaks. There could be stops along the way for photo opportunities, shopping, eating or hiking. In the evenings we could have dinner, music and cocktails available for a romantic night. The train could be rented out by groups for, say, proms, larger weddings, reunions, etc...

We have plenty of tracks spanning this area, and several coal companies have locomotives they no longer use. I don't feel this would be too costly a venture, especially in light of the number of failed businesses we have tried to bring into this area, like the shirt factory, the lighting factory and several oth-

Those ventures have cost our counties over a million dollars and are long gone today. People love trains, and enthusiasts from all over the nation would come if we made it a reality.

Secondly, why don't we have more rafting and also open up a ski lodge somewhere in these hills? If they can raft and ski in Indiana, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, then why not here? The loggers and strip miners are denuding the mountains anyway, so there's plenty of cleared space to put up ski runs, lifts and a lodge.

The state has a surplus, so the time to plan and act is now. It's time we used our resources—these scenic hills-for recreation and tourism and quit trashing and destroying what God has given us.

Come to think about it, we could also have bungee jumping, repelling and rock climbing, and maybe host a regional tournament. All this could be advertised on the internet very cheaply and could mean lots of dollars for our area.

'Promises ... forgotten'

I would like to know why the people of Calf Creek are still waiting to have their road fixed.

Unless you were in our position and traveled this road every day, you don't understand how dangerous it is. You have to pull out onto the highway from a blind spot. All you can do is listen and pray that there is nothing coming around the curve.

We called the judge's office and they say to call Mike Jarrell, who is never in, or (he) will return your call. Well, I don't hold my breath, and it's a good thing because, you guessed it, he doesn't return the

The money is supposed to be there to do it with, so what's the problem? I guess it once again proves to be true that once the votes are cast and it's all said and done, the promises are forgotten, and no one wants to hear your problems.

Garnet Lowe Calf Creek

Writer is critical of police

Editor:

I am writing in reference to the article in the Wednesday, May 26, issue of the Floyd County Times. In this article, Martin City Police were referred to (by a council member) as a "laughing stock."

I would like to add that this is possibly caused by so much lack of professionalism. I know everyone who lives in a small town has seen a gathering of young people sitting on their cars and talking. Well, here in Martin they are often joined by one of our policemen who sits on the trunk and chats and laughs.

Another big "joke" is if you know someone or work for the city, you can pull out and squeal your tires whenever you want.

A very big question has always been, "Why, in such a small town where there are ... clubs ...

that have beer, are their patrons completely ignored by the police department?" ... (Yet) honest men and women coming to or from work are stopped with blue lights and sirens in what is known as the "speed trap."

Why in a small town ... do we need nine police officers. Even now when you call the Martin police number, you get the Floyd County Sheriff's Department. Why not keep one of our many (policemen) to answer the phone?

Even if the money is from a federal grant, if all these men are not needed and can't be justified, return the money to the government for some other city that does need it.

Yes, Martin, not Hollywood, is home to the Keystone Cops (who) may be viewed on any given night.

Say 'cheese'

I have a suggestion for each Floyd County school: At the start of next year or shortly into the year, each school should find some way to purchase a good camera for the school. Cameras that produce sharp images (if used properly) can be purchased for less than $250 and that includes the flash.

If you want to go for a more expensive model, go for it. But remember who will be using these instruments. Camera equipment is not as forgiving as computers. The camera could be stored in the principal's office until it is needed and returned after each session.

That's only a start. A camera in a box is like a computer in a box impressive-looking but non-productive. Teach children — yes, I said children - to use the camera. Give them some basic lessons and an owner's manual and they will be showing the instructor tricks in a few weeks. Teachers know how it is with computers - it'll work the same way with cameras.

At the elementary school level, the children would need to be fourth or fifth graders. (Fourth would be a good place to start the use of cameras so these children and their classmates could use it in some of their portfolio pieces.)

Remember, we are teaching these kids to do "real- world" writing. Well, much real-world writing includes photographs. In fact, the photographs may be the impetus that gets the child to work harder on his writing. Stranger things have happened.

Buying cameras will accomplish at least two important goals. First and foremost, it will open one more window of opportunity for students. Students can go on to make photography part of their vocation or they can take it with them as an avocation (hobby).

I took up photography in the middle of my teaching career and used it many times in school, and it certainly came in handy when I came to work for the paper. I was ready to take photographs the first day I was here. In fact, I had submitted photos to the papers for many

A second benefit is students can take photographs for stories they want in the paper. Many times we don't have photographs to accompany stories because we can't possibly cover all the schools all the time.

Photo Magic will develop the film for $2 per roll (be it 12, 24 or 36 frames). The paper can pick a negative for the story and then return all negatives to the school. Teachers or principal then can decide if they want some of the negatives printed. Remember for $2, you only get a roll of negatives.

If time is not a factor and getting to Prestonsburg is a problem, the film can be mailed to processors very inexpensively. They can even put the images on disk and the students can work with them on the computer.

Think what a wonderful success story it would be if some student became a Paula Goble, a Steve Porter or an Ed Taylor because he/she had access to a camera in the public schools.

I know what some of you are going to say, "We already have those things." Great. Now put them in the hands of students and let them produce images that we can use with their school sto-

'Local housing authority is a winner

The Department of Housing ing December 31, 1998. and Urban Development (HUD) Kentucky State Office has Ryan that the Housing Authority of Floyd County has earned a perfect score on its Public Housing Management Assessment Program (PHMAP) for the fiscal year end-

A public housing authority (PHA) is assessed in eight cateinformed Executive Director Patsy gories: vacancy rate and unit turnaround time, modernization, rents uncollected, work orders, inspection of units and systems, financial management, resident services and community building and

A PHA which achieves a score that is equal to or greater than 90 percent is designated as high-performer. With its high score, the Floyd County Housing Authority is eligible for other incentives. including extra incentives for scoring high on modernization.

This is the second straight year the FCHA has received a perfect score on PHMAP. In a related item that contributed to the authority's top score, the maintenance staff was the recipient of the Kentucky Housing Association's 1999 "Maintenance Staff of the Year" award, for 249 units or less.

The KHA is an association of the state's 131 housing authorities. The award is presented annually at the maintenance training usually conducted in April of each year. The entries are judged by a committee of industry housing peers.

The entry for the local maintenance department was a joint effort by the executive director and property managers, coordinated by Donna Combs, manager of Ivy Creek Townhouses and Creekside Village.

"This example of teamwork is one of many things that makes it possible for the authority to maintain its High Performer Status with the Department of Housing and Urban Development," said

According to Ryan, the Floyd County Housing Authority has been a High Performer since the inception of the PHMAP in 1991.

Ryan said one reason the Housing authority was able to maintain standards was because the board of directors give her support and flexibility.

1999 Pikeville College nursing students honored

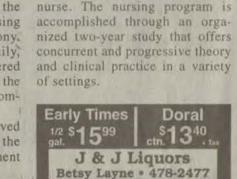

This year, as in years in the completion of this examination, past, the opening event of Pikeville College's Alumni/Senior Weekend activities was the Elizabeth Akers Elliott Nursing Program Pinning Ceremony. Nursing graduates, family, friends, faculty, and staff gathered in Booth Auditorium to honor the Class of 1999 for their accomplishments.

This year, 16 students received their associate's degree in the Pikeville College commencement

Each graduate came to the stage to receive a rose and to be pinned by nursing faculty members. After all the graduates were pinned, they participated in the lighting of candles and recited the Nightingale Pledge to signify the dedication, professionalism, and persistence required of nurses.

The Elizabeth Akers Elliott Associate Degree Nursing Program provides a curriculum designed to prepare the graduate for nursing positions in hospitals, long-term care facilities, and community health agencies.

The Pikeville College program in nursing leads to an associate of science degree with a major in nursing. The program of study leads to the preparation of graduates for eligibility to sit for the registered nurse (RN) licensure

PAINTSVILLE, KY-The management of the Paintsville Ramada Inn Conference Center is proud to announce that the hotel has been awarded the prestigious "GOLD KEY" designation by Ramada Franchise Systems. The Gold Key program rewards those properties having the highest Quality Assurance and Customer

The Ramada Inn of Paintsville is owned by Mr. James A. Brown of Cynthiana, KY., and managed by Mr. Darl Music. The property has 129 guest rooms, 8 meeting/banquet rooms, a full-service restaurant, all seasons indoor/outdoor pool as well as an indoor garden atrium. The property hosts many special events such as weddings and receptions, conventions and conferences, family and class reunions and recently a debutante ball. Ramada Franchise Systems President, Steven

J. Belmonte, announced that the GOLD KEY designation is given only to those properties attaining a score of 460 points or more and having an "EXCELLENT" Housekeeping score on their annual Quality Assurance inspections. The award will be announced at the National Ramada Convention in Nashville, TN, July 13-17.

"My goal has always been to increase the presence of the Ramada chain, while maintaining the quality and level of service that our guests have come to expect," said Belmonte. "The owners and management of the Ramada Inn Conference Center of Paintsville are helping me to attain that goal by going above and beyond what we require to offer the very best to their customers."

Ramada properties are inspected a minimum of twice per year by a team of corporate inspectors. Inspections are unannounced and corporate officials do not identify themselves until a reading on cusservice levels has been taken. Hotels are graded on a 500° point scale, with an "A" score being anything above 450 points.

Properties receiving the GOLD KEY designation have a special symbol by their listings in the Ramada International Directory. In addition, Ramada reservations agents offer the information to callers who are booking rooms. "We think that alone should be incentive for every property to strive for this goal," says Belmonte.

"We are very proud to be among those that have received this honor," said General Manager, Darl Music. "We really strive to provide only the best to our guests and to our community. We will hang our GOLD KEY plaque in the lobby with pride."

Join the staff at the RAMADA INN CONFER-ENCE CENTER in Paintsville this week as they celebrate their new GOLD KEY status. FREE balloons for the children and FREE beverages with any buffet order from the full service Carriage House Restaurant located in the facility will be offered beginning June 1 thru 5.

Ramada Franchises Systems, Inc., is a midpriced chain of more than 800 Inns, Limiteds and Plaza Hotels throughout the United States.

Prestonsburg businessman Brad Hughes send his contribution via letter and offered the students some sound advice: "I would like to take this time to write about the senseless violence we see and hear about in the schools across the country. Remember, nothing can be so bad that you have the right to take out your anger on another person.

"If you have a problem, please go to your teacher or another adult that you trust and talk to them. You are our future - let's make it a bright future."

Students also received letters from Oprah Winfrey and University of Kentucky basketball coach Tubby Smith. Smith said he could not remember his favorite book. "but I know that the Bible has always been important to me, even as a little kid.'

President Bill Clinton responded to the teachers' letter, and last Friday State Rep. Greg Stumbo visthe program.

America's joyride is over

The joyride America's drivers have been on because of cheap gas prices appears to be over, at least for now. The national average price of selfserve regular unleaded gas increased 18 cents since March 16 to $1.15 per gallon, according to the AAA Fuel Gauge Report. The average is 7.1 cents per gallon higher than April

The highest gas prices in the nation can be found in the West, with California topping the list with an average of $1.64 cents per gallon. The cheapest gas can be found in the Southeast, with Georgia remaining the only state with an average price still under a dollar. Georgia's average is the lowest in the U.S. at 97 cents per

Here in Kentucky, the average price for a gallon of self-serve unleaded regular is $1.09 a gallon, up 19 cents in one month. Kentucky, which for several months had some of the nation's lowest average prices, ranks 21st this month.

In Lexington, a survey of 30 service stations shows the average price for a gallon of self-serve unleaded regular to be $1.07, up 10 cents in one

Why the increase? So far, OPEC nations have kept their promise to limit the production of crude oil to 2.1 million barrels per day. Gas is refined from crude oil and until recently there has been a worldwide glut of it, keeping gas prices low.

In addition, with spring comes an increase of slightly more than one percent in meal and lodging costs in 1999, bringing the national average per day, according to AAA.

Summer vacation costs up $3 per day, AAA predicts

The average cost of lodging for a family of two adults and two children remained at $110 per night, the same as AAA's 1998 survey. However, meal costs rose three percent to $103 per day for the same size family.

Kentucky ranked 40th in costs among the states at $189 per day. The average daily meal costs for a family of four is $107, while the average daily lodging costs for that same family is $82.

North Dakota remains the least expensive state to travel in for a family of four with an average cost for meals and lodging of a thrifty $158 per day. The next least expensive

Summer travelers will find an states are South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The most expensive state for summer travel is Hawaii where meals and daily cost for a family of four to $213 lodging for a family of four averages a hefty $419 per day. The next most expensive states are New Jersey, California, Delaware and Louisiana.

AAA recommends that vacationers traveling by car should budget $5.50 for gasoline for every 100 miles, based on the average national gas price of $1.15 per gallon and a vehicle that gets 21 miles per gallon. It is also important for vacationing families to budget extra for entertainment, souvenirs and unexpected expenses.

To help the many employers and workers who may not fully understand the Social Security program and its benefits, the Social Security Administration has produced a special kit of information-Social Security: What Employers and Employees Need to Know.

This information kit contains 12 factsheets-five for employers, seven for employees-that provide basic information about the Social Security retirement, disability and survivors programs. The kit also reminds employers that the 7.65 percent of workers' salaries they pay to Social Security is more than just a business expense; it's a valuable part of the employee benefit package.

The information in the kit-

The cost of driving a car in 1999 will be 47 cents-per-mile on average - .9 cent-per-mile higher than last year, according to AAA. This is the smallest increase since 1994, when driving costs rose by only .7

AAA's annual Your Driving Costs study reports motorists driving 15,000 miles this year will spend an average of $7,050 on auto-related expenses, up $142 from 1998.

The increase is mainly due to higher ownership costs such as insurance, depreciation, license and registration.

The bacteria Daunert and her colleague use is a non-toxic strain of E. coli, a very common bacteria widely used in biotechnology.

Daunert attaches these bacteria to the optic fibers by trapping them in solution behind a membrane. "The membrane has pores that allow small molecules to pass hrough, so the bacteria are trapped; but compounds like arsenic or sugars can pass through," she says. The advantage of using these optic fibers for environmental mon-

"This allows for in-situ monitoring, which means you place a fiber at the polluted site, say an industrial river that you want to monitor continuously. You can just leave the fiber there and monitor what is happening from miles away." says

Day of Prayer slated at Pleasant Home Baptist •

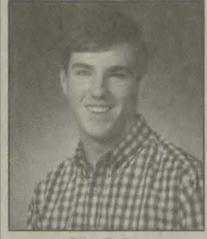

Taking a chapter from the National Day of Prayer, a local church will host its own Day of Prayer this month.

The Pleasant Home Baptist Church in Prestonsburg will conduct a Day of Prayer on Saturday. June 12. Prayer time begins at 7 a.m. and lasts until noon. Participants can come in at any time and join the prayer effort, according to Deborah Hatfield, an organizer of the event.

Hatfield said the prayer session evolved from the Southern Baptist's Jesus 2000 effort, which began in 1997 with a year of prayer.

"We're a year behind," she said. Hatfield learned about Jesus 2000 through the Internet and her

Scholarship recipient

Brian Parker

Brian Parker, 18, a senior at George Rogers Clark High School in Winchester, was awarded a $1,000 scholarship from the George Rogers Clark High School Band. He is the son of Michael and Sharon Parker. He attended Harold Elementary School.

Parker has been a member of the Marching and Concert band for four years, as well as the Pep band and Jazz band for three years, During his tenure with the band he has competed in the Kentucky State Marching Band Championships as well as cities such as Cincinnati: Washington D.C.; St. Louis, Missouri; Orlando, Florida; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and New York City.

He has also been a member of the National Honor Society, Student Technology Leadership Program, and Humane Society. He has also served as the vice-president of GRC's Student Financial Center, Cardinal Trust Bank, receiving an award for effort above and beyond the call of duty, and technology editor of the yearbook staff. Parker has been recognized by Who's Who Among American High School Students and the National Council on Youth Leadership. He has been a threeyear member of the principal's list, and four year member of the honor church, Pleasant Home Baptist, conducted a month of prayer last year. It met with such enthusiasm that the church decided to make Day of Prayer "a seasonal thing."

There is no preaching during the session, just prayers. Hatfield said. Volunteers have signed up for half hour and hour sessions. However, anyone can pray for any length of time during the day.

A witnessing session begins at noon and ends at 6 p.m. Volunteers are needed to come to the church and be available to talk with people, Hatfield.

'Anyone who is a soul-winner" is needed, she said.

She plans to post a sign-up sheet on the church's door. People can also sign up by calling her at 886-6548 after 3:30; or by e-mail:

praise@se-tel.com. The Day of Prayer is Interdenominational and is open to anyone of any faith.

The church hosted a wiener and marshmallow roast for people who have been witnesses through the church's outreach program.

They will show a "Jesus" video, which has been seen by more than a billion people, Hatfield said. The showing will be held in the church's fellowship hall and will be open to the public. No admittance fee will be charged.

Festival spotlights Italian heritage

The 13th annual Seedtime on the Cumberland Festival, June 10-13, at the Appalshop in Whitesburg will celebrate Appalachian culture, with a special emphasis this year on southern European - particularly Italian - influences

The festival begins Thursday evening with a presentation of stories and music by members of Appalachian families of Italian descent at 7:30.

Literature of the mountains will be the focus of a workshop and readings on Friday, beginning at 11 a.m. at the Harry Caudill Library. The activity is hosted by the Southern Appalachian Writers Cooperative.

Also on Friday, a crafts fair and demonstrations, food booths and Street Corner Cafe tent will open on the Appalshop grounds. Artisans from southeastern Kentucky and southwestern Virginia will show their handiwork and demonstrate chairmaking, blacksmithing, basketmaking and woodcarving.

At the Street Corner Cafe, musicians and storytellers will share their talents. Inside the Appalshop Gallery will be art by Angie DeBord and Pam Meade.

Friday's program continues at 5 p.m. with a performance in the Appalshop Theater by the Cowan Youth Group, whose original work is drawn from family histories and Later in the big tent will be performances by Carla Gover and Mitch Barrett, performing contemporary mountain music; Carpetbag Theater from Knoxville, Tennessee; Jim Costa on the banjo and mandolin, and the New Ballard's Branch Bogtrotters with high-energy string-band music.

Saturday activities begin with the open stage at 11 a.m. At noon, film screenings will feature work from the Appalachian Media Institute, Community Media Initiative and Appalshop Film Union. At 1 p.m., a dance and performance workshop will be led by Tommy Bledsoe.

The Paranoix and Poor Puppet Theater will put on a show at 3:30 p.m. in the Appalshop Theater, and at 4:30 p.m. a special tribute to Buck Maggard will be conducted.

Featured performers on Saturday night, beginning at 7 p.m., are John and Jane Harrod with old-time string music; Lee Sexton Band with energized Bluegrass; Northern Kentucky Brotherhood singing a cappella gospel harmonies, and Wayne Henderson on guitar.

An old-time gospel sing will close out the festival on Sunday. beginning at 1 p.m.

All activities are free, except the showcase concerts on Friday and Saturday nights, which cost $7.

Performances will be broadcast on WMMT, 88.7 FM, Appalshop's community radio station. They can also be heard on the Internet at Appalshop's web http://www.appalshop.org through links to WMMT.

Clark will represent Floyd County in the state tennis meet this weekend at the UK Shively Complex Tennis Courts after

Clark said winning the meet as a freshman was very grati-

"It feels real good to win the region at such a young age," he said. "It helps me to gain more confidence as a player and makes me want to excel more. There were a lot of good players down there and on a given night, they could have beaten through the regional meet winning over Rowan County's Rob Johnson in the first round by 0-1. He handled Paintsville's

'Mr. (Sean) Ousley (athletic director at Betsy Layne) has helped me quite a bit this year," said Clark. "My dad (Darryl Clark) had helped me a lot and, of course, Bobby Hamilton at Prestonsburg has been gracious enough to allow me to ride the bus with him to meets. He has let me practice with him and he has helped me set up some matches. Clark said he played "every single match" representing Betsy

Layne High School. "I hope next year they will show a little more support," he

Clark was runner-up in the region as an eighth-grader last year. He advanced to the second round where he faced the state's seventh seed. 'The first round, which I won, I had a tough three-setter," he said. "But it was fun and good experience for me. It gave me a little bit insight to the kind of competition that is down there. So I should be ready this year." Clark said he is not sure if he will be seeded in this year's state meet even though he was sent seeding information.

'There are some pretty good players down there." he said. "I would be lucky if I were seeded."

After the holidays

I hope everyone had a great Memorial Day holiday and you enjoyed the long weekend.

Sometimes it it good to have that extra time with family but there's always the danger of eating too much. Well, I tried to watch it as much as I could, but I did enjoy a cookout with friends on

I received a very nice invitation from the Betsy Layne girls basketball team to attend their banquet Monday evening, but was not able to make it. It wasn't that I didn't want to, but just could not find time

I don't get to sit and ponder things very much but I had a rare chance to sit and do some thinking Monday and was looking at the schedules that lie ahead the next few months.

Do you realize that the 1999 football season will be upon us before we know it?

I've had a chance to talk with some of the returning players, as

as coaches, and boy, are they excited.

The last I heard, Prestonsburg will be playing their home games at the Prestonsburg stadium this year after all. The old bleachers will come out but temporary ones will be put in place. The old bleachers had been condemned.

Prestonsburg was to open the season againist Moagoffin County, but we understand the Hornets pulled out of the deal (another committment they say) and Prestonsburg may have just nine games this season if a replacement team cannot be found

After just three home games last year, Allen Central will play

by James Trimble Track Writer

In front of a large crowd last Saturday night Shannon Thornsberry won the Morris Isaac and James Meadows Memorial Race at Thunder Ridge. But there were to be some surprises in store for the drivers and the race fans.

Instead of running for $1,200 to win, thanks to the donantions by Miller Brothers, Kinzer Drilling and May Blocks and many other businesses, the purse quickly grew to $2,000 to win and $1,100 for second, which made the racing action more intense and exciting for the fans and the drivers.

First on the night schedule was the qualifying session for all the classes except the Road Hogs who drawed for their heat race, and the Bombers was led in qualifying by T23 Keith Tincher with a time of 21.70.

Next to qualify was the Modifieds, and the 10c of Gary Combs set the pace with a time of 20.21. Next was the Late Models, and No. 17 Shannon Thornsberrry blistered the track with a time of 17.85 to also win a $100 bonus from Miller Brothers for his efforts. Super Bombers was led in qualifying by No. 19 Jamie Slone with a time of 20.11.

The first of two Bomber heat was next with T23 Keith Tincher and 62 Joel Jenson on the front row. In a very action-packed six lap heat, Tincher led the first five laps, but on the final lap Jenson was able to work his way around Tincher to take the heat.

The second heat had 2x Tandy Spurlock and 0 Freddie Brock on the front row. Spurlock was able to get the advantage on Brock at the green and went on to win heat two with little problem.

The first of two Modified heats was next with the 10c of Gary Combs and the J7 of Greg Gibson on the front row. Combs was able to gain the advantage on Gibson at the green and hold off Gibson to take the win in the heat.

Heat two had the 69 of Tim Moore and the L33 of Randell Lester on the front row in a very

It must have been real hard to pick an all-conference team this year, especially in softball. This is a difficult process to do, especially with so many outstanding players this year. Jennifer Risner had a great season and is perhaps the best third baseman in the conference but was left off the list. Denise Jones, Betsy Layne catcher, had a season that many not named to the squad.

In baseball district play, Jon May was outstanding for Prestonsburg, but was neglected on the team. Jon had a great tournament as well as a great season. We could name others.

Coaches have long said they do like to pick an all-conference or all-tournament team. When it is their choice, they are instructed to not vote for any of their players. May I ask, who knows the players better than their own

It is sad to say, but some coaches will not vote a deserving player from the opposing team because it might knock their top player from getting the most votes, so therfore they vote for a lesser player. This is not fair.

Perhaps when naming an allconference team, players should be named by positions. In other words, an all-conference catcher, first baseman, third baseman, etc. Or how about naming a first team, second team and third team. All others getting votes will be honorable mention.

I had no vote in it at all. It was tough for the coaches, it would have been difficult for me as

I would like to see an all 58th District Senior All-Star team named with the same in each of the other three districts. Then after the state tournaments are all over, bring all four teams to a site and have an All-Star tournament. The same format could be used in basketball as well.

Remember the one year we

I had phone calls about it, but had all-star teams from the 13th, 14th, 15th, and 16th, gather for an All-Star doubleheader.

> How about this?: This basketball season have a men's doubleheader (involving the four county schools) and the gate receipts going to a scholarship fund to help those who need help in getting in college. The games could be part of the regular season schedule of conference games.

Until Friday, good sports everyone, and be good sports!

action-packed heat that saw lots of the back during a caution. He was side-by-side racing for second on able to work his way back toward back, but Moore was able to stay out of trouble and take heat two.

Late Model heat one was next with the 17 of Shannon Thornsberry and the 18 of Brandon Kinzer on the front row. In a real close battle for the top spot. Thornsberry was able to hold off Kinzer to win the heat.

Heat two had No.1 Eddie Carrier Jr. and 39 Henry Hornsby on the front row at the drop of the green flag and when the checkered flew Carrier was the winner of heat

Super Bomber heat had the 19 of Jamie Slone and the 43k of Kevin Hall on the front row at the drop of the green, but Hall was able to gain the advantage on the first lap and would win the heat with Slone right on his bumber the entire race.

Road Hogs heat had J17 Jimmy Arnett and the 926 of Joe Stanley leading them to the green. As always the Road Hogs were giving the fans some of the best action of the night with plenty of door-todoor action that saw the B17 of Brandon Johnson come from fifth starting position to pickup the heat race victory.

Bomber Feature was next with the No.62 Joel Jenson on the pole, and alongside Jenson was the 2x of Tandy Spurlock. At the drop of the green flag, Jenson jumped out to the early lead followed closely by Spurlock and Tincher. The leaders raced bumber-to-bumber for most of the 15-lap feature, but in the end the No.62 Joel Jenson was able to hold off the rest of the field to claim the victory.

Coming in a close second was 2x Tandy Spurlock. Third was T23 Keith Tincher, fourth was No.34 Tommy Lackey, and rounding out the top five was No.77 Randy Fannin who made his way up from his 10th staring position to finish

Modifieds feature race was next with the 10c of Gary Combs and 69 Tim Moore leading them to the green. In a caution field race that kept the field tight, the racing was heavy with a lot of rubbing and action that saw the No. 13 Glen May start near the front but go to the front to finish in an impressive third place. But Combs led from flag-to-flag picking up the victory. Coming in a close second was 69 Tim Moore, third was Glen May, fourth went to Jason Johnson, and fifth was Allen Turner.

Late Model feature was next with the 17 of Shannon Thornsberry and the 1 of Eddie Carrier Jr. on the front row. At the drop of the green, Carrier jumped to the front but Thornsberry was there to battle back for the lead. Carrier was able to hold him off.

Meanwhile a battle developed for third as No. 10 Paul Harris, who started the race in fifth position, was trying to get by No.18 Brandon Kinzer. The top four cars were running nose-to-tail for most of the early laps. Then Harris was able to get under Kinzer for third and take that position. Harris then set his sight on the leaders. On lap 13 Harris and Thornsberry got together, picking the back of Thornsberry's car off the ground but luckily not wrecking.

Meanwhile Harris slowed on the track, bringing out the caution. Harris went to the pits with steering problems and never returned. When the green came back out, Carrier was still the leader with Thornsberry in second, but a few laps later Thornsberry was able to get a fender alongside Carrier and take the lead and not look back, taking the feature win and the $2,000 first place money. Eddie Carrier Jr. was able to hold on to second, third was No. 18 Brandon Kinzer, fourth was No. 39 Henry Hornsby, and fifth was No. 28 Chucky May.

Super Bomber featured 43k Kevin Hall and 19 Jamie Slone on the front row. Hall was able to jump out to the early lead, followed closely by Slone. They ran nose-to-tail the entire race with Slone trying to find an opening to get around him. As they came to the white flag, Slone looked to the low side of the track, but Hall was there to shut the door and as they came to the checker, Hall was able to keep Slone in his rearview mirror and pick up the victory.

Following the No 43k of Kevin

Hall to the line was No.19 Jamie Slone in second, third was the no. 5 of David Clifton, fourth was no. 44 Philip Nickel, and rounding out the top five was the 24 of Micheal

Road Hogs feature would be the last race of the evening with B17 Brandon Johnson and 18k John Henson on the front row. At the drop of the green flag, Johnson took the lead followed closely by Henson and no. J17 Jimmy Arnett, Then on the eighth lap, the No. 97 of Jared Hale went over the turn four banking, hitting the fence and flipping on its side. The race was stopped, but Hale was OK.

After they got Hale's car to the pit, the race resumed with Johnson still leading, and at the finish the B17 Brandon Johnson was able to hold on to win the Road Hog feature. Second went to the 128 Keith Branham, who was able to get by Henson on the last lap, third was 18k John Henson, fourth was no.12 Gene Layne, and fifth was No. 926 Joe Stanley.

Next week will be another exciting evening of racing action with a full program in all classes. With the Super Bomber and the Bombers running for the biggest money yet in their classes this year $700.00 to win in both classes should bring out a lot of the best in all the drivers as they try to take the winners share home. Both division have proven to be very competative this year and we shold expect more of the same this coming week. As the weather gets hotter so does the racing action at ThunderRidge. The NASCAR Winston Cup Series Media Guide lists Tony Stewart as a Raybestos Rookie of the Year candidate. After being at Charlotte last weekend and watching Stewart's weekend unfold, I wouldn't be surprised if NASCAR sent out an updated biographical sketch on the Home Depot driver.

Stewart got the weekend going in the right direction Friday night as he ran away from the rest of the field in the second qualifying race for Saturday's running of the Winston Open. As soon as that victory was put in the record book he flew to Indianapolis in hopes of qualifying for the Indianapolis 500 on Saturday.

Arriving in Indianapolis after 1 a.m., Stewart awoke to a 9 o'clock wake-up call that informed him that it was raining in Indianapolis and that qualifying would be pushed back. Things continued to work out for Stewart, as he drew the No. 2 spot for qualifying and was able to go out around 11 and put up a speed of 220.653 mph. This puts the former Indy Racing League driver in the 24th starting position for the

May 30 Indianapolis 500. No sooner had he crawled out of his Indy car, he departed with a police escort to the airport for the two hour trip back to Charlotte. By 3 o'clock he was on the track at Lowe's Motor Speedway practicing for the Winston Open in hopes of winning the one transfer spot to the

put him on the outside pole next to first 30-lap segment Stewart began,

Winston Open. The race was actually over by the time the two drivers made it back to the start finish line for lap one. The two were sideby side for the first half of the lap before Skinner pulled ahead in turn three, but Stewart got on the inside of Skinner to grab the lead and never looked back. That was the only close racing that Stewart had in the race as he went on to win by almost five seconds over second place finisher, Jimmy Spencer.

You would think that after winning two races and qualifying for one of the biggest races held in all of Motorsports that Stewart would be content by just making the field for the Winston. Stewart is a racer and, if you put him in a car and wave a green flag in front of him, he is going to do all that he can to make it to the front.

The Winston is only for winners and Stewart's Winston Open win put him in some pretty elite company. Although the field was only made up of 21 drivers, the field did account for 17 Winston Cup Championships and over 200 Winston Cup wins. Rookies just don't make this field but, after the weekend he had been putting together, Stewart had to believe that he belonged in the race every bit as much as any other driver. Everyone knew that Stewart had a car that was hooked up, but this race he would have to start from the back and battle the likes of Gordon, big event of the night, The Winston. Labonte, Martin, and Earnhardt. As Stewart's victory Friday night the green flag waved to start the

Mike Skinner for the 50 lap his slow marched to the front. Then on lap 11 a major wreck put seven drivers out of the event, including the strong cars of Mark Martin and

Dale Jarrett. Stewart finished the first segment in seventh, but it was in the second segment that his car started showing some of the strength that it had in the Open. He finished second to Gordon in the second segment, setting up a 10-lap shootout in the third and final segment.

On the restart of the final segment, Gordon was called for jumping the restart and a new start was ordered. This time it was Stewart who got the good start and with the roaring approval of the crowd set sail for the $200,000 winner's share of the purse.

The battle continued for several laps before Stewart pulled away from Gordon but it was to be Terry Labonte's night as he caught and passed Stewart with just a few laps left to capture the win.

Although he was disappointed that he couldn't hang on to the lead, when Tony reflected back on his weekend he had to smile. He had won two races, finished second in his sport's all-star race, qualified for the Indianapolis 500 and won $155,037. Not bad for a weekend's work.

What will he do to top all of this? Next Sunday he will drive in both the Coca-Cola 600 at Charlotte and the Indianapolis 500. That's 1,100 miles of racing and it wouldn't surprise me to see him holding a trophy at the end of counting their money. Hying Wagner-to-Iverson and Miles-to-Garnett has an entertainment value, I suppose, but the real bottom feeding came in a report about how and why a kid barely out of middle school, Wagner, could not be secured for interviews. Reason: His coach was displeased after his team's loss and Wagner's prima donna performance. But does anyone care what a 15-16-year-old has to say? A larger point here is, media efforts to interview a kid who already has a Who-Ha image of himself is one more example of the intermediate stage of what's wrong with amateur athletics. Too much, too soon.

COLLEGE TRANSFER LAMENT

For every Erik Brown (Morehead State) and Michael Bradley (UK), the "transfer" lament about lack of player loyalty to his college these days, is much too one way.

If college coaches and administrators want to stem the tide of student-athlete transfers, then more loyalty should be demonstrated at the outset of the recruiting process. And later, by being more judicious about recruiting "over" those already on scholar-

Unrealistic to not recruit over current players? Probably, yes. But string-along time by savvy coaches is far worse than a college sophomore deciding he wants to move to another school.

There is an upside to college transfers in Div. I sports. A student-athlete must sit out a year from competition. Presumably, it is a perfect time to do what he or she is on campus for in the first place. Study and go to class.

READERS (RIGHT) WRITE About the book When Cuba Conquered Kentucky...

Phil Rollins, Louisville: "I was delighted to read about the Cuba Cubs (in your column) and recent book about them. Since I banged heads with that fine group throughout my high school career and collegiately against (Howie) Crittenden (at Murray State), I came to know them well.

"The one statement you made in your column (that) made me stand up and say "yes!" was about the part of the Commonwealth that is "long ignored, the Jackson Purchase." I often feel when Hall of Fame awards are handed out, the Jackson Purchase is somehow forgotten."

COMMENT: Phil Rollins played at Wickliffe High and was a three-year starter at UofL, 1952-56. He was captain of the Cardinals' 1956 NIT title team, and is a member of UofL's Hall of Rollins is mentioned more than once in When Cuba Conquered Kentucky. One of the most amusing - Cuba coach Jack Story encouraged his players to "talk" to opposing players during games.

"Just before a game with Wickliffe was to begin," author Marianne Walker writes, "(Cuba's) Doodle Floyd told Phil Rollins, 'You're so wonderful. I got a picture of you on my bedroom wall.' The surprised Rollins burst out laughing as he ran down the court.'

√ About UK's Jamaal Magloire; and the UK-UofL basketball series...Bruce Doughten, Louisville (E-mail): "So, this is the point we have reached in college basketball - a second string center (UK's Jamaal Magloire) with hands (and head?) of stone has opted for the NBA draft. What a sorry state of affairs."

√I hope Tubby has finally realized the importance of the UofL game to UK fans and alumni like me who live in the Louisville area. The (Wildcats) have played like bleep two years in a row.

BITS 'N PEOPLE

V Rules change ideas for NCAA college basketball sometimes come from those who see the game with the most clarity, fans. "On moving picks," writes Charlie Rogers of Elizabethtown. NBA "COMING AROUND?"

Hold onto your ticket stub. Alarmed by what they're seeing (many of us saw a long time ago), NBA coaches and administrators will discuss rules changes before next season that would make the gawd-awful ugly NBA game look more like college basketball.

As college hoops has reduced its shot clock from 45 to 35 seconds to be more like the NBA. some pro league-types want to see their clock changed to 30 seconds to allow teams time to run their offenses.

Among other proposals: Move the 3-point line in and legalize zone defenses which ostensibly would increase passing and perimeter shooting instead of boring pick-and-roll. Alas, Atlanta Hawks star Steve Smith told Sports Illustrated: "They can change rules all the want, but many guys in this league just can't shoot. It's that simple.'

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO ...

Fly Correction: Last week L asked whereabouts of James "Fly" Williams of Murray State. A number of readers pointed out that Williams played at Austin Peay. This week William Ausenbaugh wrote to say, "Fly is back in New York doing real well heading a program to help needy and other kids in an organized basketball program. A tremendous ballplayer worthy of your inquiry (for) records set. Tragic background, but (an athlete) who finally righted himself and is contributing to the sport he loved. He is dearly beloved (still) at Austin Peay University.'

Whatever happened to Western Kentucky football standout Johnny Embree? And Morehead basketball star Dan Swartz?

And so it goes.

Sports In Perspective

The word "great" and derivations thereof receive much exposure when members of the sports media are hard pressed to express adulation for their latest fun-andgames icon.

When Oscar Robertson called it quits after 14 seasons (1961-1974) in the National Basketball Association, he led the league in assists (9,887) and converted free throws (7,694), was second in total points scored (26,710), third in field goal production (9,508) and total minutes played (43,886), and was seventh in scoring average

At 6'5" and 218 pounds, Robertson held forth as a ball-hanformer at either end of the court.

"Quite frankly, I don't feel the players entering the pro game now are on a par with those of my era," he said recently. "When I was active the league had the likes of Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Bob Cousy, Elgin Baylor, Jerry West, Bob Pettit and Dave Bing."

The difference between then and now, in Robertson's opinion, is a matter of technique or, better put.

"Many of the guys playing in the shake hourly in disagreement as NBA today have a shot and not much more," he said. "You see only a few guys now who can go to the right and left equally well, or shoot effectively with either hand. What's more, they don't pass and pick all that well. The players now haven't developed the tactics, the moves, to be consistently effective. So they just pop the ball on the run, force it up from all over the floor. The result is a sloppy and uninteresting game to watch.

Robertson believes money is the root of the problem.

"High salaries make today's pro dling genius and a standout per- players less pass conscious," he said. "If you score more you make brand of play that would have been all of which were simply not tolermore money. That's why so many guys are going for the basket when they should be passing off to the open man. So the outcome is a shooting contest with none of the finesse the fans like to see."

Echoing these sentiments was Hal Greer, a Hall of Fame backcourt play maker and scorer with the 1966-67 NBA Champion Philadelphia 76er's.

I think of the pro game today as more or less schoolyard basketball," he said. "There's too much one-on-one action. Not enough rebounding off the offensive board and getting that second shot. The players are just not team-oriented."

Such was not the case in his era, Greer contended.

'We lived and died on pick-androll tactics that involved a close interaction of all the players offensively. The great Boston Celtic teams of my time featured pinpoint passing and precisely run patterns that cut a player free for the percentage shot. It was fun for the fans to watch."

Currently, the NBA subsists on a

John Wooden, who directed UCLA to a record 10 National Collegiate Athletic Association titles, has lamented the negative influence the NBA is exerting on the younger players.

"The game has become too rough," he said. "People who want to see that kind of thing should go to a wrestling match or a prize tising here, if you please.

201 Speedway

by Chris Belcher Track Writer

Sitka's 201 Speedway welnumber of people lining the open hillside parking areas and filling the grandstands and bleachers above the front stretch.

As the sun finally fell over the hill off turn three, the evening proved to be perfect for dirt track racing this past Saturday night with plenty of side-by-side racing in every division. A good number of Road Hog drivers were on hand in hopes of taking home the $500 purse in the second annual Wild Hogs in the Holler feature.

The Four-Cylinder feature opened the night's feature racing with Flat Gap's Jerry Kebler shooting to the front on the track's red clay. But Martin Roe was in close pursuit in the early laps around the track

Roe was able to use early lap traffic to his advantage when he drove low through turns three and four at the halfway point and was scored as the leader. However, lap traffic slowed Roe down the next lap and this time the advantage went to Kebler, retaking the point from lap six to lap eight, when Roe once again found a way around Kebler.

Defending four-cylinder points champion Jack Clevenger found his way into the Rollover Club when his No. 3 car rolled on its top in turn four.

Despite the scary scene, Clevenger emerged from the wreck uninjured and several crew members managed to put it back on all four wheels.

Following all the excitement, Roe was able to hold off Kebler and take the checkered flag in the feature race.

Bannie Blair, the defending Claim Bomber champion, managed to win the three-wide drag race into the first turn, with Menifee Napier and Doug Saylor. Blair found a quick way away from his challengers down the backstretch. With only one caution slowing the fast-paced action, Blair got away while a good battle developed for second and third places. Saylor was holding on to the second spot; Scott Pennington and Menifee Napier went door-to-door several trips around the track; and, finally, on the sixth lap, after a between contact little Pennington and Napier, Pennington traded a little paint with Napier and took third place. Blair held off a late charge by Saylor and drove to the winner's circle in the feature race.

Scott McCloud took the green flag and was never headed as he took the checkered flag in capturing the Super Bomber feature McCloud busted out to the early advantage while Gary Cunagin and Glen Patton battled for the runner-up spot. Cunagin crossed the finish line ahead of Patton Kentucky first lady Judi Patton and Carol Jordan, with the Governor's Office of Child Abuse and Domestic Violence Services recently visited Pikeville Methodist Hospital's Sexual Assault Treatment Center.

Denise Miracle, certified Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE), Patton and Jordan toured the treatment center where forensic medical examinations of sexual assault victims take place. Miracle, a registered nurse, is specially trained and certified in the identification and collection of forensic evidence in sexual assault cases.

Miracle gathers samples that can be DNA tested and then documents injuries with photographs. Evidence is collected, labeled and documented using the latest technologies. Often times the perpetrator is examined as well.

A team made up of the nurse examiner (either Miracle or Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner Teresa Epling), a law enforcement officer and a rape advocate respond immediately Pikeville Methodist Hospital's emergency room when a sexual assault is reported. The sexual assault response team has seen 19 cases since the program was implemented in March 1998.

Patton was in Pikeville to announce funding for the creation of a local Children's Advocacy Center. Patton said she and the governor are championing the cause of Children's Advocacy Centers as a way to ensure that the investigation and prosecution of child sexual abuse cases are well coordinated in local communities.

Messing with nature

At first I thought I'd dozed off and was dreaming last Wednesday night when a report on 20/20-a show that, at least up to now, I've always rated right up there along with 60 Minutes-stated that some scientists somewhere, I think it was Japan, theorized that the male human is capable of becoming pregnant.

They even had a diagram showing how the egg could be placed into a man's stomach and how a placenta would grow and after nine months the baby could be taken by Caesarean. Of course, it did say that there was one tiny drawback: the father/mother (?) would probably die.

That just might tend to discourage some daddy from being a mommy.

And speaking of messing with nature, reports are out that three-year-old Dolly, the sheep they cloned three years ago from the cells of a sixyear-old ewe, is now producing cells of a nine-year-old animal. In other words, her actual age and her momma's actual age combined.

That too might discourage the desire to breed the super athletes of the future. By the time a kid is 16, he could actually be 55 or 60. Now can you imagine a 60-yearold running up and down the basketball court with a bunch of teenagers?

And while we're talking about messing with nature, the next time I read of a top education official making the statement, or even inferring, that all kids can learn on the same level, I think I'll just throw up.

What I'd like to do is invite this so-called expertwho probably hasn't been in a real classroom since his own high school days-to take two glass jugs, one that holds a quart and one that holds a gallon, into any classroom in the state. Dena Stroud is Parent of the Year

The Pike County Head Start Program recently announced Dena Stroud as Parent of the Year (1998-1999). Parents who have children currently enrolled in the Pike County Head Start Program, were invited to submit essays entitled "What Head Start Has Done For Me." Stroud's essay was chosen as winner to represent the Pike County Program in the Big Sandy Area Head Start Parent of the Year competition.

The Big Sandy Area Head Start announced Dena Stroud as their arent of the Year" during their March Policy Council meeting.

Stroud was recently honored, along with other parents across the state, at the Kentucky Head Start Association State Convention's Parent of the Year Banquet. This was held in Louisville.

Stroud has two sons, Kenneth Arron and Christopher Chase. Arron is enrolled in Mrs. Mary Stevens Head Start Class at Bevins Grade School. Dean is married to Kenneth Stroud.

Stroud closed her essay by saying, "I am proud to be able to say that my children are in the Pike County Head Start Program. My heart is overwhelmed and my life has been enriched by the program. Your support is my greatest encouragement."

Stroud serves as chairperson of the Bevins Center Parent Committee, as secretary of Pike County Head Start Policy Committee, and is a member of the Big Sandy Area Head Start Policy Council.

Born on April 26, 1919, at Northern, Kentucky not far from Eastern where he has spent his entire life (except for military service), Fletcher is the son of the late Bernie and J.A. Gayheart.

His children, Ruby Pernot of Centralia, Illinois; Rhoda Lanman of Louisville, and Fletcher Jr. of Eastern, hosted the birthday celebration in the private dining room of the May lodge. After a buffet luncheon and birthday cake, his friends and family joined together to "roast" Fletcher and take a trip down memory lane with him.

Storyboards covered with photographs of his family life and travels across the United States were on display. As he was presented with "gag" gifts that were reminiscent of significant moments in his life, all were treated to some of the lighter moments of his eighty years.

Those attending the party included his wife. Family meetings are usually held at a set time and place on a regular basis. A family meeting is a cooperative way of making decisions that affect all family members. Above all else, it is a time for being open and honest without fear. It's also a time for sharing concerns and hopes. Equally important, family meetings provide an opportunity for planning and hav-

If you are a single parent with one child, you may be thinking, "Can just the two of us have a family meeting?" Absolutely. It can be a special time to plan fun events, listen to each other's dreams, and talk about problems that need to be addressed. Family meetings work well for all types of families throughout their various life cycle

Many positives can come from family meetings. They are an excellent way to adjust to the changes that are part of everyday family life. Little problems can be resolved before they grow into major issues. Children like it when their ideas and suggestions are requested and respected. Feelings of trust, caring and competence develop, and family members learn to listen and use good decision-making skills. And we're all more likely to follow through with a decision when we have had a voice in making it.

Consider the following important guidelines for successful family meet-

· Schedule your family meetings on a regular basis, perhaps once a month or maybe even once a week.

Give everyone advance notice.

 Prepare ahead of time what you would like to discuss during the meeting. Ask your children to make suggestions and help with what the family is going to ask about.

· Plan to hold the meetings at a time when you will not be hurried or pressured to finish up quickly. Allow enough time to discuss key issues in a relaxed way.

. In the first few meetings, focus mostly on planning fun or recreational activities. Once family members see the value of sitting down together to plan activities, they will be more open to solving problems and dealing with change.

 Start on time. Set a time limit and stick to it. Keep the meetings reasonably brief. This is particularly important if you have young children.

· Appoint or vote on a different family member to run each meeting. Drawing names works well.

· Talk about specific issues that have come up that week. Make time during your family meeting for everyone to express their feelings without interruption.

· Focus on real issues. Stay away from criticizing individuals. No putdowns. Deal with problems head-on. Listen to feelings; talk about solutions; get everybody's input.

. When one family member talks, everyone else listens. Be patient with younger children. They may need more time to express their ideas.

* Expect conflict. The goal is not to start with agreement but to end with it. Differing ideas can help the family arrive at the best solution or decision. Put agreements into action as soon as possible. · Remember, don't just talk about family problems. Plan fun activities, · End your meetings with something positive like a game, a family hug, a joke or a simple snack.

During your family meetings, model good listening skills. Look at your child, spouse or older adult directly in the eyes when they are speaking. Use positive body posture, showing that you are giving them your full attention.

Connie Conn, of Dana, alternates between being a pretty little housewife and church worker when she's not on her day job with the Department of Highways. But when she's at work, she wears a hard hat and an orange vest to control traffic during construction work. She's such an attractive lady, and she has the kindest voice, so you are a little surprised sometimes to see how she gets along with the sometimes impatient people who are held up in traffic.

I wrote about Connie a few years ago when she was working on the road going toward the Mountain Parkway. She was holding traffic once when a lady right in front of her struck up a conversation. She said she had a doctor's appointment in Lexington and Connie, in her kindest voice, said she hoped everything went well.

Responding to this, the lady started telling her the nature of her problem, enjoying the interest and understanding being given. Then Connie got the signal to let the traffic go before their conversation was really

"What happened?" she was asked. "Did you ever see the lady again?" Yes," she replied. "She turned and came back so we could talk some

I ran into Connie during that job and asked, "Did you see me wave at you yesterday when I saw you on the

'Yes, I saw you." she said, "but I was having a pretty tough day. Some people were so impatient about being held up and they kept blowing their horns in protest.

I would walk over to some of the cars closest to me," she continued, "and I would ask what their problem was. Usually women just rolled their windows up and wouldn't answer

"And what about the men?"

"One man just kept quarreling," she said, "but I told him that was all right, to complain all he wanted to because they pay me well."

Connie had one other traveler who was a little more irate than most. The job was running during President Clinton's most stressful situation with lawsuits and legal problems.

Anyway, a driver was really disturbed at being held up in traffic and was blowing his horn. She walked over to ask if he had a problem and he said he sure did, then added, "I'm going to write my congressman about this. It's ridiculous.'

Connie said, "That's all right, you can write the President if you want to." And he replied, "I think I'll just do that."

By that time she had reconsidered and said, "I really don't think I would do that if I were you, He has enough on him right now.'

Pikeville Methodist Hospital celebrates National Hospital Week

Pikeville Methodist Hospital celebrated National Hospital Week, May 9-15. National Hospital week is sponsored by American Hospital Association.

Each year, hospitals, and the many places where health care is delivered, join together to recognize the people who make it all possible-the health care work-

National Hospital Week recognizes the special contributions of the people who keep hospital doors open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. "We never want to forget that the most important part of Health Care is care," said Joann Anderson, chief operating officer. "Our employees are caring individuals who go the extra mile for our patients.

Pikeville Methodist Hospital celebrated National Hospital Week with a daily employee event. All employees received an insulated travel mug and cookies were delivered to each depart-

The celebration of National Hospital Week began in 1921 when a magazine editor suggested that more information about hospitals might alleviate public fears about the "shrouded" institutions of the day. From the beginning, Hospital Week expanded to facilities across the nation. Today, National Hospital Week has grown into the nation's largest health care event.

THINGS TO PONDER

Summer Memories

Ph.D.

"In the good ole summer it is that time of year again, especially with weather cooler than usual. However, the children's excitement about school ending can not be ignored. Like other times of the year, we all have great, special memories of summers past. Wouldn't it be nice if adults and children worked together for everyone to have a nice summer, plus an opportunity to create pleasant family traditions and memories?

A guess is that most everyone who grew up in our region, prior to the days of TVs, VCRs, and microwave meals and had only radios, cannot forget the impact that natural resources had on by Mable Rowe Lineberger, ment pertained to the creek with rocks during such summers, the Needless to say, it is important tional" types of camps—comits wonders and cool delights. dread of needing to climb down for all adults to agree on the One favorite swimming hole time. In the good ole summer began with really "large, flat" time." Well, it's hard to believe rocks with slippery green coverings that further enhanced one's ability to "go far." We wore holes in the bottom of our swimming attire, not necessarily a bathing suit. Once, when about eight years old, a same-aged cousin and I caught minnows from the creek and "fried" them. The "stove" was a galvanized bucket turned upside down with a fire underneath, while the "skillet" was the space below the bottom's rim. Crisco was brought from home. The hills also provided a major source of amusement. A huge oak tree on the ridge behind where we lived fit into various fantasies. Even though others talk of swinging our lives. Our major entertain- on grapevines and climbing on overwhelmed some kids (me).

Then there was the annual "summer vacation" after we moved from Pike County to Florida, which meant driving about 22 hours to Kentucky and back, in the middle of July. This time was chosen because nothing needed to be done in the citrus grove. July was so hoteverywhere, and especially going through Georgia. The long two-laned roads seemed to go on forever; counting tall Georgia pine trees was about the only thing to do. Of course, in those days, the average person's car did not have air-conditioners. Often we would struggle trying to decide to have the windows down with the hot air rushing in or have the windows up. Usually, Mother would remember to bring along a wet cloth for each. Then, dad made the decisions. The "Pit stops" occurred when the car ran out of gas and was not based on others' biological needs. Dad also strived to stay in the same motels coming and going, about halfway.

Needless to say, the motels did not have air-conditioners, but would have a rotating fan in each small room. It was such a relief when the chains of motels came along with really cool rooms and swimming pools. Since there was not such a thing as "fast food," meal time took forever. At the time, we did not think of ourselves as making fond memories.

Now back to the present, the upcoming summer, and some thoughts about what our families need today. Before school is completely done, parents need to discuss resources for child care and family entertainment. Of course, the choices are as numerous as anyone's ideas and interests. One way is to just think of what someone who has never been in our area might be interested in seeing and knowing about. So often, citizens do not know or have not investigated what is in their own back yard. The priority needs to be that all children are adequately supervised and not left alone. As discussed several months ago, it is still hard to believe that many folks would agree that it is OK for children as young as 10 to be on their own all day, while parents work. Parents need to take advantage of everything that is appropriate for kids. An opinion is that most churches would be pleased for children to attend every vacation Bible school. Some parents could share child care for a period of hours or by the day.

Sarah Reneé Lafferty MEMORIAL GOSPEL BENEFIT

already had two beautiful sons and now that a daughter had arrived everything seemed perfect. Everyone was very pleased and excited about the arrival. For four month's the Lafferty's were hysterically happy. They had three beautiful healthy children and they knew how fortunate that made them.

Then on November 18, 1996, when Sarah was only four months old, tragedy struck. The daughter who had been so desperately wanted and was now so very loved, was diagnosed with Acute Lumphoblastic Leukemia. For the Lafferty's, life turned upside down on that day. How could this be happening? Yesterday had been so wonderful and today everything was a nightmare.

Immediately after being diagnosed. Sarah was sent to U.K Children's Hospital were she began an intense regimen of chemotherapy. Once she achieved remission she was to have a bone marrow transplant. But first a donor must be found.

The first step in finding a donor was to check Sarah's two brothers. Nathan and James Michael, to see if they would match. On Thanksgiving evening 1996, the Lafferty's received news that neither son had the marrow type that was needed to save their sister's life,

After that news, the family was devastated, because they knew that the best chance of finding a match was from a sibling. But they were not willing to give up hope yet.

On July 2, 1996, a beautiful baby girl Sarah was placed on both national and who came to know her. Bennie and Paulette be tested. Each hoping they would be the match needed to save "Baby Sarah."

> Even though the efforts of everyone was great, no match was found for Baby Sarah. The closest that had been found was an unrelated mismatch. Even though the donor marrow was not the perfect match, doctor's felt that the transplant was Sarah's best chance of survival. The Lafferty's were informed that with the transplant, Sarah had an 80 percent chance of survival and without the transplant her chances were only 20

So on March 6, 1997, Baby Sarah received her transplant. On March 14, 1997, Sarah began running a high fever and continued to decline from there. Her little body was beginning to tire. She had fought so hard for so long, and now her body needed

On May 4, 1997, in the PICU of U.K. was born into the loving family of Bennie international registers in search of a match. Children's Hospital, Sarah peacefully went and Pauletta Lafferty. She was named Sarah Here in Prestonsburg, a marrow drive was to sleep in her mother's arms for the last Renee Lafferty, and she was loved by all held with hundreds of people showing up to time. Her fight was finally over and her pain had ended. But the loss felt by those who came to know her would continue on for some time. Baby Sarah's time with us was short, but in her ten months in this life, she touched more hearts than most of us can ever touch in a lifetime. And although we grieve for her daily and miss her desperately, we know in our hearts that she is no longer suffering. She can now run and play like she deserves.

> A few weeks after Sarah's death, there was a Gospel Sing held at Stumbo Park in Allen in her memory, Originally the Gospel Sing was planned as a benefit to help the Lafferty family with the numerous expenses they were incurring while Sarah was in the hospital. After her death, however, the Lafferty's requested that the proceeds go to the Make-A-Wish Foundation in Sarah's memory. It was decided then that this benefit would continue each year and that the proceeds would go to a charity to benefit children, and would be in Sarah's memory.

> On June 5, 1999, the Third Annual Sarah Renee Lafferty Memorial Benefit will be held at Stumbo Park in Allen, beginning at 5 p.m. All proceeds will be given to the National Children's Cancer Society. The Lafferty's would like to encourage everyone to attend the Gospel sing in order to raise money to help children, and remember one very special little girl "Baby Sarah."

> Since Sarah's death Pauletta and Bennie has had a new addition to the family, Madison Brooke Lafferty, born Jan. 4, 1999.

than a dozen postsecondary educational institutions in central and southeastern Kentucky and regional employers will benefit from an innovative on-line job posting service.

Working in cooperation with public and private colleges and universities and technical colleges throughout the region, Eastern Kentucky University's Division of Career Services has launched The Eastern Kentucky Postsecondary Partnership Job Bank.

By posting their job openings and career opportunities to the Job Bank's web site, www.jobbank.eku.edu mployers are now able to recruit 23 sites at once. The site also gives candidates at all the partner schools online access to the postings, which include all pertinent details and contact information.

"We wanted to use our technology to better serve employers and Harvey, director of EKU's free service will provide employers with an easy way to inform students and alumni from partner institutions of their opportunities.

"This is an excellent example of how Kentucky's post-secondary institutions can work together to better serve our region."

Job Bank partners are: Berea College, Central Kentucky College-Danville, Technical Centre College, Cumberland College, Cumberland Valley Technical College (branches at Pineville, Harlan, Mt. Vernon and Middlesboro), EKU Division of Cooperative Education, EKU's extended campus centers, Hazard Community College, Hazard Technical College, Laurel College-London, Technical Somerset Community College, Somerset Community College-Laurel County Campus, Somerset Community College-McCreary County Campus, Somerset Technical College, Southeast Community College-Cumberland, Southeast Community College-Middlesboro, Southeast Community College-Whitesburg and Union College.

"The beauty of this Job Bank is that it ties four-year colleges and universities, community colleges and technical colleges and industries together," said Ron McCowan, director of placement at Laurel Technical College. "The bottom line is that we're all here to help our students and to help businesses and industries. This is just another way to bridge the gap."

All employers in the region are urged to list their full-time, parttime, cooperative education, internship and summer positions on the web site. They may post the jobs directly at the web site, by email (listjobs@eku.edu) or by

Students and alumni at more more traditional methods: mail, telephone and fax.

The Federal Correctional Institution in Manchester is one large regional employer that plans to take advantage of the service.

"This will help us get our job openings out to a wide range of people," said Warden George Synder. "We're always after the best candidates we can get."

Some are surprised to learn of the many different types of positions available at the correctional facility, which employs 340 and houses about 1,450 inmates. "We hire from a variety of backgrounds," Snyder said. "Any job you'd find in a typical city. we're likely to have here. The more information we can get out, the better off we are.'

When visitors access the web site, they can log in as an employer or student to post or read job openings.

"We're trying to make it so students in our region," said Art easy that every employer will want to use the service," said Division of Career Services. "This Laura Melius, associate director of the EKU Division of Career Services. "So far it has been very well received."

For more information, visit the web site or call EKU's Division of Career Services at 606/622-1568.
