JENKINS TRIUMPHS OVER BELFREY

By Swede Johnson

Jenkins, Ky., Sept. 21—Jenkins football team took a hard-fought game from Belfrey at Jenkins Saturday afternoon. Jenkins got off to a flying start, being able to get a touchdown in the first few minutes of the first quarter. This encouraged the boys and they kept fighting and nudged the old pigskin over for another touchdown. They were not able to cross over the goal line for the extra point in either case.

Coach Wainick has made a wonderful improvement in the team, as every member of the team was green material except Captain Settle, Loomy and Hany. In fact, the rest of the boys had never been in a game and did not know what it was all about.

With a little more coaching, Wainick will be able to mold the boys into a strong team that will be hard to defeat by any of the teams that they will meet this season.

With the several stiff drills that Coach Wainick sets the boys through this week, I think they will be in good shape to put the little end of the score over on Belfrey's side this coming Saturday. This will be one of the hardest games of the season.

Score:
Jenkins 6 6 0 0 12

Words Can't Describe Good Karnak Did Me

"I just know there is nobody in all the world happier than I about this wonderful medicine, Karnak. I have taken all kinds of medicines and treatments in the past, ten years trying to get some relief from my suffering, but nothing helped me until I began Karnak. Oh, how I suffered with stomach trouble. Why I was almost a nervous wreck from it. I had no appetite to speak of, food just didn't have any taste to me. But even though I would only eat the lightest kind of things, I would suffer just the same. I had just lost all my strength and at times I would feel so weak I could hardly walk across the room."

"I was so nervous and restless I couldn't get any sleep to amount to anything, and in the morning I could hardly drag myself out of bed. It began to look mighty blue for me, but Karnak has changed everything. It is so grand for words."

FRANCES DEBT REPUDIATION

The fact that France repudiated approximately four-fifths of its domestic debt when it stabilized the franc in 1926 is now causing international reprobation. Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, is characterizing the procedure as governmental confiscation. More than two years after the successful struggle of England being able to save his country from bankruptcy criticism of his work is raised in another country.

The reason for this is obvious. British holders of French bonds will lose heavily. It is estimated that more than $30,000,000 was subscribed in England to French war bonds and these are soon to be devalued at the present value of the franc. In other words, $240,000,000 will be lost by British investors.

At the time of stabilization Winston Spencer Churchill, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, declared that British investors must stand the loss, that it was impossible for France to treat British bondholders any differently from its own citizens. Certainly it was not a wilful act of confiscation. It was a sane solution of the financial problem. It was the wise way to accomplish the process of deflation.

But Mr. Snowden is a staunch defender of British rights. At the Hague he won an almost lone fight for increased British reparations. Now he is seeking substantial compensation for the holders of French bonds. Similar compensation has been advocated in France for widows and orphans of veterans holding French bonds, but the government has carefully disapproved all such demands. It will not deny oppose the Snowden overtures, though France is in a position to be generous to its creditors at home and abroad.—Courier-Journal.

Happy Lady, Ill for Years, Finds Health—Little Daughter, Too, Relieved By New Medicine

MRS. CHARLES CROSS

I suffered constantly for almost three years with stomach trouble," said Mrs. Charles Cross, Louisville, Tenn., near Knoxville. "Everything I ate caused indigestion and headaches and bilious attacks were daily occurrences. I was laid up for two or three days at a time. My little daughter, aged five, also had a similar condition for two years. Neither of us found relief in medicines or treatments we tried."

An advertisement in the Try-Konjola, Boston, publisher, and I bought a box of this new medicine from the publisher of the Konjola. In six weeks my health troubles were over and I was free from indigestion and biliousness. The little girl and daughter, too, were cured. She sleeps and eats like a normal child."

Konjola is free from alcohol, nerve-debilitating drugs or heart depressing chemicals. Men and women of all ages, even babies and children, can safely and healthily use it. It is a certain and sure way to health in its own right.

NEEDS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE ON INCREASE, SAYS CHAIRMAN PAYNE

Disaster Relief and Service to War Veterans Make Heavy Demands—First Aid on Highways New Plan.

Demands upon the public services that the American Red Cross is organized to give are increasingly heavy, and will continue to be so in the future, John Barton Payne, chairman, has announced.

The two major services of the society—service to war veterans and their dependents, and relief in disasters—each year a greater number of persons helped by the Red Cross.

Pension legislation passed recently for World War Veterans, and increased allotments to all Spanish-American War Veterans, have given to Chapters and the national society many thousands of additional cases to handle, Judge Payne said.

In the past year help was given in 108 disasters, ninety of these were in the United States, twelve in foreign possessions and six were in foreign countries.

Health activities of the Red Cross also are being extended, especially in the rural communities where all health authorities agree the greatest need exists. Red Cross, with 794 nurses in its employ, is the greatest employer of public health nurses in rural areas in the United States.

In its campaign against accidental deaths, begun twenty years ago, with its life saving and first aid programs, the Red Cross now has adopted an additional program—that of combating the huge toll of life from automobile accidents on the highways.

Expenditures of the Red Cross in the past year were $4,254,796.24, of which $1,208,151.00 was spent in disaster relief, the chairman pointed out. He said that Red Cross demands upon the public for its support, through their memberships enrolled once each year, in the period from Anniversary Day to Thanksgiving Day, Judge Payne said.

"We do not receive any support from the Government, or through other taxation, although the President of the United States is president of the society, and one-third of its governing members are representatives of U. S. Departments. It ranks as a semi-governmental agency.

"By joining as a member, in the local Red Cross Chapter, or each year during the annual Roll Call, every citizen will have a part in carrying on this great humanitarian task."

Motor Injuries Treated By Red Cross First Aid

In line with its work for the preservation of life and prevention of accidental deaths, the American Red Cross has adopted a new program of emergency first aid stations on the highways of the nation, where victims of automobile injuries will be helped.

In the last year 31,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents and more than 1,000,000 were injured. As its contribution to the nation wide safety campaigns of other organizations, the Red Cross will aid through its emergency stations, a number already are in operation by Chapters on such important traffic arteries as the Westchester County, N. Y. parkway, the Valley Forge and Gettysburg highways in Pennsylvania and the White Horse Pike in New Jersey, connecting with Atlantic City.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 794 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternity visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternity cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal state, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

Gay patterned creosote bags, or comfort kits, containing articles useful and amusing, are sent by the Red Cross to 40,000 soldiers, sailors and Marines, in an often service, Christmas gift campaign. The little gift bags are donated and packed by women in Red Cross Chapters all over the country. They are despatched by Army transport in the early autumn in order to reach the foreign ports and ports of the U. S. service in time to be hung on the Christmas trees. Giving the remembrance from home is the outgrowth of a plan adopted by the Red Cross prior to the World War, when so many National Guard regiments were in the Mexican border.

MRS. 'DO-GONE MAN' BEGINS FIGHT FOR BIGGER STATION

Washington, W. K. Henderson, known wherever his 10,000-watt Station KWKH is, heard as the "logbook man of radio," appeared in a Federal Radio Commission hearing Monday and told how he sold coffee, peanut trees and a piece of life of K. W. Bond road through Miss Shreveport, L. A., to his station.

Henderson says he is the guiding genius of the Merchants' Minute Men Association, which is an offshoot of the vigorous "radio-state" campaign against chain stores in the United States. He estimates a new fight between 20,000 and 40,000, and it appeared in 1928 to 1930.

The witness is accustomed to battling before the commission. As he testified a copy of his 1928-29 financial statement was filed with the commission in January, 1929, and that the broadcast has only $229 of a $2,500 fee.

Proceedings opened Monday with the hearing of an application of W. H. Collander, Des Moines, S. D., who wants to build a small station and to operate in the 4th district on 850 kilocycles, which is the wave length shared by Henderson with station WWL, Loyola University of New Orleans.

Henderson covered with an application for unlimited use of the wave length, which would include both Columbia and WWL, and for an increase in power from 10,000 to 30,000 watts. He revealed that he is contemplating a battle against his transportation of freight and passengers and that he had other enemies in mind in behalf of the American people.

"I have asked for an increased power," he said, "to reach the people and further expose the dishonest methods of chain stores. Any community without business enough to keep its profits at home is doomed."

He alleged both stations were attempting to destroy the reception of KWKH, and that false accusations had been made against him by radio commission inspectors. Although he started the chain store fight only about a year ago, Henderson, whose cross-examination by Charles Dolbe, attorney for Loyola University, did his authority was not of recent origin.

"Why," he exclaimed, "when I was married 28 years ago, I caught my wife looking in a mail order catalogue. I told her to throw it away."

"I'm," he continued, "to show the people what it means to have wealth and power concentrated in the hands of 50 people," evidently referring to former Ambassador James W. Gerard's list of men who control America's destinies.

ROUTE 80 AGAIN BLACKCATS TIE SCORE WITH PIKEVILLE HIGH

ful Panther team stiffened at a point where it is good football to plump the line and may attempt to play at a forward pass, and the result was that Prestonsburg falling to in the Pikeville forward wall, was judged to fakes.

And the result of this type of football were the fumbles which saved Pikeville from defeat. On one sweeping end run "Red" Brantum was loose for a touchdown on a beautiful sprint, but this score was held when Referee Hank announced that "Red" started out of bounds on his downfield fake.

This same Brantum saved the Blackcats in one of trouble twice when he retrieved fumbles and intercepted an in-line fumble, ran through the Pikeville team for great gains.

As a whole the Prestonsburg line played fine football. It was, however, those seven men who got so little credit for football victories without the assistance of the number one player, team, at no time permitting a Pikeville linebacker to get through for a long gain.

Fans retaining here highly praised the game as a whole for its splendid work and complete lack of fumbles on the skill which he has drilled into the team. Only Prestonsburg's wide diversity of offensive plays made it possible for the Blackcats so decisively to outplay their rivals.

A THOUGHT FOR SUNDAY BY Amos R. Wells PILOT NEEDED

The other day, near Rome, Italy, a mechanic started the propeller of a biplane and at the same time accidentally turned on the gasoline. The engine died at once. Then occurred an amazing scene, for the airplane ran along the ground, rose, smoothly into the air, and went through a series of complicated evolutions with a skill as perfect as that of the most expert aviator. Then the wind caught it, overpowered it, and dashed it to the ground, where it burst into flames and was destroyed.

That is the way with our lives when we start off without having the heavenly Pilot on board. First, while we are surprised with it, and think it all happens, this talk about needing celestial guidance. But soon some contrary wind strikes our plane, and down it falls to ruin. The appearance of success without Christ is only an empty show, like the performance of the pitiless pilots.

"A man's heart deviseth his way, but Jehovah directeth his steps."
