ROUTE PROPOSED TO LINK ROADS

Survey Made for Highway Connecting Garrett Highway and Beaver Road

Survey has been made of a proposed highway linking from Salyersville, Ky., extending river and down Salt Lick Creek, this county, to connect with the Appalachian at Harlow, Ky. It was estimated here this week.

Construction of this road would afford residents of the upper Beaver section and of Knott and adjacent sections the shortest possible route to Harlow, affording a connecting link between Harlow, one of the most important of Kentucky highways, and of which the Appalachian highway is part, with the Garrett highway leading into central Kentucky.

The proposed route would be about 15 miles long.

The route would be a great improvement for the section.

School Children Here Set Worthy Example

What's wrong with the young folks? Nothing in hearts.

The local chapter of the American Red Cross, in seeking support for the poor, this week asked the graded school children here to bring old clothes, hats, etc., for the purpose. Did they ignore this plea, as so many of the older folks have done? Not by a long shot.

These youngsters, contributed a thousand of dollars to this cause.

Each child, as a reward for his or her generosity, received a letter from the Red Cross, and a certificate from the production committee of the Red Cross, Mrs. C. T. Stephens and Mrs. L. L. Helms.

HEALTHY NEWS

Compiled by Dr. Marvin Kendall, Director, Floyd County Health Dept.

The State Board of Health, in its Eastern Division, Mr. H. A. Johnston with the United States Public Health Service, has had a very intensive campaign directed to reduce the incidence of environmental sanitation problems.

At both the recent sessions of the State Board of Health, held at the Public Health Officers' School, held at the University of Kentucky, and at Madisonville for the Western Division, the subject was discussed in all its various aspects. A program has been mapped out, which has for its basis the sanitation of ten thousand homes within the next 90 days. This is the public health service's plan to reduce the carrying-over of germs from one generation to another, and to reduce the incidence of disease among school children.

Realizing that active, intelligent cooperation on the part of the public is absolutely essential to the successful carrying out of this or any other public health program, there are making arrangements for holding public meetings at night, whenever and wherever practicable, at several different places in each county at a minimum of 15 to 20 to the county. At these meetings, the public will be given a full and complete explanation of the importance of environmental sanitation and its part in bringing it off. The speakers will be sanitary officers, local health officers, and prominent citizens, and will give talks in their respective communities. Members of the administrative staff of the State Board of Health, and sanitary experts from the United States Public Health Service will also be available for assistance when, where, and as needed.

Further to stimulate interest in the campaign, a contest has been arranged between the two sections of the state, represented by the divisions of the Public Health Officers' School, the one being approximately 5000 in population. Each county will report at 15-day intervals the number of homes sanitized, and at similar intervals the number of homes inspected. The winning of each county and of the two divisions.

Dr. E. C. Snow, executive assistant, United States Public Health Service, who has been assigned to assist the Kentucky State Board of Health in its campaign, is supervising the campaign.

Among the 14 were higher for boys than for 20 were higher for girls. In examinations made by dentists, 10 per cent of the children were noted as having five or more decayed teeth and 25 per cent one or more teeth that would finally be lost as to be classed as remaining roots.

Mortality of children of school ages. The gross rate of mortality has a minimum of 100 to 100 years of age. The mortality from 5 to 10 years is only a fraction of that in the next 10 years or more of age.

The school age important causes of death among children 5 to 10 years of age are pneumonia, meningitis, heart disease, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever. A significant percentage of deaths are due to diphtheria and scarlet fever, and to pneumonia, meningitis, and heart disease.

DUTCH BROUGHT IN WAFERS AND PIES CRISPIERS AND DOUGHNUTS

When a Dutchman comes to a new country, he brings with him his own customs and traditions. In the case of the Dutch, these include a variety of baked goods, including wafers, pies, crispiers, and doughnuts. These items are not only popular in the Netherlands but have also become favorites in many other parts of the world.

Wafers, a traditional Dutch treat, are small, round, and often topped with fruit or cream. Pies, on the other hand, are larger and can be filled with a variety of meats, fruits, or vegetables. Crispiers, which are a type of pie, are also popular and often served during special occasions. Doughnuts, another Dutch favorite, are typically round and topped with a dusting of powdered sugar.

Our Easy Methods
The Dutch have many easy methods for preparing these baked goods. For example, wafers can be made in a special wafer iron, while pies and crispiers can be made in a large, shallow pan. Doughnuts are often made in a special doughnut pan.

CRISPIERS
2 eggs 3 1/2 cups flour
4 tbsps. corn oil 1 1/2 cups milk
3 egg whites 1 tsp. salt
3-4 cup baking powder
1-2 tsp. nutmeg
Add oil gradually to beaten eggs; add sugar and one-quarter cup milk and beat one minute. Add remaining flour, nutmeg, salt, and one-half cup baking powder which has been sifted together and mix well. Add rest of milk and remainder of ingredients to make soft dough. Roll out on floured board to about one-half inch thick and cut into strips about four inches long and one-quarter inch wide; roll in hands and twist each strip, bringing ends together to form cruller.

OVERLOOKERS

It is often said that the eyes are the windows of the soul. In the case of the farmer, the eyes are also the windows of the farm. A farmer who overlooks his land is like a man who overlooks his business. Both are likely to suffer for it.

STEADY DOUGHNUTS

Doughnuts are a popular treat in many parts of the world. In the Netherlands, they are particularly popular and are often served during special occasions. There are many different recipes for doughnuts, but they all share a common characteristic: they are made from a simple dough of flour, sugar, and yeast.

KENTUCKY FARM NOTES

Fifty-five pigs were exhibited by Taylor county 4-H club members in show sponsored by the American Legion. First prize went to Charles Coward, on a grade Chester White sow weighing 260 pounds. She had been fed a balanced ration of wheat, corn and skimmed milk, and made an average daily gain of two pounds for ten days at a cost of 11.2 cents a pound. Taylor county 4-H club members own 137 pigs purchased from moose hunt them by the American Legion. All but four members have paid their notes.

Jessamine county farmers are clearing out old rice fences and clearing fields, making ready to use a state limestone crusher this fall. Thirty-five to 40 farmers are already interested in securing ground limestone for their land. The cost of limestone, when a state crusher is available, is reduced to gasoline and oil plus the charges of an operator. This will be the first time Jessamine county has secured the services of a state-owned limestone crusher.

M. T. Walker, of Lincoln community in Washington county, reports finishing a litter of 11 cross-bred pigs at a cost of $430 per 100 pounds, for grain, pasture and labor. This low cost of production gave him a substantial profit, despite low selling prices. The pigs were fattened mainly on wheat, skim milk and pasture.

The Kountzeley report, compiled by the department of agriculture of the Experiment Station, University of Kentucky, is 7 per cent less than last year, and somewhat lower for the county as a whole than for the state. It is estimated at 2 per cent above a year ago. Stocks of frozen turkeys are about the same as last year, but under the average conditions for the previous five years.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

A cow owned by Robert McAdams, of Logan county, had this week produced 302 pounds of milk from April 1 to October 1, and soon following a trip to the National Dairy Exposition in St. Louis.

Carver county farmers have 100 bushels of soybean seed for sale as a result of their first efforts with this crop.

Kobon Ispezhka in Christian county, 12 broods of high-class chickens, ranging from 100 to 200 pounds.

Fred Warnick is using plans, furnished by the Experiment Station, for building a small farm's stock barn on his Hartsville county farm.

Daily cattle from Graves and Logan counties, exhibited at the National Dairy Exposition, won $86 for 134 head members.

Alfalfa sown August 10 by Jack Demond in Marshall county was ready high November 1. The hay had been treated with timothy.

Four thousand people attended a harvest festival at Pikeville, several thousand exhibits were made, representing wide crop yields in Pike county this year.

Sudan grass, tried this year by many county farmers, furnished an abundance of pasture during the late summer and early fall, when other grasses were short.

Eighty-two purchased rams were purchased by Marion county farmers this year, compared with 12 last year and 15 in 1929.

Between 700 and 800 head of young cattle have been purchased this fall by Barlow county farmers. Many of them will be fattened for market during the winter.

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather. Their individual records ranged from 78,437 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile—less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy. In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.

The Festive Board of Colonial Days

When the 18th century was at its height, New Englanders of the Puritan faith were probably the most serious of George Washington's countrymen. As late as the 1760s, a farmer in New England would have been surprised to find that he had raised eight bushels of potatoes. It is not surprising, therefore, that these colonists had been practicing the art of potato raising for many years. Their ground was so fertile that the potatoes were among the most readily growing.

Turnips, rutabagas, and other root crops were also raised. These crops were used for food and for stock. The colonists were very careful in their selection of crops and in their methods of raising them.

The products of the farms were used in many ways. Some were sold to the city, while some were used for home consumption. The colonists were very careful in their selection of crops and in their methods of raising them.

Many families found sweetening from maple sugar and honey, although housewives of elegance always had some leaf sugar on hand for company. This was purchased in a large quantity with blue paper, which had to be carefully kept, and soaked for the indigo which was used as a dye. The ladies of the house usually performed the task of cutting the sugar for the day, a ceremony involving in some homes a parade of silver saucers, specially made scissors, all laid out on the polished surface of the dining room table with much cutting about of

TWO MEN INJURED IN FALLS SUNDAY

On Falls From Building; Other Falls Over Rock Cliff at Boldman

The usual winter in the Middle West has been observed in the mountains of the Blue Ridge since the first of the month. Frank Chesener suffered a serious injury when he fell from one of the main buildings being constructed in the Charlotte Gap & Knoxville area at Boldman. Foot Stradler was injured at the camp when he fell from a high cliff. Both were hospitalized.

He was taken to the Methodist hospital at Boldman, where he is recovering from his injuries. Stradler, a local resident, was injured when he fell from a cliff at Boldman. He is recovering from his injuries at the Methodist hospital at Boldman.

GIRALDA

In the Parish of Andalusia, Giralda, one of the most beautiful of the world's monuments of Spain, a Gothic century minaret stretched against the blue sky, and now the shape of two dozen gilded bells gleamed in the sun and the sweetest of Spanish without Giralda the city would not be complete. The minaret was destroyed by fire in 1808. It was rebuilt in 1810. The bells changed their music to an American. Giralda stands here again, for in the cathedral square the carpephages of Christ are still seen.

"Witch" Elm Claims Victim

How the "witch" elm tree claimed another victim recently was told at the owner's request at Port Talbot, Wales. Thomas J. Richards, thirty-six, had been engaged by the Port Talbot council to trim the branches. A branch on which he was standing snapped and he fell 100 feet to the road and was killed. A Hagan previously had been killed while cutting away the branches of the same tree under similar circumstances. The tree, nearly 50 feet high, is known among woodmen as "a witch tree."

Mrs. John Whitehair, of Huntingdon, has returned home after visiting Miss Darcie Maize at Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Davidson, of Lexington, spent Thanksgiving here with guests of relatives.

Miss Gerandolyn Goble, of Antioch, W. Va., spent Thanksgiving here with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Miles.

SUICIDE NOTE DENIES MURDER OF WOMAN

West Liberty, Ky.—Reporting a verdict that Billy Holbrook, 32 years old, had committed suicide by taking poison, Coroner Robert Fletcher, after an inquest this week, closed another chapter in a four-year-old mystery of the Morgan county hills.

Hunters this week stumbled over a decomposed body identified as that of Holbrook, who disappeared 32 days ago in a dense forest a mile from his home. A bottle of poison, a jar of water and a penciled note were found in his pockets. In the note, signed by Holbrook, he denied that he had murdered Mrs. Flora Cox, 35, a neighbor, who disappeared from her home four years ago. It declared he would not kill anyone but for a trial.

The Morgan county grand jury reported the case in September, when it indicted Holbrook for the murder of Mrs. Cox. The indictment was said to have been based on statements of a neighbor of Mrs. Cox that she had seen away with Holbrook the night she was first seen. Six separate affidavits in grand jury were filed. The skeleton of a woman, supposed to be Holbrook's, was found in a hole in the ground in the same forest half a mile from the spot where Holbrook was found.

Holbrook learned she had been buried the same day, said affidavits and testified $2,000 bond for his appearance. The next day he gave all his money to his son and his pistol to his wife and told her he was going to see a neighbor. When he failed to return, Mrs. Holbrook reported the matter and neighbors searched for him for several days without success.

Both Mrs. Cox and Holbrook lived near Jephtha, on Elkton Cross, about 15 miles from West Liberty.

STATE LEGION TO HOLD MID-WINTER MEETING

DECEMBER 12 AND 13
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25. (By R. Moore.) Commander of the Kentucky Department American Legion, announced today that the mid-winter conference for all post officers and Legionnaires in Kentucky would be held at the Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, Saturday and Sunday, December 12 and 13.

This conference is the outgrowth of what has in past years been called the Annual Post Commanders and Administrators' Conference and which has attracted an average attendance of over 200 Legionnaires. This year, by broadening the invitation to all post commanding officers and interested members, it anticipates an attendance of over one thousand.

The American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Ernest Foushee, of Lexington, department president, will hold its mid-winter meeting in conjunction with the Legion's meeting, thus enabling the Legionnaires and their wives to attend the conference together. The society of the "Forty-and-Eight," the Legion Inn society, is also holding a Grand Week on Saturday prior to the opening of the conference.

The tentative program calls for a Legion ball at the Seelbach Hotel, ballroom at 9 o'clock, Saturday evening, December 12, while the business session is scheduled for Sunday afternoon. A model post ceremony with the installation of officers conducted by officers of the department will open Sunday's session. Several speakers of national repute have accepted invitations to address the conference.

PIKEVILLE WINS SECOND CONTEST

A heated and interesting game by the Pikeville Panthers and the Haysville Panthers was played Saturday afternoon with the Prestonsburg Blackcats, the Pikeville team taking Prestonsburg's last game, 12 to 6.

The Panthers' victory here was the result of their own play, and not of the Haysville team's poor play. The Panthers scored 18 points, while Prestonsburg scored 12.

Red' Brantley, captain of the Panthers, led his team to the best football player in the conference, was a marked man throughout the contest, and failed to get away for any long runs, though he was a constant threat.

Haysville played well in the Blackcat schedule.

With the big Pikeville line tearing into the Prestonsburg forward wall of footy, the Panthers' greatest gains were made on their offensive.

The shadow of their own goal of the Blackcatting indication of a great fighting spirit by holding the Panthers for down on at least two occasions.

Saturday's was the last high school game for "Red" Brantley, Howell, Mitchell, Adams and May, of the Prestonsburg team. Loss of these players is a severe one to the 1932 hopes of the team unless new material is uncovered.

CERTIFICATES OF ELECTION GIVEN

Hatcher's Lead Over Latham Is 15,991; Harlan Vote Not Counted

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 27.—Certificates of election to several candidates in the November 3 general election were awarded today by the Kentucky state board of election commissioners on the basis of returns from 129 counties. Hatcher county's vote was not included in the official tabulation because the county commissioners failed to certify the results properly.

The official majority of Judge Hally Latham, elected Governor on the Democratic ticket, was 71,531 in the 119 counties. Judge Latham received 437,513 votes and William B. Harrison, his Republican opponent, 396,982.

While seven candidates polled large majorities than the Democratic candidate for Governor, Judge Latham received more than 10,000 more votes than any of the other candidates on the ticket. James H. Richmond, candidate for lieutenant governor, polled 14,522 votes.

Herbert Hoarman, Louisville, Socialist-Labor, received 1,148 votes for Governor, and John J. Tihos, Covington, Socialist, 1,163. Louis Fleischer, Louisville, Socialist-Labor, polled 973 votes for lieutenant governor, and James O'Heary, Louisville, Socialist-Labor, 1,197 votes for secretary of state.

Gains Over 1928 Shown
The Socialist and Socialist-Labor parties had no candidates four years ago, but in 1928 the Socialists polled 877 votes and the Socialist-Labor 324. In disregarding Harlan county's returns the election board followed a ruling given by the attorney-general, James W. Cannamak, who pointed out that Sheriff John H. Bate was the only member of the county board signatory the returns, although the law required the signatures of at least two members.

T. M. Gleason, Republican member, refused to sign any part of the report, and John G. Whitcomb, Democrat, at tested to all precincts except Verda, where 500 illegal votes were alleged to have been cast.

The Harlan vote had no effect on the result in any state or district, except as Senator Harlan Brock, Harlan, and Representative M. C. Rouse, of Hyden, were unopposed.

The vote for minor state offices: Lieutenant Governor, A. B. Chandler (D.), 419,239; John U. Worsham (R.), 346,872.

Secretary of State, Sarah A. Mahon (D.), 417,927; Mrs. Beatty H. Buddie (R.), 344,541.

Attorney General, Hally P. Boodien (D.), 417,041; W. T. Davis (R.), 354,301.

Auditor, J. Dan Tilbot (D.), 415,702; Joshua Smith (R.), 345,255.

Treasurer, Hiram Hindlestone (D.), 415,014; C. Dentley Bennett (R.), 343,987.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, James H. Richmond (D.), 417,006; H. A. Babo (R.), 343,737.

Commissioner of Agriculture, Eugene Flowers (D.), 415,737; A. T. Sander (R.), 344,073.

Clerk of Court of Appeals, Frank Owens (D.), 417,710; R. E. Keown (R.), 343,693.

Both a circuit and a commonwealth court was defeated, 31,154 to 30,170, and the constitutional convention proposal, 38,204 to 97,768.

Wesley Vick Perry (D.), Russellville, who was elected appellate judge to resolve his commission, he will be sworn in tomorrow morning, succeeded Judge Andrew J. Bratcher (R.), Morgantown. Perry received 53,875 votes and Bratcher, who held the office by appointment, 41,290.

CHILD'S DEATH
The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson was troubled by grief last week when their 12-month-old daughter was called by death. Illness had befallen her some time ago but nothing alarming arose until two days previous to her death. Fevers and convulsions, but to no avail. Now all that is mortal of the little sufferer lies in a newly-made mound in the Hill cemetery, and the grief-stricken parents have the sympathy of all.

COLORED BAPTISM
The colored folk of We had been holding a revival for the past three weeks, headed by a minister from Ohio. This was a very successful meeting, the church greatly revived and many new members were added, and last Sunday afternoon, in the presence of a large crowd of both white and colored people, several candidates presented themselves for baptism, and baptisms were administered in the bathing pool.

Chevrolet Motor Company Organized 20 Years Ago
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23.—Twenty years ago this just week an infant company destined for a hardy growth entered the family of automotive manufacturers, with the incorporation, on November 3, 1911, of the Chevrolet Motor Company of Michigan.
That span of two decades covers probably the most remarkable growth in this most remarkable of all industries. During the 20 years following the completion of the first Chevrolet, nearly 5,000,000 units had been built—a record unequalled by any other automobile manufacturer in the world.

Twenty years ago the embryo of the infant company was a small workshop on Grand River avenue, Detroit, where Louis Chevrolet built experimental cars, no more than four or five, that first year. Today the production of 200,000 units a month at twenty domestic plants which produced a four-year average of more than a million cars a year.

Up to 1923 the output of the company for many years was exclusively four cylinder cars. On November 18, 1923, the company announced its abandonment of the four cylinder field, where it had won pre-eminence, and brought out a six. In the very first year the new type exceeded all previous records of the smaller four, and today the company is leading the industry in sales.

Miss May Allen returned Saturday to her home at Ellettsville after a visit here with relatives.
