MRS. BURCHETT IS CONVICTED; GIVEN 7 YEARS

Jury Deliberates 36 Hours in Case Charging Woman with Slaying Mother

HUSBAND RELEASED

After deliberating for 36 hours, the jury in the Floyd circuit court Saturday gave Mrs. Bertha Burchett a seven-year penitentiary sentence for the slaying of her mother, Mrs. Belle Thompson at the Burnett home on the Mayo Trail above here last December. Her husband, Larry Burchett, and co-defendant in the trial, Mrs. Samuel Griffith Lary, W. Va., were released.

The trial was held in the courtroom of Judge C. B. Wheeler. The jury was composed of twelve men. The case was heard in the afternoon. Mrs. Burchett claimed the slaying was accidental, while the state sought to prove her guilty of murder. The defendant testified that her mother was shot when the defendant was accidentally discharged from her pocket. Mrs. Burchett testified that she did not see the shooting and that she had nothing to do with the slaying.

The commonwealth produced the evidence of two women who testified that they saw the two women sitting in the backyard in the Burnett home and that a moment after they saw them disappear inside the house, they heard the report of a shot. A number of witnesses were used to establish the relation existing between the aged woman and her daughter and son-in-law and also to testify to the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Thompson. Assisting Commonwealth's Attorney C. D. Stephens was Attorney J. B. Clarke. Defense counsel were the law firms of Harkins & Harkins and James & Hobson. The case will be taken to the court of appeals. It is said.

EX-SERVICE MEN EXPRESS THANKS

To Congressman A. J. May for Services in Their Behalf

Senators of Congressman A. J. May in behalf of ex-service men, in recognition of his following message of thanks signed by more than 100 World War veterans:

"We the undersigned sincerely thank Mr. May for his timely and wonderful cooperation in making possible the World War veterans shelter home at 480 Pennsylvania avenue.

"This action of Mr. May has made it possible for hundreds of destitute and homeless men to be housed in comfort."

This expression of gratitude resulted from Mr. May's action last winter in helping to procure the use of the Caning room of the House Office Building as a meeting place for the veterans when they went to Washington last winter to petition Congress for relief, and from his arranging for shelter for the veterans in the old Commerce building. As a member of the committee on Military Affairs Mr. May was able to have placed in the building for the comfort of the men and their families obtained from the War Department.

MRS. MAY NAMED TO STATE POSITION

Dad and Daughter in First Meeting

It was a momentous day in the lives of this pretty twenty-one-year-old American girl and her father, a French opera singer, as they met for the first time on the deck of a great ocean liner at New York. Like the story of one of the father's beloved operas, reads the account of how Louis Rousseau and his daughter had unsuccessfully sought each other for years, once actually being within calling distance of each other in New York. The girl was born in Italy, Paris, a few weeks after her father and mother had divorced and separated. Louis Rousseau was at the pier as the liner glided up the bay, looking for a father to her. She had waited all her life for him.

BEGIN REHEARSALS WOMAN'S CHORUS FOR PLAY MAY 5 ORGANIZED HERE

Rehearsals were under way this week by a cast composed of local talent in preparation for the presentation here Thursday evening, May 5, at the graded school auditorium of "An Old-Fashioned Mother," which is being sponsored by the Meridian lodge, Order of Rebekahs, which is being sponsored by Miss Anna Martin. It is said to be an interesting production and will be enacted by a competent cast. Music will be furnished during the evening by a local orchestra.

The cast: Deborah Underhill, — Mrs. Cecil Kendrick; Walter Bill Phillips — Miss Louise Dunn; Miss Louisa Loving Custard — Miss Ruth Nicholas; Isabel Sampson — Anna May Hatcher; Gloria Perkins — Irene Patton; Susie Phelan — Margaret Stephens; John Underhill — Cecil Kendrick; Charley Underhill — Everett Short; Brother Leah Quanzel — Oscar Bond; Jeremiah Gosling — Dan Trivette; Elphie Rose — Charles Spradlin; Quanta, Todd John, Candlin, and the village choir.

At an entertainment given recently by Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James she discussed with a group of singers at Prestonsburg plans for the organization here of a woman's chorus.

The plan met with the instant approval of those present, and a number far exceeding early expectations, have joined the movement. Rehearsals have been begun, and Mrs. James this week said the number of splendid voices in the chorus is unusual for a chorus of this size, giving promise of a fine and talented organization.

First appearance of this chorus will be before the Business and Professional Women's Club at a luncheon to be given by the club at the Hotel Elizabeth Sunday. Then a short tour is scheduled for the latter part of May, with a public concert booked here in June.

SHALE WELL STRUCK ON PRATER CREEK

Gas struck in the shale this week on the Barley Hill farm, Prater Creek, by drillers for the World Natural Gas Company is yielding 175,000 cubic feet daily.

Few wells are being sunk in this field at present and prospects are not so bright for development this year as in the past.

Old Graves in Floyd Found Opened; Search Revived for Jack Neal's Gold, Is Believed

The report reaching here that old graves have been found newly opened on the hill overlooking Hueysville, this county, has revived a search for buried treasure which has been made there in intervals for almost half a century is being revived.

Who these are who have resorted to the shameful practice of disturbing the ashes of the long-departed and reposing dead remains unknown, but the chief of their search is not a matter even of doubt.

They are looking for Jack Neal's gold—the golden hoard, which for 50 years has been the past treasure of the county, which the state is to...

It was known that Neal kept either at his home or at his "general" store, a small fortune in gold. Moreover, not long before his death, he was seen by a servant in the Neal home skulking away from the house after nightfall, bearing an old tea-kettle in which it was said he kept his gold coin. That was not long after his wife Polly Neal had died.

On Christmas day, 1881, Jack Neal was a victim of a strange misadventure. A few days after his death, a man from a business trip to Cincinnati from the country, was seen skulking away from the Neal home after nightfall, bearing an old tea-kettle in which it was said he kept his gold coin. That was not long after his wife Polly Neal had died.

THREE ARE TAKEN TO STATE REFORMATORY

Mr. Sturdivant was accompanied to Frankfort by Circuit Clerk O. H. Shuman, County Clerk A. B. Meade and Jack Selridge.

TWO MENTIONED AS IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Political rumor has it that two more candidates, may enter the Congressional race this year. W. M. Dingus, of Prestonsburg, former State Senator, may enter the Republican primary for the office. It is said, with Dr. Wright, of Leitchfield, mentioned as a probable Democratic candidate.

ROBS RESTAURANT, ATTEMPTS HOLD-UP

Charges Faced by West Prestonsburg Youth; Flees From Officer

"Soda" Miller, of West Prestonsburg, is in the county jail here, alleged to have robbed the restaurant of Mrs. Maude Howard in West Prestonsburg Monday night of $25 in cash and a revolver and to have attempted the hold-up of C. L. Hayden on the following afternoon.

Mr. Hayden and another man were on the sidewalk at West Prestonsburg when Miller attempted the hold-up from the road below, yelling a revolver at them and ordering them to throw their money down to him. Ducking into a depression in the ground, the two gathered stones, and prepared to fight if Miller came nearer.

When Policeman A. C. Daniels accosted Miller the latter ran, the officer firing three shots, one of which passed through Miller's clothing. The fugitive then made his way to a better at the old Middle Creek County penitentiary, and crawled inside. He refused to surrender until threatened with gas, it is said. The revolver which he is alleged to have taken from the restaurant was later found on top of the boiler.

HUEYSVILLE WOMAN VICTIM OF CANCER

Hueysville, Ky., April 26 (Sp.)—Mrs. Frank Wolfe, nee Miss Bessie Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Patton, and aged about 30 years, died here at the home of her parents at midnight last night. Mrs. Wolfe was brought here from her home on Stephens Branch several days ago, suffering from cancer. No hope had been held out for her recovery for some time.

Mrs. Wolfe was a woman of quiet character and genial disposition and had many friends here and at other places on Beaver Creek where she and her husband, who has been prominently connected with the milling business in this section for several years, had resided.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Patton, both of this place, and by three brothers, Oscar Patton, of Estill and Frank and Russell, both of this place; and by five sisters, Mrs. Ben Hall and Mrs. Woods Martin, both of Estill; and Mrs. Tom Duncan, Mrs. Ed. Webb and Mrs. James Harlow, all of this place. A daughter and son, Eugene and Ralph, and the beloved son, Edward, also survive.

Funeral will be held here at the Patton home, probably on Wednesday afternoon.

COURT TO SETTLE FLOYD JURY COST

Talbot Declares Here; Payment of Claims Withheld

In Prestonsburg last week en route to Pikeville, Dan Talbot, state auditor, in commenting upon the results of the Floyd circuit court, said that payment of jury claims from the January term of the Floyd circuit court would be left to the discretion of the Franklin circuit court. "If I on my own initiative refuse to pay the claims, my shirps as a Democrat would create the claim that I did so for political reasons," Mr. Talbot said in giving his reason for transferring the matter to the court. It was intimated that the decision of the circuit court will be taken to the court of appeals so that a final ruling may be definitely established in the matter.

The claims on which payment has been refused are for jury service at the January term of circuit court, being amounting to approximately $3,000.

Early this month Nat. B. Rowell, state inspector and examiner, filed a report based on an opinion by Attorney General Bailey P. Wooten and an investigation into Floyd jury costs by Warren M. Vanhook, assistant state inspector and examiner, advising against the payment of the January claim, and citing the following charges:

Selection of forty or more persons for petit jury service instead of the statutory maximum of thirty persons.

Failure of the jury wheel with names taken from the assessor's books as required by statute.

Impugning three or four petit jurors instead of two, the statutory maximum.

Summoning of bystanders as jurors when there are more than three vacancies to be filled.

Approving unauthorized jury claims.

HARTLEY COMMITS SUICIDE TUESDAY

Ill Health, Financial Worries Responsible for Act, Claim

Shortly after returning from a business trip to Beaver Creek, this county, James A. Hartley, salesman for the Strietman, Blount Company, shot and fatally wounded himself while sitting in his auto in front of the Pikeville Motor Company building. He died a few minutes later from a bullet wound in the head.

Mr. Hartley had been traveling in this section for several years, and had many friends. Friends of Mr. Hartley said that they believed his health and financial worries were responsible for his suicide, though a definite reason is not known. His widow said that he had been in a highly nervous state for a week which she attributed to his having been gassed during service in France in the World War.

The deceased is survived by his widow and two small children. Personal services were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Pikeville, and the body was taken to Russellville, W. Va. for burial.

COURT OF APPEALS AFFIRMS SENTENCE

MISS ARNOLD 'HIT' OF SHOW

Those who saw the showing of "Laff That Off" here recently were thrilled by the splendid acting of Isabelle Arnold (Mrs. Larry Sullivan), who is a sister of Judge E. C. Arnold of this place, but few knew that they were enjoying the best dramatic work of one of the favorites of the stage.

A few days ago Miss Arnold went to Indianapolis where she is the featured player at Keith's with the Berkell Players in the comedy "Getting George's Garden." And here are excerpts of the reviews given the play by the Indianapolis press:

(Indianapolis Times, April 26) "There is no doubt about it. Isabelle Arnold walks away with 'Getting George's Garden.' Miss Arnold puts comedy, sarcasm, melodrama, farce, character and everything in the box office smile when the cash is counted up because Miss Arnold has a laugh so much easier to play with than this season as 'tag night'."

(Indianapolis Star, April 25) "There is no new bottle in the repertoire of one of Charles Berkell's old troupers in their current offering this week."

Miss Arnold, one of the originals of the Berkell Players in Indianapolis, returned last night to take one of her characteristic roles.

In all of it, Miss Arnold is putting the spice for which she has been noted for her dramatic work in Indianapolis, and which has brought many a check to Indianapolis theaters.

Honors go to Miss Arnold.

SYSTEM OF TAXATION DISCUSSED BY MOORE

(Special to The Times)

Richmond, Ky., April 25.—A system of state taxation which Dr. Moore thinks would be most equitable was set forth by Dr. W. J. Moore, head of the department of commercial education of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers' College, in an address here today. It was taken from the recommendations of a committee of the National Tax Association and provided for four principal sources of revenue: an additional income tax with progressive rates; a property tax on tangible property only; a tax on the net incomes of all types of business; and an inheritance tax.

Dr. Moore reported a world-wide tendency in recent years for changes of public expenditures. All the countries in the United States spent one billion dollars in 1899, three billions in 1913, and approximately 10 billions in 1931. Of the latter, four billions were spent by the national government, two billion by the states, and seven billion by the local governments, including cities, he said.

"The increased cost of government can not be attributed to inefficient or dishonest officials," Dr. Moore contended. "For, taking the world as a whole, we have a capable group of administrators of government."

"There are two causes for increased public expenditures," he said. "One is what we call socialization of consumption, meaning that we tend constantly to satisfy our desires and obtain our pleasures in increasingly large groups, and the other is one which might be termed war costs. Three-fourths of the national expenditures in this country are for various phases of war, including veterans' relief, maintenance of army and navy, improvement of implements of war and interest and preparation on war debts."

In discussing war debts, Dr. Moore brought out that the national debt was increased from one billion dollars in 1918 to 20 billion, in 1931 and was, during the succeeding ten years, reduced ten billions. "But," he went on, "during the same period, the national debt of the states and cities added about ten billions of debts so that we now have a total public debt of approximately thirty billions of dollars. Of this two billions are state debts, twelve billions are city debts, and the state debt was money spent on roads, but only four per cent of it was expended for school purposes."

As an illustration of where public money had obtained, Dr. Moore, taking 1928 as a typical year, gave the principal sources of national income tax: 38.3; personal income tax, 28.2; customs or tariff, 17.1; sanitary taxes, 12.4; automobile and motorcycle excise taxes, 2.3 percent; estate tax, 1.8 percent; and corporation capitalization stock, 0.8 percent.

"It was explained that sanitary taxes are those which are applied to such things as tobacco and cigarettes and that the estate tax is a parallel of the state inheritance taxes and is practically the same though operated on a different base."
