FLOYD MAGISTRATE LIST CUT TO FOUR BY COUNTY COURT

Step Taken as Economy Measure, Said; Justices Salaries Saved

DISTRICTS DESCRIBED

As a result of action taken by the Floyd county court in special session here Monday the number of magisterial districts will be reduced at the end of next year from eight to four. This was done in an economy measure, it is stated, and that the number of magistrates is dropped from the legal maximum of eight to the legal minimum of exactly four. This number is considered necessary to accomplish this saving phase here. The county under the jurisdiction of each justice of the peace.

TWO FLOYD COUNTY MEN KILLED IN CAR MISHAPS IN WEEK

Silas Spurlock and Deo Branham are Victims on Mayo Trail

DRIVER EXONERATED

Two Floyd county men were killed during the past week as the result of automobile mishaps, and a woman was seriously injured.

The dead are: Silas Spurlock, 37, drilling contractor, Prestonsburg.

D. Branham, aged Hill Creek farmer. Mr. Spurlock died Friday night shortly after being injured when his auto plowed into the hillside bordering the Mayo Trail near the home of Ed Merritt, a south side miller above the Prestonsburg. It is believed that the wreck resulted when Mr. Spurlock, driving at a rapid rate of speed, could not control the car after it rounded the curve below the Merritt home and struck the heavy gravel.

The victim sustained two skull fractures and lacerated the body. He died en route to the Hoover Valley hospital. The accident took place at 8 o'clock at night as Mr. Spurlock was driving home from Pikeville, where he had transacted business Monday afternoon. In Haysville he had picked up Mrs. Bester Patton and was a small girl, both of this place, who were awaiting a ride home. Mrs. Patton is recovering from her injuries. The child escaped without being hurt.

Mr. Spurlock came to Prestonsburg about 10 years ago from Haysville, Va., and since that time has been connected with the development of the Floyd county gas field as a drilling contractor, being associated with his brother, Homer Spurlock, who formerly with F. G. Cray, of Lexington, and four brothers, through this section, and was known as a good citizen. He is survived by his wife, Miss Gail, Drury, Blain county, Va.; Mrs. Lora Hamilton, Blain county, Va.; and Mrs. Mary McAllen, West Haysville, W. Va.

You want a gasoline that won't knock, of course. But don't you also want your gasoline to give you full power, in power and mileage economy?

You may not realize it, but few gasolines today can give a proper balance of these important qualities. Here's the reason. Most gasolines have recently been stepped up in anti-knock to meet the requirements of the new high compression motors. Under ordinary refining processes, anti-knock quality can only be improved at the expense of other qualities. Power and mileage have been lessened, as anti-knock has been increased.

The Gyro Process of refining, however, produces the highest anti-knock motor fuel known in the refining industry, without sacrificing other desirable characteristics. Gyro-Processed gasoline is heavier than ordinary gasolines. That means it contains more heat units. Heat units mean mileage.

Purol-Pep gasoline is a product of the Gyro Process. Hence, it combines the utmost in power and mileage economy with high anti-knock.

You'll also find New Purol-Pep gives new life in your motor—makes it start quicker, pick up faster. You'll marvel at the smooth, surging power on steep hills.

Next time you buy gasoline, fill up with Purol-Pep. Test it for pick-up, speed, power. Then check your mileage. Compare its all 'round performance with other gasolines. You'll find it gives you what you're looking for these days—most value for your money.

Mother's Wish To See Her Baby
Reveals Answer To Four-Year Search
For Babe Abandoned In Catlettsburg

Catlettsburg, Ky., May 19.—For almost four years, Mr. and Mrs. August Guenther, of Catlettsburg, have made a futile search of records, and have been engaged in a wide-spread investigation in the hope of knowing who was the mother of the chubby little five-day-old baby girl found by them on their doorstep late in the evening of June 19, 1923.

The answer to their search came this morning. It came as the result of a dying mother's wish to see her baby.

Over in Roanoke, Va., a seventeen-year-old school teacher lay ill with pneumonia. Her nursing life in Tennessee, her only other living relative, a Kentuckian, she was forsaken, and doctors told her she had slight chance of recovery. If only she could see her baby! It was then that she revealed the secret of four years, and told them how when a girl mother of fourteen, she had tucked her only in a basket, kissed it goodbye, and abandoned it on the doorstep of the Guenther home.

The tiny wails of a hungry baby attracted Mrs. Guenther to her door. There she found the abandoned baby with a note pinned to the blanket: "Please take good care of my baby."

The mother evidently had not left her baby, but she could not have left it in a better place. Mr. and Mrs. Guenther, childless, adopted the child into their home and cared for her as their own. They attempted to locate the child's mother but failed and later legally adopted her. They named her Eva. Now a healthy, happy little girl almost four years of age, Eva is a favorite among her playmates, and the fond of the old relative, a Kentuckian, she was forsaken, and doctors told her she had slight chance of recovery. If only she could see her baby! It was then that she revealed the secret of four years, and told them how when a girl mother of fourteen, she had tucked her only in a basket, kissed it goodbye, and abandoned it on the doorstep of the Guenther home.

THE PESTIFEROUS HOUSEFLY

Whichever the pestiferous housefly, disease and death may follow. Its presence is both a disgrace and a danger. Where there are no dirt and filth, there will be no flies.

Eternal war should be declared upon the little pest. Strike at the root of the evil, clean up your own place, keep inside and out, and keep them clean. Urge your neighbors to do likewise.

The housefly breeds in animal manure, kitchen refuse and the like. Dispose of these materials in such a way that the housefly can not propagate. Screen all doors and windows and insist that your grocer, butcher, baker and every one from whom you buy foodstuffs does the same.

My screens are recognized by the State Board of Health as one of the most efficient safeguards of health. They should be put in place early in the spring and kept continuously in use until the snow flies.

Screening doors and windows to keep out flies is just as important as packing the doors to keep out mosquitoes, disease and death may follow. Its presence is both a disgrace and a danger. Where there are no dirt and filth, there will be no flies.

The only safe way lies in removing, as far as possible, all breeding places of flies and in adequately screening all windows and doors, especially the doors and windows of the kitchen and dining room.

Don't allow flies to get near milk! Don't buy foodstuffs where flies are tolerated!

Don't let flies crawl over the baby's face or hands! Don't let flies near baby's food or nursing bottles! Don't eat where flies have access to the food!

Don't patronize grocery stores, or meat markets, that harbor and feed flies!

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Spraying demonstration for the control of blight on Irish potatoes with Bordeaux mixture was given on the farm of Jim Stephens, off C-11 and Henrie Fairchild, Allen.

Two applications of Bordeaux will prevent the blight from causing the vines to mature from two to three weeks early and thus reduce the yield of potatoes.

The agent has observed the first Mexican bean beetle which lays the eggs which hatch into the dreaded yellow fuzzy-legged larva that does an enormous damage to the bean leaves.

A dust composed of one pound sulphur and four pounds hydrated lime should be applied to the under side of the leaf as soon as the first eggs appear.

This dust will give excellent results when applied at this time and every 10 days thereafter.

There are several other commodities which are being raised here and green and yellowish-brown spots on the leaves of beans and soybeans, unfit for human consumption.

These spots are caused by a mite which is very common and will give excellent results when applied at this time and every 10 days thereafter.

LOCALS BLAST

...of advance for at least another Sunday.

After Louisa had retired, Prestonsburg went in and scored four markers on two outs, one of which was a double made by Collins, on the first ball pitched and the other a towering homer over the left field fence by Tomo Harris. With Collins on second, Mosely struck out but was safe when the Louisa catcher let the third strike get away from him. Collins reached third. Curritto died to center, scoring Collins and Mosely going to second. Mosely scored on a fielder's choice on which Miller reached first safely. Then Harris caught one to his liking and slammed the ball over the fence, seeing Miller ahead of him. To end the inning, Wells fanned and Hager advanced out to Vinson at second.

The game went along serenely enough until the third when Louisa scored a run on Atkins' duplication of Harris' drive over the fence. Edwards later singled to right and Damon was hit by a pitched ball, but two were out, and Patton forced Damon at second. Prestonsburg then retaliated in the fourth with three hits good for three runs. Hager threw a single to center and Harlowe beat out a bunt down the archway line. Wells pushed the runners ahead with a sacrifice. Collins was safe on a fielder's choice, and when Edwards kicked Mosley's single to center into left field both runners scored. Mosley scored on Curritto's fly to center.

In the fifth Wells was safe on a placed ball and Harlowe beat out the third strike. These, mixed with Vinson's error, Hager's fly to center and Woods' single to left scored two runs. Both teams scored one run each in the sixth. Patton singled to left, advanced on Varney's out, reached third on a fielder's choice and scored on Sox's out. Mosely scored the run for Prestonsburg in that inning, reaching first on two outs and scored when a fly for the third out at first was unsuccessful.

Harlowe hit to center for one base in the seventh, went to third on Woods' shot to the same spot and scored on an out at first which was played slowly. Louisa made a last gallant stand in the ninth with one run on one hit.

Wells held the visitors to five hits, struck out nine and had the game showing was a feature, but the peppy, little catcher as well as other members of the local team who are usually counted upon for some slugging failed to get a safe hit. Lovely's one-handed running catch of Mosely's liner to right was the most spectacular play of the day. Damon, Louisa pitcher, deserved a better fate than was his, erratic holding and disjointed teamwork hurting the chances of his team. Woods led the Prestonsburg team at bat, driving out three safeties in four times up.

WAYLAND SWAMPS
PAINTSVILLE, 16-2

Wayland, Ky., May 23 (Sp).—Wayland had no trouble in swamping Paintsville in an exhibition game at Wayland Sunday, 16 to 2. White Wayland was garnering 15 hits off Wheeler and Lyons. In the one-sided contest, Paintsville could do nothing with the hands of Harris, who had the game under perfect control at all times, allowing but three scattered hits.

EMMA LOSES TO
MILLSTONE, 4-3

The Emma team traveled 100 miles to Millstone Sunday and played one of its hardest games to date finally losing in the eleventh, 4-3.

The Millstone team was held under control by Leslie, the big moundman of Emma, for the first five innings, then in the sixth through an error Millstone scored its first run. White Emma took an early lead by pointing over two in the first and one in the third. Millstone came from behind in the eighth and tied the count at 3-3, but it was a pitcher's duel till the last of the eleventh when Davis, of Millstone, reached first on an error, then scored on Potter's slugging in the high school days, was the star of the day and served notice that he is back in form, some more and will make many hard hitters lay down their timber in ensuing games.

Woods, centerfielder for Emma, suffered a broken leg in the second inning sliding home. Both bones in the ankle were broken and he was taken to the Seco hospital where doctors made an X-ray and reset the broken bones. He will be out of the game for the remainder of the season.
