RISNER SOUGHT AFTER SHOOTING OFFICER IN BACK

Deputy Sheriff Shot Near
Martin; Paintsville Youth
Wounded Saturday Night

REWARD OFFERED

Officers of Floyd county officers to trace John Risner, of this place, following his flight in an automobile after shooting and seriously wounding Deputy Sheriff Harrison Frasure near Martin Friday night. He has been listed as 'unknown'. It is said that the wounded officer is recovering in the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, from a bullet wound through the back and left hand.

According to Deputy Sheriff Ott Danner of Martin, Frasure, commander on the night of the shooting, Risner fled upon Frasure after the officers had arrested Risner as he sat in his car near the "diner" above Martin.

After searching Risner's automobile and finding no weapons, Danner had gone on to the auto in which he and Frasure were driving, while Frasure remained behind to return to Risner the latter's revolver. When Frasure walked toward the other car, preparatory to leaving according to Deputy Sheriff Frasure, Risner began firing. The two officers returned the fire as Risner drove away but were unable to ascertain if they scored a hit.

Deputy Sheriff Danner said he did not know his companion who hit until the shooting was over, when Frasure told him that he was shot. The wounded man was able to walk into the hospital, but later he was reported as being in a serious condition. The bullet struck him in the right side of the back. It is said, passing through the body at an angle and emerging from the left side of the chest.

Risner, it was said at the courthouse this week, is under bond in several liquor cases. Recently, he has been an insurance agent.

COMPANY LOSES $60,000.00 SUIT

Boyd Circuit Court Decision
Against Warfield Natural Gas Company Affirmed

Frankfort, Ky., May 31.—The court of appeals today affirmed verdicts totaling $60,000 obtained by Wright and Cahoon against the Warfield Natural Gas Company for serious burns suffered in a gas explosion.

Wright was awarded damages of $43,000 and Cahoon $17,000. The entire suit with the exception of Judge S. S. Willis, sat in the case.

"Although the verdict awarded $100,000," said the opinion written by Commissioner O. W. Stanley, "measuring it by the considerations outlined, the court does not regard it as so excessive as to require a reversal of the judgment." The opinion also stated the court did not consider Cahoon's verdict excessive.

A claim for a reversal of the judgments on the question of whether the verdicts were sustained by the evidence was not upheld. The appellate court said because the court was evenly divided, one of the judges not sitting.

Wright and Cahoon were burned severely October 10, 1929, when Wright struck a match on the ceiling of the basement on his dwelling in the village of Hindersville, Martin county. An explosion occurred, setting fire to their clothing.

They sued the Warfield Natural Gas Company, charging their injuries resulted from negligence of the company in maintaining its high-pressure lines near the dwelling.

P'BURG TEAM IS WINNER SUNDAY

Victory Over Pikeville Projects Lead; Losses to Thaalka

The Prestonsburg warblers went into action when Bob Zinzinger weakened Sunday in the seventh behind woebly support, and immediately turned what had been a beautiful pitching duel between Zinzinger and "Yankee" Wells, Prestonsburg pitcher, into a rout; the local team winning 9 to 1. The game was played on the Pikeville field before a liberal-sized crowd.

After Prestonsburg had scored one run in the first inning on a single, Curran's fly to center and two errors, Zinzinger held the locals hitless until the seventh. In the meantime, Wells was holding Pikeville to three scattered singles and was going along in great form on nothing more than a 1 to 0 lead. Then broke the storm.

Harris hit for two bases and the next two batters, Wells and Harlowe, singled. Hager filed out and so did Collins, but Mosely came through with a single to right. Three runs were in. The next inning saw the storm turn so deluge, with four runs being scored on five hits, an error and two stolen bases. In this inning Castle, Willis, Harlowe, Hager and Collins did the work with the lumber.

Pikeville retaliated in the eighth with its only run scoring on two hits by P. Caullin and Zinzinger, with Oberchun drawing a free ticket to first. The Prestonsburg attack continued, though somewhat abated in the ninth when one run was scored on hits by Castle and Miller, coupled with Castle's golden base.

JURY CONDEMNS SEWER SYSTEM

Says Open Sewer Here Threat to Health; Fifty-three Indictments

Reporting to the court May 26 after having been in session 17 days, the grand jury for the May circuit court term heretofore that it had made 53 indictments. The report was signed by Malcom Hall, Allen, former Floyd county judge, foreman of the jury.

Complaint was made upon insanitary conditions in Prestonsburg, the reference being made to the open sewer situation. This part of the report follows:

"We have found that an open sewer is permitted to run through the town of Prestonsburg, which is a source of disease and a cause of sickness. Steps should at once be taken to abate this nuisance. The stench and smell from this sewer, which we understand, accommodates the whole town above the outlet and is permitted to run down the terrible branch to the river, is particularly bad during the summer months, and is likely to cause an epidemic in the town of Prestonsburg this summer. Indictments should have been made against the council of Prestonsburg, but we hesitate to do so, feeling that said officers will have the same attitude to before another grand jury convenes."

Julius W. A. Dinges was praised by the grand jury for the excellent condition in which the jail and courthouse square are kept. Repairs of the street and highway in the courthouse and enlargement of the circuit clerk's office were recommended.

Floyd Man, Peniless When Married, Dug Ginseng For A Living; Died Worth Fortune

An interesting story of the success to which thrift and industry will lead is told through the recent death at Bevinville, this county, of the Rev. W. E. Hall, one of the wealthiest citizens of this county.

When Mr. Hall at the age of 31 was about to be married to Miss Sigmannah Thompson, so the story goes, he borrowed money with which to procure a marriage license and had but one shirt in his wardrobe. For the next two years he and his young wife dug ginseng and sold it to neighboring merchants thus eking out an existence.

When his father, the late W. E. Hall, Sr., gave the young groom a suit and the horse and wagon for a fair price in those days, with a possible 200 points and Betty Layne only a few.

The stock of food, grow. The young merchant was popular, and the business flourished. Soon he began reaching out into other avenues of trade, and everything he touched was converted into profit. In addition to the sale of merchandise, he bought and sold cattle, his profits went into land—lands rich in coal and gas.

When Mr. Hall died a few days ago he possessed in cash, government bonds, bank stock and such in a gross company more than $500,000 by way of absence of the Bank of Kentucky and was president of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce. On his death, he left a large estate.

COAL COMPANY DIVIDES FARM INTO GARDENS

Among the coal companies of this section which have aided their employees materially during this season of depression and slack mine run is the Glasgow Coal Company at Glo, this county, which has divided a tract of approximately 250 acres into 100 gardens which are being cultivated by miners.

These gardens are given the miners free, and a part of the seed was furnished by the coal company, the Red Cross supplying the remainder. County Agent S. L. Isham visited Glo this week, and said that the gardens at this time indicate that this move will protect many families from want for months to come.

Although Bicentennial celebrations in all sections of the country have been featured since the opening of February 22 of the nine-month observance of the George Washington Bicentennial, indications are that the summer months will bring the fullest participation yet enjoyed. Informants here who received news from the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission...

George Washington drama is playing a major role in the activities for the summer. The Play and Pageant Department of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission has issued more than 100,000 copies of plays and pageants featuring the life and times of George Washington. These have been circulated upon request. Printed programs verifying the production of these plays and pageants in almost every city in the country are now being developed at commission headquarters. A large percentage of schools have included themselves to re-enact Washington events from commencement and graduation exercises. Fourth of July and Flag Day celebrations in various parts of the country are being planned, even now, as far ahead as Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day with special emphasis being placed on plays and pageants.

The citizens, however, without exception, made their important spectacles from the life and career of George Washington. Every citizen has included something of this order in its parade and program features. Fourth of July and Flag Day are being celebrated in elaborate and pretentious spectacles. This interest is largely due to the committee of professional and amateur actors who make it one of their interests to make the plays spectacles. Early last year this organization began contacting the circus managers with the result that all who attend these little theatre and stock companies this year will be entertained by the gorgeous shows.

Menus for Children's Parties; Happy Affairs at Little Cost

NOW that the days are longer and the out-of-doors an inviting for the children to play and enjoy hours of amusement, the query, "May we please have a party, mother?" is a frequent one. It is fine if we can take a few minutes to prepare something very simple and allow the children to take their little tables and sets of dishes to the yard and have a party. It takes very little effort to make children's parties occasions and they make lasting impressions on young minds.

Feeds for these impromptu parties must be of the easily and quickly prepared variety, and they must be nourishing and wholesome so that the youngsters will not be upset afterwards. For an After School Party in the Yard Peanut Butter and Blood Banana Sandwiches Packaged Wafers Lemonade Apple Butter and Chopped Nut Sandwiches Crackers or Cookies Iced Cocoa, Lemonade or Milk

No party menu served in the yard is complete without lemonade. For the sandwiches, spread this slice of bread with Peanut Butter, with this slice of banana and place two together to form a sandwich. Trim crusts, cut into dainty shapes and place on a small plate to be taken to the party. Peanut Butter is an especially valuable food as it is rich in both protein and iron. To make the Apple Butter and Chopped Nut Sandwiches, spread a generous layer of Pure Apple Butter on thinly cut white or brown bread. Sprinkle with chopped nuts and cover with a second slice of bread. Trim crusts and shape into dainty sandwiches.

For a Tiny Tots Party (Under 6 years) Jelly Sandwiches Vanilla Sandwiches Nursery Pudding Milk

(*) Indicated recipes are given below. Baking or Vanilla Wafers with Marshmallows: Place whole marshmallows on wafers and bake in a slow oven until the marshmallows have melted. Nursery Pudding: Scald 2 1/2 cups milk and add to it 1/4 cup Brown Sugar. Stir constantly over hot water until the mixture thickens. Add to it slightly beaten egg. It cup brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and add to the milk mixture. Add 1/2 cup seedless raisins, pour into a buttered baking dish and place in a pan of hot water in a waterbath oven for from 30 to 40 minutes. Serve hot or thoroughly chilled with a generous pitcher of whole milk.

STEPS TOWARD ECONOMY

Last week The Times announced two moves which should meet with the approval of every Floyd county taxpayer. These are the reduction of the number of Floyd county magisterial districts from eight to four and the proposed organization of the Floyd County Taxpayers' League.

Both insure economy. In each is seen the promise of money saved to the taxpayer.

Improved roads eliminate whatever need, if any, that ever existed for eight magistrates. The urgent need for economy makes Judge Stumbo's elimination of four of the eight magistrates definitely the right move at the right time.

And a taxpayers' league, held strictly to its own business without political friction hampering its functions which are devoted to the common good, cannot but be beneficial. In Floyd county last year, through such an organization taxpayers were saved $300,000. This was done without undue friction between the league members and public officials. Here, it is announced, the taxpayers in organizing do not seek to arrogate any authority to themselves; instead they merely seek economy and expect to work with officials to that end.

A GIFT TO US

Proposed elevation by the state highway department of the part of Friend street between Second avenue and the Mayo Trail being built on Broadway so as to place that part of the thoroughfare on a level with the highway, is another favor to Prestonsburg.

Left in its present condition, it is but a part of a low, soggy strip of land, ugly to look upon except in the best of weather, certainly far from the aspect of what one considers that of a street in a modern town. As constructed as planned, it will give to Prestonsburg another street just as the Mayo Trail is doing, without a cent of cost.

The only assistance asked is a few feet of drainage pipe to cross the street at its lowest point, and in return the city surely the citizens here can offer encouragement to the project, since it is costing nothing.

WAYLAND POUNDS LOUISA, 10 TO 7

Wayland, Ky., May 30.—(Sp.)—Before one of the largest crowds of the season, Wayland defeated Louisa here Sunday, 10 to 7. Both teams got off to a rugged start in the first inning. For Wayland Harry G. Harris threw in the opening round in locating the plates with the result that Louisa garnered four runs on a walk, a hit batter and two singles. Louisa threatened in the second when, with two down and men on third and second, Alkins couldn't deliver and went out by the strike-out route. In the third Louisa pushed a run over on a single and two passed balls. From this point it was one-way ball for Louisa until the sixth when Caulliff, batting for Vinson, singled. Hanson pushed him over to third on a single and then stole second. Edwards, fanned as did Thompson. Caulliff and Hanson, however, didn't score. Alkins, followed by Roberts on second, poked a fly one to G. Harris, and the game was in the bag.

After the disaster, start in the first, Wayland covered things up in the third by scoring four runs on a double, a single, a hit batter and a couple of errors. They added three more runs in the second on three bunched singles and a hit by Edgar. Truly hitting Caulliff hit a fly in each the fifth, sixth and seventh.

Louisa played a loose hitting game and, as realized with some errors, whereas Wayland went professional in every inning.

Wayland has met all the teams in the league except Salyersville, whom they expect to play next Sunday at Salyersville. Prestonsburg has been the only team to down the home boys to date.

Radio Service Talks
 When you next need radio service take this into consideration—

A person who services radios without knowing how and why can be compared to a person who attempts to play Dvorak's "Humoresque" on a violin, without first having learned the musical scale and without knowing where to place his fingers on the strings to bring forth the proper sounds. I cannot play the "Humoresque" on a violin but I have studied and practiced radio service for so long that my radio service compares to the best rendition of the "Humoresque" that the best violinist can give.

REMOVING my telephone was just like barring the door to my friends," remarked a former customer who came to have his telephone reconnected.

"And most instructive to me," he continued, "was the fact that I really learned how much my telephone was worth when I attempted to save the small cost by doing without it. I'll have better things to try that again."

One of the unusual characteristics of the telephone is that day after day it accepts the (small) running errors, saving time and money, while its efficiency is so casual, accepted that the telephone is not missed until it is gone.

Probably that is why many folks who have asked to have their telephones put back to tell us they realize that the cost of telephone service is so low that it really doesn't pay to try to do without it.

"Varmint" Hunters Busy in California

As part of a drive to rid an area within a radius of 50 miles around San Francisco of wild beasts that destroy domestic animals, the state "varmint" hunters have been very busy in Marin and Mendocino counties and bagged a number of bobcats, black bears and coyotes. Some of them are here shown with a bobcat that had been killing calves on a dairy ranch.

SAYS BEAN BEETLE CONTROL NOT HARD

The control of the Mexican bean beetle is not difficult if the recommended treatments are thorough and timely, says a circular just published by the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. Spraying or dusting should be started as soon as beetles or signs of their injury first appear in the field. Either a poison dust or spray may be used effectively. The poison should be placed on the under side of the leaves where the beetles feed. This requires the use of dusts or sprayers with upturned nozzles. If it is possible to spray, magnesium arsenate should be used at the rate of one pound to 40 gallons of water. In smaller quantities, one ounce at the level tablespoonful is used to three gallons of water. One gallon of spray will cover 125 feet of row; 100 gallons covers an acre.

The number of applications of dust or spray necessary to assure protection depends upon the amount of rainfall, thoroughness of application and the growth of plants. As beans grow, the new foliage must be covered with the poison; therefore treatment should be repeated at weekly or ten-day intervals. Often 3 or 4 sprayings are necessary, but usually two thorough applications are sufficient.

The insecticides mentioned are poisonous to man and for this reason care should be taken in using them. If string beans are fully protected until the first beans are three or four inches long, or until the time for the bloom, usually, the crop will mature without further spraying or dusting. If spray or dust applications are made after the beans are formed, the beans should be washed thoroughly in at least two changes of clear water before they are sold.

Decoration Day Inaugurates The Family Picnic Season

DECORATION DAY often inaugurates the family picnic season. To enthusiastic campers and picnickers, even the word picnic brings to mind happy memories and pleasurable anticipation. When warm weather arrives and the "out-of-doors" is beautiful, the friendly road seems to beckon and the urge to take to the open is irresistible. To some a picnic means a basket in which the entire meal is packed, ready to serve; the foods that may be carried in the picnic basket range from hot soups in wide-mouthed thermos bottles, to cold meats and fowl, salads and desserts, even including those of the frozen variety which are also carried in wide-topped thermos bottles. To another a picnic means a camp fire for cooking steaks and chops and bacon. The following menu are for the "basket picnic" type of meal:

- Old Ham Loaf
- Mixed Vegetable Plunk Salad (A delicious variation of the ever popular potato salad)
- Chili Sauce
- Genuine Old Pickles
- Whole Wheat Rolls or Bread
- Cherry Pie or Surprise Cup Cakes
- Cream of Tomato or Cream of Pea Soup (In thermos bottle)
- Assorted Cold Meats
- Oven Baked Potatoes (Heat in hot water. Wrap well in newspaper and carry to picnic. Do not forget the onion rings!)
- Preserved Mustard
- Buttered Beans
- Lettuces
- (Wrapped in waxed cloth)
- Fresh Fruit
- Sliced Tomatoes
- Potato Chips

Risner Sought After Shooting

Howard Risner was offered Monday by W. M. Frazier of Gauley for Risner's arrest and delivery to the jailer of Floyd county. Shortly after the shooting officers in downtown towns were asked to maintain a watch for Risner, who is reported to have passed through Prestonsburg on the night of the shooting.

Clatsville, Ky., May 28.—Charles Sherman, 20 years old, nephew of Mrs. Roy Layne of Prestonsburg, was shot through the body by an unknown assailant after the automobile in which he was riding collided with a Buick coupe near East Point, three miles west of here on the Mayo Trail at 7:40 o'clock last night.

Sherman is in a hospital here and doctors here tonight reported that he had a chance to recover. The bullet struck him in the back, passed thru the lower portion of the left lung and came out near the left armpit.

When the shooting occurred, Sherman was riding with George Anderson of Dr. E. E. Archer.

According to Dr. Paul B. Hall, one of the physicians who examined Sherman, the car in which Sherman and Archer were riding collided with a Pontiac coupe near East Point. They got out of their car and the driver of the other car did likewise, and as he did so exclaimed, they said, "I'm a hot man, get back into that car!"

Before they could comply, the boys told Dr. Hall, the man dressed with a large cut-throat, the bullet penetrating Sherman's back.

Archer got the license number of the Pontiac car and turned it over to authorities. An investigation revealed, according to Dr. Hall, that the license was issued to Virgil Bowling of Johnson county. The license number is 457 292.

Sherman, who graduated from the Highville high school Friday evening, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sherman of this place. He is well known and popular among the young set here.

Other doctors who examined Sherman were Dr. Archer and Dr. E. E. Archer.

Immediately after the shooting became known here a search was started for the gun-user and a check was being made to determine who was driving the car bearing the license number given to the authorities.

The injured youth is a former Pineville high school football star. It was later learned that Harry Conley is being sought as the man who shot young Sherman. To date he has not been located. Conley was sentenced to the penitentiary for 21 years for the killing of a man named Hirschback at Paintsville, but was paroled recently after serving three years of his term. He has, it is reported here, vowed that he will not be arrested. His victim is given an even chance for recovery.

LOCAL CLUB TWICE HONORED AT MEET

Mrs. Winnie E. Johns, Mrs. Bess Golden and Miss Virgie McCombs have returned from Louisville, where they attended the convention of the Kentucky Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. They were awarded two honors, one a loving cup presented to the club who has the most delegates in traveling to the convention. The other the office of presiding secretary. Mrs. Bess Golden being elected to that post.

The local club is, so small as compared with other clubs of the state, that its members are much gratified upon receiving this recognition.

Each credit is due Mrs. Winnie E. Johns, president of the local club, for the past two years, for the splendid way in which the club has been developed.

The club will hold its regular meeting Monday evening, June 6, at 8 o'clock, at which time a detailed report of the state convention will be given. Committees for the ensuing year will also be appointed.

AN EDITOR'S FABLE
"Once upon a time a school teacher sent his kid to borrow the neighbor's paper and the kid upset a pive of bees and soon was covered with lumps. His father ran to help him and caught his child on a clothes line and squashed his back, fell and broke a leg, which he chopped the windshield and mother rushing out to see what occasioned all the excitement, upset a five-gallon churn of cream into a basket of kittens, drowning all of them. The electric action hurried through the floor board, setting fire to the house, and firemen broke all the windows and chopped a hole in the roof. The baby ate a jar of pickles and got cholera morbus and the doctor's bill was $18. The daughter ran away with the hired man during the excitement, the dog bit a neighbor's kid and the cat ate the tails off of four night shirts on the clothes line."
