KEY CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES FACING UNUSUAL SITUATION

Re-Districting Middle Throes Would Be Congressmen in Quandary

Decision Awaited
Judge Church Ford in the Franklin circuit court Wednesday ruled that the Congressional decision shall be state-wide. This entails no shift in the lineup of candidates of either party, and places the November election on the same basis as was that of the primary.

Candidates for election to Congress from Kentucky are leaving the murky situation this year of being in a quandary as to how they stand—or, rather, from what point they are running. First, they had an idea they were to be elected by their own districts, then the re-districting act was held void and they found themselves nominated from the state-at-large, and now they "vow with alarm" a situation which may throw them back to their own districts.

The latest status in the Kentucky political situation was created by the opinion handed down by the Supreme Court of the United States, holding a re-districting act passed in Mississippi is valid. By the same token, it is argued, the Kentucky re-districting act is sound and legal.

Not only the candidates, are non-plussed. County clerks throughout the state have been obliged to order ballots bearing held up until a final decision is made in the matter. Printers in many counties had already begun work on the ballots, and in any case will be greeted for time. Definite decision is not expected before Wednesday of this week.

SLAYER OF WIFE, NEIGHBOR SOUGHT

Breathitt Killer Reported Heading Toward Floyd County Last Week

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 18.—Finding the place where their quarry had spent his night in a barn, Breathitt county officers tonight reported their search for Creed Miller, 22-year-old farmer, charged with killing his wife, Mrs. Louis Miller, and a neighbor, Clay Wilson, 19, in town of Miller, near Wilson Press, 16 miles east of here. Sheriff Lee Owsen, who went to the scene soon after the shooting late Monday, said he was told by a woman that Wilson walked along the road in front of the house, and Mrs. Miller waved her hand to him.

The information was given came out and shot Wilson with a shotgun, turning the woman over Mrs. Miller then fled to the hills. Investigators were told. The latest report was that he had gone toward Floyd county. Miller returned several months ago from West Virginia, where he worked for some time while his wife remained at home. Commonwealth's Attorney Grover C. Allen planned to present the case to the grand jury, now in session. Mrs. Miller was a daughter of the late Newton Campbell. BELFREY DEFEATS BATTILING 'CATS'

'Burg Hi Eleven Leads Good Even in Defeat; Lede to Heavier Team

Looking better in defeat than it has at any time this season, even when winning, the 'Burg Hi Eleven Blackcat football team, Monday fought a gallant battle against the heavier Belfrey eleven, which was barely able to edge the Cats 13 to 6.

For three quarters, the Cats led the visitors, who recently defeated Paintsville easily, 19 to 0. The Blackcats scored in the first three minutes of play on two end runs, by Carter and Mayo, and a lateral pass, Carter to Rose, who came out of the line for backing duty on the offensive and to do the punting. Dutton failed to touch the ball over for the extra point.

This the Blackcats did, minus the services of Captain "Eck" Busham, quarterback, and two other regulars. Belfrey showed local football fans (try of the best high school players to appear locally in some time. Belfrey, Belfrey quarter, specialized in running the ends, showing real speed, while Bandy snatched the lighter Patsy (running line for frequent gains. Freeman scored Belfrey's first marker in the third period, and Bandy was the right tackle in the fourth for the second touchdown, then went through center for the extra point. Belfrey, both teams played on fairly even terms.

Carter, Mayo, Dutton and Jones, for the short time he was in the game, starred in the Prestonsburg backfield. Belfrey's all-around play was good, his punting averaging 30 yards, and his edge on those of Belfrey's Belfrey.

BUT WASN'T THAT KIND OF A KITTY

FLOYD TO GET SHARE IN LOAN MADE TO STATE

Greenville, Ky., Oct. 21.—The report comes from the headquarters of Beaver Creek that a citizen of that section recently showed very poor judgment in distinction of two different kinds of cats.

The man had a favorite house-cat that became more or less annoying by returning every night after it had been out-stayed to the interior of the house by means of a hole in the floor. Of course, it would have been good to repair the floor, but the man would not do that. Instead, he placed a trap, which would catch upon the hole, and he used upon the hole. Well, he was awakened from his slumber one night by the up-coming of some object in the kitchen. He had been asleep, but the cat's face was protruding from the hole. "Ah," said the man, "I'll get him this time." And he proceeded into the kitchen. Sure enough, there was a cat. He picked up the cat, and he saw that his house switch had been pulled, and he saw that the cat had a terrible odor coming from its face. It was not his house-cat, but a wild cat, and he saw that the poor man had scratched his kitten. He saw that the man had a hundred lines, but the odor was not his house-cat, but a wild cat. It is rumored that he intended to shoot that much of his house down, but he shot to rid himself of the remaining remainder of his great misadventure.

FOUNDING OF KOTT COUNTY WAS HILARIOUS OCCASION

view of making the beginning of a town, while the vast forests extend in every direction. A road extended to Whitesburg, the county seat of Letcher; another to Hazard, in Perry county; and a third to Jackson, in Breathitt. Two of these counties, at least, have made a reputation for outlaws that has extended beyond the state.
On Monday, July 7, 1884, the commissioners named to form the new county of Kott assembled at the "shack." The event had been duly advertised through those parts of Breathitt, Floyd, Perry and Letcher counties which were to be embraced in the new organization. A few persons from a distance were lodged in the double log houses, which served as the only inn in that section, it consisted of two log pens, covered by one roof, with a space between them large enough for another room. The second largest house was the store of "Chick" Allen, a son-in-law of Robert Bates Hazard. The third house was, what is familiarly known in the "mountain" districts as a "bonded warehouse." A distillery was in sight but a plentiful supply of white native whiskey was served from the log cabin with the high-sounding name, Mr. Tate, was on hand, of course, as was his friend, Humpatrick, the latter being spokesman for the commission.
Early in the day neighboring neighbors—and not all of them near-neighbors—began to assemble. The young people predominated, because a "good time" was promised. Battle maidens accompanied by their avian, and rugged fathers, with their families, came on that or on horseback, according to distance. Some two families of local origin made an appearance, which was a signal for clearing a small level space near the "store," which was used for dancing through the day. The "bonded warehouse" was the chief attraction, however, and the pure mountain liquor as the good people deemed it, flowed steadily from morning until night. With some numerous potshots proved an incentive for greater activity on the dancing ground—but "they were anybody was drunk, but "they were anybody some." The effect upon the young was to make them belated, noisy and shouting, new and then drink a glass to add to the general hilarity. The people of these counties are the most hospitable in the world, and they are available hearty strangers who give grounds for suspicion. Strangers was good nature, therefore, though a few small disputes had to be settled by personal encounter in which no weapons were employed.

Culinary Jingles by Virginia Gibson

When her drastic cutting-down her frantic husband's habits, she started to looking sadly round at those to spare his dollars.

Try out this simple plan that brought relief to many! Be sparing every way you can with every little penny!

The care housewife, moreover, is the one who is interested in real economy, not merely cheap purchasing. True economy is securing a product of high standard at a comparatively low purchase price. Low price cannot be taken alone as the guide for too often it means an inferior quality which in the end is costly.

where they may really be economical by choosing the ingredients intelligently. Take, for example, the matter of flour and leavening.

It has long been known that soft wheat makes the most delicate flour for baking of cakes, cookies, pastry, and biscuits. It is also known that baking powder must be of high quality if it is to leaven properly without leaving any unpleasant flavor. Naturally this has meant buying two articles—pastry flour and baking powder. Now you may save by purchasing these together as self-rising flour, which is made of soft-wheat flour plus salt, soda and pure monocalcium phosphate, one of the best ingredients that can be used to make baking powder. Thus for an added cost of approximately five cents on twenty-five pounds of flour you actually save thirty-five to fifty cents, the cost of the baking powder necessary to leaven that weight of ordinary flour.

Other advantages accompany the use of this flour. For example, high grade self-rising soft wheat flour is so delicate that smaller amounts of fat will shorten it. Next, there is a saving in rising time. Self-rising flour requires only one sifting, and that before measuring it. It eliminates time spent in opening baking powder and salt containers and in measuring and sifting these ingredients. Just a few minutes saving, it is true, but all these amount up into precious hours.

Hints for the Household

FOR OCTOBER

By Betty Webster
HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Squab Tyin

A novel way of trimming squab—truly an appetizing departure from the usual store of frills—is to use stuffed olives. That is, using the large stuffed olives by simply removing the fillings and placing the green olive caps on the bones. This also gives a tempting touch of color to the dish.

To Make Good Soup

Save all water that potatoes and vegetables are cooked in. It makes a delicious soup.

To Wash Laces Successfully

Add ammonia or borax to the suds that the lace is to soak in. This loosens dirt and lace washes easier with less handling.

COOKING HINTS

Cheese Dressing. 1-2 pound of grated American cheese.
2 eggs.
Lifted cream if too thick.
Salt and paprika.
Rounds of buttered toast.
Method: Beat eggs light—mix well with cheese—and seasonings. Add the cream if necessary. Spread on bread. Toast in hot oven. Serve immediately.

Lobster Omelette Souffle
Nice Larderon Dish
4 tablespoon of thick white sauce.
4 eggs beaten separately.
Method: Beat eggs separately. Add yolks to white sauce. Fold in whites of egg, beaten stiff. Bake in oven. Serve with lobster sauce.

Lobster Sauce
1 1/2 cups of thin white sauce with 1 cup of lobster.

BAKING HINTS

Sponge Cake Pan
With sponge cake, angel food and all cakes that depend on air—do not grease pan.

Flo Crust
Where baking powder is used in pie crust it is necessary to prick pie crust with fork before baking.

STATE EXPENSES ARE REDUCED SIX MILLIONS DURING PAST 8 MONTHS

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 24 (Sp.)—The cost of Kentucky state government was reduced $6,755,355.36 the first eight months of 1933 as compared with the first eight months of 1932, it is revealed by a report of receipts and expenditures compiled by Nat. B. Sewell, state inspector and examiner, which he prepared for Governor Ruby Laffoon.

Cash receipts of the state from all tax sources decreased during the eight month period $3,236,015.23, revealing that the net decrease in expenditures has been $1,429,320.03 more than the decrease in receipts in the period compared. The figures substantiate the assertion of Governor Laffoon that the state is living within its income, that the state debt will not be increased, although receipts in taxes collected have been sharply reduced.

Of this year's expenditure appropriation, were made by the last legislature to cover deficits accumulated before their present administration which totaled $618,615. The largest item of which was $400,000 for the state board of charities, and corrections.

The total amount of warrants issued in the first eight months of 1933 was $28,960,791.25 and exceeded cash receipts for the period by $3,294,641. Warrants issued for the first eight months of 1932 total $21,465,065.50, exceeding cash receipts by $1,805,311.

Despite a falling off of cash receipts, nearly one-fourth the reduction in expenditures has exceeded the reduction in receipts by nearly one and a half million dollars. Tax payment period was advanced by legislative enactment two months, which has delayed tax collection.

With reduction of tax payments just now beginning, the state's funds will become rapidly depleted within three months, it will be only by operating upon a cash basis, but will be paying of state warrants outstanding, the report concludes.

Gay Hallow'een Celebrations

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Illustrator, Home Food Institute

BLACK cats, witches, ghosts, goblins—these spell Hallow'een. From the time centuries ago, when the celebration of "All Hallow's Even" marked the end of the harvest season, and fires were kept burning through the night to welcome the coming of Winter, this festival has had an air of mystery and eeriness. Hallow'een parties are to many the most delightful of the year. To children it is a joyous celebration and grownups, as well, enjoy frolicsome Hallow'een parties. Hallow'een decorations are easily planned, costumes may be varied and the food should be appropriate but simple. The menu should include nuts, apples, cider and all the spicy good things associated with this harvest time celebration. For children's parties these foods may be served without any preparation while for grownups they may be served in unusual ways. The following menus are delightful for Hallow'een parties:

- Pineapple or Peach Hallow'een Salad*
- Pumpkin Face Frosted Cakes*
- Jack O'Lantern Sandwiches*
- Nut Taffy

- Molded Orange and Cheese Salad
- Apple Butter Custard Tart*
- Cider
- Hallow'een Sandwiches
- Whipped Cream
- Candies

* Delicate recipes are given below.

Pineapple or Peach Hallow'een Salad: Sprinkle 2 cups diced apple with juice of 1/2 lemon, add 1 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup walnut meats, 1 teaspoon sugar and Mayonnaise Salad Dressing to moisten. Chill and arrange in deep cups of lettuce. On each place a peach half, decorated with cloves for eyes and nose, and a strip of cherry for mouth, or a pineapple ring spread with Peanut Butter (fill center for eyes) Decorate with raisins for also and nose and strip of cherry for mouth.

Jack O'Lantern Sandwiches: Cut rounds of bread and spread half of them with a mixture of chopped nuts, dates and raisins; or with soft cream cheese and Currant Jelly; or for children's parties, with Peanut Butter. From other rounds of bread, using a sharp knife, cut out triangular pieces to leave eyes and nose and a half moon piece to form mouth. When cut out slices are placed over the colorful fillings a Jack O'Lantern face is formed.

Pumpkin Face Frosted Cakes: Frost cup cakes of cookies with any desired frosting and decorate, using raisins for eyes and nose and strip of Maraschino cherry for mouth.

Jack O'Lantern Sandwiches: Cut rounds of bread and spread half of adults. Plenty of cats will be served at no extra cost.

HUEYSVILLE

The Lucky consolidated school high school basketball team has engaged in four games thus far this season and, according to Coach Gordon Collins, has come out of the big end of the horn in all four contests. Martin high was the victim twice as was also the Bonanza team.

Henry Ritchie, superintendent of the Beaver Mining Company's property here and at Garrett, was in Garrett on business last Friday.

Hazard, the small son of Postmaster and Mrs. Troy Conley, this place, fell from a walnut tree on top of a hill near here last Saturday and broke his leg. Carried from the hilltop by his father and neighbors, he was soon in St. P. Hays' car, and whisked away to the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, where he is doing nicely. The fall was so hard that the broken bones were overlapped when examined at the hospital by attending physicians, it is reported.

The Allen Independent' basketball team of which Reuben Allen, assistant teacher in the public school of this place, is a member, was defeated by the Martin Independents at Martin last Saturday night by a score of 15-12. The Allen team had already taken one hit from the Martin boys this season. Mr. Allen was injured in the game which, according to all available information, must have been quite a bit like football.

Allen is coaching the 'grade team' of this place, which has a record of one game sacked and one lost.

Walter Wireman, formerly of this place, inflicted a bullet wound in his left chest last Friday which may prove fatal, according to reports reaching here. The accident occurred at or near Boynton, Licking county. Wireman was intoxicated and accidentally discharged his pistol. It is reported he was taken to the Salyersville hospital immediately after he was shot, according to one story, and was returned as a hopeless case by his doctors. However, another story reached here yesterday that there is some hope for his recovery.

John Shepherd, of the head of the hospital, who was taken to the hospital from a highway at Salyersville, is probably and possibly injured in the neck, and may require surgery.

REDUCE EXPENSES REPAIRING MACHINERY
 Overhauling and repairing machinery during the winter season can reduce the expense by a savings from 25 to 50 per cent. The average value of the state's machinery is $1,000,000,000. It is estimated that $100,000,000 is spent annually on repairs. A small amount of money, if spent wisely, can save the owner thousands of dollars.

When it is necessary to have machinery repaired, it is best to have it repaired in the winter. The weather is mild and the machinery is not in use. This allows the repairman to work more slowly and carefully, and the cost is lower. The machinery is also protected from the elements during the winter months.
