UNREQUITED LOVE GIVEN AS MOTIVE OF GIRL'S SUICIDE

Miss Lorraine Crisp, 16, Found Dead in Mother's Home at Martin

INQUEST HELD

The heart-tragedy of an unrequited love is said to have caused Miss Lorraine Crisp, 16-year-old Martin girl, to end her life Sunday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Crisp, at Martin, by firing a bullet from a .38-cal. revolver through her brain.

Five notes addressed to relatives in the dead girl's hand are reported to have been found following the discovery of the body about 7 o'clock Sunday evening. These are said to have indicated the motive for the deed.

Miss Crisp was alone in her mother's home at the time of her death, it was said. When found, it was held that death had taken place four or five hours earlier in the day. Her body lay on the floor of the home, her feet resting on the edge of a bed. The bullet had been fired into her right temple.

An inquest was conducted by Mrs. Ben Norris, county coroner, and the jury held that the girl's death was the result of a bullet fired by her own hand.

Miss Crisp was the daughter of a well-known and respected family in Martin, and was highly respected by all who knew her. She is survived by her parents, one sister, Alice, and two brothers, John and Bert Crisp. Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon.

FISH IN FLOYD STREAMS ARE PREY OF PARASITES

Specimen of an amphipod which is preying upon fish in Floyd county streams was sent this week to the Fish and Game Commission by M. J. Meador, game warden, who requested that the commission supply all available information as to means of combating the parasite.

The specimen, which to the warden's observer is a combination of eel and snake, is about six inches long, with a vacuum-like mouth by means of which it attaches itself to fish. Local fishermen report finding several fish dead, with the parasite attached to their gills, suckers and ears apparently as its main victims.

GARRETT GIRL IS SHOT BY SUITOR

Claim: Officers Seek Kennedy As Man Who Wounded Miss Bowling

Until Tuesday of this week, Floyd county officials had searched in vain for Arthur Kennedy, 24 years old, who is alleged to have shot and seriously wounded his sweetheart, Miss Christine Bowling, 22, at Garrett at 9:30 o'clock Friday night last.

Miss Bowling is in Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, suffering from the effects of a .32-caliber revolver bullet which entered her body an inch below the heart, ranging downward. It was at first believed that she was fatally wounded, but a sister of the wounded girl Tuesday said that hospital attendants hold strong hope of her recovery.

The girl was shot when she and Kennedy, who was escorting her to the home of her father, J. B. Bowling, on Rock Fork, near Garrett, were near the Garrett consolidated school building. She staggered back into Garrett from the scene of the shooting, and was soon thereafter rushed to the hospital. Kennedy disappeared immediately after the shot was fired into the girl's body, and his whereabouts have not been ascertained.

A sister of Miss Bowling told The Times Tuesday that Kennedy's motive for the shooting was found in his jealousy aroused when the girl is said to have been seen in conversation with another young man. Kennedy was a truck driver residing with his brother near Bowling Green, it was said.

DID NOT RECOMMEND PARDON, TIMES TOLD

The Times has been informed that its statement made last week to the effect that Commonwealth's Attorney O. C. Hall recommended the pardon of Mont Conley is erroneous. Mr. Hall, it is stated, did not recommend the pardon, his only action being that of making a "statement of facts," saying that certain Commonwealth witnesses in the trial of Conley were later charged with perjury.

23 PASS TEACHER EXAMINATION HERE

Miss Halbert's Average of $2.25 Per Cent Leads in Floyd County

Exactly half of the 46 applicants to the May teachers' examination here, who received grade reports this week from state department of education, made passing grades. Grades of two applicants were withheld because they did not file proper certification of credits.

The percentage of successful applicants this year is higher than that reported from any other teachers' examination in this county in several years. Miss Bessie Halbert, of Martin, made the highest general average of any applicant whose grade has been reported. Names of the 23 applicants who made passing grades and their general averages follow: Bessie Halbert, 82.25; Carl Horn, 80.75; Jack Derossett, 80.88; Frank Hammonds, 80.83; Ruby Stumbo, 80.67; Melvina Perry, 80.5; Chloë Meade, 81.17; Clayton E. BULL CREEK LOSES SUNDAY BY 2 TO 0

The Bull Creek baseball team dropped a thrilling 2-0 game to McDowell on the Left Beaver Creek team's field Sunday. The result of K. Stumbo's three-hit pitching and eight Bull Creek errors. Honeycutt, starting twirler for Bull Creek, retired in the fourth after one run had been scored by McDowell on his own error. Lambert succeeded him and held the slugging McDowell team well in hand, but more errors cost the second round. The Left Beaver team made five errors.

While the pitching for both teams was of high calibre, Stumbo was particularly effective with a fine fast ball and a baffled looper curve that baffled local batters. The loss dropping Bull Creek from a tie for the Big Sandy Elkhorn league lead and left McDowell the only Floyd county team at the top of the league. Sunday Bull Creek plays Dunleary there.

BROTHER OF LOCAL GIRL IS C.-J. WINNER

Henry Elam, of Lexington, brother of Miss Frances Elam, of Prestonsburg, was one of two boys forming the team from Lexington which won a trip to the trip to the Century of Progress, Chicago, recently by circulating in a Courier-Journal salesmanship demonstration held in Louisville. Young Elam and his teammate, Robert Scott, presented a demonstration so realistic in selling The Courier-Journal to a housewife who, theoretically, had just moved from New York to Kentucky, that judges had no difficulty in acclaiming them winners. Their knowledge of interesting features contained in the newspaper, their appearance, personality and manner of approach clearly excelled all others competing. Young Elam's picture appeared in The Courier-Journal of June 8 as a member of the winning team.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, of this place. He is a graduate of Morehead College high school, a former teacher in the county schools, and is a senior at the Morehead Teachers' College, where during the past year he was president of the junior class.

PINEY WELL GAUGES 2,800,000 CUBIC FEET

The Piney Oil & Gas Company well drilled last week by Luther McIntosh on the Layne heirs' lease, Betsy Layne, was tubed in at 2,800,000 cubic feet. With 80 feet yet to go to reach the bottom of the shale, drilling was stopped when the gas flow reached 3,400,000 cubic feet.

This is one of the strongest wells to be drilled in this county in years.

NATIONAL PARK AT BREAKS OF SANDY IS OBJECT OF BILL

Congressman May Sponsors House Bill For Park; Joined by Flannagan

A park at the Breaks of Sandy is in prospect as the result of a bill introduced in Congress by Congressman A. J. May, of Prestonsburg, asking the government to establish a national park there. Originating the measure in the House, Congressman May joined with Congressman Flannagan, of Dickinson county, Virginia, the two offering companion measures in order to consolidate more securely the House delegations from both states. The Breaks area is in their Congressional districts.

Development near the Breaks area, already a spot of great scenic beauty, will locate in Eastern Kentucky, one of America's show-places. For years the Breaks of Sandy have been famed in this section for their wild beauty, and passage of the bill now in Congress would provide for its further beautification and would render it accessible to tourists and nature-lovers from all parts of the country.

Introduction of Congressman May's bill follows a tour of inspection made in May by Lee Bright, Indiana, a member of the National Park Commission, and Tom Wallace, editor of The Louisville Times and a leader in the park movement in Kentucky. Bright said that he had never seen anything east of the Rockies to compare with the Breaks in natural grandeur.

APPOINTMENT OF ROBERTS IN BLANK

Election of Magistrate in District 4 Expected in November

Appointment of Dewey Roberts as Magistrate in District No. 4 of this county following the ruling of the court of appeals that the 1933 Magisterial election in that district was "no election," was made for no specified time instead of until January 1, 1936. The Times reported last week.

It was held here this week that his appointment will hold only until the November election, this year, when Magistrate from that district is expected to be elected. John Scott, who contested Roberts' election, filed as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Magistrate this week. Mr. Roberts also is expected to be a candidate on the Democratic ticket.

A legal question was raised last week as to the legality of a Magisterial election, but precedents have been cited recalling such elections. One such was when Scott, contending for the office of Magistrate in District 4 last year was appointed by Governor Sampson to fill the vacancy created by the death of Magistrate Emmett Hamilton. His appointment lasted only until the next election, which was the election of a member of Congress from this district.

Shepherd Dog's Training

Makes Him a Police Dog: All shepherd dogs are not necessarily police dogs. Only after passing through the strenuous schooling and the rigid tests that qualify him as a dog allowed to enjoy the title.

America was introduced to the Shepherd shortly after the World War, in which his training was utilized to perfection.

Presumption is, of course, that all pastoral dogs descended from the original wild dog or wolf dog. It may be further presumed that formerly the union with the wolf contributed to many of their traits. If so, this must also be true of other breeds for the Chowchow, Pomeranian, Elkhound, Schipperke, Alsatian, German sheep dog and the Bequimaur (or wolf dog) are members of the same family.

Dressings for Early Summer Salads

THERE WAS once a time in our salad history when boiled dressing was the only finishing touch to a bowl of cool leafy greens or crisp spring vegetables. The foreign tang and zest of French dressing was not unknown. The smooth texture and mild flavor of mayonnaise was not unknown.

Calcutta Dressing—When making foundation recipe, mix 1/4 teaspoon curry powder with other foundation ingredients. When dressing is cool, add 1/4 cup Sandwhich Spread.

Hawaiian Dressing—To foundation recipe, when cool, add 3 tablespoons orange juice and 3 tablespoons pineapple juice. Especially good with Pineapple Supreme Salad and Pineapple, Celery and Nut Salad.

Manhattan Dressing—To foundation recipe, when cool, add 1/2 cup Sandwhich Spread. Here's a chance to experiment. First-taste this dressing.

French Butter Dressing—To foundation recipe, when cool, add 4 tablespoons Peanut Butter. (A dressing that is good on either mixed nut or vegetable salads.) Especially good with Stuffed Prune Salad and Juliana Salad.

Pimento Dressing—To foundation recipe, when cool, add 1 finely chopped hard cooked egg, 1 chopped pimiento and 1 tablespoon chopped Sour Pickles. Especially good with Lettuce Salad.

Whipped Cream Dressing—Fold into the foundation recipe, when cool, 1/2 cup whipped cream. Especially good with Molded Grapefruit Salad and Pear Macaroon Salad.

Fruit Salad Dressing—To foundation recipe add 1 tablespoon sugar, and substitute 1/2 cup pineapple juice plus 1/2 cup orange juice for the milk. The Mustard may be omitted, if desired. Cool. If a fluffy dressing is desired, fold in 1/2 cup whipped cream. Especially good with Pineapple and Strawberry Salad and Pineapple, Celery and Nut Salad.

What for the Household

In a great many places fireworks are banned; in others, certain varieties only are permissible. But, if it is possible to acquire some of the pretty pieces—pin wheels, Roman candles, sky rockets and colored lights—everyone will enjoy the display.

Delights the Youngsters: I've never known a man who didn't enjoy touching them off and the pleasure of the children, for whom that same touching off might be dangerous if done by them, can't be surpassed. A display of this sort not accompanied by a fireworks performance is one of the newest ways of celebrating the Fourth of July.

"EVERY LITTLE HELPS"

Why shouldn't Prestonsburg be glad to see new industries, be they never so small, established here?

One small enterprise is being launched here now. Let's see what it will do.

First, machinery was transferred here. There was a job for local truckmen. A building was rented here—money for a local property-owner. Preparatory work was done. More local labor. Printing and advertising was needed—that's where we came in. Several employes are being put to work. That's fine for them. These employes will have money to spend, that they didn't have before. And that means more business for the stores.

It's foolish to discourage local industries. And there's no better way to do it than to ignore them, refuse to patronize them and send your work out of town.

DAMPENING THE GUNPOWDER

One of the sane laws to be enacted by the Kentucky Legislature in recent years is that which will provide a secret ballot for future school elections.

It will do much to dampen the gunpowder that in the past has so often flamed, almost spontaneously as it were, at school polls. Deep hidden hates, bloody murder will in no slight degree be abated by the law which gives the voter the privilege of casting his vote in secrecy for the candidate of his choice instead of being obliged, voting viva voce, to tell one neighbor that he is his supporter and another that he is opposing him.

Had the secret ballot been in effect, so that those vitally interested could not keep such perfect tab on the vote, there, there probably would have been no Prater Creek massacre. The schoolhouse there would stand as a monument to education rather than as a battlefield memorial.

School election battles in the future will doubtless be political but certainly not as bloody as in the days we voted viva voce and "said it with lead."

Cider Natural Beverage for Financiers

Cider has been called the American national beverage. It is not so called by the money kings of Europe, France, and many another temperate nation unless clear, but it is true that the juice of the apple has special connections with American life. In no other country do apples grow in richer abundance or over so broad an area as over this is a time when not a farm lacked its apple orchard. It was but with more than a century ago that Appleton, that curious historic property of the northwest territory, spent a lifetime in wandering over parts of three or four states, punctuating his pilgrimages with plantings of apple seeds. So, in addition to the thousands of tilled and pruned apple orchards, the country knew literally thousands of apple trees planted by the side of the road, in open pasture, on the edge of the woods, beside streams, the myriad-branched monument of 'Appleshed' trees. A few gnarled and gnarled trees of the variety known as 'Older' was a natural beverage to the pioneer American. Its making was easy. No special machinery was required. The raw material was a fruit of which there was so great a surplus that the product could not be hoarded and sold. It was served warm, which, in one stage, was suited to the delicate palates and light bodies of women and children, while in another it became a sort of vitamin's beverage.

So characteristic of America was this drink that it entered the program of a Presidential campaign. William Henry Harrison, who, incidentally, came from the very heart of Appleshed country, was reported to victory on a bare-cider platform—Washington Star.

Irish Setter Said to Be Able to Hypnotize Prey

In his native country the Irish setter is a true work in progress. His employment in the field being to the exclusion of all others throughout the hunting season. One of the most interesting 'setters' is the 'Irish' setter. He first appeared in their color, red and white. Through careful breeding white has been discarded and is never present in the rich golden coat, chestnut color or mahogany predominating the well-bred setter. However, there is still a mixture of the old 'Spanish' pointer in all setters, for from no other dog could a breed inherit the wonderful scolding power, the unique attitude when on point. Not their style in drawing up to the game, holding their spears as if the will of the hunter.

When occasion demands the Irish setter displays the courage of a lion. Yet he is notably good-natured with man. His hazel or brown eyes affirm in their expression his Amazon-loving disposition that endears him to the soldier in and out of the field. Few dogs which grace the show bench are more admired than this 60-pound creature, despite the most inferior of the setter family. Behind a laterally oval skull there is plenty of brain room. This explains the position of the ears, the ears of the well-bred setter outwardly conforming to that designated him as a classical head.

Smoking a Mirror
Don't be alarmed if you break a mirror and some one says that you'll have seven years' bad luck, because, like most superstitions, it is all nonsense and merely the end of a very long story was practiced during the Middle Ages. In those days if some one wanted to do harm to some one else he would contrive to break a mirror into which the second person had lately peered. It was said that if the mirror could be broken before the image of the victim had 'evaporated' seven years' bad luck would be bound to follow the smashing of the glass. Actually, of course, the whole idea is ridiculous, just as ridiculous as thinking that the spilling of salt will bring bad luck. That peculiar superstition is the result of the very ancient idea that to spill salt at a man's table after one has dined with him is to insult him and challenge him to battle.

Raleigh and a Comma
The will of Diego, a son of Christopher Columbus, recently discovered in Spain, has thrown the case doubt upon the generally accepted story that Sir Walter Raleigh first introduced smoking into Europe, says Tobacco Times Magazine. The will, dated May 2, 1522, more than 60 years before Raleigh smoked his first pipeful of tobacco, disposed of a sum of money to a certain Antonio described apparently as 'tobacco merchant of Lisbon.' Close examination of this document seems to indicate that the clause reads 'Antonio Tobacco, merchant of Lisbon.' The name of Raleigh as patron saint of tobacco therefore seems to rest on the pleasing of a comma.

Opium Poppies
Opium is obtained from the milky juice of the young capsules of the poppy grown in China, India and Persia. The climate must be tropical or subtropical, there must not be an excessive rainfall, and the industry can be carried on successfully only where labor and land are sufficiently cheap and abundant. The cultivation of opium poppies for the production of opium is not possible in this country, even if it were permitted by law. It is said that every species of poppy is capable of yielding opium to a greater or lesser extent.

RABIES DEVALENT OVER STATE AGAIN

Reports of rabies in several counties have reached the department of pathology at the Experiment Station at Lexington this summer. In some instances a considerable number of animals and several persons were bitten.

When a person is bitten by a dog he should be rushed to the nearest doctor for Pasteur treatment; if there is any possibility that the dog is mad. The dog should be confined and a veterinarian called. If the dog shows symptoms suggestive of rabies it should be held two or three days for observation. If there is definite evidence that the dog has rabies it should be killed and its head sent to the Public Service Laboratories at the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, or to the State Board of Health, Louisville.

Effort should be made not to injure the dog's head. Put the head in an air-tight container, which should be packed in ice and sawdust in another container to keep it cold until it reaches the laboratory for examination.

Rabies may be prevented by vaccination, and all dogs worth owning should be inoculated against them. This is required in most cities, and should be universal. Such precautions would practically eliminate the dreadful disease of rabies or hydrophobia, and save the lives of hundreds of animals and many persons every year.

Mayville, Ky., June 10—In his own handwriting, the will of the late A. M. J. Cochran, Federal Judge of the Eastern district of Kentucky, who died at his home here last week, was probated today in the Mason county court. The document was dated April 30. Judge Cochran left his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Lucy M. Cochran, during her lifetime. At her death it is to be divided equally among their three children, John M. Cochran, Mrs. Harriet Cochran Duke and Robert A. Cochran, III. The three children were named executors of the estate and qualified without surety as requested. Judge Cochran was considered one of the wealthiest men in this section and his estate was a valuable one.

G. D. Ryan was in Prestonsburg a few days ago, returning from Louisville, where he attended the convention of funeral directors.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for June 24

REVIEW
GOLDEN TEXT—And he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever; of his kingdom there shall be no end.
PRIMARY TOPIQ—Carrying on Jesus' work.
JUNIOR TOPIQ—Jesus Our Saviour and Lord.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIQ—What Shall I Do With Jesus?
YOUNG MEN AND ADULT TOPIQ—The Comprehensive Program of Jesus.

The method of review must always be determined by the teacher in the light of the grade of the school and the aptitude of the pupils. For senior and adult classes the best method will be to recall that all the lessons of the quarter are from the Book of Matthew which had as its theme "Jesus Christ, the Mountain King, and His Kingdom," and then to present each lesson in its relation to the entire purpose. The lessons have a threefold unity, namely: one book, one theme, one person.

Lesson for April 11
The resurrection of Christ is one of the foundation truths of Christianity. It is the grand proof, that Christ was what he claimed to be, the Messiah, the Son of God. His resurrection authenticated his claim. By it he was declared to be the Son of God with power.

Lesson for April 18
The greatest in the kingdom are the children. Entrance into the kingdom is infinitely more important than riches. There is no way into the kingdom except through the new birth (John 3:3-5).

Lesson for April 25
Riches are of no value if we have divine instruction as to behavior in case of ill treatment. Those who are Christlike shall suffer persecution. Those who have entered the kingdom by birth from above will have a forgiving spirit.

Lesson for April 22
Riches are deceitful. Possessors thereof are prone to put their trust in them. It is most difficult for those who are rich to give place to spiritual things.

Lesson for May 5
To the nation which rejected Jesus as King, he officially presented himself at the appointed time in the counsel of God in the fulfillment of prophecy.

Lesson for May 12
The parable of the king's marriage feast stresses the necessity of a right relationship with God in order that there be a life of temperance and good citizenship. Our first obligation is unto God.

Lesson for May 20
In the Olivet discourse Jesus outlines the events to take place in the world in the interval between his ascension and his second coming. The parable of the ten virgins shows the right behavior of believers in this present age in view of the coming of the Lord.

Lesson for May 27
There is a coming judgment for the living nations on the earth. The issue of that judgment is determined by the attitude of the nation toward Christ the King. Their destiny will either be inheritance of the kingdom or eternal fire.

Lesson for June 3
The cross is the touchstone of human life. The behavior of Mary, the Virgin, Peter, and others gives us a cross-sectional view of the world.

Lesson for June 10
The climax of the quarter's lesson is reached in the lesson today. The supreme value of the quarter's lesson centers in the cross. Jesus did not die as a martyr or as an example, but to make an atonement for sin. Teachers, it is not a matter of getting your children to learn the lessons of a great teacher but to induce them to have faith in Christ's sacrificial work.

Lesson for June 17
The resurrection of Jesus Christ demonstrated his Messiahship and Daily. The command to preach the gospel in all the world is backed by his resurrection power.

Announce Cuts In Ford Prices
Detroit, Mich., June 14—Reductions of $30 to $15 in list prices of 1934 Ford V-8 passenger cars and $10 to $20 in list prices of Ford V-8 commercial cars and trucks were announced last week by the Ford Motor Company effective Friday, June 15.

Ford prices have remained unchanged since the introduction of the 1934 Ford V-8 last December, the Ford Motor Company not having participated in the recent general automotive price increases. The reductions are, therefore, a decrease in the original prices.

The price reduction on the standard and de luxe Tudor Sedans, most popular individual models in point of sales, is $15. Prices of other standard and de luxe body types were reduced $10, except the prices of the Roadster, Phaeton, and Cabriolet, de luxe types, which remain unchanged. Both standard and de luxe passenger cars have the same V-8 engine and 112 inch wheelbase chassis. Body types for both are identical except for the de luxe equipment.

cluding its foundations and riser pipe separately. A check for not less than five per cent of the amount bid must accompany each bid. Checks must be on solvent bank, and either a cashier's check, or certified check, same to be payable to the order of the town.

The award of a contract is contingent also on the low bid being within the money available for the construction of this project. If it is found necessary to omit some item, or items, to secure a contract that can be completed within the money, should bids as submitted by bidders on estimated quantities contained in the specifications not be within said limit, the town reserves and may exercise the privilege of omitting them to keep its construction costs within the money at its disposal for the project.

The employment officer for this project is A. B. Osborne, of Martin, Kentucky. By order of the Trustees of the town of Martin, Kentucky, this, the 20th day of June, A. D. 1934.
