TRAINMAN KILLED AS ENGINE WRECKS NEAR PAINTSVILLE

Fireman On Passenger No. 36 Scalded to Death, Engineer Hurt

GRAVEL WRECK CAUSE?

Fireman of passenger train No. 36 was scalded to death and the engineer was injured when the locomotive left the rails less than a mile below Paintsville and plunged over an embankment Sat. morning. Victim of the train disaster was William David Cheap, 39 years old, 522 Tenth street, Ashland. The engineer, R. D. McDonald, 55, was taken to a Paintsville hospital, suffering from burns about his face and neck. McDonald's condition was reported as not being serious. The wreck, it was said, was caused by gravel which had been strewn too thickly at the railroad crossing on the Paintsville road at the mouth of Paint Creek, approximately one-half mile from the Paintsville railway station. As the locomotive struck the gravel at the crossing, it was held. The pony truck on the locomotive was derailed, ran approximately 50 yards along the ties, then plunged over the embankment, plowed its way several yards along the ground surface before burying into...

Mr. Cheap was pinned beneath the stoker of the engine, and it was found necessary to use an acetylene torch in cutting away the steel which imprisoned him. As the locomotive wrecked, steam pipes burst in his face; it was said, death following within a few seconds. The engineer fought his way across the top of the cab, through a blinding fog of steam, to the outstretched arms of a baggage man engaged in rescue work. But for the bursting of the steam pipe, it was said shortly after the wreck occurred the fireman could have been extricated without fatal injury. Passengers were scarcely aware of the tragedy until several minutes after the wreck took place. The mail car was slightly twisted but was not derailed. The train was held up four hours while the track was being cleared for resumption of the run into Elkhorn City.

BUDGET SET-UP NEAR COMPLETION

F. K. Hespen, Louisville, a representative of State Examiner Nat B. Sewell's office, working with the county budget commission, stated that completed necessary arrangements for setting up the budget for this fiscal year. Only a few items of office supplies are now needed to put the budget into effect. The budget was set up as drafted by the budget commission and adopted by the fiscal court and the state tax commission, with the exception of minor corrections which were made merely to simplify book-keeping work. The 1934 budgets for the several counties are, after a fashion, experiments, Mr. Hespen intimated Wednesday. While present budgets are expected to be effective and of great value, they will have their faults, and these mistakes will show the way next year to the drafting of budgets of the highest efficiency.

Fletcher Combé left Thursday of last week, for Cincinnati where he will enter the Deaconess hospital as an interne. He was graduated this year from the College of Medicine, University of Cincinnati.

Habeas Corpus Writ Not Speedy Enough—Mother Takes Babe

A writ of habeas corpus for the return of her six-month-old babe, was not speedy enough to satisfy the yearning of a mother when the case came up for hearing here Wednesday before John Allen, county judge pro tem. So the mother, Mrs. Beatrice Calhoun, of this place, snatched the child from its paternal grandmother's arms and walked away with it. There were a few moments when a fight threatened, but the parties to the case finally agreed to permit Mrs. Calhoun to keep the child until a hearing could be held at 1 o'clock. The habeas corpus writ was obtained by the mother Tuesday when she alleged that her husband, Tom Calhoun, had taken their child and was refusing her permission to see it. The father in his answer to the proceeding claimed that he was not restraining the mother from seeing the child but that she had deserted him. When the hearing was held Wednesday afternoon, it was ordered, that the child should be in the custody of the mother.

PARDON GRANTED FLOYD COUNTIAN

Gov. Ruby Laffoon Tuesday granted a full and complete pardon to William Salisbury, who was sentenced at the September, 1929 term of the Floyd circuit court to a 21-year prison term for the slaying of Frank Stanley, Weebury policeman. Clemency, the Governor said, was recommended by each of the 12 trial jurors, by the trial judge, C. B. Wheeler, by Congressman A. J. May, Representative Alex L. Hill and others. The Governor was quoted by an Associated Press dispatch as saying that the pardon papers stated that Salisbury was a deputy sheriff at the time of the slaying.

FLOYD BOY, SUFFERER FROM RARE DISEASE, BELIEVED RECOVERING

Instead of the terrible fate of a slow agonizing death from leukemia a disease so rare that it was said recently that the ordinary medical practitioner chances upon such a case not more than once in a lifetime, Greedy Lafayette, 11-year-old Floyd county boy, is on the way to recovery as a result of the work of Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd county health department, and the Children's Free Hospital, Louisville, whither he was sent for treatment. Dr. Ransdell discovered the case a few months ago while on Johns Creek, near Thomas postoffice, visiting schools. The number of white corpuscles in the child's blood was far above normal, while the number of red corpuscles had decreased accordingly. The boy's abdomen was so distended as a result of an enlargement of the spleen that relatives thought an operation for removal of a tumor would be necessary. The symptoms of leukemia were recognized, however, and the boy was sent to a Louisville hospital for treatment. He returned, Wednesday of this week, at the conclusion of a second period of treatment, much improved and considered almost certain of recovery. Irene Crabtree spent a few days at Wayland this week.

GOBLE AND FRIEND OPEN BEER GARDEN

J. Y. Goble and Frank Friend have opened a beer garden on the Harkins lot on Court street, opposite the Bank Josephine. An attractive stucco building for the dispensary has been constructed. Lattice work enclosed the lot, and the addition of sunshades and tables lends the place an extremely attractive appearance.

WATERWORKS JOB IS RE-ADVERTISED

Second Bidding Asked on Martin Project as a Whole Contract for construction of the water works system at Martin, this county, was not awarded Tuesday, date for opening of bids, when it was found that only one bid on the project as a whole had been submitted. Officials of the Public Works administration, which has granted the town a loan of $48,000 for the work, held that more than one bid should be submitted on the project as a single unit. The project is being re-advertised in The Times this week, bids being asked on the entire job of construction and not on separate projects. Several bids were submitted for opening Tuesday on parts of the work but only one on the entire project. Bids received from the second advertising will be opened July 27.

STREAM POLLUTION FIGHT IS PROMISED

Engineer's Office at Huntington To Act on Abatement of Health Hazard Pollution of streams in this section must be stopped, a representative of the Huntington, W. Va., said last week when he conferred with Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd county health department, on steps to be taken toward eradication of this type of nuisance. Immediate action will be taken, it was hinted against those guilty of throwing garbage and rubbish in streams. River banks will no longer be dumping grounds, it was said following the engineer's visit here. Minimum penalty for stream pollution is a fine of $500 and a one-year prison term. Half the amount of the fine collected will be paid to persons furnishing information leading to the conviction of those guilty of this violation.

Buchanan, of Coal Run, who died at the home of her son, W. K. Steele, at Honaker, this county, Thursday evening, last week. Although Mrs. Buchanan had been ill for several months, her condition was not considered serious and she went to her son's home for a visit only three days before her death. ## MRS. ROOSEVELT IS KENTUCKY VISITOR

Roosevelt last week found haven from White House cares in a visit to the Kentucky mountains. The country's First Lady did not enter Floyd county but did visit Pike. "Just running around," as she expressed it, Mrs. Roosevelt motored into Pikeville accompanied by two women companions. News that Mrs. Roosevelt was en route to Pikeville from Williamson, W. Va., quickly spread and several hundred persons lined the streets as she entered town. While in Pikeville, Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of honor at the James Hatcher hotel. She said that she was interested in relief work in this section, paying particular tribute to the work done by the American Society of Friends among undernourished children. "Wonderful," was her response to an inquiry after her opinion of mountain scenery. Near Pikeville, Mrs. Roosevelt visited the Pond Creek coal mines. It was another of her trips "off the record," during which she has traveled more than 33,000 miles by train, auto and airplane. Later, Mrs. Roosevelt visited Berea College, Lexington and other points of interest in Kentucky.

NOTED EDUCATOR DIES AT DANVILLE

Prof. Walter M. Byington Succumbs at Age of 73 to Long Illness Prof. Walter M. Byington, pioneer Eastern Kentucky educator and former superintendent of Boyle county schools, succumbed Friday, July 6, at his home in Danville to an illness of three years. He was 73 years old. News of Professor Byington's death came as a severe shock to the thousands of his students throughout this section whose admiration he had won when they were boys and girls struggling for an education. Born on East Fork, Lawrence county, Mr. Byington was educated at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va., and at Ohio State College, Columbus, O. He entered the teaching profession in early manhood. He came to Prestonsburg years ago from Inez, Martin county, and here established the old Eastern Kentucky Normal, erecting what is now Prestonsburg graded school building and also a dormitory which was destroyed by fire. So wide was his fame as a teacher throughout the mountain section that at one time more than 70 students attended his school here. From Prestonsburg he went to Louisa, where he founded a normal school there. The present Louisa high school building there was constructed by him and for years his was one of the most successful schools in Kentucky. Later, he taught at Martin, this county, going from there to Danville. His last work in the field of education was as superintendent of Boyle county schools. Aside from his undisputed ability as a teacher, Professor Byington's character was marked by his loyalty to his students and friends and by his spirit of helpfulness toward the poor. Many of his old students who were too poor to pay tuition and board remember that trait today with deep gratitude. Surviving him are his widow, a daughter of the late Billie Riffe, of Lawrence county, and 11 sons and daughters. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday at Ashland and burial was made there in Rose Hill cemetery.

Mrs. W. J. Fitzpatrick arrived a few days ago from her home in Miami, Fla., for a visit here and elsewhere in the county with relatives and friends.

Miss Irene Foster, of Garrett, spent a few days here this week, guest of friends.

ROAD-BUILDING IN COUNTY EXPECTED TO BE APPROVED

Fiscal Court and FERA Officials Plan Big Employment Program

4 PROJECTS APPROVED

Eleven grade and drain projects on county roads are held almost certain of approval for immediate work under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration as a result of a general work program drawn at a meeting of members of the fiscal court and district FERA officials Wednesday. Four other projects have already been submitted for approval and they, too, are expected to be O. K.'d. Road projects outlined Wednesday are: Abbott Creek from Mayo Trail to connect with State Road fork at head of Abbott, approximately eight miles, 35 men to be employed. Cow Creek road, beginning at Mayo Trail and extending to Buffalo on Johns Creek, approximately 9 miles, 50 men. Bull Creek road, beginning at Prestonsburg, extending up Town Branch to head of Jarrell fork on Bull Creek, approximately eight miles, 25 laborers. McDowell to head of Clear Creek road, 11 miles, 35 men. Road from Clear Creek up Jack's Creek to Knott county line, seven miles, 35 men. Salt Lick road, from Beaver highway to Bosco to Knott county line, 25 men. Middle Creek road, from West Prestonsburg to Colic postoffice, seven miles, 30 men. Road from Forks of Middle Creek up Spurlock, six miles, 30 men. Rock Fork road from Garrett to Knott county line, two miles, 20 men.

For these projects the fiscal court is to pay salaries of foremen and cost of materials. Magistrates in each district where the road projects are located are to supervise the work. The number of men given above for each project does not indicate the total number to be employed on the work. Employment will be rotated, as for instance, on the Bull Creek road 25 men will be employed for perhaps two days when another crew of the same number will be put to work, then another for the last two days of the six. The amount of labor to be furnished each man depends upon the amount of relief he has been receiving, labor to be taken from the relief rolls. Thus direct relief will be cut to a minimum, work being furnished instead.

Part of Railroad street, Martin, and Highland avenue here and completion of the Banner bridge have already been approved as FERA projects. Other projects which are expected to be approved are: road from the mouth of Spurlock on Left Beaver Creek to Dana postoffice, Prater Creek, a distance of six miles, 30 men to be employed; Auxier, East Post road, two and one-half miles; reflooring and interior painting of the Prestonsburg graded school building; a woman's project, cleaning and renovation of the graded and high school buildings here.

Mrs. B. F. Combs and son, Paul Churchill, left Thursday for Alderson, W. Va., where they will enjoy an outing of several days with Leroy Combs at Camp Greenbrier.

T. J. May and Roe Layne spent the week-end in Chaires, ton, W. Va.

Quintuplets Milk Protected

The five babies shown above with their mother are the famous Dionne quintuplets born in a small farmhouse in the Canadian north every four hours to these tiny incubator infants, a kerosene refrigerator was shipped to the Dionne home from the Electrolux factory at Evansville, Illinois. Julius Evogue, an Electrolux salesman, who installed the unit in the little Dionne kitchen, is showing one of the nurses in charge, Louise de Kiriene of Toronto, how the refrigerator operates.

Fight to Save Lives of Quintuplets Aided by Latest Refrigeration Device; Protects Their Daily Food Supply

The human milk fed to the during Mr. Evogue's visit. The famous Dionne babies, every nurse said that they had expected that the production of milk would be a problem of a modern refrigerator which the infant milk supply was ruined as a gift to the babies. The Canadian farm house in the Canadian north woods shortly after the five tiny baby girls were born, hours with human milk sent according to a report received from Toronto. Prior to the arrival of J. M. Morell, Jr., of Morell Supply Company.

"With so much interest on the part of mothers everywhere in the progress being made to save the lives of the Dionne quintuplets local patrons will doubtless be glad to know how an Electrolux aided the doctors and nurses in keeping the scientific care of the milk supply," the report informed. "As soon as it was learned that the Dionne home was practically without refrigeration facilities of any sort, the Electrolux company immediately rushed a refrigerator to the scene from its factory at Evansville, Ind. A kerosene-operated Electrolux was chosen as the only type practical in the small farmhouse where the babies were born. The Dionne home is in a small village far from gas mains and without electricity. The refrigerator was presented by Electrolux as its contribution toward bringing the quintuplets to maturity, both from a scientific and humanitarian standpoint.

"The refrigerator was an important adjunct in the incubators that had been hurriedly sent to the Dionne home as soon as the news spread that the quintuplets had only a slight chance to survive. How important scientific devices were in making a fight for the babies' lives is seen from the fact that in only rare instances have quintuplets remained alive more than a few hours after birth.

"One of the company's engineers, Julian Evogue, accompanied the refrigerator to the Dionne home to see that it was properly installed and put in working order. A barrel of kerosene was also presented to the family, which was enough fuel to run the refrigerator four months.

"Mr. Evogue brought back word that the nurses in charge in the Dionne home were enthusiastic over the refrigerator on its arrival and that the father of the quintuplets was delighted with the gift. The mother was confined to her bed

POLICEMAN LOSES 62 POUNDS OF FAT

Mr. J. W. Frost writes: "I've used 7 bottles of Kruschen and reduced from 272 to 210 lbs. with no ill effects whatever. In fact I feel much better than I have for some years. As a police officer I recommend Kruschen to bro. these officers to keep in regulation weight and health."
 Kruschen is the safe, healthy, sensible way to lose unhealthy surplus fat—simply take a half teaspoonful every morning in a glass of warm water—you'll feel so good—so energetic. You'll gain in strength and ambition you feel years younger and look it. By reducing excess fat you'll be apt to live years longer.

COAL COMPANY DEFEATS DRIFT

Local Team Thus Clinches Second Place, Notch Below McDowell
 The Prestonsburg Coal Company entry in the Big Sandy Elkhorn league won undisputed possession of second place as the first half of the season closed Sunday by virtue of a 6-3 victory over Drift on Left Beaver nine's gold and by Shelby's forfeit of the play-off of the 8-3 tie played recently.
 McDowell, Floyd county's ether league team, won the first half championship, blanking Boldman 10 to 0.
 Lambert, coal company's righthander, had an easy afternoon of it with Drift, except in the fourth and fifth rounds when Drift scored all its runs. He allowed 11 hits, the same number his team made, but continued to keep them scattered. The team made five errors behind him and only one run was earned off his delivery.
 Bull Creek climbed aboard the offering of Sawyer, starting Drift hurler, in the first inning, scoring three runs. Sawyer was chased to cover in the second, when two more runs came across. But Crisp, the southpaw who did fine relief pitching in the game here July 4, then went in and held the coal team to six hits and a single run, this being the result of a home run from the bat of Music. The homer was one of the most terrific drives ever made in this section.
 The second half starts Sunday with Wayland entering a strong team to take the place in the league of Shelby. Boldman plays here, Wayland at Drift and Dunleary at McDowell.

ERNEST SELDON MARTIN

Ernest Seldon Martin was the son of Dr. Ernest and Mrs. Grace Bayer Martin. He was born at Wayland, Ky., Sept. 30, 1925, and died at Allen, Ky., June 25, 1924. He leaves his bereaved parents and an infant sister, Joan Eliza, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louise G. Bayes, of Louisville, Ky. Among those who miss him so sadly are his uncles and aunts, especially Mr. and Mrs. Ben Webb and Mr. and Mrs. James Flanery. He has so often been in their homes, even as one of their very own. He also leaves a host of near relatives, being the grandson of the late Marion Martin.
 His funeral was conducted by his pastor, O. P. Smith, in the Methodist Church at Allen. Buddie, though a child, was most loyal and true to his friends, and on the night of his death he knelt by his bedside, saying his little prayer, "Now I lay me down to sleep." The choir sang his favorite hymn and the children who were his comrades sang his little prayer as a last measure of love and remembrance to their fallen playmate. The many beautiful flowers and the great number of sorrowing friends who were testaments of the love and affection he had from all who knew him. Among his last words were, "Open the gate." Through this gate, which is the Gate of Life Eternal, he passed in rest and peace.
 The pall bearers were: Billie Johnson, Howard Clay, Paul Carter, Brooks Prater, Ray Smith, Seldon Hanks, F. F. Freshon, Phelix Crisp and Reuben Allen. The many flowers were carried by the smaller girls dressed in white. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Wayland under the direction of E. P. Arnold.
 O. P. SMITH.

American government, Mr. Hull is explicit. In its role of creditor, "it is ever mindful of leniency or equity or ability to pay and of other considerations to which debtor governments are entitled." The insistence of Congress that the funding arrangements made more than a decade ago must be lived up to without change is thrust aside. The United States is not a Shylock. It will not make impossible demands. It will consider all sides of the question. It will take cognizance of the fact that conditions have materially changed since 1922 and it will give sympathetic hearing to each of its debtors, but separately and not collectively.
 With the Hull declaration comes the information that a new funding arrangement has been made with Finland that greatly reduces the interest rate. This will be received with popular applause. It is recognition of the consistent policy of honesty that has been followed by the little Baltic nation. It puts an appreciative stamp of approval on international integrity.
 John Hunley, who has been in California for the past year, returned home several days ago.

MORE PRAISE FOR FINLAND
 Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in his address to the American people and press, presses his own views on war and post-war debts when he congratulates Finland, the only nation that has met its obligations without default, upon its June 15 payment. "At a time when contractual obligations have been widely disregarded, or too easily subordinated to considerations of brief expediency, and to a degree which threatens one of the most important bases of human relations," declares Mr. Hull, "the consistent steadfastness with which Finland has unhesitatingly met its obligations is enlightening."
 The credit of the debtor nations and their future debtor structure are threatened by their refusal to pay the money loaned by the United States, not only to carry the way to victory but in the case of Finland and many of the other European nations, to launch independent states and to start the rehabilitation of peace time. The furtherance of international trade is retarded by the widespread defaults. Amicable relations are injured while the debt problem is an obstacle to friendly understanding.
 As to the attitude of the

URGED TO APPLY EARLY FOR LIVESTOCK LOANS

"Make arrangements early for the money you will need to buy feeders and stockers this summer and fall," is the advice of Powell Collins, secretary-treasurer of the Big Sandy Production Credit Association, to prospective livestock buyers. "Money for buying for all livestock production operations," states Mr. Collins, "is readily available to experienced and qualified livestock farmers through their Production Credit Associations, which are units of the Farm Credit Administration of Louisville and of which there are 12 in Ohio, 12 in Indiana, 12 in Kentucky and 10 in Tennessee. The Big Sandy Association, located at Paintsville, serves the counties of Letcher, Knott, Pike, Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin, Morgan, Elliott,

Menifee, Lawrence and Boyd. However, foreboding in arranging finances is essential to summer and fall livestock operations as planting and growing the food supply," states Mr. Collins. "Never before could farmers finance their production program at 5 per cent interest per year, which is the present cost of money through Production Credit Associations. Some borrowers, however, have been disappointed that the association could not simply accept the loan application and pass the money out over the counter the same day. Borrowers should allow 10 days to two weeks for securing loans. Plan ahead and start arranging for money in time to allow for handling necessary details, so the Production Credit Association may have the money available on the date when it is required. Interest, of course, begins only when the money actually is advanced to the borrower, so he loses nothing by securing the loan in plenty of time. Furthermore, in cases where funds are required at intervals throughout a period of perhaps several months, a budgeted loan may be arranged in which the specified sums are advanced at stated periods. This enables important savings, since interest is paid on each installment only as the money is actually advanced to the borrower.

-AND PUT THE SAVINGS IN YOUR POCKET

LOW first cost is only one of the savings you make when you buy a Ford V-8. This new V-8 is more economical to operate than any other Ford car ever built. It saves you money on gas. It saves you money on oil. It seldom requires valve grinding. And you can practically forget about carbon removal. Further, in that distant day when parts may need replacement, Ford parts cost from 23% to 34% less than parts for any other car. Take your vacation on the road this year—and let your V-8 help for the bills!

LOW FIRST COST
Ford V-8 prices are now at their 1934 low.

LOW OPERATING COST
The new Ford V-8 is the most economical car to operate in its class, and Ford has set the standard.

LOW TIRE-WEAR VALUE
The tread pattern shown assures that the Ford carries an unusually great percentage of its original value.

EX-SERVICE MEN
VOTE FOR

A. J. "JACK" MAY FOR CONGRESS

Democratic Primary, August 4th

A Representative from this District who voted an unhesitating "YEA" on every bill introduced in Congress for the benefit of the ex-service man.

An unfounded rumor has been circulated to the effect that Congressman May did not support the ex-soldiers by his vote in Congress. As undisputable proof of the falsity of that rumor, the following letter from Congressman J. E. Rankin, of Mississippi, chairman of the committee on World War Veterans' Legislation, is printed here:

Washington, D. C.,
June 29, 1934

Hon. Andrew J. May, M. C.,
Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Dear May:

I wanted to see you before Congress adjourned and to thank you personally for your support of veterans' legislation.

I particularly wanted to express my thanks for your support of my Widows and Orphans bill, H. R. 9936, which passed right in the dying hours of Congress, and which President Roosevelt has just signed. It is one of the most meritorious pieces of veterans' legislation ever passed by the American Congress. It will take relief into the desolate homes of 13,900 dependent widows and orphans of World War veterans, a vast majority of whom received their disabilities in the firing line on the Western Front. The disabled ex-service men and their dependents owe you a lasting debt of gratitude for your splendid services in their behalf.

Thanking you again for your assistance and support, and with very best wishes, I remain

Sincerely your friend,

JER:R

J. E. Rankin, Chairman,
Committee on World War
Veterans' Legislation.

The Congressional Record also will show that Congressman May voted for every measure in favor of the veterans.
