WALTER BOWLING, 35, FOUND DEAD MONDAY MORNING

Body Discovered On Railroad Bridge, Is Deemed Train Victim

BURIAL MONDAY

Body of Walter K. Bowling, 45 years old, unemployed mechanic, was found on the railroad bridge at West Prestonsburg at 8 o'clock Monday morning, his skull crushed and apparently the victim of a train.

The victim was last seen alive about 1 o'clock Monday morning while sitting on the bridge. It is believed that he fell asleep alongside the tracks and, awakened at the approach of the train, lifted his head and was struck by the side of a car. Manifest No. 84 passed through here at 1:30 o'clock Monday morning and time of Bowling's death is fixed at that hour.

Mr. Bowling was the son of Seymour Bowling, who resides in Indiana. He was well known in this community and had many friends. Besides his father, he leaves his widow and six children, one brother, Fred Bowling and one sister. Funerals were conducted in West Prestonsburg Wednesday afternoon by the Reverend Harris of the Baptist Church, and burial was made in the Richmond cemetery here under the direction of E. F. Arnold.

Surviving her are her husband and two sons, her father, one brother, Delmar Huff, of California, and one sister, Miss Edith Huff. Funerals were conducted July 10 from the Methodist Church, Garrett, of which she was a member, Revs. A. L. Allen, Earl Howard, Alex. Coburn and M.C. Wright officiating. Burial was made at Garrett.

Miss Lydia Mae Francis arrived Wednesday from Washington, D. C., for several days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Francis.

'Tis Not All 'Dew' That's Wet-Gasoline Moonshined In Hills Of Knott County

Special to The Times

Huysville, Ky., July 12.—Willard Sexton, employe of the Kentucky and West Virginia Gas Company, of Garrett, near here, will be a witness in Knott circuit court at Hindman next August at a man who was recently operating a still in the head of Rock Fork Creek.

But you're wrong! The man is not charged with making whisky. His "line" was high-powered gasoil. Mr. Sexton's company for which Sexton works had an oil tank in the head of Rock Fork, and it became clear several weeks ago that the oil stored therein was going somewhere besides to market. So since Mr. Sexton's regular duties kept him in the section of the disappearing oil, he was told to keep an eye out. And when he received a tip that some men from

Haney Is 3rd Floyd Teacher To Become County School Head

Three Floyd county teachers, not two as The Times stated recently, assumed office as superintendent in Eastern Kentucky counties July 1.

A few days ago The Times learned that the third teacher from this county to become head of county schools was O. H. Haney, former teacher at Wayland. Mr. Haney is now superintendent of Morgan Morgan county.

Mr. Haney is a native of Morgan and married a Floyd county girl, a daughter of Dr. M. V. Wicker, of Wayland. He was educated at Morehead State Normal, and is known aside from his ability as a teacher, as one of the best baseball pitchers in this section. The other two of Floyd county's trio of superintendents are Ballard Hunter, of Pike, and C. H. Farley, of Pike.

FLOYD COUNTIAN HELD IN IRONTON

Little Surrender, Following Slaying of Ironton Man Last Week

Bert Little, 24-years old, of Wheelwright, this county, surrendered Thursday, last week, to Ironton, O., authorities who had sought him since the preceding day when he is alleged to have shot and killed Floyd Miller, 37, at Ironton. The charge on which Little's murder was arrested, was that he shot and killed the victim.

One report says that Little shot Miller following an argument over liquor, another that they quarreled over a woman. Ironton officials were quoted as saying that the two men had had trouble previously. The Floyd man's bullet struck Miller under his heart, and he died en route to a hospital. Little's victim was the fifth of his family to meet death by violence. The accused man is the son of the late Ned Little, who was killed by Letcher county officials several years ago.

CHURCH TO SPONSOR BOYS' TREASURE HUNT

A treasure hunt in which boys of all ages may participate will be sponsored Saturday, July 21, at 6 p. m. by the Presbyterian Church here. Posters giving details of the event are being displayed, or further information may be procured from Mrs. J. D. Thomas.

In the upper Rock Fork vicinity were selling quite a bit of remarkably good, he became suspicious and began to cast about for a local gasoline plant.

Easing through the woods a short distance from the oil tank one day, Sexton spied the "moonshiners" and watched them make a "run." The procedure was, Sexton says, apparently just like that followed in making the famous "mountain dew," except that the "moon" was engaged in a wooden box. Naturally, Sexton did not let the distillers see him and consequently did not get to examine the still at close range.

FEDERAL VIOLATION AT ALLEN ALLEGED

Two Who Opened Switch Charged With Attempting To Retard Mails

Claude Price and Frank Parsons are in jail at Catlettsburg after having been arrested in Davy, W. Va., by special railway agents on a charge of attempting to obstruct or retard the U. S. mail at Allen, this county, on the night of June 26. They were arrested last Thursday and one of the pair is said to have confessed his guilt.

Galloway Gray, one of the C. & O. officials who effected their capture, said that Price and Parsons are alleged to have broken the lock on the west end of the switch at Allen, leaving the switch open. He said that one of the accused men claimed that they hoped this to cause a train to stop so that they could hop it, but the two were seen at Allen for two days, this said, and are suspected as having planned a train robbery. The open switch was discovered when a freight train approached and the train was stopped barely in time to avert a serious wreck. Parsons and Price will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner McCall at Catlettsburg.

MAY NOT VOTE ON MAGISTRATE CHOICE

Is Restraining Order Action

There is no necessity for the election of a Magistrate in District No. 4 of this county at the coming election circuit Judge John W. Caudill ruled after hearing arguments at Hindman on the restraining order obtained by Dewey Roberts, present magistrate in that district, to prevent the printing of ballots on which a total of 10 persons' names would have appeared as candidates for the office.

John Scott, Magistrate Roberts' Republican opponent at the November, 1933 election, whose subsequent contest suit resulted in "no election" being declared by the courts and in Roberts' appointment by Governor Letcher being necessary has taken the case to the court of appeals. A decision is expected this week.

In the event that Judge Caudill's opinion is upheld by the higher court, Magistrate Roberts will hold his office under the Governor's appointment uncontested until the 1935 election.

CHILD IS VICTIM

WORK ON PAVING OF TRAIL BEGUN

Project To Furnish Town One of State's Finest Thoroughfares

Paving of the Mayo Trail through Prestonsburg is adding another paved street to the town; for the road will in reality be a street with curbing and sidewalks. Completion will furnish the town one of the finest thoroughfares in the state and will be almost perfectly straight stretch of highway from Cliff to the upper end of Prestonsburg.

That part of the highway from Richmond street at the upper end of the project to a point near the home of Mrs. Maggie Hatcher will be 33 feet wide, with a 4 1/2-foot sidewalk on either side of the road to the residence of Edward L. Allen, from which point only one walk will be constructed. Below the home of Mrs. Hatcher, the road will be 20 feet wide, it is said.

Pouring of concrete is expected to be begun this week. The work is being done by the Reed Construction Company. Work in preparation for the pouring of concrete is going on seven days a week, and the job will be rushed to completion at the earliest possible moment. Labor has been obtained from the local re-employment office.

While Court and Richmond streets are closed during work on the highway, through traffic is being routed around the town.

County Canning Program By The FERA Committee

Under the leadership of Mrs. Reginald B. Mayo, committee chairman, an extensive canning program is to be carried out in Floyd whereby canning demonstrations will be held in 29 different communities throughout the county.

The method used is sponsored by the University of Kentucky and when carried out will enable one to "conserve surplus foods for winter use, retaining all the food value of the product. Much of this demonstration will be done by volunteers. The following women have enlisted their services after attending the district demonstrations by Mrs. Leach, of the University of Kentucky: Mrs. J. D. Hatfield, Melvin, Ky.; Mrs. Flora Prater, Lackey; Mrs. Ward, Langley; Mrs. Anna Music and Mrs. Ella Preston, Auxier; Mrs. J. A. Boar, Betsy Lane of Mrs. Grace Ford, Mrs. J. D. Thomas and Mrs. Regina B. Mayo, Prestonsburg. The remainder of the county will be visited by Miss Anna Belle Hereford and Miss Vannie Roberts.

SCHOOL ELECTION IN FLOYD COUNTY WITHOUT VIOLENCE

Interest Intense But Day Un-eventful; Prater Profits by Sad Experience

RETURNS GIVEN

Saturday was school election day, and Floyd county went about it with the usual intense interest—except that there were no shootings, no stabbings, almost no disturbance of any kind.

Credit for the peace prevailing county-wide during the day is handed to the new school election law which provides for the secret ballot and conduct of the election on the same lines as those followed in the regular election.

At the school on Prater Creek, where the year five men were killed partially as a result of the old viva voce system of voting, memories of the tragedy were so vividly recalled that all candidates for trustee in that sub-district withdrew and agreed to let the county board of education appoint the trustee. Four or five residents of the district aspired for the office of trustee, with the old battle lines drawn, but W. H. Howell, one of those wounded in last year's election battle, with others contrived a compromise so that a repetition of what happened a year ago would be averted.

In a few districts Saturday fighting ran high and a few flat fights took place, but the day passed without anybody being seriously hurt.

Count of the vote in 120 sub-districts of the county began here Monday morning and was finished Tuesday. Returns from several districts were close, and a few contests are reported as being planned.

Winners in the several sub-districts, with their majorities, of victory follow:

District 2—Lionie Burchett, 16 votes; 3—Albert Collins, unopposed; 4—Watt Hale, 10; 4A—Buddee, 10; 5—W. H. Gibson, 12; 5A—Sallie F. Stout, 2; 6—Dorris Pitts, 16; 8—W. H. Ousley, unopposed; 9—F. Hannah, 18; 10—Alvin Ousley, unopposed; 10A—W. M. Ousley, 11; 11—R. W. Wallen, 24; 12—C. E. Stone, 18; 13—Jacob Shepherd, 18; 14—Miley Prater, unopposed.

District 15—J. J. Reffitt, unopposed; 16—Penn Fitzpatrick, 4; 17—Chester Howard; 24; 17A—Grace Dotson, 1; 18—C. E. Bays, 16; 19—Isom Holbrook, unopposed; 20—R. B. Whittaker, 20; 21—Sherman Prater, 36; 23—Jim Hill, 20; 24—Gib Brown, 11; 25—A. G. Holbrook, unopposed; (Continued on page two)

C & O Officials Go On Unscheduled Inspection Tour As Switch Thrown

A party of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company officials last Thursday afternoon went on an unscheduled tour of inspection on the Bull Creek branch line, near here, and almost miraculously escaped serious injury or death.

The officials' special, returning at an estimated speed of 45 miles an hour from a trip up Big Sandy, struck the switch at the junction of this branch line and the main tracks and, to the dismay of the engineers, was discovered that the switch was thrown to turn the train up Bull Creek around a stiff curve. Almost before the officials knew what was happening, the train had whisked around the curve and up the creek out of sight of the main line, en route passing over and breaking a derail. Meanwhile, the engineer had leaped through the window of the fireman's cab as the train careened a tortuous route on rails surmounting a high hill. Pony trucks of the locomotive pushed the tracks as the derail was struck, but the locomotive and coaches hung to the rails. A trackwalker named McKennie was working at the junction when the whistle blew and barely had time to remove his tool car from the rails. He disclaimed responsibility for the switch being thrown.

This Sales Tax Has Made Cheapskates Of All Of Us

Wasn't it Vice President Marshall who said, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar?" Well, the sales tax has given Kentucky the five-cent cigar, along with plenty other five-cent items, even if they're not as good as the Vice President with the ready retort would have them. Instead of buying beer by the bottle or by the ten-cent glass, the boys are buying their drinks in the popular five-cent size. Thus they avoid the tax. They pay as they go, and, as it is said locally, "drink that one up and have another." 9 cents worth of meat, salt or coffee—they're running the scale of prices regularly up to a dime but not as often up to the full 10 cents worth as of yore. In a local store this week two men of apparently uncramped circumstances ordered nine cents worth of cheese and crackers each. The Dutch treat has returned to its own. The gay lad who "sets up" the crowd nowadays, is in for spending of some pennies by way of tax. There-had, but was firmly told that there was another penny due. In the end, he saw a $10 bill "busted" in order to get that one pesky penny. And the pathetic one woman said very earnestly, "I need every penny I have in the world for something—for the old man and the children and me to eat, but—" On the other hand, sales tax enthusiasts say we'll soon find the tariff not so obnoxious and that it will work out to the benefit of the state as a whole. What does the country need? What the children of this country now need are good, strong, penny banks that their parents can't burglarize.

Here's One Highball That Testotaters Should Imbibe

Radium highballs! This is the tonic prescribed to keep one healthy, wealthy, and wise, by Dr. Luther S. Gable, consultant radiologist, of Chicago, who lectured on Radium and Radium at the Morehead State Teachers' College, Morehead, Ky., from June 25 through June 28. Dr. Gable takes his own medicine, and gives the radium cocktail credit for his own abounding energy, and even hints it may have had something to do with his success in rearing three boys, each over six feet tall. The radium highball is one of the few drinks which absolute testotaters may imbibe with a clear conscience. It is merely a glass of water impregnated with radium gas—a gas given off by radium. The gas is mixed in the water by a portable apparatus which Dr. Gable demonstrated for the benefit of the curious several times while in Morehead. The radon gas mixer might be truly called a modern fountain of youth—or in more technical terms, a means of supplying the body with radiant energy. Dr. Gable is the only surviving member of a group of six scientists who first refined commercial radium in America. The other five lost their lives in the laboratory, slain by the genie they had released. Dr. Gable invented and produced the first luminous radium watch dial in America, and numerous other radium and cosmic ray apparatus. At one time, he served as instructor in the Detroit Institute of Technology on the subject of radium and heliology.

ready for release until accepted by the medical authorities. The sterilization laws which have been passed or considered by many states, recently, will need considerable revision in the light of this new development in the treatment of insanity if it proves practical in the hands of doctors over the country. What is the secret of the thrilling and seemingly miraculous power of radium to combat and destroy disease and aid the body in throwing off the effects of the disease destroyed? Dr. Gable explained it in this fashion: Radium, or radon gas from radium, is constantly exploding, bombarding its surroundings with particles of itself. Fortunately it takes nearly 2,000 years for radium to explode one-half of itself away. Three rays result in this explosion—of radium, called alpha, beta and gamma. One ray is destructive another is stimulating, and the third is regenerative. When radium is placed in contact with a malignancy, such as cancer, if just the proper amount is used, the destructive ray is just strong enough to destroy the malignant tissue, which is not as resistant as the surrounding healthy tissue, and not strong enough to destroy the living tissue. Then the stimulating ray stimulates the cells to activity in the surrounding area and the regenerative ray aids the body to generate new tissue to take the place of the malignant growth which has now disintegrated and disappeared. Sometimes a month may elapse before the destructive, stimulating, and regenerative effects of radium will have run its course. TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

Most merchants follow the practice of selling a number of articles at a lower unit price than is charged for one. They have certain fixed costs in connection with each sale which must be charged to the customer benefits by buying in quantity.

An electric utility has certain fixed costs that are chargeable to each customer as he reads his meter, bookkeeping for his account, interest and taxes voted to his use. Our rates are so designed that after you have paid these charges additional electricity may be had at very low cost. By buying electric power for a number of household uses such as cooking, refrigeration and water heating you buy at wholesale. Consequently for each service you take from us you reduce your average rate and, in effect, you make your own electric rate.

Ohio After Alleged Fugitives from Justice

Armed with requisitions made by Governor Ruby Laffoon on the Governors of two states, Sheriff M. T. Stumbo Monday left here to return two alleged fugitives from justice to this county.

He first went to Uniontown, Pa., to claim John Milford Hamilton, who is charged with arson and forgery. The arson charge was made against Hamilton by a remote kinsman, Rev. John Hamilton, whose barn the prisoner is alleged to have burned on Mud Creek.

Returning, Sheriff Stumbo will pick up C. E. Perry, who is wanted in this county on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense, and who is held in Dayton, Ohio. The charge against Perry arose from a transaction in which he sold his shoe shop here to Henry Young. Sheriff Stumbo was accompanied by his son, Isaac Stumbo, and Deputy Sheriff Elison Kendrick.

BULL CREEK COAL DEFEATS BOLDMAN

Bull Creek Coal Company's baseball team Sunday defeated Boldman here, 4 to 3, thanks to the visitors' three errors and four walks behind Bull Creek batters at inopportune moments.

Boldman garnered 11 hits, one a triple by Prater, while Bull Creek was granted only five singles by Layne, Boldman pitcher, but it's runs that count. With Boldman's error, went three stolen bases by the local team. Bull Creek trailed until the very last inning, when the boys scored two runs to pull the game out of the mire, and was forced to retire in the third inning. Buck Stumbo, catcher, taking his place at the mound, Wayland defeated Drift, 6 to 3, despite the pitching of Bert Crisp, the league's best southpaw, who fanned 15 during the game. In the eighth, after Crisp had struck out the first two men up, four pinch hitters went to bat for Wayland, and all four hit safely, scoring four runs and winning the game.

Next Sunday, McDowell plays at Boldman. Drift at Dunleavy and Bull Creek at Wayland.
