CONLEY SUCCUMBS TO BULLET WOUND SUSTAINED SUNDAY

Three Jailed in Shooting of Garrett Boy; Mullins Shot, Hall Stabbed

One man was fatally shot, another was dangerously wounded and a third man was stabbed in Floyd county this week.

Clyde Conley, 18-year-old son of Willis Conley, Garrett postmaster, died Tuesday night at the Beaver Valley hospital from a bullet said to have been fired into his body at Maytown Sunday night by Thomas Pennington, 29, Garrett miner. A bullet from a .32-caliber revolver (struck young Conley below his heart and ranged downward into his stomach. Pennington, Herschel Ball and Curtis Bradley were jailed here a few hours following the shooting, and are being held to await action of the grand jury.

Tony Mullins was shot Tuesday afternoon on Steele's Creek, by Jim Manns as the result, it is said, of an altercation arising over a poker game. The bullet entered his body near the armpit, and was removed near his other shoulder. He is in the Wayland hospital, and Manns was arrested and brought to jail here by Deputy Sheriff Ranm Marcus, of Wayland.

Policeman Lev Hall, of McDowell, was attacked by a man back Sunday by a knife wielded, it is claimed, by Jack Adams after the officer had arrested Adams at McDowell and had started with him to jail. His injuries are not serious. Hershel Williams, brother-in-law of Adams, was arrested as an accomplice. He was released under $500 bond and Adams under $1,000 bond to await grand jury action.

The Maytown shooting took place in what is known there as "The Bullpen," a lepot between Stone's and Osborne's restaurants, where pool counters are frequently held as settlement of differences arising between customers of the restaurants. One report reports that young Conley was shot with his own revolver according to friends of the victim, he and Bradley had given Pennington his revolver to hold while they fought with their fists. Pennington then shot him. (Continued on page five)

DRILL BIG GASSER IN MARTIN COUNTY

A gas flow of approximately 10,000,000 cubic feet was struck a few days ago by drillers for the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company in Martin county, six miles from Inez, it is reported.

The gas yield was struck in the salt sand, and value of the well depends upon its longevity. The big gasser was drilled on the Mavor farm, gas rights of which are owned by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company.

NEW JOURNALISTIC VENTURE UNDER WAY

First edition of the Paintsville News, a second weekly newspaper at Paintsville, appeared in the first week of September. Henry Arrowood, editor, is a former Courier-Journal reporter and is editing an interesting paper. Plant of this latest venture in Eastern Kentucky journalism is located in the First National Bank building, Paintsville.

MRS. SCUTCHFIELD IS CALLED BY DEATH AT AGE OF 32, SEPT. 14

Mrs. Lula Calhoun Scutchfield, 32 years old, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, September 14. She was the wife of Sidney Scutchfield, of Bull Creek, and was one of that section's best women.

Mrs. Scutchfield was a daughter of the late Dode Calhoun and of Mrs. Ellen Calhoun, who survives. Besides her mother and husband, she leaves five children, Ashland, Eugene, Eddie, Marie and Billie; five brothers and five sisters: Mrs. Anna Derost, Mrs. Susan Campbell, Mrs. Pearl Wallen, Mrs. Campbell of Water Gap, Mrs. Ohlie Herald, of Prestonsburg, Elzie, Robert, Joe and Tom Calhoun, of Water Gap.

BUDDY CASSADY TAKEN BY DEATH

Veteran Gas Employee in Floyd Field Dies Friday at Ivel

Buddy Cassidy, 50 years old, veteran employee of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, died Friday, September 14, at Ivel, a victim of pneumonia which he had suffered since June 1.

A native of Martin county and member of a prominent family of that county, Mr. Cassidy had been employed in the Floyd county gas field for the past 18 years with the old Louisville Gas & Electric Company and the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company throughout this section and had many friends.

The victim was a son of the late J. E. Cassidy, former Martin county official, who was killed in an automobile accident several months ago at Inez. He is survived by his mother and two sons, Robert and Raymond, and one daughter, Miss Ruth Cassidy, of Inez. Three brothers and one sister also survive: Eugene, L. B. and Jasper Cassidy and Mrs. J. E. Maynard, of Inez.

FLOYD JUDGING TEAM IS SECOND

Betsy Alynne Boy Leads in Individual Scoring at State Fair Event

The Floyd county poultry-judging team composed of three boys from the Betsy Alynne 4-H club won second honors and prizes aggregating $22 at the Kentucky state fair, Louisville, Whitley county, won first and Carter third.

Kermit Howard, of the Floyd county team, led all competitors in individual scoring. Other members of the team were Carl Stumbo and Carnie Kidd. Their showing in competition with teams from all parts of the state was one of the finest to be made by a team from this section. County Agent S. L. Ibbell, who coached the team, was unable to accompany the boys to Louisville because of illness in his family.

COURT EXPLAINS RELIEF POSITION

Scores Relief Administration As Failing Need of the County

To explain its position in the relief matter, the fiscal court of Floyd county, that the administration of relief in said county has utterly failed to meet the needs of the poor people of the county, and has fallen short of the noble purpose of relief, was permitted to decay by one President and administration at Washington, D. C., due to the mismanagement of such office in Floyd county, and the lack of cooperation of those in charge of relief administration in Floyd county.

1. It is resolved by the fiscal court of Floyd county that the administration of relief in said county has utterly failed to meet the needs of the poor people of the county, and has fallen short of the noble purpose of relief, was permitted to decay by one President and administration at Washington, D. C., due to the mismanagement of such office in Floyd county, and the lack of cooperation of those in charge of relief administration in Floyd county.

2. It appearing that large quantities of food products shipped into Floyd county for distribution among its people are permitted to decay in storage; it is further resolved by the fiscal court that the administration in Floyd county again failed in the proper administration and management of its affairs.

3. It is further resolved by the fiscal court that those in charge of relief administration in Floyd county have failed to cooperate with the fiscal court and other officials of said county.

4. In view of the administration of relief in Floyd county as it has been conducted in the past, and in view of the foregoing numbered resolutions, it is further resolved and adopted by the fiscal court, representatives of the people of Floyd county, that we will not further support, endorse or maintain any office in Floyd county by public funds until such administration of relief is reorganized and functions to inure to the benefit of the needy poor of our county.

5. Be it further known and resolved by the fiscal court that we commend the noble purpose for which the program of relief was inaugurated, and intended, and we have not, and do not, propose to cast our vote to remove the relief from Floyd county, nor to hinder its progress, but do propose that we shall endeavor to have such relief reorganized and properly managed, and will as a fiscal court cooperate in a program of relief for our people to the fullest extent when and if such relief is properly managed.

TEACHERS NAMED IN EMERGENCY PROGRAM

Teachers who have been selected from Floyd county as teachers in the emergency program are: Mrs. Bertha Butler, Prestonsburg; Miss Docia Baldrige, Bonanza; A. J. Wright, Water Gap; Wade Stone, Clear Creek; Prof. W. B. Thomas, of Allen; James Green, Bonanza; and Prof. Elliott, McDowell. These teachers are attending the teachers' conference in Morehead this week.

Miss Gertrude Callihan returned here Monday after spending the past 10 months in New York, guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Nelson, and other relatives.

PIKE MAN PENNED IN DEATH OF KIN

Virgie Smith Gets 21 Years in Killing in Row Over Whisky

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 17.—Virgie Smith today was found guilty of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of his brother, Edgar Smith, a few weeks ago, and was sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary by a jury in the circuit court here. The shooting occurred at the home of Bill Thacker on Red Creek. Thacker testified that Virgie Smith fired at his brother when Eddie failed to heed his call to return a jug of whisky which he had taken. The defense introduced evidence to show that Virgie was waving his pistol while drinking, and that it accidentally discharged, shooting Edgar. Virgie testified that he did not see his brother at the time the shot was fired.

Darling Johnson and Myrtle Hall Johnson went on trial here today, charged with the murder of Gus Johnson in a mining camp at Hartley, Ky., last spring. The two were indicted after a building which was being used as a logging shanty was destroyed by fire, in which Gus died.

Darling, who is Gus' grandson, and the woman occupied rooms in the building at the time, separate from that of the victim. They escaped from the fire after doing all they could, but failed to rescue the elder Johnson, who was the property of Smith Johnson, Darling's father. The jury in the case was completed today.

TO START WORK ON 20-INCH LINE

Warfield Plans Big Gas Line Into Knott County, is Report

A 20-inch pipe line running a distance of approximately 16 miles is expected to be started by Warfield, Natural Gas Company soon, it was unofficially said here this week.

The line will, according to reports, run from Clear Creek, on Left Beaver into Knott county, tying up with Warfield's new gas developments on Ball and Carr's forks of Troublesome Creek. Right-of-way purchase is being started within the next few days, and this will be followed by delivery of pipe along the route to be followed. It was said. Construction of the line will afford labor for many residents of this and Knott county.

One observer of the gas development in this section predicted that this project is but a part of a line some day to be run into the south.

EMMA CHILD DIES

Minerva Jacqueline, 14-month-old daughter of Belvard and Opal Marlin Burckett, of Emma, died Friday morning at 7 o'clock, a victim of pneumonia. The little victim is survived by the bereaved parents and one brother, Martin Belvard. Funeral services were conducted from the home here Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Revs. John Laferty and Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

Mrs. J. D. Quisenberry, of Richmond, Va., is the houseguest here of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Goble, and other relatives.

BALDRIDGE STEPHENS MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

A Marriage of much interest throughout this section was that of Miss Julia Baldrige and Mr. Ray Stephens, which took place on Saturday evening, September 8.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Robert A. Potter, of the Presbyterian Church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Allen here in the presence of intimate friends of the couple. The only other attendant was Miss Docia Baldrige, sister of the bride.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stephens are members of two of Floyd county's oldest and best-known families. Mrs. Stephens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baldrige, of Bonanza, and is a graduate of Bonanza high school. Mr. Stephens is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Stephenson, of Maytown, and is a graduate of Maytown high school. He taught for two years in the Floyd county schools, and for the past two years has been employed in the office of the Kentucky Gas Company. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens are deserving young people, and have the wishes of a host of friends. They are now at their home in Prestonsburg.

ERRORS FIGURE IN GAME HERE SUNDAY

Errors figured largely in the defeat here Sunday of the Bull Creek baseball team by McDowell in the last game of the Big Sandy league season and, incidentally, Bull Creek's last for second half honors.

The score was 5-3, and the game was a tight pitching duel between K. Stumbo, star McDowell right hander, and Adrian Collins, who only two weeks ago shifted from the outfield, second base or wherever else needed to take the mound for Bull Creek.

Hitting of Buck Stumbo, McDowell catcher was the offensive feature of the game. Buck went on a rampage to swell an already obese batting average and had a perfect day at bat. McDowell was given the game which it lost to Drift recently on the grounds that Drift played an ineligible player under an assumed name, and so Warfield must win Saturday's game with Goldman at Boldman to tie for the second half lead. In the event of a Wayland victory, another meeting between Wayland and McDowell will be necessary to decide the second half winner. W. C. Rimmer, league president, said.

TO SELECT PASTOR

A congregational meeting will be held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning following the regular services to consider calling a pastor. It was announced this week The Rev. Robert A. Potter at present is the pastor of the church, having been called here as acting pastor following the resignation of Rev. Arnold T. Malmberg.

PRE-SCHOOL NURSERY

The pre-school nursery being conducted here by Mrs. Bertha Butler is for children from 2 to 6 years old and this instruction is offered free of charge. Classes are being held in the new gymnasium from 8 till 12 o'clock. Mrs. Butler asks that any one having old toys to give them for the use of her classes.

HUEYSVILLE MAN DRAWS 21-YEAR TERM AS SLAYER

Billie Hughes Convicted in Outslay Slaying; Triplett Indictment Dismissed

Billie Hughes drew a 21-year penitentiary term Tuesday when held guilty by a jury in the Floyd circuit court of manslaughter in the slaying a few months ago at Hueysville of Ashland Ousley.

Trial of Hughes ended Monday night, and the jury returned a verdict before noon Tuesday. His defense rested upon his claim that he was shooting at McKinley Kilburn and that he did not know Ousley was near the scene of the shooting. The commonwealth contended that he was drunk and shooting into a crowd, and that a bullet struck Hughes was arrested at Neosho, Mo., and returned to this county about two months after the shooting took place.

Trial of Cash Triplett, accused of the murder of Constable Bev Scott last year at Lackey, ended abruptly today when the indictment was dismissed by Special Judge J. F. Stewart on the ground that three men had been named in the indictment but none specified as the slayer. Commonwealth's Attorney O. C. Hall said, shortly after the indictment was dismissed, that a new indictment would be asked of the grand jury when it convenes Monday.

John Craft was on trial Thursday, as The Times went to press, charged with the murder of Frank Collins at Estill.

FLOYD COUNTY HAS NEW FOOTBALL II

Without Experience, Martin Boys Show Unexpected Strength Against Pikeville

With only three days' practice, some of its members never having had a football in their hands before, the Martin high school football team triumphed over an experienced Pikeville high school second team to two touchdowns.

Last week, only 20 boys had reported for practice, but among this 20 was some of the finest football material in this section. Only practice is needed to make of the eleven a formidable aggregation. It is believed, Coach Herbert H. w. and was highly pleased with the team's performance against Pikeville and Casins Hatcher, Pikeville coach, said that he had never seen so inexperienced a team play so well.

Though playing in Martin territory most of the game, the Pikeville eleven was obliged to resort to an aerial attack before the novices' goal could be crossed. Sheer determination, rather than skill, marked the game of the Martin team. General play of Paul Dingus at fullback was outstanding.

READING FUN IN STORE FOR BOYS

Here's important news for the boys of America. THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of THE AMERICAN BOY to readers. States Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor. Recently we have effected savings that made the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is a big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends.

Along with the cut in cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hide Rack, the red and cold knife, Boneheart Jim Tierney, the detective, and the months to come. William Heylinger, whose true-to-life, gripping vocation ad stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and hearings, as well as the hearty approval of boys, working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and writing renewed explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY, under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 720 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and THE AMERICAN BOY will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

GARRETT

The Garrett high school has established a school paper which is headed "The Garrett News." It hopes to promote the progress of this lodge, a copy of this paper, ready for use in the school work as well as a source of information in the school community. The English teacher is Miss Stoddard. Miss Stoddard is also planning to organize a debating club. Physical education for the boys is directed by Wm. R. Moran. This club of boys under the direction of Mr. Allen, assisted by Helen Conroy, a student, will open all periods of the day with the exception of one period. A reading room will be established by the primary grades, if sufficient space can be found.

GOODNIGHT

You may have heard that I wrote a flowery obituary when the town miser died. The town miser was influential and had many relatives. The editor did the best he could with the material at hand and finally concluded by writing that the man had gone to his last resting place. Then the printer made a mistake of setting the type so it read that the man had gone to his last resting place. The proof reader missed one and then the fracas started.

The editor doesn't get a fair break on this mistake business. When the garage man makes a mistake, he adds it to your through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Health News

By Dr. Marvin Ransdell, Director, Floyd Co. Health Dept.

Precautionary Measures Against

infantile Paralysis. As a precautionary measure, the State Department of Health is advising to provide an adequate supply of sterile convalescent serum and normal adult serum for use in the possible event of an epidemic outbreak of the disease. At present, infantile paralysis is not sufficiently prevalent anywhere in the state to furnish occasion for serious alarm. Scattered cases, however, are being reported from different sections. This, coupled with the fact that infantile paralysis usually reaches its highest incidence in Kentucky during August, September and October, and with the additional fact that the Pacific coast is now experiencing an outbreak of epidemic proportions, makes it of first importance that no practicable precautions be neglected.

'Control of infantile paralysis,' says Dr. M. H. Jensen, State Epidemiologist, 'would seem to lie in early diagnosis and early administration of convalescent serum.' It is only in the early or paralytic stages of the disease that convalescent serum appears to be of value.

'The secret of making a diagnosis in the acute or early stages of the disease lies, in thinking of the possibility of infantile paralysis in infancy, as well as other conditions. The symptoms of particular diagnostic importance are: Extreme irritability and resistance on the part of the child to handling, even by its mother—something altogether unusual in childhood diseases; stiffness of the back and neck; rigidity upon the shoulders; and prostration, pulse and respiration out of proportion to temperature, which is ordinarily under 102 degrees Fahrenheit.

'Convalescent serum must be given promptly. While the value of this serum is still controversial, the patient should always be given the benefit of the doubt. Even though a suspected case should subsequently prove to be one of paralysis, no harm would have been done by the giving of the serum.'

'Because of the extreme difficulty of providing convalescent serum in quantities sufficient to take care of all paralytic cases, or suspected cases of infantile paralysis, normal adult serum is being collected from healthy adults. Several recent reports indicate that this serum is as efficacious as the convalescent serum. The manner in which infantile paralysis occurs would indicate that, while the virus is probably distributed by means of human carriers, a case of the disease offers little danger of contagion to immediate contacts. Few families develop more than one case of infantile paralysis. Immediate development of the disease is also rare. It is recommended, therefore, that to conserve the supply of serum, contacts be given adult whole blood intramuscularly or merely prepared to meet her where preparation will be no more. So, children, I feel like that our loss of her in this world has come to swell the number in heaven. As I travel this wide world over, I find wherever I roam, but to me there is none like mother, none like mother's dear home.

Written by her loving son, ELDER T. J. SMITH. Boston Inkeeper Ordered to Deliver Mail in 1639. This year, the 300th anniversary of the postal system in America. In the winter of this year, one Richard Fairbanks, Inkeeper of Boston, was ordered by the court to keep his house open for all letters brought from beyond the sea or to be sent to the court. The colonists were not compelled to leave their letters with him, but he was under obligation to deliver them according to their directions.

This action, as far as can be ascertained, was the first office connected with the postal system. During the colonial period post riders and shops were the most common means of mail transportation. The stage coach was not introduced regularly until 1785. Five years thereafter there were only 20 mail contracts corresponding to the number of stage coach routes in existence.

The greatest difficulty was with the slowness and uncertainty of the mails. Carriers not only made out their own schedules, but also at their own pleasure. If the day on which mail was to leave or arrive was known it was considered sufficiently definite. In 1812 there was no arrangement for the transmission and delivery of domestic letters. In the center of that year there was an effort to start a monthly post between New York and Boston, originating with Francis Landless, governor of New York.

Should conditions so warrant, similar depositories will be established in Western Kentucky.

OBITUARY

Garrett, Ky. It is with a sad heart and contrite spirit I try to write a short sketch of the life of our mother, Mary Jane Smith. She was born July 20, 1863, and deceased this life Sept. 4, 1934, aged 71 years, one month and five days.

She was married to Charlie Smith about the year 1879, and to this union were born 11 children, nine of whom are living and two dead. One died in infancy, one died about one year and a half ago. Together with these nine children she leaves to mourn her loss 68 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren and a host of friends and relatives. She united with the Brush Creek church of Regular Baptists when she was young, and lived a devoted Christian life, never forgetting to pray for her children, always giving them

Young Kentuckian Is Modern

Robert Burns, Publisher Says

New York.—Poetry straight from the farm and in unprecedented quantity is to be released upon the world Oct. 9. The poet is Jesse Stuart, a young Kentucky farmer. His book (it is his first) is to be called "Man With a Bull-Tongue Plow." And it will contain, of all things, 703 sonnets and nothing else. Such a collection of sonnets has not been published as one swoop in years, and probably no dirt farmer ever attempted such an ambitious program, although records on the subject do not exist. Seven hundred and three sonnets contain, the mathematically minded know, 9,842 lines of poetry. Stuart is, so his publishers say, "an original." He was born in 1907 at Riverton, Ky., and has lived his life on a farm. His book is not solely a dissertation on sunsets and such; it is pointed out, but rather a poetical autobiography which contains also a wealth of character drawn from the farm, from small town life and, presumably, from the poet's imagination. Stuart is living now near Ashland, Ky., and so far as anybody knows intends to continue living there. He does not trouble always to stick carefully to the classic form he has chosen, but, so those who have read the manuscript say, the indubitable aura of the poetic hangs over it all. "Jesse Stuart is a rare poet for these times," Mark Van Doren declares, "in that he is both copious and comprehensible. His book ought to be interesting even to those who think they cannot read poetry." They can read Jesse Stuart, if they please, as an autobiography—and find themselves in the company of a modern Robert Burns.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. B. STEVENSON, D. D., Minister of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Ill., and Editor of the Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for September 23 ISAAH COUNSELS RULERS

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 41:25-27; 42:1-4. GOLDEN TEXT—Thou wilt keep them in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. PRIMARY TOPIC—A King's Prayer and God's Answer. JUNGLE TOPIC—How God Directs Nations. IMMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How the Ruler of Nations Young People and Adults TOPIC—Recognizing God in National Affairs. 1. Isaiah's Message to Ahaz. 2. Prophecy concerning Immanuel (Isa. 7). 3. Ahaz foolishly called for the help of Assyria against Israel and Syria. 4. Isaiah rebuked him for this, showing him that his help was in God. 5. Judah invaded by the Assyrians (Isa. 36). 6. Habakkuk meets a deputation from Judah (vr. 141). 7. He represents Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, whose mission was to induce Judah to surrender. 8. His plan was to minimize Egypt's anticipated assistance. 9. His method to accomplish this was a. Intimidation (vr. 49). He tried to bully them into submission. He taunted them with their weakness, and told them that Egypt was a broken reed. b. Misrepresentation (vr. 10). He asserted that it was useless for them to put their trust in Egypt, by declaring that the Lord had sent him to destroy Egypt. c. He misrepresented to the people among the people (vr. 18-21). Fearing such a panic, the deputation of the Jews urged Habakkuk not to speak in the Jews' language. d. He promised them plenty in another land (vr. 16; 17). He urged them to make an agreement with him, and upon his return from Egypt he would take them to a land of plenty similar to their own land. Knowing that the cruel Assyrian could not be trusted, the people were loyal to Hezekiah. e. The deputation's report to Hezekiah (vr. 22). They rent their garments in fear and dismay, for the crisis long foretold by Isaiah had now come upon them. f. Hezekiah's Behavior (Isa. 37). i. He resorted to the house of the Lord (vr. 1). This action was prompted by faith. He had promised that whenever in time of distress resorted to his house would be heard by him (3 Chron. 32:18). ii. He sent unto Isaiah (vr. 27). The natural and logical thing for the king to do under such circumstances was to seek the Lord's counsel. Isaiah sent back words of encouragement to Hezekiah, assuring him that God would bring deliverance. 2. Hezekiah's prayer (vr. 14-20). He spread the letter of Sennacherib before the Lord and prayed. His prayer was direct and simple. a. He recognized God's throne, making it the ground of his plea. b. He recognized the peril which threatened the people (vr. 17-19). c. He asked for deliverance (vr. 20). He desired that deliverance would come in such a way as to vindicate and honor the Lord, showing to the surrounding nations that he was the only Lord God. 4. Isaiah's message to Hezekiah (vr. 21-23). a. That Sennacherib's sin was blasphemy against the Holy One of Israel (vr. 22-23). b. That Sennacherib had forgotten that he was an instrument in God's hands (vr. 24-25). c. That judgment upon Sennacherib was imminent (vr. 26-28). d. Deliverance would soon come, and that through the agency of the Lord of Hosts. 4. The Destruction of the Assyrian Army (Isa. 37:36-38). The angel of the Lord went forth and slew in the camp of the Assyrians 185,000 men. Therefore Sennacherib was tumbled back by his way of hand. He did not enter Jerusalem, and after his defeat he went back to Nineveh to live, and there while worshipping in the house of his god, he was assassinated. Christ in the Evening We always need Christ with us, but when evening draws on we need his presence in a special way. It is growing dark, and in the shadows we need his protection. Night makes for us a sense of loneliness, and we need his companionship. Meditation Only as we spiritualize our meditation, making it a hushing and thrilling "three righteous ones, with our lives be hid with Christ in God." "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

I Bought a Terraplane I have paid as much for an automobile that was not nearly so comfortable to ride in and handle as my Terraplane. Its value is great: the economy is great. —Wm. F. HOWARD, Rochester, N. Y.

We Bought a Terraplane We both own Hudsons and we know because its lines more nearly approach the perfect and modern styled cars that we have seen. —Mrs. G. W. PAUL, E. LATON, Charlotte, N. C.

I Bought a Hudson I have owned a Hudson for about 2 years. I am your car. As it has performance, economy, comfort and price. —HENRY W. HONIGSMAN, Seattle.

I Bought a Terraplane I used to be a Hudson owner but I have changed to Terraplane. I'd never have a Hudson again. —Wm. F. HOWARD, Rochester, N. Y.

Does it pay to take your time about buying a car? Just ask Hudson and Terraplane owners. Of the thousands of men and women who have bought new Hudsons and Terraplanes this year, 5 out of every 6 looked at several other makes of cars before they decided. They'll tell you how much you'll be ahead if you "don't buy any car too hurriedly." We'll be glad to show you engine owners' statements like these above, as well as sworn affidavits to certify the economy and low

GOOD INTENTIONS

By Rev. Josef Nordenhaug The old adage says that the road to hell is paved with good intentions. This is a striking commentary on the insufficiency of the human heart to attain that moral perfection which it consciously or unconsciously is striving. Good intentions in themselves are desirable. But unless these intentions mature into action, they remain a symbol of the futility of an unregenerated heart to attain its goal.

the facts of human life that man needs some power stronger than himself or some one above himself to come to his rescue. This power and this person is pointed out to us in the Gospel. The Gospel claims that Jesus Christ has power to save and enables man to conquer sin. And it not only claims this but times and times again experience has proved it.

I am fully aware that this is not the view of the modern behaviorist and all others who claim that all the deprived heart needs is development along educational lines. Any thing sinful or vile must be ascribed to man's environment rather than to the insufficiency of man's heart to deal adequately with the problems of sin, they claim. In the face of the stark realities of life as I see it around me, it seems to me that this latter point of view is direly in need of proof.

Blackcats took to the gridiron Saturday for their first game of the year and defeated a surprisingly strong Kermit, W. Va., team, 19 to 6.

Precision in both running and passing attacks was shown by the Cats, but they looked a bit rusty yet on their pass defense, the Kermit aerial attack netting the visitors greatest yardage and their lone touchdown.

Dickerson, Blackcat half-back, scored the first touchdown of the game in the first quarter after gaining approximately 40 yards on two plays with Kermit drawing a 15-yard penalty for substituting with a player used subsequently in the same quarter. Mayo dropped the extra point.

After Archer had intercepted a Kermit pass and run it back 40 yards to the 10-yard line, Mayo pegged a perfect pass to Craft over the goal line for Prestonsburg's second touchdown before the half was up. A had Mayo from center prevented Mayo from getting his chance to kick the extra point.

Kermit scored on a 25-yard pass, an end run good for about 15 yards and then some steady punting at short range of the goal to score in the final quarter.

Friday, the Blackcats go to Russell for the strong Russell high school team. Coach Watson has been putting the boys through grueling practice for this event, and general improvement is being noted in the team.

The Early Pig A "muzzling pig" which never went to market because he lived some 40,000,000 years before the establishment of stockyards but dispersed himself on the great river flood plains which are now the big bad lands of South Dakota, is on exhibition in the University of Michigan museum. "Muzzling" is the title given to the skeleton, which had skeletal and dental characteristics resembling both the modern swine and man-eating animals. When the skeleton is modeled over with clay, to reproduce the bulk of life, "Muzzling" is the name of the model. "Muzzling" is the name of the model. "Muzzling" is the name of the model.
