RIDDLE HURT WHEN STRUCK BY AUTO AT EUREKA, KEAR HERE

Bill Riddle, 65 years old, was struck by an auto, driven by Tavia Flanery, Martin policeman, Tuesday afternoon and severely cut and bruised. The accident took place at Eureka, opposite the home of H. L. Mayo. Mr. Riddle was at first thought fatally injured, but Wednesday morning it was said at the Beaver Valley hospital that his injuries consist only of a scalp laceration and bruises.

Mr. Riddle was struck when Mr. Flanery's car passed the Puro truck. He was driving a mule hitched to a sled and was on the same side of the road as that of Flanery's car.

HUGHES BEGINS LIFE TERM IN PENITENTIARY

Jim Hughes, former county patrolman, who was convicted recently of the murder of Green Castle at Bosco and given a life sentence in the penitentiary, was taken to the Frankfort reformatory Friday by Sheriff M. T. Shumbe to begin serving his term. Hughes accepted his sentence without appeal.

STORK DERBY WINNER?

Mrs. Mathew Kenny, 31, of Toronto, who hopes to win the $500,000 bequest open to the woman giving birth to the largest number of children between 1926 and 1936. Mrs. Kenny is the mother of 13 children, ten of them born since 1926 and is assured by medical authorities that she will give birth to twins next month.

STATE WOMEN TO FIGHT THREAT TO CHILDREN'S HEALTH

At a meeting October 10 in Louisville the board of directors of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Regina Mayo is chairman of Child Welfare, approved a project by which the Women's Clubs throughout the state will take an active interest in the curative program for hook worm and other intestinal parasites.

Recent reports from the State Board of Health, now assisting Vanderbilt University in making a vast study of this situation in Kentucky, have revealed some very startling figures, such as these: 10 percent of specimens so far submitted show hookworm; 30 to 35 percent show round worms; 2 percent cent small type tape worm and about 5 to 7 percent show pin worms. The study also shows that some children harbor as many as four kinds of worms.

A very simple, inexpensive treatment has been worked out by the State Board of Health that will cure all four varieties of these abominable intestinal worms. As there is no fund provided by either State or Federal government for the United States Public Health Service for a curative program, Mrs. Mayo, through her great interest in public health, has secured the cooperation of Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in eliminating this silent, unsuspected scourge from the children of the state so afflicted.

Sanitary measures are also being taken by the Floyd county health department to aid in preventing these victims from being reinfected after curative treatment has been given.

Packed Courtroom Monday Hears Pleas Behalf of May's Candidacy

A crowd which packed every inch of space in the circuit courtroom here Tuesday afternoon heard Ex-Senator A. O. Stanley, Democratic veteran of many the political fight, and Congressman A. J. May in addresses discussing the issues of the Congressional campaign in the Senate-House race.

Both Senator Stanley and Congressman May were accorded enthusiastic ovations by their hearers. After spending the night here, guest of Congressman May, Mr. Stanley and Mr. May left Wednesday for Hindman on a speaking tour. Friday, Senator Stanley and Circuit Judge John W. Caudill speak at Wayland in behalf of Congressman May's candidacy.

Both Senator Stanley and Congressman May, preceded by Senator Stanley, made a very forceful address, pointing to his record in his stand for the veterans and inviting close scrutiny of that record. "My opponent promises to do only what I have already done," Congressman May said. "So why change?"

SKILLER SOMETIMES A DANGEROUS WEAPON

An alleged attempt to burglarize the home in West Prestonsburg of James Herald, Monday, resulted in the capture of a man who evidently had had some experience with skillers when they were used for other than cooking purposes.

When John Allen, employee at the C. & O. station at West Prestonsburg, found Chester Miller in the home and no other weapon handy, he seized a skillet, forced Miller to drop the club with which he was threatening to strike Allen, and marched the culprit to the station where he was held for officers.

Squire Dan Prater, of Hueysville, was here on business Monday.

Green Martin and Frank Gearheart were here from Hueysville Wednesday.

Historic Repeats Itself; Dillinger Gang Dispersed

Repeat of a boy's overactive imagination after seeing an unknown man in a screening of a picture in the local school supplies, the so-called Dillinger Gang composed of eight Wayland boys came to an ignominious end recently.

When reports reached here that a teacher's bank in the Wayland school building had been stolen and looted of a total of eight pennies, and that check books and other school supplies had been taken, Attendance Officer John Warrick and Rev. Earl Howard, representing Magistrate R. C. Wright, went to Wayland. There the culprits, ranging in age from 2 to 15 were round up and as thoroughly frightened that they confessed their deep, dark plots and their forays on the school and were wound up by solemnly promising to forfeit their property if convicted.

FLOYD COUNTY BANK TO PAY DEPOSITORS IN FULL OCTOBER 30

After October 30, the Floyd County Bank at Allen will not owe a cent to depositors, it was announced this week by E. L. Stephens, special deputy bank commissioner for the Allen bank, which closed in 1933. Unofficial information says that this is probably the first Kentucky bank, closed during the depression, to pay its way out without assessments from stockholders. Instead of being subjected to assessments, stockholders in the institution may receive from 15 to 20 percent of their investments. The bank was capitalized at $17,700.

CHARGE AGAINST BRADEN QUASHED

Floyd Relief Office to Re-Open Monday, Is Plan, Murphy Announces

Charge of spreading a "false and scandalous report" which was made in county court here a few weeks ago against Donald Braden, son of President Braden, of Transylvania University, and a relief office employee here at the time the office was closed, was dismissed Monday morning on motion of County Attorney Forrest D. Short. Trial of the case had been twice postponed.

Reopening of the Floyd county relief office, which was closed about six weeks ago, is planned for Monday of next week. J. S. Murphy, Pikeville, KEFA area administrator, said Monday. After receiving Mr. Murphy's estimate of the cost entailed in re-establishing the office, the fiscal court October 18 wrote Thornton Wilcox, state administrator, asking that the office be reopened and promising that "we will cooperate with you in the administration of relief in this county so long as it can be handled in an efficient and satisfactory manner."

Mr. Murphy estimated that the immediate cost of reopening the office will be $446.30. The fiscal court agreed to furnish office quarters, equipment, heat, lights and other items as outlined by Mr. Murphy.

Among those from Prestonsburg, who attended the Hazard golf tournament Saturday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hagans, Mr. and Mrs. L. Heinze, E. B. Burke, A. B. Combs, W. A. Spradlin, D. C. Moles, E. E. Clark, J. E. Allen, Earl Moore.

BLACKCATS TIE BELFRY AFTER FIERCE STRUGGLE

Local Eleven Stages Brilliant Comeback; Dutton, Mayo, Stor for 'Cats

LOUISA IS NEXT

By Boh Potter
Almost before anyone was aware of the Belfry's pirate crew strike into Gasco Park last Saturday captured the Blackcat frigate, tied the Prestonsburg eleven to the masthead, and laid on the lashes. Bewildered and stunned, the Prestonsburgers slumped to the gridiron and wondered why such pirates were allowed to cruise upon the placid waters of the Big Sandy anyhow.

Now this is not the end of the story; for the unkind lashing was not continued on the part of the Pirates. Not out of any kindness did they desist; but something happened to the Blackcats. Perhaps this rude ruffing of their fur stung them to vengeance; perhaps the rest and talking and renewal of the half was of help; perhaps they recalled that Halloween - Blackcat festival supreme - was only 10 days away.

At any rate, in the second half they came back to give the Pirates what the Pirates had given them - a second drubbing. All of which means that Belfry won the first twenty four minutes of play, 7 to 0, and Prestonsburg took the second half by the same score, which leaves the Big Sandy conference in a dead tie up between the two. With the situation thus, the 'Cats go next Saturday to Louisa.

Friends of the Blackcats are prone to say they deserved to win Saturday, but this is a moot point. Belfry seemed to have the more alert and adroit team on the whole, but the 'Cats had a superior strategy and under an acid test when they could easily have quit the battle they had shown before saved, they stood firm four times saying NO with resounding emphasis to the visitors' pressing demand.

Near Game's End

The game was in its end when this last Babe Ruth near assault was made. Avers, Belfry half, whacked the oval down the gridiron for one of these long boons at which he is so adept, and the ball rolled away from Harkey Mayo, finally to be retrieved by Fields, head visiting tackle, three yards or thereabouts from the Prestonsburg goal line.

HACKWORTH WOUNDED IN FIGHT AT MYRTLE

Ellis Hackworth was shot through the right side of his chest Sunday morning at the Myrtle church-house by Roy Smith, and the latter, under indictment on a charge of malicious shooting and wounding with intent to kill, Smith returned here Monday from Williamson, W. Va., and surrendered to officers in compliance with his arrest warrant by a local officer.

Smith is said as saying that Hackworth had him on the ground and had drawn a knife when he fired. He claimed that Hackworth and others had been abusing him previously. Friends of Hackworth are said to contend, however, that Smith had Hackworth on the ground when he fired the shot.

Hackworth was taken to the Paintsville hospital, but was returned to his home on Midway Creek this week and is expected to recover.

Stomach Distress
Caused By Deep-
Seated Impurity

Common Symptoms Are Gas Pains, Riffing of Half-Digested Food, Shortness of Breath and Dizziness.

New Scientific Medicine Is Found That Works With Our Food, Called Indo Vin, Brings Relief in Minutes and Costs Only a Trifle.

There has been a notable discovery for the relief of stomach distress. Not a cure-all, nor a "patent" medicine, but a new, scientific formula that works with the sufferer's food, known as Indo Vin, now being introduced to crowds daily here in Prestonsburg at Hughes' Drug Store. It was first introduced in Prestonsburg a few weeks ago, and has become a complete sensation, and druggists and public alike state that it is helping people who had never been really helped before by ANY medicine, bringing relief in some of the worst cases of stomach trouble in this city.

What It Is

Indo Vin is made from natural plants, and taken shortly after meals it mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles and permitting the kidneys and liver to function properly. It acts within 10 minutes to stop acid risings, flat and belch ing and to bring out awfully bad and purities. Consequently from the first dose which may have been made of you for a long time, contaminating your food and inter-organs.

Indo Vin cleans out old fermented substances, half-digested food and other impurities. Such impurities often build up the stomach and intestines and form a coating on the lining, thus causing stomach "trouble." Cleansing out these impure substances permits freer flow of the digestive juices, makes the digestive organs sweet and clean and gives complete relief from indigestion, heart palpitation, from gas spitting up of food, shortness of breath, lump in stomach and dyspepsia. Like wise, it has a great action upon the other important organs—Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, and thus it cleanses and improves the whole system in general. This is no mere tablet or pill, and not a powder, syrup or capsule, and it does not contain alcohol or a single habit-forming drug, but is a scientific LIQUID mixture from 21 medicinal plants, all blended into one remarkable compound. It is vastly different from any previously known formula. It contains perhaps more ingredients than three ordinary medicines put together. While it is being introduced in Prestonsburg, every sufferer who person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents a day. So if stomach affections, or even some little digestive difficulty is bringing your misery it would certainly be a mistake not to try it.

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in Prestonsburg at the Hughes Drug Store.

QUALITY PRODUCTS FEATURE ROBINSON HARVEST FESTIVAL

Exhibits of farm, home and school products that would do honor to any fair featured the ninth annual harvest festival at the Robinson Agricultural Experiment Station at Quicksand, Breathitt county, Ky. The exhibits comprised large quantities of grains, forage crops, tobacco, potatoes, poultry, swine, vegetables and fruits, canned and baked products, clothing and other specialties, and home and school products. The quality of the exhibits has improved steadily since the founding of this annual festival and fair.

Memorial services for the late E. O. Robinson, who was deeply interested in the welfare of the mountain people, and who gave the University of Kentucky the land upon which the experiment substitution is located, featured the first day's program. Judge Edward C. O'Rear, of Frankfort, made the address.

The second day was devoted to 4-H club activities, and was attended by several hundred 4-H club members and their parents. Each club reported its activities, and outstanding individuals were accorded special honors.

Berea College, and the Wootton, Hindman, Stuart Robinson and Highland schools cooperated in the festival and fair. Exhibits also were made by Home Place, which Mr. Robinson established as a demonstration farm, by the for-

SCHOOL NEWS

Students of Auxier high school, who have recently published their first school paper, "The Auxier Review," wish to thank all the advertisers who have made this paper possible this year.

The library is being put in first-class condition, meeting all state requirements. Over 100 new books have been added since school opened and are being classified according to the Dewey decimal system. The laboratory room is being remodeled and brought up to requirements of the state department. To give new science tables, containing two drawers, and an open cupboard are being installed in the room.

BASKETBALL

The Auxier basketball team is hopeful of a successful season this year. Although the players are inexperienced, Coach Branham believes the team will have at the end of the season one of the best percentages of any team in the Floyd county conference. The only way in which the team is inferior to last year's team is that the members have played less basketball with other schools. The squad has been lost to 13 players. They are Harold Connors, Lemie Burton, Clifford McKenzie, Aubert Harrison, Donald Patton, Mack Daniels, Troy McKenzie, Fran-

Blackcats Tie Belfry

Three yards and four tries to make goal! But the Blackcats had come through their early game shock; they knew what was expected of them, and they did it. Twice the Pirates banged at the line, but both times the Black and Gold forwards were adamant. Then a pass was whiffed over the goal line, with like results. Finally, Bevins, who had scored Blackcat players and supporters half out of their wits by his punt-refumping, was assigned the task of taking the ball around left end. But Hughes crashed through and nailed the Belfry quarters, and the four downs had gone for naught. Mayo punted the ball out of danger with the count 7-7.

Belfry's first try for goal—a successful essay—came about as early in the game as the last attempt was late. After the kick-off to Belfry, the Red and White team punted back. Prestonsburg shortly returned the punt, and Bevins grabbed the pigskin and picked his way along the north sideline for about 70 yards before Mayo halted him. Spectators wondered—and perhaps some inwardly wept. What was going to happen to our Blackcats after their impressive string of victories?

The Pirates proceeded to show they didn't care an empty treasure box about strings of victories or anything else. By means of a pass, E. Farley to Ayers, negotiated a touch down, and then sent Stanley through the line for the extra point.

The next kickoff gave Prestonsburg a chance to advance the ball more into visiting territory; but Ayers smacked out a 50 yard boot over the goal line. A divided pass got the "Cats into trouble again when Bevins intercepted; and the Pirates worked the ball to within about 15 yards of the Prestonsburg goal. The Black and Gold eleven braced, however, Dotson standing out ruggedly in defensive work; and the "Cats took the ball on downs. Mayo punted to Belfry in midfield for the quarters' end, Belfry, 7; Prestonsburg, 0.

The second quarter was uneventful, Prestonsburg, out-gaining the visitors, but being unable to make a consistent drive, or to advance the ball into Pirate territory. Ayers' firm, well directed boots kept the ball away from Belfry—land until at the end of the period Mayo heaved to Dickerson for a 25-yard gain.

Prestonsburg took the offensive at the beginning of the second half and ripped off two first downs. But M. Runyon intercepted a forward to end the Blackcats' drive, and ran the ball back to the "Burgers' 25-yard line before being downed. Belfry was unable to make progress, however, and had to resort to the kick again.

Prestonsburg Scores

Toward the end of the quarter, with the Blackcat team given new life by the appearance of Arthur Archer, Mayo sent a beautiful punt to Belfry's 47-yard line. It might have been good policy to have punted the ball, then and there, and had she done so, Belfry might still be on top of the Big Sandy hill. But plays were tried, and a fumble by Stanley early in the fourth quarter opened the way for the "Cats. Dotson, as quick as he was strong, covered the ball, and the Black and Gold crew lined up only 20 yards away from six points that were as defensible as all the 130 that had already made.

Mayo whipped his way thru for a first down. He made another substantial gain. Archer then carried the skin to within half a yard of the Belfry goal; and then with his line—and Prestonsburg hearts—surged over. Mayo kicked the goal, and the "Cats kicked the Pirates off their frigate and ran the black and gold colors" through the line for the extra point.

Little eventful took place in the way of gains thereafter until Ayers' punt that Fields recovered to give the "Cats their severe test. And there they neither goal line was dangerous.

After early in the second quarter Belfry ran up—the check-up indicates—only one first down; and the entire game shows only four ten yard successes for the visitors as compared with ten for the Blackcats.

Dotson was the outstanding player for the Black and Gold. He tackled clean and strong, nailing Pirate backs behind their line, and it was on his side of the line substantial gains were frequently made.

The entire line deserves credit for its stand in the game. Mayo's chief ground gainer or the "Cats, with Dickerson and Archer contributing.

Belfry blocking was capable. Ayers' booting, Bevins' return of punts, and the deterring work of Lewis were included among the features of the visitors' play.

Rowdism, including drinking, profanity, fistfights, and breaking over onto the field, was an unhappy element on the part of spectators during the part of the game.

Suspect in Trunk Murder Held

with the description of Mrs. Goodrich showed that she is not the woman wanted by Detroit authorities.

The suspect told officers that he was a member of a party of eight buying old gold in this section. Acid burns on his fingertips, he explained, were not made in an attempt to obliterate his fingerprints but were sustained in testing old gold with acid. Suspicions of authorities were increased when the suspect told them other members of his party would spend Tuesday night at the Pike Hotel, Pikeville, and would return here Wednesday morning, and when a check-up failed to locate his companions in Pikeville and when they failed to appear here as he had predicted.

Detroit police were notified of the man's capture, and immediately wired the sheriff's office here, inquiring after the suspect's detailed description and asking for a fingerprint classification.

Authorities now, however, doubt the suspect being Goodrich. In general appearance there is a resemblance between the suspect and a circularized photograph of Goodrich, but the suspect has black hair, streaked with gray about the temples, whereas Goodrich is described as having light brown hair. He gave his age as 30 and weight at 156, while Goodrich is 26 and at the time of his flight weighed 120 pounds. Description of the hunted man says he has a large and badly discolored tooth in upper left jaw, with the next four teeth in front missing. The man held here has a black stub in his left upper jaw, but only one tooth in front of it is missing.

Fingerprints of both the man and woman suspected were taken to Frankfort Wednesday afternoon by Attorney Joe P. Tackett, who will telephone authorities here what the prints reveal.

One of the cars in which the party was traveling was a Plymouth sedan bearing a Michigan license, officers said; the other a Cadillac sedan has a California license. The woman was not jailed.

A reward of $3,000 has been offered for the arrest of Merion Ward Goodrich.

HUNGER

By Rev. Nordenhaug, Ph. D.

Hunger is one of man's worst enemies. The suffering it brings is in a unique sense one of the worst imaginable because it saps the very life of those exposed to it. No man who has not suffered hunger can imagine what agony it causes. It is not surprising that a man is oftentimes driven to despair by hunger. The effort to appease one's hunger is of the most elementary of human instincts. Self preservation is at the heart of it. We recognize the right of every human creature to have a sufficient amount of food. When an individual suffers hunger the community, the government, the Red Cross, and many other humanitarian organizations will muster their forces and hasten to the rescue. When the need becomes widespread, it amounts to a "crisis" which takes precedence over any political issue. Hungry men are not only a blot on the nation but a downright calamity. A group of individuals who are unable to provide for their physical needs is to work and thereby produce values which in return provide bread for him. Work is conducted with self respect, neither shall he eat, says the Bible. Here arises a modern social problem, to wit: the problem of unemployment. Man will work but cannot find work and the problem of the charitable organizations. The government puts huge relief programs into operation. As far as is humanly possible no man is permitted to starve.

There is, also, another type of hunger, the hunger of the soul. Even as the human body has certain elementary needs, so also the human soul. Man cannot live by bread alone. Deep in the soul of man is an obstinate yearning for the satisfaction which can be found only in God. True as he may be, the satisfaction of his kind of hunger is not to be found in anything but God. Description of the hunted man says he has a large and badly discolored tooth in upper left jaw, with the next four teeth in front missing. The man held here has a black stub in his left upper jaw, but only one tooth in front of it is missing.

Fingerprints of both the man and woman suspected were taken to Frankfort Wednesday afternoon by Attorney Joe P. Tackett, who will telephone authorities here what the prints reveal.

Christ spoke of himself as the Bread of Life and man can testify to the fact that He is the only one that can really satisfy the hunger of his kind. The souls are invited to partake of Him. All pale and undernourished Christians are invited to partake of Him more fully.

In this land of plenty there is no need of any one going hungry. If they do, there is something wrong somewhere. With the Gospel of plenty in Christ there is no need for any soul to starve. If he does there is something wrong somewhere. And after the hearty invitation by Christ, the fault rests with the human soul, who dares refuse his offer.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Second Trial of Layne, Castle and Meade at Louisa Ends Saturday

A jury composed of nine men and three women from Lawrence county was dismissed as unable to reach a verdict after deliberating two hours Saturday afternoon at the conclusion of the two-day trial of officers Ben Layne and Woods Meade and Deputy Sheriff Vern Castle, of Wayland, charged with the murder of Prentice Martin at Wayland.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The School Attendance Officer

John Warix, the attendance officer of Floyd county, is on the job. He purposes to assist the teachers of this county in securing the attendance of every child of school age with sound mind and body. Already there is reported a marked increase of from ten to fourteen per cent in attendance in all our schools.

Mr. Warix is going about the county, seeking and finding information and devising plans to be used in his work. He realizes the greatness of the task which he is so earnestly striving to perform. Although much has already been done at this early time, the success of the work of the attendance officer depends in a large measure upon the cooperation of all the school agencies, the principal, the teachers and the health officers can always give valuable assistance to this work.

It is not the purpose of the county attendance officer to force children to attend school. The program of the school is or should be built to secure the attendance of most children. The attendance officer will investigate any and all cases of prolonged absence, however, and will try to make proper adjustment in the child's return to school. He will also investigate cases of failures to enroll and will try to bring about conditions favorable for enrollment. He will resort to court only when definite law on the part of parents or children makes such a course necessary.

It is to the advantage of the commonwealth that our children be kept in school. The well being of any state depends upon an educated citizenship. This can not be brought about unless our children attend the schools which are afforded them. Let them not have to be driven to take advantage of their own opportunities. Schools are made possible by the state and are open to all. All must take advantage of the state must suffer.

limit of our abilities we will effect a program so that our children may receive their educational birthrights.

PROGRESS

It has come to pass that people call anything that takes place progress and then they always add that you cannot stop progress. A dog was turning himself around and around trying to catch his tail but since his tail curled around and around also he failed to catch it. That is a pretty fair sample of the way we have progressed in the United States.

A long time ago, we had state lotteries but we progressed beyond that so now if you want to get rid of your money, you are compelled to bet on the races or pour it into a slot machine. It used to be that when two men had a "falling out" they would meet and fight a duel, but we have outgrown that so that now if you want to kill a man, all you have to do is catch him asleep or looking the other way, then shoot out afterwards and be a hero ever again.

It used to be that a crowd of men would gather together and lynch a man of their own choosing; but since we have progressed we have found out that one or two men with their pistols can do the job quite as well. It used to be that the government controlled the newspapers; but we are too smart for that now, so now the newspapers are free to publish anything the underworld pleases.

It used to be that church and state were united; but now, having set aside the Catholics and the Protestants, our government, after getting the consent of the Darwinites, can do as it pleases. There used to be a good deal of illiteracy in our country; but now education has swept over until even the children can tell Mutt from Jeff at a glance.

We laugh at our ancestors for enduring some pale blue laws which their legislatures passed so in order to progress we had passed a navy blue law, the draft law. Our forefathers used to waste a good deal of time listening to preachers, but we have found out that we can save a lot of time by watching a dog fight or a rooster fight. There was a time when we had prohibition and bootleg whiskey; now we have repeal, bootleg whiskey and taxed whisky.

Our forefathers were puzzled about what to do with fallen women, but this enlighten generation calls them movie stars, pays them fifty thousand dollars a week and the problem is solved. Our old foggy ancestors used to think that education had value for its own sake, but now we know that the chief question is, "Who told you?"

You cannot stop progress, especially if it is progressing backwards.

Miss Stella Boleyn, formerly of Hueysville, this county, died Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the home of her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, Hillsboro, O., after an illness of months caused by complications. She was 27 years old. The daughter of John M. and Polly Boleyn, she was born in Knott county March 8, 1907. She was a great source of comfort and assistance to members of her family and loved by all who knew her. Miss Boleyn was deeply interested in obtaining an education and had attended Pikeville College after graduating from Pikeville high school, until illness prevented further study. She had worked her way through school and had looked forward to teaching her first school this year, but was denied this privilege by illness.

Besides her mother and step-father, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Betty Potter, Rock Island, Ill., three half-sisters, Catherine, Virginia, and three half-brothers, Monroe, Woodie and Virgil Collins, of Hillsboro. Funeral rites were conducted from the home by a minister of the Christian Church of which Miss Boleyn was a member, and burial was made at Prospect, O.

COPELAND, MURDER VICTIM, HALL SAYS

Warrant Sworn Out for Seaton in Death of Driller Here

Edgar Copeland, who died at the Valley Inn here July 19, at that time believed to have been the victim of poison self administered, was a victim of murder, Commonwealth's Attorney O. C. Hall declared last week after completing a probe of the tragedy. The case was one of five under grand jury probe this week.

Records of the Modern Drug Shop here show, Mr. Hall said, that a three-ounce bottle of carbolic acid was bought there on the day of Copeland's death by a man who gave his name as Edgar Copeland. Nettie Napier, a maid at the hotel, made a sworn statement before Mr. Hall that Copeland was not out of his room during the day. She further testified that Seaton came into Copeland's room with a bottle believed to contain carbolic acid, opened it and gave it to Copeland. After standing over him, she said, she accused Seaton of killing Copeland. When Seaton came to the hotel he said that he had come to take care of Copeland. Miss Napier told Commonwealth's Attorney Hall.

Steps have already been taken to locate Seaton, Mr. Hall said. The Times received the report of Copeland's death from the action taken by Seaton, named in the warrant as Miss Napier, Dr. Merriam Ransdell and Dr. John G. G. Ransdell, physicians called when Seaton's apartment the Copeland's seriously ill.

made in Floyd county. This survey is made in cooperation with the Rocketteller Foundation, and the United States Public Health Service; 1,400 specimens will be collected from children from all sections of Floyd county during this survey.

It is known that the mountain sections of Kentucky, especially in the sand stone area, are especially favorable for the hookworm, and that hundreds of people in these sections are infested with these parasites. In our routine work in the past, whole schools have been tested and as many as 80 per cent were found to be infested with some type of worms. Some were shown to be harboring as many as four different types of worms.

These 1,400 specimens, when collected, will be forwarded to the public health division of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., for examination. After the return on these specimens is received by us, each parent or guardian will be notified of the results and they will be urged to have children treated. Children in homes where they are not able to pay for treatment, arrangement will be made for them to have treatment by the health department.

People realize how serious worms are to children's health and their growth and development. Probably no other one thing contributes so much to underweight in children as harboring worms. They rob the children of their appetites so that they don't eat sufficient food to nourish their bodies. They, in turn, become weak and emaciated, bodily resistance against disease conditions are gone and the children are easily victims of some serious disease. No child with a "belly full of worms" can do his or her school work like a child in good health. See that your children are not harboring worms if you want to keep them well.

McDOWELL

Boonanza Defeats McDowell
The curtain was raised on the current basketball season for McDowell high school last Thursday night when the Boonanza high school team took Coach Jones' quintet to the tune of 23-14.

was played very loosely. Fumbles were made frequently, and wild passes were thrown by both teams. However, Boonanza had the edge, both offensively and defensively.

The Boonanza aggregation scored first, and stayed in front the entire game. Whitaker, Bonanza forward, who hit the basket for 16 points, was high scorer and easily the offensive star of the game. England, who netted seven points, was high point man for McDowell. A double bill had been scheduled, the preliminary game being scheduled to bring together the McDowell Independents and the Martin Independents. Martin's representatives failed to appear, however.

Next Saturday night, Coach Jones will take his charges to Garretts, where they will meet the Garretts high school team. After they have practiced this week and polished up their plays which failed to click against Boonanza, Coach Jones feels confident that his team will offer Garretts a stiff battle.
