DARK HORSES IN SURPRISE ROLES AT TOURNAMENT

Favorites Fall Before Auxier and Betsy Layne; Trophies Awarded

A district basketball tournament featured by upsets and the stellar running of "dark horses" ended at Garrett Saturday night with the Betsy Layne Bobcats, always a formidable tournament contender, winning the championship of the 59th district and the Prestonsburg Black Cats securing the surprise role.

Both teams thus won the right to represent Floyd county in the regional tournament which begins at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, this week, in the Prestonsburg gymnasium. Martin and Maytown, pre-tournament favorites met with startling reverses. Martin in its first game drew Auxier—and was Auxier, hot? With this Auxier team, it was a case of a team at the apex of its power. Both sides fought furiously and on even terms through the regular four periods. Then, in an overtime, Auxier turned on the heat to defeat the highly favored Vincent-coached five, 30 to 27. It was, perhaps, the tournament's most thrilling encounter.

McCoy, Auxier center, was the game's outstanding man. To continue with the upset feature, Maytown, after easily defeating Wheelwright, 25 to 14, met Betsy Layne Friday night. Again, it was a slip-and-tuck battle, with the Bobcats barely nosing out Maytown, 22 to 21. Branham, Betsy Layne forward, led the scoring with seven points. Every man on the Maytown team broke into the scoring column and the five's attack was pretty evenly divided.

The tournament started with the Maytown-Wheelwright game. E. Martin, Maytown center, led the scoring with nine points and the game never was in doubt, though the Wheelwright team held Maytown to a six-point margin during the first half. This game Thursday night.

EIGHT TEAMS TO BEGIN PLAY HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Inez Rules As Favorite; Prestonsburg Draws Tough Bracket; Bobcats Strong

Opening of the 15th regional basketball tournament here Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock finds eight teams, champions and runners-up of four Eastern Kentucky districts, competing for the right to represent this section in the state tournament at Lexington.

In the upper bracket, Inez is the favorite to reach the finals, and may be regarded as a strong contender for the regional title. Prestonsburg, Cumberland, Frenchburg and Inez are in this bracket. In the lower bracket, Betsy Layne, 59th district champs, are favorites. Grouped with the Bobcats are Befry, Cannel City and Louisa.

Ellis Johnson, coach at Williamson, W. Va., and Ernie Chatin, both among the brightest of Ashland high school football and basketball stars, will officiate during the tournament. Both know the game thoroughly as players, coaches and officials, and the tournament is expected to be held in the state.

Prestonsburg and Cumberland (Elkhorn City) meet at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, with Inez and Frenchburg closing an hour later. The lower bracket swings into action Friday evening with Louisa and Cannel City playing at 7:30 and Betsy Layne and Befry at 8:30. The semifinals will be played Saturday afternoon at 2 and 3 o'clock, the tournament finals to be played at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Tournament trophies are on display here as this is written, and officials of Prestonsburg high school, together with citizens of this place, are preparing for the entertainment of visiting teams and fans. Trophies will be awarded the finalists, the runners-up, members of the all-tournament team, best individual player, etc.

GREAT RUNNER IS IN FLOYD, ANNOUNCEMENT

You folks who have so long heard the expression, "run like a jackrabbit," may any day now see a demonstration of running from Er'er (Jack) Rabbit himself.

For last Saturday L. C. Keeling, of the Floyd County Fish and Game Protective Association, released 16 pairs of jackrabbits in various parts of the county. The rabbits were shipped here from Kansas where they were captured in a recent drive in which thousands of rabbits were killed. If landowners and hunters will observe the game laws of the state, guard against the use of ferrets and against out-of-season hunting, this county will have a plentiful supply of this new type of game, as well as all other officials of the Fish and Game Association point out.

FORMER P'BURG GIRL IS KILLED

Ora Lee Brown Shot to Death at Neon by Policeman, Is Report Here

Ora Lee Brown, 17 years old, a former resident of Prestonsburg and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcum Brown, of Royaltown, Magoffin county, was killed Monday at Neon, Letcher county, by a policeman whose name was reported here as being Peters. A revolver bullet was fired into the girl's heart as she sat in a Neon restaurant, the report says.

The body of Miss Brown was taken through Prestonsburg early Tuesday morning to her parents' home at Royaltown, where burial is to be made.

The Brown family formerly resided on Middle Creek, and are well-known in this county. Particulars of the shooting are unavailable. The slayer was jailed at Whitesburg.

WORK ON 2 ROADS TO START FRIDAY

KERA Work Director Approves Two Projects on Left Beaver Creek

Work will be started Friday, it was said this week, on two relief projects in this county which were approved Thursday, last week, by Perry Rowe, director of works, Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration. One of these projects, grade and drain construction of the Left Beaver road from Hunter to McDowell, will furnish employment to 108 workers. A total of $13,983.50 has been allotted to this work.

The other project, improvement from the Floyd Pike line to Wheelwright (the Abner fork road) is to be done in cooperation with the state highway department. Fifty-six men are to be employed on the road, at a total cost of $11,400.

Mrs. Roy Perry has been quite ill at her home on First avenue for several days.

LOCAL PASTOR QUARANTINED, YET 'OCCUPIES' HIS PULPIT

The pastor of a Prestonsburg church is probably the first minister in America to be quarantined to his home and yet to occupy his pulpit.

When the Reverend E. King, pastor of the First Church, South, here, was quarantined last week as his son, Billy, developed a case of scarlet fever, odds were that he would be forced to be absent from his congregation for the first Sunday since he came here a few months ago.

But he had an idea. And the result was that his regular Sunday morning sermon came to his congregation. Standing before the microphone of a public address system installed in a neighboring home by R. H. Koch, local radio man, the Reverend King delivered his sermon, "Church Membership, Its Value and Obligations," at 10 o'clock. "Church Attendance" was also suggested as a timely subject, since the pastor was attending his own church by proxy, as it were.

The morning worship proceeded as smoothly as if the pastor was present in person. Chas. Oppenheimer led the preliminary service before the pastor "went on the air." A large congregation was present for this unique service and heard the sermon through with interest.

Coal Freight Rate Cut Is Made; Big Saving Effectuated

WORK ON COAL TIPPLE AT GATE CITY IS PLANNED

Construction To Be Started in May; Freight Reduction Makes Work Possible

Work on constructing a coal tipple at Catelettsburg will be started soon after May 26, C. J. Neekamp, Charleston, W. Va., of the Northeast Coal Tipple Company, announced Monday. The tipple will be used in the transfer of coal from gondolas at Catelettsburg to barges for shipment to markets.

Between 150 and 350 men are expected to be employed permanently there in the construction of the tipple and river terminal and in the operation of the tipple and boats, it was said. Reduction of the freight rate on Big Sandy has made this possible, and has also made Catelettsburg a future center of river shipping activity.

EAST KENTUCKY OPERATORS WIN MAJOR VICTORY

I. C. C. Cuts Freight Toll on Big Sandy Coal to Logan Field Level

Eastern Kentucky coal operators recently won a major victory which nets them, according to Attorney General Bailey P. Wootton, "something like $6,000,000 a year," when the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company decrease its freight charges on coal tonnage from the northeastern Kentucky field to Catelettsburg.

The decrease will cause rates on coal from this field to correspond with those charged on coal from the Logan, W. Va., field a competitor which has had Big Sandy under an almost insurmountable handicap.

This means a saving of 67c a ton. It is calculated that rates from the Logan field average 50c a ton. Attorney General Wootton said, while the average Big Sandy rate is $1.17 a ton. The Interstate Commerce Commission originally decided that the railway company should not be required to reduce its coal freight rates from this field, but the state, through Attorney General Wootton, intervened and obtained a rehearing which finally resulted in a ruling favoring coal operators of this section.

In a letter to The Times last week, Congressman A. J. May wrote from Washington: "For some two years we have had pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission a proceeding by the Northeast Kentucky Coal Bureau seeking the establishment of a proportional rate on coal in carboniferous coal fields. I am pleased to advise you that the case has been disposed of and I am enclosing you a copy of the order of the Commission. Under this order there is a substantial reduction in freight rates on coal out of the Sandy valley which means a good saving to our operators, and undoubtedly will greatly help the coal business in the northeastern Kentucky field. We are now on an equality with Logan, W. Va., and the Kanawha River district."

3 HELD IN STATE MAIL ROBBERY

Ex-Convict One of Three Accused in $12,500 Holdup in Perry County

Hazard, Ky., Feb. 27.—Floyd Hadden, 23 years old, and Ralph Hall, 20, and Marvin Hall, 25, brothers, are held in the Perry county jail tonight, charged with robbing a mail truck on the Hazard-Hardburly highway at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Jim Napier and his son, Ward, operators of the truck, have identified the three men as the ones committing the robbery. Among the registered packages taken was one containing $12,500 in currency that was to be used in making up the payroll for the Hardy-Burlingham Mining Company.

It was dispatched from the First National Bank in Cincinnati last night and was due to reach Hardburly at 9 o'clock. Scene of the robbery was near Tribbey, three miles off the Hazard-Jackson highway.

Arrest of the three men was made by Hargis Sallee, Breathitt county deputy sheriff, and John Rice, chief of police of Jackson, who met the men on the highway near the Quicksand bridge.

Perry county officers were only a few yards behind the alleged robbers when they were arrested. None of the prisoners would make a statement.

Hadden Freed in January

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 27.—Floyd Hadden, who was arrested today with two other men in connection with the robbery of a mail truck at Hazard, Ky., this morning, was paroled from the state reformatory Jan. 26.

Records of the reformatory showed Hadden was sentenced to one year in Breathitt county court for housebreaking. He was received at the reformatory July 26, 1934, and six months later was paroled.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clark and daughter, Ethel, visited H. D. Hewitt and family at Drift Sunday.

GARRETT IS WINNER OF LEGION OUTPOST

Cops Honors in Contest With Wayland Second Outpost to Be Formed

Competing with Wayland in a membership contest to decide which town would be the location for an American Legion Outpost of Floyd Post No. 129, Garrett won and the outpost was organized there last week. Floyd Post officials announce the Garrett group enrolled 22 members and Wayland enrolled 13.

An outpost also will be located on Left Beaver Creek, near Wheelwright on Wecksbury, this depending upon which town enrolls the more members. Results of the competition between veterans of these towns will be announced shortly. Purpose of the establishment of these outposts is to make the American Legion meetings convenient to veterans who cannot come to Prestonsburg for the Post meetings held here.

Officers of Garrett Outpost are: George D. Sargent, Glo, commander; Hugh Bays, Garrett, vice-commander; Alonzo Patton, Hueysville, adjutant; Kendall Sparkman, Garrett, sergeant-at-arms; George N. Kirkland, Wayland, bugler; J. H. Spradlin, Glo, finance officer.

Outpost organization is greatly increasing membership in the Legion in the county, and Legion officials are hopeful of exceeding the county quota of 150. They are working toward the realization of this end by March 15.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

When we remind you that the national bill for tobacco was $12 per capita in 1933 and $5.40 per capita in that year for household electricity in this country, it is with no thought of begrudging the amount spent on tobacco. We are too mindful of tobacco's dual role as both a sedative and a stimulant to criticize those who enjoy it.

Electricity also plays a dual role in any community. It is both a servant of the people and a leader of progress. The dollar you spend for electricity not only provides an essential service but it also contributes to a permanent local prosperity. A substantial part of that dollar must be paid as taxes for the upkeep of Government: maintenance of schools and public buildings, police and fire protection.

It pays the salaries of local people, for the purchase of materials from local merchants - in countless ways the money paid for electric service yields additional returns to the customer in the welfare and development of his community.

EXPLAINS TAX ON HOME-KILLED HOGS

The following statement from the Agricultural Experiment station at Lexington explains tax on hogs butchered on the farm: No tax is required on hogs butchered by the farmer for use by his own family, employees or household.

A farmer may sell or exchange directly with consumers 300 pounds of meat or other products made by butchering hogs of his own raising, without paying a tax.

If he sells more than 300 pounds and not more than 1,000 pounds he is required to pay a tax on all over 300 pounds.

If he sells more than 1,000 pounds, he is required to pay a tax on the entire amount sold or exchanged directly with consumers. The 300-pound exemption does not apply to feeders of hogs.

Where a farmer or feeder butchers hogs and sells the meat or other products to a retailer or commercial handler, such retailer or handler is liable for the tax.

RELIEF NEWS

By WILMA G. MAY
Relief Worker

Relief orders are granted every two weeks in Floyd county, and delivered at concentration points on Wednesdays or Thursdays. Failure to receive one may be due to several reasons. Your case may have been closed. Some report on it may require further investigation, and until your worker verifies same, your case will be in his pending file and no direct order will be issued.

Commodities are sent out by the state and shipments come on short notice frequently. Deliveries are made at concentration points at the same time MSO's—Merchant Sales Orders—are distributed. CDIs are signed by recipients, then collected by the visitor and posted on the client's case record the week following.

To show how closely the records are kept the following comical incident is called attention to, names omitted in checking her CDIs for return to the office recently one visitor was horrified to find the names of clients erased from cabbage orders—the cabbage from a incident never did come—and names of prominent citizens in the little village substituted; also one gallon of molasses called for where cabbage had originally been specified. The citizens had signed these.

Wondering if an actual forgery had been perpetrated, the worker called upon the merchant where the transaction was due to have been made to hear an explanation. It was all a joke, just a group of men having fun around a stove in a country store, making out the worthless (since the cabbage failed to arrive) orders, which had been thrown away on the counter, up to one another and signing up to receive aid for themselves. The story was unmistakably true. But the occurrence disclosed that the relief force is on the job.

Not infrequently anonymous letters, containing information on clients come to the office. Citizens, do not send unsigned letters. Your workers will keep in confidence any facts pertinent to their work, and appreciate your kindly reporting things which are undoubtedly true, and which they themselves may not know. Where any evidence of prejudice or favoritism displays itself, further proof will be demanded, however a fair deal for every applicant is the goal, however.

So many factors contribute to the ultimate decision on any single case, no set of rules is applicable to all. Individual circumstances and different conditions alter those which which may seem identical.

If some very needy person or family in your community is being neglected, report the case to the local worker, or have some civic organization do so. Frequently they have not applied. Many who do must of necessity be refused for countless reasons. Some live like misers but have resources. Paupers are being unloaded on the counties more and more, likewise the aged. The federal government is demanding a reclassification.

IN LOVING MEMORY

of a dear beloved father, MILTON NELSON, who died suddenly Feb. 3, 1935, while helping those who needed him.

Sad and sudden was the call of one so dearly loved by all. It was a bitter grief, a shock severe to part with one we loved so dear. He little thought, when leaving home, he would return no more. That he with death would sleep alone. And leave us here to mourn. We do not know what pain he bore. We did not see him die. We only know he passed away. And could not say good-bye. Sadly missed by his daughter MARY.

THE NARRATIVE

CHAPTER I—David Randall, approaching New York on the liner Europa, returns a succession of radiograms offering him a special berth for an exclusive newspaper interview divulging the mission that brings him from South Africa. Randall, noted aviator, has been recruited by the Cape Colony, Lord Kitchener and Professor Bronson, the astronomer, to fly across the Mediterranean to the last star, with large traveling cases containing photographic plates, and make observations on the stars. Dr. Cole Hendon, in New York, Tony Drake and the "Moose" await him. Randall arrives and Eve Henderson, with whom Tony is deeply in love, introduces him to the staff.

CHAPTER II—New York newspapers publish a statement made by Hendon and Hendon in the city of the world's greatest scientific. The prepared statement says that Professor Bronson has discovered two planets, which must have broken away from their star or sun and traveled through interstellar space for an incalculable time, until they came to a region of the heavens which brought them at last under the attraction of the sun. The statement, read by the press, sets the public community, has been modified by the sun, and a really, they are not approaching us, the result of the collision is a new star. The approaching bodies are referred to as Bronson Alpha and Bronson Beta, the latter being the smaller, about the size of the earth.

CHAPTER III—"It's going to be tomorrow, isn't it?" Tony Drake asks Eve. "No, Tony—more than tomorrow. Two days after tomorrow," she replies, explaining that the first time the Bronson bodies appear, they will hit us. The second time, she says, Bronson Beta will pass, and the other will hit the earth and demolish it. To evade means of transferring to Bronson Beta, so much like the earth, is what is occupying the minds of the members of the staff of the liner.

CHAPTER IV—Hendon tells Tony he is to be a member of the selected crew of the projected space ship which Hendon says is to be properly constructed. He advises him to study the principles of navigation and problems in manual and stellar navigation. Hendon rounds up suitable men and women to help him at a certain point. Hendon established in northern Michigan.

There were few lights in the sky-scrapers. As the taxis bowed through the market and darkened by traffic signals, Tony and Jack Taylor shuddered involuntarily to see the black buildings which man had designed.

At the elevator they were met by Eve. She kissed Tony, in an ecstasy of defiance, and then hurried to assist stopping on this assigned port Bell. "Look down," said a different voice, "at the street." It was a young man's voice, carefully controlled, but in spite of the constraint, ringing with an unusually vibrant and vital quality. Tony recognized a recruit whom he had met himself—Eliot James. It was Eliot James, an Englishman from Oxford, and a poet. By profession and by nature, he was the most impressive of all the company; and one of the most attractive, in spite of his affliction—"It was that," said a small voice, "that I was chosen for him. He was tall, broad-shouldered, aquiline in feature, brown."

The halcyon moment of the Bronson Bodies glinted up from the street. "Water," some one said. "Yes! That's the tide!" It's blowing in from the cross streets from the Hudson, and from the East river, too. "There's some coming up from the Battery along the avenue—see the flow down there!"

"How high will it rise tonight?" "Oh, how high?"

"Not above the bridges tonight. But of course the paragonous will go."

"And the tinnels will be filled?"

"There are people down there, waiting in the street! . . . Why did I do it? I would not have escaped this seal!"

"We've business here."

"So had they—they supposed, and as important!"

"I don't know, but I imagine they're waiting for us. Besides, they're late enough tonight. They can climb their stairs in almost any building and be heard. The tide ebbs, of course, in all hours."

"Then comes a higher!"

"Yes—much higher. For the Bronson Bodies are rushing at us now!"

"What's that?" asked Eliot James. "Do they look through the telescope?"

"The big one—Bronson Alpha," replied Jack Taylor, as they all looked down. "The statement, read by the press, sets the public community, has been modified by the sun, and a really, they are not approaching us, the result of the collision is a new star. The approaching bodies are referred to as Bronson Alpha and Bronson Beta, the latter being the smaller, about the size of the earth."

his groom in the removal of their baggage, and in directing its disposal. Every one who left the street reluctantly. The Bronson Bodies were hypnotic.

In the laboratories there was the utmost confusion. No longer was the inner door closed. Only a skeleton crew had remained in New York under Hendon. The scientist himself was introduced by Tony to each of the new arrivals, and to each he said a few words of welcome. Several were already known to him.

The Douglas made an announcement—a statement which was repeated after a while in each of the "main" laboratories. It was that the Bronson bodies were now visible by night, over the horizon in Michigan. The others there already knew it. But to you good night. I must also request no one to leave the building. A splendid view of the firmament may be had from the roof. But the streets are entirely unseeing. The last wave of excitement left New York as if by magic, and the people who remain are either law officers or marauders."

Jack Taylor was beside Tony when they reached the roof.

"As God lives, that's a marvelous thing!" He stared at the two yellow discs in the sky, "that's it! The heavens are falling upon us—and a fox hopped down here and there, and the lights, threw a single in his blood and made him more proud of his people. They couldn't give up—some of them. BETSY LAYNE AND F'BURG REACH REGIONAL

Continued from page one was followed by the Betsy Layne-Garrett contest, rather low-scoring affair, with Betsy Layne trouncing Garrett, 18-8. Jones, Bobcat center, tied the entire Garrett team in scoring with his eight points, Garrett, heavily handicapped during the latter part of the season for the tournament by the loss of Conley and Bingham, played the perfect host by being eliminated in the first round and leaving the floor for visiting teams.

Thomas led the Presto-Bonanza at the first game Friday afternoon. The Blackcats won, 35 to 15, with substitutes being used rather freely. The Blackcat offensive, slow and deliberate, was too much for the Bonanza five, who were outmanned by Fitzpatrick, regular Bonanza guard, for high honors for his team.

This game was followed by the thrilling Auxier-Martin set, with both teams flashing the finest sort of ball. Martin, the finest guard in the state of the tourney, were marked teams targets for every eye. Evans led the Martin attack with eight points and his teammates, Click, Martin and Frazier followed with a score of 18. The total pretty evenly divided between them. McCoy's 13 points for Auxier were augmented by Harmon's five, Patton's seven, Burton's three and Daniels two.

The Lackey-McDowell game was a runaway affair. Fiddlers, the Right Beaver boys emerging winners by six points. Ramsey, the losers' guard and a fast one at that, was in the scoring van for both sides, his point total being 12 points. Two more men like this might win this tournament might have been written. Sublett and Ratliff, Lackey forwards, led the winners' attack with nine points, respectively. Click and Lackey center, played good ball throughout the tournament and gave opposing centers plenty of opposition.

In his team's loss to Betsy Layne in the succeeding game, E. Baldridge, Maytown guard, led his team in scoring, though every member of the five contributed to the scoring and scored six and four points, respectively, and Hunley, a substitute, five, to add to the seven points of their leader, Branham.

The betting gentry held the first game Saturday afternoon to be a toss-up, in view of Auxier's great game with Martin. But Prestonsburg turned in the first game of the tournament to defeat Auxier, 28 to 16. Both centers, George for Prestonsburg and McCoy for Auxier, fouled out early in the contest. Strength of substitutes for the two five tournaments in the first game of the tournament, who gave a fine exhibition of guarding and smooth execution of plays.

Betsy Layne continued its furious drive for the championship Saturday afternoon. Despite the fact that Cox, Lackey center, consistently controlled the tip-off, Bobcat players were tearing in to take the ball. The Betsy Layne boys presented a polished attack which Lackey's natural ability could not overcome.

In the final Saturday night, Betsy Layne maintained its furious pace, while Prestonsburg was impotent in solving the opposition's attack and was quite as helpless in organizing, an offensive of its own. Hunley, who hitherto had been used as a sub mainly, was started at forward for the Bobcats and he led the scoring with both eyes with 18 points. Thomas with eight points was Prestonsburg's chief offensive threat. Throughout the tournament, the guarding of Smith for Prestonsburg was distinctive, though he figures little in the actual point-making.

In a preliminary game, McDowell nudged out Garrett by a few points.

Following the finals, trophies were awarded by Curtis

Owens, principal of Garrett consolidated school and tournament manager. All Floyd county teams, with the exception of Martin and Garrett, were excluded from the race for Floyd county conference honors because of non-payment of dues. Martin was awarded a statuette as the conference champion, and Garrett received the runner-up award. Players of the two teams received miniature basketballs as members of the all-conference team. These awards were independent, however, of tournament honors.

The all-tournament team follows: Ratcliff, Lackey, forward; Branham, Betsy Layne, forward; McCoy, Auxier, center; R. Layne, Betsy Layne, guard; C. Smith, Prestonsburg, guard.

The championship tournament trophy was presented to the Betsy Layne Bobcats and runner-up award to the Blackcats of Prestonsburg high school. Garrett high school was awarded the sportsman ship cup.
