SIX-WEEK COURT TERM CONVENES HERE APRIL 1ST

Trial of Alleged Hicks Slayers To End Knott Term

JURY LISTS RELEASED

The April term of the Floyd circuit court, a mixed criminal and civil session, will convene Monday, April 1, and will remain in session for six weeks. The first four weeks of the term will be devoted to the trial of criminal cases.

Between the Floyd and Knott court terms Judge John W. Caudill gets only a day's rest, since the present session does not adjourn until March 30. Trial of Everett Conley and Elisha Bolen, charged with the murder and robbery of Henna Hicks, aged Knott county farmer, has been set for March 26 in the Knott circuit court, and this will in all probability end the court's work for the current term.

Neither Bolen nor Conley confessed guilt in the crime of which they are accused. A strong chain of circumstantial evidence will be weighed about the accused, however, officials say. Knott authorities refused to divulge information gained when they quizzed the suspects at the Hazard jail, where they were held for safekeeping, but it was reported here that both men, marked rather freely. These are the only two to be indicted, though several suspects were arrested when the probe into Hicks' death was started.

Approval of Mr. Moore's nomination for this important post is expected soon. Mr. Moore has been connected with the state highway commission for the last two years as maintenance director, and also has held a position with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company for several years. He was sheriff of Pike county from 1926 to 1930.

NATIVE VIRGINIAN DIES AT BANNER

W. R. Hurd, one of Floyd county's best citizens, died at his home at Banner on the anniversary of his birth, March 15, a victim of influenza and complications at the age of 72 years. His illness had extended over a period of three months.

A native of Lee county, Virginia, Mr. Hurd moved to this county about 40 years ago. He was a member of the Baptist Church and was revered by all who knew him. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Nannie Hurd, three sons and two daughters: Mrs. Mary Clegg, Ashland; Ison Hurd, of Iona; Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy, Harman; Jack and Isaac Lee Hurd, of Dana. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the home by Rev. Isaac Stratton, and the burial service at the graveside in the Hall cemetery at Banner was conducted by Revs. Justice and Thacker, of Pikeville.

RED CROSS FLOOD WORK IS LAUDED

Families Enabled to Return to Flooded Homes Thru Flood Organization's Aid

Promptness and efficiency of the work done by the disaster committee of Floyd chapter, American Red Cross, in bringing succor to families rendered temporarily homeless by the recent flood on Beaver Creek drew the praise of national Red Cross headquarters this week.

Approximately 400 families were flood-stricken. The waters rose into homes in upper Right Beaver mining camp Tuesday morning. By Wednesday night, with the Red Cross furnishing bedding and other household goods, most of these families found it possible to return to their homes. Fifty-four families at Glo, 25 at Lackey, 15 in the Wells-Birkhoorn Coal Company camp, and one at Garrett were given aid by the Red Cross. Forty-three mattresses and 18 pairs of blankets were distributed to particularly unfortunate. Continued on page five

INEZ ADVANCES TO SEMI-FINAL TILT

Big Sandy Boys Lose to St. Xavier; Sloan on All-State Five

Inez representatives of the 15th region, advanced Big Sandy basketball's standard a notch farther this year than they did last, remaining in the state tournament at Lexington until eliminated in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon by St. Xavier, of Louisville, the team which went on to win the state championship Saturday night.

St. X. had the type of offense that troubles Inez most, an intricate passing attack which, aided by good blocking, opens holes in the opposition's defense to let fast, elusive forwards throw for easy trip shots. Had Inez drawn Newport instead of St. Xavier, the Martin county boys would have won their way into the finals, many believe, since Newport lacked a polished attack and depended much upon long range shooting.

In addition to defeating Central City in the first round, then providing one of the big upsets of the tourney by swamping the highly-favored Calvert City five in the quarter-finals, Inez placed one man, Sloan, on an all-state guard position. Play of Ward, Inez center, also was outstanding, and had he been two inches taller, he would have had a cinch for all-state honors.

MURPHEY CITED IN RESOLUTIONS

Court Charges Refusal of Relief Administration in County to Co-Operate

Resolutions drafted by the Floyd fiscal court Tuesday after a session devoted to a thorough discussion of relief affairs in the county had continued through most of the day charged that the county relief administration has not only refused to co-operate with county officials in efforts to solve relief problems but also has "adopted an antagonistic attitude to every suggestion offered by the officials to help them in administering relief to the destitute people of this county."

J. S. Murphey, Pikeville, area administrator for the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration, was cited in the resolutions as having "always displayed an attitude of disrespect toward working with us, in that we have always experienced very discourteous receptions when we visit their offices and have failed to get his approval of our many suggestions for corrections of miscarriages of justice that have happened in our immediate neighborhood and, in fact, right in our next door neighbor's home." Members of the fiscal court and others left Prestonsburg Wednesday morning for Louisville, where, they said, they would present a resolution to the county board of directors.

To remedy the situation, the resolutions suggest that "it will be necessary that those responsible therefor, and especially Mr. J. S. Murphey, be replaced by others."

J. M. Morell is quite ill at his home here. Mr. Morell is known throughout this section as a veteran hardware man, and his many friends are hoping for his early recovery.

WELL-KNOWN MAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

J. W. Hatcher Falls Dead Near Home at Allen Saturday Morning

J. W. (Willie) Hatcher, retired salesman and merchant, and a member of one of Eastern Kentucky's best-known families, died suddenly near his home at Allen early Saturday morning, a victim of a heart attack. Mr. Hatcher was 65 years old.

News of Mr. Hatcher's death came as a severe shock to his many friends throughout this section. He had been in apparent good health and was returning home with his brother-in-law, W. K. Allen, after a short walk, when he fell dead on the railroad tracks opposite his home.

A son of the late George and Mrs. Victoria Davidson Hatcher, members of pioneer Eastern Kentucky families, Mr. Hatcher was born and reared in this county and had hundreds of relatives in this and adjoining counties. He was a member of the M. E. Church, South, and his life as a citizen and business man was of such sterling quality that he held the deep friendship of all who were acquainted with him. To the high esteem in which he was held was the large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives which attended the funeral rites held Sunday afternoon from the M. E. Church.

B TEAM TOURNAY TO BE HELD HERE

Eight Schools Expected To Be Represented in Net Meet

Those boys who warmed the bench while the regular high school basketball teams of the county were playing through the winter, are to have the applause of their supporters and getting into the district tournament—these are the boys who play the leading roles in a tournament which starts here Friday afternoon.

The tournament is the "B" team tourney for Floyd county teams. As this was written, Garrett, Prestonsburg, Martin, Dwale, Betsy Layne, Maytown and Auxier were considered certain starters, with Bonanza and Wheelwright possible entrants. There will be both afternoon and night sessions, C. V. Watson, tournament manager, announced. No member of any high school regular team is eligible to play.

There are a number of excellent "B" class teams in this county, and the competition should be plenty hot. In fact, a number of players who are relegated to second-team obscurity this year are not far behind the regulars, and next year will be seen in regular conference games.

CORRECTION

The Times is advised by Local No. 6537, United Mine Workers, of Glo, that the statement appearing in this paper in its issue of March 15 to the effect that food was furnished from Wayland for knicker families in Glo is incorrect. No food was sent into Glo from any outside point, the Local's committee writes, stating that the Glo-gora Coal Company advanced scrip to all employees for food, and in several instances, for clothing.

CANCER ENDS LIFE OF REV. JAMES FRALEY, MINISTER 40 YEARS

After suffering for more than a year from stomach cancer, the Rev. James Fraley, a minister of the FreeWill Baptist Church for more than 40 years, died recently at the home of his son-in-law, Rev. Kelly Patton, at Wayland. The Reverend Fraley died at the age of 71 years, and his span of life had largely been devoted to the ministry and to the service of others. His friends were his every acquaintance. He leaves a large family. Funeral rites were conducted from the church at Estill, Revs. Daniel Hughes and Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the Martin cemetery at Wayland.

MISS HATCHER, MR. COMBS ARE WED

Marriage of Miss Virginia Hatcher, daughter of Tax Commissioner and Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, of Jackey, and Mr. Beckham Combs, of Hindman, superintendent of Knott county schools, was solemnized on Sunday, March 10, by Dr. H. G. Sowards, who was president of John C. C. Mayo College when the young couple first met as students there several years ago.

The nuptial ceremony was solemnized at the home of the officiating minister, and was attended by almost all its contents. The bride, an attractive and accomplished young lady, received her education at John C. C. Mayo College, Faintsville, and the Eastern State Teachers' College, Richmond, Ky. In 1928 she was voted the most popular girl in Mayo College. At present she is a teacher in the Lackey school.

Mr. Combs' popularity in his home county, Knott, is unmistakably attested by the fact that he was elected superintendent of schools at the age of 29 years. Both Mr. and Mrs. Combs are among this section's finest young people, and they have the best wishes of a host of friends.

MAYTOWN HOME IS RAZED FRIDAY

Fire Saturday Leaves Family of 15 Homeless Near Here

Home of George W. Allen at Maytown was destroyed by fire at noon last Friday, together with almost all its contents. The home was one of the best in the vicinity.

The fire is believed to have caught from the kitchen stove. Though a large crowd was near the building and a bucket brigade was hastily organized, efforts to save the structure were in vain.

Almost exactly 24 hours later, the home of Levi Rupe at Knotley Hollow, near here, was destroyed by fire which also started from a kitchen stove. The Rupe family numbering 15 saved none of their household belongings, and also lost the year's supply of meat when the smokehouse, nearby, burned.

Music Festival, March 23

PLANS FOR SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM FORMED BY BOARD

Eleven New Structures Planned for Rural Districts of This County

TO VOTE ON LEVY

Plans of the present county educational administration in reference to its building program extend out into the rural districts and not alone into the towns, it was indicated by Ballard Hunter, superintendent of Floyd county schools, who last week said construction of 11 new school buildings or of additions to school buildings in rural sub-districts has virtually been approved.

Mr. Hunter said that present plans call for completion of these building projects by the opening of the next school term. In addition to the rural school construction work, building projects are being considered for three consolidated school districts.

Unless a change in the program is made, bids will soon be asked on the following building projects in rural sections of the county:

Two-room building at Jack's Creek; four-room building at Clear Creek; additional room at the head of Frazier's Creek school; new building on Salvers Branch of Salt Lick Creek, if new district is created, otherwise an addition to the present building; one-room building on the head of Jenny's Creek; one-room building on new site at the Sam Hale school, Middle Creek; one-room building, lower Spurlock; one-room building, head of Little Paint; one-room structure, Conley school on Spurlock; one-room school on Open Fork of Middle Creek; addition of room to school at Mouth of Toler's Creek.

At Garrett, construction of a 10-room building is planned. The county board of education to furnish materials and the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration to supply labor. Other consolidated school work planned includes an addition of two rooms to the Drift school building and a gym at Lackey.

The proposed building program covers the widest territory to be benefited by school construction work yet attempted in this county in any one year.

Voters of Betsy Layne will decide at a special election to be held April 6 if an extra levy on property in that district shall be made to raise funds for school building, etc., there. Garrett, Lackey and Drift have already voted additional levies, and work in these towns on school buildings will be financed by funds thus to be derived.

All of these districts, prior to the election held, filed petitions signed by 40 per cent, or more of the voters requesting elections for the purpose for which they were held, it was pointed out by the superintendent's office.

Among the first Prestonsburg attendees at state basketball tournament last week in Lexington were Misses Frances Jones and Margaret Mayo, Coach C. V. Watson, W. H. Craft, Ray Craft, Wallace Rose, B. F. Combs and son Paul Churchill, Captain Joe P. Tackett, County Attorney Forrest D. Short, Rob Harlowe, Mrs. M. E. and Mrs. Charles Goble, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen and son, Quentin.

WATSON PRAISES TOURNAMENT CROWD

In a letter addressed to the public last week, C. V. Watson, Prestonsburg high school athletic coach, expressed his admiration of the sportsmanship of players and fans during the regional basketball tournament held here, and at the same time praised city officials for the special protection afforded visitors' automobiles and other property while play was in progress.

Mr. Watson's letter follows: "I take this method of expressing the appreciation of the Prestonsburg High School for the splendid co-operation given us by the local officials in making the recent basketball tournament a success. Prestonsburg was indeed glad to have the many visitors during this tournament and we wish to thank all of them for their splendid display of clean sportsmanship. The contests were fought spiritedly, but on the cleanest plane of sportsmanship."

"It has been a custom in the past for petty mischievous boys to steal radiator caps and other small articles from parked automobiles, but this was forestalled this year by the vigilance of the officials. Mayor A. C. Carter, with knowledge of the past and with his usual desire to render to the city's visitors the fullest protection, called in active service several members of Captain Joe P. Tackett's unit of the active militia of Kentucky and Captain Tackett placed this detail of men under the command of Lieutenant Melvin J. Meador, who, with the following men, Private C. E. Wyrick, John Osborn, Homer Merritt, Manis Conley, Henry Grey and Silas Derosssett, guarded all parked cars. We have heard of no thefts. Thanks to these men, the active militia worked in co-operation with Policemen Lee May and Jim Meade, and these units of officials displayed the same spirit of co-operation as did the various teams of the tournament."

"Again thanking the officials and citizens who made this the best tournament ever held in Prestonsburg, and expressing my appreciation to the following:

2 BROTHERS GET DEATH IN HAZARD SLAYINGS

John C. Gamble and Andrew Gamble, brothers, must go to the electric chair for the murder of Joe Walker and Richmond Combs, it was decided by a jury in the Perry circuit court last week. The Gambles are from Knott county.

This was the first death verdict by a Perry county jury since 1912, when Bert Sloan was convicted for the murder of Dr. N. C. Kiggins, mine physician, and later electrocuted at Eldridge. The jury in the Gamble case deliberated less than an hour.

Walker and Combs were shot to death at the home of Mrs. Cora Deaton, north of Hazard, on the night of January 17. It was the contention of the Commonwealth that the two men had been killed following a card game in which the Gambles were losers. Testimony also was presented to show that Combs carried a large sum of money when he went to the Deaton home and that only $110 was found on his person after the slayings. Bloodstains were found in his pockets. Combs was shot five times and Walker four times.

Mrs. Cora Deaton, sister of the Gambles, and Mrs. Bertha Gamble, wife of Andrew Gamble, are under indictment in connection with the slayings. They are at liberty under bonds of $5,000.

KENTUCKY, 2 NEIGHBOR STATES SHOW MAJORED BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT

Business in general in Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia is improving at a rate considerably greater than throughout the nation as a whole, in the opinion of W. B. Burroughs, manager of the Cincinnati branch of the Ford Motor Company, which includes parts of these three states.

"I base my opinion on steel, which is widely regarded as a good barometer of business, and not upon the automotive industry, one of the largest users of steel, but upon one part of that industry — truck and commercial cars," said Mr. Burroughs. "When there is an increasing demand for equipment for the hauling of raw material and finished products, and for the delivering of finished commodities to consumers, we have a reliable index of increased activity in business in general."

"Examination of the reports from the various states, giving the number of new automobile registered in the months of January disclosed facts that should be quite encouraging to citizens of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

"According to these reports, the total registrations of trucks, and commercial cars of all makes for the entire country in January were 52 per cent greater than for the same month last year. For the corresponding period, registrations in Ohio show an increase of 32 per cent, and in Kentucky 127 per cent. West Virginia was slightly ahead of the country as a whole, with an increase of 59 per cent.

"I think, may be regarded as a good omen. People do not seem to be hauling equipment and raw materials and finished products to haul

"Complete registration reports for February are not yet available; however, that the increase was not merely a spurt but represents a definite upward trend is indicated by our own statistics of Ford V-8 trucks and commercial cars which in February and so far this month have been more than double those for the corresponding period a year ago."

SIDETRACKING THE LORD

By Rev. Josef Nordenhaug

Most men believe in God in a general way. But they dodge Him when He becomes specific by speaking directly to their conscience about their sins. As a result we find that man has developed the remarkable art of sidetracking God. This art enables the sinner to nullify all effects of a sermon or a sermon's appeal they may happen to hear.

The technique of sidetracking God is quite simple and easily mastered by those who aspire to the art. The first step to take is to develop a sense of superiority to such literature as the Bible and the followers of Christ. The supreme perfection of the art lies in a "broadminded" air of condescension when things of a spiritual nature are mentioned. "Oh, indeed it is a good thing. Some people are better off on account of their religion. You know, we cannot all have the same insight into the realities of life. Thus they sidetrack God from their own souls.

The second method of sidetracking God may be called the art of "laughing it off." You mention God, and they are ready with a "funny" story of Gabriel or some such personage. You mention the awe-inspiring words of Jesus about eternal punishments and they will suddenly remember the "good joke" about hell. Thus they sidetrack God by clowning.

And then there is the "too busy" method. The effects in this art are more than numerous. You meet them on the street. You stop and talk to them. Pleasant people, they are, and well-informed about politics, gossip, the weather, Huey Long and other popular subjects. They introduce the subject of their own relationship to God and the result will be a furtive glance at the watch with an outburst, "Oh, I must run along now, see you later." Perfect sidetracking.

Modern man does not respect God. He does not deify Him. He does not attack Him in anger. He simply sidetracks Him.

SILVER TEA GIVEN AT HOME OF MRS. FRANCIS

A banquet for men and boys at which the boys are to be the guests of the men will be held at the Methodist Church Thursday, March 28, at 6:30 o'clock. While this is being sponsored by the Methodist Church, it is not limited to members of the church. Rev. H. F. Kinb, pastor of the church, expressed the hope that many men and boys of the city will take advantage of this opportunity for a get-together of the manhood of the community. Rev. King said in a statement from the pulpit Sunday: "The church moves actively forward as the men lead the way."

Tickets will be on sale early next week. The banquet will be served by the men's and women's Bible classes.

FORMER FLOYD TOT IS KILLED BY AUTO

Nine-Year-Old Son of Thomas Hall Buried at Myra, Pike County, Thursday

Burial services for Vernie Hall, nine-year-old son of Thomas and Nannie Hall, former residents of Halo, this county, who was fatally injured March 12 when struck by an automobile at Myra, Pike county, were held on Thursday of last week from the home of the bereaved parents.

The boy is said to have started running across the road in front of his parents' home when an auto driven by P. S. Grady, of Lexington, struck him. He died in the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, as a result of a skull fracture. The driver was held blameless, it is said, since the child ran from behind a parked truck onto the road and was hit before the car could be stopped. Mr. Grady stopped and rendered all possible assistance.

Besides the parents, the victim is survived by three brothers and four sisters, all at home. Burial was made in the Wright cemetery at Myra.

A banquet for men and boys at which the boys are to be the guests of the men will be held at the Methodist Church Thursday, March 28, at 6:30 o'clock. While this is being sponsored by the Methodist Church, it is not limited to members of the church. Rev. H. F. Kinb, pastor of the church, expressed the hope that many men and boys of the city will take advantage of this opportunity for a get-together of the manhood of the community. Rev. King said in a statement from the pulpit Sunday: "The church moves actively forward as the men lead the way."

Judgment Before Hearing
An Answer to President Roosevelt's Message on the Public Utility Bill

In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the President sends a message to Congress today which seeks to prejudice the case.

The issues are simple: Shall all public utility holding companies be ruthlessly destroyed without trial or hearing? Shall innocent investors everywhere throughout the country have their investments destroyed to further an untried and Utopian scheme of economic reform? Shall we go many steps beyond fair and adequate governmental regulation, and put the electric industry of the country completely in the hands of a new bureaucracy at Washington? Shall electric operating companies and the service required by consumers throughout the country be crippled and demoralized by virtually taking the industry out of the hands of local regulation and of the managers who have been installed by and who are responsible to the investing public, which owns the properties?

The holding company has developed in the public utility field for the same reasons that it developed in other industries, and presumably for the same reasons which made it useful to the Government in establishing the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The President has stated that "if we could remake our financial history in the light of experience, certainly we would have none of this holding company business."

That statement apparently eliminates from any further consideration the most achievements made possible by the holding company in every major American industry. Great of the basic products which the American public buys come from holding companies. The corporate names best known to the public and most representative of high standards, are those of holding companies. The destruction of the holding company, as provided in the proposed bill, is no longer a concern for the public utilities alone, but for all industry.

Moreover, the bill goes further than destruction of the holding company. It is not merely a holding company bill; it is also a bill directed against the operating companies, which so completely limits their powers as to make Federal agencies virtually the managers of the industry.

The public utilities have opposed this bill because they believe it to be unsound and harmful to both investor and consumer, and contrary to the public interest.

The right to express opinion, even when it is opposed to an ADMINISTRATION measure, has not yet been abrogated. The utilities have endeavored honestly to inform investors and the general public as to the disastrous effects of this legislation. According to newspaper reports and the statements of Congressmen, thousands of individuals have written in protest against the bill. We shall continue to urge them to so express their opinions frankly and fully.

The President states that he is "unimpressed" by these protests as he was by the similar effort against the Securities Exchange Bill last Spring, and that "the Securities Exchange Act is now generally accepted as a constructive measure." We would respectfully point out that what made that Act workable was the opposition that developed against the original bill which forced the adoption of drastic changes in the legislation as finally enacted.

That is all that we are seeking to do in our presentation of the facts before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. We do not object to a fair and constructive bill. But we will not be deterred from our purpose in submitting to the Congressional committees the true facts of the situation, convinced in the belief that in due time the justice of our position will prevail.

This is a reprint of a statement issued by the Committee of Public Utility Executives.

BUICK MORE ACTIVE IN FOREIGN MARKETS

First, second indication of improved activity in foreign markets was seen today in figures released by the Buick Motor Company showing that the percentage of Buick cars shipped "knocked down" for assembly in foreign plants of General Motors has increased steadily during the past two years and now exceeds the ratio of 1929.

The shipments, to date this year, already exceed the total for both 1932 and 1933 and are equal to nearly half of the total foreign assembly shipments made in 1934.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for March 24
PETER DESCRIBES THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

LESSON TEXT—1 Peter 3:13-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—1 Peter 3:13. The Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear. 1 Peter 3:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Pleasing Jesus Every Day.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Way of Living.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Example.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Practicing Our Christian Profession.

Having given instructions to citizens (2:13, 14), servants (2:18), wives (2:19), and husbands (3:7), Peter now sets forth the attitudes and motives which are required for the perfection of all the relations of human life.

I. Characteristics of the Christian Life (vv. 8-17).

These find expression in personal attitudes and manner of living.

1. Toward fellow believers (v. 8).

a. "All of one mind." This means unity of thought and feeling. Christians being united to the one Lord Jesus Christ, animated by the one Holy Spirit and governed by the one Book, the Scriptures, will inevitably come into possession of like-mindedness.

b. "Having compassion one of another." This means more than sympathy in times of sorrow. It means the sharing of joys as well as sorrows.

2. "Love as brethren." Being of the one family, a common affection should dominate its members.

3. "Be afraid." This means tender-heartedness, expressing itself in sympathy toward the helpless and needy.

a. "Be courteous." This means friendliness, Christian politeness.

2. Toward the world (vv. 9-11).

a. "Not rendering evil for evil." Positive goodness. A believer doing good for evil. The natural man repays evil for evil. The believer has been called thus to manifest the spirit of Christ.

b. "Reckon evil and do good" (v. 11). This means to shut or turn away from evil. It means the bending away from one's course at the approach of evil and the positive doing of good.

c. "Seek peace, and ensue it." It is a duty of a believer to refrain from conflict. He must bend every energy in the direction of peace.

11. His incentives to Christian Living (vv. 12-14).

1. "The eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers" (v. 12). God not only takes account of their efforts to live righteously, but his ears are open to hear their cry for help.

2. "The face of the Lord is against them that do evil" (v. 13). God will surely visit in judgment those who depart from the way of righteousness.

3. God will protect and keep those who will bend their energies to the doing of good (v. 14).

4. "Happiness in suffering" (v. 14). This means the suffering which results from the purging of the ways of righteousness.

111. How the Christian Life Can Be Lived (vv. 15, 16).

It cannot be lived in the power of human strength. A divine dynamic is provided.

1. "Sanctify the Lord God in your hearts" (v. 15). The Revised Version says, "Sanctify Christ as Lord," enthroning Jesus Christ as the Lord of life.

2. Be ready to give a reason for your hope (v. 15). A Christian should have an understanding of his faith, such as to give a reason to the inquirer. The Christian's faith rests upon the highest reason.

3. Live a consecrated life (v. 16). One's life should be so lived that the consciousness that actions are consistent before God and man is possible. Such a life will put to shame evil men who feign piety and desputably use the believer.

IV. The Issue of the Christian Life (vv. 17, 18).

Christ said to the disciples that they would receive the same treatment that the world accorded him. Paul says, "All that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution" (II Tim. 3:12). If God wills that we suffer for well doing, let us rejoice, looking to Christ as our supreme example.

Greatness and Humility

I believe that the first test of a truly great man is his humility. I do not mean by humility doubt of his own power, hesitation of speaking his opinion, or a right understanding of the relation of what he can do and say to the rest of the world's doings and sayings.—Charles Spurgeon.

Helps to Better Faith

Every noble act of devotion to truth, every pure life unswerving with every word of duty, every instance of forgiving goodness, helps us to a better faith in that divine and eternal goodness which has no equal in the shadow of turning.—Dr. J. F. Clarke.

Try It Yourself

Whatever may be said of the philosophy of Coleridge, his proof of the truth of Christianity was most simple and convincing. It consisted in the words, "Try it for yourself."

cases. Value of household goods replaced by the Red Cross, which was crushed by a landslide during the heavy rains of early last week, is to be re-constructed and all household goods replaced by the Red Cross. When the heavy slide of earth caught Mr. Privett's home all his household goods were destroyed.

A grant of $750 from national headquarters was made to the local chapter for flood relief, and in addition to this fund some clothing was furnished by Floyd County Commission. Some furniture destroyed or damaged beyond repair by the water will be replaced by the Red Cross, it was said this week.

Miss Helen Moses, of National Red Cross headquarters, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Sheridan Connelly, Lexington, Eastern Kentucky field representative, hurried to this county after being notified of the flood by Floyd County committee. Floyd chapter. They were assisted by Dr. Ramsdell, Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary of Floyd chapter, and others in the work.

The Floyd county health department is now carrying out a special sanitary program in the flooded area, 75 men paid by relief funds being at work

MOVES TO REDUCE PRISON POPULATION

Louisa Publisher on Board To Recommend Clemency; Pens Overcrowded

Frankfort, Ky., March 18.—Five men have been requested by Governor Laffoon to serve on a Prison Survey Commission which will study records of the inmates of the two state prisons and recommend for pardoning those who offer greatest possibility of becoming law-abiding citizens.

Those asked to serve are H. V. Bastin, Lyndon, Ky., who was superintendent of the Frankfort reformatory during the Morrow administration; M. F. Conley, Louisa publisher, who was commissioner of institutions during the Fields administration; Charles Davidson, Berea, and Roy Steinfort, Covington, both members of the Board of Charities and Correction during the Sampson administration. The fifth member is Gus Hoicken, of Louisville, who has been a parole agent since 1920.

Superintendents of the prisons and members of the public welfare board will be requested to work with the commission in classifying the prison inmates and determining those most worthy of executive clemency.

"The cruelly crowded condition of the state prisons makes it necessary to release a considerable number of inmates in order to relieve the intolerable situation," the Governor said. It was pointed out that the Frankfort prison now contains 2,889 inmates, confined in quarters designed to accommodate only 1,700. Similar conditions of overcrowding exist at the Eddyville prison.

"I have appointed a commission to perform this important job, which is composed of men who have had experience in dealing with penal institutions. They are men of good judgment, conversant with the problem that must be solved. I need their advice and am going to be guided by their recommendations."

"I am unwilling to continue to crowd the prisons in an inhumane manner. There are about 500 more prisoners confined in the Frankfort reformatory than one year ago. I can see no way to relieve the serious situation other than to release a considerable number of those who are confined for minor offenses, inmates of youthful years who offer hope of returning to their homes and making good citizens," the Governor said.

LOOSE LIVE STOCK A HAZARD ON ROADS

With a constantly mounting toll of highway accidents and fatalities, the recently organized state highway police force not only is enforcing the motor vehicle laws but is turning its attention to violations of other state laws that create hazardous conditions on the public roads.
Live stock running at large on the public highways in certain sections of the state has caused numerous highway accidents, according to Adjutant General Henry H. Denton, who has brought the matter to the attention of all members of the state police with instructions to start enforcement of the live stock law.
In advising Eugene Stuart, chief manager of the Louisville Automobile Club, of this action, General Denton stated that the state police force will begin by warning owners who are permitting their stock to run at large on the highways and instructing them to keep the stock up, but on second offense the police are instructed to take out warrants, make arrests and prosecute.
TOO MANY JACKASSES: MCGROARTY WILL QUIT
After two months in Congress, Representative John S. McGroarty (Dem.) California, Townsend pension champion, told friends he would not run for re-election.
"I ought to like a fight because I'm Irish," he confided, "but I don't like all this contention. And I don't want to come back."
In support of his determination to retire he displayed a letter to a constituent. It read: "One of the countless drawbacks of being in Congress is that I am compelled to receive impertinent letters from jackasses like you in which you promise to have the Sierra Madre Mountains reforested and that I've been in Congress two months and I haven't done it. Will you please take two running jumps and go to hell!"
AUTOMOBILE TROUBLE WITH PONTIAC 'HAPPY TROUBLE,' IS STATEMENT
Automobile officials fear a problem today that is quite different from what they have become accustomed to during the last few years. Every answer to the question, "How's business?" brought a pause and it answered at all, a flock of figures that carried minus sign as a prefix.
If J. Klingler, president of the Pontiac Motor Company, has a new kind of trouble today, it's "happy trouble," that needs no trying towels. His problem is to supply cars to keep up with orders, and so it is "happy trouble."
With the introduction of two new sizes to its line of eights this year, Pontiac salesmen have become order blank chorists. There is no telling how many Pontiacs could have been delivered so far this year if Mr. Klingler and his staff had known what an avalanche of buying they were going to be up against. Anyway,

Notice of Special Election in Betsy Layne Consolidated School District

To Whom It May Concern:
Notice is hereby given that the Floyd County Board of Education in session in the city of Prestonsburg, Floyd county, on this the 5 day of March, 1935, by proper order and minutes entered of record in the office of Ballard Hunter, superintendent of Floyd county schools, has caused to be called and there is hereby called a special election to be held in the Betsy Layne consolidated school district, at Betsy Layne, Floyd county, Kentucky, on the 6 day of April, 1935, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. on said day, said election to be held under orders of the Floyd County Board of Education at the Betsy Layne Consolidated School building.
The purpose of said election is to submit to the voters residing within the boundary of said Betsy Layne Consolidated school district the question or proposition of authorizing the levy annually of an additional tax of twenty-five (25) cents on each one hundred ($100) dollars valuation of taxable property within said district, for the purpose of securing funds for use to build addition to the school building and the proper and adequate maintenance of said school and buildings. Said levy of 25 cents on each $100.00 valuation heretofore mentioned is in addition to any and all taxes now voted or levied and collected in said Betsy Layne Consolidated School district. The amount of funds to be levied and collected by said additional levy not to exceed $15,000.00.
The boundary of said Betsy Layne Consolidated School District within which the election is called is described as follows:

BOARD MEMBERS' PAY IS LIMITED
Subdistrict Trustee Not to Figure in Consolidated School Teacher Recommendation
No member of a county board of education may receive from the treasury more than $100 a year for attendance upon board meetings and expenses. William R. Atkinson, Assistant Attorney General, Tuesday, wrote I. L. Axner, Paintsville, in response to a request for an opinion on several sections of the 1934 school code.
Members of the county board of education may not vote for appointment or employment of father, mother, brother, sister, husband, wife, son, daughter, nephew, aunt, niece, son-in-law, daughter-in-law or first cousin. If such a person is elected to a position it must be by the entire vote of the remainder of the board.
In a consolidated school district where both grade and high school subjects are taught, the county superintendent of schools, and not a subdistrict trustee, has the right to recommend teachers.
A recent ruling held, also, that the three sub-district trustees act as a unit in recommending teachers and that they therefore may not recommend a teacher who is a relative as close as a first cousin to any of the three.
