CONTRACTS ON 11 SCHOOL BUILDINGS LET; HIRE TEACHERS

Construction Program Soon To Start Costing $11,500; To Favor Floyd Countians

MORE TO BE HIRED

Construction of 11 school buildings and additions to school buildings was let to contract at the meeting of the meeting of the Floyd county board of education here Monday at a total cost of approximately $11,500.

On the 11 building projects there were 69 bidders, only four of whom were successful. E. L. Gearheart, of Water Gap, was awarded contracts for the construction of eight of the buildings and additions. Costliest of the building projects to be undertaken is the stone school building in District 92, which is to be undertaken by W. H. McCowan and Ed Gearheart on their bid of $2,999.99.

In addition to building contract awards, the board of education hired 115 teachers for the schools of this county. Bids for consolidated school facilities was not made.

No consolidated school teachers will be hired until after the 15th of September. Superintendent Ballard Hunter announced this week. Mr. Hunter said selection of these teachers is being deferred for the reason that there are a number of Floyd county boys and girls now in college who will earn necessary college credits for eligibility to teach, and if hiring is done before they return many of these will be left without teaching positions. It is the intention of the board of education, it was indicated, to give every possible opportunity to these young people who are striving to acquire the training necessary to a successful teaching career. Their qualifications being equal, Floyd county teachers will be given preference, Mr. Hunter said. Remainder of the rural teachers will be hired at the July meeting of the board.

MUTINY IN JAIL IS SOON QUELLED

Two Lifers Lead Outbreak Which is Halted as Jailor Takes Drastic Steps

Mutiny led by two lifers in the Floyd county jail was quickly quelled Wednesday afternoon within a few minutes after jailer E. Sturgill discovered the outbreak.

When Mr. Sturgill returned to the jail from Mud Creek, where he had been called by the illness of his mother, he found prisoners breaking up furniture and fixtures in their cells, and when he sought to enter the parts of the jail where the ringleaders of the outbreak were confined he found the cage doors locked and the keyholes stuffed so as to prevent entrance. He quickly procured a hammer, broke the locks, subdued the recalcitrant prisoners and handcuffed four of those said to have taken part in the mutiny. When this was written, shortly after the outbreak, the jail was in subdued silence.

YELLOW DOG BURIED AT LANGLEY, PROTEST AGAINST FIRM'S ACTION

A demonstration featuring the burial of the "Yellow Dog" in protest against the alleged discharge of between 60 and 65 workmen of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company was staged at Maytown Sunday afternoon, May 26, with members of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas and Refinery Workers of America and the United Mine Workers of America taking part.

The "Yellow Dog," hated symbol of labor contracting with employers to accede to the latter's wishes, consisted of a home-made dog, constructed from yellow cloth and stuffed. It was buried with appropriate ceremonies near the home of W. M. Ward, field official of the gas company.

It was estimated that 1,200 gas and mine workers paraded through Maytown and took part in the interment, which was preceded by addresses made by members of the two unions. These addresses alleged that members of Local No. 359 of the Oil and Gas union had been discharged because of union activities.

EIGHTEEN LIVING

Pastors of Local Churches Homecoming Here Homecoming June 16

A study of the records of the Methodist Church here reveals that in 85 years there have been 25 pastors. Of this number 18 are now living. During this same period there have been 12 presiding elders, eight of whom are now living. The shortest term as pastor was held by Rev. E. G. Hamlett who filled in for two months in 1892 when Rev. H. M. Murill was released by Bishop Darlington. The longest term served by any pastor was served by Rev. J. M. Helm who served the Church most acceptably for four years. No other preacher served three years in succession; however, Rev. J. F. Pennybacker, after having been pastor four one year beginning in 1901 returned 20 years later for a two-year term. The same is true of Rev. H. K. Moore (deceased) who was here one year beginning in 1898 and returned in 1917 for two years. Sixteen stayed but one year and five for two years.

All former pastors have been invited to attend the church Homecoming here Sunday, June 16, and a number are expected to be present.

Below is a list of the men who have served the Church:

- Former Pastors Now Living:
- Rev. C. E. Morris (1899-1900) Buchanan, Ky.
- J. F. Pennybacker (1901-1902 and 1922-1924) Parsons, W. Va.
- R. J. Yoak (1903-1904) Somerset, Ky. (Kentucky Conference).
- H. L. Clay (superannuated) (1905-1906) Boissevain, Va. (Holston Conference).
- G. W. Tynham (1908-1910) Fairmont, W. Va.
- H. L. Clay (1910-1911) presiding elder four years, Beckley, W. Va.

PROBE OF T. V. A. ASKED BY MAY

Congressman From This District to Demand Inquiry on Purchasing Methods

Washington, June 1.—House military committee members inquired into some of the agency activities, including purchasing methods.

Representative May, Democrat, Kentucky, leading the opposition group against the bill, on which hearings are to be held tomorrow, said methods of purchasing blasting powder, buying cattle and the use of airplanes to transport T. V. A. employees required inquiry.

He said that about $100,000 worth of blasting powder had been bought from the du Pont Co., notwithstanding lower bids.

May declared an audit on July 1, 1934, by Controller General McCarll resulted in about $2,000,000 worth of purchases by the T. V. A. being declared not authorized by law.

Alleged expenditure of about $184,000 in salaries for what the Kentuckian described as an "industrial development commission" is also being investigated.

Also should be looked into, May said.

FLOYD BUDGET EVOKES PRAISE

Sewell in Accepting Work of Commission Lauds Last Year's County Record

The Floyd county fiscal budget, as prepared for the ensuing fiscal year by the county budget commission, consisting of County Judge W. L. Stumbo, County Attorney Forrest D. Short and Cal Clarke, was approved Friday by the Sewell state inspector and examiner, and drew that official's commendation for its soundness and all-round merit.

Mr. Sewell lauded the first Floyd county budget, that of last year, by means of which approximately $70,000 in outstanding indebtedness was paid, in addition to paying current operating expenses and bringing fiscal court warrants up to par. This year's budget is even better as a result of the experience gained by the county budget commission in preparing last year's budget, Mr. Sewell indicated.

With $18,000 in road bonds due this year, the budget set aside $24,000 to pay on road bonds.

YOUNG GENERATION

Has Appointment With Destiny, Bookies Tell Graduating Class Here

"You're a generation that has an appointment with destiny," J. W. Brooker, state architect and supervisor of buildings and grounds, told the graduating class of Prestonsburg high school in the commencement address delivered Thursday evening, May 30, as a part of the Commencement program furnishing a pleasing climax to the high school day of 45 members.

Six points the training program of tomorrow should provide, the speaker declared. These include: elementary training, the "three R's," both for children and adults; training of health in mind and body through full-time program; training for vocational efficiency on a broad basis; and training for leadership.

To these Mr. Brooker added as necessities a sound training for the intelligent use of leisure time and character education, brought about through true appreciation of the genuine values of life.

WATER GAP MINE TIPPLE, SHOP AND POWERHOUSE BURN

Incendiary Origin Suspected in Blaze Sweeping Sandy Valley Coal Co. Property

PROBE IS STARTED

Tipple, powerhouse and shophouse of the Sandy Valley Coal Company at Water Gap were destroyed by fire believed to have been of incendiary origin at 12:30 o'clock Thursday morning at an estimated loss of $20,000.

J. E. Hunt, company official and superintendent of the mines, said Thursday morning that the property was "unquestionably set afire." Immediately began an investigation of the blaze.

When the fire was discovered the top of the tipple was collapsing as the flames raged through the tipple, largely constructed of pile. The shophouse and powerhouse, within a few yards of the tipple, quickly caught and could not be saved. All machinery in the destroyed structures was ruined.

With no firefighting facilities at hand, it was impossible to save any of the burning property. At 3 o'clock Thursday morning an engine of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company arrived and hauled from the scene of the fire 22 gondolas directly beneath the tipples were badly damaged and their contents destroyed.

Mr. Hunt said the fire evidently was started near the chute where coal was weighed on the iron deck of the tipples. Oil-soaked timbering, which had been in use since the tipple was first erected by the old Prestonsburg Coal Company about 15 years ago, gave added spread to the flames.

The tipple crossed Bull Creek and crossed a railroad track. The mine has been a fairly steady operator even through the coal slump, and provided employment for about 120 miners.

The loss may definitely end operations of the company, which provided a sizeable payroll and considerable business to this community.

Officers of the company are Chas. W. Alley, president; George W. Rorer, vice-president, and James R. Hunt, secretary-treasurer.

MODERN YET LEADS SOFT BALL LEAGUE

The end of last week found the Modern Drug Shop team still leading the soft ball parade locally, with six league victories and no defeats. Puro continued in the runner-up role, and the meeting of these two teams this week is expected to produce one of the finest and most spirited baseball battles to be waged here this season.

Collins is the league's leading pitcher, having twirled all of Modern's victories. Goodman, Puro's moundman, is next with three wins and no defeats, only one unearned run having been scored off his delivery by league batsmen. Mayo

Floyd Budget Praised Continued from page 1 Indebtedness. For the payment of outstanding warrants, $18,100 were set aside. The fund derived from the sales tax is, for the present, furnishing a problem. This cannot be expected until anything but bonded or funded road or bridge indebtedness. County officials are anxious to retire outstanding road bonds with this money, but these bonds, not due for several years yet, cannot be repaid on a premium. Funds derived from this source will be deposited in a sinking fund against the day when it can be expended for the purpose provided by law. As a result of the budget, the county fiscal court warrants are now worth their face value instead of selling at a discount of 50 per cent or more, as was the case two years ago.

Elizabethian Prologue To Be Picturesque Part of Festival

Special to The Times Ashland, Ky., June 30—One of the outstanding features of the American Folk Song Festival is the Elizabethan prologue in which, aside from the speaker of the prologue in rich velvet Elizabethan costume appear the Ladies in Waiting chosen from Kentucky's most beautiful girls.

The Ladies in Waiting are attractively costumed in full-skirted frocks of buck with light bodice and ruff of white at throat and sleeves. They form a Greek chorus in a great semi-circle upon the picturesque rustic stage while the prologue is given, setting forth the origin of the mountain minstrels and their song minstrelsy handed down by the early Anglo-Saxons from the days of good Queen Bess. The Ladies in Waiting from Floyd and Pike counties are: Shirley May, Virginia Staton, who will appear for the first time this year in the American Folk Song Festival; also Evelyn Salisbury and Mary Elizabeth Powers, who participated last year. Edith Fitzpatrick James, of Prestonsburg, will take part in the Festival program and will wear a beautiful costume of rich purple lindsay-woolsey which was worn by Mrs. Mary Pigmae, of Knott county. Mrs. James will sing the Wassaill song handed down in her own family for generations. Her voice has charmed Festival audiences because of its clear beauty. Tom James and Green Maggard, John Harlowe and Tex Vanderpool will sing a hymn or two while Tex Vanderpool will sing from this year's program will be Jennie Staton, of Pike county, who will also bring for the exhibit an heirloom in the form of a lindsay-woolsey dress which was worn by an ancestor of Mrs. James.

Floyd county will be represented in the Court of Honor by Mrs. Walter Scott Harkins, Sr., who with Governor Laffoon and Mrs. Laffoon will occupy seats in the Court of Honor. John Calvin Harkins, II and Fred Francis and Walter Scott Harkins, III, together with R. W. Robinson, grandson of Kentucky's Governor, will act as escort of honor to the Governor and the other dignitaries occupying the Court of Honor. Mrs. Reba Mayo and her exquisite art exhibit has already attracted wide press comment and the visitors have a great treat in store in viewing this splendid work of Mrs. Mayo. Assisting Mrs. Mayo with the art exhibit will be Miss Tot Allen, of Prestonsburg. Many persons coming from a distance in the Kentucky mountains will bring basket dinner and enjoy the morning hours in the cool shaded woodland and participate in the hymn singing led by several of the older citizens of Floyd and Rowan counties.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men Unless two things of late have been heard of in the circles of the "good" people, it is hard to believe that a woman can win a man. It is a fact, however, that a woman can win a man, and she can win him in a way that is both honorable and profitable. The secret lies in the way she handles her own affairs. A woman who is successful in her own right, who is independent and who has a clear head and a steady hand, will attract the attention of the men of the world. They will be drawn to her by the force of her personality and by the strength of her character. They will be attracted to her because she is a woman who is not afraid to stand on her own feet and who is not afraid to take the initiative. She is a woman who is not afraid to be a leader and who is not afraid to be a winner. She is a woman who is not afraid to be a woman and who is not afraid to be a woman who is a woman.

ATHLETE'S FOOT!

Emerald Oil seldom fails to clear up every symptom of this distressing infection in two weeks' time, so use it freely. It is antiseptic—searches out the infection, penetrating into every pore, crack or wrinkle where it attempts to hide. Use the oil every night and morning—it isn't greasy and does not stain.

If one bottle doesn't clear up your infection, you can have your money back. H. E. Hughes and Company sells lots of it.

Joe E. Dyer returned last week from Richmond, Ky., where he has been a student at the Eastern State Normal and Teachers' College. He was accompanied home by Bruce Sears, of Somerset, Ky., also a student at Eastern.

VETERANS' PREFERENCE RULE FURTHER DEFINED

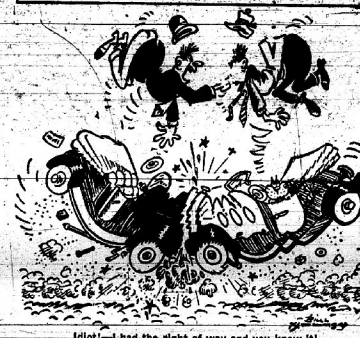

A ruling issued from Washington recently decrees that the veterans' preference rule applies only to those who have served the United States in between the dates given below:

- Spanish-American — April 12, 1898 to August 13, 1898. Mexican Revolution — June 20, 1900 to May 13, 1901. Philippine Insurrection — August 13, 1898 to July 5, 1902. World War — April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918.

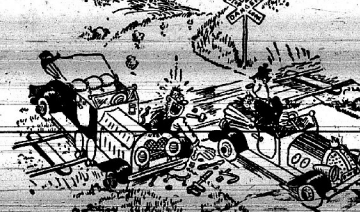

In addition to this, a recent order entitles veterans who served in the White Russian and Siberian expedition extending between November 11, 1918 to April 1, 1920.

All veterans serving in war between these dates are entitled to preference on P. W. A. work in the 11th N. R. S. district in the counties of Breathitt, Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Leslie, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Perry, Pike and Wolfe, according to W. R. Patterman, district re-employment manager. Students who served in student training camps during the World War are not given preference. Communications should be addressed either to W. A. Patterman, district manager, or E. A. Ratliff, Veterans' representative, 11th district office, National Re-Employment Service, Pikeville, Ky.

SOME AUTO SUGGESTIONS

Idiot—I had the right of way and you know it!

What's a start at—wait a guy stop and fix his car?

Why don't you look where you're going?

Bill Holman, the widely-known cartoonist, has given some suggestions for the prevention of automobile accidents. His advice, appearing in a new booklet on the traffic problem published by the Travelers Insurance Company, is as follows: Check the wheel—make sure that a loose nut isn't holding it. Be sure the Miss in the motor is sitting beside you. Don't race trains to crossings. If it's a tie lose. For jaywalkers every year is less year. Be sure the only crank in the car is in the tool box. A pedestrian is a man who missed the payments on his car. If you must have a blowout have it at home. A bird at the wheel is worth two in the ambulance. Beware of green drivers on red lights.

CHANGES URGED IN BANKING BILL

Business Men and Bankers Agree in Objecting to Political Control Over Banks.

AMENDMENTS ARE SUGGESTED

Political Domination of Federal Reserve Board Declared to Be Undesirable for Depositors as Well as Their Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Business men and bankers alike who have appeared before committees of Congress to present views regarding the Banking Act of 1933 have found common cause for criticism in those provisions which they agree would create the means for the political control over the Federal Reserve System and thereby over individual banks throughout the United States.

This view has been stressed in criticisms by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the question of political control over banking was the central theme of a statement presented by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, who appeared before the Senate Banking and Currency committee here.

"It is finally decided that it is necessary to carry this legislation through at this session; we are strongly of the opinion that special care should be taken to keep our credit policy and banking mechanism free from any sort of political considerations.

"In making this statement I do not wish to appear to question the propriety of the Government's exercising a certain amount of control over banking operations so far as they affect the nation's currency and general monetary policy. Nor do we object to broad powers of supervision over the operation of our banking institutions because of the semi-public responsibilities they carry.

"Under such circumstances we feel that our recommendations should be favorably accepted upon condition that they would enable the reconstituted Federal Reserve Board to function freely as a nonpolitical body actuated only by the interests of sound currency and the welfare of all our people.

"The adoption of our suggestions would place the operation of the Federal Reserve System wholly and distinctly apart from the fluctuations and vicissitudes of political conditions and free from undue influence by banking opinion only. Such a solution would thus have a stabilizing and confidence inspiring effect on the entire business situation."

"The need for independence is that is the reason why we are so strongly in favor of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it would be definitely removed from all political thought, influence and direction. Its members should be free to study and act in accordance with the needs and conditions of agriculture, industry and trade. The policies of the board should have no reference to the politics or the changes in politics of the national administration.

"In our studies of the bank bill, we have been strongly impressed with the fact that it would set up a situation under which the Federal Reserve Board and its policies might be subjected to political control. In saying this I do not charge that it is the intention of the present administration to bring about any undue control over the nation's banking mechanism. The point is that if the bill passed as now proposed, opportunity for control would be there for the use of the present or whatever future administration might be in power.

RELIEF NEWS

By WILMA GUNN MAY Relief Worker

Supreme Court of Banking "Since the passage of the Federal Reserve Act over 22 years ago, opinion in Congress and among bankers has been wavering towards the ideal of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it might be described as the Supreme Court of Finance and Banking. We believe there is greater possibility than ever before for realizing this ideal."

R. S. HECHT

Mr. Hecht emphasized that it is the genuine desire of the banking fraternity to be helpful and constructive in making suggestions in connection with the pending legislation. The changes we are urging are we believe essential to the continued independence of the Federal Reserve System.

"We have made it clear that we do not object to a measure of public control in the national interest for proper coordination of our manifold credit operations," he said, "and we do not believe the sponsors of the legislation desire any political domination over these activities through our Federal Reserve System."

"Under such circumstances we feel that our recommendations should be favorably accepted upon condition that they would enable the reconstituted Federal Reserve Board to function freely as a nonpolitical body actuated only by the interests of sound currency and the welfare of all our people."

What Do Home Visitors Do?

First, the home visitor is not an investigator, but a friend. He is not sent out to spy and peer in cupboards, to count the jars and chickens, to look in smokehouses and under beds. True, he must ask some direct questions, obtain certain information, but he can do so tactfully and, in so doing, explain the necessity of giving facts accurately and not trusting to memory.

He is the representative of the relief office and must act as an intermediary between client and office. He will most likely make recommendations to assist the family or aid in many instances he will seek reference contacts who are unprejudiced if in doubt of facts presented. It is the home visitor who will write up the case record and history, fill in the numerous forms on the family, part narrative, part answers to specified questions.

Home visitors visit frequently monthly unless their caseload is too heavy to permit it or unless extra office work prevents it, or where families are gone from home when they call. Each additional visit is also recorded and change in conditions reported.

Reference visits are also noted on the family history and often present a picture of excellent case work. What is social case work? The recognition of a family's problems, a sympathetic understanding of same and zeal to assist in solving these identical problems whether they pertain to financial security, health, sanitation or any other difficulty. How can they be solved? Not always by direct orders for food or clothing, not always by work checks, although the necessity for daily sustenance is not minimized.

Most often the most valuable work done by home visitors pertains, not to material welfare but to physical and spiritual values. To re-establish lost associations which were vital in home life is one phase of our work. There may be problems created by overcrowded conditions. This frequently brings discord between families or within one group. Changes have been effected which tended to promote harmony.

To youngsters in the home of ten lack incentive. Arrangements for contact with other children can develop pride and strength of character. A large number of our clients are people whose standards were once very high indeed. There is the most difficult problem of all. Here, lay citizens, ministers, teachers, club leaders and all civic-minded people can do much to help these families out of their standing. Group these losses which are usually more than financial.

Are you, Mr. Average Man, aware that you, too, play a part in this vast relief program? Regardless of religion, politics or standing in any one of the nation's work. Are you discharging your duties? It may be that as neighbor, friend or counselor, you can lend the helping hand, speak the cheery word, or some word of encouragement.

AMERICANS use the telephone more than any other people in the world, any way you want to make a comparison.

This is partly because we are a sociable, enterprising people.

And it is also because the Bell System, through research by the Bell Laboratories—uniform and economical manufacture by the Western Electric Company—nationwide operation by the American Company and the regional associated companies—has provided the greatest value in telephone service the world knows.

Use your telephone. When you have business or social affairs to discuss with anyone in another city, let "long distance" save you time and money. The cost is small wherever you call.

Actions of Pedestrians Resulting in Deaths From Automobile Mishaps

Crossing in middle of block and against signals—34%

Children playing in street—11%

Walking along road—17%

Coming from behind car—9%

Miscellaneous—29%

Many pedestrians seem to regard their lives of less importance than the few seconds' time that may be saved by crossing streets without regard to hazardous conditions, although it is true there are many drivers who take advantage of pedestrians.

In 1934 nearly half of all the persons killed in automobile accidents were pedestrians, it is shown by the annual figures compiled by the Travelers Insurance Company. The total number of pedestrians killed was 15,926 while nearly 20,000 pedestrians were injured.

Five out of every eight pedestrians killed, it is shown, were involved in accidents while crossing streets in the middle of the block, crossing intersections against signals or diagonally dashing out into streets from behind parked cars, or while walking along rural highways.

It has been pointed out that pedestrians run across streets in the middle of the block or against signals because many feel that little if any worse protection is given them at properly designated crosswalks or when they wait for signals. Many pedestrians know that it is dangerous to walk along rural highways, but since paths or walks have not been provided, the question often is raised, "what else can pedestrians do along rural highways?" Of course it is good advice to walk facing traffic.

Pedestrians will pass please to consider the fact that in 1934 the rate of death per pedestrian accident was 45 per cent, worse crossing in the middle of the block than in intersections, and was 74 per cent worse crossing against signals than with signals. At the same time, however, the driver is warned to "be tolerant with the pedestrian, unless the driver's fault is not criminally by death."

PRESTONSBURG CHILD DIES IN IRONTON, OHIO

Lawrence Douglas Nestey, 10 years old, only child of T. E. and Mrs. Marie Hackworth Nestey, of this place, died at the Marting hospital at 8:50 o'clock Monday afternoon after several days of suffering from an ailment which baffled definite diagnosis.

Becoming ill Tuesday, May 23, the child was taken to the hospital on the following day. His death was variously ascribed to infantile paralysis and chorea by the five specialists called into consultation in an effort to effect his cure. One of these held it was probable that anti-rabies serum administered after he had been bitten by a dog aggravated his case.
