FATE OF SLAYER STUDIED BY JURY OF KNOTT COUNTY

Life Term Held Probable for Cook in Killing of Kin

EXHIBITS FIGURE

A jury of the Knott circuit court Monday morning still deliberated the fate of Clyde Cook, who was given trial last week on a charge of murdering Bill Cook, Floyd county merchant, in Knott county about two months ago. The case went to the jury Friday.

Three eyewitnesses, Circuit Judge John W. Caudill told The Times Monday morning before his departure for Hindman where he was to reconvene court, testified that they saw the killing. One woman, whose testimony defense counsel in vain tried to shake, told of seeing a man rise from behind a rock and fire a shot into the merchant's body as he was driving his team with one hand and braking his wagon with the other down a steep mountainside. Two more shots were fired into Cook's body after he had toppled from his wagon, the witness said.

Seeking to establish identity of the gun from which the lethal shots were fired, Commonwealth Attorney O. C. H. H. Sherrill, in his capacity, to bring to Hindman a pump gun owned by the alleged slayer by his father, Seland Cook, veteran Floyd county teacher who also was indicted at this term of the Knott circuit court for the slaying. When the gun was snapped on an unloaded shell in the courtroom, Judge Caudill said, the jury examined the indentation in the primer, compared this with that made in one of the cartridges found at the scene of the assassination of the merchant, and found no difference in markings. Shot taken from the body of the slain man was compared with that in cartridges taken from the Cook home, and these coincided, it was said. The cartridge shells found at the place of ambush also were the same as those found at Cook's trial exhibit showed.

The defendant produced alibi witnesses who testified that he was not in the vicinity of the shooting scene. It was held probable that the jury would agree on a life sentence for Cook, a court attaché said Monday.

Trial of Seland Cook will be held at a later court term. Trouble between Seland Cook's family and that of Bill Cook arose when Barksdale Cook and his brother, sons of Bill Cook, slew Ralph Cook, son of Seland Cook following an altercation at a Left Beaver Creek school which Seland and Ralph Cook were teaching and in which Barksdale and his brother were students.

I. O. O. F. OUTING

Prestonsburg Lodge, I. O. O. F. will hold an outing at the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club, Allen Sunday it is announced. Members of the order from several counties in this section are expected to attend.

Melvin Allen, of West Prestonsburg, returned to the Beaver Valley hospital. He is threatened with blood poisoning as a result of opening a pimple on his face.

STATE MINE HEAD TAKEN ON WARRANT

Daniels Arrested Monday on Murderer Writ in Van Lear Disaster

Paintsville, Ky., July 29—J. H. Daniels, state mine inspector, was arrested at Van Lear, near there, today and lodged in the county jail on charges of murder and failure to do his duty as mine inspector. The charges against Daniels grew out of the mine disaster at Van Lear, near here, two weeks ago, in which nine miners lost their lives.

Daniels was arrested by Constable Farris Arrowood and Town Marshals Frank Davis and Ed Castle, of Van Lear. The warrant for Daniels' arrest was obtained by John D. Mollett. He is to be given an examining trial here before County Judge H. B. Conley Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Continued on page six.

THREE FROM FLOYD HONORED AT CAMP

Of the 10 Floyd county boys and girls attending the district 4-H club camp at Camp Rhodendron, Johnson county, last week, three won district honors. County Agent E. L. Labell, who accompanied the Floyd group to camp, announced upon his return here Friday.

William Baldridge, Jr., of the Little Paint 4-H club, won second in woodwork. His winning entry in the competition was a violin case. Kermit Howard, of Betsy Layne, was voted third ranking star camper and was awarded a silver medal. Harvey Howard, of the same club, also was ranked a star camper. Mrs. Mitchell, Craynor, Weeksbury, and Miss Inez Baiden, Betsy Layne, club leaders, and the following club members attended the camp: Kermit Howard, Harvey Carsie Kidd and Carmel Clark, of Betsy Layne; William Baldridge, Jr., Little Paint; Dorothy Craynor, Mable Sue Shannon, Delphine Fraley, Mabel Jarvis and Pauline Murphy, of Weeksbury.

J. M. Feltnor, London, Ky., assistant state club leader, directed activities of the camp, which was one of the most successful Junior club gatherings ever held in this section. Eight county agents, two home demonstration agents and 36 leaders, two home demonstration agents and 186 4-H club boys and girls from Floyd, Pine, Johnson, Magoffin, Lawrence, Boyd, Greenup and Elliott counties attended.

FLOYD COUNTY HIT BY SEVERE STORMS

Corn Crop Yield Expected To Show Big Drop in Lowlands

Various parts of Floyd county within the last week have suffered severely in crop losses from storms, some of which assumed the aspects of a cloudburst. Mud Creek, parts of the two Beavers and Prater Creek suffered heaviest damage.

On Frazier's Creek, Left Beaver, a shophouse owned by Dial Salisbury was washed from its foundations. Inundation of the bottom land along these streams will decrease the corn yield in the county through the season. It is expected

Floyd Countian's Opera To Be Presented Over Network

Kentucky's first opera, the New York City, where he was given an audition at Rockefeller Center by the National Broadcasting Company. Both literary and music critics, Miss Thomas reports, pronounced his work "highly meritorious." His musical composition in "The Call of the Cumberlands," was first presented at the American Folk Song Festival June 9 at Jean Thomas' cabin near Ashland. Mr. Elliott, who for the past few months has been singing his own compositions over WCMJ, Ashland, radio station, a few days ago returned from

Thomas as narrator. Mrs. Wilma Gunn May, of Langley, this week announced her resignation as relief worker in heading the Floyd county relief office. Mrs. May recently returned from the University of Kentucky, where she took a six-week course, and may teach this year. She may be succeeded by Miss Edna Prater. "I am appreciative to all who assisted me and my co-workers," Mrs. May said in discussing her work here during the past few months. "We feel that, despite many handicaps, we did accomplish some worthwhile things. Yet we are disappointed because plans fell through, through the fault of no one."

RULING COSTS TWO TEACHERS SCHOOLS

Three Other Injunction Actions To Be Ruled on Thursday

Temporary injunctions were granted Saturday by Circuit Judge John W. Caudill to two teacher-applicants contesting under the recent ruling of the court of appeals the right of two others hired to teach in the Hunter and Big Branch districts.

W. A. Salisbury was the plaintiff in the Hunter school case, and Paris Conley was plaintiff in the action arising from the hiring of Ralph Spradlin at R. Z. Branch. Both Spradlin and Pet Salisbury, the teacher at Hunter, were hired on the recommendation of the two "old" trustees. W. A. Salisbury and Conley were recommended by the trustees elected in 1934. Judge Caudill Thursday will hear the remaining three injunction suits filed by applicants for teacher positions.

A downpour here Sunday night again wrought considerable damage to property-owners along and below Highland avenue. The board of supervisors of the town of Prestonsburg convened last week. The board is composed of B. M. Spurlock, A. C. Harlowe and Malcolm Harris. S. W. Allen is city tax assessor and his duties include attending supervisory meetings.

MRS. MAY RESIGNS AS RELIEF OFFICE CHIEF HERE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Wilma Gunn May, of Langley, this week announced her resignation as relief worker in heading the Floyd county relief office. Mrs. May recently returned from the University of Kentucky, where she took a six-week course, and may teach this year. She may be succeeded by Miss Edna Prater. "I am appreciative to all who assisted me and my co-workers," Mrs. May said in discussing her work here during the past few months. "We feel that, despite many handicaps, we did accomplish some worthwhile things. Yet we are disappointed because plans fell through, through the fault of no one."

Dr. Cottrell First Native of Floyd Licensed Pilot

To Dr. J. T. Cottrell, of Catlettsburg, goes the honor of becoming Floyd county's first native to become a full fledged aviator.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Cottrell, of this place, Dr. Cottrell moved a few years ago after practicing his profession for some time at the Beaver Valley hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Willie Reed, of Betsy Layne.

The babe, said by Miss Edith Collins, who attended Mrs. Reed, to have been the largest normal baby at birth in medical history, died a few minutes after birth. The child was perfectly formed and two feet, six inches in length. The Reeds have a living son who weighed 16 pounds at birth, it was said. Mrs. Reed is 31 years old. She is doing nicely.

Though a physician with several years' practice, Dr. Cottrell is a young man and has all the mental and physical qualifications necessary to successful flying under the most trying conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar P. Bond have moved into their new home on the Mayo Trail here. Mrs. Bond's sister, J. D. Bond, and Miss Diesel Bond, are residing at the residence he vacated on Second avenue.

The Rev. B. R. Lakita, former pastor of Irene Christian Memorial Baptist Church, is now a position of West Virginia. He was a visitor here a few days ago.

GRAND JURY PROBE OF PRIMARY TO BE MADE, JUDGE SAYS

'Follow Straight and Narrow,' Is Caudill's Advice to Politicians

CAMPAIGN HOT

Whatever plans politicians have in mind for the conduct of Saturday's primary in this county, they will fare better if they follow the straight and narrow path, it was indicated by Circuit Judge John W. Caudill, here Monday morning.

There will be a grand jury investigation of this primary, and I am giving everybody fair warning of what is certain to happen if there is any evidence of fraud," Judge Caudill said. "The election officers who have been chosen to serve coming Floyd county's first native to become a full fledged aviator.

ed to conduct the election as elections should be conducted on the square."

As this was written this week the campaign, one of the hottest gubernatorial fights in the history of the Commonwealth, took on feverish activity, especially in Democratic circles. All five gubernatorial candidates were doing their utmost to secure the support of voters in their favor.

In this county the Senatorial and Representative races have brought every effort to swing the tide of votes in their favor. Though not so elaborate as successful flying under the most trying conditions.

HAYES WITHDRAWS

To the Voters of Floyd County: In the interest of party harmony I have decided to withdraw from the race for Representative.

I have no interest except for a clean election, and I will be 100 per cent for the winner. I wish to thank all who have encouraged me and given me encouragement in this race. Yours truly, JOHN W. HAYES

FREE WOMAN, 66, HELD IN SHOOTING

Mrs. Little and Ison Jailed Here in Wounding of Wheelwright Man

Mrs. Sarah Little, sixty six year old Wheelwright woman, was released from the county jail Wednesday morning after she had told County Judge Tom John Allen and County Attorney Forrest D. Short of the part she played in the fight in which Ballard Jones was shot and seriously wounded 10 days ago in front of her home.

Mrs. Little said that Jones and a son of Lee Hall came to her home and called her son, Marion Hall, from the house, then attacked him. When she ran outside to help her son, she told officials, Jones released her and knocked her down. Three or four times while she was down she heard shots fired, she said, then saw Jones lying wounded.

Jones was shot through his abdomen, but will recover. He was said at the Beaver Valley hospital Wednesday. Both factions have agreed to await outcome of his trial before an examining trial is held.

Deweve Hall, of Mud Run, is in jail here, charged with cutting and wounding Ella Tackett Sunday. Tackett is in the Beaver Valley hospital, also, but his condition is not held serious. During the fight Tackett is said to have fired a pistol shot at which several of Hall's forehead, inflicting only a flesh wound.

Mrs. Harkins, Hostess Honoring Visitors Here

BODY OF MOTHER DISINTERRED AS SON BURIED ON BUFFALO

Burial last Thursday at Winchester, 28 years old, who died July 22 at a Beckler, Va., sanatorium, was attended three or four times. While she was down she heard shots fired, she said, then saw Jones lying wounded.

His mother died two years ago and was buried in a ceme-terial on the head of Clark Branch. Her body was disinterred and removed to the family cemetery at a half a mile from the mouth of the creek where she and her son were buried. The funeral service for the son was conducted by Rev. Joe Smith.

Mr. Burchett's death was caused by tuberculosis from which he had suffered since last December. He was well known in the Buffalo Creek section and had many relatives and friends.

TOPNOTCHERS by KET

Work Progress projects are placed in operation. When the slack is finally taken up, Mr. Goodman said, there will be no more direct relief. The government then, he said, will assume the role of employer only, while the state and local governmental units will be expected to care for indigent and non-workables.

Some local governmental units, Mr. Goodman said, still are slow in making application for projects. He again pointed out that the final result in permanent improvements will be given locally, while the energy of officials in submitting suitable requests.

Projects originate with the local governmental unit, Mr. Goodman said. They are then submitted to the district office, forwarded to the Louisville office for approval, thence to Washington for final approval. In many instances Mr. Goodman has been asked whether information as to whether a project has been approved, he pointed out, is available only from Washington and such time as the approval is returned to Louisville by mail, cannot be expected to furnish such information until such time as it becomes available to them, Mr. Goodman said.

WORK UNDER NEW PROGRAM BY AUG. 1

But Bulk of Relief Projects Yet Remain To Be Approved; Plans Outlined

Works Progress Administration projects having a value approaching $10,000,000 will have been approved or will be in the hands of Washington authorities for approval by August 1, George H. Goodman, administrator for Kentucky, said this week. Of this amount, approximately $3,000,000 while the federal government will supply the remainder. With the approval of these projects it is estimated that work will be provided for approximately 25,000 men.

In some sections of the state Goodman hopes to have projects in actual operation by August 1, while a greatly increased number will be added on September 1, and a substantial number as approval is given by Washington.

To date, notes of the projects announced as having been approved by Washington have been returned to Kentucky. Many of these projects represent the better projects transferred from the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration work program that can be re-opened in short order. Because of the lapse of time between the closing of all projects in the state, pending transfer, and the re-opening of suitable projects under the new program, Mr. Goodman said, no relief client will be allowed to suffer. Direct relief now is being given, he said, but this relief will be tapered off as

TELLS HOW BANKS AIDED PROGRESS

Economist Describes the Ways Banking Institutions Have Contributed to Development of United States

OMAHA, Neb.—Privately owned banking, despite its faults, has served America well, William A. Irvine, Professor of Economics, Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas, declared in a recent address here on "Banking in a Changing World."

"Under the leadership of individual bankers has helped to bring the country to a foremost place in economic development among the nations of the world," he said. "The small community has been developed by the individual bank. The frontiers of America have been pushed forward by the help and counsel of the individual banker."

"It may be that we have reached a tide in the affairs of America when new methods are needed. It may be that we have come to a point where the individual should be substituted for the greatest good of the greatest number."

"The American pattern of banking is not a static thing. It is a living organism which is constantly changing. It is not wise, he said, to oppose changes as such, but that bankers should see it in time to change it, and when it does come, shall preserve all that is good in the past and still as closely as possible to the American pattern of banking."

BANKS AND COLLEGE LAUNCH NEW SCHOOL

Aims to Offer Studies in Advanced Banking Subjects to Bank Executives—Public Duties of Banks Stressed

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The Graduate School of Banking, an unprecedented educational project, operated under the joint auspices of the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University, with 229 students from 20 states and the District of Columbia, opened here in June its first registration session.

The annual resident sessions of the graduate school will be supplemented during periods by continued extension work for the students at their homes. The purpose of the school is described as being to offer in a three-year course a comprehensive approach to an advanced study of the various administrative problems in banking and trust institutions. The teaching procedure is a combination of the case system and the lecture discussion method.

The curriculum embraces banking administrative problems and policies bank investment problems, legal and managerial aspects of trust business, legal phases of bank administration, and economic problems in the field of money and credit, the public relation and responsibilities of banks and methods for meeting these obligations as emphasized in the courses. It is planned to set up similar schools in cooperation with other universities in various parts of the country. The school will add 200 registrants each year for two years until 600 are enrolled. The trustees of the Educational Foundation of the American Bankers Association have set aside funds from the foundation to grant 200 loan scholarships of $150 each to qualified applicants for attendance at the school.

CONVICTED IN FEDERAL CASE

Johnson Held Guilty on Fraud Indictment in Connection With Postoffice Contract

Lexington, Ky., July 26.—Deliberating 15 minutes, a jury in United States District Court here late Thursday afternoon returned a verdict of guilty against three defendants in connection with the "Postoffice Contract" fraud case. Federal Judge H. Church Ford fixed the penalty of each defendant at two years in federal prison and fined each $1,000 on each of the two indictments. The Sprison sentences are to run concurrently.

The defendants were Pharaoh W. Johnson, president of the W. P. Johnson Construction Company of Ashland, Va.; William Dow Johnson of Garrison, Ky., and Orville E. Setters of Vanceburg. The three were indicted on two charges, using the United States mail to defraud and conspiring to defraud the government. They were found guilty on both charges.

Motion and grounds for a new trial, filed by Wallace M. Muir, Lexington attorney, was overruled by Judge Ford. Muir then took an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Garrison, Ky., and Orville E. Setters, of Vanceburg. Pending the appeal, the three defendants were released on bonds of $5,000 each.

Mae Swinford, United States district attorney, who prosecuted the case, declared the effect of the verdict would have a great deal to do with stopping fraudulence in obtaining government contracts.

The government had contended that the three defendants had used fraudulent methods in obtaining the contract to erect a new postoffice at Portsmouth, O., in underbidding the Roche, Connel and Lamb Construction Company, by $24,000.

The Johnsons had received in Washington later than the day set for the opening of the bids, but the company was awarded the contract on the contention that the bid had been delayed in the mails. The government charged that the bid had been predated in the postoffice at Garrison and purposely delayed in order that Pharaoh W. Johnson could communicate with William Dow Johnson from Washington, a figure lower than the estimate of the Cincinnati firm. Throughout the trial, all three defendants denied knowledge of the letter and denied and fraud was practiced in obtaining the contract.

Fifteen From County Attend Kentucky State Second semester summer school enrollment at the University of Kentucky has set a new record, with 1,028 students enrolled. This registration indicates 50 per cent gain over the second semester of 1934 when the number reached 677 and an increase of 81 students over the previous record of 944 in 1931.

FREE EDUCATION FOR STATE BLIND CHILDREN

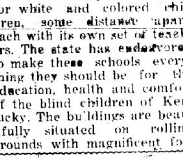

To every blind child in Kentucky or any child whose sight is so defective as to prevent from attending an ordinary school, a free education is offered at the Kentucky School for the Blind, Louisville, Ky. The course of study includes kindergarten, elementary school and a full four year high school course with particular attention paid to music and vocational training.

There is no charge for board, laundry, tuition or books. There are separate schools for white and colored children, some distance apart, each with its own set of teachers. The state has endeavored to make these schools every thing they should be for the education, health and comfort of the blind children of Kentucky. The buildings are beautifully situated on rolling grounds with magnificent views.

up of the Mammoth Cave stage from Jesse James and his band. All these and others probably will be heard in what promises to be one of the most fascinating series of broadcasts ever sent out by this station. The first subterranean radio broadcast on this station was made on July 8, 1839, by Hoachins the hunter as he pursued a wounded bear which had been led to accompany the antophones under the surface. The occasion was the opening of De Luxe Room, the eight-mile, one hour walk connecting the Frozen Niagara cave with the older part of the cave, made possible by the work of a CCC camp which has worked underground for the better part of two years.

BINGHAM SAYS SWOPE 'BLUEGRASS BLUEBLOOD' Dubbing King Swope, his opponent for the Republican nomination for Governor, 'a bluegrass blueblood,' D. M. Bingham, of Pmsville, Tuesday, afternoon in an address at the courthouse here appealed to the Republican voters of this county to vote for him, a native of the mountains.

Judge Bingham alleged that Swope had expressed the wish that people from the Mountains be excluded from the Bluegrass. He ended his address with a flourish, breaking into the old fashioned 'hoo down,' and drew hearty applause from the crowd.

THE SCHOOL CENSUS

By JOHN WARIX Attendance Officer

We have been working for the past 12 months to complete a census set up and shape it into a smooth running system. One of our problems in Floyd county is largely due to the transient population which is typical of the coal and gas fields.

I am sure that we all realize that an attendance officer in a county the size of Floyd with shifting population has a real man's size task; and that it is only through the absolute cooperation of all school officials it is possible to put over a satisfactory piece of work in the attendance and census fields.

county for the year of 1934-35 was 13,464 children, and was enrolled last year in the schools of the county 13,385. The present census shows that there are 13,085 children in the county, and this does not include some that have finished high school and are attending college. We have kept comparative charts on enrollment and attendance this year and last year.

Our study so far showed an increase in both enrollment and attendance varying anywhere from 10 to 24 per cent.

The results of the first year of this pioneering—in a new educational field has been, in my mind, highly satisfactory. While none of us have accomplished all that we would like to have accomplished, I feel that with the work that has been done this year, and by your co-operation, the prospects look good for the next school year.

We have set up four different sets of files which I shall try to explain. First, the enrollment file for the county. Each sub-district school in the county is set up separately arranged alphabetically with the sub-district members on the file case card.

Our permanent census covers are filed in a different system. In this filing cabinet we have each school set up separately, and arranged by sub-district numbers. In each sub-district the boys and girls are arranged in two divisions separately, and according to age. A card for each year of from 1927 to 1929 inclusive, according to the birth date of the child, is filed.

SEES INFLATION AS A SLOW PROCESS

A Real Danger for the Future, Col. Ayres Tells Banking Groups.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Present prospects do not indicate that inflation severe enough to cause further devaluation will come soon in this country, but as an ultimate development it seems to be a very real danger to most business groups. At present that does not seem to be in sight, he said.
 "The Graduate School is sponsored jointly by the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University offer advanced studies for bank officers.
 "We have so enormously increased the capacity of our banking system for credit expansion that it is difficult to see how we could have a vigorous business revival without having it develop into a credit inflation," Colonel Ayres declared.

Inflation is slow process. If inflation does come it will be a slow process, he said, pointing out that it took about five years to develop from the time when the governments entered upon policies of financing large peace-time deficits by bank credit up to the time when the public generally began to spend money rapidly because of fear that it would still further depreciate its purchasing power.

"If we are to go through such a period here it would seem likely that it might last longer than the corresponding periods did abroad," he said. "The beginning world war from the spring of 1933 when we left the old gold basis for our money and entered upon the policy of financing large government deficits by the sale of Federal securities mainly to banks rather than to private investors.
 "The method that we are following is the one that proved disastrous in Europe for in all those countries including Germany, the increasing issues of money that caused the inflations were not mere printing press issues of fiat currency, but were secured by government bonds and notes discounted at the banks. Nevertheless, the process is inherently a slow one."
 "The lesson that we are taught by the European experience, Colonel Ayres asserted, is that there are no good hedges against inflation." He added:

Did Not Lighten Debt Burden
 "One of the strange facts about these inflations is that while they destroyed the values of most existing debts, they did not succeed in lightening the debt burdens of either the people as a whole, or of the corporations.
 "Inflation destroys the value of bonds and mortgages and so confiscates the property of these holders of obligations and hands it over to the shareholders and the equity owners. However, it introduces so many new economic difficulties that these shareholders and equity holders are at once forced to incur new indebtedness so that when stabilization comes the problems of debt are about as troublesome as they were before, or even more so."
 The five requisites of inflation were listed by Colonel Ayres as first, a period of abnormal active business; second, a policy of unrestricted credit, and credit expansion; third, a large outflow of gold; fourth, a policy of currency control; and fifth, continued large budget deficits in government operation.

A PROPHECY
 Significant economic developments to be expected in the next decade are listed by a prominent business writer as follows: (1) Higher standard of living. (2) Continued advances in technical processes of production. (3) Factory built houses, better and cheaper than home made houses. (4) Somewhat cheaper money. (5) Faster travel. (6) News printed by radio. (7) Mechanical cotton picker, revolutionizing the South. (8) Cheaper electric power. (9) Better distribution of goods; more chain stores. (10) Another depression five or six years hence, preceded by an inflationary boom.

TWO QUESTIONS ANSWERED
 Why is it that one farmer raises 100 bushels of corn to the acre, and the other one, on the other side of the fence, raises 25 bushels to the acre? Why is it that one farmer produces 100 pounds of pork on five bushels of corn, and another uses 25 bushels? Not until power machinery, scientific principles of soil fertilization and restoration rotation of crops, diversification of crops and scientific feeding are applied to the farm, will the farmers problem be solved, says a farm authority.

BANKING READY
 NEW YORK.—There is abundant evidence that banks are in an unusually favorable position to finance the rapid industrial growth, says the June issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.
 "An official survey on June 10 indicated that the Association of the United States, through its loans, was the potential owner of more than half of the existing world stocks of American cotton."

"Sound as Good as the Best"

Observance of the usual safety practices and procedure has been in effect at the mine.
 Tonight at Hazard, Mr. Daniel said the advance entries, the only parts of the mine ever known to have been gaseous, have "been adequately fire-bossed."

He said the company had informed him the Coroner of Johnson county had said no inquest would be necessary. Mr. Daniel will go to Van Lear tomorrow.

Mollette said Mr. Daniel sent an assistant to Van Lear "several months ago," who informed the miners the mine was gaseous and that they would be required to wear safety lamps. At that time, Mollette said, the workers asked that more precautions be taken against gas explosions by appointing extra fire bosses, whose duty would be to inspect the mine daily for gas and proceed into the workings ahead of each shift of workers. The fire bosses were not added, Mollette said.

Relief Clients In March Demanding Immediate Aid

A crowd numbering, it is estimated, more than 400 persons moved en masse on the Floyd county relief office Friday afternoon and demanded of relief officials immediate issuance of direct relief orders.

A large portion of the crowd consisted of members of the local group of the recently-organized Kentucky Unemployed League. Though met with information that funds could not be disbursed until Thursday of this week, the crowd made no violent demonstration.
 For several minutes the clerical force of the relief office here, working in the second story of the city hall building, was unable to gain access from the building. They were escorted outside by Policeman James Meade. Miss Edna Prater was head of the office at the time.
 After leaving the city hall building the crowd was addressed by Munnell Wilson, the House of David's contribution to the Democratic field for Lieutenant-Governor, who discussed the needs of those in need of relief and the alleged abuses of the relief administration.
 Leaders of the march announced Friday afternoon that they would prevent opening of the office Saturday morning, but only a scattered few were at the city hall when office-workers arrived.
 Members of the crowd seeking help said all they were asking was something to eat.
