COUNCIL SELECTS 3 NEW POLICEMEN FOR PRESTONSBURG

Will, Named Chief; Amusement Devices Taxed From $5 to $20 Each

OTHERS APPOINTED

Prestonsburg's new police force, as chosen by the new city council Friday evening in its second meeting, will be composed this year of three new members, only one of the present policemen retaining his job.

W. A. Willis, deputy sheriff since M. T. Stumbo became sheriff, was named chief of police, succeeding Lee P. May, and Arthur Blackburn and Will Spradlin, were selected to succeed James Meade and Claude Flanery as deputy policemen. Only Irvin Ford, night policeman, retained his position.

Other appointive officers selected at Friday's meeting of the council are: J. M. Davidson, city clerk; James Ball, street commissioner; Mrs. Fanny Collins, tax collector; Cal Clarke, city treasurer; H. P. Hill, named city attorney when his law partner, Joe Johnson, declines the office.

The heavy tax predicted for amusement devices here was reduced to $20 for each mechanical music machine and $6 for each marble machine. The $25 license assessed from peddlers of foodstuffs and commodities here was eliminated by vote of the council, and in lieu of this an ordinance requiring peddlers to buy a truck license was enacted. The truck license assessment is at the rate of $10 a ton for the year.

STUMBO DISMISSES 8 DEPUTY SHERIFFS

Sheriff Swings Official Ax, Dismissals Effective On January 1st

Sheriff M. T. Stumbo himself " swung the ax " this week when he removed from his force of deputies a total of eight men. He requested County Clerk A. B. Meade to enter an order removing the following sheriffs, effective January 1:

Riley Hall, Steve Holbrook, Otto Frazin, Vern Cagle, George Frazier, Wally May, Eugene Marcum, Omery Hall.

Sheriff Stumbo said the deputies were dismissed "suddenly" because he had decided to cut down on the number of officers serving under him. Others may be dropped later, he intimated.

Deputy sheriffs Mays and Hall were appointed temporarily and had resigned, it was said.

VISITOR HERE

F. P. Bell, of Hartford, Ky., county attorney of Ohio county, arrived Wednesday for a visit here with friends. Mr. Bell two years ago, quit a secure position as principal of the Martin consolidated school in this county to return to his home county, Ohio, a Republican county, to make the race for county attorney on the Democratic ticket. Friends here feared he was making a mistake. But he wasn't. "The Times and his many friends in this county are glad to know."

Her mother had been in ill health for several years and had recently suffered an attack of influenza. She was a member of the Baptist Church for years.

ARTIST-TEACHER'S CAREER COLORFUL

If experience is the best teacher, then an incident or two from the life of MARICIA BAILEY, artist-teacher, who has recently come among us, should serve to recommend her.

As a young girl, she won a piano scholarship in London, which gave her three years among the art centers of Germany. She tells stirring stories of the keen competition in the conservatory of music for prizes, and the right to perform with an orchestra and the romantic student life around Weimar and Leipzig.

No English teacher is content without a diploma from the Royal Academy of Music in London; so a year's study in London at the Royal Academy and at the internationally famous "Madame Schuyler" followed, and gained Miss Bailey her teacher's diploma (the R. A. M.) while still very young.

A year of apprenticeship as a teacher followed at Prestonsburg, and she came to this county as a full-fledged teacher of piano, voice and German was her reward—for the English here to sing "Home Sweet Home" from a distance.

Then came the stirring invitation to visit relatives in America one summer. Chicago's skyscrapers and grand open square courts completely won her heart, and when a well-known musician offered her a position on this side in an American conservatory, she stayed here. Then came concert tours out West in Buffalo and San Francisco and the thrilling conservatory routine of faculty concerts, student concerts, graduations in winter. One summer found Miss Bailey in New York looking longingly at a departing liner—Why not go back and have a look at the old country and show them how one grows in America?

Two days later found her on board the Olympic-bound for Southampton—and two months later on the Celtic bound for New York again. The question, "When do you sail?" is pretty general among musicians and dancers in New York every spring—there are music festivals to attend in Salzburg, in Palma-de-Mallorca and summer courses in Italy and Paris, with all the joy of another land, another language and exciting travel adventures. And so an expensive habit of "crossing" begins.

In Palma de Mallorca in 1935, Miss Bailey actually found an American school with an occupant of Pavlova as a dancing teacher and she accepted a position over there to accompany this teacher, Caterina Frutter, and assist in preparing the younger pupils for the frequent public recitals.

That came the war—scares, schools closed or moved to safe, little Belgium. Pupils sent back to America. It all happened a little late—in September—so Miss Bailey resolved to paddle her own canoe in Kentucky this year—and she tells us that little Kentuckians are just as bright and eager and jolly to teach as New Yorkers, Baltimoreans, Clevelanders, Montanans or what-have-you?

15-DAY PERIOD OF GRACE GIVEN

Auto Licenses Must Be Procured by January 15, Governor Warns

Fifteen days of grace were extended Tuesday night by Governor A. B. Chandler to automobile owners who have not bought their 1936 license plates.

And these 15 days will be all the Governor warned car owners. After January 15 it will be illegal to operate a motor vehicle not bearing the new license tags.

County clerks over the state found license tag sales at low ebb New Year's morning, and, several days prior to January 1, it has been said by certain clerks that early buying of tags had been so slow that it would be impossible to supply plates to every car-owner before the first of the year.

Last year, County Clerk A. B. Meade said here Wednesday, there were 135 automobiles and trucks licensed in Floyd county. At noon Wednesday only about 125 car owners had bought 1936 tags.

$10,000,000 GAS TAX IS INDICATED

State's Gasoline Revenue For Year Almost Million Dollars Ahead of 1934

The state of Kentucky collected $27,386.19 in gasoline tax for the month of October which is $31,970.05 more than was collected in October, 1934, an increase of 9.6%. The total collections for the first ten months of 1935 were $5,297,893.34. This is an increase of $721,060.49 over the first ten months of 1934 when collections were $7,676,833.35. This is a 9.39% gain over last year. The total collections for the twelve months of 1934 were $5,297,893.34. If the months of November and December show the same rate of gain as the previous ten months, the Kentucky gasoline tax will produce $10,711,752.11 in 1935. This will be a gain in excess of eight hundred thousand dollars over 1934 and an increase over 1933 of over one and three-quarter million dollars. Gasoline tax collections for the past four years are as follows:

1932	$5,983,822.70
1933	8,216,249.03
1934	9,207,106.37
1935 (estimated)	10,671,752.11

The 1935 gasoline tax collections will represent tax on approximately 201,435,000 gallons of gasoline. If the gasoline tax rate in Kentucky was 4 cents instead of 5 cents a gallon, the state would have realized $8,057,000, almost as much as the 5 cent tax produced in 1932 and 1933. Kentucky gasoline consumers will also pay the federal government 1 cent per gallon on the 201,435,000 gallons of gasoline used in 1935, amounting to $2,014,350.00. Kentucky's total gasoline tax bill will doubtless be well over $12,000,000.00 in 1935.

WINS SHIRLEY TEMPLE DOLL IN CONTEST

Little Miss Rosanne Corbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Corbin, of Prestonsburg, won the Shirley Temple doll and wardrobe trunk offered by The Times in its recent subscription contest.

This prize doll outfit, which included doll wearing apparel and an autographed photograph of the Shirley Temple, was awarded Rosanne on December 24. As a reward for her assistance and the assistance of her friends she received a prize which would have gladdened the heart of any little girl.

The Times enjoyed this contest. We, of course, welcomed those subscriptions and then there was the pleasure of knowing that the smaller dolls we gave and the prize Shirley Temple doll would be used to make Christmas happier for the children who received them.

WEEKSBURY UNDER QUARANTINE AFTER MALADY CLAIMS 3

Spinal Meningitis Outbreak Believed Under Control After 5 Cases Develop TWO SURVIVE

With three persons dead of spinal meningitis after five cases of the disease developed there early last week, the Caleb Fork section of Weeksbury on Left Beaver Creek was under quarantine, and the armed guards being stationed at the entrance to that part of the mining camp to prevent entrance to or departure from Caleb Fork.

Of the two survivors of the disease, one may die. Dr. Martin Rasmussen, director of the Floyd health department, said Tuesday this outbreak is Wavy Johnson, a 12-year-old boy. The other survivor, Lela Bowen, 22, is convalescing.

Immediately upon learning of the threatened epidemic at Weeksbury, Dr. Rasmussen asked the state board of health for serum with which to treat meningitis sufferers. With the aid of operation of coal company officials and Dr. Meade at Weeksbury, he also caused armed guards to be placed at the entrance to Caleb Fork and at the homes where cases of the malady had developed. The Weeksbury and Caleb Fork schools, at a Christmas vacation when the meningitis outbreak came, remain closed.

"We don't anticipate any further spread of the disease," Dr. Rasmussen told The Times Tuesday morning. "We have taken the only steps possible to curb its spread, and these are isolation and quarantine, since there is no medical preventive measure to be taken. The weather has been in our favor, discouraging people of the stricken community from visiting among each other. Full cooperation has been given by the Koppers Coal Company officials, and if the same vigilance is maintained we have employed in the past week danger of an epidemic should soon pass."

No medical authorities believe they have traced the disease from Marrowbone, Pike county, to Weeksbury. At Marrowbone several cases of what was termed there as "brain fever" developed. Members of Joe Johnson's family, the first to be taken to Weeksbury, visited on Marrowbone, about two weeks before the outbreak of meningitis at that place or in the vicinity of a home where the "brain fever" cases were reported. "Names of the dead from meningitis were not available when this was written Tuesday morning."

Women Have Lost Ground in Last Few Years, Claims Judge

Feminist From West Says a Change in Tactics Is Needed.

Judge George Bullock, of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, a recent visitor in Washington, D. C., believes that women have "lost ground" in the last few years.

Time to Co-operate. "Women in the past have won some concessions—suffrage, for example—by "warlike" tactics."

Contrary to the stand of most women in public life and in organized business, Judge Bullock is convinced that in the last few years women in this country have their wings clipped.

Development of this theory she said she had noticed how often women in high positions set out to execute their ideas, regardless of the opinions of men and women with whom they worked.

E. P. ARNOLD

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Prestonsburg, Kentucky

The saddest of human endeavor is that of funeral director. It is his solemn duty to be methodical and business like in the midst of the most poignant grief to which the human race is heir.

The burden of introducing the sordid commonplace details of a burial into the sorrowing household is his duty. This is a task that requires great tact and diplomacy. He must be a man who combines gentleness of manner and technical learning and will lend dignity to the occasion.

Such a person is Mr. Arnold. Years of experience have given him an insight the elements of funerals and the psychology of this type of grief. His duty does not cease after the last clod of earth has been thrown upon the mound containing all that was once dear and precious to the bereaved family. In many ways he has helped the bereaved to become reconciled to their loss.

In a word, he is more than an undertaker; he is a messenger of sympathy that really consoles, in addition to being an expert in his line, he is very considerate in his charges for his excellent service.

The continued success with which he has met may therefore be understood, for he is constantly doing yeoman service for the community, which he so ably serves. Mr. Arnold and associates are deserving and appreciate your patronage.

MR. BEV L. STURGILL

JAILER OF FLOYD COUNTY

To serve as County Jailer is indeed a complicated problem far more difficult than which the average person is aware. Particularly when the duties are carried on with such a remarkable degree of satisfaction as rendered by Mr. Bev L. Sturgill, present Floyd county jailer.

In addition to the numerous duties, he must be a person of genial nature and use great tact and diplomacy in caring for the inmates which are placed in his keeping. He must be ever alert to prevent possible escapes and is always subject to danger of the most violent nature.

He is always courteous to the visitors who call to see a friend or loved one who has become entangled in the arms of the law, yet he must always be cautious for fear some ungrateful visitor might bring in an instrument which will aid in a jailbreak.

Mr. Sturgill has always rendered to our citizens and the inmates every service that is practical. He keeps all the buildings which come under his care clean and sanitary throughout, serves the prisoners clean, wholesome and well-cooked food, and in every endeavor he has served faithfully, honestly and satisfactorily.

And the citizens of Floyd county are unanimous in expressing their gratitude to Mr. Sturgill, for so ably living up to the oath he has taken.

The office that he now holds marks the second official office for Mr. Sturgill, he having been elected sheriff of this county preceding his present term as Jailer.

Their prices are most reasonable and you should make it a place for meeting your friends. You will be well pleased with the courtesy, friendliness and convenience offered by Miss Patton and her efficient associates.

HONORABLE FORREST D. SHORT

County Attorney

To hold the office of County Attorney demands diverse abilities not possessed by every barrister. He must be familiar with the important proceedings and must show a rare tact and broad view of life in general, plus a keen insight into the frailties of human nature.

This is a large order to fill and it is no doubt gratifying to the citizens of this section to know that they have such a man as Forrest D. Short so ably filling this post. With a background of large academic knowledge, supplemented by extensive practical experience, Attorney Short, whose offices are Prestonsburg, Ky., has shown a decided spirit in favor of this public service.

During the first eight months of his seating in office Mr. Short was occupied in the largest amount of litigation ever before known in the history of Floyd county, and owing to the vast amount of pending legal matters, he devoted practically night and day to the straightening up of all matters concerned with his office.

His practice was not only large but lucrative as well. Thus to devote himself to the office of County Attorney, at the comparatively great gesture of the kind of sincere interest Attorney Short holds in the county which he so ably represents.

Prior to his taking office as County Attorney Mr. Short was busily engaged in practicing law as this bar. For eight months was occupied by making a vast amount of litigation never before in the history of the county.

MAGGARD AND FIELDS

Prestonsburg, Kentucky

The most important establishment in any community is the one that can furnish the thousand and one needs for the people the most economically and satisfactorily, and it was not until the advent of this popular store that this economical source of supply was available to the buying public. Most any article purchased at this store represents a saving of from 10 to 25 percent. The ability of such firms in placing these mammoth stocks at your disposal at such significant prices was the direct result of the latter day commercial idea in the history of the country. It has placed within the reach of the most humble many articles that they would otherwise have to do without.

The idea of collective buying for cash, depending upon the great volume of business for the profits has won the world and is being accorded a nationwide patronage of people from every walk of life.

The public has long since learned not to judge this store's merchandise by the price it is sold for. In buying large stocks they are able to demand price concessions which are enormous and by passing this saving on to the buying public they can sell for less.

To detail the many and varied lines they carry would be wholly impossible within this limited space. They maintain no great special bargain days at this store. It is a special bargain day — from morning 'till night. You have proven in the past that the qualities are good, you also know that the prices are the lowest and the service unexcelled — what more could you ask?

Any community, large or small, is fortunate in possessing this kind of a store to furnish the people of this section in such an economical manner. Maggard and Fields' 5 and 10c Store deserves the large patronage it enjoys and feel that it will continue to do so in the years to come.

TRIBUTE TO TROY B. STURGILL

CIRCUIT CLERK

There is no department in the government of Floyd county that calls for greater ability than the office of Circuit clerk. Mr. Troy B. Sturgill is well fitted for this office by reason of his extensive experience and natural ability. He is a person whose splendid judgment has been ripened by those years of invaluable service rendered to Floyd county and its people.

Mr. Sturgill is one that has never forgotten that "public service is a public trust." With intimate knowledge of all the problems involved, the duties of his office are well placed in his keeping.

During his service as Circuit Clerk, Mr. Sturgill has become known to hundreds, winning the regard of everyone with whom he has come in contact. His conduct of the trust reposed in him has inspired an unusual degree of public confidence, for he has proven himself highly proficient and has displayed an honesty of purpose. He especially has shown a desire to assist the poor, and they are recognized when having business in his office, same as the rich.

known institution is of accommodation and convenience to the customer. Liberal, courteous, without being rarefied, conservative, without being hide-bound. The best interest of its customers is always consulted and they determine the course it shall follow in every instance, except where those interests would conflict with or prove a menace to the welfare of the community at large.

Their policy has drawn to this institution a large clientele, every one of whom is a real friend, just as the institution is a real friend to all whom it serves. This bank, of course, conducts a general banking business. Its service and advice are sought by the largest corporations as well as by the humblest individuals, and in every instance the same courteous treatment careful attention given to the extended and the same courteous attention given to the problems presented.

Open or checking and savings accounts are carried as a part of the bank's regular business, as well as drafts on domestic and foreign points. Collections are promptly made and every assistance in the way of loans is rendered that is consistent with good banking.

Its soundness has never been questioned. Its officers are men of highest standing, of irreproachable character and unassailable repute. They adhere to the soundest principles of banking and are well deserving of the magnificent patronage that has been extended to their ably managed institution.

TRIBUTE TO HON. O. C. HALL

Commonwealth's Attorney

The office of commonwealth's attorney demands divers ability not possessed by every barrister. He must be familiar with the important established precedents and must show rare tact and a broad view of life in general, plus a keen insight into the frailties of human nature.

This is a large order, to fill, and it is indeed gratifying to the people to know that they have such a person as the Hon. O. C. Hall so ably filling this important post.

Writes For Times

IRVIN H. COBB Whose Column of Humorous Comment is Now Feature of This Paper.

With a background of academic knowledge, supplemented by extensive practical experience, Attorney Hall, whose offices are in Prestonsburg, Ky., has shown a decided interest in favor of this public service.

Mr. Hall has sent to the state reformatory a total of 296 persons, white men, two white women and one colored man during the two years' administration from his judicial district.

Before being elected to the office that he now so ably fills, he was very busily engaged in practicing law in this section, and his practice was not only very large, but lucrative as well. Thus, to devote his time and himself to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney at the comparatively low salary it carries, is in itself a great gesture of sincere interest that Mr. Hall holds in Floyd county which he so nobly represents.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and appreciation to Mr. Hall for the way he has conducted himself in the office that the good people of this county have entrusted in his care, and wish him the continued success he so rightfully merits.

TO TAKE MYSTERY OUT OF BANKING

By ROBERT V. FLEMING, President, American Bankers Association

The American Bankers Association has cooperated wherever it could properly do so in every measure for national recovery. It has offered constructive recommendations for such changes in banking laws as we recognize were necessary, and now have a better law under which to operate. The Banking Act of 1935 affords an opportunity for a broader service and, at the same time, retains the fundamentals which we believe are so vital to our national welfare and which have yielded a large part in bringing our country, in a comparatively short space of time, to the position of the greatest industrial nation on the earth.

The Public and Banking. It is necessary that the public have a thorough understanding of the functions of banks, what they can do and what they cannot do. It is equally recognized that to many people the business of banking is still somewhat of a mystery. We should frankly explain these functions to the public, acquaint them with the latest conception and understanding between the banks and the people of the country. It will also be one of our objectives to take the mystery out of banking wherever it exists in the public mind.

Banking Conferences. A series of Regional Conferences on Banking Service will be held in strategic sections of the country, covering all types of banking. The new banking laws and the regulations issued thereunder will be carefully analyzed so that our bankers will have a thorough understanding of the broadened services now made possible. The nature of public relations and how we can best serve the people of our communities will be another topic of discussion. Clinics or forums on the most vexing questions of interest to bankers and the problems confronting them in their particular localities will also be included in these conferences.

PUBLIC ATTITUDE HELPS THE BANKS

Annual Bankers Convention Says People Have Had Confidence Restored—Recommends Changed Government Policy

The restoration of public confidence in banking has put it in the position where it can function fully and vigorously in playing its full economic part in the progress of recovery, and the American Bankers Association in its annual convention resolutions.

"The passage of a generally constructive banking law in the Banking Act of 1935 has stabilized the banking situation and enabled bankers to devote undivided attention to the normal administration of their institutions in promoting the business and public welfare of their communities," the resolutions said.

"We feel that it is a particularly important feature of this law that it aims to create through the revision of the Federal Reserve Board a Supreme Court of Finance which, with the non-political appointment of exceptional competent men, should constitute one of the greatest forward steps in building a sound banking and credit system for this country."

"The Government in Banking. Another resolution said: "We particularly emphasize the desirability of the retirement of government from those fields of extending credits of various types which can be adequately served by privately owned institutions. We recognize that the exigencies of the war period and the action made necessary a large participation by government for a time in the task of meeting the public's emergency financial needs.
