WEEKSBURY MAN DIES, RESULT OF BULLET WOUNDS

HUSBAND INQUIRING ABOUT FATALITY WOUNDED SUNDAY

JOHNSON ARRESTED

One Thacker, 34-year-old, Weeksbury, died in the Methodist hospital, Knoxville, Sunday after three bullets from a revolver had been fired Saturday afternoon by James Johnson, 21, taxi-driver, into his body.

The shooting took place at Weeksbury, at Henry Blackley's liquor store. One report received here says that the shooting resulted from Thacker's inquiry after a reported insult of his wife by Johnson. This report says that when Thacker called Johnson to the door to ask him about what he had said to Thacker's wife, Johnson refused to draw when the latter's revolver slipped from his belt and down his trouser leg.

Two of Johnson's bullets, fired from a .22-caliber Iver Johnson revolver, struck Thacker in the chest and in the shoulder. Johnson was brought to jail here Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson, and he was released Monday under $2,000 bond.

The victim was a native of Weeksbury and had been employed for some time in the mines of Weeksbury. He leaves a wife. The body was taken to Knoxville, where burial was made Wednesday by the family cemetery.

BETSY LAYNE YOUTH SUCCEDES THURSDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Russell Reed, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Reed of Betsy Layne, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Thursday last week as the result of heart disease and high blood pressure from which he had suffered for years.

The victim was reared at Hager Hill, Johnson county, and had many friends in both counties. He had lived with his parents, four sisters and one brother.

The body was taken from Betsy Layne Friday to Hager Hill, thence to East Point, where funeral rites were conducted Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Christian Church, the Rev. Honegutt officiating. Burial was made at Hager Hill under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

LIKE OLD TIMES--HORSE TRADING AND BAD ROADS

It looked like old times again in Fristonsburg this week. The boys were "hoss-jockeying" up and down Court street in front of the courthouse. Scene No. 1 from the good, old days.

Scene No. 2: Cars of all makes and sizes stuck in the mud at the Mayo Trail at the upper limits of town. Remember "way back when?" Little or no gravel has been added for some time to the road surface.

ILLNESS OF WEEK IS FATAL TO FARMER AT AGE OF 78, FEB. 22ND

George Thomas Blackburn, 78 years old, died at his home on Buffalo Creek Saturday as a result of complications attendant upon an advanced age. He had been in ill health for some time, but became seriously ill only a week before his death.

A well-known farmer and citizen of high repute, "Uncle Tom," as he was known to his acquaintances, had been a member of the Baptist Church for many years. He is survived by six sons and two daughters: Frank, of Lancaster; Buddy, Tommy, George, Floyd and Albert, all of Buffalo; Mrs. Alice Ely, of Jones Creek; and Mrs. Alice Ray, of Betsy Layne. He also leaves one brother, Jeff Blackburn, of Prestonsburg, and five half-brothers. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman Blackburn, preceded him in death three years ago.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the home, with the Rev. A. J. Wright officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT VICTIM SUCCEDES

BUFFALO YOUTH DIES WHILE ON OPERATING TABLE WEDNESDAY MORNING

Wallace Blackburn, 17 years old of Wonder, this county, died on the operating table of the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, after his arm had been amputated.

The youth was accidentally shot through the shoulder Friday last week, when his shotgun was discharged as he felt while hunting in the woods of his father, Tom Blackburn, on Buffalo Creek. He was taken to the hospital Friday night, and ineffectual aid was given to him to have made the operation necessary.

Surviving the victim are his parents, six brothers, and sisters. He was a grandson of Tom Blackburn, who died Saturday on Buffalo. The body was prepared for burial by E. P. Arnold, and was taken to the home at Wonder for interment Friday under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

TWO HURT WHEN AUTO WRECKS ON MOUNTAIN

Haswell Gilliam, of Shelby Creek, this county, was severely hurt and his automobile damaged almost beyond repair early Friday morning when the auto fell while making a curve on Abbot mountain and plunged into a post at the edge of the highway. But for the post, the car would have plunged more than 100 feet over a precipitous cliff.

John McCown, of Prestonsburg, youth who was with Gilliam, suffered an injured foot. He said Gilliam was driving at high speed when the accident occurred. Gilliam was taken to the Palmetto hospital, suffering from a dislocated hip and other injuries. He is recovering, it was said this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hughes and Mrs. John Webb, of Jenkins, Ky., and Mrs. Jody Hughes, of Prestonsburg, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Barbour in Huntington, W. Va.

Mrs. James Webb and son, James, Jr., of Lexington, were in Prestonsburg Tuesday on business.

VETERAN ENGINEER IN GAS WORK DIES

LOUIAN BUNYARD STRICKEN SATURDAY EN ROUTE TO WORK NEAR ALLEN

Louian Bunyard, 51 years old, engineer at the Allen compressor station of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, died at 4 o'clock Monday morning at the Golden Rule hospital, Paintsville, as a result of a paralytic stroke suffered two days earlier while en route to work.

Mr. Bunyard was stricken about 8 o'clock Saturday morning while walking from his home at Allen to the compressor station near Beaver Creek. He was found shortly after on Saturday was taken to the hospital at Paintsville. His death is deeply regretted by his friends, and relatives throughout this section.

The deceased came to this county about two years ago. He was a native of the Lock Creek section of Johnson county, and had been an employe of the gas company since 1922, having been successively at various compressor stations. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lula Bunyard, and six children.

The body was prepared for burial by Mr. Jones of the Palmetto Furniture Company, and was taken to Lock Creek, near Flat Gap, for burial Wednesday morning in the family cemetery.

NET TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS NAMED

WALKER AND LAUGHLIN TO REFEREE AT MARTIN, MAY 2ND TO 6TH

Earl Walker, former coach of the Paintsville Tigers, and Frank Laughlin, formerly of Wayland and well known in the district basketball tournament which begins at Martin next Thursday.

Basketball teams of this county are undergoing training in preparation for the tournament, and last games of the regular season will be played this week. Prestonsburg and Martin play here Friday night in their last regular game of the season.

Maytown, Betsy Layne, Martin and Lacey stand out as pre-tournament favorites on their season records, with Maytown boasting the best victory string of the group. This team's loss here last week to the Paintsville Tigers, a vastly improved outfit with the addition of Brown, was its first of the year.

Maytown played without the services of Bairdridge, one of the five most dependable regulars, with an unimposing record and lost record, is looked upon in some quarters as a probable tournament dark horse. The Blackcats meet Garrett in their first tournament game and last Saturday night they lost to this current team, 20-16. The "cats" were without the services of Craft and Laferty.

Friday night at Elkhorn City, the Prestonsburg boys lost to Cumberland, one of this section's best teams, 31 to 22, after a hot contest. They defeated Auxler here last week, 23-14, after trailing at the half, 11 to 5.

Martin, tournament host, will present to Johnson one of the best individual players in Eastern Kentucky. The team, though it has met with recent reverses, will be hard to handle on its own turf.

BODY RETURNED TO FLOYD

Body of Miss Jacobs, 19 years old, was returned from the Central State hospital, Ickland, Ky., here Friday. The body was taken to the home at Buffalo, where funeral rites were conducted Tuesday and burial was made under the direction of G. D. Ryan. Mr. Jacobs had been ill for about four months, and cause of death was given as pneumonia.

R. H. Koch moved this week to the John Allen residence property on Third avenue.

WHITIS INVENTS ANGLING DEVICE

An invention made by Bee Whitis, Pikeville, superintendent of the Columbia Fuel Corporation (successor to The Piney Oil and Gas Company) is one of the most revolutionary contrivances yet devised for the convenience of fishermen.

Whitis' device of angling has been in vogue for some time. It is a snuggled hook and easily and quickly releases it. At the same time it is a complete line of the fish, causing the plunger to drive the hook loose. It is said to combine all the features, especially liked by fishermen of this section, and can be used with any type of lure. The device is made of brass and is estimated, with old-type equipment.

The new spinner is now in process of manufacture and will be available to the fisherman of this section. It is distributed by the Jiffy-Kicker Company, Pikeville, and by J. C. Ward, of Prestonsburg, as representative.

WHO'S WHO, SUIT SEEKS TO LEARN

MEX-UP IN ALLEN TOWN BOARD CAUSES SUITERS TO FILE ACTION

A petition in equity filed in the office of Circuit Clerk Troy B. Sturgill Saturday by Reuben Allen, representative of the town of Allen, seeks an ascertainer who are the rightful trustees of the town and whose orders to follow in the disbursement of town funds.

The petition names as defendants both old and new members of the board: J. T. Park, Eugene Allen, Henry Porter, David Wright, Sol Crisp, Joe Fannin, Lum Davis, Frank Parsons, Herman Porter and Clarence Salyers.

On January 6 David Wright and Henry Porter tendered their resignations to the town board. The board accepted these resignations and appointed Clarence Salyers and Herman Porter in their stead. It is contended, however, that neither acceptance of the resignations nor appointment of new board members came within the legal jurisdiction of the board of trustees. Sol Crisp, another angler, entered outside the corporate limits of Allen.

Joe Fannin, Lum Davis and Jess Laferty filed their petition for appointment of the board from County Judge W. L. Stambaugh to replace the two who had resigned and the one who had moved away.

The contention arose then, that if the board could neither accept resignations nor fill vacancies, Porter and Wright yet were trustees.

Both factions are ordering the property not to be sold until the other. An early court decision is asked by Mr. Allen.

ATTEND BANKERS' ASSN. MEETING AT PAINTSVILLE

George P. Archer, Jo M. Davidson and J. D. Harkin, attended the meeting of Group Seven, Kentucky Bankers' Association, held at the M. E. Church, South Paintsville, Friday evening.

D. H. Jordan, cashier of the Second National Bank, Paintsville, president of the organization, presided. Speakers included O. H. Walker, of the State Banking Department; Ralph L. Wetters, Lincoln Bank and Trust Company, chairman Educational Committee, Kentucky Bankers' Association; John W. Woods, Ashland, who led a round-table discussion on the subject of Federal Reserve Insurance; and John M. Yost, Pikeville, cashier of the First National Bank and president of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, who spoke on Bank Examination.

18-YEAR-OLD MOTHER VICTIM OF CHILD BIRTH

Mrs. Orla Lamberts, 18 years old, wife of Leroy Lamberts, died at her home on Rock Fork, near Garrett, Wednesday morning shortly after her baby was born. She was a granddaughter of W. H. Childers, and was one of the community's best women. She is survived by her husband, two children and several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday, and burial was made in the family cemetery on Rock Fork under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

FORMER POLICEMAN SHOT BY SALISBURY

Ep Laferty, former Garrett officer, was shot through both arms early Sunday morning by Taylor Salisbury in the postroom of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Garrett. One of Salisbury's bullets chipped the bone in Laferty's wrist and another caused a flesh wound in the other arm. Laferty claimed that Salisbury fired upon him without provocation. Salisbury claimed, however, that he fired only after Laferty had punched him with his revolver and fired a shot which passed through his forehead. Laferty, a son of Chief of Police Clifford Salisbury, of Wayland, executed $1,000 bond to answer to the grand jury on a shooting and wounding charge.

MRS. COALGROVE IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

WELL-KNOWN BETSY LAYNE WOMAN SUFFERS TUESDAY AT AGE OF 63

Mrs. Lucy Coalgrove, 63 years old, well-known Floyd county woman, died at her home at Betsy Layne Tuesday morning at 6:45 o'clock. Her death was given as the cause of death.

The widow of Joseph Coalgrove, prominent Betsy Layne man who died seven years ago, Mrs. Coalgrove was one of her community's best women. She has been a devout member of the Christian Church for the last 20 years.

Surviving her are four sons and one daughter: Sherman, Ralph, Howard and C. K. Coalgrove, of Betsy Layne, and Mrs. Arley Danagon, of Williamson, W. Va. She also leaves two sons, Mrs. Edith Garthoffe and Mrs. Sarah Senate. Funeral rites were conducted from the Coalgrove home Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock by the Rev. T. F. Meade, of the Christian Church, and burial was made at Betsy Layne under the direction of G. D. Ryan.

LEFT BEAVER MAN IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Frank Grizby, 62 years old, of Albion, this county, died at the Paintsville hospital Monday morning at 8 o'clock after a three-day illness of pneumonia.

The son of the late Andrew Grizby, Spanish-American War veteran, the deceased was well-known in the Left Beaver section. He was an employe of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Wayland. He is survived by his widow and six children.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday and burial was made at Albion under the direction of G. D. Ryan.

Mrs. J. E. Hall and children are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barber, of Haysville.

TOWNS MAY OWN WATER SYSTEMS UNDER NEW LAW

In the face of strong opposition from utility interests, Governor Chandler last week signed the bill passed by the General Assembly at its recent session, giving towns of the second, third and fourth classes the right to own municipal water-works.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL REPEALING 1934 ACT; HALLED AS VICTORY FOR PEOPLE

This bill repealed the law enacted at the 1934 session of the Legislature giving the Kentucky Public Service Commission control over utility service for cities of a certain classification. The bill signed by Governor Chandler applies also to electric plants.

Both water and gas companies have been severely criticized for some time by consumers, from the standpoint of rates and service. The rates are exorbitant and the service of a decidedly inferior type, consumers allege.

The water plants of Pikeville and Martin, both municipal enterprises, are said to be operating very successfully and are pointed to by proponents of municipal-owned utility plants here as examples of the savings and profit possible to the public through operation of their own facilities. Both these plants were installed before the 1934 legislation was enacted placing utilities under the control of the Public Service Commission.

Little or no talk of the need of a municipal power plant here is heard, the consensus of consumer opinion being that the power company is affording good service.

STRONG OIL FLOW IN THREE WELLS

90-BARREL WELL DRILLED ON PRATER; WILLIAMS HITS OIL NEAR TRAM

Strong flow of oil in three wells drilled in the upper end of this county indicate possible development on the farm of Mrs. Chafeta Ryan, of East Beaver Creek. A well said to be producing 30 barrels of oil daily was drilled by the Wayland Natural Gas Company about six months ago. Marking of the product of this well was not begun. It covers until a few weeks ago.

P. B. Williams recently drilled in two strong oil-producing wells on the Stanley farm at Trum. Mr. Williams is marketing the oil but has never made actual tests, he says, of the daily output of the two wells. Both are said to be among the strongest in this section and the oil is of a very high grade.

PAPERS CONSOLIDATE

The consolidation of the Mountain Leader and the Leather County Leader, weekly newspapers, published at Whitesburg, is announced. The Leader, henceforth, it is stated, will be published on Tuesdays and Thursdays, both from the English office.

THE SALES TAX REVISED

The sales tax is not dead! Not in Salersville, anyhow. The city council, that place where February 14 voted a consumer tax of 10 cents on each quart of whiskey, wine, gin or brandy sold in the local retail limits of Salersville. The ordinance also imposes a 10-cent tax on each quart of the liquors, three cents on each half-pint and one cent on each bottle or 25 cents 70 cents. The tax is to operate in the same manner as the now-defunct state sales tax. Daily statements, under oath, are to be made by dispensers of liquors, with a monthly statement to be filed at the end of the month when the tax payment is due. The tax becomes effective March 1.

THE GREEDY DOCTOR
Dr. Samuel Harmon was not the only leader of a fake accident ring whose greed led to his downfall because he appropriated too much of the "take" to himself. But Dr. Harmon's case sheds interesting light upon the lack of honor among thieves.
Dr. Harmon first got into the business of faking accidents when he sprained his ankle while playing golf. He made it appear that the ankle had been injured when he was struck by an auto and through collusion collected damages.
This was only a small beginning for one as ambitious as Dr. Harmon. He didn't need to have himself "hurt" again. As a doctor he was in a position to suggest to poor patients who had received injuries at their homes or elsewhere, that they could translate those injuries into cash. For instance, one lady fell on a rug in her home, tearing the hem of her shoulder. When Dr. Harmon treated her, he told her she could have the shoulder fixed without its costing a cent. In fact, he said, she could make some money.
That night, according to arrangement, the woman fell beside a car as it backed out of a driveway. Under the doctor's guidance and help of a shyster lawyer, she sued for damages. Three months later, Dr. Harmon brought her some papers to sign and gave her a few dollars. He didn't tell her about the much larger sum which he had kept.

THE GODDESS AND HER TEMPLE. Presumably justice is the Roman goddess, Justitia. A goddess, handicapped in token of impartiality. That superior concept of justice personified as a noble, female figure. But when justice also is handcuffed the goddess becomes a pitiful thing. Thus, the goddess is reduced to the lowly status of a mere pawn in the hands of men, and is no more.

when murders are committed. All of us have known what were at first concealed to be distinctly crimes, to damage, etc. trial day, to plain cases of re-entrance. That a thorough investigation be made on the day of the murder or whatever crime was committed, statements of witnesses set down in writing and made under oath to be used as evidence in the trial, otherwise would not have been the stereotyped plea it is. Witnesses would not have been able to "forget" the truth and revise their version of the crime in the interest of the criminal. Justice would not have been handicapped.

IF— If human nature could be depended upon, if there were no such thing as politics, if Circuit Judges were appointed as Federal Judges and did not have to depend upon the next election, if all were as conscientious as some are—then the Times could endorse without reservation the following editorial which appeared in The Courier-Journal: THE NEW PROBATION LAW Kentucky's new, modern probation law has been approved by Governor Chandler and its in with the reorganization bill to be administered by the Division of Corrections, Department of Public Welfare, which also has supervision of paroles. The act is drastic, outbalancing Circuit Judges to place on probation any persons, except in cases where the jury has fixed the penalty as life imprisonment or death.

property or reimbursement for losses to an astonishing total. Where broad power is vested in the judiciary and the supervision of probationers, as this act and the reorganization bill make possible, is efficient. Probation has proved much more satisfactory than parole from prison. It saves the culprit from the handicap of a prison record, while the suspended judgment is an incentive to good conduct to keep out of prison; and it relieves the prisons of expense and congestion. The initiative vests with the Circuit Judges. If they accept the new responsibility courageously and make a strenuous effort in each case to inform themselves for intelligent exercise of their discretion, the beneficial effects of the innovation will be quickly realized. But, it must be remembered that this is an innovation and a radical one. It runs counter to some deep-rooted prejudices. Popular passion of the moment, against which jury rooms cannot be insulated, does not spare the bench. There is less danger of rashness, or discrimination in the operation of the probation system than there is of timidity in initiating it. Kentucky Circuit Judges should have the active encouragement of the better element of their communities until probation becomes an established feature of criminal procedure.

IS FOOTBALL WORTH IT? The fact that Herbie Tade, injured University of Tennessee football player, probably never will regain his personality or have a normal physique gives local points to the question, "Is football worth it?" Certainly it wasn't to Tade, or to his relatives and close friends. But one must remember that even quiet games leave their fatalities and the most ordinary activities, their casual life, may have died of excitement at cards. Strollers have fallen and injured themselves mortally. Householders have been crippled in tumbles downstairs. As these instances do not constitute general cases against card-playing or walking, or staid descending, so the injury to Tade, regrettable as it is, falls short of an indictment against football. One can abort at a judgment of the sport, on the basis of injury to participants, only by comparing the total number of casualties with the total number of players, and then asking whether or not the game is worth the casual. Even so individual opinions will differ. The fact is, nevertheless, that football, the number of participants taken into account, is little more hazardous a sport than numerous others that excite criticism on that point. And whatever one's attitude toward it, games should hold the possibility of injury or even death will be negligible as long as people enjoy watching competitive demonstrations of physical prowess and so long as other Herbie Tades are willing to present them.—Lexington Leader.

WAYLAND A bit that the Elk Horn Coal Corporation, whose mine here is one of the largest in Floyd county, some of the good work ahead was seen early this past week when a third crew of fifty men was started to work. The hire-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Copley, of these men puts Wayland's, Mr. Corver, electrician here for number of unemployed men down to the Elk Horn Coal Corporation, has a very low figure, and it is certain, been confined to life home by illness by the means of giving a life to a few more days, but so able to be number of persons who have for a long time been without anything. Mr. Percy, painter here for the deficit to the Elk Horn Coal Corporation, was visiting in Huntington, W. BLAZE DAMAGE IS PLACED AT $5,000

NEW ADDITION TO VALLEY INN HERE DAMAGED BY FIRE MONDAY Fire and water damage, the result of a blaze which broke out shortly after 8 o'clock Monday morning in the new brick addition to the Valley Inn here, is estimated at four thousand to five thousand dollars.

A portion of the roof was badly damaged by the flames, plastering dropped from the effects of water used by the fire department in fighting the fire, and much of the furniture suffered water damage. Mrs. Maggie Sellards, owner of the hotel, said a thorough check of wiring and fuses, indicated that the blaze resulted from neither of these sources. Birds had made their way into the attic and had begun nesting there, Mrs. Sellards said, and she believes that the fire started as a result of a lighted cigarette or cigar being carried by a bird into that part of the structure. Only the brick construction of the addition, with a metal roof, held the flames within the small space covered. Guests in the part of the hotel affected by the fire were at no time endangered. The Zaintaville fire department was called here for assistance in fighting the blaze, but was not needed. Within an hour, a fire alarm called by the fire department was called here for assistance in fighting the blaze, but was not needed. Within an hour, a fire alarm called by the fire department was called here for assistance in fighting the blaze, but was not needed.

SHOULD GROW COVER

Experiments being made at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station show that great losses of nitrogen may occur, when lespedeza is grown without grass or a cover crop of winter grain following it. The tank in which lespedeza was left for the second year, from the tank in which the lespedeza was disked into the soil October 1, 1935, lost 127 pounds of nitrogen per acre by June 30. From the tank in which the lespedeza was left standing without disked into the soil, the rate of loss was 66 pounds per acre. From the tank in which the lespedeza was disked into the soil October 1, 1935, and rye seed, the rate of loss was two pounds per acre. In another tank the lespedeza was harvested September 1 and the soil left undisturbed; this tank lost nitrogen at the rate of 29 pounds per acre.

People Alarmed by New Powers

President's Admission of Peril to Liberties Stirs Critics

President Roosevelt's statement in his message to congress in which he said he had built up "new instruments of power," has caused widespread discussion. Among those criticizing the President's admission of increased authority and his public defense of it are individuals who previously have supported certain of his other policies. These critics point out that Mr. Roosevelt admitted the power he had "built up" would endanger liberties of the people if transferred from him to a successor in the future.

One of the discussions of this threat to constitutional safeguards appeared as an editorial in a recent issue of the Topinka Daily Capital, owned by Senator Arthur Capper, farm leader and publisher of Kansas. Senator Capper has been notably friendly toward most of the New Deal policies. Citizens Will Protest. The editorial declares that every citizen of the United States who loves liberty will protest against the admission of the President that he has built up instruments of power that threaten the people's liberties. The editorial is entitled "New Instruments of Power." Portions of it follow:

"In his remarkable message to congress last Friday evening President Roosevelt made the following astonishing statement: 'In 34 months we have built up new instruments of public power in the hands of a people's government this power is wholesome and proper. But in the hands of political puppets it would be a monstrous thing to provide shackles for the liberties of the people.'

Charles Francis McGee. "In other words," says the President of the United States boldly and defiantly declaring that he and his associates have built up a Fascist regime which by infringing upon the liberties of the people of the United States only so long as he, Mr. Roosevelt, continues in power.

"Every dictator in the world makes exactly the same claim. Neither Stalin, nor Mussolini, nor Hitler will admit that he is making a Fascist regime of the people he rules or is placing shackles on his subjects. 'Liberty Already Lost'.

"If what he says is true then we have already lost our liberty and there is no longer a government of the people, but it is a government of an autocratic tyrant as defined by Erasmus Darwin."

The editorial coincides with this part of President Roosevelt's own admission that he, in the last 34 months, has built up new instruments of power that makes it possible for a President to matter how authoritative he shakes the liberties of the people, ought to defeat him for re-election."

2,354 Employees of AAA Discovered on Pay Day

When the AAA decision was rendered the latest official figures of the Civil Service commission showed the AAA payroll carried 5,640 employees. Two weeks later it was announced 6,000 employees had been paid off. The extra 2,354 employees, it seems, had been working for AAA but had been listed as employees of the Treasury department.

As a matter of fact, however, the 2,000 employees thus disclosed are but a small part of the great army of men and women who have been working for AAA. Literally tens of thousands of persons have been hired by county agents throughout the country, the agents being given the right to employ as many persons as they see fit.

Whether the Griffiths bill would be introduced as a comprehensive reorganization proposal and passed law finally obstructed today, but it was known that such a plan was being considered by opponents of the "dollar" measure. The Griffiths bill was drafted by the National Association of Manufacturers and the American Industrial Union, following a 1934 survey of the State in 1934. Part of it was accepted and part of it rejected by the LaFolton forces when the 1934 reorganization act was enacted. The original Griffiths bill was sponsored in the Senate by the late James B. Griffith, Jr. of Hopkinsville.

RE-ORGANIZATION OPPOSITION SEEN

SENIOR DEPT. PLANS FACE BURST OF ATTACK; PATRON-AGE LOSSES OPPOSED

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 26.—Opposition to certain phases of Governor Chandler's governmental reorganization proposal began taking definite form today as the Senate and House representatives resumed consideration of the comprehensive bill drafted by the Governor's special reorganization commission headed by Gov. Chandler. C. W. Beckham, chairman of the opposition was accompanied by predictions of many legislators that it would require the assembly at least three weeks to dispose of the bill, consideration of which is the sole topic before the specific legislative session. Despite the expressed wish of Governor Chandler that the session last not more than two weeks.

At the same time there were well-founded reports that opponents of the Governor's reorganization plan would offer to substitute the Griffiths bill rejected by the LaFolton administration two years ago over the objection of the Chandler legislative forces.

A deluge of amendments was in the formative stage today and many changes were expected to be offered to Kentucky Statutes' Committee No. 1 in the house at a hearing called following adjournment of today's session. Members of the committee have promised to consider each and every amendment offered during the hearings arranged to make its report of amendments rejected by the committee, an administration controlled group, will have another opportunity to come up with proposals when the bill comes up on the floor of the house, probably next week.

Administration Senate leaders, proposed to confine discussion of the bill in that branch under committee of the whole procedure and to permit thorough consideration of the proposal before having the Senate Rules Committee make its report. The Governor's lieutenants in both branches voted to endorse the bill which would be disposed of practically as drafted within two weeks, despite opposition from minority groups.

Opposition to the bill centers principally on four phases of the Governor's plan. Foremost among the provisions of the bill being "set at naught" was the section proposing a one-man highway commission with an advisory commission lacking administrative authority or responsibility for the expenditure of the millions allotted annually to the road department. Most of the amendments proposed for this section of the bill seek to give the proposed $2,000,000 advisory members a voice in administration of the highway department's affairs or to retain the commission as it now is, with nine members have equal responsibilities.

Another section of the bill for which numerous amendments were being drafted is the chapter setting up a department of finance with practically absolute control over all state expenditures, and almost all state revenues. Many members of each house have expressed the opinion the bill would center too much authority in one person, the commissioner of finance responsible directly to the Governor.

Other sections of the bill that which opposition has been voiced would take the state fair and the state forestry department from control of the commissioner of agriculture and would redivide the state auditor of much of the power and patronage he now has. Both the present commissioner of agriculture, Garth K. Ferguson, of Lancaster, and the present auditor Ernest E. Shannon, of Loretto, were named by Tom Rhea, in his recent election. Friends of the two officials were prepared to wage a determined fight against these provisions.

NO FREE SEEDS

The United States Department of Agriculture has no free seeds for distribution, says a statement sent to the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

"For 13 years the United States Department of Agriculture has been trying to convince one hundred million people that it has no free seeds or plants," says the department. "Yet each year, as spring approaches, thousands of requests pour in from farms, schools and institutions. And all of the writers of these letters need allotment. Years ago, before 1923, an annual appropriation provided free seeds for the Department of Agriculture. But in 1923 the Congress decided to cancel the program. The Department has not only lost the money, it also has lost the habit."

Orligny's store has just closed a popularity contest run for the Martin high school girls. The winner is Miss Margaret Johns, a sophomore.

Miss Johns won the contest with a total of 5,202 votes. Miss Edna Collins ran second. The prize is an all-wool sweater in school colors bearing the words, "Miss Purple Flash." The sweater will be presented to Miss Johns at the district basketball tournament which is to be held in the local gymnasium March 2, 7 and 8. This was unanimously acclaimed her cheer leader for the next school year.

Walter Morris, colored, who knelt on a street in Buffalo and asked the law to take him in, was given three months on a vagrancy charge.
