SOCIAL SECURITY ACT IS EXPLAINED BY SECURITY BOARD

Those Eligible May Secure Independence by Meeting Government Requirements
EFFECTIVE AFTER 65.
To Employees of Industrial and Business Establishments, Factories, Shops, Mines, Mills, Stores, Offices and Other Places of Business
The United States Government will, in the near future, set up a Social Security account for you if you are eligible. To understand your obligations, rights and benefits, you should read the following general explanation.
There is now a law in this country which will give about 28,000,000 working people something to live on when they are old and have stopped working. This law, which gives other benefits, too, was passed last year by Congress and is called the Social Security Act.
Under this law the United States Government will send checks every month to retired workers both men and women after they have passed their 65th birthday and have met a few simple requirements of the law.
What This Means to You
This means that if you work in some factory, shop, mine, mill, store, or almost any other kind of business, you are insured from the time you are 21 years old or more and stop working. You will get a Government check every month of your life, if you have worked for some time (one day or more) in each of any 5 years after 1936, and have earned during that time a total of $2,000 or more.
The checks will come to you as a right. You will get them regardless of the amount of income you may have. These are what the law calls "Old Age Pensions."

Mrs. A. C. Harlowe Named Local Chairman of KTA
30th ANNIVERSARY

Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS
The 1936-Christmas Seals go on sale Friday by the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association.
Plans to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Christmas Seals are now under way not only in Kentucky and the nation but also, the entire world. Preparations have been under way for some time for the sale of Christmas Seals but the KTA had an agreement with the American Red Cross not to begin the sale of Christmas Seals until after Thanksgiving in order for them to complete their "Roll Call." About 16,000,000 seals will be turned over in Kentucky to aid in the fight against tuberculosis.
The Seal this year carries the face of Santa Claus and children, as well as grown-ups will want to buy them and make use of them.
Tuberculosis is perhaps our greatest enemy and succeeds from the sale of Christmas Seals used to fight this dread disease.
Mrs. A. C. Harlowe has been named local chairman of the Seal sale.

Cats Top Paintsville

25-0 In Last Game
Prestonsburg began the second period 18 yards from the Paintsville goal. Craft smash ed the line for two yards, but strong comeback to find the season in excellent fashion Thanksgiving Day.
The Cats plunged laterally, passed, field sited and punted their way to a 25 to 0 triumph over their accustomed season-end foes, the Paintsville Tigers.
The game was played before a large Thanksgiving Day crowd, of around 500 many of whom came late, due to a mix up on game time.
The Cats were superior in almost every department of play. The Tigers, slow in each organizing a team this fall put up a bare but respectable tackle cleanly and were in the game to the last.
One of the happier features of the game was the good teamwork shown by both sides. Rowdiness that marked other games between Paintsville and Prestonsburg teams heretofore was missing.
Prestonsburg first scored early in the second period, but due to poor punting the Tigers had been fighting back to win, most of the quarter. But hard craft tackling that kept the Black and Gold team out of the end zone.

The dynamite was planted under the bedroom in which Mrs. Hall usually slept, and the bed which the usually occupied was blown to pieces. Owing to the fear of a small boy to sleep by himself saved Mrs. Hall's life, as she left her own bedroom and went to an adjoining room to quiet the boy's fears.
Sheriff M. T. Stumbo, accompanied by several deputies went to the scene of the dynamiting early Monday morning. A bloodhound was brought to Jack's Creek from Huntington, W. Va., but no definite clues were uncovered.

COAL REGULATION UNNEEDED, CLAIM

C. and O. Officials Speak Before Pikeville Kiwanians Recently
With business conditions steadily improving, production and marketing of coal will continue to function under natural economic laws without the need of any federal regulation, according to P. D. Morton of Huntington, W. Va., chief rating commissioner of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, who addressed the Pikeville Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting here two weeks ago.
Explaining his choice of subject by the statement that except for the National Coal Association, the single coal operator or group of operators has as large an interest in coal as the C. and O. Railway. Mr. Morton continued by saying:
"Coal has become the very life of our railroad and as we look into the future we can see only coal as the principal source of revenue. The C. and O. has since the turn of the century, developed and served the richest area of coal known in the world. Early in the century the railroad problem was made up of trying to keep up with the Continued on page four."

SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

Age Benefits under the Social Security Act. If you prefer to keep on working after you are 65, the monthly checks from the Government will begin to come in when you decide to retire.

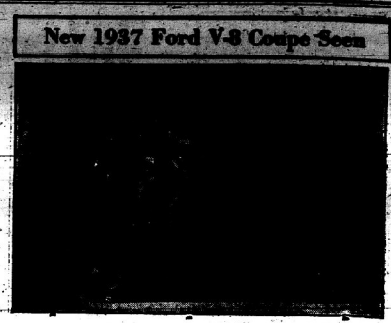

The Amount of Your Checks
 How much you will get when you are 65 years old will depend entirely on how much you earn in wages from your business or industrial employment between January 1, 1937, and your 65th birthday. A man or woman who gets good wages and has a steady job most of his or her life can get as much as $85 a month for life after age 65. The least you can get in monthly benefits if you come under the law at all is $10 a month.

If You Are Now Young
 Suppose you are making $25 a week and are young enough to go on working for 40 years. If you make an average of $25 a week for 52 weeks in each year, your check when you are 65 years old will be $33 a month for the rest of your life. If you make $50 a week, you will get $74.50 a month for the rest of your life after age 65.

If You Are Now Middle Aged
 But suppose you are about 55 years old now and have 10 years to work before you are 65. Suppose you make only $15 a week on the average. When you stop work at age 65 you will get a check for $19 a month for the rest of your life. If you make $25 a week for 10 years you will get a little over $23 a month from the Government as long as you live after your 65th birthday.

If You Should Die Before Age 65
 If you should die before you begin to get your monthly checks your family will get a payment in cash amounting to 3 1/2 cents on every dollar of wages you have earned after 1936. If, for example, you should die at age 61, and if you had earned $25 a week for 10 years before that time, your family would receive $455. On the other hand, if you have not worked enough to get the regular monthly checks by the time you are 65, you will get a lump sum, or if you should die, your family or estate would get a lump sum. The amount of this too, will be 3 1/2 cents on every dollar of wages you earn after 1936.

Taxes
 The same law that provides these old age benefits for you and other workers sets up new taxes to be paid to the United States Government. These taxes are collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the U. S. Treasury Department, and inquiries concerning them should be addressed to that bureau. The law also creates an "Old

New 1937 Ford V-8 Coupe Seen
 Age-Reserve Account" in the United States Treasury, and the tax will be taken out of your part of your employer. Your part of the tax will be taken out of your part of your employer. Your part of the tax will be taken out of your part of your employer. Your part of the tax will be taken out of your part of your employer.

Panthers, Blackcats In Scoreless Game Here

Panther and Blackcat were less than evenly matched in the game Saturday at Gasco Park last Saturday in Prestonsburg's home corner played before a record crowd. Four quarters of play saw the game end where 'twas begun with each side on the bad end of a 0 to 0 score. As for a moral victory, both teams might make claims. Without its brightly shining helmet, crashing back-rear, ineligible on account of too great age for high school play, Pikeville managed to hold off the local eleven when it threatened and being outplayed, refused to be outscored. Prestonsburg, too, had some honors: more gains, more runs, more first downs, the ball in Panther territory, a good threat as the game ended, apparently more aggressive. But the score board is a heartless machine that cares not a whit for moral victories and upper Big Sandy proves remains with the line; twice zero, score, a matter of debate. Each team had chances, although the Panthers only once threw their way beyond the three-foot field marker. On this occasion, in the third quarter, after being abetted by penalties against Prestone (77, Two blocked punts—one of which was recovered by Pikeville, and enabled it to make a first down; and three recovered fumbles all on the part of Allen, were other Blackcat notable doings. The first quarter was marked largely by punt exchanges with Mayo having the edge. On a spinner plays through center Jones made ground. In the second quarter the Blackcats made some gains but were not able to go far; and the Panthers, on a nice off tackle dash by Wig gins earned their only first down of the game. During the period Meadows blocked a punt on the visitors' 5-yard line. The Pikeville recovered. In the third period in which Pikeville had the best of things the Cats also made a thrust. Craft reeling off three off tackle thrusts to bring the oval down into the Panther territory. But the budding budding drive did not bloom and bring fruit. Passes were not frequent, each team attempting five. All of Pikeville's heaves bit the dust; one Prestonsburg's toss was received; another intercepted. The Cat made seven first down against Pikeville's three, only one of which was by the regular play route.

practically no surplus capacity. That competition between coal and natural gas and by electric power is more fancied than real; coal's position as an energy producer is still unchallenged, and will probably remain so for years to come. That, because of these facts, there is no need for federal regulation of the coal business. Mr. Morton predicted a bright future for the Big Sandy field, but suggested that instead of meeting seasonal demands for high production by importing labor which would become a charge on the community during slack seasons it would be better to permit mines to operate six days in weeks of heavy demand, giving each employe a chance for more work with a corresponding increase in pay. —Pike County News.

COAL REGULATION

Continued on page one. Expanding coal traffic. But since 1932, the Chesapeake and Ohio has been able to meet all demands for equipment. This year approximately 8.14 million tons will be shipped from mines on the Big Sandy. This means millions of dollars from the wages of mine and railway employes released in this area for the support of wholesale and retail establishments as well as the professional activities of your and other communities. It also means indirect benefits you receive in schools, roads and local governments which are largely supported from taxes on coal and rail way company lands and property. Mr. Morton then made and discussed in detail with supporting statistics the following general statements concerning the bituminous coal industry: That production of bituminous coal depends on business conditions and rises or falls with general business. That national coal requirements are not declining at a rapid rate, but are practical stationary now, and will probably increase in the next few years. That there is no tremendous over production in the bituminous coal industry and meeting will be held Friday afternoon to make plans for the work of the Girls' Reserve and John C. Webb. ED. NOTE—Miss Morgan, a teacher in Lackey high school, stated in a letter this week that her English seniors are studying publication and news writing, and that they would like to send us a few news items from their assignments. Congratulations to you and your class Miss Morgan! We are very glad to know that we may have the news from Lackey.

The Business Outlook

NEW YORK. The natural forces of recovery have demonstrated strength and have a momentum which may reasonably be expected to carry the country into new high ground, says "Banking," the publication of the American Bankers Association, in the August issue. The momentary stimulation following the distribution of bonus funds to the veterans has practically died away and is no longer an important business factor. A certain degree of uncertainty arising from the national political campaign is unavoidable, the magazine says.

FARM ACCOUNTING REVEALS LESSONS

Principles of Sound Business Management That Apply to All Farms

An analysis made of detailed records kept by a group of Wisconsin farms revealed several important lessons and the principles of sound business management derived from them apply generally to all farms, says an article in the Bulletin of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The article says: "Investment opportunities, land, equipment, repairs, taxes and insurance, are approximately two-thirds of all farm costs. Furthermore, these costs are largely independent of the production program of the farm. 'This means that if a farmer cuts his production of crops or livestock he increases his investment costs per unit of product produced, as a smaller number of units must carry as large an expense load as before. This illustrates the importance, from the standpoint of costs, of operating a farm at near capacity.

"Investment mistakes are more costly than many others because they cannot usually be corrected. If a farmer pays too much for his farm, his investment costs will be abnormally high as long as he owns it. If he constructs a $4,000 barn, when a $2,000 barn would have served his purpose, he will have excessive barn costs year after year throughout the entire service life of the structure.

"The emphasis of the importance of a knowledge of investment values and the specific investment requirements of individual farms.

"Determining Real or False Economy
"In working for greater economy, it is essential that the farm manager be able to distinguish between a real and a false saving. This can be done only through a careful estimate of the contribution to income over a period of time, of each item of expenditure. Only if more is saved in expense than will be lost in income, can a contemplated cut in expense be designated as a real saving.

"For example, dropping dairy herd improvement work may result in a year's expense reduction. The question to decide is what effect the dropping of this work will have on the present and future income from the dairy herd. If the estimated loss in livestock receipts due to a lowered efficiency in feeding and breeding is greater than the original saving, then it would obviously be a false economy. "Substantial savings can be effected on many farms through the use of more home grown garden produce and farm cured meats. Why pay out money for products of this kind which can be produced much cheaper at home? The money saved from the family food budget can be used for the purchase of many things that will make the farm a more comfortable and pleasant one to live."

THE TRUNDLE BED

I have seen canopy beds and tester beds and four posters, and iron beds and many another kind, but the trundle bed beats them all. Architecturally it is not equal to most of the others, but it like many of the things we love, is not famous for its size or splendor. Before the days of plenty of room it held a proud place in the household. But since a room for each person is the thing, the trundle bed has been taken down and removed to the lumber room in the attic, along with a lot of cast off clothing and other things too sacred to be burned.

Some of you may not know what a trundle bed is or rather, was I am more than pleased to tell you. Scarcity of room in the old-fashioned house made it imperative to have beds that could be easily removed during the day. The older beds were high very much higher than our present ones. This was a condition just right to call forth a trundle bed, low bed that could be pushed, or trundled under the big bed. The earlier ones were made by hand, of course, by the local wood-turner of blacksmith. The trundle bed was the sleeping place, ex officio, of the small or boys and girls so they could be right at their mother during the night. Childhood knew in the old days two promotions: first from the cradle to the trundle bed, or currying at no certain age but dependent largely on the need for the grade for a younger brother or sister; and secondly, from the trundle bed to a "big bed," also occurring at no special time but sometimes dependent on the ability of the family to buy enough beds to supply its needs. It was supposedly the proper thing to promote the boy from the trundle bed when he began to test a trifle too long for it, his scarcity of beds often necessitated the keeping of the tall boy on the trundle bed, even though he had to curl up like a cat.

It was on the trundle bed that my brother and I were sleeping when we were hard to stay awake and see Santa Clause. At that time I was greatly disappointed at not being able to stay awake. I am glad now that nature's demands for slumber were stronger than natural curiosity. It was from the trundle bed that I got up early on Christmas morning and went to look for my stockings and to begin to eat my way down its treasures. It was the trundle bed that received us again at the end of the great annual feast day, after we had devoured our candy, raisins, oranges and apples, and had fired off all our firecrackers and Roman candles. The trundle bed was the scene of our frightful nightmares induced by too much birthday cake or too many cakes of smoked sausage. Even now I sometimes find myself rolling in the midst of a nightmare for Mother, just as I used to do when I had eaten more than usual. It was the trundle bed too that made a good place to take a summer nap, by pushing the little bed so that a bit of the big bed, ever phase of boyhood slumber, summer and winter and spring and fall, is associated with the trundle bed when we were still too small to feel ashamed at having to be so near to Mother when everything was dark and still.

It was with reluctance that we gave up trundle beds days even if we were glad to be big boys. After the last boy was too long for the little bed, the much battered old thing was taken down lovingly and carried to the Garrett, where in many a house today it still reposes, lost in the whirl of a busy life, but not forgotten by hosts of people who still hold reverently this reminder of their childhood.

HEALTH NEWS

Compiled by Dr. Marvin Ransdell
Director, Floyd County Health Dept.

The milk ordinance adopted by the local city council last spring, after some delay, was put into effect last Sunday morning, Nov. 15. If you are a regular customer, no doubt you have noted that the name house, used solely for the cooling and bottling of the milk, and the washing of the milk utensils is clean and well lighted.

Grade "A" milk is kept clean instead of being clean and the milk is cooled as soon as it is milked and is immediately bottled and capped. The milk is kept until it is delivered to your door. The dairy farmer who produces Grade "A" milk for Prestonsburg has pride in the production of the milk and the health department has been working to this end for several years, to see that a pure and safe milk supply for their families.

The dairymen have been very cooperative in this movement to supply Prestonsburg with a safe milk and have gone to tremendous expense to provide the equipment necessary to produce high grade milk, and should be commended publicly and patronized liberally.

These dairies are under the constant supervision of the health department and monthly visits are made to each dairy to see that each one is carrying out the provisions laid down in the state law and city ordinance. The grades of each dairy will be published each grade is rigid, as provided by law, and any dairy we find not meeting the terms of the law and ordinance will be immediately degraded.

What is a Grade "A" dairy? A Grade "A" dairy not only has healthy cows free from disease and well cared for, but is well lighted, clean barn and sheds in which the cows are milked.

Milking in the shade of the old apple tree may be romantic but it does not prevent the contamination of the milk. If there is no milk in the barn or shed for the summer months it means that the cows are not protected during the cold nights of fall and winter and a clean milking place is necessary every day of the year.

A Grade "A" dairy barn has ample space for all the cows, a clean concrete floor with proper drainage, white washed and painted interior. It is kept clean because it is built to be kept clean. Here the cows are washed, brushed and milked.

In the convenient and well lighted milk house the milk is strained, cooled and bottled to be kept cold until delivery to your door.

The history of milk production has shown constant improvement in methods. Dairy farms around Prestonsburg have been in existence for many years; but never in the past has milk sanitation reached the high level that is found in a Grade "A" dairy. If you could visit a Grade "A" dairy farm you would be impressed with the cleanliness and care in which the milk is handled. The dairy barn is white washed within and has plenty of light and ventilation. The cows are well cared for, the milk house, used solely for the cooling and bottling of the milk, and the washing of the milk utensils is clean and well lighted.

Grades for grading period:
Wards Dairy, Paintsville, Ky. Grade "A" Raw; Leek's Dairy, East Point, Ky. Grade "A" Raw; Music's Dairy, East Point, Ky. Grade "A" Raw; Bays Branch Dairy, Cliff, Ky. Grade "A" Raw; Bramham's Dairy, Cliff, Ky. Grade "D" Raw.

The basketball season opened at Betsy Layne Friday night with the renowned Bobcats playing Hellier high school. Speculation before the game seemed to give Hellier the edge. They had had six straight victories and no defeats. They had waded off with a laudable score from Cumberland high and the Johns Creek high in their final two tilts.

The first few minutes of the game found the teams evenly matched, but the Bobcats broke the Hellier defense and made a field goal. After that Betsy Layne took and held the lead during the entire game.

Carmel Clark was high point man, scoring 28 points. R. C. Layne and Jack Branham tied for second place with six points each. Otis Layne and Shade Hunley came third with three points respectively. Vernor Clark, who made two points.
