Whitman S. Cobb Thinks about SANTA MONICA, CALIF.— Out here the new Authors' club is functioning nicely and abounds in surprises. For instance, at one of our luncheons, the following types were observed: An Armenian, he being the only Armenian I ever met that didn't try to sell me a rug. A visitor from Aberdeen who not only bought for himself but wanted to buy copiously for others. A native writer who declined to talk about his own work. A British writer in the same admirable fix. A radio comedian who did not discuss his national or important features with anyone other radio comedian—probably saving that stuff for his regular broadcasts. A house committee chairman who neither bragged nor apologized. If we are only to maintain this average, the Authors' club will become the most unusual organization on earth.

Remember When Sloan Got $40,000 Without Ridin' Nag

DO YOU remember 'way back when— A jockey received $40,000 because of a race in which he did not ride; own, officially train, or bet on the winner? That was in 1902 when the French filly, Rose di Mai, won the Prix de Diane at Chantilly. Tod Sloan, probably the greatest jockey of all time, had been barred for two years by the English Jockey club because he had committed the heinous offense of betting on his own mounts. This annoyed the French Jockey club, which then had a tight working agreement with the British lords of the turf. The stewards contended that Tod had been refused a jockey's license and consequently was not a good standing. So, as punishment for his reported appearance as an exercise boy, they expelled him from the French turf. Tod smug and case excited comment over all the racing world while it dragged into the highest court of appeals. Finally when the high-stepping jockey, who had arrived in Europe several years previously with a $250,000 bankroll, was down to his last pound the verdict arrived.

It created a legal precedent for the turf but probably Tod never concerned himself about that. Starting with the $40,000 received in damages he soon was happily engaged in winning (and losing) a new fortune almost as large as the one he previously had accumulated. A group of American Olympic athletes were forced to replace their drinking water with light wines? That was the case with a team who on the way to Athens for the games. A stop was made at an Italian inn and customs inspectors noticed the huge jars of mineral water. Such a new-fangled aid to the well-to-do athletes was beyond the comprehension of the inspectors. Visitors always were trying to buy new exciting tricks on them and they thought they knew him when they saw it. So they confiscated this contraband "gin." But even though they were weak on Yankee notions, the Italians were as strong on international gallop as they were on red tape. Even now there are members of that team who smack their lips as they recall the gallons of vino which replaced the huge jars of mineral water. Bill Tilden turned down a $60,000 offer to turn pro? That wasn't so terribly long ago that—that matter of about a dozen years. But since the lion of the tennis courts did make the switch he has harvested a crop of dollars that is not to be sneezed at. And his example has been followed by other lights of the racket game from V. I. N. Richards down to Fred Perry. The odds, though, are that Tilden's earnings are a good deal ahead of any of his fellow tennis pros. A player, dusting himself off at third base, received the greatest surprise ever to come the way of a hitter of a game-winning triple? That was years ago when Moose McCormick had been with the giants only a few days. He had been the pliant to his liking and he swung with full force. He was met at third base by a red-headed, highly excited little fellow named Moose. A season or two later Moose came to bat as a pinch-hitter and drove in a six-game series while the other with his hits. But such fame was in the future. He slipped the dust from his clothes with one hand while he extended the other for the expected congratulations. Then he listened in awe. The red-headed little fellow was not in a congratulatory mood. Instead Manager John J. McGraw was tugging Moose $50 for disobeying the order to bunt. Bob Fitzsimmons was preparing to win the heavyweight championship of the world from Jim Corbett at Carson City? A visitor one day discovered Ruby Robert standing just outside the Fitzsimmons bedroom door listening intently. Inside the room Mrs. Fitzsimmons would be heard lifting her voice in prayer for victory.

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE: BIG-TIME FIGHTERS who for years have conducted their business with scant regard for the rights of management will behave for a while now. The reason is they have been tipped off that continued management will result in a governmental bureau taking charge of the national game—in order to reserve it from the fate of the buffalo. The fifteen-year-old national diving queen, Marjorie Clearing, is an accomplished pianist. Contrary to reports, there is a stone on Tex Rickard's lot at Woodlawn. There is, however, no marker on the great light promoter's grave and no provision for upkeep. That pass interference rule will not be changed in spite of the clamor of the losers and the sillier reporters. So far only one sane remedy has been proposed although dozens were discussed and laughed down during a meeting of the Eastern Association of Football Officials. This was Bill Crowley's suggestion that only one pass should be permitted in the last five minutes of each half. It would minimize one of the number of desperate heaves that are made when scant scoring time would do well to count. Smokey Joe Martin, sent to Baltimore by the Giants last summer. Since receiving penalties he has played regularly in the minors. Bill Powerman is laid down by our federal statutes for infractions of this ruling. Collegiate Cosmetics. THE students' newspaper of the University of Wisconsin has made a scientific study of the subject and announces that the average college (female) type uses enough lipstick in one year to paint a barn. That sounds like an exaggeration, or maybe mouths are running longer and barns are running smaller. But the barns do look better for being painted. Movie Family Parties. MONTHS after a moving picture studio has changed hands or undergone an upheaval—such as a change being quite frequent—new bosses sometimes are still finding tucked away in the payroll, relatives by blood or marriage of the ousted bosses. To you, reader, a new prospect may be either an epic or a flop, but out here it's often just a pleasant family gathering, extending even into the third generation. In other words, Hollywood has found the new line to the old spiritual, as follows: "All Gawd's chillen got kinfolks!"

Teacher's Treat As schools all over the world break up on St. Thomas' day it is a great occasion for children. In Denmark it is customary to allow children to do almost as they like and near Antwerp they rise early, run to school, and lock the master out till he is permitted to treat them. In other parts of Belgium, parents, servants, and schoolmasters are chained to the nearest inn where he is forced to pay for cakes and punch. In Germany, St. Thomas' day is a great day for forecasting the future. Thousands of young women visit astrologers, palmists, and clairvoyants, to learn what the coming year has in store. In Westphalia they eat and drink to capacity, and then they hope to escape secretly within the next twelve months.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

The Mark "Sterling"— Fascinating History of the Term and Its Meaning Wherever Applied

THE name sterling silver has a fascinating history. The name originally was Esterling, but in the progress of time became synonymous with sterling. The Esterlings were a group of men who, in the Twelfth century, came to England from Camden in Europe, a place to the east of England and from that geographical fact gained their name. The men formed a guild to uphold standards of excellence in their work, and to protect themselves from robbers and pirates. Sterling Coins. The high standards pertained also to the coinage with which they paid those with whom they dealt. So unvarying was this money, and of such pure silver, that it became a gauge of excellence for all silver. The proportion of pure silver to the alloy was enormous, being at the ratio of 925 silver to 75 copper in each 1,000 parts. This same ratio pertains even today in all sterling silver. Sterling Standard. So adamant is this ratio, that no deviation of it is permissible under the name sterling. Severe penalties are laid down by our federal statutes for infractions of this ruling. So when you see the word starting on the silver you already have or on pieces you are buying, you know the article is of the finest grade of silver. The silver may be marked 925 fine, or 925-1000, for all these words indicate the same thing—sterling silver. Solid Silver. #### PRUNING OF TREES IS SEVERELY CONDEMNED

The mutilation of beautiful shade trees, done on the theory that pruning every year or two, if necessary, is condemned in an article by Prof. N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Most trees used for shade need little pruning, he declares, and the severe dehorning so often given is never advisable.

The practice sometimes followed of trimming back all branches, often leaving stubs 3 to 6 inches in diameter, is declared to be a sure way of forever ruining a tree that otherwise might have been beautiful.

"There is no excuse for disfiguring shade trees in such a manner," Prof. Elliott asserts. "The number of trees, especially in towns and cities, that have been treated in this way is amazing, and the results of such treatment are never outgrown. Home owners should stop and realize that it takes years to grow large beautiful trees that can easily be permanently injured in a few hours by pruners who measure the effectiveness of their work by the amount of brush they remove."

Occasionally, shade trees need some pruning, but Prof. Elliott would limit it to careful thinning where a few of the overlapping branches are removed or headed back slightly, in removing a branch to the main stem or laterals, and the wounds painted with a good grade of paint.

The work should be done during the winter, when the tree's dormant, and limbs may be removed with less injury to leaves and young growth. Trees damaged by storms should have the wounds treated as soon as possible.

FORD TO INTRODUCE NEW SET OF ARTISTS

A sparkling new variety program, "Watch the Fun Go By," prepared by Al Pearce and his gang and an orchestra headed by Larry Marsh plus a brilliant new musical program, "Universal Rhythm," presenting new and novel arrangements of popular dance numbers by the Chandler and his 43-piece orchestra, will be the Ford Dealers' popular radio broadcast offering to open the new year, it was announced this week.

The two new programs will replace Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians who closed an interesting three year run on the Ford program Tuesday, Dec. 29, with a final broadcast over CBS coast to coast network.

For the new shows, Ford retains the two choice spots on the network formerly filled by Waring, 9 p. m. EST Tuesday nights over the CBS coast to coast network, and the same hour Friday night over the NBC Blue network.

The Chandler show was the first of the two new programs to hit the air. They made their debut at 9 p. m. EST New Year's day over the NBC Blue network.

Al Pearce and his Gang followed over CBS coast to coast at 9 p. m. Tuesday night, Jan. 5.

The vitamins that we must have are abundant in greens. Greens furnish the necessary roughage that are not likely to irritate the digestive organs. To the person not requiring energy food they are a boon, and to the one needing food of energy value they should be served with sauce or dressing high in calories.

How to Cook Greens

Wash and cut the greens, having all leaves free. Put in a bowl of cold water. Put two vessels of water on the stove and bring both to a boil. Into kettle put 1 tea-spoon of baking soda and in this put the greens. Let boil 3 minutes no longer. They drain the water off and refill the kettle with fresh boiling water. Add 1 tea-spoon salt to the quart of water and allow the greens to cook until tender. Drain and season. Add butter, bacon fat, cream or white sauce, salt and pepper if desired.

Spinach and Tomatoes

Put a layer of seasoned fresh or canned spinach in a greased casserole, then a layer of canned tomatoes well seasoned. Repeat, top with buttered crumbs. Bake in an oven 375 deg. for 20 minutes.

Salyers, Troy Cole, Noble Cole, Albert Mann, Sherman Bailey, Donna Risner, and Everett Risner.

Wednesday the grand jury indicted 27 Maogffin county men. Four of these men, Troy Cole, Noble Cole, Newt Cole and Jim Marshall, were lodged in jail Wednesday at day light by I. H. Fitzpatrick, deputy sheriff. Before the grand jury, Jim Marshall offered to turn state's witness. Mr. Hall, commonwealth's attorney, stated that a witness testified before the grand jury that the terrorists have been guilty of going to a home or two, and while there they would brandish guns on the men folk and ravish the women occupants.

The above mentioned four men were held. Later, Roy and Beecher Cole, who had come to visit their brothers, were included in the names on the grand jury indictment and were taken into custody at the courthouse here. Their bonds were set at $10,000 each in the grand jury indictment the men were formally charged with "criminal syndicalism and sedition." A prison sentence of not exceeding 21 years and a fine not exceeding $10,000 can be imposed if found guilty.

Those indicted are George Cole, Carl Hall, George Marshall, Roy Cole, Beecher Cole, Bill Stone, Morg Perkins, German Risner, Curtis Marshall, Taylor Marshall, Henry Risner, George Whitaker, Thos. Mann Marshall, Eddie Marshall, William Fletcher, Thos. Salyers, Troy Cole, Noble Cole, Albert Mann, Sherman Bailey, Donna Risner, and Everett Risner.

Mrs. George Cole, age 41 years, mother of the four Cole men in jail, and she says she is the mother of 15 children, 13 of whom are living, traveled by way of Salyersville, 35 miles to Prestonsburg, arrived here Wednesday without funds, she stated to County Attorney Short, after spending 75c for bus fare that she borrowed near home.

In talking to Attorney Short relative to the organization, she said: "Carl Hall, one of the men indicted, organized men with a subscription of about 30 cents a month." It was supposed to be an unemployment league organized in and Beecher Cole, who had provide work for men who were idle. Men folks of the Cole family joined and got work to do on a relief project at Bigger Mountain. Mrs. Cole further stated "They thought the 'union' was honorable," she says, "and didn't realize that whippings and outrages were being blamed on the so called 'union.' She said that when her husband and sons learned of this they withdrew and stopped paying dues. Mrs. Cole says that the defense counter charges malice and false swearing.

 Jim Marshall, one of the men in jail who talked, said: "The league was organized as an unemployment league in October, a year ago." He stated that there were 29 members, including himself. According to him, the organization operated similar to the Ku Klux Klan, but was "kindly broke up after the trial at Salyersville." He said that the same bunch was on trial at Salyersville and that he was afraid to talk over there. Marshall said that and some of the others were guilty of whipping people.
 Mrs. Cole stated that "black-legging" was a joke and that folks in her community used the term in kidding each other.
 Guy Marshall, distant relative to Jim, made statement to Deputy Sheriff John Stumbo and The Times that Roy and Beecher Cole were not guilty of beating Barnett and were working for him at the time of the alleged attack.
 Marshall is a member of the firm of Marshall Brothers operating two circle sawmills at Roylston. He said, "I was some whippings and such stuff going on, but don't know who did 'it." He stated that reliable sources informed him that the organization had a meeting place or building and that any time a red light showed from the place it would be a signal of danger and to stay away. It was told, Mr. Marshall said, that there were instructions of Carl Hall to members.
 Mr. Marshall was here to fill bond for Roy Cole. The defendants plead "not guilty."

Resolution
 to save money by putting electricity to work

NEW YEAR'S resolutions are made to be broken, for usually we decide to give up something we like to do. "Never again" will we smoke—or eat sweet, or keep late hours. Instead of renouncing the pleasant things in life, try a new kind of resolution. Pledge yourself a jollier, happier life with freedom from care and more time for the wholesome enjoyment of living.

Resolve today that henceforth and forevermore you will do no labor that can be done electrically by a little motor. Resolve to operate all household services by the most convenient kind of power—electricity. In this way you become a "wholesale" user of current and you are eligible for the extremely low rates available above the average use.

With rates as low as these no one can afford to live without electric labor saving devices.

THACKER KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

 Fearing further trouble the boys said they left the scene of the accident immediately. The body was found, 100 feet from the road, crushed by a 21 feet from the edge of the road on the other side, 68 feet from the spot. One of Thacker's slippers was found tightly laced.
 Circumstances surrounding the death of Mr. Thacker seem rather odd. There is reason to suspect foul play and further investigation will be conducted, members of the family said.
 Burial took place in the family cemetery near the home on Jones Fork at 2 o'clock Monday evening under the direction of G. D. Ryan.

Surviving the victim are his aged father and mother, six brothers and three sisters: Mrs. Vadie Sparkman, Mrs. Russell Johnson, of Mousie, Ky.; Mrs. Arizona McIntyre, of Gauley Bridge, W. Va.; John C. of Garrett, White, Blaine and Russell, of Lackey; Kay and Leonard, of Fillwell, Okla.

CITY COUNCIL ANNOUNCES 1937 PROGRAM IN MEETING

 Among some of the things outstanding in the program is curtailment of all expenses mapped for the coming year possible. Details of this phase of the program are not, as yet, worked out definitely.
 A highlight of the year planned work is a cleanup drive to rid the town's streets of street walkers, rude women and such. The council wishes the cooperation of every good citizen. It has been common, not only here but abroad, to hear comment daily upon the number of lax women and habitating the dives of our town. This has served as a "stench pot" in the faces of
