7 CONTEST CASES ARE FILED HERE BEFORE DEADLINE

Sheriff, Tax Commissioner, Three Squires-Elect Are Contested

CORRUPT PRACTICES VIOLATED, CHARGED

Contest Against Halbert, Jailor-Elect, Void As Improperly Filed

Defeated candidates for county offices "got under the wire" with seven contest suits Thursday night, shortly before the midnight deadline was reached, ending at least a week of "watchful waiting" during which contests were planned as retaliative measures by those who preferred no contests whatever.

Harve Spears, defeated Democratic candidate for Magistrate in District 4, filed the first suit. The others followed later in the night. Spears received 1,092 votes to Akers' 1,246.

Alleging that Dial Salisbury, Republican Sheriff-elect, violated the Corrupt Practices Act when he promised the voters that he would not collect the state dog tax, Wayne Stumbo, Salisbury's Democratic opponent at the November election, was one of the seven to contest. He received 5,885 votes to Salisbury's 6,807. All other contest actions charged violation of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Other suits filed and votes received by contestants and contestees were:

Fred F. Gearhart, Republican, 6,650, against Gomer C. Sturgill, Democratic Tax Commissioner-elect, 6,144; Marc Crabtree, 4,600, against Joe Prater, Jr., 1,706, Republican Magistrate-elect in Dist. 2; Willie Hall, Democrat, 1,536, vs. Martin L. Johnson Magistrate-elect in District 3, 1,487; Bob Marshall, defeated Board of Education candidate, 4,778, against Dr. Dewey Osborne, 6,050, the Rev. Alex Stephens, 5,576, Charles (Red) Burnett, 5,300, and the Rev. Kelly Patton, 4,843; (Continued on page eight)

THIS TOWN— THAT WORLD

FOR BETTY JEAN
In our mail this week we found a letter written by a little girl to Santa Claus. With it came a note from her grandmother, asking that it be published in order to cheer the sick child, who is hopelessly suffering from cancer. The letter follows:

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little girl six years old. I have been sick three months, but happy to say I am improving. I have just been back from St. Mary's hospital in Huntington three weeks. Santa, I wish you would bring me a big doll with white slippers, long curly hair with a pretty bonnet on, and if you have anything left I would be glad to have anything. Please Santa don't forget to bring Mildred Ann and Earl something. I have to go back to the hospital day after Christmas. So please Santa don't forget me, Lore.

BETTY JEAN OWENS.
Banner, Ky.

We are glad to tell Betty Jean that Santa got her letter—and he left an answer for her, too:

Dear Little Betty Jean:
As surely as there are elves and fairies to delight the dreams of little girls, there is a Santa Claus who will bring you a doll "with white slippers, long curly hair with a pretty bonnet on."

And as you lie on your sick-bed, Betty Jean, you can play with her and be cheered, and remember you, Betty Jean, that no matter if you (Continued on page eight)

PLANS ORGANIZATION OF YOUTHFUL BALLAD SINGERS OF COUNTY

Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James this week announced plans of organizing the young ballad singers of Floyd county with the purpose in view of bringing these singers from their various communities to Prestonsburg next spring for a big "sing."

This work will not be undertaken, Mrs. James emphasizes, to exploit native talent and songs as many "outsiders" do, but rather to stimulate their interest. In many of their purty the old Eliah ballad singers which enrich this section in the history and literature of music above most, if not all, others in America.

While directing folk-song and dance programs in the schools of Floyd county last spring, Mrs. James found in each school several authentic ballad-singers gifted with lovely voices. She also found a few teachers encouraging the singing of the old ballads, and now is asking the co-operation of all the schools in organizing their own singers, with the county-wide "sing" here in view.

Again and Again

Alonso Patton, Huysville, is starting all over again in his efforts to get over the effects of a broker leg which he suffered in a car wreck some weeks ago. He went Thursday to the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Luckey, to have a cast removed from the limb, and in his attempts to remove it, a hospital physician broke the leg in the same place, according to Mr. Patton.

COMMISSION SETS MINIMUM PRICES FOR SOFT COALS

Wide Range Is Given As All Products Are Classified

Coal operators of the Big Sandy field located more easily and satisfactorily for a pickup in production yesterday (Wednesday) when minimum prices, as set by the Bituminous Coal Commission at Washington, were learned here. The new prices become effective December 15 and, some operators pointed out, will increase orders which have been withheld for the last several months because of the uncertainty of prices and the fact that orders could be booked no farther than 30 days in advance.

Operators contacted here yesterday stated that they had not yet received prices directly from the commission, but press dispatches from Washington gave the prices for District No. 8 of Area 1, which includes this territory.

The prices were reported as follows for District 8 (southern high volatile)—Domestic lump, $3.20 to $2.25; egg, $2.50 to $1.85; nut, $2.25 to $1.95; pea, $2.25 to $1.95; railroad fuel, $2.15 (on line), $1.95 (off line); industrial slack $1.90 to $1.55. This is mine price, however, and coal men pointed out that the prices fixed Wednesday were prices for coal at the mine. The consumer would have to add freight rates and, in many cases, wholesale charges before he could know what coal would cost him.

Along with the price schedules, the commission issued marketing rules and regulations to govern coal sales east of the Mississippi and in Iowa. These supplemented the list of "unfair trade practices" the Guffey act banned. (Continued on page eight)

MENINGITIS TAKES FLOYD COUNTIANS WAYLAND INFANT SEEK PROBATION

Graded School Is Closed For Duration of One Week

Is Last Hope for Floyd Countians

Fear of a potential meningitis epidemic at Wayland, following the death of four-year-old Hobart Singleton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Singleton, Sr., and the quarantining of a nearby family whose Bobby Ball, three years old, lay stricken, caused the graded school at Wayland to be dismissed, and youths under 16 years of age were cautioned by the health department to avoid frequenting public places.

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, Floyd county health department chief, said Wednesday, the principal, Boone Hall, of the Wayland school, telephoned Tuesday night, saying that graded school attendance was extremely low. School was dismissed for the current week. High school there, however, is being continued, and Dr. Ransdell said that youths of high school age were in no danger of the disease.

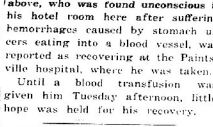

The Singleton and Ball infants, who live in houses only two doors apart, were stricken with the malady November 30. The Ball child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ball, is now convalescing. Private funeral services for the Singleton infant were held Tuesday at Paintsville, where burial (Continued on page eight)

PARALYSIS FATAL TO JAMES O'DELL AT AGE OF 70; RITES MONDAY

A paralytic stroke suffered at his home here last week resulted in the death Saturday of James O'Dell, 70 years old. Mr. O'Dell sustained the severe stroke when he stumbled into an open grave as he was working.

Born and reared on Brandy Ridge near here, Mr. O'Dell spent his entire life in this vicinity. He was a son of the late James O'Dell, Sr., and was one of Prestonsburg's best-known citizens. He had been a lifelong member of the M. Church, South. For several years Mr. O'Dell was a bookkeeper for the C. & O. Railway Company, and later was a mine employee.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Mildred Garrett O'Dell, and three daughters: Mrs. Henry Harris, West Prestonsburg; Mrs. Carl Rowan, Prestonsburg; and Mrs. Frances Bowling, West Prestonsburg. Funeral rites were conducted from the home on Riverside Monday, the Revs. H. L. Hoffman, A. T. Malinberg and G. W. Roark officiating. Burial was made in the Richmond cemetery under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

County Attorney Forrest D. Shor above, who was found unconscious in his hotel room here after suffering from hemorrhages caused by stomach ulcers eating into a blood vessel, was reported as recovering at the Paintsville hospital, where he was taken. Until a blood transfusion was given him Tuesday afternoon, little hope was held for his recovery.

TWO FLOYD MEN DEAD FOLLOWING WEEKEND GUNPLAY

Berry Hall, 23, Tivis Sellards, 28, Are Dead; Deputy Sheriff Wounded

Two Floyd men are dead and one man is wounded as the result of a gunfight at Ligon and Buffalo Creek over the weekend.

The dead are: Berry Hall, 23, of Mud Creek, and Tivis Sellards, 28, Buffalo Creek. Deputy Sheriff Ed Clay, Ligon, who shot Hall, is the wounded man.

The shooting at Ligon occurred Saturday night. It is reported, when Clay attempted to arrest Hall, for drunkenness and hoisting a gun, a gunfight resulted. Hall fell to the ground dead.

Sellards was killed by a shotgun fired by Willie Justice, Buffalo Creek, when Sellards entered the Justice home Sunday night and threatened Justice's family and the group who had gathered there following a church meeting in the nearby school-house.

FLOYD FARMERS WANT COUNTY FAIR HERE NEXT FALL

Farmers, Meeting To Plan A. C. P. Program, In Unanimous Vote

ISBELL, LICKERT LEAD DISCUSSION

Representative Farmers Determine 1938 Conservation Program Goals

At a meeting of 20 Floyd county farmers in County Agent S. L. Ishbell's office here last Friday to discuss the Agricultural Conservation Program in Floyd for the next year, farmers were unanimous in their vote to sponsor a county fair next fall. Plans for the 1938 A. C. P. program were also discussed.

Among the goals set for 1938 were: Ninety per cent of Floyd farm land participating in the program. Only 43 per cent was enrolled this year.

Seventy-five per cent participation by those signing for the program. Earn 75 per cent of the maximum payments.

Use six car loads of T. V. A. phosphate, an increase of four car loads. More commercial truck traffic. More 4-H club members.

The following committee was appointed for limestone distribution: A. L. Meade, Printer; W. B. Tackett, Craynor; A. L. Harmon, Bonanza; W. B. Howard, Goodloe; and John Brantson, Prestonsburg.

In the soil depleting discussion, led by District Agent R. H. Lickert, Lexington, the farmers went on to discuss and favoring individual depletion goals to "85 per cent of the normal depletion crop."

A statement from the state office of the Agricultural Conservation program explains that the 1938 program provides for individual farm soil depletion and soil building goals. (Continued on page eight)

High School Blackcats Feted At Annual Football Banquet

Sponsored by local citizens, a co-partners, Junior Mayo and Jack Carter, for the Prestonsburg high school football team, which closed its season with a 7-6 win over Paintsville Thanksgiving Day, was given a banquet in the basement of the Methodist Church here last week.

Freshman Coach Frank Mosely, a former Alabama quarterback, was the main speaker. With Coach Mosely by his side, B. L. Pritchard, his assistant coach at the University of Kentucky, Franklin Moore was toastmaster for the occasion.

A motion made by Dr. O. T. Stoebe was amended by State Senator Joe P. Tackett to read, "On Monday evening following our annual banquet of Paintsville," was passed.

The following program was presented: Music by Mrs. Chalmor Frazier and the boys' quartet, consisting of Dick Allen, Dick Dickerson, Dick Mayo and Eugene Holcomb. Ann Allen, cheer leader, led cheers for the football boys, who were introduced by Coach William Messer. Acting Captain Dick Mayo gave a resume of the team's achievements and wished success to next year's (Continued on page eight)

Comments From The Capitol

"Who is going to be what in the forthcoming session of the Legislature?" Some time ago this fragment belittled the information that Edwin C. Dawson was to be cast as President pro tem of the Senate, and Ralph Gilbert, of Shelbyville, was billed to succeed himself as majority floor leader. There are no changes there. Now it seems that Ray Moss, Senator from Pineville, will again get the call as Republican floor leader. Over in the House John Kirtley is self advertised as the most probable victor in the race for Speaker. Some folk here are wont to believe that Frank Daugherty, a veteran of the legislative chambers, who is carrying the gon of Nelson county, will be asked to be Democratic floor leader in the House. John Hunnicutt, as before stated here, wouldn't refuse the Democratic leadership. Claude L. Hammons, Barbourville, Republican, is likely to find stiff opposition in the race for the minority leadership. However, Hammons is the only man whose name has been mentioned directly. There is going to be a grand rush for such jobs as clerk of the House and Senate, reading clerk, clerk, enrolling clerk, mail clerk, and George Chinn says he will not be a candidate again for sergeant-at-arms of the Senate. Then there are the cloak room keepers and the doorkeepers in both the House and Senate. Of all these the picking of the clerk of the Senate and House are two of the most important jobs giving tasks faced by the two Houses.

This corner can't help but take a line or two to comment on Stanley High's latest literary effort in the Saturday Evening Post under November 29 date. He comments on lightning on the disguise of political propaganda as news articles and the sending of it to the editors. Ye editor wades through reams of it and maybe calls out a few lines of news and maybe not. He points out the millions that are spent yearly press agenting for the things done by governmental agencies. He further points out that such mold opinions which in turn influence voters. He simmers it all down to this: "That if governmental agencies desire to advertise their good doings they should pay Ye Editor at the regular advertising rate. Ye Editor is in full accord."

Governor Chandler stated from a public platform that the state would build a ten-story office building (which incidentally is badly needed) on the site of the old reformatory here at Frankfort. The moving finger has writ and having writ moved on. He has said that a new building will be erected on the old pen site. Now he must be about arranging the proper legislation and arranging the finances to accomplish the deed. Already most of the building inside the old pen have been erected. One dormitory and the old shoe factory are no more. One wing of cell block B is gradually "biting the great aid here. There are a half dozen departments that need room, having outgrown their old quarters.

Pressure is being brought to bear on the new legislators concerning the freeing of the state-owned toll bridges. Henry Ward, Democratic representative of Paducah, is hard storming over the state, holding meetings at which he outlines a proposed bill to free the bridges. He invites members of the General Assembly to meet with him. He has held meetings in Paducah, Owensboro, Louisville, Lexington, and Covington. Ashland, Pikeville, Pineville and Bowling Green listed for not always been in general accord with those of the Governor, emphatically denies that he is meeting the state's solons in behalf of his own interests. There was a rumor that he was seeking the Speakership of the House. He says he has pledged himself to John Kirtley.

The proposed naming of the new concrete highway, U. S. 60, from Shelbyville to Louisville, the Chandler Highway is almost a certainty. There has been little objection to it. The idea was first broached by a Louisville newspaper and later given further momentum by the Louisville Automobile Club. Regardless of whether it is ever officially named Chandler Highway, it will always be known as that. That name was the first impression, and the first is always the most lasting, and besides, no one has been able to present a better name for the strip.

RANDOM SHOTS: Gov. Chandler, accompanied by J. Dan Talbot, Commissioner of Finance, Marion Howard, of the Division of Purchases and Properties, and Robert Humphrey, Highway Commissioner, made a tour of inspection of the state owned institutions in the western section of the commonwealth last week. The itinerary included Western Kentucky Industrial College, a Negro institution, Western State Hospital at Hopkinsville, and Western State Penitentiary at Eddyville. The highway patrol is going to school again. A batch of 50 state coppers is doing a two weeks' learning stint at Ft. Knox. They are being instructed by G-men and officers from other state patrol units. Four lane highway between Versailles and Lexington has been approved by the federal engineer, Mac Gilbreath. Commissioner Drake says that bids will be asked just as soon as the right-of-way for the strip has been gained. This is one of the prettiest drives in the Bluegrass. The state closed the month of November with a total of $10,299,750.36 in cash to its credit. Outstanding warrants at the time amounted to $11,517,705.06, which amount constituted the commonwealth's indebtedness. Boo-boo—Bing Crosby is thinking of becoming your neighbor. Well, it isn't just anything to think. Bing and Ramon rushed to the front again with the news that Bing, who keeps and de does on the radio and in the moon pitchers and who is a race horse owner and has a fine string of racers, is negotiating for Mrs. A. T. Hert's Hurstbourn Farm, a magnificent show place on U. S. 60 between St. Matthews and Middletown, just eight miles east of Louisville. It's a good run for but no one can be found who will confirm it. Democratic majority in the House was not hurt by the resignation of Carl Schneider, Louisville representative. He quit after winning the House seat in the 54th district. At a special election Leon J. Shelkin, another Democrat, was elected. U. S. 60 from Shelbyville to Louisville will be opened for traffic this winter. The contractors who are concreting this strip have been given a permit for the strip to be being. All but one mile of this road has been poured. That strip will be rocked and traffic will flow over it with little delay.

Said bridge to be about six (6) tons capacity and to be a 60 feet span. Approximately 1500 cubic yards of fill will be required for the approaches.

The successful bidder will be required to execute Fidelity Bond in the penal sum to be determined by the court, for the successful performance of the contract. Contractors will be required to carry Compensation Insurance and Public Liability Insurance.

The Fiscal Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Given under my hand this 13 day of November, 1937.

NOTICE OF SALE OF ELECTRIC FRANCHISE

On the 5th day of October, 1937, the Fiscal Court of Floyd county adopted a resolution directing the sale at public outcry of a county electric franchise. This resolution is in words and figures as follows:

WHEREAS, it appears that it is to the interest of the public that a franchise be advertised, sold and granted, authorizing the grantee to use the public roads of Floyd county for the erection and maintaining of lines for the transmission and distribution of electric power;

THE JOYS OF 'POSSUM HUNTING
The joys of 'possum hunting have seldom been more effectively described than in this enthusiastic account by Comal Frederick Smith, in The Progressive Farmer.

A long-drawn 'possum-owling' along the still night air and resound from the oak-studded hill beyond and back. A November moon peeps over the hill above the forest, and the moon's light on the 'possum's back. Two large, wild, and human hounds, their eyes trailing, darted out in full view.

Calmy enmeshed on the top limb of a black-cypress, steely-eyed ball of fur. If Beter 'Possum feels any fear even the dogs cannot tell it. Not a sound, not a movement does he make. The hounds yelp incessantly in that "rill staccato" voice, so different from the melodious baying on the trail.

"A nice 'un, Jim," our hunter says cheerily. "He'll weigh ten pounds or more. I bet! Want me to shake 'im out?"

"Now, lemme skin up there and grab his tail. I like to get hold of 'im. Besides, old Spot there would tear 'im up in a minute."

And so another 'possum is bagged by the light of the moon, and the hunt goes merrily on, the dogs leaping along to strike another but trail. Such is the joy of 'possum hunting. There are none of the trappings of big game hunting—high-powered rifle, shiny boots, camp duffle, horse, guides and other expensive gear. You need nothing more than a couple of good dogs with voices like Gabriel's horn, a stout sack, a flashlight, a lantern and of course a good knife. Negro to encourage the dogs, and the hunter has a hunting horn to start.

THE JOYS OF 'POSSUM HUNTING

add to the melody. Yes, by all means take a Negro along. Nobody else in the world so thoroughly enjoys a 'possum hunt. He has an inner knowledge of dogs and can hear a "tree bark" before anyone else. And what fun to watch him whining up a slick pine tree, all the while talking to the dogs below.

These crisp, clear nights call for 'possum hunting. Few sounds on earth are so thrilling as that of a pack in full cry under the hunter's boom. If you want to gain a full measure of thrill, and if you follow the hounds on a 'possum hunt, you are there when the quarry is taken from a high perch among the trees.

'What's In A Name?' Asks Student Directory Published At U. of K.

One may ponder this question as he gazes over the veritable badge-podge of some 5,000 names listed in the recently published student directory at the University of Kentucky, Lexington. To the casual observer there are any number of odd and unusual appellations hither among the usual, every-day "frankies."

For example, in a line of colors, there are Gray, Green, Red, Rust, White, Black, Wine, Blue and Brown. This institution of learning is also without its oddity, for there is a Duke, an Earl, a Prince and a King.

One looks more closely, one will find a Fox, Hunt, Chase, a Starwood, a Forrester and a Wood. In fact, everything for a moment except horses, but in their places one might ride a Fool or a Natch.

Workers and professions are also well represented with a Baker, Miller, Potter, Priest, Monk, Shepherd, Waggoner, Bishop, Carpenter, Cook, and Farmer, not to mention the Crooks. Geography has not been neglected either in the listing of the list. Brown or blue look for there are to be found Canada, Cleveland, England, Holland, Rhodes, and the like. He should have a hunting horn to start.

ALLEGED LOOTERS OF TRUCK JAILED HERE

Lawrence "Kye" Sherman, 21 years old, and James Wells, 19, both of Auxier, were arrested Friday by Deputy Sheriff Tom James after they had been accused of looting a tobacco truck of $71 worth of cigars.

They were taken to the police station at Auxier on the preceding afternoon. Though they claim they found the cigarettes near the Auxier bridge, the truck driver alleges that they raided the truck while it was parked in front of the North-East Coal Company commissary at Auxier.

By J. C. (OF NEEDED) WARD

Once again all is so serene and quiet on the South-Eastern Gas Company front. Dave Marv is once more able to go about his duties without the disturbing separation of a party from behind a desk or office cubicles to take care of an irritating letter with a big R. In short, Tom Allen, of Martinsburg, from his Pennsylvania home, has finally succeeded in the state of mind.

Tom got his 908's, a nice 120-pound, six-point, white, and shot at about 50 yards. The bullet used was a Remington Express 200 grain muskum, and was highly sufficient to anchor the booming fluffard. John Singer, of Pine Bluff, who was a member of the party, also got a nice 4-pointer of about the same weight.

The boys were considerably disappointed at the cancellation of the season, knowing that the chance of getting bucks would be much fewer, but they took it anyway, and are both to be congratulated on their success with a warier and wortier game. Singer used a 30-40 Krag, with 220-grain soft-point bullet.

LOB CASTS

Bob McMillan, Willie Adkins and Earl Boyce, of the Beaver, are reported to have killed a white cat weighing 20 pounds on Southfork Branch of Left Beaver. It is said that the cat was trod three times jumping out each time before the hunters came up behind. Her black and tan bitch "Hammit" chased her in a circle and in a few minutes she was dead. A meeting of the anglers at Greenheart last Sunday indicated the club members still are clever. Mrs. A. Adkins during a short time, the meeting was well attended and all types of great bass are in the future of our game, and Ed. D. C. Keeling announced that definite promises have already been received from the Fish and Game Commission for fingerling bass, quail and pheasant eggs for next spring.

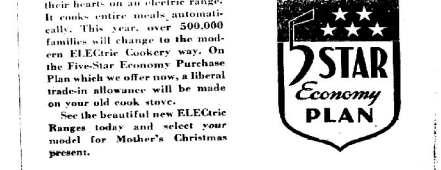

May to secure W. P. A. aid on labor projects for about three days to be constructed on the Left Fork of Beaver, and we can then do our fishing at home. Several people have inquired of the writer what kind of a center that was in this column last week which masqueraded under the name of a black mallard duck. I can only think that it must have been a figment of a disordered imagination that had just gotten back from a close football game. As Andy would

SHIKE'S POKES

SHIKE ENVIES OF NIMROD Mr. Editor: I'll mail my picture in next week if you'll guarantee to do as well for me as you did for "Old Nimrod." By that picture in the Dec. 2 issue, Nimrod was a good deal younger.

IN THE PAINTSVILLE-PRESTONSBURG GAME

received two coon hounds from a went out behind the barn last October. The best I could think of was "Left Beaver, the Trail of Broken Promises," or just "Petitecat Lane."

BOYS' BOYS!

The Nimrod telling about that smart nimrod trout reminds me of my brilliant dog. If I took a rifle hunting he'd hunt nothing but rabbits. Thinking I would fool him one day, I picked up a fishing pole and started and there was that dog with a cub, digger bait. This dog was trained to bring home the cubs at four o'clock. He'd watch the clock until four, then go get the cubs. One day, at 4:00, I saw him. I saw the cub back 2 hours.

If you should drive on here now, I'll howl your name it Boulder Lane. You don't have to worry about bright lights on here. The headlights can so big they hide the headlights.

SENIOR COLLEGE SURVEY MADE

A survey was made this week to determine the needs and the feasibility of establishing a Junior College in Paintsville as a branch of the University of Kentucky.

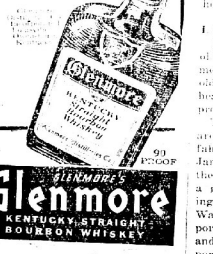

While the findings of the men from the University of Kentucky, who made the survey, have not yet been made known later, it was believed that the information gathered would show a great need for such an institution here.

DRIVER ESCAPES THO TRUCK PLUNGES 100 FEET INTO FLAMES

Hueyville, Ky., Dec. 6.—Zebb Webb, machine operator for the Goose Creek Mining Company here, narrowly escaped death or serious injury last night when his truck, a 1935 Ford 5/8 Dodge, plunged 100 feet over the Midas hill, hit a window here, and burst into flames.

The approach of another car whose driver refused to dim his lights and the presence of snow on the truck's windshield combined to blind him until he could not see where he was driving, Webb said. He jumped to safety as the machine left the Allen-Lackey highway, escaping with only minor injuries.

This is the fourth auto mishap here since November 13. Three people have died and five have been injured in the accidents. Webb's truck was demolished.

A three-inch snow, heaviest of the season, fell here during Sunday and Monday and was still falling Monday afternoon when this was written Monday afternoon. The temperature stood at 14 above Monday at noon.

Mrs. Vernie Martin and children, of Estill, were the guests over the past week-end of Mrs. Martin's mother, Mrs. Suzanne Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. Commodore Reed were visiting Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morg Conley, on Salt Lick Creek, Saturday.

The house was formerly the home of Capt. C. C. Dowles, at Gill Van of prominence in this section, and now belongs to his heirs. Fire a few weeks ago damaged the building.

The age of the house is not known but it is believed that the structure of the log structure, found in a good state of preservation, was erected more than a century ago.

GAS FIGHT CONTINUED—against the high gas rate being charged Pikeville users, Mayor K. J. Day yesterday (Wednesday) issued a call for a delegation of from 50 to 75 officials and business and civic leaders to appear before the Public Service Commission at Frankfort on Wednesday, December 15, where a hearing is slated on Pikeville's gas controversy.

HOLD IN JAIL—Pikeville—Woodrow May, 20-year-old Pond Creek youth, is being held in the Pike county jail in connection with the shooting and wounding of Truman Williamson, 21, of the same section, near Stone, Wednesday night last week.

NURSE ACQUITTED—Pikeville—Miss Pearl Crouch, 24 years old, a registered nurse of Hardy, was given her liberty in county court last week in connection with the death of a prematurely born baby whose body was found in an outside toilet near the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Crouch, at Hardy on November 9, County Judge O. A. Stump dismissed the case after Dr. M. D. Flaney, of Pikeville, testified that he had examined the defendant and found that she had never been in a state of motherhood.

RITE HELD—Louisia—Funeral rites for Stephen G. Curran, 46, C. & O. railway engineer, of Russell, who was killed in a hunting accident on the farm of A. H. Stearns three miles west of the mouth of Blaine last Wednesday, were conducted at the Buchanan Chapel of M. E. Church, South, on Friday morning of last week. The Rev. H. L. Shroyer, pastor of the Grassland church, conducted the services, and Russell post, American Legion, officiated. Interment was made in the Buchanan Chapel cemetery.

COMPLETES TEST—Louisia—The Kentucky By-Products Coal Company last week completed a four-month job of testing coal seams on 25,000 acres of land on Rockcastle and Wolfe rivers, in Martin county, during which the company is testing the going added evidence to miners persistent in this section for several months that a railroad would be built into Martin county as a means of developing the field.

ESTILL

A marriage of high interest to their many friends throughout this section was that of Miss Pauline Vanhoush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nath Vanhoush, of this place, and Mr. Earl Phillips, also of this place, which was solemnized here last Saturday night.

Both the bride and groom are numbered among the finest young people of this section and have the very best wishes of their many friends and relatives throughout the county. They will reside here, where Mr. Phillips is employed.

Miss Vivian Martin, now studying beauty culture in Huntington, W. Va., spent the past week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Martin. Mrs. Martin has been quite ill but is improved at this writing.

Mrs. Joe Vanhoush, of this place, is back home after a few days as a medical patient in the Paintsville hospital.

Bill Hall, of Banner, Ky., was the guest here Monday of this week of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hall, as was also Mrs. Arvid Little, of Pikeville.

Landon Martin, of this place, was in Lackey, near here, on business Monday morning.

SHIKE'S POKES

Well, I see where the Republicans got all the $1055 jobs, and the Democrats got all the $1055 and costs jobs.

Martin L. Johnson, our new Magistrate-elect, advised me that the present magistrates had been charging about $5.00 too much, on a "steved" fine.

Boy, if we could get a debate, it would be like paying the bonus again in this section.

President Roosevelt still has the notheache. We could help him by electing a dentist to congress.

When the bunch from Sizemore mine goes hunting they hold the million workers—and the game supply is not diminished. We shot about 250 times and got 15 rabbits. When we'd shoot "zig" they'd "zap."

Notice to all Kentucky game wardens: The squirrel season was out Tuesday, and if we can protect them until next August, there will be a plentiful supply.

I think the "hunting license" should be in the form of a badge—then the warden wouldn't have to ask for your license.

We are all going back to Lawrence county next Saturday for a hunt—if we can get enough ammunition.

And by the way—the two best basketball teams in this district—Martin and McDowell. It will be a great game when they clash.

What's happened? Most of the coal mines are running like Alf M. Landon—2 out of 48.

A man went to town on Monday, stayed three days and came back on Monday—how could this be?

LACKEY HIGH EXTENDS MARTIN PURPLE FLASH

Pared by Sublett, star forward, the Lackey high school Lions almost sprang the biggest upset of the current basketball season in Floyd county by coming within a field goal of tying the strong Martin Purple Flash in the regulation period in Friday night's game at Lackey, Martin won, 21-19, after the two teams had battled on even terms up till the end of the third quarter.

Reynolds, guard, and Griffith, forward, shone in the Martin lineup. Sublett's 13 points gave him high-scoring honors for the evening.

Earlier in the season, Martin swamped Lackey at Martin. Friday night's win gave Martin a season record of six wins against one loss, the defeat being to Hindman,

THEY CAN'T DO ANY WORSE

Attorney General Hubert H. Lehman, replying to a member of the present council of the city of Louisville, advises the councilman to be liberal in his attitude toward four women who were elected as council members at the last election.

The councilman cited Section 3525 Kentucky Statutes as follows: "No person shall be eligible to hold the office of mayor or councilman unless he is a property holder in said city."

It was cited that not one of the women elected was an actual taxpayer in the city. The Attorney General holds that the presumption is that each of these women actually is in possession of something which actually is her property. The statute does not require the payment of taxes.

"At any rate," he urged, let's be liberal and resolve doubts in favor of the women and give them a chance. They can't do much worse in handling of city governments than the men have done generally throughout Kentucky."—Licking Valley Courier.

OUCH!

Earl Price, while building a fire early Monday morning, accidentally cut his leg. He was cutting some small pieces of wood to kindle the fire with and so the mis-luck. The cut was more of a stab than a wide or long cut, but a stitch was taken and the verdict was—no more fox hunting for a few days.—Licking Valley Courier.

UNIQUE ELECTION RETURNS

If you want to see something unique in election returns, look at Knott and Magdalen counties. In Magdalen, 6,267 persons voted on the county, government constitutional amendment, and all 6,269 were against the amendment. And by one of the strangest of strange election coincidences exactly the same number of Magdalen county voters voted on the plan to permit submission of more than two amendments at a time—6,269 voters; every one of them against the amendment.

RELIGION AND POLITICS MIX

The two ministers who opposed each other for county judge of Lawrence county joined in conducting a union revival meeting starting Sunday at the Lentin Christian Church, it was announced by the pastor, the Rev. W. H. C. Thompson.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson said that both the Rev. Sylvester Ball, county judge-elect, and the Rev. Dave Al Hayes, his defeated opponent, would serve as evangelists and would be assisted by the Rev. William W. Moore, who was elected county clerk.

The Rev. Mr. Ball is a Republican and Methodist, and the Rev. Mr. Hayes is a Democrat and Baptist.—Paintsville Herald.

MAN GETS YEAR TO SOBER IN PEN
Mel Buckley, Pikeville resident, must serve a year in the state penitentiary for being intoxicated. This was the sentence handed him in circuit court last week when he was found guilty of a charge of perjury. According to the evidence Buckley was taken into county court in an intoxicated condition several weeks ago and had difficulty in finding the witness chair. After it was found, it was stated, he swore he had not taken a drink during the day and a perjury warrant was sworn out. He failed to convince the jury.

RAISE PRICES!

Raise prices!!! is the cry in every line of business and on every hand. The costs are mounting higher and higher and the institution which survives the movement must begin to meet it with higher prices now. Publishers and printers all over the country are raising prices. Subscription rates have been advanced by editors from coast to coast. Advertising rates are climbing, commercial printing prices are on the increase because stock costs are climbing, newspaper is climbing, machinery prices are going upward. There is no other answer but to increase rates. The public expects it and will neither be surprised nor resist. Any publisher who thinks he can outsmart this movement by announcing that he is still doing business on the old basis is flirting with the sheriff. The die is cast.—Colorado Editor.

RECIPIENTS AT SHOWER

Wayland, Ky., Nov. 30.—The Rev. and Mrs. R. P. Crumpler were the recipients here on Thanksgiving Day of a grocery shower, which the pastor of the M. E. Church, South, says was only one of the many kindnesses bestowed upon them since they came to Wayland on Sept. 23. "Never in my life have I found kinder, more generous people," says Mr. Crumpler. Originally of North Carolina, Rev. and Mrs. Crumpler turned down the offer of a well-paid principalship for Mr. Crumpler in a North Carolina high school and set forth to wherever his church might send him to preach the gospel. Rev. Crumpler takes the place here of Rev. H. L. Phillips, who was transferred to Hurricane, W. Va. Mr. and Mrs. Crumpler came to this place from Hayes City, W. Va. In addition to his regular duties as pastor of the church, Mr. Crumpler is superintendent of the Sunday School and the teacher of a Sunday School class which he recently organized.

KY. HILL MUSIC GOES TO CAPITAL

White House Notables Heard J. J. Niles, Lexington, December 6
Music from Hog's Trough, Pippas and Gandor, Ky., communities in nearby counties, went to the White House December 6. That night John Jacob Niles, of Lexington, Kentucky, sang the songs of the Kentucky hill folk to an assemblage of the nation's notables. Niles, who says he was born "in the back end of Jefferson county," has been singing Kentucky hill songs since he was a boy in knee pants. He's been collecting these songs and recording them to paper since he was 15. And for nearly 30 years he has been singing his music up and down the land and even in such far places as Finland. As many know, a lot of these songs are survival forms of English ballads brought to this country by early immigrants who settled in the mountains and were promptly cut off from the world, remaining so for centuries. Some are Negro spirituals, some work songs, some are circle dances, perhaps the most beautiful of the lot are in that class. And one at an instrumental many never heard of, better than they do a modern piano, for example.

This instrument is a dulcimer, the Appalachian Mountains making dulcimers, from one string boxes up to eight-string beauties, such as is one of the two which follow Niles about the land, enclosed in homespun bucking burlap bags. Niles made his own dulcimers, however. Eight books of these songs have been put on paper and published. Songs like "The Seven Jars of Mary," "Wife of Usher's Well," "The Carrion Crow," "Barbery Glen" and "The So Glad Trouble Don't Last Always." A thousand songs are in the collection. But traipsing the country, singing for the White House and the colleges and clubs is not Niles' chief mission. His real job is as Kentucky night now, where he and the University of Kentucky are engaged in replanting this old culture in the mountains. Niles devotes each summer to a do program of mountain music, radio-cast especially to the university's 25 "listening stations." These are simply 25 houses scattered thru the mountains where better radio sets are stationed for the use of the neighborhood. The biggest village of the 25 is a place called Wootton, in Leslie county. Wootton is a regular city—150 persons. The smallest is Mozelle, at so in Leslie county. These may be

SINCE HUNTING SEASON IN, IT CAN BE TOLD

It seems that this winter and the tip of the point, he came upon three other hunters who also had stoves upon Mr. Rabbit. All three were put on paper and published. "any rabbit" The trail grew cold. Then hot, the yelping and howling of the dogs, wailed faster and louder. Shots were fired, though this newspaperman denies doing any shooting since none of the shots took effect. After this, Brown Rabbit decided to head for the home. And there he made a serious mistake, though three hunters with smoking gun barrels awaited him while as many dogs bellowed up there higher where he had been. For it seems that a plain, old yaller cat of the masculine persuasion, who's name was crunched in the boaters at the back of the farmhouse. And the rabbit leaped squarely over him! If somebody hadn't beaten him to it by a thousand years or so, he'd be a worker, after viewing the results of that jump, would have verified that swell line, "Look before you leap." For there was neither hide nor hare left when our felix friend got through with his cat.
