BEACH-COMBIN

Vero Beach, Fla.—The Eastern Kentucky colony in this southern city...

You may come to Florida now without fear of annoyance from constant tipping...

Confucius says Finland need help badly. Allies no hurry to Helsinki become Helsinki.

It would be a sad joke on the United States if, after she has cornered all the gold in the world and stored it in the ground at Fort Knox...

Surely the "boon" of the "Sun" American Youth Congress at President Roosevelt's tongue-lashing of the Russian Reds will give the families of New Dealers an idea of the nature of the organization.

Maybe Mrs. Roosevelt will quit cooking them now.

If I had had one dollar to spend for entertainment during a whole year I'd subscribe for the Home-own weekly newspaper.

You have no other possible means of keeping up with what is going on about you.

If the billion dollars paid annually on the national debt were divided equally among the families of Kentucky, each of the families, rich and poor, would receive two thousand dollars a year.

Painville residents can't blame Co. Coops because their water pipes freeze and burst. They only complain about "cheap" water, eh, Cy?

And speaking of Cy, there's a lad who has done right. Handicapped to begin with by being born in Morgantown, the World War left him almost wounded and in misery.

He heads the Painville firm that supplies water and gas, is the ring-leader in the American Legion, is president of the Kiwanis Club, and is one of the most prominent politicians and still is one of the most popular young men in the Big Sandy valley.

THE GARDEN

EARLY FLOWING BIG FACTOR IN SUCCESSFUL GARDEN, IS TIP

By JOHN S. GARDNER (Kentucky College of Agriculture)

With the ground covered with snow and the temperature hovering around zero, as it is as this is written, it might seem premature to say that now is the time to start the garden.

Nevertheless, now is the time, even though the actual putting in of crops cannot come about for several weeks.

There are things to do now, which if done, make the garden better, whenever actual gardening time comes.

One thing to do is early plowing. Obviously, things being as they are, plowing cannot be done at this time, but the fact remains that gardens broken early invariably behave better.

A good rule is to do the breaking six weeks before the vegetables are started. Perhaps the winter will end in time to allow these six weeks. Gardeners who broke their land last fall or before this unusual winter weather came are in excellent position, for they should reap

MOTORISTS OF 44 STATES GET CAR LICENSE EXTENSION

So popular has become the plan of deferred registration of motor vehicles—less than 10 per cent of the motorists had to renew their license plates promptly on January 1.

During the past 10 years 30 states have modified their laws to provide for two or three months' postponement of registration after January 1.

In every state where deferred registration has been provided, it has proved popular with motorists, tax officials and merchants. Motorists like the plan because it provides a welcome breathing spell after heavy holiday expenses and year-end bills.

Tax officials are enthusiastic over the plan because it increases gasoline revenue during a dull period of the year. In some states as many as 15 to 20 per cent of the cars formerly were idle for the first one to three months of the year because their owners, short of cash, failed to renew their license plates promptly.

In these states in which the postponement is for less than 60 days, efforts are now being made by motorists and others interested in highway transportation to extend further the period of deferment.

all the advantages early ground-breaking gives. Among these is that the weeds and trash that are turned under will be rotted down to give no trouble as weeds are being prepared for the spring and the crops are being cultivated.

Much the same is true of stable manure, particularly if it contains much weed or if the litter is coarse. The longer before seed beds are made manure is turned under, the better.

Another advantage early garden breakers will reap is that their insect population will have been reduced by this is not meant that the arch-insect, the Mexican beetle, will have been reduced in great numbers for this is a wily and hardy insect.

Another advantage that follows early breaking is that the garden can be worked earlier. For many crops, as for example peas, the soil must be early. Many gardeners have seen pea-planting time slip by while they were waiting for the soil to become dry enough to break.

The same is also partly true even of beans and sweet corn. It is often quite worthwhile to venture a bit of each of these two, but a garden that is broken late cannot always be put into condition for them to be planted, even tho' fairly safe temperatures prevail.

SEE COUNTY AGENT ABOUT SOIL SAMPLE

Farmers wishing to have soil analyzed at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington are advised to see a county agent or write to the Experiment Station for directions for taking samples. No fee should samples be so taken as property to represent the soil, but information should be supplied about the way the land has been cropped, fertilized, limed and manured for the past few years. Analysis of soil samples are registered of little value in advance what fertilizer to use for tobacco.

MAYO TRAIL WELL HIGH IMPASSIBLE Motorists traveling over the Mayo Trail and passing through Paintsville are registering protests against bad conditions of the section between Paintsville and Louisa when they declare a well-paved highway. Some of them have made the air blue swearing that the mud is so deep along the "mud hole" that the running boards drag the road. This section is poultry dangerous to travel—Paintsville Herald.

The game was close throughout, and Betsy Layne was out in front, 9-8, at the half. Near the close of the game the Bobcats' score had a flourish. Holcomb, Wheelwright center, was fouled and his successful shot tied the score. In the first overtime game each team collected four fouls and at the end of this period the score was 17-17.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

Since the Constitutional Congress first met in the beginning of our civilization on this continent, constitutions have been changed and amended. At the present time 21 amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and since 1891 when the third Constitution of Kentucky was adopted, there have been six amendments to the state Constitution.

At the present time John M. Hammett, of London, is planning a resolution that will drastically change procedure in the Legislature of Kentucky. In the early days of the state, the modern means of transportation or communication, it was necessary for the Representatives and Senators to travel to their home communities and stay several hours and days and weeks coming back and forth to Frankfort to pass on the necessary laws if Representative Hammett's resolution is carried. All present Representatives and Senators come to Frankfort, each with his pet bill, many of them unconstitutional, and a number of them along the same lines, and bring them up in the House and Senate to be voted upon.

The Legislative Council, created by a previous legislature, is properly equipped to investigate and check on all prospective bills that the legislature might plan. It is Hammett's idea, which we think a good one, to recommend to all legislators after they are elected in November, to send any bills they might bring up to the Legislative Council. The Legislative Council will be required to check on these bills as to their constitutionality, to see that they are not similar with other bills on hand, and if they believe these bills are good and necessary, to send out unattached copies of the proposed bills to all Representatives and Senators that have been elected and give them a chance to study them. If they are unconstitutional or similar to other bills, the Legislative Council shall so advise the legislator who has sent it.

Under the proposed plan the time of the sessions will be shortened to 30 days and the Representatives and Senators will be paid a flat salary, regardless of how long or how short the session is. We believe this is a good idea because it will permit a number of persons who are capable and fitted for representing their section to take the shorter time off from their business to do this. The additional salary will create more interest in the job and compensate business men for taking it.

The tobacco bill planned and co-ordinated by the Department of Agriculture headed by William H. May is ready to be presented to the Legislature. It limits the number of banks to one an hour, the number of hours and days a week the warehouse may operate, and the farmers and warehousemen both seem to like it.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

THE OPEN-AND-SHUT FAN
Though it has not been current for some time, as I am told, the open-and-shut fan certainly does not now have the prominence that it had when the lady was in. Not long ago, I went to an evening program of some kind and certainly behind a lady of fortune as it might melt and run down into my shoes. Just as the speaker warmed up to his subject, the lady drew a fan opened it with a skill born of long custom, and started waving it back and forth, probably soothing herself but certainly making me forget to breathe. But the open-and-shut fan was back to church at Piddley and many another place where the open-and-shut fan played a part.

Now there were fans and fans. A turkey wing was to be found in many homes. It was serviceable without, being neatly in style, elderly or about middle-aged ladies were armed with palm fans, often rather broad things that could set up air currents of some kind. But the open-and-shut fan was distinctive and stylish. It was the kind that many people took to church.

As the fan that the young woman wielded when she sat by his only own, we can decree that he sit at his girl's right; that necessitated using his left hand to keep the fan going or else each entirely across himself to use his right hand. I very early developed my own technique with my left hand and became almost ambidextrous. It was a point of pride to be able to use the left hand without awkwardness. It was the badge of the experienced fan wielder. A very pathetic law of nature is that friction produces heat. When I wielded the fan at a sufficient rate to keep the heat down, the heat was consuming my girl. I created extra heat that threatened to consume me. Thus, as the girl looked on at the preacher or the new hats of her friends, I sat and sweated, doing my duty to make her comfortable but almost dying in my attempt to keep the heat down.

IT'S TREASON—THAT'S WHAT IT IS!

We believe we have a case for the Supreme Court. The Constitution gives each state two Senators but the two great states of Kentucky and West Virginia only have one each. Kentucky has Barkley and West Virginia Neely.

If the U.M.W. of A. doesn't endorse Roosevelt for a third term, we miners in this section just wonder where'll we're going?

After seeing how slow the Drift bridge work is going on—I don't ever want anyone to say anything about the W.P.A.

Building fire escapes and then locking the doors to them is about as useful as a "hip pocket" is to a hog.

If there isn't a "hell on earth" just what is it our advisory highway commissioner goes through when he loses his district in the primary and final election, too?

There is no percentage in belonging to the Red army—Stalin shoots the officers at sunrise and the F. n. n. attend to the rank and file, any hour of the day.

If the U.M.W. of A. should break with Roosevelt, that would put us in the same picket line with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Liberty League and the American Manufacturing Association. We just can't take THAT!

I see where a Senator has introduced a bill to do away with the advisory highway commissioners. If the Governor and the Legislature believe in economy, why don't they pass that bill?

bill passed to make beer bottles out of cellophane. Then they won't hurt so bad.

HISTORY OF SYPHILIS-II

There has been considerable controversy over the origin of syphilis for many years. Whether the disease was present in Europe and Asia before 1493 is still discussed.

The balance of evidence seems to be in favor of the American origin of syphilis. The disease was of great antiquity in Haiti where it ran a comparatively mild course among the Indians.

Many names were used to refer to the disease because neither physicians nor laymen had ever seen anything like it before. At first it was called the

MAYTOWN NIPS WHEELWRIGHT

FOR FIRST WIN OVER A COUNTRY TEAM THIS SEASON

Flashing a brilliant scoring attack which put them out in front, 21-9, at the half, the Maytown high school Wildcats suffered a sudden reversal of form in the final half and were extended to the limit to defeat Coach Walter Price's Wheelwright nippers, 28-26.

Sparked by Patton, playing at forward position, Maytown took the lead score after the opening whistle and were never headed. Patton opened the scoring by making a field goal over his shoulder, then slipped away for a six-yard, giving his team a 4-0 lead.

Louly Tumble Bug Helps

(Altan M. Trout's "Greetings" in The Courier-Journal)

"Your column on the passing of the tumble bug," writes Charles W. Rogers, of Bowling Green, "reminds me of how this lowly bug once won a seat in Congress."

"Soon after the late Gov. Bob Taylor of Tennessee was admitted to the bar, he was selected by the Democrats in East Tennessee to run for Congress against the Republican incumbent, Major Pettybone. Young Bob demurred on the grounds he had neither money nor means of transportation. But funds and a decrepit mule were furnished. So young Bob wrapped his left-handed fiddle in an oil cloth, mounted his mule and started his campaign.

"Shortly before the election, the two candidates spoke at a mountain school-house in the afternoon and were scheduled that night for another speaking some distance away. About sundown the party stopped for supper at a mountaineer's home at two log rooms with a dogrot between. Supper was spread in the dogrot.

"During grace a buzzing sound was heard, followed by a thump on the wall and a splash in Bob's glass of buttermilk. The hostess took a spoon dipped from the glass a large tumble bug and pitched it in the yard. Bob, like a game sport, drank the milk.

"That night, Major Pettybone told the story and called Bob his tumble bug opponent. Bob Taylor opened his reply with:

"My friends and fellow citizens: Major Pettybone has told you a story in which he pleased to call me a tumble bug. I just want to say I have been pushing Major Pettybone pretty hard for six weeks."

"The reaction was indescribable. Taylor was elected a few days later."

Asks $40,500 (Continued from page one) To discredit the machine, Attorney of court, Inspector of the police, clerk, roach, and moved to insert the insect in the plug of tobacco so that the jury could be shown if the fluoroscope would reveal its presence. It was admitted by the defense that the bug would not be visible. The suit of the Payne-Baugh Coal Company versus the Hercules Powder Company was scheduled for trial this week. The coal company seeks to recover $700 with interest because one of its employees, Kelly Hughes, suffered a loss of three fingers when a dynamite cap bought from the powder company exploded — prematurely, the plaintiff contends. The accident which occurred August 3, 1937 was a result, it is alleged, of negligence and careless construction of the cap. More Nurses Needed (Continued from page one) Typhoid, last year, was more prevalent than for a number of years, though limited to two small outbreaks. One death here was the only fatality resulting from the disease during the year, the report cites. Inoculations made against typhoid during the year totaled 7,430. The 12 cases of scarlet fever reported during the year were of a mild type and widely scattered. Rabies, however, presents a more serious and an ever-present picture, the report indicates. Writes Dr. Randall, "Rabies appears epidemic in this county. There is not a month of the year that we do not have a few cases of rabies among animals reported, and the disease is so prevalent in other sections of Eastern Kentucky that I am of the opinion that the wild animals have become infected." Dr. Randall added that he believes strict enforcement of the state dog law will so reduce the dog population that, as a result, the incidence of rabies would thus be reduced by 50 per cent. Activities of the health department, as enumerated in the report, range from school visits to pre-natal health conferences, to vaccinations and inoculations for various diseases, inspections of dairies, and food-handling establishments, on to public sanitation and emergency work during floods and epidemics. With typhoid inoculations at 7,430 leading the list of this type of work, other preventive measures with 912 vaccinations followed. There were 694 diphtheria inoculations given, and only seven cases and no deaths reported from this disease. Active cases of syphilis reported to the department last year totaled 130. Work in the schools of the county included 310 visits to schools, 430 classroom lectures, 2,914 pupils inspected, 378 admitted to nursing service and 392 given nursing visits.

FLOYD MEN ARRESTED IN STOVE THEFT FROM CHURCH

Named in the desecration of a Lawrence county church, Jack Hall, Banner, and Edgar Howell, Betsy Layne, were arrested Sunday by Deputy Sheriffs Tom James and W. M. Hagans, then placed in the custody of Lawrence county Sheriff Bruce Fyfe. The Floyd countians are accused of breaking into the Chestnut Grove church while en route last Thursday night, to Ashland with a load of scrap iron. They are accused of taking a coal heating stove from the church and transporting it to Ashland for sale, along with other scrap iron in their truck. Members of the congregation identified the stove at the Ashland jail yard, and some testified that they saw the two men enter the church. By using extreme care during cold weather, Lawrence county farmers saved a large percentage of January-born lambs.

The Floyd countians are accused of breaking into the Chestnut Grove church while en route last Thursday night, to Ashland with a load of scrap iron. They are accused of taking a coal heating stove from the church and transporting it to Ashland for sale, along with other scrap iron in their truck. Members of the congregation identified the stove at the Ashland jail yard, and some testified that they saw the two men enter the church. By using extreme care during cold weather, Lawrence county farmers saved a large percentage of January-born lambs.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You No. 15 of a Series

WE WANT YOU TO FEEL AT HOME wherever good beer is sold. The Brewing Industry realizes that decent, respectable people prefer to patronize decent, inviting places. And we agree with them. That is why we are taking action—in cooperation with law enforcement authorities—to "clean-up or close-up" beer retail establishments that disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions. To do this we have instituted a new self-regulation plan now in operation in a few states and being extended as rapidly as possible. We think you will be interested in knowing something about this program. May we tell you about it in an interesting free booklet?
