FISCAL COURT'S POWER UPHHELD ON SALARY OF COUNTY JUDGE

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 23—The Court of Appeals today said a fiscal court could set the salary of a county judge to include payment for trying criminal misdemeanor and civil cases.

In an opinion by Chief Justice Alex Ruffin, the court set aside Graves Circuit Court's $3,000 award to W. E. Sullivan. Graves county judge from 1934 to 1937, for criminal misdemeanor cases he tried.

The court record said the Graves fiscal court in 1933 fixed the salary of the county judge at $1,500 and this was to include pay for both civil and criminal duty.

In other decisions the court said buildings erected on coal lands leased by the American Rolling Mills Company in Boyd county could be sold to pay debts of the Cyrol Mining Company, lessee of the land.

Salt River certainly must work wonders on a person! Since he made that involuntary journey, he has become the Highway Department's most valuable press agent, become the self-appointed spokesman for the U. M. W. A. is now claiming that he got the Dill bridge started about singlehanded and is giving the weather-man a genuine good dressing-down because it's too cold to your cherevite!

Should he ever decide to re-write the Bible, I'd bet he leaves out that part about "false witness against thy neighbor."

CENSORSHIP

Judging from the war dispatches from the different belligerents, the Allies must have more "unfavorable" news to hide from America than does Nazi Germany? Else why the tighter censorship?

Capitol Comments

On Tuesday of this week the Rules Committee of the House and Senate took over and all other committees were to forego. This means that any bill that is not on the calendar must be recommended by the Rules Committee before it can be brought out for passage.

When new bills are introduced they are referred by the Speaker to the various committees appointed to deal with those problems. They study them and make their recommendations.

The Rules Committee's purpose is to see that all important bills are brought out and action taken on them before the session closes.

Administrations have for some time been controlling legislation by subtly killing time for the first 45 days and then jamming bills through in the last 15 days. This session has been no exception.

Bills in committee now, that the administration doesn't want passed, can only be brought out for action after 51 members of the House or 20 members of the Senate vote for them out.

For this reason bills for which there is much discussion usually die in committee.

More than 735 bills have been introduced in both houses and 17 have been passed.

One to increase from $15 to $30 the maximum payments for old-age pensions.

A bill that gives the state title to unclaimed property after a certain time limit as bank deposits of indeterminate ownership and unclaimed estates not disposed of by wills.

A bill to prohibit manufacture, sale or exchange of milk and cream compounded with fat or oil other than milk fat. Dairy-men were interested in this bill as coconut oil products were gaining in sales.

A bill to allow quarterly courts to hold monthly or continuous sessions.

A bill changing from March 1 until first of next January, the time when personal and real estate taxes are to be determined.

A bill that will permit Kentucky liquor to be exported into dry countries of other states.

A few of the debatable bills left in committee were:

One that calls for popular election of school superintendents. Another that calls for the consolidation of the offices of Sheriff and Jailor and one that calls for the exemption of neutral spirits from state product tax.

Village of 1,500 Tax Free Five Years Because of Utility

Morrisville, Vt., Feb. 21 Taxes, a figurative pain in the neck to most people, don't bother the 1,800 inhabitants of this modern Vermont village—due to a little foresight and a municipal electric plant.

Back in 1894, the village built a power house two miles down stream on the Lamelle river. Last year, the plant ground out 6,500,000 kilowatt hours and collected enough money for it to pay out $25,000 on public improvements.

the matter and J. Lyter Donaldson was just as evasive, as to whether he would run again, said Senator Chandler for the Senate seat.

We believe he will not run for the Senate this time but will run for Governor of Kentucky three years from now.

The municipally-produced energy makes an awfully soft snap for the tax collector.

These municipalities pay village taxes in Morrisville 4-6-10-15.

Garrett Wins Tourney

will be started at 8 o'clock Saturday night. All times are central standard.

Referees will be Hoskins of Williamsburg and Cunningham of Lexington, with Clividen of Lexington as alternate.

Officials at Garrett were Jack McKown, former Marshall College and University of Wayne, W. Va., and John Shuey, Morehead alumnus, of Wheelwright.

In winning their second straight district championship, Garrett experienced considerable difficulty in reaching the finals against Wheelwright in the first game for the two teams the Black Devils found themselves on the short end of the stick at the end of the first quarter.

At the opening of the second quarter Cordell of Wheelwright flipped a field goal that increased his team's lead to 16-3. Then Delmas Caudill, Music and Bukovich began a scoring drive that put Garrett out in front, 14-16, at the half.

In the third quarter after the Black Devils had increased their advantage to 20-14 Wheelwright again took the wraps and at the end of the period had again taken the lead, 22-20. Garrett evened the score early in the final quarter on Caudill's field goal, then he made two foul tosses to give his team a two-point lead.

After getting off to a slow start against Garrett in the upper-bracket semi-final game Saturday afternoon, Betsy Layne staged a comeback that brought the team to within two points of the district champions with only two minutes to go.

score. Darvin Caudill's field goal put Garrett out in front, 12-15, and two more two-pointers by Music and Delmas Caudill increased Garrett's lead to 21-15. Near the close of the third quarter two field goals by Hale narrowed the lead to 21-19.

In the fourth period Bukovich's free kick gave Garrett a 22-19 advantage before Hale made a foul shot. Then Bukovich's field goal increased Garrett's lead to 24-20 and again Hale came through with his sixth round goal to cut the lead to 24-22. Music made another field goal for Garrett and Hale ended Betsy Layne's scoring by sinking a charity toss. In this game Bukovich ended the Black Devils' scoring by making a foul shot.

The tournament started off with a bang Thursday night, when Auxier and Wayland tangled in a nip-and-tuck battle which was decided in favor of Wayland when Terry beat a net-splitting field goal from near the center stripe in the closing seconds of the game.

Named on the all-tournament squad were Sloane, Prestonsburg; Hubbard, Auxier, Martin, Wheelwright; Bukovich, Garrett, Hale and Radley; Betsy Layne, Martin, Maytown, Prady, Wayland; Myers, McDowell; and Halbert, Martin. Listed on the second eleven were Terry and Ed Mills, Wayland, Sprulock, Martin, John Hall, McDowell, Bukovich and Paton, Auxier, Cordell, Wheelwright, Akers, Betsy Layne, and Dammann and Frank Heinz, Prestonsburg.

The individual sportsmanship trophy was awarded to Glen Cordell, of Wheelwright, while the team sportsmanship cup went to Maytown.

The final game between the bracket winners was close all the way, and the Black Devils' victory their biggest lead at the end of the game. Both teams started slowly, and only three field goals were made by both teams during the first quarter.

Wayland (28) Pos. Auxier (27) Terry (7) Pos. Paton (7) Evan Mills (6) Pos. Hubbard (6) Sturgill (6) Pos. G. G. Watson (6) Prade (4) Pos. G. G. Watson (2) Substitutions: Dammann, Russ, Radley, Rooper, Auxier, Winters.

Delmas Caudill's goal switched the lead back to Garrett. Two free pitches by Salisbury and Haines' field goal gave Prestonsburg the lead to 16-12. Then Caudill's field shot brought Garrett to within two points of the Cats.

Hunter's field goal closed the scoring for Prestonsburg during the third period, before Music and Caudill made goals for Garrett, tying the score.

Garrett took the lead soon after the opening of the fourth period on goals by Music and Caudill. With the Black Devils leading 24-18, field goals by Heinz and Dammann narrowed the margin to 24-22, but two foul tosses by Grodman gave Garrett a four-point advantage. Heinz again uncorked an over-hand shot, which left the Cats trailing 24-26. Substituting in an effort to add offensive strength, Coach Harlow sent into the game Stanley Clividen and J. Heinz, but they were unable to overcome the power of Garrett.

Named on the all-tournament squad were Sloane, Prestonsburg; Hubbard, Auxier, Martin, Wheelwright; Bukovich, Garrett, Hale and Radley; Betsy Layne, Martin, Maytown, Prady, Wayland; Myers, McDowell; and Halbert, Martin. Listed on the second eleven were Terry and Ed Mills, Wayland, Sprulock, Martin, John Hall, McDowell, Bukovich and Paton, Auxier, Cordell, Wheelwright, Akers, Betsy Layne, and Dammann and Frank Heinz, Prestonsburg.

The individual sportsmanship trophy was awarded to Glen Cordell, of Wheelwright, while the team sportsmanship cup went to Maytown.

The final game between the bracket winners was close all the way, and the Black Devils' victory their biggest lead at the end of the game. Both teams started slowly, and only three field goals were made by both teams during the first quarter.

HEALTH NEWS Compiled by Dr. Marvin Ransdell Director, Floyd County Health Dept.

CONGENITAL ("Hereditary") SYPHILIS

Probably the most important sociological effect of syphilitic infection in adults is the possibility that syphilis may be transmitted by the mother to her unborn child. At the present time most investigators agree that the child cannot acquire syphilis from his father unless the mother is first infected. In other words syphilis is not truly inherited but is transmitted from the infected mother to the child. Be this as it may the father is often the usual source of the disease, infecting the mother who, in turn, passes the disease to the child.

WAR'S 'MYSTERY WEAPON' IS STILL MYSTERY

New York, March 2—The "mystery weapon" that the west in its sixth month is still a mystery. Rumors of amazing machines of destruction have buzzed through the principal nations ever since the hostilities started, but all of them have yet to reveal an invention that would surprise you enough to knock you off of your feet. The good old-fashioned gun still is the prime implement of warfare. The nearest thing to a mystery weapon that has appeared on paper in wartime Europe, but in the peaceful United States. This is a radio-controlled projectile. A plane, loaded with explosives. Several versions of it are under study by the military. But the idea is at least 25 years old. The obstacle always has been the question of radio interference. If the marauder of the nation's air, can scramble your radio program with static, which you know he can, he probably mess up your radio torpedoes and control signals, and maybe even turn your gadget around and hold you by your own petard. Inventor Charles F. Kettering worked on the problem as far back as the World War. The motor Barlow claims to have solved the problem, and to be able to bomb Chicago 50 times a minute from Washington, but the War Department has not officially acknowledged that it has been convinced. Meanwhile, U. A. Sanabria, a Chicago electrical engineer, is working on an aerial torpedo controlled by television, that is, with an eye like a television camera in the nose of the torpedo which observers at a control post could tell when the torpedo was soaring over something worth bombing. The only novel equipment the war department has produced are the big hydrogen balloons, tethered a couple of miles in the air, which are supposed to make observations hard for air raiders, and act especially when supplemented with dangling chains and nets, as aerial traffic obstacles. But that idea has yet to be tested, and there's always the question whether they won't hamper defensive aviators as much as the enemy. A variation of the idea which the French army is supposed to have up its sleeve, is the shell which unfurls a parachute four or five miles up, like a super-fancy Fourth of July rocket, with long steel wires dangling down to enable planes or, on contact, to set off a hanging explosive. But this idea, too, dates back to the World War. The most notable advances in military equipment disclosed so far have both been improvements on World War devices. The Germans are supposed to have perfected a mine-actuated device even by sound and the United States Navy recently claimed to have developed a listening device that will detect a submarine at 10 miles and quite an advance in the technique of submarine detecting, when you consider that at the start of the World War they tried for a while to train seals for the work. The granddaddy of all "mystery weapons" is, of course, the "death ray" machine which, it is believed, can annihilate anything at any distance, depending on what bartender you listen to. No nation has produced one yet. The best that scientists have been able to do, with extraordinary electric rays in laboratory experiments is to kill small animals and stop them in a few feet, and at that distance a baseball ball would be just as effective. Otto Meier, an elderly Oakland, Cal. inventor, was produced equipment, which is responsible for army officers to study, which he says will explode gasoline and ammunition in a radius of two miles—without any way of controlling the direction in which it operates. Despite the elementary estate of the death-ray business, the people apparently like to read of it. The legend that somebody had one flourished in Europe during the World War, and the Spanish Civil War, and is still going strong, repeats with detail, regarding the inventor except his name and address, the machine except where it was, and its accomplishments (except the names of any eye-witnesses). Just last fall a radio drama involving death-ray operating in South Carolina got a lot of people down there excited. The death-ray is hardly more fanciful, though, than a number of the thousand ideas which have been submitted to army officials. People have suggested to the War Department training seals to trace submarines, and loading shells with rattlesnakes.

Head of the Class— and fit to be Tried!

There are a lot of things about this stunning 1940 Buick to claim your attention, if you want to know what's what in motoring. For instance, you've got to admit that it has done a lot to beautify the boulevards. And, from the way folks are swinging over to Buick, it must have something value-wise that's pretty important. What you hear about its quick-off-the-mark engine and the silkiness it gets from balancing after assembly certainly calls for inquiry.

So do the rave notices BuCoil Springing gets and the talk you hear about five-foot front seat room in the SUPER and its Foamtex cushions soft as a down puff.

Carter Motor Sales PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY "Best buy's Buick!" EXEMPLAR OF GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

also by their car licenses, etc. Will someone please tell me just why in— we shouldn't? A lot of our county officials carried the "Johnson banner" in the last election and they can't get such a fight for a man and then "they" haven't got pulled enough to get this bad-hole black-topped—they are just poor excuses for officials. We all know that some of our officials have some influence with the state administration—but are they using it to aid us? No, we know they are not. They are using their influence to get friends and relatives on the payroll at Frankfort. In reading over the roster and noting officers of the Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association, I find a number of them campaigned day and night for Keen Johnson. If they want to trade in Prestonsburg, why don't they use their influence to get our road black-topped? They were on a "road-roll" tour up here last summer, why don't they have another "road-roll" tour now? They just couldn't get up to see Beaver Creek and back out in two days. I was talking to a staunch administration man from Central Kentucky and he said that the Gov. and the Gov.'s managers, handlers, spokesmen, didn't take it up with the Governor about the "Left Beaver" road. That poor excuse, for officials. We all know what we want to know. The present Governor was right on the platform with Governor Chandler and heard him say that he'd build the Left Beaver highway or have to shoot Donaghy. The road isn't built and Donaghy isn't even "half shot." If Zurich is reappointed "Half-Shot" Commissioner, we want to secede from Floyd county and get annexed to Pike county.

SHIKE'S POKES

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of The Times.

Kentucky's 1940 law-making record is not a pretty thing to look upon. With a few exceptions, it is barren of real accomplishment.

I see where Roy Sheehan, a Representative from Harlan county, is on the Times' Commemorative (they call comminors note) who has held House Bill 111 off the floor.

It seems that "deal" "Happy" made with "Kern" to lock himself into the Senate may back-fire.

Our Left Beaver highway was some better this week—but not through any of the highway department did for it. It was an act of Providence—the last weather is drying it up.

If Brad Boyd and Tony had boarded in Dixie while building this bridge, they just couldn't have made enough on the job to have paid the board bill. Two years at a dollar a day runs into money.

I saw "Bull-o-the-Woods" Campbell at the Garrett tournament. He didn't have his broom, either. (I'm just wondering what Henry told on Nolle).

Aside to Bob Hodge (Waverland, Ky.) Was that halibut steak kinda dish?

That boy from Stephens Branch is just wondering how much longer he'll have to walk the railroad. I'd say till next election.

I've argued, begged, cursed, discussed and done about everything to get that Left Beaver road. Now, I'm changing—let the War Department train seals to trace submarines, and loading shells with rattlesnakes.

THE JAMES is told on unimpeachable authority that Mrs. Roberts head of the WPA Certifying Office here, is what we folks call a "fine woman."
This newspaper agrees that Mrs. Roberts is of good character, which includes honesty and good womanly traits. This newspaper has no quarrel with Mrs. Roberts as a woman. But Mrs. Roberts, handicapped by foolish WPA regulations, cannot appear to be in the light as a servant of the federal branch when we view the matter from the standpoint of the "outside." She fails us miserably.
Her failure may be a matter beyond her control or even beyond the control of any or all of us. Yet we think that we have just cause to complain—and against Mrs. Roberts as a woman, a good woman; but against what she is doing as Certifying Agent.
IF THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES has been, has so with Mrs. Roberts as an individual, it owes her an apology. If it has been harsh enough with Mrs. Roberts as Certifying Agent it owes an apology to all those who have needed WPA work or commodities and have received neither.
Again, IF THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES should err at any time in reporting upon passing upon passing, policy events, in blaming Mrs. Roberts or any other official, it goes without saying that they and each of them have just cause to complain—and against Mrs. Roberts as a woman, a good woman; but against what she is doing as Certifying Agent.

WORKING DEMOCRACY
Ownership of the Bell System, of which the Southern Bell Company is a part, rests not with a selected few but with about 675,000 stockholders, thrifty, independent Americans living in cities, towns, villages and farms over the nation.
The Southern Bell Company is managed and operated by 20,000 skilled workers, members of a progressive, amply stable organization founded on the democratic principle that assures to every worker the recognition of initiative and equal opportunity to advance. These 20,000 people are your friends and neighbors, and are substantial contributors to the prosperity and progress of the communities in which they live.
The Southern Bell Telephone Company, in providing quick, dependable service at low cost to the millions of people in the South, has made the telephone truly an instrument for the people.

$78 in payment of his bill for supplies furnished in the Trimble Branch pavilion.
Ralph Lee Gardner, Salversville was told to proceed with his plan for liquidation of the town's indebtedness through a bond issue. Mr. Gardner, at last weeks and previous meetings, indicated that the town's debts could be sold for approximately $75,000. Interest and other costs would amount, it was said to approximately 6 per cent.
W. A. Rose, a member of the city Council, asked THE TIMES this week to request its readers to express their views on the debt liquidation plan. What do you think? Your views if submitted in writing, will be printed in other columns of this newspaper.
Could the ordinary taxpayer stand the burden? What "reversing agencies" would principal revenues stand the strain of interest and principal payments on $75,000?
