TRAVEL BULLETIN
TODAY'S ROADS

 Prepared By
Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

"TREASURE ISLAND, SAN FRANCISCO BAY"
 Fully alive to the fact that, with 1940 a thoroughly "American travel year," California will be the mecca for millions of tourists, San Francisco is putting on its best bib and tucker and getting all set for a real party.

In fact, the 11 western states, with their hundreds of recreational and scenic wonders are getting all slicked up for the year of travel. National parks and monuments, such as Crater Lake, Oregon Lake, Yellowstone, Glacier National Park, the Grand Canyon, and scores of others will supply enthralling scope to westward treks to Treasure Island.

World famous for its amusements, scenic accommodations, San Francisco, the host city for the Fair of '40, is making detailed plans to maintain its reputation for true Western hospitality.

As a basic rule, adopted by all agencies involved, there will be absolutely no "price hiking" for the 1940 season. Hotel rates, restaurant prices, amusement cost, transportation fares, in fact every expense which will be involved in the entertainment of guests will be maintained at regular low levels.

Re-organization of the efficient housing bureau, which in 1939 eliminated all worries in connection with hotel reservations, has been achieved. Tourist bureaus and agencies, as in 1939, are fully prepared to render first-class and comprehensive service.

Visitors will be enabled to visit the famous spots for which San Francisco has won world-wide fame. Chinatown, with its Oriental lure, Fisherman's Wharf, the famous beaches, Golden Gate Park, the hundreds of restaurants of every nationality, where visitors may literally "eat their way around the world." The regular Italian dinner with California vitages for anywhere from 40c upward, fish grottoes, French cottages, South Sea gardens, these are but a scant few of the famous types of restaurants available to visitors.

San Francisco realizes that this season it must be at its very best—and it will be. It has a reputation as a city where the visitors receive a warm welcome, and one where there must be no "gypping" of its guests.

Fair in '40 visitors will find the lach-airing out, and a world of entertainment, a friendly welcome, and a new exposition on Treasure Island ready and waiting for them.

SHIKE'S POKES
 The views expressed in this column are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of The Times.

It seems that Louis Wilcox had a small accident. His car ran over a small embankment, and eye-witnesses are at odds as to how it happened. He had bought a call in Drift and started home. Some claim the call was driving and looked around at Louisa and ran over the embankment. Others claim Louis looked around at the call and—blot! Anyway, the call was driving looked around in the back seat at the other and "over we went."

I heard Fred Allen say that the most lonesome man in the world is a Maine Democrat. Sorry, Fred, I disagree—what about a South Carolina Republican?

Briar Buck: Just why did you stop talking about that Drift bridge being so slow—when you found out the county and not the WPA was building same?

I also heard the "chief weed cutter" advise the boys to keep you working to offset "that Shikepoke." So go right ahead—I don't mind.

I usually write what the miners in my locality want me to. They advised me at the local meeting Saturday to put it in my column that "if we could re-write anything we would re-write the law so that the Kentucky coal slaves wouldn't be robbed of their political liberty, their money, their nose and their self-respect."

Here's hoping the House of Representatives extends the "Hatch Act" to take in state employees.

Mr. Editor, we agree with you in what you said about Senator Phillips' bill to eliminate advisory Highway Commissioners. But I guess you neglected when "Lester Smith" the fellow who drew $136,000 from the state for duties less than a "ward hester" has disapproved the bill—so it won't be passed.

It seems that a real "primary normal" is developing in our old Seventh District.

Uncle Joe Likens, the pop-'n'-awl man, sez that it seems like his implement is attracting a lot of attention.

FLOYD'S REPRESENTATIVE

Floyd county's Edward B. Leslie hit the front pages last week by his bill to provide unemployment benefits for workers idle between the expiration of a work contract and the signing of a new one.

Notwithstanding the fact that his efforts proved futile and his bill failed of passage, there are several thousand U.S. workers here who will be pleased to learn that they have a Representative down there fighting FOR them—instead of bowing ABOUT 'em!

HARD TIMES!

Talk about being "hard up," this one takes the cake. A certain citizen of Martin went home recently to find his house occupied with the Ivory Soap contest.

"What are you doing, honey?" the husband inquired.

"I'm trying to win one of those Buick automobiles."

"Lord, honey, don't do that!" he cried. "We're not even able to pay the sales tax on it!"

BRIAR BUCK BELIEVES

This scribbler sincerely believes that the source of all social, economic and political ills in the U. S. can be traced either directly or indirectly to the LACK OF UNIVERSAL EDUCATION.

Riding a ring tail heifer through the cornfield barback would be a joy ride compared to sitting in one of those struggle-bus seats on that "Missing Link" stretch of road.

IF WEAK, NOT WICKED?

When a growing son is very frail, his mother sincerely grieves for any given occupation or profession, and when he is not strong enough to be wicked, his parents immediately decide that he will become a preacher—so sayeth a Floyd county minister of the gospel.

GONE WITH THE WIND

Recently a very piouses. Prestonsburg housewife was telling intimates that a friend of her husband had promised them two passes to "Gone With the Wind."

Then the friend sent word for the housewife to call at Fitzpatrick Drug and get the passes which he'd left there in an envelope.

She—being a piouses—went to see the envelope because "a little birdie" told him that it contained nothing except two small navy beans.

POP & STUFF

Personal opinion: Roe Turner is THE most sincere apartment in the county. . . The P. & G. club, apparently, was of the same belief, for they re-elected him secretary-treasurer despite his earnest protest. . . Oddly: The Chinese speak over 200 different dialects, yet their written language is all the same. The only trouble with some men's mistakes is that it don't cover enough of his face.

Mercury Test Car Will Visit P'burg

One of the most significant economy test runs in automotive history is being conducted throughout the Cincinnati branch of the Ford Motor Company, and Prestonsburg has been chosen as one of the principal points in the test run visit. The first make to test is a stock model 1940 Mercury 8 sedan. According to Bass Howard, of the Howard Motor Company, local Ford and Mercury dealer, the purpose of the economy run is to demonstrate the progress of mechanical engineering during the past decade, and more particularly to bring attention to the fact that, while the most economical speed for the average car 10 years ago was between 15 and 20 miles per hour, modern automobiles give their best performance at approximately 45. "Mercury owners talked about getting 20 miles per gallon of gasoline," stated Mr. Howard, "but owners of other makes were skeptical and asked us for the facts. So it was decided to take a stock Mercury and let people find out for themselves just what mileage this car will give." Mounted on the hood of the test car is a gasometer meter holding one-eighth of a gallon of gasoline. Local persons will be invited to drive the test car and their mileage results will be carefully checked.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED Mr. and Mrs. Earl Prasure announce the arrival of a fine son, March 3.

Mrs. Wiley Jones received a message last week stating that her brother, A. W. Manning, formerly of Vico, Ky., had died following serious injuries sustained in a motor accident at Rose Hill, Va., while Mr. Manning was en route to his home in Sarasota, Fla.

Mr. Conley, who in recent years had resided in Roanoke, Va., came to Louisa February 17 to visit his sister. He was stricken Friday morning with an attack of angina pectoris, a disease from which he had suffered for six years, and since Friday had suffered recurrent attacks. Death, which came Thursday morning at 5 o'clock, was ascribed to congestive heart failure.

A son of the late Asa J. and Elizabeth Leslie Conley, he was born in Louisa June 12, 1868 and had resided here practically all of his life. In September, 1885, at the age of 18, he and L. Boyd Ferguson bought from the late Col. W. O. Johnson the Lawrence County Index, a paper established in 1843, and changed the name to The Big Sandy News. Mr. Conley 18 months later purchased Ferguson's interest and continued as publisher of The News until 1935. He aided in establishing the Louisa National Bank in 1904 and served as cashier until 1934. Appointed by Governor W. J. Fields in 1925, he served as chairman of the state board of charities and corrections in Frankfort from 1925 to 1931, serving during the Fields administration and two years of the Sampson administration. He also served a term as postmaster in Louisa. He had been a member of the M. E. Church, South, for 50 years and served for many years as a member of the board of stewards of the Louisa church.

Surviving are the wife, Mrs. Willis Burgess Conley, two daughters, Mrs. B. H. Maben, of Roanoke, Va.; and Mrs. R. P. Wood, of Chicago, Ill.; a son, Niel B. Conley, of Plainfield, N. J., and a sister, Mrs. C. O. McDougle, of Louisa.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning at 11 o'clock from the McDougle residence on Look avenue here with Bishop U. V. W. Darlington, of Huntington, W. Va., officiating, and interment will be made in Pine Hill cemetery overlooking Louisa.—Big Sandy News.

SPELLING BEE FINALS HELD

WEEKSBURY STUDENT WINS COUNTY TITLE

Thirteen-year-old Vanda Meade, eighth grade student in the Weeksbury consolidated school, will represent Floyd county in the state spelling bee at Louisville, April 18.

She won this honor Saturday at the Floyd county spelling bee, held in the county courtroom as a crowd of 300 persons listened while spellers of 14 schools waged orthographic battle.

A fifth grade student from Prestonsburg, 10-year-old Doris C. Hall, was runner-up and furnished the winner worthy competition. Matching older youngsters, word for word, letter for letter, for two hours and a half, she was the bee's "dark horse" and lost only when she stumbled on the word, "definitely." This word the Weeksbury representative correctly spelled, then negotiated the next word, "occurrences."

For her winning performance, young Miss Meade will be given an all-expense trip to the state bee at Louisville, the Floyd County Board of Education contributing $25 in this case. The Board also gave each speller a dictionary. Winner of the state contest will be held at Washington at the guest of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times to compete for the national championship and a cash prize of $500.

Spellers competing in the county finals here and the schools which each represented follow:

Vanda Meade, Weeksbury; Ruby Jane Turner, McDowell; Doris C. Hall, Prestonsburg; Imogene Allen, Maytown; Dina Baldrige, Clay; Ada Allen, Lackey; Crawford Bradley, Garrett; Patty Prater, Betsy Layne; Phyllis Gibson, Wayland; June Turner, Drift; Virian Kaskir, Martin; Sam Mullins, Bosco; Carnis Bates, Wheelwright; Harrison Sparks, Auxler.

Joe B. Ja-rell, veteran Floyd county teacher, was the spelling bee judge. Truman Dannon, eighth grade teacher and Carl G. Ford, principal, Weeksbury, coached the winner. The runner-up was trained by Mrs. Robert Hughes.

All countersigned Floyd county fiscal court warrants, Nos. 13143 to 13244 are hereby called for payment. Interest on same expires March 16, 1940.

Martin Firm Appointed Kelvinator Dealer

Announcement of the appointment of the Cumberland Motor Company as dealer for Kelvinator electric refrigerators in Martin was made this week by John Roberts, manager. Kelvinator, it was pointed out by Mr. Roberts, is the oldest maker of electric refrigerators and the one which last year created a sensation in business circles by reducing prices $30 to $60 on high quality, big-size refrigerators.
"Despite rising material and labor costs," Mr. Roberts said, "Kelvinator electric refrigerators are priced as low as $119.95 for a six and one-quarter cubic-foot model delivered in the buyer's kitchen with a five-year protection plan. These enormous savings have been brought about by new, revolutionary manufacturing and selling program which has been developed after two years of exhaustive study on how prices could be reduced."
"Featured in the 1940 Kelvinator line is the newest thing in electrical refrigeration—the 'Moist-Master' humidity system, which captures and preserves spring conditions in the refrigerator."
"Kelvinator engineers recognized that everything that lives or grows is at its best in the Spring; and so they set out to approximate Spring-time conditions in a refrigerator. The result is the new 'Moist-Master' system, which provides exactly the right degree of humidity for the preservation of foods without increasing the use of electric current."

The old toll-cup, just a little tad-deck, carries one back through all the time of the mill and its useful services and back to the old country where the word came from, already full of flavor of the 'ages of grinding meal on millstones turned by water falling over a dam or rushing thru a chute.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

Just a Little Taddeck

A remnant of something, like leftovers from dinner that should be consumed at supper, used to be called a "taddeck" in my neighborhood. I did not know for many a day that the word was hard to find in even the big dictionaries and there it was labeled "Dialectal." Only a few years ago I ran across the actual meaning of the word as it was used in the years before our ancestors—English, Irish, Scotch-Irish, German—came over here and settled in Kentucky. It was the term applied to the toll-cup or cup used by millers to take out their part of the grain from the "turn" or quantity brought to the mill. A variant form of it was "toddick." Leaving out the way we used it, to designate a remnant, I want to mention an old toll-cup that is still doing service in an old water-mill in the Jackson Purchase and will probably be used until the mill itself has to retire before the waters behind the Gilbertsville Dam.

Away back in the past, so far back that some people claim it was the first year of the occupancy of the Purchase, 1919, there was established a mill on Blood River by a man named Brandon. There the mill has been ever since, never very prepossessing in appearance but functioning steadily to the needs of the community. At various times there were enlargements made to the mill, so that in time it had a sawmill, a gristmill, a cotton gin, and a flour mill. Many of these functions long ago were dropped, but the grist mill persisted. The first mill stones, now in a private museum in Murray, were made by hand. The legend is that it took three men the better part of a summer to quarry these stones and put them into shape for use at the mill. Not long ago I examined these old stones and was surprised at the fine workmanship displayed in these early pioneer times. There were plainly visible many fossils in the old stones; in some ways the stones themselves seemed fossils of a long-ago time, almost as remote in some ways as the small sea-organisms that had left their skeletons in the limestone rock.

In the old mill the toll-cup made over a century ago, has been used so long that it has acquired a polish that cabinet makers might envy. Think of the many bushels of corn and wheat it has been plunged into, of the years of good meal that it symbolized! The Brandons, true to their profession as millers, kindly gave thumbs of gold because of the good meal they made. The old mill is a place not too accessible, because in center of parts of the life of people or miles around. The old water mill, taking on a little more age and picturesque as the years have gone by in number, still stands by the stream-side, giving its stamp to the basic life of the whole section. Good water-ground meal was, and is, in demand. The successive mill-stones have done their part in creating and keeping the reputation that Old Mill Brandon made so many, many years ago.

chaser or purchasers may anticipate the payment of said unpaid balance cash at the time of sale, or by paying the balance due at any time prior to the maturity of said sale bond by paying the amount of such sale bond with accrued interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from date of such sale.
Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.
Given under my hand this March 5, 1940.

"CHASED" BY WEBSTER
These sound-alike words (homonyms) I believe they're called are aggravating. A former high school teacher, it is reported, had his troubles with the word while appearing as a character witness in a divorce suit. Asked so the story goes, the meaning of the word, "chaste," he let fly with this definition: "The act of being run over."

Members of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, which she for years had entertained at their weekly meetings, were active and honorary pallbearers at the funeral Tuesday afternoon, conducted from the Methodist Church, the Rev. W. B. Garriott, pastor, officiating. A profusion of flowers bespoke the esteem in which she was held.

A daughter of the late Edmond and Mrs. Artie Clarke, Mrs. Sellards was a native of Buffalo Creek. She and her husband moved to Prestonsburg in 1916, founded the Valley Inn which she conducted until her death. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since girlhood.

Surviving her are her son, H. Grady Sellards, Lexington, and two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Brown, Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Courland J. Riddle, Dayton, O.; and one brother, the Rev. H. K. Clarke, Catlettsburg.

When asked to state his preference of living in the United States or in the "old country," Mike merely pointed to his wrist and showed stamps and Liberty bonds and war-savings stamps and his answer was obvious. He has been voting in Kentucky for the past 24 years and he became a registered voter soon after the present law was passed. He and his wife pay taxes on their little farm, from which they have been trying to make a meagre living.

But until something is done for their benefit, these needy people who are technically citizens of this country must remain in their dilapidated three-room house, gazing into a future that seems even more uncertain than it has in the past.
