FIRST VISITORS TO THE FAIR ARRIVING

LEADERS IN FIELD OF AGRICULTURE TO BE HERE

Preparations for the Floyd County Fair are all complete, and this morning (Thursday) the first of an expected throng of visitors from all parts of the county, as well as many from other counties, were arriving here for the three-day agricultural and industrial exhibit.

Agricultural leaders expected to be present during the Fair are W. H. May, Jr., Commissioner of Agriculture; Ivan C. Jett, director of marketing, state department of agriculture; and O. M. Farrington, state executive officer of the Agricultural Conservation Program.

The Fair is being held at the Club Rustique, at the lower corporate limits of Prestonsburg. Yesterday a chartered school bus carried a picked band of musicians from the various school bands of the county and they, with the Rev. Campbell Jeffries at the microphone, will advertise the Fair.

Prestonsburg itself was lavishly decorated for the occasion. The Fair committee this week spread the fact that no beer or any other intoxicant will be sold on the fairgrounds.

Firms will be awarded to owners of winning entries at the desk in the Club Rustique, immediately after the decision of the judges is made.

Only change in the program for the three days is that shifting time of the dog show from Saturday to Friday at 3 p. m. The dog show will be held in the tent on the fairgrounds.

In addition to all those whose advertisements appeared in the Fair supplement to THE TIMES last week, the following firms contributed liberally:

Beaver Creek Condenseries, Coal Creek Coal Co., United Carbon Company, Fuel Corporation, United Carbon Company.

50 X-Ray Pictures Made at Clinic Held Here

X-ray examinations were made at the annual Floyd county tuberculosis clinic, conducted here last Wednesday and Thursday in the office of the Floyd county health department, of 50 persons who had come into contact with the disease in their homes.

The clinic, an annual phase of the general health program, was sponsored by the county health department, with the co-operation of the Prestonsburg Women's Club.

X-ray pictures were made by Dr. John B. Floyd, director of the department of tuberculosis, state board of health, and Miss Katherine Harrison, technician. Dr. Floyd also made examinations of several patients referred to the clinic by Floyd county physicians.

GLO MOTORMAN FATALLY HURT

LEAPS TO AVOID SLATEFALL; HIT BY MOTOR

Homer Bentley, 30 years old, of Glo, was killed instantly in the No. 1 mine at Glo Monday night at 8:30 when his head was crushed by the motor on which he had been working.

Employed as a utility worker around the mine for the past 15 years, the victim was running the mine motor at the time of the accident. He was struck after a piece of slate had knocked him onto the track as he was attempting to leap from beneath the slatefall. He was the son of John H. Bentley, of Glo.

Also surviving are his widow, Mrs. Opal Prater Bentley, and three children, all of Glo.

Funeral services were conducted from the home Wednesday, and burial was made in the Estill cemetery at Glo, with the Arnold Funeral Home conducting.

COOP GRANTED FOR DEVELOPMENT OF REA POWER IN SECTION

Big Sandy Rural Electric Co-operative Corporation officials were notified recently of the appropriation by the Federal Public Administration of $150,000 for the construction of approximately 160 miles of power line in Floyd and Johnson counties.

W. W. Burchett, Prestonsburg attorney for the Co-op, said that the Roy W. Channaberry Engineering Company, Louisville, has started a survey which, when completed, will furnish complete plans and specifications, which contractors may base their bids for construction of the lines.

Approximately 60 families have enrolled with the Co-operative—200 in Floyd, 400 in Johnson. Officials of the co-operative hope to see 200 more miles of line constructed in Floyd, Pike and Johnson counties.

The $150,000 appropriation is for construction of main lines, it is explained, and extension of rural power over branch lines, it is hoped, will be made without a break in construction activities under a second expected allotment.

FLOYD MINES RE-OPEN

'TRIAL RUN' STARTED AT WAYLAND, GARRETT
A "trial run" was started last week by the Big Horn Coal Corporation after a shut-down of several weeks following the naming of receivers for the company's mines at Wayland and Garrett in this county and at Fleming.

The Fleming mines have been operating for two weeks or longer. Wayland and Garrett re-opened Monday and the week on an experimental basis. THE TIMES was told here.

Only the mechanized parts of the Wayland and Garrett operations are active. It was reported here that 218 men had been put back to work at Wayland and 115 at Garrett.

Operation of the company's mines in the county at full capacity is predicted within a few weeks.

'UNCLE' JEFF SIZEMORE'S CAKE ADORNED BY 98 CANDLES

The years relentlessly advance, and he knows that he must eventually fall before them—but "Uncle" Jeff Sizemore, last of Floyd county's veterans of the Union army, is hopefully praying that he'll hold out another two years.

"That would let me round out an even 100 years," he said recently. Uncle Jeff on October 2 celebrated the passing of his 98th milestone with a giant birthday party at his home on Town Branch, near here. Relatives and friends registered for the birthday "dinner" to the number of 115, and there were others who did not leave their names.

Uncle Jeff's a little less spry, these days, than of yore, but he had himself a time during the day. Gifts galore were showered upon him; he met and talked with old friends and relatives. He recalled General Garfield's expedition up the Big Sandy and from memory quoted the future President's proclamation to the people of Prestonsburg when his army camped there.

"I hope you're everyone back next year," he said. "I'm here to welcome you."

Illness of Three Years Claims Week's Woman

Mrs. Rhoda Hall died October 1 at Prestonsburg following an illness of three years. Mrs. Hall was 80 years old.

Funeral services were held at the home with the Rev. G. B. Adams, of Whitesburg, P. A. Horn, of Pikeville, and Jerry Hall, Ligon, officiating. Interment was made in the family cemetery.

Mrs. Hall was a native of the Weeksburg section, the daughter of Harley and Sarah Johnson Hall. She was a lifelong Baptist, her husband, G. W. Hall, died in 1921.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Tode Johnson, of Yeager; four sons, W. B. Hall of Whitesburg, P. A. Hall, Mildard and George Hall, all of Whitesburg; six daughters, Mrs. Ludena Keenan, of Whitesburg, Mrs. Maria Young and Mrs. Dorcas Newsome, of Melvin; Miss Pattie Hall and Mrs. Sarah Jones, of Weeksburg, and Mrs. Mattie Compton, of Martin.

GO TO HUNTINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Roberts left Wednesday for Huntington with their 12-year-old daughter, Jo Ann, who will enter the C. & O. Hospital for a tonsillectomy.

BLACKCATS SCORE FIRST WIN OF SEASON OVER LOUISIA

After being held scoreless during the first half by the Louisa high school Bulldogs Coach Joe Taylor Hyden's Prestonsburg Blackcats early in the third quarter climaxed a 60-yard drive with a touchdown thrust from the one-yard line with quarterback John Herald carrying the ball for a 6-0 victory at Louisa Saturday afternoon.

Prestonsburg opened the second half by kicking, off to the 10-yard line, Herald carrying the ball for a 6-0 victory at Louisa Saturday afternoon.

In the second period Prestonsburg's bid for a touchdown was stopped when Charlie Hall, Louisa fullback, intercepted Salisbury's pass deep in Louisa territory after the team had marched down the field more than 80 yards.

Two Tickets File For Election At Martin

The town of Martin is figuratively girding its loins for another Town Board election. The present board is serving by virtue of appointment by County Judge Hill after last year's election was voided through contest action of defeated candidates.

One ticket composed of Mrs. Mary Francis, J. D. Adams, Gardez Dingus, Floyd Skaggs and Demra Taylor, filed notification and declaration papers in the office of the County Clerk on September 30. The other ticket which includes Dave Marrs, S. D. Osborne, Florence Crisp, W. L. Bentley and Foster Porter filed October 4.

The town of McDowell also elects a Town Board at the November election. Filed for places on the board there are Chas. Moore, S. T. Meade, Jack Hopkins, John Vanderpool and J. M. Bentley.

No candidates for membership on the Floyd County Board of Education had filed up till Wednesday morning.

SEWER LEVY ENJOINED

Appellate Court may be asked for decision

Martin's Town Council was enjoined Tuesday by Special Judge W. R. Prater, Salversville, from collecting assessments against property-owners of the town to pay for construction of a sewer line which has been a bone of contention there for the last few months.

Judge Prater's decision followed a hearing held in the offices of Combs and Combs here. The Court of Appeals may be asked for a final decision. Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, Jr., disqualified in the case.

1ST LIME CARS ARRIVE

50 TONS ON HAND; 300 TONS, GOAL OF ACP BODY

The County Agent's office announced the arrival last week of five carloads of lime. The first contingent of an estimated 300 cars to be distributed to Floyd county farmers during the fall months.

The farmers are showing the greatest interest this year in the use of lime. The phosphate fertilizer winter cover crops that has been shown at any time in the history of the AAA program, according to County Agent Isabel.

Applications have been filed for 5,000 pounds of vetch seed as grant of the National A. C. P. head-quarters, located in the County Agent's office, state only 5,000 additional pounds are available and urges farmers in the A. C. Program to file their applications at once.

AIRPORT YARN, MISLEADING

DEFINITE LOCATIONS YET TO BE MADE, TIMES IS TOLD

The list of 80 Kentucky airport locations released to the press recently was not the final list but also authorized the Civil Aeronautics Authority was quoted this week in Washington as saying:

"The Prestonsburg is not 'out' of the program and that towns listed in the recent dispatch are not 'in.' It was the gist of the statement.

The 80 locations listed more accurately compose a "study list," from which only a few airport locations may be made. One field may be selected for the Big Sandy valley, one for the Kentucky river section, and possibly two or three for Central and Eastern Kentucky, it was learned this week.

Congressman A. J. May assured Prestonsburg business men that he would investigate the matter and report to them on the town's chances for participation in this phase of the national defense program.

MIDDLE CREEK RAIL PERMIT IS SOUGHT

COAL DEVELOPMENT IS CONSIDERED A CERTAINITY

Building of a 10-mile railway line up Middle Creek and the development of the rich coal field there was considered a certainty here this week as the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to construct the railway.

THE TIMES learned from an unofficial but reliable source this week that the Island Creek Coal Company, second largest coal producing firm in the world, already has signed a contract with the railway company, by which the latter is promised the annual shipment of 1,000,000 tons of coal over the 10-mile stretch of road.

According to this source of information, the railway line from West Prestonsburg up to the Left Fork of Middle Creek coal field is to be completed by April 1. While the line is being laid, installation of equipment and tipple-building will be made as far as transportation facilities will allow, it is predicted.

Cross-section survey of the proposed rail route is now under way. Bids on construction will be asked by the railway company as soon as the Interstate Commerce Commission approves the project.

First shipment of coal from the new field is planned not later than April 1, next year, THE TIMES learned. Plans as unofficially stated would embrace the shipment of around 50 gondola-loads of coal a day from the operation.

All these reported plans for immediate development of the field which brace the shipment of some 30 WPA projects, and the town Council voted the property-owner assessment requirements. It was said:

"One requirement is the quality of coal submitted from the section for tests is the finest yet discovered in Eastern Kentucky, home of fine bituminous."

Another Wheelwright, where the Island Steel Corporation has operated to the particular advantage of the upper Left Beaver section and to the benefit of the county as a whole, is now envisioned for the Middle Creek section. Openings from the Middle Creek area may be driven on beneath the bed of the Licking river in Maggoffin county as more coal of the same high grade is needed to meet several hundreds of workmen will be employed.

This Town-- That World

AND THE HOSS TRAILED ALONG
George Dyer gets a life pen term for roost-stealing as a climax to a one-man crime wave. And that reminds us of the story accredited to that certain Floyd man, who accused of the same offense, explained:

"Now, I didn't steal the boss, I men him a-comin' down the road. I caught him by the halter and he folloed me back up the road."

KING OF HIS HOUSEHOLD
I wish I could pass the picture on to you, just as I saw it. I thought it was sorta striking. It was a scene on the "main drag." A six-footer who would have made the scullie yell.

"Uncle" was riding a mule and his feet were drawn back along the donk's flanks so as to keep 'em off the ground. I figured, a tow-headed youngster of two years or thereabouts straddled the saddle-horn in front of him. The heaviest of burly fellows, an on at all, pace, and he looked like king of all he surveyed as he sat there, letting his lordly gaze wander over the country-side. As his wife, a mite of a woman, trudged a few paces ahead, with a sackful of something pretty heavy across her tired shoulder.

Why is it a guy never has a camera—not even a gun—on occasions such as this?

PAPA STAYS HOME
County Attorney Forrest D. Short has joined me in supplying iron-clad assurance that he will not attend the public meeting. And Forrest frankly comes up with the one about wanting to stay home and tend to the baby.

BILL HENRY SAYS:

(The views herein expressed are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

IT DEPENDS on which side of the fence you are on it depends on whether you are one of those die-hard Republicans or Democrats who would vote his ticket, regardless of who was on it. If you are a Republican who swears all Democrats are bums and all Republicans angels, or vice versa, you will go to the polls and blindly cast your vote. If you do, you may put yourself on the back for being a good Republican or Democrat...

some of the comforts of life? Instead of showing any interest in the common man he now professes anxiety for his company is accused of having favor of doing. He would leave the administration does not mean changing the whole government. Just what Mr. Willkie changes is the man who would Mr. Willkie changes is the man who would Mr. Willkie changes is the man who would...

Perhaps Wendell Willkie might meet all the requirements necessary as President of the United States—perhaps. But is the future of the millions of men, women and children of the United States secondary to satisfying the ambitions of one man—is it reasonable to gamble the lives of these millions? Mr. Willkie is absolutely no experience in governmental affairs, his business experience is of very short duration and that only as titular head of a large corporation producing electric power. These large corporations do not always hire as their heads men for the knowledge they have of their industry...

Let's Stop This Practice
The law states that every person who weighs livestock must be bonded and give a surety bond for the same. This is the man, Wendell Willkie, who says if you elect me President I will make America over. Wendell Willkie is the type of man who, if he were campaigning for a county office in one of our mountain counties, would be classed as just a wildcat. There are plenty of men in Floyd county who would beat him for the office of magistrate.

They sound too much like Herbert Hoover when he was going to place two cars in every garage and two chickens in every pot. Herbert Hoover did that... he certainly did... for those at the head of large corporations, the kind of corporations headed by such men as Samuel Insull and Wendell Willkie (Mr. Willkie was not president of the Commonwealth and Southern at that time). Now that Mr. Willkie wants to be President, he suddenly finds he is interested in cheap electricity for every home. Isn't it strange that during the seven years he has been at the head of the Commonwealth and Southern it never occurred to him these same people were in need of...

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

Commodore seemed to think that the truck wreck in Drift was caused by the "wavy" signs of the windshield. The classic remark about the wreck was made by "Buck" Wade—he noted the position of both trucks and then pointed to the signs on the windshield and said—no wonder they collided—you can't do wrong and get by.

That Martin-Beaver Co-Operative Association is an up-and-coming organization. Just watch their smokes! IT'S OUR FAIR—LET'S ALL ATTEND. I see by last week's paper that Writer Dorothy Thompson has finally seen the light.

"Hi-Times" Makes Appearance
First issue of the Prestonsburg high school's publication, "Hi-Times," was published last week. The school paper is made possible by the business men and concerns of Prestonsburg and Floyd county.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

(Pursuant to an order entered by the Floyd Fiscal Court on September 18, 1940, notice is hereby given to voters in Early Layne Precinct No. 7 that at the regular election on Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1940, there will be a poll of said voting precinct for the purpose of determining whether or not livestock will run at large in said precinct.

Bill Howell said that he was wearing "Indian underwear"—it just keeps creeping up on him. I wonder if "Hedge" has ever found his sweater—somebody reported that it looked like someone had been carrying cabbage in it.

Orville went to Ashland Thursday night and didn't show up for work Friday night. He must have been "camping."

I didn't have to use a "loud speaker" to give away that thousand political badges I received last week. It comes that, not so long ago, Rev-

erly C. woke up somewhere upstairs and in dreaming to leave he put his pants on hind-part-before and started down the steps. He stumbled and wound up in a heap at the bottom. When asked if he was hurt, he carefully examined himself and, noting the back of his pants in front, remarked, "I'm not hurt but I'm in one h— of a twist!"

Sammy H. has swapped his tokying mule for one of Henry's under-estimates "used-to-be-good" mules to Drift and back every day to work.

Well, the World Series is over, and the best team won, but Curt J., "Ced" and some of the boys are still unstrung. Just after the last game, Pat reported that Charlie Sound Cat up in the hills with about 40 feet of rope—and Curt J. is reported to have wrecked a Jook Box when someone started playing "Sold That Tiger" and it is reported that Luan has quit chewing "Tiger Strips." He switched to "Red Man."

We have missed "Danny" since he has been visiting in Pennsylvania. We haven't had anyone to argue with.

If Clarence keeps on having to "walk the baby" they are going to dub him the Marathon Walker.

A lot of people have been standing up to eat since that skatin' rink came to Drift.

I see where Chandler has been separated from his appendix—seems as though he always has tough luck along about election time with operations, poisoning, etc.

Squire and his deputies took Drift to the cleaners in Sunday's ball game. Final score—Clear Creek, 13; Drift, 7. The only thing that Squire couldn't stop was the Drift stealers—they pilfered six bases on him.

The "Chum" wanted to ride the airplane Sunday but the pilot said he was unable to get him off the ground.

1. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver, Middle Creek and Johns Creek road.
2. Consideration by officials of human needs, not the need for political influence.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and the county agricultural agent work.

ANOTHER TASK

During the last few months, as America began first preparations for defense against the power lust of Old World dictators, Floyd county has been doing its part.

Without fanfare, sans the blaring of bands, the waving of flags and the kisses of pretty girls, the boys have been quietly answering the call to the colors as volunteers. So quietly have they left us that few of us know exactly how many Floyd county boys have enlisted in the various branches of the country's armed forces.

And now . . . during the coming months, Floyd county must continue to do its part. To join those who have gone before, there are those to be drafted into the service.

And right there is where we have a job to do. It's a job for those who will remain at home while the boys go into active service. That is the task of seeing that rich and poor, humble and proud, friend and foe—all alike—are on the same footing as this country and Floyd county enforce the draft to put the nation on an effective defense footing.

There will be two draft boards in this county. The members of these boards will exercise the power of sending into the service or rejecting from service our youth. To these whoever they may be, Floyd county will look for—not merely but justice, without fear or favor.

Registration day—Wednesday, October 16—will be one hundred per cent effective. The law is inexorable in guaranteeing that it will be effective.

Let the "local" draft boards of this and the other counties of the nation function as well—and none may justly complain. There is no room for aristocracy in the democracy of the draft.

SALUTE . . .

A salute to the Inland Steel Company. What a pity it is that every corporation, every employer in Floyd county is not financially able to emulate the noble example it set in its announcement, published recently in this newspaper!

That statement insured its employees who may be conscripted, or called into the service because of their National Guard training, as much as they of the company as will be the government's basic pay to them as soldiers or other members of the military service.

Truly it is a pity that we all cannot assure our employees the same back-at-home support as that cheerfully and patriotically offered by INLAND. But that is not all the Inland Steel Company has done for its employees and its country. Surely you

500 Tests Are Made Following Scarce

Approximately 500 Wasserman tests were made recently in Maytown and vicinity by the Floyd county health department after fear of infection from five "positive" cases of syphilis had thrown the community into panic. Reports received to date on tests indicated that the disease had not spread into the school there. One case of diphtheria was reported last week at Langley and two at Drift.

In Harrison county, 500 ewes were imported and more are on order, though the original estimate was for only 300.

who are interested in what corporations do, or do not do, remember that INLAND, a few years ago, provided an annual scholarship for worthy daughters or sons of their employees, and the boys and girls looked toward higher education following graduation from high school. Surely, you who are interested in conditions under which American workmen toil, can see a living will result that story, published by THE TIMES a few weeks ago, wherein it was shown that INLAND had spent thousands of dollars, to insure its Floyd county operation. Wheelwright, against insidious disease outbreaks.

It is a pity that INLAND does not have an inland empire under America's dominancy wherein to grant a witer shower of blessings!

Points By Other Editors

WOOLING THE RUSSIAN BEAR

One of the most interesting by-products of the triple axis pact is the way its members are trying with one another in declaring their warm friendship for Soviet Russia. For German spokesmen this is nothing new, since Nazi editors got their cue a year ago, when the Russo-German accord was concluded. However, until the momentous Berlin pact was signed a few days ago, neither Japan nor Italy had followed suit. "Only yesterday," as Frederick Allen might put it, Japanese writers were warning against Red Russia as the ultimate enemy and Moscow as the seat of "dangerous thoughts." In Fascist Italy, the Bear feared no better. A backward glance through the press files will turn up the blistering editorials during the Spanish and Finnish wars, when Virginia Gayde and his colleagues excoriated Joseph Stalin and all his works in the journalistic billingsgate for which the Fascist press is so justly famous.

Today, how the tune has changed! In Tokio, editors are suddenly changing their tune except by official order, it is plain that the three axis governments have adopted a vigorous Rusophile line. Soviet Russia seems, indeed, to have many friends these days. Has not Britain's Laborite Ambassador, Sir Stafford Cripps, been tirelessly promoting good relations despite many rebuffs? And does not the government of Free China, dependent upon Russia as its sole avenue to the outer world, seek to propitiate Moscow in every way? With so variegated a throng knocking at his door, canny Joseph Stalin doubtless smokes his famous pipe, perhaps composing beneath his drooping mustache the quirk of a cynic's smile.

The one outstanding exception to the current trend appears to be the Roman Pontiff. A Vatican City dispatch reports that Pope Pius XII is preparing an encyclical warning Catholics throughout the world to be on guard against "Communist influences" resulting from the international struggle to win Russia's support. The Vatican, according to the dispatch, is about to take a decisive stand in face of what it considers the ruinous expansion of Bolshevist philosophy and influence throughout the world.

With the war, now well into its second year, becoming more terrible with the approach of winter and threatening to engulf the whole world in its scope, all these maneuvers centering about Soviet Russia have a deep interest. The full significance may become startlingly evident in the months to come.—Washington Star.

BUSY DAYS ARE HERE

The vacation days of Summer have gone, and Autumn's busy days are here again. There are children to get off to school, summer clothes to be stored, and woollens to be retrieved from the moth balls. Which means errands to be run, dry cleaning to be done, shopping trips to be made and a hundred and one other things that add to the cares of the busy housewife.

Well, there's one sure way to relieve a lot of this hurry-worry. Let the telephone run the errands while you take it easy.

If you already have telephone service but only one telephone, you probably lose a lot of time running downstairs or from one room to another to answer or place calls. A handy extension telephone upstairs or in some other much-frequented part of the house would put an end to most of this tiresome leg work.

Prepare now for the busy days ahead. Call the telephone office today and let us tell you how little it costs to enjoy all the benefits which telephone service or an extension can give you. — Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company, Incorporated.

A STALE JOKE AT THAT

Last week an Italian newspaper "offered" Canada, Newfoundland, the Bahamas, Bermuda, Jamaica, New Zealand and even Australia to the U.S. as "rewards" for her neutrality.

Some people may think that's a bargain, but I believe Shade Ollie's report to the teller of a wild tale is appropriate. Shade said: "Mister, if you tella dat for a joke, boy—good joke. But if you tella dat for de truth, it's a dam lie!"

November 5th is the time for all good Democrats to come to the aid of the party—by voting it straight!

ACCUSED OF LYING

Sam Hatcher who is probably the greatest dam builder on Johns Creek, has flatly accused me of lying about "O.A.S." tongue getting tired by quitting time. Sam says it NEVER gets tired!

TIT FOR TAT

Some sweet day, when this little brat of mine gets so he can make cute "cracks," play pranks on folk who aren't interested, and sack his tongue out at people when I'm going to collar several Proud Paps around here and force THEM to listen while I tell of the cute doings of MY "little darlings."

POULTRY TICS

A notice being displayed in front of the county Democratic headquarters reads: "We roost with Roosevelt—Why will you with Wilkie?"

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

Exclaimed one coal loader to another: "For gosh sakes, here comes Mrs. Roosevelt!"

GOOD WHILE IT LASTED:

A friend of ours who saw a free Wilkie movie put on here recently reports that he sat directly behind former Circuit Judge C. B. Wheeler throughout the performance. And when the show broke, our friend asked the ex-judge what he thought of it. "Well, I thought it was very good," replied Mr. Wheeler. "but I went to sleep a little while after it started."

POP & STUFF

"Sign on back of automobile: "Don't vote for Windy Wilkie." "Brad Boyd, this means you!" Similar. Famous as the County Attorney's son's sprinkling capacity.

Yesterday was Registration Day, tomorrow is Fair Day and the next day is half-holiday. Whoopie! Wonder if that jaw-bone "Muscle-lin" displays isn't the same kind as Samson used?

Yeah, We Said 'Moocher'—And so What?

A moocher isn't always an individual who is "bumming" a cigarette; a cat skinner is not necessarily a skinner of cats; and a moozer is not a moostruck person.

Actually, according to R. P. Fields, manager of the Kentucky State Employment Service office at Pikeville, a moocher is a legitimate workman who earns a living by inspecting steel, welded joints and seams in steel structures, marking defective points for repair.

Likewise, a cat skinner belies his implied association with dead felines and puts in his working hours driving a caterpillar tractor. And a moozer can't take time out to wander with his head in the clouds, lest he cut himself with the half-moon-shaped knife he used to scrape the fleshy sides of hides.

The local manager's authority is the New Dictionary of Occupational Titles prepared by the Federal Bureau of Employment Security, which was put into use by the State Employment Service.

The new job dictionary was designed primarily for use in private employment throughout the nation, but unexpected demand from private industry for the publication made a second printing necessary.

"Practically all the new jobs found in business and industry in the United States were analyzed to get the detailed occupational information composing the volume," Mr. Fields said. "This work was done by trained analysts who, with the co-operation of business management, went into factories, offices and service establishments and learned by direct observation and endless interviews what was done by the workers in each job."

"All this information then was assembled and co-ordinated, so that it could be embodied in the Dictionary of Occupational Titles. The book lists 17,452 job titles and 12,222 alternate names. A comprehensive outline of the duties of each job is given.

Need for the dictionary arose from the fact that many jobs are known by different names in various sections of the country, and even in various industries in the same city. With the help of the dictionary, Employment Service interviews can tell at a glance just what the duties of any specific job are. It doesn't make any difference whether the job to be filled is in New York, California, or right here in Eastern Kentucky—as soon as the name by which the employer calls the job is known, an interviewer can identify it and learn its requirements by referring to the new volume. This is considered an invaluable help to the Employment Service in its efforts to "match workers and jobs."

Mrs. Collins-Named Dist. Vice-President

Lackey, Ky., Oct. 14 (Spl.)—Mrs. M. Collins, member of the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club, was elected vice-president of the Seventh district at its twenty-second annual convention which was held in Pikeville Saturday, October 13.

Among the Lackey-Garrett Club members who took part on the program were Mrs. T. J. Chaudier, president, who gave the yearly report for her club; Mrs. M. Collins, who in the absence of Mrs. W. T. Hatcher, read her response to the welcoming address; and Mrs. Charles Sturgill, who reported on the Spiritual Re-arrangement program for the district. Mrs. Sturgill and Mrs. Melvin Hayes served as delegates.

At the convention, Lackey-Garrett Club year books were presented to the state president, the district governor, and presidents of other clubs in the Seventh district. The club used as the central theme of its year book, "Americanism," and in carrying out this theme, chose for the year's club slogan a quotation from Carl Schurz: "Our country, right or wrong. When right to be kept right, when wrong to be put right." All programs planned for the year deal with some phase of American life; and include such topics as "American Homes and Hobbies," "A Tour of the Americas" (introducing the year's subject for the Study Club), "Songs of the Americas," "Leaders in Times of Peril," "The Enemies Within Our Gates," "The Art of the American Indian," "The Mother Role in American Democracy," and "Our Flag as a Symbol." In keeping with the theme, the year book covers were adorned with miniature American flags.

Discussion of plans for the Prestonsburg Woman's Club participation in the Floyd County Fair, October 17-19, attracted attention of the club at its meeting here October 3 last, at the Presbyterian church as Mrs. Ambrose Mandt, club president, presided at the first meeting since her term of office began.
The Woman's Club will be in charge of the lunch stand, bingo stand and various exhibits in the fair. The other Woman's Clubs of the county are cordially invited to attend. Volunteers will be needed to help at the fair during the three days, and should notify Mrs. Mandt, Mrs. A. C. Harlowe or Mrs. Winnie P. Johns on what days they can work, so that plans may be definitely made.

The committee appointed reported that the Board of Stewards of the Presbyterian Church is willing for the Woman's Club to have regular clubrooms in the church. Suggestions were offered in regard to furnishing and decorating the rooms.
The club hopes to furnish a plaque of the Ten Commandments for each room in the graded and high school buildings here. The committee will be contacted to ascertain how many plaques will be required.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

CHESTNUTS
Here is a passing situation indeed. It is autumn while I am writing this. Just after the first good frost, the colors are blazing on the hills, acorns are dropping, there are hickory nuts and to spare. But where are the chestnuts? In many ways they were the most distinctive nuts of our childhood, for our schoolhouse stood in a large wooded area, stretching miles and miles away. On many of the rugged wooded hills the chestnut tree grew and bore its nuts. The squirrels and we knew where they were; no fall went by without our accumulating even more than we could eat daily. The worms liked them, too, but we had plenty besides. Chestnut hunts were actual events each fall. We roasted chestnuts in the ashes on cold fall nights. The chestnut timber made wood that sparkled and popped on our hearths; the long, straight poles were used in much of our building; chestnut lumber, sawed and planed, made beautiful ceiling for our houses. And when the telephone came, it was chestnut poles that we cut and planned to carry the new magic wire that connected us with the big outside world.

And then came tragedy. A blight attacked the tree, as everybody knows. For years there was some resistance. But now the fight seems over, with the invisible blight as the victor. On mountain sides there are millions of dead chestnuts, showing what a deal of food is no longer available for the squirrels and the birds and the chipmunks. Many a favorite old tree that we left in our wasteful war on timber has borne its last crop of nuts and stands gaunt and dead or else has long ago been reduced to firewood. The next generation will never know what we mean when we tell about chestnut hunts and stamping chestnut burrs. They will probably think their parents are cheerful liars and wonder whether our chestnuts were ever any more real than "fairies and goblins and elves and squidgrum-squeaks that swaller their toes."

When anything happens that we can possibly blame some one for, we are really happy; we can abuse him with pleasure and thereby ease our minds. This is not true with the chestnut, though. For man in his wastefulness has not done this, even though he has often done untold damage to nature: witness the passing of the Great Auk, the Passenger Pigeon, the Heath Hen and the Carolina Parakeet. But a disease, as yet beyond the control of man, has done the work I had hoped that some of the few surviving ones remind me of the trees that grew from the grave of a man on his way to fight at Troy in Homer's epic: when they grew tall enough to see Troy, they died back to the ground. I still hope that our national government can import some hardy variety from some other country, so that people will again know the joys of chestnut hunts, the sight of ripe burrs opening after a heavy frost and dropping down their treasures.

HOOKWORM DISEASE

Hookworm is prevalent in a number of communities in this county and is seriously menacing the health of both adults and children. Containers for submitting specimens for diagnosis may be obtained at the county health department.

Hookworm disease is caused by a small worm, whitish in color, which when full grown is not quite half an inch long and as thick as a small hair-pin. The very young and very tiny worms get into the body, usually by boring their way through the skin; occasionally they are swallowed. They are carried to different parts of the body by the blood and finally reach the bowels. Here they grow to their full size and proceed to suck the patient's blood and to give off a poisonous secretion which affects the blood. The symptoms—With these blood-sucking worms at work, the patient's blood becomes thin and watery. He grows pale and listless and may have indigestion. He becomes weak and cannot do any work. Often a person who has a mild case is thought to be merely lazy, when he really is sick. In severe cases where there are a great many worms in the bowels the skin is pasty yellow, the gums and lips very pale, and the abdomen, face and legs are swollen. The patient may desire unusual things to eat, such as paper, chalk, dirt, or clay, hence the name "dirt-eater" disease, which is sometimes used. Itching sores may form in the skin where the hookworm has bored its way through. These sores are called by various names, "ground itch," "dew itch," "cow itch," "foot itch" or "toe itch." More Serious Than It Seems—Hookworm disease develops slowly. At first it produces only mild symptoms, but in the end it undermines the strength and saps the vitality of the person attacked. A child who has hookworm does not grow as he ought, and his mind does not develop properly. Sometimes he appears several years younger than he really is.

Cure Slow—All that is necessary to cure hookworm disease is to get the worms out of the patient's bowels. There are several simple, effective ways of doing this, but the treatment must be supervised by a physician.

Hookworms lay eggs, and if a person has the worms in his bowels, the eggs will be found in his bowel discharges. Therefore, if you live in a section where hookworm is common and have any symptoms of this disease, have an examination by your doctor or at a clinic at once. Take with you, or send, a sample of your bowel discharges to be examined under a microscope for eggs.

Even though you seem to have no symptoms, but are tired and listless all the time, an examination should be made.

How Hookworm Disease is Spread—The worms in the bowels lay thousands of small eggs, which are passed in the bowel movements. If this filth falls upon the ground or into a poorly constructed privy the disease will spread, especially among those who go about barefooted.

If the ground is warm and moist, the eggs hatch out tiny worms in one or several days. In about a week these are ready to enter the body of another person.

Prevention Easier Than Cure—If bowel discharges containing hookworm eggs are kept off the ground, the worms do not have a chance to infect other persons. Sanitary privies that are built and people should be taught never to pass bowel discharges on the ground. Hookworm disease can be largely prevented by wearing shoes, so that the worms in the ground cannot bore their way through the skin of the feet. A check-up of most effective way is to keep bowel discharges off the ground.

What a Sanitary Privy Is—A sanitary privy is one that keeps the feces away from the bowel discharges and prevents these discharges from being exposed on the surface of the ground or from draining into wells or streams.

Such a privy, if properly installed and used, will be the best protection against hookworm. There are many different types of privies; for advice as to the construction of the one found most useful in your state, consult your county or state board of health.
