OPTION TAKEN FOR MINING TOWN SITE

NEGOTIATIONS BEGUN FOR MIDDLE CREEK RIGHT-OF-WAY

One hundred and twenty acres of land at the upper terminal of what may be a railroad built to develop one of Eastern Kentucky's richest coal fields is under option to interests which expect to build a mining town and coalipples thereon. THE TIMES learned this week from unofficial sources.

Harry LaViers, Paintsville, was said to have negotiated with land owners for options on the acreage.

At the same time it was learned on good authority that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company has prospective lines laid out over its right-of-way at the upper-middle-Creek-end of the company's holdings at West Prestonsburg.

Negotiations for right-of-way for the 10-mile stretch of rail under way, it was learned this week that right-of-way purchases are to be made by the coal company operating in the field.

Bidders claiming that contract for construction of the railway line had been let and that work will be begun Monday were emphatically rebuffed. Though no hindrance was expected from that quarter, Interstate Commerce Commission approval of proposed railway route has not been received here last Tuesday.

Johns Creek Boy Leads 4-H Club Junior Farmers

Check-up of corn crop yields at Floyd county 4-H club boys farmers showed, up till noon Tuesday, that Claude Childs, Jr. of Johns Creek, in production with a yield of 117 bushels per acre.

Edgar Laferty, neighbor 4-H Club member of young Cline, had a yield of 80 bushels on the acre he tilled. County Agent Jettell is continuing the check-up on the yield per acre obtained by Floyd junior farmers.

OLD CLOTHING, RAGS ASKED FOR POOR

A needy and a worthy cause asks for old clothing that can be mended, the Rev. L. E. Fleming, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church here, announced this week. The Missionary Prayer Band of the church wants to mend them and give them to the poor. Old rags can also be used, the Rev. Fleming said, in the making of rugs.

Call 2369 or 83, Prestonsburg, and these items will be called for.

This Town-- That World

A LOOK AT "THE RECORD" Has it been that long ago? Anyway, THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES' file of this week 10 years ago, tells that, in George Adams, brother of Sam, victim in the famous Auker murder case, was killed Sunday night by Gilbert Mullins on Jack's Creek.

Deputy Sheriffs Grover Allen and Ollie Marshall, (both now dead) reported that the freeman of a Jack's Creek moonshine still, City of which discovered, was a woman — Maggie Sykes.

The Huntington district office, U. S. engineers, made an unfavorable report on the proposed lock-and-damming of the Big Sandy river.

The boys had been "partaking" over the week-end up in the head of Left Beaver, according to Deputy Sheriffs T. A. Bates and Frank Hatfield, who reported that 25 of the said boys were jailed on drunkenness charges.

Joe Schuster and Steve Tarkany, both under life penitentiary sentences for the San Adams killing, were released under $10,000 bond each after the Court of Appeals had reversed the Floyd circuit court jury's verdict.

Prestonsburg was already "over the top" in its Red Cross drive.

Harris Arraignment Awaits Analysis Of Stains

Examining trial of Gene Harris, who was arrested in the recent death of Robert Hale on the Mayo Trail near Emma, Nov. 9, was continued Saturday by County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., till Nov. 25, the regular term of county court.

One of the reasons stated for continuance of the hearing was to await a report from the State Highway Patrol's chemist on analysis of stains removed from the bread truck driven by Harris after Hale was killed.

P'BURG DOWNS VAN LEAR

BLACKCATS WIN, 12-0, IN CONFERENCE GAME

Scoring touchdowns in the first and third quarters Coach Joe Taylor Friday's Prestonsburg Blackcats defeated the light but fighting Van Lear Bark Myles, 12-0 Saturday afternoon at Van Lear in a Big Sandy Conference game.

The first Blackcat marker came early in the opening period when Salisbury, playing the quarterback position in place of the injured John Herald, flipped a 15-yard pass to Bark Myles in the end zone. Their attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete.

GAME POSTPONED

By mutual agreement of Coach Taylor and Coach Jettell, the game between the two teams at Wheeling was postponed to Saturday afternoon, November 30.

The game was scheduled originally for November 23, but the scheduled date was postponed because necessary to move the Prestonsburg-Paintsville fracas ahead one week to conform with Governor Johnson's Thanksgiving proclamation.

In the third quarter Fullback Charlie Hunter, who has regained his early season form, intercepted a Bank Mite forward pass. The Van Lear 25-yard line and fought his way to the eight, where he was forced out of bounds.

On a cut-back he carried the ball to the one, then tossed a lateral to Salisbury, who went over the goal line for Prestonsburg's second touchdown. The Van Lear ten-yard extra point, from Salisbury to Leslie, fell incomplete.

Van Lear threatened to score at the close of the third quarter, when Prestonsburg's kick-off was brought back to the Blackcats' 15, where Salisbury caught the ball-carrier from behind and Allen, who had been on the field, Prestonsburg took the ball on downs.

The punting of Salisbury, who kicked the ball out of bounds several times within the Van Lear ten-yard line.

ESSAY CONTEST FOR HI SCHOOL SENIORS IS ANNOUNCED

FLOYD HEALTH DEPARTMENT, EDUCATORS SPONSORING STUDENT COMPETITION

Three of Floyd county's 325 or more high school seniors will receive prizes for essays on the subject, "What a High School Senior Should Know About Tuberculosis," Dr. Marvin Knudell, director of the Floyd County Health Department, announced this week.

Co-operating with the health department, the Floyd County Board of Education is offering a first prize of $10; a $5 second prize and a third prize of $2.50 to winning essayists.

The contest, in which all of Floyd county's nine high schools are co-operating, is being undertaken with the purpose of making high school students as they are ready to leave their academic studies and enter college or other pursuits of life more conscious of the perils of tuberculosis and of the methods of combating the disease.

Each of the nine high schools will start its local essay-writing contest December 1. The contest will end in the schools February 15, and it is possible that the several schools will award prizes to their three best writers. After that, the work of the three winners will be passed (first, second and third) will be submitted to the health department here by March 1.

Law went to his home, and shortly afterward, Young appeared, armed with a shotgun and attempting to invade the Law home. It was said by authorities. Law then fled.

Bass Distributed In Floyd County

Distribution of 1909 grand mouth bass was made in Floyd county streams last Saturday by E. R. Burke, district conservation officer.

Three hundred fingerlings were released in Johns Creek at the Brandy Gap high school. The fish were in groups of 200 and were made at the following points: Right Beaver Creek, above Maytown; Left Beaver, at Huntington; the Big Sandy at the Ernest Bend, the Banner May Bend, Knott's Hollow, at Prestonsburg, Patrick Swift, Auxier Bridge.

Thanksgiving Tables Enriched By Shoot At Allen Sunday

The Floyd County Fish and Game Club held a turkey shoot on the Beaver Valley Golf Club grounds Sunday afternoon. A large crowd attended and the day was ideal for shooting. The following winners took the turkeys home for their Thanksgiving dinners: J. R. Baldrige, R. C. Turner, A. C. Holmes, C. Compton, J. Wright (2), Burr Flanery, John Spurlock, Jim Hyden, Bill Bunting, Tom Moore, T. J. Bingham, Frank Layne (2), S. M. Martin, Jack Howard. The club is planning a Christmas turkey shoot and promises to be able to take care of the crowd. Several stations will be provided so that several squads can shoot at a time.

ALLEN SCHOOL IS OPENED

FORMAL DEDICATION OF NEW BUILDING, SEEN LATER

The modern eight-room, $35,000 graded school at Allen was opened for classes Monday of last week, with a teaching force of six and an enrollment of approximately 250. No formal dedication of the structure has yet been planned, County Superintendent Town Hall said this week, since auditorium seats have not been purchased.

The building, which was designed by Dean Engineering Co., Huntington, W. Va., is 153 feet in width and 190 feet in depth, with two stories and basement. In addition to the eight classrooms, there is a study hall and an auditorium which will seat 450. There are also boys' and girls' rest rooms at the ends of the halls on both floors.

Heat is furnished by a forced-air gas furnace, automatically controlled by Dan Engineering Co.

The 50 students of the Sugar Loaf school, with their teacher, Bill Darby, were transferred to the new Allen building. Other teachers are Earl Hall, principal; Miss Kelsie Gayheart, Miss Edith Stephens, Mrs. Opal S. May and Mrs. Mary Layne Allen.

Completion of the new Wheelwright high school arts and science building, which is expected next week, will complete the Board of Education's building program for this year, Mr. Hall said Wednesday. The structure, containing eight classrooms, will cost $19,417.

To be included in the Board's plans for next year is the erection of either a high school building at Wayland or a graded school and auditorium for Betsy Layne. The need for both projects is drastic but the Board will be able to build only one, Mr. Hall said.

RECEIVE TREATMENT AT HUNTINGTON

Mrs. E. B. Brown was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, W. Va., last Sunday, where she is undergoing medical treatment. Her condition, although her condition is improving slowly she is expected to be brought home next Sunday.

C. D. Hall, of Raymond City, W. Va., visited relatives in the county last week.

3 VOLUNTEERS FROM FLOYD ARE CALLED

TO LEAVE FRIDAY AS 53 OTHERS ON LIST

Three of Floyd county's 56 volunteers for one year's military service under the selective service act will leave Prestonsburg early Friday morning for the Huntington, W. Va., induction station in the National Guard Army, where they will begin their year of army life under the conscription program.

Chester Lee Young, West Prestonsburg, will be sent by local draft board No. 44, while the quota of two from board No. 45 will be composed of James Arrowood, Wayland, and Grover B. Conroy, Martin.

TO BE HONORED

Floyd county's first men to be called to the colors will be honored during a special program tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock at the courthouse here. Speakers will be Mayor E. P. Arnold, chairman of Board 44; J. M. Turner, chairman of Board 45; and J. B. Clarke, of the Floyd Post, American Legion.

The Prestonsburg high school band will appear on the program.

At the induction center the three will receive a thorough physical examination to check the findings of the physicians of the local boards, be fingerprinted, and be given an army serial number. They will be administered the military oath which includes a promise to obey the orders of the President and appointed officers, and to serve the United States "honestly and faithfully against all enemies."

From Huntington they will, with others from Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee, be taken to the induction center to receive uniforms. There they will be given a short course of basic military training, and then assigned to army units.

She additional to the 56 voluntary enlistments this week brought the total number of Floyd county volunteers to 56. The belief was expressed by members of the two local boards that it might be several months before all of the volunteers will be called to service, as only the quota for each call will be filled.

The additional six who are seeking induction for immediate service are Myrtle Adkins, Fred Little and Hillard Hall, Jr., all of Wheelwright; James W. McGowan, Betsy Layne; Bill Baker, German, and Johnnie Adkins, Osborne.

All of the 20 volunteers who reported to the physicians of the two local draft boards for examinations last week were classed as being available for immediate service. A report The (Please turn to page eight)

Title To Vast Eastern Kentucky Acreage Threatened by Suit Against Warfield

"WOLCOTT CLAIM" SUIT HERE, RECALLED

History may be about to repeat itself in Floyd county, when the suit filed in United States district court at New York in the Warfield case against the Penn-Ken Corporation in this, Pike and Knott counties.

Involved in the litigation are 130,400 acres of oil and gas rights. Although the landowners are not named as defendants, it is held that victory for the plaintiffs would eventually void their title to ownership of their farms.

The pending litigation, like that which alarmed Floyd's citizenry back in 1907, is based on the old Virginia and Grants, 1907 model was the grant made to the Wolcotts; the 1940 model is the grant to the Huskells.

"Defenders of their titles challenged" by the Wolcott grant but this advantage, however — the Wolcott patent was not filed until 1900, three years or thereabout after the compact was adopted in the separation of Kentucky from Virginia, in which the rule was adopted that grants filed before the adoption of the Compact would remain in full force and effect while those filed after adoption of the Com-act would be null and void.

The Huskell grant under which the present litigation arose was filed before the Compact was made.

The present suit against Warfield has its beginning in the late A. B. Stephens when the late A. B. Stephens served notice that Warfield was infringing on its property. The suit of Stephens against Warfield was nullified on the grounds that the plaintiffs were users who had not paid taxes on the land during the five years preceding the action.

But the matter may become more serious, since the suit was later filed, despite this fact, and since the U. S. district court has overruled two motions considered favorable to Warfield.

According to surveys of the ancient Huskell grant, the land involved in the present suit—130,400 acres of land—extends from a point, a few miles above Prestonsburg, to a point above and including the town of Pileville. This acreage extends into Left Beaver Creek, into Pike county, and from Left Beaver Creek on into Knott county.

In 1907, when the Wolcott survey concerned this section, the hearing here, held by Circuit Judge A. J. Auxier, had been won by the late A. B. Stephens was Commonwealth's Attorney, landowners from practically every section of Floyd county invaded Prestonsburg en masse. They came wagon, they rode mules and horses on long journeys over muddy roads, they crowded the train as it pulled into the old station across the river from here.

FLOYD LANDOWNERS' TITLES INVOLVED IN ACTION

And across the old bridge linking Prestonsburg with the "railroad side" of the river they marched, bearing the huge banner which proclaimed their sentiments to the world: "Down with the Wolcott claims."

They packed the courtroom, and as Hendricks, the attorney representing the Eastern Kentucky Coal Lands Corporation (under the Wolcott claim) argued his case, Joe "Banty" Patton and others, they told us, were loudly vocal of their doubt of his veracity.

HATCH BILL—WHOSE?

Both the Democratic and Republican National Committees frankly admit that MORE than the $2,000,000 limit fixed by the Hatch Act was spent in the recent presidential campaign.

There's your Hatch Act—but who does it apply to?

In Southern Ohio there's a "Pee

Creek." It isn't a large body of water—just a small stream.

LABOR PEACE

THE COURIER-JOURNAL: "Labor needs peace, and John L. Lewis is the enemy of labor's peace."

TOM RANEY: "The great majority of our union resent you or any other wise-cracking editor advising the miners that the union would be best served without Mr. Lewis."

Of course, Mr. Lewis is a great man for the cause. But the goodwill of the American newspapers and of the President of the United States could not be completely disregarded!

MAYTOWN

Mesdames John Trefrey and H. L. May were shopping in Huntington, two days last week.

Miss Erma Stewart, who recently succeeded her brother, Roger Stewart, as a member of the Maytown faculty, spent the week-end in Morehead, attending Homecoming Day.

A group of the younger set enjoyed an impromptu social in the home of Miss Pauline May, Friday evening. Miss May, a high school sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. May, Jr.

Little Miss Elizabeth Atherton Vernon, of Pikeville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May from Tuesday through Friday of last week, while her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Vernon, attended the medical convention in Louisville.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Greta Payne Frause, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chilie Frause, entertained a group of her friends on her seventh birthday Wednesday evening. The children were entertained with games by Mrs. Frause, who presented each with a gift, after serving dainty refreshments.

CHURCH NEWS

Preaching services will be held Saturday night at 7. Rev. Newsome delivering the sermon. Everyone is invited to attend.

Several members of the board of stewards attended the quarterly conference in Martin Sunday afternoon. The entire circuit is asked to increase its donation to benevolence. . . . and the Maytown stewards request those who support the Methodist church to make a special effort to give monthly, so that all obligations may be met as they come. This will not work a hardship on anyone, and if all contribute do so regularly, there should be no calls for additional funds. Conference claims, preachers' side's fee, church insurance, literature, and all other items will be paid when due, without separate campaigns to raise the amount for each. If donors will remember to pay regularly. The new year began with September, and a majority of the members are paying each month. It is hoped that those who are behind will make a special attempt to meet their pledges and keep them up to date.

The Senior League is at work on rehearsals for its annual Christmas play, which will be given during the Yuletide season. Miss Moelerle Ferrell and Deborah Bailey have the leading roles. Elaborate decorations and lighting effects as were used last year will again be a feature of the program.

AUXIER

(Last week's correspondence)

The Auxier school's Halloween Carnival was very successful. Sherman Mayo was elected carnival king and Miss Mildred Music, queen. The prince and princess were Jerome Music and Sue Hager.

Misses Betty Poole Johnson and Patsy Pfennig, Pittsburgh, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Johnson.

Miss Virginia Lee Patton, who is a student at Pikeville College, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Patton.

Miss Ella Virginia Miller entertained with a party Saturday night in honor of friends and relatives who were visiting here from Pittsburgh.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Childers, who has been very ill, is showing slight improvement.

Auxier consolidated school welcomes a new student, who is a good athletic prospect.

Misses Virginia Lee Auxier and Ruth C. Johnson visited in Prestonsburg Saturday.

Miss Virgie Lee Adkins, of Prestonsburg, spent the past week-end with Miss Nathana Burton.

Mrs. Martin Baldrige, Of Little Paint, Is Victim

Mrs. Elizabeth Baldrige, wife of Martin Baldrige, died at her home on Little Paint Friday at the age of 87 following a brief illness.

A daughter of the late Thomas and Mary Fulton Music, of Wise, Va., Mrs. Baldrige had resided in this county for many years. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since the age of 17, and was deeply revered by all who knew her.

Surviving are her husband, three sons and three daughters: Johnny Baldrige, at home; Mrs. A. G.

The funerals was conducted Sunday afternoon from the home, the Revs. Isaac Stratton and C. C. Newsome officiating. The sermon was preached from the text, Job 14-14, selected by Mrs. Baldrige some time ago. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

BILL HENRY SAYS:

(The views herein expressed are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

I AM PRO-LABOR. I BELIEVE LABOR HAS MUCH DUE TO— BUT CAPITAL HAS TOO

This column has given much space to the discussion of the rights of labor and will continue to do so. At the same time, I refuse to close my eyes to the faults of any group, though it be the one I happen to be championing. I do not believe I could honestly be a friend of labor if I refused to be honest with myself—any man who refuses to grant the opposition its just dues is a fool and a coward. I am not interested in discussing at the present time as to which side, capital or labor has committed the most faults. I will shut from the house tops that labor is not getting what is coming to it, but at the same time I insist any new gains must be obtained by the American way and not through any Communist and Fascist methods. It does not matter what kind of a group, whether representing capital or labor, uses methods unfair and un-American to obtain their ends.

If they refuse to abide by such rules as they know to be right, they should not be allowed to receive any benefit whatever from such action. The question of whether the demands of such a group is right or wrong should not be considered, so long as the methods used are inimical to the interests of all the people.

I refer specifically to the recent strikes of labor in ship-building yards and airplane factories. The present situation of labor has given rise to a very safeguard necessary for the adjustment of its grievances. The only excuse that could possibly be offered for labor strikes is that some organizer has not been satisfied to take a reasonable time to get what he is after, but he must put on a big show to prove what a very necessary man he is in his own mind. I refuse to believe that labor as an organization approves the tactics of the radical minority within its ranks. I refuse to believe that the German people approve what Hitler is doing, but until they get rid of him the tortoise will hold them responsible. And so, with labor, they will suffer the consequences of the mis-deeds of their "black sheep" in the same house.

Capital, John L. Lewis and William Green are all living in the same house. I say this because labor has suffered at the hands of avarice. Capital has been selfish, grudgingly handing out a few paltry dollars and taking it all back through manipulated and controlled markets. John L. Lewis (with the aid of a friendly government) has obtained better wages for his followers and then sat back and watched it taken away from them in the form of increased dues and assessments. William Green has set on his throne so long he isn't even active any more except to draw his pay check. My accusation is supported by evidence of the fact that, after many years of leadership of John L. Lewis and William Green, Capital is still handing out "wages" instead of sharing with labor a fair percentage of profits.

Stockholders, as conveniently applied to the money investor, have been well taken care of—in fact, they have come ahead of the great masses of people who made their dividends possible. . . a short-story of greed on the side of capital and incompetent leadership in the camp of labor. No man, or any number of men, is capable of deciding what is a fair wage. If I should enter business and invest $100,000, I would be entitled to a fair interest on my money, a return sufficient to take care of replacement of equipment and a reasonable profit. Labor would be entitled to a decent minimum guarantee with an equal share in the profits.

Because I argue the side of the majority of the people, I am "stamped" as pro-labor. I do not consider I am pro-anything except pro-American. While the politician is throwing up a smoke screen around the constitution for the benefit of his wealthy friends in my small way I refuse to let him forget just why America was settled. I can find nothing in the Constitution which grants privileges to one group over another. Neither do I find anything in the Constitution which grants rights of decent citizens to any group who will hold up the production of necessary materials in times of emergency as is the case in the airplane factory strike on the west coast. To settle their differences by arbitration would probably require a few days or perhaps, but what a few weeks and months in comparison to what was years before?

Whether it is capital or whether it is labor getting the idea they are going to profit in a big way at the expense of their country at this particular time I would advise them to think twice.

Bank Uses Pipe Organ Chimes for Cheer

Pikeville, Ky.—After several years of trying it, John M. Yost has concluded that music and religion are good partners in the banking business. Yost is vice-president and cashier of the First National Bank of Pikeville, believed to be the only bank in the country which has a pipe organ and chimes. The music is amplified by a public address system and can be heard all over the countryside. Every morning at 8:30—a half-hour before the bank's doors open—employees meet for a brief religious service, opened with a hymn and Scripture reading. There is usually another song or two and then some poetry or an inspirational talk.

The daily service usually is concluded with a discussion of current events. "These little meetings seem to do something that makes us all feel better and more like going through the day's work," one employee remarked. Banker Yost believes it's good business and that it keeps employees cheerful besides he points out the townspeople enjoy the organ music and chimes. But the pipe organ is not all, as the bank also owns two acres of land, devoted almost exclusively to a fine flower garden. Blossoms brighten the institution's interior and dozens of blooms are sent regularly to churches and hospitals. The bank also holds regular flower shows in its lobby. Yost started the music programs and worship services several years ago. He believes it brings goodwill as well as good business. His hobby, besides music and flowers, is helping young people finance college educations. It is said that none of the several hundred boys and girls to whom the bank has made loans has failed to repay an obligation.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our many good friends, who so loyally assisted us during the illness and upon the death of our mother, Mrs. Susan Queenberry. Also we wish to thank Rev. J. C. Hager for his words of consolation. We thank all who contributed to the beautiful floral offerings, and those who used their cars to assist us. May God in his infinite mercy bless each and every one of you.

Farmers from 11 Kentucky counties and from Ohio went on a turkey foot tour in Nicholas and Bourbon counties. A survey revealed 65 registered bulls, seven grades and two scrubs in Elliott county. Several farmers in Lyon county plan to use tobacco presses in preparing burley for the market. Pork cutting demonstrations are being held in Boone county in connection with the live-at-home program. Landlord-tenant problems were discussed at a conference of Christian county farmers.

Eighteen Union county farmers kept beef cattle raising records this year. Although injured by drought, hybrid corn in Carroll county averaged more than 70 bushels to the acre. Subscribe for The Times.

New Type of Pneumonia Is Caused By Virus

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 14—A new type of pneumonia caused by a virus instead of bacteria was described today before the annual meeting of the Southern Medical Association.

Heretofore pneumonia was believed generally due to one or more specific types of pneumococcus bacteria, but Dr. Warfield T. Longcope of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., declared that the new type of the disease, which is sometimes fatal, cannot be attributed to any of these. It is an infectious form of the disease, he said, because it may develop for as long as three weeks with a dry cough, irregular fever, sometimes high fever, blueness of the skin and nausea before a chest examination reveals true pneumonia.

The disease is highly contagious, Dr. Longcope declared, many cases having occurred among nurses, physicians and medical students working among infected patients.

Neither sulfaguanidine of sulfathiazole, the two drugs which have markedly reduced the pneumonia death rate during the past two years is effective against the "X" or virus type of the disease, he added.

Until recent weeks it had been impossible to study the virus experimentally because the disease could not be transmitted to animals. Within the past few days reports have been published that it can be inoculated into the mongeese and produce typical pneumonia reactions. Serum from these animals and from patients contracting the disease apparently neutralizes the virus, the Johns Hopkins scientist declared.

Motion pictures of tiny blood vessels showing how malaria parasites in the blood vessels actually make the heart work itself to death, were shown today by Dr. Melvin H. Kinsley, University of Chicago anatomist, now working at the University of Tennessee.

By the use of a delicate technique using light transmitted through a quartz rod and highly magnetized color pictures, he demonstrated how the malaria germ creates a thick sludge in the blood which blocks the circulation and makes the heart work twice or three times as fast as hard to pump blood and its oxygen burden to distant tissues of the body. Thus, what has been formerly believed to be blocking the heart by blood clots is actually an overload on the pumping system.

Dr. Kinsley and his associates, Drs. Warren K. Stratman-Thomas, malaria expert of the Tennessee Valley Authority, and Dr. Theodore S. Elliot of the University of Tennessee, also showed in their experiments on monkeys that heparin, a new drug to stimulate the heart, actually stimulates the malaria parasites in the blood stream and kills the animals by absorption of oxygen from the blood by bacteria. The same effect, they believe, occurs in man.

They added that in persons with malaria the lining of the blood vessels become sticky and white blood corpuscles, which eat up invading bacteria, become attached to the lining, explaining the deficiency of the white cells during the course of the disease. Physicians who heard the report declared that the work of the University of Tennessee scientists is especially significant in planning military procedures in the moving of northern soldiers into southern camps which have a malaria hazard to which the men are not accustomed.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

2. Consideration by officials of human needs, not the need for political influence.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and the county agricultural agent work.

MORE ABOUT THE HATCH BILL

It is admitted by THE TIMES that the Hatch bill has not achieved the desired results. Some individual contributions to the two major political parties in the recent national election exceeded the prescribed limit perhaps. There were some flagrant violations of the law as it proscribes political activities of certain federal and state employees.

All this admitted, THE TIMES still insists that the Hatch bill is a promise of better days for the American Way.

Wherever the Hatch bill failed, there you will find a failure on the part of American citizens to pick up the gage of battle thrown down by Senator Hatch and all those who gave his plan for political purification their support.

Other election laws have not been perfect in the past. The Hatch law of the present could not, therefore, be expected to be perfect in its first trial-run. The failure of both is no reason for the repeal of either.

The success of both rests upon the decision of the American people to see that the law is enforced. It is true that the law will cramp the style of many the politician. It is also true that any election law, honestly enforced, cramps the style of the wardheeler, the precinct captains, all that clan of political hangers-on.

And, pray, why should they not be cramped? A political free-for-all in which everything goes, wherein, as in love and in war, all's fair, with the machine ruling the man or woman who goes in to vote his or her honest convictions—this is not the original American Way of which we hear so much so rapidly said. A good, clean fight was the pioneer way—not the fight wherein one side held all the weapons, with the other standing defenseless.
Yes, this law may, if enforced as it should be, infringe upon your personal liberties. But what law does not infringe upon the personal rights of those who would violate the law and the rights of others? What of the law against murder? against pistol-totin' against stealing?

THE TIMES has no more to ask than that the Hatch law be extended to cover every official and every holding of an official and that it be enforced to the letter.

THANKSGIVING PRAYER

O, Lord, we of the peoples of the earth who are about to die, and all those of us who, removed from the awful carnage of unutilized war in these days when man before These pose a civilized being, are thankful.

We thank Thee for all the days of peace and happiness ago.

We thank Thee for the days we now enjoy here with our loved ones; for every moment left to us of warping lands, as the Dark Angel ever hovers about; for every day of peace left to us where there is no war, our sons and our daughters, children of peace, living among men of goodwill.

We of the nations at peace, O, Lord, thank Thee for those who defend the hopes and beliefs of the common people, the poor such as you love. We of those nations which look to the canopy of the blue above only for the threat of bombing planes and bombs of steel and fire and destruction, we thank Thee for means of escape and of life, however brief or long, among our loved ones as we dwell in scenes of worldly horror—and, O, God, we thank Thee that, somewhere, men and women and children walk in sunlight paths'neath starlit skies without fear of those who will to the end of their days trek the fearsome ways of war and death.

For all those who suffer we ask Thy mercy; and for all those who send only suffering, who make war upon the helpless, who drive peaceful peoples to battle—for these we ask only divine chastening, sparing the poor and innocent, but shewing the guilty through Thine Omnipotent Power the folly of their ways.

Mrs. Harlowe Leads Xmas Seal Sales

Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, chairman of the Christmas Seal committee in Floyd county, this week announced the opening of the sale of seals for the raising of funds whereby the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association may be enabled to carry on its work. The 1940 Christmas Seal represents a happy childhood cataloging out a message of health and protection from disease; the glad tidings that tuberculous, one of mankind's worst scourges, is preventable, curable and can be conquered. Floyd countians are urged to buy generously of Christmas Seals and thus to continue the battle on the White Flag.

WARNING SENT HUNTERS SUNDAY, 1ST DAY OF HUNTING SEASON

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 15 (Sp. — A last-minute warning which was sent out to hunters by the Division of Game and Fish stated that all persons, other than those hunting on their own land, are required to possess a hunting license in order to hunt rabbits and quail beginning Nov. 24. The warning also pointed out the absolute necessity of the hunter having his license in plain view on the outside clothing, and failure to carry out this section of the game and fish laws makes said person liable to arrest.

All hunters were urged to get their hunting licenses as early as possible in order to avoid any last-minute confusion. The hunters are also reminded that the rabbit and quail season opens on Sunday, Nov. 24, this year and that the license must be procured on the preceding day as the county clerks' offices are not open on Sunday.

Recalling fatalities and serious accidents occurring during preceding hunting seasons as the result of the careless use of guns by the Division of Game and Fish, the Department of Safety in the use of firearms with the hope that it will remind them, the sportsmen will avoid any serious accidents while in the field:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, to your automobile, camp, and home.
3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always control your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
6. Never point your gun at anything you do not want to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended if you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface, such as the side of a water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Suit Against Warfield

Outside stood grim men, veritable walking arsenals, awaiting the decision.

One observer, describing the tenacity of the hearing, says Congressman A. J. May and his brother, the late W. H. May, probably saved Lawyer Hendricks from being thrown through a courtroom window.

All this goes back to the days when Kentucky was a part of Virginia, to the days when our Commonwealth was being shrouded from the mother state. "What is now Kentucky," Kentucky then was known as the District of Kentucky or Kentucky County, and the final separation of that section was Pinckney's line in Old Virginia.

For the purpose of describing the boundary between Virginia and Kentucky in Eastern Kentucky, the two states named six men to a commission. And thereby hangs a tale.

Kentucky was represented by John Coburn, Robert Johnson and Buckner Thurston. Virginia's representatives were Gen. Joseph Martin, Archibald Stewart and Gred Taylor. They met at the "Fork of the Great Sandy River," now known as Louisa, where the Levisa and Tug forks of the Big Sandy converge.

And the story, said to be well-authenticated, goes: The representatives of the two states lingered over the flowing bowl too long after having agreed that the line would follow the meanderings of the larger of the two streams, the Tug or the Levisa. And while they lingered a heavy rain poured down so that when the six men "good and true" walked out to decide upon the boundary line, one of the sextette reported, with a stream "like," "if there's any bigger stream in these parts than that one over there, I'd like for some of you gentlemen to point it out to me."

Thus the Tug became the boundary line between the two states. Thus, through the "Fork of the Great Sandy," Kentucky gained from the mother state no less than 3,000 square miles of territory.

line, and the plunging and defensive play of Hunter, sparked for the winners. The work of the Wells boys, one in the line and the other in the backfield, was outstanding for the losers. MAYTOWN YOUTHS, FIRST TO FORM ORGANIZATION

The first Junior Sportsmen's Club in Floyd county was organized at the Maytown high school Thursday, Nov. 14. V. A. Hayes, of Maytown, one of Floyd county's outstanding sportsmen, was the organizer of the club.

The club consists of 50 members with the following officers: Austin Cassidy, president; Thomas C. May, vice-president; Okla Branham, secretary.

E. R. Burke, conservation officer for Floyd, Johnson and Magoffin counties, made a talk on his personal experiences in hunting and fishing in Floyd county, back when game and fish were plentiful, and gave reasons for the scarcity at the present time.

He gave the figures on the sale of hunting and fishing licenses in Floyd county from 1933 up to the present time, and the progress that had been made in the state since Major James Brown had been appointed Director of Game and Fish in 1936. Mr. Burke also pointed out the fact that it was the first time that a Floyd countian had been appointed a state conservation officer in the district, and that Stetle Wilson, another Floyd countian, is a district director of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen. Mr. Wilson made an interesting talk, explaining the relation of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen to local Junior and Senior Game and Fish Clubs.

The Maytown club is to have regular weekly meetings, and at its next meeting will select a member of the club as its junior game warden. Any member who knows of a violation of any game or fish laws is to report to his junior warden, and the junior warden is to make his report to the state conservation officer or one of his voluntary wardens.

TODAY Buddy is a little boy, facing his first day at school, feeling woefully small. But he's truly important! For Buddy is an investment—yours and ours—in the America of tomorrow... Soon Buddy and thousands like him will have grown up to inherit the job of making this country tick. And he'll be ready because his neighbors—such as the folks down the block, the corner store, the movie theatre and the railroad—help support the schools that give Buddy a free American education... Today Buddy never heard of taxes. Later, when he understands, he'll thank you, whether your investment in him was one dollar or a thousand.

Last year Chesapeake and Ohio paid $157,432.40 to Floyd County

Yes, Chesapeake and Ohio is one of the neighbors in this county whose share of tax revenue helps in providing schools... building roads and other improvements... maintaining clinics, visiting nurses and other welfare services... supporting free libraries.

We usually think of railroad service in terms of passengers and freight swiftly and safely transported. But the railroad also serves, as its money goes to work through state and county administrations for all governmental functions, helping to make first-class citizens of Buddy and his pals.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

Boy, I'll bet that "Ill" Duco is plumb sick—the Greeks are taking his army apart and the British are going in and destroying his fleet. Hitler must have called in one of Russia's "yes men" to pat him on the back for the British seem to be pouring it on. And, by the way, that convoy that Hitler destroyed last week—all but four ships have now reached port.

That old-time hitching post had one advantage—you didn't have to put a nickel in it to hitch your horse.

I feel the same as Dr. Bene—the fall of Nazi Germany is really inevitable, even if tomorrow of the day after they should gain some victory.

Windy Wilkie didn't run as good a race as Al Smith in '28, even if he did have Al, Joe Lewis and the other Lewis—John L.—in his corner.

Brian Buck is right—several of our prominent Democrats had to ride the "Wilkie Barge" up Salt River, and boy, is it hurting them—I tried to tell them better, just remember Al Smith, boys—he took a walk and can't even thumb back.

The classic remark of the past campaign was uttered when Sam Caddy, president of District 30, U.M.W. A., said it was all right for John L. to play around with economic royalists but he wasn't going to "caddy" for him. It looks darn funny to me, all these fires, explosions and accidents in the defense factories. A fifth column would be my guess.

It makes me sick, hearing a lot of fellows yelling about FDR changing Thanksgiving. Didn't Abraham Lincoln change it, one time. Yes, he did—and, according to available records, the early Thanksgivings were in February.

I notice by the papers that Henry Skems reports that there has been a woman cop on Squaw Branch for the past several years and, to further complicate matters for Henry and Vance, it is reported that Georgia is trying to get in as a deputy under Rosa. That will make slow driving and sad singing on the "shoot-in" crew.

REFORM

Safety lessons are not intended to be Sunday School lessons. Nevertheless many present-day motorists could profit by such warnings.

It is the exception rather than the rule that drivers deliberately crash, inflicting death or injury upon their fellow men. The same motorists who regard highly the spiritual aspect of the Sunday School teachings—the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill," the Golden Rule, and other religious doctrines closely connected with preservation of life—may lack the moral influence such as reverence, respect and consideration for others. The result of this disregard of right from wrong and safe from unsafe driving practices is that many evil habits have become prevalent among motorists.

From a recent study of accidents, it is apparent that the evil which could stand much reform is "Intemperance." Everyone has his own idea about range from one extreme—that a few drinks up to 15 shots of whiskey, improve one's driving ability—to the other—that all accidents are the result of intoxicants. Nevertheless, the haze of alibis and cover-ups following accidents, the fact stands out that the drinking driver is a menace to the traveling public.

Eastern Kentucky Gas Operations Remain Steady

Although no completions of gas wells in this section were reported last week, a five-barrel oil well was completed in this section. Attention is still directed on proposed deep-drilling operations.

In this county the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is down 2010 feet in shale in well No. 5271, William C. Elliott, on Pike Fork of Toler Creek and is down the 2757 foot level in shale in well No. 5271, Critt Mill-chest, Little Mad.

The same concern has reached the 1850 foot mark in Black Line in well No. 5278, Henderson Roberts, on Bran-ham's Creek, and is drilling at the 1301 foot level in well No. 5277, Newt P. Harris, on Long Branch of Calf Creek.

In Knott county the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is drilling at the 1438 foot level in shale in well No. 602, W. D. Hall, on Joe King Branch and is down 1827 feet in well No. 5115, J. L. Spunk, nearby. The same firm has reached the 2757 foot level in shale in well No. 5270, Preston Hall on Dry Creek, and reports a total depth of 2620 feet in shale in well No. 5273, W. J. Stone on Caney Fork, but no other data is available.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is down 1926 feet in sand in well No. 5278, William Stone on Caney Fork of Right Beaver Creek and is drilling at the 815 foot level in sand in well No. 5282, Benjamin Smith, on Four Mile Branch of Jones Fork.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. Damron At Laynesville

Funeral rites for Mrs. Neolis Hopkins Damron, who died Nov. 10 at Betsy Layne, were conducted last Wednesday from the Methodist Church at Laynesville, by Rev. James Jones and Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the Ferguson cemetery.

Born Dec. 6, 1856, "Granny," as she was affectionately known, was 86 years old and one of Eastern Kentucky's best women. She had been a member of the Methodist Church for half a century. She was married to the late Wright Damron in August, 1876, and to this union were born four sons and three daughters, of whom the following survive:

A. R. Damron, Harold; Don Damron, Chapman, Ky.; J. R. Damron, Williamson, W. Va.; W. A. Damron, Harold; Mrs. Nona Damron Tackett, Harold; Mrs. U. S. Maynard; Williamson, W. Va.

Also surviving her are 17 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Goodman Says W.P.A. Works, In Line With Defense Plans

Kentucky, in the last five years, has been given 9,200 miles of improved highways, roads and streets, through use of W.P.A. labor, George H. Goodman, State Administrator, announced last week.

Roads, bridges, public buildings, and improved health facilities are a fact, he said, rather than a series of proposals. In addition to highways, roads and streets constructed by W.P.A., 2,419 bridges and viaducts, 49,191 feet in length have been constructed.

reconstructed and additions built to 11. Other recreational buildings reconstructed numbered 88. New office and administration buildings total 31. Sixty-four have been re-habituated and additions have been made to six.

All this work and more has been done by men or women, who otherwise would have been returned to the bread lines for subsistence, Goodman said.

BETSY LAYNE

Sunday School is progressing nicely with large attendance.

Church service was held here Sunday night by the Reverend Eslick, of Zebulon. There will be a service here Nov. 21 at the Methodist Tabernacle.

Rev. A. L. Jackson, who has been very ill for the past two weeks, is reported some better.

Citizens of Betsy Layne are proud to see a new building constructed here by James A. George where we can have a nice, clean, respectable place for our boys and girls to go.

Mrs. Tom Deskins, of Ohio, was visiting her sisters, Mrs. Polly Low and Mrs. Lou Crum, last week.

Ray Stratton, of Betsy Layne, who is in college at Pikeville, went to Ashland to appear on the Eastern Kentucky Education Association program with the Pikeville College glee club Nov. 8.

Lester Thacker, of Caney Creek, school, was visiting his parents over the week-end.

Mrs. Babe Merrill and daughter, of West Virginia, are here on a visit with her mother, Mrs. Bill Wallace. They will remain here until after Thanksgiving.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Molly Layne, who is in the hospital at Ironton O.

Morgan Is Appointed Admission Director of Berea College

Berea, Ky., Nov. 19 (SpI)—Berea College alumni in Floyd county will be interested to learn that Charles T. Morgan, for 14 years Berea College Alumni secretary, has been made director of admissions for Berea College.

Morgan came to Berea in 1919 from Lafayette, Georgia. He received his A. B. degree from the College in 1923, and his Master's degree from Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., in 1928.

For three years Mr. Morgan was principal of the high school at Paint Lake, Ky., returning to Berea in 1926 as alumni secretary. He established "The Berea Alumnus," a monthly magazine which has received several awards for excellence, compiled and published Berea's most complete alumni directory, created the bureau of recommendations for Berea graduates, and established the alumni fund.

Succeeding Mr. Morgan as alumni secretary is Wilson Ryan, of St. Charles, Va., graduate of Berea in 1920.

John Gildander.

Serial—"DARWOOD DICK"
Admission—10c, 15c, 25c.

FOR THE PRICE OF A SINGLE CIGARETTE

... ELECTricity will do more work in two hours than the strongest man could do.

THIS charming scene appeals to everybody, but is likely to be a slightly kept performance. . . . The lady might be posing for a movie "build-up" — or she might be wishing for a strong-armed male to do the work. . . . But regardless of how hard the strongest man may labor at any job, ELECTricity will do more work than he possibly could in two hours — for the petty cost of a cigarette!

It is delightful to run a home The Electric Way. . . . Time releasing for the modern woman of many interests. . . . And at our low rates, ELECTricity positively dispenses countless chores around a house for the price of a single "smoke."
