ROADHOUSES CONDEMNED BY JURY

GRAND JURY REPORT ASKS EXECUTION OF PROCESSES

After returning 152 true bills from the examination of 218 witnesses, the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court ended nine days of work Wednesday with a final report in which it lashed out at roadhouses and enforcement of the law in connection with their conduct.

The report, signed by Bill Shepherd, foreman, recommended that the Sheriff and his deputies "more diligently" enforce the law. "The grand jury," the report said, "is not satisfied with 'searched in and around the courthouses and not found' and the deputies have not done their duty in connection therewith."

The grand jury noted that the most felonies committed in the county occur at or near roadhouses or places of public entertainment. "We would commend the actions of the county officials in attempting to regulate such places of public entertainment by making strict provisions concerning their regulation," the jury added.

Unable to investigate the fiscal affairs of the county because of limited time for its work, the grand jury marked the matter, "Continued for investigation by subsequent grand jury" and recommended that the county Clerk be requested to make up and furnish to the grand jury a list taken from his records, showing the amounts of claims and other expenditures of public funds where a search has been made.

The grand jury also recommended that the county's public buildings at regular intervals, with view to sanitation improvement and to procuring a balanced diet for prisoners in the county jail.

The report stated that the grand jury had found the jail and other public buildings in as good condition "as could reasonably be expected." Jailer Will Halbert, County Attorney Forrest D. Short and Mrs. Ethel Dickerson, stenographer, were commended for their cooperation.

(Major indictments returned Wednesday will be published in the Times next week.)

This Town That World

WE LOSE TWO
THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES presents to the nation's armed forces its assistant editor, Earl B. Martin, and its general facticent-pole Henry Allen Howard.

Both, ere this paper reaches you, have entered the nation's armed forces as volunteers.

"Gabe," as we around THE TIMES office knew Earl, is one of the most congenial souls we've ever known. "Try," as we know Henry sometimes can become one of the most congenial souls we've ever known. And he's all right, too.

Here, working with us for the last two years Earl has always been the perfect co-worker, ready and willing to help, never letting his temper spoil a minute of any other person's day.

Here, with us for longer than that, has been "Try," usually getting his temper spilling off anybody's day, but sometimes spilling other folks' tempers.

Nobody can take Henry's place as an argument-rouser. And nobody can take his sallies in better humor than Earl. We're going to miss him. Both are going to Camp Shelby, Mississippi. Together, they promise to give Shelby their own peculiar talents.

Bring on that good, old rebel yell, Mississippi! Try'll do the yelling, and Gabe, with the rich sense of humor, will chime in with a laugh at the whole bunch of you.

And, if the Army wants to get its publicity to the public, why doesn't it put somebody like Earl Martin in charge of its publicity effort?—somebody who knows how to reach the small-town papers as well as their big-city brethren?

HALE IS GIVEN 4-YEAR TERM

AGED MAN CONVICTED IN HARRISON SLAYING

Will Hale, aged Allen man, was given a four-year penitentiary sentence Thursday, last week, by a Floyd circuit court jury upon conviction in the shotgun slaying at Allen of Deputy Constable Richard Harrison.

His son, Bill (Older) Hale was not on trial.

Hale based his defense on the contention that the shotgun for possession of which he and the officer were indicted was accidentally discharged.

Most damaging of the Commonwealth's evidence was that of officers who quoted Hale as saying, following the shooting, "What would you do if somebody had your boy down, choking him?"

As a whole, the week's court session was on the lame side. Only two felony convictions were made. As a result of these verdicts, Mart Reed and Anthony Perkins, were sentenced to one year each in the state reformatory for breaking and entering. Edwin Fraunce, charged with child delinquency, was acquitted. The jury in the trial of Gordon Porter, Dallas Collins and Theodore Porter, charged with grand larceny, failed to agree and was dismissed.

The criminal term of court ends Saturday, beginning Monday, the civil term will be in session.

GARRETT TEAM WINS STAR ROLE AT NET 'DRESS REHEARSAL'

FINALS WITH WAYLAND FIVE PROVIDES THRILL-PACKED CONTEST SATURDAY BEFORE CAPACITY CROWD
Two bitter athletic rivals fought it out Saturday night in the finals of the pre-tournament basketball meet at Wayland before a roaring crowd of spectators who were limp when the game finally ended after three extra periods.

Garrett's Black Devils defeated Wayland's Wildcats but not before saving off defeat on at least two occasions in the closing seconds of what was described as "the best tournament basketball game ever played in East Kentucky." The final score was Garrett, 25; Wayland, 24.

Garrett led the score, a split second before the game-ending whistle blew. Then the overtime period, Wayland quickly scored, but Garrett came back to knot the count before the period ended. Another overtime, and again Wayland scored first. Again Garrett matched with a score of his own.

Fueled officials went into a huddle, decided that in the third overtime period the first team to score would be

TRAINMAN DIES BY OWN HAND AT MARTIN

JOHN N. KELLY, 56, IS FOUND DEAD MONDAY
John Nelson Kelly, 56 years old, Chesapeake & Ohio Railway conductor, was found dead in his rooming house at Martin, shortly after noon Monday, a bullet in his brain.

This he died by his own hand was the verdict of a jury empaneled by Magistrate Henry Stumbo, who conducted an inquest over the body.

A .32-caliber revolver bullet had been fired into the trainman's forehead. The missile did not emerge. The body was found by Miss Emma Osborne, Hargis Calton and Alton Crisp.

The theory was lent to the suicide theory by a message written in chalk on the wall of Kelly's room, within a few feet of where the body was found: "Call W. R. Kelly at Hayward, Ky." Those familiar with the room stated the writing was not on the wall when they last were inside the room. W. R. Kelly is a brother of the victim.

No definite motive for his act was established, though it was said that Kelly had, on occasions, threatened to kill himself. Shortly before he went to his room, the trainman had asked that his lunch be ready for him when he was called to work.

Mr. Kelly at one time was yardmaster at Martin and also owned a drug store there. He later moved to Ashland, returning to Martin about two years ago. He was well-known in this county and was known as a quiet, affable citizen. He was a native of Ellettsville, Ind.

Surviving him are three brothers, one and sister: Charles Kelly, Morehead; W. B. Kelly, Hayward, Ky.; Mrs. Laura Tackett, Ashland; Noah Kelly, Ashland.

His funeral was prepared for burial by the Ryan Funeral Home and taken Tuesday to Olive Hill. Burial was made at Soldier's Key Wednesday.

Martin High School 'Purple Flash' Has 11 Men on 1940-41 Roster

STUMBLING BLOCK

Editor's Note: Until recently, Henry Mace was what is known as a "sinner." He later became a "confessed sinner" because united with the church. Then, on a recent Sunday, Mr. Mace made what he intended as a simple talk at the Prestonsburg Presbytery Baptist Church; but the talk was a sermon—a "sermon in the rocks" on intolerance that he called "Stumbling Block." Since intolerance is the rule rather than the exception in the world of today—in religion, politics and general affairs of men and nations—THE TIMES is publishing, with minor changes, excerpts from Mr. Mace's talk.

How many are here who have confidence in some Christian? How many sinners are brought to Christ without the influence of some Christian? Is there a Christian man or woman who does not have some sinner watching him or her in their daily walks? What is a real Christian worth to a church or Sunday School?

Did Jesus Christ the Lord when He was instructing his disciples at any time, even to the last instructions, advise either of them to set up a church and not allow the other disciples or any one whom they brought into God's fold to associate with the other? Can any one be a child of God and hold the name of a church between him and another Christian?

Now I say that the name "church" never has nor never will save any one. How many Christians have been saved when you were a sinner without the influence of some Christian?

Now there are several ways of throwing a stumbling block in a sinner's way, and I think the best place for the devil to do this is right in the church. If the Christians don't watch on all sides, they will be tripped up with the devil.

Now here is a sinner, using myself as an example: I have the greatest of confidence in two men in the church, and not only them but some of you other members of this church as well. Now, you members of the Baptist Church, go ahead, disturb some folks from helping do God's work here in your church and push them out when THEY WERE ELECTED BY YOU. You are then throwing a stumbling block in some poor sinner's way, some man or woman who has confidence in these men and by throwing them out you would cause this poor sinner to stay away, maybe get disgusted at such work and never go to church again and go on and his poor soul land in hell on account of you.

That is not religion and the Bible will prove it to you if you will read. Malice does not work in a Christian. It works with sin.

Now here are a few warnings I wish to quote and you all may open your Bibles and follow me if you wish: Lev. 19-14: "Thou shalt not curse the deaf nor put a stumbling block before the blind but shalt fear thy God; I am the Lord." Deu. 27-18: "Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way, and all the people shall say, Amen." 1st Cor. 8-19: "But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak."

I would like for all of your Christians to read the entire chapter of 1st Corinthians, 8th chapter—there are only 13 verses. Read 1st Peter 2-8: "And a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence even to them which stumble at the word being disobedient, whereunto also they were appointed." Rom. 5-8: "But God commandeth his love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us."

Now, Christian folks, open your eyes and love one another; be kind, sociable and all pull together—then see the work of God for religion does not harbor malice and vengeance. When one objects to another Christian working in God's house, there is something wrong. Now, folks, pure religion is all that will take any person to heaven and why not all Christians work together? I certainly would not. So don't refuse a Christian's help at any time or place just because he does not have his name on your church book.

If we are lucky enough to get to heaven, there will be no corners for different churches and we can't get to heaven and live in separate corners here on earth.

Let us be very careful about throwing a stumbling block in some one's way, causing his poor soul to go to hell. When Jesus was teaching to the Jew and the Gentile, did he tell them not to associate with each other? He did not. They were all just alike to him and we only have one religion, one Holy Ghost, one God, one Jesus and only one heaven.

Now, folks, I have learned to love you all and I am proud you have as good a Sunday School as I go to.

I certainly don't want to make any one mad and I am not trying to do anything against the church. I have been considering the Baptist Church lots since I started here in Sunday School, but if this church does not want to have some one else come in and merely help us out in the Sunday School, it is not the church for me.

I hope I haven't said anything to offend any one. Christians, for Jesus' sake, do something to save a sinner instead of throwing a stumbling block in his way.

More Home-Grown Fruit Advocated

In consideration of the national defense program, and in the interest of better health and vigor, the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky is urging greater production of home-grown fruits, vegetables and other foods. Through its extension service, the college is stepping up its campaign for increased home food production.

In the case of fruits, the college is advocating that 250 strawberry plants be set per farm next March and April. Likewise, every farm home should have at least eight grape vines, says a statement from the college; also 50 blackberry plants, five peach trees and five apple trees.

Every county and home demonstration agent in Kentucky is giving consideration to the production of staple foods such as milk, poultry, beef, pork and garden products. Says the college's statement: "Health-producing foods during the reconstruction period are as necessary as during the national crisis of war. This fact must be considered in making our farm and home planting program for 1941. The few dollars spent for plants in the next few months will pay for themselves in 1942 and later years."

Kentucky 4-H Boy Grows 132 Bushels of Corn On Acre

For the second consecutive year, Eugene Blankenship, of Morgan county, is the 4-H club corn growing champion of Kentucky. He produced 132 bushels on a measured acre. Last year a yield of slightly over 100 bushels on the same acre won him the state championship. Curtis Rider, Jackson county, grew 124 bushels on an acre, placing second; and Quentin West, of Knox county was third, with a production of 113 bushels. Blankenship applied 12 wagonloads of manure on his acre, and used 700 pounds of complete fertilizer in the row. He plowed the land 18 inches deep. County Agent Yanda Weather says the boy will not be satisfied until he has produced 150 bushels on an acre.

Phosphate Brings More, Better Leaf
Ray Thompson, of Larue county, found that it paid to apply superphosphate as well as commercial fertilizer in growing burley tobacco. When he broadcast 400 pounds of superphos-phate to the acre and used 200 pounds of complete fertilizer in the row, he grew an acre 1,688 pounds that sold for 20 cents a pound. In an adjoining field where complete fertilizer only was used, the yield was 1,218 pounds and the price only 15 cents a pound. Thompson's experience was related at a meeting which County Agent Frank O. Melton called in the interest of improving the quality and price of tobacco.

The memories we treasure today will fade, even during our own lives, as we grow old, and after we are gone may be lost entirely. To preserve memories—to record them as they deserve—they must be entrusted to a reminder that will last through the years to come. A beautiful monument will be that reminder. Even the smallest and most modest memorial will be something permanent to perpetuate the name and the memory of the person or family to whom it is dedicated. other men were witnesses to the tragedy. Dr. O. E. Johnson conducted an inquest and the coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by self-inflicted wounds.

Mr. Blair was a prominent railroad man and had many friends along the Big Sandy Division of the C. & O. His untimely death has brought sorrow to many.

Cause of his rash act is attributed to ill health. Mr. Blair was an ex-service man and was with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. During his stay in France he participated in a number of battles and was badly shell-shocked and gassed, and this is believed to have caused Mr. Blair to have delusions on his own life.

As I begin this article, the 301st of the series, I feel I ought to review some events with those who have been kind enough to follow this column throughout its life. Many years ago I wrote some twenty-five of these articles and then laid them aside, feeling they were of little interest to anybody except me.

Within a few days after the first article appeared, "fan" mail began to come in from many places. These cheering letters not only commented on my articles but often gave me many new suggestions for future ones.

I realize it is to remind the reader that folklore is an interesting subject that hosts of people know something about. Not everybody likes to write about it, but nearly everybody likes to think, or talk, or laugh about our quaint old customs, superstitions, clothing, language.

As time goes on, we are likely to be more inquisitive about our way of doing things. We have heard much lately about the "American way of life." Folklore is a study of just this thing in its most primitive and basic form.

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY. $1.50 Per Year Payable In Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

- 1. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver, Middle Creek and John Creek roads.
2. Consideration by officials of human needs, not the need for political influence.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these roads by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and the county agricultural agent work.

WHEN?

READING across-country the counties included in the section served by the Pikeville office, Kentucky State Employment Service, are Morgan, Magellan, Martin, Johnson, Floyd and Pike. Pike county is in the extreme southern end of the section served by this office located in Pikeville. The location serves no unemployed person better because it is in Pikeville, except those who live in Pike county and the upper sections of Floyd.
There will soon be a slip the news to us, telling us why the office should not be moved elsewhere, since the trip to Pikeville and return is sixty miles longer for any applicant residing in any locality below Prestonsburg than if the Unemployment Service were located here.

The cost of transportation to an unemployed man or woman over a distance of sixty miles is more than a minor item. Try being "broke" and without work and see for yourself how "un-minor" the item really is.

There has been a lot of talk about correcting this unfair geographical location of an office intended to serve everybody needing its services in these six counties, regardless of politics. But nothing, to date, has been done.

Prestonsburg, logical location of the office, is ready to serve. When will those who need to nurse their scanty savings be rightly served?

WILKIE—A MAN

THE 1940 Presidential campaign was bitter as two forceful personalities duelled down the stretch, as the Third Term fetter was flaunted in the face of the country, as widely divergent schools of thought or economic policies predicted ruin if this or that candidate was elected.

Franklin D. Roosevelt won the election for an unprecedented Third Term, was inaugurated Jan. 20 in an unprecedented early inaugural.

Wendell Wilkie, the Republican candidate, meanwhile prepared for a trip to Europe to study at first-hand conditions there.

As President Roosevelt entered upon his third four-year tenure of the country's Chief Magistracy, there were certain prominent Americans who still saw, or pretended to see, the Dictator bogey-man in FDR.

The question is, Why should any of these isolationists entertain the notion that Franklin D. Roosevelt is interested in giving away America to any foreign country—why should he, as an American and a humanitarian, want to surrender our rights any more than does any other American of ordinary intelligence, ability and responsibility? What gratification of ambition would thereby accrue?

Wendell Wilkie, FDR's opponent in the last election, is not at all about his victorious opponent saying "too much power." He is not worried about a "dictator for America" as he mulls over his defeat.

Instead of engaging in all these "little" maneuvers of little politicians who are merely "aiming simply" with an eye toward the White House, Mr. Wilkie says, in effect: "Roosevelt is my President as well as yours. He is for the preservation of the Democracies by aiding Britain in its death-struggle with the dictators. I am committed to the same cause. Maybe some changes made in H. B. 176, maybe not. Anyhow, I am not wenching on my stand during that election last fall. I say, as did President Roosevelt, the champ whom I sought to defeat, that this nation's hope lies in the survival of Democracy's last European stronghold—England's islands and the British Empire."

So Wendell Wilkie gains stature space with Franklin D. Roosevelt.

So two men fight it out and, in the end, fight alongside each other. One won, the other lost and not by both prove themselves greater than any factional fracas.

A GRATIFYING APPOINTMENT

FLOYD COUNTY'S SPORTSMEN, to a man, are pleased with Governor Johnson's appointment of A. (Steve) Wakefield a native Kentuckian, to the post of director of the Division of Game and Fish.

While they appreciated the capabilities of Major Brown, who was brought from Maine to this state to lead Kentucky back into its own as a region abounding in wild life, they are fully convinced that Mr. Wakefield is a home product, is just as capable.

And the orders under which Steve Wakefield is working are yet more gratifying. Said Governor Johnson, in effect, when the appointment was made: "Your job is to do this work as the real sportsman of Kentucky wants it, regardless of politics."

That's what Kentucky sportsmen want—a Kentuckian working in their behalf, free of the shackles of partisan politics.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY"

IT is gratifying to a Kentuckian believes in practicing the doctrine to which the party is traditionally dedicated—to the principle of representative government, of government not for the benefit of the favored few at the expense of an unfavored majority—it will at the next session of the General Assembly redistrict Kentucky as to its Senators and Representatives.

It is the Democratic party's job to do this, since it has a preponderant majority in both Houses.

It has a duty as a party to redistrict since the present arrangement of the state's representatives, on the basis of the 1940 census, approximately 374,000 of the state's total population of 2,845,600 without representation.

The redistricting job, due each ten years, is the General Assembly's task at its next session. What will the party in power do about it?

At present, Meade county with only 827 population has one Representative, while Floyd county with 52,986 population also has only one Representative.

One Senator represents the Floyd-Pike-Knot Senatorial district with a population of 144,116. One Senator represents the Thirtieth district (Bracken, Harrison, Nicholas and Robertson) with a population of only 36,548, around one-fourth the population of this Eastern Kentucky section.

(The disparity is as great, or is greater, between other districts in the Floyd-Pike-Knot district is cited as a case in point, here at home)

Each Senator should represent approximately 74,885 persons; each Representative, 28,456.

To realize that, under the present set-up, the term, "representative government" is a rank misnomer, one has only to study the figures.

Take the Senatorial divisions, for instance. In Eastern Kentucky, seven districts are above the standard set; only three are below: In 12 districts composed of counties extending from Louisville westward to the Mississippi, only six are above the standard. The same situation prevails in Central Kentucky.

The ludicrousness of the whole matter can be carried on indefinitely on paper. But why? What the people of Kentucky should do is, demand of the Democratic party, the party that can do it, to put an end to such "carryings-on."

WHAT NATION'S PURCHASES FOR DEFENSE WILL MEAN TO BUYERS OF HARDWARE

By JAMES MORELL, JR., Mgr., Morell Supply Company

Daily discussions with our customers definitely disclose that the wide-spread absorption of Commercial Production capacity for defense needs is NOT ABLEED.

Many consumers and salesmen do not see daily business papers and government bulletins, which give this information; others do not take the time to read, and still others do not realize what effect these developments can and will have on their industry and their own business enterprises.

This statement is to give you buyers of hardware a partial but real picture of the situation which will obtain.

On Jan. 21, for instance, bids were opened on 41 items which cost almost half a million dollars. Delivery of all must be completed by March 31.

When those orders from the United States Government for shipment to U. S. forts, go into factories that make hardware items for us and other dealers, you KNOW which orders will get preference.

If the factories would not voluntarily put those Government orders ahead of commercial orders, the Government would issue PRIORITY ORDERS which would compel preference.

As further examples of how the defense orders are affecting our sources of supply and availability of our products, I shall, at the end of this article, list a few of the thousands of contracts placed recently.

Next week, I shall list in the Floyd County Times other recent awards, solely to give you names of factories, or names of articles you as hardware purchasers know. Also to show that commercial producers of every kind are being called on to make munitions and all kinds of military and naval requirements.

It would require FIFTY typewritten pages to list all the contracts awarded in which iron, steel bars, etc., will be used.

In addition to the meager list of finished article contracts I have, during the last few weeks there was an announcement of awards at Washington of TWO HUNDRED SEVENTEEN THOUSAND ($21,000) T-O-N-S of steel, and SEVENTEEN THOUSAND (17,000) T-O-N-S of pipe for construction purposes.

The annual steel ingot capacity of the country is estimated now to be 63,000,000 tons. Normal needs consume 60,000,000 tons, and British orders will reduce our normal supply to 50,000,000 tons for our own preparedness program.

These highly steel orders, being placed for construction purposes only, consume the daily production of the 5,000,000 tons mentioned as available for defense purposes and there is still the demand for all the steel for shells, guns, and thousands of other army and navy requirements.

You know the defense orders will have preference; that means the quantities normally considered available for commercial needs will be cut.

OFFICIALS IN COURT FIGHT AT ODDS OVER PAYMENT OF WARRANTS

AT ODDS OVER PAYMENT OF WARRANTS

Hazard, Ky., Jan. 25.—Circuit Judge Fred Helm today tentatively prohibited Perry County Judge Billie Baker from trying County Treasurer C. V. Cooper for contempt of court for refusing to pay certain warrants out of county funds.

Judge Helm's order was asked by Cooper, who alleged that a $22.11 warrant was issued to a store for merchandise "transferred from Billie Baker's personal account," that payment would be illegal, and that Baker was prejudiced against him.

The circuit judge issued his writ of prohibition on a "temporary" basis, declaring he wanted time to study the contentions and "get to the bottom of this."

Baker had ordered Cooper to appear in county court next Monday for trial on a contempt charge.

Cooper alleged that the $22.11 warrant was made to Baker's Department Store for shoes, underwear, stockings, pajamas, etc., transferred from Billie Baker's personal account for ladies' shoes, hose, etc., and pajamas, shirts, etc., for one Edward Finley.

Carter Announces Low-Priced Buick

Returning from a business session of the Buick zone in Cincinnati, A. C. Carter, of the Carter Motor Sales, announced this week that this division of General Motors Corporation will shortly introduce four new automobiles in a lower price bracket as an addition to the present series 40 Special Buick line.

Mr. Carter said he inspected the new cars at the zone meeting and heard factory and zone officials outline aggressive sales plans for the next 90 days covering the announcement of the country for the new models and the early spring campaign on these and Buick's six other lines.

"The details of the new cars will not be available until next week, I can say that they are the answer to the demand of a mighty big cross section of the country for a Buick built in a more compact size with all the big car engineering and design qualities," he added.

"They have a shorter wheelbase and shorter over all length and new body panels but are otherwise identical with the Series 40 Buicks. That's why they are being introduced as an addition to the Series 40 line rather than as a new model."

The new cars will be formally announced February 1, and will be on display at that time, he said. Use of superphosphate on Leslie county farms has taken a jump after demonstrations showed it led to better crop yields.

March 1, Deadline for Purchase of Quail

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 27 (Spl.)—S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated today that March 1 has been established as the deadline for game and fish clubs to meet in sending in their money for private orders on Bob White quail. Many of the clubs have sent in requests to the Division offices for quail, which are to be paid for by the clubs.

Wakefield said he planned to buy the best birds available and believes they will cost $126 each, delivered in Kentucky. Many of the clubs are purchasing the birds to supplement their regular quota from the Division of Game and Fish.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SPEAKS FOR CLUBWOMEN

In reading your most interesting discussion on comment made about the mountain people and the resentment of same, I noticed in some later issue where one of our clubwomen had taken issue with what the paper had said about conditions of some unpleasant circumstances which I am unable to remember the exact words or nature. Anyway, some mother had died because she had got up to work and take care of her infant who was only a few hours old, and as stated, this mother lived in a town of a good, organized Woman's Club.

As a club member of not Prestonsburg but of another club of Floyd county, I want to say this much: Had this family come to a member of the Club of Prestonsburg and told them the condition they were in and that they needed help for this mother, I believe they would have responded one hundred percent. But how were they to know this condition existed? It is happening every day—conditions like this happen in all our communities. But look at the many who are helped just because their condition is known. I wonder if some of you men are responsible if a house burns next door or on the same block. I wonder if you would not have extinguished the first little blaze, even in the home of an enemy (if you have one) if it could only have been known in time. It is easier to enumerate the things a Woman's Club does not do than to enumerate the things they do.

Oh, yes, about that dog that was found dead on Third street from falling into one of those chasms—well, it is a good thing it did kill the dog. But you just wait until one is just injured—and then watch what a suit the town of Prestonsburg has against it. Dead dogs don't sue.

And that makes me think—I would call at your office more—maybe have some work done that I need at times; but, oh, those chasms! Well, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good—you are not bothered with not having too many of us call, just to get our names in the paper.

In the last two days two of the faculty houses caught fire, but the damage was slight. We have a well-organized fire fighting system, so a fire cannot survive in Caney, with our "Bucket Brigade" in action. (January 31 ends our first semester.)

Most of us are glad to see that time roll around, realizing that we are losing some of our friends, it makes us sad. But we know they are going to school, probably to the University of Kentucky or elsewhere. We sincerely think these boys who graduate will go ahead in life and make good.

Left Beaver has turned out its share of students for Caney this year, namely: Eugene Holcomb, Melvin; Haskell Hall, Westbury; Mildred Childers, Wheelwright; Adrian Hall, McDowell; Frank Schuffelberger, McDowell; James Stumbo, Printer; Andy Stumbo, Printer; Marie Jones, McDowell; Oliver Allen, McDowell We Left Beaver "hill-billies" are going places. If you don't believe it, just stand back and watch us go!

Let's not forget Dr. Quigley. He is a genius and we believe he is the best doctor we have in Caney. Dr. Quigley has just completed a book on Education and he is working on an English book which he will finish very soon. These books are results of clear thinking, of which Dr. Quigley is guilty.

We boys class ourselves as "Caney Boys," since we are a part of where we are and what we do. What one boy has on Caney, the other boys share with him. All the way around, Caney boys are gentlemen wherever they go.

We don't know much about what the girls really believe in, but we don't associate with them very much.

'FIRING LINE EDITOR'

CORRECTION
Editor, The Times:
I saw printed in The Floyd County Times that the charter of McDowell was destroyed. I have had the record searched.

I have failed to find the cause of this being printed. We still have a Town Board and a Tax Collector. My husband, Levi Hall, Chief of Police of McDowell, was murdered Aug. 22, 1937. Since that time I have been chosen, nominated and approved by the Lord to stand and give this town a righteous judgment.

I ask the praying people to pray for murder to stop and faith to improve.

Sincerely,
EVA MEADE HALL.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

While I had better stay on the day shift for we can't stand the night shift. He came in the other morning—went out to milk and he stayed so long that his wife went to see about him; found him sitting on the milking stool holding the cow's teats—sound asleep!

"Peasant" really "accoped" us Saturday—he was completely covered by the Cincinnati Post. Yep, Clyde's brakeman looked like he was after his "last trip."

Aside to our Commissioner of Agriculture: Thanks, Bill—a friend in need is a friend INDEED!

Welcome, Bill Adams, with your Game and Fish column. More power to you.

We have another report on the Tonking Mule—it has been reported that "Cud" was trying to swap it to Earl and Lind for game roosters.

Poor, ole Lindbergh is to be pided. He used to be a hero to millions of Americans—now he is a "heel" to them.

Senator Wheeler should get a medal for dumbness for wanting to know Britain's war aims. If Senator Wheeler were walking down a dark street and suddenly seized from behind and was being beaten up—what would be the Senator's aim? His aim would be the same as Britain's—whip 'em out of the tug; or, falling in that, call for aid. He'd certainly be in a bad fix if his friends should want to know his aims—in case they decided to help.

Britain has a "Thug" at her throat and is putting up a whole of a battle while calling for us to send something to put the "Thug" out of business with—and we are just plain d—fools if we don't send aid.

Boy is worried that the "Chub" Ekhorn and the Hub Ekhorn are going to get their script mixed up.

Blue Eyes is still waiting for that county order for keeping the Stephens Branch road repaired this winter.

Well, well! I see by the political announcements in the FLOYD COUNTY TIMES that some fellows were talking through their hats during the 1940 Presidential campaign. Some of the fellows who have announced for office declared that, if FDR was re-elected for a third term free elections would be done away with. To date, no candidate has promised to build the Left Beaver highway—that used to be the first highway.

There will be another "Bird" besides the rooster on the balloons this year.

The better half sure has to stay at home unless I go along. She can't carry the "Twin Shikpokes." She remarked that she had heard of being water-bound and snow-bound, etc.—but she was "Twin Bound."

Congratulations to the Garrett high school and Coach Billy Mayo. His teams are always best when the "blue chips are down." Bill, you certainly deserve a big hand for bringing your "dark horse" under the wire first.

The regular tournament this year promises to be the "best ever." It's just another tournament—it would be hard to pick a favorite. But I can say that I think Coach Wiley Jones' Wayland boys are the shoo-in—est high school team I ever saw. In the game that I saw them play they must have made over 80 percent of their shots good.

They had better furnish Denver A. a blue print of any improvements on Stephens Branch before he goes up there again. He stayed away about

KIDNEY STAGNATION IS WORSE THAN CONSTIPATION!

Because You Treat Constipation at The Onset, While We Neglect Our Kidneys Indefinitely

No other organ in your body is of more importance than your kidneys. For in your kidneys are nine million tubes which must work day and night to filter the fluids and keep the system rid of wastes, acids, poisons which, if permitted to remain, may cause serious kidney and bladder troubles.

It is no wonder then that Nature urges calls for help to clean out the system. If you ever trouble with the Getting-Up-Nights, Leg Pains, Backache, Nervous Headache, Dizziness or Loss of Energy, due to functional kidney disorders, try KIDANS, the famous kidney remedy, which aids Nature to flush out the kidneys, to filter all wastes, to prevent kidney stagnation.

KIDANS is Safe and Reliable. Thousands report entire satisfaction. Taken according to directions, KIDANS will give splendid results. Try KIDANS. Buy it at our Special Price Offer on two boxes (the one box, if not satisfied, return unopened box and GET YOUR MONEY BACK).

Wilkie is taking an air-line trip—but he couldn't get the Elephant to ride with him. The Elephant got mad because he endorsed FDR's foreign policy.

Cooperatives Save On Limestone Cost

By pooling their orders through cooperative organizations, farmers in several Kentucky counties report savings last year in the purchase of agricultural limestone.

In Livingston county, a cooperative association leased a quarry and furnished limestone at a saving estimated at nearly $10,000. Savings were reported in other counties as follows: Johnson, $4,658; Maysville, $2,710; Perry, $3,600; Knox, $628; Leslie, $30; Knott, $145 a ton, and Letcher 25 cents a ton.

Most of the cooperative associations were formed by the joint efforts of farmers, the county agricultural agent, and the Department of Markets and Rural Finance of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, with the Farm Security Administration giving financial assistance.

TOWN-WORLD

MAYBE ONE WAS RE-PRAMED
OK 509888. T-W wouldn't know, but it would seem that Dr. Clark, associate professor of history at the University of Kentucky, has made a slight error in his question-and-answer department (See this week's TRACES). His answer to the question asking how many Constitutions Kentucky has had is FOUR. Then he proceeds to name five dates on which the four were framed.

"GOALS VS. TERRY" is the title of this poem by Mildred Hunter, of Kansas City:

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free.
A girl whose hungry eyes are fixed
Upon a cake that's being mixed.
A girl who doesn't always wear
A kerchief hank upon her hair.
But girls are loved by guys like me,
Cause, gosh, who wants to kiss a tree?

ADD REMEDIES: As scores in Floyd county better after January 1.

OUR CHANCE
Those of you who object to the "unfavorable" publicity this section gets in certain newspapers and magazines have a chance to help us show the better side of this section. We have been asked to "do a piece" with pictures for the Kentucky state magazine, and would like to have several good clear photographs of buildings, places, things and people to prove that we do not all "pack" a gun or so do not live in huts and start a feud every time we lose interest in the current issue of Barker's abnanc.
