AMBURGY GETS 5-YEAR TERM AS SLAYER

MORRIS ACQUITTED IN FIST-SLAYING OF GOBLE HALL

The months-long fight of Bordie Amburgy, miner-son of "Bob" Amburgy, Hindman, president, as the law sought to convict him in the slaying at Wheelwright, Aug. 12, 1940, of Clyde Robinson, miner, reached its climax Monday afternoon when a jury of the Floyd circuit court after four hours' deliberation fixed his sentence at five years in the penitentiary. Amburgy's first trial resulted in a hung jury. As his second arraignment was ready to start, the indictment was quashed. On the second trial, after his third arraignment, which began here Saturday.

Remaining against him on the circuit court docket is a murder charge resulting from the death of Clarence Little, 18, Wheelwright, who is said to have been accidentally shot as Amburgy fired at Robinson. After the regular jury panel had been exhausted, names of 53 other talsmen were drawn. One was selected when before a jury was selected to hear the trial.

Amburgy claimed he fired only when Robinson drew his pistol. He added that he thought Robinson fired a shot before he began firing. Green Gray, a defense witness claimed Robinson threw his hand to his hip as if to draw his gun.

Commonwealth witnesses testified that Amburgy fired on Robinson while the latter was talking with friends, and without provocation. This testimony showed that one of Amburgy's bullets struck the victim from behind.

Assisting Commonwealth's Attorney John Allen in the prosecution were County Attorney Forrest, State Attorney Edward K. Allen, H. H. Smith, C. P. Stephens, Joe E. Tackett and Carl D. Perkins were defense counsel. "Red" Morris was defense counsel Friday of a charge of killing Goble Hall at Buckingham with a blow of his fist. He claimed self-defense.

Commonwealth witnesses testified that Hall died 14 days after having been struck by Morris on Dec. 1, last year. Dr. W. D. Osborne, Hall's physician, told Dr. Halle head being swollen, but declined to state the exact cause of death. Morris said he struck Hall when the latter struck him with a stick of stove wood.

Lawson Brown, on trial on a murder charge for his connection in the slaying of Lawrence Collins at Drift, drew a three-year term, last Wednesday. The Commonwealth contended that as Cecil Newsome pursued Collins, Brown followed, urging Newsome to catch the fleeing man. This testimony sought to prove that Brown stamped

This Town-- That World

There's lavender and old lace in the hills, these days. The rose buds and the ferns. Lovely together or apart.

ONE LIVES AND LEARNS-- MAYBE

Born and "raised" as I was on Salt Lick Creek, this country, I had to wait years to read in a very newspaper that my favorite stream has a Bull Trout branch.

FLASH--BUT CATCHES DOG

Operating on the premise that it's news when a man bites a dog, we've decided that this is news. A two-week-old shepherd puppy, named "Red" by its owner, was caught by a dog named "Flash" at the home of Clayborne Bailey, of Justell, last Friday night and was dragged into a nearby hole. When four men went to the hole, the puppy's hind legs were broken and gnawed and the tip of its tail had been eaten away.

MATERIAL OLD CLUCK

And there's that hen on Salt Lick that doesn't mind being "set" but does have her mind on "settin' on" something other than the customary eggs. When a mother cat lugged in her kitten by the scruff of the neck and placed it in a hen's nest near Turner home, the hen promptly began "settin' on" the kitten. Moved last week to another nest and to a setting of eggs, the maternal old cluck squawked and kept up by going right back to keeping the kitten warm.

Surviving are his widow; two sons, Virgil Auxier, Cliff, Buster Auxier, East Point; three daughters, Mrs. May Herward, and Mrs. Lucy Burke, both of Trimble county, Ky., and Mrs. Tava Blanton, East Point. Also surviving are six brothers: W. D. and Tobo Auxier, both of East Point; George Auxier, Alton; W. D. Auxier, Paintsville; Sam Auxier and Downer Auxier, both of Madison, Ind.; and one sister, Mrs. Ethel Hughes, Jenkins, Ky.

HALL REWARD $100 SHORT

AS FISCAL COURT FAILS TO MAKE APPROPRIATION

In session here Monday, the Floyd fiscal court failed to post reward for the arrest of Joe Hall, who for three weeks has been sought in the slaying of Dwayne of Henry Hale and the wounding of Hale's bride-to-be, Miss Minnie Porter.

Two weeks ago, THE TIMES published an erroneous statement to the effect that the court had already placed with a local bank $100 as a reward for the capture of Hall. Mother of the slain youth posted $50 reward.

See editorial, "The Widow's Mite" and Floyd County.

Floyd county deputy sheriffs this week related stories of unsuccessful searches on Hall's home and other places in the town's community where the slayer is reported hiding. One officer said he had been told this week that he and other peace officers had passed within a few feet of Hall, on a recent night.

It was said this week that Hall is armed with a rifle and a revolver.

COMMISSIONER MAY ACCORDED HONOR

William H. May, Commissioner of the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce, nearing the close of his state convention in Ashland Saturday night, gave awards to Commissioner of Agriculture William H. May, of Prestonsburg, E. G. Sempels, of Louisville, re-elected vice-president and to the Jaycee organization of Paducah.

May was presented with a plaque in recognition of his leadership in government, exemplifying Junior Chamber of Commerce ideals. Acknowledging the award, May said that the tribute really should go to his department for its splendid work.

Slain Mine Official Former Manager At Weebury

C. W. "Dusty" Rhodes, 45, president of the Park Ridge Coal Company, Ashland, Ky., who was killed in an outbreak of violence last week following the mine shut-down, is remembered here and elsewhere in this county as former manager of the Weebury operation of the Phiney Elkton Coal Company. Mr. Rhodes was manager there when the Weebury mining camp was built.

Slaying of Mr. Rhodes and others took place so near the Bell county-Tennessee line that the services of a Tennessee lawyer were required before it was ascertained that the violence took place in Tennessee.

PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

LIONS AND KIWANIS COMMITTEES JOIN IN MOVEMENT

Prestonsburg children will have a playground this summer, complete with chutes, swings, bars and every modern equipment, according to plans nearing completion by the Lions and Kiwanis clubs.

At the weekly dinner of the Lions Thursday night at the Auxier hotel, hearing completion by the Lions and Kiwanis committee, reported the committee is receiving enthusiastic support of school board members. Present plans are to place the equipment on the grounds adjoining the graded school. It is expected supervisors will be drawn from the N.Y.A. and W.P.A. organizations.

Jack Keenan submitted figures on the possible cost after deducting all allowances for pipe which it is expected will be donated by local oil and gas companies. The welding will be done at the Mayo Industrial School in Paducah, Ky., according to Mr. Keenan's figures, will approximate $250. This amount will be raised by popular subscription and perhaps a fund-raising show.

A resolution was passed in appreciation.

HEALTH BOARD MAY ACT

TO RESTRAIN SPREAD OF HYDROPHOBIA IN COUNTY

Outbreaks of rabies in two or three Floyd county communities within the last fortnight led Dr. Marvin Ransome, director of the Floyd County Health Board, to issue a statement to the effect that if citizens continue their negligence in permitting dogs to run at large "with no control made to confine these dogs known to be bitten, it may be necessary to have the county board of health issue a general quarantine of dogs. Anti-rabies treatments have been ordered for six Floyd counties—two here, the same number in both Wayland and Clark.

Dr. Ransome's statement follows: "All suspicious-acting or sick dogs should be immediately destroyed or confined in some tight place where it is impossible for them to dig or otherwise break out. Be suspicious of the dog who appears to be choked. It may be necessary to attempt to examine the animal will expose you to rabies and necessitate the taking of the treatment.

The greatest danger lies in letting dogs that are known to have bitten by a rabid dog run at large. Reports reach this office every week that a certain community has been visited by a mad dog, that all the dogs were bitten and yet nobody is interested enough to kill or confine the dog that has been bitten, but allow them to run at large, go mad and bite some human or other dogs.

"Rabies is a serious problem, not only from a public health viewpoint, but from an economic viewpoint as well. Every year, a number

PHILOSOPHY OF FLOYD NATIVE RECORDED IN HIS WILL

Though having the ring of sound philosophy to be found in Poor Richard's Almanac, the following paragraphs are from the will of the late James Hatcher, Floyd county native, who died at Pikeville in 1929: "I want to say to my trustees and to my neighbors whom I have willed the Hatcher Hotel, that I want the printed matter on the Hotel Walls to remain as primer, and the dogs that I want it should have to be removed. I want it replaced as I now have it, except that the color of the lettering may be different.

COAL OFFICIAL IS VICTIM

WARREN B. COCKILL DIES AT PIKEVILLE OF PARALYSIS

Warren B. Cockill, well-known coal mine official and resident of Pike county for many years, died at 11:30 April 18 at his home in Pikeville.

Mr. Cockill was 47 years old. He had been in failing health for several months, but apparently was recovering. He suffered a stroke and died several hours later.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cockill, of Minnie, Ky. He was born in Tennessee but moved to this county when he was in early childhood. He was assistant superintendent of the Edgemont Fuel Company mine at Minnie.

Mr. Cockill was affiliated with the Masonic lodge and the American Legion, and was a member of the Methodist Church.

He was married to his parents, his widow, Mrs. Stella Ferguson Cockill, and a sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Cockill, both of Pikeville.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Methodist Church, Pikeville, with Dr. Virgil Moore, Dr. T. B. Ashley, pastor, and J. H. Howerton officiating. Burial was made at Ashland.

Quail Distributed For Re-Stocking In County

With the distribution this week of 250 quail in Floyd county, District Conservation Officer E. R. Burke, Prestonsburg, announced that 250 more will be liberated later in the week. Mr. Burke said he had been given assurance of the additional quail supply by S. A. Wakefield, head of the state division of game and fish.

The 500 quail thus promised for re-stocking of the county's fields and woods comprise the largest shipment of birds ever sent to this county.

The birds are being liberated on farms where landowners promise protection for them. At the same time, cane seed is now available to farmers who will reciprocate by leaving some of the ripened stubble on the ground as a food supply for quail next winter.

The seed is being supplied by the Floyd County Fish & Game Club and may be procured from Mr. Burke here.

BALL SEASON BEGINS SUNDAY

BIG SANDY LEAGUE TO HAVE 2 UNITS IN ACTION

The shootin' starts Sunday on every sector of the Big Sandy baseball front. Make it two fronts, since the Big Sandy Baseball League has been divided into two units.

Maneuvers of Unit A will follow this pattern, if weather conditions permit: Prestonsburg will defend its own park against Wayland; Drift will invade Pikeville; Clear Creek will attack its neighbor, Wheelwright.

On the other front, Unit B will be engaged with the following undertakings: Stephens Branch will shove off at Van Lear; Muddy Branch will retaliate in behalf of Johnson county by invading Allen-Martin, an "A" team, will essay a hit at Elkton City.

Schedule for both units of the League appear this week on page 3.

Wheelwright, according to reports filtering in, appears to be a championship contender. Information on other teams is meager.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. J. May has returned home from Paintsville where she has been for several weeks with her niece, Mary Elizabeth Minix, who is seriously ill.

Whoa, Nelly!—This Town's Got a Speed Limit

Speeding was an offense against the peace and dignity of the law, half a century and more years ago just as it is today, old records being delved into by WPA indexing workers here show, in August, 1884, a man named Merritt was indicted for unlawfully riding a horse in a run and in a gallop on and through the streets of Prestonsburg, Ky.

And he was convicted!—fine, $10.

SCHOLARSHIPS ARE OFFERED BY CENTER

9 FLOYD BOY-GRADS TO GET EDUCATION, GIFT OF SCHOOL

Free education, extending even to the professions was announced this week as available to nine boys graduating this spring from Floyd county high schools, this further education to be made possible through scholarships offered by the Caney Creek Community Center.

In a letter to Town Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools, Mrs. Alice S. G. Lloyd, head of the Center, announces that the Caney Junior College will present a scholarship to one boy from the graduating class of each of the county's nine high schools.

And, if the boys chosen as beneficiaries of the Center's offer maintain the required academic and moral standards, they will be sent under scholarships to the University of Kentucky, for an A. B. or B. S. degree—and after that, they continue to meet specified requirements, on to post-graduate training for the professions.

In return for all this the school asks of the boys only this—that when their education is completed, they will return to the mountains area to practice their profession or to follow other vocations for which they have been trained.

The scholarship offer was mailed by Superintendent Hall as the greatest opportunity ever presented graduates of Floyd county high schools. To the student setting out to become a physician, for instance, Mr. Hall pointed out, the scholarships offered would mean a saving in cash of at least $5,000.

The scholarship plan, as outlined by Mrs. Lloyd, follows: "Candidate must be recommended by the principal of the high school; must be a native-born citizen of the U. S. average; must be recommended morally by a minister of the town in which the high school is located; must be recommended for outstanding manhood by the County Superintendent; must take a straight A. B. or B. S. degree course at the Caney Junior College; must not smoke and must have good health and pleasing appearance.

This scholarship includes all fees, room, board, light, heat, books and supplies for two years at the Caney Junior College.

If the boy acquires an average standing of B, he will be further sent under the scholarship to the University of Kentucky for an A. B. or B. S. degree—provided his moral character has also proved dependable.

A COMPARISON of prices will show that the Pontiac De Luxe "Torpedo" does cost a little more than the de luxe models of the lowest priced three. However, this difference itself is not important. In fact, it is so slight that owners say it's hardly noticeable when spread over monthly payments.

But the extra dependability this slight difference buys IS important—and in our files are hundreds of letters from owners indicating that the phrase—"Built to Last 100,000 Miles"—only begins to describe Pontiac's long life and trouble-free performance. And when you add the scores of other advantages Pontiac provides, plus the fact that Pontiac's great reputation for dependability means it's worth more to you at trade-in time, then you'll understand why more people are buying Pontiac this year than ever before. 12,000 ACRES ADDED TO PARK

130,000-ACRE TRACT TO FORM BREAKS PARK AREA

Pikeville—The Clinchfield Coal Corporation, of Dante, Va., has sold 12,000 acres of land in the Breaks of the Big Sandy area to the National Forestry Service for addition to Jefferson National Forest. It was announced last week by The Pike County News.

Formal purchase of the tract was announced by Lee Long, president of the Breaks Reserve and Restoration Association. Mr. Long is an official of the Clinchfield Corporation. The government paid $3 an acre for the tract, it was reported.

Addition of the Breaks area to the Jefferson National Forest has for years been the goal of the Pike County Fish and Game Association, and other public organizations in this section.

While the 12,000-acre tract does not include the entire area sought to be added to the National Forest, it is a healthy start, and local wildlife enthusiasts are receiving the news of the purchase with gratification.

It means that the area will be re-stocked and cared for directly by the government agency with the result that the future of this section as a wildlife mecca is assured.

The tract purchased by the government is located at the point where the river breaks through the mountains, virtually all in Virginia. It takes in the spot where numerous Fish and Game outings have been held, at the crest of the mountain.

The movement for the addition of 130,000 acres of land in Kentucky and Virginia to the National Park was started by public-spirited citizens of this area in 1936. About three years ago, federal officials approved the purchase of the land "at such time as it is possible."

The purchase announced now is the first definite step in that direction, and marks a successful ending to the entire movement, as it is only a matter of time, according to people who know, until the entire 130,000-acre tract will be added. (This huge tract extends from the Breaks to Jenkins and From Elkhorn Creek to Pound river.)

U. S. Forestry officials announced this week that re-stocking activities already have begun in the Breaks area. Forty-seven white tailed deer and about 20 wild turkeys have been freed in that protected area.

Unless defense activities take priority, many improvements, characteristic to national forests, will be made in the section almost immediately. Government-operated fire towers, new roads, lakes, recreation spots, fish and game stocking and timber development probably will be undertaken.

Left now on the general program of the local Fish and Game Association and other associations is the completion of the Flatwoods Game Farm. With the National Forest project out of the way, these organizations will be able to devote all their time to this important move.—Pike County News, visiting homefolks Sunday.

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.
$1.50 Per Year Payable in Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A SLAYER, THE WIDOW'S MITE— AND FLOYD COUNTY

TWO weeks ago, a week after Henry Hale had been shot to death at Dwaie and his fiancée had been wounded as she fled from the death-spitting muzzle of a revolver, this newspaper was asked to state that a reward of $150 was being offered for the slayer's arrest.

THE TIMES was informed that the widowed mother of young Hale had placed in a local bank $50 as a reward for the capture of her son's slayer, that the Floyd fiscal court was increasing this reward by $100. This was published on the presumption that the statement was true.

Monday, more than three weeks after the slaying, THE TIMES learned that the mother had indeed posted her $50—but, at the same time, came the news that the fiscal court had not only failed to deposit with the bank the promised $150 but had also in its meeting Monday, failed to make any appropriation whatever as a reward.

But surely, if this case is as atrocious as it has been described by peace officers, the court will reconsider its action—or, rather, its choice of taking no action in the matter. Those who have repeatedly searched for the fugitive claim that he is being secreted in the community where he committed his crime; that they have sought his arrest in vain. That being true, it is the court's "duty" to make the arrest of the slayer profitable to others who otherwise will not assist the law in a dangerous and difficult task.

The court may be handicapped by a shortage of funds, but for this purpose, surely, the money could be made available by a transfer from a fund where there is no shortage.

Mind you, THE TIMES does not classify this murder as others have described it—"a bad murder as ever committed in this county." It seems bad to us. But the last three weeks may have changed it, as has often happened in years ago, to a plain case of self-defense—even if the girl was shot as she fled!

The widow Hale has given her mite. Now, it's up to the county into whose treasury she and her late husband have for years paid their tax money—it's up to the county to help her bring the slayer of her son to justice.

A TEACHER SPEAKS

D. R. D. JUDD, of Morehead State College, gets down to earth in the following comment which he contributes to THE TIMES:

"The writer has just returned from the KEA at Louisville and he is inclined to foist on his readers one major observation. It was his privilege to talk to educators from the Purchase, The Pennyroll, and other sections of our state.

"There was one general deduction which I shall make that seems warranted from the tone of conversation which I heard while there. First it seemed to be the consensus that high school students all over the state are restless and that the average teacher is having a hard time keeping her students still long enough in order to teach them anything. Students are constantly going to contests of various sorts over the state.

"In the older days there was a focal point of learning in the class room. It has now been moved out in the great open spaces away from the desk, the blackboard and the laboratory. The reader may be able to give a sensible reason for this restlessness among our youth but it appears to the writer that this condition is attributable to "the times." The world is upside down caused by the war raging in Europe.

"We teachers who are responsible for instruction must take a sober, calm and sensible view of things by helping these young people get both of their feet on the ground. The greatest achievement of David Perkins Page still holds: As the schoolmaster so is the school!"

"If our teachers get a better, firmer grip on the real issues in classroom teaching it can not help but be passed on to the student. This not only obtains for the grade but also for undergraduates and graduate work also."

FIRE DEPARTMENT WORK PREVENTS HEAVY LOSS

Work of the Prestonsburg fire department saved the home of Banks Wallen and perhaps those of his neighbors Tuesday afternoon. The blaze started from an outbuilding at the rear of the Wallen residence. Damage to Mr. Wallen was from water and from removal of a portion of his household effects.

An item of expense of this nature added to the expense of giving three or four members of the family an anti-rabies treatment is an expense that few families are able to bear.

"Probably half the individuals that receive the anti-rabies treatment are not able to pay for their own treatment, the expense being borne by relatives or the county.

"It has been my observation that the families who refuse to continue or destroy their dogs which may have been bitten are the ones who, if any member of their family is bitten, put up the biggest howl, and for whom the county has to furnish treatment.

"People with valuable dogs should have them treated every year against rabies. This can be done at small cost to the owner by your veterinarian or county agent. Ball Season Begins

Two players on whom Prestonsburg was counting heavily appear lost to faster company for the season. Brown, third baseman, last season, is performing satisfactorily with the Ashland team of the Mountain State League, and Vance, who had been assigned to regular catching duties here, has advanced to the Bristol, Va., team of the Appalachian league, where he appears to be a fixture. Club officials here are hopeful, however, of a successful season.

Bailey Held Here

led by three others in a pick-up truck. He said that he left his classes, some time around 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Bailey was last seen alive crossing the Kc-mit bridge, near which her body was found. She had been dragged a distance of about 50 yards from the highway. Martin county authorities said. Large footprints were discovered in the vicinity where the body was found.

Bailey told THE TIMES that he "had learned" that Chapman was arrested because "somebody saw him with a fountain pen like the one found near where the body was found." A pocket mirror also was found nearby.

The prisoner here said his wife was the mother of one child. He said that they were married, about three years ago, but had been estranged almost as long.

IN CINCINNATI

Mrs. B. F. Combs is in Cincinnati, Ohio, where she is receiving medical treatment. She was accompanied there by her son, Atty. Leroy Combs, who returned a few days ago, to Prestonsburg.

March Coal Report Shows 856,382 Tons Produced

The thirty-three mines included in the Big Sandy-Belknap Mining Institute produced 856,382 tons of coal in March, according to a report issued here today.

Eleven of the 33 produced 148,808 tons during the month without a single injury, it was added.

During the first three months of 1941 the mines produced 2,277,282 tons of coal, with 212 fatalities and 212 injuries. The four fatalities during the three-month period compared with three in 1940 and two in 1939.

At Williamson, W. Va., the Williamson Operators' Association reported that the Williamson, Logan and Knawins coal fields in West Virginia and the Big Sandy and Hazard fields in Kentucky shipped 6,650 tons of coal, nearly all of which was from stocks on hand above ground, during the week ended April 12. The five fields shipped 1,098,290 tons during the same week in 1940.

Cane Seed for Farmers Available Here

The Floyd County Fish and Game Club announced this week the receipt of 2,000 pounds of sugar cane seed, recently ordered for Floyd county farmers. This seed is recommended as the best for cane from which to make molasses.

The Fish and Game Club is giving the seeds to the farmers in return it is requested that in harvesting some of the heads be left on the ground for the birds. Additional seed will be given farmers who will agree to lay off a small piece of ground on which a cover crop will be left over the winter.

The seed may be obtained at the home of E. R. Burke, Prestonsburg.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LAUDS HOUSEKEEPING AIDE

I happened to stop at the Housekeeping Aid Center and, my, it was so nice and cozy I could have lived there myself. There was a big office room, a living room, kitchen, and a laundry on the first floor and almost all of the furniture has been made by the "Aides." There were three rooms on the second floor. One especially attractive was the baby's room with everything homemade, a baby bed, bassinet, wardrobe, playpen and a little chair which was made from a nail keg.

I was informed by one of the "Aides" that their Center alone has serviced over three hundred families since they began in September, 1940. Now with only a few workers left they are servicing around 52 families a month. The Aides are placed in homes caring for the aged, sick and the children; also doing housework and laundry for the family.

I wish to say that, I believe the Housekeeping Aide to be one of the best projects established in Floyd county.

Let us co-operate to put this project under the National Defense and it will continue to be a help to the community.

A FRIEND SAYS NORTHERN MINES SHOULD NOT BE RE-OPENED

Enclosed, excerpts from a letter which I am addressing to Senator Barkley:

"It is unfair to permit northern soft coal operators to start their plants, if such procedure be permitted, the southern people may suffer the loss of their coal market to northern mines. Orders for coal can be lost by the south which never can be regained."

"The writer concedes that you have first hand information and that you will forgive him this protest."

A CITIZEN NOT PORK BARREL PROJECTS

Year after year the opponents of river and harbor legislation try to kill it by derision. "Pork Barrel" they say; meaning that the bill carries appropriations for projects without merit except political. The astounding thing is that so many believe it, despite the fact that river and harbor legislation is entirely free from pork, by reason of the method of its preparation and enactment, and has been so for a generation.

To the first place, Congress does not appropriate for particular projects, but the Secretary of War at his selection of the Chief of Engineers, U. S. A., from a list of approved projects. And what are these approved projects?

They are projects that have been certified economically sound after long study by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., made first by the District Officer, reviewed by his superior, the Division Engineer, then by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, and finally by the Chief of Engineers. Many part of the study is perfunctory. Many

I can win in November.

Coal Dust in Stream May Kill Fish, Clark Writes

There is no poisonous matter such as acid or iron in the water which pours from the Elk Horn Coal Corporation's coal washer into Right Beaver Creek but the coal dust in the water is detrimental to fish life and is lethal at times, M. E. Clark, superintendent of state fish hatcheries, wrote District Conservation Officer E. R. Burke here last week after having examined water submitted by Mr. Burke.

The sample was taken at the coal washer at Wayland, Mr. Burke said. Mr. Clark pointed out that the coal dust adheres and is quickly destroyed, as are the eggs, Mr. Clark wrote.

Mr. Burke said he expected to communicate with company officials at Wayland and ask that steps be taken to filter the water from the washer or to divert it from the stream. At the same time, the conservation officer said he expected to prosecute sawmill-owners guilty of permitting sawdust to enter Floyd streams. The acid from sawdust is fatal to fish.

REVOLUTIONARY VETS' OATHS SIMILAR TO OLD-AGE APPLICANTS'

Reminiscence of oaths required of applicants for Old-Age Assistance in these modern days, setting forth their contracts or debts due to me, for assets and denying that they have transferred their property so as to bring themselves within the provisions of the Old-Age Assistance Act, is the following affidavit of pension-seeking Culberrth Stone, a Revolutionary soldier, recently discovered in the office here of the Circuit Court Clerk by WPA indexing workers:

"Culberrth Stone, an old Revolutionary soldier, presented in open court and made oath to a schedule of his property, etc. which is as follows: to-wit:

"State of Kentucky, Floyd County Circuit Court.
"On this day, April 29th, 1823, personally appeared in open court, this being made a court record by the laws of this state being solemnly adjudged to be such by the other tribunals of this state, with power to fine and imprison, always keeping a record of its proceedings Culberrth Stone, aged about 88 years, a resident citizen of the county aforesaid, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath declare that he served in the Revolutionary War as follows:

"He enlisted in the service of the militia against the common enemy in the month of March, in the year previous to Gate's defeat for the term of three years or ending the war in Capt. Jones' Company, in the 7th Maryland Regiment commanded by Col. Greenbury in the Maryland line, and that he was in the following battles, to-wit: The battle of Gate's defeat, and the battle of Cowpens in South Carolina, and was there wounded in the thigh by a ball of a musket popping through it, and was there left on the battle ground, and in consequence of said wound, he never was able to return to the army again until peace was declared, which was the fall following that.

"That it was about eleven months or upwards that this applicant served in the army after his enlistment before he was wounded at the Cowpens, and I, Culberrth Stone, do solemnly swear that I was a resident citizen of the United States on the 18th day of March, 1818, and I have not since that time by gift or sale in any manner disposed of my property, or any part thereof with an intent thereby to diminish or to bring myself within the provisions of an act of Congress entitled an Act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land and naval service of the United States in the Revolutionary War, passed on the 18th day of March, 1818, and that I have not, nor has any person in trust for me, any property or securities, contracts or debts due to me, nor have I any income other than what is contained in the schedule hereto, answered and by me subscribed to, viz: "Two head of horses worth $50.00 "Three cows and calves worth 30.00 "Three calves worth 12.00 "Eleven pigs worth 10.00 "Seven other hogs worth 4.50 "Three lambs worth 1.50 "Four sheep worth 6.00 "The total amount of horses, mules, hogs and kitchen furniture $ 5.25 "W. G. Africa, Prestonsburg, who has compiled information from old records of Revolutionary War soldiers, can file at the courthouse here, was recently informed that the Floyd courthouse is the only repository in Kentucky for documents of the kind dating back to the days of 1776.

LACKEY WOMEN WORK TO AID BRITAIN

THE TIMES on April 10 published a news item regarding the shipment of Red Cross supplies to Great Britain. Kentucky Woman, 1941 Mother

A twice-widowed mother of four daughters who taught music in order to send her girls through college is the "American Mother of 1941."
She is Mrs. Dena Shelby Diehl, a soft-eyed, brown-haired Kentuckian who became music supervisor in her native Danville's city schools after death of her first husband, James D. Shelby.

The American Mothers' committee of the Golden Rule Foundation chose her this week as "representative of the best there is in motherhood."
Her four daughters—all of whom are married—were between four and 10 years old when their father died. Her teaching enabled them to attend the University of Kentucky.

After the death of her second husband, Francis Frederick Diehl of New York and Cincinnati, she engaged in civic enterprises and is now active in gardening, public speaking and writing.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

Abe Robinson, who has had a badly bruised knee, was released from the hospital a few days ago and was advised to bathe his knee daily in warm salt water. Abe had his knee in a bathpan of water for about two hours, patiently bathing it, when he discovered that he had been using sugar instead of salt.

Bob Shay has lost his record as the "Mover." Curt Jones has taken the title away from him—yep, he moved three times last week.

Wayne sez that the chickens sure come home to roost. After he had jacked care to cut out all the hard-running cars at Sampson to be transferred to the Stumbo mine, he was transferred to Stumbo, where he has all the hard runners to contend with.

Seems that the Shikepoke is getting a lot of adverse advertising in some places, or place, I should say. But there is one consolation as long as someone is knocking you in the pants—there is no chance of him getting ahead of you.

I have just found-out why Communism attracts boys and youngsters. A dispatch from Moscow states that a Russian citizen takes a bath about every 18 months.

There is one way that an American can win it on the dictator yards. In America a youngster can grow up and hope to be President. In a dictator country, they can only hope to grow up.

According to a news report—Hitler sez that, if we convey anything, or start to convey anything to Great Britain, he will sink it. Oh, yeah!—the Kaiser tried that in 1917 and look where he is today and he sure got off lucky. If we take a notion, we will convey materials to England and Hitler will like it. The Hon. George Washington Thayer, a dollar across the Potomac River—and F.D.R., will toss Seven Billions across the Atlantic—Hitler, notwithstanding.

Tom Goodin, the welder on the job at the new mine being put in on Johns Branch, got in a "mell of a bean" Saturday. He was welding on the feeder on the bottom of the chute when a large snake crawled in the top of the chute and promptly slid down into the welder's lap. Such ceremonial!

With the mine shutdown in effect, the Easter parade in the mining camps was a review of what was worn last year instead of a preview of this year's styles.

Where is "Bribeback"?—we're kinda worried about him.

Why not a "Defense School" in Floyd county? Why does a lot of our men have to travel to Johnson county to take a course in "skilled instructions for defense purposes"? We even have the instructors in this county who are teaching men the art of welding and so forth at their own expense. Why not an appropriation for this purpose in FLOYD county?

Henry reports that he believes that Basil will be late for work, since someone stole his Shanghai alarm clock.

Briar Buck's Scratches

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of The Times.

VACATIONS

One of the "boys" opines that, as far as he is concerned, John L. Lewis can leave out that clause about the annual vacation. The U.M. Worker says he gets a long enough vacation every two years anyway!

SPRING, ET AL

When the redoubt bloom and the service "marvins" to you! and dog-woods blossom out, it's a sure sign the sap is rising—and that, my friends, is where Dan Cupid takes the reins.

His first local "victims," bless 'em, were Adam Osum and Llesaur Eair (if their names are spelled backwards, blame it on the printer.)

ASSESSMENTS

To those who saw red when Briar Buck protested that the Hatch Act would only make law violators out of government job-holders, I have only this to say: I TOLD YOU SO! (gloat, gloat.)

POOR TIME, INDEED!

While Hitler's death-dealing steam-roller continues to run over one little nation after another, and while Uncle Sam's diplomacy is still too far ahead of his military might to be of any material good to those unequipped countries, it seems a damn poor time for vital defense work to be held up on ANY pretext.

It's like a merchant quibbling over the price of one commodity while his whole store burns down!

BLACK BOTTOM BLUES

Carl Corbin says Otis surely must have had a good time in Cincinnati—he had to get his wife's new Plymouth and buy his two boys a dog apiece! But wonder why he gave the dogs away?

WHAT???

What's this we've been hearing about Pikeville and Paintsville merchants having a wider selection of shoes in stock than can be found in Prestonsburg stores?

Is it more prattle, or is there some basis of truth in the story?

LOST DOG

Anyone finding a three-legged pint-sized girl dog that answers to the name of "Josephine" please see Joe W. Keeling at the Princess Elkhorn mine and receive a liberal reward (or a more liberal cussin').

FORESIGHT

Talk about businessmen with an eye to the future and an ear to the ground, there's proof on Middle Creek. Two buildings are going up side by side—one is to be a "Honkey Truck" the other, a doctor's office.

Some foresight, eh?

Amburg Gets Term

out one Collins' teeth. The defendant claimed, however, that he went to the scene where Newsome fatally stabbed Collins in order to separate the two men.

Trial of Troy and George Newsome on a breaking and entering charge resulted in a one-year term for the former.

Circuit Judge Stephens probated the two-year term given 62-year-old Andy Johnson, who had been convicted of a shooting and wounding charge. It was claimed that the elderly man fired at Tom Johnson, his son-in-law, but did not hit him. The son-in-law, it was said, had previously killed Johnson's son.

Two charges of voluntary manslaughter filed against Lenville Turner in the death of Grady Hopkins and Ballard Johnson last December in an auto wreck were dismissed last week on the grounds that proof was insufficient to convict.

The child desertion charge against Jay Branham, for which he had been convicted, was dismissed this week after the order of conviction had been rescinded.

Murder trial of Otis Hall was continued till September 10 and his bond reduced from $5,000 to $2,000. Trial of Pearl Salisbury on charge of auto wreck was dismissed last week on the same day the trial of B. B. Salisbury, accused of being an accessory to murder after the fact, is slated for hearing.

The charge of cutting timber on the land of another against James (Big Foot) Nunnery was dismissed on the grounds that proof was insufficient to convict.

STRUCTURES TO HOUSE GROCERY STORES

Brick-and-ile structures are, now nearing completion here for occupancy by two new grocery stores.

One of these is the 2856-foot structure being erected on the Mayo Trail, near the Greenwade Service Station, by E. B. Brown, to be occupied by J. E. and Richard Salt's store.

The other, on the A. H. Spradlin lot, near the corner of Friend street and the Mayo Trail, will be occupied by a grocery store operated by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hale and sons.

SELLS PORTION OF BUILDING

P. F. Howard last week sold a portion of his business property on the corner of Third and Graham to Dr. John Sizemore. The part sold is the ell section extending from the Cash Hardware part of the structure to Graham street. Dr. Sizemore plans enlargement of his part of the building by construction of an addition on the Third street side, it is said.

CHERRY BLOSSOM TIME HERE

What's the use of going to Washington, unless you're after a defense contract? Prestonsburg has a street that has the same Japanese cherry trees that have beautified and made famous the nation's capital for years. It's Riverside—and, a few years from now, when the cherry trees have grown a bit, the folks on that street, one of the prettiest in Eastern Kentucky, will have something worth seeing.

The young trees are now in bloom—so why not take a stroll or drive and see the very same blossoms that many the person has traveled hundreds of miles to see?

FUGITIVE FROM CHAIN GANG NABBED

An unheeded 'coon chase here on a recent night attracted a gathering of 200 persons on Second avenue as Lee Dorsett and Ed Burke's ring-tailed pet, did a dog-pole-sitting stunt atop a telephone pole in front of Burke's residence. For a time, there were some venturesome sports who would have laid even money that the 'coon would outlast Lee, but the latter kept the 'coon at a safe distance with a stick and finally drove the fugitive from his perch. Br'er Coon hit the ground a-runnin', and was joined in the spring by a dozen or more boys who finally corralled him in the high school grounds.

AM, THE SPRING!

This fine spring weather has the unqualified approval of F. D. Ward, the man who delivers your Courier-Journal at your door, every morning of the year. For, all through the winter, it was his unpleasant duty to hike the floor at 5 every morning, then drive back and forth, up and down Prestonsburg streets with the wind whistling through open windows of his car. A man of 65 would begin to appreciate warmer weather, after all that.

During the nine years since Mr. Ward has been here, he has not missed meeting the Sunday train at West Prestonsburg; in fact, has missed only four days' work because of illness. Every day, except these four, of the last nine years, he has driven a total of 16 miles on his rounds. And he hasn't missed more than two Saturdays of collecting from your humble servant for his weekly paper bill. Even then, it wasn't his fault.
