Skeleton Found At Hell's Gate Landing

The citizens of Paintsville and surrounding territory were all agog Friday afternoon when the story became current that the body of a beautiful 15-year-old girl had been found wrapped in a sack lying at "Hell's Gate" shoals, midway between Paintsville and West Van Lear.

So persistent became the rumors that the Sheriff's office was notified of the gruesome find. Sheriff Julius Daxel and Deputy Sheriff D. B. Trimble went to the scene to investigate. They secured a rowboat and went to the middle of the river where they had no trouble in locating the sack in the shallow waters of the shoals.

The original sack in which the body had been placed had begun to break away and as they attempted to bring the sack and the contents to the surface it tore apart and spilled its contents, mostly bones, into the river. The officers secured a new sack and began tenderly to place the bones in the sack.

A crowd of morbidly-inclined citizens had gathered at the water's edge of the ancient steamboat landing of "Hell's Gate" to watch the proceedings. Many sighs were heard with such remarks as "poor girl," "she died so young," etc.

The "remains" were brought to the Paintsville hospital for a scientific opinion as to the identity of the "remains." Dr. J. H. Holbrook and Dr. George Archer went into a huddle and reported that said "remains" were those of a month-old calf. They did not carry their investigation far enough to determine whether the calf was a "he" or a "she."

It was also decided that it was probably a case of murder. The calf had probably been killed by its owner and thrown into the icy waters of the upper reaches of the Big Sandy to hide the crime and incidentally to get rid of an unwelcome boarder.—Paintsville Herald.

To Cut WPA Rolls First in Poorer Counties

WPA projects in Kentucky's poorer cities and counties and those of least value will be eliminated first, according to a policy announced Friday by George H. Goodman, administrator for the state, after he had been advised the rolls for July must be cut by 4,200 units.

Mr. Goodman said a state-wide check is being made of the 1,800 working units of the state to determine which should be abandoned. It will be the general policy to eliminate projects where cities and counties are unable to contribute their share of 25 per cent of the costs.

The July reduction will bring the number of workmen down to 24,500. The administrative organization will be reduced proportionately.

The administrator expressed the

10-CENT WEDDING RINGS ARE BEST-SELLER, SURVEY SHOWS

Portland, Ore.—What do people do with 10-cent wedding rings? They use them in real marriage ceremonies—take the word of the girl behind the counter. She sold 600 of them last year, she says. "They always give some excuse for buying them," she said, "and it's a very rare occasion when they admit they actually are going to use them to get married."

Women who can't resist gambling or a new fur coat also find themselves in the 5-and-10. They explain they've pawned their rings and don't want their husbands to find out. The counter has some steady customers—women who buy a new ring and leave the old one on the counter. "Most of the customers are women, the majority younger girls, the clerk pointed out. The men who buy don't say anything, but their looks give them away."

To the Democratic Voters Of Floyd County

After consulting with a host of my friends in dear old Floyd county, I became a candidate seeking the nomination for Jailer of this county. Being a poor man and having a strong ambition to serve the people of Floyd county as a public officer, I, two years ago for Circuit Court Clerk and last by a small margin. I feel by so many of my friends requesting me to be a candidate for Jailer if I can win in the August primary I can win in November.

So kind friends, who you journey through dangers of life and its unseen future. I hope and sincerely trust that a kind Providence may always smile upon you. None of us know when nor where we may need assistance. But if fortune has been more kind to you than to me, please help me all you can to cast a ray of sunshine on my sad and gloomy pathway. You will be thanked and remembered and wisely used so that I will be self-supporting and not a burden on my fellowman. So when you come out on August 2 to vote please let your good conscience direct you how you should vote. Your friend in need, BILL SHEPHERD for Jailer

FOR JAILER We are authorized to announce UNCLE GEORGE MEADE of Amba, Ky., as a candidate for JAILER OF FLOYD COUNTY subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August, 1941 primary.

A man who has braved the battles of life for his friends, and Democracy, and who has never asked for public favor. I now ask my relatives and many friends to support me in this race for Jailer of Floyd county, a man who is just and deserving. I am taking this opportunity to thank you for the many past favors, and for your vote on August 2, which I am sure you will contribute.

FOR TAX COMMISSIONER We are authorized to announce JACK SELLARS, of Banner, Ky., (Member of Local Union No. 1089, Wheelwright, Ky.) as a candidate for TAX COMMISSIONER subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August, 1941 primary.

I have served as your Tax Commissioner and devoted those years to hard work in an effort to serve the people as I thought they deserved official service. How well I succeeded, you people of this county know best. If elected again, I promise you exactly the same kind of honest, efficient, sympathetic service in behalf of you taxpayers.

I will not only visit your home or place of business and take your list, but I will also work conscientiously with the board of supervisors in making the assessment adjustments.

FOR JAILER We are authorized to announce DAY HALL of Prestonsburg, Ky., for JAILER subject to the action of the Republican party at the August primary.

We will always have the aged, the crippled and the blind with us. I am willing, if elected, to give one-fourth of my salary to their support. Have any other candidates for this office have the same spirit?

MY PLEDGE If elected County Attorney, I promise four years of devoted work for building more rural roads and securing and delivering commodities to the needs in greater amounts. Faithfully yours, JOE P. TACKETT

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY Since the untimely death of Forrest Short, I have become a candidate for County Attorney of Floyd county. WOODROW BURCHETT TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY: I hereby announce my candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of Sheriff of Floyd county.

During the World War I served my country as a soldier in France, have mined coal for five years, and during the past three and one-half years I have worked for the present Sheriff as deputy. During this time there have been a great many homicides in Floyd county, and so far we have caught, or assisted in catching, every man wanted on a warrant for the killing of his fellow man. My record is open for your inspection.

Nominate me and I will win in November. Your vote and influence will be appreciated. A fair deal to every one is my promise to the people. LACKEY SALISBURY

Killing Song Birds, A Federal Offense

Frankfort, Ky.—Shooting robins, bluebirds, catbirds, wood-peckers and all other song and insectivorous birds with BB guns, air rifles, or other weapons is a Federal offense bringing a maximum sentence of $500 in fines, six months in jail, or both, according to information received by S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish from the Fish and Wildlife Service, United States Department of the Interior.

With summer vacations under way youngsters are apt to take out the old BB gun or air rifle to do a little pot shooting at song birds in the neighbor's garden or in the nearby woods. Wakefield said, and parents are urged to warn their children not to shoot the feathered creatures.

Aside from the fact that song birds make a garden or farm more attractive, the birds are economically important.

Many of the birds are beneficial because they eat insects that otherwise would be injurious to plants and crops.

Birds may be given credit for being one of the greatest controlling factors in limiting the development of insect pests and in preventing many disastrous outbreaks.

Floyd School Band Report is Made By Elliott

Floyd county high school bands showed much progress during the past year, according to a composite report of band activities turned into the County Superintendent's office by Jesse Elliott, instructor, on the eve of his departure to attend five weeks of summer school at the University of Kentucky.

Better attendance at rehearsals than any year during the three-year county-wide instruction is shown by the report. There were many more occasions at which the bands furnished music which included light operas at Garrett and Martin, also the majority of football, baseball and basketball games.

Betsy Layne high added a new instrument, a BBb Buscher Sousaphone, and Martin and Wheelwright 21 and 23 wood serge uniforms, red jackets. The uniforms were furnished by the local P. T. A. organizations.

The Floyd County Band, made up of members from the various high school bands on basis of progress and instrumentation insofar as possible, kept in step with the progress of the high school units, according to the report.

A total of 300 students studied as band musicians through the term. The enrollment follows, by schools: Auxler, 18; Betsy Layne, 55; Garrett, 42; McDowell, 38; Martin, 36; Maytown, 26; Prestonsburg, 41; Wheelwright, 37.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FLOYD COUNTIANS AT BEREA

Editor, Floyd County Times: It seems that Floyd county students are well represented in the various schools of Berea College. Because of our number, because of the fine Berea alumni of that region and friends and relatives of these Berea students who are interested in our activities as a group and also individually, we students feel that it is only fitting and proper that The Floyd County Times does something toward keeping information at the hands of our fellow-countians.

The students down here are very interested in the activities of Floyd county and it would be comforting to the editor if he could see the expressions of contentment on their faces when they are minutely reading the home paper.

One of the interesting things about Berea College is the method used to get students acquainted with other students from various other sections of our own county. There are county socials quite often, which are popular affairs, and at which there is a happy commingling of all students, and because of their different student activities on the campus they represent a cross section of not only Floyd county people but also the campus life. Perhaps these meetings are well worthwhile, and it seems as if they might give us students a background to work from in an effort to, somehow, better our county when we some day come home as teachers, other professional people, agriculturalists and vocationalists.

Linda Stephens and Robert Runnels are now the county co-chairmen of this Floyd county group and Paul Roberts and Ruth Pratt are the new county chairmen of the Floyd county students now in Berea College. Robert Runnels was elected to the position of county porter for the group next year. I suppose that it is quite evident, but I am quite green at reporting.

Faced by the Floyd countians, Raleigh Witten and Eugene Stanley, sophomores, the Berea volleyball championship award went to the third tier, Howard Hall.

ROBERT RUNNELS, Berea College, Berea, Ky.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times)

The mail order houses are reporting shortages of five-stringed banjos since "Cousin Emmy" has been camping around Martin. The latest we have on the fad is that Jake Crisp, Dick "Chief" Johnson and Thomas E. Allen are trying to join the troupe.

And I guess Clyde L. is the master of ceremonies.

It took a long time, but my predictions of '38 and '39 have finally come to pass—namely, that Russia and Germany would go to war against each other.

Welcome back, Brian Buck—don't stay away so long, next time.

I notice that one candidate solved the problem of where to tack his cards. Knowing that all the telephone poles and trees would be full, he simply nailed his cards on fence posts. Sometimes it pays a candidate to be tall.

Drift, 2; Prestonsburg, 3; Drift, 2; Allen, 0. Over the week-end the Drift battling attack was about as potent as a candidate trying to nail up his cards with railroad spikes and a tack hammer.

Better watch out for the Drift tug-of-war team that is coming to Prestonsburg for the Fourth. I'm really bringing the "Beef" to bring home the bacon.

I just wonder if Yellow Lindy is wiser? I have failed to find one person in this section that even partially agrees with him. Looks like he will have to spend his money for this column, work instead of radio time. I'll bet that there are mighty few Americans who do agree with him.

Noticed on a Fern. "God Bless America—Love It or Leave It." If I could get one of their slogans, I'd mail it to Lindbergh.

You can't believe all you hear—but you can repeat it.

I notice where some psychologist says that the way to hold a job is to cultivate a pleasing personality. I always figured that one little bit of work now and then helps.

The highway engineers are doing wonders with our highways but they haven't figured out how to make a driver turn when the road does.

And another of my predictions came true—Private Lee Conn wouldn't go the route with Louie. You can't crack walnuts with a feather—but when NWA fights that will be different. He's liable to put the Bomber on the canvas.

Henry Howard's letter (he's in the way now—Private Lee, I hope), ragging the stay-at-homes, was a masterpiece. Henry, you shouldn't nag us so hard. After all you are the "Shock Troop"—we'll do the whipping.

If traffic gets much heavier in Drift we'll have to petition the fiscal court for a stop light.

15 State Farm Boys To Get Scholarships

To encourage worthy Kentucky farm boys to seek better preparation for farming or for positions in the field of agriculture, 15 scholarships are available for the coming year at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. They will go to the boys who need financial assistance in securing an agricultural college education.

Dean Thomas P. Cooper's announcement of the scholarships is accompanied by a statement outlining the high place agriculture holds in Kentucky, and in the nation. "Young men ambitious to get ahead should overlook the opportunities in agriculture," he declares. "This applies to farming and to the many industries and businesses related to agriculture. Due largely to the work of young men with scientific educations, agriculture is moving forward at a rapid pace. Never was there such a demand for well-trained men as exists today. We are indeed fortunate in being able to offer scholarships to worthy farm boys, that they may better prepare themselves for service in the field of agriculture."

The scholarships, which are provided by the Sears, Roebuck Foundation, are sufficient to pay college fees and buy books and other supplies. County agents, teachers of vocational agriculture and representatives of the Farm Security Administration have full information regarding the scholarships.

FISH-GAME CLUB RESTORES RED FOXES TO FLOYD COUNTY

Liberation of 10 red foxes in this county Tuesday morning brought the total of foxes bought and freed for restocking purposes this year to 21. E. R. Burke, district conservation officer, said. A third shipment is expected within the next week.
The liberation of red foxes is being made, it was said, in conjunction with the club's promise to fox hunters to restock with this animal if the hunters would rid the county of gray foxes. No estimate of the number of grays destroyed

Marine Corporal, Here on Furlough, Seriously Injured

Two hours after he had arrived on furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Herald, of Emma, Corporal Joe Herald, 26, of the U. S. Marines, Quantico, Va., was seriously injured at Bald Alley, near here, when thrown from a motorcycle and later struck by an auto as he lay on the highway. His companion, Darvin Harris, escaped with minor injuries.
It was said at the Prestonsburg General hospital that, barring complications, Herald will recover. He suffered a broken collar bone, a crushed shoulder, a possible fracture of the pelvis and was bruised and cut on head to foot.
Before the injured man could be removed from the highway, the auto of Dr. O. W. Thompson, Pikeville dentist, passed over his body. It was said that Dr. Thompson could not see Herald as his auto rounded the curve at the scene of the accident. He later took Herald to the hospital. The motorcycle skidded, causing the first part of the double mishap.
Dr. J. H. Hill of Fayette county put the first cutting of alfalfa in the silo, adding 40 pounds of manures to the ton.

Weeksbury Man Gains Army Promotion

Charles Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Moore, of Weeksbury, has been promoted from Staff Sergeant to Master Sergeant in the OESML or Station Complement, and appointed Personnel Sergeant Major at Air Base Headquarters, according to officials at the army's new air base, Albuquerque, N. M., where Moore is stationed. The promotion carries a substantial increase in pay.
The Station Complement is an organization made up of picked men who fill essential administrative and maintenance posts, and who will remain permanently at the air base even though tactical units are transferred to other posts.
Master Sergeant Moore, now 31, was born in Wise county, Va. He attended school at Magtown, where he graduated from high school in 1928. For about a year he attended Eastern State Teachers' College, Richmond.
In 1929 Moore enlisted in the Medical Detachment and spent a year at Buffalo, N. Y. He re-enlisted at Ft. Kean, New York, in 1931, and served with the Command and General Staff School Detachment there until 1937. In 1938 he re-enlisted with the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Bliss, Texas, but transferred to the air corps in 1939 and was sent to March Field, California, where he was Personnel Sergeant Major in the Air Base Group until his organization came to Albuquerque April 10.

Operators' Licenses Must Be Procured In Home County

Kentucky motorists must procure their operator licenses in the county of their residence under the new law which will be aggressively enforced from the first of this year, it was announced last week by the Department of Revenue. The present licenses expire July 31.
The only exceptions under the Act passed 1940, are persons who are temporarily residing in another county at the time they seek to renew their licenses. Revenue Commissioner H. Clyde Reynolds, announcing that the Department would request circuit court clerks to adhere strictly to the law, held it as another measure designed to protect persons whose licenses to drive had been suspended or revoked from procuring licenses illegally. Reeves said that under the old law persons whose licenses had been suspended or revoked frequently went to a county where they were unknown and procured one, and since several weeks are required to process licenses in the Department of Revenue, the subterfuge was able in being discovered.
Reeves pointed out that the Department withheld rigid enforcement before the licensing period last year because of the short time between the effective date of the law and the licensing period which began on August 1, during which county officials and motorists had little time to become acquainted with its provisions.
Another instrument which helps to safeguard the issuance of a license to a person whose rights to drive have been suspended or revoked is a booklet containing approximately 1,800 names of persons whose licenses have been taken away. It is issued at six weeks intervals and sent to county officials and law enforcement agencies throughout the state.
L. G. Triplett, supervisor of operators' licenses, said that revocations and suspensions for the present license year have totaled 1,835, which is far in excess of the 1,381 during the entire 1939-40 period. About 28,000 more licenses have been issued so far this year than were issued during the entire 1939-40 year.
Triplett announced that circuit court clerks would start issuing licenses July 1, and urged motorists to procure them early in order to avoid the last minute rush.
Farmers in Cumberland county are interested in a proposition to sell milk to a cheese company. Truck crops are bringing Kenton county farmers fair returns, despite the unfavorable season.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE. SWEARING BEFORE LADIES. A few days ago one of my colleagues, Northern-born but of Southern extraction, remarked about the un-naturalness of the speech in some of the satirical novels of our time, where no restraint is found in how people talk to each other. He particularly spoke of the very dirty language used by men to women who are considered respectable in novels. He and I agreed that nothing could be any farther from the truth. However filthy may have been the speech of men among themselves, only chaste language was used before women. Women of the better stripe were thought of as ladies, and it was literally true that men who were regarded as gentlemen or obviously before them to do so intentionally would be an insult to the women, deliberately placing them on a lower level. We hear much about a double standard but not much about a double speech standard. Many of me work the road or at a logging or barn-raising when being used got pretty strong; if some of the neighbor women or girls came by every particle of the objectionable language vanished instantly. If any half-grown boy had got smart and said a few words he had lately learned, he would have been literally worn out by the other boys and men. Another unnaturalness in the raw novels that are so popular is the frankness of speech between boys and their fathers. Even though both knew the same words and used them in their own social circle, it was unthinkable to suppose that father and son would use them in each other's presence. Other and more dignified words would somehow find a place in their speech. This was not prudishness or fear but a recognized dignity of fathers that every one accepted. This same modesty prevailed before very small boys. I have watched the language of the gossipers around the county store take a sudden change turn when some little boy came along to buy something for his mother; to have been obscene before him would have caused the same penalty as being coarse before ladies. In much the same way women refrained from certain words, many of them not at all obscene but apparently suggestive to them. Names of male animals, certain innocent bywords, certain topics of conversation just did not appear in the speech of our ladies. Some of the most severe criticism I ever heard against some of our new neighbors was that they did not know what to leave out of their conversation. This does not mean to morate at all the fact that many of the very best women of the neighborhood still cling to an older frankness of speech that had never developed a flavor of obscenity. Things were talked about that one would not hear of except in a doctor's private office; a person transferred from our immediate age to the one of the nineties would be amused at once by the words that avoided being naughty side by side with those that are now never used in mixed company. It took a skilled person, one to the manner born to know what and when to speak.

DEFEATS DRIFT, 3-2, IN MOUND DUEL SATURDAY

The battle for first place in the Big Sandy Baseball League was at least temporarily decided Saturday afternoon when Prestonsburg defeated Drift in a rousing mound duel, 3 to 2, at Drift.

The victory gave the Prestonsburg team a full game lead over the Left Beaver Creek boys. The two teams had been deadlocked for top position in the standings since early in the season with only one defeat against five victories.

Hurling four-hit ball, Patton, big P. Prestonsburg right-hander, grew more effective as the game progressed and after the fourth inning was not scored upon. All four of Drift's hits were singles, but Patton's five bases balls made the Left Beaver Creekers' two runs possible.

Meanwhile, Price, youthful Drift twirler, was allowing 10 hits, but he kept the Prestonsburg bingles scattered and Drift led until the eighth. Prestonsburg scored a run in each of the last two innings and won out in the ninth to make the contest a thriller for several hundred fans.

Salisbury and P. Butcher led the Prestonsburg attack with three hits each, one of Salisbury's being a double. Vanhose also contributed a hitting to the local hit total. Drift's hitting was done by Brown, B. Stumbo, Shelton and T. Stumbo.

Sunday, Pikeville forfeited its game with Prestonsburg here, and the first team played the reserves—double Vanhose also contributed a hitting to the local hit total. Drift's hitting was done by Brown, B. Stumbo, Shelton and T. Stumbo.

MAIN STREETS OF RURAL AMERICA

PAVED ROADS are rapidly becoming the "Main streets of Rural America" and studies indicate that 60 per cent of all rural homes are within one mile of a paved highway.

Planning surveys show that surfaced highways now serve 57.9 per cent of all rural dwellings and only 27 per cent of totally unpaved roads. Data from ten states shows that 65 per cent of rural homes are within one mile of a surfaced road and 73 per cent are within two miles.

Sample studies in 32 states show an average of 2.7 rural dwellings per mile of rural road. The dwelling intensity along paved roads is 7.1 per mile. The studies indicate that an average of 1,000 dwellings on unpaved roads with another 1,500,000 on graded and untreated roads, making a total of about 2,500,000 rural dwellings on unimproved roads.

Despite the concentration of traffic on main arteries and the urgent need for defense roads, the problem of secondary and local roads is not being overlooked.

As a result of greater use of all-weather or secondary roads due to heavy traffic and convoys on main highways, more people will use rural America this summer than ever before. It is certain to focus new attention on what little-used roads mean in handling the country's heavy traffic.

VOLUNTEER GAME WARDEN COMMISSIONS REVOKED

530 BADGES RECALLED; WAKEFIELD PLANS TO RE-ISSUE ABOUT THREE TO COUNTY AFTER JULY 1

Frankfort, Ky., June 19—All volunteer game warden commissions have been revoked as of June 30 and new ones will be issued, State Game and Fish Director Steve Wakefield said Thursday.

The volunteer wardens were commissioned to aid in 38 salaried game wardens. Wakefield said no volunteer commissions had been called in since 1925 and that only about 50 volunteers were active in some cases, he said. Badges have gone into wrong hands and were being misused. There are 530 such volunteer wardens now.

"Why, I've heard that some people are getting into county fairs and even movies on them," Wakefield said. "I think it's wonderful when badges have been lost or given to some one else."

Wakefield said that after July 1 about three volunteer wardens to each county would be commissioned.

"They will be chosen from men recommended by the sportsmen's league and approved by the salaried warden in their counties," he said.

The director added that the position of volunteer warden appears to be popular since the game and fish division "has enough applications on hand now to commission 1,500 to 2,000."
