This Town--
That World

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT
Drove to Wheelwright Saturday afternoon, and found there the most "complete" town on Big Sandy. Up there they have a church whose chimes distinguish it from all other churches on Big Sandy; a swimming pool, the most modern in this section, where once was a garbage-dump; a $30,000 playground annex to the swimming pool, now under construction; an incinerator for the garbage that once was heaped on that dump; a complete water and sewerage system, with a sewage disposal plant; a new clubhouse with recreation facilities; a new theatre, now being air-conditioned; a town attractive with industry; a town with the largest payroll in Floyd county—$1,000,000; a town thoroughly modern, a community looking up to none for communal life in its section.

But there is a fly in the ointment, there always is.
The northern approach to the town, the down-left Beaver approach, is a miserable road worse than any WPA up-the-creek road we've driven. A-voynig' up Left Beaver after leaving the bridge, it is so tough that we were tempted to try the long route across Abner mountain and on via Pikeville, on the way home.
For, driving up that road toward Abner mountain, we struck smooth sailing. The transition takes place at the bridge crossing the Wheelwright Junction. You have a road that jounces you hither and yon—all you reach that bridge. But there is a rough road and one yourself toward Pikeville—and all is smooth as velvet.

What THE TIMES wonders is, when will steps be taken to make that road from Gearheart on to Wheelwright and Wheelburg a route which may be safely and comfortably traversed by automobiles of the Floyd counties approaching the terms of the residents of these communities wishing to stay in Floyd county while en route to other points in this county?

Election Contest Case Entering Final Phase

As County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., defendant in the case in which his Democratic nomination for re-election is being contested by Dr. Orris Gearheart, began producing evidence Wednesday in his own behalf, he announced that testimony heard during Dr. Gearheart's presentation of his case was fully covered by his explanation of the election laws that had been produced against him.

At the same time, however, F. M. Burke, Pikeville, attorney for the contestant, declared that proof supplied by witnesses for Dr. Gearheart is sufficient to disqualify Judge Hill.

Hearings for the plaintiff ended Friday. Special Judge T. C. Carroll, Shepherdsville, Ky., will return here Sept. 29 to render a decision in the case.

SCHOOL CHILD, AUTO VICTIM

COMBS SURRENDERS AFTER TRAGEDY NEAR ALLEN

Eight-year-old Inez McGuire, daughter of Joe and Roxie Calhoun McGuire, of Cracker, this county, died Friday morning on the way to a Martin hospital, less than an hour after a automobile driven by Ervin Combs, Cracker, had struck her as she was crossing the highway near the home of Ben Norris, below Martin.

According to the testimony of her schoolmates, Nell Branham and Ben L. Home, who saw the tragedy and appeared Friday afternoon before the Floyd county grand jury, and Jack Allen, driver of the school bus for which all of the children were waiting, the fatality was apparently unavoidable.

Nell Branham and Ben L. Horn, schoolmates, said the child ran squarely in front of the approaching auto when it was within 15 feet of her, shouting: "Here comes the school bus!" The bus, according to the driver, was some five or six hundred feet behind Combs' car.

Coroner Elliott Prater, who visited the scene shortly after the occurrence and made an investigation, said the child was carried approximately 80 feet on the bumper or front of Combs' car before she fell off into a ditch bordering the highway; that the car ran about 115 feet beyond the spot where the child was hit before it stopped. Prater said both of the child's legs were broken, and the right side of her head was crushed.

Surviving are the father and mother, and the following brothers and sisters: Martha Lee, John Henry, Charles and Pennie. Funeral services were conducted from the home of the Rev. Isaac Simpson officiating, with burial being made in the family cemetery Saturday afternoon under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

MOTHER, SON FACE GRAND JURY ACTION

L. D. ROBERTS SLAIN AT LESLIE HOME NEAR EMMA

Widowed 69-year-old Maude Harris Leslie, of Emma, was under $10,000 bond Monday after having confessed that she fired the two revolver bullets which fatally wounded her son-in-law, Lindsey D. Roberts, 43, in a "fury" near her home late Saturday afternoon.

Roberts died at the Prestonsburg General hospital Sunday afternoon at 11 o'clock of bullet wounds in his shoulder and abdomen.

Mrs. Leslie, widow of David Banner Leslie and her son, David, well-known Floyd county athlete, high school instructor and athletic coach, were arrested, Deputy Sheriff Tom James and Prestonsburg Chief of Police Epp Lafferty said Dave Leslie at first told numerous acquaintances that he "had shot a man." Later, both Mrs. Leslie and her son confessed in saying that Mrs. Leslie shot Roberts.

This version of the tragedy was corroborated by the wounded man's "death-bed" statements. Roberts' first statement was made Saturday, a few hours after he had been shot; his last statement was made Sunday morning, a few hours before he died.

Mr. Roberts' statement, in full, including questions asked Saturday evening, this statement acknowledged by E. P. Stephens, Prestonsburg, today (11:30 p.m.):
"I had a wife and a baby, a statement before I shot a man."
"A. She shot me and me facing her. She shot me with a baby in my arms. She probably wouldn't have done it if she shot me with a baby in my arms."
"Q. You think you are going to get well?"
"A. I want to live. I wasn't doing anything when I was shot. Maude Leslie shot me with a baby in my arms. Dave was drunk. Dave did not want to quarrel with me. (Something about Dave and a rock). She shot me and I begged her not to shoot me again."
"Q. This is your last statement if anything should happen to you?"
"A. No, there is more to be said. (Intermittent spitting up of blood during whole confession)."
"Q. You swear to the best of your knowledge that this is true?"
"A. Yes, I want art."

Sunday morning's statement of Maude Leslie was taken by County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., and County Attorney W. Claude Caudill. It follows:
"It happened without any cause at all. Mrs. Leslie was taking care of my two small children for five dollars a week. I pay her in advance. Maude Leslie wanted to pay her for this coming week. Dave was a drinking. He said, 'I can whip you, Lindsey.' I said, 'Dave, I don't want to

WPA TO DO 4 ROAD JOBS

W. A. Toney, Floyd county's WPA superintendent, said here Monday that four new road projects, cost of which will aggregate $226,570 and construction of which will call for the employment of approximately 400 men, have already been started and will be begun in the next three weeks.

This new phase of the program includes the grading, draining and surfacing with traffic-bound stone of the following sections: a distance of 3.04 miles; the State Road Park of Abbot Creek, 2.386 miles; the Turkey Creek road, 2.22 miles; and the Cow Creek-Buttalo road, 0.398 miles.

Each project is sponsored by the Floyd fiscal court, and the county will contribute a total of $66,104 toward the building of the four roads, the remainder amounting to $180,466, to be paid by the federal government.

Mr. Toney said preliminary steps toward construction of the Harold-Ligon road have already been made and that actual construction will get under way immediately upon completion of the Middle Creek road which would not require more than two or three weeks.

Undoubtedly the formal good manners of a generation ago were on the way out when the World War came along. West Point decorum, still a part of our United States army, demanded that officers be addressed as 'Sir.' Of course it would never do to say 'Sir' and not also use some formal address to ladies.

Buying Panic Spreads From Silk Hosiery To Other Items

The buying panic, which started with the silk stocking scare, has now spread to many other items. Women stormed into the nation's stores looking for stockings, but before they got out their jitters usually led them to stock up on sheet pillow cases and towels, or make a down payment on a refrigerator or a sewing machine.

Higher prices and scarcity have made the average American conscious that the purchasing power of his dollar is going down—and going down rapidly. To protect himself, he is just doing a little forward buying while prices are not unreasonable.

Two of the largest manufacturers of men's clothing have announced price advances of 10 per cent and 11 per cent respectively. Last week my neighbor paid 25 cents a ton more for the same type of coal than I did a month before.

It is important to remember that Congress is reluctant to pass a price control law. Until it does, you are going to see all prices on the increase.

LEGION COMMANDER'S SON, NOW ARMY AVIATION CADET

Milo J. Warner, Jr., Toledo, Ohio, son of the national commander of the American Legion, last week became the newest "fledgling" in the Army air force, when he was enlisted at Fifth Corps Area Headquarters, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

He was officially welcomed into the army by Lt. Col. J. M. Eager, Chief of Staff of the Fifth Corps Area, and Col. E. P. Pierson, Corps Area recruiting officer.

This 22-year-old Burgo was born associated with the state of Ohio Highway Department as testing laboratory inspectors.

After being graduated from the Lawrenceville School, in New Jersey, he studied for two years at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, where he was a football and boxing star.

"Ever since my first flight when I was a student at Kenyon in 1937 I have liked to fly," Cadet Warner said. "You get a thrill out of flying that cannot be matched. After giving the opportunities offered by the U.S. Air Force long study, it is my opinion that this service offers the greatest opportunities of the century. My dad was in the first World War. Naturally I've heard much about aviation and other things from him. He likes to fly, too! Although I needed no urging, my father enthusiastically O.K.'d my idea of becoming an Army Aviation Cadet. I am determined to make good and earn my wings in the Army Air Force. I certainly recommend the same action for other red-blooded young Americans," he said.

Nutrition Importance In National Defense, Discussion Topic

Importance of nutrition in the national defense was stressed at the meeting of school health and civic leaders held in Pikeville last Thursday afternoon.

Attending from Floyd county were: M. Y. Clarke and Mrs. Joe Lehman of the health department; Mrs. Forrest D. Short, Misses Carlos Hale and Naomi Goble, of the county school system; Carl E. Horn, of the WPA commodity distribution department; Mrs. Ruth S. Roberts and Miss Ollie Jarvis, of the county referral agency.

Principal speaker at the session was C. Wheeling Farrar, of Washington, a special representative of the surplus marketing administration, a federal agency. Mr. Farrar discussed nutrition, especially among the school children.

Representatives of the state health department and the state department of education also were on the program. Mayor H. Pauley introduced the speakers.

Four Indicted in Pike For Election Forgery

Responding to instructions by Circuit Judge H. Monroe Fields that a probe be made of alleged irregularities at the August primary, the Pike county grand jury Saturday returned forgery indictments against four men who served as election officers in the Rockhouse precinct.

The true bills charged Sparrel Bartley, James E. Ratliff, Ora Owens and Eugene Coleman with having committed forgery by listing on ballot stubs the names of persons who had not actually voted.

After the change to the grand jury Monday, Judge Fields mentioned the Rockhouse precinct specifically, stating that he had ruled that J. A. Bartley was entitled to the Democratic nomination for Magistrate instead of K. B. Justice, who won on the face of the returns, because his (Judge Fields) had reason to believe numerous ballots were cast illegally.

After the indictments were returned, Judge Fields ordered the four men arrested and their bonds set at $500 each and, in addition, instructed that ball boxes used in the precinct be impounded in the custody of W. Taubee Smith, circuit clerk.

The grand jury also returned four murder indictments and one charging attempted extortion. The latter was brought in against the late Mrs. Hibbard Stone, 30; Mark Stone, 26; and Willie Stone, 28. They were charged specifically with having committed a murder in the case of O. Smith, of Canada, sister of Circuit Clerk Smith, threatening to do her harm unless she left $5,000 at a stipulated place. The three were arrested near the spot where the money was to have been left.

Named in the murder indictments were: Mrs. Lucy Mutter Ford, 24, and Arland Lewis, 27, in the slaying August 11 of Mrs. Ford's estranged husband, Harry Ford, 37.

Julian Adams, 20, in the shooting last May of James Arnett, 23, at Woodrow May, 25, McAndrews, in the shooting of Phillip West, 25, on Pond Creek three weeks ago.

COUNTRY BOY MAKES GOOD—THE HARD WAY—ON A FARM

Lexington, Ky. — Horatio Alger would have liked to write this story. It's about a farm boy who made good.

His name is Jake Anderson. He's 14 years old. And like all the Alger heroes, he's the son of "poor but honest parents."

Two years ago Jake lived in Woodford county with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Anderson. They were tenant farmers. Jake didn't have a dime. But he had an ambition. He wanted to get ahead, just like all the Alger heroes.

It wasn't long until the Andersons moved to the Payette county farm of W. U. Turner, six miles from here on the Bryan Station pike.

Didn't Mind Work. Still tenant farmers, the Andersons moved into a two-story frame house. It needed repairs the worst way. Jake and his parents signed—and rolled up their sleeves.

When he wasn't doing a big share of work around the house, he attended classes at Lafayette high school, and there he joined the Future Farmers of America Club.

He learned that the Lexington Lions Club sponsored an annual home improvement contest, for the Future Farmers of Lafayette. Jake entered it just like that. He wanted to win the silver trophy.

Spent 500 Hours on House. He worked harder than ever on the house. He helped paint inside and out. He helped lay new flooring, he plastered and plastered, screening, and installing of a toilet, freplaces and a mantel. He toiled on the house an estimated 600 hours in the best Alger tradition.

And he won the trophy almost hands down, despite the fact there were 35 boys in the contest.

Meanwhile, Jake had been doing other things—lots of them. He had put up hay and cleaned fences for Mr. Turner. Jake bought a brood sow with the money received from Mr. Turner.

Then Jake and other Future Farmers got a group loan from the Central Kentucky Production Credit Association. Jake's portion for $250. He bought a half-interest with Mr. Turner in 40 head of ewes and two rams. Jake put up more hay on "halves" with his landlord. And Jake used his part of the loan to feed his sheep.

Received $75 for Wool. He raised three acres of corn and used it to feed his hogs. Yes, hogs—twelve to the brood sow. And Jake raised two acres of tobacco, which averaged 1,325 pounds an acre. That's a good yield for any farmer.

At Jake made a gross profit of $270 when the tobacco was sold.

He also got $75 as his part in the sale of wool from the 40 ewes. The 50 lambs from the ewes haven't been sold yet, but Jake figures he will get $250 as his half of the proceeds when they are.

And, of course, Jake is using part of his profits to pay off his debt to the Production Credit Association.

Yeah, Horatio Alger could have written a book about Jake.

Live "Right" and You'll Live Long

You're less likely to die from influenza, polio and other communicable diseases than you were—but more likely to succumb to degenerative diseases. This is suggested in a report by the Kentucky Nutrition Committee for National Defense, reviewing mortality statistics.

Other words, more people live to maturity and even past middle-age, but still die unduly soon from degenerative diseases due to poor nutrition and poor living habits.

The nutritional and living habits can be improved immensely in most cases, especially in an agricultural state providing large living space, an abundance of food, etc. Summing up, the committee's report provides scientific backing for the ancient idea that if you live right, you'll live longer.

The surplus peach crop in Hickman county resulted in double the canned peaches of previous years.

Sixty-two Boone county farms will have newly-built ponds by the end of the year, according to plan.

ALLEN

The marriage of Miss Bertha Smith, of Allen, and Mr. John W. Harry, of Philadelphia, was solemnized Saturday, Aug. 21, in the historical Valley Forge Chapel in Philadelphia in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives with a close friend of the couple, officiating. Organ music was furnished by a friend who played "I Love You Truly," and the wedding marches.

The bride was attractively attired in navy blue, with matching accessories with a shoulder corsage of red roses and gardenias. Her matron-of-honor was her sister, Mrs. Jack Mallon. Mr. Jack Mallon, a close friend of the groom, was best man. After the wedding there was a small reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mallon.

Mrs. Harry is the daughter of Mrs. Henderson Osborn and a sister of Audrey Young, both of Allen. Mr. Harry is a native of Philadelphia, and owner of a service station. Their home will be at Over Brook Hills, in Philadelphia.

Grac, Hughes spent the week-end with Ruby Hayes at Whitehouse.

Rev. J. M. Laferty, of Emma, was the Sunday guest of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Laferty visited relatives in Dwaile Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baldrige have taken over the management of Auxier's Cash Store. It has been under the management of G. J. Critchfield of East Point, for the past few months.

News has been received here of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooksey, of Whitehouse, formerly of this place. The newborn has been named Johnny Mack. Mr. Cooksey is station agent for the C. & O. Railway Company.

Mrs. G. L. Gray, Mrs. J. W. Laferty and Tincy Laferty were business visitors in Martin Tuesday of last week.

Ben Webb and Dave Moran Flanery have returned from Williamson, Ky., where they attended the Kentucky Methodist conference.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Austin have returned from a two-week vacation in Ohio.

OUTLINE MINE SAFETY PLANS

PROGRAM EXPECTED TO BE IN OPERATION BY OCTOBER 1

Washington, Sept. 3—Plans were formulated today by representatives of the government, industry and labor for the launching of the federal mine inspection program. It calls for the posting at the mine mouth immediately after each inspection of a summary of conditions found in the shaft.

The program, designed to improve health and safety conditions for the nation's 50,000 coal miners, will be put into operation about October 1, with 107 inspectors making their first trips into the 6,000 major mines.

The federal inspection act carries no penalties, but seeks to improve conditions of mines by exposing any unsafe conditions.

Included in assignments of the inspectors announced by the bureau of mines, with districts and headquarters were:

Western Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Western Kentucky, headquarters, Vincennes, Ind. 16 inspectors; Eastern Kentucky, Southern West Virginia and Virginia, headquarters, Mt. Hope, W. Va., 30 inspectors.

Floyd County Times

THE NEW "MISSING LINK"

WITHIN a few weeks at the most, Floyd county's end of the Prestonsburg-Salversville road will be completed by the Works Progress Administration, with the co-operation of the state highway commission and Floyd county.

But that doesn't give Magoffin and Floyd counties a direct route between the county seat and the two miles of road in Magoffin county, yet unfinished, from a "missing link" in the highway line of communications, as planned. The road, as it stands, is two roads—one serving as an extension of modern facilities from Salversville up toward the Magoffin-Floyd line, but never reaching it; the other, a road venturing to the head of Middle Creek from Prestonsburg. General Mud stands between the two roads, except in dry weather, until such time as when Magoffin county's end of the highway is complete.

Both Salversville and Prestonsburg will profit, if and when the road is finished; the route will supply the general public with a short cut from upper Big Sandy into the Hite Grass.

We are told that only a short strip of right-of-way is necessary for the state to go ahead with completion of the "missing link." But Magoffin county is reported as unable to buy the right-of-way. Which, if true, throws the matter squarely into the collective laps of good-roads advocates here, elsewhere in Floyd county, and in Magoffin.

What should be done now is for those of Prestonsburg and Salversville who want the highway completed to ascertain the price of this right-of-way, get an option on it; then, by public subscription, get the money to buy that strip of land.

As long as that unfinished strip of road remains in the status quo, there exists a challenge to all in Prestonsburg and Salversville who think their communities are progressive.

Points By Other Editors

WAR PROFITS? NOT THIS TIME!

I would be taking in too much territory, obviously, to suggest that no "war profits" are going to be made out of the war itself or the defense drive in the United States. Probably some men will make a lot of money in one way or another, and some few of those may even keep some of it after the tax collector gets through. Some men have that knack, and one hears an occasional rumor suggesting that even in Germany, Italy and Russia a few shrewd ones manage occasionally to make it in a few weeks, here or there.

It is probably inevitable that this will happen in a few instances. It is not going to be the rule this time, as it was in 1914-1916, the first two years of World War I.

Best evidence is the rather remarkable performance of New York Stock Exchange stocks during the last two years.

The following item was received recently by S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish from John E. Murphy, outdoor writer for the Kentucky Post-Courier.

"Mother instinct is so strong in Mudge, a pointer owned by Harry Hupp, 119 Tremont avenue, Fort Thomas, that she has ascended to canine mysticism.

"Recently she assisted Lady Girl, a pointer of A. M. Thomas, Cheviot, Ohio, with the birth of nine pups at the Hupp home.

"Mr. Hupp and Owen M. Payne, his neighbor (a well-known beagler), report that Mudge performed the multiple duties of veterinarian and nurse. She saw to it that her herd and actually nursed the pups to relieve the distressed Lady Girl.

"Mudge cared for each pup as it was delivered and assured its safety in the brood box. She also aided the mother.

"When the time came to separate Mudge and Lady Girl and her litter, Lady Girl obeyed with growls, seemingly realizing that Mudge had been her reliever.

This has happened, and it is almost unbelievable. The New York Herald-Tribune's composite stock index stood at 101.18 on Aug. 31, 1939. Two years later, on Aug. 31, 1941, it stood at 101.21. In other words, except for a rising flurry at the start of the war, and a subsequent equally sharp drop in May, 1940, when France collapsed, the stock market simply hasn't shown any reaction to the war at all. It stands after two years of the war exactly where it stood when the war started.

To anyone who recalls the feverish market speculation of the first two years of the war, the speculation of the first two years of the war on neutral trade, and the munitions industry fattened on war orders from the allies, this seems incredible. In 1914 the stock exchange had to be closed, lest the rush of speculative trade overwhelm it. Today the problem is to keep the exchange open, so light is trading.

If it means anything, it means that nobody believes that the large companies whose stock is listed on the exchange are going to make any startling profits. While, practically every one of them is working at capacity, and most of them showed increases in profits some 20 per cent or more in 1940, it is not so much that the increase in profits are not impressive, and not spectacular enough to encourage speculation.

It would be too much to claim that deflation is being achieved without "war profits." There may be, and probably will be some. But not on anything like the World War I scale, and not as a general thing. The "take the profits out of war" campaign may not have yet achieved 100 per cent success, but if the people who buy and sell stocks are right, it's evidently gone a long way.—Ashland Daily Independent

THE FRENCH COME BACK

FOR most of a year following the Armistice of Compiègne, the bulk of French people were so stunned, so uncomprehending that they seemed unable to grasp what had happened to them. In consequence, they were quiescent while a tyranny set up over them by the Germans in one half of France, and by the men of Vichy in the other. Only in recent weeks have there been numerous signs that the old, familiar spirit of liberty in the French people was still alive.

A wave of attempted or successful assassination is the most dramatic proof of this reviving spirit of liberty, but this only brings cruel reprisals and probably does not seriously hamper the plans of the Nazi government for using the French people as a satellite nation and using the resources of France to further the German war effort.

Far more serious is the ever-mounting wave of sabotage along the railways and highways of occupied France. It now appears that large patrols of guards are needed, day and night, to halt the acts of sabotage which have crippled the movement of German military and supply trains. The German occupation authorities in Northern France are also having trouble on a greatly increased scale with the "bootlegging" of foodstuffs in Paris and other cities of occupied France. The Nazi system is to limit food supplies drastically in order to divert large quantities of food to Germany. This effort is making it very difficult to make the restricted supply go around. The entire food rationing system is endangered by the resourful and individualistic French, who have organized "black markets" to distribute food outside the rationing system imposed by the Nazis.

The problem of the German authorities is peculiarly difficult because they have to work through French police and other French officials in the occupied zone, and through the Vichy government in the so-called "free zone." But there is so little respect for the authority of the Petain government and its local officers that the petainists, disgusted by Germany are not carried out even though Vichy leaders really try to "collaborate."

The spirit of the French people, reviving under adversity and despotic government, begins to give us tangible assurance that, once the tide against the Nazis begins to run, the plain people of France will be ready to do their part, whatever that may be.—Cincinnati Enquirer

Tire Thief Escapes Jail; Is Believed En Route Here

Frank Pittman, arrested about two months ago at Spruce Pine, N. C., for the theft of approximately $800 worth of truck and automobile equipment, $600 worth of which are believed to have been sold in Floyd county, has broken jail and is believed heading this way.

A telegram to this effect, was received yesterday by Deputy Constable Frank Clark, of Lackey, who was instrumental in the recent capture of Pittman.

Clark says he has located several of the chains and returned them to their rightful owners, the Standard Oil Company and other firms.

South-Penn Resumes Drilling; Has Been Inactive 10 Years

Contractors for the South Penn Oil Company, Irvine, Ky., had a drilling machine set up this week on the T. J. Martin lease, near Garrett, and were ready to start drilling a well.

This is the first new well undertaken by the South Penn in decades, and the company's lease man always has had a lead on the ground, and recently in an effort to find some unleased territory in this section.

While Walter Winchell is on temporary leave from his duties as the U. S. navy correspondent, this week's column is written by KATE SMITH.

As a singer and commentator I have had my say via radio to millions of Americans both at home and abroad. From time to time I receive gracious invitations from editors to express myself as a reporter on topics of the day.

Not so long ago I introduced a new song of America titled "We're All Americans" which your editor thought should be the title of this column. The lyrics of this song which I made recently for Columbia Records, reads:

"We're all Americans. We're proud to bear the name; Our nation's fathers wore a flag By the light of freedom's sun. Now waving bravely overhead, It tells us what to do; We're all Americans. * All true blue. * Permeation by Colwell Corp.

It is that flag which gave us our birthright, it is that spirit which is our courage. It is that freedom which made our land a great democracy, it is that something, faith perhaps—which is found in the following lyrics:

Youthful America "I'm thinking of a child, a little girl, her name is Mary Eileen Wheatley, from Hamburg, N. Y. ... Mary's daddy was an aviator. ... It was a hazardous job for few the untired planes ... was a test pilot. Making aviation safe for America was his mission. One day, not long ago, he made his last flight for his ship crashed in San Diego bay ..."

They say my father died ... he did not die. Why just tonight I heard him fly— ... They say he folded his wings at sea ... but daddy would've saved me ... To dole out things. You can't fold wings That for a lifetime have been spread to fly above a first child's head!

Tonight when all the world is still, I'll lean upon my window sill, And listen for you, my dear, And though the whole world falls to naught, I'll hold it dear, and I shall be proud ... I'll hold it dear, and I shall be proud. On wings ... that no one else can see!

A fast-propagating dying boat, with ghostly motors in his throat, I'll hear it come, and I shall be proud ... I'll hold it dear, and I shall be proud. On wings ... that no one else can see!

Everyman is talking these days about our "democratic" system, and hundreds of thousands of loyal Americans are figuring out ways, great and small, to help. Knoxville, Tenn., is a city of 250,000 people that seems to be a very substantial contribution.

For several years, Knoxville has been using electric lighting by the TVA. But now, instead of a domestic use of electric lighting, the city has resorted again to flickering oil lamps. The Aluminum company's plants at Alcoa need all the power they can get. It is TVA power. Since someone has to conserve it, Knoxville has resorted to candles to light his windows. A cafeteria also uses candles to light the restaurant for its Family Night.

Under the impetus of these public demonstrations of power savings, more and more homes are being originated. A 25 per cent curtailment of consumption is the goal.

A Foreigner Abroad in America Last month hearts of all Americans were touched with great fervor at the passing of Ignace Jan Paderewski. A magnificent pianist, always a lover of music, his technical skill was enhanced by his warm personality and generous nature.

Polish by birth and loyally working all his life for that land he loved, still Paderewski was an internationalist, a citizen of the world. Even when he was ill and weak, even when he no longer played the beautiful music that has delighted the hearts of a leader among men. And yet he was a simple man. Always speaking a simple language.

It is fitting that we here in America honor this man.

Washington, D. C. AUTO. That fanfared OPM cut of 20 1/2 per cent in auto production drew no cheers from your department chiefs. To them it was a big disappointment.

First of all the cut looks a lot bigger than it actually is. For one thing the OPM carefully did not reveal in its hoopla press releases the fact that even with this curtailment auto production still will be 10 per cent greater than in 1939.

In other words, notwithstanding the increasing shortage of strategic raw materials, such as steel, rubber, tin, and other metals, auto production is to continue at levels higher than in the peaceful years of '39.

Another reason for the army gloom was that it wanted an immediate cut of at least 50 per cent. For months war department heads pleaded and argued with OPM men for drastic curtailment, on the ground that the army was in dire need of pleasure cars as desperately needed for planes, tanks, ships, guns and other military equipment. For a few months the OPM masterminded did absolutely nothing.

Finally in July the scrappy OPACS Director L. Henderson, who has seen eye-to-eye with the army on this issue from the start, took the bull by the horns and "ordered" a 50 per cent slash.

OPM's reaction was to hit the ceiling. It refused to accept the ruling. And while OPM battled behind the scenes with OPACS, autos continued to roll off assembly lines in record-breaking numbers. However, Henderson's bare-knuckling finally took effect. The 20 1/2 per cent cut is a definite step toward the goal of Henderson wanted, but it is 4 1/2 per cent more than OPM's original figure.

TANKS FOR BRITAIN Some time ago the Merry-Go-Round revealed that a chief officer of Lord Beaverbrook's visit was to get more tanks—for France, tanks for Egypt, tanks eventually for an invasion of the continent. Beaverbrook particularly wanted whether he was sleeping or whether he would roll off the Chrysler assembly line at the rate of 400 a month.

Some time ago it was revealed that the British supply minister will not go home empty handed. He will take a definite amount of cheering away. In fact, the division of these tanks between the U. S. and British armed forces. But that isn't the end of it. Henderson's plan is to divert tanks to the British in this country is one thing, but delivering them across the Atlantic is another.

In fact, the problem of transporting large numbers of tanks is the toughest shipping problem maritime experts have faced since the magnetic mine, which ravaged British shipping in the early days of the war. The toughest shipping problem experts have faced since the magnetic mine, which ravaged British shipping in the early days of the war.

In a nutshell here is the problem: The Navy has ordered that 25 tanks sent to England or Africa, the same ship plus nearly three-fourths of another ship would be required to deliver them. In other words, they are bigger. Translated into specific figures, that means that to deliver 160 light tanks at Alexandria, three months ago would have had to cost about $100,000. Now it costs the same number of medium tanks.

With shipping scarcer than hen's teeth, a difference of 18 ships is an extra $100,000. So it's not surprising that the necessity of traveling in slow convoys further reduces the amount of tanks that can be shipped. So, estimated this reduction as high as 50 per cent. In addition the British sometimes have to wait a long time to unload cargo.

So the tank problem thus also becomes an acute shipping problem. One bright spot in the situation is the great reduction in ship losses in the last 60 days since the extension of the U. S. neutrality patrols. But the basic problem of securing more cargo bottoms still remains.

Note: Since January 1, U. S. shipyards have ordered out a total of 60 cargo vessels.

MERRY-GO-ROUND Army officers are singing the praises of 20th Century-Fox's new picture, "The Good Neighbor Murder." Her husband is head of the Export-Import Bank and is worth billions to the Good Neighbors.

Dr. J. Lubin, brilliant White House doctor, is now in the office in the White House, another office in the labor department as head of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a third in the labor division of OPM, and a fourth in the treasury as an adviser to Secretary Morgenthau.

JOBUCK'S JAM

By JOBUCK JOHNSON

NOT HIS KIND OF A KITTY "It reported from a certain Kent county community (that, a citizen here by means of very poor judgment distinguishing between two different kinds of cats.

He had a favorite house-cat that he had named very innocently by returning to the interior of the house every night after it was put out upon the wall to be used upon Thomas' rumble seat.

Out of a delightful nap he came one night because of the upsetting of some object in the kitchen, where Thomas had been prone to prowl. "Ah," he said, "I'll eat 'im this time." And he cat-floored it into the kitchen.

Sure enough, there was a cat. He brought his long switch back, gave the feline a vicious cut and gave the odor remaining, a terrible odor. He had been scrubbed and scalded his kitchen until the boards of which it is made are worn to a frazzle, but the odor remains. Now he has threatened to burn the building or be tried on this stinking reminder of his great mistake.

D. P. (PERK) DINGUS' STATEMENT TO VOTERS

I have, during the last two weeks, been impressed by statements made by supporters of mine who have assured the honest voters of this county that I will never quit the race for Sheriff until the last vote is counted.

I now deem it not only my duty but also my privilege to tell you all here and now, in plain black and white, from which there is no "backing out," that these supporters of mine are right. I WILL NEVER QUIT. NO MATTER WHO TELLS A FALSEHOOD TO THE CONTRARY.

I am of the firm belief that I have a charge to keep with you all as charge as solemn as any ever handed to voters in a county election.

I shall keep faith with you. I am depending upon all those who have faith in the future, who depend upon County Government to preserve their ideals, who believe that the Common Man and Woman know what is best for the Common Good—I rest, in such folds my hopes of serving Floyd county as its Sheriff.

Remember what is said here—the statements made by my opponents saying that I may quit, brand them what they are—FALSE.

West Garrett Worker Shoots Brother-in-Law, Result of Altercation

Vernon "Creameasy" Creameas, WPA worker, was jailed here Tuesday for the shooting and wounding on the same day of his brother-in-law, James McKee, near the Creameas home at West Garrett.

Shot in the arm and side with a shotgun, McKee, was reported to be doing nicely at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, today (Thursday).

County Attorney W. Claude Gaudill said he was told that McKee had gone to the Creameas home and started a quarrel, which resulted in the shooting.

Creameas was jailed in default of $500 bond asked for his release.

Post-Season Series Blated To Benefit Bible Study Work

With Prestonsburg the winner of the Big Sandy Baseball League pennant over Drift by a mere one-game margin, Floyd county fans' hopes of a post-season series between the two teams to give a clearer decision of comparative strength will be satisfied, it was announced this week.

A three-game series between the two clubs will begin Saturday, September 20, at Drift. The second game will be played here. The third contest, if one is necessary, will be staged at Drift.

Gate receipts of the series will be donated to the Bible school program to be conducted in the Floyd county high schools by the Rev. Campbell Jeffries.

Meanwhile, Prestonsburg, A-class champ, will be playing in a play-off series with the B-class titleholder, which will be either Van Lear or Auxler. These games will be played on Sundays.

Second X-Ray Clinic Of Year Scheduled Here, October 2

The semi-annual diagnostic X-ray clinic for the examination of tuberculosis suspects and contacts will be held here Thursday, Oct. 2. Dr. H. Ransdell, of the Floyd county health department director, announced this week.

The clinic will be sponsored by a Floyd County Tuberculosis Association, the Prestonsburg Woman's Club and the health department. Examinations will be made from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on the day county health department director, announced this week.

Dr. Ransdell emphasized the importance of all tuberculosis contacts taking of the clinic where they are examined will be given for the nominal charge of $1.25 per plate. He also urged all physicians in the county to direct their indigent patients to the clinic.

'How Are You, Ike?' Brothers Reunited

Rev. Isaac N. Ousley, of Bethel, this county, had the unusual experience Saturday, Aug. 30, of meeting unexpectedly a brother whom he had not seen for 22 years.

Sam Ousley, the long-gone brother, came up from St. Petersburg, Fla., about an advance notice whatever, walked into his brother's home and said, very casually, "How are you, Ike?"

The visiting party also included Sam Ousley's two daughters, two grandsons and son-in-law, who spent two days visiting relatives and friends in Floyd.

Martin Theatersgoers Contribute $82 To U.S.O.

This county's collaboration with the United Service Organization, a national organization, has been demonstrated by theaters to establish a fund for the boys in uniform, apparently says Lawrence Keithley, manager of the Martin Theater, very close to the role of leading character.

Mr. Keithley last week collected from his patrons the sum of $82, which he submitted to the U.S.O. Corporation, 1624 Central Parkway, Cincinnati, Ohio, for the benefit of the boys in uniform, which is the Motion Picture Theaters Drive, National U.S.O. Campaign, 1501 Broadway, New York.

Mr. Keithley says this contribution, which is large for a town the size of this, is merely an expression of the spirit of Americanism which prevails among the Kentucky mountain people. His patrons "shelled out" spontaneously in this regard, he said.

Interviewed here Wednesday afternoon, the managers of Prestonsburg theaters, including the Grand Broadway, said they had not called for contributions to the organization, since they had not been asked to do so. Both men left the impression they are perfectly willing to do so, however.

Two representatives of the U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Service will be at the postoffice building in Prestonsburg Wednesday, Sept. 17 and 18 for the purpose of interviewing young men who are interested in the U. S. Marine Corps.

The Marines offer a wide variety of service on land, on sea and in the air, at more than half-a-hundred stations all over the world. From Iceland to Samoa, from Panama to Kodiak, through the South Seas and Far Pacific to China, you may travel with the Marines.

Requirements are that volunteers be between the ages of 17 and 30, be unmarried, possess the equivalent of at least a grammar school education, be of good character and physically normal. Volunteers will be accepted and transferred to the training base in South Carolina, without delay.

Callietaburg paid final tribute Wednesday morning to the memory of her oldest resident, 100-year-old Calvin Jones, a former resident of Floyd county, in impressive funeral services conducted from the residence at 10 Rev. Allen Vaughan, pastor of the United Baptist church of which Mr. Jones had been a member for many years.

Mr. Jones, a native of Wylie county, Va., and a Confederate veteran who served actively under General Lee in many major Civil War engagements, died at his home Monday morning after a long illness. He would have been 101 years old Oct. 16. He entered the Confederate Army at the age of 22 in 1862, serving in the 29th Virginia Regiment. During his service in the army he often came into personal contact with General Lee. He considered his survival of the battle of Gettysburg without injury as his greatest Civil War experience.

Surviving him are his wife Mrs. Martha Jones, 82, two sons, Grover, of Red Jacket, W. Va., and Romeo, of New Boston, a state of New York, and a daughter, a step-daughter, Mrs. Minnie, Filinger, of Huntington, 21 grandchildren, one great-grandchild, and three great-great-grandchildren.

Gray, Only Kentuckian At Ordnance Grounds

Floyd countians of us the expression, "kick as the bear on a dog's back," but our old, familiar saying will in no wise be a fitting description of the number of Kentuckians now serving Uncle Sammie at Pine Camp, N. Y. A press release from there shows a lone "sole," one Manis E. Gray, of Prestonsburg, answering "Present."

Five Arrested Here In Auto Theft

Police Arthur Blackburn, Epp Lett and Albert H. Gray, of Prestonsburg, arrested Hoy Smith, Claude Palumbo, Tom Taylor, Melvin Osborne and Walker Horn for the theft here Friday of a Buick Jody Spradlin's automobile.

The five, who were rounded up over the week-end, were placed under $1,000 bond each to the grand jury.

The auto was found by the officers Saturday night on the head of Trimble Branch, near here, and returned to its owner.

Measles Complications Claim Floyd Tot

Ray Clum, of Cracker, young son of Beverly and Martha Sammons Crum, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Sept. 4, of a complication of measles and pneumonia.

Surviving are the father and mother, three sisters and one brother—Kanna, Wanda Lee, Marjorie and James Eiden. Funeral services were conducted from the home on Sept. 5, with the Rev. Huey Cunniff officiating and the Rev. F. A. Home, Martin, in charge of the interment.

RECORD FARM PRODUCTION PLANNED FOR '42 HIGH GOALS FOR HOGS, EGGS, MILK PRODUCTS

Washington, Sept. 8—Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard today announced a new national farm policy designed to provide an abundance of food for the United States and anti-Axis nations during the four-year period of 1942-45.

Wickard established 1942 production goals for all essential farm commodities and for the first time included the emergency clause of the Commodity Credit Act, by projecting that the government will guarantee 85 per cent of parity for hogs, eggs, cheese, chickens, and evaporated and dry skim milk to January 1, 1943.

In a formal statement here and a speech broadcast from San Francisco Wickard forecast that hundreds of millions of dollars of additional lease-lend money will be spent for food for the British.

"The British government expects to be able to supply the equivalent of enough to feed 10,000,000 people," Wickard said in announcing goals of production.

If the 1942 goals are reached, it will be the third successive year of record production. The vital goals set include:

Hogs to be slaughtered, 79,900,000 head; beef and veal, 28,000,000 head; chickens, 750,000,000; lamb and mutton, 22,000,000 head; milk, 125,000,000,000 pounds; eggs, 4,000,000,000 dozen.

In addition, Secretary Wickard revealed the lid would be off on the production of domestic sugar, due to the expiration of existing law on December 31, including the present program.

GUESTS OF MR. & MRS. MAY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. May and son, Atlanta, Ga., are guests this week at the home here of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bascom May.

EXPECTED HERE THIS WEEK

The Rev. Harry P. King and family, now of Delano Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Scott Harkins are expected here as guests this week Mrs. Josie D. Harkins.

Higher goals also were set for all crops, including peanuts and soy beans; forest products, fruits, vegetables, potatoes, rice, beans, naval stores, oats, grain sorghums and hay.

A goal of between 87,500,000 to 90,000,000 acres of corn, compared with the estimated 1941 acreage of 87,383,000, was fixed, but cotton and wheat, of which there is a record surplus, was out.

Wickard announced the cotton acreage would be between 22,000,000 and 24,000,000 acres, compared with an average of 27,658,000 between 1936-40 and wheat acreage would range between 80,000,000 and 50,000,000 acres, against an average for the four-year period of 72,000,000. Tobacco acreage also is to be reduced.

Wickard declared: "The goals for 1942 call for the largest production in the history of American agriculture, but we are not going to have to plow up the hills and the plains to get it. We have adequate reserves of feed grains for increased production of livestock products and it will not be necessary to increase total crop acreage next year."

Asserting that "we are not going to repeat the mistakes of the first World War which brought a long series of difficulties for farm people," Wickard referred to the government's acts then in giving subsidies to farmers to open up ordinarily unprofitable hill and plains lands. He intends to keep the present soil conservation program in effect.

Another mistake Wickard believed was made in the World War was the policy of farmers mortgaging the land they owned to buy

Wickard estimated that, including lease-lend needs, the British might take 8 to 10 per cent of the total annual production of food production of the United States next year.

Diggings Fail To Yield Fabled Gold Hoard of Merchant

(Big Sandy News) The little town of Kermit on Tug river is the scene of much speculation and excitement this week as excavators of the estate of the late Dennis Atkins, veteran Kermit hardware merchant, engage in a search of his home and store for a hidden hoard of gold which he is generally believed to have cached somewhere on his premises.

Exploration of the premises of the veteran Kermit merchant was started last week under the guidance of Attorney J. Walter Jones, Jr., Williamson, executor of the estate, and by Mrs. Atkins and others, and is being continued this week, with curious crowds congregating near the Atkins home and store.

Legend that Atkins, who died last month, left a hidden hoard of gold is generally believed, according to the Williamson Daily News, which carried a long story of the treasure hunt in a recent issue.

Before James Atkins is said to have revealed the location of the treasure trove to his wife, Mrs. Rose Atkins, search for the gold was started in Atkins' living quarters adjacent to the store which he had operated for more than a third of a century.

Extensive excavation and digging in and around the spot said to have been pointed out by Atkins to his wife a short time before his death failed to produce anything but dirt and stones. Under a floor, a pit was dug until bed rock was reached.

The digging is being continued this week, with the searchers working mostly at night and behind locked doors.

Always frugal and a bachelor until the last few years of his life, Atkins, according to rumors that originated many years ago, cached much of the cash taken in at his store before his marriage and in his many years before her death, Atkins lived with his mother, also credited with having a considerable store of gold.

His mother was a sister of the widow of the late Jim D. Atkins, a Union veteran. She received a pension for many years and legend has it that she converted it regularly into gold.

After the Presidential proclamation requiring the surrender or deposit of gold, Atkins is said to have been questioned because of his failure to comply with the edict. At the time he denied having any store of the precious metal.

One rumor about the fabled treasure trove is said to have been started by a servant once employed in the Atkins home. She is said to have related that she found a hidden cellar in which were bushel baskets of coins, pennies, nickels, dimes, etc.

Another report is that Atkins drew a map of the hiding place and that the map was found after his death in the family Bible.

To Mrs. Atkins, decedent is said to have revealed that he had hidden his hoarded gold beneath a column that faces a stairway in the store.

Results of the search are given only by the treasure-hunters, but the digging is going on nightly according to reports from Kermit Thursday.

Are you considering joining a MILITARY SERVICE?

Why not choose the NAVAL RESERVE!

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT by the Secretary of the Navy

"All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active Navy duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Frank Knox SECRETARY OF THE NAVY

HERE IS THE OPPORTUNITY THAT THOUSANDS OF MEN HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR

Here is your opportunity to have all the advantages and privileges of Navy life but with a shorter enlistment.

Many men do not realize—but it is a fact—that your pay, your training, and your chances for advancement in the Naval Reserve are exactly the same as in the Navy itself.

FREE TRAINING WORTH $1500

Take your own case. Let's assume that you have had no special training. In that case here is your opportunity to learn one of the Navy's 45 big-pay trades, from aviation engineering to radio. You may receive training worth $1500 the first year alone. In addition you get all the advantages listed in the second column of this announcement.

HIGHER PAY OPPORTUNITIES

But perhaps you have had special training or know a trade. In that case the Naval Reserve offers you the opportunity to use your knowledge. If you qualify (high school or college not necessary), you can join as a petty officer right away—with higher pay and allowances. Also, if you have two or more years of college credits, there are special opportunities to become a Naval aviator or a commissioned officer.

LOOK WHAT THE U. S. NAVAL RESERVE OFFERS YOU

- FREE TRAINING worth $1500. Nearly 50 trades and vocations to choose from.
GOOD PAY with regular increases. You may earn up to $125 a month.
EACH YEAR you are entitled to a generous vacation period, with full pay.
GOOD FOOD and plenty of it.
FREE CLOTHING. A complete outfit of clothing when you first enlist. (Over $100 worth.)
FREE MEDICAL CARE, including regular dental attention.
FINEST SPORTS and entertainment any man could ask for.
TRAVEL, ADVENTURE, THRILLS—You can't beat the Navy for these!
BECOME AN OFFICER. Many can work for an appointment to the Naval Academy or the Annapolis of the Air at Pensacola.
FUTURE SUCCESS. It's easy for Navy trained men to get good-paying jobs in civil life.

Woman Admits Slaying

(Continued from page one) fight. I had my little baby in my arms. I said, 'Put your baby down and I can whip you.' He picked up a brick, held it in his hand and hit me with the brick. He knocked me down and I still had the baby and when I got up with the baby Mrs. Leslie shot me in the abdomen, and I fell about four or five feet and while I was down she shot me again. I said, 'Don't shoot me again, you have already killed me. I don't want to die. I don't see why she did it. I've been so good to them. I know I can't get well. Appoint Gerald guardian for my children.' Bill, son of the victim, said officials that his father did not have the baby in his arms when shot. He also expressed the opinion that his grandmother should not be prosecuted.

Mrs. Leslie, arrested on a murder warrant, was placed under $10,000 bond. Her son, David, is under the same charge, awaiting action of the grand jury under $7,000 bond.

A member of the family, after Mrs. Leslie and her son had coincided in saying that the victim's two aunts into Roberts' body, told THE TIMES that Roberts and Mrs. Leslie were engaged in a fight in the front yard of Mrs. Leslie's home on the Mayo trail, a few miles south of Prestonsburg. David Leslie, the victim, continued, joined the fight in behalf of Roberts' son, and was chased by Roberts around the house to a spot in the yard where the fight was resumed - where Roberts was shot by Mrs. Leslie.

Death of Mr. Roberts was one of a tragic sequence of events in his family. First of all, his son David Banner, was killed when struck by an auto, near his home, July 27, 1940. His wife, Nellie Douglas, died of a heart ailment, and the late Mrs. Leslie, died a victim of poison, May 3, this year.

Lindsay Dallas Roberts was a son of the late William Roberts and Mrs. Elizabeth Burchett Roberts, who survives; a native of the Johns Creek section of this county. He was president of the Citizens Union. Pikeville, a member of Prestonsburg lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and Zephyr Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons.

Besides his mother, Mr. Roberts is survived by four children: William Leslie, David Douglas, Elaine Elizabeth and Mildred Lou. Two brothers and four sisters: Herman Roberts, Collier Corner, O. Albert Roberts, Laverne, Mrs. Della DeLoach, Mrs. Virginia Taylor, Louisa, Mrs. Beulah Wells, Lancer, Mrs. Louise Stratton, Betty Layne.

DINWOOD

Little Junior Shepherd has been very ill this week but is reported better. Mr. and Mrs. Hibart Tackett and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tackett, of Virginia, were visiting relatives here Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Mary Little and son, Curtis, who will visit them for some time.

MAROONS LOSE TO HAZARD

W/WRIGHT ELEVEN FALLS TO HEAVIER FOE, 26 TO 0

By OWEN RICHARD Wheelwright, Ky., Sept. 9 (Sp.) - Superior weight in the line and backfield proved to be the winning advantage for Hazard high in its tussle with Wheelwright last Friday afternoon as the Maroons lost their first grid encounter of 1941, 26-0 on a rain-swept field. The Bulldogs, with All-State Leo Combs leading the charge, used power plays with very little deception employed to register in every period of the game.

Several times during the course of the fray, the Pricemen pulled razzle-dazzle plays on reverse average and passes that bogged down Bobby Hanger and Harry Hall were the bright points in the defensive play of the Maroons, while Freddy Blackburn, Ormand King and untitled Jessa Ratliff led the Floyd countians on the offensive. It was Jessa Ratliff who, late in the fourth quarter, cracked the Hazard line for three straight first downs.

Couch Walter Price, with only one injured player man on his squad, Woodrow Hall, worked his charges out on new plays and a new formation Monday afternoon as he prepared for his second encounter of the season. The Wheelwright eleven goes to Louisa Saturday for an engagement with Louisa's Bulldogs. Wheelwright won last season's encounter, 14-13.

A FEW WORDS TO LABOR AND TO ALL GOOD CITIZENS

D. P. (PERK) DINGUS FOR SHERIFF

The members of the great American group of workers who are even now giving their full measure of "BLOOD, SWEAT AND TEARS" in order that this land of ours may rise in its might and glory to crush corruption and opposition and DICTATORSHIP will wholeheartedly support D. P. (PERK) DINGUS for Sheriff.

These are some of the reasons for this support: DINGUS is a laboring man and he understands and respects his fellow-toilers. DINGUS has long been a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and he feels the close ties of fellowship with every working man. To the laborer DINGUS extends the cordial handclasp of sympathetic friendship—a friendship both tried and TRUE.

As Sheriff of Floyd county DINGUS will faithfully fulfill his obligations to LABOR and to all of the people. DINGUS sidly PAYS his dues to support organized labor. DINGUS will not use and abuse organized labor. DINGUS will not use the power of the office of Sheriff to force laborers to pay dues to a CERTAIN HOSPITAL or to a CERTAIN DOCTOR. DINGUS believes it is the right of every free man and every free group of men to select and freely choose their doctor and hospital. As Sheriff DINGUS will see that the laws protecting those rights are not violated. FREE MEN SHALL NOT BE SHACKLED! DICTATORSHIP, here and abroad, SHALL BE CRUSHED!

DINGUS will not rob or steal from the money of the people. DINGUS will not enter into any conspiracy to permit illegal payment of the public money into the greedy pockets of political schemers and grafters. DINGUS has at no time been associated with any such wicked plans and he will NEVER so betray the trust of the people. DINGUS has lived WITHIN the law. DINGUS will enforce the law, and will not violate the law. DINGUS is an honorable man.

Because we want every person in Floyd county to read and learn the truth and to vote wisely in the election of a Sheriff we bring you these messages from the
