TIDBITS

OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

"NOT MUCH O' NOTHIN"

It is amusing how often the farmer boys and men that I knew pretended that they were just idling their time away. Though they got up, like the proverb in Froverbe, long early, "not much o' nothin'." After all, the ordinary duties of the farm were standardized, so that there was nothing unusual about hoeing corn or setting tobacco or breaking land. We accepted these duties as a part of the game. To be doing something was to be engaged in some sort of work or to be planning a fishing trip. Probably barn-raising, wheat-threshing, and log-rollings were so big in memory because they came so seldom to our busy farm lives. We made ample preparations for them and tried to prolong them as much as possible. We enjoyed them so much that we ate with neighbors, probably no better than we were accustomed to but at least different.

Following a custom of mine, I have again looked over some of my old dairies, kept when I was following the plow near Fidelity in the early years of the century. Fortunately I put down nearly every day the exact place I worked and what I got done. This was perfectly silly to the older folks who knew about my diary, but today these passages are most revealing. I can find just how many tobacco hills we made in a day, how many rows of potato slips we set out, how many hogs we killed and the exact weight of each, the number of sticks of tobacco we cut and hauled, the number of blocks we saved for stoverwood. All this for preserving records has thus made me know pretty well what manner of boy I was as to accomplishment of labor with the few implements we had. I wish I had more of these records and could compare them all with actual records kept by other boys and men away from Fidelity, where working conditions and machinery were different.

"Not much o' nothin'." Did you ever plow a lot of hard-headed mules in a newground? Did you refrain from using strong language when the collar stuck on a stump and the mules would not stop long enough for you to get the plug removed? Did the hay bundles get a slap down as you double-shovel-ed corn

NOT "A MIGHTY LONG TIME"

"TWENTY-ONE YEARS is a mighty long time."

Most of this newspaper's readers know the words and music to that familiar song.

But it is not known by so many of you that the words are untrue insofar as the state of Kentucky's twenty-one years go.

Under the present parole system, twenty-one years is not twenty-one times twelve months—it's a matter of only six years.

For that matter, "life" is not the remainder of your days on earth, according to this system. It's the comparatively small matter of eight years.

And, all this high-sounding language used in imposing prison terms on convicted felons, being only figurative, Floyd county juries, and those of other Kentucky counties as well, are ready to draw the sensible conclusion that their vote for the long-sounding sentences means little more than a sentence of a few years.

Two other Floyd counties, charged with murder, received at the hands of trial juries only ten years each. But they will, under existing parole laws, serve a total of ten years.

Then why should juries ponder and argue and "hang" on the matter of a twenty-one year term when it means only six years of actual penal servitude—why should there be a "hung" jury when the jurors perhaps could quickly agree on a ten-year stretch which, after all, means in reality only one year less than the twenty-one year term?

We ask you, Why the high-sounding sentences? Why not get down to cases, to facts? Why not demand that some of Kentucky's antiquated laws be abolished or changed?

This parole system is quite as nonsensical as the probation system whereby circuit judges are given executive powers that were never intended to belong to them.

SUIT URGED TO MAKE PURGATION BOARD ACT

Recommendation that suit be filed to force the Magoffin County Purgation Board to act was made Monday by Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herdman to A. H. Adams, Salyerville, who said the "corrupt practices act is being violated in every election and no step is being taken to prevent a continuation of these violations."

"The registration cards of dead people are kept in files," said Adams, "and those people are voted from time to time, register sock people under age and vote them, change the registration of people without their knowledge or consent and then they have to vote the ticket to which they are changed or not vote at all, and against their will and without their consent."

Adams asked whether it was possible to act in Magoffin county in order to hold a fair election in our county. Herdman pointed out that any taxpayer and voter, or the county clerk, the county election commissioners or the executive committee of one of the political parties could petition the circuit court to order the purgation board to act as required by law.

UNCLE JUDY SEZ

BEWARE THE BULL. Toot! Toot! Highball! Briar Buck Special... very appropriate—well-named. Long may she roll and her wheels be like never, I have a sneaking idea some of the boys will be adding another familiar sobriquet soon after one of the Middle Creek Ferdinands pays it one of his social calls.

And while dedicating, why not add another to the list—viz: Left Beaver. Why not call it "The Shikepeke Trail"? Do I hear a second?

ANOTHER DISLIKE. Too bad some of the boys dislike army life. There are a lot more who dislike concentration camps.

NOTORIZED HIGHWAYMEN. Yes, Mr. Editor, we can stand a little more law enforcement in this section—especially enforcement of the skin pinning law.

We have had plenty arrests of staggering pedestrians but a very few of flying auto drivers. Last week one small school girl's life was snuffed out here—while a lot more were lucky to escape. Saw one old lady "dusted off" by a driver who had all the road to pass in; yet he chose to give her a scare.

Most drivers seem to read the speed limit signs of 20 miles to mean 10. Don't believe in road traps or warranted prosecutions; yet a slow motion car is far better than a car of inquiry and grief-stricken homes.

LIFE ON THE RANGE. One of our young "cow gals" visited her folks in Virginia last week, and while there she tried to break to ride one of her father's young horses with the best of results. One crippled horse, one torn-down fence, one mangled corralled, one cowgirl mired in mud, one skin plus a few pretty blue spots on her bumper. Giddy up! Giddy up, Napoleon! On second thought, Nopone, you'd better whoa.

ROAD RIGHTS-OF-WAY. For heaven's sake, no Noman! It's hard enough to get right-of-way for roads in this section without taking up public subscription to pay for hold-out farmer three prices for his stand!

The statute provides a better way, that is, for the county to condemn the landowner and let a jury set the price to be paid for his land. With competition one doesn't have public officials who know enough law to get a piece of right-of-way for a good road, and perhaps even a hold-out farmer three prices for his stand!

RIGHTS-OF-WAY already cost as much as the roads in Eastern Kentucky!

Editor's note: The Salyerville Board of Education is in effect, that Magoffin county has no money and that its credit's not worth ainker's dam.

TOUGH STUFF. It Duce says Uncle Sam may discover, 1000 lbs. the same thing John Bull discovered in this war—that the more you slap an Italian the madder he gets. How! How! How!

POPE & STUFF. The Woman's Club isn't the only going concern in David, Ky.—we have 17 members of the Floyd Fish and Game Club up here, and have the best prospects for an active "loch" in the county! Walk till we start swapper' tales of oon dogs, etc. I didn't want to mention it but ever since the "Briar Buck Special" was elaborately christened, it has been down for repairs. A regular passenger engine is on the run now. Wonder why Town Hall and the Board of Education don't help defray part of the expenses for transporting David school children to and from Prestonsburg since there is no school bus for that purpose?

GUESTS OF RELATIVES. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Maggard, Staufferville, Va., recently were guests of relatives here and at Martin.

Briar Buck's Scratches

THE TRUTH ABOUT UNCLE SAM!

Our so-called patriots tell us that our Uncle Samuel—besides being a great fellow, Good Samaritan and benevolent god-father to millions—is the nerviest, straightest-shootin', toughest hombre that ever sprouted a beard.

They will tell us our history is glorious and good—that our way of life is perfect, our future secure. But they are telling us lies!

We are all slaves. We are cowards and bleeders. We are the same, cowardly, contemptible like the Italians did. We Americans want to wait until Hitler lies prostrate and bleeding, then we'll be the Yanks are coming! and stab the already-unconscious figure in the ribs with our bayonets!

The truth about Uncle Sam is that there's nothing left of him except a sprawling mass of thin, brittle bones covered with a shrunken coating of scales and running sores. That's because Uncle Sam is the people—and the people, brother, that's us—you and I, and every one who SHOULD BE Uncle Sam, but aren't. We are buzzards!

It's a wonder we don't demand that our Uncle Sam be called hound-chained and padlocked in our harbors. It's a wonder we don't build a wall of fire (like ancient China) around our borders, then pull all the shades down and crawl under the bed until the shootin' is over!

Yeah, it's a damn wonder everybody doesn't crawl under the bed during those trembling times—times of course, Uncle Sam's patriotic workers. And they have to go on strike!

PUBLIC OPINION. If candidates were as conscious of public opinion AFTER election as they were BEFORE, there wouldn't be many contest suits.

ROAD RIGHTS-OF-WAY. For heaven's sake, no Noman! It's hard enough to get right-of-way for roads in this section without taking up public subscription to pay for hold-out farmer three prices for his stand!

ERRORS COST P'BURG, GAME

1ST OF POST-SEASON SERIES CONTESTS. WON BY DRIFT

Jittery fields at crucial stages of the game Sunday cost Prestonsburg the first of its three-game post-season series with Drift, the Left Beaver team scoring six runs on 15 batters, four errors, six walks and a passed ball.

Meanwhile, Kit Stumbo, Drift's mace veteran, was limiting Prestonsburg to a lone run on nine hits, two of which were doubles.

Drift was also guilty of four errors, but these came 4 times when the penalty was not so heavy. Kit Stumbo, besides scattering the nine Prestonsburg batters, himself drove out a home run, his fourth in the last few games.

The two teams will play here Saturday afternoon. Gate receipts for the series will benefit the Floyd school course conducted in the Floyd county schools by the Rev. Campbell, pastor.

PRICEMEN TALLY LATE IN FINAL PERIOD IN GARRISON FINISH

By OWEN RICKARD Wheelwright, Ky. (Sp.)—Coach Walter Price and a squad of Maroon gridlers learned from the Louisiana Bulldogs last Saturday in a gridiron contest... The Maroons took over as the quarter ended. The second and third periods of play of the "ding-dong" battle remained on a par with the first.

The plunge for the extra point was missed and the contest ended a few plays later, with the Crittendon taking the air to no avail as Bill Rickard and Jess Ratliff got together on their pass defense and saw pass after pass knocked down.

Two Get 'Life' Terms

ter telling a bystander that "Allen Stone has a pistol, which we take it off him." Stone fired first, Commonwealth witnesses claimed. After that, the policeman jerked two pistols and emptied them without effect at Stone. The defendant denied threats and statements attributed to him; admitted that he went home following his conversation with Triplett but said he returned to the slaying scene to ride with a friend to Wayland where he intended to see a show and rent a house. His young son Denver corroborated his statement, and Mrs. Bonnie Eldredge testified that she watched the drama from a window, saw Triplett draw and fire first. Testifying in his own defense, Pearl Salisbury claimed that he stabbed Davidson only after the latter had attacked him with a knife. He displayed scars on his arms which, he contended, were caused by Davidson's knife. The Commonwealth and present by Edward L. Allen in the trial of Allen Stone and Dolliver Stone. B. M. stabbed in his back as well as in his throat. The assault charge filed against Joe Hall after his Election Day attack on Halber is docketed for trial Saturday. Although jointly indicted with her husband in the Taylor slaying, Mrs. Per; Hall Stone was not on trial this week. Her husband, Dolliver Stone, denied that she asked him to avenge the alleged mistreatment she had suffered at the hands of Taylor, and contends that Taylor was armed with a knife when he fired. Commonwealth witnesses claimed that the Stones waited outside a drift restaurant for Taylor, unarmed, to leave, and that when he appeared at the door Dolliver Stone began firing. They also stated that at least two persons outside the restaurant sought to prevent the shooting and that Stone threatened to kill them if they did not desist. County Attorney W. Claude Culliff prosecuted the Salisbury trial, Commonwealth's Attorney John Allen having disqualified. Commonwealth's Attorney Allen was assisted by Edward L. Allen in the trial of Allen Stone and Dolliver Stone. B. M. James Clarke & Francis were defense counsel for Allen Stone; B. M. James for Dolliver Stone. Other court activities up till Wed.
